(d) If there is no newspaper of general circulation in the county where a self-service storage facility is located, a lessor satisfies the requirements of this section by posting the notice in a least six conspicuous locations in the vicinity of the self-service storage facility at least 10 days before a sale or other disposition is made. The lessor shall post one of the notices on the self-service storage facility.

Redemption
Sec. 9. A tenant may redeem property that has been seized under a judicial order or a contractual landlord's lien prior to its sale or other disposition by paying the lessor the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the lessor's reasonable expenses incurred under this article.

Priority of Lien
Sec. 10. A lien under this article attaches against a tenant's property and has priority over any other lien or security interest on the date the tenant places the property at a self-service storage facility.

Residential Use
Sec. 11. A tenant may not use a self-service storage facility, or allow a self-service storage facility to be used, as a residence.

Variation by Agreement
Sec. 12. Except as expressly provided by this article, the provisions of this article may not be varied by an agreement of a lessor and a tenant, and the rights conferred by this article may not be waived.

Good Faith Purchaser
Sec. 13. Despite noncompliance by a lessor with the requirements of this article, a good faith purchaser of property sold to satisfy a lien under this article takes the property free of any claim by a person against whom the lien was valid.

Breach of Duty
Sec. 14. A person who is injured by the breach of a duty imposed by this article may maintain an action for damages under the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act, as amended (Subchapter E, Chapter 17, Title 2, Business & Commerce Code).1

Supplemental Effect
Sec. 15. This article does not affect the rights of a lessor or tenant under contract, statute, or common law that are consistent with the provisions of this article.

TITLE 85

LANDS—ACQUISITION FOR PUBLIC USE

2. FEDERAL USE

Article 5248g-1. Grant of Portions of Bed and Banks of Rio Grande to United States.

2. FEDERAL USE

Section 1 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., ch. 841, repealing this article, enacted the Property Tax Code, constituting Title 1 of the Tax Code.

Art. 5248g-1. Grant of Portions of Bed and Banks of Rio Grande to United States

Sec. 1. The Governor of the State of Texas is authorized to grant to the United States of America, in accordance with the conditions set out in this Act, those portions of the bed and banks of the Rio Grande or easements thereupon in Hidalgo, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Brewster, Terrell, Val Verde, Kinney, Maverick, Webb, Zapata, Starr, Hidalgo, and Cameron Counties consisting of the bed and banks as exist on the United States side of the boundary, as may be necessary or expedient to facilitate the accomplishment of projects for the relocation and rectification of the Rio Grande and construction of works for flood control in the Presidio-Ojinaga Valley, the rectification of and channel stabilization on the Rio Grande between Fort Quitman in Hudspeth County and Haciendita in Presidio County, the relocation and rectification of the Rio Grande upstream from Hidalgo-Reynosa in Hidalgo County, the preservation of the Rio Grande as the boundary by prohibiting the construction of works which may cause deflection or obstruction of the normal flow of the Rio Grande or of its floodflows, and other channel relocations and rectifications and boundary adjustments approved by the governments of the United States and Mexico, as provided for in the Treaty to Resolve Pending Boundary Differences and Maintain the Rio Grande and Colorado River as the International Boundary between the United States of America and the United Mexican States, which entered into force April 18, 1972, and the American-Mexican Boundary Treaty Act of 1972, Public Law 92-549 (86 Stat. 1161), approved October 25, 1972.1

Sec. 2. When the Commissioner of the United States Section of the International Boundary and Water Commission, United States and Mexico, shall make application to the Governor of the State of Texas describing the area and the interest therein which is determined necessary or expedient for use under the treaty and the Act, the governor shall issue a grant of such interest for and on behalf of the State of Texas to the United States of America, conveying to it the area and the interest described in the application, and the grant, except as provided in Section 3 of this Act, shall reserve to the State of Texas all minerals, except rock, sand, and gravel needed by the United States in the operation or construction by the United States or its agents of any of the works described in Section 1 of this Act, subject to the proviso that the minerals so reserved to the state may not be explored for, developed, or produced in a manner which will at any time prevent or interfere with the operation or construction by the United States of America of any of the works described in Section 1 of this Act, and providing further, that prior to exploring for or developing the reserved minerals, the written consent and approval of the United States Section, International Boundary and Water Commission, United States and Mexico, or its successor agency, shall be obtained as to the proposed area sought to be explored or developed by the State of Texas, including, but not by way of limitation, the location of and production facilities for oil and/or gas wells and/or other minerals.

Sec. 3. In locations where the United States Commissioner applies for fee title to the bed and banks of the Rio Grande to be granted to the United States for the relocation and rectification of the channel under the treaty causing a portion of the existing channel to be within the territorial limits of Mexico after its relocation and rectification, the grant shall contain the same reservations and provisions as those prescribed in Section 2 of this Act on that portion only of the existing channel which will remain within the territorial limits of the United States on completion of the relocation and rectification project.

Sec. 4. Successive applications may be made by the United States Commissioner, and successive grants may be made to the United States of America by the governor for and on behalf of the State of Texas, embracing various tracts within the limits herein specified, and no time limit shall be imposed upon the grants. However, nothing in this Act shall be construed as divesting, limiting, or otherwise affecting the property rights, including, but not by way of limitation, the riparian rights, under the laws... of the State of Texas, of private owners of land abutting the Rio Grande in the counties referred to in this Act. The authority granted by this Act to the Governor of the State of Texas extends only to the bed and banks of the Rio Grande to the extent that title to the bed and banks is by law vested in the State of Texas, whether under the civil law, or common law, or court decisions of the State of Texas, or otherwise.

1C. LAND SURVEYING PRACTICES

Art. 5282c. Land Surveying Practices Act of 1979

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Land Surveying Practices Act of 1979.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) “Public surveying” means the practice for compensation of determining the boundaries or the topography of real property or of delineating routes, spaces, or sites in real property for public or private use by using relevant elements of law, research, measurement, analysis, computation, mapping, and land description writing. Public surveying includes the practice for compensation of land, boundary, or property surveying or other similar professional practices.

(2) “Registered public surveyor” is any person registered as a public surveyor by the Texas Board of Land Surveying.

(3) “State land surveying” means the science or practice of land measurement according to established and recognized methods engaged in and practiced as a profession or service available to the public for compensation and comprises the determination by means of survey of the location or relocation of original land grant boundaries and corners; the calculation of area and the preparation of field note descriptions of both surveyed and unsurveyed land or any land in which the state or the public free school fund has an interest; the preparation of maps showing such survey results; and the field notes and/or maps of which are to be filed in the General Land Office of the State of Texas.

(4) “Licensed state land surveyor” is a surveyor licensed by the Texas Board of Land Surveying to survey land in which the state or the public free school fund has an interest, or other original surveys, for the purpose of filing field notes in the General Land Office. When acting in this official...
Art. 5282c

LANDS—PUBLIC

capacity, such a surveyor is an agent of the State of Texas.

(5) "Board" means the Texas Board of Land Surveying created by this Act.

(6) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of the General Land Office of the State of Texas.

(7) "Chief clerk" means the chief clerk of the General Land Office of the State of Texas appointed by the commissioner to perform any of the duties of the commissioner if he is sick, absent, dies, or resigns.

(8) "Secretary" means the executive secretary of the board as herein provided.

(9) "Land surveyor" means a registered public surveyor or licensed state land surveyor.

(10) "Responsible charge" means the direct control and personal direction of the investigation, design, construction, or operation of land surveying work requiring initiative, professional skill, and independent judgment.

(11) "Practice or offer to practice" means to engage in land surveying or by verbal claim, sign, letterhead, card, or in any other way to represent oneself as legally able to perform land surveying in this state.

Practice of Surveying

Sec. 3. In order to safeguard the life, health, or property of the public, the practice of public or state land surveying in Texas is hereby declared to be subject to regulation in the public interest. It shall be unlawful for any person to practice or offer to practice land surveying in this state as defined in this Act or to use in connection with his or her name or otherwise assume or advertise any title or description tending to convey the impression that such person is a land surveyor, unless that individual is duly registered, licensed, or exempted under the provisions of this Act.

Exemptions

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act do not apply to any of the following:

(1) a county surveyor acting in an official capacity as authorized by law in counties under 25,000 population, but only until the expiration of the term of persons currently holding such office;

(2) an officer of a state, county (except as provided by Subsection (1) of this section when applicable), city, or other political subdivision whose official duties include land surveying when acting in his official capacity, but only until the expiration of the term of persons currently holding such office;

(3) a deputy, assistant, or employee of any person exempt from the provisions of this Act by Subsections (1) and (2) of this section when acting under the direction and supervision of such exempt person;

(4) a land surveyor engaged in public surveying acting solely as an officer or as an employee of the government of the United States;

(5) a land surveyor engaged in public surveying who is not a resident of this state and has no established place of business in this state, who is legally qualified for professional service in his own state, and who gives prior written notification to the board of his intent to practice temporarily in this state and of the nature and duration of that intended practice; or

(6) an assistant or employee of any Public Surveyor registered under this Act when he works for, receives a substantial part of his income from, and acts under the direction and supervision of the Registered Public Surveyor.

Texas Sunset Act

Sec. 5. The Texas Board of Land Surveying is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the board is abolished and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

Texas Board of Land Surveying: Qualifications for Board Members; Appointment of Members; Oath of Office

Sec. 6. (a) There is hereby created a Texas Board of Land Surveying which shall consist of the following 10 members, each of whom shall be a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state:

(1) the commissioner;

(2) three members of the general public;

(3) two licensed state land surveyors; and

(4) four registered public surveyors.

The chief clerk shall perform the duties of the commissioner as a member of the board if the commissioner is sick, is absent, resigns, or dies and in such capacity shall have the same powers and authority as the commissioner.

The licensed state land surveyor members of the board shall be appointed by the governor upon the recommendation of the commissioner and with the advice and consent of the senate and shall have been actively engaged in the practice of state land surveying for not less than five consecutive years immediately prior to his or her appointment. Such members may also be registered as registered public surveyors.

The registered public surveyor members of the board shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate and shall have been actively engaged in the practice of public surveying in this state for not less than five years immediately prior to his or her appointment. The teaching of surveying in a recognized school of engineering or surveying may be regarded as the practice of public surveying. Such members may also be licensed as licensed state land surveyors.
The public members of the board shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate and such members shall not hold a certificate of registration or license as a surveyor.

(b) The members of the board shall serve a term of six years or until a successor shall be appointed and qualified. Upon the appointment of the first board under this Act and upon February 10th of each odd-numbered year thereafter, the governor shall appoint from among the membership of the board a chairman. Before entering upon the duties of his or her office, each member of the board shall take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and the same shall be filed with the secretary of state. All vacancies occurring in the membership of the board shall be filled by appointment by the governor for the unexpired term of the membership in the manner provided by this Act. All appointments made under this Act shall be made without regard to race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin. A member of the board may be appointed to succeed himself or herself, except that no member shall be eligible to serve more than two consecutive terms.

(c) The persons serving on the effective date of this Act as appointed members of the Board of Examiners of Licensed State Land Surveyors and of the State Board of Registration for Public Surveyors plus one public member constitute the initial Texas Board of Land Surveying.

A person who holds office on the effective date of this Act as a member of the State Board of Registration for Public Surveyors holds office as a member of the Texas Board of Land Surveying for the term for which the member was originally appointed. A person who holds office on the effective date of this Act as a member of the Board of Examiners of Licensed State Land Surveyors and whose term as a member of that board would expire December 2, 1980, holds office as a member of the Texas Board of Land Surveying for a term expiring September 6, 1979. A person who holds office on the effective date of this Act as a member of the Board of Examiners of Licensed State Land Surveyors and whose term as a member of that board would expire December 2, 1983, holds office as a member of the Texas Board of Land Surveying for a term expiring September 6, 1983.

The governor shall appoint to the Texas Board of Land surveying a public member for a term expiring September 6, 1981. The governor shall appoint to the board two public members to fill the offices of the two registered public surveyors whose terms expire September 6, 1979.

Conflict of Interest Provisions for Board Members and Employees

Sec. 7. (a) A member or employee of the board may not be at any time during the member's term in office or the employee's term of employment any of the following:

(1) an executive officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade or professional association in the regulated profession or industry; or

(2) related within the second degree of affinity or consanguinity to a person who is an executive officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade or professional association in the regulated profession or industry.

(b) Members of the board, except those members who are licensed or registered under this Act, may not personally have nor be related to persons within the second degree by affinity or third degree by consanguinity who have, except as consumers, financial interests in the practice of public or state land surveying as officers, directors, partners, owners, employees, attorneys, or paid consultants.

(c) Any person who violates this section is ineligible to hold or continue to hold office or a position of employment with the board.

(d) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252–9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not serve as a member of the board or act as the general counsel to the board. The general counsel and board members may appear and represent the board at committee hearings and other formal meetings of organs of the legislative or executive departments of government when invited to do so.

Organization and Meetings of the Board

Sec. 8. (a) The first board created under the provisions of this Act shall hold its first meeting within 90 days after the effective date of this legislation and shall elect from its number a vice-chairman, who shall thereafter be elected at the first meeting of the board subsequent to February 10th of each odd-numbered year. An executive secretary shall be appointed by the board to hold office at the pleasure of the board. The secretary shall make and file a bond in the amount of not less than $2,500. The premium for the bond shall be paid out of the “Land Surveying Fund” as provided in this Act. It is the duty of the Texas Board of Land Surveying to hold meetings at least twice each year at such times and places as the board may determine for the purpose of transacting its business and to examine all applicants for registration or licensure as a public surveyor or state land surveyor. Regular meetings of the board shall be held at such times as the board may fix and determine. Special meetings of the board shall be held at such times as the board may fix and determine. Special meetings of the board may be called by the chairman or in his absence from the state or inability to act by the vice-chairman of the board. A majority of the membership of the board constitutes a quorum.

(b) Each member of the board shall be present for at least one-half of the regularly scheduled meetings held each year by the board. The failure of a member to meet this requirement automatically removes the member from the board and creates a vacancy on the board.

(c) The board is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252–17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Powers of the Board

Sec. 9. (a) The board shall have the authority and power to make and enforce all reasonable and necessary rules, regulations, and bylaws not inconsistent with the Texas Constitution, the laws of this state, and this Act for the performance of its duties in administering this Act and for the purpose of establishing standards of conduct and ethics for surveyors registered or licensed under this Act. The board shall not promulgate rules restricting competitive bidding by licensees and shall not promulgate rules restricting advertising by licensees except to the extent necessary to prohibit false, misleading, and deceptive practices. The violation by any registered public surveyor or licensed state land surveyor of any provision of this Act or any rule or regulation of the board is sufficient reason or ground to suspend or revoke the certificate of registration or licensure of the surveyor. In addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy authorized by law, the Texas Board of Land Surveying has the right to institute an action in its own name in a district court of Travis County against any person, firm or corporation, partnership, or any other group or combination of persons to enjoin a violation of any provision of this Act or any rule or regulation of the board.

Either party to such an action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of the cause. If any action, proceeding, or remedy authorized by law, the Texas Board of Land Surveying has the right to institute an action in its own name in a district court of Travis County against any person, firm or corporation, partnership, or any other group or combination of persons to enjoin a violation of any provision of this Act or any rule or regulation of the board. The legal assistant to the board may employ or retain such other persons as are necessary to conduct the administrative affairs of the board under the board's direction. The board may also employ or retain such other persons as are necessary for the proper performance of its work under this Act, including services of an investigative nature, and may make expenditures for this purpose. The board is authorized to accept at no cost to the board such services from private sources. The compensation paid under this Act shall not be in excess of compensation paid for similar work in other state departments.

(g) The board shall arrange for such suitable office space and equipment as it may deem necessary, and the rental for such office space and the cost of such equipment shall be considered administration expenses.

Compensation and Expenses of Board Members

Sec. 10. Members of the board, other than the commissioner, shall receive as compensation the sum of $25 per day for each day they are actually engaged in official board duties, including time spent in necessary travel, together with all legitimate expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.
All per diem and expenses incurred under this Act shall be paid from the “Land Surveying Fund” as provided in this Act. The commissioner shall not receive per diem compensation or actual expenses for the discharge of his duties as a member of the board, except as otherwise provided by law.

Records and Reports

Sec. 11. (a) The board shall keep a record of its proceedings, which is open to public inspection at all reasonable times, and which includes a record of all money received and expended by the board and a register of all applicants for registration or licensure, showing the following:

1. the name, age, and residence of each applicant;
2. the date of application;
3. the place of business of such applicant;
4. the applicant’s qualifications;
5. any reasons for rejection of an application;
6. the dates and results of all examinations;
7. the date and number of all certificates of registration or licensure issued; and
8. such other information as may be deemed necessary by the board.

(b) The board also shall keep a record of all registered professional engineers engaged in public surveying who register with the board, which includes the following:

1. the name, age, and residence of all registrants;
2. the place of business of the registrant;
3. the date and serial number of registration as a professional engineer;
4. the date of registration with the board; and
5. any other information that may be deemed necessary by the board.

Provisions for the Transfer of Personnel, Property, and Assets

Sec. 12. The personnel employed by the State Board of Registration for Public Surveyors and the records, property, and assets in the custody of the State Board of Registration for Public Surveyors and the Board of Examiners of Licensed State Land Surveyors on the effective date of this Act are hereby transferred to the Texas Board of Land Surveying.

Receipts and Disbursements

Sec. 13. The secretary of the board shall receive and account for all fees received under the provisions of this Act and shall deposit these funds in the State Treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the “Land Surveying Fund.” At the beginning of each biennium all money then in such fund which is not then appropriated or obligated shall be set over and paid into the General Revenue Fund. This fund shall be paid out only by warrants of the comptroller of public accounts upon itemized vouchers approved by the secretary of the board. Under no circumstances shall the total amount of warrants issued by the comptroller of public accounts in payment of the expenses and compensation provided for in this Act exceed the amount in the Land Surveying Fund. All payments to persons retained or employed by the board or to members of the board and all per diem and expenses incurred under this Act shall be paid out of the Land Surveying Fund provided herein, and no part of the expense of administering this Act shall ever be a charge against the general funds of the State of Texas. The board shall as of August 31 of each year after the passage of this Act make a report to the governor, lieutenant governor, and speaker of the house of representatives for all receipts and disbursements under this Act. The financial transactions of the board shall be audited annually by the state auditor.

Practitioners at the Time of Enactment

Sec. 14. (a) All persons holding valid certificates of registration or licenses on the effective date of this Act from either the State Board of Registration for Public Surveyors or the Board of Examiners of Licensed State Land Surveyors shall be automatically registered or licensed under this Act. Those holding a certificate of registration as a registered public surveyor shall be registered as registered public surveyors and those holding a licensed state land surveyor’s license shall be licensed as licensed state land surveyors. Those so registered shall retain their same registration numbers and those so registered or licensed shall retain their former certificate or license until such certificate or license is renewed as provided herein.

(b) Any person holding a valid license on the effective date of this Act from the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers who has been engaged in the practice of surveying for a period of not less than one year immediately preceding the effective date of this Act may apply for registration as a public surveyor within a period of one year from the effective date of this Act and on payment of the registration fee shall be registered as a public surveyor. The Texas Board of Land Surveying and the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers shall determine whether an applicant qualifies for registration under this subsection. If the boards disagree about whether an applicant qualifies for registration under this subsection, the decision of the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers controls.

(c) All persons registered or licensed under this section are presumed to be qualified as long as they annually renew their certificate of registration or licensure as required under this Act.

Qualifications for Registration and Licensure

Sec. 15. (a) No person, except those exempt from the operation of this Act, shall engage or continue in the practice of public surveying as defined in this Act, unless the person is registered or licensed as provided by this Act.
Art. 5282c

(b) The following classes of persons are qualified for registration or licensure:

(1) all registered professional engineers engaged in the practice of surveying on the effective date of this Act who register with the board in accordance with this Act;

(2) all persons who apply to take and successfully pass a written examination developed and given as provided by this Act under rules developed by the board to determine the knowledge and ability of the applicant shall be qualified for registration as a registered public surveyor; and

(3) all registered public surveyors who apply to take and successfully pass a written examination as provided by this Act under rules developed by the board on the theory of surveying, the law of land boundaries, the history and functions of the General Land Office, and such other matters pertaining to surveying as the board may determine shall be qualified for licensure as a licensed state land surveyor.

(c) All applicants for licensure as a registered public surveyor, except a registered professional engineer, must meet the following minimum requirements:

(1) be of good professional character and reputation;

(2) have satisfied one of the following educational and experience requirements:

(i) have successfully completed a full four-year course of study at an accredited college or university leading to a bachelor's or higher degree and have a specific experience of two or more years as a subordinate to a registered public surveyor or a person qualified in land surveying in the active practice of land surveying of a character indicating that the applicant was in delegated responsible charge of the accuracy and correctness of the surveying work performed. The course of study shall have included not less than 32 semester hours of study or its academic equivalent in any combination of courses in civil engineering, land surveying, mathematics, photogrammetry, forestry, or land law and the physical sciences; or

(ii) have successfully completed a course of study in land surveying or board-approved survey-related courses of 32 semester hours of study or its academic equivalent and have a specific experience record of four or more years as a subordinate to a registered public surveyor or a person qualified in land surveying in the active practice of land surveying of a character indicating that the applicant was in delegated responsible charge as defined herein; or

(iii) have graduated from an accredited high school and have a specific experience record of six or more years as a subordinate to a registered public surveyor or a person qualified in land surveying in the active practice of land surveying of a character indicating that the applicant was in delegated responsible charge of the accuracy and correctness of the surveying work performed. Applicants under this subsection without the college, university, or board-approved courses listed in paragraphs (i) and (ii) must show they have become self-educated in the surveying field.

(d) Notwithstanding the requirements for registration set forth in Subdivision (2) of Subsection (c) of this section, the board shall adopt reasonable rules and regulations necessary to establish a surveyor-in-training program designed to reduce the educational and experience requirements set forth in said Subsection (c) through a concentrated course of study and training. Such program shall include the following provisions:

(i) minimum educational requirements of a lesser degree than those set forth in said Subsection (c);

(ii) examination for basic mathematical skills necessary to the practice of public surveying;

(iii) a board-approved program of intensive study through formal educational programs, private educational and professional programs and seminars, or both; and

(iv) a board-approved program of intensive experience covering a lesser period of time than that set forth in said Subsection (c); and

(v) examination for other basic skills and knowledge necessary to the practice of public surveying.

Upon proof of qualification under Paragraph (i) of this subsection and successful completion of the basic examination required by Paragraph (ii) of this subsection, an applicant shall receive a certificate declaring him or her a surveyor-in-training in a form to be approved by the board, and a record shall verify and note successful completion of each additional requirement of the surveyor-in-training program by the applicant. Upon successful completion of the program, the applicant shall receive a certificate of registration as a registered public surveyor upon payment of the necessary fee.

Applications, Examinations, and Fees for Licensure

Sec. 16. Any applicant seeking registration as a registered public surveyor or licensure as a licensed state land surveyor shall file an application in writing with the Texas Board of Land Surveying. An application fee, not to exceed $50, shall be submitted with the application. If the board determines that the applicant is qualified to take the examination, it shall set and notify the applicant of the time and place of the examination. The applicant may take the examination on payment of an examination fee determined by the board, not to exceed $100 for registered public surveyor examinations or $50 for licensed state land surveyor examinations.

Applications for registration or licensure shall be on forms prescribed and furnished by the board and shall contain statements made under oath showing the applicant’s education and experience. Applications for registration shall contain a detailed summary of the applicant's technical work and references of at least three surveyors having personal knowledge of his surveying experience.

The scope of the examination and the methods of procedure shall be prescribed by the board with special reference to the applicant’s ability in order to insure the public safety, welfare, and property rights.

Not later than the 30th day after the day on which a person completes an examination administered by the board, the board shall send to the person his or her examination results. If requested in writing by a person who fails the examination, the board shall send to the person not later than the 30th day after the day on which the request is received by the board an analysis of the person’s performance on the examination.

An applicant failing an examination may apply for and take a subsequent examination at the expiration of six months from the date of the preceding examination by filing an updated application and paying an additional examination fee not to exceed $100.

On passing the appropriate examination, the applicant is entitled to a certificate of registration as a registered public surveyor or a certificate of licensure as a licensed state land surveyor. No certificate of licensure as a licensed state land surveyor shall be issued until the applicant has taken the oath of office and filed the bond as required by this Act. Each registered public surveyor shall also be issued a registration number which shall not thereafter be assigned to nor used by any other surveyor. The number shall be placed on the certificate of registration and recorded in the permanent records of the board and shall constitute the registration number of that surveyor to be used on all official documents. The certificate of registration and the certificate of licensure shall also show the full name of the registrant or licensee and shall be signed by the chairman and secretary of the board.

Renewal, Renewal Fees, Penalty for Late Renewals

Sec. 17. All certificates of registration or licensure shall expire on December 31 of each year or on a date set by the board as part of a staggered renewal system and shall become invalid on that date unless renewed. It shall be the duty of the secretary of the board to notify every person registered under this Act of the date of expiration of his or her certificate and the amount of the fee that shall be required for its renewal for one year. The notice shall be mailed at least one month in advance of the date of expiration of the certificate. For this and other purposes, each registrant or licensee shall notify the secretary of any change of address as it occurs. For the year in which the expiration date is changed, renewal fees payable on December 31 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each registrant or licensee shall pay only that portion of the renewal fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the renewal is valid. On renewal of the registration or license on the new expiration date, the total renewal fee is payable. Renewal may be effected at any time during the month of expiration by the payment of a fee set by the board, not to exceed $50 for certificates of registration of registered public surveyors or $25 for certificates of licensure for licensed state land surveyors. On receipt of the required fee within the time and in the manner prescribed by the board, the designated officer or employee of the board shall issue to the licensed or registered surveyor a certificate of renewal of his or her certificate for the term of one year. The failure on the part of a surveyor to renew a certificate annually by the expiration date established by the board shall not deprive an individual of the right of renewal, but shall result in an increase in the renewal fee of $20. If failure to renew shall continue for more than 90 days after the date of expiration of the certificate of registration or licensure, the board may require such registrant or licensee to reapply for registration or licensure and he or she must qualify and pay all fees provided herein as an original applicant therefor. All renewal certificates of registration shall carry the same registration number as the original certificate. All original and renewal certificates of registration or licensure shall be evidence that the person whose name and registration number appears thereon is qualified to practice as a registered public surveyor or a licensed state land surveyor so long as the certificate is valid and in force. Each person holding a certificate of registration or licensure shall display it at his or her place of business or practice and be prepared to substantiate annual renewal for the current year. The secretary shall immediately notify the commissioner whenever the license of any licensed state land surveyor is rendered invalid for his or her failure to timely renew such license.

Official Seals

Sec. 18. Each registered public surveyor on receiving a certificate of registration shall obtain an authorized seal bearing the registrant’s name and number and the legend “Registered Public Surveyor.” No licensee shall affix his or her name, seal, or certification to any plat, design, specification, or other work constituting the practice of the occupation regulated by this Act and prepared by an unlicensed person, unless the work was performed under the direction and supervision of the licensee and the unlicensed person is an employee of the same firm and under the licensee's direct supervision. For the purpose of this section, an "employee" means an individual who receives compensation for work performed from a firm which employs or has a principal licensed or registered surveyor on a full-time basis. No licensee shall allow a nonlicensed person to exert control over the end product of his or her professional work. Only one surveyor's seal is required for the documents of a single project as prepared by each firm. However, the surveyor whose seal is to be used must be a principal in the firm who has the primary responsibility for the particular project. In addition, the seals of other professionals in the firm may be used. When there is a joint surveying venture comprising an association of two or more firms, each firm shall use the seal of the surveyor who has the primary responsibility for the firm. Each licensed state land surveyor shall procure a seal of office. Around the margin shall be the words "Licensed State Land Surveyor," which shall be his or her official title, and between the points of the star in the seal shall be the word "Texas." A licensed state land surveyor shall attest with the seal all official acts authorized under the provisions of the law. No act, paper, or map of a licensed state land surveyor shall be filed in the county records of the General Land Office unless certified to under the seal of the surveyor.

Oath and Bond

Sec. 19. (a) Before a licensed state land surveyor's license is issued and before one who has successfully passed the examination as provided in this Act is authorized to perform the duties of a licensed state land surveyor, he or she shall take the official oath and shall make a good and sufficient bond in the sum of $1,000, payable to the governor and conditioned that he or she will faithfully, impartially, and honestly perform all the duties of a licensed state land surveyor to the best of his or her skill and ability in all matters wherein he or she may be employed. No state land surveyor's license may be issued under this Act to any person residing outside the State of Texas.

(b) The bond may be executed by two or more solvent personal sureties or by a solvent surety company authorized to transact business in this state. If the bond is signed by personal sureties, each shall take and subscribe an oath that he or she is worth, over and above all debts and exemptions, at least double the penalty of the bond. A personal bond also shall be approved by the commissioners court of the county where the applicant resides. After the oath and bond have been executed as provided by this Act, they shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the applicant resides and after being so recorded shall be filed at the Texas Board of Land Surveying, accompanied by a filing fee in an amount to be fixed by the board. Thereupon a license shall be issued to the applicant, and he or she is authorized to enter upon the discharge of the duties of a licensed state land surveyor. If for any reason the liability on the bond provided for by this Act is terminated, the licensee is not authorized to perform the duties of a licensed state land surveyor until a new bond is made as in the first instance. No surety on a bond shall be relieved of liability on the bond without first giving the board 30 days' notice in writing. The termination of a bond as provided in this Act or the revocation of a surveyor's license does not relieve the sureties on the bond from any liability that may have theretofore accrued on the bond. The board is directed to provide the General Land Office with a current list of bondholders.

(c) The secretary shall immediately advise the commissioner whenever any applicant has qualified for and has been issued a license as a licensed state land surveyor under this Act. The secretary shall also immediately advise the commissioner whenever the liability on the bond of any licensee under this Act has been terminated for any reason.

Reciprocal Certificate

Sec. 20. The Texas Board of Land Surveying shall issue a certificate of registration as a registered public surveyor on a reciprocal basis to any person who:

(1) holds a public surveyor license or other form of permission issued by a governmental authority outside of this state if the licensing standards of the governmental authority are substantially equivalent to those of this state; and

(2) applies with the board for the certificate of registration and pays a fee set by the board not to exceed $50.

Firm Names; Assumed Names

Sec. 21. Registrants and licensees holding current certificates of registration or licensure may organize or engage in any form of individual or group practice of surveying allowed by the statutes of this state, if the firm identity of that practice does not publicly imply registration authority to practice public or state land surveying without properly identifying the registrant responsible for that practice. Any person engaging in the practice of surveying in this state under any business title other than the real name or names of those legally authorized to engage in public or state land surveying, whether individually or as an association, partnership, or corporation, shall file in the office of this board a certificate stating the full name and residence of each person engaging in that practice and the place, including street, number, city, and zip code, where that practice or business is principally conducted.

Resignation of a Licensed State Land Surveyor

Sec. 22. A licensed state land surveyor may resign as such surveyor at any time by filing a resignation in writing with the Texas Board of Land Surveying. On the receipt of the resignation, the board shall note the receipt and inform the General Land Office. Resignation does not relieve the principal and sureties of the surveyor's official bond of any liability that may have accrued prior to the effectiveness of the resignation.

Penalties

Sec. 23. (a) The Texas Board of Land Surveying has the power to reprimand or suspend or to revoke the license and/or registration of any surveyor found guilty of:

1. the practice of any fraud or deceit in obtaining a certificate of registration for registered public surveyors or a certificate of licensure for licensed state surveyors;
2. any gross negligence, incompetency, or misconduct in the practice of surveying as a registered public surveyor or licensed state surveyor; or
3. the violation of a provision of this Act or a rule or regulation promulgated by the board.

(b) The license of any licensed state land surveyor found to be directly or indirectly interested in the purchase or acquisition of title to public land is subject to revocation.

(c) After the effective date of this Act, any person found guilty of the following offenses shall be deemed guilty of a Class B misdemeanor:

1. practicing or offering to practice public surveying or state land surveying in this state without being registered or licensed or exempt in accordance with the provisions of this Act;
2. presenting or attempting to use the certificate of registration or licensure or seal of another;
3. giving any false or forged evidence in order to obtain or assist another in obtaining a certificate of registration or licensure; or
4. violating any of the provisions of this Act or any rules or regulations promulgated by the board.

Enforcement; Complaints; Hearings

Sec. 24. (a) Any person may file a complaint with the Texas Board of Land Surveying regarding a violation of this Act or any rule or regulation of the board. The board may also institute proceedings against a registrant or licensee on its behalf without a formal written third party complaint. Each alleged violation of applicable statutes, when duly reported and substantiated by sworn affidavits, shall be investigated. The board may employ the investigators or inspectors necessary to enforce properly the provisions of this Act.

(b) If it is determined that the complaint is not within the board's jurisdiction, the complainant shall be notified in writing within 30 days. If the board determines the complaint to be within its statutory jurisdiction, a written notice stating the nature of the charge or charges and the time and place of the hearing before the board shall be served on the accused not less than 20 days prior to the date of the hearing and within three months after the date on which the complaint was filed. The board or its legal counsel is authorized to hold conferences before or during the hearing process for the settlement or simplification of the issues and for such purposes as the demands of justice require. At any hearing, the respondent is entitled to appear in person and by counsel, present all relevant evidence and witnesses on his or her own behalf, cross-examine witnesses, and examine such evidence as may be produced against him or her. The failure of a respondent to appear at a hearing may be deemed a waiver of all rights except the right to be served with any sanction imposed by the board. The board may, however, grant continuances on a written request, indicating good cause for failure to appear, filed with the board prior to the date of the hearing. The board is empowered to issue notices, subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, hear testimony, rule on objections and motions, and otherwise regulate and expedite the course and conduct of the hearing. Any individual appearing at a hearing in response to a subpoena or by request or permission of the board may be accompanied, represented, or advised by counsel.

(c) After all the parties have been given an opportunity to present proposed findings and arguments, the board shall prepare findings of fact, conclusions of law, and any subsequent order, ruling, or decision of the board to be served on all parties. In the proceedings under this section and the other sections of this Act, a majority of the board shall constitute a quorum.

(d) A stenographic record or tape recording of all hearings shall be kept and transcribed. A transcript shall be made available to any party on payment of the lawfully prescribed cost.

(e) A person, firm, partnership, or corporation aggrieved by an order, ruling, or decision of the board may file a motion for rehearing which must be filed within 15 days after the rendition of the order, ruling, or decision. Replies to motions for rehearings must be filed within 25 days after the rendition of the order, ruling, or decision. A party aggrieved by a final order, ruling, or decision of the board has the right to file suit in a district court of Travis County. The petition must be filed within 30 days after the decision, ruling, or order in question is final and appealable. The board may not be required to give bond in any case or appeal arising under this Act. Neither the Texas Board of Land Surveying nor any member of the board is liable to any person, firm, or corporation charged or investigated by the board for any damages incident to the investigation or incident to any complaint, charge, prosecution, proceeding, or trial of the results of the investigation.

LANDS—PUBLIC

(f) The board for reasons it may deem sufficient may reissue a certificate of registration or licensure to any surveyor whose certificate has been revoked or suspended provided five or more members vote in favor of the reissuance. A new certificate of registration or licensure to replace a certificate revoked, lost, destroyed, or mutilated may be issued, subject to the rules of the board and a charge of $5.

(g) The attorney general or his assistants shall act as legal advisor to the board and shall render such legal assistance as may be necessary in enforcing the provisions of this Act and the rules and regulations of the board.

(h) The board shall keep an information file on the disposition of each complaint filed with the board relating to a registrant or licensee. If a written complaint is filed with the board relating to a registrant or licensee, the board at least as frequently as quarterly shall notify the complainant of the status of the complaint until finally determined.

Authority of Licensee and Method of Obtaining Right to Survey on Private Land

Sec. 25. (a) Licensed state land surveyors licensed under this Act are authorized to perform surveys under the provisions of Section 21.011, Natural Resources Code, and to perform the duties that may be performed by the county surveyors and are subject to the direction of the Commissioner of the General Land Office in matters of land surveying in such cases as may come under the supervision of such authorities. The jurisdiction of such licensees shall be coextensive with the limits of the state.

(b) Licensed state land surveyors may hold the office of county surveyor, and if so elected shall qualify as provided by law for county surveyors. The election of a county surveyor for a particular county does not limit the jurisdiction of the surveyor to that county, and the election of a county surveyor for any particular county does not prevent any licensed state land surveyor from performing the duties of a surveyor in that county.

(c) All official field notes made by a surveyor licensed under this Act shall be signed by the surveyor, followed by the designation, “Licensed State Land Surveyor.”

(d) If a licensed state land surveyor is denied permission to cross the land owned by a private party when surveying in his or her official capacity, the county attorney of the county in which the land is located shall promptly seek an order from a court of competent jurisdiction giving the licensee authority to cross the private lands.

Field Notes to be Recorded

Sec. 26. The field notes and plats of every survey of public land made by a licensed state land surveyor licensed under this Act shall be recorded in the county surveyor’s records of the county in which the land is situated. The field notes and plats of public land made by a licensed state land surveyor affecting the lines, boundaries, and areas of such land shall be forwarded to the General Land Office after the same have been recorded under the provisions of this Act. All field notes made by licensed state land surveyors in any county in this state have the same force and effect and are admissible in evidence the same as field notes made by a county surveyor.

Undisclosed Land

Sec. 27. If a licensed state land surveyor discovers any undisclosed tract of public land, the surveyor shall not make known that fact to anyone except to such person as may have it enclosed, except that the surveyor shall forward to the Commissioner of the General Land Office a report of the existence of the tract, the acreage in the tract, and its probable value.

County Surveyor Authorized to Record Field Notes and Documents in County Surveyor’s Records; Exceptions; Fees; Access to Records

Sec. 28. (a) In cases where a county has a county surveyor, the county surveyor alone is authorized to file and record field notes and plats of all surveys made in that county and other documents required by law to be recorded in the county surveyor’s records and to issue certificates of fact and certify the correctness of copies of any document, record, or entry shown by the records of a county surveyor. However, if a county surveyor and his or her authorized deputy or deputies are absent from the office, the county clerk of the county has free access to the county surveyor’s office and public records and, in such event, is authorized to record field notes, plats, and other documents required to be recorded in the county surveyor’s records and to issue certificates of fact and certify the correctness of copies of any document, record, or entry shown on the official records of the county surveyor. In cases where a county has no county surveyor, the county clerk of the county is the legal custodian of the surveyor’s records and is authorized to make all the certificates and certify the copies that a legally authorized county surveyor may make.

(b) The fees for recording documents in the surveyor’s records and issuing certificates and making certified copies are the fees now or hereafter provided by law. The county surveyor is entitled to fees for all documents recorded by the county surveyor or his or her deputies and for all certificates and certified copies issued by the county surveyor or his or her deputies. The county clerk is entitled to all fees for documents recorded by the county clerk and for all certificates and certified copies issued by the county clerk under the provisions of this Act.

(c) All licensed state land surveyors shall for the purpose of information and examination have access to the records of county surveyors, and no examination fee shall be charged in cases where an investigation of the records is being made with a view to making surveys of public lands under the laws regulating the sale or lease of the same or of identifying and establishing the boundaries of public land. All examinations shall be made under such regulations as may be provided by the county surveyor or the commissioners court for the safekeeping and preservation of the records.

Informing the Public Concerning the Regulation of Surveying

Sec. 29. All written contracts for surveying services in this state shall contain the name, mailing address, and telephone number of the regulatory board having jurisdiction over that licensed individual in responsible charge of providing those services and shall contain a statement that complaints about surveying services may be forwarded to that regulatory board. 1

Art. 5415g. Repealed.

Art. 5415j. Study Committee to Study Development of State Beaches

Art. 5415e-2. Coastal Waterway Act of 1975

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the "Texas Coastal Waterway Act of 1975."
Art. 5415e-2  LANDS—PUBLIC

Policy
Sec. 2. It is the policy of the State of Texas (i) to support the marine commerce and economy of this state by providing for the shallow draft navigation of the state's coastal waters in an environmentally sound fashion, and (ii) to prevent waste of both publicly and privately owned natural resources, to prevent or minimize adverse impacts on the environment, and to maintain, preserve, and enhance wildlife and fisheries; and to accomplish such policy the State of Texas shall act as the nonfederal sponsor of the main channel of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway from the Sabine River to the Brownsville Ship Channel, and shall satisfy the responsibilities of the nonfederal sponsor as determined by federal law consistent with the policy of the State of Texas as declared in this section.

Findings
Sec. 3. The legislature finds and declares that:

(a) Marine commerce is a vital element of the state's economy and the benefits derived therefrom are realized directly or indirectly by the entire state.

(b) The coastal public lands and the coastal marshes and similar coastal areas located on both publicly and privately owned lands are similarly vital elements of the state's economy, and to the maintenance, preservation, and enhancement of the environment, wildlife, and fisheries, the benefits of which are similarly realized directly or indirectly by the entire state.

(c) The coastal public lands and related natural resources constitute a vital asset of the state to be managed for the benefit of all citizens of the State of Texas.

(d) The Gulf Intracoastal Waterway traverses coastal public lands and areas in close proximity to the coastal marshes and similar coastal areas located on both publicly and privately owned lands.

(e) The Gulf Intracoastal Waterway can be maintained, operated, and improved in such a way as to prevent waste of both publicly and privately owned natural resources, that adverse environmental impacts are avoided or minimized, and that in some cases beneficial environmental effects can be realized.

(f) It is in the best interest of all citizens to accomplish the policy of the State of Texas as stated in Section 2 of this Act for the State of Texas to meet the responsibilities as required by federal law of the nonfederal sponsor of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway.

Definitions
Sec. 4. As used in this chapter:

(a) “Coastal public lands” means all or any portion of the state-owned submerged land, the waters overlying those lands, and all state-owned islands or portions of islands that may be affected by the ebb and flow of the tide.

(b) “Coastal marshes and similar areas” means those soft, low-lying watery or wet lands and drainage areas in the coastal areas of the state which may or may not be subject to the ebb and flow of the tide but which are of ecological significance to the environment and to the maintenance, preservation, and enhancement of wildlife and fisheries.

(c) “Commission” means the State Highway Commission.

(d) “Gulf Intracoastal Waterway” means the main channel, not including tributaries or branches, of the shallow draft navigation channel running from the Sabine River southward along the Texas coast to the Brownsville Ship Channel near Port Isabel that is generally referred to as the Gulf Intracoastal Canal.

(e) “Person” means any individual, firm, partnership, association, corporation (public or private, profit or nonprofit), trust, or political subdivision or agency of the state.

Administrative Provisions
Sec. 5. (a) This Act shall be administered by the State Highway Commission.

(b) The provisions of this Act are cumulative of all other Acts relating to the commission.

(c) Nothing in this Act shall diminish the duties, powers, and authorities of the School Land Board to manage the coastal public lands of the state.

Duties and Powers
Sec. 6. (a) The commission shall cooperate and work with the Department of the Army, all other appropriate federal and state agencies, navigation districts and port authorities, counties, and other appropriate persons to determine specifically what must be done by the State of Texas to satisfy federal local sponsorship requirements relating to the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway in a manner consistent with the policy of the State of Texas as stated in Section 2 of this Act.

(b) The commission shall fulfill, in a manner consistent with the policy of the state as stated in Section 2 of this Act, the local sponsorship requirements of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway as agent for the state.

(c) Subject to the provisions of Subsection (g) of this section, the commission is authorized to acquire by gift, purchase, or condemnation any property or interest in property of any kind or character deemed necessary by the commission to fulfill its responsibilities under this Act as the nonfederal sponsor of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, including but not limited to easements and rights-of-way for dredge material disposal sites and easements and rights-of-way for channel expansion, relocation, or alteration, save and except oil, gas, sulphur, and other minerals of any kind or character which can be recovered without utilizing the surface of any such land for explorations relating to the exercise of the power of eminent domain shall be in accord with the commission's existing powers and authority relating to eminent domain. However, the commission does not have the authority to condemn any submerged public lands under the jurisdiction of the School Land Board.

(d) Proposed actions and actions of the commission pursuant to this Act which have potential for significant environmental impact or effect upon coastal public lands, coastal marshes and similar areas, wildlife, and fisheries shall be coordinated with appropriate state and federal agencies having environmental, wildlife, and fisheries responsibilities.

(e) All agencies and political subdivisions of the State of Texas shall, within their legal authority and available resources, assist the commission in carrying out the purposes of this Act. All such agencies and political subdivisions are hereby authorized without any form of advertisement to make conveyance of title or rights and easements, owned by any such body, to any property needed by the commission to meet its responsibilities under this Act as the nonfederal sponsor of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway.

(f) The commission, in cooperation with all appropriate persons, shall continually evaluate the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway as it relates to Texas. Such evaluations shall include an assessment of the importance of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, including an identification of direct and indirect beneficiaries; identification of principal problems and possible solutions to such problems, including estimated costs, economic benefits, and environmental effects; evaluation of the need for significant modifications to the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway; and specific recommendations for legislative actions that the commission believes to be in the best interest of the state in carrying out the policy of the state as declared in Section 2 of this Act. The results of this evaluation shall be published in a report to be presented to each regular session of the legislature.

(g) Prior to approval or implementation by the commission of any plan or project for acquisition or acquisition of any property or interest in property for any dredge material disposal site, or for the widening, relocation, or alteration of the main channel of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway which requires the acquisition of any additional property or interest in property, to satisfy federal local sponsor requirements, the commission shall hold public hearings for the purpose of receiving evidence and testimony concerning the desirability of such proposed dredge material disposal site and of any such widening, relocation, or alteration of the main channel of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, prior to which hearing the commission shall publish notice of such plan, project, and hearing, at least once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county seat of each county in which any such proposed dredge material disposal site or part thereof is located and in which the channel or any portion of the channel of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway to be widened, relocated, or altered is located, of the date, time, and place of such hearing. If after such public hearing the commission shall determine that such proposed dredge material site plan or project or such proposed plan or project for widening, relocation, or alteration of the main channel of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, as the case may be, can be accomplished without unjustifiable waste of publicly or privately owned natural resources and without permanent substantial adverse impact on the environment, wildlife, or fisheries, the commission may then, upon its approval of such plan or project, proceed to implement such plan or project and acquire, in such manner as is provided in Section 6(e) of this Act, such additional property or interest in property necessary to satisfy federal local sponsorship requirements for implementation of such plans for such dredge material site or for such widening, relocation, or alteration of the main channel of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway.

Funding

Sec. 7. The legislature is hereby authorized to appropriate from the General Revenue Fund funds in the amount necessary to accomplish the purposes of this Act. [Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 405, ch. 181, §§ 1 to 7, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Saved from Repeal

This article was expressly saved from repeal by art. 1, § 2(b) of Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2690, ch. 871, enacting the Natural Resources Code.

Art. 5415e–4. Dredge Materials Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Dredge Materials Act.

Policy

Sec. 2. (a) It is the declared policy of the state to seek, to the fullest extent permissible under all applicable federal law or laws, the delegation to the state of the authority which the corps of engineers exercises under Section 404, as defined in this Act, over the discharge of dredged or fill material in the navigable waters of the State of Texas.

(b) It is the declared policy of the state that the state should not duplicate the exercise of such authority by the corps of engineers, but should instead exercise such authority in lieu of the corps of engineers, so that no permit application is subject to duplicate levels of regulation.
Art. 5415e-4

Definitions

Sec. 3. As used in this Act, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) "Agency" means the Texas Water Quality Board.

(b) "Agreement" means a written agreement or contract between the State of Texas and the United States, authorizing the State of Texas, through (name of an existing agency), to regulate the discharge of dredged or fill material in the navigable waters of the state under the authority granted by Section 404, as defined in this Act.

(c) "Corps of engineers" means the United States Army Corps of Engineers.

(d) "Discharge of dredged or fill material" has the same meaning as it has in Section 404 as defined in this Act.

(e) "Navigable waters" has the same meaning within the boundaries of the State of Texas as it has in Section 404 as defined in this Act.

(f) "Section 404" means Section 404, Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 (33 U.S.C. Section 1344), as it may be amended, and such regulations as may be from time to time promulgated thereunder.

Limitations

Sec. 4. (a) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any state agency or political subdivision to regulate the discharge of dredged or fill material in the navigable waters of the state in any manner different from or inconsistent with the requirements of Section 404.

(b) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any state agency or political subdivision to regulate the discharge of dredged or fill material in the navigable waters of the state:

(1) by the corps of engineers;

(2) by persons operating under contract with the corps of engineers;

(3) when the corps of engineers certifies that such discharge is incidental to a project undertaken by the corps of engineers or persons operating under contract with the corps of engineers, and that such incidental discharge was announced and reviewed at the same time and under the same conditions as such project; or

(4) by cities which own and operate deepwater port facilities, or by navigation districts or port authorities, or by persons operating under contract with such cities, navigation districts, or port authorities, when such discharges are part of or incidental to a navigation project to be paid for with public funds or when such navigation project is to be owned by such cities, navigation districts, or ports.

(c) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any state agency or political subdivision to regulate the discharge of dredged or fill material in the navigable waters of the state in any manner unless and until an agreement as described in this Act is validly entered into and in effect.

(d) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any state agency or political subdivision to exercise any authority under this Act except in accordance with an executive order of the governor.

(e) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as authorizing any state agency or political subdivision to regulate the discharge of dredged or fill material in the navigable waters of the state in any manner different from, or inconsistent with, the agreement described in this Act.

(f) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as affecting any application for a permit from the corps of engineers to discharge dredged or fill material in the navigable waters of the state if such application is received by the corps of engineers or postmarked before the effective date of the agreement described in this Act.

Agreement

Sec. 5. (a) The governor is hereby authorized to enter into an agreement on behalf of the State of Texas, with the United States, acting through its authorized officials, under the terms of which the agency will regulate the discharge of dredged or fill material in the navigable waters of the state.

(b) The governor is expressly authorized to include whatever terms and conditions in such agreement he may deem to be in the best interest of the state, including provisions regarding the termination of such agreement.

(c) The authority of the governor under the Act to enter into such an agreement shall not be delegated.

(d) The legislature expressly finds that the provisions of this section are necessary to enable the governor to carry out his responsibilities under this Act.

Not Severeable

Sec. 6. The provisions of this Act are expressly declared not to be severable, and if any provision of this Act shall be found to be invalid, the entire Act shall be null and void and of no further force or effect.

Art. 5415i. Deepwater Port Procedures Act

Short Title
Sec. 1. This Act shall be entitled the Texas Deepwater Port Procedures Act.

Purpose
Sec. 2. The purpose of this Act is to authorize state and local governmental agencies to perform and fulfill the responsibilities of the State of Texas under the federal Deepwater Port Act of 1974, 33 U.S.C.A. 1501 et seq., and to establish the procedures by which such state and local agencies will determine that applications for deepwater ports off the Texas Gulf Coast are in compliance with applicable state and local laws.

Definitions
Sec. 3. In this Act:

(1) "Adjacent coastal county" means any Texas county, bordering on the Gulf of Mexico, in which are located the onshore storage facilities of a deepwater port, as defined in Subdivision (5) hereinafter.

(2) "Applicant" means a person who has filed an application, as defined in Subdivision (3) below.

(3) "Application" means any application submitted under the federal Deepwater Port Act of 1974, 33 U.S.C.A. 1501 et seq., (A) for a license for the ownership, construction, and operation of a deepwater port; (B) for transfer of any such license; or (C) for any substantial change in any of the conditions and provisions of any such license.

(4) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of the general land office, or his designated representative.

(5) "Deepwater port" means (A) the facilities defined in Section 3(10) of the federal Deepwater Port Act of 1974, 33 U.S.C.A. 1501 et seq., and also includes (B) the onshore storage tank facilities and the pipelines located within the State of Texas which connect such onshore storage facilities with the offshore facilities of a deepwater port.

(6) "Governor" means the Governor of the State of Texas.

(7) "Person" means any individual, association, organization, trust, partnership, or corporation.

(8) "State" means the State of Texas.

(9) "State or local agency" means any board, commission, department, office, agency, or political subdivision of the state or of any county or city in the state, or any other public body created by or pursuant to state law.

Administration of the Act
Sec. 4. The governor is hereby designated as the officer of the state to approve or disapprove an application to the secretary of transportation to construct, or operate a deepwater port off the Texas Gulf Coast. The commissioner of the general land office is hereby designated the officer of the state charged with the administration, implementation, and coordination of the provisions of this Act relating to the determination by state or local agencies that such an application complies with state and local laws relating to environmental protection, land and water use, and coastal zone management.

Determination of Compliance with State and Local Law
Sec. 5. (a) Upon receipt of a copy of an application transmitted from the secretary of transportation pursuant to the federal Deepwater Port Act of 1974, 33 U.S.C.A. 1501 et seq., the governor shall immediately transmit a copy of the application to the commissioner of the general land office and to the Attorney General of Texas.

(b) If the governor determines that the application transmitted from the secretary of transportation is substantially similar to a previous application already reviewed under the terms of this Act, the governor may notify the secretary of transportation whether the governor approves or disapproves the application, and there shall be no further proceedings under this Act on such application.

(c) Within 15 days after the receipt of an application from the governor, the commissioner shall publish notice of the application in any official register of the State of Texas, in the newspaper of greatest general circulation in Travis County and in each of the five most populous counties in Texas, according to the latest United States census, and in a newspaper in the adjacent coastal county and in any county adjoining the adjacent coastal county in which such notice would not have otherwise been published under this subsection.

(d) Within 30 days after the receipt of an application from the governor, the attorney general shall determine and forward to the governor and to the commissioner a list of the state or local agencies which have jurisdiction to administer laws relating to environmental protection, land and water use, and coastal zone management, and also within whose boundaries are located facilities constituting a deepwater port, as defined by Section 3(5) herein.

(e) Upon receipt of the list of state or local agencies prepared by the attorney general pursuant to Subsection (c) of this section, the commissioner shall immediately transmit a copy of the application to each such state or local agency for review and determination of whether the application complies with the laws or regulations administered by such state or local agency.

(f) The state or local agency shall report such determination to the commissioner in writing within 60 days after its receipt of a copy of the application from the commissioner.

(g) If any state or local agency reports to the commissioner that the application is not in compliance, such agency shall set forth in detail the manner in which the application does not comply with any law or regulation administered by the agency and shall report to the commissioner how the application can be brought into compliance with the law or regulation involved. A copy of such report shall be forwarded by the commissioner to the applicant, and the applicant shall be entitled to respond in writing to the state or local agency which issued such report and to request that a public hearing be held by the commissioner on the provisions of the application determined by the state or local agency not to comply with state or local law.

(b) The failure of a state or local agency to forward a determination report to the commissioner within the time period established in Subsection (e) of this section shall constitute a presumption that the application complies with the law or regulations administered by that agency.

(i) One copy of the application shall be filed in the general land office and in the office of the county judge of the adjacent coastal county for public inspection and shall be available to the public for inspection or duplication during normal business hours. A person requesting a copy of the application may be charged a reasonable fee for duplicating and mailing costs. The applicant may be charged a reasonable fee to cover the costs of reproducing and mailing copies of applications to state and local agencies, unless the applicant provides the number of copies required by such agencies.

Hearings on the Application

Sec. 6. (a) As provided in Section 5(f) of this Act, an applicant shall be entitled to a public hearing on the provisions in his application which have been determined by a state or local agency not to be in compliance with the laws which they have jurisdiction to administer.

(b) Upon receipt of a request from an applicant for such a hearing, the commissioner shall publish notice of such hearing as provided in Section 5(b) of this Act. The notice shall describe the purpose of the hearing and the date, time, and place of the hearing. The date of the publication and of any personal notice of the hearing shall be not less than 10 days before the date set for the hearing.

(c) The commissioner may also hold a public hearing on the determination of compliance reports submitted to him by the state and local agencies. Notice of such hearing shall be given as provided by Subsection (b) of this section.

(d) The commissioner may consolidate any hearing held under this section with the hearing required by the federal Deepwater Port Act of 1974, 33 U.S.C.A. 1501 et seq., to be held in Texas by the secretary of transportation.

(e) All hearings on the application shall be concluded not later than 120 days after the date on which the commissioner received the application from the governor; provided, however, that the commissioner shall be entitled to hold a hearing after such 120 day period if the federal hearing required to be held in Texas has not been held and the commissioner has determined and given notice that a hearing provided for in this section will be held in conjunction with the federal hearing.

(f) Notwithstanding Subsection (e) of this section, the commissioner shall be required to comply with the date provided in Section 7(a) for transmitting his report to the governor.

Report to the Governor

Sec. 7. (a) Within 150 days after the receipt of an application from the governor, the land commissioner shall transmit to the governor a report in the form of a written summary of the determination of compliance reports submitted by any state or local agency, together with the transcript and testimony from any public hearing held by the commissioner or any joint hearing held in the state with the secretary of transportation.

(b) If the commissioner's report contains a determination by a state or local agency that the application does not comply with a law relating to environmental protection, land and water use, or coastal zone management, the commissioner shall include in his report the manner in which the application does not comply and how the application can be brought into compliance.

(c) The failure of the commissioner to transmit his summary report to the governor within the time period established in Subsection (a) of this section shall constitute a presumption that the application complies with state and local law.

Action on the Application by the Governor

Sec. 8. (a) Upon receipt of the report from the commissioner, and not later than 45 days after the last public hearing held on the application by the secretary of transportation pursuant to Section 5(g) of the federal Deepwater Port Act of 1974, 33 U.S. C.A. 1501 et seq., the governor shall notify the secretary of transportation whether he approves or disapproves the application.

(b) If the governor concludes that the application does not comply with state laws relating to environmental protection, land and water use, and coastal zone management, he may disapprove the application. However, if he concludes that the application can be amended to comply with such laws, he may approve the application and shall notify the secretary of transportation of the manner in which the application does not comply and how the application can be brought into compliance with such laws.

(c) The governor shall transmit copies of his notification to the secretary, the applicant, the commissioner, and to the state and local agencies to whom were transmitted copies of the application by the commissioner pursuant to Section 5(d) herein.
MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS
Secs. 9 to 12. [Amends art. 6020a, §§ 1, 3; adds § 4 of art. 6020b and § 12A of art. 5415g].

Effect on Other Laws
Sec. 13. Nothing herein shall be construed in any way to limit, impair, diminish, change, or curtail the power, authority, and activities of any state or local governmental agency, but all power and authority vested in and exercised by such agencies are hereby specifically reserved as to them; and none of the statutory law pertaining to those existing authori­ties or districts is amended, changed, or repealed by the provisions hereof.

Art. 5421c-13. Trades of Interests in Public Free School Fund Lands

Sec. 1. (a) The School Land Board in conjunction with the General Land Office is authorized to trade for land of at least equal value in Public Free School Fund Lands for fee and lesser interests in lands not dedicated to the Public Free School Fund upon a decision by the School Land Board and the Commissioner of the General Land Office that such trade or trades are in the best public interest of the People of Texas. Such trade or trades may be made either for the purpose of aggregating sufficient acreage of contiguous lands to create a manageable unit; for acquiring lands having unique biological, geological, cultural, or recreational value; or to create a buffer zone for the enhancement of already existing public land, facilities, or amenities. Such trades shall be on an appraised value basis (such appraisal to be made by appraisers of the General Land Office and concurred in by the School Land Board, and such appraisal shall be conclusive proof of the value of the land). The trades shall be for land of at least equal value. Such trades shall be by a deed to be signed jointly by the Commissioner of the General Land Office and the Governor. Failure of the Governor to sign such a deed constitutes his veto of the proposed trade, and the proposed trade shall not be made.

(b) All lands acquired by trade under the authority of this Act shall be dedicated to the Public Free School Fund.

Sec. 1A. If the State of Texas retains the subsurface mineral rights to all oil, gas, and other minerals in public free school fund land traded under Section 1 of this Act, an unrestricted right of ingress to and egress from the land by the state and its lessees shall be retained for the purpose of exploration, development, and production of the oil, gas, and other minerals to which rights are retained by the state. The state is entitled to lease the subsurface mineral rights retained under this section in the same manner and under the same conditions as subsurface mineral rights in permanent school fund land in which the state owns the surface title and the subsurface mineral rights. A lessee of the subsurface mineral rights retained under this section is liable to the owner of the land for actual damages to the land that may occur as a result of exploration for and development and production of the oil, gas, and other minerals to which rights are retained under this section. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this article, the School Land Board, in order to consummate a trade of equal value, is given the discretionary right to convey the surface estate and to reserve all the oil, gas, and other minerals with the surface owner acting as agent for the state under what is commonly known as the Relinquishment Act, thereby receiving one-half the bonus, rental, and royalty as agent for the state in leasing the land and for surface damages in the leasing of oil and gas. The surface owner shall also receive 40 percent of the bonus, rental, and royalty for leasing and as compensation for surface damages for all leases negotiated by such agent covering sulphur, coal, lignite, uranium, and potash as set out under Chapter 16, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 5421c-10, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes)\(^1\)

Sec. 2. In the event any such trade or trades be made, the School Land Board shall report each trade to the succeeding legislature, setting out such facts as warranted the trade or trades.

Sec. 3. The authority granted by this Act to trade Public Free School Fund Lands shall expire on December 31, 1982, and no trades shall be made after that date.

SUBCHAPTER B. ALABAMA—COUSHATTA INDIAN RESERVATION

Commission Responsibilities

Sec. 7. A responsibility of the commission is the development of the human and economic resources of the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation and the Tigua Indian Reservation, and to assist the Texas Indian people in making their reservations self-sufficient. Specifically, the commission shall assist the Texas Indian tribes in improving their health, educational, agricultural, business, and industrial capacities.

Executive Director

Sec. 8. The commission shall appoint an executive director. The executive director serves at the will of the commission. He is responsible for the management, supervision, and implementation of the policies of the commission in carrying out the responsibilities of the commission as set forth in Section 7 of this Act. The executive director shall employ a superintendent for each reservation. The superintendents shall answer to the executive director and carry out the programs and policies of the commission. The executive director, at the direction of the commission, shall seek all possible federal funds, grants, gifts, and other types of assistance available to help expedite the commission's expressed policy for development and responsibility as outlined in Section 7 of this Act.

Contracts with Local Agencies

Sec. 9. The commission may cooperate, negotiate, and contract with local agencies and with private organizations and foundations concerned with the development of the human and economic resources of the reservations in order to implement the planning and development of the reservations. Counties and local units of government are authorized to cooperate with the commission and may furnish the use of any equipment necessary in the development of the reservations.

Gifts; Grants

Sec. 10. The commission may accept gifts, grants, and donations of money, personal property, and real property for use in development of the reservations. It may acquire by gift or purchase any additional land necessary for improvement of the reservations, their income, and their economic self-sufficiency.

Federal Grants

Sec. 11. The commission may negotiate with any agency of the United States in order to obtain grants to assist in the development of the reservations.

Assistance to Kickapoo and Intertribal Indian Organizations

Sec. 11A. (a) The Traditional Kickapoo Indians of Texas are recognized as a Texas Indian tribe.
Art. 5421z

Bonds as Investments and Security

Sec. 17. All bonds issued under this Act are legal, authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of all political subdivisions and public agencies of the state, and when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant to the bonds, are lawful and sufficient security for deposits in the amount of the par value of the bonds.

Pledge of Revenues and Income

Sec. 18. Each Tribal Council, with the approval of the commission, may pledge the rents, royalties, revenue, and income from revenue-producing properties and facilities of the state trust lands to the payment of the interest on and the principal of the bonds, and may enter into agreements regarding the imposition of sufficient charges and other revenues and the collection, pledge, and disposition of them. In making such a pledge, the Tribal Council may specifically reserve the right to issue, with the approval of the commission, additional bonds which will be on a parity with, or subordinate to, the bonds then being issued.

Disposition of Oil and Gas Revenue

Sec. 19. All revenue realized from leasing of Indian reservation land shall be paid to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, and he shall immediately place such money in a depository or depositories designated by the appropriate Tribal Council and commission. These funds shall be placed in a special account known as either the Alabama-Coushatta Mineral Fund or the Tigua Mineral Fund and shall be expended for such purposes as the appropriate Tribal Council shall recommend and the commission shall approve.

Debt Against State

Sec. 20. No obligation created by a contract, bond, note, or other evidence of indebtedness issued by either Tribal Council under this Act shall be construed as creating a debt against the state; and every such contract, bond, note, or other evidence of indebtedness shall contain this clause: "The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation."

Leases to Tribal Members for Residential Purposes

Sec. 21. The Tribal Council, with the approval of the commission, may execute lease agreements under which any member of the tribe, as lessee, may occupy for residential purchase, for a term of not more than 50 years with the option to renew for a term of not more than 50 years, any designated lot or tract of land which may be included in the 1,280-acre tract conveyed to the Alabama Indians by authority of Chapter XLIV, Acts of the 5th Legislature, 1854.

This article was expressly saved from repeal by art. 1, § 2(b) of Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2690, ch. 871, enacting the Natural Resources Code.

Section 2 of the 1975 Act repealed art. 5421z-1; § 3 thereof provided: "Those persons holding office as members of the Commission for Indian Affairs on the effective date of this Act continue to hold office as members of the Texas Indian Commission for the terms for which they were originally appointed."

The 1977 Act, amending §§ 2 and 5 of this article, and adding § 11A, provides in § 3 as follows: "Those persons holding office as members of the Texas Indian Commission on the effective date of this Act continue to hold office as members of the Texas Indian Commission for the terms for which they were originally appointed."

Art. 5421z-1. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 435, ch. 185, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1975
TITLE 87
LEGISLATURE

Art. 5429c-4. Limit on Rate of Growth of Appropriations

Limit
Sec. 1. In no biennium shall the rate of growth of appropriations from state tax revenues not dedicated by the constitution exceed the estimated rate of growth of the state's economy.

Board to Establish
Sec. 2. (a) Prior to submission of the budget adopted by the Legislative Budget Board, the board shall establish the following:

(1) the estimated rate of growth of the state's economy from the then current biennium to the next biennium;

(2) the level of appropriations for the current biennium from state tax revenues not dedicated by the constitution; and

(3) the amount of state tax revenues not dedicated by the constitution which could be appropriated for the succeeding biennium within the limit established by the estimated rate of growth of the state's economy.

(b) Estimated rate of growth of the state's economy shall be the quotient of the estimated Texas total personal income for the next following fiscal biennium divided by the estimated Texas total personal income for the current biennium. The estimate shall be made by projecting through the biennium estimates of Texas total personal income as reported by the United States Department of Commerce, or its successor in this function, using standard statistical methods. However, if a more comprehensive definition of the rate of growth of the state's economy is developed and is approved by the committee, the board may utilize this definition in its calculation of the limit on appropriations.

Publication; Hearing
Sec. 3. Prior to final board approval of the stipulated items of information in Section 2 of this article, the board shall publish in the Texas Register the proposed items of information together with a description of the methodology and sources utilized in the calculations. In addition, the board shall hold a public hearing no later than December 1 of each even-numbered year at which testimony shall be solicited with regard to the proposed items of information and the methodology utilized in the calculations.

Adoption by Committee
Sec. 4. (a) After the board approves the items of information required by Section 2 of this article, it shall submit them for final adoption to a committee composed of the governor, the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the house of representatives, and the comptroller of public accounts.

(b) The committee shall meet within 10 days after the date the board submits the items and finally adopt the items, either as submitted by the board or as amended by the committee.

(c) If the committee fails to act within the allotted 10-day period, the items of information as submitted by the board are treated as if the committee had adopted them.

Limit on Budget Recommendations
Sec. 5. Unless authorized by a majority vote of house and senate members of the board separately, the budget recommendations of the board with respect to proposed appropriations of state tax revenues not dedicated by the constitution may not exceed the limit adopted by the committee under Section 4 of this article.

Transmission to Legislature, Governor
Sec. 6. The proposed limit of appropriations from state tax revenues not dedicated by the constitution shall be included in the recommendations of the Legislative Budget Board and shall be transmitted to all members of the legislature and the governor.

Effect of Proposed Limit; Enforcement
Sec. 7. The proposed limit is binding on the legislature with respect to all appropriations of tax revenue not dedicated by the constitution made for the ensuing biennium unless the legislature adopts a resolution raising the limit under the provisions of Article VIII, Section 22(b), of the Texas Constitution. Enforcement of this provision shall be provided for in the rules of the house of representatives and the senate.

Art. 5429f. Legislative Reorganization Act of 1961
[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 to 12]

Refusal to Testify
Sec. 13. No witness is privileged to refuse to testify to any fact, or to produce any paper, respecting which he shall be examined by either House of the Legislature, or by any Committee of either House, upon the ground that his testimony to such fact or his production of such paper may tend to disgrace him or otherwise render him infamous. Any person called upon to testify or to give testimony or to produce papers upon any matter under inquiry before either House or in the committee of either House of the Legislature or Joint Committee of both Houses, who refuses to testify, give testimony or produce papers upon any matter under inquiry upon the ground that his testimony or the production of papers would incriminate him, or tend to incriminate him, may nevertheless be required to testify and to produce papers but when so required, over his objections for the reasons above set forth, such person shall not be subject to indictment or prosecution for any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he truthfully testified or produces evidence, documentary, or otherwise. Any person testifying before the Legislature or any committee thereof shall have the right to counsel.

Travel Expenses of Legislative Members and Employees
Sec. 20. Members and employees of each House of the Legislature, while in travel status properly authorized by that House, are entitled to receive, as provided by resolution, either actual and necessary expenses or a per diem not to exceed that provided by law for state officials or state employees, and shall also be reimbursed for mileage or other transportation expenses at the same rate as provided by law for state officials or state employees. While in authorized travel status outside the state, members and employees shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses if in excess of the per diem.

Art. 5429g. Cooperation between Legislative Houses and Agencies
Sec. 1. In this Act, “legislative agency” means:
(1) the Senate;
(2) the House of Representatives;
(3) a committee, division, department, or office of the Senate or the House;
(4) the Texas Legislative Council;
(5) the Legislative Budget Board;
(6) the Legislative Reference Library;
(7) the State Auditor’s Office; or
(8) the Legislative Information System Committee.

Sec. 2. A legislative agency may provide administrative, professional, clerical, and other services to another legislative agency with or without reimbursement. Reimbursement, if any, shall be made pursuant to a written contract executed by the officer or officers who are authorized to execute contracts for each agency.

Section 3 of the 1977 Act provided:
"From funds appropriated to the House of Representatives for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1977, there is hereby transferred and appropriated to the Texas Legislative Council the sum of $125,000, and from funds appropriated by Section 10(e), Chapter 334, Acts of the 64th Legislature, Regular Session, 1975, there is hereby transferred and appropriated to the Texas Legislative Council the sum of $250,000, to provide for document processing, printing, distribution, computer services, and other services for the legislature."
Art. 5429h. State of the Judiciary Message by Supreme Court Chief Justice

At a convenient time at the commencement of each regular session of the legislature, the chief justice of the supreme court of the state shall deliver a "state of the judiciary" message evaluating the accessibility of the courts to the citizens of the state and the future directions and needs of the courts of the state. It is the intent of the legislature that such "state of the judiciary" message promote better understanding between the legislative and judicial branches of government and thereby promote the more efficient administration of justice in Texas.

Art. 5429i. Economic Impact Statement Act

Short Title
Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Economic Impact Statement Act.

Definition
Sec. 2. In this Act, "state agency" means:

(1) any department, commission, board, office, or other agency that:
   (A) is in the executive branch of state government;
   (B) has authority that is not limited to a geographical portion of the state; and
   (C) was created by the constitution or a statute of this state; or
(2) an institution of higher education as defined in Section 61.003, Texas Education Code, as amended, other than a public junior college or community college.

State Policy
Sec. 3. The Legislature of the State of Texas, recognizing the impact of the laws, rules, and regulations of this state on the economy, employment, and enterprise of its people, hereby declares it to be the continuing policy of this state to maintain and create conditions which will sustain and promote the economy, employment, and economic opportunities of the people of Texas.

Economic Impact Statement
Sec. 4. (a) At the request of the lieutenant governor or the speaker of the house of representatives, a state agency shall prepare an economic impact statement for any pending bill or joint resolution that directly affects that agency. Preparation of the economic impact statement shall be coordinated through the director of the Legislative Budget Board.

(b) The economic impact statement shall include:
   (1) a brief description of the nature and effect of the proposal; and
   (2) the manner and extent to which the proposal, if implemented, will directly or indirectly dur-

Art. 5429j. Biennial Reports by Governor on Organization and Efficiency of State Agencies

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "State agency" means a department, commission, board, office, or other agency, except a university system or an institution of higher education as defined in Section 61.003, Texas Education Code, as amended, that:
   (A) is in the executive branch of the state government;
   (B) has authority that is not limited to a geographical portion of the state; and
   (C) was created by the constitution or a statute of this state.
(2) "Functional area" means one of the following areas of concern to the state government: natural resources, health and human resources, education, economic development and transportation, agriculture, public protection, consumer protection, manpower, and other areas in which the governor creates an interagency planning council.

Governor's Report
Sec. 2. (a) Before the end of each even-numbered year, the governor shall prepare and submit to the legislature a report on the organization and efficiency of state agencies.

(b) In preparing the report, the governor shall use the staff of the Governor's Budget and Planning Office.
Art. 5429j  LEGISLATURE  3894

(c) In the report, the governor shall group state agencies into functional areas and shall include the following matters about the state agencies in each functional area;

(1) information regarding the efficiency with which the state agencies operate;
(2) recommendations regarding the reorganization of the state agencies and the consolidation, transfer, or abolition of their functions; and
(3) any other material relating to the organization or efficiency of state agencies that the governor considers necessary to include.

(d) The Legislative Budget Board shall coordinate the collection of information in this report.

Recommendations of Interagency Planning Councils

Sec. 3. (a) In preparing the report, the governor shall request and consider information from each interagency planning council regarding the efficiency of state agencies within the functional area represented by that interagency planning council and recommendations regarding the need for reorganization of state agencies within the functional area.

(b) Before submitting the report to the legislature, the governor shall present to each interagency planning council for review and comment the part of the proposed report dealing with the state agencies in the functional area represented by that interagency planning council, and the comments of each interagency planning council shall accompany the report when it is submitted to the legislature.

Preparation of Legislation

Sec. 4. The staff of the Texas Legislative Council shall draft any legislation required to put the governor's recommendations into effect. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 939, ch. 350, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 5429k. Sunset Act

Short Title
Sec. 1.01. This Act may be cited as the Texas Sunset Act.

Definitions
Sec. 1.02. In this Act:

(1) "State agency" means:

(A) an agency that is expressly made subject to this Act; or
(B) a department, commission, board, or other agency (except a university system or an institution of higher education as defined in Section 61.003, Texas Education Code, as amended) that:

(i) is created by statute after January 1, 1977;
(ii) is part of any branch of state government; and
(iii) has authority that is not limited to a geographical portion of the state.

(2) "Advisory committee" means a committee, council, commission, or other entity created by or pursuant to state law whose primary function is to advise a state agency.

(3) "Commission" means the Sunset Advisory Commission.

Sunset Advisory Commission

Sec. 1.03. (a) The Sunset Advisory Commission is created.

(b) The commission is composed of four members of the senate and one public member appointed by the lieutenant governor and four members of the house and one public member appointed by the speaker of the house. Each appointing authority may designate himself as one of the legislative appointees. A person is not eligible for appointment as a public member if the person or the person's spouse:

(1) is regulated by a state agency that is to be reviewed by the commission during the term for which the person would serve; or
(2) is employed by, participates in the management of, or has, directly or indirectly, more than a 10 percent interest in a business entity or other organization regulated by a state agency that is to be reviewed by the commission during the term for which the person would serve.

(c) It is a ground for removal of a public member from the commission if the member does not have at the time of appointment or maintain during the service on the commission the qualifications required by Subsection (b) of this section for appointment to the commission. The validity of an action of the commission is not affected by the fact that it was taken when a ground for removal of a public member from the commission existed.

(d) Legislative members appointed by the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house serve four-year terms, with terms staggered so that the terms of one-half of the legislative members appointed by the lieutenant governor and of one-half of the legislative members appointed by the speaker expire every two years. If the lieutenant governor or the speaker serves on the commission, he continues to serve until resignation from the commission or until he ceases to hold the office. Public members appointed by the lieutenant governor or speaker serve two-year terms.

(e) Once a person has served six years on the commission, he is not eligible for appointment to another term or part of a term. A member who has served more than half of a full term may not be appointed to an immediately succeeding term. These restrictions do not apply to the lieutenant governor or the speaker of the house.

(f) Each appointing authority shall make his appointments to the commission before July 1 of each odd-numbered year.
(g) A legislative member of the commission vacates his position on the commission when he ceases to be a member of the house from which he was appointed.

(h) A vacancy on the commission shall be filled for the unexpired part of the term in the same manner as the original appointment.

(i) The commission shall have, as presiding officers, a chairman and a vice-chairman. The chairmanship and vice-chairmanship must alternate every two years between the two membership groups appointed by the lieutenant governor and the speaker of the house. The chairman and vice-chairman may not be from the same membership group. The lieutenant governor shall designate a presiding officer from his appointed membership group and the speaker of the house shall designate the other presiding officer from his appointed membership group.

(j) A quorum shall consist of at least six members of the commission. No final action or recommendation may be made unless approved by a record vote of a majority of the full membership of the commission.

(k) Each member of the commission is entitled to reimbursement for the expenses he actually and necessarily incurs in performing the duties of the commission. Each legislative member is entitled to reimbursement from the appropriate fund of the member's respective house. Each public member is entitled to reimbursement from funds appropriated to the commission.

Sec. 1.04. (a) The commission shall employ an executive director to act as the executive head of the commission.

(b) The executive director shall employ persons necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act through funds made available by the legislature.

(c) The chairman and vice-chairman of the commission each may employ staff to work for them on matters related to the activities of the commission.

Report on Advisory Committees

Sec. 1.05. Before October 30 of each calendar year, each state agency shall file an annual report with the Secretary of State to register all of its advisory committees and report the following information regarding the agency's advisory committees:

(1) the official names of the advisory committees;
(2) the statutory authority, if any, for the advisory committees;
(3) the advisory committees' objectives and functions;
(4) the period of time necessary for the advisory committees to carry out their objectives;
(5) a reference to the reports that the advisory committees have presented to the agency;
(6) the names and occupations of the current members of the advisory committees; and
(7) other available information that will assist the staff and the commission to determine the need for continuing the advisory committees.

Agency Report to Commission

Sec. 1.06. Before October 30 of the odd-numbered year before the year a state agency is abolished according to this Act, the agency shall report to the commission:

(1) information regarding the application to the agency of the criteria in Section 1.10 of this Act;
(2) information specified in Section 1.05 of this Act regarding each of the agency's advisory committees; and
(3) any other information that the agency considers appropriate or that is requested by the commission.

Commission Duties

Sec. 1.07. Before September 1 of the even-numbered year before the year a state agency and its advisory committees are abolished according to this Act, the commission shall:

(1) review and take action necessary to verify the reports submitted by the agency under Section 1.06 of this Act;
(2) consult the Legislative Budget Board, the Governor's Budget and Planning Office, the state auditor, and the comptroller of public accounts, or their successors, on the application to the agency of the criteria provided in Section 1.10 of this Act; and
(3) conduct a performance evaluation of the agency based on the criteria provided in Section 1.10 of this Act and prepare a written report, which is a public record; and
(4) review the implementation of commission recommendations contained in the reports presented to the legislature during the preceding legislative session.

Public Hearings

Sec. 1.08. Between September 1 and December 1 of the calendar year before the year a state agency and its advisory committees are abolished according to this Act, the commission shall conduct public hearings on but not limited to the application to the agency of the criteria provided in Section 1.10 of this Act, except that the commission may hold the public hearings before September 1 if the evaluation required by Section 1.07(3) of this Act has been completed and made available to the public.

Commission Report

Sec. 1.09. At each regular session, the commission shall present to the legislature and the governor a report on agencies and advisory committees scheduled to be abolished. In the report the commission shall include its specific findings with regard to each of the criteria set forth in Section 1.10 of this Act, its recommendations based on the matters set forth in Section 1.11 of this Act, and other information considered necessary by the commission for a complete evaluation of the agency.

Criteria for Review

Sec. 1.10. The staff and the commission shall consider the following criteria in determining whether a public need exists for the continuation of a state agency or its advisory committees or for the performance of the functions of the agency or its advisory committees:

(1) the efficiency with which the agency or advisory committee operates;

(2) an identification of the objectives intended for the agency or advisory committee and the problem or need which the agency or advisory committee was intended to address, the extent to which the objectives have been achieved, and any activities of the agency in addition to those granted by statute and the authority for these activities;

(3) an assessment of less restrictive or other alternative methods of performing any regulation that the agency performs which could adequately protect the public;

(4) the extent to which the advisory committee is needed and is used;

(5) the extent to which the jurisdiction of the agency and the programs administered by the agency overlap or duplicate those of other agencies and the extent to which the programs administered by the agency can be consolidated with the programs of other state agencies;

(6) whether the agency has recommended to the legislature statutory changes calculated to be of benefit to the public rather than to an occupation, business, or institution that the agency regulates;

(7) the promptness and effectiveness with which the agency disposes of complaints concerning persons affected by the agency;

(8) the extent to which the agency has encouraged participation by the public in making its rules and decisions as opposed to participation solely by those it regulates, and the extent to which the public participation has resulted in rules compatible with the objectives of the agency;

(9) the extent to which the agency has complied with applicable requirements of an agency of the United States or of this state regarding equality of employment opportunity and the rights and privacy of individuals;

(10) the extent to which changes are necessary in the enabling statutes of the agency so that the agency can adequately comply with the criteria listed in this section;

(11) the extent to which the agency issues and enforces rules relating to potential conflict of interests of its employees;

(12) the extent to which the agency complies with the “Open Records Act,” Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252–17a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and with the “Open Meetings Act,” Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252–17, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); and

(13) the impact in terms of federal intervention or loss of federal funds if the agency is abolished.

Recommendations

Sec. 1.11. In its report on a state agency, the commission shall:

(1) make recommendations on the abolition, continuation, or reorganization of each affected state agency and its advisory committees and on the need for the performance of the functions of the agency and its advisory committees;

(2) make recommendations on the consolidation, transfer, or reorganization of programs within state agencies not under review when such programs duplicate functions performed in agencies under review;

(3) recommend appropriation levels for each state agency and advisory committee for which abolition or reorganization is recommended under Subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section; and

(4) include drafts of legislation necessary to carry out the commission’s recommendations under Subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section.

Rules

Sec. 1.12. The commission shall adopt rules necessary to carry out this Act.

Abolition of Advisory Committees

Sec. 1.13. Except as otherwise expressly provided by law, every advisory committee whose primary function is to advise a particular state agency is abolished on the date set for abolition of the agency unless the advisory committee is expressly continued by law.

Agencies Created in Future

Sec. 1.14. Every state agency created by law enacted after January 1, 1977, is subject to this Act and to this section except as otherwise expressly provided by the law creating the agency. A state agency created by law enacted in a fiscal biennium is abolished at the end of the sixth succeeding fiscal biennium unless continued by law.

Continuation by Law

Sec. 1.15. (a) During the regular session immediately preceding the abolition of a state agency or an advisory committee that is subject to this Act, the legislature by law may continue the agency or advisory committee for a period not to exceed 12 years.

(b) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prohibit the legislature from terminating a state agency or advisory committee subject to this Act at a date earlier than that provided in this Act. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prohibit the legislature from considering any other legislation relative to a state agency or advisory committee subject to this Act.

Legislative Consideration

Sec. 1.16. (a) No more than one state agency and its functions and advisory committees may be considered for continuation, transfer, or modification in a bill, except that when consolidation of agencies or advisory committees or their functions is proposed, only the agencies or advisory committees involved in the consolidation may be considered in a legislative bill.

(b) In a bill to continue a state agency, to transfer its functions, or to consolidate it with another agency, the affected agency or agencies shall be mentioned in the title of the bill.

After Termination

Sec. 1.17. (a) On abolition in the odd-numbered year, each state agency may continue in existence until September 1 of the next succeeding year for the purpose of concluding its business. Unless otherwise provided by law, abolishment does not reduce or otherwise limit the powers or authority of each respective state agency during such concluding year. Upon the expiration of the one-year period after abolishment each respective state agency is terminated and shall cease all activities.

(b) Any unobligated and unexpended appropriations of a state agency or advisory committee lapse on September 1 of the even-numbered year after abolishment of the agency or advisory committee.

(c) All money in a dedicated fund of an abolished state agency or advisory committee on September 1 of the even-numbered year after abolishment of the agency or advisory committee.

(d) If an abolished state agency or advisory committee is funded in the General Appropriations Act for both years of the biennium, the abolished agency or advisory committee may not spend or obligate any of the money appropriated to it for the second year of the biennium, unless otherwise provided by law or rider in the appropriations bill.

(e) Property and records in the custody of a state agency or advisory committee on September 1 of the even-numbered year after abolishment of the agency or advisory committee are transferred to the State Board of Control, except that where an appropriate state agency is designated by the governor pursuant to Subsection (f) of this section, the property and records are transferred to the state agency so designated.

(f) The legislature recognizes the state's continuing obligation to pay bonded indebtedness incurred by any agency abolished by the terms of this Act, and it is not the intention of this Act to impair or impede the payment of bonded indebtedness in accordance with its terms. If an abolished state agency has remaining outstanding bonded indebtedness, the bonds remain valid and enforceable in accordance with their terms and subject to all applicable terms and conditions of the laws and proceedings authorizing the bonds, notwithstanding the abolishment of the agency that issued the bonds. The governor shall designate an appropriate state agency, which shall continue to carry out all covenants contained in the bonds and the proceedings authorizing them, including the issuance of bonds to complete the construction of projects, and shall provide payment from the sources of payment of the bonds in accordance with the terms of the bonds, whether from taxes, revenues, or otherwise, until the bonds and interest on the bonds are paid in full. All funds established by laws or proceedings authorizing the bonds shall remain with the State Treasurer or previously designated trustees, if so provided in the proceedings; if not so provided, the funds shall be transferred to the designated state agency.

Subpoena Power

Sec. 1.18. The commission may issue process to witnesses at any place in the state and compel their attendance and the production of books, records, papers, and other objects that may be necessary or proper for the purposes of the committee proceedings. The commission may issue attachments when necessary to obtain compliance with subpoenas or other process, which may be addressed to and served by any peace officer in this state. The chairman of the commission shall issue, in the name of the commission, the subpoenas that a majority of the commission may direct. In the event the chairman is absent, the designee of the chairman is authorized to issue subpoenas or any other process in the same manner as the chairman. Witnesses attending proceedings of the commission under process are entitled to the same mileage and per diem as allowed witnesses before a grand jury in this state. The testimony taken under subpoena must be reduced to writing and must be given under oath subject to the penalties of perjury.

Assistance of and Access to State Agencies

Sec. 1.19. (a) The commission may request the assistance of state agencies and officers, and they shall assist the commission when requested to do so.

(b) In carrying out their functions under this Act, the commission or its designated staff member may inspect the records, documents, and files of any state agency.

Relocation of Employees

Sec. 1.20. When an employee is displaced because of the abolishment, reorganization, or continu-
Art. 5429k

Savings Clause

Sec. 1.21. Except as otherwise expressly provided, abolition of a state agency does not affect rights and duties that matured, penalties that were incurred, civil or criminal liabilities that arose, or proceedings that were begun before the effective date of the abolition.

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"(a) A person holding office as a member of the Sunset Advisory Commission on the effective date of this Act continues to hold the office for the term for which the member was appointed.

"(b) The lieutenant governor and the speaker shall each appoint a public member 10 days before October 1, 1981, to serve until regular appointments are made in 1983.

"(c) The lieutenant governor shall appoint the chairman and the speaker of the house shall appoint the vice-chairman before October 1, 1981."

Art. 5429l. Faculty Information and Research Service for Texas; Project FIRST Committee

Sec. 1. The FIRST Committee is created as the governing body of Project FIRST, the Faculty Information and Research Service for Texas.

Membership

Sec. 2. (a) The committee is composed of the following ex officio members:

(1) chairman of the Senate Committee on Natural Resources;
(2) chairman of the House Committee on Environmental Affairs;
(3) director of the Legislative Reference Library;
(4) president of the Texas Association of College Teachers (TACT);
(5) president of the Texas chapter of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP);
(6) representative of the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas (ICUT);
(7) representative of the Texas Junior College Teachers Association (TJCTA);
(8) representative of the Texas Public Community/ Junior Colleges Association (TPC/JCA);
(9) representative from the University Council of Presidents; and
(10) representative of the Texas Legislative Council.

(b) A member of the committee may designate a representative to act in his place at a meeting of the committee.

(c) Organizations representing the interests of accredited public or private institutions of higher education, their administrators or faculties, and which are not included as members of the committee in this section, may participate in the FIRST network and send a representative to the committee by requesting and receiving permission of the chairman.

Officers, Meetings, Quorum

Sec. 3. (a) The committee annually shall elect from its members a chairman and other officers that it considers necessary.

(b) The committee shall meet at the call of the chairman or as provided by a rule of the committee.

(c) A majority of the members of the committee constitutes a quorum.

Additional Functions of Other Public Office

Sec. 4. The functions performed by a member of the committee who holds public office are additional functions of the public office.

Compensation and Expenses

Sec. 5. A member of the committee or his designated representative may not receive compensation for his services on behalf of the committee. A member of the committee or his designated representative may not receive reimbursement for actual or necessary expenses incurred in performing services on behalf of the committee unless the reimbursement is provided by the organizations represented on the committee.

Staff

Sec. 6. (a) To administer its functions, the committee may employ staff and may use the voluntary assistance of the faculty and administrators of institutions of higher education in this state.

(b) The committee may use services and facilities contributed to the committee by an officer or employee of the legislature.

Gifts, Grants, Donations

Sec. 7. The community may accept, on behalf of the state, gifts, grants, or donations from any source to be used by the committee to administer its functions.

Project FIRST

Sec. 8. (a) The committee shall establish the Faculty Information and Research Service for Texas, Project FIRST. As part of FIRST, the committee:

(1) shall make available to legislative members, committees, and agencies the expertise of the faculties and administrators of the public and private institutions of higher education in this state;
(2) shall use that expertise to attempt to provide answers to requests for information from legislative members, committees, and agencies; and
(3) may direct, as a supplement to existing sources of information, a legislative member, committee, or agency to a source of information located at an agency or other organization of this state before the committee uses the expertise of the faculties and administrators.

(b) If requested by the governor and approved by the committee, the committee shall provide to the governor's office the services that the committee provides to legislative members, committees, and agencies.

(c) Faculty and administrators providing information for FIRST are volunteers and provide information to FIRST only if their time permits and if they have expertise relating to the information requested. A faculty member or administrator is not required to respond to a request for information from FIRST.

Funding

Sec. 9. The committee is to be financed with funds appropriated to the committee or to another organization in the state government designated by the committee as having operational control of FIRST.

Rules

Sec. 10. The committee may adopt rules necessary for it to administer its functions.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 11. The committee is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the committee is abolished and this Act expires on September 1, 1993.

Organizational Meeting

Sec. 12. The committee shall meet in an organizational meeting at a time and place designated by the chairman of the Senate Committee on Natural Resources.

TITLE 89

STATE LIBRARY AND ARCHIVES COMMISSION

Art. 5434. Organization
The Governor shall, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint six (6) persons who shall constitute the Texas State Library and Archives Commission. Appointments shall be made for a term of six (6) years.

Members of the Commission holding office at the time of passage of this Act shall continue in office until the expiration of their present terms.

Upon the expiration of the terms of office of the two (2) members which expire in 1953, the Governor shall, by and with the advice of the Senate, appoint three (3) persons as members of the Commission. The Governor shall designate one (1) of the appointees to serve a term of two (2) years to expire concurrent with the term of the present member of the Commission whose term of office expires in 1955.

The other two (2) appointees shall serve for six (6) years.

Thereafter all appointments shall be for a six-year term, except that any person appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed only for the remainder of such term.

The Commission shall be assigned suitable offices at the Capitol where they shall hold at least one regular meeting annually, and as many special meetings as may be necessary. Each such member while in attendance at said meetings shall receive his actual expenses incurred in attending the meetings, and shall be paid a per diem as set out in the General Appropriations Act.

Art. 5434a. Application of Sunset Act
The Texas State Library and Archives Commission is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished effective September 1, 1983.

Art. 5434b. Change of Name
The name of the Texas Library and Historical Commission is changed to the Texas State Library and Archives Commission.

Art. 5435. Purpose; Powers and Duties of Commission; Director and Librarian
The appointed members of the Commission shall be responsible for the adoption of all policies, rules and regulations so as to aid and encourage libraries, collect materials relating to the history of Texas and the adjoining states, preserve, classify and publish the manuscript archives and such other matters as it may deem proper, diffuse knowledge in regard to the history of Texas, encourage historical work and research, mark historic sites and houses and secure their preservation, and aid those who are studying the problems to be dealt with by legislation. The Commission also is responsible for passing on the qualifications of persons wanting to become county librarians in this state and shall adopt rules necessary to administer this responsibility. The educational requirement for permanent certification as a county librarian is: (1) graduation from a library school accredited by the American Library Association if the Commission determines that the association has accreditation standards to ensure a high level of scholarship for students; or (2) graduation with a master's degree in library science from an institution of higher education accredited by an organization that the Commission determines has accreditation standards to ensure a high level of scholarship for students. The Commission shall appoint a Director and Librarian who shall perform all of the duties heretofore provided for the State Librarian, and all authority, rights and duties heretofore assigned by statute to the State Librarian are hereby transferred to and shall be performed by the Director and Librarian. He shall be the Executive and Administrative Officer of the Commission and shall discharge all administrative and executive functions of the Commission. He shall have had at least two years' training in library science or the equivalent thereof in library, teaching or research experience and shall have had at least two years of administrative experience in library, research or related fields. The Director and Librarian shall serve at the will of the Commission and shall give bond in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) for the proper care of the State Library and its equipment. He shall be... allowed his actual expenses when travelling in the service of the Commission on his sworn account showing such expenses in detail. The Director and Librarian shall appoint, subject to the approval of the Commission, an Assistant State Librarian, a State Archivist, and such other assistants and employees as are necessary for the maintenance of the Library and Archives of the State of Texas.

Section 3 of the 1981 amendatory act provided:
"The State Board of Library Examiners is abolished and its records and other property are transferred to the Texas State Library and Archives Commission."

Art. 5436a. State Plan for Library Services and Library Construction

The Texas State Library and Archives Commission is authorized to adopt a state plan for improving public library services and for public library construction. The plan shall include county and municipal libraries. The Texas State Library shall prepare the plan for the commission, and shall administer the plan adopted by the commission. Money to be used may include that available from local, state, and federal sources, and will be administered according to local, state, and federal requirements. The state plan shall include a procedure by which county and municipal libraries may apply for money under the state plan and a procedure for fair hearings for those applications that are refused money.

Art. 5438a. Historical Relics

The Texas State Library and Archives Commission is hereby authorized in their discretion to place temporarily in the custody of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas and the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Texas Division, all or part of the historical relics belonging to the Texas State Library, under such conditions and terms of agreement as will insure the safekeeping of these relics in the Texas Museum.

Art. 5438c. Removal of Relics

The Texas State Library and Archives Commission shall retain the right to remove these relics at any time they may see fit.

Art. 5441a. Records Management Division

Establishment and Maintenance; Duties; Qualifications of Assistant

Sec. 1. The Texas State Library and Archives Commission is hereby authorized to establish and maintain in the State Library a records management division which (1) shall manage all public records of the state with the cooperation of the heads of the various departments and institutions in charge of such records and (2) shall also conduct a photographic laboratory for the purpose of making photographs, microphotographs, or reproductions on film, or to arrange for all or part of such work to be done by an established commercial agency which meets the specifications established by this Article for the proper accomplishment of the work. The assistant who shall be appointed by the Commission to head such division shall have had appropriate training and experience in the field of public records management.

See, now, art. 4413(33a).

Art. 5442a. State Publications and Depository Libraries for State Documents

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) “State publication” means printed matter that is produced in multiple copies by the authority of or at the total or partial expense of a state agency. The term includes publications sponsored by or purchased for distribution by a state agency and publications released by private institutions, such as research and consulting firms, under contract with a state agency, but does not include correspondence, interoffice memoranda, or routine forms.

(2) “State agency” means any state office, office, department, division, bureau, board, commission, legislative committee, authority, institution, substate planning bureau, university system or institution of higher education as defined by Section 61.003, Texas Education Code, as amended, or any of their subdivisions.

(3) “Depository libraries” means the Texas State Library, the Texas Legislative Reference Library, the Library of Congress, the Center for Research Libraries, and other libraries that the Texas Library and Historical Commission designates as depository libraries.

Sec. 2. The Texas Library and Historical Commission shall adopt rules to establish procedures for the distribution of state publications to depository libraries and for the retention of those publications. The commission may contract with a depository library to receive all or a part of the state publications that are distributed.

Sec. 3. (a) Each state agency shall furnish to the Texas State Library its state publications in the quantity specified by the rules of the Texas Library and Historical Commission. The commission may not require more than 75 copies of a state publication.

(b) On the printing of or the awarding of a contract for the printing of a publication, a state agency shall arrange for the required number of copies to be deposited with the Texas State Library.

Sec. 4. The Texas State Library shall:

(1) acquire, organize, and retain the state publications;

(2) collect state publications and distribute them to depository libraries;

(3) establish a microform program for the preservation and management of state publications and make available state publications in microform to depository and other libraries at a reasonable cost;

(4) periodically issue a list of all state publications that it has received to all depository libraries and to other libraries on request;

(5) catalog, classify, and index all state publications that it has received and distribute the cataloging, classification, and indexing information to depository libraries and to other libraries on request; and

(6) ensure that state publications are fully represented in regional and national automated library networks.

Sec. 5. Each state agency shall designate one or more staff persons as the agency’s publications contact person and shall notify the Texas State Library of the identity of each person selected. A state agency’s contact person shall furnish to the Texas State Library each month a list of all of the agency’s state publications that were produced during the preceding month.

Sec. 6. If a state agency’s printing is done by contract, an account for the printing may not be approved and a warrant for the printing may not be issued unless the agency first furnishes to the State Board of Control a receipt from the state librarian for the publication or a written waiver from the state librarian exempting the publication from the requirements of this Act.

Sec. 7. The state librarian may specifically exempt a publication from the requirements of this Act.

1 Name changed to Texas State Library and Archives Commission; see art. 3434b.

Art. 5442b. Regional Historical Resource Depositories

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act, unless the context requires a different meaning:

(1) “Commission” means the Texas State Library and Archives Commission.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 1(2) to 4]

Designation of Regional Depositories

Sec. 2. In order to provide for an orderly, uniform, state-wide system for the retention and preservation of historical resources on a manageable basis and under professional care in the region of origin or interest, the Texas State Library and Archives Commission is hereby authorized to designate to serve as a regional historical resources depository... any institution which meets standards established by the commission in accordance with Section 3, Chapter 503, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 5442b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Offer, Acceptance and Loan of Resources

Sec. 5. (a) County commissioners, other custodians of public records, and private parties may offer, and the Texas Library and Historical Commission may accept, historical resources for preservation and retention in a depository.

1 Name changed to Texas State Library and Archives Commission; see art. 5434.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 5(b) to 8]

Appropriations

Sec. 9. The legislature may appropriate funds to the Texas State Library and Archives Commission sufficient for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Act.

[Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 858, ch. 382, §§ 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1448, ch. 637, art. 5, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 5442c. Maintenance and Disposition of Certain County Records

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) “County record” means any record required or authorized by law to be maintained in a county or precinct office or the office of district clerk.

(2) “Custodian” means the officer responsible for keeping a county record.

Records Manual

Sec. 2. (a) The state librarian shall direct the staff of the regional historical resource depository program in the preparation of a county records manual. Those preparing the manual shall consult with affected local officials and other interested persons.

(b) The manual shall list the various types of county records, state the minimum retention period prescribed by law for those records for which a minimum retention period is so prescribed, and prescribe a minimum retention period for all other county records except those subject to Section 8 of this Act. When the manual takes effect, those retention periods prescribed by it for county records for which no retention period is prescribed by law have the same effect as if they were prescribed by law.

(c) The manual also shall contain information to assist local officials in carrying out their functions under this Act, including model records schedules and implementation plans, and may prescribe rules consistent with this Act governing the disposition of obsolete county records.

(d) The manual has no legal effect until it is approved by a majority of the members of a review committee constituted as provided in Section 3 of this Act. The committee's approval is effective when a copy of the manual and a statement of its approval, signed and acknowledged by a majority of the members of the committee, is filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

(e) The state librarian may amend the manual from time to time. An amendment is effective when the state librarian files a certified copy of the amendment in the office of the Secretary of State, except that an amendment must first be approved by a review committee in the same manner as provided for approval of the original manual if it:

(1) prescribes a minimum retention period for a county record required by law to be kept and for which a minimum retention period is not prescribed by state law;

(2) changes a minimum retention period established by the manual; or

(3) changes the rules governing disposition of obsolete county records.

Review Committee

Sec. 3. (a) A review committee required under this Act is composed of:

(1) the state librarian, who is chairman of the committee;

(2) the attorney general;

(3) a representative of the Texas Historical Commission, appointed by the commission; and

(4) one county clerk; one district clerk; one county judge or county commissioner; one county auditor; one county, district, or criminal district attorney; one county treasurer; one sheriff; and one county assessor-collector of taxes, each of whom shall be appointed by the state librarian.

(b) Except as provided in Subsection (d) of this section, an officer is eligible for appointment to the review committee under Subdivision (4), Subsection (a) of this section only if:

(1) he has been nominated by a petition signed by at least 50 other officers of the type nominated; or

(2) he has been nominated by an organization representing officers of the type nominated that has as members at least 50 of those officers.

(c) For the purposes of Subsection (b) of this section, county judges and commissioners are of the same type and county, district, and criminal district attorneys are of the same type.

(d) At least 30 days before making an appointment under Subdivision (4), Subsection (a) of this section, the state librarian shall cause to be published in the Texas Register a notice of his intention to make the appointment. If the state librarian does not receive a nomination for a particular type of officer meeting the requirements of Subsection (b) of this section before the 31st day after the notice is published, a nomination is not required.

(e) Service on a review committee by a public officer is an additional duty of his office.

(f) Members of the committee receive no compensation, but they are entitled to be paid their actual expenses incurred on committee business. The payment of the expenses of the attorney general and the representative of the Texas Historical Commission shall be paid from funds of the attorney general's office and the commission, respectively. The payment of the expenses of other members of the committee shall be from funds of the Texas State Library and Archives Commission.

(g) A review committee ceases to exist when it completes the work for which it was constituted unless it is sooner discharged by the state librarian.

Records Schedule and Implementation Plan

Sec. 4. (a) A custodian of county records may prepare a records schedule applicable to his office and a plan for its implementation. On the request of the custodian, the state librarian and the staff of the regional historical resource depository program shall assist the custodian in this regard by furnishing him recommended model records schedules and implementation plans and other information.

(b) A records schedule, if prepared, shall contain an inventory of county records kept by the custodian. It shall prescribe a minimum retention period for each type of record. The retention period for each type of record must be at least as long as that prescribed by law or established in the county records manual.

(c) If a custodian prepares a records schedule, he shall also prepare an implementation plan that prescribes, in conformity with this Act, the manner and procedure for disposing of records no longer needed on the expiration of the applicable retention period.

(d) The records schedule and implementation plan take effect when the custodian files a certified copy of the schedule and plan in the office of the county clerk. The custodian may amend an existing schedule or plan. An amendment takes effect when the custodian files a certified copy of it in the office of the county clerk.

Disposition of Obsolete Records

Sec. 5. (a) When the retention period expires for a county record subject to an approved records schedule and implementation plan, and in the judgment of the custodian the record is no longer needed, he may dispose of the record in accordance with the implementation plan, the county records manual, and the provisions of this Act.

(b) No county record may be destroyed pursuant to an implementation plan unless at least 60 days before the day it is destroyed the custodian gives written notice to the state librarian of his intention to destroy the record. The notice must sufficiently describe the record to enable the state librarian to determine if it should be transferred to the state library for preservation in a regional historical resource depository. If the state librarian requests that a record be transferred, the custodian shall comply with the request. Otherwise, the record may be destroyed.

(c) County records may be destroyed only by the sale of them for recycling purposes or by shredding them or burning them. Regardless of the method used, adequate safeguards must be employed to ensure that they do not remain in their original state and are no longer recognizable as county records.

(d) No later than the 10th day before records are destroyed, the custodian shall file and record with the county clerk a notice stating which records are to be destroyed, how they are to be destroyed, and the date they are to be destroyed. The same day the notice is filed, the county clerk shall post a copy of it in the same manner that notices of meetings are posted under Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(e) No person is civilly liable for the destruction of a record in accordance with this Act and an approved records schedule and implementation plan.

Transfer of Records to State Library

Sec. 6. (a) A custodian may transfer to the state library for preservation in a regional historical resource depository any county record that is no longer needed for administrative purposes.

(b) When a custodian transfers a county record to the state library under Subsection (a) of this section or under Subsection (b), Section 5 of this Act, the state librarian shall give the custodian a receipt for the record. The custodian is not required to make a microfilm or other copy of the record before transferring it.

(c) The state librarian may make certified copies of county records that have been transferred to the state library. Each certified copy shall state that it is a true and correct copy of the record in the state librarian's custody. A certified copy made under the authority of this subsection has the same force and effect for all purposes as a copy certified by the county clerk or other custodian as provided by law.

Microfilming of Records

Sec. 7. This Act does not require the microfilming of county records, but an implementation plan may include provision for microfilming of records in accordance with other state law.

Exceptions

Sec. 8. This Act does not permit the establishment of a retention period for:
(1) any county record that affects the title to real property, other than a recorded lien that is no longer enforceable;

(2) a will;

(3) the minutes of a commissioners court; or

(4) the pleadings or any order, decree, or judgment, or any instrument incorporated by reference in an order, decree, or judgment, in a civil case in a court of record.

Application for Discharge and Cancellation of Judgment and Lien

Sec. 1. At any time after one year has elapsed since a bankrupt or debtor has been discharged from his debts, before or after the effective date of this Act, pursuant to the acts of Congress relating to bankruptcy, the bankrupt or debtor, or his, her, or its receiver, trustee, or any other interested person, including a corporation, may apply, upon proof of the discharge of the bankrupt or debtor, to the court in which a judgment was rendered against the bankrupt or debtor for an order directing the discharge and cancellation of the judgment, any abstract or abstracts of said judgment, and the lien represented thereby.

Order of Discharge and Cancellation: Entry; Effect; Recording

Sec. 2. If it appears upon the hearing that the bankrupt or debtor has been discharged from the payment of the obligation or debt represented by the judgment, the court shall enter an order of discharge and cancellation of said judgment and any abstracts of said judgment, which order of discharge shall be entered upon the docket of the court. Said order of discharge shall constitute a release, discharge, and cancellation of said judgment and any unsatisfied judgment liens represented by all abstracts of said judgment then or thereafter recorded; provided, however, that a certified copy of said order of discharge must be duly recorded in the judgment lien records of a county in which an abstract of judgment has been or is thereafter recorded in order to discharge and cancel said abstract of judgment in said county.

Notice of Application for Discharge: Service; Publication

Sec. 3. Notice of said application for discharge, accompanied by copies of the papers upon which it is made, shall be served on the judgment creditor or his attorney of record in the action in which said judgment was rendered, in the manner prescribed for service of a notice in an action, if the residence or place of business of the judgment creditor, or of his attorney, is known. Upon proof by affidavit that the address of neither the judgment creditor nor his attorney is known, and that the address of neither can be ascertained after due diligence, or that the judgment creditor is a nonresident of this state, and his attorney is dead, or removed from the state, or cannot be found within the state, a judge or justice of the court may by order direct that the notice of the application be published in a newspaper designated in the order once a week for not more than three consecutive weeks. Such publication, shown by the affidavit of the publisher, shall be sufficient service upon the judgment creditor of the application.

Judgment as Lien on Real Property

Sec. 4. Where the judgment was a lien on real property owned by the bankrupt or debtor prior to the time that he, she, or it was adjudged a bankrupt, or that a petition for debtor relief under the federal Bankruptcy Act of July 1, 1898, as amended (Title 11, U.S.C.A.), was filed, and the debt or obligation evidenced by said judgment was not discharged under the provisions of the Bankruptcy Act, the lien thereof upon said real estate shall not be affected by said order and may be enforced, but in all other respects the judgment shall be of no force or validity, nor shall the same be a lien on real property acquired by the bankrupt or debtor subsequent to the discharge in bankruptcy.

Judgment as Lien on Nonexempt Real Property

Sec. 5. Where the judgment was a lien on nonexempt real property owned by the bankrupt or debtor prior to the time he, she, or it was adjudged a bankrupt or that a petition for debtor relief under the federal Bankruptcy Act of July 1, 1898, as amended (Title 11, U.S.C.A.), was filed, and said real property is abandoned during the course of the proceeding, the lien thereof upon said real estate shall not be affected by said order and may be enforced, but in all other respects the judgment shall be of no force or validity, nor shall the same be a lien on real property acquired by the bankrupt or debtor subsequent to the discharge in bankruptcy.

Sections 2 and 3 of the 1975 Act provided:

"Sec. 2. All laws or parts of law in conflict with the provisions of this Act are hereby repealed, to the extent of the conflict only.

"Sec. 3. If any provision or provisions of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."
Art. 5472a  LIENS

CHAPTER TWO. MECHANICS, CONTRACTORS AND MATERIAL MEn

Art. 5472a. Lien for Material Furnished Public Contractor; Notice

Any person, firm, corporation, or trust estate, furnishing any material, apparatus, fixtures, machinery, or labor to any contractor under a prime contract where such prime contract does not exceed the sum of $25,000 for any public improvements in this State, shall have a lien on the moneys, or bonds, or warrants due or to become due to such contractor for such improvements provided such person, firm, corporation, trust estate, or stock association shall before any payment is made to such contractor, notify in writing the officials of the state, county, town, or municipality whose duty it is to pay such contractor of his claim, such written notice to provide and be given within the prescribed time as follows:

(a) Such notice to be given by certified or registered mail, with a copy to the contractor at his last known business address, or at his residence, and given within thirty (30) days after the 10th of the month next following each month in which labor, material, apparatus, fixtures, or machinery were furnished for such lien is claimed.

(b) Such notice, whether based on a written or oral agreement shall state the amount claimed, the name of the party to whom such was delivered or for whom it was performed, with dates and place of delivery or performance and describing the same in such manner as to reasonably identify said material, apparatus, fixtures, machinery, or labor and the amount due therefor, and identify the project where material was delivered or labor performed.

(c) Such notice shall be accompanied by a statement under oath stating that the amount claimed is just and correct and that all payments, lawful offsets, and credits known to the affiant have been allowed.

(d) Any person who shall file a willfully false and fraudulent notice and statement shall be subject to the penalties for false swearing.

CHAPTER SEVEN. OTHER LIENS

Art. 5504a. Sale of a Motor Vehicle

Art. 5504. Sale of Property

When possession of any of the property embraced in Articles 5502 and 5503, except property covered under Article 5504a, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, has continued for sixty days after the charges accrue, and the charges so due have not been paid, it shall be the duty of the persons so holding said property to notify the owner, if in the state and his residence be known, to come forward and pay the charges due, and on his failure within ten days after such notice has been given him to pay said charges, the persons so holding said property, after twenty days notice, are authorized to sell said property at public sale and apply the proceeds to the payment of said charges, and shall pay over the balance to the person entitled to the same. If the owner's residence is beyond the state or is unknown, the person holding said property shall not be required to give such notice before proceeding to sell. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1059, ch. 490, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 5504a. Sale of a Motor Vehicle

(a) When a person having a possessory lien on a motor vehicle that is subject to the Certificate of Title Act (Article 6687–1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) retains possession of the vehicle for 30 days after the day on which the charges accrue and the charges are unpaid, the person shall give written notice of the amount of charges to the owner and all lienholders whose liens are recorded on the certificate of title and shall request payment. A person shall send the notice by certified mail, return receipt requested.

(b) If a person entitled to notice under Section (a) of this article does not pay the charges due within 30 days after the day on which notice of the amount of charges was mailed, the possessory lienholder may sell the motor vehicle at a public sale. The possessory lienholder shall apply the proceeds to the payment of the charges and shall pay the balance to the person entitled to it.

(c) Notwithstanding Sections (a) and (b) of this article, if possession of a motor vehicle subject to a lien acquired under Article 5502, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, was obtained pursuant to the provisions of state law or city ordinance, the person having the special lien shall within 10 days after the day of obtaining such possession notify the last known registered owner and all lien holders of record to pick up the vehicle and shall request payment. Such notice shall be sent by certified mail, return receipt requested, and shall state the location of the vehicle and the accrued charges. A person shall be entitled to towing, preservation, and notification charges and to reasonable storage fees for a maximum of 10 days only until such notice is mailed. After such notice is mailed, storage fees may continue until the vehicle is removed and all accrued charges are paid.

Art. 5506a. Hospital or Clinic's Lien for Services on Cause of Action of Persons Injured

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 1 and 2]

Release Ineffectual as Against Claims; Exceptions as to Liens

Sec. 3. No release of any claim or demand on account of any such injuries, or in respect of any such verdict, report, decision, decree, award, judgment, or final order, made and rendered, as hereinbefore mentioned, executed by any such injured person, or by any person entitled thereto, shall be valid or effectual between the parties thereto or otherwise, unless prior to the execution and delivery thereof, all such charges of any such hospital or institution or clinic, furnishing hospital services, which has filed its, his, or their lien as hereinafter provided, shall have been paid in full, or to the extent of a full and true consideration paid and given to the injured person by the other party or parties to such release named therein or paid and given by any other person or corporation in behalf of such other party or parties, or unless such release shall also have been executed by the person, corporation, association, or institution maintaining such hospital; and every such verdict, report, decision, decree, award, judgment, or final order shall remain in force and effect until all such charges of any hospital or institution shall have been paid in full or to the extent of any such verdict, report, decision, decree, award, judgment or order; provided the lien does not apply to the extent that charges for operating costs are in excess of the routine operating costs prescribed by 42 C.F.R., Section 405.460, that charges for other services are in excess of a reasonable and regular rate for those services, or that charges are for costs that accrued or services that were provided after the first 100 days of hospitalization; and the fact that such hospital's method of classification regarding ability to pay for said services is intended solely to secure such hospital's lien on a medically indigent person's action for personal injuries shall not be construed as avoiding the provisions of this lien statute; provided that a notice in writing containing the name and address of the injured person, the date of the accident, the name and location of the hospital or clinic rendering the service, and if known, the name of the person or persons, firm or firms, corporation or corporations, alleged to be liable to pay damages to such injured person for such injuries so received, shall be filed in the office of the County Clerk of the county in which such injury shall have occurred, prior to the payment of any moneys to such injured person or his legal representative or other person entitled thereto as damages for or on account of such injuries. Provided further that this lien shall not attach to any claim for amounts due the injured person under the Workers' Compensation Act of the State of Texas, or Federal Liability Act, or Federal Longshoremen's or Harbor Workers' Act. Provided further, that the lien provided for in this Act shall not attach to any claim for amounts due the injured person by any person, firm, association, corporation, or receiver, or receivers, or his, its, or their employees, owning and/or operating a railroad in this State, where such person, firm, association, corporation, or receivers, or receiver, or his, its, or their employees, maintain a hospital, furnishing hospitalization to injured persons, where the said injured person is actually receiving treatment, care and maintenance in the hospital so owned by such person, firm, association, corporation, receiver or receivers, or his, its, or their employees.

Hospital Records Subject to Inspection; Admissibility

Sec. 4a. The records of any such association, corporation, or other institution or body maintaining such hospital in reference to such treatment, care, and maintenance of such injured person shall be made available as promptly as possible for examination to any party's attorney by, for, or against whom a claim shall be asserted for compensation for such injuries, under such reasonable rules and regulations as such hospital may require, except that access shall not be denied on the basis of such records being incomplete. The records are admissible as evidence in any civil suit based on those personal injuries subject to applicable rules of evidence.

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

The change in law made by this Act applies to a lien only to the extent that it is based on hospital services provided on or after the Act's effective date. To the extent a lien applies to charges for hospital services that were provided before this Act's effective date, the lien is governed by the law in effect when the services were provided, and the former law is continued in effect for this purpose.
LIMITATIONS

1. LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS FOR LANDS

Article 5523b. Attorney's Fees in Land Possession Suits.

3. GENERAL PROVISIONS

5539d. Statutes of Limitations Ending on Weekend or Holiday.

1. LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS FOR LANDS

Art. 5523b. Attorney’s Fees in Land Possession Suits

Sec. 1. Subject to the provisions of Section 2 of this Act, if, in an action for possession of land between a party claiming under the record title to the land and a party claiming by adverse possession, the prevailing party recovers possession from a party unlawfully in actual possession, the court may award reasonable attorney’s fees to the prevailing party, in addition to his claim, if any, and costs of suit.

Sec. 2. (a) To recover attorney’s fees as provided in Section 1 of this Act, the party seeking recovery of possession must give the party unlawfully in possession written notice and demand to vacate the premises, by registered or certified mail, at least 10 days prior to filing the claim for the recovery of possession.

(b) In the written notice and demand to vacate the premises, the party seeking recovery of possession shall give notice that in the event the party unlawfully in possession has not vacated the premises within 10 days and a claim is filed by the party seeking recovery of possession, judgment may be entered against the party unlawfully in possession for attorney’s fees in an amount determined by the court to be reasonable, plus costs of suit.

Art. 5527. What Actions Barred in Four Years

There shall be commenced and prosecuted within four years after the cause of action shall have accrued, and not afterward, all actions or suits in court of the following description:

1. Actions for debt.

2. Actions for the penalty or for damages on the penal clause of a bond to convey real estate.

3. Actions by one partner against his co-partner for a settlement of the partnership accounts, actions upon stated or open accounts, or upon mutual and current accounts concerning the trade of merchandise between merchant and merchant, their factors or agents; and the cause of action shall be considered as having accrued on a cessation of the dealings in which they were interested together.

Art. 5536a. Architects, Engineers and Persons Performing or Furnishing Construction or Repair of Improvement to Real Property

Sec. 1. There shall be commenced and prosecuted within ten years after the substantial completion of any improvement to real property or the commencement of operation of any equipment attached to real property, and not afterward, all actions or suits in court for damages for any injury, damages or loss to property, real or personal, or for any injury to a person, or for wrongful death, arising out of the defective or unsafe condition of any such real property or any equipment or improvement attached to such real property, for contribution or indemnity for damages sustained on account of such injury, damage, loss or death against any registered or licensed engineer or architect in this state performing or furnishing the design, planning, inspection of construction of any such improvement, equipment or structure or against any such person so performing or furnishing such design, planning, inspection of construction of any such improvement, equipment, or structure; provided, however, if the claim for damages, contribution or indemnity has been presented in writing to the registered or licensed engineer or architect performing such services within the ten-year period of limitation, said period shall be extended to include two years from the time such notice in writing is presented.

Sec. 2. There shall be commenced and prosecuted within ten years after the substantial completion of any improvement to real property, and not afterward, all actions or suits in court for damages for any injury, damages, or loss to property, real or personal, or for any injury to a person, or for wrongful death, or for contribution or indemnity for damages sustained on account of such injury, damage, loss, or death arising out of the defective or unsafe condition of any such real property or any deficiency in the construction or repair of any improvements on such real property against any person performing or furnishing construction or repair of any such improvement; provided, however, if the claim for damages, contribution or indemnity has been presented in writing to the person performing such services within the ten-year period of limitation, said period shall be extended to include two years from the time such notice in writing is presented, or if said injury, damage, loss, or death occurs during the tenth year, all actions or suits in court may be brought within two years from the date of such injury, damage, loss, or death; and provided further, however, this section shall not apply and will not operate as a bar to an action or suit in court (a) on a written warranty, guaranty, or other contract which expressly is effective for a period in excess of the period herein prescribed; (b) against persons in actual possession or control of the real property as owner, tenant, or otherwise at the time the injury, damage, loss, or death occurs; or (c) based on willful misconduct or fraudulent concealment in connection with the performing or furnishing of such construction or repair. Nothing in this section shall be construed as extending or affecting the period prescribed for the bringing of any action under Articles 5526, 5527, and 5529, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, or any other law of this state.

3. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Art. 5539d. Statutes of Limitations Ending on Weekend or Holiday

If the last day of a limitations period under any statute of limitations falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, the period for filing suit is extended to the next day that the offices of the county are open for business.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1403, ch. 567, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]
I. MENTAL HEALTH CODE

CHAPTER ONE. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Art. 5547-13. County Attorney to Represent State
This article was repealed by Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 1785, ch. 680, § 2. However, according to Op.Atty.Gen.1967, No. M-135, the repeal was in violation of Const. art. 3, § 35, since the title to the act gave no notice of an attempt to repeal said article.

Art. 5547-15. Fees Allowed Court-Appointed Attorney and Physicians

The county judge may allow reasonable compensation to attorneys and physicians appointed by him under this Code, provided that any compensation he allows to an attorney is not less than $25. The compensation paid shall be taxed as costs in the case. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 455, ch. 192, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

This article was repealed by Acts 1967, 60th Leg., p. 1785, ch. 680, § 2.

CHAPTER THREE. INVOLUNTARY HOSPITALIZATION

PART 2. TEMPORARY HOSPITALIZATION FOR OBSERVATION AND/OR TREATMENT

Art. 5547-28A. Recommendation for Treatment

PART 4. ORDERS, TRANSPORTATION, PROTECTIVE CUSTODY

Art. 5547-68. Admission and Detention.

PART 1. EMERGENCY ADMISSION PROCEDURE

Art. 5547-27. Authority of Health or Peace Officer

(a) Any health or peace officer, who has reason to believe and does believe upon the representation of a credible person, in writing, or upon the basis of the conduct of a person or the circumstances under which he is found that the person is mentally ill and because of his mental illness is likely to cause injury to himself or others if not immediately restrained, may upon obtaining a warrant from any magistrate, take such person into custody, and immediately transport him to the nearest hospital or other facility deemed suitable by the county health officer, except in no case shall a jail or similar detention facility be deemed suitable unless such jail or detention facility is specifically equipped and staffed to provide psychiatric care and treatment, and make application for his admission, pursuant to the warrant of the magistrate. Such person admitted upon such warrant may be detained in custody for a period not to exceed twenty-four (24) hours, unless a further written order is obtained from the County Court or Probate Court of such county, ordering further detention. Provided, however, that should the person be taken into custody after 12:00 o'clock noon on Friday, or on a Saturday or Sunday, or a legal holiday, then the twenty-four-hour period allowed for obtaining the court order permitting further detention shall begin at 9:00 o'clock a. m. on the first succeeding business day.

(b) Any person licensed to practice medicine in this state who has reason to believe and does believe that a person is mentally ill and because of such mental illness is likely to cause injury to himself or others if not immediately restrained may present such information in writing at any time to any magistrate, and if the facts so justify, the magistrate may issue a warrant ordering any health or peace officer to take such person into custody and immediately transport such person to the nearest state hospital, a general hospital, or other facility deemed suitable by the county health officer, that after a preliminary examination, the person has symptoms of mental illness and is likely to cause injury to himself or others if not immediately restrained. Such person admitted upon such warrant may be detained in custody for a period not to exceed twenty-four (24) hours, unless a further written order is obtained from the County Court or Probate Court of such county, ordering further detention. Provided, however, that should the person be taken into custody after 12:00 o'clock noon on Friday, or on a Saturday or Sunday, or a legal holiday, then the twenty-four-hour period allowed for obtaining the court order permitting further detention shall begin at 9:00 o'clock a. m. on the first succeeding business day."

Art. 5547–28. Emergency Admission

The head of a mental hospital, a general hospital, or other facility deemed suitable by the county health officer shall not admit nor detain any person for emergency observation and treatment unless:

(a) A warrant has been obtained from a magistrate ordering the apprehension and taking into custody of such person to be admitted, or an order of protective custody has been issued pursuant to Section 66 of this Code; and

(b) A written and certified opinion is made by the medical officer on duty at the hospital or other facility, that after a preliminary examination, the person has symptoms of mental illness and is likely to cause injury to himself or others if not immediately restrained.

Art. 5547–29. Notification of Admission

The head of the facility admitting a person for emergency observation and treatment shall immediately give notice thereof by registered mail to the person's guardian or responsible relative, and shall report the admission to the Board.

Art. 5547–30. Examination and Certification

The head of the facility shall have a physician examine every person within twenty-four (24) hours after his admission to a hospital for emergency observation and treatment and prepare a Certificate of Medical Examination for Mental Illness. A copy of the Certificate shall be sent forthwith to the person's guardian or responsible relative.

PART 2. TEMPORARY HOSPITALIZATION FOR OBSERVATION AND/OR TREATMENT

Art. 5547–31. Application for Temporary Hospitalization

A sworn Application for Temporary Hospitalization of a proposed patient may be filed with the county court of the county in which the proposed patient resides or in which the proposed patient is found or in which the proposed patient is hospitalized by court order. The Application may be made by any adult person, or by the county judge, and shall state upon information and belief that the proposed patient is not charged with a criminal offense, that he is mentally ill, and that for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others he requires observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital. An Order transferring a criminal defendant against whom all charges have been dismissed to the appropriate court for a hearing on temporary commitment pursuant to Section 7 of Article 46.02, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, shall state that all such charges have been dismissed and the Order shall serve as the Application for Temporary Hospitalization of the proposed patient.

Art. 5547–32A. Recommendation for Treatment

(a) The Commissioner of Mental Health and Mental Retardation shall designate a facility or provider in the county in which an Application for Temporary Hospitalization is filed to file with the court a recommendation for the most appropriate treatment alternative for the proposed patient. The commissioner may designate a community mental health and mental retardation center established pursuant to Section 3.01, Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act, as amended (Article 5547–203, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other appropriate facility or provider in the county to make the recommendation.
(b) The court shall direct the designated facility or provider to file its recommendation with the court before the date set for the hearing.

(c) Except in an emergency as determined by the court, a hearing on an application may not be held before the recommendation required by this section is filed.

(d) This section does not relieve a county of any of its responsibilities under other provisions of this Code for the diagnosis, care, or treatment of the mentally ill.

(e) The extent to which a designated facility must comply with the provisions of this section shall be based on the commissioner’s determination that the facility has sufficient resources to perform the necessary services.

(f) This section does not apply to a person for whom treatment in a private mental hospital is proposed.

Art. 5547–36. Hearing on the Application

(a) The Judge may hold the hearing on an Application for Temporary Hospitalization at any suitable place within the county. The hearing should be held in a physical setting not likely to have a harmful effect on the mental condition of the proposed patient in the event he is present.

(b) The proposed patient is not required to be present at the hearing, but he shall not be denied the right to be present.

(c) The Court may exclude all persons not having a legitimate interest in the proceedings, provided the consent of the proposed patient first shall have been obtained.

(d) The hearing shall be conducted in as informal a manner as is consistent with orderly procedure.

(e) The hearing shall be before the Court without a jury, unless a jury is demanded by a person authorized to make such demand or by the proposed patient or by the Court.

Art. 5547–38. Order Upon Hearing

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (a) and (b)]

(c) If upon the hearing the court finds that the proposed patient is mentally ill and requires observation or treatment for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others but that the required observation or treatment can be accomplished without commitment to a mental hospital, the court may order the proposed patient to submit to other treatment, observation, or care as may be found by the court to be likely to promote the welfare or protection of the proposed patient and the protection of others. If the proposed patient fails to fulfill the terms of the court’s order, the court may, on its own motion or on the motion of any interested party, order that the mentally ill person be committed as a patient for observation or treatment in a mental hospital for a period not exceeding 90 days.

Art. 5547–39b. Transcript on Appeal

When notice of appeal is filed, the clerk shall immediately send a certified transcript of the proceedings to the Court of Civil Appeals of the county.

Art. 5547–39c. Stay Order

Pending the appeal, the County Judge or District Judge in whose court the cause is pending may stay the Order of Temporary Hospitalization, and release the proposed patient from custody if the Judge is satisfied that the proposed patient is not dangerous to himself or to others, and provided that the proposed patient posts an appearance bond in an amount to be determined by the Court.

Art. 5547–39d. Hearing of Appeals

In those counties where there is a statutory probate court, county court at law, or other statutory court exercising the jurisdiction of a probate court in mental illness matters, all proceedings for temporary commitment shall be heard in such courts and the constitutional county courts, rather than in the district courts. In such counties all final orders in such matters shall be appealable to the Courts of Civil Appeals. Such cases shall be advanced on the docket and given a preference setting over all other cases. The Courts of Civil Appeals may suspend all rules concerning the time for filing briefs and the docketing of cases.

PART 3. INDEFINITE COMMITMENT

Art. 5547–40. Prerequisite to Commitment

No person may be committed to a mental hospital for an indefinite period unless he has been under observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital for at least sixty (60) days pursuant to an Order of Temporary Hospitalization entered within the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the filing of the Petition or unless he has been under observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital under an Order entered pursuant to Section 5 of Article 46.02, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, for at least sixty (60) days within the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the date of the indefinite commitment hearing.

Art. 5547–41. Petition

A sworn Petition for the indefinite commitment of a person to a mental hospital may be filed with the county court of the county in which the proposed patient is hospitalized, the county from which he is temporarily committed, the county in which he resides or is found. The Petition may be filed by any adult person, or by the county judge, and shall be styled "THE STATE OF TEXAS, FOR THE BEST INTEREST AND PROTECTION OF ________, AS A MENTALLY ILL PERSON." The Petition shall contain the following statements upon information and belief:

(1) Name and address of the proposed patient.
(2) Name and address of the proposed patient's spouse, parents, children, brothers, sisters, and legal guardian.
(3) Name and address of petitioner and a statement of his interest in the proceeding, including his relationship, if any, to the proposed patient.
(4) Name and address of the mental hospital, if any, in which the proposed patient is a patient.
(5) That the proposed patient is not charged with a crime.
(6) That the proposed patient has been under observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital for at least sixty (60) days pursuant to an Order of Temporary Hospitalization entered within the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the filing of the Petition or that he has been under observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital under an Order entered pursuant to Section 5 of Article 46.02, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, for at least sixty (60) days within the twelve (12) months immediately preceding the date of the indefinite commitment hearing.
(7) That the proposed patient is mentally ill and requires hospitalization in a mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others.
(8) An Order transferring a criminal defendant against whom all charges have been dismissed to the appropriate court for a hearing on indefinite commitment pursuant to Section 7 of Article 46–02, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, shall state that all such charges have been dismissed and shall serve as the Petition for indefinite commitment of the proposed patient to a mental hospital.

Art. 5547–44. Notice of Hearing

At least seven (7) days prior to the date of the hearing a copy of the Petition and Notice of Hearing shall be personally served on the proposed patient. A copy of the Petition and Notice of Hearing shall be sent by registered mail to the guardian or a responsible relative of the proposed patient. The Notice of Hearing shall read substantially as follows:

THE STATE OF TEXAS NO. ________ IN THE COUNTY COURT OF ________, TEXAS

As a Mentally Ill Person

NOTICE OF HEARING

TO: ______________, (Proposed Patient)

You are hereby notified that on the ________, at ________, in ________, County, Texas, a hearing will be held on the attached Petition to determine whether or not you shall be indefinitely committed to a mental hospital and to determine the issue of your mental competency.

You are advised that you have a right to demand a trial by jury or to have a hearing before the judge alone if you wish to waive trial by jury.

Unless a waiver of trial by jury, signed by you or your next of kin, and your attorney, is filed with the court, a jury will hear and determine the issues in this case.

Mr. __________, attorney at law, whose address is __________ and whose telephone number is __________, has been appointed by the county judge to represent you in this case for your best interest and protection. However, if you desire you may employ a lawyer of your own choosing to represent you. You may consult with your attorney concerning this Petition and your rights in this case.

You have the right to be present at this hearing, but you are not required to be present.

County Judge

Art. 5547–45. Waiver of Trial by Jury

Waiver of trial by jury shall be in writing under oath and may be signed and filed at any time subsequent to service of the Petition and Notice of Hearing upon the proposed patient. The waiver of trial by jury shall be signed and sworn to by the proposed patient, or his next of kin, and by the attorney ad litem appointed to represent the proposed patient.

Art. 5547-55  Transcript on Appeal

When notice of appeal is filed, the clerk shall immediately send a certified transcript of the proceedings to the Court of Civil Appeals. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 981, ch. 377, § 5, eff. June 19, 1975.]

Art. 5547-56. Stay Order

For good cause shown, the county judge, or district judge in whose court the cause is pending, may stay the Order of Indefinite Commitment pending the appeal. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 981, ch. 377, § 6, eff. June 19, 1975.]

Art. 5547-57. Hearing of Appeals

In those counties where there is no statutory probate court, county court at law, or other statutory court exercising the jurisdiction of a probate court in mental illness matters, all proceedings for indefinite commitment shall be heard by the county court, except that the proposed patient may request that such proceeding shall then be transferred by the County Judge to the district court of the county, and such proceeding shall be heard in the district court as if originally filed in such court. In such counties all final orders in such matters shall be appealable to the Courts of Appeals. Such cases shall be advanced on the docket and given a preference setting over all other cases. The Courts of Appeals may suspend all rules concerning the time for filing briefs and the docketing of cases.

In those counties where there is a statutory probate court, county court at law, or other statutory courts exercising the jurisdiction of a probate court in mental illness matters, all proceedings for indefinite commitment shall be heard by the constitutional county courts, rather than in the district courts. In such counties all final orders in such matters shall be appealable to the Courts of Appeals. Such cases shall be advanced on the docket and given a preference setting over all other cases. The Courts of Appeals may suspend all rules concerning the time for filing briefs and the docketing of cases. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 981, ch. 377, § 4, eff. June 19, 1975; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 791, ch. 291, § 66, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides, in part: "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction."

CHAPTER FOUR. GENERAL HOSPITALIZATION PROVISIONS

Article 5547-80A. Plan for Continuing Care.

Art. 5547-68. Admission and Detention

(a) The head of a mental hospital is authorized to admit and detain any patient in accordance with the following procedures provided in this Code:

(1) Voluntary Hospitalization
(2) Emergency Admission
(3) Temporary Hospitalization
(4) Indefinite Commitment

(b) Nothing in this Code prohibits the admission of voluntary patients to private mental hospitals in any lawful manner.

(c) This Code does not affect the admission to a State mental hospital of an alcoholic admitted in accordance with Acts 1951, Fifty-second Legislature, Chapter 398 (compiled as Texas Civil Statutes, Article 5196c (Vernon's 1952 Supplement)) nor the admission of a person charged with a criminal offense admitted in accordance with Section 5 of Article 46.02, Code of Criminal Procedure. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1103, ch. 416, § 6, eff. June 19, 1975.]

Art. 5547-69. Persons Charged with Criminal Offense

The sections of this Code concerning the discharge, furlough and transfer of a patient are not applicable to a person charged with a criminal offense who is admitted in accordance with Section 5 of Article 46.02, Code of Criminal Procedure. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1103, ch. 416, § 7, eff. June 19, 1975.]

Art. 5547-80. Discharge of Patients

(a) The head of a mental hospital may at any time discharge a patient if he determines after examination that the patient no longer requires hospitalization.

(b) The head of a mental hospital may at any time discharge a patient on furlough, and shall discharge a patient who has been on furlough status for a continuous period of eighteen (18) months.

(c) The head of a mental hospital may discharge a non-resident patient who has been absent without authority for a continuous period of thirty (30) days.

(d) The head of a mental hospital may discharge a resident patient who has been absent without authority for a continuous period of eighteen (18) months.

(e) Upon the discharge of a patient, the head of the mental hospital shall prepare a Certificate of Discharge stating the basis therefor. The Certificate of Discharge shall be filed with the committing court, if any, and a copy thereof delivered or mailed to the patient. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 104, ch. 49, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 5547-80A. Plan for Continuing Care

(a) Before the furlough or discharge of a patient, the head of the mental hospital shall, in consultation with the patient and on accordance with department rules, develop a plan for continuing care for a patient for whom he determines the care is required. The plan will address the mental health and physical needs of the client. A patient to be discharged may refuse the services provided for by this section.

(b) If the county in which the patient will reside is served by a community mental health and mental retardation center established pursuant to Section 3.01, Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act, as amended (Article 5547-203, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), that has been designated by the commissioner to perform continuing care services or if a patient seeks continuing care from a provider other than a facility or other provider designated by the commissioner, and of continuing care by that facility or by another provider that agrees to accept the referral is appropriate, the head of the mental hospital shall deliver the plan and other appropriate records to the community center or provider.

(c) A community mental health and mental retardation center's involvement in discharge planning and continuing care services shall be to the extent that the center's resources have been determined by the commissioner to be available for those purposes. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2351, ch. 578, § 7, eff. Jan. 1, 1982.]

Art. 5547-87. Disclosure of Information

(a) Hospital records which directly or indirectly identify a patient, former patient, or proposed patient shall be kept confidential except where

(1) consent is given by the individual identified, his legal guardian, or his parent if he is a minor; if the patient is deceased, consent may be given by the executor or administrator of his estate; if there is no appointment of an executor or administrator, consent may be given by the deceased patient's spouse or, if none, by any adult person related to the deceased patient within the first degree of consanguinity;

(2) disclosure may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this Code;

(3) a court directs upon its determination that disclosure is necessary for the conduct of proceedings before it and that failure to make such disclosure would be contrary to the public interest, or

(4) the Board or the head of the hospital determines that disclosure will be in the best interest of the patient.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (c) and (d)]

Art. 5547-88. Provisional Issuance of License

(a) After receipt of proper application for license and the required fees, the Department shall make such investigation as it deems desirable. If the Department finds that the premises are suitable and that the applicant is qualified to operate a mental hospital in accordance with the requirements and standards established by law and by the Department, the Department shall issue a license authorizing the designated licensee to operate a mental hospital on the premises described and for the bed capacity specified in the license. However, if operation of the mental hospital involves acquisition, construction, or modification of a facility, a change in bed capacity, provision of new services, or expansion of existing services for which a certificate of need or an exemption certificate is required under the Texas Health Planning and Development Act, the Department shall not issue the license unless and until the certificate of need or the exemption certificate has been granted to the applicant under that Act.

(b) Subject to the applicable provisions of the Texas Health Planning and Development Act, the authorized bed capacity may be increased at any time upon the approval of the Department and may be reduced at any time by notifying the Department.

Art. 5547-92. Denial, Suspension or Revocation of License

(a) After giving an applicant or licensee opportunity to demonstrate or achieve compliance and after notice and opportunity for hearing, the Department may deny, suspend, or revoke a license, if it finds substantial failure by the applicant or licensee to comply with the rules or regulations established by the Department or the provisions of this Code or with applicable provisions of the Texas Health Planning and Development Act.

II. MENTAL HEALTH AND RETARDATION ACT

ARTICLE 5. EARLY CHILDHOOD INTERVENTION PROGRAMS

Art. 5547-201. Mental Health and Mental Retardation; General Provisions

Purpose and Policy

Art. 5547-201. Mental Health and Mental Retardation; General Provisions

Sec. 1.01. (a) It is the purpose of this Act to provide for the conservation and restoration of menternal health among the people of this state, and toward this end to provide for the effective administration and coordination of mental health services at the state and local levels, and to provide, coordinate, develop, and improve services for the mentally retarded persons of this state to the end that they will be afforded the opportunity to develop their respective mental capacities to the fullest practicable extent and to live as useful and productive lives as possible.

(b) The legislature declares that the public policy of this state is to encourage local agencies and private organizations to assume responsibility for the effective administration of mental health and mental retardation services, with the assistance, cooperation, and support of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation created by this Act.

(c) Recognizing that there exists a variety of alternatives for serving the mentally disabled, it is the purpose of this Act to provide for a continuum of services and it is the policy of this state that when appropriate and feasible, mentally ill and mentally retarded persons shall be afforded treatment in their own communities.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 1.02]

ARTICLE 2. TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF MENTAL HEALTH AND MENTAL RETARDATION

Art. 5547–202. Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation

Composition of Department

Sec. 2.01. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation shall consist of a Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, a Commissioner of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, a Deputy Commissioner for Mental Health Services, a Deputy Commissioner for Mental Retardation Services, a staff under the direction of the Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioners, and the following facilities and institutions together with such additional facilities and institutions as may hereafter by law be made a part of the Department:

(1) the Central Office of the Department;
(2) the Austin State Hospital;
(3) the San Antonio State Hospital and the San Antonio State School;
(4) the Terrell State School;
(5) the Wichita Falls State Hospital;
(6) the Rusk State Hospital and Rusk State School and the Skyview Maximum Security Unit;

(27) the Leander Rehabilitation Center.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 2.01A]

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 2.01B. The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; 1 and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the department is abolished, and this article expires effective September 1, 1985.

1 Article 5429k.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 2.08 and 2.04]

Meetings of Board

Sec. 2.05. (a) The Board shall hold at least four regular meetings per year in the state capital on dates fixed by rule of the Board. The Board shall make rules providing for the holding of special meetings.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 2.05(b) to 2.09]

Advisory Committees

Sec. 2.10. The Board shall appoint a medical advisory committee and any other advisory committees it deems necessary to assist in the effective administration of the mental health and mental retardation programs of the Department. The Department may pay the members of any such committees and the members of any advisory committees, the creation of which is approved by the Board, for travel costs incurred in connection with the exercise of their duties for the Department at rates authorized to be paid to state officers and employees under the provisions of the General Appropriations Act.

Effective Administration

Sec. 2.12.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 2.12(a) and (b)]

(c) The Commissioner shall appoint the head of each facility or institution that is administered by the Department. The appointments are subject to the Board's approval.

(d) The person appointed as head of a facility or institution serves at the pleasure of the Commissioner.

Determination of Level of Care Required; Use in Planning; Reports to Legislature

Sec. 2.12A. (a) The commissioner shall, consistent with the purposes and policies of this Act, determine for persons exhibiting the various forms of mental disability the types of services for the mentally disabled that can be most economically and effectively delivered at the community level and those mental health services that can be most economically and effectively delivered by the facilities of the department. This determination shall include an assessment of the limits, if any, that should be placed on the duration of services to be provided an individual either at the community level or at the departmental facility level.

(b) The commissioner's findings shall serve to guide the department in its planning and administration of services for the mentally ill.

(c) The commissioner shall report the results of his determination to the legislature in conjunction with the department's biennial appropriations request.

Certificate of Need Requirement

Sec. 2.24. The acquisition, development, construction, modification, and expansion of facilities, provision of additional services, and expansion of existing services under Articles 2, 3, and 4 of this Act are subject to the applicable provisions of the Texas Health Planning and Development Act, including requirements for a certificate of need or an exemption certificate.

Fees for Genetic Counseling Services

Sec. 2.25. The department is authorized to charge for genetic counseling services provided under the authority of this Act at a rate not to exceed the actual cost of providing such services. The proceeds from such charges shall be retained and utilized by the department for the continued provision of such services.

Sec. 2.26. [Blank]
meetings. All meetings of the boards of trustees shall be open to the public to the extent required by and in accordance with the general law of this state requiring meetings of governmental bodies to be open to the public. A majority of the membership of the board of trustees shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board shall keep a record of its proceedings, and the record is open to inspection by the public.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 3.05 to 3.07]

Sec. 3.08. The board or director may employ and train personnel for the administration of the various programs and services of a community center. The board shall provide appropriate rights, privileges and benefits to the employees of a community center consistent with those rights, privileges and benefits available to employees of the governing bodies which establish the center and is authorized to provide and may provide workmen’s compensation benefits. The number of employees and their salaries shall be as prescribed by the board of trustees, as approved by the Commissioner.

Sec. 3.11. A community center may acquire real property and personal property by purchase or lease and may construct buildings and facilities.

Sec. 3.12. (a) The board of trustees may make rules, consistent with the purposes, policies, principles, and standards provided by this Act to regulate the administration of mental health or mental retardation services by a community center, and may make contracts with local agencies and with qualified persons and organizations to provide portions of these services. A community center may provide services to persons voluntarily seeking assistance and to persons legally committed to that community center. A board of trustees may, with the approval of the state mental health authority, contract with the governing bodies of other counties and cities to provide mental health and mental retardation services to residents of such cities and counties.

(b) Community centers shall provide screening services, consistent with rules, regulations, and standards of the department, for persons seeking voluntary admission to a state facility for the mentally ill as well as for those persons for whom proceedings for involuntary commitment to a state facility have been initiated. The commissioner may designate a facility other than a community center as a provider of screening services when local conditions indicate that these services could be more economically and effectively delivered by that facility or when the commissioner determines that local conditions may impose an undue burden on the community center.

Sec. 3.15. (a) The Department shall provide to local agencies, boards of trustees and directors assistance, advice and consultation in the planning, development and operation of community centers.

(b) The Department may transfer ownership of and possession of personal property which is under its control or jurisdiction and which is surplus to its needs to community centers, with or without reimbursement, to be used in providing mental health services or mental retardation services, or both.

ARTICLE 4. STATE GRANTS-IN-AID

Sec. 4.03. (a) A community center is eligible to receive State grants-in-aid if it qualifies according to the rules and regulations of the Department. It is specifically provided, however, that the Department may require that such grants of State funds be matched by local support in such proportions and amounts as may be determined by the Department. For the purpose of calculating the local share of the operating costs of a community center, patient fee income, services and facilities contributed by local community centers may be counted as local support. To further the purposes of this Act, the Department may allocate, according to methods approved by the Board, funds through contracts between the Department and centers for the performance of specific services required by the Department. If the Department is unable to negotiate contracts with a center or centers for the required services, the Department may use these funds to contract with other local agencies, private providers, state agencies, or facilities of the Department for the performance of the services if these providers comply with rules and standards of the Department. To facilitate the administration of such funds, the Department may make periodic allocations of such grants to community centers on the basis of operating budgets submitted to it by the community centers in such form as the Department may require, but shall, periodically during the fiscal period covered by such operating budgets, make such adjustments, upward or downward, as may be necessary equitably to apportion such operating costs between the State government and the community centers.

(b) The first priority for use of grants-in-aid to be expended for mental health services shall be for services directed to those individuals who are at significant risk of placement in a State facility. Individuals at significant risk of placement in a State facility shall include but not necessarily be limited to persons for whom emergency hospitalization warrants have been issued, persons for whom proceedings for temporary or indefinite commitment in a State facility have been initiated, and former State facility patients for whom the facility superintendent has recommended a continuing care plan. The Department shall develop standards to enforce this policy and may withhold grants-in-aid from any center found not to be in compliance with these standards.

(See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 4.04)

ARTICLE 5. EARLY CHILDHOOD INTERVENTION PROGRAMS

5547-205. Early Childhood Intervention Programs

Definition

Sec. 5.01. In this article, "developmentally delayed child" means a child who exhibits:

(1) a significant delay, beyond acceptable variations in normal development, in one or more of the following areas:
   (A) cognitive;
   (B) gross or fine motor;
   (C) language or speech;
   (D) social or emotional;
   (E) self-help skills; or

(2) an organic defect or condition that is very likely to result in such a delay.

Eligibility

Sec. 5.02. A developmentally delayed child is eligible for services under this article if the child is under three years of age or until reaching the age of eligibility for entry into the comprehensive special education program for handicapped children under Section 16.104 of the Texas Education Code.

Grant Request

Sec. 5.03. A public or private entity may apply for funds to provide an intervention program for eligible developmentally delayed children by submitting a grant request to the department.

Approval Criteria

Sec. 5.04. The department shall allocate appropriated funds to local intervention programs on a competitive basis giving consideration to the following:

(1) the extent to which the program would meet identified needs;
(2) the cost of initiating a program, if applicable;
(3) the need for funds from the department if other funding sources are available;
(4) the proposed cost to the parents for the services; and
(5) the assurance of quality services.

Contract

Sec. 5.05. (a) After approval of a grant request, the department shall execute a contract with the service provider that requires the provider to agree to meet the following program standards:

(1) the program must be maintained within the guidelines established by the department;
(2) the provider must ensure that for each child served an individualized developmental plan is developed and is based on a comprehensive developmental evaluation performed by an interdisciplinary team with parent participation and periodic review and reevaluation;
(3) the provider must provide services to meet the unique needs of each child as indicated by the child's individualized developmental plan;
(4) the provider must demonstrate a capability to obtain or provide an array of services that must include:
   (A) training, counseling, case management services, and home visits for the parents of each child served;
   (B) individualized instruction or treatment in these areas of development: cognitive, gross and fine motor, language and speech, social and emotional, and self-help skills; and
   (C) related services, including occupational therapy, physical therapy, speech and language therapy, adaptive equipment, and transportation;
(5) the provider must maintain a plan for in-service personnel training;
(6) the provider must cooperate with the monitoring and case management efforts of the Texas Department of Health; and
(7) the provider must cooperate with the periodic evaluation efforts of the department.

(b) The contract must specify the minimum and maximum number of eligible developmentally delayed children to be served. The program must serve at least the minimum number and may not be required to serve more than the maximum number specified. If the number of eligible children applying for admission to an approved program exceeds the maximum number specified, the service provider may apply for supplemental funding.

Fees
Sec. 5.06. The service provider may charge a fee for intervention services, based on the parent’s ability to pay, to be used to offset the cost of providing or securing the service. A determination of the parent’s ability to pay for services must include a consideration of the availability of financial assistance or other benefits for which the child may be eligible. If a fee is charged, a separate charge shall be made for each type of service.

Guidelines
Sec. 5.07. (a) The department shall develop specific program guidelines in the following areas:

(1) instructional or treatment options;

(2) frequency and duration of service;

(3) staff-child ratios;

(4) staff composition and qualifications; and

(5) other program aspects designed to ensure the provision of quality services.

(b) The department may modify the standards established by Section 5.05 of this article if the department considers the modifications necessary for a particular program.

Periodic Evaluation
Sec. 5.08. The department shall periodically evaluate an approved program to determine whether the service provider is meeting the conditions of the contract. If the department determines that a program is not meeting a requirement that was agreed on as a condition for funding, the department shall withhold further funding for the program.

Complaints
Sec. 5.09. The department shall develop a method of response to individual complaints regarding services provided by a program funded under this article.

III. MENTALLY RETARDED PERSONS ACT

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the Mentally Retarded Persons Act of 1977.
(b) "Subaverage general intellectual functioning" refers to measured intelligence on standardized psychometric instruments of two or more standard deviations below the age-group mean for the tests used.

(7) "Mentally retarded person" means a person determined by a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation to be of subaverage general intellectual functioning with deficits in adaptive behavior.

(8) "Mental retardation services" means programs and assistance for mentally retarded persons which may include, but shall not be limited to, diagnosis and evaluation, education, special training, supervision, care, treatment, rehabilitation, residential care, and counseling for mentally retarded persons, but shall not include those services or programs which have been explicitly delegated by law to other state agencies.

(9) "Service provider" means one who provides mental retardation services.

(10) "Community center" means an entity organized pursuant to Section 3.01 of the Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act, as amended (Article 5547-201 to 5547-204, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), which provides mental retardation services.

(11) "Residential care facility" means any facility operated by the department or a community center that provides 24-hour services, including domiciliary services, directed toward enhancing the health, welfare, and development of persons with mental retardation.

(12) "Client" means a person receiving mental retardation services from the department or community center.

(13) "Resident" means a person living in and receiving services from a residential care facility of the department or a community center.

(14) "Group home" means a residential living arrangement for mentally retarded persons operated by the department or a community center in which not more than 15 persons voluntarily live and may share responsibilities for operation of the living unit with appropriate supervision. For the purpose of this Act, a group home is not a residential care facility.

(15) "Habilitation" means the process by which an individual is assisted to acquire and maintain those life skills which enable the person to cope more effectively with the demands of his person and environment and to raise the level of his physical, mental, and social efficiency. Habilitation includes, but is not limited to, programs of formal, structured education and training.

(16) "Treatment" means the process by which a service provider strives to ameliorate a mentally retarded person's condition.

(17) "Training" means the process by which a mentally retarded person is habilitated and may include teaching life skills and work skills.

(18) "Care" means the life support and maintenance services or other aid provided to mentally retarded persons and includes, but is not limited to, dental, medical, nursing, and similar services.

(19) "Labor" means all activity by one person that enhances the economic benefit of another, regardless of any direct or incidental therapeutic value to the client.

(20) "Legally adequate consent" means consent given by a person when each of the following conditions has been met:

(A) legal capacity: The person giving the consent is of the minimum legal age and has not been adjudicated incompetent to manage his personal affairs by an appropriate court of law;

(B) comprehension of information: The person giving the consent has been informed of and comprehends the nature, purpose, consequences, risks, and benefits of and alternatives to the procedure, and the fact that withholding or withdrawal of consent shall not prejudice the future provision of care and services to the client. Furthermore, in cases of unusual or hazardous treatment procedures, experimental research, organ transplantation, and nontherapeutic surgery, the person giving the consent has been informed of and comprehends the method to be used in the proposed procedure; and

(C) voluntariness: The consent has been given voluntarily and free from coercion and undue influence.

(21) "Minor" means a person under 18 years of age who is not and has not been married or who has not had his disabilities of minority removed for general purposes.

(22) "Guardian" means the person who, under court order, is the guardian of the person of another or the guardian of the estate of another.

(23) "Least restrictive alternative" means an available program or facility which is the least confining for the client's condition, and service and treatment which is provided in the least intrusive manner reasonably and humanely appropriate to the individual's needs.

(24) "Comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation" means a study including a sequence of observations and examinations of a person leading to conclusions and recommendations formulated jointly, with dissenting opinions, if any, by a diagnosis and evaluation team. The study shall include but not be restricted to a social and medical history, and medical, neurological, audiological, visual, educational, appropriate psychological, and sociological examinations, and an examination of the person's adaptive behavior level.

(25) "Diagnosis and evaluation team" means a group of persons with special training and experience in the diagnosis, management, and needs of mentally retarded persons, and shall be composed only of individuals who are certified pursuant to standards promulgated by the department and are professionally qualified in the fields necessary to perform the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation.

(26) "Person" means an individual, firm, partnership, joint-stock company, joint venture, association, corporation, or governmental entity.

SUBCHAPTER C. BASIC BILL OF RIGHTS

Purpose

Sec. 4. The purpose of this subchapter is to recognize and protect the individual dignity and worth of mentally retarded persons.

Rights Guaranteed

Sec. 5. Every mentally retarded person in this state shall have the rights, benefits, and privileges guaranteed by the constitution and laws of the United States and the constitution and laws of the State of Texas. Clients shall enjoy the same rights as other citizens of the United States and Texas except when lawfully restricted. The rights of mentally retarded persons which are specifically enumerated in this Act are in addition to all other rights enjoyed by the mentally retarded, and such listing of rights is not exclusive or intended to limit in any way rights which are guaranteed to the mentally retarded under the laws and constitutions of the United States and the State of Texas.

Right to Protection from Exploitation and Abuse

Sec. 6. Every mentally retarded person shall have the right to protection from exploitation and abuse on the basis of mental retardation.

Right to Least Restrictive Living Environment

Sec. 7. Every mentally retarded person shall have the right to live in the least restrictive setting appropriate to his individual needs and abilities. This includes the person's right to live in a variety of living situations, such as the right to live alone, in a group home, with a family, and in a supervised, protective environment.

Right to Education

Sec. 8. Every mentally retarded person shall have the right to receive publicly supported educational services including, but not limited to, those services provided by the Texas Education Code. The services provided to every mentally retarded person shall be appropriate to his individual needs regardless of chronological age, degree of retardation, accompanying disabilities or handicaps, or admission or commitment to mental retardation services.

Right to Equal Opportunities in Employment

Sec. 9. No employer, employment agency, or labor organization shall deny a person equal opportunities in employment because of mental retardation except when:

(1) based on a bona fide occupational qualification reasonably necessary to the normal operation of the particular business or enterprise; and

(2) the person's mental retardation significantly impairs his performance of the duties and tasks of the position for which he has made application.

Right to Equal Housing Opportunities

Sec. 10. No owner, lessee, sublessee, assignee, or managing agent of, or other person having the right to sell, rent, or lease any real property, or agency or employee of any of these shall refuse to sell, rent, or lease to any person or group of persons solely on the basis of mental retardation.

Right to Treatment and Habilitative Services

Sec. 11. Every mentally retarded person shall have the right to receive adequate treatment and habilitative services for mental retardation suited to the person's individual needs to maximize the person's capabilities and enhance the person's ability to cope with his environment. Such treatment and habilitative services shall be administered skillfully, safely, and humanely with full respect for the dignity and personal integrity of the person.

Right to Comprehensive Diagnosis and Evaluation

Sec. 12. (a) Any person thought to be mentally retarded shall have the right to receive promptly a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation adapted to the cultural background, language, and ethnic origin of the person thought to be mentally retarded, to determine if the person is in need of mental retardation services. The diagnosis and evaluation team shall report its findings in writing and shall make written recommendations for needed services and placement based on those findings. The evaluation shall be performed at a facility approved by the department to conduct comprehensive diagnoses and evaluations nearest the home of the person being evaluated. If the person is indigent, the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation shall be performed at the expense of the department at a facility designated by the department.

(b) A person who requests a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation shall have the right to request and receive a prompt administrative hearing pursuant to Section 31 of Subchapter G of this Act for the purpose of contesting the findings of the diagnosis and evaluation team and to determine eligibility and need for mental retardation services.

(c) The person on whom the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation is performed and any other person who requested the diagnosis and evaluation pursuant to Section 29 of Subchapter G of this Act shall have the right to an additional independent diagnosis and evaluation if such person questions the validity or results of the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation. Any such independent diagnosis and evaluation will be performed at the expense of the person requesting it.

Additional Rights

Sec. 13. Mentally retarded persons shall also have the following rights: right to presumption of competency, right to due process in guardianship proceedings, and right to fair compensation for labor.

SUBCHAPTER D. ADDITIONAL RIGHTS OF CLIENTS

Additional Rights

Sec. 14. In addition to the rights guaranteed in Subchapter C of this Act, clients shall have the rights enumerated in this subsection.

Right to Least Restrictive Alternative

Sec. 15. Each client shall have the right to live in the least restrictive habilitation setting appropriate to the individual's needs and be treated and served in the least intrusive manner appropriate to the individual's needs.

Right to Individualized Habilitation Plan

Sec. 16. Each client shall have the right to a written individualized habilitation plan. Each plan shall be developed by appropriate specialists with the participation of the client and his parent, if a minor, or guardian of the person, and based on the relevant results of the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation. Implementation of the plan shall begin as soon as possible, but no later than 30 days after the client's admission or commitment to mental retardation services. The content of an individualized habilitation plan shall be as required by the department.

Right to Periodic Review and Reevaluation

Sec. 17. (a) Every client shall have the right to review of the individualized habilitation plan to measure progress, to modify objectives and programs if necessary, and to provide guidance and remediation techniques. The review shall be made at least annually if the client has been placed in a residential care facility; the review shall be at least quarterly if the client has been admitted for services other than placement in a residential care facility.

(b) Every client shall have the right to a comprehensive rediagnosis and reevaluation periodically.

Right to Be Informed and Participate in Planning

Sec. 18. Each client and parent of a minor or guardian of the person shall have the right to participate in planning with regard to the client's treatment and habilitation and to be informed in writing of progress at reasonable intervals. Whenever possible, the client or the parent of a minor or the guardian of the person shall be given the opportunity to decide among several appropriate alternative services available to the client from the service provider.

Right to Withdraw From Voluntary Mental Retardation Services

Sec. 19. A client, the parent if the client is a minor, or a guardian of the person shall have the right, subject to the exception of Section 36, Subchapter G of this Act, to withdraw the client from mental retardation services other than court commitment to a residential care facility.

Right to Be Free from Mistreatment, Neglect, and Abuse

Sec. 20. Clients shall have the right to be free from mistreatment, neglect, and abuse by service providers.

Right to Be Free from Unnecessary and Excessive Medication

Sec. 21. Each client shall have the right to be free from unnecessary and excessive medication. Medication shall not be used as punishment, for the convenience of the staff, as a substitute for a habilitation program, or in quantities that interfere with the client's habilitation program. Medication for each client shall be authorized only by the prescription of a physician and shall be closely supervised by a physician.

Right to Submit Grievances

Sec. 22. A client or any person acting on behalf of a mentally retarded person or group of mentally retarded persons shall have the right to submit to the appropriate public responsibility committee for investigation and appropriate action complaints or grievances against any person, group of persons, organization, or business regarding infringement of the rights of the mentally retarded person and delivery of mental retardation services.

SUBCHAPTER E. ADDITIONAL RIGHTS OF RESIDENTS

Right to Prompt and Adequate Medical and Dental Care and Treatment

Sec. 24. (a) Each resident shall have the right to prompt, adequate, and necessary medical and dental care and treatment for physical and mental ailments and for the prevention of any illness or disability. Subject to the limitations of his authority under this Act, the superintendent or director shall:

(1) provide such necessary care and treatment to all court-committed residents without further consent; provided, however, that consent shall be required for all surgical procedures.

(2) make available such necessary care and treatment to all voluntary residents.

(b) All medical and dental care and treatment shall be consistent with accepted standards of medical and dental practice in the community and shall be performed under appropriate supervision of licensed physicians or dentists.
Art. 5547-300  MENTAL HEALTH

(c) Nothing in this subchapter nor in this Act shall be construed to permit the department to perform unusual or hazardous treatment procedures, experimental research, organ transplantation, or nontherapeutic surgery for experimental research.

Additional Rights

Sec. 25. Residents shall also have the following rights: right to a normalized residential environment, right to humane physical environment, right to communication and visits, and right to personal property.

SUBCHAPTER F. RULES AND REGULATIONS

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 26. The department shall promulgate rules and regulations to ensure the implementation of the rights guaranteed in Subchapters C, D, and E of this Act.

SUBCHAPTER G. ADMISSION AND COMMITMENT TO MENTAL RETARDATION SERVICES

Admission

Sec. 27. Persons shall be admitted for mental retardation services offered by the department or community centers under the provisions of this Act only by the procedures prescribed in this subchapter.

Comprehensive Diagnosis and Evaluation Required: Application to Developmentally Delayed Children

Sec. 28. (a) No person shall be eligible to receive mental retardation services unless the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation to determine the need and eligibility for mental retardation services, except as provided in Sections (g) and (h) of Section 34 of this Act. The diagnosis and evaluation shall be performed at a diagnosis and evaluation center approved by the department.

(b) No person shall be voluntarily admitted for mental retardation services unless the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation has been performed or updated within three months prior to the initial admission to services, except as provided in Subsections (g) and (h) of Section 34 of this Act.

(c) No person shall be determined to be in need of placement in a residential care facility by a court of law pursuant to Section 37 of this Act unless a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation has been performed or updated within six months prior to the court hearing on the application for placement in a residential care facility. On receiving an application for placement in a residential care facility, the court shall order a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation to be performed if a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation has not been performed or updated within the previous six months.

(d) This section does not apply to an eligible developmentally delayed child served under Article 5, Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act, as amended.

Application for Diagnosis and Evaluation

Sec. 29. Any person believed to be mentally retarded or the parent of a minor or guardian of the person who is believed to be mentally retarded may make written application to the department on forms provided by the department for a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation.

Report and Recommendations Required

Sec. 30. (a) Based on its comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation, the diagnosis and evaluation team shall prepare written findings and recommendations for needed services and appropriate placement.

(b) The report and recommendations shall include but not be limited to:

(1) summary of findings of the diagnosis and evaluation team;
(2) recommendations as to whether or not the individual needs mental retardation services; and
(3) recommendations of desirable or appropriate programs or placement consistent with the needs of the applicant.

(c) The report and recommendations shall be signed by each member of the diagnosis and evaluation team.

(d) If a court has ordered the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation pursuant to Subsection (i) of Section 37 of this Act, the department shall promptly send a copy of the summary report and recommendations of the diagnosis and evaluation team to the court and to the person diagnosed and evaluated or the person's legal representative.

(e) If any person thought to be mentally retarded, parent of a minor, or guardian of the person requests the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation pursuant to Section 29 of this Act, the person, parent of a minor, or guardian of the person shall be promptly notified of the findings of the diagnosis and evaluation team and its recommendations. The person, parent of a minor, and guardian of the person shall be informed of the right to an independent diagnosis and evaluation and the right to an administrative hearing for the purpose of contesting the findings or recommendations of the diagnosis and evaluation team if they are unsatisfactory.

Administrative Hearing

Sec. 31. (a) If the person, parent of a minor, or guardian of the person who requested the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation wishes to contest the findings or recommendations of the diagnosis and evaluation team, he may request an administrative hearing by the agency conducting the diagnosis and evaluation. In addition to the requirements of this section, the department shall promulgate rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this section.

(b) The hearing shall be held as promptly as possible within 30 days and in a convenient location and with reasonable notice.

(c) The hearing shall be public unless the client or contestant requests a closed hearing.

(d) The proposed client and the contestant shall have the right to be present and represented at the hearing by any person of their choosing, including legal counsel.

(e) The proposed client, contestant, and representative shall have reasonable access at a reasonable time prior to the hearing to any records concerning the proposed client on which the proposed action may be based.

(f) The proposed client, contestant, and representative shall have the right to present oral or written testimony and evidence, including the results of an independent diagnosis and evaluation, and shall have the right to examine witnesses.

(g) Any interested person may appear and give oral and written testimony.

(h) In all cases, the hearing officer shall promptly report to the parties in writing his decision and findings of fact and the basis for those findings.

(i) Any party to such hearing shall have the right to appeal without the necessity for filing a motion for rehearing with the hearing officer. The appeal shall be brought in the county court of Travis County or the county in which the proposed client resides. The appeal shall be by trial de novo.

(j) The decision of the hearing officer shall be final within 30 days after the date of the decision unless a party files an appeal within such time. The filing of an appeal suspends the decision of the hearing officer, and no party may take any action based on such decision.

Application for Services

Sec. 32. (a) If the diagnosis and evaluation team recommends services, the client or the parent of a minor or guardian of the person may apply for needed services according to the provisions of Sections 33 and 34 of this Act.

(b) If the diagnosis and evaluation team recommends long-term placement in a residential care facility, the client, if an adult, the parent of a minor, or guardian of the person, the department, the court, any community center, or the agency which conducted the diagnosis and evaluation may file an application pursuant to Section 37 of this Act for a judicial determination that the alleged mentally retarded person is in need of long-term placement in a residential care facility.

Application for Voluntary Mental Retardation Services

Sec. 33. If the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation as required by Section 30 of this Act indicates that the person diagnosed and evaluated is in need of voluntary mental retardation services, that person may be admitted to services as soon as appropriate services are available, and upon application for the services. The departmental facility or the community center shall develop a plan for appropriate programs or placement in programs or facilities approved or operated by the department. These programs or placements shall be suited to the needs of the proposed client and shall be consistent with the rights guaranteed in previous subchapters of this Act. The proposed client, his parent, if he is a minor, and/or his guardian shall be encouraged and permitted to participate in the development of the planned programs or placements.

Application for Voluntary Residential Care Services

Sec. 34. (a) No person shall be admitted voluntarily to a residential care program except pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(b) When voluntary placement in a residential care facility is requested, preference shall be given to the facility located nearest to the residence of the proposed resident except when there are compelling reasons for placement elsewhere.

(c) Application for voluntary admission may be made by a proposed client, the parents of a minor child, or the guardian of the person.

(d) The application for voluntary admission shall be made according to rules and regulations of the department and shall contain a statement of the reasons for placement requested.

(e) As used in this section, voluntary admissions shall be one or more of the following types:

1. "Regular voluntary admission" for placement of a mentally retarded person, without a court proceeding, for treatment, training, and/or care.

2. "Emergency admission" for placement of a mentally retarded person, without court proceedings, when there is an immediate and compelling need for short-term training, treatment, and/or care.

3. "Respite care" for placement of a mentally retarded person, without court proceeding, to provide special assistance or relief to the mentally retarded person and/or his family for brief periods of time.

(f) Regular voluntary admissions shall be permitted only after a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation, if:

1. Space is available at the facility for which placement is requested.

2. The superintendent or director of the facility determines that the facility can and does provide services that meet the needs of the proposed resident.
Art. 5547-300  MENTAL HEALTH

(g) Emergency admissions shall be permitted even though a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation has not been performed if:

(1) there is persuasive evidence that the proposed resident is mentally retarded;
(2) space is available at the facility for which placement is requested;
(3) the superintendent or director of the facility determines that the facility can and does provide services that meet the needs of the proposed resident;
(4) there is an urgent need by the proposed resident for short-term placement and care which the facility provides;
(5) relief for the urgent need of the proposed resident can be afforded within a period of one year following admission; provided that a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation is performed within 30 days following admission.

(h) Respite care shall be permitted even though a comprehensive diagnostic evaluation has not been performed if:

(1) there is persuasive evidence that the proposed resident is mentally retarded;
(2) space is available at the facility for which respite care is requested;
(3) the superintendent or director of the facility determines that the facility can and does provide services that meet the needs of the proposed resident;
(4) there is a need for the mentally retarded person and/or his family that urgently requires assistance or relief;
(5) that assistance or relief to the mentally retarded person and/or his family can be provided within a brief period of time, not to exceed 30 consecutive days following admission. If the relief sought by the mentally retarded person or his family has not been achieved in the 30-day period, one 30-day extension may be allowed if:

(A) The superintendent or director of the facility determines that the relief may be achieved in the additional time period, and
(B) The parties agreeing to the original placement consent to the extension. If the extension is not permitted, the resident shall be released immediately and application may be made for other services.

Voluntary Admission or Court Commitment of Minor Who Reaches Majority

Sec. 35. At the time a resident who was voluntarily admitted as a minor under Section 34 of this Act, and who continues to be in need of residential services, approaches the age of majority, the superintendent shall take action to insure that at majority one of the following actions is taken for admission or commitment of the resident:

(1) obtain legally adequate consent for admission from the resident or the guardian of the person, or
(2) file or cause to be filed an application for court commitment under Section 37 of this Act.

Withdrawal by Persons Voluntarily Admitted for Residential Care Services

Sec. 36. No person voluntarily admitted to a residential care facility may be detained more than 96 hours after he, his parents if he is a minor, or the guardian of his person has requested discharge in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the department, unless:

(a) The superintendent or director of the facility determines that the condition of the person or other circumstances are such that the person cannot be discharged without endangering the safety of himself or the general public; and

(b) The superintendent or director files or causes to be filed an application for judicial commitment. For purposes of this Act, the county in which the facility is located shall be deemed as the county of residence of the proposed resident; and

(c) Pending a final determination on the application, the court may, upon a finding of good cause, issue an order of protective custody, ordering the resident to remain in the facility where he was voluntarily admitted, or other suitable place designated by the court as provided in Subsection (k) of Section 37 of this Act.

Commitment to a Residential Care Facility

Sec. 37. (a) No person shall be committed to a residential care facility under the provisions of this Act except pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(b) No person shall be committed to a residential care facility unless:

(1) the person is mentally retarded;
(2) evidence is presented showing that because of retardation, the person represents a substantial risk of physical impairment or injury to himself or others, or he is unable to provide for and is not providing for his most basic physical needs;
(3) the person cannot be adequately and appropriately habilitated in an available, less restrictive setting;
(4) the residential care facility does provide habilitative services, care, training, and treatment appropriate to the individual's needs; and
(5) the committing court finds that the conditions of this subsection have been met.

(c) When placement in a residential care facility becomes necessary, preference shall be given to the facility located nearest to the residence of the proposed resident except when no vacancy is available in the nearest facility, or the proposed resident, parent of a minor, or guardian of the person requests otherwise, or there are other compelling reasons.
(d) The procedure prescribed in the following subsections shall be used for commitment to a residential care facility.

(e) The county court shall have original jurisdiction of all judicial proceedings for commitment of mentally retarded persons to residential care facilities.

(f) An alleged mentally retarded person, the parent of a minor, the guardian of the person, or any other interested person may file with the county clerk of the county of residence of the alleged mentally retarded person an application for a determination that the alleged mentally retarded person is in need of long-term placement in a residential care facility.

(g) The application shall be executed under oath and shall set forth:

1. The name, birthdate, sex, and residence address of the proposed resident;
2. The name and residence address of the proposed resident’s parent or guardian;
3. A short and plain statement of the facts to show that commitment to a residential care facility is necessary and appropriate; and
4. A short and plain statement explaining the inappropriateness of admission to less restrictive services.

(h) A copy of the summary report and recommendations of the diagnosis and evaluation team, if completed, shall be included in the application.

(i) On the filing of the application, the court shall immediately set a date for a hearing to determine the appropriateness of the commitment of the proposed resident to a residential care facility. The court shall also order an immediate comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation of the proposed resident unless such a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation has been completed or updated within six months prior to the date of the scheduled hearing.

(j) Copies of the application, notice of the time and place of the hearing, and if appropriate, the order for the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation shall be served on the proposed resident or his representative, the parent of a minor, guardian of the person, and the department not less than 10 days before the hearing. The notice shall also specify in plain and simple language the right to an independent diagnosis and evaluation as provided in Subsection (e) of Section 30 of this Act, as well as the provisions of Subsections (l) and (m) of this section.

(k) If the county court in which an application has been filed in accordance with this section finds, pursuant to certificates filed with the court, that the proposed resident is believed to be mentally retarded and is likely to cause injury to himself or others if not immediately restrained, the judge may order any health or peace officer to take the proposed resident into protective custody and immediately transport him to a designated residential care facility when space is available or to a place deemed suitable by a county health officer, and detain him for a period not to exceed 20 days pending order of the court. No person may be detained in protective custody in a medical facility used for the detention of persons charged with or convicted of a crime, except because of and during an extreme emergency and in no case for a period longer than 24 hours. The county health officer shall see that a person held in protective custody receives proper care and medical attention pending removal to a residential care facility. The head of a facility in which a person is held under this subsection shall discharge such person within 20 days if the court has not issued further orders; provided, however, if the head of such facility believes the person is dangerous to himself or others, he shall immediately so advise the court which issued the order of protective custody.

(l) If the proposed resident cannot afford counsel, the court shall appoint an attorney not less than 10 days before the hearing. An attorney appointed pursuant to this section shall be entitled to a reasonable fee to be paid from the general fund of the county in which the proceeding is brought. In all cases the proposed resident’s attorney shall represent the rights and legal interests of the proposed resident regardless of who may initiate the proceeding or pay the attorney’s fees.

(m) A full hearing on the application shall be held as soon as practicable after the application is filed in accordance with the following procedures:

1. The hearing shall be open to the public unless the proposed resident or his representative requests that the hearing be closed and the court determines there is good cause therefor.

2. Any party to the proceedings may demand a jury, or the court on its own motion may order a jury. The Texas Rules of Civil Procedure shall apply to the selection of the jury, the court’s charge to the jury, and all other aspects of the proceedings and trial except when inconsistent with the provisions of this section.

3. The proposed resident shall have the right to be present throughout the entire proceeding. If the court shall determine that the presence of the proposed resident would result in harm to the proposed resident, then the court may waive the requirement of this subsection in writing, clearly stating the basis for the determination.

4. The proposed resident shall be represented by counsel and be provided the right and opportunity to confront and cross-examine all witnesses. The parent of a minor or guardian of the person may also be represented by counsel.

5. The usual rules of evidence shall apply. The results of the current diagnosis and evaluation shall be presented in evidence.

6. The party who filed the application shall prove beyond a reasonable doubt that long-term placement of the proposed resident in a residential care facility is appropriate.
Art. 5547-300  MENTAL HEALTH

(7) In all cases, the court shall promptly report in writing its decision and findings of fact.

(n) If the court determines that long-term placement in a residential care facility is inappropriate, the court shall enter a finding to that effect, dismiss the application, and, if appropriate, recommend application for admission to voluntary services pursuant to Sections 32, 33, and 34 of this Act.

(o) If the court determines that long-term placement in a residential care facility is appropriate, the court shall order commitment of the proposed resident for care, treatment, and training to a community center or the department when space is available in a residential care facility, and the court shall immediately forward a copy of the commitment order to the department or community center.

(p) Any party shall have the right to appeal the judgment of the court to the appropriate court of appeals, and such appeals, if any, shall be controlled by the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Appeals pursuant to this section shall be given a preference setting. The county court may grant a stay of the commitment pending appeal.

(q) In no case shall an order for commitment be considered an adjudication of mental incompetency.

(r) When a resident committed to a residential care facility pursuant to the provisions of this section is absent from the assigned facility without permission from the proper authority, the superintendent or director of the facility may immediately issue an order authorizing any peace officer to detain the resident. When a peace officer takes a resident into custody, he shall immediately notify the superintendent or director. When requested by the superintendent or director, the peace officer shall cause the resident to be returned promptly to the assigned facility.

SUBCHAPTER I. TRANSFER AND DISCHARGE OF CLIENTS

Transfer and Discharge

Sec. 38. Transfer and discharge of clients shall be made only in accordance with the rules and regulations of the department and provisions of this subchapter. This subchapter shall not apply to transfers for emergency medical, dental, or psychiatric care for a period of time not to exceed 30 consecutive days, nor shall it apply to a voluntary withdrawal of a client from mental retardation services. This subchapter shall not apply to a discharge by a superintendent or director on the grounds that a person is not mentally retarded based upon a comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation, in which case a client shall be discharged without further hearings; provided, however, that the administrative hearing to contest the comprehensive diagnosis and evaluation provided for in Section 31 shall be available.

Sec. 39. When a service provider finds that placement of a client in a facility is no longer appropriate to the person's individual needs or that the client can be better treated and habilitated in another facility, the service provider shall transfer or discharge the client pursuant to this subchapter.

Request of Client, Parent, Guardian

Sec. 40. A client or the parent of a minor or guardian of the person may request a transfer or discharge, and the service provider shall determine the appropriateness of the requested transfer or discharge. If such request is denied, the administrative hearing referred to in Section 41 shall be available.

Right to Administrative Hearing

Sec. 41. (a) A client shall not be transferred to another facility or discharged from any mental retardation services under this subchapter unless provided with a prior opportunity to request and receive an administrative hearing to contest the proposed transfer or discharge.

(b) No transfer of a client from one facility to another shall occur without prior approval and knowledge of the parents or guardian of the client.

Notice

Sec. 42. The client and the parent or guardian shall be given 30 days notice of the proposed transfer or discharge under this subchapter. The client and parent or guardian shall also be informed of the right to an administrative hearing for the purpose of contesting the proposed transfer or discharge.

Hearing to be Held

Sec. 43. (a) If the client, parent of a minor, or guardian of the person wishes to contest the proposed or denied transfer or discharge, an administrative hearing shall be provided in accordance with the requirements of this section.

(b) The hearing shall be held as promptly as possible within 30 days and in a convenient location and with reasonable notice.

(c) The client, parent of a minor, guardian of the person, and the superintendent shall have the right to be present and represented at the hearing.

(d) The client, parent of a minor, and guardian of the person shall have reasonable access at a reasonable time prior to the hearing to any records concerning the client on which the proposed action may be based.

(e) Evidence shall be presented, which shall include oral and written testimony.

(f) In all cases the hearing officer shall promptly report his decision to the parties in writing, including findings of fact and the basis for those findings.

(g) Any party to such hearing shall have the right to appeal without the necessity of filing a motion for rehearing with the hearing officer. The appeal shall be brought in the county court of Travis County or the county in which the proposed client resides. The appeal shall be by trial de novo.

(h) The decision of the hearing officer shall be final within 30 days after the date of the decision, unless a party files an appeal within such time pursuant to Subsection (g). The filing of an appeal suspends the decision of the hearing officer, and no party may take any action based on such decision. If no appeal is filed from a final order that the request for transfer or discharge should be granted, the superintendent shall proceed with such transfer or discharge. If no appeal is filed from a final order that the request for transfer or discharge should be denied, the client shall remain in the same program or facility where he is presently receiving services.

Alternative, Follow-up Supportive Services

Sec. 44. The department shall provide alternative or follow-up supportive services consistent with available resources. Provision of alternative or follow-up supportive services shall be made by agreement between the department and the client, parent of a minor, or guardian of the person, and shall be consistent with the rights guaranteed in Subchapters C, D, and E of this Act. Placement in a residential care facility, under the provisions of this Act, other than by transfer from another residential care facility shall be made only pursuant to Sections 34 and 37 of this Act.

Leave, Furlough

Sec. 45. The superintendent or director of a residential care facility, shall have the authority to grant or deny a resident a leave of absence or furlough.

Transfer to Mental Hospitals

Sec. 46. (a) Voluntary Residents. No voluntary resident shall be transferred to a state mental hospital for other than the emergency care provided for in Section 38 of this Act without legally adequate consent to such transfer.

(b) The superintendent or director of a residential care facility shall have the authority according to the procedures of this subchapter to transfer a resident committed pursuant to Section 37 of this Act to a state mental hospital under the control and management of the department for mental health care when an examination of the resident by a licensed physician indicates symptoms of mental illness to the extent that care, treatment, control, and rehabilitation in a state mental hospital would be in the best interest of the resident.

(c) For purposes of this Act, upon transfer of a court-committed resident to a state mental hospital, the director of the state mental hospital to which the resident was transferred shall immediately cause an evaluation of the resident's condition to be made. If at any time such an evaluation reveals that continued hospitalization is necessary for a period in excess of 30 days, the director shall promptly initiate appropriate court-ordered transfer proceedings in accordance with this section. In no event shall a resident transferred from a residential care facility to a state mental hospital remain in said hospital for more than 30 consecutive days unless such resident is transferred to the hospital under the provisions of this section.

(d) If a court-committed resident of a residential care facility requires hospitalization in excess of 30 consecutive days, the court transfer referred to in Subsection (c) above shall be accomplished in the following manner. The director of the state mental hospital shall request an order of transfer to the state mental hospital from the court which originally committed the resident to the residential care facility. In support of such request, the director of the state mental hospital shall forward Certificates of Medical Examination for Mental Illness as described in Article 5547–32 of the Texas Mental Health Code, as amended (Articles 5547–1 to 5547–204, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), completed by two physicians stating that the resident is mentally ill and requires observation and/or treatment in a mental hospital. Upon receipt of the director's request and the certificates of medical examination, the committing court shall set a date for a hearing on the proposed transfer. At least seven days prior to the date of the hearing, a copy of the transfer request and the notice of the hearing shall be personally served on the proposed patient. If the patient is a minor, notice shall also be served on his parents. If the patient has been declared to be incompetent under the Probate Code and a guardian for his person has been appointed, notice shall also be served on the guardian. A jury shall be had unless a waiver of trial by jury is made in writing under oath by the adult resident, his parent if a minor, or his guardian of the person. Notwithstanding the executed waiver, the jury shall determine the issues in the case if jury trial is demanded by the adult resident, his parent if a minor, his guardian of the person, or by his attorney at any time prior to determination of the hearing.

The county judge may hold a hearing on the petition at any suitable place within the county, but such hearing should be held in a physical setting not likely to have a harmful effect on the condition of the resident. The resident shall not be denied the right to be present at the hearing, although the court may dispense with the presence of the resident if it is determined by the court to be in the resident's best interest. The hearing shall be open unless the court finds it in the best interests of the resident that the hearing be closed and the court obtains the consent of the adult resident, his parent if a minor, his guardian of the person, and his attorney for the closing of the hearing. At least two physicians, at least one of whom is a psychiatrist, who have examined the resident within the 15 days immediately preceding the hearing shall testify at the hearing. No person shall be transferred under this section to a mental hospital except upon the basis of competent medical or psychiatric testimony. The court or jury as the case may be shall determine:

1. whether the resident is mentally ill,
2. whether the resident requires a transfer to a state mental hospital for treatment for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others.

If the court or jury, as the case may be, finds that the patient is mentally ill and requires treatment in a state mental hospital for his own welfare and protection or the protection of others, the court shall issue an order approving the transfer of the resident to the state mental hospital.

(c) If the resident no longer requires treatment in a state mental hospital or a residential care facility, he shall be discharged. If he no longer requires treatment in a state mental hospital but requires treatment in a residential care facility, the superintendent or director of the residential care facility from which the resident is transferred shall be responsible for the immediate return of the resident to the residential care facility upon notification by the director of the mental hospital that hospitalization is no longer necessary or appropriate and that care in a residential care facility is required. If the resident has been transferred by a court to the state mental hospital under the provisions of this Act, the transfer to the residential care facility shall be made in accordance with the following provisions. The head of the state mental hospital shall forward a certificate evidencing that the resident is no longer in need of hospitalization in a state mental hospital but is still in need of care in a residential care facility due to a continuing diagnosis of mental retardation. The head of the state mental hospital shall request that the resident be transferred to a residential care facility. Such requested transfer shall be made only with the approval of the judge of the committing court by the entry of an order approving such transfer, in accordance with the provisions of Article 5547-75A of the Texas Mental Health Code.

Discharge from Residential Care Facility—Notice to Court

Sec. 47. On discharge of a resident committed pursuant to Section 37 of this Act, the department shall notify the committing court.

Habeas Corpus

Sec. 48. Nothing in this subchapter shall in any way alter or limit the right of a resident to a writ of habeas corpus.

Admission and Commitments Under Prior Law

Sec. 49. (a) Mentally retarded persons admitted or committed to facilities under the jurisdiction of the department under law previously in force may remain in the residential care facility unless and until such time as necessary and appropriate alternative placement is found or until such time as they can be admitted or committed to a facility under the provision of this Act if such readmission or commitment is necessary to meet the due process requirements of this Act.

(b) Except as hereinafter provided, a mentally retarded person voluntarily admitted to a residential care facility under laws previously in force shall be discharged within 96 hours of receipt by the superintendent or director of a written request from the person on whose application the mentally retarded person was admitted, or upon his own request. If, however, the superintendent or director deems the person's condition to be such that the person cannot be discharged with safety to himself or with safety to the general public, the superintendent or director may forthwith file or cause to be filed in the county in which the residential care facility is located an application for commitment under Section 37 of this Act. Pending a final determination of the application for commitment, the court may upon showing of good cause order the mentally retarded person placed in protective custody in the residential care facility as provided for in Subsection (k) of Section 37 of this Act.

(c) The state shall reimburse a county for not more than $50 of the cost of a hearing held by the county court of the county for the commitment of a resident of a facility under the jurisdiction of the department who was committed under prior law and for whom the due process requirements of this Act require another commitment proceeding.

(d) The commissioners court of a county entitled to reimbursement under this Act may file a claim for reimbursement with the comptroller of public accounts.

SUBCHAPTER J. PUBLIC RESPONSIBILITY COMMITTEE

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 50. Pursuant to the provisions of this subchapter, the department shall promulgate rules and regulations to establish a third-party mechanism to safeguard adequately the legal rights of clients.

Creation

Sec. 51. A Public Responsibility Committee, hereinafter referred to as the committee, shall be established at each community center and residential care facility of the department.

Membership

Sec. 52. Each committee shall have seven members and shall have representation by parents, guardians, consumer groups, persons, and organizations which advocate for mentally retarded persons and shall exclude employees of facilities of the department or community centers. Members must reside in the service region served by the facility.
Selection
Sec. 53. Members shall be selected in the following manner:

(a) For facilities of the department, members shall be selected by the executive committee of the Volunteer Services Council with consultation with the local parents' associations, if any.

(b) For community centers, members shall be selected by the local establishing agencies with consultation with the local parents' associations or interest groups, if any.

Meetings
Sec. 54. The committee shall meet not less than four times a year. A majority of members shall constitute a quorum.

Compensation
Sec. 55. Committee members shall serve without compensation other than reimbursement for actual expenses, including travel expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties.

Powers and Duties of the Committee
Sec. 56. (a) The powers and duties of the committee shall be to:

1. serve as a third-party mechanism for protecting and advocating for the health, safety, welfare, and legal and human rights of mentally retarded persons being served by the department or community center;

2. receive and investigate complaints made to it by or on behalf of clients and make appropriate recommendations to the facility superintendent or director, to the deputy commissioner of the department with authority over the facility, to the commissioner of the department, and to the governing board as necessary;

3. investigate and determine the denial of rights of any person receiving services;

4. submit instances of abuse or denial of rights to the appropriate authorities and the advocacy system created under Section 203 of P.L. 94–103 for appropriate action.

(b) When investigating complaints of abuse or denial of rights of clients, the committee shall have the authority with or without notice to inspect the facility which offers services to the mentally retarded person and records relating to the diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of the mentally retarded person, as those records relate to the complaint of abuse or denial of rights.

(c) Investigations and findings of the committee shall be kept confidential unless the committee orders the information released when legally adequate consent is obtained for its release.

(d) The committee shall present an annual report of its work to the commissioner, the executive director of the community center, the appropriate governing board, and the advocacy system created under Section 203 of P.L. 94–103 for the appropriate action. The report shall include a description of all complaints processed. The names of all individuals shall be kept confidential.

SUBCHAPTER K. CONFIDENTIALITY OF RECORDS
Confidentiality of Records
Sec. 57. (a) Records of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of any person which are maintained in connection with the performance of any program or activity relating to mental retardation shall be confidential and disclosed only for the purposes and under the circumstances expressly authorized under Subsection (b) of this section.

(b) The content of any record referred to in Subsection (a) of this section may be disclosed in accordance with the prior written consent of the person with respect to whom such record is maintained, or parent if such person is a minor, or guardian if the person has been adjudicated incompetent to manage his personal affairs or executor or administrator if the person is deceased. If there is no appointment of an executor or administrator, such consent may be given by the deceased person's spouse or, if none, by any adult person related to the deceased person within the first degree of consanguinity. Disclosure is permitted only to such extent, under the circumstances, and for the purposes as may be allowed under the regulations prescribed pursuant to Subsection (h) of this section. The content of any record referred to in Subsection (a) of this section is to be made available upon the request of any person thought to be mentally retarded upon whose behalf the record was made unless the qualified professional is responsible for supervising the client's habilitation states in a signed written statement that it would not be in the best interest of the person in question. However, the parent of a minor or guardian of the person shall have access to the contents of any record referred to in Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) Whether or not the person with respect to whom any given record referred to in Subsection (a) of this section is maintained gives his written consent, the content of such record may be disclosed as follows:

1. to medical personnel to the extent necessary to meet a bona fide medical emergency;

2. to qualified personnel for the purpose of management audits, financial audits, program evaluation, or research approved by the department, but such personnel may not identify, directly or indirectly, any individual receiving services in any report of such research, audit, or evaluation, or otherwise disclose identities in any manner;

3. if authorized by an appropriate order of a court of competent jurisdiction granted after application showing good cause therefor. In assessing good cause the court shall weigh the public interest and the need for disclosure against the injury to the person receiving services. On the granting of the order, the court, in determining the extent to which any disclosure of all or any part of any record is necessary, shall impose appropriate safeguards against unauthorized disclosure; and

(4) to personnel legally authorized to conduct investigations concerning complaints of abuse or denial of rights of mentally retarded persons.

(d) Except as authorized by a court order granted under Subsection (e)(3) of this section, no record referred to in Subsection (a) of this section may be used to initiate or substantiate any criminal charges against a person receiving services or to conduct any investigation of a person receiving services.

(e) The prohibitions of this section continue to apply to records concerning any individual who has received services irrespective of when the person received services.

(f) The prohibitions of this section apply to any interchange of records between governmental agencies or persons, except for interchanges of information necessary for delivery of services to clients or for payment for mental retardation services as defined in this Act.

(g) A person who receives information deemed confidential by this section, other than the person thought to be mentally retarded on whose behalf the records are made, the parent of a minor, or guardian of the person shall not disclose the information except to the extent that disclosure is consistent with the authorized purpose for which the information was first obtained.

(h) The department shall prescribe regulations to carry out the purposes of this section. These regulations may contain such definitions and may provide for such safeguards and procedures as in the judgment of the department are necessary or proper to effectuate the purposes of this section, to prevent circumvention or evasion thereof, or to facilitate compliance therewith.

(i) Nothing contained in this subchapter shall prevent a qualified professional from disclosing the current physical and mental condition of a mentally retarded person to his or her parent, guardian, relatives, or friends.

SUBCHAPTER L  RESPONSIBILITY AND COOPERATION

Responsibility

Sec. 58. (a) The responsibility of the department under this Act shall be to make all reasonable efforts consistent with available resources:

(1) to assure that all mentally retarded persons identified and needing mental retardation services in the state are given quality care, treatment, education, training, and rehabilitation appropriate to their individual needs for as long as mental retardation services are needed, but shall not include those services or programs which have been explicitly delegated by law to other governmental entities;

(2) to initiate, carry out, and evaluate procedures to guarantee to mentally retarded persons the rights enumerated in this Act;

(3) to carry out all provisions of this Act, including planning, initiating, coordinating, promoting, and evaluating all programs developed. The responsibilities placed on the department by this Act shall be in addition to all other responsibilities and duties given by law to the department; and

(4) to provide either directly or by cooperation, negotiation, or contract with other agencies and those persons and groups enumerated in Section 2.13, Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act (Articles 5547-201 to 5547-204, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), a continuum of services to mentally retarded persons. These services shall include but not be limited to treatment and care, education and training including sheltered workshop programs, counseling and guidance, and development of residential and other facilities to enable mentally retarded persons to live and be habilitated in the community. These facilities shall include but not be limited to group homes, foster homes, halfway houses, and day-care facilities for mentally retarded persons to which the department has assigned mentally retarded persons. The department shall exercise periodic and continuing supervision over the quality of services.

(b) The department is hereby delegated the authority to carry out its responsibilities set forth in this Act.

(c) The responsibilities enumerated in this section shall be in addition to any other responsibilities placed on the department by Articles 2 and 3 of the Texas Mental Health and Mental Retardation Act, as amended (Articles 5547-201 to 5547-204, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).
Sec. 60. The department shall promulgate written rules and regulations to ensure the implementation of the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 61. (a) The parents of a mentally retarded person under 18 years of age who is a resident in a residential care facility operated by the department shall pay, if able to do so, the portions of the cost of support and maintenance of the mentally retarded person as may be applicable under the following formula:

If the amount shown as “Net Taxable Income” of the parents as reported on their latest current financial statement or on their latest Federal Income Tax return at the election of the parent or guardian is:

(b) Parents of a mentally retarded person who is 18 years of age or older shall not be required to pay for his support and maintenance as a resident in a residential care facility operated by the department, but the mentally retarded person and his estate shall be liable for his support and maintenance regardless of his age, except as provided in Subsection (g) of this section.

(c) The unpaid portion of charges for support and maintenance due before the effective date of this Act, under agreements made before the effective date of this Act, shall remain as obligations of parents under previous law, but such preexisting agreements for payment of support and maintenance shall be in force after the effective date of this Act only to the extent of parental responsibility set forth in the foregoing formula.

(d) Unpaid charges for support and maintenance accruing after the effective date of this Act due by parents for the support and maintenance of mentally retarded persons who are minors and residents in residential care facilities operated by the department shall be a claim in favor of the state for such support and maintenance, and shall constitute a lien against the parents’ property and estate, but shall not constitute a lien against any other estate or property of the mentally retarded person.

(e) With respect to a mentally retarded person who is a resident in a residential care facility operated by the department, the cost of his support and maintenance may be determined under rules and regulations adopted by the department provided that total charges from all sources for support and maintenance shall not exceed the actual cost of such support and maintenance, and the costs determined under such rules and regulations shall constitute a claim by the state against the entire estate or any property of the mentally retarded person including but not limited to any share he may have by gift, descent, or devise in his parents’ estates or any other person’s estate, except as provided in Subsection (g) of this section.

(f) Nothing in this section shall alter or amend the liability and responsibility of any parent under orders of a court or otherwise liable for child support payments under the provisions of the Family Code.

(g) For the purposes of this subchapter no portion of the corpus or income of a trust or trusts, with an aggregate principle amount not to exceed $50,000, of which a mentally retarded person is a beneficiary shall be considered to be the property of such mentally retarded person or his estate, and no portion of the corpus or income of such trust shall be liable for the support and maintenance of such mentally retarded person regardless of his age.

Sec. 62. The department shall charge reasonable fees to cover costs for services provided to nonindigent persons. It shall provide services free of charge to indigent persons.

Sec. 63. (a) A person who intentionally or knowingly causes, conspires with, or assists another to cause the unlawful continued detention in, or unlawful admission or commitment of any individual to, a facility as specified in this Act with intention to do harm to that individual is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor.

(b) The district attorneys and county attorneys within their respective jurisdictions shall prosecute violations of this section.
Art. 5547-300  MENTAL HEALTH  3936

Civil Penalties

Sec. 64. (a) A person who willfully and wrongfully violates the rights guaranteed in this Act of any mentally retarded person shall be liable to the person injured by the violation in an amount not less than $100 nor more than $5,000.

(b) A person who recklessly violates the rights guaranteed in this Act of any mentally retarded person shall be liable to the person injured by the violation in an amount not less than $100 nor more than $1,000.

(c) A person who willfully and wrongfully releases confidential information or records of a mentally retarded person shall be liable to the person injured by the unlawful disclosure for the greater of the following amounts:
   (1) $1,000; or
   (2) three times the amount of actual damages, if any.

(d) An action filed under this section may be brought by the person injured, by a parent if the person is a minor, by a guardian if such person has been adjudicated incompetent, or by a next friend in accordance with Rule 44 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(e) An action filed under this section may be commenced in the district court of the county in which the defendant resides, or in a district court of Travis County.

(f) Nothing in this section shall be intended or construed as superseding or abrogating any remedies otherwise available by law.

Injunctive Relief

Sec. 65. (a) The attorney general and the district attorneys and county attorneys within their respective jurisdictions may bring an action in the name of the state against any person to enjoin violations of, and to enforce compliance with, the provisions of this Act and any rules of the department promulgated thereunder.

(b) In granting relief the court may issue a temporary restraining order, a temporary injunction, or a permanent injunction to restrain and prevent violations of, and to enforce compliance with, the provisions of this Act and any rules of the department promulgated thereunder.

(c) A person who violates the terms of an injunction under this section shall forfeit and pay to the state a civil penalty of not more than $5,000 per violation, not to exceed $20,000. In determining whether or not an injunction has been violated, the court shall take into consideration the maintenance of procedures reasonably adopted to ensure compliance with the injunction. For the purposes of this section, the district court issuing the injunction shall retain jurisdiction, and the cause shall be continued, and in these cases, the attorney general or the district or county attorney, acting in the name of the state, may petition for recovery of civil penalties under this section.

(d) Any civil penalty recovered under this section shall be paid to the State of Texas for use in mental retardation services.

(e) An action filed under this section may be commenced in the district court of the county in which the defendant resides or in a district court of Travis County.

(f) Nothing in this section shall be intended or construed as superseding or abrogating any remedies otherwise available by law.

Civil Actions against Department Employees: Indemnity

Sec. 66. (a) The attorney general shall provide an attorney or attorneys for the defense of an employee of the department in any civil action commenced against him under this Act by reason of a claim of alleged negligence or other act of the person while employed by the department. The state shall save harmless and indemnify the person from financial loss arising out of any claim, demand, suit, or judgment by reason of the negligence or other act by the person, provided that at the time that the claim arose or damages were sustained, the person was acting in the discharge of his duties and within the scope of his authorized duties, and that the claim or cause of action or damages sustained did not result from the willful and wrongful act or reckless conduct of the person. The state, however, shall not be subject to the obligations imposed by this section unless the person, within 10 days of the time he is served with any summons, complaint, process, notice, demand, or pleading, delivers the original or a copy thereof to the department.

(b) On the delivery, the attorney general may assume control of the representation of the person. The person shall cooperate fully with the attorney general in the defense of said claim, demand, or suit.

(c) This section shall not in any way impair, limit, or modify the rights and obligations under any policy of insurance.

(d) The benefits of this section shall enure only to the persons named herein and shall not enlarge or diminish the rights of any other party.

Liability

Sec. 67. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, an officer or employee of the department or a community center, acting reasonably within the scope of his employment and in good faith, shall be free from all civil or criminal liability under this Act.

SUBCHAPTER P. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Effective Date

Sec. 68. This Act shall take effect on January 1, 1978.
Repealer

Sec. 69. Chapter 119, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 3871b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is repealed.

Saving Clause

Sec. 70. The repeal of any statute by this Act shall not affect or impair any act done, right existing or accrued, or conveyance made under the authority of the statute repealed; and such statute shall be treated as still remaining in force for the purpose of sustaining any proper action concerning any such act, right, or conveyance. Proceedings begun before the effective date of this Act under prior provisions of the law relating to persons who would be deemed mentally retarded under this Act shall not be affected by provisions of this Act.

Severability Clause

Sec. 71. If any portion of this Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, it is the intent of the legislature that the other portions shall remain in full force and effect, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Section 2 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 25, ch. 15, provided: "If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Section 2 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 669, ch. 296, provided: "The reimbursement provision in Section 49(a), Mentally Retarded Persons Act of 1977, as added by this Act, applies to any hearing held on or after January 1, 1978."

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 820, ch. 291, § 149, provided, in part: "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction."

Sec. 4.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 4(a) to 4(d)]

(c) The Texas Commission on Alcoholism is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; and unless continued in existence as provided; Act the commission is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1985.

1 Article 5429k.

(c) Upon filing of a petition or application, the court shall set a day for the hearing, which hearing must be held not less than five (5) days and no more than fourteen (14) days from the filing of the petition. The alleged alcoholic shall be personally served with a copy of the petition or application and the order fixing the time of hearing of the same by the sheriff of the county in which he is found. The court may proceed to hear the cause at the stated time, with or without the presence of the alleged alcoholic and with or without an answer by him, provided such service is perfected at least three (3) days prior to the hearing and provided the alleged alcoholic is represented by an attorney if the right of legal counsel is not waived. If the alleged alcoholic is not represented by an attorney of his own choosing, the court shall appoint an attorney to represent him. The court shall inform relatives of the alleged alcoholic and other persons to appear at the hearing to give evidence in the cause. The judge may, in his discretion or upon request, require an alleged alcoholic to be examined by the county health officer, or by other physicians, as the court may direct, the results of which examination to be considered by the court at the hearing of the application for commitment. If in the county court in which a petition or application is filed, a Certificate of Medical Examination for Alcoholism is filed showing that the proposed patient has been examined within five (5) days of the filing of the Certificate and stating the opinion of the examining physician that the proposed patient is an alcoholic and because of his alcoholism is likely to cause injury to himself or others if not immediately restrained, the Judge may order any health or peace officer to take the proposed patient into protective custody and immediately transport him to a designated mental hospital or other suitable place and detain him pending order of the court; provided, however, that in no event shall the proposed patient be denied the hearing prescribed above to be held not less than five (5) days and no more than fourteen (14) days from the filing of the petition.

representative, or a treatment facility approved by the Commission for alcoholic detoxification or treatment purposes, for care and treatment for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days, in lieu of the imposition of a sentence or fine, if and when special facilities are available for treatment of such cases, and with notice from the Commission that such facility will receive such person as a patient. No person may be so committed who in the opinion of the judge has exhibited definite criminal tendencies, or is feeble-minded or psychotic. Appeals from such

Sec. 18. (a) In order to provide adequate financing for community-based programs, the State Treasurer is hereby required to transfer from the General Revenue Fund to the Texas Commission on Alcoholism a total of $4 million per fiscal year out of the revenues received from those taxes allocated in their entirety to the General Revenue Fund under the terms of Article 24.01, Title 122A, Taxation—General, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and the amount transferred is hereby appropriated to the Texas Commission on Alcoholism for the purposes of this section.

(b) The funds received by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism under Subsection (a) of this section shall be used to develop and maintain a coordinated system of community-based programs designed to prevent alcohol addiction or abuse and community-based programs designed to treat or rehabilitate the victims of alcohol addiction or abuse. These funds shall not be used to displace federal, state, local, and other funds that would otherwise be available for such purposes. None of the funds received by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism under Subsection (a) of this section shall be used for administrative expenses of the Texas Commission on Alcoholism or for any purpose other than community-based programs. Any unused balances shall be transferred biennially to the General Revenue Fund.

Sec. 2. A person who operates a health care facility that treats alcoholics may obtain a license issued under this Act.

License Application

Sec. 3. An applicant for a license to operate a health care facility to treat alcoholics must:

(1) file a written application on a form prescribed by the commission; and

(2) Cooperate with the inspection of the health care facility.

Issuing a License

Sec. 4. The commission shall issue a license to a person who has:

(1) complied with the license application requirements in Section 3 of this Act; and

(2) received approval of the facility after an on-site inspection.

Renewal of Unexpired License

Sec. 5. (a) A license issued under this Act expires one year from the date of issue.

(b) A renewal license shall be issued on receiving a completed application form prescribed by the commission prior to the expiration date of the license.

(c) The commission may require an inspection before renewing a license.
Injunctions

Sec. 9. (a) The commission may petition a district court to restrain a person who falsely represents a health care facility as licensed under this Act. A suit for injunctive relief must be brought in Travis County.

(b) On application for injunctive relief and a finding that a person is falsely representing a health care facility as licensed under this Act, the district court shall grant the injunctive relief the facts may warrant.

(c) At the request of the commission, the attorney general shall institute and conduct the suit authorized in Subsection (a) of this section in the name of the State of Texas.

Charging of Fees and Disposition of Funds

Sec. 10. The commission may charge nonrefundable application and inspection fees for an initial license or a renewal license in such amounts as are necessary to cover the cost of the licensure program. All application and inspection fees collected by the commission under the provisions of this Act shall be placed in a special fund in the State Treasury to be known as the Alcoholism Treatment Licensure Fund, and the amounts in such fund may be appropriated only to the commission for the purpose of administering and enforcing this Act.

Personnel

Sec. 11. The commission shall carry out the licensing provided by this Act without employing additional personnel or requiring additional funds for the fiscal years ending August 31, 1978, and August 31, 1979.

Section 12 of the 1977 Act provided: "This Act takes effect September 1, 1977, except for Section 2, which takes effect September 1, 1978."

Art. 5561h. Confidentiality of Mental Health Information of Individual

Definitions of this Act

Sec. 1. (a) "Professional" means any person authorized to practice medicine in any state or nation, or any person licensed or certified by the State of Texas in the diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of any mental or emotional condition or disorder, or reasonably believed by the patient/client so to be.

(b) "Patient/Client" means any person who consults, or is interviewed by, a professional for purposes of diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of any mental or emotional condition or disorder, including alcoholism and other drug addiction.

Confidentiality of Information

Sec. 2. (a) Communication between a patient/client and a professional is confidential and shall not be disclosed except as provided in Section 4 of this Act.

(b) Records of the identity, diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of a patient/client which are created or maintained by a professional are confidential and shall not be disclosed except as provided in Section 4 of this Act. Nothing in this section shall prohibit the disclosure of information necessary in the collection of fees for mental or emotional health services, as provided by Subsection (b)(6) of Section 4 of this Act.

(c) Any person who receives information from confidential communications or records as defined by Section 2, other than the persons listed in Subsection (b)(4) of Section 4 who are acting on the patient's client's behalf, shall not disclose the information except to the extent that disclosure is consistent with the authorized purposes for which the information was first obtained.

(d) The prohibitions of this Act continue to apply to confidential communications or records concerning any patient/client irrespective of when the patient/client received services of a professional.

Privilege of Confidentiality

Sec. 3. (a) The privilege of confidentiality may be claimed by the patient/client or by other persons listed in Subsection (b)(4) of Section 4 who are acting on the patient's/client's behalf.

(b) The professional may claim the privilege of confidentiality but only on behalf of the patient/client. The authority to do so is presumed in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Exceptions to the Privilege of Confidentiality

Sec. 4. (a) Exceptions to the privilege in court proceedings exist:

(1) when the proceedings are brought by the patient/client against a professional, including but not limited to malpractice proceedings, and in any criminal or license revocation proceedings in which the patient/client is a complaining witness and in which disclosure is relevant to the claim or defense of a professional;

(2) when the patient/client waives his right in writing to the privilege of confidentiality of any information, or when other persons listed in Subsection (b)(4) of Section 4 who are acting on the patient's/client's behalf submit a written waiver to the confidentiality privilege;

(3) when the purpose of the proceeding is to substantiate and collect on a claim for mental or emotional health services rendered to the patient/client; or

(4) when the judge finds that the patient/client after having been previously informed that communications would not be privileged, has made communications to a professional in the course of a court-ordered examination relating to the patient's/client's mental or emotional condition or disorder, providing that such communications shall not be privileged only with respect to issues involving the patient's/client's mental or emotional health. On granting of the order, the court, in determining the extent to which any disclosure of all or any part of any communication is necessary, shall impose appropriate safeguards against unauthorized disclosure.

(b) Exceptions to the privilege of confidentiality, in other than court proceedings, allowing disclosure of confidential information by a professional, exist only to the following:

(1) to governmental agencies where such disclosures are required or authorized by law;
(2) to medical or law enforcement personnel where the professional determines that there is a probability of imminent physical injury by the patient/client to himself or to others, or where there is a probability of immediate mental or emotional injury to the patient/client;

(3) to qualified personnel for the purpose of management audits, financial audits, program evaluations, or research, but such personnel may not identify, directly or indirectly, a patient/client in any report of such research, audit, or evaluation, or otherwise disclose identities in any manner;

(4) to any person bearing the written consent of the patient/client, or a parent if the patient/client is a minor, or a guardian if the patient/client has been adjudicated incompetent to manage his personal affairs, or to the patient’s/client’s personal representative if the patient/client is deceased;

(5) to individuals, corporations, or governmental agencies involved in the payment or collection of fees for mental or emotional health services performed by a professional as defined in Section 1 of this Act; or

(6) to other professionals and personnel under the direction of the professional who are participating in the diagnosis, evaluation, or treatment of the patient/client.

Legal Remedies

Sec. 5. A person aggrieved by a violation of this Act may petition the district court of the county in which the person resides, or in the case of a nonresident of the state, the district court of Travis County, for appropriate injunctive relief, and the petition takes precedence over all civil matters on the docket of the court except those matters to which equal precedence on the docket is granted by law. A person aggrieved by a violation of this Act may prove a cause of action for civil damages.

Severability Clause

Sec. 6. If any portion of this Act is declared invalid or unconstitutional, it is the intention of the legislature that the other portions shall remain in full force and effect, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

CHAPTER THREE. NATIONAL GUARD

Art. 5781. Adjutant General

Sec. 1.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(a) and 1(b)]

(c) The Adjutant General's Department is subject to the Texas Sunset Act (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the Department is abolished, and this Article expires effective September 1, 1993.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2 and 3]

Powers

Sec. 4. The Adjutant General shall be in control of the military department of this state and subordinate only to the Governor in matters pertaining to said Department, or the military forces of this state; and he shall perform such duties as the Governor may from time to time entrust to him relative to the military commissions, the military forces, the military stores and supplies, or to other matters respecting military affairs of this state; and he shall conduct the business of the Department in such manner as the Governor shall direct. The Adjutant General shall establish reasonable and necessary fees for the administration of this article. He shall have the custody and charge of all books, records, papers, furniture, fixtures, and other property relating to his Department, and shall perform as near as practicable, such duties as pertain to the Chiefs of Staff of the Army and Air Force and the Secretaries of the military services, under the regulations and customs of the United States Armed Forces.

For and on behalf of the State of Texas, the Adjutant General is authorized to execute leases or subleases between the State of Texas, as lessee or sublessee, and the Texas National Guard Armory Board, as lessor or sublessor, for any building or buildings and the equipment therein and the site or sites therefor to be used for armory and other proper purposes, and to renew such leases or subleases from time to time; and the Adjutant General shall not lease or sublease any property for armory purposes in or about such municipality are available for renting from the Texas National Guard Armory Board. Acceptance and Disposition of Funds

Sec. 15. (a) Except as otherwise provided by this section, funds paid to the department under this article, other than military unit funds authorized by a rule of the Adjutant General, shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the general revenue fund.

(b) The department may accept a gift, grant, or donation of funds from a private source. The funds shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the general revenue fund and may be used only for the purposes specified by the person making the gift, grant, or donation.

(c) The Adjutant General may accept funds from the federal government, either directly or through another agency, or agencies of the state or political subdivisions thereof as gifts, grants, and transfers to be used for the purposes set out in such gifts, grants, or transfers for any legal purposes of his department. These funds shall be deposited with the State Treasurer and are to be paid out by him on properly drawn warrants issued by the Comptroller of Public Accounts upon the request of the Adjutant General and approval of the Governor under regulations prescribed by the Comptroller. Any employee whose salary is paid from these funds shall receive not less than the federal hourly minimum wage as provided in Section 206, the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended. The Adjutant General may make such regulations as he may deem necessary to control the receipt and disbursements of such funds. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1840, ch. 735, § 2.055, eff. Art. 5787. Veterans County Service Office

Veterans Affairs Commission

Sec. 3. (a) Declaration of purpose: It is hereby declared that the purpose of this Act is to give proper care and assistance to Texas veterans.

(b) Creation, membership: There is hereby created and established by this Act, a Veterans Affairs Commission of the State of Texas. The Commission shall be composed of six (6) members who shall be appointed by the Governor, with the advice, consent and confirmation of the Senate. Appointments to the Commission shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees. The members of the Commission shall be citizens and bona fide residents of the State of Texas, and at least four (4) members of the commission shall have been honorably discharged or honorably released from active military service of the United States. At all times at least one member of the Commission shall be a person who is classified as a disabled veteran by the Veterans Administration of the United States or the successor to that agency or by the branch of the Armed Forces of the United States in which he served, and whose disability is service-connected and compensable. No member of the Commission shall have a discharge from military service that is less than honorable. No two (2) members of the Commission shall reside in the same Senatorial District, but not more than one (1) shall be from a Senatorial District composed on (1) county. A person who, because of his activities on behalf of a veterans association, is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), may not serve as a member of the Commission or act as the general counsel to the Commission. Members shall be appointed for staggered terms of six (6) years. Each member shall serve until the appointment and qualification of his successor. Each member of the Commission is entitled to a per diem as set by legislative appropriation for each day that the member engages in the business of the Commission. A member may not receive any compensation for travel expenses, including expenses for meals and lodging, other than transportation expenses. A member is entitled to compensation for transportation expenses as prescribed by the General Appropriations Act.

(b-1) The Veterans Affairs Commission of the State of Texas is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished effective September 1, 1993. The Commission is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3(c)]

(d) Organization, meeting, reports. The Commission may make such rules and regulations for its administration as it considers necessary. The Commission shall elect from among its members a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a secretary to serve for one (1) year, and annually thereafter shall elect such officers who shall serve until their successors are appointed and qualified. Four (4) members shall constitute a quorum and no action shall be taken by less than a majority of the Commission. The Commission shall hold regular meetings at least once in every three (3) months. The State Auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the Commission during each fiscal year. The Commission shall make or before December 1 of each year make in writing to the Governor and the presiding officer of each house of the Legislature a complete and detailed annual report accounting for all funds received and disbursed by the Commission during the preceding year.

(g), (h) Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2825, ch. 762, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.

(i) Powers of Director. The Executive Director shall have power to administer oaths, certify under the seal of the Commission to official acts, take depositions within or without the State of Texas, as now provided by law, and compel the production of pertinent books, accounts, records and documents.
The Executive Director or his designee shall develop an intraagency career ladder program, one part on which shall be the intraagency posting of all nonehtry level positions for at least 10 days before any public posting. The Executive Director or his design­ nee shall develop a system of annual performance evaluations based on measurable job tasks. All merit pay authorized by the Executive Director must be based on the system established under this subsection.

(m) It is a ground for removal from the Commission if a member:

(1) does not have at the time of appointment the qualifications required by Subsection (b) of this section for appointment to the Commission;

(2) does not maintain during the service on the Commission the qualifications required by Subsection (b) of this section for appointment to the Commission;

(3) violates a prohibition relating to conflict of interest prescribed by Subsection (b) of this section; or

(4) fails to attend at least half of the regularly scheduled Commission meetings held in a calendar year, excluding meetings held while the person was not a member of the Commission.

(n) If a ground for removal of a member from the Commission exists, the Commission’s actions during the existence of the ground for removal are not invalid for that reason.

(o) The Commission shall prepare information of consumer interest describing the functions of the Commission and the Commission’s procedures by which consumer complaints are filed with and res­olved by the Commission. The Commission shall make the information available to the general public and appropriate state agencies.

Sections 3 and 4 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2825, ch. 762, provide:

"Sec. 3. (a) A person holding office as a member of the Veterans Affairs Commission on the effective date of this Act continues to hold the office for the term for which the member was originally appointed.

"(b) The governor shall appoint a person to fill the new office on the commission. The initial term for this new office expires in 1985.

"Sec. 4. (a) This Act takes effect September 1, 1981.

"(b) The requirements under Subsection (i), Section 3, Article 5787, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended by this Act, that the executive director of the commission develop an intraagency career ladder program and a system of annual performance evaluations shall be implemented before September 1, 1982. The requirement of Subsection (i) of Section 3 that merit pay is to be based on that system shall be implemented before September 1, 1983."
Sec. 2. This Code applies to all members of the state military forces who are not in federal service.

Jurisdiction to Try Certain Persons

Sec. 3. (a) Each person discharged from the state military forces who is later charged with having fraudulently obtained his discharge is, subject to trial by court-martial for all offenses subject to this Code, while in custody of the military for that trial. Upon conviction of that charge he is subject to trial by court-martial for all offenses under this Code committed before the fraudulent discharge.

(b) No person who has deserted from the state military forces may be relieved from amenability to the jurisdiction of this Code by virtue of a separation from any later period of service.

Sec. 4. Reserved.

Territorial Applicability of the Code

Sec. 5. (a) This Code applies in all places. It also applies to all persons otherwise subject to this Code while they are serving outside the state, and while they are going to and returning from such service outside the state, in the same manner and to the same extent as if they were serving inside the state.

(b) Courts-martial and courts of inquiry may be convened and held in units of the state military forces while those units are serving outside the state, with the same jurisdiction and power as to persons subject to this Code as if the proceedings were held inside the state, and offenses committed outside the state may be tried and punished either inside or outside the state.

Judge Advocates and Legal Officers

Sec. 6. (a) The Adjutant General shall appoint an officer of the state military forces as State Judge Advocate General. To be eligible for appointment, an officer must be a member of the bar of a Federal Court and of the highest court of the State of Texas for at least 5 years.

(b) The Adjutant General shall appoint judge advocates and legal officers upon recommendation of the State Judge Advocate General. To be eligible for appointment, judge advocates or legal officers must be officers of the state military forces and members of the bar of a Federal Court and of the highest court of the State of Texas.

(c) The State Judge Advocate General or his assistants shall make frequent inspections in the field in supervision of the administration of military justice.

(d) Convening authorities shall at all times communicate directly with their staff judge advocates or legal officers in matters relating to the administration of military justice; and the staff judge advocates or legal officers of any command are entitled to communicate directly with the staff judge advocates or legal officers of a superior or subordinate command, or with the State Judge Advocate General.

(e) No person who has acted as member, military judge, trial counsel, assistant trial counsel, defense counsel, assistant defense counsel, or investigating officer, or who has been a witness for either the prosecution or defense in any case may later act as staff judge advocate or legal officer to any reviewing authority upon the same case.

SUBCHAPTER II. APPREHENSION AND RESTRAINT

Apprehension

Sec. 7. (a) Apprehension is the taking of a person into custody.

(b) Any person authorized by this Code, or by regulations issued under it, to apprehend persons subject to this Code, any marshal of a court-martial appointed pursuant to the provisions of this Code, and any peace officer having authority to apprehend offenders under the laws of the United States or of a state, may do so upon reasonable belief that an offense has been committed and that the person apprehended committed it.

(c) Commissioned officers, warrant officers, and noncommissioned officers have authority to quell quarrels, frays, and disorders among persons subject to this Code and to apprehend persons subject to this Code who take part therein.

Apprehension of Deserters

Sec. 8. Any civil officer or peace officer having authority to apprehend offenders under the laws of the United States or of a state, territory, commonwealth, or possession, or the District of Columbia, may summarily apprehend a deserter from the state military forces and deliver him into the custody of the state military forces.

Imposition of Restraint

Sec. 9. (a) Arrest is the restraint of a person by an order, not imposed as a punishment for an offense, directing him to remain within certain specified limits. Confinement is the physical restraint of a person.

(b) An enlisted member may be ordered into arrest or confinement by any commissioned officer by an order, oral or written, delivered in person or through other persons subject to this Code or through any person authorized by this Code to apprehend persons. A commanding officer may authorize warrant officers or noncommissioned officers to order enlisted members of his company or subject to his authority into arrest or confinement.

(c) A commissioned officer or warrant officer may be ordered apprehended or into arrest or confinement only by a commanding officer to whose authority he is subject, by an order, oral or written, delivered in person or by another commissioned officer. The authority to order such persons apprehended or into arrest or confinement may not be delegated.

(d) No person may be ordered apprehended or into arrest or confinement except for probable cause.

(e) This Section does not limit the authority of persons authorized to apprehend offenders to secure the custody of an alleged offender until proper authority may be notified.

Restraint of Persons Charged With Offenses

Sec. 10. Any person subject to this Code charged with an offense under this Code shall be ordered into arrest or confinement, as circumstances may require; but when charged with only an offense normally tried by a summary court-martial, such person shall not ordinarily be placed in confinement. When any person subject to this Code is placed in arrest or confinement prior to trial, immediate steps shall be taken to inform him of the specific wrong of which he is accused and to try him or to dismiss the charges and release him. Persons confined other than in a guardhouse, whether before, during, or after trial by a military court, shall be confined in civil jails.

Reports and Receiving of Prisoners

Sec. 11. (a) No provost marshal, commander of a guard, master at arms, warden, keeper, or officer of a city or county jail or any other jail, designated under Section 10 of this Code, may refuse to receive or keep any prisoner committed to his charge, when the committing person furnishes a statement, signed by him, of the offense charged against the prisoner.

(b) Every commander of a guard, master at arms, warden, keeper, or officer of a city or county jail or of any other jail, designated under Section 10 of this Code, to whose charge a prisoner is committed shall, within 24 hours after that commitment or as soon as he is relieved from guard, report to the commanding officer of the prisoner the name of the prisoner, the offense charged against him, and the name of the person who ordered or authorized the commitment.

Sec. 12. Reserved.

Punishment Prohibited Before Trial

Sec. 13. Subject to Section 57 of this Code, no person, while being held for trial or the result of trial, may be subjected to punishment or penalty other than arrest or confinement upon the charges pending against him, nor shall the arrest or confinement imposed upon him be any more rigorous than the circumstances require to insure his presence, but he may be subjected to minor punishment during that period for infractions of discipline.

Delivery of Offenders to Civil Authorities

Sec. 14. (a) Under such regulations as may be prescribed under this Code a person subject to this Code who is on active state duty who is accused of an offense against a civil authority may be delivered, upon request, to the civil authority for trial.

(b) When delivery under this Section is made to any civil authority of a person undergoing sentence of a court-martial, the delivery, if followed by conviction in a civil tribunal, interrupts the execution of the sentence of the court-martial, and the offender, after having answered to the civil authorities for his offense, shall, upon the request of competent military authority, be returned to military custody for the completion of his sentence.

SUBCHAPTER III. NON-JUDICIAL PUNISHMENT

Commanding Officer's Non-judicial Punishment

Sec. 15. (a) Under such regulations as the Governor may prescribe, limitations may be placed on the powers granted by this Section with respect to the kind and amount of punishment authorized, the categories of commanding officers and warrant officers exercising command authorized to exercise those powers, the applicability of this Section to an accused who demands trial by court-martial and the kinds of courts-martial to which the case may be referred upon such a demand. However, except in the case of a member attached to or embarked in a vessel, punishment may not be imposed upon any member of the state military forces under this Section if the member has, before the imposition of such punishment, demanded trial by court-martial in lieu of such punishment. Under similar regulations, rules may be prescribed with respect to the suspension of punishments authorized hereunder. If authorized by regulations of the Governor, the Governor or an officer of general rank in command may delegate his powers under this Section to a principal assistant. If disciplinary punishment other than admonition or reprimand is to be imposed, the accused shall be afforded the opportunity to be represented by defense counsel having the qualifications prescribed under Section 27(b), if available. Otherwise, the accused shall be afforded the opportunity to be represented by any available commissioned officer of his choice. The accused may also employ civilian counsel of his own choosing at his own expense. In all proceedings, the accused is allowed 3 duty days, or longer on written justification, to reply to the notification of intent to impose punishment under this Section.

(b) Subject to subsection (a) of this Section, any commanding officer may, in addition to or in lieu of admonition or reprimand, impose one or more of the following disciplinary punishments for minor offenses without the intervention of a court-martial:

(1) upon officers of his command;

(A) restriction to certain specified limits with or without suspension from duty, for not more than 30 days;
(B) if imposed by the Governor, or an officer of general rank in command;

(i) arrest in quarters for not more than 30 days;

(ii) forfeiture of not more than one-half of 1 month's pay per month for 2 months or a fine of not more than $75;

(iii) restriction to certain specified limits, with or without suspension from duty, for not more than 60 days;

(iv) detention of not more than one-half of one month's pay per month for 3 months;

(2) upon other personnel of his command;

(A) if imposed upon a person attached to or embarked in a vessel, confinement for not more than 3 days;

(B) correctional custody for not more than 7 days;

(C) forfeiture of not more than 7 days pay or a fine of not more than $10;

(D) reduction to the next inferior pay grade, if the grade from which demoted is within the promotion authority of the officer imposing the reduction or any officer subordinate to the one who imposes the reduction;

(E) extra duties including fatigue or other duties, for not more than 30 days, which need not be consecutive, and for not more than 2 hours per day, holidays included;

(F) restriction to certain specified limits, with or without suspension from duty for not more than 14 days;

(G) detention of not more than 14 days pay;

(H) if imposed by an officer of the grade of major or above;

(i) the punishment authorized under subsection (b)(2)(A) of this Section;

(ii) correctional custody for not more than 30 days;

(iii) forfeiture of not more than one-half of 1 month's pay per month for 2 months or a fine of not more than $75;

(iv) reduction to the lowest or any intermediate pay grade, if the grade from which demoted is within the promotion authority of the officer imposing the reduction or any officer subordinate to the one who imposes the reduction, but an enlisted member in a pay grade above E-4 may not be reduced more than 2 pay grades;

(v) extra duties, including fatigue or other duties, for not more than 45 days which need not be consecutive and for not more than 2 hours per day, holidays included;

(vi) restriction to certain specified limits with or without suspension from duty, for not more than 60 days;

(vii) detention of not more than one-half of 1 months pay per month for 8 months. Detention of pay shall be for a stated period of not more than 1 year but if the offender's term of service expires earlier, the detention shall terminate upon that expiration. No 2 or more of the punishments of arrest in quarters, correctional custody, extra duties, and restriction may be combined to run consecutively in the maximum amount imposable for each. Whenever any of those punishments are combined to run consecutively, there must be an apportionment. In addition, fine or forfeiture of pay may not be combined with detention of pay without an apportionment. For the purposes of this subsection "correctional custody" is the physical restraint of a person during duty or non-duty hours and may include extra duties, fatigue duties, or hard labor. If practicable, correctional custody will not be served in immediate association with persons awaiting trial or held in confinement pursuant to trial by courts-martial.

(c) An officer in charge may impose upon enlisted members assigned to the unit of which he is in charge such of the punishments authorized under subsection (b)(2)(A)–(G) of this Section as the Governor may specifically prescribe by regulation.

(d) The officer who imposes the punishment authorized in subsection (b) or his successor in command, may, at any time, suspend probationally any part or amount of the unexecuted punishment imposed and may suspend probationally a reduction in grade or fine or forfeiture imposed under subsection (b), whether or not executed. In addition, he may, at any time, remit or mitigate any part or amount of the unexecuted punishment imposed and may set aside in whole or in part the punishment, whether executed or unexecuted; and restore all rights, privileges, and property affected. He may also mitigate reduction in grade to fine or forfeiture or detention of pay.

When mitigating:

(1) arrest in quarters to restriction, or

(2) extra duties to restriction, the mitigated punishment shall not be for a greater period than the punishment mitigated. When mitigating forfeiture of pay to detention of pay, the amount of the detention shall not be greater than the amount of the forfeiture. When mitigating reduction in grade to fine, forfeiture or detention of pay, the amount of the fine, forfeiture or detention shall not be greater than the amount that could have been imposed initially under this Section by the officer who imposed the punishment mitigated.

(e) A person punished under this Section who considers his punishment unjust or disproportionate to the offense may, through the proper channel, appeal to the next superior authority. The appeal shall be promptly forwarded and decided, but the person punished may in the meantime be required to undergo the punishment adjudged. The superior authority may exercise the same powers with respect to the punishment imposed as may be exer-ised under subsection (d) of this Section by the officer who imposed the punishment. Before acting on an appeal from a punishment of:

(1) arrest in quarters for more than 7 days;
(2) correctional custody for more than 7 days;
(3) forfeiture of more than 7 days pay;
(4) reduction of 1 or more pay grades from the fourth or a higher pay grade;
(5) extra duties for more than 14 days;
(6) restriction of more than 14 days pay;
(7) detention of more than 14 days pay; the authority who is to act on the appeal shall refer the case to a judge advocate or legal officer of the state military forces for consideration and advice, and may so refer the case upon appeal from any punishment imposed under subsection (b).

(f) The imposition and enforcement of disciplinary punishment under this Section for any act or omission is not a bar to trial by court-martial for a serious crime or offense growing out of the same act or omission, and not properly punishable under this Section, but the fact that a disciplinary punishment has been enforced may be shown by the accused upon trial, and when so shown shall be considered in determining the measure of punishment to be adjudged in the event of a finding of guilty.

(g) The Governor may, by regulation, prescribe the form of records to be kept of proceedings under this Section and may also prescribe that certain categories of those proceedings shall be in writing.

SUBCHAPTER IV. COURTS-MARTIAL

Courts-Martial Classified

Sec. 16. The three kinds of courts-martial in each of the state military forces are:

(1) general court-martial, consisting of:
   (A) a military judge and not less than 5 members; or
   (B) only a military judge, if before the court is assembled the accused, knowing the identity of the military judge and after consultation with defense counsel, requests in writing a court composed only of a military judge and the military judge approves;

(2) special court-martial, consisting of:
   (A) not less than 3 members; or
   (B) a military judge and not less than 3 members; or
   (C) only a military judge, if one has been detailed to the court, and the accused under the same conditions as those prescribed in clause (1)(B) so requests; and

(3) Summary court-martial, consisting of 1 officer, who shall be a military judge or an attorney licensed to practice law in this state.

Jurisdiction of Courts-Martial in General

Sec. 17. Each force of the state military forces has court-martial jurisdiction over all persons subject to this Code. The exercise of jurisdiction by one force over personnel of another force shall be in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Governor.

Jurisdiction of General Courts-Martial

Sec. 18. (a) Subject to Section 17 of this Code, general courts-martial have jurisdiction to try persons subject to this Code for any offense made punishable by this Code and may, under such limitations as the Governor may prescribe, adjudge any of the following punishments:

(1) A fine of not more than $200 or confinement for not more than 200 days;
(2) Forfeiture of pay and allowances;
(3) A reprimand;
(4) Dismissal or dishonorable discharge;
(5) Reduction of a noncommissioned officer to the ranks; or
(6) Any combination of these punishments.

(b) A dismissal or dishonorable discharge may not be adjudged unless a complete record of the proceedings and testimony has been made, counsel having the qualifications prescribed under Section 27(b) of this Code was detailed to represent the accused, and a military judge was detailed to the trial.

Jurisdiction of Special Courts-Martial

Sec. 19. (a) Subject to Section 17 of this Code, special courts-martial have jurisdiction to try persons subject to this Code, except commissioned officers, for any offense for which they may be punished under this Code. A special court-martial has the same powers of punishment as a general court-martial, except that a fine or confinement imposed by a special court-martial may not be more than $100 fine or confinement of not more than 100 days for a single offense.

(b) A dismissal or dishonorable discharge may not be adjudged unless a complete record of the proceedings and testimony has been made, counsel having the qualifications prescribed under Section 27(b) of this title was detailed to represent the accused, and a military judge was detailed to the trial, except in any case in which a military judge could not be detailed to the trial because of physical conditions or military exigencies. In any such case in which a military judge was not detailed to the trial, the convening authority shall make a detailed written statement, to be appended to the record, stating the reason or reasons a military judge could not be detailed.

Jurisdiction of Summary Courts-Martial

Sec. 20. (a) Subject to Section 17 of this Code, summary courts-martial have jurisdiction to try persons subject to this Code, except officers, for any offense made punishable by this Code.
(b) No person with respect to whom summary courts-martial have jurisdiction may be brought to trial before a summary court-martial if he objects thereto. If objection to trial by summary court-martial is made by an accused, trial may be ordered by special or general court-martial, as may be appropriate.

(c) A summary court-martial may sentence to a fine of not more than $25 or confinement for not more than 25 days for a single offense, to forfeiture of pay and allowances, and reduction of a noncommissioned officer to the ranks.

Sec. 20A. Reserved.

Jurisdiction of Courts-Martial not Exclusive

Sec. 21. The provisions of this chapter conferring jurisdiction upon courts-martial do not deprive military commissions, provost courts, or other military tribunals of concurrent jurisdiction with respect to offenders or offenses that by statute or by the law of war may be tried by military commissions, provost courts, or other military tribunals.

SUBCHAPTER V. COMPOSITION OF COURTS-MARTIAL

Who May Convene General Courts-Martial

Sec. 22. In the militia or state military forces not in federal service general courts-martial may be convened by:

(a) the Governor of the State of Texas; or
(b) the Adjutant General or any other General Officer under such regulations as the Governor may promulgate.

Who May Convene Special Courts-Martial

Sec. 23. In the state military forces not in federal service, the commanding officer of a garrison, fort, post, camp, air base, auxiliary air base, or other place where troops are on duty, or of a division, brigade, regiment, wing, group, detached battalion, separate squadron, or other detached command, may convene special courts-martial. Special courts-martial may also be convened by superior authority. When any such officer is an accuser, the court may be convened by superior competent authority if considered advisable by him.

Who May Convene Summary Courts-Martial

Sec. 24. (a) In the state military forces not in federal service, the commanding officer of a garrison, fort, post, camp, air base, auxiliary air base, or other place where troops are on duty, or of a division, brigade, regiment, wing, group, detached battalion, separate squadron, detached company, or other detachment, may convene a summary court-martial.

Who May Serve on Courts-Martial

Sec. 25. (a) Any state commissioned officer in a duty status is eligible to serve on all courts-martial for the trial of any person who may lawfully be brought before such courts for trial.

(b) Any warrant officer in a state duty status is eligible to serve on general and special courts-martial for the trial of any person, other than a commissioned officer, who may lawfully be brought before such courts for trial.

(c)(1) Any enlisted member of the state military forces in a state duty status who is not a member of the same unit as the accused is eligible to serve on general and special courts-martial for the trial of any enlisted member of the state military forces who may lawfully be brought before such courts for trial but he shall serve as a member of a court only if, before the conclusion of a session called by the military judge under Section 39(a) of this Code prior to trial or, in the absence of such a session, before the court is assembled for the trial of the accused, the accused personally has requested in writing that enlisted members serve on it. After such a request, the accused may not be tried by a general or special court-martial the membership of which does not include enlisted members in a number comprising at least one-third of the total membership of the court, unless eligible members cannot be obtained on account of physical conditions or military exigencies. If such members cannot be obtained, the court may be convened and the trial held without them, but the convening authority shall make a detailed written statement, to be appended to the record, stating why they could not be obtained.

(2) In this Section, the word “unit” means any regularly organized body of the state military forces.

(d)(1) When it can be avoided, no person subject to this Code may be tried by a court-martial, any member of which is junior to him in rank or grade.

(2) When convening a court-martial, the convening authority shall detail as members thereof such members of the state military forces as, in his opinion, are best qualified for the duty by reason of age, education, training, experience, length of service, and judicial temperament. No member of the state military forces is eligible to serve as a member of a general or special court-martial when he is the accuser or a witness for the prosecution or has acted as investigating officer or as counsel in the same case.

Military Judge of a Court-Martial

Sec. 26. (a) The authority convening a general court-martial shall, and, subject to regulations issued by the Governor, the authority convening a special or summary court-martial may detail a military judge thereto. A military judge shall preside over open sessions of the court-martial to which he has been detailed.

(b) A military judge shall be a commissioned officer of the state military forces who is a member of the bar of a Federal court and a member of the bar of the highest court of this state and who is certified to be qualified for duty as a military judge by the State Judge Advocate General of the state military forces.
(c) The military judge of a general court-martial shall be designated by the State Judge Advocate General, or his designee, for detail by the convening authority, and, unless the court-martial was convened by the Governor or the Adjutant General, neither the convening authority nor any member of his staff shall prepare or review any report concerning the effectiveness, fitness, or efficiency of the military judge so detailed, which relates to his performance of duty as a military judge.

(d) No person is eligible to act as military judge in a case if he is the accuser or a witness for the prosecution or has acted as investigating officer or a counsel in the same case.

(e) The military judge of a court-martial may not consult with the members of the court except in the presence of the accused, trial counsel, and defense counsel, nor may he vote with the members of the court.

(f) A military judge detailed to preside over a court-martial hereunder shall not be subject to any report concerning the effectiveness, fitness, or efficiency of that military judge so detailed, which relates to his performance of duty as a military judge, by such convening authority, nor any member of his staff.

(g) All trial counsel, defense counsel, military judges, legal officers, summary court officers, and any other person certified by the State Judge Advocate General to perform legal functions under this Code, shall be used interchangeably, as needed, among all of the state military forces.

Detail of Trial Counsel and Defense Counsel

Sec. 27. (a) For each general, special, and summary court-martial the authority convening the court shall detail trial counsel and defense counsel and such assistants as he considers appropriate. No person who has acted as investigating officer, military judge, or court member in any case may act later as trial counsel, assistant trial counsel, or, unless expressly requested by the accused, as defense counsel, or assistant defense counsel in the same case. No person who has acted for the prosecution may act later in the same case for the defense, nor may any person who has acted for the defense act later in the same case for the prosecution.

(b) Trial counsel or defense counsel detailed for a general court-martial:

(1) Must be a graduate of an accredited law school and a member of the bar of a Federal court or of the highest court of a state; and

(2) Must be certified as competent to perform such duties by the State Judge Advocate General.

(c) In the case of a special or summary court-martial:

(1) The accused shall be afforded the opportunity to be represented at the trial by counsel having the qualifications prescribed under Section 27(b) of this Code unless counsel having such qualifications cannot be obtained on account of physical conditions or military exigencies. If counsel having such qualifications cannot be obtained, the court may be convened and the trial held but the convening authority shall make a detailed written statement, to be appended to the record, stating why counsel with such qualifications could not be obtained;

(2) If the trial counsel is qualified to act as counsel before a general court-martial, the defense counsel detailed by the convening authority must be a person similarly qualified; and

(3) If the trial counsel is a judge advocate, or a member of the bar of a Federal court or the highest court of a state, the defense counsel detailed by the convening authority must be one of the foregoing.

Detail or Employment of Reporters and Interpreters

Sec. 28. Under such regulations as the Governor may prescribe, the convening authority of a general or special court-martial, military commission, court of inquiry, or a military tribunal shall detail or employ qualified court reporters who shall record the proceedings of and testimony taken before that court, commission, or tribunal. Under like regulations the convening authority may detail or employ interpreters who shall interpret for the court, commission, or tribunal.

Absent and Additional Members

Sec. 29. (a) No member of a general or special court-martial may be absent or excused after the court has been assembled for the trial of the accused except for physical disability or as the result of a challenge or by order of the convening authority for good cause.

(b) Whenever a general court-martial, other than a general court-martial composed of a military judge only, is reduced below 5 members the trial may not proceed unless the convening authority details new members sufficient in number to provide not less than 5 members. The trial may proceed with the new members present after the recorded evidence previously introduced has been read to the court in the presence of the military judge, the accused, and counsel for both sides.

(c) Whenever a special court-martial, other than a special court-martial composed of a military judge only, is reduced below 3 members, the trial may not proceed unless the convening authority details new members sufficient in number to provide not less than 3 members. The trial shall proceed with the new members present as if no evidence had previously been introduced at the trial, unless a verbatim record of the evidence previously introduced before the members of the court or a stipulation thereof is read to the court in the presence of the military judge, if any, the accused, and counsel for both sides.
(d) If the military judge of a court-martial composed of a military judge only is unable to proceed with the trial because of physical disability, as a result of a challenge, or for other good cause, the trial shall proceed, subject to any applicable conditions of Section 16(1)(B) or (2)(C) of this Code, after the detail of a new military judge as if no evidence had previously been introduced, unless a verbatim record of the evidence previously introduced or stipulation thereof is read in court in the presence of the new military judge, the accused, and counsel for both sides.

SUBCHAPTER VI. PRE-TRIAL PROCEDURE

Charges and Specifications

Sec. 30. (a) Charges and specifications shall be signed by a person subject to this Code under oath before a commissioned officer of the state military force authorized to administer oaths and shall state:

1. That the signer has personal knowledge of, or has investigated, the matters set forth therein; and
2. That they are true in fact to the best of his knowledge and belief.

(b) Upon the preferring of charges, the proper authority shall take immediate steps to determine what disposition should be made thereof in the interest of justice and discipline, and the person accused shall be informed of the charges against him as soon as practicable.

Compulsory Self-Incrimination Prohibited

Sec. 31. (a) No person subject to this Code may compel any person to incriminate himself or to answer any question the answer to which may tend to incriminate him.

(b) No person subject to this Code may interrogate, or request any statement from an accused or a person suspected of an offense without first informing him of the nature of the accusation and advising him that he does not have to make any statement regarding the offense of which he is accused or suspected and that any statement made by him may be used as evidence against him in a trial by court-martial.

(c) No person subject to this Code may compel any person to make a statement or produce evidence before any military tribunal if the statement or evidence is not material to the issue and may tend to degrade him.

(d) No statement obtained from any person in violation of this Section, or through the use of coercion, unlawful influence, or unlawful inducement may be received in evidence against him in a trial by court-martial.

Investigation

Sec. 32. (a) No charge or specification may be referred to a general court-martial for trial until a thorough and impartial investigation of all the matters set forth therein has been made. This investigation shall include inquiry as to the truth of the matter set forth in the charges, consideration of the form of charges, and a recommendation as to the disposition which should be made of the case in the interest of justice and discipline.

(b) The accused shall be advised of the charges against him and of his right to be represented at that investigation by counsel. Upon his own request, he shall be represented by civilian counsel if provided by him, or military counsel of his own selection if such counsel is reasonably available, or by counsel detailed by the officer exercising general court-martial jurisdiction over the command. At that investigation full opportunity shall be given to the accused to cross-examine witnesses against him if they are available and to present anything he may desire in his own behalf, either in defense or mitigation, and the investigating officer shall examine available witnesses requested by the accused. If the charges are forwarded after the investigation, they shall be accompanied by a statement of the substance of the testimony taken on both sides and a copy thereof shall be given to the accused.

(c) If an investigation of the subject matter of an offense has been conducted before the accused is charged with the offense, and if the accused was present at the investigation and afforded the opportunities for representation, cross-examination, and presentation prescribed in subsection (b) of this Section, no further investigation of that charge is necessary under this Section unless it is demanded by the accused after he is informed of the charge. A demand for further investigation entitles the accused to recall witnesses for further cross-examination and to offer any new evidence in his own behalf.

(d) The requirements of this Section are binding on all persons administering this Code but failure to follow them does not constitute jurisdictional error.

Forwarding of Charges

Sec. 33. When a person is held for trial by general court-martial the commanding officer shall, within 8 days after the accused is ordered into arrest or confinement, if practicable, forward the charges, together with the investigation and allied papers, to the officer exercising general court-martial jurisdiction. If that is not practicable, he shall report in writing to that officer the reasons for delay.

Advice of Staff Judge Advocate and Reference for Trial

Sec. 34. (a) Before directing the trial of any charge by general court-martial, the convening authority shall refer it to his staff judge advocate or legal officer for consideration and advice. The convening authority may not refer a charge to a general court-martial for trial unless he has found that the charge alleges an offense under this Code and is warranted by evidence indicated in the report of investigation.
Art. 5788 MILITIA—SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES

(b) If the charges or specifications are not formally correct or do not conform to the substance of the evidence contained in the report of the investigating officer, formal corrections, and such changes in the charges and specifications as are needed to make them conform to the evidence may be made.

Service of Charges

Sec. 35. The trial counsel to whom court-martial charges are referred for trial shall cause to be served upon the accused a copy of the charges upon which trial is to be had. In time of peace no person may, against his objections, be brought to trial, or be required to participate by himself or counsel in a session called by the military judge under Section 39(a) of this Code in a general court-martial case within a period of 5 days after the service of charges upon him, or in a special court-martial case within a period of 3 days after the service of charges upon him.

SUBCHAPTER VII. TRIAL PROCEDURE
Governor May Prescribe Rules

Sec. 36. The procedure, including modes of proof, in cases before military courts and other military tribunals may be prescribed by the Governor by regulations, which shall, so far as he considers practicable, apply the principles of law and the rules of evidence generally recognized in the trial of criminal cases in the courts of the State of Texas, but which may not be contrary to or inconsistent with this Code.

Unlawfully Influencing Action of Court

Sec. 37. (a) No authority convening a general, special or summary court-martial nor any other commanding officer, or officer serving on the staff thereof, may censure, reprimand, or admonish the court or any member, military judge, or counsel thereof, with respect to the findings or sentence adjudged by the court, or with respect to any other exercise of its or his functions in the conduct of the proceeding. No person subject to this Code may attempt to coerce or, by any unauthorized means, influence the action of the court-martial or any other military tribunal or any member thereof, in reaching the findings or sentence in any case, or the action of any convening, approving, or reviewing authority with respect to his judicial acts. The foregoing provisions of the subsection shall not apply with respect to (1) general instructional or informational courses in military justice if such courses are designed solely for the purpose of instructing members of a command in the substantive and procedural aspects of court-martial, or (2) to statements and instructions given in open court by the military judge, president of a special court-martial, or counsel.

(b) In the preparation of an effectiveness, fitness, or efficiency report, or any other report or document used in whole or in part for the purpose of determining whether a member of the state military forces is qualified to be advanced in grade, or in determining the assignment or transfer of a member of the state military forces or in determining whether a member of the state military forces should be retained on duty, no person subject to this Code may, in preparing any such report (1) consider or evaluate the performance of duty of any such member as a member of a court-martial, or (2) give a less favorable rating or evaluation of any member of the state military forces because of the zeal with which such member, as counsel, represented any accused before a court-martial.

Duties of Trial Counsel and Defense Counsel

Sec. 38. (a) The trial counsel of a general or special court-martial shall prosecute in the name of the State of Texas, and shall, under the direction of the court, prepare the record of the proceedings.

(b) The accused has the right to be represented in his defense before a general, special or summary court-martial by civilian counsel if provided by him, or by military counsel of his own selection if reasonably available, or by the defense counsel detailed under Section 27 of this Code. Should the accused have counsel of his own selection, the defense counsel, and assistant defense counsel, if any, who were detailed, shall, if the accused so desires, act as his associate counsel; otherwise they shall be excused by the military judge or by the president of a court-martial without a military judge.

(c) In every court-martial proceeding, the defense counsel may, in the event of conviction, forward for attachment to the record of proceedings, a brief of such matters he feels should be considered in behalf of the accused on review, including any objection to the contents of the record which he considers appropriate.

(d) An assistant trial counsel of a general court-martial may, under the direction of the trial counsel or when he is qualified to be a trial counsel as required by Section 27 of this Code, perform any duty imposed by law, regulation, or the custom of the service upon the trial counsel of the court. An assistant trial counsel of a special court-martial may perform any duty of the trial counsel.

(e) An assistant defense counsel of a general or special court-martial may, under the direction of the defense counsel or when he is qualified to be the defense counsel as required by Section 27 of this Code, perform any duty imposed by law, regulation, or the custom of the service upon counsel for the accused.

Sessions

Sec. 39. (a) At any time after the service of charges which have been referred for trial to a court-martial composed of a military judge and members, the military judge may, subject to Section 35 of this Code, call the court into session without the presence of the members for the purpose of:
(1) Hearing and determining motions raising defenses or objections which are capable of determination without trial of the issues raised by a plea of not guilty;

(2) Hearing and ruling upon any matter which may be ruled upon by the military judge under this chapter, whether or not the matter is appropriate for later consideration or decision by the members of the court;

(3) If permitted by regulations of the Governor, holding the arraignment and receiving the pleas of the accused; and

(4) Performing any other procedural function which may be performed by the military judge under this chapter or under rules prescribed pursuant to Section 36 of this Code and which does not require the presence of the members of the court. These proceedings shall be conducted in the presence of the accused, the defense counsel, and the trial counsel and shall be made a part of the record.

(b) When the members of a court-martial deliberate or vote, only the members may be present. All other proceedings, including any other consultation of the members of the court with counsel or the military judge, shall be made a part of the record and shall be in the presence of the accused, the defense counsel, the trial counsel, and in cases in which a military judge has been detailed to the court, the military judge.

Sec. 40. The military judge or a court-martial without a military judge may, for reasonable cause, grant a continuance to any party for such time, and as often, as may appear to be just.

Sec. 41. (a) The military judge and members of a general or special court-martial may be challenged by the accused or the trial counsel for cause stated to the court. The military judge, or, if none, the court shall determine the relevancy and validity of challenges for cause, and may not receive a challenge to more than 1 person at a time. Challenges by trial counsel shall ordinarily be presented and decided before those by the accused are offered.

(b) Each accused and the trial counsel are entitled to 1 peremptory challenge, but the military judge may not be challenged except for cause.

Sec. 42. Before performing their respective duties, military judges, members of general and special courts-martial, trial counsel, assistant trial counsel, defense counsel, assistant defense counsel, reporters, and interpreters shall take an oath to perform their duties faithfully. The oath or affirmation shall be taken in the presence of the accused, and shall read as follows:

(a) Court members:

"You, ____________, do swear (or affirm) that you will faithfully perform all the duties incumbent upon you as a member of this court; that you will faithfully and impartially try, according to the evidence, your conscience, and the laws and regulations provided for trials by courts-martial, the case of (the) (each) accused now before this court; and that if any doubt should arise not explained by the laws and regulations, then according to the best of your understanding and the customs of the service in like cases; that you will not divulge the findings and sentence in any case until they shall have been duly announced by the court; and that you will not disclose or discover the vote or opinion of any particular member of the court upon a challenge or upon the findings or sentence unless required to do so before a court of justice in due course of law. So help you God."

(b) Military judge:

"You, ____________, do swear (or affirm) that you will faithfully and impartially perform, according to your conscience and the laws and regulations provided for trials by courts-martial, all the duties incumbent upon you as military judge of this court; that if any doubt should arise not explained by the laws and regulations, then according to the best of your understanding and the customs of the service in like cases; and that you will not divulge the findings or sentence in any case until they shall have been duly announced by the court. So help you God."

(c) Trial counsel and assistant trial counsel:

"You, ____________, (and) ____________, do swear (or affirm) that you will faithfully perform the duties of trial counsel and will not divulge the findings or sentence of the court to any but the proper authority until they shall be duly disclosed. So help you God."

(d) Defense counsel and assistant defense counsel:

"You, ____________, (and) ____________, do swear (or affirm) that you will faithfully perform the duties of defense (and individual) counsel and will not divulge the findings or sentence of the court to any but the proper authority until they shall be duly disclosed. So help you God."

(e) Court of inquiry:

The recorder of a court of inquiry shall administer to the members the following oath: "You shall well and truly examine and inquire, according to the evidence, into the matter now before you without partiality, favor, affection, prejudice or hope of reward. So help you God." After which the president of the court shall administer to the recorder the following oath: "You do swear that you will according to your best abilities, accurately and impartially record the proceedings of the court and the evidence to be given in the case in hearing. So help you God."

(f) Witnesses:

All persons who give evidence before a court-martial or court of inquiry shall be examined on oath administered by the presiding officer in the following form: "You swear (or affirm) that the evidence you shall give in the case now in hearing shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. So help you God."
Art. 5788  MILITIA—SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES 3956

(g) Reporter or interpreter:

"You swear (or affirm) that you will faithfully perform the duties of reporter (or interpreter) to this court. So help you God."

Statute of Limitations

Sec. 43. (a) A person charged with desertion or absence without leave in time of war, or with aiding the enemy or with mutiny may be tried and punished at any time without limitation.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a person charged with desertion in time of peace or with the offenses punishable under Sections 115, 116 and 117 of this Code is not liable to be tried by court-martial if the offense was committed less than 3 years before the receipt of sworn charges and specifications by an officer exercising summary court-martial jurisdiction over the command.

(c) Except as otherwise provided in this Section, a person charged with any offense is not liable to be tried by court-martial or punished under Section 15 of this Code if the offense was committed more than 3 years before the receipt of sworn charges and specifications by an officer exercising summary court-martial jurisdiction over the command, or before the imposition of punishment under Section 15 of this Code.

(d) Periods in which the accused was absent from territory in which the state has the authority to apprehend him, or in the custody of civil authorities, or in the hands of the enemy, shall be excluded in computing the period of limitation prescribed in this Section.

Former Jeopardy

Sec. 44. (a) No person may be tried a second time in any military court of the State of Texas for the same offense.

(b) No proceedings in which an accused has been found guilty by a court-martial upon any charge or specification is a trial in the sense of this Section until the finding of guilty has become final after review of the case has been fully completed.

(c) A proceeding which, after the introduction of evidence but before a finding, is dismissed or terminated by the convening authority or on motion of the prosecution for failure of available evidence or witnesses without any fault of the accused is a trial in the sense of this Section.

Pleas of the Accused

Sec. 45. (a) If an accused after arraignment makes an irregular pleading, or after a plea of guilty sets up matter inconsistent with the plea, or if it appears that he has entered the plea of guilty improvidedly or through lack of understanding of its meaning and effect, or if he fails or refuses to plead, a plea of not guilty shall be entered in the record, and the court shall proceed as though he had pleaded not guilty.

(b) With respect to any charge or specification to which a plea of guilty has been made by the accused and accepted by the military judge, or by a court-martial without a military judge, a finding of guilty of the charge or specification may, if permitted by regulations of the Governor, be entered immediately without vote. This finding shall constitute the finding of the court unless the plea of guilty is withdrawn prior to the announcement of the sentence, in which event the proceedings shall continue as though the accused had pleaded not guilty.

Opportunity to Obtain Witnesses and Other Evidence

Sec. 46. (a) The trial counsel, the defense counsel, accused, and the court-martial shall have equal opportunity to obtain witnesses and other evidence. Each shall have the right of compulsory process for obtaining witnesses.

(b) The presiding officer of a court-martial may:

(1) Issue a warrant for the arrest of any accused person who having been served with a warrant and a copy of the charges, disobeys a written order by the convening authority to appear before the court;

(2) Issue subpoenas duces tecum and other subpoenas;

(3) Enforce by attachment the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers; and

(4) Sentence for refusal to be sworn or to answer, as provided in actions before civil courts of the state.

(c) Process issued in court-martial cases to compel witnesses to appear and testify and to compel the production of other evidence shall run to any part of the state and shall be executed by civil officers or peace officers as described by the laws of the state.

Refusal to Appear or Testify

Sec. 47. (a) Any person not subject to this Code who:

(1) Has been duly subpoenaed to appear as a witness or to produce books and records before a military court or before any military or civil officer or peace officer designated to take a deposition to be read in evidence before a court;

(2) Has been duly paid or tendered the fees and mileage of a witness at the rates allowed to witnesses under Section 145 of this Code. These fees are to be paid by the Adjutant General's Department as hereinafter provided; and

(3) Wilfully neglects or refuses to appear, or refuses to qualify as a witness or to testify or to produce any evidence which that person may have been legally subpoenaed to produce; is guilty of an offense against the state and may be punished by fine not to exceed $1,000 or confinement not to exceed 60 days in jail, or by both fine and confinement, and such witness shall be prosecuted in the appropriate county court.

(b) The appropriate prosecuting official for the state in any county court having jurisdiction where the military proceeding was convened shall, upon submission of a complaint to him by the presiding officer of a military court, commission, court of inquiry, or board, file an information against and prosecute any person violating this Section.

Contempts

Sec. 48. A military court may punish for contempt any person who uses any menacing word, sign, or gesture in its presence, or who disturbs its proceedings by any riot or disorder. Punishment may not exceed confinement for 30 days or a fine of $100, or both.

Depositions

Sec. 49. (a) At any time after charges have been signed, as provided in Section 30 of this Code, any party may take oral or written depositions unless the military judge, a court-martial without a military judge hearing the case, or, if the case is not being heard, an authority competent to convene a court-martial for the trial of those charges forbids it for good cause. If a deposition is to be taken before charges are referred for trial, such an authority may designate commissioned officers to represent the prosecution and the defense and may authorize those officers to take the deposition of any witness.

(b) The party at whose instance a deposition is to be taken shall give to every other party reasonable written notice of the time and place for taking the deposition.

(c) Depositions may be taken before and authenticated by any military or civil officer authorized by laws of the state or by the laws of the place where the deposition is taken to administer oaths.

(d) Any duly authenticated deposition taken upon reasonable notice to the other parties, so far as otherwise admissible under the rules of evidence, may be read in evidence before any military court or commission, or in any proceeding before a court of inquiry or military board, if it appears:

(1) That the witness resides or is beyond the state in which the court-martial or court of inquiry is ordered to sit, or beyond the distance of 100 miles from the place of trial or hearing;

(2) That the witness by reason of death, age or sickness, bodily infirmity, imprisonment, military necessity, non-amenability to process, or other reasonable cause, is unable or refuses to appear and testify in person at the place of trial or hearing; or

(3) That the present whereabouts of the witness is unknown.

Admissibility of Records of Courts of Inquiry

Sec. 50. (a) In any case not extending to the dismissal of a commissioned officer, the sworn testimony, contained in the duly authenticated record of proceedings of a court of inquiry, of a person whose oral testimony cannot be obtained, may, if otherwise admissible under the rules of evidence, be read in evidence by any party before a court-martial if the accused was a party before the court of inquiry and if the same issue was involved or if the accused consents to the introduction of such evidence.

(b) Such testimony may be read in evidence only by the defense in cases extending to the dismissal of a commissioned officer.

(c) Such testimony may also be read in evidence before a court of inquiry or a military board.

(d) In all courts of inquiry both enlisted men and officers shall have the right to counsel and the right to cross examination of all witnesses.

Voting and Rulings

Sec. 51. (a) Voting by members of a general or special court-martial on the findings, on the sentence, and by members of a court-martial without a military judge upon questions of challenge, shall be by secret written ballot. The junior member of the court shall count the votes. The count shall be checked by the president, who shall forthwith announce the result of the ballot to the members of the court.

(b) The military judge and, except for questions of challenge, the president of a court-martial without a military judge shall rule upon all questions of law and all interlocutory questions arising during the proceedings. Any such ruling made by the military judge upon any question of law or any interlocutory question other than the factual issue of mental responsibility of the accused, or by the president of a court-martial without a military judge upon any question of law other than a motion for a finding of not guilty, is final and constitutes the ruling of the court. However, the military judge or the president of a court-martial without a military judge may change his ruling at any time during the trial. Unless the ruling is final, if any member objects thereto, the court shall be cleared and closed and the question decided by a voice vote as provided in Section 52 of this Code beginning with the junior in rank.

(c) Before a vote is taken on the findings, the military judge or the president of a court-martial without a military judge shall, in the presence of the accused and counsel, instruct the members of the court as to the elements of the offense and charge them:

(1) That the accused must be presumed to be innocent until his guilt is established by legal and competent evidence beyond reasonable doubt;
Art. 5788 MILITIA—SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES 3958

(2) That in the case being considered, if there is a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the accused, the doubt must be resolved in favor of the accused and he must be acquitted;

(3) That, if there is a reasonable doubt as to the degree of guilt, the finding must be in a lower degree as to which there is no reasonable doubt; and

(4) That the burden of proof of establishing the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt is upon the state.

(d) Subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this Section do not apply to a court-martial composed of a military judge only. The military judge of such a court-martial shall determine all questions of law and fact arising during the proceedings and, if the accused is convicted, adjudge an appropriate sentence. The military judge of such a court-martial shall make a general finding and shall in addition on request find the facts specially. If an opinion or memorandum of decision is filed, it will be sufficient if the findings of fact appear therein.

Number of Votes Required

Sec. 52. (a) No person may be convicted of an offense, except by the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present at the time the vote is taken.

(b) All sentences shall be determined by the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present at the time the vote is taken.

(c) All other questions to be decided by the members of a general or special court-martial shall be determined by a majority vote. A tie vote on a challenge disqualifies the member challenged, but a determination to reconsider a finding of guilty or to reconsider a sentence, with a view toward decreasing it, may be made by any lesser vote which indicates that the reconsideration is not opposed by the number of votes required for that finding or sentence. A tie vote on a motion for a finding of not guilty or on a motion relating to the question of the accused's sanity is a determination against the accused. A tie vote on any other question is a determination in favor of the accused.

Court to Announce Action

Sec. 53. A court-martial shall announce its findings and sentence to the parties as soon as determined.

Record of Trial

Sec. 54. (a) Each general court-martial shall keep a separate record of the proceedings of the trial of each case brought before it and the record shall be authenticated by the signature of the military judge. If the record cannot be authenticated by the military judge by reason of his death, disability, or absence, it shall be authenticated by the signature of the trial counsel or by that of a member if the trial counsel is unable to authenticate it by reason of his death, disability, or absence. In a court-martial consisting of only a military judge, the record shall be authenticated by the court reporter under the same conditions that would impose such a duty on a member under this subsection. If the proceedings have resulted in an acquittal of all charges and specifications or, if not affecting a general or flag officer, in a sentence not including discharge and not in excess of that which may otherwise be adjudged by a special court-martial, the record shall contain such matters as may be prescribed by regulations of the Governor.

(b) Each special and summary court-martial shall keep a separate record of the proceedings in each case, and the record shall contain the matter and shall be authenticated in the manner required by such regulations as the Governor may prescribe.

(c) A copy of the record of the proceedings of each general and special court-martial shall be given to the accused as soon as it is authenticated.

SUBCHAPTER VIII. SENTENCES Cruel and Unusual Punishments Prohibited

Sec. 55. Punishment by flogging, or by branding, marking or tattooing on the body, or any other cruel or unusual punishment, may not be adjudged by any court-martial or inflicted upon any person subject to this Code. The use of irons, single or double, except for the purpose of safe custody, is prohibited.

Maximum Limits

Sec. 56. The punishment which a court-martial may direct for an offense may not exceed the limits prescribed by this Code nor limits prescribed by the Governor of the State of Texas.

Effective Date of Sentences

Sec. 57. (a) Whenever a sentence of a court-martial as lawfully adjudged and approved includes a forfeiture of pay or allowances in addition to confinement not suspended or deferred, the forfeiture may apply to pay or allowances becoming due on or after the date the sentence is approved by the convening authority. No forfeiture may extend to any pay or allowances accrued before that date.

(b) Any period of confinement included in a sentence of a court-martial begins to run from the date the sentence is adjudged by the court-martial, but periods during which the sentence to confinement is suspended or deferred shall be excluded in computing the service of the term of confinement.

(c) On application by an accused who is under sentence to confinement that has not been ordered executed, the convening authority or, if the accused is no longer under his jurisdiction, the officer exercising general court-martial jurisdiction over the command to which the accused is currently assigned, may in his sole discretion defer service of the sentence to confinement. The deferment shall terminate when the sentence is ordered executed. The deferment may be rescinded at any time by the officer who granted it or, if the accused is no longer under his jurisdiction, by the officer exercising general court-martial jurisdiction over the command to which the accused is currently assigned.

(d) In the militia or state military forces not in federal service, no sentence of dismissal or dishonorable discharge may be executed until it is approved by the Governor.

(e) All other sentences of courts-martial are effective on the date ordered executed.

Execution of Confinement

Sec. 58. (a) A sentence of confinement adjudged by a military court, whether or not the sentence includes discharge or dismissal, and whether or not the discharge or dismissal has been executed, may be carried into execution by confinement in any place of confinement under the control of any of the forces of the state military forces or in any jail, penitentiary, or prison designated for that purpose. Persons so confined in a jail, penitentiary, or prison are subject to the same discipline and treatment as persons confined or committed to the jail, penitentiary, or prison by the courts of the state or of any political subdivision thereof.

(b) The omission of the words “hard labor” from any sentence or punishment of a court-martial adjudging confinement does not deprive the authority executing that sentence or punishment of the power to require hard labor as a part of the punishment.

(c) The keepers, officers, and wardens of city or county jails and other jails, penitentiaries, or prisons designated by the Governor, or by such person as he may authorize to act under Section 10 of this Code, shall receive persons ordered into confinement before trial and persons committed to confinement by a military court and shall confine them according to law. No such keeper, officer, or warden may require payment of any fee or charge for so receiving or confining a person.

SUBCHAPTER IX. REVIEW OF COURTS-MARTIAL

Error of Law; Lesser Included Offense

Sec. 59. (a) A finding or sentence of a court-martial may not be held incorrect on the ground of an error of law unless the error materially prejudices the substantial rights of the accused.

(b) Any reviewing authority with the power to approve or affirm a finding of guilty may approve or affirm, instead, so much of the finding as includes a lesser included offense.

Initial Action on the Record

Sec. 60. After trial by court-martial the record shall be forwarded to the convening authority, and action thereon may be taken by the person who convened the court, a commissioned officer commanding for the time being, a successor in command, or any officer exercising general court-martial jurisdiction.

Same General Court-Martial Records

Sec. 61. The convening authority shall refer the record of each general court-martial to his judge advocate who shall submit his written opinion thereon to the convening authority. If the final action of the court has resulted in an acquittal of all charges and specifications, the opinion shall be limited to questions of jurisdiction.

Reconsideration and Revision

Sec. 62. (a) If a specification before a court-martial has been dismissed on motion and the ruling does not amount to a finding of not guilty, the convening authority may return the record to the court for reconsideration of the ruling and any further appropriate action.

(b) Where there is an apparent error or omission in the record or where the record shows improper or inconsistent action by a court-martial with respect to a finding or sentence which can be rectified without material prejudice to the substantial rights of the accused, the convening authority may return the record to the court for appropriate action. In no case, however, may the record be returned:

(1) For reconsideration of a finding of not guilty, or a ruling which amounts to a finding of not guilty;

(2) For consideration of a finding of not guilty of any charge, unless the record shows a finding of guilty under a specification laid under that charge, which sufficiently alleges a violation of some Section of this Code; or

(3) For increasing the severity of the sentence unless the sentence prescribed for the offense is mandatory.

Rehearings

Sec. 63. (a) If the convening authority disapproves the finding and sentence of a court-martial he may, except where there is lack of sufficient evidence in the record to support the findings, order a rehearing. In such a case he shall state the reasons for disapproval. If he disapproves the findings and sentence and does not order a rehearing, he shall dismiss the charges.

(b) Each rehearing shall take place before a court-martial composed of members not members of the court-martial which first heard the case. Upon a rehearing the accused may not be tried for any offense of which he was found not guilty by the first court-martial, and no sentence in excess of or more severe than the original sentence may be imposed, unless the sentence is based upon a finding of guilty of an offense not considered upon the merits in the original proceedings, or unless the sentence prescribed for the offense is mandatory.

Approval by the Convening Authority

Sec. 64. In acting on the findings and sentence of a court-martial, the convening authority may approve only such findings of guilty, and the sentence or such part or amount of the sentence, as he finds correct in law and fact and as he in his discretion determines should be approved. Unless he indicates otherwise, approval of the sentence is approval of the findings and sentence.

Disposition of Records After Review by Convening Authority

Sec. 65. (a) If the convening authority is the Governor, his action on the review of any record of trial is final.

(b) In all other cases not covered by subsection (a) of this Section, if the sentence of a special court-martial as approved by the convening authority includes a dishonorable discharge, whether or not suspended, the entire record shall be sent to the appropriate judge advocate or legal officer of the state military forces concerned to be reviewed in the same manner as a record of trial by general court-martial. The record and the opinion of the judge advocate or legal officer shall then be sent to the State Judge Advocate General for review.

(c) All other special and summary court-martial records shall be sent to the judge advocate or legal officer of the appropriate force of the state military forces and shall be acted upon, transmitted, and disposed of as may be prescribed by regulations prescribed by the Governor.

(d) The State Judge Advocate General shall review the record of trial in each case sent to him for review as provided under subsection (b) of this Section. If the final action of the court-martial has resulted in an acquittal of all charges and specifications, the opinion of the State Judge Advocate General is limited to questions of jurisdiction.

(e) The State Judge Advocate General shall take final action in any case reviewable by him.

Review by State Judge Advocate General

Sec. 66. (a) In a case reviewable by the State Judge Advocate General under this Section, the State Judge Advocate General may act only with respect to the findings and sentence as approved by the convening authority. He may affirm only such findings of guilty, and the sentence or such part or amount of the sentence, as he finds correct in law and fact and determines, on the basis of the entire record, should be approved. In considering the record, he may weigh the evidence, judge the credibility of witnesses, and determine controverted questions of fact, recognizing that the trial court saw and heard the witnesses. If the State Judge Advocate General sets aside the findings and sentence, he may, except where the setting aside is based on lack of sufficient evidence in the record to support the findings, order a rehearing. If he sets aside the findings and sentence and does not order a rehearing, he shall order that the charges be dismissed.

(b) In a case reviewable by the State Judge Advocate General under this or the preceding Section, he shall instruct the convening authority to act in accordance with his decision on the review. If he has ordered a rehearing but the convening authority finds a rehearing impracticable, he may dismiss the charges.

Review by Texas Court of Military Appeals

Sec. 67. (a)(1) There is hereby established a Texas Court of Military Appeals, located for administrative purposes only in the Adjutant General's Department, State of Texas. The court shall consist of 5 judges appointed by the Adjutant General of Texas upon the advice and recommendation of the State Judge Advocate General for a term of 6 years. Initial appointments to this court will be: 1 judge for a 2-year term, 2 judges for a 4-year term, and 2 judges for a 6-year term. The term of office of all successor judges shall be for a 6-year period of time, but any judge appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of his predecessor. The Adjutant General of Texas, upon the advice and recommendation of the State Judge Advocate General, shall appoint the chief judge of this court. A person is eligible for appointment to this court who:

(A) is a member of the bar of the highest court of this state;
(B) is a member of a Federal bar;
(C) is a graduate of an accredited school of law;
(D) is a commissioned officer of the state military forces, active or retired, or a retired commissioned officer in the reserves of the armed forces of the United States of America;
(E) has been engaged in the active practice of law for at least 5 years;
(F) has at least 5 years experience as a staff judge advocate, judge advocate, or legal officer with the state military forces. The requirements in (E) and (F) of this Section may be satisfied by equivalent experience or practice in the armed forces of the United States.

(2) The court may promulgate its own rules of procedure, provided, however, that a majority shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of 3 judges shall be necessary to a decision of the court.

(3) Judges of the Texas Court of Military Appeals may be removed by the Adjutant General of Texas, upon notice and hearing for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office, or for mental or physical disability.

(4) If a judge of the Texas Court of Military Appeals is temporarily unable to perform his duties the Adjutant General upon the advice and recommendation of the State Judge Advocate General may designate a military judge, as defined in this Code, to fill the office for the period of disability.

(5) The judges of the Texas Court of Military Appeals, while actually sitting in review of a matter placed under their jurisdiction by this Code, and while travelling to and from such session, shall be paid compensation equal to that compensation as prescribed for the Judges of the Texas Courts of Civil Appeals, as per the then current appropriation bill for the State of Texas, together with the actual cost of their meals and lodging and actual travel expense or the amount set by the then current appropriation bill if private transportation is utilized.

Art. 5788 MILITIA—SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES 3960

(b) The Texas Court of Military Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction, upon petition of an accused, to hear and review the record in:

(1) All general and special court-martial cases; and

(2) All other cases where a judge of this court has made a determination that there may be a constitutional issue involved.

(c) The accused has 60 calendar days, from the time of receipt of actual notice of the final action on his case, under this Code to petition the Texas Court of Military Appeals for review. The court shall act upon such a petition within 60 calendar days of the receipt thereof. In the event the court fails or refuses to grant such petition for review the final action of the convening authority will be deemed to have been approved; notwithstanding any other provision of this Code, upon the court granting a hearing of an appeal, the court may grant a stay or defer service of the sentence of confinement or any other punishment under this Code until the court’s final decision upon the case.

(d) In a case reviewable under subsection (b)(1) of this Section the Texas Court of Military Appeals may act only with respect to the findings and sentence as finally approved and ordered executed by the convening authority. In a case reviewable under subsection (b)(2) of this Section this court need take action only with respect to issues specified in the grant of review. This court shall take action only with respect to matters of law, and the action of this court is final.

(e) If the Texas Court of Military Appeals sets aside the findings and sentence, it may, except where the setting aside is based on lack of sufficient evidence in the record to support the findings, order a rehearing. If it sets aside the findings and sentence and does not order a rehearing, it shall order that the charges be dismissed. After the Texas Court of Military Appeals has acted on the case, the record shall be returned to the State Judge Advocate General who shall notify the convening authority of the court’s decision. If further action is required the State Judge Advocate General shall instruct the convening authority to take action in accordance with that decision. If the court has ordered a rehearing, but the convening authority finds a rehearing impracticable, he may dismiss the charges.

Sec. 68. Reserved.
Sec. 69. Reserved.

Sec. 70. The trial counsel and defense counsel of a court-martial shall serve in the capacity of appellate counsel upon an appeal authorized under this Code. The accused has the additional right to be represented by civilian counsel at his own expense. Should the defense or trial counsel become unable to perform their duties because of illness or other disability, the convening authority will appoint a qualified trial or defense counsel to continue the proceedings.

Sec. 71. Reserved.

Vacation of Suspension

Sec. 72. (a) Before the vacation of the suspension of a special court-martial sentence which as approved includes a dismissal or dishonorable discharge, or of any general court-martial sentence, the officer having special court-martial jurisdiction over the probationer shall hold a hearing on the alleged violation of probation. The probationer shall be represented at the hearing by military counsel if he so desires.

(b) The record of the hearing and the recommendation of the officer having special court-martial jurisdiction shall be sent for action to the Governor in cases involving a general court-martial sentence and to the commanding officer of the force of the state military forces of which the probationer is a member in all other cases covered by subsection (a) of this Section. If the Governor or commanding officer vacates the suspension, any unexecuted part of the sentence except a dismissal shall be executed.

(c) The suspension of any other sentence may be vacated by any authority competent to convene, for the command in which the accused is serving or assigned, a court of the kind that imposed the sentence.

Petition for a New Trial

Sec. 73. At any time within 2 years after approval by the convening authority of a court-martial sentence, the accused may petition the State Judge Advocate General for a new trial on ground of newly discovered evidence or fraud on the court-martial. If the accused’s case is pending before the Texas Court of Military Appeals when this petition is filed, the appeal will not proceed until the State Judge Advocate General has made a decision on the request. If the petition is granted, the appeal will be dismissed. If the petition is denied, the Court of Military Appeals will continue its proceedings on the case.

Remission or Suspension

Sec. 74. (a) A convening authority may remit or suspend any part or amount of the unexecuted part of any sentence, including all uncollected forfeitures.

(b) The Governor may, for good cause, substitute an administrative form of discharge for a discharge... or dismissal executed in accordance with the sentence of a court-martial.

Restoration

Sec. 75. (a) Under such regulations as the Governor may prescribe, all rights, privileges, and property affected by an executed part of a court-martial sentence which has been set aside or disapproved, except an executed dismissal or discharge shall be restored unless a new trial or rehearing is ordered and such executed part is included in a sentence imposed upon a new trial or hearing.

(b) If a previously executed sentence of dishonorable discharge is not imposed on a new trial, the Governor shall substitute therefor a form of discharge authorized for administrative issue unless the accused is to serve out the remainder of his enlistment.

(c) If a previously executed sentence of dismissal is not imposed on a new trial, the Governor shall substitute therefor a form of discharge authorized for administrative issue and the commissioned officer dismissed by that sentence may be reappointed by the Governor alone to such commissioned grade and with such rank as in the opinion of the Governor that former officer would have attained had he not been dismissed. The reappointment of such former officer may be made if a position vacancy is available under applicable tables of organization. All the time between the dismissal and reappointment shall be considered as service for all purposes.

Finality of Proceedings, Findings, and Sentences

Sec. 76. The appellate review of records of trial provided by this Code, the proceedings, findings, and sentences of courts-martial as reviewed and approved, as required by this Code, and all dismissals and discharges carried into execution under sentences by courts-martial following review and approval as required by this Code, are final and conclusive. Orders publishing the proceedings of the courts-martial and all action taken pursuant to those proceedings are binding upon all departments, courts, agencies, and officers of the state, subject only to action upon a petition for a new trial as provided in Section 78 of this Code.

SUBCHAPTER X. PUNITIVE ARTICLES

Persons to be Tried or Punished

Sec. 76A. No person may be tried or punished for any offense provided for in Sections 77–134 of this Code, unless it was committed while he was in a duty status or during a period of time in which he was under lawful orders to be in a duty status.

Principals

Sec. 77. Any person subject to this Code who:

(1) Commits an offense punishable by this Code, or aids, abets, counsels, commands or procures its commission; or

(2) Causes an act to be done which if directly performed by him would be punishable by this Code; is a principal.

Accessory After the Fact

Sec. 78. Any person subject to this Code, who knowing that an offense punishable by this Code has been committed, receives, comforts, or assists the offender in order to hinder or prevent his apprehension, trial, or punishment shall be punished as a court-martial may direct.

Conviction of Lesser Included Offense

Sec. 79. An accused may be found guilty of an offense necessarily included in the offense charged or of an attempt to commit either the offense charged or an offense necessarily included therein.

Attempts

Sec. 80. (a) An act, done with specific intent to commit an offense under this Code, amounting to more than mere preparation and tending, even though failing, to effect its commission, is an attempt to commit that offense.

(b) Any person subject to this Code who attempts to commit any offense punishable by this Code shall be punished as a court-martial may direct, unless otherwise specifically prescribed.

(c) Any person subject to this Code may be convicted of an attempt to commit an offense although it appears on the trial that the offense was consummated.

Conspiracy

Sec. 81. Any person subject to this Code who conspires with any other person to commit an offense under this Code, shall if one or more of the conspirators does an act to effect the object of the conspiracy, be punished as a court-martial may direct.

Solicitation

Sec. 82. (a) Any person subject to this Code who solicits or advises another or others to desert in violation of Section 85 of this Code or mutiny in violation of Section 94 of this Code, shall, if the offense solicited or advised is attempted or committed, be punished with the punishment provided for the commission of the offense, but, if the offense solicited or advised is not committed or attempted, he shall be punished as a court-martial may direct.

(b) Any person subject to this Code who solicits or advises another or others to commit an act of misbehavior before the enemy in violation of Section 99 of this Code or sedition in violation of Section 94 of this Code shall, if the offense solicited or advised is committed, be punished with the punishment provided for the commission of the offense, but, if the offense solicited or advised is not committed, he shall be punished as a court-martial may direct.
Fraudulent Enlistment, Appointment, or Separation

Sec. 83. Any person who:

(1) Procures his own enlistment or appointment in the state military forces by knowingly false representation or deliberate concealment as to his qualifications for that enlistment or appointment and receives pay or allowances thereunder; or

(2) Procures his own separation from the state military forces by knowingly false representation or deliberate concealment as to his eligibility for that separation; shall be punished as a court-martial may direct.

Unlawful Enlistment, Appointment, or Separation

Sec. 84. Any person subject to this Code who effects an enlistment or appointment in or a separation from the state military forces of any person who is known to him to be ineligible for that enlistment, appointment, or separation because it is prohibited by law, regulation, or order shall be punished as a court-martial may direct.

Desertion

Sec. 85. (a) Any member of the state military forces who:

(1) Without authority goes or remains absent from his unit, organization, or place of duty with intent to remain away therefrom permanently;

(2) Quits his unit, organization, or place of duty with intent to avoid hazardous duty or to shirk important service; or

(3) Without being regularly separated from one of the state military forces enlists or accepts an appointment in the same or another one of the state military forces, or in one of the armed forces of the United States, without fully disclosing the fact that he has not been regularly separated; is guilty of desertion.

(b) Any commissioned officer of the state military forces who, after tender of his resignation and before notice of its acceptance, quits his post or proper duties without leave and with intent to remain away therefrom permanently is guilty of desertion.

(c) Any person found guilty of desertion or attempt to desert shall be punished as a court-martial may direct.

Absence Without Leave

Sec. 86. Any person subject to this Code, who without authority:

SUBCHAPTER XI. MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Courts of Inquiry

Sec. 135. (a) Courts of inquiry to investigate any matter may be convened by the Governor or by any other person designated by the Governor for that purpose, or any person authorized to convene a general court-martial by this Code, whether or not the persons involved have requested such an inquiry.

(b) A court of inquiry consists of 3 or more commissioned officers. For each court of inquiry the convening authority shall also appoint counsel for the court.

(c) Any person subject to this Code whose conduct is subject to inquiry shall be designated as a party. Any person subject to this Code or employed in the division of military affairs, who has a direct interest in the subject of inquiry has the right to be designated as a party upon request to the court. Any person designated as a party shall be given due notice and has the right to be present, to be represented by counsel, to cross-examine witnesses, and to introduce evidence.

(d) Members of a court of inquiry may be challenged by a party, but only for cause stated to the court.

(e) The members, counsel, the reporter, and interpreters of courts of inquiry shall take an oath or affirmation to faithfully perform their duties.

(f) Witnesses may be summoned to appear and testify and be examined before courts of inquiry, as provided for courts-martial.

(g) Courts of inquiry shall make findings of fact but may not express opinions or make recommendations unless required to do so by the convening authority.

(h) Each court of inquiry shall keep a record of its proceedings, which shall be authenticated by the signatures of the president and counsel for the court and forwarded to the convening authority. If the record cannot be authenticated by the president, it shall be signed by a member in lieu of the president. If the record cannot be authenticated by the counsel for the court, it shall be signed by a member in lieu of the counsel.

Sec. 136. (a) The following persons on state active duty may administer oaths for the purpose of military administration including military justice, and they have the general powers of a notary public in the performance of all notarial acts to be executed by members of the state military forces, wherever they may be:

(1) The State Judge Advocate General, and all judge advocates;

(2) All law specialists and military judges;

(3) All summary courts-martial;

(4) All adjutants, assistant adjutants, acting adjutants, and personnel adjutants;

(5) All administrative officers, assistant administrative officers, and acting administrative officers;

(6) All staff judge advocates and legal officers, and acting or assistant staff judge advocates and legal officers; and

(7) All other persons designated by regulations of the state military forces or by statute.

(b) The following persons on state active duty may administer oaths necessary in the performance of their duties:

(1) The president, military judge, trial counsel, and assistant trial counsel for all general and special courts-martial;

(2) The president, counsel for the court, and recorder of any court of inquiry;

(3) All officers designated to take a deposition;

(4) All persons detailed to conduct an investigation;

(5) All recruiting officers; and

(6) All other persons designated by regulations of the state military forces or by statute.

(c) No fee may be paid to or received by any person for the performance of any notarial act hereinafter authorized.

(d) The signature without seal of any such person acting as notary, together with the title of his office, is prima facie evidence of his authority.

Sec. 137. Sections 2, 3, 7-15, 25, 27, 31, 37, 38, 55, 76A-134, and 137-139 of this Code shall be carefully explained to every enlisted member at the time of his enlistment or transfer or induction into, or at the time of his order to duty in or with any of the state military forces or within 30 days thereafter. They shall also be explained annually to each unit of the state military forces. A complete text of this Code and of the regulations prescribed by the Governor thereunder shall be made available to any member of the state military forces, upon his request, for his personal examination.
Complaints of Wrongs

Sec. 138. (a) Any member of the state military forces who believes himself wronged by his commanding officer, and who, upon due application to that commanding officer, is refused redress, may complain to any superior commissioned officer, who shall forward the complaint to the next highest commander who shall examine into the complaint and take proper measures for redressing the wrong complained of; and he shall, as soon as possible, send to the Adjutant General a true statement of that complaint with the proceedings had thereon.

(b) When an action or proceeding of any nature shall be commenced in any court, other than a military court, by any person against any member of the state military forces for any act done, or caused, ordered or directed to be done in the line of duty, as determined by a finding of fact made by a court of inquiry under Section 135 of this Code, while such member was on active state duty, all expenses of representation in such action or proceeding, including fees of witnesses, depositions, court costs, and all costs for transcripts of records or other documents that might be needed during trial or appeal shall be paid as provided in this Code. When any action or proceeding of any type is brought, as described in this subsection, the Adjutant General, upon the written request of the member involved, shall designate the State Judge Advocate General, a judge advocate or a legal officer of the state military forces to represent such member. Judge advocates or legal officers performing duty under this subsection will be called to state active duty by order of the Governor. If the military legal services, noted above, are not available, then the Adjutant General, after consultation with the State Judge Advocate General and member involved, shall contract with a competent private attorney to conduct such representation.

Redress of Injuries to Property

Sec. 139. (a) Whenever complaint is made to any commanding officer that wilful damage has been done to the property of any person or that his property has been wrongfully taken by members of the state military forces, he may subject to such regulations as the Governor may prescribe, convene a board to investigate the complaint. The board shall consist of from 1 to 3 commissioned officers, and for the purpose of that investigation, it has power to summon witnesses and examine them upon oath or affirmation, to receive depositions or other documentary evidence, and to assess the damages sustained against the responsible parties. The assessment of damages made by the board is subject to the approval of the commanding officer, and in the amount approved by him shall be charged against the pay of the offenders. The order of the commanding officer directing charges herein authorized is conclusive, except as provided in subsection (c), on any disbursing officer for the payment by him to the injured parties of the damages so assessed and approved.

(b) If the offenders cannot be ascertained, but the organization or detachment to which they belong is known, charges totaling the amount of damages assessed and approved may be paid to the injured parties from the military funds of the units of the state military forces to which the offenders belonged.

(c) Any person subject to this Code who is accused of causing wilful damage to property has the right to be represented by counsel, to summon witnesses in his behalf, and to cross-examine those appearing against him. The counsel mentioned herein will be military counsel, provided by the commanding officer instituting this inquiry. The accused may also employ civilian counsel of his own choosing at his own expense. He has the right of appeal to the next higher commander.

Immunity for Action of Military Courts

Sec. 139A. No accused may bring an action or proceeding against the convening authority or a member of a military court, board convened under this Code or military regulations, or officer or person acting under its authority or reviewing its proceedings because of the approval, imposition, or execution of any sentence or the imposition or collection of a fine or penalty, or the execution of any process or mandate of a military court, board convened under this Code, or military regulation.

Delegation of Authority By the Governor

Sec. 140. The Governor may delegate any authority vested in him under this Code, and may provide for the subdelegation of any such authority, except the power given him by Section 57(d) of this Code.

Execution of Process and Sentence

Sec. 141. (a) In the state military forces not in federal service, the processes and sentences of its courts-martial shall be executed by the civil officers prescribed by the laws of the state.

(b) When the sentence of a court-martial, as approved and ordered executed, adjudges confinement, and the convening authority, has approved the same in whole or in part, the reviewing authority, or the commanding officer for the time being, as the case may be, shall issue a warrant of commitment to the sheriff of the county in which such court-martial was held or where the offense was committed, directing such sheriff to take the body of the person so sentenced and confine him in the county jail of such county for the period named in such sentence, as approved, or until he may be directed to release him by proper authority.

Process of Military Courts

Sec. 142. (a) Military courts may issue any process or mandate necessary to carry into effect their powers. Such a court may issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum and enforce by attachment attendance of witnesses and production of books and records, when it is sitting within the state and the witnesses, books and records sought are also so located.

(b) Process and mandates may be issued by summary courts-martial, provost courts, or the president of other military courts and may be directed to and may be executed by the marshals of the military court or any peace officer and shall be in such form as may be prescribed by regulations issued under this Code.

(c) All officers to whom process or mandates may be so directed shall execute them and make return of their acts thereunder according to the requirements of those documents. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this Code, no such officer may demand or require payment of any fee or charge for receiving, executing, or returning such a process or mandate or for any service in connection therewith.

(d) The president of any court-martial, and any summary court officer, shall have authority to issue, under his hand, in the name of the State of Texas, directed to any sheriff or constable, whose duty it shall be to serve or execute the same in the same manner in which like process is served or executed when issued by a magistrate, all necessary process, subpoenas, attachments, warrants, or arrest and warrant of commitment.

Payment of Fines, Costs, and Disposition Thereof

Sec. 143. (a) All fines and forfeitures imposed by general court-martial, shall be paid to the officer ordering such court, and/or to the officer commanding for the time being and by said officer, within 5 days from the receipt thereof, paid to the Adjutant General, who shall disburse the same as he may see fit for military purposes.

(b) All fines and forfeitures imposed by a special or summary courts-martial shall be paid to the officer ordering the court, or the officer commanding for the time being, and by such officer, within 5 days from the receipt thereof, placed to the credit of the military unit fund of the unit of which the person fined was a member when the fine was imposed.

(c) When the sentence of a court-martial adjudges a fine against any person, and such fine has not been fully paid within 10 days after the confirmation thereof, the convening authority shall issue a warrant of commitment directed to the sheriff of the county in which the court-martial was held or where the offense was committed, directing him to take the body of the person so convicted and confine him in the county jail for 1 day for any fine not exceeding $1 and 1 additional day for every dollar above that sum.

Presumption of Jurisdiction

Sec. 144. The jurisdiction of the military courts and boards established by this Code shall be presumed and the burden of proof rests on any person seeking to oust those courts or boards of jurisdiction in any action or proceeding.

Witnesses Expenses

Sec. 145. (a) Persons in the employ of this state, but not belonging to the military forces thereof, when traveling upon summons as witnesses before military courts, are entitled to transportation from their place of residence to the place where the court is in session and return. If no transportation be furnished they are entitled to reimbursement of the cost of travel actually performed by the shortest usually traveled route. They are also entitled to reimbursement of the actual cost of meals and rooms at a rate not to exceed $25 per day for each actually and unavoidably consumed in travel, or in attendance upon the court under the order or summons. No allowance will be made to them when attendance upon court does not require them to leave their place of residence.

(b) A person not in the employ of this state and not belonging to the active military forces thereof, who has been duly summoned to appear as a witness before a military court, will receive $50 per day for each day actually in attendance upon the court, and 12 cents a mile for going from his place of residence to the place of trial or hearing, and 12 cents a mile for returning. Civilian witnesses will be paid by the Adjutant General’s Department.

(c) The charges for return journeys of witnesses will be made upon the basis of the actual charges allowed for travel to the court, and the entire account thus completed will be paid upon discharge from attendance without waiting for completion of return travel.

(d) No fees shall be allowed to a person as witness fees, unless such person has been subpoenaed, attached, or recognized as a witness in the case.

Arrest, Bonds, Laws Applicable

Sec. 146. (a) When charges against any person in the military service of this state are made or referred to a convening authority authorized to convene a court-martial for the trial of such person, and a convening authority, believing that such charges can be sustained, and has reason to believe that the person so charged will not appear for trial, or intends to flee from justice, a convening authority may issue a warrant of arrest to the sheriff or any constable of the county in which the person charged resides, or wherein he is supposed to be, commanding the sheriff or constable to take the body of the person so charged and confine him in jail until such time as his case may be finally disposed of; and the sheriff or constable, on the order of the convening authority, shall bring the person so charged before the court-martial for trial, or turn him over to whomever the order may direct; the convening authority issuing the warrant of arrest, shall indorse thereon the amount of bail to be required; and it shall be a violation of duty on the part of any sheriff or constable to permit a person so committed to remain out of jail, except that he may, when such person desires it, permit him to give bail in the sum indorsed on the warrant, conditioned for his appearance, from time to time, before such court-martial as he may be ordered for trial, and until his case is finally disposed of, or until such time as he may surrender to the sheriff or constable as directed by the convening authority of the court-martial before which he may be ordered for trial.

(b) Upon the failure of any person, who has been admitted to bail conditioned for his appearance for trial before a court-martial, or upon failure of any person admitted to bail to appear as a witness in any case before a court-martial, as conditioned in the bail bond of any such person, the court-martial shall certify the fact of such failure to so appear to the convening authority, or to the officer commanding for the time being, as the case may be; and such officer shall cause a judge advocate, district or county attorney to file suit in Travis County therefor.

(c) The rules laid down in the Code of Criminal Procedure of this state relating to the giving of bail, the amount of bail, the number of sureties, the persons who may be sureties, the property exempt from liability, the responsibility of parties to the same and all other rules of a general nature not inconsistent with this law are applicable to bail taken as provided in this Code.

(d) A warrant of arrest issued by a convening authority to order a court-martial, and all subpoenas and other process issued by courts-martial and courts of inquiry shall extend to every part of the state.

(e) When any lawful process, issued by the proper officer of any court-martial, comes to the hands of any sheriff or constable, he shall perform the usual duties of such officer and perform all acts and duties by this Code imposed or authorized to be performed by any sheriff or constable. Failure of any sheriff or constable to perform the duties required by this Code shall be a misdemeanor offense punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 and by confinement of not less than 6 months and not more than 12 months in jail.

Expenses of Administration

Sec. 147. The Adjutant General shall have authority to pay all expenses incurred in the administration of state military justice, including the expenses of courts-martial and expenses incurred under Sections 67, 138, and 145 of this Code, from any funds appropriated to the Adjutant General's Department.

Art. 5789. Awards, Decorations and Medals

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 to 6]

Rules and Regulations Pertaining to Awards, Decorations, Medals and Ribbons

Sec. 7. The Adjutant General is hereby authorized to promulgate rules and regulations pertaining to the following awards, decorations, medals and ribbons:

(a) Texas Faithful Service Medal. It shall be awarded to any member of the state military forces who has completed 5 years of honorable service therein, during which period he has shown fidelity to duty, efficient service and great loyalty to this state.

(b) Federal Service Medal. It shall be awarded to any person inducted into federal service from the state military forces, between June 15, 1940, and January 1, 1946; and after June 1, 1950; provided, that such federal service was for a period in excess of 9 months with the Armed Forces of the United States.

(c) Texas Medal of Merit. It may be presented to any member of the state military forces who distinguishes himself through outstanding service, or extraordinary achievement, in behalf of the state, or the United States.

(d) Texas Outstanding Service Medal. It may be presented to any member of the state military forces whose performance has been such as to merit recognition for service performed in a superior and clearly outstanding manner.

(e) Texas State Guard Service Medal. It shall be awarded to any member of the state military forces who has completed three consecutive years of honorable service in the Texas State Guard since September 1, 1970, during which period he has shown fidelity to duty, efficient service, and great loyalty to this state.

Sections 2 to 6 and 8 of the 1977 Act were incorporated into the Natural Resources Code by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1989, ch. 784.

Art. 5920-11. Surface Coal Mining and Reclamation Act

Short Title
Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Texas Surface Coal Mining and Reclamation Act.

Findings and Declaration of Policy
Sec. 2. The legislature finds and declares that:

(1) The Congress of the United States has enacted the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), which provides for the establishment of a nationwide program to regulate surface coal mining and reclamation and which vests exclusive authority in the Department of the Interior over the regulation of surface coal mining and reclamation within the United States.

(2) Section 101 of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), contains the finding by Congress that because of the diversity in terrain, climate, biologic, chemical, and other physical conditions in areas subject to mining operations, the primary governmental responsibility for developing, authorizing, issuing, and enforcing regulations for surface mining and reclamation operations subject to that Act should rest with the states.

(3) Section 503 of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), provides that each state may assume and retain exclusive jurisdiction over the regulation of surface coal mining and reclamation operations within that state by obtaining approval of a state program of regulation which demonstrates that the state has the capability of carrying out the provisions and meeting the purposes of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977).

(4) Section 503 of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), further provides that a state wishing to assume exclusive jurisdiction over the regulation of surface coal mining and reclamation operations within the state must have a state law that provides for the regulation of surface coal mining and reclamation operations in accordance with the requirements of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977).

(5) The State of Texas wishes to assume exclusive jurisdiction over the regulation of surface coal mining and reclamation operations within the state pursuant to the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977). It is therefore declared to be the purpose of this Act:

(A) to prevent the adverse effects to society and the environment resulting from unregulated surface coal mining operations as defined in this Act;

(B) to assure that the rights of surface landowners and other persons with a legal interest in the land or appurtenances to the land are protected from unregulated surface coal mining operations;

(C) to assure that surface coal mining operations are conducted in a manner that will prevent unreasonable degradation of land and water resources;

(D) to assure that reclamation of all land on which surface coal mining takes place is accomplished as contemporaneously as practicable with the surface coal mining, recognizing that the extraction of coal by responsible mining operations is an essential and beneficial economic activity;

(E) to assure that the coal supply essential to the state's energy requirements and to its economic and social well-being is provided, and to strike a balance between protection of the environment and agricultural productivity and the state's need for coal as an essential source of energy; and

(F) to promote the reclamation of mined areas left without adequate reclamation prior to the enactment of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), and that continue, in their uncontrolled condition, to substantially degrade the quality of the environment, to prevent or damage the beneficial use of land or water resources, or to endanger the health or safety of the public.

Sec. 3. In this Act:

(1) “Alluvial valley floors” means the unconsolidated stream-laid deposits holding streams where water availability is sufficient for subirrigation or flood irrigation agricultural activities but does not include upland areas that are generally overlain by a thin veneer of colluvial deposits composed chiefly of debris from sheet erosion, deposits by unconcentrated runoff or slope wash, together with talus, other mass movement accumulation, and windblown deposits.

(2) “Applicant” means any person or other legal entity seeking a permit from the commission to conduct surface coal mining activities or underground mining activities pursuant to this Act.

(3) “Approximate original contour” means that surface configuration achieved by backfilling and grading of the mined area so that the reclaimed area, including any terracing or access roads, closely resembles the general surface configuration of the land prior to mining and blends into and complements the drainage pattern of the surrounding terrain, with all highwalls and spoil piles eliminated and water impoundments may be permitted if the commission determines that they are in compliance with Section 23(b)(8) of this Act.

(4) “Coal” means all forms of coal including lignite.

(5) “Coal exploration operation” means the substantial disturbance of the surface or subsurface for the purpose of or related to determining the location, quantity, or quality of a coal deposit.

(6) “Commission” means the Railroad Commission of Texas.

(7) “Eligible land and water,” particularly as it relates to Section 7 of this Act, means all land that was mined for coal or was affected by that mining, waste banks, coal processing, or other coal mining, processing, and abandoned or left in an inadequate reclamation status prior to August 3, 1977, and for which there is no continuing reclamation responsibility under state or federal law.

(8) “Imminent danger to the health and safety of the public” means the existence of any condition or practice, or any violation of a permit or other requirement of this Act in a surface coal mining and reclamation operation, which condition, practice, or violation could reasonably be expected to cause substantial physical harm to persons outside the permit area before the condition, practice, or violation can be abated. A reasonable expectation of death or serious injury before abatement exists if a rational person, subjected to the same conditions or practices giving rise to the peril, would not expose himself to the danger during the time necessary for abatement.

(9) “Operator” means any person engaged in coal mining who removes or intends to remove more than 250 tons of coal from the earth by coal mining within 12 consecutive calendar months in any one location.

(10) “Other minerals” means clay, stone, sand, gravel, metalliferous and nonmetalliferous ores, and any other solid material or substances of commercial value excavated in solid form from natural deposits on or in the earth, exclusive of coal, and those minerals that occur naturally in liquid or gaseous form.

(11) “Permit” means a permit to conduct surface coal mining and reclamation operations issued by the commission.

(12) “Permit area” means the area of land indicated on the approved map submitted by the operator with his or her application, which area of land shall be covered by the operator's bond as required by Section 25 of this Act and shall be readily identifiable by appropriate markers on the site.

(13) “Permittee” means a person holding a permit to conduct surface coal mining and reclamation operations or underground mining activities pursuant to this Act.

(14) "Person" means an individual, partnership, society, joint-stock company, firm, company, corporation, business organization, governmental agency, or any organization or association of citizens.

(15) "Prime farmland" has the same meaning as that previously prescribed by the secretary on the basis of such factors as moisture availability, temperature regime, chemical balance, permeability, without regard to annual mean soil temperatures, surface layer composition, susceptibility to flooding, and erosion characteristics, and that historically has been used for intensive agricultural purposes, and as published in the Federal Register. Land will not be considered for purposes of this Act as having historically been used for the production of cultivated crops on the basis of use as woodland or rangeland, or where the only cultivation has been disking to establish or help maintain Bermuda Grass used as forage or where the only cultivation is disking to plant oats or rye for quick cover, not as a grain crop but to be used as forage. The slope of the land can be a factor in determining whether a given soil is outside the purview of prime farmland and the commission may thus make a negative determination based upon soil type and slope.

(16) "Surface coal mining and reclamation operations" means surface mining operations and all activities necessary and incident to the reclamation of those operations after August 3, 1977.

(17) "Surface coal mining operations" means:

(A) activities conducted on the surface of any land in connection with a surface coal mine or subject to the requirements of Section 28 of this Act incident to an underground coal mine. These activities include excavation for the purpose of obtaining coal including such common methods as contour, strip, auger, mountaintop removal, box cut, open pit, and area mining, the use of explosives and blasting, and in situ distillation or retorting, leaching or other chemical or physical processing, and the cleaning, concentrating, or other processing or preparation, loading of coal at or near the mine site; provided, however, that such activities do not include the extraction of coal incidental to the extraction of other minerals where the coal does not exceed 16-2% percentum of the total tonnage of coal and other minerals removed annually for purposes of commercial use or sale or coal explorations subject to this Act; and

(B) the areas on which such activities occur or where such activities disturb the natural land surface, and such areas shall also include any adjacent land the use of which is incidental to any such activities, all land affected by the construction of new roads or the improvement or use of existing roads to gain access to the site of such activities and for haulage, and excavations, workings, impoundments, dams, ventilation shafts, entryways, refuse banks, dumps, stockpiles, overburden piles, spoil banks, culm banks, tailings, holes or depressions, repair areas, storage areas, processing areas, shipping areas, and other areas on which are sited structures, facilities, or other property or materials on the surface, resulting from or incident to such activities.

(18) "Unwarranted failure to comply" means the failure of a permittee to prevent the occurrence of any violation of his or her permit or any requirement of this Act due to indifference, lack of diligence, or lack of reasonable care, or the failure to abate any violation of his or her permit or this Act due to indifference, lack of diligence, or lack of reasonable care.

(19) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

Sec. 4. The commission has exclusive jurisdiction over all surface coal mining and reclamation operations in the State of Texas.

General Authority of Commission

Sec. 5. To accomplish the purposes of this Act, the commission shall have the authority:

(1) to adopt, amend, and enforce rules pertaining to surface coal mining and reclamation operations consistent with the general intent and purposes of this Act;

(2) to issue permits pursuant to the provisions of this Act;

(3) to conduct hearings pursuant to the provisions of this Act and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended; 1

(4) to issue orders requiring an operator to take actions that are necessary to comply with this Act and with rules adopted under this Act;

(5) to issue orders modifying previous orders;

(6) to issue a final order revoking the permit of an operator who has failed to comply with an order of the commission to take action required by this Act or rules adopted under this Act;

(7) to order the immediate cessation of an ongoing surface mining operation or part of an ongoing surface mining operation if the commission finds that the operation or part of the operation creates an imminent danger to the health or safety of the public, or is causing or can reasonably be expected to cause significant imminent harm to land, air, or water resources, and to take other action or make changes in a permit that are reasonably necessary to avoid or alleviate these conditions;

(8) to hire employees, adopt standards for employment of these persons, and hire and authorize the hiring of outside contractors to assist in carrying out the requirements of this Act;

(9) to enter on and inspect, in person or by its agents, a surface mining operation that is subject to the provisions of this Act to assure compliance with the terms of this Act;

(10) to conduct, encourage, request, and participate in studies, surveys, investigations, research, experiments, training, and demonstrations by contract, grant, or otherwise;

(11) to prepare and require permittees to prepare reports;

(12) to accept, receive, and administer grants, gifts, loans, or other funds made available from any source for the purposes of this Act;

(13) to take those steps necessary that the state may participate to the fullest extent practicable in the abandoned land program provided in Title IV of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977);

(14) to take those actions necessary to establish exclusive jurisdiction over surface coal mining and reclamation in Texas under the provisions of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), including, in the event the federal administrative agency disapproves Texas' program as submitted, making recommendations for remedial legislation to clarify, alter, or amend the program to meet the terms of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977);

(15) to enter into contracts with state boards and agencies that have pertinent expertise to obtain the professional and technical services necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act;

(16) to establish a process, in order to avoid duplication, for coordinating the review and issuance of permits for surface coal mining and reclamation operations with any other federal or state permit process applicable to the proposed operations;

(17) to enter into cooperative agreements with the Secretary of the United States Department of the Interior for the regulation of surface coal mining operations on federal land in accordance with the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977); and

(18) to perform any other duties and acts required by and provided for in this Act.

Rulemaking and Permitting

Sec. 6. (a) The commission shall promulgate rules pertaining to surface coal mining and reclamation operations that are required by this Act.

(b) The process of making and amending rules and issuing permits shall be pursuant to the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended.

(c) A rule or an amendment to a rule adopted or a permit issued by the commission may differ in its terms and provisions as to particular conditions, types of coal being extracted, particular areas of the state, or any other conditions that appear relevant and necessary so long as the action taken is consistent with attainment of the general intent and purposes of this Act.
and shall mitigate or offset any claim in or any action brought by any owner of any interest in the premises for damages by virtue of such entry; provided, this provision is not intended to create new rights of action or eliminate existing immunities.

(b) The commission is entitled to enter on any property for the purposes of conducting studies or exploratory work to determine the existence of adverse effects of past coal mining practices and to determine the feasibility of restoration, reclamation, abatement, control, or prevention of those adverse effects.

c) The state may acquire any land, where it is to the public interest, by purchase, donation, or condemnation, that is adversely affected by past coal mining practices if the commission determines that acquisition of the land is necessary to successful reclamation and that:

1) the acquired land, after restoration, reclamation, abatement, control, or prevention of the adverse effects of past coal mining practices, will serve recreation and historic purposes, conservation and reclamation purposes, or provide open space benefits; and

2) permanent facilities such as a treatment plant or a relocated stream channel will be constructed on the land for the restoration, reclamation, abatement, control, or prevention of the adverse effects of past coal mining practices; or

3) acquisition of coal refuse disposal sites and all coal refuse on those sites will serve the purposes of this section or that public ownership is desirable to meet emergency situations and prevent recurrences of the adverse effects of past coal mining practices.

d) Title to all land acquired pursuant to this section shall be in the name of the state. The price paid for land acquired under this section shall reflect the market value of the land as adversely affected by past coal mining practices.

e) Where land acquired pursuant to this section is deemed to be suitable for industrial, commercial, residential, or recreational development, the state may sell the land by public sale under a system of competitive bidding, at not less than fair market value and under such rules as are promulgated to insure that the land is put to proper use consistent with local plans, if any, as determined by the commission and where federal funds are involved in the acquisition of the land to be sold, the land may be sold only when authorized by the Secretary of the United States Department of the Interior. The commission, after appropriate public notice, shall hold a public hearing in the county or counties of the state in which land acquired pursuant to this section is located, if requested by any person. The hearings shall be held at a time that shall afford local citizens and governments the maximum opportunity to participate in the decision concerning the use or disposition of the land after restoration, reclamation, abatement, control, or prevention of the adverse effects of past coal mining practices.

Abandoned Mine Reclamation—Liens

Sec. 9. (a) Within six months after the completion of projects to restore, reclaim, abate, control, or prevent the adverse effects of past mining practices on privately owned land, the commission shall itemize the money so expended and may file a statement of the money spent with the clerk of the county in which the land lies, together with a notarized appraisal by an independent appraiser of the value of the land before the restoration, reclamation, abatement, control, or prevention, of adverse effects of past mining practices if the money so expended will result in a significant increase in property value. The statement shall constitute a lien on the second only to the lien of property taxes, not to exceed the amount determined by either of two appraisals to be the increase in the market value of the land as a result of the restoration, reclamation, abatement, control, or prevention of the adverse effects of past mining practices. No lien shall be filed against the property of any person, in accordance with this subsection, who owned the surface prior to May 2, 1977, and who neither consented to nor participated in nor exercised control over the mining operation that necessitated the reclamation performed hereunder.

(b) Any affected landowner may petition the commission within 60 days of the filing of the lien for a hearing concerning the amount of the lien. That hearing and any appeal will be conducted under the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended.

Abandoned Mine Reclamation—Emergency Powers

Sec. 10. (a) The commission is authorized to spend money from the state abandoned mine reclamation fund for the emergency restoration, reclamation, abatement, control, or prevention of adverse effects of coal mining practices on eligible land, if the commission makes a finding that:

1) an emergency exists constituting a danger to the public health, safety, or general welfare; and

2) no other person or agency will act expeditiously to restore, reclaim, abate, control, or prevent the adverse effects of coal mining practices.

(b) The commission may enter on any land where an emergency exists and any other land necessary to have access to that land to restore, reclaim, abate, control, or prevent the adverse effects of coal mining practices and to do all things necessary or expedient to protect the public health, safety, or general welfare. This entry shall be construed as an exercise of the police power and shall not be construed as an act of condemnation of property nor of trespass. The money expended for this work and the benefits accruing to the premises entered on shall be charge-any interest in the premises for any damages by any owner of any interest in the premises for any damages by virtue of the entry; provided, however, that this provision is not intended to create new rights of action or eliminate existing immunities.

Permits

Sec. 11. (a) No person shall conduct a surface coal mining operation in this state without having first received a permit for that operation from the commission, pursuant to either this Act or its predecessor, Chapter 131, Natural Resources Code.

(b) Not later than two months following approval by the federal government of the Texas program under the terms of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), regardless of litigation contesting that approval or implementation, all operators of surface coal mines, in expectation of operating those mines after the expiration of eight months from the approval, shall file an application for a permit with the commission. The application shall cover all land to be mined after the expiration of eight months from the approval of the program. The commission will process those applications and grant or deny a permit within eight months after the date of approval of the program, unless specifically enjoined by a court of competent jurisdiction.

(c) In the event of disapproval of the Texas program by the federal government and prior to promulgation of a federal program or a federal land program for Texas, existing surface coal mining operations may continue. Permits that lapse during the period may continue in full force and effect until promulgation of a federal program or a federal land program.

(d) All permits issued pursuant to Chapter 131, Natural Resources Code, shall remain in full force and effect and their provisions enforceable by the commission until such time as a permit is issued pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

Term

Sec. 12. (a) Permits issued shall be for a term not to exceed five years, except that if the applicant demonstrates that a specified longer term is reasonably needed to allow the applicant to obtain necessary financing for equipment, or the opening of the operation, and if the application is full and complete for the specified longer term, the commission may grant a permit for that longer term. A successor in interest to a permittee who applies for a new permit within 30 days of succeeding to that interest and who is able to obtain the same bond coverage as the original permittee may continue the surface coal mining and reclamation plan of the original permittee until the successor’s application is granted or denied.

(b) A permit shall terminate if the permittee has not commenced the surface coal mining operation covered by the permit within three years after commencement of the period for which the permit is issued. However, the commission may grant reasonable extensions of time on a showing that the extensions are necessary, by reason of litigation, precluding the commencement or threatening substantial economic loss to the permittee, or by reason of conditions beyond the control and without the fault or negligence of the permittee. With respect to coal to be mined for use in a synthetic fuel facility or specific major electric generating facility, the permittee shall be deemed to have commenced surface mining operations at the time the construction of the facility is initiated.

Renewal

Sec. 13. (a) Any permit issued pursuant to this Act shall carry with it the right of successive renewal on expiration with respect to areas within the boundaries of the existing permit. The permittee may apply for renewal and the renewal shall be issued, provided that on application for renewal the burden shall be on the opponents of renewal, subsequent to fulfillment of the public notice requirements of Section 20 of this Act, unless it is established and written findings by the commission are made that:

1. the terms and conditions of the existing permit are not being satisfactorily met;
2. the present surface coal mining and reclamation operation is not in compliance with the environmental protection standards of this Act;
3. the renewal requested substantially jeopardizes the operator’s continuing responsibility on existing permit areas;
4. the operator has not provided evidence that the performance bond in effect for the operation will continue in full force and effect for any renewal requested in the application as well as any additional bond the commission might require pursuant to Section 25 of this Act; or
5. any additional revised or updated information required by the commission has not been provided.

(b) Prior to the renewal of any permit the commission shall provide notice to the appropriate public authorities.

(c) If an application for renewal of an existing permit includes a proposal to extend the mining operation beyond the boundaries authorized in the permit, the portion of the application that addresses new land areas shall be subject to the full standards applicable to a new application under this Act; however, if the surface coal mining operations authorized by the existing permit are not subject to the standards contained in Section 21(b)(5)(A) and (B) of this Act, then the portion of the application for renewal that addresses any new land areas previously identified in the reclamation plan submitted pursuant to Section 15 of this Act shall not be subject to those standards.

(d) Any permit renewal shall be for a term not to exceed the period of the original permit established by this Act. Application for permit renewal shall be made at least 120 days prior to the expiration of the existing permit.

Contents of Permit Application

Sec. 14. (a) The permit application shall be submitted in a manner satisfactory to the commission and shall contain:

(1) the names and addresses of the applicant, every owner of record of the property to be mined, the holders of record of any leasehold interest in the property, any purchaser of record of the property under a real estate contract, the operator if he is a person different from the applicant, and if any of these are business entities other than a single proprietor, the names and addresses of the principals, officers, and resident agent;

(2) the names and addresses of the owners of record of the property adjoining the permit area;

(3) a statement of any current or previous surface coal mining permits held by the applicant including permit identification, and any pending application;

(4) information concerning ownership and management of the applicant or operator required by the commission in its rules;

(5) a statement of whether the applicant or any subsidiary, affiliate, or other person controlled by or under common control with the applicant has ever held a federal or state mining permit which in the five-year period prior to the date of submission of the application has been suspended or revoked or whether that person has had a mining bond or similar security deposited in lieu of bond forfeited and, if so, a brief explanation of the facts involved;

(6) a copy of an advertisement to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the locality of the proposed site at least once a week for four consecutive weeks, which advertisement shows the ownership and a description of the location and boundaries of the proposed site sufficiently so that the proposed operation is readily locatable, and a statement that the application is available for public inspection at the county courthouse of the county in which the property lies;

(7) a description of the type and method of coal mining operation that exists or is proposed, the engineering techniques proposed or used, and the equipment used or proposed to be used;

(8) the anticipated or actual starting and termination dates of each phase of the mining operation and number of acres of land to be affected;

(9) an accurate map or plan, to an appropriate scale, filed by the applicant with the commission clearly showing the land to be affected as of the date of the application, the area of land within the permit area on which the applicant has the legal right to enter and commence surface mining operations, and those documents on which the applicant bases his legal right to enter and commence surface mining operations on the area affected, and whether that right is the subject of pending court litigation, provided, that nothing in this Act shall be construed as vesting in the commission the jurisdiction to adjudicate property title disputes;

(10) the name of the watershed and location of the surface streams or tributaries into which surface and pit drainage will be discharged;

(11) a determination of the probable hydrologic consequences of the mining and reclamation operation, if any, both on and off the mine site, with respect to the hydrologic regime, quantity and quality of water in surface and ground water systems, including the dissolved and suspended solids under seasonal flow conditions, and sufficient data for the mine site and surrounding areas so that an assessment can be made by the commission of the probable cumulative impacts of all anticipated mining in the area on the hydrology of the area and particularly on water availability; provided, however, that this determination shall not be required until such time as hydrologic information on the general area prior to mining is made available from an appropriate state agency; provided further, that the permit shall not be approved until the information is available and is incorporated into the application;

(12) when requested by the commission, the published climatological factors that are peculiar to the locality of the land to be affected, including the average seasonal precipitation, the average direction and velocity of prevailing winds, and the seasonal temperature ranges;

(13) a statement of the result of test borings or core samplings from the permit area, including logs of the drill holes; the thickness of the coal seam found, and an analysis of the chemical properties of the coal; the sulfur content of any coal seam; a chemical analysis of any potentially acid forming sections of the overburden; and a chemical analysis of the stratum lying immediately underneath the coal to be mined; and the provisions of this paragraph may be waived by the commission with respect to any particular application by a written determination that the information is unnecessary;

(14) for land in the permit application that a reconnaissance inspection suggests may be prime farmland, a soil survey made or obtained according to standards established by the United States Secretary of Agriculture in order to confirm the exact location of that prime farmland, if any;

(15) a reclamation plan that meets the requirements of this Act;
(16) information pertaining to coal seams, test borings, core samplings, or soil samples as required by this section shall be made available to any person with an interest which is or may be adversely affected; provided, that information which pertains only to the analysis of the chemical and physical properties of the coal, excepting information regarding such mineral or elemental content which is potentially toxic in the environment, shall be kept confidential and not made a matter of public record;

(17) such other data and maps as the commission may require by rule.

(b) Information submitted to the commission concerning mineral deposits, test borings, core samplings, or trade secrets or commercial or financial information relating to the competitive rights of the applicant and specifically identified as confidential by the applicant, if not essential for public review as determined by the commission, shall not be disclosed by any member, agent, or employee of the commission.

Reclamation Plan Requirements

Sec. 15. Each reclamation plan submitted as part of a permit application shall include, in the degree of detail necessary to demonstrate that reclamation required by this Act can be accomplished, a statement of:

(1) identification of land subject to the surface coal mining operation over the estimated life of that operation and the size, sequence, and timing of any subareas for which it is anticipated that individual permits for surface coal mining will be sought;

(2) the condition of the land to be covered by the permit prior to any mining, including:
   (A) the uses existing at the time of the application, and if the land has a history of previous mining, the uses that preceded any mining;
   (B) the capability of the land prior to any mining to support a variety of uses giving consideration to soil and foundation characteristics, topography, and vegetative cover, and if applicable, a soil survey prepared pursuant to Section 14(a)(14) of this Act; and
   (C) the productivity of the land prior to mining, including appropriate classification as prime farmland, and if classified as prime farmland, the average yield of food, fiber, forage, or wood products from the land obtained under high levels of management;

(3) the use that is proposed to be made of the land following reclamation, including a discussion of the utility and capacity of the reclaimed land to support a variety of alternative uses and the relationship of those uses to existing land uses, and the comments of state and local governments or agencies of state or local government which would have to approve or authorize the proposed use of the land following reclamation;

(4) a detailed description of how the proposed postmining land use is to be achieved and the necessary support activities that may be needed to achieve that use;

(5) the engineering techniques proposed to be used in mining and reclamation and a description of the major equipment, a plan for the control of surface water drainage and of water accumulation, a plan, where appropriate, for backfilling, soil stabilization and compacting, grading, and appropriate revegetation, a plan for soil reconstruction, replacement, and stabilization, pursuant to the performance standards in Section 23(b)(7) of this Act for food, forage, and forest land identified in that section, and an estimate of the cost per acre of the reclamation, including a statement as to how the permittee plans to comply with each of the requirements set out in Section 23 of this Act;

(6) the consideration that has been given to maximize the utilization and conservation of the solid fuel resource being recovered so that reffecting the land in the future can be minimized;

(7) an estimated timetable for the accomplishment of each major step in the reclamation plan;

(8) the consideration that has been given to making the surface mining and reclamation operations consistent with surface owner plans and applicable land use plans and programs;

(9) the steps to be taken to comply with applicable air and water quality laws and regulations and any applicable health and safety standards;

(10) the consideration that has been given to developing the reclamation plan in a manner consistent with local, physical, environmental, and climatological conditions;

(11) the results of test borings that the applicant has made at the area to be covered by the permit, or other equivalent information and data in a form satisfactory to the commission, including the location of subsurface water, and an analysis of those chemical properties of the coal and overburden that can be expected to have an adverse effect on the environment;

(12) all land, interests in land, or options on those interests held by the applicant or pending bids on interests in land by the applicant, which land is contiguous to the area to be covered by the permit;

(13) a detailed description of the measures to be taken during the mining and reclamation process to assure the protection of:
   (A) the quality of surface and ground water systems, both on- and off-site, from adverse effects of the mining and reclamation process;
   (B) the rights of present users to such water; and
   (C) the quantity of surface and ground water systems, both on- and off-site, from adverse effects of the mining and reclamation process or to provide alternative sources of water where the protection of quantity cannot be assured;

(14) information submitted to the commission, pursuant to this section, concerning mineral deposits, test borings, core samplings, or trade secrets or commercial or financial information relating to the competitive rights of the applicant and specifically identified as confidential by the applicant, if not essential for public review as determined by the commission, shall not be disclosed by any member, agent, or employee of the commission; provided, however, that information called for in other sections of this Act that must, by the terms of the other sections, be either on public file or available to persons with interests that may be affected, and information about the chemical and physical properties of the coal which relate to mineral or elemental contents that are potentially toxic in the environment, shall not be held to be confidential.

Blasting Plan

Sec. 16. Each applicant for a surface coal mining and reclamation permit shall submit to the commission as a part of its application a blasting plan which shall outline the procedures and standards by which the operator will meet the provisions of Section 23(b)(15).

Public Inspection of Application

Sec. 17. (a) Each applicant for a surface coal mining and reclamation permit shall file a copy of the application for public inspection with the county clerk of the county in which the mining is proposed to occur, except for that information in the application pertaining to the coal seam itself.

(b) Copies of any records, reports, inspection materials, or information obtained under this Act by the commission shall be made immediately available to the public at central and sufficient locations in the county, multicounty, and state area of mining so that they are conveniently available to residents in the areas of mining.

Fee

Sec. 18. (a) Each application for a surface mining permit shall be accompanied by an initial application fee as determined by the commission in accordance with a published fee schedule. The initial application fee shall be based as nearly as possible on the actual or anticipated cost of reviewing the application, but shall not exceed $1,000.

(b) This fee shall be deposited in the state treasury and credited to a special account to the commission and may be spent for the administration and enforcement of this Act.

Small Mine Exemption

Sec. 19. If the commission finds that the probable total annual production at all locations of any surface coal mining operator will not exceed 100,000 tons, the determination of probable hydrologic consequences and statement of the results of test borings or core samplings called for in Section 14 of this Act shall, on the written request of the operator, be performed by a qualified public or private laboratory designated by the commission, and the cost of the preparation of the determination and statement shall be assumed by the commission.

Public Notice of Applications, Hearings, and Appeal

Sec. 20. (a) At the time of submission of any application for a surface coal mining and reclamation permit, or renewal of an existing permit, the applicant's advertisement of ownership, location, and boundaries of the land to be affected shall be placed in a local newspaper of general circulation in the locality of the proposed surface coal mining operation at least once a week for four consecutive weeks. The commission shall notify various local governmental bodies, planning agencies and sewage and water treatment authorities in the locality, of the operator's intention to conduct a surface mining operation indicating the application's number and the county courthouse in which a copy of the proposed surface coal mining and reclamation plan may be inspected. These local bodies, agencies, authorities, or companies may submit written comments within a period established by the commission on the mining applications with respect to the effect of the proposed operation on the environment that is within their area of responsibility. The comments shall immediately be transmitted to the applicant by the commission and shall be made available to the public at the same location as is the mining application.

(b) Any person having an interest that is or may be adversely affected and any federal, state, or local governmental agency or authority are entitled to file written objections to the proposed initial or revised application for a permit for surface coal mining and reclamation operation with the commission within 30 days after the last publication of the notice required by Subsection (a) of this section. Those objections shall immediately be transmitted to the applicant by the commission and shall be made available to the public.

(c) Within 45 days after the last publication of the notice provided in Subsection (a) of this section, the applicant or any person with an interest which is or may be adversely affected may request a hearing on the application. The hearing shall be held within 30 days after the request is received by the commission.

(d) The commission shall publish notice of the date, time, and location of the public hearing in a local newspaper of general circulation in the locality of the proposed surface coal mining operations at least once a week for three consecutive weeks before the scheduled hearing date.

(e) Within the time frame provided by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended, if the public hearing provided by this section occurs, or within 45 days of the last publication of notice of application, if no public hearing is held, the commission shall notify the applicant and any objectors whether the application has been approved or denied.

(f) All provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended, apply to each permit application, and notice, other than that provided for by this section, of hearings and appeals are governed by that statute.

Permit Approval or Denial

Sec. 21. (a) On the basis of a complete application for a surface coal mining and reclamation permit or a revision or renewal of a permit, as required by this Act, the commission shall grant, require modification of, or deny the application for a permit and, within a reasonable time, as set by the commission, notify the applicant in writing. The applicant for a permit or revision of a permit shall have the burden of establishing that his or her application is in compliance with all the requirements of this Act. Within 10 days after the granting of a permit, the commission shall notify the county judge in the county in which the land to be affected is located that a permit has been issued and shall describe the location of the land.

(b) No application for a permit or revision of a permit shall be approved unless the commission finds, in writing, on the basis of the information set forth in the application or from information otherwise available that will be documented in the approval and made available to the applicant, that:

(1) the application is accurate and complete and that it complies with all the requirements of this Act;

(2) the applicant has demonstrated that reclamation as required by this Act can be accomplished under the reclamation plan contained in the application;

(3) an assessment of the probable cumulative impact of all anticipated surface coal mining in the area on the hydrologic balance has been made by the commission, and the proposed operation has been designed to prevent material damage to the hydrologic balance outside the permit area;

(4) the area proposed to be mined is not included within an area designated unsuitable for surface coal mining pursuant to this Act nor is it within an area under study for this designation in an administrative proceeding commenced pursuant to this Act, unless in the area as to which an administrative proceeding has commenced, the applicant demonstrates that, prior to January 1, 1977, he or she has made substantial legal and financial commitments in relation to the operation for which he or she is applying for a permit;

(5) the proposed surface coal mining operation, if located west of the 100th meridian west longitude, would:

(A) not interrupt, discontinue, or preclude farming on alluvial valley floors that are irrigated or naturally subirrigated, excluding undeveloped range land that is not significant to farming on the alluvial valley floors and land on which the commission finds that the farming that will be interrupted, discontinued, or precluded is of such small acreage as to have negligible impact on the farm's agricultural production; or

(B) not materially damage the quantity or quality of water in surface or underground water systems that supply these valley floors. This subsection shall not affect those surface coal mining operations that in the year preceding the enactment of this Act produced coal in commercial quantities and were located within or adjacent to alluvial valley floors or had obtained specific permit approval by the commission to conduct surface coal mining operations within the alluvial valley floors;

(6) in cases where the ownership of the coal has been severed from the private surface estate, the applicant has submitted to the commission:

(A) the written consent of the surface owner to the extraction of coal by surface mining methods;

(B) a conveyance that expressly grants or reserves the right to extract the coal by surface mining methods; or

(C) if the conveyance does not expressly grant the right to extract coal by surface mining methods, the surface-subsurface legal relationship shall be determined in accordance with state law; provided, that nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize the commission to adjudicate property rights disputes.

(c) The applicant shall file, with his or her application, a schedule listing any and all notices of violations of this Act and any law, rule, or regulation of the United States, or the State of Texas, or of any department or agency in the United States pertaining to air or water environmental protection incurred by the applicant in connection with any surface coal mining operation within the state during the three-year period prior to the date of application, and shall include in the schedule, the final resolution of notice of violation. If the schedule or other information available to the commission indicates that any surface coal mining operation owned or controlled by the applicant is currently in violation of this Act or other laws referred to in this subsection, the permit shall not be issued until the applicant submits proof that the violation has been corrected or is in the process of being corrected to the satisfaction of the commission, department, or agency that has jurisdiction over the violation or that the notice of violation is being contested by the applicant, and no permit shall be issued to any applicant after a finding by the commission, after opportunity for hearing, that the applicant, or the operator specified in the application, controls or has controlled mining operations with a demonstrated pattern of willful violations of this Act of such nature and duration with such resulting irreparable damage to the environment as to indicate an intent not to comply with this Act.

(d) In addition to finding the application in compliance with Subsection (b) of this section, if the area proposed to be mined contains prime farmland, the commission shall, after consultation with the secretary, and pursuant to regulations issued pursuant to the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), by the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Interior with the concurrence of the secretary, grant a permit to mine on prime farmland, if the commission finds in writing that the operator has the technological capability to restore the mined area, within a reasonable time, to equivalent or higher levels of yield as nonmined prime farmland in the surrounding area under equivalent levels of management, and also finds that the applicant can meet the soil reconstruction standards of the Act. Except for compliance with Subsection (b) of this section, the requirements of this paragraph shall apply to all permits issued after August 3, 1977. Nothing in this subsection shall apply to any permit issued prior to August 3, 1977, or to any revisions or renewals of a permit, or to any existing surface mining operations for which a permit was issued prior to that date.

Revision and Transfer of Permits

Sec. 22. (a) During the term of a permit, the permittee may submit an application for a revision of the permit, together with a revised reclamation plan, to the commission. An application for a revision of a permit shall not be approved unless the commission finds that reclamation as required by this Act can be accomplished under the revised reclamation plan. The revision shall be approved or disapproved within 90 days. The commission shall establish guidelines for determination of the scale or extent of a revision request for which all permit application information requirements and procedures, including notice and hearings, shall apply; however, any revisions that propose significant alterations in the reclamation plan shall, at a minimum, be subject to notice and hearing requirements. Any extensions of the area covered by the permit except incidental boundary revisions must be made by application for another permit.

(b) No transfer, assignment, or sale of the rights granted under any permit issued pursuant to this Act shall be made without the written approval of the commission.

(c) The commission shall, within a time limit prescribed by rule, review outstanding permits and may require reasonable revision or modification of the permit provisions during the terms of the permit. Any revision or modification shall be based on a written finding and subject to the provisions of notice and hearing contained in the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended.

Performance Standards

Sec. 23. (a) A permit issued under this Act to conduct surface coal mining operations shall require that the operations meet all applicable performance standards of this Act.

(b) Performance standards applicable to all surface coal mining and reclamation operations that are not exempt or excluded shall require the operator to:

(1) conduct surface coal mining operations so as to maximize the utilization and conservation of the solid fuel resource being recovered so that reaffecting the land in the future through surface coal mining can be minimized;

(2) restore the land affected to a condition capable of supporting the uses that it was capable of supporting prior to any mining, or higher or better uses of which there is reasonable likelihood, so long as the use or uses do not present any actual or probable hazard to public health or safety or pose any actual or probable threat of water diminution or pollution, and the permit applicants' declared proposed land use following reclamation is not deemed to be impractical or unreasonable, inconsistent with applicable land use policies and plans, involves unreasonable delay in implementation, or is violative of federal, state or local law;

(3) except as provided in Subsection (c) of this section, with respect to all surface coal mining operations, backfill, compact, where advisable to insure stability or to prevent leaching of toxic materials, and grade in order to restore the approximate original contour of the land with all highwalls, spoil piles, and depressions eliminated, unless small depressions are needed in order to retain moisture to assist revegetation or as otherwise authorized pursuant to this Act; provided, however, that in surface coal mining that is carried out at the same location over a substantial period of time where the operation transects the coal deposit, and the thickness of the coal deposits relative to the volume of the overburden is large and where the operator demonstrates that the overburden and other spoil and waste materials at a particular point in the permit area or otherwise available from the entire permit area is insufficient, giving due consideration to volumetric expansion to restore the approximate original contour, the operator, at a minimum, shall backfill, grade, and compact, where advisable, using all available overburden and other spoil and waste materials to attain the lowest practicable grade but not more than the angle of repose, to provide adequate drainage and to cover all acid-forming and other toxic materials, in order to achieve an ecologically sound land use compatible with the surrounding region; and provided further, that in surface coal mining, where the volume of overburden is large relative to the thickness of the coal deposit and where the operator demonstrates that due to volumetric expansion the amount of overburden and other spoil and waste materials removed in the course of the mining operation is more than sufficient to restore the approximate original contour, the operator shall, after restoring the approximate contour, backfill, grade, and compact, where advisable, the excess overburden and other spoil and waste materials to attain the lowest grade but not more than the angle of repose, and to cover all acid-forming and other toxic materials, in order to achieve an ecologically sound land use compatible with the surrounding region and that the overburden or spoil shall be shaped and graded in such a way as to prevent slides, erosion, and water pollution and is revegetated in accordance with the requirements of this Act;

(4) stabilize and protect all surface areas, including spoil piles affected by the surface coal mining and reclamation operation, to effectively control erosion and attendant air and water pollution;

(5) remove the topsoil from the land in a separate layer, replace it on the backfill area, or if not utilized immediately, segregate it in a separate pile from other spoil and when the topsoil is not replaced on a backfill area within a time short enough to avoid deterioration of the topsoil, maintain a successful cover by quick growing plant or other means thereafter so that the topsoil is preserved from wind and water erosion, remains free of any contamination by other acid or toxic material, and is in a usable condition for sustaining vegetation when restored during reclamation, except if topsoil is of insufficient quantity or of poor quality for sustaining vegetation requirements, or if other strata can be shown to be more suitable for vegetation requirements, then the operator shall remove, segregate, and preserve in a like manner the other strata that are best able to support vegetation;

(6) restore the topsoil or the best available subsoil which is best able to support vegetation;

(7) for all prime farmland to be mined and reclaimed, specifications for soil removal, storage, replacement, and reconstruction shall be established by the secretary, and the operator shall, as a minimum, be required to:

(A) segregate the A horizon of the natural soil, except where it can be shown that other available soil materials will create a final soil having a greater productive capacity, and if not utilized immediately, stockpile this material separately from other spoil, and provide needed protection from wind and water erosion or contamination by other acid or toxic materials;

(B) segregate the B horizon of the natural soil, or underlying C horizons or other strata, or a combination of those horizons or other strata that are shown to be both texturally and chemically suitable for plant growth and that can be shown to be equally or more favorable for plant growth than the B horizon, in sufficient quantities to create in the regraded final soil a root zone of comparable depth and quality to that which existed in the natural soil, and if not utilized immediately, stockpile this material separately from other spoil, and provide needed protection from wind and water erosion or contamination by other acid or toxic material, and the commission may authorize the permittee to:

(i) remove all soil and overburden in one step;

(ii) store all the soil and overburden in one stockpile; and

(iii) commence reclamation by replacing and grading the stockpile material, all without regard to soil horizons, on proper documentation supporting the use of this mining technique to obtain equivalent or higher yields as on surrounding nonmined soil of the same type;

(C) replace and regrade the root zone material described in Subsection (b)(7)(B) of this section with proper compaction and uniform depth over the regraded spoil material; and

(D) redistribute and grade in a uniform manner the surface soil horizon described in Subsection (b)(7)(A) of this section;

(8) create, if authorized in the approved mining and reclamation plan and permit, permanent impoundments of water on mining sites as part of reclamation activities only when it is adequately demonstrated that:

(A) the size of the impoundment is adequate for its intended purposes;

(B) the impoundment dam construction will be designed so as to achieve necessary stability with an adequate margin of safety compatible with that of structures constructed under the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act, 16 U.S.C. 1006 (1954);

(C) the quantity of impounded water will be suitable on a permanent basis for its intended use and that discharges from the impoundment will not degrade the water quality below water quality standards established pursuant to applicable federal and state law in the receiving stream;

(D) the level of water will be reasonably stable;

(E) final grading will provide adequate safety and access for proposed water users; and

(F) the water impoundments will not result in the diminution of the quality or quantity of water utilized by adjacent or surrounding landowners for agricultural, industrial, recreational, or domestic uses;
(9) conduct any augering operation associated with surface mining in a manner to maximize recoverability of coal reserves remaining after the operation and reclamation are complete, and seal all auger holes with an impervious and noncombustible material in order to prevent drainage except where the commission determines that the resulting impoundment of water in the auger holes may create a hazard to the environment or the public health or safety; provided, that the commission may prohibit augering if necessary to maximize the utilization, recoverability, or conservation of the solid fuel resources or to protect against adverse water quality impacts;

(10) minimize the disturbances to the prevailing hydrologic balance at the mine site in associated offsite areas and to the quality and quantity of water in surface and ground water systems both during and after surface coal mining operations and during reclamation by:

A) avoiding acid or other toxic mine drainage by such measures as, but not limited to:

(i) preventing or removing water from contact with toxic-producing deposits;

(ii) treating drainage to reduce toxic content that adversely affects downstream water on being released to water courses; or

(iii) casing, sealing, or otherwise managing boreholes, shafts, and wells and keeping acid or other toxic drainage from entering surface water and ground water;

B) conducting surface coal mining operations so as to prevent, to the extent possible using the best technology currently available, additional contributions of suspended solids to streamflow or runoff outside the permit area, but in no event shall contributions be in excess of requirements set by applicable state or federal law;

(ii) constructing any siltation structures pursuant to Subsection (b)(10)(B)(i) of this section prior to commencement of surface coal mining operations, these structures to be certified by a qualified registered engineer to be constructed as designed and as approved in the reclamation plan;

C) cleaning out and removing temporary or large settling ponds or other siltation structures from drainways after disturbed areas are revegetated and stabilized, and depositing the silt and debris at a site and in a manner approved by the commission;

D) restoring recharge capacity of the mined area to approximate premining conditions;

E) avoiding channel deepening or enlargement in operations requiring the discharge of water from mines;

F) preserving throughout the mining and reclamation process the essential hydrologic functions of alluvial valley floors in the arid and semiarid areas of the country; and

G) other actions as the commission may prescribe;

(11) with respect to surface disposal of mine wastes, tailings, coal processing wastes, and other wastes in areas other than the mine working or excavations, stabilize all waste piles in designated areas through construction in compacted layers including the use of incombustible and impervious materials, if necessary, and assure the final contour of the waste pile will be compatible with natural surroundings and that the site can and will be stabilized and revegetated according to the provisions of this Act;

(12) refrain from surface coal mining within 500 feet from active and abandoned underground mines in order to prevent breakthroughs and to protect health or safety of miners; provided, that the commission shall permit an operator to mine near, through, or partially through an abandoned underground mine or closer to an active underground mine if the nature, timing, and sequencing of the approximate coincidence of specific surface mine activities with specific underground mine activities are jointly approved by the regulatory authorities concerned with surface mine regulation and the health and safety of underground miners, and the operations will result in improved resource recovery, abatement of water pollution, or elimination of hazards to the health and safety of the public;

(13) design, locate, construct, operate, maintain, enlarge, modify, and remove or abandon, in accordance with the standards and criteria developed pursuant to commission rule, all existing and new coal mine waste piles, consisting of mine wastes, tailings, coal processing wastes, or other liquid and solid wastes, and used either temporarily or permanently as dams or embankments;

(14) insure that all debris, acid-forming materials, toxic materials, or materials constituting a fire hazard are treated or buried and compacted or otherwise disposed of in a manner designed to prevent contamination of surface water or ground water and that contingency plans are developed to prevent sustained combustion;

(15) insure that explosives are used only in accordance with existing state and federal law and the regulations promulgated by the commission, which shall include provisions to:

A) provide adequate advance written notice to local governments and residents who might be affected by the use of the explosives, by publication of the planned blasting schedule in a newspaper of general circulation in the locality and by mailing a copy of the proposed blasting schedule to every resident living within one-half mile of the proposed blasting site and by providing daily notice to resident/occupiers in the areas prior to any blasting;
(B) maintain for a period of at least three years and make available for public inspection on request, a log detailing the location of the blasts, the pattern and depth of the drill holes, the amount of explosives used per hole, and the order and length of delay in the blasts;

(C) limit the type of explosives and detonating equipment, the size, the timing, and frequency of blasts based upon the physical conditions of the site so as to prevent injury to persons, damage to public and private property outside the permit area, adverse impacts on any underground mine, and change in the course, channel, or availability of ground or surface water outside the permit area;

(D) require that all blasting operations be conducted by trained and competent persons as certified by the commission;

(E) provide that on the request of a resident or owner of a man-made dwelling or structure within one-half mile of any portion of the permitted area, the applicant or permittee shall conduct a preblasting survey of the structures and submit the survey to the commission and a copy to the resident or owner making the request, the area of the survey shall be decided by the commission;

(16) insure that all reclamation efforts proceed in an environmentally sound manner and as contemporaneously as practicable with the surface coal mining operations; provided, however, that if the applicant proposes to combine surface mining operations with underground mining operations to assure maximum practical recovery of the coal resources, the commission may grant a variance for specific areas within the reclamation plan from the requirement that reclamation efforts proceed as contemporaneously as practicable to permit underground mining operations prior to reclamation:

(A) if the commission finds in writing that:

(i) the applicant has presented, as part of the permit application, specific, feasible plans for the proposed underground mining operations;

(ii) the proposed underground mining operations are necessary or desirable to assure maximum practical recovery of the coal resource and will avoid multiple disturbance of the surface;

(iii) the applicant has satisfactorily demonstrated that the plan for the underground mining operations conforms to requirements for underground mining in the jurisdiction and that permits necessary for the underground mining operations have been issued by the appropriate authority;

(iv) the areas proposed for the variance have been shown by the applicant to be necessary for implementing the proposed underground mining operations;

(v) no substantial adverse environmental damage, either on-site or off-site, will result from the delay in completion of reclamation as required by this Act;

(vi) provisions for the offsite storage of spoil will comply with Subsection (b)(22) of this section;

(B) if the commission has promulgated specific regulations to govern the granting of the variances in accordance with the provisions of this subsection, and has imposed the additional requirements it deems necessary;

(C) if variances granted under the provisions of this subsection are to be reviewed by the commission not more than three years from the date of issuance of the permit; and

(D) if liability under the bond filed by the applicant with the commission pursuant to Section 25(b) of this Act is for the duration of the underground mining operations and until the requirements of Sections 23(b) and 26 of this Act have been fully complied with;

(17) insure that the construction, maintenance, and postmining conditions of access roads into and across the site of operations will control or prevent erosion and siltation, pollution of water, damage to fish or wildlife or their habitat, or public or private property;

(18) refrain from the construction of roads or other access ways up a stream bed or drainage channel or in such proximity to the channel as to seriously alter the normal flow of water;

(19) establish on the regraded areas, and all other land affected, a diverse, effective, and permanent vegetative cover of the same seasonally native to the area or land to be affected and capable of self-regeneration and plant succession at least equal in extent of cover to the natural vegetation of the area, except, that introduced species may be used in the revegetation process where desirable and necessary to achieve the approved postmining land use plan;

(20) assume the responsibility for successful re-vegetation, as required by Subsection (b)(19) of this section, for a period of five full years after the last year of augmented seeding, fertilizing, irrigation, or other work in order to assure compliance with Subsection (b)(19) of this section, except in those areas or regions of the state where the annual average precipitation is 26 inches or less, then the operator's assumption of responsibility and liability will extend for a period of 10 full years after the last year of augmented seeding, fertilizing, irrigation, or other work; provided, that if the commission approves a long-term intensive agricultural postmining land use, the applicable 5- or 10-year period of responsibility for re-vegetation shall commence at the date of initial planting for the long-term intensive agricultural postmining land use; provided further, that if the commission issues a written finding approving a long-term intensive, agricultural, postmining land use as part of the mining and reclamation plan, the commission may grant exception to the provisions of Subsection (b)(19) of this section;

(21) protect off-site areas from slides or damage occurring during the surface coal mining and reclamation operations, and not deposit spoil material or locate any part of the operations or waste accumulations outside the permit area;

(22) place all excess spoil material resulting from coal surface mining and reclamation activities in such a manner that:

A spoil is transported and placed in a controlled manner in position for concurrent compaction and in such a way to assure mass stability and to prevent mass movement;

(B) the areas of disposal are within the bonded permit areas and all organic matter shall be removed immediately prior to spoil placement;

(C) appropriate surface and internal drainage systems and diversion ditches are used so as to prevent spoil erosion and movement;

(D) the disposal area does not contain springs, natural water courses, or wet weather seeps unless lateral drains are constructed from the wet areas to the main underdrains in such a manner that filtration of the water into the spoil pile will be prevented;

(E) if placed on a slope, the spoil is placed on the most moderate slope, among those on which, in the judgment of the commission, the spoil could be placed in compliance with all the requirements of this Act, and shall be placed, where possible, on or above a natural terrace, bench, or berm, if the placement provides additional stability and prevents mass movement;

(F) where the toe of the spoil rests on a downslope, a rock toe buttress of sufficient size to prevent mass movement is constructed;

(G) the final configuration is compatible with the natural drainage pattern and surroundings and suitable for intended uses;

(H) design of the spoil disposal area is certified by a qualified registered professional engineer in conformance with professional standards; and

(I) all other provisions of this Act are met;

(23) meet other criteria necessary to achieve reclamation in accordance with the purposes of this Act, taking into consideration the physical, climatological, and other characteristics of the site;

(24) to the extent possible, using the best technology currently available, minimize disturbance and adverse impacts of the operation on fish, wildlife, and related environmental values, and achieve enhancement of those resources where practicable; and

(25) provide for an undisturbed natural barrier beginning at the elevation of the lowest coal seam to be mined and extending from the outslope for the distance the commission determines shall be retained in place as a barrier to slides and erosion.

(c)(1) The commission, by rule, shall include procedures pursuant to which it may permit surface mining operations for the purposes set forth in Subdivision (3) of this subsection.

(2) If an applicant meets the requirements of Subdivisions (3) and (4) of this subsection, a permit, without regard to the requirement to restore to approximate original contour set forth in Subsection (b)(3) or (d)(2) and (3) of this section, may, be granted for the surface mining of coal where the mining operation will remove an entire coal seam or seams running through the upper fraction of a mountain, ridge, or hill, except as provided in Subsection (c)(4)(A) of this section, by removing all of the overburden and creating a level plateau or a gently rolling contour with no highwalls remaining, and capable of supporting postmining uses in accord with the requirements of this subsection.

(3) In cases where an industrial, commercial, agricultural, residential, or public facility, including recreational facilities, use is proposed for the postmining use of affected land, the commission may grant a permit for a surface mining operation of the nature described in Subsection (c)(2) of this section where:

A after consultation with the appropriate land use planning agencies, if any, the proposed postmining land use is deemed to constitute an equal or better economic or public use of the affected land, as compared with premining use;

B the applicant presents specific plans for the proposed postmining land use and appropriate assurances that the use will be:

(i) compatible with adjacent land uses;

(ii) obtainable according to data regarding expected need and market;

(iii) assured of investment in necessary public facilities;

(iv) supported by commitments from public agencies, where appropriate;

(v) practicable with respect to private financial capability for completion of the proposed use;

(vi) planned pursuant to a schedule attached to the reclamation plan so as to integrate the mining operation and reclamation with the postmining land use; and

(vii) designed by a registered engineer in conformance with professional standards established to assure the stability, drainage, and configuration necessary for the intended use of the site;
(C) the proposed use would be consistent with adjacent land uses and existing state and local land use plans and programs;

(D) the commission provides the county in which the land is located and any state or federal agency which the commission, in its discretion, determines to have an interest in the proposed use, an opportunity of not more than 60 days to review and comment on the proposed use; and

(E) all other requirements of this Act are met.

(4) In granting any permit pursuant to this subsection, the commission shall require that:

(A) the toe of the lowest coal seam and the overburden associated with it are retained in place as a barrier to slides and erosion;

(B) the reclaimed area is stable;

(C) the resulting plateau or rolling contour drains inward from the outslopes except at specified points;

(D) no damage will be done to natural watercourses;

(E) spoil will be placed on the mountaintop bench as is necessary to achieve the planned postmining land use; provided, that all excess spoil material not retained on the mountaintop shall be placed in accordance with the provisions of Subsection (b)(22) of this section;

(F) insure stability of the spoil retained on the mountaintop and meet the other requirements of this Act.

(5) The commission shall promulgate specific rules to govern the granting of permits in accord with the provisions of this subsection and may impose additional requirements it deems to be necessary.

(6) All permits granted under this subsection shall be reviewed not more than three years from the date of issuance of the permit, unless the applicant affirmatively demonstrates that the proposed development is proceeding in accordance with the terms of the approved schedule and reclamation plan.

(d) The following performance standards shall be applicable to steep slope surface coal mining and shall be in addition to those general performance standards required by this section; provided, however, that the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to those situations in which an operator is mining on flat or gently rolling terrain, on which an occasional steep slope is encountered through which the mining operations are to proceed, leaving a plain or predominantly flat area or where an operator is in compliance with provisions of Subsection (e) of this section:

(1) the operator shall insure that when performing surface coal mining on steep slopes, no debris, abandoned or disabled equipment, spoil material, or waste mineral matter be placed on the downslope below the bench or mining cut; provided, that spoil material in excess of that required for the reconstruction of the approximate original contour under the provisions of Subsection (b)(3) or (d)(2) of this section shall be permanently stored pursuant to Subsection (b)(22) of this section;

(2) complete backfilling with spoil material shall be required to cover completely the highwall and return the site to the appropriate original contour, which material will maintain stability following mining and reclamation;

(3) the operator may not disturb land above the top of the highwall unless the commission finds that the disturbances will facilitate compliance with the environmental protection standards of this section; provided, however, that the land disturbed above the highwall shall be limited to that amount necessary to facilitate the compliance;

(4) for the purposes of this subsection, the term "steep slope" is any slope above 20 degrees or such lesser slope as may be determined by the commission after consideration of soil, climate, or other characteristics of a region or state.

(e)(1) The commission, by rule, shall include procedures pursuant to which it may permit variances for the purposes set forth in Subdivision (3) of this subsection, provided that the watershed control of the area is improved; and further provided complete backfilling with spoil material shall be required to cover completely the highwall, which material will maintain stability following mining and reclamation.

(2) Where an applicant meets the requirements of Subdivisions (3) and (4) of this subsection, a variance from the requirement to restore to approximate original contour set forth in Subsection (d)(2) of this section may be granted for the surface mining of coal where the owner of the surface knowingly requests in writing, as part of the permit application, that the variance be granted so as to render the land, after reclamation, suitable for an industrial, commercial, residential, or public use, including recreational facilities, in accord with the further provisions of Subdivisions (3) and (4) of this subsection;

(3) After consultation with the appropriate land use planning agencies, if any, if the potential use of the affected land:

(A) is deemed to constitute an equal or better economic or public use;

(B) is designed and certified by a qualified registered professional engineer in conformance with professional standards established to assure the stability, drainage, and configuration necessary for the intended use of the site; and

(C) is approved by the appropriate state environmental agencies, the watershed of the affected land is deemed to be improved;
Art. 5920-11

MINES AND MINING

(4) In granting a variance pursuant to this subsection, the commission shall require that only those amounts of spoil will be placed off the mine bench as is necessary to achieve the planned post-mining land use, insure stability of the spoil retained on the bench, meet all other requirements of this Act, and all spoil placement off the mine bench must comply with Subsection (b)(22) of this section.

(5) The commission shall promulgate specific rules to govern the granting of variances in accord with the provisions of this subsection, and may impose any additional requirements it deems to be necessary.

(6) All exceptions granted under the provisions of this subsection shall be reviewed not more than three years from the date of issuance of the permit, unless the permittee affirmatively demonstrates that the proposed development is proceeding in accordance with the terms of the reclamation plan.

Punctuation so in enrolled bill.

Public Liability Insurance

Sec. 24. Each applicant for a permit shall submit to the commission, as part of each permit application, a certificate satisfactory to the commission that the applicant has a public liability insurance policy in force for the surface coal mining and reclamation operation for which the permit is sought, or evidence satisfactory to the commission that the applicant should be allowed to be self-insured. The policy shall provide for personal injury and property damage protection in an amount adequate to compensate any persons damaged as a result of the surface coal mining and reclamation operations including the use of explosives, and entitled to compensation under state law. The policy shall be maintained in full force and effect during the terms of the permit or any renewal, including all reclamation operations.

Performance Bond

Sec. 25. (a) After a surface coal mining and reclamation permit application has been approved but before the permit is issued, the applicant shall file with the commission, on a form prescribed and furnished by the commission, a bond for performance payable to the State of Texas and conditioned on faithful performance of all requirements of this Act and the permit. The bond shall cover that area of land within the permit area on which the applicant will initiate and conduct surface coal mining and reclamation operations within the initial term of the permit. As succeeding increments of surface coal mining and reclamation operations are initiated and conducted within the permit area the permittee shall provide an additional bond or bonds to cover those increments. The amount of the bond required for each bonded area shall reflect the probable difficulty of the reclamation giving consideration to such factors as topography, geology of the site, hydrology, and revegetation potential, and shall be determined by the commission. The amount of the bond shall be sufficient to assure the completion of the reclamation plan if the work had to be performed by the commission in the event of forfeiture, and in no case shall the bond for the entire area under one permit be less than $10,000.

(b) Liability under the bond shall be for the duration of the surface coal mining and reclamation operation and for a period coincident with applicant's responsibility for revegetation. The bond shall be executed by the applicant and a corporate surety licensed to do business in Texas except that the applicant may elect to deposit cash, negotiable bonds of the United States government or the state, or negotiable certificates of deposit of any bank organized or transacting business in the United States, as security for the performance of his or her obligations under the bond. The cash deposit or market value of the securities shall be equal to or greater than the amount of the bond required for the bonded area.

(c) The commission may accept the bond of the applicant without separate surety when the applicant demonstrates to the satisfaction of the commission the existence of a suitable and continuous operation sufficient for authorization to self-insure or bond such amount, or in lieu of the establishment of a bonding program as set forth in this section, the commission may approve an alternative system that will achieve the objectives and purposes of the bonding program pursuant to this section.

(d) The amount of the bond or deposit required and the terms of each acceptance of the applicant's bond shall be adjusted by the commission from time to time as affected land acreages are increased or decreased or where the cost of future reclamation changes.

Release of Bonds or Deposits

Sec. 26. (a) The permittee may file a request with the commission for the release of all or part of a performance bond or deposit. Within 30 days after any application for bond or deposit release has been filed with the commission, the permittee shall submit a copy of an advertisement placed at least once a week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the locality of the surface coal mining operation. The advertisement shall be considered part of any bond release application and shall contain a notification of the precise location of the land affected, the number of acres, the permit and the date approved, the amount of the bond filed and the portion sought to be released, the type and appropriate dates of reclamation work performed, and a description of the results achieved as they relate to the permittee's reclamation plan. In addition, as part of any bond release application, the applicant shall submit copies of letters which he or she has sent to adjoining property owners, local governmental bodies, planning agencies, and sewage and water treatment authorities in the locality, as the commission may direct, notifying them of his intention to seek release from the bond.

(b) On receipt of the notification and request, the commission shall within 30 days conduct an inspection and evaluation of the reclamation work involved. The evaluation shall consider, among other things, the degree of difficulty to complete any remaining reclamation, whether pollution of surface and subsurface water is occurring, the probability of continuance of future occurrence of the pollution, and the estimated cost of abating the pollution. The commission shall notify the permittee, in writing, of its decision to release or not to release all or part of the performance bond or deposit within 60 days from the filing of the request, if no public hearing is held, and if there has been a public hearing, within 30 days after the hearing.

(c) The commission may release the bond or deposit in whole or in part if it is satisfied the reclamation covered by the bond or deposit or portion of the reclamation has been accomplished as required by this Act according to the following schedule:

1. If the permittee completes the backfilling, regrading, and drainage control of a bonded area in accordance with the reclamation plan, the release of 60 percent of the bond or collateral for the applicable permit area;
2. After revegetation has been established on the regraded mined lands in accordance with the reclamation plan, when determining the amount of bond to be released after successful revegetation has been established, the commission shall retain the amount of the bond for the revegetated area that is sufficient for a third party to establish responsibility in Section 23(b)(20) of this Act. No part of the bond or deposit shall be released under this paragraph so long as the land to which the release would be applicable is contributing suspended solids to streamflow or runoff outside the permit area in excess of the requirements by Section 23(b)(10) of this Act or until soil productivity for prime farmland has returned to equivalent levels of yield as nonmined land of the same soil type in the surrounding area under equivalent management practices as determined from the soil survey performed pursuant to Section 14(a)(14) of this Act; where a silt dam is to be retained as a permanent impoundment pursuant to Section 23(b)(8) of this Act, the portion of bond may be released under this subdivision so long as provisions for sound future maintenance have been made with the commission;
3. When the permittee has successfully completed all surface coal mining and reclamation activities, the release of the remaining portion of the bond, but not before the expiration of the period specified for permittee responsibility in Section 23(b)(20) of this Act; however, no bond shall be fully released until all reclamation requirements of this Act are fully met.

(d) If the commission disapproves the application for release of the bond or a portion of the bond, it shall notify the permittee, in writing, stating the reasons for disapproval and recommending corrective actions necessary to secure said release and allowing opportunity for a public hearing.

(e) When an application for total or partial bond release is filed with the commission, it shall notify the county judge of any county in which the surface coal mining operation is located by certified mail at least 30 days prior to the release of all or a portion of the bond.

(f) Any person with a valid legal interest that might be adversely affected by release of the bond or the responsible officer or head of any federal, state, or local governmental agency that has jurisdiction by law or special expertise with respect to any environmental, social, or economic involvement in the operation, or is authorized to develop and enforce environmental standards with respect to the operations, is entitled to file written objections to the proposed release from bond with the commission within 30 days after the last publication of the notice. If written objections are filed and a hearing requested, the commission shall inform all the interested parties of the time and place of the hearing and hold the hearing in the locality of the surface coal mining operation or at the state capital at the option of the objector, within 30 days of the request for such hearing. The date, time, and location of such public hearings shall be advertised by the commission in a newspaper of general circulation in the locality for two consecutive weeks and the public hearing and any appeal shall be conducted pursuant to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended.

Coal Exploration Permits

Sec. 27. (a) Coal exploration operations that substantially disturb the natural land surface shall be conducted in accordance with rules issued by the commission. The rules shall include, at a minimum, the requirement that prior to conducting the exploration, a person must file with the commission notice of intent to explore and the notice shall include a description of the exploration area and the period of proposed exploration, and provisions for reclamation in accordance with the performance standards in Section 23 of this Act of all lands disturbed in exploration, including excavations, roads, drill holes, and the removal of necessary facilities and equipment.

(b) Information submitted to the commission pursuant to this section as confidential concerning trade secrets or privileged commercial or financial information that relates to the competitive rights of the person intending to explore the described area shall not be available for public examination.

(c) Any person who conducts any coal exploration operations that substantially disturb the natural land surface in violation of this section or the rules issued pursuant to this section shall be subject to the provisions of Section 30 of this Act.

(d) No operator shall remove more than 250 tons of coal pursuant to an exploration permit without the specific written approval of the commission.

Surface Effects of Underground Mining

Sec. 28. The commission shall adopt rules applicable to the surface effects of underground mining that are consistent with the requirements of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), and regulations adopted pursuant to that statute by the Secretary of Interior of the United States. The provisions of this Act, including but not limited to those provisions relating to a permit application, a reclamation plan, a performance bond, and administrative or judicial review, also apply to the regulation of the surface effects of underground mining operations as established in Section 516 of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977).

Inspection and Monitoring

Sec. 29. (a) The commission shall require such monitoring and reporting, shall have made such inspections of any surface coal mining and reclamation operations, shall require the maintenance of such signs and markers, and shall take other actions as are necessary to administer, enforce, and evaluate the administration of this Act and to meet the state program requirements of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977), and for such purposes, the commission or authorized representative shall, without advance notice and on presentation of appropriate credentials, have a right of entry to any surface coal mining and reclamation operation or any premises in which any records required to be maintained are located, and may at reasonable times, without delay, have access to and copy any records and inspect any monitoring equipment and method of operation required under this Act or the rules issued pursuant to this Act.

(b) Each inspector, on detection of each violation of any requirement of this Act, shall forthwith inform the operator in writing, and shall report in writing the violation to the commission.

(c) For those surface coal mining and reclamation operations that remove or disturb strata that serve as aquifers which significantly insure the hydrologic balance of water use either on or off the mining site, the commission shall specify:

(1) monitoring sites to record the quantity and quality of surface drainage above and below the minesite as well as in the potential zone of influence;
(2) monitoring sites to record level, amount, and samples of ground water and aquifers potentially affected by the mining and also directly below the lowermost, deepest, coal seam to be mined;
(3) records of well logs and boreholes data to be maintained; and

(4) monitoring sites to record precipitation.

(d) The commission shall issue rules that provide for informing the operator of violations detected by an inspector and for making public all inspection and monitoring reports and other records and reports required to be kept pursuant to this Act and the rules issued pursuant to this Act.

(e) The inspections by the commission shall:

(1) occur on an irregular basis averaging not less than one partial inspection per month and one complete inspection per calendar quarter for the surface coal mining and reclamation operation covered by each permit;
(2) occur without prior notice to the permittee or his agents or employees except for necessary on-site meetings with the permittee; and
(3) include the filing of inspection reports adequate to enforce the requirements of and to carry out the terms and purposes of this Act.

(f) No employee of the commission performing any function or duty under this Act shall have a direct or indirect financial interest in any underground or surface coal mining operation. Whoever knowingly violates the provisions of this subsection shall, on conviction, be punished by a fine of not more than $2,500, or by imprisonment of not more than one year, or by both.

Penalties

Sec. 30. (a) Any permittee or person who violates any permit condition or any provision of this Act may be assessed a civil penalty by the commission. If the violation leads to the issuance of a cessation order, a civil penalty must be assessed. The penalty shall not exceed $5,000 for each violation. Each day a violation continues may be deemed a separate violation for purposes of penalty assessments. In determining the amount of the penalty, consideration shall be given to the permittee’s history of previous violations at the particular surface coal mining operation, the seriousness of the violation, including any irreparable harm to the environment and any hazard to the health or safety of the public, whether the permittee or person was negligent, and the demonstrated good faith of the permittee or person charged in attempting to achieve rapid compliance after notification of the violation.

(b) A civil penalty shall be assessed only after the person charged with a violation described under Subsection (a) of this section has been given an opportunity for a public hearing. Where the public hearing has been held, the commission shall make findings of fact, and it shall issue a written decision as to the occurrence of the violation and the amount of the penalty that is warranted, incorporating, when appropriate, an order requiring that the penalty be paid. When appropriate the commission shall consolidate the hearings with other proceedings under Section 32 of this Act. Any hearing under this section shall be of record and shall be subject to the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended. Where the person charged with the violation fails to avail himself or herself of the opportunity for a public hearing, a civil penalty shall be assessed by the commission after it has determined that a violation did occur, and the amount of the penalty which is warranted. The commission shall then issue an order requiring that the penalty be paid.

(c) On the issuance of a notice or order charging that a violation of the Act has occurred, the commission shall inform the permittee and any other person charged within 30 days of the proposed amount of the penalty. The person charged with the penalty shall then have 30 days to pay the proposed penalty in full or, if the person wishes to contest either the amount of the penalty or the fact of the violation, forward the proposed amount to the commission for placement in an escrow account. If through administrative or judicial review of the proposed penalty it is determined that no violation occurred or that the amount of the penalty should be reduced, the commission shall, within 30 days, remit the appropriate amount to the person, with interest at the prevailing United States Department of the Treasury rate. Failure to forward the money to the commission within 30 days shall result in a waiver of all legal rights to contest the violation or the amount of the penalty.

(d) Civil penalties owed under this Act may be recovered in a civil action brought by the attorney general at the request of the commission.

(e) Any person who wilfully and knowingly violates a condition of a permit issued pursuant to this Act or fails or refuses to comply with any order issued under this Act, or any order incorporated in a final decision issued by the commission under this Act, except an order incorporated in a decision issued under Subsection (b) of this section, any director, officer, or agent of the corporation who wilfully and knowingly authorized, ordered, or carried out the violation, failure, or refusal shall be subject to the same civil penalties, fines, and imprisonment that may be imposed on a person under Subsections (a) and (e) of this section.

(h) Whoever knowingly makes any false statement, representation, or certification, or knowingly fails to make any statement, representation, or certification in any application, record, report, or other document filed or required to be maintained pursuant to a state program or this Act or any order of decision issued by the commission under this Act, shall, on conviction, be punished by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both.

Sec. 31. (a) Except as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, any person having an interest that is or may be adversely affected may commence a civil action on his or her own behalf to compel compliance with this Act against:

(1) the commission to the extent permitted by the Eleventh Amendment to the United States Constitution where there is alleged a failure of the commission to perform any act or duty under this Act that is not discretionary with the commission;

(2) any state governmental instrumentality or agency to the extent permitted by the Eleventh Amendment to the United States Constitution that is alleged to be in violation of the provisions of this Act or of any rule, regulation, order, or permit issued pursuant to this Act, or against any other person who is alleged to be in violation of any rule, regulation, order, or permit issued pursuant to this Act.

(b) No action may be commenced under Subsection (a)(1) of this section prior to 60 days after the plaintiff has given notice in writing of the action to the commission, in the manner as the commission shall by rule prescribe, except that the action may be brought immediately after the notification in the case where there is alleged a failure of the commission to perform any act or duty under this Act that is not discretionary with the commission.

(c) No action may be commenced under Subsection (a)(2) of this section:

(A) prior to 60 days after the plaintiff has given notice in writing of the violation to the commission and to any alleged violator; or

(B) if the state of Texas has commenced and is diligently prosecuting a civil action in a court.
of the United States or this state to require compliance with the provisions of this Act, or any rule, regulation, order, or permit issued pursuant to this Act.

(d)(1) Any action respecting a violation of this Act or the regulations under this Act may be brought only in the judicial district in which the surface coal mining operation complained of is located.

(2) In the action under this section, the commission, if not a party, may intervene as a matter of right.

(e) The court, in issuing any final order in any action brought pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section, may award costs of litigation, including attorney and expert witness fees, to any party, whenever the court determines the award is appropriate. The court may, if a temporary restraining order or preliminary injunction is sought, require the filing of a bond or equivalent security in accordance with the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(f) Nothing in this section shall restrict any right that any person or class of persons may have under any statute or common law to seek enforcement of any of the provisions of this Act and the regulations adopted under this Act, or to seek any other relief, including relief against the commission.

(g) Any person who is injured in his person or property through the violation by any permittee of any rule, regulation, order, or permit issued pursuant to this Act may bring an action for damages, including reasonable attorney and expert witness fees, only in the judicial district in which the surface coal mining operation complained of is located. Nothing in this subsection shall affect the rights established by or limits imposed under workers' compensation laws of this state.

Enforcement

Sec. 32. (a) On the basis of any inspection, if the commission or its authorized representative or agent determines that a condition exists or practices exist or that a person or permittee is in violation of a requirement of this Act or a permit condition required by this Act and that this condition, practice, or violation also creates an imminent danger to the health or safety of the public or is causing or can reasonably be expected to cause significant imminent environmental harm to land, air, or water resources, the commission or its authorized representative shall immediately order a cessation of surface coal mining operations or the portion thereof relevant to the condition, practice, or violation. The cessation order shall remain in effect until the commission or its authorized representative determines that the violation has not been abated, it shall order a cessation of surface mining operations or the portion relevant to the violation. The cessation order shall remain in effect until the commission determines that the violation has been abated or until modified, vacated, or terminated by the commission under Subsection (e) of this section.

(b) On the basis of an inspection, if the commission or its authorized representative or agent determines that a permittee is in violation of a requirement of this chapter or a permit condition required by this Act, but the violation does not create an imminent danger to the health or safety of the public or is not causing or reasonably expected to cause significant imminent environmental harm to land, air, or water resources, the commission or its authorized representative shall issue a notice to the permittee setting a reasonable time not to exceed 90 days for the abatement of the violation. If, on expiration of the period of time as originally set or subsequently extended, for good cause shown, and on written finding of the commission or its authorized representative, the commission or its authorized representative finds that the violation has not been abated, it shall order a cessation of surface mining operations or the portion relevant to the violation. The cessation order shall remain in effect until the commission determines that the violation has been abated or until modified, vacated, or terminated by the commission under Subsection (e) of this section.

(e)(1) A permittee issued notice or order by the commission pursuant to the provisions of Subsections (a) and (b) of this section or any person having an interest which is or may be adversely affected by the notice or order or by any modification, vacation, or termination of the notice or order, may apply to the commission for review of the notice or order within 30 days of receipt thereof or within 30 days of its modification, vacation, or termination. On receipt of the application, the commission shall have an investigation made as it deems proper. The investigation shall provide an opportunity for a public hearing, at the request of the applicant or the person having an interest which is or may be adversely affected, to enable the applicant or the person to present evidence relating to the issuance and continuance of the notice or order or the modification, vacation, or termination. On receipt of the application, the commission shall have an investigation made as it deems proper. The investigation shall provide an opportunity for a public hearing, at the request of the applicant or the person having an interest which is or may be adversely affected, to enable the applicant or the person to present evidence relating to the issuance and continuance of the notice or order or the modification, vacation, or termination. The filing of an application for review under this subsection shall not operate as a stay of any order or notice. The permittee and other interested persons shall be given written notice of the time and place of the hearing at least five days prior to the hearing. Any hearing shall be of record and shall be subject to the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act.

(2) On receiving the report of the investigation, the commission shall make findings of fact, and shall issue a written decision, incorporating in the decision an order vacating, affirming, modifying, or terminating the notice or order or the modifiction, vacation, or termination of the notice or order complained of and incorporate its findings therein. Where the application for review concerns an order for cessation of surface coal mining and reclamation operations issued pursuant to the provisions of Subsection (a) or (b) of this section, the commission shall issue the written decision within 30 days of the receipt of the application for review, unless temporary relief has been granted by the commission under Subdivision (3) of this subsection.

(3) Pending completion of the investigation and hearing required by this section, the applicant may file with the commission a written request that the commission grant temporary relief from any notice or order issued under this section, together with a detailed statement giving reasons for granting the relief. The commission shall issue an order or decision granting or denying the relief. The commission shall issue an order complained of and incorporate its findings therein. Where the application for review concerns an order for cessation of surface coal mining and reclamation operations issued pursuant to the provisions of Subsection (a) or (b) of this section, the commission shall issue the written decision within 30 days of the receipt of the application for review, unless temporary relief has been granted by the commission under Subdivision (3) of this subsection.

(3) Pending completion of the investigation and hearing required by this section, the applicant may file with the commission a written request that the commission grant temporary relief from any notice or order issued under this section, together with a detailed statement giving reasons for granting the relief. The commission shall issue an order or decision granting or denying the relief expeditiously; provided, that where the applicant requests relief from an order for cessation of coal mining and reclamation operations issued under Subdivision (1) or (2) of this subsection, the order or decision on the request shall be issued within five days of its receipt. The commission may grant the relief, under conditions it may prescribe, if:

(A) a hearing has been held in the locality of the permit area on the request for temporary relief in which all parties were given an opportunity to be heard;

(B) the applicant shows that there is substantial likelihood that the findings of the commission will be favorable to him; and

(C) the relief will not adversely affect the health or safety of the public or cause significant, imminent environmental harm to land, air, or water resources.

(4) Following the issuance of an order to show cause as to why a permit should not be suspended or revoked under this section, the commission shall hold a public hearing after giving written notice of the time, place, and date of the hearing. The hearing shall be of record and shall be subject to the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act. If the commission revokes the permit, the permittee shall immediately cease surface coal mining operations on the permit area and shall complete reclamation within a period specified by the commission, or the commission shall declare as forfeited the performance bonds for the operation.

(5) Whenever an order is issued under this section, or as a result of any administrative proceeding under this Act, at the request of any person, a sum equal to the aggregate amount of all costs and expenses, including attorney fees, as determined by the commission to have been reasonably incurred by the person for or in connection with his participation in the proceedings, including any judicial review of agency actions, may be assessed against either party as the court, resulting from judicial review or the commission resulting from administrative proceedings, deems proper.

(d) On the basis of an inspection, if the commission has reason to believe that a pattern of violations of any requirements of this Act or any permit conditions required by this Act exists or has existed, and if the commission or its authorized representative also finds that these violations are caused by the unwarranted failure of the permittee to comply with requirements of this Act or any permit conditions, or that the violations are wilfully caused by the permittee, the commission shall issue an order to the permittee forthwith to show cause as to why the permit should not be suspended or revoked. The order shall set a time and place for a public hearing, if requested, to be held in accordance with the notice and procedural requirements of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended. On failure of a permittee to show cause why the permit should not be suspended or revoked, the commission shall promptly suspend or revoke the permit.

(e) Notices and orders issued pursuant to this section shall set forth with reasonable specificity the nature of the violation and the remedial action required, the period of time established for abatement, and a reasonable description of the portion of the surface coal mining and reclamation operation to which the notice or order applies. Each notice or order issued under this section shall be given promptly to the permittee or his agent by the commission or its authorized representatives. Any notice or order issued pursuant to this section may be modified, vacated, or terminated by the commission or its authorized representative. Any notice or order issued pursuant to this section that requires cessation of mining by the operator shall expire within 30 days of actual notice to the operator unless a public hearing is held at the site or within a reasonable proximity to the site so that any viewings of the site can be conducted during the course of the public hearing.

(f) The commission may request the attorney general to institute a civil action for relief, including a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other appropriate order, if the permittee:

(1) violates or fails or refuses to comply with an order or decision issued by the commission under this Act;

(2) interferes with, hinders, or delays the commission or its authorized representative in carrying out the provisions of this section;

(3) refuses to admit an authorized representative to the mine;

(4) refuses to permit inspection of the mine by an authorized representative;

(5) refuses to furnish information or a report requested by the commission under the commission's rules; or
(6) refuses to permit access to and copying of records the commission determines reasonably necessary to carry out this Act.

The action shall be brought in a district court in Travis County or in the county in which the greater portion of the surface mining and reclamation operation is located.

The court has jurisdiction to provide the relief that is appropriate, and relief granted by the court to enforce Subdivision (1) of this subsection shall continue in effect until the completion or final termination of all proceedings for review of the order under this section unless before that time the district court granting the relief sets the order aside or modifies it.

Areas Unsuitable for Surface Coal Mining

Sec. 38. (a) The commission shall develop a process for designating areas unsuitable for surface coal mining that includes:

(1) surface coal mining land review;
(2) developing a data base and an inventory system which will permit proper evaluation of the capacity of different land areas of the state to support and permit reclamation of surface coal mining operations;
(3) developing, by rule, a method or methods for implementing land use planning decisions concerning surface coal mining operations; and
(4) developing, by rule, proper notice, provisions, and opportunities for public participation, including a public hearing, prior to making any designation or redesignation pursuant to this section.

(b) On petition pursuant to Subsection (c) of this section, the commission shall designate an area as unsuitable for all or certain types of surface coal mining operations if those operations will:

(1) be incompatible with existing state or local land use plans or programs;
(2) affect fragile or historic land in which the operations could result in significant damage to important historic, cultural, scientific, and esthetic values and natural systems;
(3) affect renewable resource lands in which the operations could result in a substantial loss or reduction of long-range productivity of water supply or of food or fiber products, the land to include aquifers and aquifer recharge areas; or
(4) affect natural hazard land in which the operations could substantially endanger life and property, the land to include areas subject to frequent flooding and areas of unstable geology.

Determinations of the unsuitability of land for surface coal mining, as provided by this section, shall be integrated as closely as possible with present and future land use planning and regulation processes at the federal, state, and local levels. The requirements of this section shall not apply to land on which surface coal mining operations were being conducted on August 3, 1977, or under a permit issued pursuant to this Act, or where substantial legal and financial commitments in the operation or proposed operation were in existence prior to January 4, 1977.

(c) Any person having an interest that is or may be adversely affected shall have the right to petition the commission to have an area designated as unsuitable for surface coal mining operations, prior to the filing of an application, or to have such a designation terminated. The petition shall contain allegations of facts with supporting evidence that would tend to establish the allegations. Within 10 months after receipt of the petition the commission shall hold a public hearing under the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended, in the locality of the affected area. After a person having an interest that is or may be adversely affected has filed a petition and before the hearing, as required by this subsection, any person may intervene by filing allegations of facts with supporting evidence that would tend to establish the allegations. In the event that all the petitioners stipulate agreement prior to the requested hearing and withdraw their request, the hearing need not be held.

(d) Prior to designating any land areas as unsuitable for surface coal mining operations, the commission shall prepare a detailed statement on the potential coal resources of the area, the demand for coal resources, and the impact of the designation on the environment, the economy, and the supply of coal.

(e) After the enactment of this Act and subject to valid existing rights, no surface coal mining operations except those that existed on August 3, 1977, shall be permitted:

(1) that will adversely affect any publicly owned park or place included in the National Register of Historic Sites unless approved jointly by the commission and the federal, state, or local agency with jurisdiction over the park or the historic site;
(2) within 100 feet of the outside right-of-way line of any public road, except where mine access roads or haulage roads join the right-of-way line and except that the commission may permit these roads to be relocated or the area affected to lie within 100 feet of the public road, if, after public notice and opportunity for public hearing in the locality, a written finding is made that the interests of the public and the landowners affected by the relocation will be protected; or
(3) within 300 feet of any occupied dwelling, unless waived by the owner of the dwelling, or within 300 feet of any public building, school, church, community, or institutional building, public park, or within 100 feet of a cemetery.

Mining by Governmental Agencies; Mining on Government Land

Sec. 34. (a) The commission may enter into cooperative agreements with the federal government pursuant to the provisions of the Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, 30 U.S.C. 1201 (1977).

(b) Any agency, unit, or instrumentality of federal, state, or local government, including any publicly owned utility or publicly owned corporation of federal, state, or local government, that proposes to engage in surface coal mining operations that are subject to the requirements of this Act shall comply with all provisions of this Act.

Exemptions

Sec. 35. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any of the following activities:

1. The extraction of coal by a landowner for his or her own noncommercial use from land owned or leased by him or her; provided that this does not exempt the noncommercial production of coal, when produced by in situ distillation or retorting, leaching, or other chemical or physical process or preparation;

2. The extraction of coal for commercial purposes where the surface mining operation affects two acres or less;

3. The extraction of coal as an incidental part of federal, state or local government-financed highway or other construction under rules established by the commission; and

4. The extraction of coal incidental to the extraction of other minerals where the coal does not exceed 16-2% percentum of the total tonnage of coal and other minerals removed annually for purposes of commercial use or sale or coal explorations subject to this Act.

Experimental Practices

Sec. 36. In order to encourage advances in mining and reclamation practices and to allow postmining land use for industrial, commercial, residential, or public use, including recreational facilities, the commission may, with approval by the secretary, authorize departures in individual cases on an experimental basis from the environmental protection performance standards of this Act. These departures may be authorized if the experimental practices are potentially more or at least as environmentally protective, during and after mining operations, as those required by this Act, the mining operations approved for particular land-use or other purposes are not larger or more numerous than necessary to determine the effectiveness and economic feasibility of the experimental practices, and the experimental practices do not reduce the protection afforded public health and safety below that provided by promulgated standards.

Water Rights and Replacement

Sec. 37. (a) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as affecting in any way the right of any person to enforce or protect, under applicable law, his or her interest in water resources affected by a surface coal mining operation.

(b) The operator of a surface coal mining operation shall replace the water supply of an owner of interest in real property who obtains all or part of his supply of water for domestic, agricultural, industrial, or other legitimate use from an underground or surface source where the supply has been affected by contamination, diminution, or interruption proximately resulting from the surface coal mine operation.

Certification of Blasters

Sec. 38. The commission shall promulgate rules requiring the training, examination, and certification of persons engaging in or directly responsible for blasting or use of explosives in surface coal mining operations.

GIFTS TO MINORS

Art. 5923-101. Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act

Sec. 1.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(a)]

(b) A "bank" is a state bank, a national bank, a state building and loan association, a federal savings and loan association, a federal credit union, or an insured credit union chartered and supervised under the laws of this State.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(c) and 1(d)]

(e) "The custodial property" includes:

(1) all securities, money, life or endowment insurance policies, annuity contracts, real property, and tangible personal property under the supervision of the same custodian for the same minor as a consequence of a gift or gifts made to the minor in a manner prescribed in this Act;

(2) the income from the custodial property; and

(3) the proceeds, immediate and remote, from the sale, exchange, conversion, investment, reinvestment or other disposition of such securities, money, income, life or endowment insurance policies, annuity contracts, real property, and tangible personal property.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(f) to 1(h)]

(i) A "legal representative" of a person is the executor, independent executor, independent administrator, administrator, general guardian, guardian, committee, conservator, tutor or curator of his property or estate.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(j) and 1(k)]

(1) A "security" includes any note, stock, treasury stock, bond, debenture, evidence of indebtedness, collateral trust certificate, transferable share, voting trust certificate, investment contract, or any certificate of interest or participation in an oil, gas, or mining title or lease or in payments out of production under such a title or lease, or, in general, any interest or instrument commonly known as a security, or any certificate of interest or participation in, any temporary or interim certificate, receipt or certificate of deposit for, or any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase, any of the foregoing. The term does not include a security of which the donor is the issuer. A security is in "registered form" when it specifies a person entitled to it or to the rights it evidences and its transfer may be registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of the issuer.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(m)]

(n) A "trust company" is a bank or trust company authorized to exercise trust powers in this State.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(o)]

Manner of Making Gift

Sec. 2. (a) An adult person may, during his lifetime, by beneficiary designation with a company that has issued a life or endowment insurance or annuity contract, or by will, make a gift of a security or money, a life or endowment insurance policy or the proceeds of the policy, an annuity contract or the proceeds of the contract, real property, or tangible personal property to a person who is a minor on the date of the gift:

(1) if the subject of the gift is a security in registered form, by registering it in the name of the donor, another adult person or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act";

(2) if the subject of the gift is a security not in registered form, by delivering it to an adult person other than the donor or a trust company, accompanied by a statement of gift in the following form, in substance, signed by the donor and the person designated as custodian:

"GIFT UNDER THE TEXAS UNIFORM GIFTS TO MINORS ACT

I, (name of donor), hereby deliver to (name of custodian) as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act, the following security(ies): (insert an appropriate description of the security or securities delivered sufficient to identify it or them)

(signature of donor)

Dated: ____________

(signature of custodian)"
(3) if the subject of the gift is money, by paying or delivering it to a broker or a bank for credit to an account in the name of the donor, another adult person or a bank with trust powers, followed, in substance, by the words: “as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act.”

(4) if the subject of the gift is a life or endowment insurance policy or an annuity contract, such policy or contract shall be assigned to the custodian in his own name, followed, in substance, by the words: “as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act.” Such policy or contract shall be delivered to the person who has been designated as custodian thereof.

(5) if the subject of the gift is an interest in real estate, by executing and delivering in the appropriate manner a deed, assignment, or similar conveyance of the interest to the custodian in his own name, followed, in substance, by the words: “as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act.”

(6) if the subject of the gift is an interest in tangible personal property, by causing the ownership of the property to be transferred by any appropriate written document to the custodian in his own name, followed, in substance, by the words: “as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act.”

(7) if the gift is by will or transfer in trust, by giving the subject of the gift to an adult or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: “as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act”; if the testator fails to designate the custodian or if the designated custodian dies or is unable or unwilling to serve, the personal representative or trustee shall designate the custodian from among those eligible to become successor custodian under this Act and shall make distribution by transferring the subject of the gift to the custodian in the form and manner provided in this subsection; the receipt of the custodian constitutes a sufficient release and discharge for the gift; if the gift is distributable by a personal representative by will, the personal representative may elect the procedures under this Act for making the gift.

(8) if the subject of the gift is the proceeds from a life or endowment insurance policy or annuity contract, by making the proceeds payable to the custodian in his own name followed, in substance, by the words: “as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act.”

(d) A legal representative of a decedent’s estate who has received letters of office or a trustee of a trust on behalf of a minor who is an heir, legatee, or devisee of the decedent’s estate or a beneficiary of the trust, without a court order, may pay or transfer to a custodian for the minor under this Act, or under a Uniform Gifts to Minors Act of another jurisdiction, in the form and manner prescribed by Subsection (a), (b), or (c) of this section or comparable provisions of the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act, any money, security, real property, life or endowment insurance policy, annuity contract, or tangible personal property that may be distributable to the minor if:

(1) the legal representative or trustee deems the distribution to be in the best interest of the minor; and

(2) the decedent, the settlor of the trust, or a court that has jurisdiction over the legal representative or trustee has expressly directed otherwise in a will, trust agreement, order, or other governing instrument.

(e) A legal representative or trustee who intends to make a distribution under Subsection (d) of this section shall designate an adult member of the minor’s family or a guardian of the minor as custodian. The custodianship is governed by this Act as though the legal representative or trustee were a donor. A receipt from the custodian is a sufficient release of the trustee or legal representative from responsibility for the distributed assets.

Effect of Gift

Sec. 3. (a) A gift made in a manner prescribed in this Act is irrevocable and conveys to the minor indefeasibly vested legal title to the security or money, life or endowment insurance policies, annuity contracts, real property, or tangible personal property given, but no guardian of the minor has any right, power, duty or authority with respect to the custodial property except as provided in this Act.

(b) By making a gift in a manner prescribed in this Act, the donor incorporates in his gift, trust, or will all the provisions of this Act and grants to the custodian, and to any issuer, transfer agent, bank, broker or third person dealing with a person designated as custodian, the respective powers, rights and immunities provided in this Act.

Sec. 4.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 4(a) to 4(e)]

(f) The custodian may sell, exchange, convert or otherwise dispose of custodial property in the manner, at the time or times, for the price or prices and upon the terms he deems advisable, provided that a custodian may not acquire as custodial property any property other than securities, money, life or endowment insurance policies, annuity contracts, or real property; provided that a trust company in its capacity as custodian may acquire as custodial property interests in one or more common trust funds established and maintained by the trust company pursuant to Section 1 of the Uniform Common Trust Fund Act, as amended (Article 7425b-48, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). He may vote in person or by general or limited proxy a security, policy or contract, which is custodial property. He may consent, directly or through a committee or other agent, to the reorganization, consolidation, merger, dissolution or liquidation of an issuer of a security which is custodial property, and to the sale, lease, pledge or mortgage of any property by or to such an issuer, and to any other action by such an issuer. On dissolution or liquidation of an issuer of a security which is custodial property, the custodian may receive the minor's share of any property resulting from such dissolution or liquidation and retain and manage it as custodial property except that he cannot sell or exchange it for property not authorized to be acquired as custodial property. He may execute and deliver any and all instruments in writing which he deems advisable to carry out any of his powers as custodian. With respect to any interest in real estate, he may perform the same acts that any unmarried adult may perform, including all powers granted to a trustee under Section 25, Texas Trust Act, as amended (Article 7425b-25, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 4(g) to 4(i)]

(j) If the subject of the gift is a life or endowment insurance policy or an annuity contract, the custodian shall have all the incidents of ownership in such policy or contract which he may hold as custodian, to the same extent as if he were the owner thereof, and the custodian may pay premiums on the policy or contract out of the custodial property. The custodian shall designate the minor's estate as beneficiary of a policy or contract on the life of the minor and himself in his capacity as custodian for the minor as beneficiary of a policy or contract on the life of a person other than the minor.

Resignation, Death or Removal of Custodian; Bond; Appointment of Successor Custodian

Sec. 7.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 7(a)]

(b) A successor custodian may be appointed by one of the following procedures:

(1) a custodian, other than the donor, may resign and designate his successor by executing an instrument of resignation designating the successor custodian before a subscribing witness other than the successor and delivering it to the minor and the successor custodian;

(2) in the absence of an effective designation of a successor custodian by the custodian, the donor may designate an adult member of the minor's family, a guardian of the minor, or a trust company as a successor custodian by executing and dating an instrument of designation before a subscribing witness other than the successor;

(3) in the absence of an effective designation of a successor custodian by either the custodian or the donor, the guardian of the minor shall become successor custodian; in the absence of a guardian, the minor, if he has attained the age of fourteen (14) years, may designate a successor custodian in the manner prescribed for the designation of a successor custodian;

(4) if the minor has not attained the age of fourteen (14) years, and in the absence of an effective designation of a successor custodian by the custodian, donor, or guardian, a parent of the minor may appoint a successor custodian;

(5) if the minor has not attained the age of fourteen (14) years and has no guardian or parent, and no effective designation of a successor custodian has been made by the custodian or the donor, then an adult member of the minor's family may petition the court for the designation of a successor custodian.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 7(c)]

(d) The designation of a successor custodian as provided in Subsection (b) of this section takes effect as to each item of the custodial property when the custodian resigns, dies, or becomes legally incapacitated and the custodian or his legal representative:

(1) causes each security in registered form, life or endowment insurance policy, annuity contract, or interest in real property to be registered in the name of or conveyed to the successor custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for (name of minor) under the Texas Uniform Gifts to Minors Act"; and

(2) delivers or causes to be delivered to the successor custodian any other item of the custodial property, together with the instrument of designation of the successor custodian or any additional instruments required for the transfer to the successor custodian.

TITLE 97A

NATIONAL GUARD ARMORY BOARD

Art. 5931-1. Composition

There is hereby created the Texas National Guard Armory Board to be composed of three members of the general public appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate and of the two senior officers of the Texas Army National Guard and the senior officer of the Texas Air National Guard. The three members of the Texas National Guard, at the time of appointment, must be actively serving in the Texas Army National Guard or the Texas Air National Guard, and the three public members, at the time of appointment, must not be actively serving in the Texas Army National Guard or the Texas Air National Guard. Appointments to the board shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees. The term of office for members of the Texas National Guard Armory Board shall be of six years' duration without regard to organizational structure of the National Guard. The retirement of a member who is an officer of the Texas National Guard from active service with the Texas Army National Guard or Texas Air National Guard shall constitute a vacancy to be filled in accordance with this Act. In the event of a vacancy, the person qualifying for the position shall complete the unexpired term of his predecessor. Each officer of the Texas Army National Guard or the Texas Air National Guard who may thereafter fill the position qualifying him for membership on the Texas National Guard Armory Board, as provided in this Act, shall be certified by the Governor of Texas to the Secretary of State that thereupon be and become a member of the Board only for the duration of such term of induction into federal service; thereafter the military successor in function of the Texas National Guard shall qualify as a member of the Board.

It is further provided that none of the members of this Board shall at the time hold any other office or position of honor, trust, or profit under the state or federal government, except as a member of the Texas National Guard.

Should any officer fail to qualify as a member of the Board under the provisions of the State Constitution or the provisions of this Act, the next senior officer in military rank to qualify shall be certified by the Governor of Texas to the Secretary of State as provided in this Act.

A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 442, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) may not serve as a member of the Board or act as general counsel to the Board.

It is a ground for removal from the Board if a member fails to attend at least half of the regularly scheduled Board meetings held in a calendar year, excluding meetings held while the person was not a Board member.

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"(a) A person holding office as a member of the Texas National Guard Armory Board on the effective date of this Act continues to hold the office for the term for which the member was originally appointed.

"(b) The senior officer of Texas State Guard is the successor to the senior officer of the Texas Army National Guard whose term expires first.

"(c) The governor shall appoint three public members to the board. The governor shall designate one public member for a term expiring in 1983, one for a term expiring in 1985, and one for a term expiring in 1987."

Art. 5931-1a. Application of Sunset Act

The Texas National Guard Armory Board is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429K, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the Board is abolished, and this Title expires effective September 1, 1993.

Art. 5931-3. Meetings; Per Diem

(a) The board act by resolution adopted at a meeting held in accordance with its bylaws. A simple majority of the members of the board constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business.
(b) The board is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

each member of the board is entitled to a per diem as set by legislative appropriation for each day that the member engages in the business of the board. A member may not receive any compensation for travel expenses, including expenses for meals and lodging, other than transportation expenses. A member is entitled to compensation for transportation expenses as provided by the General Appropriations Act.

Art. 5931–5. Specific Powers

(a) The Board shall possess but is not limited to the following powers:

(1) to sue and be sued;

(2) to enter into contracts in connection with any matter within the objects, purposes or duties of the Board;

(3) to have and use a corporate seal;

(4) to appoint, employ and pay, and dismiss an executive secretary, and also such other officials, counsel, lawyers, agents, and employees as may be necessary to carry out the objects, purposes and duties of the Board, and to prescribe their duties and fix their compensation;

(5) to adopt, and from time to time to change or amend, all necessary rules and bylaws for the conduct of the business and affairs of the Board;

(6) to acquire, by gift or purchase, for use as building sites or for any other purposes deemed by said Board to be necessary in connection with or for the use of units of the Texas National Guard, property of any and every description, whether real, personal or mixed, including, but without limitation on the foregoing, leasehold estates in real property, and hold, maintain, sublease, convey, and exchange or sell as hereinafter provided, such property, in whole or in part, and/or pledge the rents, issues and profits thereof in whole or in part; also, to acquire, by gift or purchase, or by construction of the same, furniture and equipment suitable for Armory purposes and to hold, maintain, sublease, convey and exchange or sell as hereinafter provided, such furniture and equipment, in whole or in part;

(7) to construct buildings on any of its real property, whether held in fee simple or otherwise, and to furnish and equip the same and to hold, manage and maintain all of said property and to lease to the State of Texas, in the same manner as hereinafter provided with respect to other property, the buildings, and the sites thereon situated, which it may construct, and to lease and sublease, convey and exchange, or sell as hereinafter provided, in whole or in part, all of its property and/or pledge the rents, issues and profits of all of said property, wherever located, in whole or in part; provided, however, that before any building is constructed by said Board on the lands comprising any state camps, the site therefor, in maximum area 200,000 square feet, shall, promptly on said Board's request therefor to the Adjutant General of Texas, be selected and described by a board of officers appointed from time to time for the purpose by the said Adjutant General, and such description shall be certified to said Armory Board and a copy thereof shall be furnished to and preserved in the office of said Adjutant General; and provided further, that when so selected and described and constructed upon, such sites shall be and become the property of the said Armory Board, for all purposes contemplated by the Act of which this section is a part, as fully and absolutely as if the same had been acquired by a gift to or purchase by said Armory Board;

(8) from time to time, to borrow money, and to issue and sell bonds, debentures, and other evidences of indebtedness for the purpose of acquiring one or more building sites and buildings, and for the purpose of constructing, remodeling, repairing, and equipping one or more buildings, such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness to be fully negotiable and to be secured as follows: by a pledge of, and payable solely from, the rents, issues, and profits of all of the property in the Board; of the property acquired or constructed by the Board, in whole or in part, with the proceeds of the borrowing transactions. Provided, however, that interest falling due within 24 months after the issuance and sale of any particular bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness, or any series thereof, may be paid out of the proceeds of the sale thereof. Any such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness may be issued in series, and if so issued, all series thereof issued under or secured by the same trust indenture or trust agreement, shall rank equally, without preference or priority of one series over another, whether by reason of the date of issue or negotiation thereof or date of maturity thereof or for any other reason. All such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness and interest thereon, shall be exempt from taxation (except inheritance taxes) by the State of Texas or by any municipal corporation, county or political subdivision, or taxing district of the State. All bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness authorized and issued under authority of this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, and for all public funds of the State of Texas including, but not limited to, the permanent free school fund, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political subdivisions or corporations of the State of Texas. Such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas, and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their value, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto. Said bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness may be sold by the Board in any manner it may determine; provided that no bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness shall be sold unless and until same shall have been approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas and registered with the Comptroller of Public Accounts. The Board shall have power from time to time to execute and deliver trust deeds and trust agreements whereunder any bank or trust company authorized by the laws of the State or of the United States of America to accept and execute trusts in the State, or any individual selected by the Board, may be named and act as trustee. The Board shall select the trustee on the basis of written competitive bids. Any such trust deed or trust agreement shall be signed in the name and on behalf of the Board by the chairman of the Board and countersigned by the treasurer thereof and the corporate seal of the Board shall be affixed thereto and such seal attested by the executive secretary of the Board; and any such trust deed or trust agreement may, if it name such bank or trust company to act as trustee, contain provisions for the deposit with the trustee thereunder and the disbursement by such trustee of the proceeds of the bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness issued thereunder or secured thereby, and/or the rents, issues, and profits of all property acquired or constructed out of such proceeds, and, whether or not such bank or trust company be named as trustee, may also contain such provisions for the protection and enforcement of the rights and remedies of the trustee and the holders of such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness as the Board may approve, including provisions for the acceleration of the maturity of any such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness upon default by the Board in the performance or observance of any of the covenants or provisions of such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness or of the trust deed or trust agreement whereunder the same are issued or secured. Any such trust deed or trust agreement shall provide that all bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness issued at any time thereunder shall be equally secured thereby but any such trust deed or trust agreement may contain and impose upon the Board limitations and conditions governing the right of the Board to issue additional bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness. All such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness shall be signed by the chairman of the Board, countersigned by the treasurer thereof, and the corporate seal of the Board shall be thereunto affixed, and such seal attested by the executive secretary of the Board, and in case any officer of the Board who shall have signed or attested any such bond, debenture, or other evidence of indebtedness shall cease to be such officer before such bond, debenture, or other evidence of indebtedness may nevertheless be validly issued by the Board. Such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness may be issued in fully registered form without interest coupons, or in coupon form registered as to principal only, or in bearer form with coupons attached. All of the coupons shall be authenticated by the facsimile signature of the treasurer of the Board; and

(9) to execute and deliver leases, or subleases in the case of buildings located upon leasehold estates acquired by the Board, demising and leasing to the State of Texas through the Adjutant General, who shall execute the same for said State, for such lawful term as may be determined by the Board, any building or buildings, and the equipment therein and the site or sites therefor, to be used for Armory and other purposes and to renew such leases or subleases from time to time; provided, however, that if at any time the State of Texas shall fail or refuse to pay the rental reserved in any such lease or sublease, or shall fail or refuse to lease or sublease any such building and site, or to renew any existing lease or sublease thereon at the rental provided to be paid, then the Board shall have the power to lease or sublease such building or equipment and the site therefor to any person or entity and upon such terms as the Board may determine. The law requiring notice and competitive bids shall not apply to leasing or subleasing of such property. The annual rental (which may be made payable in such installments as the Board shall determine) to be charged the State of Texas for the use of such property leased or subleased to it by the Board shall be sufficient to provide for the operation and maintenance of the property so leased or subleased, to pay the interest on the bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness, if any, issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing, or equipping any such property, to provide for the retirement of such bonds, debentures, or other evidences of indebtedness, if any, and the payment of the expenses incident to the issuance thereof, as well as the necessary and proper expenses of the Board not otherwise provided for.
(b) The executive secretary or his designee shall develop an intraagency career ladder program, one part of which shall be the intraagency posting of all nonentry level positions for at least 10 days before any public posting.

(c) The executive secretary or his designee shall develop a system of annual performance evaluations based on measurable job tasks. All merit pay authorized by the executive secretary must be based on the system established under this subsection.

(10) If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Subsection (g), Section 5, Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6225–18a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the Board statements opposing adoption of a rule under that section, the rule may not take effect, or if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the Board receives the committee's statements.

Art. 5931–8. Records

(a) The board shall cause to be kept accurate minutes of its meetings, and accurate records and books of account in conformity with approved methods of accounting, clearly reflecting the income and expenses of the board and all transactions in relation to its property. In the execution and administration of objects and purposes herein set forth, the board shall have the power to adopt methods reasonably calculated to accomplish such objects and purposes and this Act shall be construed liberally in order to effectuate such objects and purposes.

(b) The state auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the board during each fiscal biennium.

(c) On or before January 1 of each year, the board shall make in writing to the governor and the presiding officer of each house of the legislature a complete and detailed report accounting for all funds received and disbursed by the board during the preceding year.

Art. 5931–12. Refunding Bonds

(a) The board is authorized to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any outstanding bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, and interest on same, authorized by this article or otherwise which the board lawfully may have issued.

(b) Within the discretion of the board, the refunding bonds may be issued in exchange or substitution for outstanding bonds or other evidences of indebtedness or may be sold and the proceeds used for the purpose of paying or redeeming outstanding bonds or other evidences of indebtedness. If such refunding bonds are sold they may be sold in an amount sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal, the interest on, and premium, if any, of the bonds or other evidences of indebtedness being refunded and to provide an amount or amounts to be deposited into a reserve fund or funds as may be provided in the resolution or resolutions authorizing such refunding bonds and in an amount or amounts necessary to pay expenses incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of such refunding bonds.

(c) Until such time or times as the bond proceeds are needed for the purposes set forth in Subsection (b) of this section, such bond proceeds may be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America and the income therefrom may be used or pledged as provided in the resolution or resolutions authorizing the bonds.

(d) In addition to the refunding authority herein provided, the board shall be able to refund its outstanding bonds or other evidences of indebtedness in accordance with provisions of applicable general law.

Sections 2 and 3 of the 1979 amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 2. This Act shall be cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of bonds and for the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby, without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided, and when any bonds are being issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control, provided, however, that the board shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions hereof, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

"Sec. 3. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein."
Article 5949. Notary Public

Appointment; Number and Terms; Jurisdiction

1. The Secretary of State of the State of Texas shall appoint a convenient number of Notaries Public in this state. Such appointments may be made at any time, and the term of each appointment shall end four years after the date of qualification of each individual Notary Public, unless sooner revoked by the Secretary of State. The jurisdiction of each Notary Public appointed after the effective date of this Act shall be coextensive with the boundaries of the state, irrespective of the county in which he is appointed.

Eligibility

2. To be eligible for appointment as a Notary Public, a person shall be a resident citizen of the United States and of this state and at least eighteen (18) years of age. Nothing herein shall invalidate any commission as Notary Public which has been issued and is outstanding at the time this Act becomes effective.

Procedure for Appointment; Contents; Duties of Secretary of State

3. (a) Any person desiring appointment as a Notary Public shall make application to the Secretary of State on forms prescribed by the Secretary of State, which includes his name as it will be used in acting as such Notary Public, his post-office address, his county of residence, his business address, the name of the county in which his business is located, his social security number, a statement that he has never been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, and shall satisfy the Secretary of State that he is at least eighteen (18) years of age and otherwise qualified by law for the appointment which is sought; provided that if the person is a qualified Notary Public before January 1, 1980, in another county, his commission in that county shall be surrendered to the Secretary of State at the time application for the appointment is made. The Secretary of State shall act upon all such names submitted at the earliest practicable time and notify each applicant whether the appointment has been made.

(b) Upon receiving notice from the Secretary of State of such appointment, the applicant shall, within twenty (20) days from the date of appointment, qualify as hereinafter provided. The appointment of any person failing to qualify within the time allowed shall be void, and if any such person desires thereafter to qualify, his name shall be resubmitted in the same manner as hereinabove provided.

Fees

4. At the time of such qualification the applicant shall forward to the Secretary of State a fee in the amount of Four ($4.00) Dollars for approving and filing the bond of such Notary Public, together with the fee allowed by law to the Secretary of State for issuing a commission to such Notary Public.

Issuance of Commission; Non-Attorney Notice; Literal Translation; Rejection of Application; Appeal

5. (a) Immediately after the qualification of any Notary Public, and the receipt of the fees due the Secretary of State, the Secretary of State shall cause a commission to be issued to such Notary Public, which commission shall be effective as of the date of qualification. Nothing herein shall prevent any qualified Notary Public from performing the duties of his office from and after his qualification and before the receipt of his commission.

(b) Every Notary Public who is not an attorney who advertises the services of a Notary Public in a language other than English, whether by radio, television, signs, pamphlets, stationery, or other written communication, shall post or otherwise include with the advertisement a notice that the person is not an attorney. The notice shall be in English and in the other language in letters of a conspicuous size. If the advertisement is by radio or television, the statement may be modified, but must include substantially the same message. The notice shall include the fees that a Notary Public may charge and the following statement:

"I AM NOT AN ATTORNEY LICENSED TO PRACTICE LAW IN TEXAS AND MAY NOT GIVE LEGAL ADVICE OR ACCEPT FEES FOR LEGAL ADVICE."

(c) Literal translation of the phrase "Notary Public" into Spanish is prohibited. In this subsection, "literal translation" of a word or phrase from one language to another means the translation of a word or phrase without regard to the true meaning of the word or phrase in the language which is being translated.

(d) The failure to comply with Subsection (b) or (c) of this section constitutes a deceptive trade prac-

NOTARIES PUBLIC

Articled in addition to any other law of the State of Texas and is actionable under Chapter 17 of the Business & Commerce Code.

(e) The Secretary of State may, for good cause, reject any application, or revoke the commission of any Notary Public, but such action shall be taken subject to the right of notice, hearing and adjudication, and the right of appeal therefrom. Such appeal shall be made to the District Court of Travis County, Texas, but upon such appeal the Secretary of State shall have the burden of proof and such trial shall be conducted de novo.

(f) “Good cause” shall include final conviction for a crime involving moral turpitude, any false statement knowingly made in an application, the failure to comply with Subsection (b) or (c) of this section, and final conviction for the violation of any law concerning the regulation of the conduct of Notaries Public in this state, or any other state.

Reappointment; Change of Address; Vacation of Office

6. (a) Any qualified Notary Public whose term is expiring may make an application for appointment in the same manner as provided in Subsection (a) of Section 3 of this Article. The Secretary of State shall notify all Notaries Public whose terms are expiring at least ninety (90) days prior to expiration.

(b) Upon receiving notice of appointment made by the Secretary of State for another term of office, the applicant must qualify not later than the expiration date of the term for which he is serving, which qualifying shall become effective on the expiration date of his term and shall not be effective prior thereto. The appointment for another term of office of any person who fails to qualify on or before the expiration date of the term he is serving shall be void, and if the person later desires to qualify, his name must be resubmitted in the same manner as provided in Section 3 of this Article.

(c) Each Notary Public shall notify the Secretary of State of any change of his address within ten (10) days after the change.

(d) If a Notary Public removes his residence from this state, his office is automatically vacated. If a Notary Public who qualified before January 1, 1980, removes his residence or his principal place of business or employment to another county in this state, so that he maintains neither his residence nor his principal place of business or employment in the county in which he was appointed, his office is automatically vacated, and if he desires to continue to act as a Notary Public, he must surrender his commission to the Secretary of State and make application for appointment in the same manner as for an initial appointment.

Bond

7. Any person appointed a Notary Public shall, before entering upon his official duties, execute a bond in the sum of Two Thousand Five Hundred ($2,500.00) Dollars with a solvent surety company authorized to do business in this State, as surely, such bond to be approved by the Secretary of State, payable to the Governor, and conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office; and shall also take and subscribe his name and social security number to the official oath of office which shall be endorsed on said bond with the certificate of the official administering the same. The State Board of Insurance may at its discretion approve rates for a four-year notary bond issued subsequent to the effective date of this Act equivalent to twice the rate set previously for two-year notary bonds. Said bond shall be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State and shall not be void on the first recovery, and may be sued on in the name of the party injured from time to time until the whole amount thereof has been recovered. Any such person shall be deemed to be qualified when he has taken the official oath of office, furnished the bond and paid the fees herein provided for, all within the time allowed therefor.

Public Records; Inspection

9. All matters pertaining to the appointment and qualification of Notaries Public shall be public records in the office of the Secretary of State after any such Notary Public has qualified, and shall be open to inspection of any interested person at such reasonable times and in such manner as will not interfere with the affairs of office of the custodian of such records; but the Secretary of State is not required to furnish lists of the names of persons appointed before their qualification or lists of unreasonable numbers of qualified Notaries Public.

Art. 5954. Authority of Notary; Printing or Stamping of Name Under Signature

Notaries Public shall have the same authority to take acknowledgments or proofs of written instruments, protest instruments permitted by law to be protested, administer oaths, and take depositions, as is now or may hereafter be conferred by law upon County Clerks, and provided that all Notaries Public shall print or stamp their names and the expiration dates of their commissions under their signatures on all such written instruments, protest instruments,
Article 5958. Office to Become Vacant

Whenever an ex officio notary public shall remove permanently from his precinct, his office shall thereupon be deemed vacant.

For provision as to effective date of 1979 amendment to this article, see note under art. 5949.

Article 5960. Seal

Each notary public shall provide a seal of office, whereon shall be engraved in the center a star of five points, and the words, “Notary Public, State of Texas,” around the margin and he shall authenticate all his official acts therewith. The use of a seal with the name of a county, when used by a qualified notary public, will not invalidate the acknowledgment.

For provision as to effective date of 1979 amendment to this article, see note under art. 5949.

Article 5960a. Rubber Stamp for Seal

A seal fashioned as a rubber stamp engraved with the star and the words provided by law may be used as the official seal of office of a notary public. A notary public shall use an indelible ink pad for transferring the impression of this type of seal on an instrument of writing to authenticate his or her official act.

For provision as to effective date of the 1979 Act adding this article, see note under art. 5949.
TITLE 100
OFFICERS—REMOVAL OF

Art. 5961. By Impeachment
The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney General, State Treasurer, Commissioner of the General Land Office, Comptroller, Commissioner of Insurance, Banking Commissioner, Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals, Justices of the Courts of Appeals, Judges of the district courts, Judges of the criminal district courts, and all other State officers and heads of State departments or institutions of any kind, and all members, regents, trustees, commissioners having control or management of any State institution of enterprise, shall be removed from office or position by impeachment in the manner provided in the Constitution and in this title, the remedy by impeachment as herein provided for being cumulative of all other remedies with respect to the impeachment or removal of public officers. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 792, ch. 291, § 68, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 5963. Trial by Senate
(a) All persons against whom articles of impeachment are preferred by the House of Representatives shall be tried by the Senate sitting as a court of impeachment in the manner provided by Article XV of the Constitution of Texas.

(b) If the Senate is in session, at a regular or called session of the Legislature when articles of impeachment are preferred by the House, it shall receive the articles when presented and, on a day and time to be set by the Senate, shall resolve into a court of impeachment to consider the articles. The Senate may continue in session as a court of impeachment beyond any date of expiration of the session for legislative purposes or may adjourn as a court of impeachment to a day and time set by the Senate.

(c) If the Senate is not in session at a regular or called session of the Legislature when articles of impeachment are preferred by the House, the House shall cause a certified copy of the articles of impeachment to be delivered, by personal messenger or registered or certified mail, to the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, and each member of the Senate. A record of the deliveries and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the Lieutenant Governor and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate. Thereupon the Senate shall be convened for the purpose of considering such articles of impeachment in the following manner:

1. By proclamation of the Governor; or if the Governor fails to issue such proclamation within ten days after the day the articles of impeachment are preferred by the House, then

2. By proclamation of the Lieutenant Governor; or if the Lieutenant Governor fails to issue such proclamation within fifteen days from the day the articles of impeachment are preferred by the House, then

3. By proclamation of the President Pro Tempore of the Senate; or, if the President Pro Tempore of the Senate fails to issue such proclamation within twenty days from the day the articles of impeachment are preferred by the House, then

4. By proclamation in writing signed by a majority of the members of the Senate.

(d) The proclamation convening the Senate shall be in writing, shall state the purposes for which the Senate is to be convened and shall fix the date for the convening thereof, which may not be later than twenty days from the issuance of the proclamation. The proclamation shall be published in at least three daily newspapers of general circulation, and a copy of the proclamation shall be sent by registered or certified mail to each member of the Senate and the Lieutenant Governor. On the day set for the convening of the Senate, the Senate shall convene, shall receive the articles of impeachment when presented, and shall resolve into a court of impeachment for purposes of considering the articles of impeachment.

(e) Once the Senate resolves into a court of impeachment, it shall adopt rules of procedure and shall proceed to consider the articles of impeachment. It may from time to time recess or adjourn to a day and time to be set by the Senate. The Senate may designate the day and time of reconvening in relation to the occurrence of one or more events specified in the motion and may make the reconvening contingent on the occurrence of those events. At all times the Senate is scheduled to be in session as a court of impeachment it is the duty of each member of the Senate to be in attendance. The Senate may compel the attendance of any absent Senator. Two-thirds of the members of the Senate constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day and compel the attendance of absent members.

(f) The Senate shall have and exercise the power to send for persons, papers, records, books, and other documents, to compel the giving of testimony, to punish for contempt to the same extent as the district courts, and to meet in closed sessions for purposes of deliberation, and all other powers necessary to carry out its duties under Article XV of the Texas Constitution. The Senate may employ such aid and assistance as it deems necessary to enforce, execute, and carry into effect the lawful orders, mandates, writs, process, and precepts of the Senate sitting as a court of impeachment and may empower its officers, committees, or agents to exercise such powers as the Senate may prescribe.

(g) When convened as a court of impeachment, the members of the Senate and the Lieutenant Governor shall receive the same mileage and per diem as is provided for members of the Legislature; the same with all expenses incident to the impeachment trial shall be paid from appropriations made for the contingent expenses of the Legislature or for the mileage and per diem of members. However, if the Senate is not in session as a court of impeachment for more than four consecutive days as a result of recess or adjournment, the members of the Senate and the Lieutenant Governor are not entitled to the per diem for those days.

Art. 5964. Removed by Address

The justices of the Supreme Court, judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals, justices of the Courts of Appeals, judges of the district courts and judges of the criminal district courts, the Commissioner of Agriculture, Commissioner of Insurance, and Banking Commissioner shall be removed from office by the Governor on the address of two-thirds of each house of the Legislature, for wilful neglect of duty, incompetency, habitual drunkenness, oppression in office, breach of trust, or other reasonable cause which shall not be sufficient ground for impeachment. The cause for such removal shall be stated at length in such address, and entered on the journals of each house. The officer so intended to be removed shall have notice of the cause assigned for his removal, and shall be admitted to a hearing in his own defense before any vote for such address shall be heard. The vote in all such cases shall be taken by yeas and nays and entered on the journals of each house respectively.

Art. 5966. Jurisdiction of Supreme Court

The Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction to hear and determine the cases aforesaid when presented in writing, upon the oaths taken before some judge of a court of record, of not less than ten lawyers practicing in the courts held by such judge, and licensed to practice in the State of Texas. Such presentment shall be founded either upon the knowledge of the person making it, or upon the written oaths of credible witnesses as to facts. The Supreme Court may issue all needful process, and prescribe all needful rules to give effect to the preceding article. Such cases shall have precedence and be tried as soon as practicable.

Art. 5966a. State Commission on Judicial Conduct

“Commission”, “Master”, and “Judge”

Sec. 1. As used in this chapter, “commission” means the State Commission on Judicial Conduct provided for in Section 1–a of Article V of the Constitution, “master” means a special master appointed by the Supreme Court pursuant to said Section 1–a, and, unless the context otherwise requires, “judge” means a justice or judge who is the subject of an investigation or proceeding under said Section 1–a. All constitutional and statutory references to the State Judicial Qualifications Commission shall be construed to mean the State Commission on Judicial Conduct.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 1A. The State Judicial Qualifications Commission is subject to the Texas Sunset Act,1 but it is not abolished under that Act. The commission shall be reviewed under the Texas Sunset Act during the period in which state agencies abolished effective September 1 of 1987 and of every 12th year after 1987 are reviewed.

1 Article 5429k. [See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2 and 3]

Cooperation With and Assistance and Information to Commission

Sec. 4. State and local public bodies and departments, officers and employees thereof, and officials and attaches of the courts of this state shall cooperate with and give reasonable assistance and information to the commission and any authorized representative thereof, or to a master, in connection with any investigations or proceedings within the jurisdiction of the commission, or a master, including contempt proceedings by a master.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 5 to 6A]

Willful or Persistent Conduct Inconsistent with Performance of Duties

Sec. 6B. A judge engages in willful or persistent conduct, which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of his said duties if he willfully, persistently, and without justifiable cause fails to execute the business of his court in a timely manner, considering the quantity and complexity of that business. This section shall not be construed as containing an exclusive definition of that which constitutes
Art. 5966a

OFFICERS—REMOVAL OF

Fees and Mileage of Witnesses

Sec. 10. Each witness, other than an officer or employee of the state or a political subdivision or an officer or employee of a court of this state, shall receive for his attendance the same mileage and per diem as is allowed witnesses before any grand jury in the state. The amounts shall be paid by the commission from funds appropriated for the use of the commission.

Sec. 12. Any active district judge or justice of the court of appeals appointed to act as master under said Section 1—a shall, in addition to and cumulative of all other compensation and expenses authorized by law, receive, while in the performance of his duties as master, a per diem of $25 for each day or fraction thereof, spent in the performance of his duties as such master. Any retired judge or justice of a district court, a court of appeals, the Court of Criminal Appeals, or the Supreme Court appointed to act as such master shall receive while in the performance of his duties as such master a per diem of $25 for each day or fraction thereof spent in the performance of his duties as such master.

Sec. 14. Any person other than the judge who refuses to testify, give testimony or produce documents or things in any proceeding or deposition in connection with any proceeding before the commission or a master upon the ground that his testifying, his testimony or the production of such document or thing may tend to incriminate him, may nevertheless be required to testify and to produce such document or thing, but when so required under the provisions of Section 8 hereof over his proper claim of privilege against self-incrimination or his right not to testify, such person shall not be subject to indictment or prosecution for any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he truthfully testified or produced evidence, documentary or otherwise. A master has the same powers as a district judge in matters of contempt and granting immunity.
Art. 5983. Appeal or Writ of Error

An appeal or writ of error to the Court of Appeals may be sued out by either party from the final judgment in these cases as in other civil cases. If the party has not been temporarily suspended from office, no other bond when an appeal is taken or writ of error sued out by him, shall be necessary than a bond for all the costs that have or may accrue in the district and Courts of Appeals.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides, in part: "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction."

Art. 5987. Precedence on Appeal

In these cases, an appeal may be taken or writ of error be made returnable to the Court of Appeals, and such cause shall have precedence of the ordinary business of the court and be decided with all convenient dispatch. When so decided, unless the judgment be for some cause set aside or suspended, the mandate of the court shall issue within five days after the judgment of the court is rendered.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides, in part: "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction."

See, now, Agriculture Code, § 13.253(c).

Art. 5996g. Exceptions

That nothing in this law shall apply to any appointment to the office of a notary public, or to the confirmation thereof; or to the appointment of a page, secretary, attendant or other employee by the Legislature for attendance on any member of the Legislature who, by reason of physical infirmities, is required to have a personal attendant; or to the confirmation of an appointee appointed to a first term on a date when no person related to the appointee within the prohibited degree was a member of or a candidate for the Legislature, or confirmation upon reappointment of the appointee to any subsequent consecutive term.

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act applies to any confirmation that occurs on or after the effective date of this Act, regardless of the date of the appointment."
Art. 603b. State Employee Bonding Act

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 2]

Sec. 3. For purposes of this Act the terms:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3(a) to 3(e)]

(f) "Specific Excess Indemnity" means additional bond coverage over and above the coverage specified on a "Position Schedule Honesty Bond" an "Honesty Blanket Position Bond" or a "Faithful Performance Blanket Position Bond."

Sec. 4.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 4(a)]

(b) Blanket Position Bond may be used when three (3) or more officers or employees in a particular agency are to be bonded. Specific excess indemnity may be carried, provided the total of the blanket bond coverage and the specific excess indemnity for any particular position does not exceed Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000).

NATURAL GAS

Art. 6050. Classification

Sec. 1. In this article, "person" means an individual, company, or private corporation, or their lessees,
Art. 6050

OIL AND GAS

Sec. 3. The natural gas made available under the provisions of this Act shall be used exclusively for pumping water for farm and other agricultural purposes in order for the person furnishing such natural gas to be exempt from the provisions of said Article 6050 of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas of 1925. The provisions of this Act shall be considered only as cumulative of other laws and shall not have the effect of repealing or amending any substantive or statutory law except as herein specifically provided.

Sec. 4. (a) Except as provided by Section 1(b) of this article, the terms “gas utility,” “public utility,” and “utility” do not include a person who certifies to the Commission that the person transports natural or synthetic gas, whether for sale, for hire, or otherwise, solely from in or within the vicinity of the field or fields where produced:

(1) to a gas processing plant or treating facility, or from the outlet of such plant or treating facility to:

(A) a person at or within the vicinity of such plant or treating facility; or

(B) anyone described in (2) or (3);

(2) to another person for transportation or sale in interstate commerce; or

(3) to another person in or within the vicinity of the field or fields where produced for transportation or sale in intrastate commerce.

(b) A person who makes deliveries or sales for lease use, compressor fuel, processing plant fuel, or similar uses; deliveries or sales pursuant to lease or right-of-way agreements; or deliveries or sales in or within the vicinity of the field where produced or at a processing plant outlet does not become a “gas utility,” “public utility,” or “utility” by virtue of such transaction. However, the terms “gas utility,” “public utility,” and “utility” include a pipeline which transmits or distributes to other end users of gas, or which makes city-gate deliveries for local distribution, but does not include a person covered by Section 2 of this article.

Submetering in Mobile Home Parks

Sec. 1a. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, the commission shall promulgate rules, regulations, and standards under which any owner, operator, or manager of a mobile home park may purchase natural gas through a master meter for delivery from such master meter to mobile home units within the mobile home park through individual submeters at each mobile home unit. Such rules and regulations shall require (a) that the owner, operator, or manager of a mobile home park shall not deliver natural gas for sale or resale for profit and (b) that the mobile home park shall maintain adequate records in connection with such submetering and shall make the records available for inspection by the mobile home resident during reasonable business hours.

PARTNERSHIPS AND JOINT STOCK COMPANIES

CHAPTER ONE. PARTNERSHIPS

LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS

Art. 6132a. Uniform Limited Partnership Act

Persons Who May be General or Limited Partners

Sec. 2A. (a) In this section, "person" includes without limitation:

(1) A corporation;
(2) A general or limited partnership;
(3) A trustee or trust;
(4) An executor, administrator, or estate; and
(5) A natural person.

(b) Any person may be a general or limited partner unless the person lacks capacity apart from this Act.

Liability of Limited Partner

Sec. 8. (a) A limited partner shall not become liable as a general partner unless, in addition to the exercise of his rights and powers as a limited partner, he takes part in the control of the business, and then only to a person who transacts business with the partnership reasonably believing that the limited partner is a general partner.

(b) A limited partner does not take part in the control of the business by virtue of possessing or exercising a power to:

(1) Consult with and advise the general partners as to the conduct of the business.
(2) Act as a surety, guarantor, or endorser for obligations of the partnership or to provide collateral for its borrowing.
(3) Act as a contractor, agent, or employee of the partnership or of a general partner.
(4) Act as an officer, director, or shareholder of a corporate general partner.
(5) Approve, individually or by a majority of the limited partners (by number, financial interest, or as otherwise provided in the certificate), material matters that are stated in the certificate, such as:
   (A) Dissolution and winding up of the partnership.

(B) Amendment of the partnership certificate or agreement.

(C) Sale, exchange, lease, mortgage, pledge, or other transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the partnership other than in the ordinary course of business.

(D) Incurrence, renewal, or refinancing of a debt by the partnership other than in the ordinary course of business.

(c) The statement of the powers set forth in Subsection (b) of this section is not exclusive and does not indicate that any other power possessed or exercised by a limited partner is sufficient to cause the limited partner to be considered to take part in the control of the business within the meaning of Subsection (a) of this section.

(d) This section does not create rights of limited partners. Those rights may be created only by the certificate, partnership agreement, or other sections of this Act.

General Partners—Rights, Powers, Restrictions and Liabilities

Sec. 10.

(b) This section does not prevent:

(1) The dissolution and winding up of the partnership:
   (i) As provided in the certificate; or
   (ii) Upon approval by any majority of the limited partners (by number, financial interest, or otherwise) as provided in the certificate;

(2) The sale, exchange, lease, mortgage, pledge, or other transfer of all or substantially all the assets of the partnership:
   (i) In the ordinary course of the partnership business; or
   (ii) If not in the ordinary course of the partnership business, upon approval by any majority of the limited partners (by number, financial interest, or otherwise) as provided in the certificate; or

(3) The amendment of the partnership agreement or certificate upon approval by any majority of the limited partners (by number, financial interest, or otherwise) as provided in the certificate.

Qualification of Foreign Limited Partnerships

Sec. 32. (a) Definition. "Foreign limited partnership" in this Act means a partnership formed under the limited partnership laws of any territory, possession, commonwealth, or state of the United States other than this state, having as members one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.

(b) Qualification. A foreign limited partnership may qualify to transact business in Texas by

(1) filing with the Secretary of State a copy of its certificate of limited partnership (or equivalent document) and all amendments thereto, with an original certification by the proper filing officer of the jurisdiction of its formation;

(2) filing with the Secretary of State a qualification statement containing:

(A) the name of the limited partnership, the jurisdiction of its formation, and the address of its principal place of business;

(B) the name and address of at least one of its general partners, who gives consent under Paragraph (C);

(C) a consent by the limited partnership and the named general partner(s) to be served with process in Texas through their registered agent in any proceeding for the enforcement of an obligation of the limited partnership;

(D) the address of the limited partnership's registered office in Texas;

(E) the name of the registered agent (either an individual or a corporation having as one of its purposes acting as a registered agent) for the limited partnership and for the named general partner(s) in Texas at such address; and

(F) the signature of the limited partnership and of the named general partner(s);

(3) paying a filing fee of one-half of one percent of the total contributions (including agreed additional contributions) of the limited partners stated in the copy of the certificate of limited partnership so filed, but not less than $100 nor more than $2500.

(c) Effect of Qualification. On qualifying under Section 32(b) of this Act, a foreign limited partnership shall enjoy the same rights. and privileges, and shall be subject to the same duties, restrictions, and liabilities, as a limited partnership formed under this Act, but its internal affairs and the liabilities of its limited partners shall be governed by the laws of the jurisdiction of its formation.

(d) Amendments of Certificate. A qualified foreign limited partnership must amend its filings in Texas to reflect changes in its certificate of limited partnership (or equivalent document) by filing with the Secretary of State within a reasonable time after such changes have been effected a copy of the amendment with an original certification by the proper filing officer of the jurisdiction of its formation, and paying the following fees:

(1) for filing an amendment which does not provide for new, increased, or additional contributions, $100 and

(2) for filing an amendment which provides for new, increased, or additional contributions, one-half of one percent of the new, increased, or additional contributions, but not less than $100 nor more than $2500.

(e) Change of Registered Office or Agent or Named General Partnership(s). (1) A qualified foreign limited partnership and the general partner(s) named in its qualification statement may change the registered office or the registered agent, or both, by filing with the Secretary of State a statement (signed by the partnership and the general partner(s) named in its qualification statement) designating the new office address or agent, and paying a fee of $10;

(2) A qualified foreign limited partnership may change the general partner(s) named in its qualification statement by filing with the Secretary of State a statement (signed by the partnership and the general partner(s) who will thereafter be the named partner(s) designating the named general partner(s) and containing his or their consent to be served with process in Texas through the limited partnership's registered agent in any proceeding for the enforcement of an obligation of the limited partnership, and paying a fee of $10.

(f) Termination of Qualification. A qualified foreign limited partnership may terminate its qualification by filing with the Secretary of State a statement that it terminates its qualification, and paying a fee of $25.

(g) Signatures on Filings. Except as otherwise provided, any statement filed under this Section 32 shall be signed by one of the general partners of the limited partnership or another person authorized to act on behalf of the limited partnership.

(h) Effect of Failure to File Amendments or Changes. Until changed by filing under Section 32(d), (e), or (f), a prior filing remains in effect.

(i) Forms. The Secretary of State shall have authority to promulgate and distribute forms for use under this Section 32.

(j) Service of Process. (1) The registered agent designated under Section 32(b) of this Act by a foreign limited partnership and a general partner(s) named in its qualification statement shall be an agent of the foreign limited partnership and such general partner(s) upon whom any process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the foreign limited partnership and/or such general partner(s) may be served.
(2) Nothing herein shall limit or affect the right to serve any process, notice, or demand under Chapter 43, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959 (Articles 2031b and 2033, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

(k) No Inference from this Section. This section shall not give rise to an inference as to the law governing:

(1) a foreign limited partnership before the effective date of this section, or

(2) a foreign limited partnership after the effective date of this section, which does not qualify hereunder.

Powers of Attorney

Sec. 33. A certificate of limited partnership or any other document required or permitted by this Act may be signed and sworn to by a limited partner in person or through an attorney in fact, who may, but need not, be a member of the limited partnership. A general partner who is a corporation may act as an attorney in fact for purposes of this Act. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1107, ch. 408, § 1, eff. TITLE 106

PATRIOTISM AND THE FLAG

Art. 6142a. Clarifying Description of Texas Flag
[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 to 5]

Sec. 6. When the Texas Flag is displayed out-of-doors, it should be on either a flagpole or a staff, and the staff should be at least two and one-half times as long as the Flag. The Flag is always attached at the spearhead end of the staff, and the heading must be made of material strong enough to protect the Colors.

The Texas Flag should not be displayed outdoors earlier than sunrise nor later than sunset. However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the Texas Flag may be displayed 24 hours a day if properly illuminated during the hours of darkness, or under the same circumstances as the Flag of the United States of America may be displayed.

The Texas Flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, unless a weather-proof flag is displayed.

The Texas Flag should be displayed on all State Memorial Days and on special occasions of historical significance.

Every school in Texas should fly the Texas Flag on all regular school days. This courtesy is due to the Lone Star Flag of Texas.

The Texas Flag should always be hoisted briskly, and furled slowly with appropriate ceremonies.

The Texas Flag should not be fastened in such a manner that it can be torn easily.

When the Texas Flag is flown from a flagpole or staff, the white stripe should always be at the top of the Flag, except in cases of distress, and the red stripe should be directly underneath the white.

The Texas Flag should be on the marching left when it is carried in a procession in which the Flag of the United States of America is unfurled.

The Texas Flag should be on the left of the Flag of the United States of America, and its staff should be behind the staff of the Flag of the United States of America when the two are displayed against a wall from crossed staffs.

When the Texas Flag is flown on a flagpole adjacent to the flagpole on which the Flag of the United States of America is flown, it should be unfurled after the Flag of the United States of America, and it should be displayed at the left of the Flag of the United States of America.

When the Texas Flag and the Flag of the United States of America are displayed at the same time, they should be flown on separate flagpoles of equal length, and the Flags should be approximately the same size. However, when it is necessary for the Texas Flag and the Flag of the United States of America to be flown from the same halyard, the Texas Flag must be beneath the Flag of the United States of America.

When the Texas Flag is flown from a window-sill, balcony, or front of a building, and flat against the wall, it should be on a staff, and the blue field should be at the observer's left.

When the Texas Flag and the Flag of the United States of America are displayed on a speaker's platform at the same time, the Texas Flag should be on the left side of the speaker, while the Flag of the United States of America is on the right side of the speaker.

The Texas Flag should be displayed on all platform or speaker's desk, nor to drape over the front of a speaker's platform.

When the Texas Flag is displayed flat on the wall of a platform, it should be above the speaker, and the blue field must always be at the Flag's right.

When the Texas Flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff should be fastened firmly to the chassis of the car, or clamped firmly to the right fender, unless the Flag of the United States of America is flown on the right fender, in which case the Texas Flag should be so displayed on the left fender.

When the Texas Flag is displayed on a float in a parade, it should always be attached securely to a staff.

The Texas Flag should not be allowed to touch the ground or the floor, nor to trail in water.

The Texas Flag should not be draped over the hood, top, sides, or back of any vehicle, or of a railroad train, boat, or aircraft.

The Texas Flag should not be used as a covering for a ceiling.
Art. 6142a  PATRIOTISM AND THE FLAG

The Texas Flag should not be used as any portion of a costume or athletic uniform.

The Texas Flag should not be embroidered upon cushions or handkerchiefs, nor printed on paper napkins or boxes.

The Texas Flag must not be treated disrespectfully by having printing or lettering of any kind placed upon it.

The Texas Flag should not be used in any form of advertising, and, under no circumstances, may advertisements of any kind be attached to the flagpole or staff.

It is disrespectful to the Texas Flag to use it for purposes of decoration, either as a covering for automobiles or floats in a parade, or for draping speakers' platforms or stands, or for any other similar purpose of decoration. For such purposes of decoration the colors of the Flag may be used in bunting or other cloth.

The Texas Flag should, whenever practicable, not be carried flat or horizontally, but always aloft and free, as it is carried in a parade.

The Texas Flag is flown at half-mast by first raising it to the top of the flagpole, and then slowly lowering it to a position one-half of the distance down the flagpole, and there leaving it during the time it is to be displayed. In taking the Flag down, it should first be raised to the top of the flagpole, and then slowly lowered with appropriate ceremony.

The Texas Flag should not be displayed, used, nor stored in such a manner that it can be easily soiled or otherwise damaged.

When the Texas Flag is in such condition of repair that it is no longer a suitable Emblem for displaying, it should be totally destroyed, preferably by burning, and that privately; or this should be done by some other method in keeping with the spirit of respect and reverence which all Texans owe the Emblem which represents the Lone Star State of Texas. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 728, ch. 272, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 6143d. State Plays

Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) the historic battles of San Jacinto, Goliad, and the Alamo that led to the independence of Texas are portrayed faithfully and artistically at Galveston Island State Park in the play, The Lone Star;

(2) the lives of early settlers of the Panhandle of Texas are portrayed colorfully and creatively each year at the Palo Duro Canyon State Park in the play, Texas;

(3) the relationship between early settlers of East Texas, especially General Sam Houston and the Alabama-Coushatta Indians, is portrayed historically and excitingly at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation in the play, Beyond the Sundown; and

(4) the founding of Fort Griffin and the lives of the settlers of Shackelford County and Albany, Texas, during the 1870s and 1880s are depicted during the last two weeks in June annually in Shackelford County in the play, Fandangle.

Sec. 2. The Lone Star presented in Galveston Island State Park, Texas presented in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park, Beyond the Sundown presented at the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation, and Fandangle presented in Shackelford County are designated official plays of the State of Texas. [Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 711, ch. 310, §§ 1, 2, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 6144f. Texas Tourist Development Agency

Texas Tourist Development Board

Sec. 1.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(a) to (e)]

(f) The Texas Tourist Development Agency is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; 1 and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the agency is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1989.

1 Article 5429k.

Art. 6144g. Commission on the Arts and Humanities

Creation and Establishment of Commission; Membership

Sec. 1. The Texas Commission on the Arts is established. The Commission shall consist of eighteen (18) members representing all fields of the arts, to be appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate from among private individuals who are widely known for their professional competence and experience in connection with the arts.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 1a. The Texas Commission on the Arts is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; 1 and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1983.

1 Article 5429k.

Name Change

Sec. 1b. (a) The name of the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities, formerly the Texas Fine Arts Commission, is changed to the Texas Commission on the Arts.
Sec. 3. The duties and responsibilities of the Commission shall be:

a. To foster the development of a receptive climate for the arts that will culturally enrich and benefit the citizens of Texas in their daily lives, to make Texas visits and vacations all the more appealing to the world and to attract to Texas residency additional outstanding creators in the fields of the arts through appropriate programs of publicity and education, and to direct other activities such as the sponsorship of lectures and exhibitions and central compilation and dissemination of information on the progress of the arts in Texas.

b. To act as an advisor to the State Board of Control, Texas Historical Commission, Texas State Library, Texas Tourist Development Agency, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and other state agencies to provide a concentrated state effort in encouraging and developing an appreciation for the arts in Texas.

c. To act in an advisory capacity relative to the creation, acquisition, construction, erection or remodeling by the state of any work of art.

d. To act in an advisory capacity, when requested by the Governor, relative to the artistic character of buildings constructed, erected or remodeled by the state.

Powers

Sec. 4. The Commission shall have power:

a. To elect from its members a chairman and other such officers as may be desirable; provided that the first chairman of the Commission shall be named by the Governor and shall call the first meeting of the Commission and serve as such until his successor shall be elected by the Commission.

b. To hold such meetings, at such places within the State of Texas and at such times as the Commission may designate.

c. To conduct research, investigations, and inquiries as may be necessary so as to inform the Commission of the development of the arts in Texas.

d. To appoint committees from its membership and prescribe their duties.

e. To appoint consultants to the Commission.

f. To make rules and regulations for its government and that of its officers and committees; and to prescribe the duties of its officers, consultants, and employees.

g. To employ a director and other such clerical employees as it may deem necessary within the limits of funds made available for such purposes.

Sec. 5. The Commission may accept on behalf of Texas such donations of money, property, art objects and historical relics as in its discretion shall best further the orderly development of the artistic resources of Texas. Appropriations may be made by the Legislature to the Commission to carry out the purposes of this Act. All funds shall be subject to audit by the State Auditor.

Abolition of Board of Mansion Supervisors

Sec. 8. The Board of Mansion Supervisors is hereby abolished and all powers, duties and authority heretofore vested in the Board of Mansion Supervisors are hereby transferred to the Texas Commission on the Arts provided for herein. The terms of office of the present members of the Board of Mansion Supervisors are hereby terminated.

Art. 6145. Texas Historical Commission

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 1b. The Texas Historical Commission is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1983.

State Historical Marker Program; Register; Review; Approval; Designation as Official State Markers; Damage

Sec. 12.

(2) No person may damage the historical or architectural integrity of any structure which has been designated by the Commission as a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark, without first giving 60 days’ notice to the Texas Historical Commission. After receipt of notice, the Commission may waive the waiting period or, if the Commission determines that a longer period will enhance chances for preservation, it may require an additional waiting period of not more than 30 days. Upon the expiration of the time limits imposed by this section, the person may proceed, but must proceed within 180 days of the expiration of the time the notice was given or the notice shall be deemed to have expired.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall give the Commission the authority to review or determine the placement or location of any object within or on a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark which placement or location results in no substantial structural damage or change.
Art. 6145  PATRIOTISM AND THE FLAG

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 13 to 15]

Significant Structures; Matching Grants

Sec. 15A. The commission is authorized to provide matching grants to assist the preservation of structures significant in Texas or American history, architecture, archeology, or culture if the structures:

(1) are included on the National Register of Historic Places; or
(2) are designated as Recorded Texas Historic Landmarks; or

(3) are determined by the commission to qualify as eligible property under criteria for inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places or for designation as a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark; or

(4) are certified by the commission to other agencies of the State of Texas as worthy of preservation.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 16]

Grants to Museums Honoring Fire Fighters

Sec. 16A. The Commission may make grants of funds given or appropriated to it for that purpose to museums honoring fire fighters and their work. This authorization shall extend to August 31, 1983.

Small History Museums; Matching Grants

Sec. 16B. The commission may provide matching grants for the purpose of preserving collections of small history museums in the state if the collections are significant in Texas or American history, architecture, archeology, or culture.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 17 to 23]

Penalty for Violation of Act

Sec. 24. A person who violates this Act is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each day of violation.

Filing Suit; Venue

Sec. 25. The attorney general or any resident of this state may file suit in the district court to restrain and enjoin any violation or threatened violation of this Act, to recover on behalf of the state a civil penalty provided in this Act, or for both injunctive relief and a civil penalty. Venue of a suit filed as provided in this section is in either Travis County or the county in which the activity sought to be restrained or penalized is alleged to have occurred, be occurring, or be about to occur.

Costs of Litigation

Sec. 26. In issuing a final order in an action brought as provided in Section 25 of this Act, the court may award costs of litigation, including reasonable attorney's and expert witness' fees.

Art. 6145.1. County Historical Commission

(a) The Commissioners Court of each county may appoint a County Historical Commission to consist of at least seven residents of the county for the purpose of initiating and conducting such programs as may be suggested by the Commissioners Court and the Texas Historical Commission for the preservation of the historical heritage of the county. The members of the commission shall be appointed during the month of January of odd-numbered years and shall serve for a term of two years. Should the Commissioners Court fail to appoint a commission by April 1 of each odd-numbered year, the Texas Historical Commission may appoint such commission upon 30 days written notice to the Commissioners Court of its intention to do so.

(b) Each County Historical Commission shall meet at least once each year at its county seat and may meet as often as each commission may determine under rules and regulations adopted by it for its own regulation. Each commission shall make an annual report of its activities and recommendations simultaneously to its Commissioners Court and to the Texas Historical Commission before the end of each calendar year and may make as many other reports and recommendations as it sees fit.

(c) Each commission shall institute and carry out a continuing survey of the county to determine the existence of historical buildings and other historical sites, private collections of historical memorabilia, or other historical features within the county, and shall report the data collected to the Commissioners Court and the Texas Historical Commission.

(d) The Commissioners Court may pay the necessary expenses of the commission and may authorize a car allowance and pay the necessary traveling expenses of the chairman and members of the commission.

(e) The commission shall make recommendations to the Commissioners Court and the Texas Historical Commission concerning the acquisition of property, real or personal, which is of historical significance.

(f) The commission may operate and manage any museum which may be owned or leased by the county, and may acquire artifacts and other museum paraphernalia in the name of the museum or the commission, and may supervise any employees hired by the Commissioners Court to operate the museum.

(g) In addition to the powers already conferred on it by law, the Commissioners Court of each county of this state may appropriate funds from the general fund of the county for the purpose of:

(1) erecting historical markers, monuments, and medallions;
(2) purchasing objects and collections of objects of any kind which are historically significant to the county; and
(3) preparing, publishing, and disseminating, by sale or otherwise, a history of the county.
(h) Furthermore, in addition to the powers already conferred on it by law, the commissioners court of each county of this state may, upon recommendation of the county historical commission or other interested persons, enter into a contract or contracts with private persons or entities for the lease or management of any county-owned real estate or structure which shall have been designated by the Texas Historical Commission as a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark deemed worthy of preservation because of its history, culture, or architecture or a combination thereof. Any such contract or lease shall be drawn in consultation with the County Historical Commission and shall specify duties and obligations of the lessee, including but not limited to maintenance, repairs, provision for public access, restrictions on inappropriate commercial uses, and any other provision designed to further the preservation of historic, cultural, or architectural aspects of the landmark. Such contracts or leases may be handled in the same manner as contracts for professional services rendered to a county, such as those provided for architectural or engineering services if such contract is with a nonprofit organization chartered in Texas; provided, however, that any such contract or lease may be for a period of years at the discretion of the commissioners court.

Section 2 of the 1975 amendatory act provided:
"County historical survey committees in existence on the effective date of this amendatory Act become county historical commissions as if the members were appointed under Chapter 152, Acts of the 58th Legislature, 1963, as amended by this Act (Article 6145.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). If the terms of any members expire before January, 1977, the commissioners court shall appoint successors to serve until new appointments are made in January, 1977. Members may be appointed to succeed themselves."

Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, repealing this article, enacts the Parks and Wildlife Code.

Art. 6145-2. Expired
This article expired on September 1, 1979, under the terms of § 2a, which was added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 810, ch. 302, § 1 to 5; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1833, ch. 735, § 2.006. (the Sunset Act). Prior to expiration, this article was amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 810, ch. 302, § 5 to 5; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1833, ch. 735, § 2.006.

Art. 6145-2a. Battleship Texas Commission

Commission
Sec. 1. The Battleship Texas Commission is established.

Members
Sec. 2. (a) The commission is composed of nine members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate.

(b) Members must have the following qualifications:

(1) two members must be representatives of the general public;
(2) one member must be a member of the Sons of the Republic of Texas;
(3) one member must be a member of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas;
(4) one member must be a member of the Texas State Historical Association;
(5) one member must be a member of the Navy League of the United States;
(6) one member must be a member of the Disabled American Veterans;
(7) one member must be a member of the American Legion; and

(8) one member must be a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States.

(c) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252–9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not act as the general counsel to the commission or serve as a member of the commission.

Terms
Sec. 3. Members of the commission hold office for staggered terms of six years with three members’ terms expiring February 1 of each odd-numbered year.

Officers
Sec. 4. The governor shall designate a chairman and a vice-chairman of the commission from its members. A member holds the position of chairman or vice-chairman for a term of two years expiring February 1 of each odd-numbered year.

Meetings
Sec. 5. The commission shall meet on the first Thursday of each month. The commission may meet at other times at the call of the chairman.

Expenses
Sec. 6. A member of the commission may not receive compensation for service on the commission. A member is entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred in performing functions as a member of the commission.

Executive Director; Staff
Sec. 7. (a) The commission shall employ an executive director as the executive head of the commission.

(b) The executive director shall employ persons necessary for the commission to perform its functions.

(c) The commission may contract with independent contractors as the commission considers necessary for it to carry out its functions.

Operating Board
Sec. 8. (a) The commission shall appoint three of its members to serve as an operating board to the commission.
Art. 6145-2a  PATRIOTISM AND THE FLAG

(b) The commission may delegate to the operating board authority to carry out, in the name of the commission, any function of the commission.
(c) The operating board shall act as a coordinating and liaison group between the commission and the Parks and Wildlife Department.

Functions

Sec. 9. The commission shall:

(1) provide a proper berth for the Battleship "Texas" adjacent to or on the San Jacinto Battleground;
(2) prepare the battleship for visits by the public;
(3) determine and charge a reasonable fee for admission of the public to the battleship;
(4) maintain and operate the battleship as a permanent exhibition in memory of the heroic participation of citizens of this state in World Wars I and II;
(5) allocate the funds appropriated to the commission to carry out its functions; and
(6) make concession contracts with the highest bidders for the sale of merchandise to visitors to the battleship.

Records

Sec. 10. The commission shall maintain books of account and records about all revenue received by the commission and about all expenses incurred by the commission in performing its functions.

Preference for Texas Materials

Sec. 11. Any materials used to maintain or operate the battleship shall be, as far as practicable, materials produced in this state.

Seal

Sec. 12. The commission shall adopt a seal bearing the words "State of Texas—Battleship Texas Commission" encircled by oak and olive branches.

Gifts and Grants

Sec. 13. The commission may accept gifts or grants from any source to be used to carry out the commission's functions. Money received as a gift or grant shall be deposited in the operating expense fund or the major repairs fund created under Section 14 of this Act and may be used only for the purposes for which those funds are created.

Disposition of Funds

Sec. 14. (a) Fees and concession revenues collected by the commission shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the Battleship Texas operating expense fund and may be used only for the general operating expenses of the commission. The fees and concession revenues shall be deposited in the State Treasury on the first business day following the day on which the collected fees and revenues total more than $100.

(b) At the end of each state fiscal year, the comptroller of public accounts shall determine if the amount of money in the operating expense fund exceeds the amount of money appropriated from the fund for the next fiscal year. The comptroller shall transfer the excess money to a special fund in the State Treasury to be known as the Battleship Texas major repairs fund. The money in the major repairs fund may be used only for major repairs to the battleship.

Prohibited Acts

Sec. 15. (a) A member of the commission may not charge, receive, or obtain any fee, commission, retainer, or brokerage from the funds appropriated to the commission.
(b) A member may not have any interest in any land, materials, concessions, or contracts sold to or made with the commission or the operating board.
(c) A member who knowingly or intentionally violates Subsection (a) or (b) of this section commits an offense. An offense under this subsection is a Class B misdemeanor.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 16. The commission is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the commission is abolished and this Act expires September 1, 1993.

Transfer of Battleship and Records

Sec. 17. The custody and control of the Battleship "Texas" and records relating to the battleship are transferred from the State Purchasing and General Services Commission to the Battleship Texas Commission.

Art. 6145-3. Expired

This article expired on September 1, 1979, under the terms of § 1a, which was added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1632, ch. 735, § 2.001 (the Sunset Act).

Art. 6145-11. Texas 1986 Sesquicentennial Commission

Text of article effective until September 1, 1987

Commission

Sec. 1. The Texas 1986 Sesquicentennial Commission is established.

Membership

Sec. 2. (a) The commission is composed of nine members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate, three members appointed by the speaker of the house of representatives, three members appointed by the lieutenant governor, and eleven ex officio members. Each member is a voting member. The duties performed by each state officer or employee appointed to the commission or serving ex officio are additional duties of the person's other office or employment.

(b) The members appointed by the governor must be representative of the general public to insure minority representation. The members appointed by the speaker must be, at the time of their appointments, members of the house of representatives. The members appointed by the lieutenant governor must be, at the time of their appointments, members of the senate. The ex officio members are the executive heads of the Texas Tourist Development Agency, Texas Historical Commission, Texas Commission on the Arts, Texas Film Commission, Texas State Library and Historical Commission, Texas State Historical Association, East Texas Historical Association, and Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, the director of the division of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation that disseminates travel information about the state, the director of the Institute of Texan Cultures, and the executive vice-president/general manager of the State Fair of Texas.

(c) A member appointed by the speaker or the lieutenant governor vacates his or her position on the commission if he or she ceases to be a member of the house from which he or she is appointed.

(d) A vacant position on the commission is filled for the unexpired portion of the term in the same manner by which the position was originally filled.

(e) An ex officio member may designate a representative to serve in the member's absence. A designated representative must be an officer or employee of the member's agency or organization. The designated representative has all the powers and duties of the ex officio member.

Sec. 3. (a) Appointed members hold office for staggered terms of six years with the terms of three of the governor's appointees, one of the speaker's appointees, and one of the lieutenant governor's appointees expiring on January 31 of each odd-numbered year.

Officers; Meetings; Quorum

Sec. 4. (a) The chairman of the commission is appointed by the governor from its members. The chairman serves in that capacity at the will of the governor. If the chairman is absent from a meeting or is disabled, the members of the commission present at the meeting shall elect a temporary chairman by majority vote.

(b) The commission shall meet at least quarterly each year. The commission may meet at other times at the call of the chairman or as provided by commission rule.

(c) Fourteen members of the commission constitute a quorum.

Expenses

Sec. 5. (a) A member is entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred in performing his or her functions as a member of the commission. An ex officio member's designated representative is entitled to reimbursement in the same manner as the ex officio member for whom the representative serves.

(b) A member appointed by the speaker or the lieutenant governor is to be reimbursed from the appropriate fund of the member's house of the legislature. The executive vice-president/general manager of the State Fair of Texas, the executive heads of the Texas State Historical Association, East Texas Historical Association, and members appointed by the governor are to be reimbursed from the commission's funds. Other ex officio members are to be reimbursed from the funds of the state agency or institution from which the member serves.

Executive Director; Staff

Sec. 6. (a) The commission may employ an executive director who is the executive head of the commission and performs its administrative functions.
(b) The executive director may employ staff members necessary to administer the functions of the commission.

Duties

Sec. 7. The commission shall:

(1) encourage individuals, private organizations, and local governmental bodies to organize activities celebrating the state's sesquicentennial;

(2) help individuals, private organizations, and local governmental bodies that organize sesquicentennial activities to coordinate the activities;

(3) gather and disseminate information to the general public about sesquicentennial activities conducted in the state;

(4) develop standards for sesquicentennial activities organized by individuals, private organizations, and local governmental bodies and sanction activities that comply with the standards;

(5) invite national and international dignitaries to attend sesquicentennial activities conducted in the state;

(6) encourage persons living outside the state to attend sesquicentennial activities conducted in the state;

(7) develop a logo to be used by the commission and permit other persons to use the logo if the commission considers the use appropriate; and

(8) sanction products, such as a commemorative calendar or flag, commemorating the state's sesquicentennial.

Report

Sec. 8. Before September 1, 1987, the commission shall file a report with the governor and the legislature containing information about the effects of the sesquicentennial activities conducted in the state on the state's economy.

Donations; Grants

Sec. 9. The commission may accept, on behalf of the state, donations or grants from any source to be used by the commission to perform its functions.

Construction of State Museum

Sec. 9A. (a) The commission may begin the planning for a state museum of the finest quality to be known as the Texas Sesquicentennial Museum.

(b) The museum shall be located in the city of Austin on state-owned land. The museum shall be a general-purpose museum with special emphasis on preserving the history and heritage of Texas and displaying the fine arts.

(c) The Texas Sesquicentennial Museum Board shall complete the planning and shall design and construct the museum with the assistance of the State Purchasing and General Services Commission.

(d) The Texas Sesquicentennial Museum Board may accept donations of appropriate items of significance for permanent or temporary display in the museum.

Sec. 9B. (a) The Texas Sesquicentennial Museum Board is established. The board consists of nine members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate.

(b) Members of the board hold office for terms of six years, with the terms of three members expiring on January 31 of each odd-numbered year.

(c) A majority of the board constitutes a quorum.

(d) The governor shall designate one of the members of the board to serve as chairperson for a term of two years expiring on January 31 of each odd-numbered year.

(e) The board shall meet at least once each calendar quarter and may meet at other times at the call of the chairperson or as provided by rules the board may adopt.

(f) A member of the board may not receive compensation for serving on the board, but is entitled to reimbursement of actual and necessary expenses, as provided by legislative appropriation, incurred in the performance of official duties.

(g) The board may employ an executive director who shall administer operation of the museum as directed by the board.

(h) The director may employ professional, clerical, and other personnel to assist the director in the performance of the director's duties as approved by the board.

(i) The board may contract with The University of Texas at Austin for the operation of the museum.

(j) Any institution of higher education may use the resources of the museum in the furtherance of the diffusion of knowledge under appropriate guidelines approved by the board.

Sec. 9C. (a) The sesquicentennial museum fund is established in the state treasury.

(b) The sesquicentennial museum fund may be used only for the planning and design of the Texas Sesquicentennial Museum, except that beginning September 1, 1983, the sesquicentennial museum fund may also be used for the construction, equipping, and furnishing of the Texas Sesquicentennial Museum.

(c) On the completion of the sesquicentennial museum, the Texas Sesquicentennial Museum Board shall certify to the state treasurer that the museum is completed. On receiving the certification, the state treasurer shall invest any money remaining to the credit of the sesquicentennial museum fund as a permanent endowment for the operation of the museum. Only the interest earned on the fund may be used for the operation of the museum.

(d) On or before January 31, 1983, the board shall submit a report to the 68th Legislature that must include: (1) architectural plans for the museum's... concentration; (2) a detailed estimate of the projected costs of the construction, equipping, and furnishing of the museum; and (3) an analysis of the impact of the museum's construction on other historical museums in the state.

Rules

Sec. 10. The commission may adopt rules necessary for it to perform its functions.

Abolition and Expiration

Sec. 11. The commission is abolished and this Act expires effective September 1, 1987.

Section 4 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2450, ch. 630, provides:

"In making the initial appointments to the Texas Sesquicentennial Museum Board under this Act, the governor shall appoint three members for terms expiring on January 31, 1983, three members for terms expiring on January 31, 1985, and three members for terms expiring on January 31, 1987."
and lieutenant governor. The committee may employ staff or engage the services of consultants to assist in its work.

(f) The committee may request the cooperation of agencies and officials of state and local government. The agencies and officials shall cooperate with the committee to the extent possible.

Inaugural Fund

Sec. 3. (a) The Inaugural Fund is created in the State Treasury. Money in the Inaugural Fund may be appropriated only for expenditures authorized by this Act.

(b) The State Treasurer shall credit to the Inaugural Fund a pro rata share of the interest received from the deposit of state funds as if the Inaugural Fund were a constitutional fund.

Inaugural Contributions

Sec. 4. (a) An individual, association, corporation, or other legal entity may contribute funds, services, or other things of value to defray the expenses of or otherwise provide for an inauguration. Such a contribution is not a political contribution for purposes of state law regulating political contributions or prohibiting such contributions by corporations or labor organizations.

(b) A contribution of funds to defray the expenses of an inauguration may be made to the inaugural committee or to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state receives a contribution while the inaugural committee is in existence, the secretary of state shall deliver the contribution to the committee. If the secretary of state receives a contribution at any other time, the secretary of state shall transmit the contribution to the State Treasurer, and the treasurer shall deposit the contribution in the State Treasury to the credit of the Inaugural Fund.

(c) When the secretary of state receives a contribution, the secretary of state shall execute duplicate copies of a receipt that shows the name and mailing address of the contributor, the amount of the contribution, the date of the contribution, and that the contribution was received to defray inaugural expenses. If the secretary of state issues a receipt, the secretary of state shall give one copy to the contributor and retain the other.

(d) The secretary of state shall keep all receipts on file in the office of the secretary of state for at least four years. The secretary of state shall maintain an index of those receipts that are on file, arranged alphabetically by contributor, showing the date of the contribution, name and mailing address of the contributor, and amount of each contribution. The index and receipts are public information.

Expenditures

Sec. 5. (a) Subject to any conditions attached to a particular appropriation, money appropriated from the Inaugural Fund may be expended for the following purposes:

1. printing;
2. the employment of staff;
3. the lease of office space and payment of utility expenses;
4. professional and consultant fees;
5. postage, telephone, and telegraph expenses;
6. payment of expenses incurred by committee members; and
7. any other public purpose reasonably related to conducting inaugural ceremonies and related events, including expenses of raising funds.

(b) Contributions received by the committee and not deposited in the State Treasury may be expended for any purpose that the committee considers appropriate.

(c) Each voucher for an expenditure from the Inaugural Fund must be approved in writing by the chair of the committee.

(d) The State Purchasing Act of 1957 (Article 664–3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) does not apply to the inaugural committee.

Competitive Bidding

Sec. 6. The committee may not make a contract covered by the competitive bidding requirements of Article XVI, Section 21, of the Texas Constitution, unless before awarding the contract the committee obtains at least three bids. The committee shall award the contract to the lowest bidder who in the opinion of the committee is most responsible and is best able to fulfill the terms of the contract. The committee may reject all bids if none of them in the opinion of the committee is responsible and is able to fulfill the terms of the contract at a reasonable price.

Records of Expenditures

Sec. 7. The committee in addition to maintaining records required by law with regard to the expenditure of appropriated funds shall maintain a record of each expenditure of funds other than appropriated funds. The record must contain the following information about each expenditure:

1. the name and address of the entity to whom the expenditure was paid;
2. the amount of the expenditure;
3. the date of the expenditure; and
4. the purpose of the expenditure.

Final Report; Dissolution of Committee

Sec. 8. (a) As soon after the inauguration as the chairman determines that it has completed its work and has satisfied its financial obligations but not later than June 30 of the year in which the inauguration is held, the committee shall file with the secretary of state a final report verified by a certified public accountant that shows:

1. the total amount of contributions received by the committee, including contributions paid to the secretary of state during the committee's exis­tence and paid by the secretary of state to the committee;

(2) the total amount of expenditures made by the committee from nonappropriated funds; and

(3) the total amount of nonappropriated funds remaining in the committee's possession.

(b) On the date on which the committee files its final report with the secretary of state, the commit­tee shall transmit to the State Treasurer all nonap­propriated unexpended funds it possesses. The trea­surer shall deposit the funds in the State Treasury to the credit of the Inaugural Fund.

(c) When the secretary of state determines that the committee has complied with Subsections (a) and (b) of this section, the secretary of state shall issue a proclamation to that effect. The committee is dis­solved on the day after the date that the proclama­tion is issued.

(d) The final report of the committee is public information.

Claims Filed After Dissolution

Sec. 9. If after dissolution of the committee an individual or other entity files with the secretary of state a verified claim for an amount alleged to be due to the claimant under a contract made by the committee pursuant to this Act before its dissolu­tion, the secretary of state shall submit a copy of the claim to the governor, lieutenant governor, and at­orney general. If each of those officers files with the secretary of state a signed statement finding that the claim is valid, the secretary of state shall forward the original claim and the statements of those officers to the comptroller of public accounts. If funds for the payment of expenses of the type covered by the claim have been appropriated and are available and if there is no legal reason for refusing payment, the comptroller shall cause the claim to be paid. Appropriations for the payment of claims under this section must be from the Inaugural Fund.

Additional State Funding

Sec. 10. In addition to making appropriations from the Inaugural Fund as authorized by this Act, the legislature may appropriate other funds for any purpose for which money in the Inaugural Fund may be appropriated.

Previous Contributions

Sec. 11. If on the effective date of this Act an inaugural committee or other entity that was formed to solicit and expend funds for an inaugura­tion held before the effective date of this Act has in its possession a portion of the funds it received for that purpose, it may contribute those funds to the secretary of state for deposit in the Inaugural Fund pursuant to this Act.

1. DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

Art. 6166b-1. Application of Sunset Act
The Texas Board of Corrections is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the board is abolished effective September 1, 1987. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2629, ch. 707, § 4(6), eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]

Art. 6166j. Director's Authority
The Texas Department of Corrections shall employ a director, who shall possess qualifications and training which suit him to manage the affairs of a modern correctional institution, and it shall be his duty to carry out the policies of the Texas Department of Corrections. The Department shall manage and control the correctional system through the manager selected by it. In addition to his salary, the director shall be furnished with a dwelling house by the State and all necessary traveling expenses when traveling on business for the correctional system. The Department shall delegate to such manager authority to manage the affairs of the correctional system, subject to its control and supervision. The duty of the director shall extend to the employment and discharge, with the approval of the Department, of such persons as may be necessary for the efficient conduct of the correctional system. The director, with the consent of the Texas Department of Corrections, shall have power to prescribe reasonable rules and regulations governing the humane treatment, training, education, rehabilitation and discipline of prisoners, and to make provision for the separation and classification of prisoners according to sex, age, health, corrigibility, and character of offense upon which the conviction of the prisoner was secured. Neither the Department of Corrections nor the director may discriminate against a prisoner on the basis of sex, race, color, creed, or national origin. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2356, ch. 725, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]
Art. 6166m-1. Funds for Discharged Convicts

From and after the effective date of this Act, the State Treasurer of the State of Texas, shall set aside funds not less than One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000) in amount received by him from the Director of Corrections to be kept on deposit in a bank or banks in Huntsville, Texas, as determined by the Attorney General of the State of Texas. The funds shall be used by the Texas Department of Corrections for the prompt payment in cash to all discharged, pardoned, or paroled convicts.

Art. 6166u. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2356, ch. 725, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1975

Art. 6166x-3. Work Furloughs

Employment of Prisoners Outside the State Prison System

Sec. 1. The Texas Department of Corrections is hereby authorized to grant work furlough privileges, under the “Work Furlough Plan,” as hereinafter provided, which may include programs and procedures for inmates to contribute restitution or reparation to victims of the prisoner’s crime, as established by the judgment of the court that sentenced the prisoner to his term of imprisonment, to any inmate of the state prison system serving a term of imprisonment, under such rules, regulations, and conditions as the department of corrections may prescribe.

Texas Work Furlough Program Advisory Board

Sec. 1A. (a) The Texas Work Furlough Program Advisory Board is hereby created. Its main office is in Huntsville, Texas, at the location of the office of the director of the Texas Department of Corrections.

(b) The board is composed of nine members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. Except for the initial appointees, the members of the board hold office for terms of six years, with the terms of three members expiring on January 31 of each odd-numbered year. In making the initial appointments, the governor shall designate three for terms expiring January 31, 1979, three for terms expiring January 31, 1981, and three for terms expiring January 31, 1983. The governor shall make the appointments in such a manner that the term of one member representing a recognized labor union, as required by Subsection (d) of this section, expires every two years.

(c) To be qualified for appointment as a member of the board, a person must be a citizen of the United States and a resident of Texas.

(d) Not less than three members of the board shall be representatives of recognized labor unions. The balance of the board membership shall be broadly representative of the noncorrectional general public and should include representatives of such groups as, for example, employer groups, local bar associations, citizen organizations, educators, social work professionals, and various entities in the criminal justice system, such as law enforcement agencies and probation and parole departments.

(e) Members of the board qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office before an officer authorized to administer oaths in this state. When a board member presents his oath of office and the certificate of his appointment to the secretary of state, the secretary of state shall issue a commission to him. The commission from the secretary of state is evidence of authority to act as a member of the board.

(f) The board shall formally elect a chairman and a secretary-treasurer from its members. The board may adopt rules necessary for the orderly conduct of its business.

(g) Five members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business and may act for the board. The board shall prepare and preserve minutes and other records of its proceedings and actions.

(h) Members of the board do not receive a salary for their services but each member is entitled to $25 for each day spent in attending meetings of the board, including time spent in travel to and from the meetings, not to exceed $50 a year. Members of the board are also entitled to be reimbursed for travel and other necessary expenses incurred while performing their official duties if the expenses are evidenced by voucher approved by the chairman or the secretary-treasurer of the board.

(i) It shall be the functions of the board to advise the department of corrections in its administration of the Work Furlough Program and to provide a forum for the hearing and resolution of grievances against the program. In the fulfillment of its grievance resolution functions, the board shall have immediate access to all records maintained by the department in its administration of the Work Furlough Program and may request further pertinent information from the department not found in those records.

(j) The board shall prepare an annual report to be filed not later than 60 days following the close of each fiscal year with the governor, the lieutenant governor, members of the legislature, and the legislative budget board showing the activities of the board, together with such recommendations regarding the Work Furlough Program as deemed advisable.

facilities in the State Prison System or in the area of such prisoner's employment, for quartering prisoners with work furlough privileges. No prisoner shall be granted work furlough privileges until suitable facilities for quartering such prisoner have been provided in the area where the prisoner has obtained employment or has an offer of employment.

(b)(1) The director of the department of corrections may recommend any prisoner who is statutorily eligible for parole, provided that the prisoner is either incarcerated for a nonviolent crime or at least 40 years old and incarcerated for an offense other than use of a deadly weapon or sex offense, to the Board of Pardons and Paroles for release on conditional work furlough parole to a halfway house under contract with the Board of Pardons and Paroles for conditional work furlough parolees when in the director's determination the prisoner has a high probability of successful completion of release to conditional work furlough parole.

(2) The Board of Pardons and Paroles, after receipt of the recommendation of release to conditional work furlough parole, shall consider all pertinent information regarding the prisoner, including the circumstances of his offense, his previous social history and criminal record, his conduct, employment and attitude in prison, and his physical and mental health before recommending his release to conditional work furlough parole. Upon the governor's approval, the prisoner shall be released to conditional work furlough parole.

(3) A prisoner released to conditional work furlough parole shall remain in legal custody of the department of corrections but shall be amenable to the orders of the Board of Pardons and Paroles. If a prisoner shall abscond while released to conditional work furlough parole, the prisoner shall be an escapee under the Penal Code.

(4) If a prisoner released to conditional work furlough parole violates any of the rules promulgated by the Board of Pardons and Paroles under this subsection, the conditional work furlough parole shall be subject to revocation procedures as provided in Article 42.12, Code of Criminal Procedure.

(5) The Board of Pardons and Paroles shall promulgate the necessary rules including a conditional work furlough parole contract which shall include an agreement by the prisoner to pay for the costs of supervision, costs of being quartered in the halfway house, restitution to the victim or victims, and support of the prisoners' dependents, if any, to implement the provisions of this subsection.

Securing Employment

Sec. 4. The director of the department of corrections shall endeavor to secure employment for unemployed eligible prisoners under this Act, subject to the following:

(1) such employment must be at a wage at least as high as the prevailing wage for similar work in the area or community where the work is performed and in accordance with the prevailing working conditions in such area;

(2) such employment shall not result in the displacement of employed workers or be in occupations, skills, crafts, or trades in which there is a surplus of available and qualified workers in the locality, the existence of such surplus to be determined by the Texas Employment Commission;

(3) prisoners eligible for work furlough privileges shall not be employed as strikebreakers or in impairing any existing contracts;

(4) exploitation of eligible prisoners, in any form, is prohibited either as it might affect the community or the inmate or the department of corrections;

(5) in the event a work furlough employer desires to reduce its labor force, it must release its work furlough inmate employees prior to releasing any of its free employees;

(6) not more than 10 percent of a work furlough employer's labor force shall be composed of work furlough inmates unless prior special emergency approval for temporarily exceeding that percentage be secured from the Texas Work Furlough Program Advisory Board;

(7) in the event a work furlough employer provides its employees with paid vacation leave which, due to their incarceration, work furlough inmates are unable to enjoy, said employer must either hold accrued vacation time for the inmate to take after discharge from the department of corrections or, at the election of the inmate, the employer must pay the inmate regular wages for the accrued vacation time;

(8) in the event a National Labor Relations Board certification or decertification election is to be conducted at any premises of a work furlough employer, no prisoners employed by the employer under this Act shall be permitted to participate in the election.

Disbursement of Wages or Salaries

Sec. 6. Every prisoner gainfully employed under work furlough privileges is liable for the cost of his keep in the prison or quarters as may be fixed by the department of corrections. Such payments shall be deposited to the general operating expenses of the department of corrections. After deduction of such amounts the director of the department of corrections shall disburse the wages or salaries of employed prisoners for the following purposes and in the order stated:

(1) necessary travel expense to and from work and other incidental expenses of the prisoner;

(2) support of the prisoner's dependents, if any;
(3) restitution or reparation to the victim of the prisoner's crime for which he is serving a term of imprisonment, the total amount of such restitution or reparation as may be established by the court and entered in the judgment of the court that sentenced the prisoner to his term of imprisonment;
(4) the balance, if any, to the prisoner upon his discharge.
[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 7 and 8]

Rights of Prisoners

Sec. 9. Nothing in this Act is intended to restore, in whole or in part, the civil rights of any prisoner. However, prisoners compensated under this Act shall come within the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act, as amended, and shall be entitled to benefits thereunder on behalf of themselves as well as any other persons.

Art. 6186z1. Discharge

(a) When a convict is entitled to a discharge from the State penitentiary, or is released therefrom on parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon, the Director of the Department of Corrections or his Executive Assistant shall prepare and deliver to him a written discharge or release, as the case may be, dated and signed by him with seal annexed, giving convict's name, the name of the offense or offenses for which he was convicted, the term of sentence imposed and the date thereof, the county in which he was sentenced the prisoner to his term of imprisonment, and such description of the convict as may be practicable. He shall be furnished, if needed, suitable civilian clothes, and all money held to his credit by any official of the Texas Department of Corrections shall be delivered to him.

(b) The amount of money which a convict is entitled to receive from the State of Texas when he is discharged from the State penitentiary or released from the State penitentiary on parole, mandatory supervision, or conditional pardon shall be $200.

(c) To defray the expenses of transportation or other costs related to burial occasioned by the death of an inmate who dies while serving a sentence in the Texas Department of Corrections, the Director of the Department of Corrections may expend a sum not to exceed the amount that a convict is entitled to receive from the State when he is discharged or released from the penitentiary.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2401, ch. 735, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 993, ch. 347, § 4, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 105, ch. 63, § 1, eff. April 19, 1979.]

2. REGULATIONS AND DISCIPLINE

Art. 6181-1. Inmate Classification and Good Conduct Time

Sec. 1. For the purpose of this Article:
(1) “Department” means the Texas Department of Corrections.
(2) “Director” means the Director of the Texas Department of Corrections.
(3) “Inmate” means a person confined by order of a court in the Texas Department of Corrections, whether he is actually confined in the institution or is under the supervision or custody of the Board of Pardons and Paroles.
(4) “Term” means the maximum term of confinement in the Texas Department of Corrections stated in the sentence of the convicting court. When two or more sentences are to be served consecutively and not concurrently, the aggregate of the several terms shall be considered the term for purposes of this Article. When two or more sentences are to run concurrently, the term with the longest maximum confinement will be considered the term for the purposes of this Article.

Sec. 2. The department shall classify all inmates as soon as practicable upon their arrival at the department and shall reclassify inmates as circumstances may warrant. All inmates shall be classified according to their conduct, obedience, industry, and prior criminal history. The director shall maintain a record on each inmate showing all classifications and reclassifications with dates and reasons therefor.

Sec. 3. (a) Inmates shall accrue good conduct time based upon their classification as follows:
(1) 20 days for each 30 days actually served while the inmate is classified as a Class I inmate;
(2) 10 days for each 30 days actually served while the inmate is classified as a Class II inmate; and
(3) 10 additional days for each 30 days actually served if the inmate is a trusty.

(b) No good conduct time shall accrue during any period the inmate is classified as a Class III inmate or on parole or under mandatory supervision.

Sec. 4. Good conduct time applies only to eligibility for parole or mandatory supervision as provided in Section 15, Article 42.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, and shall not otherwise affect the inmate's term. Good conduct time is a privilege and not a right. Consequently, if during the actual term of imprisonment in the department, an inmate commits an offense or violates a rule of the department, all or any part of his accrued good conduct time may be forfeited by the director. The director may, however, in his discretion, restore good conduct time forfeited under such circumstances subject to rules and policies to be promulgated by... the department. Upon revocation of parole or mandatory supervision, the inmate loses all good conduct time previously accrued, but upon return to the department may accrue new good conduct time for subsequent time served in the department.

Sec. 5. If the release of an inmate falls upon a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the inmate may, at the discretion of the director, be released on the preceding workday.

See, now, art. 6181-1.

Art. 6184m. Alcoholic Beverages, Controlled Substances or Dangerous Drugs; Furnishing to Prisoners; Punishment

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1]

Sec. 2. As used this Act, “alcoholic beverage” shall have the meaning defined in the Alcoholic Beverage Code, as heretofore or hereafter amended; “controlled substance” means any substance defined as a controlled substance by the Texas Controlled Substances Act; and “dangerous drug” means any substance defined as a dangerous drug by Chapter 425, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959, as amended (Article 4476-14, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

Art. 6184n. Temporary Furloughs for Inmate’s Illness or Family Critical Illness or Funerals

Medical Furloughs

Sec. 1. The Texas Department of Corrections may grant a medical furlough to any inmate serving a term of imprisonment in the department for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment, diagnosis, or medical study, and under such security conditions as the department may deem necessary and proper.

Furloughs to Attend Funerals or Visit Critically Ill Relatives, or for Other Reasons

Sec. 2. (a) The Texas Department of Corrections may grant temporary furloughs of not more than five days to inmates who are considered acceptable security risks by the department to attend funerals, to visit critically ill relatives, or for any other reason that the department determines is appropriate.

(b) The department may extend a temporary furlough granted under this section for up to 10 days when the circumstances justify a longer furlough, but in no event may the department grant more than two such furloughs during a calendar year period without the authority of the Board of Pardons and Paroles and of the governor, as in the case of emergency reprieves.

Rules

Sec. 3. The department shall promulgate rules in the same manner as other rules for the governing and operation of the department are promulgated to govern the administration and conditions of temporary furloughs.

Notice to Board of Pardons and Paroles

Sec. 4. The department shall notify the Board of Pardons and Paroles of a furlough granted under this article and of an inmate’s return to the department of corrections following a furlough.

Custody of Furloughed Inmate; Escape

Sec. 5. An inmate granted a furlough under this article or an emergency reprieve by the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the governor, whether under physical guard or otherwise, shall remain in the custody of the Texas Department of Corrections and be considered a prisoner of the department for all purposes. In the event an inmate of the department granted a furlough under this article or an emergency reprieve by the board and the governor does not return to the department at the time specified for his return, he shall be considered an escapee from the department and subject to punishment under Section 38.07, Penal Code.

Cost of Transportation of Furloughed Inmate

Sec. 6. The cost of transportation of an inmate while the inmate is on a temporary furlough may not be paid from state funds unless the inmate is under physical guard during the furlough.

Art. 6203aa. Permits for Geological Surveys

(a) The Board for Lease of Texas Prison Lands heretofore created, composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, the Attorney General and the Chairman of the Texas Board of Corrections, is hereby authorized to determine the consideration, terms, and conditions for granting permits for geological surveys or investigations on Prison Lands, which said Board has heretofore been authorized to lease for oil and gas. The Board shall establish a schedule of rates and set such consideration, terms, and conditions for the permits as said Board may deem to be in the best interest of the State of Texas, and which will encourage the development of said lands for oil and gas, and from time to time may make changes in the consideration, terms, or conditions that the Board determines are in the best interest of the state. The surveys shall be made in such way as to not unreasonably interfere with the operation of said Prison System.
(b) The Chairman of the Texas Board of Corrections may approve a request and grant a permit for a geological survey or investigation on Prison Lands that complies with the consideration, terms, and conditions fixed by the Board for Lease of Texas Prison Lands.

Art. 6203aa-1. Lease of Lands

Right to Lease

Sec. 1. The Texas Board of Corrections may lease state-owned land under its management and control at its fair market lease value for an initial period not to exceed 20 years and under such other terms and conditions as the board deems best for the interest of the Texas Department of Corrections. No member of the Texas Board of Corrections or person related to a member within the second degree by affinity or within the third degree by consanguinity may own an interest in the entity leasing the property.

Disposition of Proceeds

Sec. 2. The proceeds of a lease, less expenses, shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the Texas Department of Corrections special mineral fund and shall be used exclusively for the benefit of the Texas Department of Corrections as specified by legislative appropriation.

Notification to Taxing Units

Sec. 3. The Texas Board of Corrections shall notify the taxing units authorized to impose ad valorem taxes that property has been leased by sending a copy of the lease by first-class mail, return receipt requested, to each taxing unit in which the leased property is located. The lessee shall be liable for all ad valorem taxes imposed on the leased property.

Art. 6203aaa. Control of Coal, Lignite, and Minerals Other Than Oil and Gas

(a) In this article:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, organization, business trust, estate, trust, partnership, association, joint venture, or other legal entity.

(2) "Board" means the Board for Lease of Texas Prison Lands.

(3) "Department" means the Texas Department of Corrections.

(4) "Minerals" means coal, lignite, and other minerals other than oil and gas.

(5) "State prison land" means land owned and held by the state as Texas Department of Corrections land.

(b) The board has the sole and exclusive control of minerals on or in state prison land and may explore, sell, lease, develop, mine, produce, manage, use, and otherwise control the minerals on or in state prison land as the board considers in the best interest of the state.

(c) The board may lease, enter into agreements, or contract with any person to explore, develop, mine, produce, dispose of, or sell minerals on or in state prison land. Also, the board may enter into agreements or contracts with any person for the joint exploration and development, mining, or production of minerals in or on state prison land on terms and conditions that the board finds will benefit the state.

(d) If state prison land is leased by the board under this article, the land shall be leased in the manner provided by Chapter 13, General Laws, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 4th Called Session, 1930, as amended (Article 6203a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(e) Each lease of state prison land shall include a provision granting the board authority to take its royalty in kind. The option to take royalty in kind may be exercised at the discretion of the board and at any time or from time to time on not less than 60-days' notice to the holder of the lease.

(f) The board may sell royalty taken in kind and minerals developed, mined, or produced by the board to any person or any other agency of the state or local government and may negotiate and execute sales contracts or other instruments or agreements necessary for disposition of royalty taken in kind and minerals produced, mined, or developed by it. Also, the board may retain royalty taken in kind and minerals developed, mined, or produced by it for use by the department.

(g) The board may enter into any other contracts and agreements necessary to carry out this article.

(h) The department may construct or acquire by purchase or lease generating plants and other facilities necessary to use its minerals for providing electric power to various units of the department. Generating plants and facilities constructed, purchased, or leased under this article shall be paid for solely from revenues and income obtained from activities under this article.

(i) The board shall adopt necessary rules to carry out this article.

(j) After paying expenses to carry out this article, the board shall deposit the remaining revenues and income obtained under this article in the Texas Department of Corrections mineral lease fund which shall be for the exclusive use of the Texas Department of Corrections, as specified by legislative appropriation.

(k) The board may request the assistance of the General Land Office and the Commissioner of the General Land Office in carrying out this article, and the General Land Office and the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall provide assistance to the board on request.

(l) This article does not authorize the board to sell state prison land.

Art. 6203c-2. Construction of Medical Facilities at University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston

Sec. 1. The Texas Board of Corrections is authorized to construct a medical facility and necessary related facilities on the campus of the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston, subject to the prior written approval of the site, plans, and specifications for such facility and an interagency operating agreement by the Texas Department of Corrections and the Board of Regents of The University of Texas System.

Sec. 2. So long as such medical facility is used for patients of the Texas Department of Corrections, the facility will be utilized as a teaching hospital limited to such patients who shall at all times be teaching patients. The Board of Regents of The University of Texas System shall maintain and operate such facility (except for security measures) and shall otherwise provide professional staff services necessary for the care of patients in such facility at the same level of care as provided for patients in other facilities of the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston from funds appropriated for those purposes. In the event the facility is no longer used for patients of the Texas Department of Corrections, such facility shall revert to the medical branch for its use and shall be operated under the exclusive management and control of the Board of Regents of The University of Texas System.

Sec. 3. The interagency operating agreement referred to in Section 1 of this Act shall provide for the Board of Regents of The University of Texas System to construct such facility on behalf of the Texas Department of Corrections with funds appropriated to the department for such purpose and in conformity with the rules of the Board of Regents of The University of Texas System relative to new construction.

Art. 6228a.1. Benefits Payable to Appointive Officer and Employee Members of Employees Retirement System

Monthly annuities for appointive officer and employee members of the Employees Retirement System of Texas who retired before September 1, 1976, or their survivors, and to the survivors of deceased appointive officer and employee members whose deaths occurred before September 1, 1976, are increased, beginning with the September 1, 1979, payments, by 12 percent. Monthly annuities for appointive officer and employee members of the Employees Retirement System of Texas who retired on or after September 1, 1976, but before September 1, 1978, and to the survivors of deceased appointive officer and employee members whose deaths occurred on or after September 1, 1976, but before September 1, 1978, are increased, beginning with the September 1, 1979, payments, by eight percent.

Section 2 of the 1979 Act provided:

"There is authorized an appropriation in the General Appropriations Bill to the Employees Retirement System of Texas in the sum of $59,200,000 to fund the increases in annuities provided by Section 1 of this Act. The increases take effect only on the appropriation and payment of that sum. On the effective date of the General Appropriations Bill, the comptroller of public accounts shall transfer the appropriated sum to the Employees Retirement System of Texas for deposit in the benefit increase reserve fund of the system. Should the amount less than the amount required to fund the increases provided by this Act be appropriated, the General Appropriations Bill may specify rates of increases other than those provided by this Act. If the rates of increases are not specified in the General Appropriations Bill, the board of trustees shall adjust the rates of increases accordingly to rates which the actual amount appropriated will fund."

Art. 6228a.2. Benefits Payable to Appointive Officer and Employee Members of Employees Retirement System

(a) Monthly benefits that are based on service that was credited in the Employees Retirement System of Texas as appointive officer or employee class service, that are computed under Chapter 352, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6228a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as it now exists or previously existed, and that are payable to a retiree of the Employees Retirement System of Texas whose retirement became effective before September 1, 1979, to the survivor of a retiree of the Employees Retirement System of Texas whose death occurred before September 1, 1979, are increased by 5.1 percent.

(b) The initial payment of the increase in benefits provided by this Act is for the calendar month in which this Act takes effect.

Section 2 of the 1981 Act provided:

"There is appropriated from the General Revenue Fund to the Employees Retirement System of Texas the sum of $17,580,000, which sum has been actuarially determined to be the amount necessary to fund the benefit increases provided by this Act. On the effective date of this Act, the state comptroller of public accounts shall transfer the appropriated sum for deposit in the benefit increase reserve fund of the Employees Retirement System of Texas."
ment System of Texas. The system shall appoint all employees and shall prescribe their duties and qualifications for employment. The salaries and compensations of all employees shall be fixed by the Employees Retirement System of Texas commensurate with prevailing rates for similar state positions.

Transfer of Personal Property and Equipment

Sec. 4. All personal property and equipment purchased out of the Social Security Administration Account now in use by the Social Security Division of the State Department of Public Welfare for the operation and administration of the program are hereby transferred to the Employees Retirement System of Texas.

Transfer of Trust Funds

Sec. 5. All trust funds created for social security purposes and specifically those known as the Social Security Fund Account identified in the state comptroller's records as Fund No. 913 and the Social Security Administration Account identified in the state comptroller's records as Fund No. 929 are hereby transferred to the Employees Retirement System of Texas.

Negotiation For and Acquisition of Lands, Buildings and Facilities

Sec. 6. The Employees Retirement System of Texas is hereby authorized to negotiate for and acquire from the United States government or any agency thereof or from any source whatever by gift, purchase, or leasehold for and on behalf of the State of Texas for use in the state service and in the operation and administration of the federal social security program as it now exists, or as it may hereafter be amended, any lands, buildings, and facilities within the State of Texas and any personal property and equipment wherever located and to take title thereto for and in the name of the State of Texas.

Use of Trust Funds

Sec. 7. Employees retirement system trust funds shall not be used in any manner or at any time for the administration of the social security trust funds or programs provided for herein.

Effective Date

Sec. 8. This Act shall become effective September 1, 1975.

Repeal of Conflicting Laws; Saving Provisions

Sec. 9. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict only. It is expressly provided, however, that Chapter 500, Acts of the 52nd Legislature, 1951, as amended (Article 695g, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), Chapter 467, Acts of the 54th Legislature, 1955, as amended (Article 695h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Section 17.91, Texas Education Code, shall continue in full force and effect except wherein they conflict with this Act and, more particularly, those portions of those articles placing the operation and administration of the federal social security program under the State Department of Public Welfare, and wherever any power, duty, function, or responsibility is placed upon the executive director (commissioner) of public welfare, it shall be vested in the Employees Retirement System of Texas.

Art. 6228a-7. Dental Insurance Survey by Employees Retirement System Board

Text of article effective until February 1, 1983

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, "state employee" means an employee as defined by Section 3, Texas Employees Uniform Group Insurance Benefits Act, as amended (Article 3.50–2, Insurance Code).

Information About Dental Insurance

Sec. 2. The State Board of Trustees of the Employees Retirement System of Texas shall prepare information about the kinds and costs of dental insurance that could be made available to state employees.

Survey

Sec. 3. The board shall distribute at random to state employees a survey form that contains a summary of the information prepared by the board under Section 2 of this Act and that requests information from the employees about the kinds and costs of dental insurance that the employees desire.

Procedures

Sec. 4. The board shall prescribe the procedures for the distribution and return of the survey forms. The distribution shall be done in conformity with acceptable scientific random survey procedures.

Report

Sec. 5. The board shall compile and organize in a report the information gathered from the survey forms and other information that the board considers appropriate and shall present the report to the 68th Legislature.

Expenses

Sec. 6. The expenses of preparation and distribution of the survey and report, required by this Act shall be paid from amounts in the employees life, accident, and health insurance and benefits fund available for administrative expenses of the state group insurance program as provided by Section 19(b), Texas Employees Uniform Group Insurance Benefits Act (Article 3.50–2, Insurance Code).

Expiration of Act

Sec. 7. This Act expires February 1, 1983.

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., ch. 453, repealing this article enacted Title 1108, Public Retirement Systems.
Art. 6228b PENSIONS

For disposition of the subject matter of the repealed article, see Disposition Table following Title 110B.

Prior to repeal, this article was amended by:

Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1367, ch. 522, § 1.
Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1825, ch. 561, § 1.

Art. 6228b-1. Judicial retirement system; computation of benefits for certain retirees and survivors

Sec. 1. Monthly benefits payable by the Judicial Retirement System of Texas to a retiree of that system whose retirement became effective before September 1, 1967, or to the survivor of a retiree of that system whose retirement became effective before September 1, 1967, are computed on the basis of 60 percent of the state salary, as adjusted from time to time, being paid a judge of a court of the same classification as the court on which the retiree last served before retirement.

Sec. 2. This Act takes effect September 1, 1981, and applies only to monthly benefits that become payable on or after that date. The amount of monthly benefits payable before September 1, 1981, is determined by Chapter 99, Acts of the 51st Legislature, Regular Session, 1949 (Article 6228b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as it existed on the date of retirement except as otherwise specifically provided by that Act.

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., ch. 453, repealing this article, enacted Title 110B, Public Retirement Systems.

For disposition of the subject matter of the repealed article, see Disposition Table following Title 110B.

2. CITY PENSIONS

Art. 6243a. Firemen's, Policemen's and Fire Alarm Operators' Pension System; Cities and Towns of 452,000 or More Having Fully or Partially Paid Departments.

Board of Trustees

Sec. 1. In all incorporated cities and towns which operate a separate Firemen, Policemen and Fire Alarm Operators Pension System containing four hundred thirty-two thousand (452,000) or more inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, having a fully or partially paid Fire and Police Department, there shall be and there is hereby created a Board to consist of seven (7) members, as follows: three (3) Aldermen, Councilmen or Commissioners, each to serve on this Board for the term of office to which they were elected; and two (2) active firemen who shall be selected by the majority vote of the members of the Fire Department, which two (2) members shall be appointed by the governing body of the said city, one (1) for a term of two (2) years and the other for a term of four (4) years; and two (2) active policemen to be selected by the majority vote of the members of the Police Department, which two (2) members are also to be appointed by the governing body of the said city, one (1) for a term of two (2) years and the other for a term of four (4) years; all said members from the Fire and Police Department shall be elected by the contributors to the fund, as herein provided, and shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified, and their departmental successors shall be appointed to serve for a term of four (4) years. The said appointees and their successors shall constitute the Board of Trustees of the Firemen, Policemen and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund, to provide for the disbursement of same, and to designate the beneficiaries thereof. The Board shall be known as the Board of Firemen, Policemen and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund Trustees of, Texas. A Board, as herein provided, shall be selected upon the enactment of this Act and shall hold its office until the next general election in such city for municipal officers, at which time a permanent Board shall be selected, as herein provided. The said Board shall organize by choosing one (1) member as Chairman, and by appointing a Secretary, which Board shall have charge of and administer said fund and shall order payments therefrom in pursuance of the provisions of this Act. It shall report annually to the governing body of such town or city, the condition of the said fund, and the receipts and disbursements on account of same, with a complete list of the beneficiaries of said fund, and the amounts paid them. The Board shall have the power and authority, by a majority vote, to reduce the percentages stipulated in any section or subsection of this Act which deals with disabilities or with awards granted to beneficiaries. The reduction shall be based upon the degrees of disability and circumstances surrounding the case. The Board shall have the complete authority and power to administer all of the provisions of this Act and any implied powers under this Act.

Administrator of Fund; Professional Investment Management Services

Sec. 1C. (a) The Board of Trustees shall have the authority to appoint an administrator to keep records, make computations and perform various other related duties necessary for the operation of the Firemen, Policemen, and Fire Alarm Operators' Pension Fund, but except for clerical assistance, he shall not have any duties relating to investment of the Reserve Retirement Fund, as provided in Section 15 hereof. Compensation for such an administrator shall be determined by the city and paid out of the general funds of the city.

(b) A person appointed administrator of the Fund shall not, by virtue of that appointment, become Secretary of the Board, but the Board may also appoint him as its Secretary, in which event he shall serve in that capacity with no additional compensation.

(c) If the Board appoints an administrator for the Fund, he shall perform in his office the functions of the City Secretary as they are specified in any other Sections hereof, and the City Secretary shall be relieved of such functions, except that the City Secretary shall continue to attest all certificates and documents issued under the seal of the city.

(d) In the administration of the Reserve Retirement Fund pursuant to Section 15, if the Board of Trustees determines that assistance provided by advisory service alone, as authorized under Section 1A above, will not enable the Board to make investments of such funds as efficiently and beneficially as could be done with the service of professional investment management, the Board may contract for such service with one or more organizations in such business, including a bank maintaining a trust department, any such investment manager to have the qualifications required by law and also the approval of the Board; provided the Board does not delegate its ultimate responsibility for investing the Reserve Retirement Fund. In any such contract, the Board, in the exercise of its discretion with respect to investments, shall specify policies and guidelines with which the investment manager must comply in respect to each investment arranged by such manager.

(e) The cost of any investment management services contracted for by the Board of Trustees may be paid in whole or in part by the city. If the city does not make provision for payment of such cost, either in whole or in part, then the amount required to make payment in full shall be paid from the Firemen, Policemen, and Fire Alarm Operators' Pension Fund.

Custody of Fund

Sec. 5. The Treasurer of said city or town shall be Ex-officio Treasurer of said Fund. All money for said Fund shall be paid over to and received by the Treasurer for the use of said Fund, and the duties thus imposed upon such Treasurer shall be additional duties for which he shall be liable under his oath and bond as such city or town Treasurer, but he shall receive no compensation therefor. The principal duties hereby imposed on the Treasurer are that he receive and promptly deposit income, including periodic contributions to the Fund, and make transfers of sums in conformity with the system adopted by the Board to make funds available for investment, paying annuities, making refunds, and other authorized payments.

Investment Custody Account Agreements

Sec. 5A. (a) If the Board contracts for investment management service, as authorized by Section 1C(d) above, it may, with respect to every such contract, also enter into an investment custody account agreement, designating a bank as custodian for all the assets allocated to the Reserve Retirement Fund for a particular investment manager.

(b) Under a custody account agreement, the Board shall require the designated bank to perform the duties and assume the responsibilities of custodian in relation to the investment contract to which the custody account agreement is established.

(c) The authority of the Board to make a custody account agreement is supplementary to its authority to make an investment management contract to which it relates. Allocation of assets to a custody account shall be coordinated by the Treasurer and the bank designated as custodian for such assets.

(d) The cost of any custody account agreement entered into by the Board of Trustees may be paid in whole or in part by the city. If the city does not

Share of Cost to be Paid Out of Public Treasury

Sec. 14. The financial share of the cost of the pension system to be paid out of the public Treasury shall be as follows:

(a) Funds contributed by the city as its share of the amount required for the payment of benefits due members under the pension system and for no other purpose. Such contributions shall be annually appropriated by the City Council and periodically paid on the basis of a percentage of the total wages and salaries of the members of the Police and Fire Departments who are under the pension system. The amount of this percentage and any change in it can be determined only by the Legislature or by a majority vote of the voters of the city.

(b) Funds appropriated by the City Council to carry out various other provisions of the Act that authorize expenditures in connection with the administration of the Act.

(c) The percentage of contributions from the city shall be according to the following:

1. effective October 1, 1979, twenty (20%) percent;
2. effective October 1, 1980, twenty-one (21%) percent;
3. effective October 1, 1981, twenty-two (22%) percent;
4. effective October 1, 1982, twenty-three (23%) percent;
5. effective October 1, 1983, twenty-four (24%) percent;
6. effective October 1, 1984, twenty-five (25%) percent until amended by the Legislature or by a majority vote of the voters of the city provided that the percentage of contributions by the city shall not be less than twenty (20%) percent nor more than twenty-five (25%) percent. If an election is held and the proposal is approved by the members of the fund as set forth herein by a majority of the members of the fund, the members of the fund elect to revoke an increase in the percentage of member contributions as provided under this section, the city shall not be obligated to increase the percentage of its contributions as heretofore set forth in this section and the percentage of contributions by the city shall be at a rate not less than two times the percentage of the members’ contributions.

Investment of Surplus

Sec. 15. (a) Whenever, in the opinion of said Board, there is on hand in said Pension Fund a surplus over and above a reasonably safe amount to take care of current demands upon said Fund, such surplus, or so much thereof as in the judgment of said Board is deemed proper, shall be put into a Reserve Fund for investment for the sole benefit of said Pension Fund.

(b) In making investments and supervising investments, members of the Board of Trustees shall exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing, which men of ordinary prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation but in regard to probable income therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital.

(c) The Board of Trustees has the ultimate responsibility for the investment of funds, which the Board may exercise directly by purchasing or selling securities or other investments, but it shall have the authority to exercise discretion in determining the procedure that it deems most efficient and beneficial.
for the Reserve Retirement Fund in carrying out such responsibility. The Board may contract for professional advisory service pursuant to Section 1A(a) and also may contract for professional investment management service pursuant to Section 1C(d). Any contract that the Board may make with an investment manager shall set forth policies and guidelines of the Board with references to standard rating services and specific criteria for determining the quality of investments.

(d) The Board, in exercising its control, may at any time, and shall at frequent intervals, monitor the investments made by any investment manager, and shall enforce full compliance with the requirements of the Board.

(e) No investment manager other than a bank that has a contract with the Board to provide assistance in making investments shall be the custodian of any of the securities or other assets of the Reserve Retirement Fund. Pursuant to Section 5A(a), the Board may designate a bank to serve as custodian to perform the customary duty of safekeeping as well as duties incident to the execution of transactions. When the demands of the Pension Fund require, the Board shall withdraw from the custodian money for use in paying benefits to members of the Pension System and for such other uses as are authorized by this Act and approved by a majority of the Board.

(f) The regulations set forth in this Section for the investment of surplus funds shall apply to the original Pension System specifically established in this Act, as well as to any amended plan established pursuant to Section 11A hereof by Section 11B or related provision of law.

Art. 6243b. Firemen and Policemen Pension Fund in Cities of 400,000 to 600,000

Sec. 1. (a) In all incorporated cities and towns containing more than four hundred thousand (400,000) inhabitants and less than six hundred thousand (600,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding Federal Census, having a fully or partially paid fire department, the mayor, two (2) citizens of said city or town to be designated by the mayor, the chief of police, the chief of the fire department and their successors, three (3) policemen other than the chief or assistant chief, to be elected by members of the policemen's pension fund, three (3) firemen other than the chief or assistant chief, to be elected by members of the firemen's pension fund, composing eleven (11) members, seven (7) of which shall be a quorum, shall constitute a board of trustees of the Firemen, Policemen and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund, to provide for the disbursement of the same and to designate the beneficiaries thereof. The three policemen and the three firemen named above shall be elected to a term of four (4) years. The term for a citizen designated by the mayor is four (4) years. The board shall be known as the Board of Firemen, Policemen, and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund, Trustees of Texas. Said board shall organize by choosing one member as Chairman and by appointing a secretary. Such board shall have charge of and administer said fund and shall order payments therefrom in pursuance of the provisions of this law. It shall report annually to the governing body of such city or town the condition of the said fund and the receipts and disbursements on account of the same with a complete list of beneficiaries of said fund and the amounts paid them.

(b) Of the first two (2) citizens designated by the mayor to serve on the board of trustees after the effective date of this subsection, one shall serve a four-year term and the other a two-year term. Thereafter all terms shall be for four (4) years. Of the first six (6) firemen and policemen elected after the effective date of this subsection, three (3) of the firemen and policemen shall serve four-year terms and three (3) of the firemen and policemen shall serve two-year terms. The first four-year terms shall not be served by all three members elected from the firemen's fund nor by all three members elected from the policemen's fund. This determination shall be made by lot under the supervision of the board. Thereafter all elected terms shall be for four (4) years.

(c) The board of trustees shall provide by rule for election of its elected members by secret ballot.

Definitions

Sec. 1A. In this Act:

(1) "Board of Trustees" or "Board" means the Board of Trustees of the Firemen, Policemen and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund.

(2) "Member" means a duly appointed and enrolled policeman, fireman, or fire alarm operator of a city covered by this Act who is a contributing member of the pension fund.

(3) "Pension Fund" or "Fund" means the Firemen, Policemen and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund.

(4) "Salary" means base pay plus longevity pay received by a member from the city for personal services rendered as a policeman, fireman, or fire alarm operator excluding all other forms of compensation.

(5) "Wages" means salary, longevity, and overtime pay received by a member from the city for personal services rendered as a policeman, fire-
Participation in Fund; Wage Deductions

Sec. 2. Each member fireman, policeman and fire alarm operator in the employment of such city or town, must participate in said fund, except in times of national emergency those persons as are employed during that time shall not be required to participate in the fund, and said city or town shall be authorized to deduct a sum of not less than one per cent (1%) nor in excess of six per cent (6%) of his wages from each month to form a part of the fund known as the Firemen, Policemen and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund, except that the city or town shall deduct a sum less than one per cent (1%) or more than six per cent (6%) of the member's wages each month to form a part of the Firemen, Policemen and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund if the board of trustees of that fund increases or decreases the percentage of wages to be contributed to the fund under the provisions of Section 10A of this Act. The amount to be deducted from the wages of those named above who must participate in the fund is to be determined by the board of trustees as provided for in Section 1 of this Act within the minimum and maximum deductions herein provided or as otherwise provided under the provisions of Section 10A of this Act.

Payments to Fund

Sec. 3. There shall be deducted for such fund from the wages of each fireman, policeman and fire alarm operator a sum to be determined by the board of trustees under the provisions of Section 2 or 10A of this Act. Any donations made to such fund and rewards received by any member of either of said funds, and all funds received from any source for such fund shall be deposited in like manner to the credit of such fund.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 4 and 5]

Membership in Pension Fund; Eligibility

Sec. 6. (a) Any person who has been duly appointed and enrolled as a policeman, fireman, or fire alarm operator of any city covered by this Act shall automatically become a member of the pension fund of such city upon expiration of ninety (90) days from date such city comes within the provisions of this Act, provided such person at the time of such appointment was not less than eighteen (18) years of age and not more than twenty-nine (29) years of age. In all instances where a person is already a member and contributor to such pension fund, he shall retain and be entitled to all rights and privileges due him by virtue of having been such a member and contributor.

(b) Any person not a member of the pension fund when this Act becomes effective, who thereafter is duly appointed and enrolled as a fireman, policeman, or fire alarm operator of such city shall automatically become a member of the pension system as a condition of his employment provided such person at the time of such appointment was not less than eighteen (18) years of age and not more than twenty-nine (29) years of age.

Retirement Pensions

Sec. 7. Whenever any member of said departments who shall have contributed a portion of his wages, as provided herein, shall have served twenty-five (25) years or more in either of said departments and shall have attained the age of fifty (50) years, he shall be entitled to be retired from said service upon application, and shall be entitled to be paid from said fund a monthly pension of one-half ($1/2) of the salary received by him at the time of his retirement subject to change under the provisions of Section 10A of this Act.

Disability Pensions

Sec. 8. Whenever any member of the fire department, police department or fire alarm operators' department of any such city or town, and who is a contributor to said fund as provided, shall become so permanently disabled through injury received, or disease contracted, in the line of duty, as to incapacitate him for the performance of duty, or shall for any cause, through no fault of his own, become so permanently disabled as to incapacitate him for the performance of duty, and shall make written application therefor approved by a majority of the board, he shall be retired from service and be entitled to receive from said fund one-half of the monthly salary received by him as a member of either of said departments, at the time he became so disabled, to be paid in regular monthly installments subject to change under the provisions of Section 10A of this Act.

Death Benefits, Widows, etc.

Sec. 9. In the case of the death before or after retirement of any member of the fire department, police department, or fire alarm operators' department of any city or town resulting from disease contracted or injury received while in the line of duty or from any other cause through no fault of his own and who at the time of his death or retirement was a contributor to said Fund, leaving a widow and no children, the widow shall be entitled to receive monthly from said Fund an amount not exceeding one-third of such monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his retirement, and, if not retired before death, one-third of such monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his death; and, if at the time of the death of such contributor, under the circumstances and conditions hereinabove set forth, such contributor leaves a child or children under sixteen (16) years of age and the wife of such contributor is dead or divorced from such contributor, the child or children under sixteen (16) years of age shall be entitled to receive monthly from said Fund an amount not exceeding one-third of such monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his retirement, and, if not retired before death, one-third of such monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his death, said sum so paid to be equally divided among said children under sixteen (16) years of age, if more than one; and if at the time of the death of such contributor, under the conditions hereinabove set forth, such contributor leaves a widow and a child or children under sixteen (16) years of age, the widow shall be entitled to receive monthly from said Fund (for the joint benefit of herself and such child or children) an amount not exceeding one-half of the monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his retirement, and if not retired before death, one-half of such monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his death, said payments to be made until such child or all of said children, if more than one, as the case may be, shall reach sixteen (16) years of age, and after said child or all of said children, as the case may be, have reached the age of sixteen (16) years, then the widow shall be entitled to receive monthly from said Fund (for her benefit) an amount not exceeding one-third of the monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his retirement, and if not retired before death, one-third of such monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his death. In no case shall the amount paid to any one family exceed monthly the amount of one-half of the monthly salary earned by the deceased immediately prior to the time of his retirement, or, if not retired, prior to the time of his death. On the remarriage of any widow, such pension paid to her for her benefit shall cease and in the event that there are child or children under sixteen (16) years of age at the time of said remarriage, one-third of the monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his retirement, and if not retired before death, immediately preceding his death, shall be paid monthly to the widow for the sole benefit of the child or children under the age of sixteen (16) years; provided, however, that the Pension Board, if it finds that said payments to the widow are not being used for the benefit of said child or children, may order said monthly benefits paid to said child or children instead of to said widow who has remarried. Where there is more than one child of such contributor, the benefits herein provided for shall be equally divided among the children, and upon the marriage or death of any child receiving such pension, or upon any child receiving such pension reaching sixteen (16) years of age, such pension payment for the benefit of said child shall cease, and if there remains a child or children under sixteen (16) years of age, the share of the said child so married or dead or reaching sixteen (16) years of age, shall be paid for the benefit of the remaining child or children under sixteen (16) years of age. In the event that a contributor leaves a widow and child or children under sixteen (16) years of age who are not the children of said widow, the Pension Board may, in its discretion, either pay monthly to the widow for the benefit of herself and said child or children, an amount not exceeding one-half of the monthly salary received by such member immediately preceding his retirement, or immediately preceding his death, if not retired before death, as hereinabove provided, or said Board may order one-fourth of said monthly salary received by such member paid to the widow and one-fourth of said monthly salary paid to said child or children. No widow or child of any such member resulting from any marriage contracted subsequent to the date of retirement of said member shall be entitled to a pension under this law; provided, however, that the provisions of this Section shall not be construed so as to change any pension now being paid any pensioner under the provisions of Chapter 101, of the General and Special Laws of the Forty-third Legislature, First Called Session, and as amended by Chapter 346 of the General and Special Laws of the Regular Session of the Forty-fourth Legislature. The provisions of this section are subject to change under the provisions of Section 10A of this Act.

Death Benefits, Father, etc.

Sec. 10. If any member of the fire department, police department, or fire alarm operators’ department dies from injuries received or disease contracted while in the line of duty, or from any cause through no fault of his own, who was a contributor to said fund and entitled to participate in said fund himself, leaves no wife or child, but who shall leave surviving him a dependent father, mother, brother, or sister, wholly dependent upon said person for support, such dependent father, mother, sister and brother shall be entitled to receive in the aggregate one-half of the salary earned by said deceased immediately prior to his death, to be equally divided between those who are wholly dependent on said deceased, so long as they are wholly dependent. The board shall have authority to determine the facts as to the dependency of said parties and each of them, as to how long the same exists, and may at any time upon the request of any contributor to such fund, reopen any award made to any of said parties and discontinue such pension as to all or any of them as it may deem proper, and the findings of said board in regard to such matter and as to all pensions granted under this law shall be final upon all parties seeking a pension as a dependent of said deceased, or otherwise, until such award of the trustees shall have been set aside or revoked. The provisions of this section are subject to change under the provisions of Section 10A of this Act.

Modification of Benefits, Membership Qualifications, Eligibility Requirements and Contributions; Conditions

Sec. 10A. (a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in other parts of this Act, the Board of Trustees of the Firemen, Policemen, and Fire Alarm Operators Pension Fund may, by majority vote of the whole board, make from time to time one or more of the following changes, or modifications:
(1) modify or change prospectively or retroactively in any manner whatsoever any of the benefits provided by this Act, except that any retroactive change or modification shall only increase pensions or benefits;

(2) modify or change prospectively in any manner whatsoever any of the membership qualifications;

(3) modify or change prospectively or retroactively in any manner whatsoever any of the eligibility requirements for pensions or benefits;

(4) increase or decrease prospectively the percentage of wages less than the one per cent (1%) minimum or above the six per cent (6%) maximum provided in Section 2 of this Act to be contributed to the fund; or

(5) provide prospectively for refunds, in whole or in part, and with or without interest, of contributions made to the fund by employees who leave the city service before qualifying for a pension.

(b) None of the changes made under Subsection (a) of this section may be made unless all of the following conditions are sequentially complied with:

(1) the change must be approved by a qualified actuary selected by a four-fifths vote of the Board; the actuary, if an individual, must be a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries or a Fellow of the Conference of Actuaries in Public Practice or a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries; the findings upon which the properly selected and qualified actuary’s approval are based are not subject to judicial review;

(2) the change must be approved by a majority of all persons then making contributions to the fund, voting by secret ballot at an election held after ten (10) days’ notice given by posting at a prominent place in every fire station, every police station and substation, and in the city hall;

(3) whether the fund for the police and the fund for the firemen and fire alarm operators are operated as separate funds or as one fund, all changes shall be uniform for both departments and contributing members of both departments shall have the right to vote;

(4) the changes, except changes made under the provisions of Subdivision (1), Subsection (a), of this section, shall apply only to active member employees who are members of the departments at the time the change becomes effective and those who enter the departments thereafter; and

(5) the changes shall not deprive any person, without his written consent, of any right to receive a pension or benefits which have already become vested and matured.

Validation of Proceedings for Separation of Pension Funds

Sec. 17. All Acts and proceedings had and done by the governing body and Board of Trustees of the Pension Fund of any such city or town, subject to the above provisions, in creating, establishing, maintaining, and administering separate Pension Funds for Firemen, including Fire Alarm Operators and Policemen, are hereby legalized, approved, and validated, as well as the division by said governing body and Board of Trustees of any public funds voted by the voters of said city or town for the Firemen, Policemen, and Fire Alarm Operators’ Pension Fund between said two (2) Funds, and said governing body and Board of Trustees shall continue the separate maintenance and administration of said Funds in the manner hereinafore provided. This section and Section 16 of this Act provide only for the separation of pension funds into policeman and fireman divisions and grant the governing body no power or authority granted to the Board of Trustees under any provision of this Act, and the Board of Trustees shall have exclusive charge of administration and maintenance of the fund.

Art. 6243e.1. Firemen's Relief and Retirement Fund in Cities of 300,000 to 375,000

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Board" or "board of trustees" means the board of firemen's relief and retirement fund trustees.

(2) "Fireman" means an active member of a regularly organized fire department of an incorporated city.

(3) "Fund" or "pension fund" means the firemen's relief and retirement fund.

Creation of Fund; Board of Firemen's Relief and Retirement Fund Trustees

Sec. 2. A firemen's relief and retirement fund is created in all incorporated cities having a population of not less than 300,000 nor more than 375,000, according to the last preceding federal census, and having a fully paid fire department. The mayor of the city, the city treasurer, or if no treasurer, then the city secretary, city clerk, or other person or officer as by law, charter provision, or ordinance, performs the duties of city treasurer, and three members of the regularly organized active fire department, to be selected by vote of the members of the fire department in the manner provided in this Act, shall be and are constituted the "Board of Firemen's Relief and Retirement Fund Trustees" to receive, handle and control, manage, and disburse the fund for the respective city or town. The board shall have the power and authority to hear and determine all applications for retirement, claims for disability, either partial or total, and to designate the beneficiaries or persons entitled to participate as provided by this Act. The board shall be known as the "Board of Firemen's Relief and Retirement Fund Trustees of ________, Texas." The mayor shall be the chairman and the city treasurer shall be the secretary-treasurer of the board of trustees respectively. The fire department of any city that comes within the provisions of this Act shall elect by ballot three of its members, one to serve for one year, one to serve for two years, and one to serve for three years, or until their successors may be elected as provided in this Act, as members of the board of trustees and shall immediately certify the election to the governing body of the city. Annually thereafter, on the first Monday in the month of January after the effective date of this Act, the fire department shall elect by ballot and certify, one member of such board of trustees for a three-year term. The board of trustees shall elect annually from among their number a vice-chairman who shall act as chairman in the absence or disability of the mayor-chairman. The board of trustees shall hold regular monthly meetings at a time and place as it may by resolution designate and may hold special meetings on call of the chairman as he may deem necessary; shall keep accurate minutes of its meetings and records of its proceedings; shall keep separate from all other city funds all money for the use and benefit of the firemen's relief and retirement fund; shall keep a record of all claims, receipts, and disbursements in a book or books to be furnished by the city for the purpose; shall make disbursements from the fund only on regular voucher signed by the treasurer and countersigned by the chairman and at least one other member of the board of trustees. The city treasurer, as the treasurer of the board of trustees, shall be the custodian of the firemen’s relief and retirement fund for the city under penalty of his official bond and oath of office. No member of the board of trustees may receive compensation for service on the board of trustees. The board of firemen's relief and retirement fund trustees of each such city or town in this state shall annually and not later than the 31st day of January of each year after this Act takes effect, make and file with the city treasurer a detailed and itemized report of all receipts and disbursements with respect to the fund, together with a statement of their administration, and shall make and file other reports and statements or furnish further information as from time to time may be required or requested by the city treasurer.

The board of trustees shall have the power and authority to compel witnesses to attend and testify before it with respect to all matters connected with the operation of this Act in the same manner as is or may be provided for the taking of testimony before notaries public, and its chairman shall have the power and authority to administer oaths to witnesses. A majority of all members shall constitute a quorum to transact business, and any order of the board of trustees shall be made by vote to be recorded in the minutes of its proceedings. If a vacancy occurs in the membership of the board of trustees by reason of the death, resignation, removal, or disability of an incumbent, the vacancy shall be filled in the manner provided in this Act for the selection of the member to be so succeeded.

board of firemen’s relief and retirement fund trustees of the city and an actuary. The adjusted pension allowance and adjusted benefits shall never be less than the amount granted the fireman or his beneficiaries on the date of his retirement or death without regard to changes in the consumer price index. The adjusted pension allowance or adjusted benefits may be increased by an amount to be determined by a majority of the board of firemen’s relief and retirement fund trustees of the city and an actuary.

Eligibility; Amount and Time of Payment of Benefits

Sec. 3. (a) Any person who has been duly appointed and enrolled and who has attained the age of 55 years or served actively for a period of 35 years, regardless of age, that service having been performed in any rank, as a fully paid fireman, in one or more regularly organized fire departments in any city in this state covered by the provisions of this Act, may retire from that service or department and on retirement is entitled to receive from the firemen’s relief and retirement fund of the city a monthly pension equal to the sum of three-fourths of one percent of his average monthly salary multiplied by his service, if any, prior to 1941, plus two percent of his average monthly salary multiplied by his service after 1940.

(b) The factor of two percent may be increased in increments of one-tenth of one percent, provided that:

(1) the increase is first approved by an actuary; and

(2) the increase applies only to active full-time firemen in the department at the time of the increase and those who enter the department after the increase is effective.

(c) The average salary means the monthly average of the fireman’s salary for the highest three calendar years during his period of service, excluding overtime pay and any temporary pay in higher classification.

(d) Any person who continues to serve actively beyond the date he would normally retire shall continue to make contributions to the fund and accrue cost to the date of actual retirement.

(e) Benefits shall be payable on the first day of each month commencing with the month following the date as of which the member retired.

Eligibility After 10 Years of Service

Sec. 5. (a) Any fireman who has served in the fire department of the city for a period of at least 10 years and who has contributed to the firemen’s relief and retirement fund of the city for a period of at least 10 years, shall be entitled to receive a pension allowance at the age of 55 years, provided that the following conditions are met:

(1) on termination of employment, the fireman shall leave his contributions in the fund, and shall not be required to make any further contributions to the fund;

(2) the pension allowance shall be based on the monthly average of the fireman’s salary for the highest three calendar years during the fireman’s service excluding overtime pay and any temporary pay in higher classifications; and

(3) the pension allowance shall be calculated by the formula, as set out in Section 3 of this Act, in effect at the time the fireman terminated his employment.

(b) In the event the fireman dies before the age of 55, or in the event the fireman dies after retirement under the provisions of this section, the fireman’s surviving spouse shall receive 75 percent of the fireman’s pension allowance provided for under this section.

(c) Any fireman qualifying for a pension allowance under Subsection (a) of this section may, on or after termination of his employment, elect to withdraw his contributions from the fund, thereby forfeiting any rights he may have had in the fund.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not become operative until a majority of the members of the board of firemen’s relief and retirement fund trustees of the city and an actuary so approve.

Total and Permanent Disability

Sec. 6. (a) If a person, serving as an active fireman duly enrolled in a regularly active fire department becomes totally and permanently disabled, the board of trustees shall, on his request, or without his request if it shall deem proper and for the good of the department, retire the person from active service and order that he be paid from the firemen’s relief and retirement fund of the city a monthly amount equal to his accrued unreduced pension as determined under Subsection (a), Section 3 of this Act.

If a person becomes totally and permanently disabled while in or as a consequence of the performance of his duty, the amount to be paid shall not be less than $200 and if a person becomes disabled from any other cause, the amount to be paid shall not be less than $200.

(b) When the disability of a person who has been granted a pension under Subsection (a) of this section ceases, the pension shall be discontinued and the person shall be restored to active service at not less than the same salary he received at the time of his retirement for disability.

Art. 6243e.1

PENSIONS

Sec. 7. (a) This section applies to all cities having an organized, fully paid fire department covered by a fireman's relief and retirement fund.

(b) A fireman who transfers from the fire department of one city to that of a city covered by this section and desires to participate in the fund of that city shall:

(1) be less than 30 years old;

(2) pass a physical examination taken at his expense and performed by a physician selected by the board;

(3) pay into the fund of that city an amount equal to the total contribution he would have made had he been employed by that city instead of the city from which he transferred, plus four percent interest.

(c) The city to which the fireman has transferred shall pay an amount equal to the amount it would have paid had the fireman been employed by that city instead of the city from which he transferred, plus four percent interest.

(d) No fireman may participate in the fund of the city to which he has transferred until he has complied with the provisions of this section.

Disability Retirement or Payment; Certificates of Disability; Election of Section Under Which Payments Made

Sec. 8. No person may be retired either for total or temporary disability, except as provided in this Act, nor receive any allowance from the fund, unless and until there shall have been filed with the board of trustees, certificates of his disability or eligibility signed and sworn to by the person or by the city physician, if there be one, or if none, then by any physician selected by the board of trustees. The board of trustees, in its discretion, may require other or additional evidence of disability before ordering retirement or payment.

If any fireman or one or more beneficiaries of a fireman shall be or become entitled to receive payments from a fund under the provisions of more than one section of this Act, the fireman or beneficiaries shall be entitled to and shall be required to elect one section under which such payments shall be computed and paid.

Sec. 9. Each fireman who is a member of a fully paid fire department which has a fireman's relief and retirement fund and who was participating in the fireman's relief and retirement fund of his city on July 22, 1957, shall be required to make the contributions to the fund provided by this Act, and those firemen shall be entitled to participate in the benefits provided by this Act.

Contributions; Membership; Creditable Service; Investment of Surplus Funds

Sec. 10. (a) The city shall contribute and appropriate each month to the fund an amount equal to 11.85 percent of the monthly payroll, excluding overtime pay and any temporary pay in higher classification of the fire department of the city, and each full-time fireman shall pay into the pension fund 11.85 percent of his monthly salary, excluding overtime pay and any temporary pay in higher classification. The governing body of the city may authorize the city to make an additional contribution to its firemen's relief and retirement fund in whatever amount the governing body of the city may fix.

The firemen, by a majority vote in favor of an increase in contributions above the 11.85 percent, shall increase each member's contribution above 11.85 percent in whatever amount the pension board recommends.

(b) Money deducted from salaries or compensation as provided by this section and the payments and contributions provided by this section shall become and form a part of the firemen's relief and retirement fund of the city in which the contributing firemen serve.

(c) Any person who enters service as a fireman in any city that has a firemen's relief and retirement fund to which he is eligible for membership shall become a member of the fund as a condition of his appointment, and shall, by acceptance of the appointment, agree to make the contributions required by this Act of members of the fund and is eligible to participate in the benefits of membership in the fund as provided in this Act. However, no person is eligible to membership in the fund who has reached his 30th birthday at the time he enters service as a fireman, and any person who enters service as a fireman may be denied or excused from membership in the fund if the board of trustees of the fund determines that he is not of sound health. The applicant shall pay the cost of any physical examination required by the board of trustees for this purpose.

(d) Each person who is an active member of a firemen's relief and retirement fund previously organized and existing under the laws of this state at the effective date of this amendment shall continue as a member of the fund, and he shall retain and be allowed credit for all service to which he was entitled in the fund of which he was a member immediately prior to the effective date of this amendment.
(e) The severance benefit of a fireman who subsequently terminates his employment before he is eligible for retirement shall be an amount equal to the sum total of his monthly contributions made while a participating member of the firemen’s relief and retirement fund. If the member’s employment is terminated by death before retirement and he leaves no surviving beneficiary entitled to pension benefits, his estate shall receive his contributions without interest.

(f) These provisions apply to all active full-time members of the fire department and to those persons who shall become members of the fire department at any time in the future.

(g) When, in the opinion of the board of trustees, there is on hand in the firemen’s relief and retirement fund of any city under this Act a surplus over and above a reasonable and safe amount to take care of the current demands on the fund, the surplus, or so much of it as in the judgment of the board is deemed safe, may be invested in federal, state, county, or municipal bonds, and in shares or share accounts of savings and loan associations, where the shares or share accounts are insured under and by virtue of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, and in the securities in which the state Permanent School Fund of Texas or the Permanent University Fund of the University of Texas may be invested under present laws, and may also invest in notes and other evidence of debt secured by mortgages insured or guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administration under the provisions of the National Housing Act, and the interest or dividends shall be deposited into the fund and become a part of it.

(h) The mayor shall appoint an investment advisory committee consisting of not less than three nor more than five qualified persons to be selected from the personnel of the banks of the city. The appointees shall be experienced in the handling of securities and investment matters and shall serve for a two-year term. The purpose of this committee shall be to advise and make recommendations on investment procedure and policy, and to review the investments made by the board. From these reviews and observations, the committee shall make an annual report to the board of trustees of the city within 90 days after the end of each calendar year.

Survivor’s Benefits

Sec. 11. (a) If a fireman dies before retirement, the fireman’s surviving spouse shall be entitled to receive a monthly pension, the amount of which shall be 75 percent of the member’s accrued unreduced pension as determined under Section 8 of this Act. The monthly pension payable to the spouse of a member who dies while in or as a consequence of the performance of duty shall be not less than $100, and the monthly pension payable to the surviving spouse of a member who dies while not in the performance of duty shall be not less than $100.

(b) Each child of a deceased member under the age of 18 is entitled to receive as a monthly pension $50 if there is a surviving spouse entitled to a pension, or $100 if not. The benefits paid to the minor children are in addition to the minimums provided for the surviving spouse, or any accrued amount that the surviving spouse may be entitled to.

(c) If a deceased member leaves no surviving spouse or children eligible to receive a benefit hereunder but is survived by a dependent parent, or parents, such dependent parent, or one of the surviving parents designated by the board of trustees, is entitled to receive as a monthly pension, the amount otherwise payable to the surviving spouse.

(d) If a deceased member leaves no surviving spouse, children, or dependent parent eligible to receive a benefit as provided in this section, the member’s total contributions, less any amount previously paid to the member, shall be paid to the member’s estate.

(e) If a deceased member leaves no surviving spouse, children, or dependent parent eligible to receive a benefit as provided in this section, the member’s total contributions, less any amount previously paid to the member, shall be paid to the member’s estate.

(f) Payments to a child shall be made whether or not a spouse survives and shall continue after the death of a surviving spouse, but shall cease on the earliest of such child’s death, marriage, or attainment of age 18. Payment to a surviving spouse or parent shall cease upon the earlier of such person’s death or marriage. After all payments cease, any excess of the member’s total contributions at date of death over any disability and death benefits shall be paid to the member’s estate.

(g) The provisions of this section shall apply even though the death was caused while the member was gainfully employed by someone other than the respective fire department for which he was employed.

(h) Benefits provided in this section shall be payable on the first day of each month commencing with the month following the one in which the member’s death occurs.

(i) The board of trustees shall determine all questions of dependency, and their determination shall be final and conclusive on all parties. All unmarried, legitimate, and legally adopted children under age 18, in the absence of a determination to the contrary, are considered dependent.

(j) On a majority vote of the board of trustees, benefits to minor children may be increased to an amount not to exceed the maximum approved by an actuary.

(k) On a majority vote of the board of trustees, benefits to a surviving spouse may be increased to an amount not to exceed the maximum approved by an actuary.

Exemption From Execution, Attachment, Garnishment, etc.; Transfers or Assignments Void

Sec. 12. No portion of a firemen's relief and retirement fund may, either before or after its order of disbursement by the board of trustees to a retired or disabled fireman or the surviving spouse, the guardian of any minor child or children, or the dependent parent of any deceased, retired, or disabled fireman, be ever held, seized, taken, subjected to, or detained, or levied on by virtue of any execution, attachment, garnishment, injunction, or other writ, order, or decree, or any process, or proceedings whatsoever issued out of or by any court of this state for the payment or satisfaction, in whole or in part, of any debt, damage, claim, demand, or judgment against such fireman or the fireman's surviving spouse, the guardian of the fireman's minor child or children, the fireman's dependent father or mother, nor shall said fund or any claim thereto be directly or indirectly assigned or transferred, and any attempt to transfer or assign the same shall be void. The fund shall be sacredly held, kept, and disbursed for the purposes provided by this Act and for no other purpose whatever.

Integration With Benefits Under Federal Social Security Act

Sec. 13. No firemen's relief and retirement fund for fully paid firemen may ever be integrated with benefits payable under the federal Social Security Act, and benefits which might be available to a fireman under the federal Social Security Act may never be taken into account in a city where firemen are eligible to enroll for or receive retirement benefits under the Social Security Act when determining the amount of benefits which a fireman may receive from a firemen's relief and retirement fund for fully paid firemen.

142 U.S.C.A. § 301 et seq.

Medical Examinations for Disabled Firemen

Sec. 14. The board of trustees, in its discretion, at any time may cause any person retired for disability under the provisions of this Act to appear and undergo a medical examination by the city physician or any other physician appointed or selected by the board of trustees for that purpose, and the result of the examination and report by the physician shall be considered by the board of trustees in determining whether the relief in the case shall be continued, increased (if less than the maximum provided here-in), decreased, or discontinued. Should any person receiving relief under the provisions of this Act, after due notice from the board of trustees to appear and be reexamined, unless excused by the board, fail to appear or refuse to submit to reexamination, the board of trustees is authorized, in its discretion, to reduce or entirely discontinue relief.

Conviction of Felony; Payments to Spouse; Children or Parents

Sec. 15. Whenever any person who shall have been granted an allowance provided in this Act shall have been convicted of a felony, then the board of trustees shall order the allowance so granted or allowed the person discontinued, and in lieu thereof, order paid to his or her spouse, or dependent child, children, or dependent parent, the amount provided to be paid the dependent or dependents in case of the death of the person so originally granted or entitled to allowance.

Creditable Service

Sec. 16. In computing the time or period for retirement for length of service as provided in this Act, any time served in the armed forces of the nation during war or national emergency shall be construed as continuous service. If a person is out of service less than five years for another reason, credit shall be given for prior service, but deduction made for the length of time out of service. If out of service more than five years, no previous service shall be counted, provided however, that if a fireman is out of service over five years through no fault of his own and subsequently returns to the department, this period of time shall not be counted against him insofar as his retirement time is concerned. He shall not be entitled to any disability benefits on account of any sickness or injury received before the statement was filed.

City Attorney; Representation of Board of Trustees

Sec. 17. The city attorney, without additional compensation, shall appear for and represent the board of trustees of that city in all cases of appeal by any claimant from the order or decision of the board of trustees.

Investment of Assets; Employment of Professional Counselors

Sec. 18. The board of trustees of a fully paid fire department may engage and employ professional investment counselors to advise and assist the board in the investment of the assets of the fund. The investment counseling service must be provided by a nationally known organization whose business functions include rendering continuous investment advisory service to public pension and retirement funds. The city may pay the entire cost of this counseling service; if not paid by the city, the cost may be paid from the assets of the fund.

Employment of Actuaries

Sec. 19. The board of trustees of a firemen's relief and retirement fund coming under the provisions of this Act may employ an actuary no more than once every three years and pay his compensation out of the pension fund.

Civil Actions for Money Wrongfully Paid Out or Obtained

Sec. 20. The board of trustees of any city created and constituted under the provisions of this Act shall have the power and authority to recover by civil action from any offending party or from his bondsmen, if any, any money paid out or obtained from said fund through fraud, misrepresentation, defalcation, theft, embezzlement, or misapplication and may institute, conduct, and maintain the action in the name of the board of trustees for the use and benefit of the fund.

Audits; Employment of Certified Public Accountants

Sec. 21. The board of trustees of a fully paid fire department may engage and employ a certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants to perform an audit of the firemen's relief and retirement fund at such times and intervals as it may deem necessary. The city may pay the entire cost of such audits; if not paid by the city, the cost may be paid from the assets of the fund.

Insufficient Funds; Prorated Reduction in Benefits

Sec. 22. If, for any reason, the fund or funds made available for any purpose covered by this Act shall be insufficient to pay in full any allowance or disability benefits, then all granted allowances, or disability benefits shall be proratably reduced for the time the deficiency exists.

Section 3 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., ch. 120, provides:

"This Act takes effect September 1, 1981, and applies to computations of service credit for persons whose retirements become effective on or after that date. A person who retires before September 1, 1981, is subject to Chapter 183, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1975 (Article 6243-e.1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as it existed on the date the retirement became effective, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose."

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., ch. 120, in the first sentence of § 2 changed the population limits from 250,000 and 325,000 to 300,000 and 375,000 and in § 16, in the first sentence, deleted "less than one year out of service or" following "in this Act," and inserted a period following "as continuous service" and, in the resulting second sentence, substituted "if a person is out of service for " for ", but if out more than one year and" and inserted "for another reason".

Section 146(b) of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., ch. 237, provides:

"To the extent that a law enacted by the 67th Legislature, Regular Session, conflicts with this Act, the other law prevails, regardless of relative date of enactment or relative effective date."

Art. 6243e.2. Firemen's Relief and Retirement Fund in Cities of Not Less Than 1,200,000

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Board" or "board of trustees" means the board of firemen's relief and retirement fund trustees.

(2) "Fireman" means an active member of a regularly organized fire department of an incorporated city.

(3) "Fund" or "pension fund" means the firemen's relief and retirement fund.

Fund Created; Membership

Sec. 2. (a) A firemen's relief and retirement fund is created in all incorporated cities having a population of not less than 1,200,000 according to the last preceding federal census, and having a fully paid fire department. The board of trustees shall consist of the following persons: the mayor or his duly appointed and authorized representative; the city treasurer, or if no city treasurer then the city secretary, city clerk, or other person or officer who by law, charter provisions, or ordinance performs the duty of city treasurer; five members of the regularly organized active fire department of the city to be selected by vote of the members of the fire department; and two resident citizens of the city to be selected as provided in this section. The board of firemen's relief and retirement fund trustees shall receive, handle and control, manage, and disburse the fund for the respective city. The board shall have the power and authority to hear and determine all applications for retirement, claims for disability, either partial or total, and to designate the beneficiaries or persons entitled to participate as provided by this Act. The board shall be known as the "Board of Firemen's Relief and Retirement Fund Trustees of ______, Texas." The board of trustees shall annually elect from among their number a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a secretary. The fire department of any city that comes within the provisions of this Act shall elect by ballot five of its members, two to serve for one year, two to serve for two years, and one to serve for three years, or until their successors may be elected as provided in this Act, as members of the board of trustees and shall immediately certify the election to the governing body of the city. Annually thereafter, on the first Monday in the month of January after the effective date of this Act, the members shall elect by ballot and certify those members to the board of trustees for a three-year term. The board of trustees shall hold regular monthly meetings at a time and place as it may by resolution designate and may hold special meetings on call of the chairman as he may deem necessary, shall keep accurate minutes of its meetings and records of its proceedings, shall keep separate from all other city funds all money for the use and benefit of the firemen's relief and retirement fund, shall keep a record of all claims, receipts, and disbursements in a book or books to be furnished by the city for the purpose, and shall make disbursements from the fund only on regular vouchers signed by the treasurer and countersigned by the chairman and at least one other member of the board of trustees. The city treasurer, as the treasurer of the board of trustees, shall be the custodian of the firemen's relief and retirement fund for the city under penalty of his official bond and oath of office. No member of the board of trustees may receive compensation for service on the board of trustees. The board of firemen's relief and retirement fund trustees of each city in this state shall annually and not later than the 1st day of January of each year after this Act takes effect make and file with the city treasurer a detailed and itemized report of all receipts and disbursements with respect to the fund, together with a statement of their administration, and shall make and file other reports and statements or furnish further information as from time to time may be required or requested by the city treasurer.

(b) The board of trustees may compel witnesses to attend and testify before it with respect to all matters connected with the operation of this Act in the same manner as is or may be provided for the taking of testimony before notaries public, and its chairman shall have the power and authority to administer oaths to witnesses. A majority of all members shall constitute a quorum to transact business, and any order of the board of trustees shall be made by vote to be recorded in the minutes of its proceedings. If a vacancy occurs in the membership of the board of trustees by reason of the death, resignation, removal, or disability of any incumbent, the vacancy shall be filled in the manner provided in this Act for the selection of the member to be so succeeded.

(c) Three of the members so elected shall be elected from the suppression division of said fire department. One member so elected from the suppression division shall have the rank of private or chauffeur, and the position on the board to which that member is elected shall be designated as Position I. One member so elected from the suppression division shall have the rank of captain, and the position on the board to which that member is elected shall be designated as Position II. One member so elected from the suppression division shall have the rank of battalion chief, district chief, deputy chief, or assistant chief, and the position on the board to which that member is elected shall be designated as Position III.

(d) One of the members so elected shall be elected from among those fire department members who devote full time to prevention and investigation of fire or who are permanently assigned in the record division or fire chief's office and who are not members of the suppression division, and the position on the board to which that member is elected shall be designated as Position IV.

(e) One of the members so elected shall be elected from the fire alarm operators division or the fire department repair division, and the position on the board to which that member is elected shall be designated as Position V.

(f) Two legally qualified taxpaying voters of the city, residents of the city for the preceding three years, are to be chosen by the elected members of the pension board, being neither employees nor officers of the city. One of these appointed members shall be appointed for a term of one year and one of these appointed members shall be appointed for a term of two years. Annually thereafter on the third Monday of January, the elected members of the pension board are to fill one of the appointed positions of the pension board for a period of two years. The appointed members of the pension board are to take the same oath of office required of elected members. A vacancy occurring by death, resignation, or removal of a member chosen by the elected members of the pension board shall be filled by the elected members of the board. A member who is selected to fill a vacancy shall hold office for the unexpired term of the appointed member who vacated his position. These two appointed positions of the pension board are to be filled by the elected members of the pension board on the third Monday in January following the effective date of this Act.

(g) Each member of the board of trustees shall, within 10 days after his election, take an oath of office that he will diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the firemen's relief and retirement fund and that he will not knowingly violate or willingly permit to be violated any provision of this Act.

(h) Members of a board of trustees of a firemen’s relief and retirement fund coming under this Act shall continue to serve in their respective duties and terms.

(i) The secretary of the board of trustees shall, within seven days after each meeting of the board, forward true copies of the minutes of such meeting to each fire station and to each division of the fire department.

Appropriations

Sec. 3. This fund shall continue to receive annually any money appropriated by the legislature which the fund received in prior years.

Pension and Additional Pension Allowances; Service Retirement; Elections; Contributions; Certificate of Service; Limits; Annual Adjustments

Sec. 4. (a) Any person who has been duly appointed and enrolled and who has attained the age of 50 years, and who has served actively for a period of 20 years or more and has participated in a fund in a city which is within the provisions of this Act, shall be entitled to be retired from the service or department and shall be entitled to be paid from the firemen's relief and retirement fund of that city, a monthly pension equal to 50 percent of his average salary for the highest 36 months of his service. Any fireman shall be entitled to be paid in addition to the benefits provided for in this subsection an additional pension allowance of one percent of his average monthly salary for the highest 36 months during his participation for each year of service after the date on which such fireman shall be entitled to be retired.

(b) A fireman who has 20 years of service and participation in a fund under this section may, if he so elects, be retired from the department and receive a monthly pension allowance of 35 percent of his average monthly salary for the highest 36 months during his participation. If the fireman shall participate in the fund for a period in excess of 20 years he shall, in addition to the monthly pension allowance of 35 percent be paid an additional monthly pension allowance equal to three percent of his average monthly salary for each year of service in excess of 20 years until the fireman completes 25 years of service thereby providing a monthly pension allowance equal to 50 percent of the fireman's average monthly salary for the highest 36 months during his participation. If the fireman remains in the active service for a period in excess of 25 years, he shall receive, in addition to the pension allowances provided for in Subsection (b) of this section, an additional monthly pension allowance equal to one percent of his average salary for each year of participation in excess of 25 years.

(c) The maximum pension allowance to be received by any fireman under this section or Section 6 or 7 of this Act shall not exceed 60 percent of the fireman's average monthly salary for the highest 36 months during his participation.

(d) Any eligible and qualified fireman who has completed 20 years of service or more and of participation in a fund in a city to which this section is applicable, before reaching the age of 50 years, may apply to the board of trustees for, and the board shall issue, a certificate showing the completion of service and showing and certifying that the fireman, when reaching the age of 50 years, is entitled to the retirement and other applicable benefits of this Act. When any fireman is issued a certificate he is, when reaching retirement age, entitled to all the applicable benefits of this Act, even though he is not engaged in active service as a fireman after the issuance of the certificate. However, the fireman shall continue to pay his pension contribution monthly or in advance until the fireman reaches retirement age. Any fireman who does not make his pension contribution monthly or in advance shall automatically forfeit any retirement or other benefits he or his beneficiaries may have been entitled to under this Act.

(e) All firemen entering a fire department coming within the provisions of this section after the effective date of this Act shall retire under the benefit provisions of Subsection (b) of this section unless the retirement is for disability.

(f) All firemen who retire under the provisions of this section or Section 6 or 7 of this Act shall have their retirement allowances adjusted annually in accordance with the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers as determined by the United States Department of Labor. The adjusted pension shall never be less than the amount granted the member on the date of his retirement without regard to changes in the consumer price index. The adjusted pension allowance shall never be more than the amount granted the member on the date of his retirement increased by three percent annually not compounded, notwithstanding a greater increase in the consumer price index. The adjustment provided by this subsection shall be the only postretirement adjustment paid to firemen retiring after March 1, 1982.

(h) All pensioners who retired prior to May 3, 1971, or their survivors shall have their pensions adjusted on a one-time basis in an amount equal to 20 percent of their pension payment. However, in no instance shall the increase be less than $15 a month. This postretirement adjustment shall be effective September 1, 1981.

Pension Allowance at Age of 50; Calculation

Sec. 5. Any fireman who has served in such fire department for a period of at least 10 years and for a period of less than 20 years shall be entitled to a pension allowance at age 50 years. The pension allowance shall be calculated as follows:

(a) The monthly pension allowance shall be equal to the sum of one and seven-tenths percent of his average monthly salary multiplied by the number of years of service of the fireman.

(b) The average monthly salary shall be for the highest 36 months of service of the fireman.

(c) In the event the fireman dies:

(1) before he has reached the age of 50 years, his widow or other beneficiaries shall be eligible for a pension allowance on the date the deceased fireman would have been 50 years of age.

(2) after he reached 50 years of age, his widow or other beneficiaries shall be eligible for a pension allowance. The pension allowances shall be granted by the provisions of this section.

Disability Retirement; Amount of Pension; Service Retirement Election

Sec. 6. (a) Whenever a fireman becomes physically or mentally disabled while in or as a consequence of the performance of his duty or becomes physically or mentally disabled from any cause whatsoever after he has participated in a fund for a period of 20 years or more, the board of trustees shall, on his request, or without a request, if they determine that the fireman is not capable of performing the usual and customary duties of his classification or position, retire the fireman on a monthly disability allowance of an amount equal to 50 percent of his average monthly salary for the highest 36 months during his service, or so much thereof as he may have served.

(b) If the fireman is eligible to be retired under the provisions of Section 4 of this Act, he may elect to have his monthly pension allowance calculated under that section.

Death or Disability From Any Cause Other Than Performance of Duty; Monthly Pension Allowance to Fireman or Beneficiary; Computation; Service Retirement Election; Annual Adjustment

Sec. 7. (a) Whenever a fireman dies or becomes disabled from any cause other than a disability acquired in the performance of his duty as a fireman, a monthly pension allowance shall be paid to the fireman or his beneficiaries.

(b) The monthly pension allowance shall be computed as follows:

(1) If the fireman becomes disabled, he shall be paid a monthly pension allowance equal to 25 percent of the average monthly salary of the fireman, plus two and one-half percent of the average monthly salary for each full year of service and of participation in a fund except that the monthly pension allowance shall not exceed 50 percent of the average monthly salary. The average monthly salary shall be based on the monthly average of the fireman’s salary for the highest 36 months during his service, or so much as he may have served preceding the date of the retirement.

(2) If the fireman was eligible to be retired under the provisions of Section 4 of this Act, he or his beneficiaries may elect to have their monthly pension allowance calculated under that section.

(3) If a fireman dies and leaves surviving him both a widow who married the fireman prior to his retirement, and a child or children of the fireman under the age of 18 years, the board of trustees shall order paid to the widow of the fireman a monthly pension allowance equal to one-half of the amount the fireman would have been entitled to receive, if disabled, under the provisions of Subdivision (1) of this subsection, and in addition the board of trustees shall order paid to the widow or other person having the care and custody of the child or children under the age of 18 years a monthly pension allowance for the use and benefit of the child or children equal to the amount provided for the widow. If the fireman leaves no child under the age of 18 years surviving him or if at any time after the death of the fireman no child is entitled to allowance, then the monthly pension allowance to be paid the widow shall be equal to the full amount the fireman would have been entitled to receive, if disabled, under Subdivision (1) of this subsection, except that the allowance to a widow, if no child is entitled to allowance, shall not exceed one-half of the maximum base salary for the position of pipeman at the time of the death of the fireman.

(4) If the fireman dies and if his widow dies after being entitled to her allowance, or in the event that there is no widow to receive an allowance, the amount of the monthly pension allowance to be paid, for use and benefit of the child or children under the age of 18 years, to the person having the care and custody of the child or children shall be computed as follows: an amount equal to one-half of the amount the fireman would have been entitled to receive, if disabled, under the provisions of Subdivision (1) of this subsection shall be paid for each of the fireman’s children under the age of 18 years, except that the total monthly pension allowance provided for children shall not exceed the amount to which the fireman would have been entitled under Subdivision (1) of this subsection, nor shall the allowance for the children exceed one-half of the maximum base salary provided for the position of pipeman at the time of the death of the fireman.

(5) If the fireman died and only if no widow or child is entitled to an allowance under the provisions of this section, a monthly pension allowance equal to one-half of the amount the fireman would have been entitled to receive, if disabled, under Subdivision (1) of this subsection shall be paid to each parent of the deceased fireman on proof to the board of trustees that the parent was dependent on the fireman immediately prior to the death of the fireman, except that the total monthly pension allowance provided for parents shall not exceed one-half of the maximum base salary provided for the position of pipeman at the time of the death of the fireman.

(c) Allowance or benefits payable under the provisions of this section for any minor child shall cease when that child becomes 18 years of age or marries. If a fireman who is covered by a provision of this Act dies and leaves a child who is totally disabled as a result of a physical or mental illness, injury, or retardation, that child is entitled to receive any pension allowance to which he is entitled under this Act and is further entitled to continue receiving the allowance so long as he remains totally disabled. If the child is not entitled to a pension allowance under this Act solely because he is over the maximum age at the time of the death of his parent and the child is totally disabled as a result of a physical or mental illness, injury, or retardation, the child is entitled to receive an allowance that to which he would have been entitled had he been under the maximum age at the time of the death of his parent.

(d) The provisions of this section are not applicable to a fireman or his beneficiaries if the fireman’s death or disability results from suicide or attempted suicide before the fireman has completed two years of service with the fire department for which he was employed.

(e) The wife of a deceased fireman who had served actively for a period of 20 years or more in a regularly active fire department shall, insofar as the provisions of this section are concerned, be considered the fireman’s widow as long as she is not married, notwithstanding that she may have married and divorced or married after the fireman died and she became a widow. A widow covered under this section shall be limited to the pension allowance of the deceased member of this fund, to whom she was last married.

(f) The monthly pension of beneficiaries of a deceased fireman whose pension benefits were subject to the adjustment under the provisions of Section 4(f) or 4(g) of this Act shall be adjusted in the same manner.

Certificates of Disability

Sec. 8. (a) No person may be retired either for total or temporary disability, except as provided in this Act, nor receive any allowance from the fund, unless and until there has been filed with the board of trustees certificates of his disability or eligibility signed and sworn to by that person and his physician or by any physician selected by the board of trustees. The board of trustees, in its discretion, may require other or additional evidence of disability before ordering retirement or payment.

(b) Any fireman or beneficiary who is entitled to receive a pension allowance under any provision of this Act is entitled to receive the allowance from and after the date on which the fireman ceases to carry out his regular duties as a fireman, notwithstanding the fact that the fireman may remain on the payroll of his fire department or receive sick leave, vacation, or other pay after the termination of his regular duties as a fireman, except that in the event of a delay resulting from the requirements of Subsection (a) of this section, the fireman or beneficiary shall, when the allowance is approved by the board, be paid the full amount of the allowance which has accrued since the termination of the fireman's regular duties as a fireman.

(c) If any fireman or one or more beneficiaries of a fireman shall be or becomes entitled to receive payments from a fund under the provisions of more than one section of this Act, the fireman or beneficiaries shall be entitled to and shall be required to elect one section under which the payments shall be computed and paid.

Contributions of Members

Sec. 9. Each fireman who is a member of a fully paid fire department which has a firemen's relief and retirement fund, and who was participating in the firemen's relief and retirement fund of his city on July 22, 1957, shall be required to make the contributions to the fund provided by this Act, and each fireman shall be entitled to participate in the benefits provided by this Act.

Monthly Salary Deductions; Contributions and Appropriations; Membership; Service Credit; Termination

Sec. 10. (a) The governing body of the city shall deduct monthly a sum equal to nine percent from the salary or compensation of each fireman participating in the fund. From and after September 1, 1981, the city shall deduct from the salary or compensation of each fireman participating in the fund a sum equal to 7 1/2 percent of such salary or compensation.

(b) From September 1, 1981, until January 1, 1983, the city shall pay into the fund an amount equal to 18 percent of the salary or compensation paid all members of the fund. Beginning January 1, 1983, the city shall make monthly contributions to the pension fund in an amount equal to the contribution rate certified by the board and multiplied by the salaries paid to members of the fund. The board shall certify the city's contribution rate for each year beginning in 1983, based on the results of actuarial valuations made at least every three years, with the first such actuarial valuation to be made as of January 1, 1982. The city's contribution rate shall be comprised of the normal cost plus the level percentage of salary payment required to amortize the unfunded actuarial liability over a period of 40 years from January 1, 1983, calculated on the basis of an acceptable actuarial reserve funding method approved by the board. However, such contributions by the city shall not be less than twice the amount paid into the fund by contributions of the members.

(c) Money deducted from salaries or compensation as provided by this section and the payments and contributions provided by this section shall become and form a part of the firemen's relief and retirement fund of the city in which the contributing fireman serves.

(d) Each person who becomes a fireman in any city which has a firemen's relief and retirement fund in which he is eligible for membership, shall become a member of the fund as a condition of his appointment, and shall by acceptance of the position agree to make and shall make contributions required under this Act of members of the fund, and shall participate in the benefits of membership in the fund as provided in this Act, except that no person shall be eligible to membership in the fund who is more than 30 years of age at the time he first enters service as a fireman. Any person who enters service as a fireman may be denied or excused from membership in the fund if the board of trustees of the fund determines that the person is not of sound health. The applicant shall pay the cost of any physical examination required in that instance by the board of trustees.

(e) Each person who is an active member of the firemen's relief and retirement fund previously organized and existing under the laws of this state at the effective date of this Act shall continue as a member of the fund, and he shall retain and be allowed credit for all service to which he was entitled in the fund of which he was a member immediately prior to the effective date of this Act.

(f) If any member's employment by the city, as an employee of the fire department, is terminated for any reason other than those qualifying the employee for a pension, neither the employee nor his beneficiary or estate shall receive any amount paid by him into the pension fund or any interest his contributions may have accrued.
(g)(1) Upon action being taken by its governing body, a city may pick up members' contributions referred to in Subsection (a) of this section. It is the intention of this Act that, upon proper action by a city, members' contributions be considered picked up by the city under the provisions of Section 414(h)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended. Members' salaries are affected by the provisions of this subsection only as they relate to the calculation of pension contributions and gross pay for federal tax purposes. The calculation of pension benefits, severance pay, and other benefits is not affected.

(2) By virtue of the provisions of Section 9 and Section 10(f) of this Act, members' contributions referred to in Subsection (a) of this section may represent a method of computation utilized by a city to assist in its budget calculation of the total cost of maintaining a fire department. Such method of computation may constitute a governmental pick-up plan under the provisions of Section 414(h)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended. It is the intention of this Act that members' contributions that were made from and after June 19, 1975, be considered city contributions under the provisions of such Section 414(h)(2). Nothing contained in the provisions of this subsection shall be construed to require a city to pay any additional amounts either into the fund or to a member of the fund with respect to the period from June 19, 1975, until September 1, 1981, or to issue any corrected income reporting forms to any individual member for any prior year.

Allowance to Beneficiaries of Deceased Members

Sec. 11. (a) If a member of a fire department who has been retired on allowances because of length of service or disability dies from any cause whatsoever, or if while in service any member dies from any cause growing out of or in consequence of the performance of his duty and the member is participating in a fund, or dies from any cause whatsoever after he has become entitled to an allowance or pension certificate, and if the fireman leaves surviving a widow, a child or children under the age of 18 years, or a dependent parent or parents, the board of trustees shall order paid a monthly pension allowance which shall be based on the amount which the fireman would have been entitled to receive had he continued to live and be retired on allowance at the date of his death. The allowance or allowances shall be paid as follows:

(1) If the member dies and leaves surviving him both a widow who married the member prior to his retirement and a child or children of the member under the age of 18 years, the board of trustees shall order paid to the widow of the member a monthly pension allowance equal to one-half of the amount the member would have been entitled to receive, and in addition the board of trustees shall order paid to the widow or other person having the care and custody of the child or children under the age of 18 years a monthly pension allowance, for the use and benefit of the child or children, equal to the amount provided for the widow.

(2) If the member dies and if his widow dies after being entitled to her allowance, or in the event there is no widow to receive an allowance, the amount of the monthly pension allowance to be paid, for the use and benefit of the child or children under the age of 18 years, to the person having the care and custody of the child or children shall be computed as follows: an amount equal to one-half of the amount that member would have been entitled to receive shall be paid for each of the member's children under the age of 18 years, except that the total monthly pension allowance provided for children shall not exceed the amount which the member would have been entitled to receive, nor shall such allowance for the children exceed one-half of the maximum base salary provided for the position of pipeman at the time of the death of the member.

(3) If the member dies and only if no widow or child is entitled to an allowance under the provisions of this section, a monthly pension allowance equal to one-half of the amount that member would have been entitled to receive shall be paid to each parent of the deceased member on proof of the board of trustees that the parent was dependent on the member immediately prior to the death of the member, except that the total monthly pension allowance provided for parents shall not exceed one-half of the maximum base salary provided for the position of pipeman at the time of the death of the member.

(b) Allowance or benefits payable under the provisions of this section for any minor child shall cease when the child becomes 18 years of age or marries, except that if a fireman who is covered by a provision of this Act dies and leaves a child who is totally disabled as a result of a physical or mental illness, injury, or retardation, that child is entitled to receive any pension allowance to which he is entitled under this Act and is further entitled to continue receiving the allowance so long as he or she remains totally disabled. If the child is not entitled to a pension allowance under this Act solely because he or she is over the maximum age at the time of the death of his or her parent and the child is totally disabled as a result of a physical or mental illness, injury, or retardation, the child is entitled to receive as an allowance that to which he or she would have been entitled had he or she been under the maximum age at the time of the death of his parent.

(e) The wife of a deceased fireman who has been retired on disability allowances because of length of service or has been retired for disability after having served actively for a period of 20 years or more shall, insofar as the provisions of this section are concerned, be considered the fireman's widow as long as she is not married, notwithstanding that she may have married and divorced or married and became a widow after such fireman died. A widow covered under this section shall be limited to the pension allowance of the deceased member to whom she was last married.

Exemption of Benefits from Judicial Process

Sec. 12. No portion of the fireman's relief and retirement fund shall, either before or after its order of disbursement by the board of trustees to retired or disabled fireman or the widow, the guardian of any minor child or children, or the dependent parent of any deceased, retired, or disabled fireman, be ever held, seized, taken, subjected to, or detained, or levied on by virtue of any execution, attachment, garnishment, injunction, or other writ, order, or decree, or any process or proceedings whatsoever issued out of, or by, any court for the payment or satisfaction in whole or in part of any debt, damage, claim, demand, or judgment against a fireman or his widow, the guardian of his minor child or children, or his dependent father or mother, nor shall the fund or any claim be directly or indirectly assigned or transferred, and any attempt to transfer or assign the same shall be void. The fund shall be sacredly held, kept, and disbursed for the purposes provided by this Act and for no other purpose.

Integration of Fund with Social Security Benefits

Sec. 13. No benefit or pension allowance shall ever be integrated with benefits payable under the federal Social Security Act, and benefits which might be available to a fireman under the federal Social Security Act may never be taken into account in a city where firemen are eligible to enroll for or receive retirement benefits under the Social Security Act when determining the amount of benefits which a fireman may receive under the provisions of this Act.

Certificate to Fireman Eligible For the Retirement or Disability Allowance; Continuance in Service

Sec. 14. Any fireman possessing the qualifications and being eligible for voluntary retirement who elects to continue in the service of the fire department may apply to the board of trustees for a certificate, and if found to possess the qualifications and be eligible for retirement as provided in this Act, the board of trustees shall issue to the fireman a certificate showing him to be entitled to retirement or disability allowance, and on his death the certificate is prima facie proof that his widow or dependents are entitled to their respective allowances without further proof except as to her or their relationship.

Medical Examination of Persons Retiring for Disability

Sec. 15. The board of trustees, in its discretion, at any time may cause any person retired for disability under the provisions of this Act to appear and undergo a medical examination by any physician appointed or selected by the board of trustees for the purpose, and the result of the examination and report by the physician shall be considered by the board of trustees in determining whether the relief in the case shall be continued, increased (if less than the maximum provided), decreased, or discontinued. Should any person receiving relief under the provisions of this Act, after due notice from the board of trustees to appear and be reexamined, unless excused by the board, fail to appear or refuse to submit to reexamination, the board of trustees may in its discretion reduce or entirely discontinue relief.

Recall for Duty in Emergency

Sec. 16. Any retired fireman may be recalled to duty in case of great conflagration and shall perform such duty as the chief of the fire department may direct, but shall have no claim against a city for payment for duty so performed.

Appeal to District Court

Sec. 17. Any person possessing the qualifications required for retirement for length of service or disability or having claim for temporary disability, or any of his beneficiaries, who deems himself aggrieved by the decision or order of the board of trustees, whether because of rejection or the amount allowed, may appeal from the decision or order of the board of a district court in the county where the board is located by giving written notice of the intention to appeal. The notice shall contain a statement of the intention to appeal, together with a brief statement of the grounds and reasons why the party feels aggrieved. The notice shall be served personally on the chairman or secretary or treasurer of the board within 20 days after the date of the order or decision. After service of the notice, the party appealing shall file with the district court a copy of the notice of intention to appeal, together with the affidavit of the party making service showing how, when, and on whom the notice was served. Within 30 days after service of the notice of intention to appeal upon the board, the secretary or treasurer of the board shall make up and file with the district court a transcript of all papers and proceedings in the case before the board and when the copy of the notice of intention to appeal and the transcript has been filed with the court, the appeal shall be deemed perfected and the court shall docket the appeal, assign the appeal a number, fix a date for hearing the appeal, and notify both the appellant and the board of the date fixed for the hearing. At any time before rendering its decision on the appeal, the court may require further or additional proof or information, either documentary or under oath. On rendition of a decision on the appeal, the court shall give to each party to the appeal a copy of the decision and shall direct the board as to the disposition of the case. The final decision or order of the district court is appealable in the same manner as are civil cases generally.

Employment of Certified Public Accountants; Audit

Sec. 18. The board of trustees may engage and employ a certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants to perform an audit of the firemen's relief and retirement fund at times and intervals as it may deem necessary. The city may pay the entire cost of the audits; if not paid by the city, the cost may be paid from the assets of the fund.

Computation of Length of Service

Sec. 19. In computing the time or period for retirement for length of service, any time served in the armed forces of the nation during war or national emergency shall be construed as continuous service. Except for the military service described above, credit for prior service shall be given only if a member returns to the classified service within five years from the date of termination.

City Attorney to Represent Board of Trustees in Appeals

Sec. 20. The city attorney, without additional compensation, shall appear for and represent the board of trustees of the fund in that city in all legal matters of litigation.

Investment of Surplus

Sec. 21. Whenever, in the opinion of the board of trustees, there exists a surplus of funds in an amount exceeding the current demands upon the fund, the board of trustees may invest such surplus funds in the manner provided by Chapter 817, Acts of the 66th Legislature, 1979 (Article 6228n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Employment of Counseling Service

Sec. 22. The board of trustees may engage and employ professional investment counselors to advise and assist the board in the investment of the assets of the fund. The investment counseling service must be provided by a nationally known organization whose business functions include rendering continuous investment advisory service to public pension and retirement funds. The city may pay the entire cost of this counseling service; if not paid by the city the cost may be paid from the assets of the fund.

Employment of Actuary

Sec. 23. The board of trustees may employ an actuary no more than once every three years and pay his compensation out of the pension fund.

Action for Recovery of Benefits Wrongfully Obtained

Sec. 24. The board of trustees may recover by civil action from any offending party or from his bondsmen, if any, any money paid out or obtained from the fund through fraud, misrepresentation, defalcation, theft, embezzlement, or misapplication and may institute, conduct, and maintain the action in the name of the board of trustees for the use and benefit of the fund.

Pro Rata Reduction of Benefits on Deficiency

Sec. 25. If for any reason the fund or funds made available for any purpose covered by this Act shall be insufficient to pay in full any allowance or disability benefits, all granted allowances or disability benefits shall be proratably reduced for such time as the deficiency exists.

Termination of Active Service; Allowances and Benefits

Sec. 26. After a fireman terminates his active service, the amounts of all allowances and benefits which the fireman or his beneficiaries may thereafter become entitled to receive from a fireman's relief and retirement fund shall be computed on the basis of the schedule of allowances and benefits in effect for the fireman's relief and retirement fund at the time of the termination of the fireman's active service.

Employment of Attorney

Sec. 27. The board of trustees of the firemen's relief and retirement fund may employ an attorney to render a legal opinion or to represent the trustees in any litigation involving matters coming under this Act.

Employment of Physician

Sec. 28. The board of trustees of the firemen's relief and retirement fund may employ a physician or physicians to examine firemen prior to their becoming a member of the fund or to examine a fireman applying for a disability pension allowance.

Increase of Monthly Allowance

Sec. 29. The monthly pension benefit or allowance provided by any section of this Act may be increased if:

(1) the increase is first approved by a qualified actuary selected by the board of trustees of the firemen's relief and retirement fund; the qualified actuary shall if an individual, be a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries or a Fellow of the Conference of Actuaries in Public Practice or a Member of the American Academy of Actuaries;

(2) a majority of the participating members of the pension fund vote for the increase by a secret ballot;

(3) increase applies only to active firemen in the department at the time of the change of the increase and those who enter the department thereafter; and
Sec. 30. (a) A fireman who transfers from the fire department of one city to that of a city covered by this Act and desires to participate in the fund of that city shall:

(1) be less than 35 years old;
(2) pass a physical examination taken at his expense and performed by a physician selected by the board; and
(3) pay into the fund of that city an amount equal to the total contribution he would have made had he been employed by that city instead of the city from which he transferred, plus six percent interest.

(b) The city to which the fireman has transferred shall pay an amount equal to the amount it would have paid had the fireman been employed by that city instead of the city from which he transferred, plus six percent interest.

(c) No fireman may participate in the fund of the city to which he has transferred until he has complied with the provisions of this Act.

Art. 6243e.3. Volunteer Fire Fighters' Relief and Retirement Fund

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Qualified service" means fire-fighting service rendered without monetary remuneration while a member in good standing of a fire-fighting unit that has no fewer than 10 active members, and a minimum of two drills each month, each drill two hours long, and each active member present at 40 percent of the drills and 25 percent of the fires, or fire-fighting service rendered without monetary remuneration while a member of a fire-fighting unit which includes paid fire fighters. Absence caused by military duty does not affect qualified service.

(2) "Retirement age" means age 55.

(3) "Dependent" means dependent as defined by the U. S. Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A, Chapter 1B, Part V, Section 152, and any subsequent amendments.

(4) "Solvency" means sufficient assets on hand to meet all current benefits due.

(5) "Qualified actuary" means a fellow of the Society of Actuaries or a member of the American Academy of Actuaries, or both, who has at least five years of experience with public retirement systems.

(6) "Actuarially sound pension system" means a system in which the amount of contributions is sufficient to cover the normal cost and 40-year amortization of the unfunded prior-service cost (such normal cost and prior-service cost to be determined by a qualified actuary and based on assumptions adopted by the state board of trustees and approved by the actuary in regard to future contribution levels, mortality, retirement age, turnover, and morbidity) where:

(A) the normal cost is the annual cost of the members' benefits assigned to the years after date of entry;
(B) the unfunded prior-service cost is equal to the prior-service cost reduced by the assets; and
(C) the prior-service cost determined as of the date of the actuarial valuation is equal to:

(i) the present value of future benefits on behalf of all individuals receiving benefits;
(ii) the present value of future benefits on behalf of all individuals who have terminated their service with vested benefits to commence at a future date; and
(iii) the present value of future benefits accrued to the date of valuation on behalf of all individuals in active service.

(7) "Fund" means the Fire Fighters' Relief and Retirement Fund created by this Act.

(8) "Pension system" means the system of contributions and benefits created by this Act.

(9) "Member fire fighter" means a fire fighter who participates in the pension system under this Act.

(10) "Member fire department" means a fire department that participates in the pension system under this Act.

(11) "Current pension plan" means a pension plan in which a fire department is participating when it elects to join the pension system created by this Act.

(12) "Commissioner" means the Firemen's Pension Commissioner authorized by Section 19, Chapter 125, Acts of the 45th Legislature, Regular Session, 1937 (Article 6243e, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(13) "Governing body" means the governing body of any political subdivision of the state within which a rural fire prevention district created pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 57, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1957 (Article 2351a-6, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is situated or the governing body of any city or town within which a fire department subject to the provisions of this Act is situated.

1 26 U.S.C.A. § 152.
Sec. 2. (a) A Fire Fighters' Relief and Retirement Fund is created.

(b) Participation in the fund is optional. Any governing body may, not later than 60 days after the effective date of this Act and in accordance with the usual procedures prescribed for other official actions of the governing body, elect to exempt itself from the requirements of this Act. Any action to provide for an exemption from the requirements of this Act may be rescinded by the governing body at any time.

(c) Every governing body shall contribute for each fire fighter at least $12 for each month of qualified service beginning on the date the fire fighter enters the pension system. Contributions must be paid at least every six months. If the member fire department is situated in more than one political subdivision, the governing bodies of such political subdivisions shall contribute equally towards a total of at least $12 for each fire fighter for each month of qualified service.

(d) The state shall contribute the sum necessary to make the fund actuarially sound each year. The state's contribution may not exceed the amount of one-third of the total of all contributions by governing bodies in one year. If the state contributes one-third of the total contributions of the governing bodies in one year, the fund shall be presumed actuarially sound.

(e) The commissioner may receive contributions to the fund from any source.

(f) Any contribution made and any benefits provided pursuant to this Act shall not be considered compensation, and member fire fighters shall not be deemed to be in the paid service of any governing body.

Retirement Benefits

Sec. 3. (a) A member fire fighter shall receive a retirement annuity payable in monthly installments on reaching retirement age, subject to the vesting provisions in Section 6 of this Act.

(b) The monthly retirement annuity is equal to three times the governing body's average monthly contribution over the member fire fighter's term of qualified service under this Act.

(c) For each year of additional qualified service in excess of 15 years, a member fire fighter is entitled to receive an additional seven percent of his monthly pension compounded annually. A fire fighter may receive a proportional credit for days or months of qualified service that make up less than a year.

Disability Benefits

Sec. 4. (a) A member fire fighter must elect between retirement or disability benefits if eligible for both.

(b) A member fire fighter who is totally disabled and cannot perform duties as a member of the fire department shall receive a monthly disability allowance until he is able to return to his regular employment. The benefits authorized by this subsection are payable only if the fire fighter is unable to perform the duties of his regular employment.

(c) The standard monthly disability allowance is three times the governing body's monthly contribution at the date of the fire fighter's disability.

(d) A member fire fighter whose disability results from performing duties as a fire fighter is guaranteed a disability benefit of at least $250 a month.

Death Benefits

Sec. 5. (a) The beneficiary of a deceased member fire fighter shall receive a lump-sum benefit that is the greater of:

(1) the sum contributed to the fund on the decedent's behalf; or

(2) the sum which would have been contributed on the decedent's behalf from whatever source at the end of 15 years of qualified service.

(b) The beneficiary of a member whose death results from performing duties as a fire fighter is guaranteed a lump-sum benefit of at least $5,000.

(c) In addition to the lump-sum death benefit, the spouse and dependents shall receive in equal shares a survivor's benefit equal to two-thirds of the monthly retirement annuity the decedent would have been entitled to receive if the decedent had been able to retire under Section 3 of this Act on the date of the decedent's death. As long as both spouse and one or more dependents survive, an additional one-third of that monthly retirement annuity shall be paid to the dependents in equal shares.

(d) If a member fire fighter dies after retirement, the surviving spouse shall receive two-thirds of the monthly pension the decedent was receiving at the time of death.

(e) The spouse is eligible to receive benefits as long as the spouse is unmarried.

(f) Lump-sum death benefits are subject to the laws of descent and distribution if the decedent has not provided for testamentary disposition.

(g) When a fire fighter names more than one beneficiary for the lump-sum death benefit, the benefit shall be divided equally among the named beneficiaries unless the fire fighter designates a proportional division. If the fire fighter designates a proportional division, each beneficiary shall receive the proportion of the lump-sum benefit designated by the fire fighter.

Vesting of Benefits

Sec. 6. (a) No right to retirement benefits vests until five years of qualified service are completed.

(b) Vested retirement benefits are nonforfeitable.

(c) Full retirement benefits vest at the following rates:
Sec. 7. (a) Claims for benefits are filed with the local board of trustees.

(b) On receiving a claim for benefits, the local board of trustees shall hold a hearing to decide the claim. A written copy of the decision must be sent to the claimant and the commissioner.

(c) A claimant may appeal the decision of the local board by filing notice of the appeal with the local board and the commissioner within 20 days after receiving notice of the local board’s decision.

(d) The local board shall file a transcript of the local board hearing with the commissioner within 30 days after receiving notice of appeal.

(e) The commissioner shall, within 30 days after receiving a notice of appeal, set a date for a hearing and notify the claimant and the local board.

(f) A written copy of the commissioner’s decision must be sent to the claimant and the local board.

(g) A claimant may appeal the commissioner’s decision to the state board of trustees. The appeal must be filed within 20 days after receiving notice of the commissioner’s decision.

(h) The state board of trustees shall, within 30 days after receiving notice of appeal, set a date for a hearing and notify the claimant, the local board, and the commissioner.

(i) The claimant, the local board, and the commissioner may present any written or oral evidence necessary for deciding a claim.

(j) The local board, the state board, and the commissioner may administer oaths, receive evidence, issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers and documents related to the hearing, and make findings of fact and decisions in administering this Act.

(k) The attorney general shall represent the commissioner in all proceedings under this Act which require representation.

(l) The local board may be represented by the city attorney or, where appropriate, the county attorney or counsel it may choose to employ.

(m) The Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes) applies to all hearings authorized by this Act.

Certification of Physical Fitness

Sec. 8. A fire fighter entering service in a member fire department after the effective date of this Act must be certified as physically fit by the local board of trustees prior to admission to the pension system.

Sec. 9. A member fire fighter who terminates service and later resumes service with the same fire department or transfers to another member department may transfer all accrued benefits to the new or resumed service.

Entrusting the Pension System; Required Election

Sec. 10. (a) An election must be held within the local fire department to merge its current pension plan with the pension system.

(b) The election must be held within 14 days after:

(1) a petition calling for an election and signed by 50 percent of the active fire fighters in the department is filed at the local department; and

(2) the disclosure required by Section 16 of this Act is made to the fire fighters in the local department.

(c) If the current pension plan of the fire department is not solvent, the election to enter the pension system in this Act must be decided by a majority of the votes cast by qualified fire fighters in the department.

(d) If the current pension plan of the fire department is solvent, the election to enter the pension system in this Act must be decided by at least 60 percent of all votes cast.

(e) In the election required in this section, a fire fighter’s vote must be multiplied by the number of years of participation in the current pension plan.

Merger of the Current Pension Plan with the Pension System

Sec. 11. (a) When a fire department under a current pension plan elects to participate in the pension system in this Act, the current pension plan is merged with the pension system.

(b) The costs of the current pension plan shall be determined on an actuarially sound basis using the attained-age normal method and actuarial assumptions described in Subdivision 6 of Section 1 of this Act. The costs must be certified by a qualified actuary as of the effective date of merger or within three years preceding the date of merger.

(c) On the date of merger, all assets and liabilities of the current pension plan are transferred to the pension system and become an allocated part of the system. The assets may be merged with the pension system assets for investment purposes, but a separate account must be maintained for the funds allocated to each plan that has merged with the system.

(d) Following merger, a member’s retirement benefits in the pension system are determined by either the future-service method or the buy-back method. The options are available only to fire fighters participating in the current pension plan.

(e)(1) In the future-service method, the qualified service required to earn retirement benefits in the pension system begins as of the date of merger. For determining a person's retirement benefits in the pension system, a fire fighter may choose the formula for benefits used in the current pension plan or the formula for benefits as outlined in this Act. Any retirement benefits accrued prior to the date of merger will also be paid on retirement according to the formula for benefits under the current pension plan.

(2) In the buy-back method in determining the fire fighters' retirement benefits in the pension system, a fire fighter may choose the formula for benefits used in the current pension plan or the formula for benefits as outlined in this Act. The fire fighter who has less than 15 years of service remaining before retirement as of the date of merger may count time served under the current pension plan before the date of merger as qualified service. The time period necessary to make 15 years of service before retirement may be used.

(f) A fire fighter who terminates service prior to the date of merger of his fire department's current pension plan with the pension system is entitled to receive at retirement age the retirement benefits vested under the pension plan in effect during his service. The pension system pays his benefits.

(g) Any benefits being paid by the current pension plan at the date of merger will be paid by the pension system following merger.

(h) On merger of a current pension plan with the pension system, the sponsors of the current pension plan are obligated to make contributions to the pension system in this Act to fund the unfunded prior-service cost. The unfunded prior-service cost is determined as of the date of merger using the attained-age normal method and the actuarial assumptions in the definition of “actuarially sound pension system.” The period of funding these contributions shall not exceed 40 years measured from the date of merger.

(i) An election for the local board of trustees must be held within 30 days of entering the pension system. The names of the elected trustees are filed with the commissioner.

Withdrawning from the Pension System

Sec. 12. (a) A current pension plan that merges with the pension system may withdraw from the pension system within five years after the date of merger on a majority vote of the fire fighters in the department voting in the same manner as provided in Section 10 of this Act.

(b) On withdrawal from the pension system, the allocated assets and liabilities as apportioned by an actuary retained by the pension system must be transferred to the plan chosen to replace the pension system.

(c) If a fire fighter terminates service before retirement, vested retirement benefits must be paid to the fire fighter at retirement age. There is no penalty for nonconsecutive years of service.

Benefits Received from Other Plans or Insurance

Sec. 13. The rights to benefits under this pension system are not defeated by benefits or payments received by other plans or insurance.

Investment and Management of the Fund

Sec. 14. (a) If the commissioner's annual report shows a surplus in the fund over the amount necessary to pay benefits due for a reasonable period of time not to exceed five years, the commissioner and trustees shall invest the surplus.

(b) The surplus may be invested in:

1. bonds or other interest-bearing obligations and securities issued by governmental entities;
2. shares or share accounts of savings and loan associations insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation;
3. shares and share accounts of banks insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation;
4. first lien real estate mortgage securities insured by the Federal Housing Administration under the National Housing Act, as amended;
5. investments made by a life insurance company in order to effect a group annuity contract; or
6. corporation bonds, preferred stocks, and common stocks.

(c) The state board of trustees shall employ a professional investment counselor, a legal reserve life insurance company licensed to do business in the State of Texas, or a bank with trust powers under the laws of the State of Texas. The investment counselor or bank employed by the board must be a nationally known organization whose business includes investment counseling for public pension and retirement funds. A life insurance company employed by the board must provide a group annuity contract that guarantees expenses and provides a formula for determining the amount of funds available for transfer at the end of a contract period. The contract may not include requirements that guarantee life annuities be purchased.

(d) The cost of the investment counseling service may be paid from income earned by investments.

(e) No portion of the corpus or income of the fund may be used for purposes other than the benefit of member fire fighters and their beneficiaries.

Pension Plans Required to be Solvent

Sec. 15. (a) Every fire fighter in the state who serves without monetary remuneration must be a member of a solvent pension plan.

(b) After the effective date of this Act, an insolvent pension plan for fire fighters who serve without monetary remuneration must become actuarially sound within three years. An insolvent pension plan must demonstrate to the commissioner within six months after becoming insolvent that steps are being taken to become actuarially sound.
Disclosure of Pension Plan Information Required

Sec. 16. (a) The governing body shall disclose to each fire fighter who serves without monetary remuneration and who is eligible for participation in the pension system the information required by this section.

(b) The commissioner shall distribute to each fire department and each governing body the following information:

(1) all benefits that are available in the pension system in this Act;
(2) the contributions required by the pension system;
(3) the expected return on the investment of a member fire fighter;
(4) when benefits vest;
(5) the transferability of benefits;
(6) rights of withdrawing members;
(7) procedures for filing claims and appeals;
(8) tax consequences; and
(9) changes in the law.

(c) The local fire department shall disclose to each fire fighter in the department and to each new fire fighter on his commissioning the information in Subsection (b) of this section.

(d) After a petition for an election as required in Section 10 of this Act has been filed and before the election occurs, the directors of a current pension plan must disclose to its members the information required in Subsection (b) of this section about the current pension plan.

Penalties

Sec. 17. (a) A governing body which does not disclose the information required in Section 16 of this Act or which does not meet the requirements of a solvent pension fund as required in Section 15 of this Act is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000 for each violation, plus reasonable attorney's fees.

(b) The attorney general shall bring suit in a court of appropriate jurisdiction to collect the civil penalties authorized by this Act.

Commissioner

Sec. 18. The duties of the commissioner under this Act shall be performed by the Firemen's Pension Commissioner appointed under the provisions of Chapter 125, Acts of the 45th Legislature, Regular Session, 1937, as amended (Article 6243e, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Commissioner's Duties

Sec. 19. (a) The commissioner may not administer any fire fighters' pension plan other than the pension system created by this Act and the system created by Chapter 125, Acts of the 45th Legislature, Regular Session, 1937, as amended (Article 6243e, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(b) The commissioner may hear appeals from decisions of local boards in other pension plans.

(c) The commissioner and the state board of trustees shall assemble and disseminate the information necessary for the disclosure requirements concerning the pension system as outlined in Section 16 of this Act.

(d) The commissioner is responsible for recovering any fraudulently acquired benefits. If it appears that fraud has occurred, the commissioner shall notify the local board and the claimant and hold a hearing. If after the hearing the commissioner decides that benefits have been or are being fraudulently acquired, he shall seek action in a court of appropriate jurisdiction.

(e) The commissioner shall collect the revenues from the local boards of trustees for the fund.

(f) The commissioner may request and administer additional state funds in an emergency.

(g) The commissioner shall require annual reports from the local boards of trustees.

(h) The commissioner may at any reasonable time examine the records and accounts of local boards of trustees.

(i) The commissioner may recommend to the state board of trustees rules to implement this Act.

(j) The commissioner shall keep a copy of all rules promulgated under this Act on file in the commissioner's office. A copy of the rules shall be placed with each local board of trustees and shall be made available for public inspection at any reasonable time.

(k) The commissioner shall prepare the necessary forms for use by local boards of trustees.

(l) The commissioner shall prepare an annual report on the activity and status of the fund. The report shall go to the governor, the lieutenant governor, and the speaker of the house.

(m) The commissioner shall oversee the distribution of all benefits. The commissioner shall make benefit payments to claimants after receiving a copy of a local board of trustees' decision in favor of a claim and reviewing that decision.

(n) If the commissioner overrules a local board's decision, he shall immediately notify the local board and the claimant.

(o) The commissioner shall hear all appeals from local boards of trustees' decisions and issue written opinions in compliance with the procedures required by this Act.

(p) The commissioner shall keep a written transcript of all proceedings and hearings required by this Act.

State Board of Trustees

Sec. 20. (a) There is a state board of trustees composed of six members of the fund.
Art. 6243e.3

(b) The governor, with the advice and consent of two-thirds majority membership of the senate, shall appoint the trustees from a list of three to five nominees submitted by the State Firemen's and Fire Marshals’ Association of Texas for each vacancy.

c) The trustees shall serve six-year terms. The trustees appointed to serve on the first board of trustees shall draw by lot at the first board meeting to determine the length of term to be served. Two trustees shall serve a two-year term; two trustees shall serve a four-year term; and two trustees shall serve a six-year term. Thereafter each term shall be for six years.

d) Five trustees constitute a quorum.

e) A board decision or recommendation is made by a majority vote of trustees present. The vote must be recorded in the minutes of board meetings.

(f) The trustees shall serve without compensation. Trustees may be reimbursed for travel expenses to attend board meetings.

Duties of the State Board of Trustees

Sec. 21. (a) The board shall employ the certified public accountant, the actuary, and the investment advisors for the fund.

(b) The board shall establish rules and regulations necessary for the administration of the fund.

(c) The board shall hear appeals from the commissioner's decisions.

(d) The board may authorize a cost-of-living increase for any benefit provided in the pension system. If benefits are increased, the board may require an increase in the governing body's contributions to maintain the actuarial soundness of the fund.

(e) The board shall give notice and hold a hearing before authorizing a cost-of-living increase in benefits.

(f) Any cost-of-living increase in benefits is effective after approval by the legislature by concurrent resolution.

Local Board of Trustees

Sec. 22. (a) The local board of trustees is composed of the following:

1. one representative selected by the governing body;
2. five members of the local fire department chosen by a majority of fire fighters in qualified service; and
3. two tax-paying voters who are chosen by the other members of the board.

(b) The local board shall elect a chairman from the members at the first meeting.

(c) Trustees serve two-year terms.

(d) On the first local board, the fire department representatives shall serve staggered terms. The fire department representatives shall draw by lot at the first board meeting to determine the length of term to be served. Three representatives shall serve two-year terms, and two representatives shall serve one-year terms. The first appointments of the tax-paying or citizen representatives shall be one appointed for a two-year term and one appointed for a one-year term. Thereafter, all appointments are for two-year terms.

e) If a vacancy occurs on the board, it is filled for the remainder of the unexpired term by the procedure by which the position was originally filled.

(f) A majority of board members constitute a quorum.

g) A board decision is made by majority vote of all members present. The vote must be recorded in the minutes of board meetings.

(h) No member of the local board may receive compensation for service as a trustee.

Duties of the Local Board of Trustees

Sec. 23. (a) The local board of trustees shall collect all governing body contributions at least semiannually and send the contributions to the commissioner.

(b) The local board shall hear and decide all claims for benefits according to the procedures in Section 7 of this Act.

(c) The board shall mail a copy of a decision on a claim to the parties involved and to the commissioner.

(d) The board shall keep complete records of all claims and proceedings.

(e) The local board shall require a fire fighter who is receiving temporary disability benefits to file a disability rating report from a physician every three months. The board may choose the physician. When the reports indicate a significant change of condition, the local board, after notice and a hearing, must enter an order to modify or terminate benefit payments. The order is sent to the commissioner. If the board terminates benefits, the fire fighter is presumed able to resume fire-fighting duties.

Certification of the Fund

Sec. 24. The commissioner and state board of trustees shall certify the actuarial and financial soundness of the fund every two years. The state board shall employ a qualified actuary and a certified public accountant to assist in the required certification.

Act Not to Repeal Statutory Authority

Sec. 25. This Act does not repeal the statutory authority for any existing or current pension plan. This Act is intended to provide a pension system and death and disability benefits for fire fighters who serve without monetary remuneration. The provisions of this Act are not to be interpreted to affect fully paid fire fighters or their pension systems in any way.

Art. 6243f. Firemen and Policemen's Pension Fund in Cities of 500,000 to 800,000

Board of Trustees

Sec. 1. In all incorporated cities containing more than five hundred thousand (500,000) inhabitants and less than eight hundred thousand (800,000) inhabitants according to the last preceding federal census or any future federal census and having a fully paid fire and police department, there is created hereby (and continued if heretofore created) a Firemen and Policemen's Pension Fund; provided, however, that once such pension system becomes operative in any city, any right or privilege accruing to any such member thereafter shall be a vested right and the same shall not be denied or abridged thereafter through any change in population of any such city taking such city out of the population (as herein prescribed) and said pension system shall continue to operate and function regardless of whether or not any future population exceeds or falls below said population. To govern said Firemen and Policemen's Pension Fund, there is hereby created a Board of Trustees to consist of seven (7) members, as follows: the mayor, two (2) aldermen, councilmen or commissioners, each to serve on this Board for the term of office to which they are elected, and to be elected to this Board by majority vote of the Board of Aldermen, Council or Board of Commissioners on which they serve; two (2) active firemen below the rank of fire chief, to be selected by the majority vote of the members of the fire department by secret ballot, one (1) for a term of two (2) years, and the other for a term of four (4) years, and two (2) active policemen below the grade of police chief, to be selected by the majority vote of the members of the police department, by secret ballot, one (1) for a term of two (2) years, and the other for a term of four (4) years. All members from the fire and police departments shall be elected by the contributors to the Fund, and shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified and their successors shall be elected for a term of four (4) years. These seven (7) trustees and their successors shall constitute the Board of Trustees of the Firemen and Policemen's Pension Fund, to provide for the disbursement of same, and to designate the beneficiaries thereof, and to have complete and independent control over said Pension Fund. Said Board shall be known as the Firemen and Policemen's Pension Fund Board of Trustees of ____________, Texas.

Increase in Board Membership

Sec. 1A. Said board of trustees shall be increased in number from seven to nine by the addition of two retiree/beneficiary representatives, one each from the rolls of retirees, the widows, or the widowers of retirees of the fire department and police department, respectively. Such trustees shall have full voting and membership rights on said board. They shall each be elected by secret written ballot of the retirees, widows, or widowers of retirees of their respective departments, and the board, through its secretary, shall administer the required elections (with ballots to be mailed to out-of-town retirees and beneficiaries). Their terms of office shall each be four years, with one such trustee to be elected every two years.

The first election, however, shall be for both memberships and shall be conducted not later than 60 days after the effective date hereof. At such election the representative trustee for police department retirees and beneficiaries shall be elected for a term extending through May, 1983, and the representative trustee for fire department retirees and beneficiaries shall be elected for a term extending through May, 1981.

Only retirees and widows or widowers of members duly enrolled on the pension rolls shall be eligible for membership on the board.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2]

Recall of Trustee

Sec. 3. The trustees elected to the board by the members of the fire and police departments may be recalled from such positions by a vote of the membership of their respective departments. Such recall election shall be held within 30 days after the board of trustees (the member in question not voting) certifies that a proper petition for a recall election on the trustee in question has been signed by at least 20 percent of the active members and contributors of the fund of such department. If a majority of the members of said department voting at such recall election shall vote to recall said trustee, his term of service shall end immediately upon the entry of an order by the board canvassing the results of such election and declaring the results thereof. The board shall, at the same time, call a special election to fill the unexpired term of said recalled trustee. The trustee recalled shall not be eligible to run in said special election but shall be eligible to run in all elections for trustee in said department thereafter. A recall petition must be filed with the board within 45 days after the first signature thereon has been obtained. Each signature shall be dated or be invalid.

Contributions to Fund, Deductions From Wages

Sec. 4. (a) There shall be deducted for such fund from the wages of each fireman and policeman in the employment of such city a percentage of the member's total salary excluding overtime pay, according to the following schedule:

1. 8 percent for full pay periods before October 1, 1981;
2. 8.5 percent for full pay periods after September 30, 1981, but before October 1, 1983;
Art. 6243f

(3) 9 percent for full pay periods after September 30, 1983, but before October 1, 1985;

(4) 9.5 percent for full pay periods after September 30, 1985, but before October 1, 1987;

(5) 10 percent for full pay periods after September 30, 1987, but before October 1, 1989; and

(6) 10.5 percent for full pay periods after September 30, 1989.

(b) Such city shall pay into said fund, and at the same time, an amount equal to double the sum total of all such deductions. Any donations made to said fund and all funds received from any source for such fund shall be deposited in like manner in such fund. The city's double matching amount referred to above shall be in lieu of all other payments heretofore required by law to be made by the city except as provided in Sections 26B(3) and 26C hereof.

(c) Department chiefs shall contribute on the basis of the salary of their permanent civil service rank plus their individual longevity pay and upon death or retirement their pensions shall be computed on the same basis.

Who May Share in Fund

Sec. 7.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 7(a) and 7(b)]

(c) Members of this Pension Fund who are called to active military service shall not be required to make the monthly payments into the fund provided for in this Act as long as they are thus engaged in active military service, nor shall they lose any seniority rights or retirement benefits provided for in the Act by virtue of such military service, provided that after their reinstatement to an active status in either the fire or police department they must file a written statement of intent with the secretary of the Pension Fund within 90 days of their return to such active status to pay into the Pension Fund an amount equal to what they would have paid in if they had remained on active status in the department during the period of their absence in military service and make such payment in full within an amount of time after their return equal to the time they were absent, in each case, or forever lose all credit toward a retirement pension for the length of time such member was engaged in active military service. No disability resulting from either injury or disease contracted after the effective date of this Act while engaged in military service shall ever entitle a member of the fund to a disability pension. When payments are made into the fund by a member pursuant to this section, the city shall double match such payment.

Retirement Pension

Sec. 8. (a) Whenever any member of said departments shall have contributed a portion of his salary as provided by this Act, and shall have both contributed and served for a period of 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29 or 30 years or more in either of said departments, the board shall, upon the application of any such member for retirement and a retirement pension, authorize a retirement pension to said applicant who retires after August 31, 1981, but before October 1, 1984, based on the average of the member's total salary excluding overtime pay for the highest five years of such member's pay at the rate of two percent thereof for each year served, with fractional years prorated based on full months served, as such contributing member but the highest pension paid shall not exceed 60 percent of such highest five years salary average as of the date of retirement. The board shall compute the retirement pension of a member who retires after September 30, 1984, but before October 1, 1987, on the basis of the average of the member's total salary excluding overtime pay for the highest four years of the member's pay at the rate of two percent for each year served, with fractional years prorated based on full months served, as a contributing member, but the pension may not exceed, as of the date of retirement, 60 percent of the average so determined. The board shall compute the retirement pension of a member who retires after September 30, 1987, in the same manner provided for computation of a pension for a member who retires on September 30, 1987, except that the average salary must be based on the highest three years of the member's pay excluding overtime pay. Provided, however, that any member of said departments qualifying for membership in the Pension Fund who is employed after the effective date of this Act must also have reached 50 years of age before being eligible for a retirement pension. No member shall ever receive any award from this fund for retirement until he has served at least 20 years in either or all of the departments and has also contributed the required amount of money for at least 20 years. In determining the number of years of service in a department, the member shall be given full credit for such time, or periods of time, said member was actively engaged in the military service, but only strictly in accordance with the provisions of Section 7(c) of this Act. Disciplinary suspensions of 15 days, or less, shall not be subtracted from a member's service time credit under this Act toward a retirement pension, provided that the member shall pay into the fund within 30 days after the termination date of each suspension a sum of money equal to the amount of money which would have been deducted from his salary during that period of suspension if it had not been for that suspension and upon such payment the city shall double match it.
(b) From and after January 1, 1959, whenever any member of said departments shall have served for a period of 30 years or more in either of said departments and shall have contributed a portion of his salary, as provided by this Act, for the same period of time, he shall be retired automatically from service upon attaining the age of 65 years and receive a pension based upon 60 percent of the average of his total salary excluding overtime pay for the same number of years as is currently provided for computations under Subsection (a) of this section, computed to the date of his retirement. Failure of such employee to comply with this provision shall deprive the member, and his widow and children and dependent parents, of any and all pensions and benefits herein provided.

(c) Provided, however, when a member in said departments attains the age of 65 years without having served for a period of 30 years in either of said departments and without having contributed a portion of his salary as provided by this Act for a period of 30 years, he may continue his service until his period of service and period of Pension Fund contributions shall cover 30 years.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 9]

Sec. 10. When any duly appointed and enrolled member of the fire department or police department of the city who is contributing to said fund, as herein provided, shall become so permanently disabled through injury or disease so as to incapacitate him from the performance of his duties, and shall make written application subject to medical examination for such injury or disease, he shall be retired from the service, if a member in good standing of said department at the time of retirement, and be entitled to receive from the said fund one-half of the average of his total salary excluding overtime pay based on the same number of years of the member's pay as is currently provided for computations of pensions under Subsection (a) of Section 8 of this Act, or if he has served less than that number of years, a theoretical average based on all of his years of service extended back to a date the same number of years before the date of retirement under this Act as is currently provided for computations of pensions under Subsection (a) of Section 8 of this Act, using (for the extended period) the actual base pay of a private as of that period of time, in each case, in making the computation. In no case shall a disability claim for incapacity from fire or police duties be received or considered, nor an award made hereunder until disability therefrom has first been proved to be continuous and wholly incapacitating for a period of not less than 30 days. The amount of one-half of the average total salary excluding overtime pay as set out above is the maximum amount of disability pension for total and permanent disability. Disability resulting from injury or disease incurred after the effective date of this Act while engaged in the active military service shall not entitle a member of this fund to a disability pension. However, total and permanent disability resulting from injury or disease incurred while a member is on suspension shall, if the suspended member makes up all deducted contributions lost by reason of the suspension within 30 days of the date that they would otherwise have been deducted from his pay, entitle a member of this fund to a disability pension, except in the case of an indefinite suspension. In the latter case action on an application for a disability pension shall await a final determination of any and all appeals. If the member is finally discharged, he shall not be entitled to a disability pension and his application shall be dismissed. If the member is restored to duty, or given a suspension for a specific period of time, his application shall be heard and acted on in the same manner as any other application. These provisions shall not affect the right conferred by Section 9 of this Act. The city shall double match all contributions made into the fund by the member pursuant to this section.

Death Benefits to Widows and Children

Sec. 11. (a) In case of the death before or after retirement of any member of the Fire and Police Pension Fund of such city, who at the time of his death or retirement was a contributor to the said fund, and a member in good standing of said fund, leaving a widow, child or children under the age of 17 years, or an unmarried child or unmarried children 17 years of age or over but under 19 years of age currently attending a public or private educational institution, the widow and such child or children shall be entitled to receive from the said fund an amount not to exceed one-half of the average total salary excluding overtime pay of the deceased member based on the same number of years of the member's pay as is currently provided for computations of pensions under Subsection (a) of Section 8 of this Act, or a theoretical average based on all of his years of service extended back to a date the same number of years before the date of his death as is currently provided for computations of pensions under Subsection (a) of Section 8 of this Act, using (for the extended period) the actual base pay of a private as of that period in time, in each case, in making the computation; one-half of the widow's amount in the aggregate shall go to the eligible children and one-half for the widow.

(b) No child resulting from any marriage subsequent to the date of the retirement of said member shall be entitled to a pension under this Act. In case there are no children, the widow shall receive an amount not to exceed one-half of the average total salary excluding overtime pay of the deceased member computed as provided above if he has served less than the number of years currently provided for computations of pensions under Subsection (a) of Section 8 of this Act. In case there is no widow, the children shall receive one-fourth of the average total salary computed as provided above, except that if the board determines upon investigation that the eligible child or children is or are destitute then the board may increase the pension to an amount not exceeding two-fifths of that average total salary. The amount awarded hereunder to any child or children shall be paid by the board of trustees to the legal guardian of said child or children. In no instance shall the amount received by the widow, child or children exceed a pension allowance of one-half of the average total salary excluding overtime pay of the deceased member computed as provided above, and in the event of the death of a member who retired upon 20 years service and less than 25 years service in no instance shall the amount received by the widow and child or children or the widow alone, exceed a total of two-fifths of that average total salary computed as provided above. A child or children alone in such case shall receive only one-fifth of that average total salary as computed above.

(c) A child who is so mentally or physically retarded as to be incapable of its own support to any extent shall, if otherwise qualified, enjoy the rights of children under 17 years of age regardless of age. Provided, further, that any pension paid hereunder to any mentally or physically retarded child or children shall be reduced to the extent that any of same shall receive any state pension or aid, including medicare, or any state-funded assistance, regardless of whether or not the funds were made available to the state by the federal government. Provided, however, that in no other instance under this Act shall any child be entitled to any benefit after becoming 19 years of age.

(d) On the remarriage of the widow, either statutory or common law, or the marriage of any child granted such pension, the pension shall cease; provided, however, that if such remarried widow again becomes unmarried she shall then be entitled on application to 75 percent of her original pension for as long as she remains unmarried, but if, on application, retroactive payments are due the unmarried widow, in no case may payments be for a period greater than two years during which time the applicant was unmarried and before the date of application.

(e) No widow shall ever be entitled to more than one pension from this fund. No widow whose status as such resulted from any marriage subsequent to the date of the retirement of said member shall be entitled to a pension under this Act. The pension rights of qualified widows, children, and dependent parents of deceased members or pensioners who retired or died before the effective date of the 1971 amendment hereto shall be computed on the basis of the base pay of a private in the department as of the date of such retirement or death. In the event of the death of a member who is under suspension at the time, including an indefinite suspension which has not yet become final, his widow and children shall enjoy the same rights as any other member hereunder.

(f) All widows, or other dependent beneficiaries under this Act, or guardians thereof, may be required by the board to file an affidavit annually as to their marital status, or that of their wards, or to give an affidavit to the board at other times when probable cause to suspect the possibility of remarriage exists. In the event of the failure or refusal of such widow or other beneficiary or guardian to file such affidavit, or in the event they should file an incomplete, incorrect, or false affidavit, the board may suspend pension payments to such widow, other beneficiary, or guardian indefinitely, and until there has been full compliance with the requests and orders of the board. This provision shall not be construed to be a limitation on or in derogation of any other powers, specific or implied, of the board as set out in Sections 2, 10, 13, and 14 of the Act, or elsewhere herein.

any of them as it may deem proper and the findings of any board in regard to any matters, as well as to all pensions granted under this Act, shall be final upon all parties seeking a pension until such award of the trustees shall have been set aside or revoked by a court of competent jurisdiction. The board shall have the power to make any such investigation into any pension application whatsoever or any pensioner's status on its own initiative.

(c) In the event of the death of a member who is under suspension at the time, including an indefinite suspension which has not yet become final, his dependent parents shall enjoy the same rights as any other member under this Act. If any member of the fire and police department in active service should die, leaving neither a widow, a child or children, under 17 years of age, a child under 19 years of age who is attending school, or a retarded child, or dependent father and mother, or one such, the estate of said deceased member of the fire or police department shall be entitled to a burial death benefit payment in the amount of $2,000 from said fund. This benefit shall never be paid if the member of the fund dying is survived by one or more beneficiaries as defined hereunder.

Medical Examination; Reduction in Pension for Outside Income; Employment Commensurate with Abilities

Sec. 15. (a) Said Board may cause any person receiving any disability pension under the provisions of this Act, to appear and undergo medical examination or medical examinations by any reputable physician or physicians selected by the Board, as a result of which the Board shall determine whether the relief in said case shall be continued, decreased, or restored to the original amount (if it had been decreased), or discontinued; provided, however, that such relief shall never be discontinued unless the person receiving any pension shall have first been accepted for reinstatement in his former position or status in the Fire Department or Police Department, as the case may be, by the Chief of the Department. The Board may change any percentage stipulated in this Act, commensurate with any change in the degree of disability; provided, however, that such percentage shall not, except in the case of discontinuance, be reduced to less than two percent (2%) of the base pay of a private per month for each year he shall have served and contributed a portion of his salary as provided by this Act, based on the current rate of pay at the time of the original granting of any pension, or on a minimum base pay of Two Hundred Dollars ($200.00) per month, whichever is greater, for all those pensioned prior to the effective date of the 1971 amendment hereto, nor be reduced to less than two percent (2%) of the total salary excluding overtime pay, for the average of the member's pay computed at the time of retirement under Subsection (a) of Section 8 of this Act (or the average of all years if service less than the number of years on which pensions were computed at that time) for each year of service in said departments prior to such amendment. If any person receiving benefits under any provision of this Act, after due notice, fails to appear and undergo any such examination or examinations as ordered by the Board, the Board may reduce or entirely discontinue such benefits.

(b) The board shall require each member of the fund retiring on a disability pension after the effective date of this Act to provide the board annually on or before May 1 of each year thereafter with a true and complete copy of his income tax return for the previous year. If such pensioner is or has been receiving income from other employment or employments (to include self-employment) during each such preceding year the board may reduce such pension by the amount of $1 per month for each $2 of income earned by such pensioner from such employment during each month thereof, provided that such pension shall in no event be decreased below an amount based on two percent of his average pay computed at the time of retirement under Subsection (a) of Section 8 of this Act for each year of service in the department (less overtime pay).

(c) No disability pension shall be originally granted or if granted continued, if the chief of the member's department is able and willing to provide such member employment within such department commensurate with his physical and mental capabilities. Such determination shall be solely within the discretion of the department chief, reasonably exercised.

Public Funds

Sec. 16. Funds are hereby authorized to be paid out of the General Fund or the Special Fund of any such incorporated city. Nothing herein is to be construed as denying any city any right which it may have at any time to raise or procure money for the benefit of said pension fund, which might be in addition to the method or methods herein provided.

Reserve Retirement Fund

Sec. 17. At the end of the fiscal year all money paid into the Fund that remains as a surplus over and above the orders for payment as issued by the Board, shall be paid into the Reserve Retirement Fund to accumulate interest for the benefit of the reserve funds needs. All such funds as may accumulate in this special retirement reserve shall be invested at regular intervals or at such times as the accumulations justify. The funds may be invested in the following manner:

1. A sum not to exceed ten per cent (10%) may be deposited with a Federal Credit Union restricted to employees of the city.
2. A sum not to exceed fifteen per cent (15%) may be invested in savings and loan associations which are insured by the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation, but the amount invested in any one association shall not exceed the amount insured by such corporation under the law.

3. A sum not to exceed seventy per cent (70%) of the principal value of the Fund may be invested in shares of open end investment companies, closed end investment companies, common or preferred stocks in any solvent dividend-paying corporation at the time of purchase incorporated under the laws of the State, or any other state in the United States, which has not defaulted in the payment of any of its obligations for a period of five (5) years immediately preceding the date of investment, provided such funds may not be invested in the stock of any oil, manufacturing or mercantile corporation, organized under the laws of this State, or any other state of the United States, unless said corporation has at the time of investment a net worth of not less than Two Million, Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,500,000).

Of this percentage a sum not to exceed fifty per cent (50%) thereof may be invested in shares of capital stock of national banks having been established at least ten (10) years and having a capitalization of at least Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000), and/or shares of capital stock of life insurance companies, and/or fire and casualty insurance companies having been established at least twenty-five (25) years and having a capitalization of at least Five Million Dollars ($5,000,000).

4. A sum not to exceed seventy-five per cent (75%) may be invested in first mortgage bonds or debentures of any solvent dividend-paying corporation which at the time of purchase was incorporated under the laws of this State or any other state in the United States and which has not defaulted in the payment of any debt within five (5) years next preceding such investment.

5. The entire Fund or any portion thereof, may be invested in United States Treasury Notes, United States Treasury Bonds, Bonds of the State of Texas, or bonds of any county or municipality of the State of Texas; or bonds or debentures, payment of which is guaranteed by an agency of the United States Government, such as Federal Intermediate Credit Bank Debentures; Federal Land Bank Bonds; Federal Home Loan Bank Notes; Banks for Cooperative Debentures; Federal National Mortgage Association Notes and any additional bonds which may be in the future issued, secured by an agency of the United States Government. The Board shall have the power to make these investments for the sole benefit of this Reserve Retirement Fund. The investment shall remain in the custody of the Treasurer in the same manner as provided for the custody of the Funds. The Board shall have the power and authority, by a majority vote of its members, to disburse the monies accumulated as the retirement needs arise.

6. A sum not to exceed six per cent (6%) of the total assets of the Fund may be invested in common or preferred stocks of solvent non-dividend-paying corporations, each of which has at the time of investment a net worth of at least Fifty Million Dollars ($50,000,000).

Cost of Living Increases or Decreases

Sec. 26A.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 26A(1)]

(2) The board shall annually, beginning in 1980, at or before its regular meeting in the month of March, review the Cost of Living Indexes of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics for the preceding calendar year. If such index should report an increase or decrease during such calendar year in the cost of living as much as three percent as compared with the Cost of Living Index at the close of the previous year the board shall enter its order increasing or decreasing all pension payments by three percent, or more (depending on the amount of increase or decrease) but only by full percentage points closest to the exact amount of such increase or decrease; provided, however, that any increased pension payments shall only be at the rate of 75 percent of the applicable cost of living percentage for each such year for those pensioners (and the beneficiaries of such pensioners) who were pensioned on and after August 30, 1971, and none other. Such increase or decrease shall be effective retroactively as of the month of January next preceding such March (or earlier) board meeting and shall continue in effect for at least one full year thereafter, and until there has been an additional increase or decrease of at least three percent compared to such base figure and until the board enters a further order as provided herein. The cost of living increase paid to any pensioner or beneficiary of a member or pensioner during the first full year after the effective date of any such retirement or beneficiary pension shall be prorated. It is further provided that no pension shall ever be decreased below the amount at which it was originally granted, except pursuant to the provisions of Sections 11 and 15 of this Act. That part of any pension hereunder which is attributable to cost of living increases granted under this subsection at any time may be decreased in accordance with decreases in the cost of living, as provided above.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 26A(3) to 26B(3)]

Cost of Living Increases

Sec. 26C. (a) All pensions granted before September 1, 1971, in the Fund created by this Act, are increased in the amount of Sixty Dollars ($60) per month beginning with the first whole calendar month after the effective date of this Act, subject to the continuing right of the Board to change any percentage of disability as provided in Section 15 of this Act.

(b) The increase granted in Subsection (a) of this section shall be subject to the cost of living increases or decreases provided for in Subsection (2), Section 26A of this Act in the same way and to the same extent as the rest of the pensions.

(c) The cost of paying the increases provided for in this section shall be paid by the city out of general funds of the city.

Art. 6243f-1. Involuntary Retirement of Fire Fighters in Cities of 350,000 to 400,000; Age; Disability

Sec. 1. No member of a fire department in any city or town in this State having a population of not less than 350,000 nor more than 400,000, according to the last preceding federal census, shall be involuntarily retired prior to reaching the mandatory retirement age set for such cities' employees unless he is physically unable to perform his duties. In the event he is physically unable to perform his duties, he shall be allowed to use all of his accumulated sick leave, before retirement.

Art. 6243g. Municipal Pension System in Cities of 1,200,000 or More

Creation of Pension System

Sec. 1. There is hereby created a Municipal Pension System in all cities in this state having a population of one million two hundred thousand (1,200,000) or more according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census.

Definitions

Sec. 2. The following words and phrases when used in this Act are defined as follows, to wit:

(a) "Pension System" means the retirement and disability plans for employees of cities coming within the provisions of this Act.

(b) "Member" means each city employee included in the Pension System provided for herein and becoming a member thereof.

(c) "Pension Board" or "Board" means the Pension Board of the Pension System created under this Act for the purpose of administering the Pension System.

(d) "Service" means the services and work performed by an "employee" as that term is defined herein.

(e) "Pension" means benefits payable to members out of the Pension Fund upon their becoming disabled or reaching retirement age as provided herein and becoming eligible for such payments.

(f) "Separation from Service" means cessation of work for the city, whether caused by death, discharge, resignation or any reason other than retirement.

(g) "Employee" means and includes any person whose name appears on a regular full time payroll of any such city and who is paid a regular salary for his services. Provided, that any elected official who becomes a member of the Pension System as permitted by this amended Act shall be considered to be and to have been an employee during the period of any service as an elected official.

(h) "Salary" means base pay, plus longevity pay, plus shift-differential pay, if any, paid to an employee and attributable to services rendered by the employee regardless of how actually paid.

(i) "Prior Service" means all services and work performed as an employee prior to September 1, 1943.

(j) "Previous Service" means all services and work as an employee, other than "prior service" as herein defined, which preceded a Group A member's current period of employment.

(k) "Credited Service" means all services and work performed by a person as an employee, including prior service. However, in the case of a Group A member, if performed after September 1, 1943, such services and work must have been accompanied by corresponding contributions to the Pension Fund by the employee or legally authorized repayments thereof must have been made. Provided further, service preceding an interruption in service of ten years or longer is not "credited service".

Persons Eligible Under This Act

Sec. 3. The following persons are eligible under this Act:

(a) Any person who is now a member of any such System under the terms of the original Act, as amended, and who does not make the election provided by Section 22 of this Act shall be a Group A member. The disability and benefit provisions of Sections 11 through 12 of this Act shall apply to Group A members.

(b) Any person who becomes an employee of such city for the first time after September 1, 1981, shall automatically become a Group B member of the Pension System as a condition of his employment except as hereinafter enumerated. Except as expressly stated otherwise, the eligibility and benefit provisions of Sections 22 through 31, inclusive, shall apply to such Group B members.

(c) Elected officials in office on September 1, 1981, shall have the option of becoming members of the Pension System. Any member or former member of the Pension System who shall hereafter be elected to an office of said city shall have the right to reinstatement and shall receive credit for prior service and previous service as an employee on the same conditions as reemployed Group A members; except that no elected official who has retired or does retire from the Pension System on a service or disability retirement pension may receive pension payments while serving in an elective city office and such payments shall be suspended during the term of office. However, upon leaving office such payments shall be restored and credit given for the period served. Any elected official who is first elected after September 1, 1981, shall become a Group B member and receive credit for all previous service.

Persons Not Eligible Under This Act

Sec. 4. Employees of such city who may not become members of the Pension System shall include:

(a) All quasi-legislative, quasi-judicial and advisory boards and commissions;
(b) All part-time employees, as defined by such city, other than any elected officials whose service is made part-time by law or charter;
(c) All seasonal employees and all consultants and independent contractors;
(d) Employees covered by any other pension plan of such city to which the city contributes or persons drawing a pension from any such system, except to the extent that they are covered as a beneficiary.

Pension Board

Sec. 5. (a) There is hereby created a Pension Board of the Pension System, in which Board there is hereby vested the general administration, management and responsibility for the proper and effective operation of the Pension System. The Board shall be organized immediately after its members have qualified and taken the oath of office and shall serve without compensation.

(b) The Pension Board shall be composed of seven (7) members as follows:

(1) The Mayor of the City, or the Director of the Civil Service Commission as his representative.
(2) The Treasurer of the City or person performing the duties of Treasurer.
(3) Three (3) employees of the city having membership in the Pension System and elected by the members of such System. No city department shall have more than one (1) representative. The persons now serving as employee members of the Board shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms, in cities having established systems under the original Act, as amended. The term of office of succeeding members so elected shall likewise be two (2) years and each such member shall continue to serve until his successor is duly elected and qualified. Vacancies occurring by death, resignation or removal of such representative shall be filled by appointments made by any two (2) of the Board members elected by the members of the Pension System. Such appointees shall serve for the remainder of the unexpired term of the member they replace. The first election of employee members in cities hereafter coming under this Act shall be held in such city at such time and place as shall be fixed by the governing body of the city, and to be not more than seventy-five (75) days from the date such city comes under the terms of this Act.

(4) Two (2) legally qualified taxpayers of such city, who have been residents of the county in which such city is located for the preceding five (5) years, to be chosen by the governing body of the city, being neither employees nor officers of such city. The two (2) members so chosen by the governing body of the city shall serve for two (2) years and until their successors are duly elected and qualified. Vacancies occurring by death, resignation, or removal of such representative shall be filled by the governing body of the city. Public members now on the Boards of cities having established Systems shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms.

(c) Each member of the Pension Board within ten (10) days after his appointment and election shall take an oath of office that so far as it devolves upon him he will diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the Pension System and that he will not knowingly violate, or willingly permit to be violated, any of the provisions of this law.

(d) The Board shall elect from its membership annually a Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary. Pursuant to the powers granted under the charter of such city, the Chief Administrative Officer of the city shall appoint one (1) or more employees whose positions and salaries shall be fixed by the governing body of the city and who, acting under direction of the Chief Administrative Officer of the city and City Treasurer, shall keep all of the records of and perform all of the clerical services for the Pension System. The salaries of such employees and all administrative expenses of the Pension System shall be paid by the city.

(e) Each member of the Board shall be entitled to one (1) vote in the Board. Four (4) concurring votes shall be necessary for a decision by the members at any meeting of the Board, and four (4) members shall constitute a quorum.
(f) A meeting of said Pension Board may be called at any time by the Chairman, Secretary, or by any four (4) members of such Pension Board.

(g) Notice shall be given to all members of such Pension Board unless waived in writing as to any proposed meeting by depositing of a written notice in the United States mail at least forty-eight (48) hours before such meeting, properly addressed to each such member. If a meeting is had, however, at which all of the members of the Board attend, no notice shall be necessary.

(h) No moneys shall be paid out of the Pension Fund except by warrant, check, or draft signed by the Treasurer and countersigned by the Secretary, upon an order by said Pension Board duly entered in the minutes. Facsimile signatures may be authorized by the Board. Provided, however, the Board may by contract with any bank which is a depository for such Pension Fund authorize the bank to make deductions from the Pension Fund's account with such bank in connection with the purchase by the Board of authorized investments.

(i) The Pension Board shall determine the prior service to be credited to each member of the Pension System. The Board shall rely upon the personnel records of such city in determining such prior service credit or upon affidavits if the personnel records are incomplete.

(j) The Pension Board shall determine each member's credited service on the basis of the personnel and financial records of the city and the records of the Pension Board. The Board may permit any Group A member to pay into the Pension Fund and thereby obtain credit for any service with the city for which credit would otherwise be allowable under this amended Act save only for the fact that no contributions were made by such member with respect to such service, or the fact that contributions, although made with respect thereto, were thereafter refunded to such member as a separation allowance and not subsequently repaid. The following provisions shall apply to such payments:

1. For service during the period September 1, 1943, to May 29, 1967, the employee shall pay a sum computed at the rate of Twelve Dollars ($12) a month, and the city shall pay into the Pension Fund one and one-half (1 1/2) times the amount so paid by the employee.

2. For service during the period May 29, 1967, to January 1, 1971, the employee shall pay a sum computed at the rate of three percent (3%) of his salary with the minimum payment being Twelve Dollars ($12) a month, and the city shall pay into the Pension Fund an amount equal to one and one-quarter percent (1 1/4%) of such salary for the same period of time.

3. For service during the period September 1, 1971, to January 1, 1976, the employee shall pay a sum computed at the rate of four percent (4%) of his salary, and the city shall pay into the Pension Fund an amount equal to thirteen and one-half percent (13 1/2%) of such salary for the same period of time.

4. For service on and after January 1, 1976, the employee shall pay a sum computed at the rate of four percent (4%) of his salary, and the city shall pay into the Pension Fund an amount equal to eighteen percent (18%) of such salary for the same period of time.

5. In addition to the amounts to be paid by the employee as specified above, the employee shall also pay interest on the same amounts at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum from the time the contributions would have been deducted, if made, or the time contributions were refunded as a separation allowance, as the case may be, to the time of repayment of such contributions into the Pension Fund.

Treasurer of Pension Fund

Sec. 6. The City Treasurer of any such city, or the person discharging the duties of the City Treasurer, is hereby designated as the Treasurer of said Pension Fund for said city and his official bond to said city shall operate to cover his position of Treasurer of said Pension Fund and his sureties shall be liable in connection with the Treasurer's actions pertaining to such Fund as fully as they are liable under the terms of said bond for the other actions and conduct of said Treasurer. All moneys of every kind and character collected or to be collected for said Fund shall be paid over to said Treasurer and shall be administered and paid out only in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

Contributions by Members

Sec. 7. Each Group A member of the Pension System shall make periodic contributions during employment by the city in the amount of four percent (4%) of salary. Such contributions shall be deducted by the city from the salary of each such member and paid to the Treasurer of the Pension Fund for deposit therein.

Contributions by City

Sec. 8. (a) Until January 1, 1968, such city shall pay monthly into such Pension Fund, from its general fund or other available source, an amount equal to eighteen percent (18%) of the total of the monthly salaries paid to Group A and Group B members for the same period of time, less an amount equal to the total amount of the employer's part of the payments made by the city for such period of time with respect to such members, to the federal government under the provisions of the Social Security Act1 and Federal Insurance Contributions Act, it being the intention hereof that the combined total of the payments made by such city, as an employer, with respect to such members, for social security and pension fund purposes shall at all times be eighteen percent (18%) of the total of all salaries paid to all such members.

(b) Beginning January 1, 1983, the city shall make periodic payments into the Pension Fund in an amount equal to the percentage contribution rate multiplied by the salaries paid to Group A and Group B members of the Fund. Such contribution rate expressed as a percentage shall be based on the results of actuarial valuations made at least every three (3) years, with the first such actuarial valuation to be made as of January 1, 1982. The city's contribution rate shall be comprised of the normal cost plus the level percentage of salary payment required to amortize the unfunded actuarial liability over a period of forty (40) years from January 1, 1983, calculated on the basis of an acceptable actuarial reserve funding method approved by the Pension Board.

Sec. 10. Whenever, in the opinion of the Board, there exists a surplus of funds in an amount exceeding the current demands upon the Fund, the Board shall invest such surplus funds in the manner provided for in Chapter 817, Acts of the 66th Legislature, 1979 (Article 6228n, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 11. (a) Any Group A member of such Pension System who has attained fifty (50) years of age and completed twenty-five (25) or more years of credited service, and any Group A member of such Pension System who has attained fifty-five (55) years of age and completed twenty (20) or more years of credited service, and any Group A member of the Pension System who has attained sixty (60) years of age and completed ten (10) or more years of credited service shall be eligible for a pension.

(b) The amount of the monthly pension for each such Group A member shall equal two percent (2%) of the member's average monthly salary multiplied by the total number of years of credited service of such member. For purposes of this Subsection, such average monthly salary shall be computed by adding together the thirty-six (36) highest monthly salaries paid to a member during his period of credited service and dividing the sum by thirty-six (36). Provided, however, that no Group A member's pension shall be more than eighty percent (80%) of such average monthly salary; and no Group A member's pension shall be less than Eight Dollars ($8) a month for each year of credited service, or One Hundred Dollars ($100) a month total pension, whichever is the greater amount.

(c) A member shall continue to accrue service credits, provided that in the case of a Group A member the required contributions are made to the fund, regardless of his age.

(d) All Group A members who retire under this section or under Section 12 on or after January 1, 1976, shall have their pensions adjusted annually upward or downward in accordance with the percentage change in the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (CPI) for the preceding year as determined by the United States Department of Labor. The adjusted pension shall never be less than the basic pension which the retired member or survivor would otherwise be entitled to receive without regard to changes in the CPI. The adjusted pension shall never be greater than the amount of the retired Group A member's basic pension plus increases of not to exceed two percent (2%) annually, not compounded, notwithstanding a greater increase in the CPI.

(e) All pensioners or the survivors of pensioners who retired prior to January 1, 1976, shall have their pensions adjusted on a one-time basis in an amount equivalent to one percent (1%) of their pension payment per year of retirement, subject to a minimum increase of Ten Dollars ($10) per month. This post-retirement adjustment shall be effective September 1, 1981.

Disability Pensions

Sec. 12. (a) Any Group A member who has completed ten (10) or more years of service and who becomes totally disabled for further duty shall, regardless of age, be retired for "ordinary disability" and shall receive a monthly pension computed in accordance with Section 11(b).

(b) If any Group A member who becomes totally disabled for further duty by reason of a personal injury sustained or a hazard undergone as a result of, and while in the performance of, his duties at some definite place and at some definite time on or after the date of his becoming a Group A member, without serious and willful misconduct on his part, shall be retired for "accidental disability" and shall receive a monthly pension equal to twenty percent (20%) of his monthly salary on the date such injury was sustained or such hazard was undergone plus one percent (1%) of the above salary for each year of credited service; provided, that the total pension as so computed will not exceed forty percent (40%) of such monthly salary, or a monthly pension computed in accordance with Section 11(b), whichever is greater.

(c) By "totally disabled" is meant the sustaining of such disability as completely incapacitates a member from performing the usual and customary duties which he has been performing for such city or other full time duties that could be performed by such member. Before any disability pension is allowed, the Pension Board shall require such medical examination and such other evidence as it may see fit to establish such total disability, as above provided.
(d) Any Group A member receiving a disability pension in accordance with this section or any Group B member receiving a disability pension in accordance with Section 25 of this Act shall, each April 1, submit a sworn affidavit stating his earnings for the previous calendar year, if any, obtained from any gainful occupation. If the earnings together with the disability pension being received by any member exceed the monthly salary of such member at the time of his separation from service, the Pension Board shall have authority to reduce the amount of pension. Failure to submit an affidavit of earnings or submission of a materially false affidavit shall be cause for suspension of the pension upon proper action by the Pension Board.

No member shall receive a disability and service pension at the same time. However, in the event a member who is already eligible for retirement is granted a disability pension and, thereafter, although his disability ceases to exist, he does not return to work for the city, he shall be entitled to receive a service pension, calculated in accordance with Section 11 for Group A members and Section 24 for Group B members. Such service pension shall be based on actual service up to the time of disability.

When any member has been retired for disability, he shall be subject at all times to re-examination by the Pension Board and shall submit himself to such further examination as the Pension Board may require. If any such member shall refuse to submit himself to any such examination, the Pension Board may, within its discretion, order said payments stopped. If such a member who has been retired under the provisions of this Section has thereafter recovered so that in the opinion of the Pension Board he is able to perform the usual and customary duties formerly handled by him for said city, and such member is reinstated or tendered reinstatement to the position he had at the time of his retirement, then the Pension Board shall order such pension payments stopped.

Monthly Allowance to Widows and Children

Sec. 13. If any Group A member of the Pension System, as herein defined, shall die from any cause whatsoever after having completed ten (10) years of service with the city, or if, while in the service of the city, any such member shall die from any cause growing out of or in consequence of the performance of his duty, or shall die after he has been retired on pension because of length of service or disability and shall leave a surviving widow or widower, or a child or children under the age of eighteen (18) years, or both such widow or widower and child or children, said Board shall order paid monthly allowances as follows:

(a) To the widow or widower, so long as she or he remains a single person and provided she or he shall have married such member prior to her or his retirement, a sum equal to one-half (½) of the retirement benefits that the deceased Group A member would have been entitled to had she or he been totally disabled at the time of her or his retirement or death, but the allowance payable to any such widow or widower shall not in any event be less than Fifty Dollars ($50) a month.

(b) To the guardian of each child the sum of Sixteen Dollars ($16) a month until such child reaches the age of eighteen (18) years.

(c) In the event the widow or widower dies after being entitled to her or his allowance as provided, or in the event there be no widow or widower to receive such allowance, the amount to be paid to the guardian of any child or children under the age of eighteen (18) years shall be increased to the sum of Thirty-Two Dollars ($32) a month for each such child, provided, however, that the total allowance to be paid all beneficiaries or dependents, as herein provided, shall not exceed the monthly pension that would have been paid the Group A member had he continued to live and retire on pension at the date of his death. Allowances or benefits payable to any minor child shall cease when such child becomes eighteen (18) years of age or marries, provided that when there are only children to collect a pension as beneficiaries, if at the time the last child reaches eighteen (18) years of age, the amount the employee contributed has not been paid out in pensions, the balance shall be refunded to the children. The term "guardian," as used herein, shall mean the surviving widow or widower with whom the child or children reside, or any guardian appointed by law, or the person standing in "loco parentis" to such dependent minor child responsible for his or her care and upbringing.

Refund of Contributions

Sec. 14. If any member's employment by the city is terminated for other than total and permanent disability arising as a result of or as a consequence of the performance of his duties prior to his having completed ten (10) years of service with the city, he shall not be paid any pension whatsoever, but he shall receive the amount paid by him into the Pension Fund by way of salary deduction without interest as provided in Section 16 of this Act. In the event of his death, if there are no widow or children to receive the allowance provided for in Section 13 above, his beneficiary, and if none, his estate, shall receive the said amount.

Computing Period of Service

Sec. 15. In the computation of the years of service of an employee who is a Group A member, the following rules shall apply:

(a) Interruptions of service of three (3) months or less shall be treated as continuous service, but such employee shall be required to pay into the Pension Fund any contributions withdrawn at the time of separation plus the amount of the employee contributions allocable to each such period of interruption.
Art. 6243g  PENSIONS

(b) If there have been interruptions of service of more than three (3) months and less than ten (10) years, no credit shall be allowed for the period of an interruption but credit shall be allowed for previous service and prior service if (1) such employee shall have paid to the Pension Fund within three (3) months after resumption of service all moneys theretofore withdrawn by him upon separation from service, plus interest thereon at the rate of eight percent (8%) per annum, or (2) if such employee shall at any time have made payments to the Pension Fund which, under then existing provisions of law, entitled him to credit for previous service.

(c) If such employee has been out of service for a period longer than ten (10) years, no credit for any service preceding the out-of-service period shall be allowed.

Termination of Employment; Death; Reemployment

Sec. 16. When any Group A member shall leave the employment of such city, either voluntarily or involuntarily, before becoming eligible for a retirement or disability pension, he shall thereupon cease to be a member of such Pension System, and shall have refunded to him all of the payments made by him into said Pension Fund by way of salary deductions, without interest, subject to the following provisions:

(a) If such member has completed twenty-five (25) or more years of service at the time of termination of employment but has not yet attained the age of fifty (50) years he may, by written notice to the Pension Board, make an irrevocable election to leave his contributions in the Pension Fund, in which event he shall, upon reaching the age of fifty (50) years, be entitled to a pension on the basis of the schedule of benefits for retiring Group A members that was in effect at the time of his separation from service.

(b) If such member has completed twenty (20) or more years of service at the time of termination of employment but has not yet attained the age of fifty-five (55) years he may, by written notice to the Pension Board, make an irrevocable election to leave his contributions in the Pension Fund, in which event he shall, upon reaching the age of fifty-five (55) years, be entitled to a pension on the basis of the schedule of benefits for retiring Group A members that was in effect at the time of his separation from service.

(c) If such member has completed fifteen (15) or more years of service at the time of termination of employment but has not yet attained the age of sixty (60) years he may, by written notice to the Pension Board, make an irrevocable election to leave his contributions in the Pension Fund, in which event he shall, upon reaching the age of sixty (60) years, be entitled to a pension on the basis of the schedule of benefits for retiring Group A members that was in effect at the time of his separation from service.

(d) If, while still employed by the city, whether eligible for a pension or not, a Group A member dies, then, unless the provisions of Section 13 hereof are applicable, all of his rights in the Pension Fund shall be satisfied by the refund to his designated beneficiary, if any, or if none, to his estate, of all the payments theretofore made by him into the Pension Fund by way of employee’s contributions, without interest.

(e) The provisions of Section 13 concerning payments to widows, widowers and children shall apply in the case of any former Group A member who has made the election permitted by Subsection (a), (b) or (c), above, and who dies before reaching the age at which he would be entitled to a pension. If there be no surviving widow, widower or children, then all of such member’s rights in the Pension Fund shall be satisfied by the refund to his designated beneficiary, if any, or if none, to his estate, of all the payments theretofore made by him into the Pension Fund by way of employee’s contributions, without interest.

(f) It is not the intention of this Amendatory Act to change the status of any former member of the Pension System whose services with the city were terminated under a previous Act. Refunds of contributions above provided for shall be paid such departing member, his beneficiary or estate in a lump sum, but if, in the opinion of the Pension Board, the funds on hand are too low to justify such lump sum payment, said payment shall be refunded on a monthly basis in such amounts as may be determined by the Pension Board.

(g) When a Group A member has left the service of such city, as aforesaid, and has therefore ceased to be a member of such Pension System, if such person shall thereafter be reemployed by the city on or after September 1, 1981, he shall thereafter become a Group B member. Previous service of such member with such city shall not be counted toward his retirement pension unless such member returns to the service of the city within ten (10) years from his separation therefrom.

(h) If any Group A member of the pension system, after having made the election permitted by Subsection (a), (b) or (c), above, at the time of separation from the service of the city, shall be reemployed by the city before September 1, 1981, and before becoming eligible to receive pension benefits, the following provisions shall apply to the computation of the pension due such member upon his subsequent retirement:

1. The portion of such member’s pension attributable to his period of credited service accrued prior to his making the aforesaid election shall be calculated on the basis of the schedule of benefits for retiring members that was in effect at the time said election was made. However, in the case of any such member who made the election permitted by Subsection (a), (b) or (c), above, prior to September 1, 1981, the portion of such member’s pension attributable to service prior to the election shall be based on such member’s average monthly salary at the time of such subsequent retirement, only if the member has completed five (5) years of continuous service from the date of reemployment.

2. The portion of such member’s pension attributable to his period of credited service accrued after his reemployment by the city shall be calculated on the basis of the schedule of benefits for retiring members that is in effect at the time of such subsequent retirement.

Reduction of Benefits; Dissolution of System

Sec. 17. (a) In the event said Pension Fund becomes seriously depleted in the opinion of the Pension Board, said Pension Board may proportionately and temporarily reduce the benefits of all pensioners and beneficiaries, but such reductions shall thereafter be paid to such pensioners and beneficiaries, as and when said Fund is, in the opinion of the Pension Board, sufficiently reestablished to do so. Should the reserve and surplus in the Pension Fund become exhausted and, at such time, the outgo of the Pension Fund exceeds the income thereto, then, in such event, the governing body of the city shall have the right, by ordinance duly passed, to dissolve the Pension System and require liquidation thereof without any liability to the city whatsoever.

(b) Any member or survivor receiving a retirement pension may, at his option, receive any smaller retirement pension after properly requesting same in writing to the Pension Board.

(c) In the event any member dies within three (3) years from his retirement date and leaves no widow or minor children, his estate shall be entitled to payment in a lump sum of the excess, if any, of his accumulated contributions to the date of his retirement over the aggregate monthly benefit payments received by the member.

Legal Services

Sec. 18. The City Attorney of such city shall handle all legal matters for the Pension System which are referred to him by the Pension Board or city without additional compensation therefor. The Pension Board may, however, if it deems necessary, employ outside legal advice to the exclusion of, or to assist, the City Attorney, and pay reasonable compensation therefor out of said Pension Fund.

Actuary

Sec. 19. The Pension Board shall employ an actuary which cost shall be paid for by the city. The actuary shall prepare an actuarial valuation and report to the Pension Board at least every three (3) years.

Exemption from Execution, Attachment or Other Writ

Sec. 20. No portion of any such Pension Fund, either before or after its order of disbursement by said Pension Board, and no amounts due or to become due any beneficiary or pensioner, under this Act, shall ever be held, seized, taken, subject to, detained, or levied upon by virtue of any execution, attachment, garnishment, injunction, or other writ, and no order or decree, or any process or proceeding whatsoever, shall issue out of or by any court of this state for the payment or satisfaction in whole or in part out of said Pension Fund, of any debt, damage, claim, demand, or judgment against any such members, pensioners, dependents, or any person whosoever, nor shall such Pension or any part thereof, or any claim thereto, be directly or indirectly assigned or transferred and any attempt to transfer or assign the same or any part thereof, or any claim thereto, shall be void. Said Fund shall be sacrely held, kept, and disbursed for the purposes provided by this Act and for no other purpose whatsoever, except that the pensioner, survivor, or dependent, at his discretion, may have deducted from his pension the monthly premium cost of the city’s group hospitalization and life insurance plan.

Members in Military Service

Sec. 21. Members of the Pension System engaged in active military service shall not be required to make the monthly payments into the Pension Fund provided for in this Act, nor shall they lose credit for any previous years of service with the city as a result of such military service. Furthermore, the city shall not be required to make any monthly payments into the Pension Fund for such member while he is engaged in the military service. Any member who engages in active military service shall, if he returns to employment by the city within three (3) months after termination of such service, receive credit for his time in such service and shall immediately at the beginning of his first full pay period begin repaying to the Pension Fund the equivalent of all monthly contributions for the total number of months elapsed since he went into such service, such repayment to be completed within twenty-four (24) months of reemployment, and the city shall pay into the Fund one and one-half (1 1/2) times such amount. Credit for military service shall be limited to twenty-four (24) months, unless such period is extended by the Pension Board.

Group B Membership, Service Requirements, and Benefit Provisions

Sec. 22. (a) Any employee initially hired or reemployed after September 1, 1981, shall become a Group B member. On or after September 1, 1981, any Group A member may irrevocably elect to become a Group B member effective January 1, 1982, by filing an election form with the Board. Such election must be made prior to December 1, 1981. A Group A member who makes such an election shall be refunded his or her accumulated contributions without interest and shall not be required to make further contributions as a Group B member. Such refund shall be made by March 1, 1982. Upon the effective date of the election, all rights as a Group A member shall be extinguished; however, pensions and benefits shall be based on total credited service as a Group A and Group B member. Any former Group A member who was entitled to purchase service credit for previous employment under the provisions of this Act in effect prior to the date of this amendment and who becomes a Group B member may purchase such service credit at any time after September 1, 1981, by paying into the fund an amount equal to eight percent (8%) interest on any contributions previously withdrawn for the period from the date of withdrawal to the date of purchase.

(b) The Board shall prepare and print a brochure explaining the effects of the election provided for by the preceding subsection. Such brochure shall fully describe the benefit alternatives under both Group A and Group B coverage and shall be designed to provide sufficient information upon which an employee can base his or her decision to elect Group B coverage. The Board shall designate one or more individuals who shall serve as contact persons for any employee or group of employees who may require additional information.

The election of Group B coverage shall be on a form approved by the Board and shall be notarized upon its execution by the member. The election form shall specifically state that the employee has read and understood the information supplied by the Board and understands the consequences of her or his decision. Once made such election shall be irrevocable.

Eligibility for Pension

Sec. 23. (a) A Group B member shall become eligible to receive a normal pension after he has terminated employment, beginning with the month when he has ten (10) years of credited service and has attained age sixty-two (62).

(b) A Group B member shall become eligible to receive an early pension after he has terminated employment, beginning with the month when he has twenty (20) years of credited service and has attained age fifty-five (55).

(c) A Group B member who has ten (10) years of credited service and terminates employment shall have a vested right to a normal pension payable beginning with the month when he has attained age sixty-two (62).

Amount of Pension

Sec. 24. (a) The amount of the normal pension payable to a retired Group B member shall be one and one-quarter percent (1¼%) of average monthly salary multiplied by the number of years (not to exceed forty (40)), taken to the nearest twelfth (12th) of a year, in the period of credited service. Average monthly salary shall be the average of the thirty-six (36) highest monthly salaries during a member's period of credited service.

(b) The amount of the early pension payable to a retired Group B member shall be equal to the normal pension reduced by one-half of one percent (½%) for each month the member is less than age sixty-two (62) at retirement. The increase in employee and city contributions resulting from the adoption of this amended Act, as provided in Section 7 and Section 8 hereof, shall become effective at the beginning of the next regular pay period of such city occurring after the expiration of ten (10) days from the effective date of this Act.

Disability Eligibility

Sec. 25. (a) A Group B member who becomes disabled by reason of a personal injury sustained or a hazard undergone as a result of, or while in the performance of, his duties at some definite place and at some definite time on or after the date of his becoming a Group B member, without serious and willful misconduct on his part, shall be eligible to receive a service-connected disability pension.

(b) A Group B member who has ten (10) years of credited service and who becomes disabled, but is not eligible for a service-connected disability pension, shall be eligible to receive an ordinary disability pension.

Disability Pension Amount and Duration

Sec. 26. The disability pension shall equal the member's accrued normal pension, but in the case of a service-connected disability pension shall not be less than twenty percent (20%) of the member's salary at the time of disablement. The pension shall be paid for the first twenty-four (24) months following disablement while the member is unable to perform the duties of his position. The pension shall be continued beyond twenty-four (24) months while the member is unable to engage in any occupation for which he is reasonably suited by training or experience.

Disability Review

Sec. 27. The provisions of Section 12(d) of this Act shall apply to any Group B member receiving a disability pension.

Death Benefit

Sec. 28. (a) The surviving spouse and/or dependent child or children of a Group B member shall be eligible for a death benefit, if the member dies:

1) from any cause while in service of the city and has ten (10) years of credited service; or

2) from any cause while in service of the city in consequence of the performance of his duty.

(b) For the surviving spouse the amount of the death benefit shall equal one-half (½) of the pension the member would have received if the member had been disabled at the time of death, but not less than Fifty Dollars ($50) per month. The benefit shall be paid while the surviving spouse remains a single person but shall not be paid if the surviving spouse married the member after the member’s retirement.

(c) If there is a surviving spouse, each dependent child shall receive a death benefit equal to ten percent (10%) of the pension the member would have received if the member had been disabled at the time of death, to a maximum of twenty percent (20%) for all dependent children.

(d) If there is no surviving spouse, each dependent child shall receive a death benefit equal to twenty percent (20%) of the pension the member would have received if the member had been disabled at the time of death, to a maximum of forty percent (40%) for all dependent children.

Retirement Options

Sec. 29. (a) A Group B member may elect to have his normal or early pension paid under one of the options provided by Subsection (b) of this section. Such election must be made at least one (1) year prior to retirement.

(b) The option may be one of the following actuarially equivalent amounts:

OPTION 1: A reduced pension payable to the member, then upon the member’s death, one-half ($125) of such pension paid to the member’s designated survivor, for life.

OPTION 2: A reduced pension payable to the member, then upon the member’s death, such pension paid to the member’s designated survivor, for life.

OPTION 3: A reduced pension payable to the member and if the member dies within ten (10) years, such pension paid to the member’s designated survivor for the balance of the ten (10) year period.

Break in Service: Reemployment

Sec. 30. Any Group B member who terminates employment before completing ten (10) years of credited service shall have all service credit canceled at the time of termination. However, if such member is reemployed by the city within one (1) year of the date of termination, then all credit for previous service shall be restored. Further, any member who is reemployed by the city more than one (1) year but less than ten (10) years from the date of termination shall receive credit for one (1) year of prior service for each year of subsequent service; provided, however, that no employee may earn credit for more than ten (10) years of prior service.

Postretirement Adjustments

Sec. 31. All pensions shall be adjusted annually upward or downward in accordance with the percentage change in the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers (CPI) for the preceding year as determined by the United States Department of Labor. The adjusted pension shall never be less than the basic pension which the retired member or survivor would otherwise be entitled to receive without regard to changes in the CPI. The adjusted pension shall never be greater than the basic pension plus increases of not to exceed four percent (4%) annually, not compounded, notwithstanding a greater increase in the CPI.

Employees on Retirement When Act Enacted

Sec. 32. Subject to the provisions of Section 17, any former employee now on retirement by such city shall hereafter be paid at the same rate he is now receiving, and it is not the intention of this Act to change the status of any member now on pension by such city. Provided, however, that the minimum pension payable to retired employees shall be One Hundred Dollars ($100) a month, and as to those surviving spouses of former employees who receive pensions under Section 13 of this Act, the minimum pension shall be Fifty Dollars ($50) a month; it being further provided that this provision shall not apply retroactively to any pension payments previously made to any of such persons.

Cities with Pension Provisions in Their Charters

Sec. 33. The terms of this Act shall not apply to any city operating a municipal employees pension program under the terms and provisions of its charter.

Partial Invalidity

Sec. 34. If any provision, section, part, subsection, sentence, clause, phrase, or paragraph of this Act be declared invalid or unconstitutional, the same shall not affect any other portion or provision hereof, and all other provisions shall remain valid and unaffected by such invalid portion, if any.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 93, ch. 41, §§ 1, 2, 4 to 8, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 93, ch. 41, § 3, eff. Jan. 1, 1976; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 504, ch. 242, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 93, ch. 41, which by §§ 1 to 9 amended §§ 1, 2, 4 to 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 16 and 22 of this article, provided in § 10: "If any provision, section, part, subsection, paragraph, clause or phrase of this Act be declared invalid or unconstitutional, the same shall not affect any other portion or provision hereof, and all other provisions shall remain valid and unaffected by such invalid portion, if any."

Art. 6243g-1. Pension System in Cities Over 900,000

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Definitions

Sec. 2. The following words and phrases when used in this Act are defined as follows, to-wit:

(a) "Pension System" means the retirement and disability plans for employees of any police department coming within the provisions of this Act and Article 6243g-3, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925.

(b) "Member" means any and all employees in the police department provided for and becoming members thereof.
(c) “Pension Board” or “Board” means the Pension Board of the Pension System created under the Act for the purpose of administering the Pension System.

(d) “Service” means the services and work performed by a person employed in the police department, but does not include a period in which a member was suspended from duty without pay, on leave of absence without pay, or on separation from service.

(e) “Pension” means payment for life to the police department member out of the Pension Fund provided therein and becoming eligible for such payments.

(f) “Separation from Service” means cessation of work for the City in the police department, whether caused by death, discharge or resignation, or transfer to any other department of the city.

(g) The use of the masculine gender includes the feminine gender.

(h) “Dependent Parent” means a natural or adoptive parent who receives at least fifty percent (50%) of his support from the member.

(See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3)

Pension Board

Sec. 4.

(b) The Pension Board shall be composed of seven (7) members as follows:

(1) The administrative head of the City, or his authorized representative.

(2) Three (3) employees of the police department having membership in the Pension System and elected by the members of such police department and system.

(3) Two (2) legally qualified taxpaying voters of such city, residents thereof for the preceding three (3) years, to be chosen by the elected members of the Pension Board, being neither employees nor officers of such city.

(4) The City Treasurer of the city, or the person discharging the duties of the City Treasurer.

The terms of office of the elected members of the Pension Board shall be three (3) years, provided, however, that at the first election after the effective date of this Act, one such elected member shall be elected to a term of one year, one such elected member shall be elected to a term of two (2) years; and one such elected member shall be elected to a term of three (3) years. Thereafter, at an annual election called by the Chief of Police, and held during the month of December, one member shall be elected to a three-year term. Whenever a vacancy occurs among the three (3) elected members of the Pension Board, the remaining elected members shall appoint a Pension Fund member to serve the balance of the calendar year until the next regularly scheduled election of Board members. At that time, the membership of the police department shall elect a Pension Fund member to serve for the remainder of the term.

The term of office of appointed members of the Board shall be two (2) years, such appointments shall be made by the elected members of the Board and shall commence when the appointed members are qualified, in January after the effective day of this Act.

The term of office of the Board members statutorily provided for, shall be and continue so long as such member holds the position defined in this Act for automatic members of such Board.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 4(c) to 5]

Contributions by Members

Sec. 6.

(b) The maximum contribution which may be made to the fund by a member shall be limited to a contribution based on the salary of the second highest classification within the salary schedule of the police department. It is the intent of this section to limit both the contribution and retirement benefits of any member to the salary level of the second highest rank of the police department personnel classification schedule, provided that if the member has not held the same classified position for five (5) years prior to the date of retirement, the retirement pension shall be based on the average monthly base salary of the member for five (5) years preceding retirement.

(c) On and after September 1, 1981, each member of the Pension Fund shall pay into the fund the sum of eight and three-fourths percent (8 3/4%) of the base salary provided for the classified position in the police department held by the member. Such payments shall be deducted by the city from the salary paid each member and paid to the treasurer of the Pension Fund.

Monthly Payment by City

Sec. 7. Until January 1, 1983, the city shall make payments into the Pension Fund after each payroll period in an amount equal to twenty percent (20%) of the base salaries paid to members of the Fund. Beginning January 1, 1983, the city shall make contributions to the Fund after each payroll period in an amount equal to the contribution rate certified by the Pension Board, multiplied by the base salaries paid to members of the Fund, except that before September 1, 1991, the city contribution rate for a payroll period may not be less than twenty percent (20%) of the base salaries paid to members of the Fund for that period. Such contribution rate, expressed as a percentage, shall be based on the results of actuarial valuations made at least every three (3) years, with the first such actuarial valuation to be made as of January 1, 1982. The city’s contribution rate shall be comprised of the normal cost plus the level percentage of salary payment required to amortize the actuarial liability over a period of forty (40) years from January 1, 1983, calculated on the basis of an acceptable actuarial reserve funding method approved by the Pension Board.

Investment of Surplus

Sec. 9. (a) Whenever, in the opinion of the Board, there exists a surplus of funds in an amount exceeding the current demands upon the Fund, the Board shall invest such surplus funds in the manner provided for by Chapter 317, Acts of the 66th Legislature, 1979 (Article 6282n, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), as in effect on September 1, 1981.

(b) The mayor may appoint an Investment Review Committee, consisting of three (3) qualified persons to be selected from the Trust Departments of the banks of the cities to which this law applies. Such persons shall be experienced in securities and investment matters. The Investment Review Committee shall be appointed for a two year term. Such Committee shall (a) review the investments of the Fund to determine their suitability and desirability for the Funds; (b) review the investment procedures and policies pursued by the Board in the administration of the Fund; and (c) submit an annual report of its findings and recommendations to the Pension Board of the Police Officer’s Pension System and the Mayor of the city within ninety (90) days after the end of each calendar year.

(c) The Pension Board may employ professional investment advisors to manage the investment of the Pension Fund. These professional services may include investment counseling, evaluation of fund performance, investment research, and other comparable services.

(d) The selection of investment advisors may occur when, in the opinion of a majority of the Board members, the financial advice being received by the Board needs review. Selection of financial advisors must be made from firms that have made presentations to the Board. The Board shall advertise its intent to receive presentations from investment advisors in a newspaper of general circulation within the city not less than thirty (30) days before the date of the Board meeting at which the selection of an investment advisor will be considered. The Board may receive a written presentation instead of an appearance before the Board. Final selection of an investment advisor is determined by majority vote.

(e) A contract with an investment advisor may not be in effect for more than one (1) year and shall provide that the Board may withdraw from the contract at any time after giving notice thirty (30) days before termination. The contract may not contain a penalty for early termination. The costs of an investment advisory contract may be paid out of pension funds.

Retirement: Amount of Pension; Annual Adjustments

Sec. 11. (a) A person who becomes a member of the Pension System on or after the effective date of this amendatory Act and who has been in the service of the city police department for the period of twenty (20) years may retire at the age of fifty (50) years and shall be entitled to a retirement pension of an amount equal to thirty percent (30%) of the base salary provided for the classified position in the police department held by the member, provided that if the member has not held the same classified position for five (5) years prior to the date of retirement, the retirement pension shall be based on the average monthly base salary of the member for five (5) years preceding retirement. Except as provided in Subsection (a–1) of this section, no retirement pension may be paid to a member who has not attained the age of fifty (50) years. Subject to the limitations provided in Subsection (b) of this section, the computation of retirement pension shall include any increase or decrease of the base salary or the average monthly base salary for the classified position or positions on which the member retired even though the increase or decrease occurs after retirement.

(a–1) A person who was a member of the pension system before the effective date of this amendatory Act, may retire regardless of age upon completion of twenty (20) years of service in the city police department and shall be entitled to a retirement pension of an amount equal to thirty percent (30%) of the base salary provided for the classified position in the police department held by the member, provided that if the member has not held the same classified position for five (5) years prior to the date of retirement, the retirement pension shall be based on the average monthly base salary of the member for five (5) years preceding retirement. Subject to the limitations provided in Subsection (b) of this section, the computation of retirement pension shall include any increase or decrease of the base salary or the average monthly base salary for the classified position or positions on which the member retired even though the increase or decrease occurs after retirement.

(b) If a member of the Police Pension System is promoted or appointed to any classified position above the second highest in the police department personnel classification schedule, that member’s contribution and retirement benefits will be computed on the base salary of the second highest classified position in the police department personnel classification schedule, provided that if the member has not held the same classified position for five (5) years prior to the date of retirement, the retirement pension shall be based on the average monthly base salary of the member for five (5) years preceding retirement. For the purposes of this Act, the position of the Chief of Police shall be considered the highest classified position in the personnel classification schedule in the police department.
(c) Any member of such Pension System who has been in the service of the city police department for a period of years in excess of twenty (20) years, and who retires from the service of the police department, shall, in addition to the thirty percent (30%) of his base salary he paid an additional sum equal to two percent (2%) of his base salary per month for each year of service in the police department in excess of twenty (20) years. For example, a member with twenty-five (25) years' service would be entitled to forty percent (40%); a member with thirty (30) years, fifty percent (50%); etc.

(d) It shall be compulsory for any member to retire from the service of the police department upon attaining the age of sixty-five (65) years. Failure of any member of the Pension System to comply with this provision shall deprive the member and his dependents of any of the benefits provided for herein. If at the time of retirement because of maximum age requirements, the member has completed less than twenty (20) years of service, his monthly retirement pension shall be prorated on the basis of one and one-half percent (1½%) of the base salary of the classified position of the member per month for each year of service completed. Subject to the limitations provided in Subsection (b) of this section, the computation of retirement pension shall include any increase or decrease of the base salary or the average monthly base salary for the classified position or positions on which the member retired even though the increase or decrease occurs after retirement.

(e) Upon a member's completion of twenty (20) years of service in the police department and thereafter, when such member retires, whether such retirement be voluntary or involuntary, such monthly payment shall begin forthwith and continue for the remainder of the member's life. However, when such member has completed twenty (20) years' service in the police department and if the physicians of Pension Board agree that the member is physically fit to continue his active duties in the police department, they may so certify, and the member may continue in the service of the city police department until the member attains the age of sixty-five (65) years, at which time his retirement pension shall be computed as hereinbefore stated.

(f) No member shall be required to make any payments into the Pension Fund after the member has retired from the service of the police department.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, as amended, regarding increases in pensions based on any increase or decrease of the base salary or the average monthly base salary for the classified position or positions from which the member retired, the provisions of this subsection shall apply. Beginning on January 1, 1982, the pension payable to each retired member of the Pension System as of December 31, 1981, or the initial pension payable to each active member who retires under the provisions of this Act on or after January 1, 1982, which pension amounts are referred to in this subsection as the basic pension, shall be adjusted annually, effective April 1 of each year, upward in accordance with any percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers for the preceding year, measured by the percentage change in the average index for the two (2) respective preceding calendar years, as determined by the United States Department of Labor. The adjusted pension shall never be less than the basic pension that such retired member would otherwise be entitled to receive without regard to changes in the Consumer Price Index and shall be based on the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers as constructed on September 1, 1981, provided such index continues to be published. In the event that publication of the Consumer Price Index as constructed on September 1, 1981, is discontinued, then the current published Consumer Price Index shall be used for the purposes of this section. The adjusted pension shall never be greater than the amount of the retired member's basic pension plus annual increases of not more than two-thirds (%) of the percentage increase of the Consumer Price Index, compounded, notwithstanding a greater increase in the Consumer Price Index.

Sec. 13. (a) If any member of the police department who has been retired on allowance because of length of service or disability thereafter dies from any cause whatsoever after he has become entitled to an allowance or pension, or if while in service any member dies from any cause growing out of or in consequence of the performance of his duty, and leaves surviving a spouse to whom the member was married prior to his retirement, a child or children under the age of eighteen (18) years or a dependent parent, the Board shall order paid a monthly allowance as follows:

(a) to the spouse, so long as he or she remains a widow or widower, a sum equal to the allowance which was granted to the member upon service or disability pension based on his length of service in the police department;

(b) to the guardian of each child, the sum of twenty-five ($25) Dollars a month until the child reaches the age of eighteen (18) years or marries;

(c) to the guardian of each child, only in case no spouse is entitled to an allowance, the sum the spouse would have received, to be divided equally among the unmarried children under eighteen (18) years;

(d) to the dependent parent, only in case no spouse or dependent child is entitled to an allowance, the sum the spouse would have received, to be paid to but one (1) parent and such parent to be determined by the Pension Board.
(b) If any member of the Pension System has not completed ten (10) years or more of service in the police department and is killed or dies from any cause growing out of or in consequence of any act which is clearly not in the actual performance of his official duty, his surviving spouse or dependent child or children shall be refunded any contributions which the member made to the Pension System.

Termination of Employment: Reemployment

Sec. 15. (a) When any member of the Pension System leaves the employment of the police department other than as provided for in Section 12 or Section 22, either voluntarily or involuntarily, before becoming eligible for a retirement or disability pension, he shall cease to be a member of the Pension System.

(b) Any member of the Pension System who has completed at least five (5) years but less than twenty (20) years of service and whose service with the police department ceases before becoming eligible for a retirement or disability pension is entitled to a refund of the total of the contributions which that member made to the Pension System. The refund does not include interest, and neither the city nor the members' beneficiaries eligible, for any benefits from the Pension Fund until the promissory obligation is paid in full.

Nonforfeiture of Funds

Sec. 23A. In the event that the pension fund is terminated or contributions to the pension fund are discontinued completely, there shall be no reversion of funds to the employer. The funds shall be used exclusively for police pensions, and the employees' rights to the benefits, to the extent funded, shall be nonforfeitable.

Fund Not Subject to Execution, Attachment, Garnishment, etc.; Prohibition Against Transfer or Assignment; Deductions For Group Insurance Program Permitted

Sec. 23B. No portion of the Pension Fund, either before or after its order or disbursement by the Pension Board, and no amounts due or to become due any beneficiary or pensioner under this Act, shall be held, seized, taken, subject to, detained, or levied upon or by virtue of any execution, attachment, garnishment, injunction, or other writ, and no order or decree, and no process or proceedings whatsoever, shall issue out of or by any court of this State for the payment or satisfaction, in whole or in part, out of the Pension Fund, of any debt, damage, claim, demand, or judgment against any members, pensioners, dependents, or any person whomsoever, nor shall such pension funds or any part thereof or any claim thereto, be directly or indirectly assigned or transferred. Any attempt to transfer or assign the same or any part thereto shall be void. The Pension Fund shall be sacredly held, kept, and disbursed for the purposes provided in this Act, and for (g) A person who is reemployed by the city police department within twenty-four (24) months from the date the person's employment is terminated is required to pay the Pension Fund an amount equal to any contributions previously refunded to the member under Subsection (b) of this section. The person may execute a promissory obligation to pay the Pension Fund within two (2) years of the date of reemployment the full amount of the contributions previously refunded to the member. A member who dies or retires before a promissory obligation executed by the member and payable to the Pension Fund is fully paid is not eligible, nor are the member's beneficiaries eligible, for any benefits from the Pension Fund until the promissory obligation is paid in full.
no other purpose whatsoever, except that the pensioner, survivor, or dependent, at his discretion, may have deducted from his pension the monthly premium cost of any group insurance program in which the pensioner may be entitled to participate.

Former Employees on Retirement When Act Enacted

Sec. 24.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 24(a)]

(b) Any person who retired prior to January 1, 1974, and who held a position above the third highest classification in the police department salary schedule shall be entitled to a retirement pension of an amount equal to thirty percent (30%) of the base salary provided for the classified position in the police department held by the member, but if the member had not held the same classified position for five (5) years prior to the date of retirement, the retirement pension shall be based on the average monthly base salary of the member for five (5) years preceding retirement. In addition, he shall be paid an additional sum equal to two percent (2%) of his base salary per month for each year of service in the police department in excess of twenty (20) years.

The computation of retirement pension shall include any increase or decrease of the base salary or the average monthly base salary for the classified position or positions on which the member retired, even though the increase or decrease occurs after retirement.

(c) Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1882, ch. 594, § 6, eff. June 19, 1975.

Art. 6243g–3. Police Officers’ Retirement Plan In Certain Cities

Definitions

Sec. 1. As used in this article:

(a) “Board” shall mean the pension board established by Section 4(a), Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g–1, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and shall have the same powers enumerated therein.

(b) “Compensation” shall mean base salary as provided by the salary schedule ordinance.

(c) “Credited service” shall have for the purposes of this article the same definition as is given the term “service” in Section 2(d), Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g–1, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

(d) “Dependent” shall mean a dependent child or dependent parent. A dependent child is a natural or adopted child who is unmarried and either:

(1) has not attained age 18; or

(2) has attained age 18 but not age 22 and is attending school on a full-time basis; or

(3) has attained age 18 and is permanently disabled as the result of a disability which began before he attained age 18. A dependent parent is the natural or adoptive parent of a member who was receiving at least one-half of his support from the member at the time of the member’s death.

(e) “Employee” shall mean an individual who holds a classified position in the police department of the city, excluding a part-time, seasonal, or temporary employee.

(f) “Final compensation” shall mean the base salary paid to the member in his or her last month of service.

(g) “Fund” shall mean the fund established by Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g–1, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

(h) “Inactive member” shall mean a member who:

(1) has completed 20 years of credited service, has not attained age 55, and has left the classified service;

(2) is not eligible to begin receiving a service or disability pension; and

(3) has neither applied for nor received a refund of his contributions.

(i) “Member” shall mean an employee who either is first hired or rehired on or after September 1, 1981, or who elects coverage under the provisions of Section 26 of this article.

(j) “Normal retirement date” shall mean the date at which a member is eligible for a service pension pursuant to Section 11 of this article. For a member who has received a disability benefit, the period of disability plus credited service, not to exceed 40 years, shall be used in determining normal retirement date.

(k) “Partial disability” shall mean a medically determined physical or mental impairment which renders the member unable to function as a police officer and which is reasonably expected to last at least 12 months.

(l) “Pension system” means the retirement and disability plans for employees covered under the provisions of this article or Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g–1, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

(m) “Primary survivor” shall mean a person in the following order of priority:

(1) the surviving spouse; or

(2) if there is no eligible surviving spouse, a dependent child (or with the survivor’s pension divided among them in equal shares, all such children, including any resulting from a pregnancy prior to the member’s death); or

(3) if there is no eligible surviving spouse, or eligible dependent child, a dependent parent (or, with the survivor's pension divided between them in equal shares, both such parents).

(n) "Retired member" shall mean a member who has terminated service, other than an inactive member, and who is eligible to receive a service or disability pension under this article.

(o) "Total disability" shall mean a medically determined physical or mental impairment which renders the member totally unable to work in any occupation for which he is reasonably suited by training or experience, which is reasonably expected to last at least 12 months.

Employment of Pensioners

Sec. 2. An individual shall not receive a pension under this article for any month during which he is an employee, as defined in Section 1 of this article.

Attachment and Assignment of Benefits

Sec. 3. The benefits provided by this article shall not be subject to garnishment or attachment and shall be payable only to the statutory beneficiaries and shall not be subject to assignment or transfer.

Secs. 4 to 10. [Reserved]

Eligibility for Service Pension

Sec. 11. (a) A member shall become eligible to receive a service pension, after he has terminated employment, beginning with the month when he has 20 years of credited service and has attained age 55.

(b) A member shall become eligible to receive an early retirement pension, after he has terminated employment, beginning with the month when he has 20 years of credited service and has attained age 50.

(c) For purposes of this section, credited service shall include any period during which a member is receiving a disability pension as provided by this subchapter.

Vesting Rights; Return to Service

Sec. 12. (a) A member who has 20 years of credited service shall have a vested right to a service pension, computed in accordance with the provisions of this article, in effect when he ceased to be an employee, payable beginning with the first month after his attainment of age 55.

(b) If a member who has less than 20 years of credited service ceases to be an employee, his service credits to the date of termination shall be canceled unless (i) he again becomes an employee within two years after such cessation of employment; or (ii) he subsequently acquires five years of credited service; and provided that if he has withdrawn his contributions he repays them with interest at a rate determined by the board.

(c) For purposes of this section, credited service shall include any period during which a member is receiving a disability pension as provided by this subchapter.

Eligibility for Disability Pension

Sec. 13. (a) A member, not otherwise eligible for a service pension, who suffers a partial or total disability resulting from an individual and specific act the type of which would normally occur while employed as a police officer, shall be eligible for a duty-connected disability pension. If such act involves a traumatic event which directly causes an immediate cardiovascular condition which results in partial or total disability, the member shall be eligible for a partial or total duty-connected disability pension.

(b) A member, not otherwise eligible for a service pension, with 10 years of credited service who suffers a partial or total disability and who is not eligible for a duty-connected disability pension shall be eligible for an ordinary partial or total disability pension.

(c) The determination of disability and its cause shall be made by the board after receiving the recommendation of a physician or physicians of its choice.

Survivor Benefits

Sec. 14. The eligible surviving spouse or dependents of a member shall receive a survivor's pension:

(a) when the member dies while in service, from any cause growing out of or in consequence of the performance of his duty, or after retirement; or

(b) if the member dies while in service from any cause and has at least 10 years of credited service.

Payment of Service or Early Retirement Pensions

Sec. 15. Service or early retirement pensions shall be paid to a retired member for each month beginning with the month in which he becomes eligible to receive such pension and ending with the month in which he dies.

Payment of Disability Pension

Sec. 16. (a) Total disability pension payments shall be made to a member for each month beginning with the month in which he becomes eligible to receive such pension and ending with the month in which he ceases to be eligible or dies.

(b) Partial disability pension payments shall be made to a member for each month beginning with the month in which he becomes eligible to receive such pension and ending after two years or after the month in which he ceases to be eligible or dies, whichever occurs first.

(c) If a member who is initially determined to be totally disabled recovers, yet is still partially disabled, his total disability pension shall be reduced to a partial disability pension.

(d) If a member who is disabled recovers and is no longer totally or partially disabled, his disability pension shall be discontinued unless he has reached normal retirement date.
Sec. 17. The amount of the monthly service pension payable to a retired member shall be one-twelfth of two percent of his final compensation multiplied by the number of years (not to exceed 40) taken to the nearest one-twelfth of a year, in his period of credited service.

Amount of Early Retirement Pension
Sec. 18. The amount of the monthly early retirement pension payable to a retired member shall be a service pension reduced 0.42 percent for each month the member is under age 55 at retirement.

Amount of Duty-Connected Disability Pension
Sec. 19. (a) The duty-connected total disability pension payable to a retired member shall be the greater of 50 percent of final compensation or the accrued service pension.

    (b) The duty-connected partial disability pension shall be 35 percent of final compensation.

    (c) Medical costs necessary to the determination of eligibility for duty-connected disability shall be paid by the fund.

Amount of Ordinary Disability Pension
Sec. 20. (a) The total disability pension shall be computed in the same manner as the service pension based on credited service accrued to the date of disability.

    (b) The partial disability pension shall be 20 percent of final compensation.

Survivor's Pension
Sec. 21. (a) The monthly survivor's pension payable to a member's eligible primary survivor or, if there is no eligible surviving spouse at the time of the member's death, then to his eligible surviving dependents, shall be equal to 75 percent of the member's accrued or actual service or disability pension. If the primary survivor is the surviving spouse, such person must have been married to the deceased member prior to retirement.

    (b) A survivor's pension shall begin with the month following the month in which the member or retired member dies. If payable to a surviving spouse who subsequently dies or marries, it shall become payable in the following month only to a surviving dependent child as defined in Section 1 of this article. If payable to a dependent child who dies or fails to meet the conditions of eligibility in Section 1 of this article, the pension shall then cease. If payable to a parent, it shall cease with the month in which the parent dies.

Death Benefit
Sec. 22. Upon the death of a member, inactive member, retired member, or individual receiving a survivor's pension, there shall be paid to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or, in the absence of a beneficiary, to the estate of the member, inactive member, retired member, or survivor, a lump sum equal to the excess, if any, of the accumulated member contributions, without interest, over the aggregate of all pension payments made.

Withdrawal Benefit
Sec. 23. (a) The accumulated contributions, without interest, of a member who is neither eligible for a service or disability pension, nor has a vested right to a service pension, shall be refunded upon his withdrawal from service. There shall be a rebuttable presumption that a former member who fails to apply for a withdrawal benefit within one year after the date of withdrawal has waived his right to such benefit.

    (b) If a member has a vested right to a service pension and withdraws from service and is not immediately eligible for a service or disability benefit, he may request refund of his accumulated contributions without interest. Refund of such contributions shall extinguish all rights to benefits under this article.

Adjustment of Benefits
Sec. 24. A pension payable under this article may be adjusted annually on April 1, beginning in the year the member attains age 60, or in the case of disability and survivor's pensions, beginning in the year next following 12 months of payments, in accordance with changes in the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers, but not below the original pension amount nor above the original pension amount increased by four percent annually, not compounded, notwithstanding a greater increase in the consumer price index.

Application of Benefits
Sec. 25. (a) A service pension, disability pension, survivor's pension, death benefit, or withdrawal benefit shall be paid only upon the filing of an application in a form prescribed by the board. A monthly benefit shall not be payable for any month earlier than the second month preceding the date on which the application for such benefit is filed. If a retired member receives both pension benefits from the fund and a salary from the city that cover the same period of time, the retired member shall repay pension benefits received during the period to the fund. On request of the board, the city attorney shall file suit in a court of competent jurisdiction to recover pension benefits owed the fund under this subsection.

    (b) The board may require any member, inactive member, retired member, or eligible survivor to furnish such information as may be required for the determination of benefits under this article. The board may withhold payment of any pension under this article whenever the determination of such pension is dependent upon such information and the member, inactive member, retired member, or eligible survivor does not cooperate in the furnishing or procuring thereof.
Election of Membership

Sec. 26. (a) A member, as defined in Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may elect to become a member, as defined in this article, by filing an election with the board no later than December 31, 1981.

(b) Commencing January 1, 1982, a member who has made the election described in Subsection (a) of this section or an employee who is rehired by the department shall be covered by the provisions of this article and all rights to a pension under Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), shall be extinguished. Such member shall receive credited service for all prior service which was recognized under Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). However, such credit may be reinstated only by payment of any contribution previously refunded with interest at the rate of eight percent per annum from the date of refund.

Dual Membership Prohibited

Sec. 27. An employee hired before the effective date of this Act shall be covered by the plan described in Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), unless he elects to become a member pursuant to Section 26 of this article. An employee hired or rehired subsequent to the effective date of this Act shall be covered by the plan described in this article. No employee may be covered by the plan provisions of both Chapter 76, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947 (Article 6243g-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and this article.

Member Contributions

Sec. 28. (a) The city shall deduct monthly from the salary or compensation of each member participating in the fund a sum equal to seven percent of such salary or compensation, such deduction to be paid by the city to the fund.

(b) For purposes of this article, the chief of police shall be considered to hold the highest classified position in the department. The maximum contribution which may be made to the fund by a member shall be limited to a contribution based on the compensation of the second highest classification within the salary schedule of the police department. The maximum benefit which may be paid from the fund to any person holding a position above that of the second highest classified position shall be based on the compensation paid the second highest classified position within the department.

Contribution by City

Sec. 29. Until January 1, 1983, the city shall pay into the fund after each payroll period an amount equal to 20 percent of the base salaries paid to members of the fund. Beginning January 1, 1983, the city shall make monthly contributions to the pension fund in an amount equal to the percentage contribution rate multiplied by the salaries paid to members, as defined by Section 1 of this article. Such contribution rate, expressed as a percentage, shall be based on the results of actuarial valuations made at least every three years, with the first such actuarial valuation to be made as of January 1, 1982. The city's contribution rate shall be comprised of the normal cost plus the level percentage of salary payment required to amortize the actuarial liability over a period of 40 years from January 1, 1982, calculated on the basis of an acceptable actuarial reserve funding method approved by the pension board.

Severability

Sec. 30. If any provision of this article or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the article which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this article are declared to be severable.

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., ch. 453, repealing this article, enacted Title 110B, Public Retirement Systems.

For disposition of the subject matter of the repealed article, see Disposition Table following Title 110B.

Prior to repeal, this article was amended by: Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 382, ch. 171, §§ 1 to 16.

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 508, ch. 214, was repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 236, ch. 18, § 1100B.

Art. 6243j. Police Officers' Pension System in Cities of 50,000 to 400,000

Sec. 1. There is hereby created in this State a Police Officers' Pension System in all cities having a population of not less than fifty thousand (50,000) inhabitants, nor more than four hundred thousand (400,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding or any future Federal Census; provided, however, that once such pension system becomes operative in any city, any right or privilege accruing to any member thereunder shall be a vested right and the same shall not be denied or abridged thereafter through any change in population of any such city taking such city out of the population bracket as herein prescribed, and said pension system shall continue to operate and function regardless of whether or not any future population exceeds or falls below said population bracket.
Art. 6243j

Definitions

Sec. 2. The following words and phrases when used in this Act are defined as follows, to wit:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2(a)]

(b) “Member” means any and all employees in the Police Department who are engaged in law enforcement duties except janitors, car washers, cooks, and secretaries. Member may include reserve, special, or part-time officers as provided in Subsections (d), (e), and (f), Section 3 of this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2(c) to (l)]

Membership

Sec. 3.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3(a) and (b)]

(c) Part-time, seasonal, or other temporary employees shall not become, nor be eligible as, members of the Pension System except as provided in Subsections (d), (e), and (f).

(d) A city that has adopted the Pension System in this Act may make reserve, special, or part-time officers eligible as members of the Pension System by vote of the city’s governing body, or the city’s governing body may call an election to submit the question to the qualified voters of the city.

(e) If a special election is called, the election must be advertised by publication in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the city once each week for four consecutive weeks. The question shall be submitted to the qualified voters as follows:

“FOR: Including reserve, special, or part-time officers in the Police Pension System.”

“AGAINST: Including reserve, special, or part-time officers in the Police Pension System.”

(f) A city that adopts the Pension System in this Act may include reserve, special, or part-time officers in the Pension System by vote of the city’s governing body, by calling a special election as provided in Subsection (e) of this Section, or by joining the question of whether or not to include those officers on the ballot which submits the proposed Police Pension System to the city’s qualified voters as provided in Section 25 of this Act.

Section 25.

The city is authorized to call an election to determine if the city desires to adopt this Act after a petition has been presented to the governing body of the city, signed by five per cent (5%) of the qualified voters of the city who voted in the last municipal election. Such election must be advertised by publication in at least one (1) newspaper of general circulation in said city once each week for four (4) consecutive weeks. The question shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the city at a special election to be held for such purpose at which all ballots shall have printed thereon:

“FOR: The proposed Police Pension System.”

“AGAINST: The proposed Police Pension System.”

Nothing herein is to prevent the city governing body from adopting the proposed pension plan without an election.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1396, ch. 562, §§ 1 to 5, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 6243k. Retirement, Disability and Death Benefit Systems for Appointive City or Town Employees

An incorporated city or town may create a retirement, disability, and death benefit system for its appointive officers and employees if a majority of the qualified voters of the city or town voting on the proposition approves the creation at an election called for that purpose. Each member of the system shall contribute to the system an amount determined by the city or town, and the city or town shall contribute for each member an amount that at least equals but is not more than twice the amount of the member’s contribution. A member of a municipal system is eligible for disability benefits if he is disabled in the course of his employment with the city or town. A member is eligible for retirement benefits if he is 65 years old or older, or he is 60 years old but less than 65 years old and has been employed by the city or town for 25 years or more.

Section 1 of the 1975 Act was classified as art. 6228j; §§ 3 and 4 thereof provided:

“Sec. 3. Retirement, disability, and death benefit systems or programs created under the authority of Article III, Section 51-e. or Article XVI, Section 62, Subsection (b), of the Texas Constitution, or under the general powers of home-rule cities, remain in effect, subject to power granted by law to alter or abolish the systems.

“Sec. 4. This Act takes effect on adoption by the qualified voters of this state of S.J.R.No.3, 64th Legislature, Regular Session (is adopted at election held on April 22, 1975)."

Art. 6243l. Separate Retirement System for Police Department Employees in Cities of 250,000 or More

Sec. 1. The governing body of any city with a population of 250,000 or more, according to the last preceding federal census, may establish by ordinance a separate retirement system for employees of the police department notwithstanding any charter provisions of the city to the contrary.

Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to a city governed by:
Art. 6243m. Contributions and Benefits Certain Municipal Retirement Systems or Death Benefit Programs

Sec. 1. An incorporated city or town that institutes after August 31, 1981, by charter, ordinance, or statute a program of continuing service retirement, disability retirement, or death benefits for any of its officers or employees shall require participating officers and employees to contribute a percentage of their salaries to the program during each payroll period. The city or town also shall make contributions to the program during each payroll period. The ratio of municipal contributions to the aggregate contributions of officers and employees may not be less than one to one or more than two to one.

Sec. 2. For municipal retirement systems created after August 31, 1981, through charter, ordinance, or statute, benefits shall be ascertained by the system’s actuary in relationship to contributions. The level of benefits shall never be in excess of the amount actuarially determined for the system to be financially sound. An actuary hired by a retirement system shall have at least five years of experience working with one or more public retirement systems and be a fellow of the Society of Actuaries, a member of the American Academy of Actuaries, or an enrolled actuary under the federal Employees Retirement Security Act of 1974.

Sec. 3. This Act does not apply to a program for which the only funding agency is a life insurance company, a program providing only workers’ compensation benefits, or a program administered by a city or town as a member of the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

Art. 6243-101. Plumbing License Law

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as "The Plumbing License Law."

Definitions

Sec. 2. (a) The word or term "plumbing" as used in this Act means and shall include: (1) All piping, fixtures, appurtenances and appliances for supply or recirculation of water, gas, liquids, and drainage or elimination of sewage, including disposal systems or any combination thereof, for all personal or domestic purposes in and about buildings where a person or persons live, work, or assemble; all piping, fixtures, appurtenances and appliances outside a building connecting the building with the source of water, gas, or other liquid supply, or combinations thereof, on the premises, or the main in the street, alley or at the curb; all piping, fixtures, appurtenances, appliances, drain or waste pipes carrying waste water or sewage from or within a building to the sewer service lateral at the curb or in the street or alley or other disposal or septic terminal holding private or domestic sewage; (2) the installation, repair, service, and maintenance of all piping, fixtures, appurtenances and appliances in and about buildings where a person or persons live, work or assemble, for a supply of gas, water, liquids, or any combination thereof, or disposal of waste water or sewage.

(b) A "Master Plumber" within the meaning of this Act is a person skilled in the planning, superintending, and the practical installation, repair, and service of plumbing and is familiar with the codes, ordinances, or rules and regulations governing those matters, who alone, or through a person or persons under his supervision, performs plumbing work, and who has successfully fulfilled the examinations and requirements of the Board.

(c) A "Journeyman Plumber" within the meaning of this Act is any person other than a master plumber who supervises, engages in, or works at the actual installation, alteration, repair, service, and renovating of plumbing, and who has successfully fulfilled the examinations and requirements of the Board.

(e) A "Plumbing Inspector" within the meaning of this Act is any person employed by a political subdivision for the purpose of inspecting plumbing work and installations in connection with health and safety laws and ordinances, who has no financial or advisory interests in any plumbing company, and who has successfully fulfilled the examinations and requirements of the Board.

[g See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2(d)]

(g) "Water treatment" is a business which is conducted under contract and requires ability, experience, and skill in the analysis of water to determine how to treat influent and effluent water to alter or purify the water or to add or remove a mineral, chemical, or bacterial content or substance. The term includes the installation and service of fixed or portable water treatment equipment or a treatment apparatus, in public or private water treatment systems. The term also includes the making of connections necessary to the installation of a water treatment system.

(h) "System" as used in this Act means interconnection between one or more public or private end users of water, gas, sewer, or disposal systems that could be a threat to public health if improperly connected.

Acts Permitted Without a License

Sec. 3. The following acts, work and conduct shall be expressly permitted without license:

(a) Plumbing work done by a property owner in a building owned or occupied by him as his homestead;

(b) Plumbing work done outside the municipal limits of any organized city, town or village in this state, or within any such city, town or village of less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants, unless required by ordinance in such city, town or village of less than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants;

(c) Plumbing work done by anyone who is regularly employed as or acting as a maintenance man or maintenance engineer, incidental to and in connection with the business in which he is employed or engaged, and who does not engage in the occupation of a plumber for the general public; construction, installation and maintenance work done upon the premises or equipment of a railroad by an employee thereof who does not engage in the occupation of a plumber for the general public; and plumbing work done by persons engaged by any public service company in the laying, maintenance and operation of its service mains or lines to the point of measurement and the installation, alteration, adjustment, repair, removal and renovation of all types of appurtenances, equipment and appliances including doing all that is necessary to render the appliances useable or serviceable; appliance installation and service work done by anyone who is an appliance dealer or is employed by an appliance dealer, and acting as an appliance installation man or appliance service man in connecting appliances to existing piping installations; water treatment installations, exchanges, services, or repairs. Provided, however, that all work and service herein named or referred to shall be subject to inspection and approval in accordance with the terms of all local valid city or municipal ordinances;

(d) Plumbing work done by a licensed irrigator or licensed installer when working and licensed under Chapter 197, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 8751, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). A person holding a valid license from the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners shall not be required to be licensed by any other board or agency when installing or working on a lawn irrigation system;

(e) Plumbing work done by an LP Gas installer when working and licensed under Chapter 118, Natural Resources Code, as amended.

Certification Relating to Residential Water Treatment Facilities
Sec. 3A. The Commissioner of Health or his designee shall certify persons as being qualified for the installation, exchange, servicing, and repair of residential water treatment facilities as defined by Subsection (g) of Section 2 of this Act. The director or his designee shall set standards of qualifications to ensure the public health and to protect the public from unqualified persons engaging in activities relating to water treatment. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require that persons licensed pursuant to this Act are subject to certification under this section.

State Board of Plumbing Examiners
Sec. 4. (a) The Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners shall consist of nine members, each of whom shall be a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state. Members of the Board and their successors shall be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate, and shall hold office for terms of six years, or until their successors are appointed and have qualified. Appointments to the Board shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointtees. One member of the Board shall have had at least ten years practical experience as a master plumber, one member shall have had at least five years practical experience as a journeyman plumber, one member shall be a plumbing contractor with five years experience, one member shall be a licensed sanitary engineer, two members shall be building contractors with five years contracting experience (one of whom shall be principally engaged in home building and one of whom shall be principally engaged in commercial building), and one member shall have had at least five years practical experience as a plumbing inspector. Two members must be representatives of the general public. A person is not eligible for appointment as a public member if the person or the person's spouse:

(1) is licensed by an occupational regulatory agency in the building construction industry;
(2) is employed by or participates in the mangagement of an agency or business entity related to the building construction industry;
or
(3) has, other than as a consumer, a financial interest in a business entity related to the building construction industry.

(b) A member or employee of the Board may not be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the building construction industry. A member or employee of the Board may not be related within the second degree by affinity or consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the regulated industry. A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not serve as a member of the Board or act as the general counsel to the Board.

(c) It is a ground for removal from the Board if a member:

(1) does not have at the time of appointment the qualifications required by Subsection (a) of this section for appointment to the Board;
(2) does not maintain during his service on the Board the qualifications required by Subsection (a) of this section for appointment to the Board;
(3) violates a prohibition prescribed by Subsection (b) of this section; or
(4) fails to attend at least half of the regularly scheduled Board meetings held in a calendar year, excluding meetings held while the person was not a Board member.

(d) If a ground for removal of a member from the Board exists, the Board's actions during the existence of the ground for removal are not invalid for that reason.

Application of Sunset Act
Sec. 4a. The Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners is subject to the Texas Sunset Act as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the board is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1993.

Powers and Duties of the Board
Sec. 5. (a) The Board shall administer the provisions of this Act. The Board shall formally elect a chairman and a secretary from its members and may adopt such rules as it deems necessary for the orderly conduct and enforcement of its affairs. The Board is hereby authorized and empowered to employ, promote and discharge such assistants and employees as it may deem necessary to properly carry out the intent and purpose of this Act, and to fix and pay their compensation and salaries and to provide for their duties and the terms of their employment. A majority of the Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The Board shall have a seal which shall be judicially noticed. The Board shall keep records of all procedings and actions by and before the Board. The Board is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to prescribe, amend and enforce all rules and regulations necessary to carry out this Act. The Board shall appoint an employee or employees thereof, with the power of removal, as a plumbing examiner or examiners, whose duties shall be to examine, as to their fitness and qualifications, all persons applying to the Board for licenses to engage in the business, to trade or calling of a master plumber or a journeyman plumber or to serve as a plumbing inspector, and to promptly certify the result thereof to said

State Board of Plumbing Examiners.

(b) The Board may not adopt rules restricting competitive bidding or advertising by licensees except to prohibit false, misleading, or deceptive practices by licensees. The Board may not include in its rules to prohibit false, misleading, or deceptive practices by licensees a rule that:

(1) restricts a licensee’s use of any medium for advertising;
(2) restricts a licensee’s personal appearance or use of his voice in an advertisement;
(3) relates to the size or duration of an advertisement by a licensee; or
(4) restricts a licensee’s advertisement under a trade name.

(c) If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Section 5(g), Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the Board statements opposing adoption of a rule under that subsection, the rule may not take effect or, if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the Board receives the committees’ statements.

(d) The Board may recognize, prepare, or implement continuing education programs for licensees.
Participation in the programs is voluntary.

(e) The Board is subject to the open meetings law,
Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252–17, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

Personnel Policies

Sec. 5A. (a) The chairman of the Board or his designee shall develop an intragency career ladder program, one part of which shall be the intragency posting of all nonentry level positions for at least 10 days before any public posting.

(b) The chairman of the Board or his designee shall develop a system of annual performance evaluations based on measurable job tasks. All merit pay for Board employees must be based on the system established under this subsection.

Compensation of Board

Sec. 6. Members of the Board shall not receive any fixed salary for their services, but each member of the Board is entitled to a per diem as set by legislative appropriation for each day that the member engages in the business of the Board. A member may not receive any compensation for travel expenses, including expenses for meals and lodging, other than transportation expenses. A member is titled to compensation for transportation expenses as provided by the General Appropriations Act. The members of the Board shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office before an officer authored to administer oaths within this state, and, upon presentation of such oath of office, together with the certificate of their appointment, the Secretary of State shall issue commissions to them, which shall be evidence of their authority to act as such.

Expenses of Board

Sec. 7. All sums of money paid to the Board under this Act shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the plumbing examiners fund and may be used only for the administration of this Act. The Board shall report to the Governor of the State of Texas the receipts and disbursements under this Act for each fiscal year. At the end of the state fiscal year, any unused portion of the funds in the special fund, except funds appropriated to administer this Act, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund. The state auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the Board during each fiscal biennium.

Issuance of Licenses

Sec. 8. (a) The Board shall issue licenses to such persons as have by a uniform, reasonable examination shown themselves fit, competent and qualified to engage in the business, trade or calling of a master plumber or journeyman plumber, or plumb-ing inspector, as the case may be.

(b) Within 30 days after the date a licensing examination is administered under this Act, the Board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination.

(c) If requested in writing by a person who fails the licensing examination administered under this Act, the Board shall furnish the person with an analysis of the person’s performance on the examination.

(d) The Board may waive any license requirement for an applicant with a valid license from another state having license requirements substantially equivalent to those of this state.
Investigation of Complaint; Action

Sec. 8A. (a) The Board may conduct any investigations regarding alleged violations of this Act by any licensed or unlicensed plumber.

(b) The Board shall maintain an information file about each complaint filed with the Board relating to a licensee.

(c) If a written complaint is filed with the Board relating to a licensee, the Board, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the parties to the complaint of the status of the complaint until final disposition unless the notification would jeopardize an undercover investigation.

(d) The Board shall prepare information of consumer interest describing the regulatory functions of the Board and the Board's procedures by which consumer complaints are filed with and resolved by the Board. The Board shall make the information available to the general public and appropriate state agencies.

(e) Each written contract for services in this state of a licensed plumber shall contain the name, mailing address, and telephone number of the Board.

Penalties

Sec. 9. (a) The Board shall revoke or suspend a license, probate a license suspension, or reprimand a licensee for any violations of this Act or rules of the Board. A violation of this Act shall include but not be limited to: obtaining a license through error or fraud; having wilfully, negligently or arbitrarily violated municipal rules or ordinances regulating sanitation, drainage and plumbing; knowingly making a substantial misrepresentation of services to be provided or which have been provided; or making any false promise with intent to influence, persuade, or induce an individual to contract for services. Any person whose license has been revoked may, after the expiration of one year from the date of such revocation, but not before, apply for a new license.

(b) A person who violates any provision of this Act or any rule, regulation, permit, or other order of the Board is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $50 or more than $1,000 for each act of violation and for each day of violation after notification to be recovered as provided by this Act.

(c) If the Board purposes to refuse a person's application for licensure or to suspend or revoke a person's license, the person is entitled to a hearing before the Board. Grounds for suspension or revocation of a license due to suspected incompetence or wilful violation by a licensee may be determined through retesting procedures.

(d) Proceedings for the refusal, suspension, or revocation of a license are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Continuation of Licenses

Sec. 10. All valid licenses issued by the Board on or before September 1, 1981, shall continue in effect for the length of their original issuance.

Sec. 12. (a) Licenses issued by the Board shall be valid throughout the state, but shall not be assignable or transferable. The Board shall forward to the local Board of Health, if there be one, of each town, or to the other authority having control of the enforcement of regulations relative to plumbing in each town, the names and addresses of all persons in such town to whom such licenses have been granted. Licenses shall be issued for one year and may be renewed annually on or before February 1st upon payment of the required fee.

(b) In case of failure to renew a license on or before February 1st in any year, the person named therein may, upon payment of the said fee and a late renewal fee increased by such additional fees as would have been payable had such license been continuously renewed, receive a late renewal thereof, which shall expire on the ensuing 1st day of February; provided, however, that a license that has been expired for five years or more may not be renewed except by reexamination and compliance with the requirements and procedures for obtaining an original license.

Fees

Sec. 13. The Board shall establish reasonable and necessary fees for the administration of this Act in amounts not to exceed:

- Master Plumber
  - Examination $75
  - License 75
  - Renewal 75

- Journeyman Plumber
  - Examination 50
  - License 50
  - Renewal 50

- Plumbing Inspector
  - Examination 25
  - License 50
  - Renewal 50

The Board shall not maintain unnecessary fund balances, and fee amounts shall be set in accordance with this requirement.

Prohibition Against Practicing Without License

Sec. 14. No person, whether as a master plumber, journeyman plumber, or otherwise, shall engage in, work at, or conduct the business of plumbing in this state or serve as a plumbing inspector as herein defined, except as herein specifically exempted from the provisions of this Act, unless such person is the holder of a valid license as provided for by this Act. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to engage in or work at the business of installing plumbing and doing plumbing work except as specifically herein provided unless such installation of plumbing or plumbing work be under the supervision and control of a plumber licensed under this Act.
Art. 6243-101  PLUMBING

An offense under this Act is a Class C misdemeanor as defined by the Texas Penal Code.

In addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy authorized by law, the Board may institute an action in its own name against any person to enjoin any violation of this Act or any rule of the Board. In order for the Board to sustain the action, it is not necessary to allege or prove either that an adequate remedy at law does not exist or that substantial or irreparable damage would result from the continued violation of this Act or a Board rule. Any party to the action may appeal the cause. The Board may not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising under this Act. The attorney general shall represent the Board in all actions and proceedings to enforce this Act.

Sections 2, 3, and 5 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 2. (a) A person holding office as a member of the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners on the effective date of this Act continues to hold the office for the term for which the member was originally appointed. The successor to the member of the board who is a licensed architect is the member who must be a plumbing contractor.

"(b) The governor shall appoint to the board a public member for a term expiring in 1983 and a public member for a term expiring in 1985. The governor shall appoint to the board a person who has five years of practical experience as a plumbing inspector for a term expiring in 1987. The terms of office of these appointees begin on the day in 1981 on which the terms of other members of the board begin.

"Sec. 3. A rule adopted by the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners before September 1, 1981, that conflicts with The Plumbing License Law of 1947, as amended (Article 6243-101, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, is void. Within 90 days after September 1, 1981, the board shall repeal the rule."

"Sec. 5. (a) This Act takes effect September 1, 1981.

"(b) The requirements under Section 5A, The Plumbing License Law (Article 6243-101, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as added by this Act, that the chairman of the board develop an intraagency career ladder program and a system of annual performance evaluations shall be implemented before September 1, 1983."
TITLe 110A
PUBLIc OFFIcES, OFFIcERS AND EMPLOYEES

Art. 6252-3b. Deferred Compensation Plans for Public Employees; Funding

Contracts Between Political Subdivisions and Public Employees; Insurance, Annuity, Mutual Fund, or other Investment Contracts

Sec. 1. The state or any county, city, town, or other political subdivision may, by contract, agree with any employee to defer, in whole or in part, any portion of that employee’s compensation and may subsequently, with the consent of the employee, contract for, purchase, or otherwise procure a life insurance, annuity, mutual fund, or other investment contract for the purpose of funding a deferred compensation program for the employee, from any life underwriter duly licensed by this state who represents an insurance company licensed to contract business in this state, any state or national bank domiciled in this state whose deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, any savings and loan association doing business in this state whose accounts are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, or any credit union doing business in this state whose accounts are insured by the National Credit Union Administration or the Texas Share Guaranty Credit Union. The amounts which participating employees agree to defer are the only funds a seller of investment products may receive under this program.

Premium Payments

Sec. 5. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the state comptroller or the appropriate officer of the county, city, town, or other political subdivision designated to administer the deferred compensation program is hereby authorized to make payment of premiums for the purchase of life insurance or annuity contracts or payment for the purchase of mutual fund or other investment contracts under the deferred compensation program. Such payment shall not be construed to be a prohibited use of the general assets of the state, county, city, town, or other political subdivision.

Limit on Financial Liability of Political Subdivision

Sec. 7. The financial liability of the state, county, city, town, or other political subdivision under a deferred compensation program shall be limited in each instance to the value at the time of disbursement to the employee of the particular life insurance, annuity, mutual fund, or other investment contract purchased for the purpose of funding a deferred compensation program for any employee.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 8]

Art. 6252-4a. Military Service Employees; Restoration to Employment

Restoration to Employment Upon Discharge

Sec. 1. Any employee of the State of Texas or any political subdivision, state institution, county or municipality thereof, other than a temporary employee, an elected official, or one serving under an appointment which requires confirmation by the Senate, who leaves his position for the purpose of entering the Armed Forces of the United States, or enters State service as a member of the Texas National Guard or Texas State Guard or as a member of any of the reserve components of the Armed Forces of the United States shall, if discharged, separated or released from such active military service under honorable conditions within five years from the date of enlistment or call to active service, be restored to employment in the same department, office, commission or board of the State of Texas or any political subdivision, state institution, county or municipality thereof, to the same position held at the time of induction, enlistment or order to active Federal or State military duty or service, or to a position of like seniority, status, and pay if still physically and mentally qualified to perform the duties of such position.

Art. 6252–5a. Investment of Funds by Agencies and Boards

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Sec. 2. When the securities mentioned specifically above or when such securities as are eligible under other laws or constitutional provisions are purchased from or through a member in good standing of the National Association of Securities Dealers, or from or through a national or state bank, the comptroller of public accounts and the state treasurer, or any disbursing officer of an agency authorized to invest its funds directly are authorized to pay for them upon receipt of an invoice from the seller of the securities showing that the securities have been purchased by the board or agency and that the amount to be paid therefor is just, due, and unpaid. Actual delivery of the securities to the state treasurer or to a bank or to an agency directly investing its funds as hereinafter permitted may be thereafter accomplished in accordance with normal and recognized practices within the securities and banking industries, including the book entry procedure of the Federal Reserve Bank.

Sec. 3. Any securities so purchased, at the direction of the state treasurer, or by an agency directly investing its funds, may be deposited with a bank or federal reserve bank or branch thereof designated by the state treasurer within or without the State of Texas, in trust, and such deposits shall be evidenced by trust receipts of the banks in which the securities are thus deposited.

[Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 310, ch. 143, §§ 1, 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1979.]

Art. 6252–5b. Deposit and Investment of Retainage to Secure Performance of Contract

Definitions

Sec. 1. As used in this Act the following terms shall have these meanings:

(A) "Governmental entity" shall mean this state, any department, board, or agency thereof; any county of this state, department, board, or agency thereof; any municipality of this state, department, board, or agency thereof; any school district in this state, common or independent, or subdivision thereof; or any other governmental or quasi-governmental authority whether specifically named herein or not, authorized under a statute, general or local, to enter into contractual agreements for the construction, alteration, or repair of any public building or the prosecution or completion of any public work.

(B) "Prime contractor" shall mean any person or persons, firm, or corporation entering into a contractual agreement with a governmental entity for the construction, alteration, or repair of any public building or the prosecution or completion of any public work.

(C) "Contract payment" means any payment by a governmental entity for the value of labor, material, machinery, fixtures, tools, power, water, fuel and lubricants used or consumed, ordered and delivered for use or consumption, or specially fabricated for use or consumption but not yet delivered, in the direct prosecution of a public works contract.

(D) "Retainage" shall mean the part of a contract payment withheld by a governmental entity to secure performance of the contract.

General Requirement

Sec. 2. In any contract providing for retainage of greater than five percent of periodic contract payments, the governmental entity shall deposit the retainage in an interest-bearing account, and interest earned on such retainage funds shall be paid to the prime contractor upon completion of the contract.

Exceptions

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to:

(A) a contract executed before the effective date of this Act;

(B) a contract where the total contract price estimate at the time of execution of the contract is less than $400,000;

(C) contracts made by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation pursuant to the terms of Chapter 186, General Laws, Acts of the 39th Legislature, Regular Session, 1925, as amended (Article 6674a et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); or
(D) until June 1, 1983, contracts made by a political subdivision funded in whole or in part with water development bonds pursuant to Section 49-c, as amended, and Section 49-d, as amended, of Article III of the Texas Constitution, or water quality enhancement bonds pursuant to Section 49-d-1, as amended, of Article III of the Texas Constitution, or bonds pursuant to Chapter 54 of the Texas Water Code.

Severability

Sec. 4. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any body or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the other provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are hereby declared severable.

Prior to repeal, art. 6252-6 was amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1865, ch. 751, § 1. See, now, art. 601b, §§ 8.01 to 8.08 and 8.10.

Prior to repeal, art. 6252-6a was amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1889, ch. 751, § 2. See, now, art. 601b, § 8.09.

Art. 6252-6b. Texas Surplus Property Agency

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 1a. The Texas Surplus Property Agency is subject to the Texas Sunset Act 1; and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the agency is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1987.

Art. 6252-8b. Lump Sum Payment for Accrued Vacation Time to Separated State Employee or Accumulated Leave to Employees Retirement System Members

Sec. 1. A state employee who resigns, is dismissed, or separated from state employment shall be entitled to be paid in a lump sum for all vacation time duly accrued at the time of separation from state employment; provided the employee has had continuous employment with the state for six months.

Sec. 1A. A contributing member of the Employees Retirement System of Texas who retires is entitled to be paid in a lump sum, from funds of the agency or department from which the member retires, for any accumulated leave accrued at the time of retirement. The amount paid shall be computed in the same manner as if the member had taken leave at the rate of compensation being paid the member at the time of retirement and is payable on the date of retirement.

Art. 6252-8c. Benefits and Restrictions of State Employees Working Outside State

An employee of the state who is required to work outside the state is entitled to the same benefits and subject to the same restrictions provided by law for other state employees, including the benefits of vacation and leave and the employment policies and restrictions provided by the General Appropriations Act.

Financial Statement to be Filed

Sec. 3. [See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3(a) to 3(c)]

(d) Within 30 days after the first Monday in February, every person who is a candidate for an office as an elected officer shall file the financial statement. The secretary of state shall grant an extension for good cause shown of not more than 15 days, provided a request for the extension is received prior to the filing deadline for the financial statement. When the deadline under which a candidate files falls after the first Monday in February, such candidate shall file the statement within 30 days after that deadline, except that when the deadline falls within 35 days of the election in which the candidate is running, the candidate shall file the statement by the fifth day before that election. A person who is a candidate in a special election for an office as an elected officer shall file the financial statement five days prior to the special election. No extensions shall be granted to candidates filing in a primary or general election under a deadline which falls after the first Monday in February or to candidates involved in a special election. [See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 3(c) to 8]

Public Access to Statements

Sec. 9. (a) Financial statements and affidavits filed under this Act are public records. The secretary of state shall maintain the statements and affidavits in separate alphabetical files and in a manner that is accessible to the public during regular office hours. During the one-year period following the filing of a financial statement or affidavit, each time a person, other than the secretary of state or an employee of the office of the secretary of state who is acting on official business, requests to see the financial statement or affidavit, the secretary of state shall place in the file a statement of the person's name, address, whom the person represents, and the date of the request. The secretary of state shall retain that statement in the file for one year after the date the requested financial statement or affidavit is filed. Art. 6252-9c. Registration and Reporting Requirements of Persons Engaged in Activities Designed to Influence Legislation

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 1]

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this Act:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, association, firm, partnership, committee, club, or other organization, or a group of persons who are voluntarily acting in concert.

(2) "Legislation" means a bill, resolution, amendment, nomination, or other matter pending in either house of the legislature; any other matter which is or may be the subject of action by either house, or any committee thereof, including the introduction, consideration, passage, defeat, approval, or veto of the matter; or any matter pending in or which may be the subject of action by a constitutional convention.

(3) "Legislative branch" means a member, member-elect, candidate for, or officer of the legislature or a legislative committee, or an employee of the legislature.

(4) "Executive branch" means an officer, officer-elect, candidate for, or employee of any state agency, department, or office in the executive branch of government.

(5) "Communicates directly with," "communicates with;" "directly communicating with," and "direct communication" mean contact in person or by telephone, telegraph, or letter.

(6) "Compensation" means money, service, facility, or thing of value or financial benefit which is received or to be received in return for or in connection with services rendered or to be rendered.
(7) "Expenditure" means a payment, distribution, loan, advance, reimbursement, deposit, or gift of money or any thing of value, and includes a contract, promise, or agreement, whether or not legally enforceable, to make an expenditure.

(8) "Secretary" means the Secretary of State of the State of Texas.

(9) "Registrant" means a person required by Section 3 of this Act to register.

Persons Required to Register

Sec. 3. The following persons must register with the secretary as provided in Section 5 of this Act:

(a) a person who makes a total expenditure in excess of $200 in a calendar quarter, not including his own travel, food, or lodging expenses, or his own membership dues, for communicating directly with one or more members of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation; and

(b) a person who receives compensation or reimbursement in excess of $200 in a calendar quarter from another to communicate directly with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation. This subsection requires the registration of a person, other than a member of the judicial, legislative, or executive branch, who, as a part of his regular employment, has communicated directly with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation on behalf of the person by whom he is compensated or reimbursed, whether or not any compensation in addition to the salary for that regular employment is received for the communication.

Exceptions

Sec. 4. The following persons are not required to register under the provisions of this Act:

(1) persons who own, publish, or are employed by a newspaper or other regularly published periodical, or a radio station, television station, wire service, or other bona fide news medium which in the ordinary course of business disseminates news, letters to the editors, editorial or other comment, or paid advertisements which directly or indirectly oppose or promote legislation, if such persons engage in no further or other activities and represent no other persons in connection with influencing legislation;

(2) persons whose only direct communication with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation is an appearance before or testimony to one or more members of the legislative or executive branch in a hearing conducted by or on behalf of either the legislative or executive branch if such persons receive no special or extra compensation for their appearance other than actual expenses in attending the hearing;

(3) persons who encourage or solicit others to communicate directly with members of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation; and

(4) persons whose only activity to influence legislation is compensating or reimbursing an individual registrant to act in their behalf to communicate directly with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation.

Registration

Sec. 5. (a) Every person required to register under this Act shall file a registration form with the secretary within five days after the first direct communication with a member of the legislative or executive branch requiring such person's registration.

(b) The registration shall be written, verified, and shall contain the following information:

(1) the registrant's full name and address;

(2) the registrant's normal business and business address;

(3) the full name and address of each person who paid a membership fee, dues or other assessment in excess of $500 during the preceding calendar or fiscal year to the registrant or to the person by whom the registrant is reimbursed, retained, or employed regardless of whether it was paid solely to influence legislation;

(4) the full name and address of each person: (A) by whom the registrant is reimbursed, retained, or employed to communicate directly with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation; and

(B) on whose behalf the registrant has communicated directly with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation;

(5) a specific description of, or, if pending, the number assigned to the legislation about which the registrant has communicated directly with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation, including, if known, the bill numbers and, if known, whether the registrant supports or opposes each bill listed.

(c) If a registrant's activities are done on behalf of the members of a group other than a corporation, the registration form shall include a statement of the number of members of the group and a full description of the methods by which the registrant develops and makes decisions about positions on policy.

Supplemental Registration and Activities Report

Sec. 6. (a) Every person registered under Section 5 of this Act shall file with the secretary a report concerning the activities set out in Subsection (b) of this section. The report must be filed:

(1) between the 1st and 10th day of each month subsequent to a month in which the legislature is in session covering the activities during the previous month; and
(2) between the 1st and 10th day of each month immediately subsequent to the last month in a calendar quarter when the legislature is not in session covering the activities during the previous quarter.

(b) The report shall be written, verified, and contain the following information:

(1) the total expenditures made by the registrant for directly communicating with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation, including expenditures made by others on behalf of the registrant for those direct communications if the expenditures were made with his express or implied consent or were ratified by him. The expenditures for directly communicating with a member of the legislative or executive branch to influence legislation shall be stated in the following categories:

(A) postage;
(B) telegraph;
(C) publication, printing, and reproduction;
(D) entertainment, including any transportation, dining, lodging, or admission expenses incurred in connection with such entertainment; and
(E) gifts or loans, other than contributions as defined by Article 14.01 of the Texas Election Code;

(2) a list of legislation, including, if pending, the number assigned to the legislation, about which the registrant, any person retained or employed by the registrant to appear on his behalf, or any other person appearing on his behalf, communicated directly with a member of the legislative or executive branch, including, if known, a statement of the registrant's position on such legislation.

(c) Each person who made expenditures on behalf of a registrant that are required to be reported by Subsection (b) of this section or who has other information required to be reported by the registrant under this Act shall provide a full, verified account of his expenditures to the registrant at least seven days before the registrant's report is due to be filed.

Termination Notice

Sec. 7. (a) A person who ceases to engage in activities requiring him to register under this Act shall file a written, verified statement with the secretary acknowledging the termination of activities. The notice is effective immediately.

(b) A person who files a notice of termination under this section must file the reports required under Section 6 of this Act for any reporting period during which he was registered under this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 8]

Penalty

Sec. 9. (a) A person, as defined in this Act, who violates any provision of this Act other than Section 11 commits a Class A misdemeanor. A person, as defined in this Act, who violates Section 11 of this Act commits a felony of the third degree. Nothing in this Act relieves a person of criminal responsibility under the laws of this state relating to perjury.

(b) A person who receives compensation or reimbursement or makes an expenditure for engaging in direct communication to influence legislation and who fails to file any registration form or activities report which such person is required to file by this Act, in addition, shall pay to the state an amount equal to three times the compensation, reimbursement, or expenditure.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 10 to 12]

Enforcement

Sec. 13. (a) The provisions of this Act may be enforced by the secretary of state, attorney general, or any county or district attorney.

(b) A district court in Travis County may issue an injunction to enforce the provisions of this Act on application by any citizen of this state.

(c) The secretary of state shall determine whether all persons registered under this Act have filed all required forms, statements, and reports. Whenever the secretary of state determines that a person has failed to file any form, statement, or report as required by this Act, if he deems it appropriate, the secretary of state shall send a written statement of this finding to the person involved. Notice to the person involved must be sent by certified mail. If the person fails to file such form, statement, or report as required by this Act before the 21st day after the date the notice was sent, the secretary of state shall file a sworn complaint of the violation with the appropriate prosecuting attorney.

(d) A person may file with the appropriate prosecuting attorney a written sworn statement alleging a violation of this Act.

Section 3 of the 1981 amendatory act provides: "An offense committed under the law amended by this Act is covered by the law as it existed on the date the offense occurred, and the former law is continued in effect for the prosecution of such an offense."

Art. 6252–9d. Standards of Conduct of State Officers and Employees

Text of article effective until August 31, 1983

Committee

Sec. 1. The Public Servant Standards of Conduct Advisory Committee is created.
Sec. 2. The committee is composed of the following members:

(1) four persons, including at least two senators, appointed by the lieutenant governor;
(2) four persons, including at least two members of the house of representatives, appointed by the speaker of the house;
(3) the chief justice of the supreme court;
(4) the presiding judge of the court of criminal appeals;
(5) the district attorney of Travis County;
(6) the chief executive officer of an association of public employees, appointed by the speaker of the house;
(7) a member of the governor's staff, appointed by the governor; and
(8) two citizen members, appointed by the governor.

Sec. 3. Members of the committee hold office until the committee is abolished under this Act.

Sec. 4. (a) The speaker shall designate one of his appointees to the committee to serve as chairman and the lieutenant governor shall designate one of his appointees to the committee to serve as vice-chairman.

(b) The committee shall meet at the call of the chairman or as provided by rule of the committee.

(c) A majority of the members of the committee constitutes a quorum.

Sec. 5. (a) A member of the committee may not receive compensation for performing functions as a member of the committee. A member is entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred in performing functions as a member of the committee.

(b) A member of the committee who is a public officer or employee shall be reimbursed for his expenses from funds of his office or agency. Other members shall be reimbursed from funds of the committee.

Sec. 6. The functions performed by a member of the committee who holds public office are additional functions of the public office.

Sec. 7. (a) A vacancy on the committee shall be filled for the unexpired part of the term in the same manner as the original appointment.

(b) An ex officio member of the committee vacates a position on the committee if the member ceases to hold the public office by which the member was eligible for appointment.

(c) A legislative member appointed to the committee by the lieutenant governor or speaker does not vacate his position on the committee if he is not reelected to the legislature.

Sec. 8. The committee may employ persons necessary to administer its functions.

Sec. 9. (a) The committee shall:

(1) study the application of state laws relating to the conduct of public servants, including relevant provisions of Title 8, Penal Code;
(2) adopt and publish interpretive guidelines to aid public servants in the day-to-day application of these laws; and
(3) report to the legislature any recommendations the committee may have concerning the revision of these laws necessary to make their application more clear and reasonable.

(b) The legislature shall consider the committee's recommendations.

Sec. 10. The committee may adopt rules necessary for it to administer its functions.

Sec. 11. The committee shall prepare a budget and submit it to the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house. The lieutenant governor and speaker must approve the budget in writing for the budget to take effect. The budget may be amended in the same manner. Expenses incurred by the committee must be authorized by the budget. Expenses shall be paid in equal shares from expense funds of the senate and house of representatives under procedures prescribed by the lieutenant governor and speaker of the house.

Sec. 12. The committee is abolished and this Act expires August 31, 1983. The records and other property in the custody of the committee on the day of abolition are transferred to the State Purchasing and General Services Commission.

Sec. 2. All regular, full-time salaried employees within the departments and agencies of the State specified in the articles of the General Appropriations Act that appropriate money to executive and administrative and health, welfare, and rehabili-
Art. 6252-11b Notices and Information of Certain State Job Opportunities

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(i) is in the executive branch of state government;

(ii) has authority that is not limited to a geographical portion of the state; and

(iii) was created by the constitution or a statute of this state; or

(B) a university system or an institution of higher education as defined in Section 61.003, Texas Education Code, as amended, other than a public junior college.

(2) “Commission” means the Texas Employment Commission.

(3) “Equal employment office” means the Equal Employment Opportunity Office within the governor’s office.

Submission of Job Information

Sec. 2. (a) When a job vacancy occurs or is filled in Travis County within a state agency, the agency shall complete and submit to the commission and to the equal employment office as soon as possible the appropriate information form prescribed by the commission regarding the job vacancy or placement.

(b) As soon as possible at the beginning of each month, a state agency which requires a person to comply with the Merit System Council’s employment procedures before employing the person shall complete and submit to the commission and to the equal employment office the appropriate information form prescribed by the commission regarding the job vacancies in Travis County subject to the Merit System Council’s employment procedures which were filled by the agency during the previous month.

Job Information Forms

Sec. 3. The commission shall prescribe forms for information from state agencies necessary for the commission to serve as a central processing agency for state agency job opportunities in Travis County in accordance with this Act.

Use of Job Information

Sec. 4. (a) The commission shall publicly list, in accordance with its procedures, for at least 10 working days, notices of job vacancies submitted to the commission by a state agency under Section 2(a) of this Act unless notified by the agency that the vacancy has been filled.

(b) The commission shall publicly post, in accordance with its procedures, for a month, the information submitted to the commission by a state agency under Section 2(b) of this Act. When a person expresses to the commission an interest in a job vacancy posted in accordance with this subsection for which the commission considers him qualified, the commission shall inform the person of appropriate Merit System Council employment procedures.

(c) When a person expresses to the commission an interest in a job vacancy listed in accordance with Subsection (a) of this section for which the commission considers him qualified and which may be filled only after the person has complied with the Merit System Council's employment procedures, the commission shall inform the person of those procedures.

Other Informational Efforts

Sec. 5. State agencies are encouraged to continue other current efforts to inform various outside applicant recruitment sources of job vacancies. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 159, ch. 80, eff. April 25, 1977.]

Art. 6252-11c. Use of Private Consultants by State Agencies

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Consulting service" means the human service of studying or advising an agency under an independent contract. The term includes routine work provided to an agency under an independent contract that is necessary to the functioning of the agency's programs. The term includes only services for which payment is made from funds:

(A) that are appropriated by the legislature;

(B) that are generated by statutory functions of the agency; or

(C) that are received by the state from the federal government and that are awarded to the state without requiring the state to request the funds through a grant program.

(2) "Private consultant" means an entity that performs consulting services.

(3) "State agency" means any state department, commission, board, office, institution, facility, or other agency, including a university system or an institution of higher education as defined in Section 61.003, Texas Education Code, as amended, other than a public junior college.

Exemption

Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to employment of registered professional engineers or registered architects for architectural or engineering studies or for the design or construction of state facilities, private legal counsel, investment counselors, actuaries, or physicians, dentists, or other medical or dental services providers, and it is not intended to discourage their use.

Use and Selection of Private Consultant

Sec. 3. (a) A state agency may use a private consultant only if:

(1) there is a substantial need for the consulting services; and

(2) the state agency cannot adequately perform the consulting services with its own personnel or through contract with another state agency.

(b) In selecting a private consultant, a state agency shall:

(1) base its choice on demonstrated competence, knowledge, and qualifications, and on the reasonableness of the proposed fee for the services; and

(2) when other considerations are equal, give a preference to a private consultant whose principal place of business is within the state or who will manage the consulting engagement wholly from one of its offices within the state.

Notice of Intent to Employ Consultant

Sec. 4. At least 30 days before contracting to use a private consultant whose total anticipated fee exceeds $10,000, a state agency shall notify the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's Budget and Planning Office of the agency's intent to use a private consultant and shall supply the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's Budget and Planning Office with information demonstrating that the agency has complied with the policies of Section 3 of this Act.

Information Relating to Consultant Studies

Sec. 5. (a) After a state agency contracts to use a private consultant, the state agency shall, upon request, supply the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's Budget and Planning Office with copies of all documents, films, recordings, or reports of intangible results of the consultant service that are developed by the private consultant.

(b) Copies of all documents, films, recordings, or reports of intangible results shall be filed with the Texas State Library and shall be retained by the library at least five years after receipt.

(c) As part of the biennial budgetary hearing process conducted by the Legislative-Budget Board and the Governor's Budget and Planning Office, a state agency shall supply the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor's Budget and Planning Office with reports on what action was taken in response to the recommendations of any private consultant employed by the state agency.

Publication in Texas Register

Sec. 6. (a) If it is reasonably foreseeable that a proposed use of a private consultant may involve a contract with a value in excess of $10,000, a state agency or a regional council of government created under Chapter 570, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965, as amended (Article 1011m, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), that proposes the use of a private consultant shall file, at least 40 days before contracting with a private consultant, the following information with the Secretary of State for publication in the Texas Register:

(1) a notice of invitation for offers of consulting services;

(2) the person who should be contacted by a private consultant who wants to make an offer;

(3) the closing date for receipt of offers of consulting services; and
Art. 6252-11c PUBLIC OFFICES, OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

(4) the procedure by which the agency or council of government will award the contract for consulting services.

(b) A state agency or regional council of government that complies with Subsection (a) of this section shall file within 10 days after contracting with the private consultant the following information with the Secretary of State for publication in the Texas Register:

(1) a description of the study that the private consultant is to conduct;
(2) the name and business address of the private consultant;
(3) the total value and the beginning and ending dates of the contract; and
(4) the due dates of documents, films, recordings, or reports of intangible results that the private consultant is to present to the agency or council of government.

(c) The Texas State Library shall compile a list of documents, films, recordings, or reports of intangible results submitted to it under Section 5(b) of this Act and shall file the list in each quarter of the calendar year with the Secretary of State for publication in the Texas Register.

(d) If the consulting service desired by a state agency is a continuation of a service previously performed by a private consultant, the agency shall state this in the invitation for offers filed with the Secretary of State under Subsection (a) of this section. If the state agency intends to award the contract for the consulting services to the private consultant that previously performed the services unless a better offer is submitted, it shall state this in the invitation for offers.

Conflicts of Interest

Sec. 6A. An officer or employee of a state agency who has a financial interest in a firm or corporation that is a private consultant and that submits an offer to provide consulting services to the agency or who is related within the second degree by consanguinity or affinity to a person having the financial interest shall report the financial interest to the executive head of the state agency not later than the 10th day after the day on which the private consultant submits the consulting services offer.

Restriction on Former Employees of a State Agency

Sec. 6B. A person who offers to perform a consulting service for a state agency and who has been employed by the agency or by another state agency at any time during the two years preceding the making of the offer shall disclose in the offer the nature of the previous employment with the agency or the other state agency, the date of termination of the employment, and the annual rate of compensation for the employment at the time of its termination. A state agency that accepts the offer shall include in the information filed under Subsection (b) of Section 6 of this Act a statement about the previous employment and the nature of the employment.

Contract Void

Sec. 6C. (a) If a state agency contracts to use a private consultant without complying with the requirements of Section 6 of this Act or if a person contracts to perform a consulting service for a state agency without complying with the requirements of Section 6B of this Act, the contract is void.

(b) If a contract is void under this section, the comptroller or a state agency may not make any payments under the contract from any state or federal funds held in or outside the State Treasury.

Legislative Intent

Sec. 6D. (a) It is the intent of the legislature that this Act be interpreted in a manner that assures the greatest fair competition in the selection by state agencies and regional councils of government of private consultants under contracts covered by this Act and that assures that all potential providers of consulting services are afforded notice of the need for and opportunity to provide the services.

(b) This Act is not intended to discourage the use by state agencies or regional councils of government of private consultants if their use may reasonably be expected to result in a more efficient and less costly operation or project. This Act is not intended to prohibit the letting of a sole-source contract for consulting services if no proposal is received from a competent, knowledgeable, and qualified private consultant at a reasonable fee, after the procedures set forth in this Act have been followed.

Art. 6252-11d. Texas Merit System Council

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:
(1) "Council" means the Texas Merit System Council.
(2) "State agency" means any department, commission, board, office, or other agency in the executive branch of state government created by the constitution or a statute of this state.

Council

Sec. 2. (a) The Texas Merit System Council is created. The council is composed of six members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate.

(b) Members of the council hold office for staggered terms of six years, with two members' terms expiring February 1 of each odd-numbered year.

(c) A vacancy on the council shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term in the same manner as a regular appointment.
Sec. 3. A member of the council is entitled to a per diem as set by legislative appropriation for attending meetings and to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred in performing official duties of the council.

Sec. 4. (a) The governor shall appoint a chairman and vice-chairman from among the members of the council.

(b) The council shall meet at times and places as specified by call of the chairman or the governor but shall meet at least six times each year.

(c) The council shall submit an annual report to the governor.

(d) A majority of the council membership constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business.

Sec. 5. (a) The council shall employ an executive director who serves at the pleasure of the council. The executive director shall manage the affairs of the council subject to the authority of the council.

(b) The executive director may employ staff necessary to perform the functions of the council.

Sec. 6. (a) The council shall develop procedures and policies to assure the recruitment, selection, and advancement of highly competent personnel in state agencies using its services.

(b) Procedures and policies developed by the council shall meet federal requirements for a merit system of personnel administration applicable to state and local agencies administering federal programs.

(c) The council shall establish procedures under which applicants for positions and employees of state agencies using the council services may obtain hearings before impartial hearing officers with respect to adverse personnel actions taken against them.

(d) The council may contract with any other state agency for the performance of the council’s duties, including areas such as recruitment and test administration.

(e) The council shall adopt rules it considers necessary for the administration of this Act, prescribe personnel policies for the council, and perform any other functions prescribed by law.

(f) The council may compel the attendance of witnesses at any of its proceedings through the issuance of subpoenas to be served by any sheriff or constable in this state.

Sec. 7. A state agency that is required by federal laws or regulations to have a merit system of personnel administration shall use the services of the council.

Sec. 8. (a) An interagency advisory committee is created to advise the council and review its rules and policies.

(b) The committee is composed of one representative from each agency using the services of the council.

(c) The council shall adopt rules governing the appointment and operation of the committee.

Sec. 9. (a) The budget of the council is subject to the appropriations process.

(b) The total budget of the council is limited to the aggregate amount of funds received through interagency contracts for services rendered and federal receipts but may not exceed the amount appropriated to the council.

Sec. 10. In the performance of its duties, the council shall comply with state and federal laws and regulations and federal court decisions that assure equal employment opportunity.

Sec. 11. The Merit System Council of the Texas Employment Commission is abolished. The services, responsibilities, and contractual obligations existing between the Merit System Council of the Texas Employment Commission and the Texas Employment Commission are terminated on the effective date of this Act. The nonpolicymaking personnel, records, funds, and other property in the custody or control of the Merit System Council of the Texas Employment Commission are transferred to the Texas Merit System Council. The positions transferred by this Act shall be reevaluated for continuance by the council within four months after the effective date of this Act. A report of the council’s personnel evaluation shall be submitted to the Legislative Budget Board and the Governor’s Office of Budget and Planning.

Section 12 of the 1981 Act provides:

"In making the initial council appointments, the governor shall designate two members for terms expiring February 1, 1983, two members for terms expiring February 1, 1985, and two members for terms expiring February 1, 1987."
Art. 6252-11e. Use of Volunteers by State Agencies Providing Human Services

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act "human services" means those services that provide basic mental and physical needs for the people.

Agency Use of Volunteers

Sec. 2. Each state agency that provides human services shall use, whenever feasible, volunteers to assist in the provision of quality human services.

Development of Program

Sec. 3. (a) Each state agency shall develop a volunteer program.

(b) In developing the program the agency shall consider the fact that volunteers are a resource for which advance planning and preparation are required for effective use.

(c) Volunteers as well as paid staff shall be included, if practicable, in planning the implementation of a volunteer program.

(d) The use of volunteers shall be considered in determining merit pay increases as well as in performance evaluations.

(e) The use of funds requested for volunteer programs shall be reviewed by the Legislative Budget Board during the preparation of budget recommendations.

Program Requirements and Guidelines

Sec. 4. (a) A volunteer program must include:

(1) an effective training program for paid staff and prospective volunteers;
(2) the use of paid staff positions to plan and implement the volunteer program;
(3) an evaluation mechanism to assess:
   (A) the performance of the volunteers;
   (B) the cooperation of paid staff with the volunteers; and
   (C) the overall volunteer program; and
(4) follow-up studies to ensure the effectiveness of the program.

(b) A volunteer program may:

(1) establish a program to reimburse volunteers for actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of volunteer services;
(2) establish an insurance program to protect volunteers in the performance of volunteer services; and
(3) cooperate with private organizations that provide services similar to those provided by the agency.

Art. 6252-12a. Automatic Data Processing Systems

Purpose of Act

Sec. 1. The purpose of this Act is to provide for the annual review and evaluation of the use in Texas state government of automated information systems, the computers on which they are automated, or a service related to the automation of information systems or the computers on which they are automated. The Systems Division may not be involved in the acquisition of automated information systems, the computers on which they are automated, or related service, but shall regularly review and evaluate existing operations in each state governmental body to determine compliance with the acquisition methods prescribed by law, to recommend ways to eliminate duplication in the collection, storage, and processing of information, and to increase the accessibility and usefulness of the information.

Automatic Data Processing Systems Division:
Establishment; Director and Analysts

Sec. 2. There shall be established in the office of the State Auditor an Automated Information Systems and Computers Division (hereafter referred to as the Systems Division) in this Act. For the operation of this Division the Auditor shall employ a Systems Director within limits of legislative appropriations and subject to the prior approval of the Legislative Audit Committee. The Auditor shall also employ highly qualified systems analysts, and such other personnel as he may deem necessary for the Systems Division's successful operation.

Duties of Division

Sec. 3. The Systems Division shall have and maintain comprehensive current information relating to automated information systems, the computers on which they are automated, and services related to the automation of information systems or the computers on which they are automated. Consistent with established automated information system guidelines of the Automated Information Systems Advisory Council, the Division regularly shall review and evaluate the performance of each state governmental body in the use of automated information systems, the computers on which they are automated, and related services, to determine:

(1) the extent of compliance by the state governmental body with the methods prescribed by law for the acquisition of automated information systems, the computers on which they are automated, or a service related to the automation of information systems or the computers on which they are automated;
(2) actions that may be taken by the state governmental body to attain the most efficient and economical operations in the governmental body's system of information collecting, processing, and storing;
See, now, art. 6252-13a.

Art. 6252-13a. Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act

Purpose

Sec. 1. It is declared the public policy of this state to afford minimum standards of uniform practice and procedure for state agencies, to provide for public participation in the rulemaking process, to provide adequate and proper public notice of proposed agency rules and agency actions through publication of a state register, and to restate the law of judicial review of agency action.

Short Title

Sec. 2. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act.

Definitions

Sec. 3. As used in this Act:

(1) “Agency” means any state board, commission, department, or officer having statewide jurisdiction, other than an agency wholly financed by federal funds, the legislature, the courts, the Industrial Accident Board, and institutions of higher education, that makes rules or determines contestable cases.

(2) “Contested case” means a proceeding, including but not restricted to ratemaking and licensing, in which the legal rights, duties, or privileges of a party are to be determined by an agency after an opportunity for adjudicative hearing.

(3) “License” includes the whole or part of any agency permit, certificate, approval, registration, or similar form of permission required by law.

(4) “Licensing” includes the agency process respecting the granting, denial, renewal, revocation, suspension, annulment, withdrawal, or amendment of a license.

(5) “Party” means each person or agency named or admitted as a party.

(6) “Person” means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, governmental subdivision, or public or private organization of any character other than an agency.

(7) “Rule” means any agency statement of general applicability that implements, interprets, or prescribes law or policy, or describes the procedure or practice requirements of an agency. The term includes the amendment or repeal of a prior rule but does not include statements concerning only the internal management or organization of any agency and not affecting private rights or procedures.

(8) “Register” means the Texas Register established by this Act.

Art. 6252-12b. Automatic Data Processing Systems Division Name Change

The name of the Automatic Data Processing Systems Division is changed to the Automated Information Systems and Computers Division. A reference in a law to the Automatic Data Processing Division means the Automated Information Systems and Computers Division.

Annual Current Status Report; Recommendations

Sec. 5. The Systems Division of the Auditor’s office shall submit annually, before January 1, to the Legislative Budget Board, the Governor’s Budget Division, and the Automated Information Systems Advisory Council copies of the audit report described in Section 3 of this Act for those state governmental bodies reviewed and evaluated during the preceding year. With the report of the even-numbered years the Division shall also file with the Legislative Budget Board, Governor’s Budget Division, and Automated Information Systems Advisory Council specific recommendations for the further accomplishing of purposes of this Act.

Central Clearinghouse for Computer Software

Sec. 5A. (a) The Systems Division shall maintain a central clearinghouse for automated information system software developed or acquired by state governmental bodies.

(b) Each state governmental body shall file an inventory record with the Systems Division of the automated information systems software developed or acquired by the governmental body. The Systems Division shall distribute to other state governmental bodies information about the automated information systems software covered by the inventory record.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 6 and 7]

Art. 6252-12c. Inventory Record

(3) actions that may be taken by the governmental body to end unnecessary duplication, by and between state governmental bodies, of staff and automated information systems and the computers on which they are automated that are used for information collection, processing, and storage.

Cooperation With Systems Division

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of each state governmental body to cooperate fully with the Systems Division to provide full and accurate information of the use of automated information systems, the computers on which they are automated, and the staff who perform functions relating to the systems or computers, and to make available all other information the Division may deem necessary for complete and accurate evaluation of the use of the systems and computers by the state governmental body.

Art. 6252-12d. Administrative Procedure Act

In a law to the Automatic Data Processing Systems and Computers Division.

Art. 6252-12e. Compact Clearinghouse

Art. 6252-12f. System Software

Central Clearinghouse for Computer Software

Sec. 5A. (a) The Systems Division shall maintain a central clearinghouse for automated information system software developed or acquired by state governmental bodies.

(b) Each state governmental body shall file an inventory record with the Systems Division of the automated information systems software developed or acquired by the governmental body. The Systems Division shall distribute to other state governmental bodies information about the automated information systems software covered by the inventory record.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 6 and 7]

Art. 6252-12g. Systems Division Name Change

The name of the Automatic Data Processing Systems Division is changed to the Automated Information Systems and Computers Division. A reference in a law to the Automatic Data Processing Division means the Automated Information Systems and Computers Division.

2 West's Texas Statutes & Codes '81 Supp.-41
Art. 6252-13a PUBLIC OFFICES, OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Sec. 4. (a) In addition to other rulemaking requirements imposed by law, each agency shall:

1. adopt rules of practice setting forth the nature and requirements of all formal and informal procedures available;

2. index and make available for public inspection all rules and all other written statements of policy or interpretations formulated, adopted, or used by the agency in the discharge of its functions; and

3. index and make available for public inspection all final orders, decisions, and opinions.

(b) No agency rule, order, or decision made or issued on or after the effective date of this Act is valid or effective against any person or party, nor may it be invoked by the agency for any purpose, until it has been indexed and made available for public inspection as required by this Act. This provision is not applicable in favor of any person or party who has actual knowledge of the rule, order, or decision.

(c) The contents of the Texas Register are to be judicially noticed and constitute prima facie evidence of the text of the documents and of the fact that they are in effect on and after the date of the notation. Without prejudice to any other mode of citation, the contents of the Texas Register may be cited by volume and page number.

Procedure for Adoption of Rules

Sec. 5. (a) Prior to the adoption of any rule, an agency shall give at least 30 days' notice of its intended action. Notice of the proposed rule shall be filed with the secretary of state and published by the secretary of state in the Texas Register. The notice must include:

1. a brief explanation of the proposed rule;
2. the text of the proposed rule, except any portion omitted as provided in Section 6(c) of this Act, prepared in a manner to indicate the words to be added or deleted from the current text, if any;
3. a statement of the statutory or other authority under which the rule is proposed to be promulgated, including a concise explanation of the particular statutory or other provisions under which the rule is proposed, and a certification that the proposed rule has been reviewed by legal counsel and found to be within the agency's authority to adopt;
4. a fiscal note showing the name and title of the officer or employee responsible for preparing or approving it and stating for each year for the first five years that the rule will be in effect:
   (A) the additional estimated cost to the state and to local governments as a result of enforcing or administering the rule;
   (B) estimated reductions in costs to the state and to local governments as a result of enforcing or administering the rule;
   (C) estimated loss or increase in revenue to the state or to local governments as a result of enforcing or administering the rule; and
   (D) if applicable, that enforcing or administering the rule will have no foreseeable implications in any of the preceding respects;
5. a public benefit-cost note showing the name and title of the officer or employee responsible for preparing or approving it and stating for each year for the first five years that the rule will be in effect:
   (A) the public benefits to be expected as a result of adoption of the proposed rule; and
   (B) the probable economic cost to persons who are required to comply with the rule;
6. a request for comments on the proposed rule from any interested person; and
7. any other statement required by law.

(b) Each notice of a proposed rule becomes effective as notice when published in the register. The notice shall be mailed to all persons who have made timely written requests of the agency for advance notice of its rulemaking proceedings. However, failure to mail the notice does not invalidate any actions taken or rules adopted. Except as provided by this subsection, a proposed rule is automatically withdrawn six months after the date of publication of notice of the proposed rule in the Texas Register if the agency has failed within that time to adopt, adopt as amended, or withdraw the proposed rule.

(c) Prior to the adoption of any rule, an agency shall afford all interested persons reasonable opportunity to submit data, views, or arguments, orally or in writing. In the case of substantive rules, opportunity for public hearing must be granted if requested by at least 25 persons, by a governmental subdivision or agency, or by an association having at least 25 members. The agency shall consider fully all written and oral submissions concerning the proposed rule. On adoption of a rule, the agency, if requested to do so by an interested person either prior to adoption or within 30 days after adoption, shall issue a concise statement of the principal reasons for and against its adoption, incorporating in the statement its reasons for overruling the considerations urged against its adoption.

(c-1) The agency order finally adopting a rule must include:

1. a reasoned justification of the rule, including a summary of comments received from parties interested in the rule and showing the names of any interested group or association offering comment on the rule and whether they were for or against its adoption, and also including a restatement of the rule's factual bases and the reasons why the agency disagrees with party submissions and proposals;
a concise restatement of the particular statutory provisions under which the rule is adopted and of how the agency interprets these provisions as authorizing or requiring the rule; and

(3) a certification that the rule, as adopted, has been reviewed by legal counsel and found to be a valid exercise of the agency's legal authority.

(d) If an agency finds that an imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare requires adoption of a rule on fewer than 30 days' notice and states in its writing reasons for that finding, it may proceed without prior notice or hearing or on any abbreviated notice and hearing that it finds practicable to adopt an emergency rule. The rule may be effective for a period of not longer than 120 days renewable once for a period not exceeding 60 days, but the adoption of an identical rule under Subsections (a) and (c) of this section is not precluded. An emergency rule adopted under the provisions of this subsection, and the agency's written reasons for the adoption, shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state for publication in the Texas Register.

(e) No rule hereafter adopted is valid unless adopted in substantial compliance with this section. A proceeding to contest any rule on the ground of noncompliance with the procedural requirements of this section must be commenced within two years after the effective date of the rule.

(f) An agency may use informal conferences and consultations as means of obtaining the viewpoints and advice of interested persons concerning contemplated rulemaking. Each agency also is authorized to appoint committees of experts or interested persons or representatives of the general public to advise it with respect to any contemplated rulemaking. The powers of these committees are advisory only.

(g) Each house of the legislature shall adopt rules establishing a process under which the presiding officer of each house shall refer each proposed agency rule to the appropriate standing committee for review prior to adoption of the rule. When an agency files notice of a proposed rule with the secretary of state pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section, it shall also deliver a copy of the notice to the lieutenant governor and the speaker. On the vote of a majority of its members, a standing committee may transmit to the agency a statement supporting or opposing adoption of a proposed rule.

Creation of Texas Register

Sec. 6. (a) The secretary of state shall compile, index, and publish a publication to be known as the Texas Register, which shall contain:

(1) notices of proposed rules issued after the effective date of this Act and filed in the office of the secretary of state as provided in Section 5 of this Act;

(2) the text of rules adopted after the effective date of this Act and filed in the office of the secretary of state;

(3) notices of open meetings issued after the effective date of this Act and filed in the office of the secretary of state as provided by law;

(4) executive orders issued by the governor after the effective date of this Act;

(5) summaries of requests made after the effective date of this Act for opinions of the attorney general, which shall be prepared by the attorney general and forwarded to the secretary of state;

(6) summaries of opinions of the attorney general issued after the effective date of this Act, which shall be prepared by the attorney general and forwarded to the secretary of state; and

(7) other information of general interest to the public of Texas, which may include, but is not limited to, federal legislation or regulations affecting the state or state agencies and state agency organizational and personnel changes.

(b) The secretary of state shall publish the register at regular intervals, but not less than 100 times each calendar year.

(c) The secretary of state may omit from the register any information the publication of which he deems cumbersome, expensive, or otherwise inexpedient, if the information is made available in printed or processed form by the adopting agency on application for it, and if the register contains a notice stating the general subject matter of the information and the manner in which a copy of it may be obtained.

(d) One copy of each issue of the register shall be made available free on request to each board, commission, and department having statewide jurisdiction, to the governor, to the lieutenant governor, to the attorney general, to each member of the legislature, to each county clerk in the state, and to the supreme court, court of criminal appeals, and each court of civil appeals.

(e) The secretary of state shall make copies of the register available to other persons on payment of reasonable fees to be fixed by the secretary of state.

Filing of Existing Documents

Sec. 7. Before March 1, 1976, each agency shall file in the office of the secretary of state two certified copies of each rule existing on the effective date of this Act. Existing rules become effective immediately on filing with the secretary of state.

Filing Procedures
the secretary of state and, on filing, shall be made available immediately for public inspection during regular business hours.

(b) If there is a conflict, the official text of a rule is the text on file with the secretary of state, and not the text published in the register or on file with the issuing agency.

(c) The secretary of state may promulgate rules to insure the effective administration of this Act. The rules may include, but are not limited to, rules prescribing paper size and the format of documents required to be filed by this Act. The secretary of state may refuse to accept for filing and publication any document that does not substantially conform to the promulgated rules.

(d) The secretary of state may maintain on microfilm the files of agency rules and any other information required by this Act to be published in the register and, after microfilming, destroy the original copies of all information submitted for publication.

Tables of Contents; Certification; Liaison

Sec. 9. (a) Each issue of the register must contain a table of contents.

(b) A cumulative index to all information required by this Act to be published during the previous year shall be published at least once each year.

(c) Each document submitted to the secretary of state for filing or publication as provided in this Act must be certified by an official of the submitting agency authorized to certify documents of that agency.

(d) Each agency shall designate at least one individual to act as a liaison through whom all required documents may be submitted to the secretary of state for filing and publication.

Effect of Filing

Sec. 10. (a) Each rule hereafter adopted becomes effective 20 days after the filing of two certified copies in the office of the secretary of state, except that:

(1) if a later date is required by statute or specified in the rule, the later date is the effective date; and

(2) subject to applicable constitutional or statutory provisions, an emergency rule becomes effective immediately on filing with the secretary of state, or on a stated date less than 20 days thereafter, if the agency finds that this effective date is necessary because of imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare; and

(3) if a federal statute or regulation requires that an agency implement a rule by a certain date, the rule is effective on the prescribed date.

(b) An agency finding, as described in Subsection (a)(2) of this section, and a brief statement of the reasons for it, shall be filed with the rule. The agency shall take appropriate measures to make emergency rules known to persons who may be affected by them.

(c) A rule adopted as provided in Subsection (a)(3) of this section shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and published in the register.

Petition for Adoption of Rules

Sec. 11. Any interested person may petition an agency requesting the adoption of a rule. Each agency shall prescribe by rule the form for petitions and the procedure for their submission, consideration, and disposition. Within 60 days after submission of a petition, the agency either shall deny the petition in writing, stating its reasons for the denial, or shall initiate rulemaking proceedings in accordance with Section 5 of this Act.

Declaratory Judgment on Validity or Applicability of Rules

Sec. 12. The validity or applicability of any rule, including an emergency rule adopted under Section 5(d) of this Act, may be determined in an action for declaratory judgment in a district court of Travis County, and not elsewhere, if it is alleged that the rule, or its threatened application, interferes with or impairs, or threatens to interfere with or impair, the legal rights or privileges of the plaintiff. The agency must be made a party to the action. A declaratory judgment may be rendered whether the plaintiff has requested the agency to pass on the validity or applicability of the rule in question. However, no proceeding brought under this section may be used to delay or stay a hearing after notice of hearing has been given if a suspension, revocation, or cancellation of a license by an agency is at issue before the agency.

Contested Cases; Notice; Hearings; Records

Sec. 13. (a) In a contested case, all parties must be afforded an opportunity for hearing after reasonable notice of not less than 10 days.

(b) The notice must include:

(1) a statement of time, place, and nature of the hearing;

(2) a statement of the legal authority and jurisdiction under which the hearing is to be held;

(3) a reference to the particular sections of the statutes and rules involved; and

(4) a short and plain statement of the matters asserted.

(c) If the agency or other party is unable to state the matters in detail at the time the notice is served, the initial notice may be limited to a statement of the issues involved. Thereafter, on timely written application, a more definite and detailed statement must be furnished not less than three days prior to the date set for the hearing.

(d) Opportunity must be afforded all parties to respond and present evidence and argument on all issues involved.
(e) Unless precluded by law, informal disposition may be made of any contested case by stipulation, agreed settlement, consent order, or default.

(f) The record in a contested case includes:

1. All pleadings, motions, and intermediate rulings;
2. Evidence received or considered;
3. A statement of matters officially noticed;
4. Questions and offers of proof, objections, and rulings of them;
5. Proposed findings and exceptions;
6. Any decision, opinion, or report by the officer presiding at the hearing; and
7. All staff memoranda or data submitted to or considered by the hearing officer or members of the agency who are involved in making the decision.

(g) Proceedings, or any part of them, must be transcribed on written request of any party. The agency may pay the cost of the transcript or assess the cost to one or more parties. This Act does not limit an agency to a stenographic record of proceedings.

(h) Findings of fact must be based exclusively on the evidence and on matters officially noticed.

Interpreters for Deaf Parties and Witnesses

Sec. 18A. (a) If a party or subpoenaed witness in a contested case is deaf, the agency shall provide an interpreter whose qualifications are approved by the State Commission for the Deaf to interpret the proceedings for that person.

(b) In this section, "deaf person" means a person who has a hearing impairment, whether or not the person also has a speech impairment, that inhibits the person's comprehension of the proceedings or communication with others.

Rules of Evidence, Official Notice

Sec. 14. (a) In contested cases, irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious evidence shall be excluded. The rules of evidence as applied in nonjury civil cases in the district courts of this state shall be followed. When necessary to ascertain facts not reasonably susceptible of proof under those rules, evidence not admissible thereunder may be admitted, except where precluded by statute, if it is of a type commonly relied upon by reasonably prudent men in the conduct of their affairs. Agencies shall give effect to the rules of privilege recognized by law. Objections to evidentiary offers may be made and shall be noted in the record. Subject to these requirements, if a hearing will be expedited and the interests of the parties will not be prejudiced substantially, any part of the evidence may be received in written form.

(b) In connection with any contested case held under the provisions of this Act, an agency may swear witnesses and take their testimony under oath.

(c) On its own motion or on the written request of any party to a contested case pending before it, on a showing of good cause, and on deposit of sums that will reasonably insure payment of the amounts estimated to accrue under Subsections (1)(1) and (2) of this section, an agency shall issue a subpoena addressed to the sheriff or any constable to require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, records, papers, or other objects as may be necessary and proper for the purposes of the proceedings.

(d) On its own motion or on the written request of any party to a contested case pending before it, on a showing of good cause, and on deposit of sums that will reasonably insure payment of the amounts estimated to accrue under Subsections (1)(1) and (2) of this section, an agency shall issue a commission, addressed to the several officers authorized by statute to take depositions, to require that the deposition of a witness be taken, which commission shall authorize the issuance of any subpoenas necessary to require that the witness appear and produce, at the time the deposition is taken, books, records, papers, or other objects as may be necessary and proper for the purposes of the proceeding. The deposition of a member of an agency board may not be taken after a date has been set for hearing.

(e) The place of taking the depositions shall be in the county of the witness' residence, or where the witness is employed or regularly transacts business in person. The commission shall authorize and require the officer or officers to whom it is addressed, or either of them, to examine the witness before him on the date and at the place named in the commission and to take answers under oath to questions which may be propounded to the witness by the parties to the proceeding, the agency, or the attorneys for the parties or the agency. The commission shall require the witness to remain in attendance from day to day until the deposition is begun and completed.

(f) The witness shall be carefully examined, the testimony shall be reduced to writing or typewriting by the officer taking the deposition, or by some person under the officer's personal supervision, or by the deponent in the officer's presence, and by no other person, and shall, after it has been reduced to writing or typewriting, be subscribed by the deponent.

(g) The officer taking the oral deposition may not sustain objections to any of the testimony taken, or exclude any of it, and any of the parties or attorneys engaged in taking testimony have their objections reserved for the action of the agency before which the matter is pending. The administrator or other officer conducting the hearing is not confined to objections made at the taking of the testimony.

(h) When the testimony is fully transcribed, the deposition shall be submitted to the witness for examination and read to or by the witness, unless the examination and reading are waived by the witness and by the parties in writing. However, if the witness is a party to the contested case pending before the agency with an attorney of record, the deposition officer shall notify the attorney of record in writing by registered mail or certified mail that the deposition is ready for examination and reading at the office of the deposition officer, and if the witness does not appear and examine, read, and sign the deposition within 20 days after the mailing of the notice, the deposition shall be returned as provided in this Act for unsigned depositions. In any event, the witness must sign the deposition at least three days prior to the hearing, or it shall be returned as provided in this Act for unsigned depositions. Any changes in form or substance which the witness desires to make shall be entered on the deposition by the officer with a statement of the reasons given by the witness for making them. The deposition shall then be signed by the witness, unless the parties present at the taking of the deposition by stipulation waive the signing or the witness is ill, cannot be found, or refuses to sign. If the deposition is not signed by the witness, the officer shall sign it and state on the record the fact of the waiver, illness, or absence of the witness or the fact of the refusal to sign, together with the reason, if any, given for failure to sign. The deposition may then be used as fully as though signed.

(i) A deposition may be returned to the agency before which the contested case is pending either by mail, or by a party interested in taking the deposition, or by any other person. If returned by mail, the agency shall endorse on the deposition that it was received from the post office and shall cause the agency employee so receiving the deposition to sign it. If not sent by mail, the person delivering it to the agency shall make affidavit before the agency that he received it from the hands of the officer before whom it was taken, that it has not been out of his possession since, and that it has undergone no alteration.

(j) A deposition, after being filed with the agency, may be opened by any employee of the agency at the request of either party or his counsel. The employee shall endorse on the deposition on what day and at whose request it was opened, signing the deposition, and it shall remain on file with the agency for the inspection of any party.

(k) Regardless of whether cross interrogatories have been propounded, any party is entitled to use the deposition in the contested case pending before the agency.

(l) A witness or deponent who is not a party and who is subpoenaed or otherwise compelled to attend any hearing or proceeding to give a deposition or to produce books, records, papers, or other objects that may be necessary and proper for the purposes of the proceeding under the authority of this section is entitled to receive:

(1) mileage of 10 cents a mile, or a greater amount as prescribed by agency rule, for going to, and returning from the place of the hearing or the place where the deposition is taken, if the place is more than 25 miles from the person's place of residence; and

(2) a fee of $10 a day, or a greater amount as prescribed by agency rule, for each day or part of a day the person is necessarily present as a witness or deponent.

(m) Mileage and fees to which a witness is entitled under this section shall be paid by the party or agency at whose request the witness appears or the deposition is taken, on presentation of proper vouchers sworn by the witness and approved by the agency.

(n) In the case of failure of a person to comply with a subpoena or commission issued under the authority of this Act, the agency issuing the subpoena or commission, acting through the attorney general, or the party requesting the subpoena or commission, may bring suit to enforce the subpoena or commission in a district court in Travis County. The court, if it determines that good cause exists for the issuance of the subpoena or commission, shall order compliance with the requirements of the subpoena or commission. Failure to obey the order of the court may be punished by the court as contempt.

(o) In contested cases, documentary evidence may be received in the form of copies or excerpts if the original is not readily available. On request, parties shall be given an opportunity to compare the copy with the original.

(p) In contested cases, a party may conduct cross-examinations required for a full and true disclosure of the facts.

(q) In connection with any hearing held under the provisions of this Act, official notice may be taken of all facts judicially cognizable. In addition, notice may be taken of generally recognized facts within the area of the agency's specialized knowledge. Parties shall be notified either before or during the hearing, or by reference in preliminary reports or otherwise, of the material officially noticed, including any staff memoranda or data, and they must be afforded an opportunity to contest the material so noticed. The special skills or knowledge of the agency and its staff may be utilized in evaluating the evidence.

(r) In contested cases, all parties are entitled to the assistance of their counsel before administrative agencies. This right may be expressly waived.
(1) to produce and permit the inspection and copying or photographing by or on behalf of the moving party any of the following which are in his possession, custody, or control: any designated documents, papers, books, accounts, letters, photographs, objects, or tangible things, not privileged, which constitute or contain, or are reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of, evidence material to any matter involved in the action; and

(2) to permit entry upon designated land or other property in his possession or control for the purpose of inspecting, measuring, surveying, or photographing the property or any designated object or operation thereon which may be material to any matter involved in the action.

(b) The order shall specify the time, place, and manner of making the inspection, measurement, or survey and taking the copies and photographs and may prescribe such terms and conditions as are just.

(c) The identity and location of any potential party or witness may be obtained from any communication or other paper in the possession, custody, or control of a party, and any party may be required to produce and permit the inspection and copying of the reports, including factual observations and opinions, of an expert who will be called as a witness. Provided, that the rights herein granted shall not extend to other written communications passing between agents or representatives or the employees of any party to the suit or to other communications between any party and his agents, representatives, or other employees, where made subsequent to the occurrence or transaction upon which the suit is based.

(d) Any person, whether or not a party, shall be entitled to obtain, upon request, a copy of any state­ment he has previously made concerning the action or order under this section. For the purpose of this paragraph, a statement previously made is (1) a written statement signed or otherwise adopted or approved by the person making it, or (2) a stenographic, mechanical, electrical, or other recording, or a transcription thereof, which is a substantially verbatim recital of an oral statement by the person making it and contemporaneously recorded.

Examination of Record by Agency

Sec. 15. If in a contested case a majority of the officials of the agency who are to render the decision have not heard the case or read the record, the decision, if adverse to a party to the proceeding other than the agency itself, may not be made until a proposal for decision is served on the parties, and an opportunity is afforded to each party adversely affected to file exceptions and present briefs to the officials who are to render the decision. If any party files exceptions or presents briefs, an opportunity must be afforded to all other parties to file replies to the exceptions or briefs. The proposal for decision must contain a statement of the reasons for the proposed decision and of each finding of fact and conclusion of law necessary to the proposed decision, prepared by the person who conducted the hearing or by one who has read the record. The proposal for decision may be amended pursuant to exceptions, replies, or briefs submitted by the parties without again being served on the parties. The parties by written stipulation may waive compliance with this section.

Decisions and Orders

Sec. 16. (a) A final decision or order adverse to a party in a contested case must be in writing or stated in the record.

(b) A final decision must include findings of fact and conclusions of law, separately stated. Findings of fact, if set forth in statutory language, must be accompanied by a concise and explicit statement of the underlying facts supporting the findings. If, in accordance with agency rules, a party submitted proposed findings of fact, the decision shall include a ruling on each proposed finding. Parties shall be notified either personally or by mail of any decision or order. On written request, a copy of the decision or order shall be delivered or mailed to any party and to his attorney of record.

(c) A decision is final, in the absence of a timely motion for rehearing, on the expiration of the period for filing a motion for rehearing, and is final and appealable on the date of rendition of the order overruling the motion for rehearing, or on the date the motion is overruled by operation of law. If an agency board includes a member who (1) receives no salary for his work as a board member and who (2) resides outside Travis County, the board may rule on a motion for rehearing at a meeting or by mail, telephone, telegraph, or other suitable means of communication. If an agency finds that an imminent peril to the public health, safety, or welfare requires immediate effect of a final decision or order in a contested case, it shall recite the finding in the decision or order as well as the fact that the decision or order is final and effective on the date rendered, in which event the decision or order is final and appealable on the date rendered and no motion for rehearing is required as a prerequisite for appeal.

(d) The final decision or order must be rendered within 60 days after the date the hearing is finally closed. In a contested case heard by other than a majority of the officials of an agency, the agency may prescribe a longer period of time within which the final order or decision of the agency shall be issued. The extension, if so prescribed, shall be announced at the conclusion of the hearing.

(e) Except as provided in Subsection (c) of this section, a motion for rehearing is a prerequisite to an appeal. A motion for rehearing must be filed within 15 days after the date of rendition of a final decision or order. Replies to a motion for rehearing must be filed with the agency within 25 days after the date of rendition of the final decision or order, and agency action on the motion must be taken within 45 days after the date of rendition of the final decision or order. If agency action is not taken within the 45-day period, the motion for rehearing is overruled by operation of law 45 days after the date of rendition of the final decision or order. The agency may by written order extend the period of time for filing the motions and replies and taking agency action, except that an extension may not extend the period for agency action beyond 90 days after the date of rendition of the final decision or order. In the event of an extension, the motion for rehearing is overruled by operation of law on the date fixed by the order, or in the absence of a fixed date, 90 days after the date of the final decision or order.

(f) The parties may by agreement with the approval of the agency provide for a modification of the times provided in this section.

Ex Parte Consultations

Sec. 17. Unless required for the disposition of ex parte matters authorized by law, members or employees of an agency assigned to render a decision or to make findings of fact and conclusions of law in a contested case may not communicate, directly or indirectly, in connection with any issue of fact or law with any agency, person, party, or their representatives, except on notice and opportunity for all parties to participate. An agency member may communicate ex parte with other members of the agency, and pursuant to the authority provided in Subsection (q) of Section 14, members or employees of an agency assigned to render a decision or to make findings of fact and conclusions of law in a contested case may communicate ex parte with employees of the agency who have not participated in any hearing in the case for the purpose of utilizing the special skills or knowledge of the agency and its staff in evaluating the evidence.

Licenses

Sec. 18. (a) When the grant, denial, or renewal of a license is required to be preceded by notice and opportunity for hearing, the provisions of this Act concerning contested cases apply.

(b) When a licensee has made timely and sufficient application for the renewal of a license or a new license for any activity of a continuing nature, the existing license does not expire until the application has been finally determined by the agency, and in case the application is denied or the terms of the new license limited, until the last day for seeking review of the agency order or a later date fixed by order of the reviewing court.

(c) No revocation, suspension, annulment, or withdrawal of any license is effective unless, prior to the institution of agency proceedings, the agency gave notice by personal service or by registered or certified mail to the licensee of facts or conduct alleged to warrant the intended action, and the licensee was given an opportunity to show compliance with all requirements of law for the retention of the license.

Judicial Review of Contested Cases

Sec. 19. (a) A person who has exhausted all administrative remedies available within the agency and who is aggrieved by a final decision in a contested case is entitled to judicial review under this Act. This section is cumulative of other means of redress provided by statute.

(b) Proceedings for review are instituted by filing a petition within 30 days after the decision complained of is final and appealable. Unless otherwise provided by statute:

(1) the petition is filed in a District Court of Travis County, Texas;
(2) a copy of the petition must be served on the agency and all parties of record in the proceedings before the agency; and
(3) the filing of the petition vacates an agency decision for which trial de novo is the manner of review authorized by law, but does not affect the enforcement of an agency decision for which another manner of review is authorized.

(c) If the manner of review authorized by law for the decision complained of is by trial de novo, the reviewing court shall try all issues of fact and law in the manner applicable to other civil suits in this state but may not admit in evidence the fact of prior agency action or the nature of that action (except to the limited extent necessary to show compliance with statutory provisions which vest jurisdiction in the court). Any party to a trial de novo review may have, on demand, a jury determination of all issues of fact on which such a determination could be had in other civil suits in this state.

(d) If the manner of review authorized by law for the decision complained of is other than by trial de novo:

(1) after service of the petition on the agency, and within the time permitted for filing an answer (or such additional time as may be allowed by the court), the agency shall transmit to the reviewing court the original or a certified copy of the entire record of the proceeding under review. By stipulation of all parties to the review proceedings, the record may be shortened. A party unreasonably refusing to stipulate to limit the record may be taxed by the court for the additional costs. The court may require or permit subsequent corrections or additions to the record;
(2) any party may apply to the court for leave to present additional evidence and the court, if it is satisfied that the additional evidence is material and that there were good reasons for the failure to present it in the proceeding before the agency, may order that the additional evidence be taken before the agency on conditions determined by the court. The agency may modify its findings and decision by reason of the additional evidence and shall file such evidence and any modifications, new findings, or decisions with the reviewing court;

(3) the review is conducted by the court sitting without a jury and is confined to the record, except that the court may receive evidence of procedural irregularities alleged to have occurred before the agency but which are not reflected in the record.

(e) The scope of judicial review of agency decisions is as provided by the law under which review is sought. Where the law authorizes appeal by trial de novo, the courts shall try the case in the manner applicable to other civil suits in this state and as though there had been no intervening agency action or decision. Where the law authorizes review under the substantial evidence rule, or where the law does not define the scope of judicial review, the court may not substitute its judgment for that of the agency as to the weight of the evidence on questions committed to agency discretion but may affirm the decision of the agency in whole or in part and shall reverse or remand the case for further proceedings if substantial rights of the appellant have been prejudiced because the administrative findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

(1) in violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;
(2) in excess of the statutory authority of the agency;
(3) made upon unlawful procedure;
(4) affected by other error of law;
(5) not reasonably supported by substantial evidence in view of the reliable and probative evidence in the record as a whole; or
(6) arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion or clearly unwarranted exercise of discretion.

Enforcement of Orders, Decisions, and Rules

Sec. 19A. If it appears to an agency that a person is engaging in or is about to engage in a violation of a final order or decision or a rule of the agency or is failing or refusing to comply with a final order or decision or a rule of the agency, the attorney general, on the request of the agency and in addition to any other remedy provided by law, may bring an action in a district court that is authorized by law to exercise judicial review of the final order or decision or the rule to enjoin or restrain the continuation or commencement of the violation or to compel compliance with the final order or decision or the rule.

Appeals

Sec. 20. Appeals from any final judgment of the district court may be taken by any party in the manner provided for in civil actions generally, but no appeal bond may be required of an agency.

Exceptions

Sec. 21. (a) This Act does not apply to suspensions of driver's licenses as authorized in Article IV, Chapter 173, Acts of the 47th Legislature, Regular Session, 1941, as amended (Article 6687b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(b) Sections 12 through 20 of this Act do not apply to the granting, payment, denial, or withdrawal of financial or medical assistance or benefits under service programs of the State Department of Public Welfare.

(c) Sections 12 through 20 of this Act do not apply to the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation in the allocation of grants-in-aid by the department to mental health and mental retardation services provided by community centers.

(d) This Act does not apply to matters related solely to the internal personnel rules and practices of an agency.

(e) Sections 12 through 20 of this Act do not apply to action by the Commissioner of Banking or the State Banking Board with respect to the issuance of a state bank charter for a bank to assume the assets and liabilities of a state bank the commissioner deems to be in an unsafe condition as defined in Section 1, Article 1a, Chapter VIII, Texas Banking Code of 1943.1

(f) Sections 12 through 20 of this Act do not apply to the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles in the conducting of hearings or interviews relating to the grant, rescission, or revocation of parole or other form of administrative release.

(g) Sections 12 through 20 do not apply to hearings by the Texas Employment Commission to determine whether or not a claimant is entitled to unemployment compensation nor shall the remainder of this Act have applicability to other than matters of unemployment insurance maintained by the Texas Employment Commission. In regard to the applicability of Sections 1 through 11, regarding unemployment insurance matters, the agency is precluded from complying with Subdivision (3) of Subsection (a) and Subsection (b) of Section 4 as related to orders and decisions.

1 Article 342-801a, § 1.

Repeal of Conflicting Laws

Sec. 22. Chapter 274, Acts of the 57th Legislature, Regular Session, 1961, as amended (Article 6252-13, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and all other laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed. This Act does not repeal any existing statutory provisions conferring investigatory authority on any agency, including any provision which grants an agency the power, in connection with investigatory authority, to take depositions, administer oaths or affirmations, examine witnesses, receive evidence, conduct hearings, or issue subpoenas or summonses.

Effective Date

Sec. 23. This Act takes effect on January 1, 1976.

Art. 6252-13b. Administrative Code Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the Texas Administrative Code Act.

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this Act:

(1) "Agency" means any state board, commission, department, or officer having statewide jurisdiction, other than an agency wholly financed by federal funds, the legislature, the courts, the Industrial Accident Board, and institutions of higher education, that makes rules or determines contested cases.

(2) "Code" means the Texas Administrative Code established by this Act.

(3) "Rule" means any agency statement of general applicability that implements, interprets, or prescribes law or policy, or describes the procedure or practice requirements of an agency. The term includes the amendment or repeal of a prior rule but does not include statements concerning only the internal management or organization of any agency and not affecting private rights or procedures.

Compilation; Exclusions

Sec. 3. (a) The secretary of state shall compile, index, and cause to be published a Texas Administrative Code. Periodic supplementation of the code shall be made as often as necessary, but not less than once each year. The code shall contain all rules adopted by each agency pursuant to the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act,¹ but shall not contain emergency rules adopted pursuant to Section 10(a)(2) of that Act. The code shall also contain appropriate annotations to judicial decisions and opinions of the Attorney General of the State of Texas.

(b) The secretary of state may omit from the code all rules which are general in form but of such local or limited application as to make their inclusion therein impracticable, undesirable, or unnecessary. The secretary of state may also omit from the code any information the publication of which he deems cumbersome, expensive, or otherwise inexpedient, if the information is made available in printed or processed form by the adopting agency on application for it, and if the code contains a notice stating the general subject matter of the information and the manner in which a copy of it may be obtained. Any such exclusions from publication in the code shall not affect the validity or effectiveness of any rules omitted.

Evidentiary Value

Sec. 4. The codified rules of the agencies published in the Texas Administrative Code, as approved by the secretary of state and as amended by documents subsequently filed with the office of the secretary of state, are to be judicially noticed and constitute prima facie evidence of the text of the documents and of the fact that they are in effect on and after the date of the notation.

Rules

Sec. 5. The secretary of state may promulgate rules to ensure the effective administration of this Act. The rules may include, but are not limited to, rules establishing titles of the code and a system of classification of the subject matter of the code.

Confidentiality of Data Base

Sec. 5A. The data base, which is the machine-readable form of the material prepared for and used in the publication of the Texas Administrative Code, including indexes, annotations, tables of contents, tables of authority, cross-references, compiled rules, and other unique material, is confidential and is exempted from disclosure under the open records law, Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, apply to proposed rules submitted for publication in the Texas Register on or after the effective date of this Act.
Sec. 2. This Act shall not apply to the Supreme Court of Texas or to persons licensed or seeking to be licensed under its authority on behalf of the judicial department of government or to any person who seeks to become or is a peace officer as defined in Article 2.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965.

Sec. 3. All agencies of this state and its political subdivisions with the duty and responsibility of licensing and regulating members of particular trades, occupations, businesses, vocations, or professions shall have the authority to obtain from the Texas Department of Public Safety or from a local law enforcement agency the record of any conviction of any person applying for or holding a license from the requesting agency.

Sec. 4. (a) A licensing authority may suspend or revoke an existing valid license, disqualify a person from receiving a license, or deny to a person the opportunity to be examined for a license because of a person's conviction of a felony or misdemeanor if the crime directly relates to the duties and responsibilities of the licensed occupation.

(b) In determining whether a criminal conviction directly relates to an occupation, the licensing authority shall consider:

(1) the nature and seriousness of the crime;
(2) the relationship of the crime to the purposes for requiring a license to engage in the occupation;
(3) the extent to which a license might offer an opportunity to engage in further criminal activity of the same type as that in which the person previously had been involved; and
(4) the relationship of the crime to the ability, capacity, or fitness required to perform the duties and discharge the responsibilities of the licensed occupation.

(c) In addition to the factors that may be considered under Subsection (b) of this section, the licensing authority, in determining the present fitness of a person who has been convicted of a crime, shall consider the following evidence:

(1) the extent and nature of the person's past criminal activity;
(2) the age of the person at the time of the commission of the crime;
(3) the amount of time that has elapsed since the person's last criminal activity;
(4) the conduct and work activity of the person prior to and following the criminal activity;
(5) evidence of the person's rehabilitation or rehabilitative effort while incarcerated or following release;
(6) other evidence of the person's present fitness, including letters of recommendation from: prosecution, law enforcement, and correctional officers who prosecuted, arrested, or had custodial responsibility for the person; the sheriff and chief of police in the community where the person resides; and any other persons in contact with the convicted person; and
(7) it shall be the responsibility of the applicant to the extent possible to secure and provide to the licensing authority the recommendations of the prosecution, law enforcement, and correctional authorities as required under this Act; the applicant shall also furnish proof in such form as may be required by the licensing authority that he or she has maintained a record of steady employment and has supported his or her dependents and has otherwise maintained a record of good conduct and has paid all outstanding court costs, supervision fees, fines, and restitution as may have been ordered in all criminal cases in which he or she has been convicted.

(d) Proceedings held before a state licensing authority to establish factors contained in this section are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(e) Upon a licensee's felony conviction, felony probation revocation, revocation of parole, or revocation of mandatory supervision, his license shall be revoked.

Art. 6252–13d. Suspension, Revocation, or Denial of License to Persons with Criminal Backgrounds; Guidelines and Application of Law

Sec. 1. [Adds art. 6252–13c]

Sec. 2. If a licensing authority suspends or revokes a valid license or denies a person a license or the opportunity to be examined for a license because of the person's prior conviction of a crime and the relationship of the crime to the license, the licensing authority shall notify the person in writing:

(1) of the reasons for the suspension, revocation, denial, or disqualification;
(2) of the review procedure provided by Section 3 of this Act; and
(3) of the earliest date that the person may appeal.

Sec. 3. (a) A person whose license has been suspended or revoked or who has been denied a license or the opportunity to be examined for a license by a licensing authority, who has exhausted administrative appeals, may file an action in a district court of the county in which the licensing authority is located for review of the evidence presented to the licensing authority and its decision.

(b) The person must begin the judicial review by filing a petition with the court within 30 days after the licensing authority's decision is final and appealable.
Art. 6252-13d PUBLIC OFFICES, OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

Sec. 4. (a) Each licensing authority, shall issue within six months after the effective date of this Act guidelines relating to the actual practice of the authority in carrying out Section 1 of this Act. Amendments to the guidelines, if any, shall be issued annually. These guidelines shall state the reasons particular crimes are considered to relate to particular licenses and any other criteria that affect the decisions of the authority.

(b) The guidelines required by Subsection (a) of this section and issued by state licensing authorities shall be filed with the office of the secretary of state for publication in the Texas Register. Local and county licensing authorities shall post their guidelines at the county courthouse or publish them in a newspaper of countywide circulation.

Sec. 5. This Act shall not supply to those persons licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, State Board of Pharmacy, State Board of Dental Examiners, or The Veterinary Licensing Act (Article 7465a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and who have been convicted of a felony under the Texas Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476-15, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) or the Texas Dangerous Drug Act (Article 4476-14, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Art. 6252-16. Discrimination Against Persons Because of Race, Religion, Color, Sex or National Origin

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 2]

Officers or Employees of Political Subdivisions; Discriminatory Employment Practices; Hearing Procedure

Sec. 2a. (a) A political subdivision of this state may establish a formal procedure by ordinance or other action of the governing body for processing a charge of a discriminatory act or practice prohibited by Section 1(a)(1) or (2) of this Act, against an officer or employee of the political subdivision. The political subdivision which adopts this formal procedure shall have authority to promulgate rules and regulations to effectuate the purpose of this Act.

(b) The procedure must include the following:

(1) Provision for an impartial hearing within a reasonable time after the receipt of a written charge;

(2) Appointment of an impartial hearing officer or board to investigate and determine the validity of the charge;

(3) Delegation of authority to the impartial hearing officer or board to take appropriate corrective action if a violation has occurred, including, but not limited to, reinstatement, hiring, or promotion of the aggrieved individual, with or without back pay, or any other equitable relief necessary to correct and rectify the violation; and

(4) Designation of an officer as the deferral officer to receive notice of alleged unlawful employment practices from the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission as provided for in Public Law 88–352, Title VII, Section 706(c); 78 Stat. 241 (42 U.S.C. 2000e–5).

(e) If a political subdivision establishes a formal procedure in compliance with this section, the deferral officer designated in the procedure shall become the appropriate local official for purposes of receiving the notice as set out in Section 4 of this Act.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 366, ch. 157, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 6252–17. Prohibition on Governmental Bodies From Holding Meetings Which are Closed to the Public

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 2]

Mandamus or Injunction to Prevent Closed Meetings

Sec. 3. Any interested person, including bona fide members of the news media, may commence an action either by mandamus or injunction for the purpose of stopping or preventing violations or threatened violations of this Act by members of a governing body.

Notice of Meetings

Sec. 3A. (a) Written notice of the date, hour, place, and subject of each meeting held by a governmental body shall be given before the meeting as prescribed by this section, and any action taken by a governmental body at a meeting on a subject which was not stated on the agenda in the notice posted for such meeting is voidable. The requirement for notice prescribed by this section does not apply to matters about which specific factual information or a recitation of existing policy is furnished in response to an inquiry made at such meeting, whether such inquiry is made by a member of the general public or by a member of the governmental body. Any deliberation, discussion, or decision with respect to the subject about which inquiry was made shall be limited to a proposal to place such subject on the agenda for a subsequent meeting of such governmental body for which notice has been provided in compliance with this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3A(b) to 3A(d)]

(e) A school district shall have a notice posted on a bulletin board located at a place convenient to the public in its central administrative office and shall give notice by telephone or telegraph to any news media requesting such notice and consenting to pay any and all expenses incurred by the school district in providing special notice.

Distribution of Confidential Information Prohibited

Sec. 10. (a) Information deemed confidential under the terms of this Act shall not be distributed.

(b) A custodian of public records, or his agent, commits an offense if, with criminal negligence, he or his agent fails or refuses to give access to, or to disclose the terms of this Act shall not be distributed.

(c) It is an affirmative defense to prosecution under Subsection (b) of this section that the custodian of public records reasonably believed that the public records sought were not required to be made available to the public and that he:

(1) acted in reasonable reliance upon a court order or a written interpretation of this Act contained in an opinion of a court of record or of the attorney general issued under Section 7 of this Act;

(2) requested a decision from the attorney general in accordance with Section 7 of this Act, and that such decision is pending; or

(3) within three working days of the receipt of a decision by the attorney general that the information is public, filed a cause of action seeking relief from compliance with such decision of the attorney general, and that such cause is pending.

(d) It is an affirmative defense to prosecution under Subsection (b) of this section that the defendant is the agent of a custodian of public records and that the agent reasonably relied on the written instruction of the custodian of public records not to disclose the public records requested.

(e) Any person who violates Section 10(a) or 10(b) of this Act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by confinement in the county jail not to exceed six (6) months or fined in an amount not to exceed $1,000, or by both such fine and confinement. A violation under this section constitutes official misconduct.

Interpretation of this Act

Sec. 14.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 14(a) to (d)]

(e) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to require the release of information contained in education records of any educational agency or institution except in conformity with the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, as enacted by Section 513 of Public Law 93–380, codified as Title 20 U.S.C.A. Section 1232g, as amended.

Art. 6252–18a. Interpreters for Deaf Persons in Proceeding Before Political Subdivisions

(a) In any proceeding before a governing body of a political subdivision in which the legal rights, duties, or privileges of a party are to be determined by the governing body following an adjudicative hearing, the governing body shall supply a party who is deaf with an interpreter having qualifications approved by the State Commission for the Deaf.

(b) In this section:

(1) "Deaf person" means a person who has a hearing impairment, regardless of whether the person also has a speech impairment, that inhibits the person’s comprehension of the proceedings or communication with others.

(2) "Political subdivision" means a county, city, town, village, school district, special purpose district, or other subdivision of state government that has jurisdiction that is limited to a geographical portion of the state.

Art. 6252–19a. Insurance; Operation of Motor Vehicles, Aircraft, Motorboats or Watercraft; Foster Grandparent Program; State Departments and Agencies; Allowance to Employees

Sec. 1. The State Departments or Agencies who own and operate motor vehicles, aircraft and motorboats or watercraft of all types and sizes shall have the authority to insure their officers and employees from liability arising out of the use, operation and maintenance of such automobiles, trucks, tractors, power equipment, aircraft and motorboats or watercraft used or which may be used in the operation of such Department or Agency. Such insurance shall be provided by the purchase of a policy or policies for that purpose from some liability insurance company or companies authorized to transact business in the State of Texas. All liability insurance so purchased shall be provided on a policy form or forms approved by the State Board of Insurance as to form and by the Attorney General as to liability. The
Art. 6252–19a PUBLIC OFFICES, OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES

State Departments and Agencies who receive federal grant funds for a foster grandparent program shall also have the authority to expend those funds to insure the person and property of those foster grandparents as required by the grant.

Art. 6252–19b. Liability of Political Subdivisions for Certain Acts or Omissions of Officers and Employees

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act “employee” includes an elected official and any other officer or employee, a former officer or employee or their estates, of a county, city, town, special purpose district, or any other political subdivision of this state.

Persons and Conduct Covered: Limits on Liability

Sec. 2. (a) A county, city, town, special purpose district, or any other political subdivision of the state may pay actual damages, court costs, and attorney’s fees adjudged against its employee, if damages are based on an act or omission by the employee in the course and scope of his or her employment for such political subdivision and if the damages arise out of a cause of action for negligence, except a wilful or wrongful act or omission or an act or omission constituting gross negligence or for official misconduct.

(b) This Act shall not be construed to waive, repeal, or modify any defense, immunity, or jurisdictional bar available to the political subdivision or its employees, nor shall this Act be construed to waive, repeal, or modify any provision of the Texas Tort Claims Act, as amended (Article 6252–19, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes). The county or political subdivision is not liable under this Act to the extent that damages are recoverable under a contract of insurance or under a plan of self-insurance authorized by statute. Liability of the political subdivision under this Act is limited to $100,000 to a single person and $300,000 for a single occurrence, in the case of personal injury or death, and to $10,000 for a single occurrence of injury of or damage to property.

Defense of Actions

Sec. 3. (a) The political subdivision may provide counsel to represent a defendant in a cause of action covered by this Act. The counsel provided may be the county attorney when the defendant is a county employee or if he is an employee of any other political subdivision an attorney regularly employed by such political subdivision unless there is a potential conflict of interest between the defendant and the county or other political subdivision, in which case the county or other political subdivision may hire private counsel to defend the suit.

(b) Counsel for the county or political subdivision may settle or compromise the portion of a lawsuit that may result in liability of the county or political subdivision under this Act.

(c) In a case defended under this Act, neither the defendant nor the political subdivision may be required to advance security for cost or give bond on appeal or on review by writ of error.

Sec. 4. [Amends § 1 of art. 2372h–7]

Construction Not to Modify Insurance Policies: Rules and Rates

Sec. 5. Section 2 of this Act shall not be construed to modify or change any policy of insurance providing coverage to an officer or employee of a political subdivision. The State Board of Insurance shall promulgate rules and set rates to implement Section 4 of this Act.

[Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1830, ch. 744, §§ 1 to 3, 5, eff. June 13, 1979.]

The repealed article, relating to longevity pay for certain commissioned law-enforcement personnel, was derived from Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1274, ch. 477.

See, now, art. 6813d.

All commissioned law enforcement personnel of the Department of Public Safety, all commissioned law enforcement personnel of the State Purchasing and General Services Commission, all commissioned security officers of the State Treasury, all commissioned law enforcement personnel of the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, all law enforcement officers commissioned by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, all commissioned peace officers of state institutions of higher education, and all law enforcement personnel commissioned by the Texas Department of Corrections are entitled to hazardous duty pay of $6 a month in fiscal year 1982 and $7 a month commencing in fiscal year 1983 and thereafter for each year of service in the respective agency, up to and including 30 years in service. This hazardous duty pay shall be in lieu of existing hazardous duty or longevity pay.

Art. 6252–26. State’s Liability for and Defense of Claims Based on Certain Conduct of State Officers and Employees

Persons and Conduct Covered: Limits on Liability

Sec. 1. (a) The State of Texas is liable for and shall pay actual damages, court costs, and attorney fees adjudged against officers or employees of any agency, institution, or department of the state; against a former officer or employee of an agency, institution, or department of the state who was an officer or employee when the act or omission on which the damages are based occurred; against a physician licensed in this state who is or was performing services under a contract with the Disability Determination Division of the Texas Rehabilitation Commission or the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation when the act or omission on which the damages are based occurred; or against the estate of such a person where the damages are based on an act or omission by the person in the course and scope of his office, contractual performance, or employment for the institution, department, or agency and:

(1) the damages arise out of a cause of action for negligence, except a willful or wrongful act or an act of gross negligence; or

(2) the damages arise out of a cause of action for deprivation of a right, privilege, or immunity secured by the constitution or laws of this state or the United States, except when the court in its judgment or the jury in its verdict finds that the officer, contractor, or employee acted in bad faith.

(b) This Act shall not be construed as a waiver of any defense, immunity, or jurisdictional bar available to the state or its officers, contractors, or employees. The state is not liable under this Act to the extent that damages are recoverable under a contract of insurance or under a plan of self-insurance authorized by statute. State liability under this Act is limited to $100,000 to a single person and $300,000 for a single occurrence, in the case of personal injury or death or the deprivation of a right, privilege, or immunity, and to $10,000 for a single occurrence of injury of or damage to property.

Application of Act

Sec. 2. This Act applies to judgments in all cases filed on or after the effective date of this Act and to all judgments in cases pending on or after the effective date of the Act.

Defense of Actions; Conflict of Interest; Security for Cost or Bond

Sec. 3. (a) The attorney general shall defend a present or former officer, contractor, or employee or his estate in a cause of action covered by this Act. The state is not liable for the defense of an action or for the damages, court costs, or attorney fees unless either the attorney general has been served in the case and the state has been given an opportunity to defend the suit, or the officer, contractor, or employee, former officer, contractor, or employee, or estate against whom the action is brought has delivered to the attorney general all process served on him or it not later than 10 days after the service. The attorney general may settle or compromise the portion of a lawsuit that may result in liability of the state under this Act. It is not a conflict of interest for the attorney general to defend a person or estate under this Act and also to prosecute a legal action against that person or estate as may be required or authorized by law if different assistant attorneys general are assigned the responsibility for each action.

(b) In a case defended by the attorney general under this Act, neither the officer, contractor, employee, former officer, contractor, or employee, estate, or attorney general may be required to advance security for cost or give bond on appeal or on review by writ of error.

Funds for Defense or Prosecution

Sec. 4. No funds other than those appropriated by the legislature from the General Revenue Fund to the attorney general may be used to conduct the defense or prosecution of any action that the attorney general is required to defend or prosecute under the provisions of this Act. The term "conduct of the defense of any action" as used in this section includes, but is not limited to, any steps in the investigation, preparation for trial, and participation in actual trial, including depositions or other discovery, and the preparation of any exhibits or other evidence.

Officer Defined

Sec. 5. A member of the commission, board, or other governing body of an agency, institution, or department is an officer of the agency, institution, or department for purposes of this Act.

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"The law as amended by this Act applies to a judgment awarding damages for a cause of action that arises from an act or omission that occurs on or after the effective date of this Act."

Art. 6252-26a. Medical Malpractice Coverage for University of Texas and Texas A&M University Systems, Texas Tech University, and Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine

Purpose

Sec. 1. It is the purpose of this Act to promote the health and general welfare of the people of the State of Texas by authorizing the board of regents of The University of Texas System, the board of regents of The Texas A&M University System, the board of regents of Texas Tech University School of Medicine, and the board of regents of North Texas State University to provide, as additional compensation and to ensure a proper learning environment, medical malpractice coverage for its medical staff and students as defined in this Act by purchasing insurance or establishing as self-insurance a Medical Professional Liability Fund from which medical malpractice claims and the costs of defending and administering those claims may be satisfied, and such purposes are hereby declared to be in the public interest.
Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Medical staff or students" means medical doctors, doctors of osteopathy, dentists, and podiatrists appointed to the faculty by The University of Texas System, the Texas A&M University System, the Texas Tech University Medical School, or the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine, either full time or who, although appointed less than full time (including volunteers), either devote their total professional service to such appointment or provide services to patients by assignment from the department chairman; and interns, residents, fellows and medical or dental students, and students of osteopathy participating in a patient-care program in The University of Texas System, The Texas A&M University System, the Texas Tech University School of Medicine, or the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine.

(2) "Medical malpractice claim" means a cause of action for treatment, lack of treatment, or other claimed departure from accepted standards of care which proximately results in injury to or death of the patient, whether the patient's claim or cause of action or the executor's claim or cause of action under Article 5525, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, sounds in tort or contract.

(3) "Board" means the board of regents of The University of Texas System, the board of regents of The Texas A&M University System, the board of regents of Texas Tech University, or the board of regents of North Texas State University.

(4) "Fund" means the Medical Professional Liability Fund as established in Section 3 of this Act.

Medical Professional Liability Fund

Sec. 3. (a) Each board is authorized to establish a separate self-insurance fund to pay any damages, adjudged in a court of competent jurisdiction, or a settlement of any medical malpractice claim against a member of the medical staff or students arising from the exercise of his appointment, duties, or training with The University of Texas System, The Texas A&M University System, the Texas Tech University School of Medicine, or the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine.

(b) The boards are authorized to pay from the funds all expenses incurred in the investigation, settlement, defense, or payment of claims described above on behalf of the medical staff or students.

(c) On the establishment of each fund, transfers to the fund shall be made in an amount and at such intervals as determined by the board. Each board is authorized to receive and accept any gifts or donations specified for the purposes of this Act and to deposit such gifts or donations into the fund. Each board may invest money deposited in the fund, and any income received shall be retained in the fund. Such money shall be deposited in any of the approved depository banks of The University of Texas System, The Texas A&M University System, the Texas Tech University School of Medicine, or the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine. All expenditures from the funds shall be paid pursuant to approval by the boards.

Rules

Sec. 4. Each board is authorized to adopt such rules for the establishment and administration of the fund and the negotiation, settlement, and payment of claims as may be necessary in the furtherance of this Act. Each board is authorized to establish by rule reasonable limits on the amount of claims to be paid from the fund or to be provided in purchased insurance.

Purchase of Insurance

Sec. 5. Each board is authorized to purchase medical malpractice insurance from an insurance company authorized to do business in the State of Texas as it deems necessary to carry out the purpose of this Act.

Legal Counsel

Sec. 6. Each board is authorized to employ private legal counsel to represent the medical staff and students covered by this Act pursuant to the rules of the board.

Limitation on Appropriated Funds

Sec. 7. No funds appropriated by the legislature to either system, to the Texas Tech University School of Medicine or to the Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine from the General Revenue Fund may be used to establish or maintain the fund, to purchase insurance, or to employ private legal counsel.

Exemption from Insurance Code; Report

Sec. 8. The establishment and administration of each fund under the authority of this Act and the rules of the boards shall not constitute the business of insurance as defined and regulated in the Insurance Code, as amended; provided, however, the boards of regents shall annually report to the State Board of Insurance information appropriate for carrying out the functions of the State Board of Insurance.

Enactment

Title 110B of the Revised Civil Statutes, Public Retirement Systems, was enacted by § 1 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, effective September 1, 1981. Section 2 thereof amended Vernon's Ann.Civ.St. art. 6252-8b; § 3 repealed enumerated statutes relating to pensions and retirement; and §§ 4 and 5 provided:

"Sec. 4. This Act is intended as a recodification only, and no substantive change in the law is intended by this Act.

"Sec. 5. This Act does not affect:

(1) any right or option authorized by law previously enacted and relating to the establishment, retention, or termination of membership or credit for service in a public retirement system;

(2) any benefit accrued or recomputation of benefits authorized or made by law previously enacted; or

(3) any future payments of benefits accrued or payments recomputed as provided by Subdivision (2) of this section."

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 195, ch. 18, revised provision of Title 110B to conform to laws enacted by the 67th Legislature, Regular Session, and to make formal corrections, generally effective November 10, 1981.
§ 1.001. Purpose of Title

(a) This title is enacted as a part of the state's continuing statutory revision program, begun by the Texas Legislative Council in 1963 as directed by the legislature in Chapter 448, Acts of the 58th Legislature, 1963 (Article 5429b—1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The program contemplates a topic-by-topic revision of the state's general and permanent statute law without substantive change. It is contemplated that this title will be included in the future in a government code.

(b) Consistent with the objectives of the statutory revision program, the purpose of this title is to make the general and permanent public retirement system law more accessible and understandable by:

(1) rearranging the statutes into a more logical order;

(2) employing a format and numbering system designed to facilitate citation of the law and to accommodate future expansion of the law;

(3) eliminating repealed, duplicative, unconstitutional, expired, executed, and other ineffective provisions; and

(4) restating the law in modern American English to the greatest extent possible.

§ 1.002. Construction of Title

The Code Construction Act (Article 5429b—2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) applies to the construction of each provision in this title, except as otherwise expressly provided by this title.

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 12.001. Definitions

In this chapter:

(1) “Governing body of a public retirement system” means the board of trustees, pension board, or other public retirement system governing body that has the fiduciary responsibility for assets of the system and has the duties of overseeing the investment and expenditure of funds of the system and the administration of benefits of the system.

(2) “Public retirement system” means a continuing, organized program of service retirement, disability retirement, or death benefits for officers or employees of the state or a political subdivision, other than a program providing only workers’ compensation benefits, a program administered by the federal government, or:

(A) in Sections 12.104 and 12.105 of this chapter, a program for which benefits are administered by a life insurance company; and

(B) in the rest of this chapter, a program for which the only funding agency is a life insurance company.

§ 12.002. Exemptions

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, the Employees Retirement System of Texas, the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, the Texas County and District Retirement System, and the Texas Municipal Retirement System are exempt from Sections 12.101, 12.102, 12.103(a), 12.103(b), 12.202, 12.203, 12.204, 12.205, 12.206, and 12.207 of this chapter. The Judicial Retirement System of Texas is exempt from all of Subchapters B and C of this chapter except Section 12.105. The optional retirement program governed by Chapter 35 of this title is exempt from all of Subchapters B and C of this chapter except Section 12.106.

(b) If an exempt retirement system or program is required by law to make an actuarial valuation of the assets of the system or program and publish actuarial information about the system or program, the actuary making the valuation and the governing body publishing the information must include the information required by Section 12.101(b) of this subtitle.
§ 12.003. Writ of Mandamus

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, if the governing body of a public retirement system fails or refuses to comply with a requirement of this chapter that applies to it, a person residing in the political subdivision in which the members of the governing body are officers may file a motion, petition, or other appropriate pleading in a district court having jurisdiction in a county in which the political subdivision is located in whole or in part, for a writ of mandamus to compel the governing body to comply with the applicable requirement.

(b) If the governing body of the Employees Retirement System of Texas, the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, the Texas Municipal Retirement System, or the Texas County and District Retirement System fails or refuses to comply with a requirement of this chapter that applies to it, any resident of the state may file a pleading in a district court in Travis County to compel the governing body to comply with the applicable requirement.

(c) If the prevailing party in an action under this section is other than the governing body of a public retirement system, the court may award reasonable attorney’s fees and costs of suit.

(d) The State Pension Review Board may file an appropriate pleading, in the manner provided by this section for filing by an individual, for the purpose of enforcing a requirement of Subchapter B or C of this chapter, other than a requirement of Section 12.101(a), 12.101(d), 12.102, 12.108(a), or 12.104.

§ 12.01. Actuarial Valuation

(a) The governing body of a public retirement system shall employ an actuary, as a full-time or part-time employee or as a consultant, to make a valuation at least once every three years of the assets and liabilities of the system on the basis of assumptions and methods that are reasonable in the aggregate, considering the experience of the program and reasonable expectations, and that, in combination, offer the actuary’s best estimate of anticipated experience under the program.

(b) On the basis of the valuation, the actuary shall make recommendations to the governing body of the public retirement system to ensure the actuarial soundness of the system. In making recommendations, the actuary shall define each actuarial term and enumerate and explain each actuarial assumption used in making the valuation. This information must be included either in the actuarial study or in a separate report made available as a public record.

(c) The governing body of a public retirement system shall file with the State Pension Review Board a copy of each actuarial study and each separate report made as required by law.

(d) An actuary employed under this section must be a fellow of the American Academy of Actuaries, or an enrolled actuary under the Federal Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

§ 12.102. Audit

The governing body of a public retirement system shall have the accounts of the system audited at least annually by a certified public accountant.

§ 12.103. Annual Report

(a) The governing body of a public retirement system shall publish an annual report showing the financial condition of the system as of the last day of the 12-month period covered in the report. The report must include statements showing:

1. receipts and disbursements during the 12-month period;
2. changes in various accounts within the system during the period;
3. the investments of the system as of the last day of the period; and
4. the actuarial condition of the system based on the most recent actuarial valuation of the system.

(b) In a statement of actuarial condition required by this section, a governing body must include the information required by Section 12.101(b) of this subtitle.

(c) The governing body of a public retirement system shall file with the State Pension Review Board a copy of each annual report it makes as required by law.

(d) A public retirement system shall maintain for public review in its main office and at such other locations as the retirement system considers appropriate copies of the most recent annual report published by the system.

§ 12.104. Report to State Pension Review Board

(a) Each public retirement system annually shall submit a report to the State Pension Review Board.

(b) A report required by this section must contain summaries of:

1. the benefits available to, or on behalf of, a person who retires under the system or dies while a member or retiree of the system;
§ 12.104  TITLE 110B

(2) the current financial status of the system, including the most recent audited financial data for the Employees Retirement System of Texas, the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, the Texas Municipal Retirement System, and the Texas County and District Retirement System; and

(3) the actuarial condition of the system based on the most recent actuarial study of the system.

(c) A public retirement system shall submit the report required by this section before the 180th day after the last day of the fiscal year under which that system operates.

§ 12.105. Registration

(a) Each public retirement system shall register with the State Pension Review Board and the Legislative Budget Board. A public retirement system created after August 31, 1981, shall register before the 91st day after the date of creation, and a public retirement system in existence on August 31, 1981, shall register before January 1, 1982.

(b) A registration form submitted to each board must include:

(1) the name of the public retirement system;

(2) the names and occupations of the chairman and other members of its governing body; and

(3) a citation of the law under which the system was created.

(c) A public retirement system shall notify each board of changes in information required under Subsection (b) of this section before the 31st day after the day the change occurs.

(d) Each public retirement system shall submit, between January 1 and January 31 and between July 1 and July 31 of each year, a semiannual report to the State Pension Review Board containing the number of members and retirees of that system according to the most recent information available to the system. The first report is due not later than January 31, 1982.

§ 12.106. Information to Member or Annuitant

(a) When a person becomes a member of a public retirement system, the system shall provide the person:

(1) a summary of the benefits from the retirement system available to or on behalf of a person who retires or dies while a member or retiree of the system; and

(2) a summary of procedures for claiming or choosing the benefits available from the retirement system.

(b) A public retirement system shall distribute to each active member and retiree a summary of any significant change that is made in statutes or ordinances governing the retirement system and that affects contributions, benefits, or eligibility. A distribution must be made before the 271st day after the day the change is adopted.

(c) A public retirement system annually shall provide to each active member a statement of the amount of the member's accumulated contributions and to each annuitant a statement of the amount of payments made to the annuitant by the system during the preceding 12 months.

(d) A public retirement system shall provide to each active member and annuitant a summary of the financial condition of the retirement system, if the actuary of the system determines, based on a computation of advanced funding of actuarial costs, that the financing arrangement of the system is inadequate. The actuarial determination must be disclosed to members and annuitants at the time annual statements are next provided under Subsection (c) of this section after the determination is made. An actuary who makes a determination under this subsection must have at least five years of experience working with one or more public retirement systems and be a fellow of the Society of Actuaries, a member of the American Academy of Actuaries, or an enrolled actuary under the federal Employees Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

(e) A member not currently contributing to a particular public retirement system is entitled on written request to receive from that system a copy of any document required by this section to be furnished to a member who is actively contributing.

(f) The governing body of a public retirement system composed of participating subdivisions or municipalities may provide one copy of any document it prepares under this section to each affected participating subdivision or municipality. Each participating subdivision or municipality shall distribute the information contained in the document to its employee members and annuitants, as applicable.

(g) Information required by this section may be contained, at the discretion of the public retirement system providing the information, in one or more separate documents. The information must be stated to the greatest extent practicable in terms understandable to a typical member of the public retirement system.

[Sections 12.107 to 12.200 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER C. ADMINISTRATION OF ASSETS

§ 12.201. Assets in Trust

The governing body of a public retirement system shall hold or cause to be held in trust the assets appropriated or dedicated to the system, for the benefit of the members and retirees of the system and their beneficiaries.

§ 12.202. Investment of Surplus

(a) The governing body of a public retirement system is responsible for the management and administration of the funds of the system.

(b) When, in the opinion of the governing body, a surplus of funds exists in accounts of a public retirement system over the amount needed to make payments as they become due within the next year, the governing body shall deposit all or as much of the surplus as the governing body considers prudent in a reserve fund for investment.

(c) The governing body shall determine the procedure it finds most efficient and beneficial for the management of the reserve fund of the system. The governing body may directly manage the investments of the system or may choose and contract for professional investment management services.

§ 12.203. Fiduciary Responsibility

(a) In making and supervising investments of the reserve fund of a public retirement system, an investment manager or the governing body shall discharge its duties solely in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries:

(1) for the exclusive purposes of:
   (A) providing benefits to participants and their beneficiaries; and
   (B) defraying reasonable expenses of administering the system;

(2) with the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the prevailing circumstances that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with matters of the type would use in the conduct of an enterprise with a like character and like aims;

(3) by diversifying the investments of the system to minimize the risk of large losses, unless under the circumstances it is clearly prudent not to do so; and

(4) in accordance with the documents and instruments governing the system to the extent that the documents and instruments are consistent with this subchapter.

(b) In choosing and contracting for professional investment management services and in continuing the use of an investment manager, the governing body must act prudently and in the interest of the participants and beneficiaries of the public retirement system.

(c) A trustee is not liable for the acts or omissions of an investment manager appointed under Section 12.204 of this subtitle, nor is a trustee obligated to invest or otherwise manage any asset of the system subject to management by the investment manager.

(d) An investment manager appointed under Section 12.204 of this subtitle shall acknowledge in writing the manager’s fiduciary responsibilities to the fund the manager is appointed to serve.

(e) The investment standards provided by Subsection (a) of this section and the policies, requirements, and restrictions adopted under Section 12.204(c) of this subtitle are the only standards, policies, or requirements for, or restrictions on, the investment of funds of a public retirement system by an investment manager or by a governing body during a 90-day interim between professional investment management services. Any other standard, policy, requirement, or restriction provided by law is suspended and not applicable during a time, and for 90 days after a time, in which an investment manager is responsible for investment of a reserve fund. If an investment manager has not begun managing investments of a reserve fund before the 91st day after the date of termination of the services of a previous investment manager, the standards, policies, requirements, and restrictions otherwise provided by law are applicable until the date professional investment management services are resumed.

§ 12.204. Investment Manager

(a) The governing body of a public retirement system may appoint investment managers for the system by contracting for professional investment management services with one or more organizations, which may include a bank if it has a trust department, that are in the business of managing investments.

(b) To be eligible for appointment under this section, an investment manager must be:

(1) registered under the federal Investment Advisors Act of 1940;

(2) a bank as defined by that Act; or

(3) an insurance company qualified to perform investment services under the laws of more than one state.

(c) In a contract made under this section, the governing body shall specify any policies, requirements, or restrictions, including criteria for determining the quality of investments and for the use of standard rating services, that the governing body adopts for investments of the system.

(d) A political subdivision of which members of the public retirement system are officers or employees may pay all or part of the cost of professional investment management services under a contract under this section. Any cost not paid directly by a political subdivision is payable from funds of the public retirement system.

§ 12.205. Investment Custody Account

(a) If the governing body of a public retirement system contracts for professional investment man-
§ 12.205

§ 12.206. Evaluation of Investment Services

(a) The governing body of a public retirement system may at any time and shall at frequent intervals monitor the investments made by any investment manager for the system. The governing body may contract for professional evaluation services to fulfill this requirement.

(b) A political subdivision of which members of the retirement system are officers or employees may pay all or part of the cost of bank services under a custody account agreement under this section. Any cost not paid directly by a political subdivision is payable from funds of the public retirement system.

§ 12.207. Custody and Use of Funds

(a) An investment manager other than a bank having a contract with a public retirement system under Section 12.204 of this subtitle may not be a custodian of any assets of the reserve fund of the system.

(b) When demands of the public retirement system require, the governing body shall withdraw from a custodian of system funds money for use in paying benefits to members and other beneficiaries of the system and for other uses authorized by this subchapter and approved by the governing body.

§ 12.208. When Actuarial Analysis Required

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (f) of this section, a bill or resolution that proposes to change the amount or number of benefits or participation in benefits of a public retirement system or that proposes to change a fund liability of a public retirement system is required to have attached to it an actuarial analysis as provided by this subchapter.

(b) An actuarial analysis required by this section must be prepared by an actuary who is a fellow of the Society of Actuaries, a member of the American Academy of Actuaries, or an enrolled actuary under the federal Employees Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

(c) A required actuarial analysis must be attached to the bill or resolution:

1. at the time it is filed for introduction in either house of the legislature and before a committee hearing on the bill or resolution is held; and
2. at the time it is reported from a legislative committee of either house for consideration by the full membership of a house of the legislature.

(d) An actuarial analysis must remain with the bill or resolution to which it is attached throughout the legislative process, including the process of submission to the governor.

(e) A bill or resolution for which an actuarial analysis is required is exempt from the requirement of a fiscal note as provided by Chapter 284, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 5429c-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(f) An actuarial analysis not required for a bill or resolution that proposes to have an economic effect on a public retirement system only by providing new or increased administrative duties.

§ 12.302. Action by State Pension Review Board

(a) When a bill or resolution for which an actuarial analysis is required is filed for introduction in either house of the legislature, the office in which the proposed legislation is filed shall send a copy of the bill or resolution, accompanied by an actuarial analysis as required by Section 12.301(c)(1) of this subtitle, to the State Pension Review Board.

(b) The State Pension Review Board may have a second actuary either review the actuarial analysis accompanying the bill or resolution or prepare a separate actuarial analysis.

(c) An actuary who reviews or prepares an analysis for the State Pension Review Board must have at least five years of experience as an actuary working with one or more public retirement systems and must be a fellow of the Society of Actuaries, a member of the American Academy of Actuaries, or an enrolled actuary under the federal Employees Retirement Income Security Act of 1974.

§ 12.303. Contents of Actuarial Analysis

(a) An actuarial analysis must show the economic effect of the bill or resolution on the public retirement system affected, including a projection of the annual cost to the system of implementing the legislation for at least 10 years. If the bill or resolution applies to more than one public retirement system, the cost estimates in the analysis may be limited to each affected state-financed public retirement system and each affected public retirement system in a city having a population of 200,000 or more.

(b) An actuarial analysis must include a statement of the actuarial assumptions and methods of computation used in the analysis and a statement of whether or not the bill or resolution, if enacted, will make the affected public retirement system actuarially unsound or, in the case of a system already actuarially unsound, more unsound.

(c) The projection of the effect of the bill or resolution on the actuarial soundness of the system must be based on a computation of advanced funding of actuarial costs.

§ 12.304. Cost of Actuarial Analysis

The state may not pay the cost of a required actuarial analysis that is prepared for a public retirement system not financed by the state, except that a sponsor of the bill or resolution for which the analysis is prepared may pay the cost of preparation out of funds available for the sponsor's personal or office expenses.

CHAPTER 13. PROPORTIONATE RETIREMENT PROGRAM

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 13.001. Definitions

In this chapter:

(1) "Combined service credit" means the total of a person's service credit in only those statewide retirement systems for which the total satisfies the length-of-service requirements for service retirement at the person's attained age, and does not include:

(A) any service credit in a retirement system for which the total of a person's service credit does not satisfy the length-of-service requirements for service retirement at the person's attained age; or

(B) service credit earned with or allowed by a subdivision or municipality not participating in the program provided by this chapter.

(2) "Service credit" means service that is in a person's account in a statewide retirement system and that may be used to meet length-of-service requirements for service retirement in that system.

(3) "Statewide retirement system" means the Employees Retirement System of Texas, the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, the Judicial Retirement System of Texas, the Texas County and District Retirement System, or the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

§ 13.002. Purpose of Chapter

The purpose of this chapter is to implement the authority granted the legislature by Article XVI, Section 67, of the Texas Constitution to provide a program of proportionate benefits to qualified members of more than one statewide retirement system. It is contrary to the purpose of this chapter for a person or class of persons to receive, because of service in more than one statewide retirement system, proportionately greater benefits from a particular system than a person who has rendered faithful career service under that one system.

§ 13.003. Construction of Chapter

The provisions of this chapter are exceptions to the other laws governing statewide retirement systems and prevail over those laws to the extent of explicit conflict, but this chapter must be construed strictly as against those laws.
§ 13.101. Participation by Retirement Systems

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, each statewide retirement system is required to participate in the program of proportionate retirement benefits provided by this chapter.

(b) A subdivision participating in the Texas County and District Retirement System or a municipality participating in the Texas Municipal Retirement System is not required to participate in the proportionate retirement program if the subdivision or municipality elected not to participate under the authority of former law and has not revoked the election under Subsection (c) of this section.

(c) A subdivision or municipality that elected not to participate in the proportionate retirement program may revoke the election and elect to participate. An election to participate may be made by vote of the governing body of the subdivision or municipality in the manner required for official actions of the governing body. The governing body shall send notice of an election to participate to the board of trustees of the retirement system in which the subdivision or municipality participates.

(d) The effective date of participation in the proportionate retirement program by a subdivision or municipality electing to participate under Subsection (c) of this section is the first day of the month after the month in which the appropriate board of trustees receives notice of an election.

(e) Participation in the proportionate retirement program includes all persons who are members of a statewide retirement system and, in the case of members of the Texas County and District Retirement System or the Texas Municipal Retirement System, who are also employees or former employees of a subdivision or municipality participating in the proportionate retirement program.

§ 13.102. Retirement System Membership

(a) Membership in a statewide retirement system does not terminate because of absence from service covered by that system during a period for which the member earns service credit in another statewide retirement system for service performed for an employer other than a subdivision or municipality not participating in the program provided by this chapter.

(b) A person may continue membership in a statewide retirement system while absent from service with all statewide retirement systems if the person would be eligible, under the laws governing that system, to continue membership if the person's combined service credit had been earned in that system.

(c) In this section, a person's absence from service begins on the day after the last day of service covered by any statewide retirement system.

§ 13.201. Retirement Eligibility Based on Combined Service Credit

(a) A person who has membership in two or more statewide retirement systems is subject to the laws governing each of those systems for determination of the person's eligibility for service retirement benefits from each system, except that, for the purpose of determining whether a person meets the length-of-service requirements for service retirement of a system, the person's combined service credit must be considered as if it were all credited in each system.

(b) A person's combined service credit is usable only in determining eligibility for service retirement benefits and may not be used in determining:

1. eligibility for disability retirement benefits, death benefits, or any type of benefit other than service retirement benefits; or

2. the amount of any type of benefit.

(c) A person receiving service retirement or lifetime disability retirement benefits from one or more statewide retirement systems may use the program provided by this chapter to qualify for subsequent service retirement under another statewide retirement system in which the person has service credit, if the person was not eligible to retire under the latter system at the time of previous service retirement, or qualification for lifetime disability retirement benefits, from a statewide retirement system, or if the person's previous retirement was not based on combined service credit.

(d) Service credit earned with or allowed by more than one statewide retirement system for the same period of time may be counted only once in determining the amount of a person's combined service credit.

The board of trustees of the Employees Retirement System of Texas by rule may:

1. consider the classes of service in the Employees Retirement System of Texas as if they were, for purposes of this chapter, classes in separate statewide retirement systems; or

2. permit a person who is retiring exclusively from retirement systems administered by the board to use the shortest length-of-service requirement provided for retirement in any class in which the person has service credit.

[Sections 13.103 to 13.200 reserved for expansion]
§ 13.301. Computation of Benefits Generally
The amount of a benefit payable by a statewide retirement system is determined according to and in the manner prescribed by laws governing that system and is based solely on a person's service credit in that system.

§ 13.302. Computation of Certain Benefits
(a) If payable to or on behalf of a person who has used combined service credit to qualify for benefits from at least one statewide retirement system, each of the following types of benefits must be computed as provided by Subsection (b) of this section:
(1) a base retirement annuity that does not vary in amount directly with the amount of a person's service credit;
(2) a fixed lump-sum death benefit payable on the death of a retiree;
(3) any death benefit payable on the death of a retiree who received service retirement benefits; and
(4) a survivor benefit payable to a beneficiary of a deceased retiree of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas.
(b) The amount of a benefit payable under Subsection (a) of this section by a statewide retirement system is determined according to and in the basis of only the service that is credited in that system. The percentage applied is equal to the amount of service credit in that system, divided by the amount of service credit that would be or would have been required for the benefit if the person retired or had retired on the basis of only the service that is credited in that system.

§ 13.303. Computation of Benefits for a Member of a Combined System
(a) Each statewide retirement system shall cooperate with the other statewide retirement systems in the implementation of the proportionate retirement program.

§ 13.402. Records
Records of members and beneficiaries of a statewide retirement system that are in the custody of the system are considered to be personnel records and confidential information under Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 6252—17a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that the records or information in the records may be transferred between statewide retirement systems to the extent necessary to administer the proportionate retirement program provided by this chapter.

§ 13.403. Employees Retirement System Report
Before December 16 of each even-numbered year, the Employees Retirement System of Texas shall report to the governor and the Legislative Budget Board the current and long-range fiscal and actuarial effects of the proportionate retirement program on that system and shall include in its biennial budget estimates a reasonable amount for reimbursement of expenses incurred by the system in performing duties required of the system under this chapter.

SUBTITLE C. EMPLOYEES RETIREMENT SYSTEM OF TEXAS

CHAPTER 21. GENERAL PROVISIONS

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 21.001. Definitions
In this subtitle:
(1) "Accumulated contributions" means the total of amounts in a member's individual account in the employees saving fund, including:
(A) amounts deducted from the compensation of the member;
(B) other member deposits required to be placed in the member's individual account; and
(C) interest credited to amounts in the member's individual account.

(2) "Actuarially reduced annuity" means an annuity payable on retirement or death occurring before a normal retirement age, the amount of which is determined by computing, using the amount of the member's service credit, the standard service retirement annuity payable at a normal retirement age and reducing it, under tables adopted by the board, by the factor applicable because of the attained age of the member.

(3) "Annuity" means an amount of money payable in monthly installments for a guaranteed period or for life, as determined by this subtitle.

(4) "Appointed officer or employee" means a person who holds a position that requires adherence to laws and rules of the state applicable to its employees, and who is paid a salary from state funds.

(5) "Board of trustees" means the persons appointed or elected under Subchapter A of Chapter 25 of this subtitle to administer the retirement system.

(6) "Combined retirement annuity" means the amount payable on retirement for service credited as a member of the employee class of membership plus any supplemental amount payable from the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund.

(7) "Compensation" means the base salary of a person plus longevity and hazardous duty pay and includes nonmonetary compensation, the value of which is determined by the retirement system, but excludes overtime pay.

(8) "Custodial officer" means a member of the retirement system who is employed by the Texas Department of Corrections and certified by that department as having normal duties with the department that require the person to supervise and have direct contact with inmates of that institution.

(9) "Law enforcement officer" means a member of the retirement system who has been commissioned as a law enforcement officer by the Department of Public Safety, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, the State Purchasing and General Services Commission, Capitol Area Security Force, or the Parks and Wildlife Department and who is recognized as a commissioned law enforcement officer by the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education.

(10) "Membership service" means service in a position included in a class of membership, including service performed in the position before holders of the position were eligible or required to be members of the retirement system.

(11) "Normal retirement age" means an age at which a member is entitled to receive a service retirement annuity without reduction because of age.

(12) "Occupational death or disability" means death or disability from an injury or disease that directly results from a specific act or occurrence determinable by a definite time and place, and directly results from an inherent risk or hazard peculiar to a duty that arises from and in the course of state employment.

(13) "Position" means an office held by an elected or appointed officer or a job or other regular employment held by an employee, which office, job, or employment is included in a class of membership.

(14) "Retiree" means a person who, except as provided by Section 22.208 or 24.209 of this subtitle, receives an annuity based on service that was credited to the person in a class of membership.

(15) "Retirement system" means the Employees Retirement System of Texas.

(16) "Service credit" means the amount of membership and military service ascribed to a person's account in the retirement system for which all required contributions have been made to, and are being held by, the retirement system.

(17) "Temporary employee" means a person who has a position only until another person can be hired, only for the duration of a project scheduled to end less than six months after the date of hiring, only until a specific date less than six months after the date of hiring, or only until a volume of work is completed that is estimated to be completed in less than six months after the date of hiring.

§ 21.002. Purpose of Subtitle
The purpose of this subtitle is to establish a program of benefits for members, retirees, and other beneficiaries of the retirement system and to establish rules for the management and operation of the retirement system.

§ 21.003. Retirement System
The retirement system is a public entity. The Employees Retirement System of Texas is the name by which all its business shall be transacted, all its funds invested, and all its cash, securities, and other property held.

§ 21.004. Powers and Privileges
The retirement system has the powers, privileges, and immunities of a corporation, as well as the powers, privileges, and immunities conferred by this subtitle.

§ 21.005. Exemption From Execution

All retirement annuity payments, optional benefit payments, member contributions, money in the various retirement system funds, and rights accrued or accruing under this subtitle to any person are exempt from garnishment, attachment, state and local taxation, levies, sales, and any other process, and are unassignable except as provided by Section 23.103 of this subtitle.

§ 21.005. Exemption From Execution

All retirement annuity payments, optional benefit payments, member contributions, money in the various retirement system funds, and rights accrued or accruing under this subtitle to any person are exempt from garnishment, attachment, state and local taxation, levies, sales, and any other process, and are unassignable except as provided by Section 23.103 of this subtitle.

All retirement annuity payments, optional benefit payments, member contributions, money in the various retirement system funds, and rights accrued or accruing under this subtitle to any person are exempt from garnishment, attachment, state and local taxation, levies, sales, and any other process, and are unassignable except as provided by Section 23.103 of this subtitle.

SUBCHAPTER B. PENAL PROVISIONS

§ 21.101. Conversion of Funds; Fraud

(a) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly or intentionally confiscates, misappropriates, or converts funds representing deductions from a member's salary either before or after the funds are received by the retirement system.

(b) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly or intentionally makes a false statement or falsifies or permits to be falsified any record of the retirement system in an attempt to defraud the retirement system.

(c) A member commits an offense if the member knowingly receives as a salary money that should have been deducted as provided by this subtitle from the member's salary.

(d) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly or intentionally violates an applicable requirement of this subtitle other than one described by Subsection (a), (b), or (c) of this section.

§ 21.102. Penalties

(a) An offense under Section 21.101(a) or 21.101(b) of this subtitle is a felony punishable by imprisonment in the Texas Department of Corrections for not less than one nor more than five years.

(b) An offense under Section 21.101(c) of this subtitle is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $5,000.

(c) An offense under Section 21.101(d) of this subtitle is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000.

CHAPTER 22. MEMBERSHIP

SUBCHAPTER A. MEMBERSHIP

§ 22.001. Membership Classes

The two classes of membership in the retirement system are the elected class and the employee class.

§ 22.002. Membership in Elected Class

(a) Membership in the elected class of the retirement system is limited to:

(1) persons who hold state offices that are normally filled by statewide election and that are not included in the coverage of the Judicial Retirement System of Texas;

(2) members of the legislature; and

(3) district and criminal district attorneys, to the extent that they receive salaries from the state general revenue fund.

(b) Membership in the elected class is optional.

(c) An eligible person becomes a member of the elected class by filing a notice of intention to become a member with the board of trustees on a form prescribed by the board.

§ 22.003. Membership in Employee Class

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, membership in the employee class of the retirement system includes all employees and appointed officers of every department, commission, board, agency, or institution of the state except:

(1) independent contractors and their employees performing work for the state;

(2) persons disqualified from membership under Section 22.201 of this subtitle; and

(3) persons disqualified from membership under Section 22.004 of this subtitle.
(b) An office or employment that is included in the coverage of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas or the Judicial Retirement System of Texas is not a position with a department, commission, board, agency, or institution of the state for purposes of this subtitle.

(c) Membership in the employee class is mandatory for eligible persons.

(d) Membership in the employee class begins on the first day a person is employed or holds office.

§ 22.004. Temporary Employees Over 65

(a) A person who is at least 65 years old, who is not a member of the retirement system, and who is hired as a temporary employee may not become a member of the retirement system during the first six months of employment.

(b) A person described by Subsection (a) of this section becomes a member of the retirement system on the first day of the seventh calendar month in which the person is employed.

(c) Contributions based on service as a temporary employee who is at least 65 years old may not be paid to the retirement system until the employee is a member of the system and elects to establish credit as provided by Section 23.202 of this subtitle.

§ 22.005. Termination of Membership

(a) A person terminates membership in the retirement system by:

(1) death;

(2) retirement based on service credited in all classes of membership in which the person has service credit; or

(3) withdrawal of all of the person's accumulated contributions.

(b) A person terminates membership in one class of membership by:

(1) retirement based on service credited in the class; or

(2) withdrawal of the person's accumulated contributions for service credited in the class.

(c) A person may terminate membership in one class and retain membership in the other.

§ 22.006. Termination of Membership

(a) A person terminates membership in the retirement system by:

(1) death;

(2) retirement based on service credited in all classes of membership in which the person has service credit; or

(3) withdrawal of all of the person's accumulated contributions.

(b) A person terminates membership in one class of membership by:

(1) retirement based on service credited in the class; or

(2) withdrawal of the person's accumulated contributions for service credited in the class.

(c) A person may terminate membership in one class and retain membership in the other.

§ 22.011. Criteria for Withdrawal

(a) A member of the retirement system may withdraw all of the member's accumulated contributions for service credited in the employee class of membership if:

(1) the member does not hold a position included in that class;

(2) the member does not assume or resume, during the calendar month following the month in which the member terminates employment, a position included in that class; and

(3) the member's application for withdrawal is filed before the member assumes or resumes a position included in that class.

(b) A member of the retirement system currently contributing in the elected class of membership may at any time stop contributing and withdraw his or her contributions made for service credited in that class.

§ 22.102. Procedure for Withdrawal

A member initiates a withdrawal of contributions by filing an application for a refund with the retirement system or the agency or department with which the member holds or most recently held a position.

§ 22.103. Effect of Withdrawal

A withdrawal of contributions cancels a member's service credit and terminates his or her membership in, and all rights to benefits from, each class from which the withdrawal is made.

§ 22.104. Deposits Refundable

(a) Deposits representing interest or membership fees that are required of a member to establish service credit under Section 23.202, 23.302, 23.402, or 23.502 of this subtitle are not refundable.

(b) Deposits representing accumulated contributions are refundable to the member on application for a refund made as provided by Section 22.102 of this subtitle.
(1) is required to become or remain a member if the position is included in the employee class; or
(2) may elect to become or remain a member if the position is included in the elected class.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

(a) The payment of benefits to a retiree is not affected by:
(1) the retiree’s taking a position included in a class of membership other than a class from which the person retired; or
(2) the retiree’s serving the state as an independent contractor.
(b) The payment of benefits to a retiree for service credited in the employee class of membership is not affected by the retiree’s taking, for six months or less within any fiscal year, a position included in the employee class.

§ 22.203. Benefits Affected
(a) The retirement system shall suspend annuity payments to a retiree for service that was credited to the retiree in the employee class if the retiree holds a position included in the employee class for more than six months in any one fiscal year:
(1) until the retiree no longer holds a position included in the employee class; or
(2) until the next fiscal year, whichever comes first.
(b) In determining the number of months a retiree has held a position included in the employee class, the retirement system shall consider as a full month any part of a month for which the retiree receives compensation for service in the position.
(c) Time during which retirement benefit payments are suspended as provided by this section does not reduce the number of months payments are to be made under an optional benefit plan providing for a specific amount of benefits for a guaranteed number of months after retirement.
(d) If a retiree takes the oath for a position included in the elected class of membership, the retirement system shall suspend annuity payments to the person for service that was credited in that class, until the person no longer holds that position.

§ 22.204. Notice
(a) Before a retiree begins work in a position included in the employee class of membership, the retiree and the head of the department, commission, board, agency, or institution at which the retiree will resume state service each shall notify the retirement system in writing of the retiree’s name, the taking of a position, and the projected dates of service.
(b) Before a retiree from the elected class of membership takes the oath of office for a position included in that class, the retiree shall notify the retirement system in writing of the taking of a position and the projected dates of service.

CHAPTER 23. CREDITABLE SERVICE
SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 23.001. Types of Creditable Service
The types of service creditable in the retirement system are membership service and military service.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 23.002. Service Creditable in a Year
The board of trustees by rule shall determine how much service in any year is equivalent to one year of creditable service, but in no case may all of a person’s service in one year be creditable as more than one year of service.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 23.003 to 23.100 reserved for expansion]
§ 23.101. Determination of Required Deposits

The retirement system shall determine in each case the amount of money to be deposited by a member claiming credit for membership or military service previously canceled or not previously established. The system may not provide benefits based on the claimed service until the determined amount has been fully paid.

§ 23.102. Service Credit Previously Canceled

(a) A member who has withdrawn contributions and canceled service credit in a class of membership may, if eligible as provided by Section 23.403 or 23.504 of this subtitle, reestablish the canceled service credit in the retirement system.

(b) A member may reestablish credit by depositing with the retirement system in a lump sum the amount withdrawn from a membership class, plus all membership fees due, plus interest computed on the basis of the state fiscal year at an annual rate of five percent from the date of withdrawal to the date of redeposit.

§ 23.103. Loan to Establish Service

(a) A member who is retiring, who previously waived membership in the retirement system, and who held a position included in the employee class of membership for at least 60 of the 120 months immediately preceding September 1, 1977, may assign retirement benefits to secure a loan for the sole purpose of establishing service credit in the system.

(b) At the time a member establishes credit under this section, the retirement system shall grant the member service credit for any membership service performed before September 1, 1947, that is not already credited.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]
[Sections 23.104 to 23.200 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER C. ESTABLISHMENT OF MEMBERSHIP SERVICE

§ 23.201. Current Service

Service is credited in the applicable membership class for each month in which a member holds a position and for which the required contributions are made by the member and the state.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, any member may establish service credit in the retirement system for membership service not previously established.

(b) Membership service not previously credited because of a waiting period required before September 1, 1958, may be established only by a contributing member.

(c) Except as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, a member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system in a lump sum a contribution computed as provided by Section 23.404 or 23.505 of this subtitle, plus all membership fees due, plus interest computed on the basis of the state fiscal year at an annual rate of 10 percent from the date the service was performed to the date of deposit.

(d) A member claiming credit for service not previously creditable because of a waiting period required before September 1, 1958, is exempt from the payment of interest on the required contribution if the member establishes the credit before the first anniversary of the person's becoming a member of the retirement system.

(e) The state shall contribute for service established under this section an amount in the same ratio to the member's contribution for the service as the state's contribution bears to the contribution for current service required of a member of the employee class at the time the service is established under this section.
[Sections 23.203 to 23.300 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. ESTABLISHMENT OF MILITARY SERVICE

§ 23.301. Creditable Military Service

(a) Military service creditable in the retirement system is active federal duty as a member of the armed forces of the United States during a time, or within 12 months after a time, that the United States is or was engaged in:

(1) organized conflict, whether a state of war or a police action involving conflict with foreign forces; or

(2) a crisis in this country.

(b) The board of trustees by rule shall determine the periods recognized for purposes of this subtitle as times of organized conflict or crisis.

(c) A member may not establish more than 60 months of service credit in the retirement system for military service.
§ 23.302. Military Service Not Previously Established

(a) An eligible member may establish service credit in the retirement system for military service performed that is creditable as provided by Section 23.301 of this subtitle.

(b) A member eligible to establish military service credit is one who:

1. does not receive and is not eligible to receive federal retirement payments based on 20 years or more of active federal military duty or its equivalent; and

2. has been released from military duty under conditions not dishonorable.

(c) A member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system in a lump sum a contribution computed as provided by Section 23.404 or 23.505 of this subtitle, plus, if the member does not establish the credit before the first anniversary of the date of first eligibility, interest computed on the basis of the state fiscal year at an annual rate of 10 percent from the date of first eligibility to the date of deposit.

(d) The state shall contribute for service established under this section an amount in the same ratio to the member's contribution for the service as the state's contribution bears to the contribution for current service required of a member of the employee class at the time the service is established under this section. The state's contribution shall be paid from the fund from which the member received compensation for the first full month of membership service after the date of release from active duty.

(e) The board of trustees may require members applying for credit under this section to submit any information the board finds necessary to enable it to determine eligibility for or amount of service or amounts of required contributions.

§ 23.303. Service Credited to Membership Class

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section or Section 23.304(d) of this subtitle, military service is creditable in a class of membership that includes a position held by the member who performed the service after the date of release from active military duty.

(b) Military service performed by a person who was a contributing member immediately before the date the member began military duty may be credited, at the option of the member, in the class of membership that includes the position held by the member immediately before the date the member began the military duty.

§ 23.304. Use of Military Service Credit

(a) The retirement system shall use military service credit in computing occupational disability retirement benefits and death benefits and in determining eligibility to select an optional death benefit plan.

(b) The retirement system shall use military service credit established before January 1, 1978, in computing service retirement or nonoccupational disability retirement benefits only if the member has, without military service credit, at least 10 years of service credit in the employee class or at least 6 years of service credit in the elected class.

(c) The retirement system shall use military service credit established on or after January 1, 1978, in computing service retirement or nonoccupational disability retirement benefits only if the member who has the military service credit has enough service credit, exclusive of the military service credit, to be eligible for service retirement benefits at age 60.

(d) The board of trustees by rule may permit a person who retires with at least 10 years of service credit, excluding military service credit, to receive service retirement benefits as an elected officer for the percentage of the person's military service credit, but not more than 100 percent, that is derived by dividing the number of months served as an elected officer by 96 months.

[Sections 23.305 to 23.400 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER E. PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO ELECTED CLASS

§ 23.401. Service Creditable in Elected Class

Service creditable in the elected class of membership is:

1. membership service in an office included in that class; and

2. military service established as provided by Subchapter D of this chapter.

§ 23.402. Credit for Year in Which Eligible for Office

(a) A member may establish service credit in the elected class for any calendar year during any part of which:

1. the member held an office included in that class; or

2. the member was eligible to take the oath for an office included in that class.

(b) A member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system in a lump sum a contribution computed as provided by Section 23.404 of this subtitle, plus all membership fees due, plus interest computed at an annual rate of
§ 23.402 TITLE 110B 4150

10 percent from the fiscal year in which the service was performed to the date of deposit. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 23.403. Eligibility for Service Credit Previously Canceled

A member may, under Section 23.102(b) of this subtitle, reestablish service credit previously canceled if the member, after cancellation of the credit, takes an oath of office for a position included in the elected class. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 23.404. Contributions for Service Not Previously Established

For each month of membership or military service not previously credited in the retirement system, a member claiming credit in the elected class shall pay a contribution in an amount equal to the greater of:

1. eight percent of the monthly salary paid to members of the legislature at the time the credit is established; or
2. six percent of the monthly state salary paid to a person who holds, at the time the credit is established, the office for which credit is sought. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Subchapter F. Provisions Applicable to Employee Class

§ 23.501. Service Creditable in Employee Class

Service creditable in the employee class of membership is:

1. membership service in a position included in that class;
2. military service established as provided by Subchapter D of this chapter;
3. service creditable in or transferred from the elected class as provided by Section 23.503 of this subtitle; and
4. administrative board service established as provided by Section 23.502 of this subtitle. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 23.502. Administrative Board Service

(a) A member who established during December, 1977, service credit for administrative board service performed during that month, may:

1. remain a contributing member of the retirement system accruing service credit in the employee class for continuous service on an eligible board; and
2. establish service credit for previous service on an eligible board.

(b) Contributions for administrative board service are computed on the basis of the highest salary paid during the time for which credit is sought to an officer or employee of the agency, commission, or department on whose board the member serves. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 23.503. Credit Transferable From Elected to Employee Class

A member may establish in, or have transferred to, the employee class all service credited in the elected class, if the contributions made to establish the service in the elected class equal or exceed contributions required of a member of the employee class for the same amount of service during the same time and at the same rate of compensation. The member before retirement may transfer the service credit back to the elected class. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 199, ch. 18, § 12, eff. Nov. 10, 1981.]

§ 23.504. Eligibility for Service Credit Previously Canceled

A member may reestablish service credit previously canceled if the member, after cancellation of the credit, holds a position for 24 months that is included in the employee class. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 23.505. Contributions for Service Not Previously Established

(a) A member claiming credit in the employee class for membership service not previously established shall, for each month of the service, pay a contribution in an amount equal to the greater of:

1. six percent of the member’s monthly state compensation for the service during the time for which credit is sought; or
2. $18.

(b) A member claiming credit in the employee class for military service not previously established shall, for each month of the service, pay a contribution in an amount equal to the greater of:

1. six percent of the member’s monthly state compensation for the first full month of membership service that is after the member’s date of release from active military duty; or

CHAPTER 24. BENEFITS

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section
24.001. Types of Benefits.
§ 24.001. Types of Benefits

The types of benefits payable by the retirement system are:

(1) service retirement benefits;
(2) occupational disability retirement benefits;
(3) nonoccupational disability retirement benefits; and
(4) death benefits.

§ 24.002. Benefits From Both Membership Classes

(a) If a member has service credit in both classes of membership, is eligible to retire from one class, and does not hold a position included in the other class, the member may retire from both classes and receive benefits based on all service credited in the retirement system.

(b) If a member is retiring and uses service credited in a class of membership to meet a length-of-service requirement for retirement, the member must retire from that class.

§ 24.003. Effective Date of Retirement

(a) The effective date of a member’s service retirement is the date the member designates at the time the member applies for retirement as provided by Section 24.101 of this subtitle, but the date must be the last day of the calendar month.

(b) If a person elects to receive a standard service retirement annuity and dies during the first calendar month that begins after the effective date of the person’s retirement, the person is considered to have been a contributing member at the time of death.

(c) The retirement system may allow an applicant for retirement time after the effective date of the person’s retirement to make a selection of a retirement annuity. If the applicant dies within the time allowed without having given the retirement system notice of a selection, the person is considered to have been a contributing member at the time of death.

(d) The effective date of a member’s disability retirement is the date designated on the application for retirement filed by or for the member as provided by Section 24.201 of this subtitle, but the date must be the last day of a calendar month.

§ 24.004. When Benefits Are Payable

An annuity provided by this chapter accrues for the period beginning on the first day of the month that begins after the month in which a person dies or retires, as applicable, and ending, except as otherwise provided by this chapter, on the day the person who receives the annuity dies.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 24.005 to 24.100 reserved for expansion]
§ 24.102 Eligibility of Elected Member for Service Retirement

(a) Except as provided by rule adopted under Section 23.304(d) of this subtitle or Section 13.202(2) of Subtitle B of this title, a member who has service credit in the elected class of membership is eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity if the member:

(1) is at least 60 years old and has 8 years of service credit in that class; or

(2) is at least 55 years old and has 12 years of service credit in that class.

(b) A member who has service credit in the elected class is eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity actuarially reduced from the standard service retirement annuity available under Subsection (a)(2) of this section, if the member is at least 50 years old and has 30 years of service credit in that class.

(d) A member who is at least 55 years old and who has at least 10 years of service credit as a commissioned peace officer engaged in criminal law enforcement activities of the Department of Public Safety, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, the State Purchasing and General Services Commission, Capitol Area Security Force, or the Parks and Wildlife Department, or as a custodial officer, is eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity.

§ 24.103 Service Retirement Benefits for Elected Class Service

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, the standard service retirement annuity for service credited in the elected class of membership is an amount equal to the number of years of service credit in that class, times two percent of the state salary, as adjusted from time to time, being paid a district judge.

(b) The standard service retirement annuity for service credited in the elected class may not exceed at any time 60 percent of the state salary being paid a district judge.

§ 24.104 Eligibility of Employee Member for Service Retirement

(a) Except as provided by rule adopted under Section 23.304(d) of this subtitle or Section 13.202(2) of Subtitle B of this title, a member who has service credit in the employee class of membership is eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity, if the member:

(1) is at least 60 years old and has 10 years of service credit in that class; or

(2) is at least 55 years old and has 30 years of service credit in that class.

(b) A member who has service credit in the employee class is eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity actuarially reduced from the standard service retirement annuity available under Subsection (a)(1) of this section, if the member is at least 55 years old and has 25 years of service credit in that class.

(c) A member who has service credit in the employee class is eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity computed as provided by this section, the standard service retirement annuity for the 36 highest months of compensation during the last 60 months of service, times 1.5 percent for each of the first 10 years of service credit in the class, plus 2 percent for each subsequent year of service credit in that class.

§ 24.105 Service Retirement Benefits for Employee Class Service

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, the standard service retirement annuity for service credited in the employee class of membership is an amount computed on the basis of the member's average monthly compensation for service in that class for the 36 highest months of compensation during the last 60 months of service, times 1.5 percent for each of the first 10 years of service credit in the class, plus 2 percent for each subsequent year of service credit in that class.

(b) The standard service retirement annuity for service credited in the employee class may not be less than $75 a month nor more than 80 percent of the average monthly compensation computed under Subsection (a) of this section.

§ 24.106 Service Retirement Benefits for Certain Legislative Employees

(a) A member who has at least 30 years of service credit in the retirement system and who meets an applicable age requirement in Section 24.104 of this subtitle is eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity computed as provided by this section, if the member has at least eight years of service credit in one or more of the following legislative positions and held one of the positions before January 1, 1978:

(1) house administrative officer;

(2) house chief clerk;

(3) house journal clerk;

(4) house enrolling and engrossing clerk;

(5) house calendar clerk;

(6) house sergeant at arms;

(7) secretary of the senate;

(8) senate calendar clerk;

(9) senate journal clerk;

(10) senate enrolling and engrossing clerk; or

(11) senate sergeant at arms.
(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, the standard service retirement annuity payable under this section is an amount computed on the basis of the member's average monthly compensation for the 36 highest months of compensation during the last 60 months of service, times 2 percent for each year of service credit in the retirement system.

(c) The standard service retirement annuity under this section may not exceed 80 percent of the average monthly compensation computed under Subsection (b) of this section.

§ 24.107. Service Retirement Benefits for Certain Peace Officers

(a) A member who has at least 20 years of service credit as a law enforcement or custodial officer is eligible to retire regardless of age and receive a service retirement annuity as provided by this section.

(b) The standard combined service retirement annuity payable for at least 20 years of service credit as a law enforcement or custodial officer is an amount computed on the basis of the member's average monthly compensation for that service for the 36 highest months of compensation during the last 60 months of service, times a percentage derived from the following table:

(c) The portion of the standard combined service retirement annuity that is payable from the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund is based on retirement at the age of 55 or older. A law enforcement or custodial officer who retires before attaining the age of 55 is entitled to that portion actuarially reduced from the annuity available at the age of 55 to the earlier retirement age.

(d) A member who retires under this section retires simultaneously from the employee class of membership, although the person must meet the applicable age requirements of Section 24.104 of this subtitle before becoming entitled to receive a service retirement annuity under Section 24.105 of this subtitle. Optional retirement annuities provided by Section 24.108 of this subtitle are available to a member eligible to receive a service retirement annuity under this section, but the same optional plan and designee must be selected for the portion of the annuity payable under this section and the portion payable under Section 24.105 of this subtitle.

(e) The portion of a combined service retirement annuity payable under this section from money in the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund is the amount remaining after deduction of any amount payable for service as a law enforcement or custodial officer under Section 24.105 of this subtitle from the total derived under Subsections (b) and (c) of this section.

(f) The standard combined service retirement annuity payable for at least 20 years of service credit as a law enforcement or custodial officer may not exceed 80 percent of the higher of the average compensation computed under Section 24.105 of this subtitle or the average compensation computed under Subsection (b) of this section.

(g) For purposes of this section, service as a law enforcement or custodial officer is creditable as provided by rule of the board of trustees or on a month-to-month basis, whichever is greater.

(h) If Section 25.405 of this subtitle is held to be invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction and the decision becomes final, an annuity may not be paid under this section.

§ 24.108. Optional Service Retirement Benefits

(a) Instead of the standard service retirement annuity payable under Section 24.103, 24.105, or 24.106 of this subtitle, the standard combined service retirement annuity payable under Section 24.107 of this subtitle, or an annuity actuarially reduced because of age under one of those sections, a retiring member may elect to receive an optional service retirement annuity under this section.
§ 24.108

(b) A person who selects an optional lifetime retirement annuity must designate before the selection becomes effective one person to receive the annuity on the death of the person making the selection. A person who selects an optional retirement annuity payable for a guaranteed period any designate, before or after retirement, one or more persons to receive the annuity on the death of the person making the selection.

(c) An eligible person may select any optional retirement annuity approved by the board of trustees, or may select one of the following options, which provide that:

(1) after the retiree's death, the reduced annuity is payable in the same amount throughout the life of the person designated by the retiree before retirement;

(2) after the retiree's death, one-half of the reduced annuity is payable throughout the life of the person designated by the retiree before retirement;

(3) if the retiree dies before 60 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 60 payments are payable to one or more designees or, if one does not exist, to the retiree's estate; or

(4) if the retiree dies before 120 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 120 payments are payable to one or more designees or, if one does not exist, to the retiree's estate.

(d) The computation of an optional annuity must be made without regard to the sex of the annuitant or designee involved.

SUBCHAPTER C. DISABILITY RETIREMENT BENEFITS

§ 24.201. Application for Disability Retirement Benefits

(a) A member may apply for a disability retirement annuity by:

(1) filing an application for retirement with the board of trustees; or

(2) having an application filed with the board by the member's spouse, employer, or legal representative.

(b) An application for a disability retirement annuity may not be made more than 90 days before the date the disability retirement is to become effective.

(c) An applicant must submit to medical examination and provide other pertinent information as required by the retirement system.

§ 24.202. Eligibility for Disability Retirement

(a) A member is eligible to retire for a nonoccupational disability if the member is less than 60 years old and has at least:

(1) 8 years of membership service credit in the elected class of membership;

(2) 6 years of membership service credit in the elected class plus 2 years of military service credit established before January 1, 1978; or

(3) 10 years of membership service credit in the employee class of membership.

(b) A member who has service credit in either membership class is eligible to retire for an occupational disability regardless of age or amount of service credit.

(c) A member otherwise eligible may not receive a disability retirement annuity unless the member is the subject of a certification issued as provided by Section 24.203 of this subtitle.

§ 24.203. Certification of Disability

As soon as practicable after an application for disability retirement is filed, the medical board shall evaluate the medical and other pertinent information regarding the member's application. If the medical board finds that the member is mentally or physically incapacitated for the further performance of duty, that the incapacity is likely to be permanent, and that the members should be retired, the medical board shall issue a certification of disability and submit it to the executive director.

§ 24.204. Information About Occupational Disability

(a) A member who applies for retirement for an occupational disability shall furnish the retirement system all information and other data requested by the retirement system and relating to the disability.

(b) The retirement system may require information and other data relating to an occupational disability retirement application to be furnished by any officer or employee of the agency with which the applicant holds a position.

(c) If a person who is requested to submit information or other data under this section withholds the requested material, the retirement system may elect to treat the application as one for nonoccupational disability retirement benefits.

(d) After receiving information and other data the retirement system considers necessary, the executive director shall determine, subject to review by the board of trustees, whether or not the disability is occupational.

§ 24.205. Disability Retirement Benefits for Elected Class Service

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, a disability retirement annuity for service credited in the elected class of membership is an amount computed in the same manner as the standard service retirement annuity, not reduced because of age, for service credited in the elected class.

(b) An occupational disability retirement annuity for service credited in the elected class is computed on the basis of the amount of the member’s service credit or eight years, whichever is greater.

(c) A person who retires under this section may not select an optional retirement plan instead of the standard retirement annuity.

§ 24.206. Disability Retirement Benefits for Employee Class Service

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section and Section 24.207 of this subtitle, a disability retirement annuity for service credited in the employee class of membership is an amount computed at the rate of 1.7 percent for each year of service credit in that class, times:

(1) the member’s monthly compensation at the time of the disabling injury or disease, if the disability is occupational; or

(2) the member’s average monthly compensation for service in the employee class for the 60 highest months of compensation during the last 120 months of service, if the disability is nonoccupational.

(b) A disability retirement annuity under this section may not be more than 70 percent of the applicable rate of compensation nor less than 35 percent of the applicable rate or $110 a month, whichever is greater.

§ 24.207. Disability Retirement Benefits for Certain Peace Officers

(a) An annuity payable because of an occupational disability that directly results from a risk or hazard to which law enforcement or custodial officers are exposed because of the nature of law enforcement or custodial duties is payable under the same terms and conditions that apply to other occupational disability retirement annuities under this subtitle, except that the source and amount of the annuity are as provided by this section.

(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, an occupational disability retirement annuity under this section is an amount, but not more than 80 percent, computed on the basis of the officer’s monthly compensation at the time of the disabling injury or disease, times a percentage derived by application of the table provided by Section 24.107(b) of this subtitle.

(e) A disability retirement annuity under this section is not reducible because of age and may not be less than 50 percent of the officer’s monthly compensation regardless of the amount of service credited to the officer in the employee class.

(d) The portion of the annuity under this section payable from the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund is the amount remaining after deduction of any amount payable under Section 24.206 of this subtitle except the portion of an amount that exceeds the minimum payments provided by Section 24.206(b) of this subtitle and that is made for service other than as a law enforcement or custodial officer.

(e) If Section 25.405 of this subtitle is held to be invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction and the decision becomes final, an annuity may not be paid under this section.

§ 24.208. Medical Examination of Disability Retiree

(a) Once each year during the first five years after a member retires for disability, and once in each three-year period after that, the retirement system may require a disability retiree who is less than 60 years old to undergo a medical examination.

(b) An examination under this section may be held at the retiree’s residence or at any place mutually agreed to by the retirement system and the retiree. The retirement system may designate a physician to perform the examination.

(c) If a disability retiree refuses to submit to a medical examination as provided by this section, the executive director shall discontinue the retiree’s annuity payments until the retiree submits to an examination. If a retiree has not submitted to an examination as provided by this section before the first anniversary of the date of first refusal, the executive director shall revoke all rights of the retiree to an annuity.

§ 24.209. Modification of Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) If the medical board finds that a disability retiree is no longer mentally or physically incapacitated for the performance of duty or is able to engage in employment, it shall certify its findings and submit them to the executive director.

(b) If the executive director concurs in a certification under this section or finds that the retiree is engaged in employment, the director shall adjust the monthly payments to the retiree who is the subject of the certification or finding to an amount by which the retiree’s average monthly compensation during the last year of service as a member exceeds the retiree’s present monthly earning capacity, including the amount of the retiree's monthly annuity paid by the retirement system, as determined by the director. If the retiree's present earning capacity exceeds the average salary during the last year of membership service, the executive director shall reduce the amount of annuity payments to the retiree to the amount of the retiree's average monthly compensation during the last year of membership service.

(c) If the executive director finds, from time to time, a change in the retiree's earning capacity, the director shall adjust the retiree's annuity payments in the same manner that the original adjustment was made.

(d) The amount of an annuity adjusted under this section may not be more than the total of the amount of the annuity determined at the time of retirement plus increases provided by law after the date of retirement.

§ 24.210. Restoration of Disability Retiree to Active Service

(a) If a retiree who is less than 60 years old and who is receiving a disability retirement annuity returns to state service or if the retiree is found to be no longer incapacitated for the further performance of duty, the person must again become a member of the retirement system or, if the person holds a position included in the elected class of membership, may elect to become a member. If a person becomes a member under this section, the board of trustees shall terminate the person's annuity payments.

(b) A person who becomes a member under this section is entitled to service credit for all service previously established and not canceled by a withdrawal of contributions.

§ 24.211. Refund at Annuity Discontinuance

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, if a disability retirement annuity is discontinued under Section 24.208 of this subtitle, the retiree is entitled to a lump-sum payment from the retirement annuity reserve fund in an amount, if any, by which the amount in the retiree's individual account in the employees saving fund at the time of disability retirement exceeds the amount of payments payable before the date the annuity was discontinued.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is not payable to a retiree who, after discontinuance of a disability retirement annuity, returns to state service.

[Sections 24.212 to 24.300 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. DEATH BENEFIT ANNUITIES

§ 24.301. Selection of Death Benefit Plan by Member

(a) A contributing member who has at least 10 years of service credit in the elected class of membership, or a noncontributing member who has at least 12 years of service credit in the elected class, may select a death benefit plan for the payment, if the member dies while eligible to select a plan, of a death benefit annuity to a person designated by the member. Death benefit annuities available for selection by a member described in this subsection are the optional annuities provided by Sections 24.108(c)(1) and 24.108(c)(4) of this subtitle, payable as if the member had retired at the time of death.

(b) A member who has a total of at least 20 years of service credit in retirement systems administered by the board of trustees may select a death benefit plan for the payment, if the member dies while eligible to select a plan, of a death benefit annuity to a person designated by the member. Death benefit annuities available for selection by a member described in this subsection are the optional annuities provided by Section 24.108(c) of this subtitle and, if the member has service credit in another retirement system administered by the board, any optional death benefit plan provided under that system.

(c) If a member of a retirement system administered by the board of trustees selects death benefit plans under more than one board-administered retirement system, each plan selected may take effect. The plan selected most recently governs payments based on service in a system other than the one in which the plan was selected if the amount of service credit in that other system, by itself, would be insufficient to permit selection of a death benefit plan. If a member selects a death benefit plan under only one retirement system administered by the board of trustees, the plan applies to service credit in other board-administered retirement systems.

(d) The computation of a death benefit annuity selected under this section must include the ages of the member and the member's designated beneficiary at the time of the member's death.

(e) A member may select a death benefit plan by filing an application for a plan with the retirement system on a form prescribed by the retirement system. After selection, a death benefit plan takes effect at death unless the member amends the plan, selects a retirement annuity at the time of retirement, has chosen a plan that cannot take effect, or becomes ineligible to select a plan.

§ 24.302. Selection of Death Benefit Plan by Survivor of Member

(a) If a member eligible to select a death benefit plan under Section 24.301 of this subtitle dies with-
§ 24.403. Effect of Disability Retirement on Death Benefit Plan

(a) At the time of death of a person who was receiving a disability retirement annuity, a death benefit annuity selected by the retiree while a member takes effect.

(b) If the retiree had not selected a death benefit plan before retirement or if the plan cannot be made effective, a death benefit annuity may not be paid under this subsection.

§ 24.404. Annuity for Survivor of Elected Member

(a) Except as provided by Subsections (b) and (c) of this section, if a member who has at least eight years of service credit in the elected class of membership dies, a death benefit annuity is payable in an amount computed at the rate of one-half of the standard service retirement annuity to which the member would have been entitled at the member’s age at the time of death or at the age of 60, whichever is later.

(b) The annuity provided by this section is payable only to the member’s surviving spouse. If the member is not survived by a spouse, a benefit may not be paid under this section.

(c) An annuity may not be paid under this section if, at the time of death, the member was eligible to select a death benefit annuity under Section 24.301 of this subtitle.

beneficiary does not survive the member, the benefit is payable to the member's estate.

(c) A death benefit may not be paid under this section if, at the time of death, the member was eligible to select a death benefit annuity under Section 24.301 of this subtitle.

[Sections 24.404 to 24.500 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER F. RETIREE DEATH BENEFITS

§ 24.501. Retiree Death Benefits Generally

(a) A lump-sum death benefit in the amount of $5,000 is payable if the board of trustees receives proof satisfactory to it of the death, on or after September 1, 1975, of a person retired under a retirement system administered by the board.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable to a person designated by the retiree in a signed and witnessed document filed with the retirement system. If a retiree does not designate a beneficiary or if the beneficiary does not survive the retiree, the benefit is payable to the retiree's estate.

§ 24.502. Disability Retiree Death Benefits

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, if a person who receives a disability retirement annuity dies, a lump-sum death benefit is payable in the manner provided by Section 24.401 of this subtitle, except that the amount is computed at the rate of five percent of the amount in the retiree's individual account in the employees saving fund at the time of disability retirement, times the number of full years of service credit the retiree had at the time of retirement.

(b) A death benefit may not be paid under this section if, at the time of death, the member was eligible to select a death benefit annuity under Section 24.301 of this subtitle.

§ 24.503. Occupational Disability Retiree Death Benefits

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, if a person who receives an occupational disability retirement annuity dies and the executive director determines that the death was an occupational death, a lump-sum death benefit is payable from the state accumulation fund in an amount equal to one year's salary, computed on the basis of the retiree's rate of compensation at the time of disability retirement.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable only to the retiree's surviving spouse or, if there is no surviving spouse, to the guardian of the retiree's surviving dependent minor children. If the retiree is not survived by a spouse or dependent minor children, a benefit may not be paid under this section.

§ 24.504. Return of Excess Contributions

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, if a person who receives a disability retirement annuity dies, a lump-sum death benefit is payable from the retirement annuity reserve fund in an amount, if any, by which the amount in the retiree's individual account in the employees saving fund at the time of disability retirement exceeds the amount of annuity payments payable before the retiree's death.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable to a person designated by the retiree in a signed and witnessed document filed with the retirement system. If a retiree does not designate a beneficiary or if the beneficiary does not survive the retiree, the benefit is payable to the retiree's estate.

(c) A death benefit may not be paid under this section if, at the time of death, the member was eligible to select a death benefit annuity under Section 24.301 of this subtitle.

SUBCHAPTER G. INCREASES IN BENEFITS

§ 24.601. Annuity Increase After Death or Retirement

(a) Except as provided by Subsections (b) and (e) of this section, on the first day of each fiscal year, the retirement system shall increase the amounts of annuities that are:

(1) computed as provided by Section 24.105 of this subtitle or a predecessor to that section, Section 24.206 of this subtitle or a predecessor to that section, or if the standard annuity is derived from Section 24.105 or a predecessor, as provided by Section 24.108 of this subtitle or a predecessor to that section;

(2) based on service that was credited in the retirement system as employee class service; and

(3) payable to a retiree of the retirement system, to the survivor of a deceased member of the retirement system.

(b) The retirement system may not increase under this section the amount of an annuity unless the retirement or death on which the annuity is based occurred before the first day of the preceding fiscal year.

(c) The legislature may appropriate money from the general revenue fund to pay the costs of increasing the amounts of annuities under this section. On the first day of each fiscal year, the state comptroller of public accounts shall transfer to the retirement system any money appropriated for the fiscal year for the purpose of this section.

(d) If the amount of money appropriated for a fiscal year is insufficient to finance the rate of increase in annuities specified in the act making the appropriation or if the act fails to specify a rate of increase, the board of trustees shall set the rate as the rate that the amount of money appropriated will finance for the duration of the annuities payable to those persons entitled to receive an increase in annuities under this section.

(e) If an appropriation is not made for a fiscal year for the purpose of this section, the retirement system may not increase under this section the amount of annuities for that year.

(c) Elected trustees hold office for staggered terms of six years, with the term of one trustee expiring on August 31 of each odd-numbered year.

(d) The board shall hold elections for the members to nominate and elect a trustee before August 1 of each odd-numbered year. The board shall make ballots available to members of the retirement system and all votes must be cast on those ballots.

(e) A person elected to the board of trustees must subscribe to the constitutional oath and the oath of office provided by this section is required to serve on the board.

(f) The board shall fill vacancies of elected positions on the board for the unexpired terms.

(g) A person elected to the board as provided by this section is required to serve on the board.

§ 25.004. Oath of Office

(a) Before taking office as a member of the board of trustees, a person shall subscribe to the following oath of office:

I do solemnly swear that I will, to the best of my ability, discharge the duties of a trustee of the employees retirement system, that I will diligently and honestly administer the affairs of the board of trustees of the retirement system, and that I will not knowingly violate or willingly permit to be violated any of the laws applicable to the retirement system.

(b) A person may subscribe to the oath of office before any officer qualified to administer oaths in the state and shall file the subscribed oath in the office of the secretary of state.

§ 25.005. Application of Sunset Act

The board of trustees is subject to the Texas Sunset Act (Article 5429k, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), but is not abolished under that Act. The board shall be reviewed under that Act during the period in which state agencies abolished effective September 1, 1989, and every 12th year after that date are reviewed.

§ 25.006. Compensation; Expenses

(a) Trustees who are contributing members of the retirement system serve without compensation but are entitled to reimbursement for all necessary expenses that they incur in the performance of official board duties.

(b) Subject to the approval of the board of trustees, trustees who are not contributing members of the retirement system may receive:

(1) compensation; and

(2) all necessary expenses that they incur in the performance of official board duties.

§ 25.007. Voting

(a) Each trustee is entitled to one vote.

(b) At any meeting of the board, a majority of the members present is necessary for a decision by the trustees.

[Sections 25.008 to 25.100 reserved for expansion]
§ 25.105. Adopting Tables
The board of trustees shall adopt mortality, service, and other tables the board considers necessary for the retirement system after considering the results of the actuary’s investigation of the mortality, service, and compensation experience of the system’s members and beneficiaries.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 25.106. Interest Rate for Benefit Increase Reserve Fund
After consulting with the actuary, the board of trustees shall set a rate of interest that represents a reasonable recognition of earnings from investment of assets in the benefit increase reserve fund.

§ 25.107. Records of Board of Trustees
The board shall keep a record of all of its proceedings. Records of the board are open to public inspection.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 25.108. Report
Annually, the retirement system shall publish a report containing the following information:
(1) the retirement system’s fiscal transactions of the preceding fiscal year;
(2) the amount of the system’s accumulated cash and securities; and
(3) the balance sheet showing the financial condition of the system for the preceding fiscal year.

§ 25.109. Correction of Errors
If an error in the records of the retirement system results in a person receiving more or less money than the person is entitled to receive under this subtitle, the retirement system shall correct the error and so far as practicable shall adjust future payments so that the actuarial equivalent of the benefit to which the person is entitled is paid.
[Sections 25.110 to 25.200 reserved for expansion]
§ 25.206. Actuary

(a) The board of trustees shall designate an actuary.

(b) The actuary must be thoroughly qualified to be the technical adviser of the board of trustees on matters concerning operation of the funds of the retirement system.

(c) At least once every five years the actuary, under the direction of the board of trustees, shall:

(1) make an actuarial investigation of the mortality, service, and compensation experience of the members and beneficiaries of the retirement system; and

(2) make a valuation of the assets and liabilities of the retirement system's funds.

(d) On the basis of tables adopted by the board of trustees under Section 25.105 of this subtitle, the actuary shall make a valuation of the assets and liabilities of the retirement system's funds annually.

(e) The actuary shall perform such other duties as are required by the board of trustees.

§ 25.207. State Treasurer

(a) The state treasurer is the custodian of the securities, bonds, and funds of the retirement system.

(b) The state treasurer shall pay money from the funds of the retirement system on warrants drawn by the comptroller supported only on vouchers signed by the executive director and the chairman of the board of trustees or their authorized representatives.

(c) The state treasurer annually shall furnish to the board of trustees a sworn statement of the amount of the retirement system's assets in the treasurer's custody.

§ 25.208. Compensation of Employees; Payment of Expenses

(a) The board of trustees shall compensate all persons whom it employs and shall pay all expenses necessary to operate the retirement system at rates and in amounts approved by the board. Those rates and amounts may not exceed those paid for the same or similar service for the state.

(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, the board of trustees shall pay compensation and expenses required by Subsection (a) of this section from the expense fund.

(c) The board of trustees shall make payments from the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund for services rendered by the actuary for that fund and approved by the board.

§ 25.209. Surety Bonds

(a) The state treasurer shall give a surety bond in the amount of $50,000.

(b) The executive director shall give a surety bond in the amount of $25,000.

(c) The board of trustees may require any trustee or employee of the board, other than the executive director, to give a surety bond in an amount determined by the board. The bond is conditioned on the bonded person's faithful execution of the duties of his or her office.

(d) All surety bonds must be:

(1) made with a commercially sound and solvent surety company that is authorized to do business in the state;

(2) made payable to the board of trustees; and

(3) approved by the board of trustees and the attorney general of the state.

(e) The board of trustees shall pay from the expense fund all expenses for the execution of a bond under this section, including premiums.

Except for an interest in retirement funds as a member of the retirement system, a trustee or employee of the board of trustees may not have a direct or indirect interest in the gains or profits of any investment made by the board and may not receive any pay or emolument for services other than his or her designated compensation and authorized expenses.

[Sections 25.211 to 25.300 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. MANAGEMENT OF ASSETS

§ 25.301. Investment of Assets

(a) The board of trustees shall:

(1) invest the assets of the retirement system, other than assets of the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund, as a single fund without distinction as to their source; and

(2) hold securities purchased with the assets described by Subsection (a)(1) of this section collectively for the proportionate benefit of all funds, other than the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund, and accounts of the system.

(b) Except for assets of the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund, the board of trustees may invest and reinvest any of the retirement system's assets in the following:
§ 25.302. Investment of Law Enforcement and Custodial Officer Supplemental Retirement Fund Assets

The executive director, as authorized by the board of trustees, may invest and reinvest the money in the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund that exceeds the amount necessary for current operations in the following securities:

1. interest-bearing bonds of the United States or any authority or agency of the United States;
2. any security on which the United States or any authority or agency of the United States guarantees the payment of principal and interest;
3. corporate bonds or debentures of a company that is incorporated in the United States and is rated "A" or better by a nationally recognized bond rating service approved by the board of trustees; and
4. short-term securities approved by the board of trustees.

§ 25.303. Restrictions on Investments

(a) The board of trustees may not invest in the stock of one corporation more than one percent of the book value of the total assets of the retirement system, excluding the assets of the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund.

(b) The retirement system may not own more than five percent of the voting stock of one corporation.

(c) At any particular time, 25 percent or more of the book value of the assets of the retirement system, excluding the assets of the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund, must be invested in government securities described by Section 25.301(b)(1) of this subtitle.

§ 25.304. Duty of Care

In making investments for the retirement system, the board of trustees or the executive director shall exercise the judgment and care, under the circumstances prevailing at the time of the investment, that persons of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in speculation but when making a permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income from the disposition and the probable safety of their capital.

§ 25.305. Cash on Hand

(a) The board of trustees shall keep a sufficient amount of cash on hand to make payments as they become due each year under the retirement system.

(b) The amount of cash on hand may not exceed 10 percent of the total amount in the funds of the retirement system on deposit with the state treasurer, excluding the assets of the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund.

§ 25.306. Crediting System Assets

All assets of the retirement system shall be credited, according to the purpose for which they are held, to one of the following funds:

1. employees saving fund;
2. state accumulation fund;
3. retirement annuity reserve fund;
4. interest fund;
5. expense fund;
6. benefit increase reserve fund; or
7. law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund.

§ 25.307. Employees Saving Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in a member’s individual account in the employees saving fund the following amounts:

1. the amount of contributions to the retirement system that is deducted from the member’s compensation;
2. the portion of a deposit required to reinstate service credit previously canceled that represents only the amount withdrawn;
3. the portion of a deposit required to establish service credit not previously established that represents only the required contribution; and
4. the portion of a deposit required to establish military service credit that represents only the member’s contribution for that credit.

(b) Interest on money in an individual account in the fund is earned monthly and is computed at the rate of five percent a year on the mean balance of the member's account for the fiscal year.

(c) Unless an account is closed before the last day of the fiscal year, interest is computed for the fiscal year and is credited to the member's account as of the last day of the fiscal year.

(d) If an account is closed before the last day of the fiscal year, interest is computed for the following period:

(1) if the account is closed because of death, from the first day of the fiscal year through the last day of the month that preceded the month in which the member's death occurred;

(2) if the account is closed by withdrawal of contributions, from the first day of the fiscal year through the last day of the month that precedes the month in which the withdrawal request is validated by the retirement system; or

(3) if the account is closed because of retirement, from the first day of the fiscal year through the effective date of retirement.

§ 25.308. State Accumulation Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the state accumulation fund all contributions for retirement made by the state to the retirement system and transfer to the fund the amounts required by Section 25.314 or 25.502 of this subtitle.

(b) The retirement system also shall deposit in the state accumulation fund the interest portion of the state accumulation fund all contributions for retirement made by the state to the retirement system.

§ 25.309. Retirement Annuity Reserve Fund

(a) The retirement system shall transfer to the retirement annuity reserve fund money as required by Sections 25.314, 25.315, and 25.316 of this subtitle.

(b) The retirement system shall use the money in the fund to pay annuities as provided by this subtitle.

§ 25.310. Interest Fund

Except as provided by Section 25.313 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall deposit in the interest fund all income, interest, and dividends from deposits and investments of assets of the retirement system.

§ 25.311. Expense Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the expense fund membership fees, money required to be transferred to the fund under Section 25.314 of this subtitle, and any appropriations made by the legislature to the fund.

(b) The retirement system shall pay from the expense fund administration and maintenance expenses of the retirement system except those expenses the payment of which is provided for by Section 25.208(c) or 25.313(b) of this subtitle.

§ 25.312. Benefit Increase Reserve Fund

The retirement system shall transfer to the benefit increase reserve fund money required to be deposited in the fund under Section 25.314 of this subtitle and money appropriated to pay increases in preexisting annuities if the increases:

(1) are payments for service credited in the employee class; and

(2) were authorized by the legislature after April 30, 1977.

§ 25.313. Law Enforcement and Custodial Officer Supplemental Retirement Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund payments made as provided by Section 25.405 of this subtitle, any appropriations made by the legislature to the fund, and proceeds from investment of the fund.

(b) The retirement system may use money from the fund only to pay supplemental retirement benefits to law enforcement and custodial officers as provided by this subtitle and to pay for the administration of the fund.

(c) Money appropriated to pay benefits from the fund as provided by this subtitle may not be diverted or used to pay any other benefits.

§ 25.314. Transfer of Assets From Interest Fund

(a) The board of trustees shall transfer from the interest fund to the employees saving fund amounts of interest computed under Section 25.307 of this subtitle at the following times:

(1) as required during the fiscal year for a member's account in the retirement system that is closed before the last day of the fiscal year; and

(2) as of the last day of the fiscal year for a member's account that is not closed before the last day of the fiscal year.

(b) As required during the year, the board of trustees shall transfer from the interest fund to the expense fund amounts it determines necessary for the payment of the retirement system's expenses that exceed the amount of money available for those expenses.

(c) As of the last day of each fiscal year, the board of trustees shall transfer from the interest fund to the retirement annuity reserve fund an amount equal to five percent of the mean amount in the retirement annuity reserve fund for that fiscal year.

(d) As of the last day of each fiscal year, the board of trustees shall transfer from the interest fund to the benefit increase fund an amount computed at the rate set by the board under Section 25.106 of this subtitle.

(e) After making the transfers required by this section, the board of trustees, as of the last day of each fiscal year, shall transfer the amount remaining in the interest fund to the state accumulation fund. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 25.315. Transfer of Assets on Retirement and Restoration to Active Service

(a) When a member retires, the retirement system shall transfer:

(1) from the employees saving fund to the retirement annuity reserve fund, an amount equal to the member's accumulated contributions; and

(2) from the state accumulation fund to the retirement annuity reserve fund, an amount equal to the difference between the total reserve at present worth reserve value of the member's retirement annuity and the amount credited to the member's individual account as of the day of retirement.

(b) If a person who receives disability benefits has those benefits terminated under Section 24.210 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall transfer the balance of the person's retirement reserve from the retirement annuity reserve fund to the employees saving fund and to the state accumulation fund in proportion to the original amount transferred to the retirement annuity reserve fund from those funds.

§ 25.316. Transfer of Assets to Pay Benefit Increases

Each month on certification by the retirement system, the comptroller of public accounts shall transfer from the benefit increase reserve fund to the retirement annuity reserve fund the amount required to pay increases in preexisting annuities authorized by the legislature after April 30, 1977, for service credited in the employee class.

[Sections 25.317 to 25.400 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER E. COLLECTION OF MEMBERSHIP FEES AND CONTRIBUTIONS

§ 25.401. Collection of Membership Fees

(a) Each member annually shall pay a membership fee of $2. A contributing member shall pay the fee with the member's first contribution to the retirement system in each fiscal year in the manner provided by Section 25.402 of this subtitle for payment of the member's contribution to the retirement system.

(b) If the membership fee is not paid with the member's first contribution of the year to the retirement system, the board of trustees may deduct the amount of the fee from that contribution or from any benefit to which the member becomes entitled.

(c) If the legislature appropriates, on behalf of each contributing member for any fiscal year, a membership fee to be deposited in the expense fund in an amount equal to or greater than the membership fee required by Subsection (a) of this section, the members are not required to pay the membership fee for that year.

§ 25.402. Collection of Member Contributions

(a) Each payroll period, each department or agency of the state shall cause to be deducted from each member's compensation a contribution of:

(1) six percent of the compensation if the member is not a member of the legislature; or

(2) eight percent of the compensation if the member is a member of the legislature.

(b) To facilitate the making of deductions, the board of trustees may modify a member's required deductions by an amount that does not exceed one-tenth of one percent of the annual compensation on which the deduction is made.

(c) Each department or agency head shall certify to the board of trustees and to the disbursing officer of the department or agency on each payroll, or in another manner prescribed by the board, the amounts to be deducted from each member's compensation.

(d) The disbursing officer of each department or agency on authority from the department or agency head shall:

(1) make deductions from each member's compensation for contributions to the retirement system;

(2) transmit monthly, or at the time designated by the board of trustees, a certified copy of the payroll or report to the retirement system; and

(3) pay the amount deducted to the retirement system for deposit in the employees saving fund.

(e) The retirement system shall record all receipts of member contributions and shall deliver the receipts to the state treasurer. The state treasurer shall credit the receipts to the employees saving fund.

(f) The deductions required by this section shall be made even if the member's compensation is reduced below the amount equal to the minimum compensation provided by law.

(g) By becoming a member of the retirement system, a member consents to the deductions required by this section. The payment of compensation less those deductions is a complete release of all claims, except benefits provided by this subtitle, for services rendered by the member during the payment period.

§ 25.403. Collection of State Contributions

(a) During each fiscal year, the state shall contribute to the retirement system:

(1) an amount equal to eight percent of the total compensation of all members of the retirement system for that year;
(2) money to pay lump-sum death benefits for retirees under Section 24.501 of this subtitle;
(3) money necessary for the administration and payment of benefits from the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund; and
(4) money for service credit not previously established, as provided by Section 23.202(e) or 23.402(d) of this subtitle.

(b) Before November 2 of each even-numbered year, the retirement system shall certify to the legislative budget board and to the budget division of the governor's office for review:

(1) an estimate of the amount necessary to pay the state's contribution under Subsections (a)(1), (a)(2), and (a)(4) of this section for the following biennium;
(2) the estimated amount, based on actuarial valuations, of appropriated funds required in addition to other available money to finance all benefits provided from the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund for the following biennium;
(3) the estimated amount, based on actuarial valuations, of appropriated funds required for the following biennium to fully finance, within a period of not more than 36 years after September 1, 1979, liabilities of the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund accrued because of service performed before September 1, 1979; and
(4) as a separate item, an estimate of the amount required to administer the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund for the following biennium.

(c) The amounts certified under Subsection (b) of this section shall be included in the budget of the state that the governor submits to the legislature.

(d) Before September 1 of each year, the retirement system shall certify to the state comptroller of public accounts and to the state treasurer:

(1) an estimate of the amount necessary to pay the state's contribution under Subsection (a)(1) of this section for the following fiscal year;
(2) an estimate of the amount necessary to pay membership fees for the following fiscal year, if the legislature has appropriated money for that purpose; and
(3) an estimate of the amount required to pay lump-sum death benefits for retirees under Section 24.501 of this subtitle for the following fiscal year.

(e) All money allocated and appropriated by the state to the retirement system for benefits provided by the retirement system, except money for the payment of lump-sum death benefits and for the payment of benefits from the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund, shall be paid, based on the annual estimate of the retirement system, in monthly installments to the state accumulation fund. The money required for state contributions and membership fees shall be from respective funds appropriated to pay the compensation of the member for whose benefit the contribution or fee is paid. If the total of the estimated required payments is not equal to the total of the actual payments required for a fiscal year, the retirement system shall certify to the state comptroller of public accounts and the state treasurer at the end of that year the amount required for necessary adjustments, and the state treasurer shall make the required adjustments.

(f) On certification by the retirement system, the comptroller of public accounts shall transfer from the general revenue fund to the state accumulation fund of the retirement system the amount then required for the payment of lump-sum death benefits for retirees under Section 24.501 of this subtitle.

§ 25.404. Use of Federal Money

If federal regulations prohibit an agency's use of money provided under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973, Public Law 93–203, as state contributions, an agency shall use other money available to it to make state contributions to the retirement system for affected employees.

§ 25.405. Contributions to Law Enforcement and Custodial Officer Supplemental Retirement Fund

The Department of Public Safety shall transfer monthly to the law enforcement and custodial officer supplemental retirement fund 75 cents of the motor vehicle inspection fee for each vehicle inspected as required under Section 141(c) of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 25.406 to 25.500 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER F. MISCELLANEOUS ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

§ 25.501. Statement of Amount in Individual Accounts

The retirement system shall furnish to a member, on written request, a statement of the amount credited to the member's individual account. The board is not required to furnish more than one statement to each member in a fiscal year.

§ 25.502. Review of Active Accounts; Notice of Inactive Accounts; Forfeiture

(a) After the last day of each fiscal year, the retirement system shall review the active account of every member who, according to its records, has passed his or her 58th birthday and did not contribute to the system during the last fiscal year.

(b) The retirement system shall send to each member described in Subsection (a) of this section, by certified mail, a statement of the member's account and legal rights with respect to it. The statement shall include a notice of any possible retirement annuity that may become payable.

(c) If the retirement system does not receive a written response from the member or, if the member is dead, from a designated beneficiary or other lawful claimant, before the 61st day after the day on which the statement required by Subsection (b) of this section was mailed, the account is inactive. As soon as practicable after an account becomes inactive, the retirement system shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the state a notice that contains the following information:

(1) the name of the member;
(2) the member's last known mailing address; and
(3) a statement that money is being held for the member.

(d) If a written response to the notice required by Subsection (c) of this section from the member or a lawful claimant is not received by the retirement system, the system shall cause the notice to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the state on the fifth anniversary of the initial publication.

(e) If a legal claim to the money held in an account is not made before the second anniversary of the second publication of the notice required by this section, the money in the member's account is forfeited to the state and is transferred to the state accumulation fund. The board shall record all forfeitures in its minutes.

§ 25.503. Members' Records

Records of members and beneficiaries under retirement plans administered by the retirement system that are in the custody of the system are considered to be personnel records and are required to be treated as confidential information under Section 3(a)(1), Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-17a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

§ 25.504. Reproduction and Preservation of Records

(a) The retirement system may photograph, microphotograph, or film any record in its possession.

(b) If a record is reproduced under Subsection (a) of this section, the retirement system may destroy or dispose of the original record if the system first:

(1) places the reproduction in a conveniently accessible file; and
(2) provides for the preservation, examination, and use of the reproduction.

(c) A photograph, microphotograph, or film of a record reproduced under Subsection (a) of this section is equivalent to the original record for all purposes, including introduction as evidence in all courts and administrative agency proceedings. A duly certified or authenticated copy of such a photograph, microphotograph, or film is admissible as evidence equally with the original photograph, microphotograph, or film.

(d) The executive director or an authorized representative may certify the authenticity of a photograph, microphotograph, or film of a record reproduced under this section and shall charge a fee for the certified photograph, microphotograph, or film as provided by law.

(e) Certified records shall be furnished to any person who is authorized by law to receive them.

§ 25.505. Certification of Names of Law Enforcement and Custodial Officers

As of the last day of each fiscal year, the Department of Public Safety, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, the Parks and Wildlife Department, the State Purchasing and General Services Commission, and the Texas Department of Corrections shall certify to the retirement system the names of employees and the amount of service each employee performed as a law enforcement officer or custodial officer during that fiscal year.

§ 25.506  Budget and Actuarial Information

The retirement system shall keep, in convenient form, data necessary for actuarial valuation of the funds of the retirement system and for checking the system's expenses.

SUBTITLE D. TEACHER RETIREMENT SYSTEM OF TEXAS

CHAPTER 31. GENERAL PROVISIONS

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 31.001. Definitions

In this subtitle:

(1) “Accumulated contributions” means the total of amounts in a member’s individual account in the member savings account, including:

(A) amounts deducted from the compensation of the member;

(B) other member deposits required to be placed in the member’s individual account; and

(C) interest credited to amounts in the member’s individual account.

(2) “Actuarial equivalent” of a benefit means a benefit of equal monetary value when computed on the basis of annuity or mortality tables and on an interest or discount rate that is adopted by the board of trustees for the purpose from time to time and that is in force on the effective date of the benefit.

(3) “Actuarily reduced” means reduced to the actuarial equivalent.

(4) “Annual compensation” means:

(A) for school years beginning with the 1981–82 school year, salary and wages that are paid to a member for service during a school year, but excluding expense payments, allowances, fringe benefits, payments for unused vacation or sick leave, other amounts excluded by rules adopted under Section 35.110 of this subtitle, and any compensation that is not a regular payment of monetary compensation made pursuant to an employment agreement; and

(B) for school years before the 1981–82 school year, all compensation that was or should have been reported for a school year under laws and rules that governed the retirement system at the time, but excluding compensation greater than $25,000 for a school year beginning after August 31, 1969, but before September 1, 1979, and compensation greater than $3,400 for a school year beginning before September 1, 1969.

(5) “Board of trustees” means the board appointed under this subtitle to administer the retirement system.

(6) “Employee” means a person who is employed, as determined by the retirement system, with a regular salary on a full-time basis by the governing board of any school district created under the laws of this state, any county school board, the board of trustees, the State Board of Education, the Central Education Agency, the board of regents of any college or university, or any other legally constituted board or agency of any public school.

(7) “Employer” means the state or any of its designated agents or agencies responsible for public education, including those boards and agencies listed in Subdivision (6) of this section.

(8) “Faculty member” means a person, including a professional librarian, who is employed by an institution of higher education on a full-time basis as a member of the faculty or staff and whose duties include teaching, research, administration, or the performance of professional services, but does not mean a person employed in a position in the institution’s classified personnel system or a person employed in a similar type of position if the institution does not have a classified personnel system.

(9) “Governing board” means the body responsible for policy direction of an institution of higher education.

(10) “Institution of higher education” has the meaning provided for that term in Section 61.003, Texas Education Code.

(11) “Membership service” means service during a time that a person is both an employee and a member of the retirement system.

(12) “Public school” means an educational institution or organization in this state that is entitled by law to be supported in whole or in part by state, county, school district, or other municipal corporation funds.

(13) “Retirement” means the withdrawal from service with a retirement benefit granted under this subtitle.

(14) “Retirement system” means the Teacher Retirement System of Texas.

(15) “School year” means:

(A) a 12-month period beginning approximately September 1 and ending approximately August 31 of the next calendar year; or
(B) for a member whose contract begins after June 30 and continues after August 31 of the same calendar year, a period not to include more than 12 months beginning on the date the contract begins.

(16) "Service" means the time a person is an employee.

(17) "Service credit" means the amount of prior, membership, military, or equivalent membership service credited to a person's account in the retirement system.

§ 31.002. Purpose of Subtitle

The purpose of this subtitle is to establish a program of benefits for members, retirees, and other beneficiaries of the retirement system and to establish rules for membership in and the management and operation of the retirement system.

§ 31.003. Retirement System

The retirement system is an agency of the state. Except as provided by Section 35.3013 of this subtitle, the Teacher Retirement System of Texas is the name by which all business of the retirement system shall be transacted, all its funds invested, and all its cash, securities, and other property held.

§ 31.004. Powers and Privileges

The retirement system has the powers, privileges, and immunities of a corporation, as well as the powers, privileges, and immunities conferred by this subtitle.

§ 31.005. Exemption From Execution

All retirement allowances, annuities, refunded contributions, optional benefits, money in the various retirement system accounts, and rights accrued or accruing under this subtitle to any person are exempt from garnishment, attachment, state and municipal taxation, sale, levy, and any other process, and are unassignable.

[Sections 31.006 to 31.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. PENAL PROVISIONS

§ 31.101. Conversion of Funds; Fraud

(a) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly or intentionally confiscates, misappropriates, or converts funds that represent deductions from a member's salary or that belong to the retirement system.

(b) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly or intentionally makes or permits the making of a false record for or statement to the retirement system in an attempt to defraud the retirement system.

(c) A member commits an offense if the member intentionally receives as a salary money that should have been deducted as provided by this subtitle from the member's salary.

(d) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly or intentionally violates a requirement of this subtitle other than ones described by Subsection (a), (b), or (c) of this section.

§ 31.102. Penalties

(a) An offense under Section 31.101(a) or 31.101(b) of this subtitle is a felony punishable by imprisonment in the Texas Department of Corrections for not less than one nor more than five years.

(b) An offense under Section 31.101(c) of this subtitle is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500.

(c) An offense under Section 31.101(d) of this subtitle is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000.

§ 31.103. Cancellation of Teacher Certificate

(a) After receiving notice from the board of trustees of an offense under Section 31.101 of this subtitle and after a hearing, the state commissioner of education may cancel the teacher certificate of a person if the commissioner determines that the person committed the offense.

(b) A person whose teacher certificate is canceled under this section may appeal the commissioner's decision to the State Board of Education.

(c) A criminal prosecution of an offender under Section 31.101 of this subtitle is not a prerequisite to action by the commissioner under this section.

CHAPTER 32. MEMBERSHIP

SUBCHAPTER A. MEMBERSHIP
§ 32.001  TITLE 110B

SUBCHAPTER B. RESUMPTION OF STATE SERVICE BY RETIREE

Section
32.102. Benefits Affected.

SUBCHAPTER A. MEMBERSHIP

§ 32.001. Membership Requirement
(a) Membership in the retirement system includes:
(1) all persons who were members of the retirement system on the day before the effective date of this subtitle; and
(2) all employees of the public school system.
(b) Membership in the retirement system is a condition of employment for employees of the public school system unless an employee is excluded from membership under Section 32.002 of this subtitle.

§ 32.002. Exceptions to Membership Requirement
(a) An employee of the public school system is not permitted to be a member of the retirement system if the employee:
(1) executed and filed a waiver of membership prior to the effective date of this subtitle;
(2) was or is at least 60 years old when first employed;
(3) is eligible and elects to participate in the optional retirement program under Chapter 36 of this subtitle; or
(4) is solely employed by a public institution of higher education that as a condition of employment requires the employee to be enrolled as a student in the institution.
(b) An employee under Subsection (a)(1) of this section may become a member of the retirement system at the beginning of a school year, but the employee will not be entitled to credit for waived service unless payment for the waived service is made under Section 33.202 of this subtitle.
(c) An employee under Subsection (a)(2) of this section may elect to become a member of the retirement system, effective as of the date of employment, if the employee notifies the employer and the board of trustees of the election before the 91st day after the effective date of employment.

§ 32.003. Termination of Membership
(a) A person terminates membership in the retirement system by:
(1) death;
(2) retirement;
(3) withdrawal of all of the person’s contributions while the person is absent from service; or
(4) absence from service for more than five consecutive years within a six-year period.
(b) If a person, regardless of age, has 10 or more years of service credit, absence from service does not terminate membership in the retirement system unless all of the person’s contributions are withdrawn.
(c) A person is not absent from service if the person:
(1) is performing military service creditable in the retirement system; or
(2) is on leave of absence from employment in a public school.

§ 32.004. Effect of Termination
If a person terminates membership in the retirement system under Section 32.003(a)(3) or 32.003(a)(4) of this subtitle, the retirement system shall cancel all of the person’s service credit in the retirement system.

§ 32.005. Withdrawal of Contributions
(a) A person who is absent from service except by death or retirement may withdraw all of the accumulated contributions credited to the person in the member savings account.
(b) An application to withdraw contributions under this section must be in writing and on a form prescribed by the board of trustees.
(c) A person is not entitled to withdraw contributions who has applied for employment, or has received a promise of employment, in a position covered by the retirement system.

§ 32.006. Resumption of Membership After Termination
A person whose membership in the retirement system has been terminated and who resumes membership must enter the retirement system on the same terms as a person entering service for the first time and is not entitled to credit for previous or other terminated service unless it is reinstated under Section 33.501 or 33.502 of this subtitle.

[Sections 32.007 to 32.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. RESUMPTION OF STATE SERVICE BY RETIREE

§ 32.101. Benefits Not Affected
(a) The payment of benefits to a retiree is not affected by the retiree’s taking a position:
(1) as a substitute for an employee who is absent from duty if the employment is on a day-to-day basis and does not exceed 120 school days in a school year;
§ 32.102. Benefits Affected
(a) The retirement system shall suspend service or disability retirement benefit payments, as applicable, to a retiree for any month that the retiree holds a position in the public school system other than a position allowed under Section 32.101 of this subtitle.
(b) If a person is employed as a substitute under Section 32.101(a) of this subtitle for a longer period than is permitted under that section and then continues in the same position, the person is considered to have been a regular employee since the first day of the employment and must forfeit retirement benefits for all months of employment in that position.

SUBCHAPTER F. REINSTATEMENT OF SERVICE CREDIT

§ 33.501. Credit Canceled by Membership Termination.
§ 33.502. Credit of Retiree.

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 33.001. Types of Creditable Service
The types of service creditable in the retirement system are:
(1) prior service;
(2) membership service; and
(3) military service; and
(4) equivalent membership service.

§ 33.002. Service Creditable in a Year
The board of trustees by rule shall determine how much service in any year is equivalent to one year of service credit, but in no case may all of a person's service in one school year be creditable as more than one year of service.

§ 33.003. Benefits Based on Service Credit
Except as otherwise provided under the optional retirement program, years of service on which the amount of a benefit is based consist of the number of years of service credit to which a member is entitled.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 33.004 to 33.100 reserved for expansion.]
§ 33.102. Statement of Prior Service
(a) At the time a person becomes a member of the retirement system for the first time, the person shall file with the retirement system a detailed statement of all prior service claimed.

(b) If a member fails to file a statement as provided by Subsection (a) of this section, has at least five years of membership service credit, and has no unpaid waived, withdrawn, or delinquent service, the member is entitled to and may file a statement claiming prior service.

(c) The board of trustees may adopt rules for the filing of statements of prior service.

§ 33.103. Prior Service Credit
(a) As soon as practicable after a member files a statement of prior service as provided by Section 33.102 of this subtitle, the board of trustees shall:
(1) verify the service claimed;
(2) make necessary adjustments in the application;
(3) grant one year of prior service credit for each year of prior service approved; and
(4) notify the member of the amount of prior service credit granted.

(b) The board of trustees may adopt rules for the granting of prior service credit.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 33.104 to 33.200 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. ESTABLISHMENT OF MILITARY SERVICE
§ 33.301. Creditable Military Service
(a) Except as provided by Section 33.101(2) of this subtitle, military service creditable in the retirement system is active federal duty in the armed forces of the United States, other than as a student at a service academy, that was performed:
(1) as a direct result of being inducted or of first enlisting for duty on a date when the federal government was actively inducting persons into the armed forces under federal draft laws;
(2) as a reservist or member of the national guard who was ordered to duty under the authority of federal law; or
(3) during a time when the federal government was actively inducting persons into the armed forces under federal draft laws.

(b) A member may not establish more than five years of service credit in the retirement system under this subchapter for military service.

§ 33.302. Military Service Credit
(a) An eligible member may establish service credit in the retirement system for military service performed that is creditable as provided by Section 33.301 of this subtitle.

(b) A member eligible to establish military service credit is one who has at least 10 years of service credit in the retirement system for actual service in public schools.

(c) A member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system for each year of military service claimed a contribution in an amount equal to:
(1) the member’s contributions to the retirement system during the most recent full year of membership service that preceded the military service, if the military service was performed while the person was a member of the retirement system; or

(2) the member’s contributions to the retirement system during the first full year of membership service, if the military service was performed before the person became a member of the retirement system.

Text of subsec. (d) effective until September 1, 1982

(d) In addition to the contribution required by Subsection (c) of this section, a member claiming credit for military service must pay a fee of five percent a year of the required contribution from the date of first eligibility to the date of deposit.

Text of subsec. (d) effective September 1, 1982

(d) In addition to the contribution required by Subsection (c) of this section, a member claiming credit for military service must pay a fee of eight percent compounded annually of the required contribution from the date of first eligibility to the date of deposit.

(e) After a member makes the deposits required by this section, the retirement system shall grant the member one year of military service credit for each year of military service approved.

§ 33.303. Military Leave Credit

A member who performs military service creditable in the retirement system but who does not establish credit for the service by making the deposits required by Section 33.302 of this subtitle is entitled to credit of a year for each year of military service performed. The credit is usable only in determining eligibility for, but not the amount of, benefits under Section 34.406 of this subtitle.

§ 33.304. Equivalent Membership Service

SUBCHAPTER E. ESTABLISHMENT OF EQUIVALENT MEMBERSHIP SERVICE

§ 33.401. Out-of-State Service

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, an eligible member may establish equivalent membership service credit for employment with a public school system maintained wholly or partly by another state or territory of the United States or by the United States for children of its citizens.

(b) A member may not establish credit under this section for service performed for a public school while a member of the armed forces, for which service the member was compensated by the United States.

(c) A member eligible to establish credit under this section is one who has at least 10 years of service credit in the retirement system for actual service in public schools.

(d) A member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system for each year of service claimed a contribution computed at the rate of:

(1) 12 percent of the member’s annual compensation during the first year of service as a member of the retirement system that is both after the service for which credit is sought and after September 1, 1956; or

(2) 12 percent of the member’s annual compensation during the most recent year of service as a member that is after the service for which credit is sought, if the member has performed no service in Texas since September 1, 1956.

Text of subsecs. (e) and (f) effective until September 1, 1982

(e) In addition to the contribution required by Subsection (d) of this section, a member claiming credit under this section must pay a fee of five percent a year of the required contribution from the date of first eligibility to the date of deposit. A deposit for at least one year of credit, including the fee, must be made with an initial application for credit, and all payments for service claimed under this section must be made before retirement.

(f) The amount of service credit a member may establish under this section may not exceed:

(1) the amount of service credit the member has in the retirement system; or

(2) 10 years.

Text of subsecs. (e) and (f) effective September 1, 1982

(e) In addition to the contribution required by Subsection (d) of this section, a member claiming credit under this section must pay a fee of eight percent compounded annually of the required contribution from the date of first eligibility to the date of deposit. A deposit for at least one year of credit, including the fee, must be made with an initial application for credit, and all payments for service claimed under this section must be made before retirement.

(f) The amount of service credit a member may establish under this section may not exceed 10 years.

(g) After a member makes the deposits required by this section, the retirement system shall grant the member one year of equivalent membership service credit for each year of service approved. The retirement system may not use service credit granted under this section in computing a member’s annual average compensation.

§ 33.402. Developmental Leave

(a) An eligible member may establish equivalent membership service credit for developmental leave that is creditable in the retirement system.

(b) Developmental leave creditable in the retirement system is absence from membership service for a school year that is approved by the member's employer for study, research, travel, or another purpose designed, as determined by the employer, to improve the member's professional competence.

(c) A member eligible to establish credit under this section is one who:

(1) has at least five years of service credit in the retirement system; and

(2) is an employee of a public school at the time the credit is sought.

(d) On or before the date a member takes developmental leave, the member shall file with the retirement system a notice of intent to take developmental leave, and the member's employer shall file with the retirement system a certification that the leave meets the requirements of Subsection (b) of this section.

(e) A member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system for each year of developmental leave claimed an amount equal to the sum of:

(1) the rate of member contributions required during the member's most recent year of service that preceded the developmental leave, times the member's annual rate of compensation during that year; plus

(2) the amount that the state would have contributed had the member performed membership service during the year of leave at the member's annual rate of compensation during the most recent year of service that preceded the leave; plus

(3) any membership fees in effect during the year of leave.

(f) A member may not establish more than two years of equivalent membership service credit under this section.

(g) A member may not establish credit under this section after the end of the first creditable school year that begins after the developmental leave. The retirement system may not use credit established under this section in computing service retirement benefits until the member has at least 10 years of service credit for actual service in public schools.

(h) If credit established under this section is not used in determining benefits, all deposits made under this section are refundable to the member or, if applicable, the member's beneficiary.

§ 33.403. University Component Service

(a) A member may establish equivalent membership service credit for employment with the following entities that was performed before the entities became components of The University of Texas System:

(1) the Callier Center for Communication Disorders, now a part of The University of Texas at Dallas; or

(2) the Houston Speech and Hearing Center, now a part of The University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston.

(b) A member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system for each year of service claimed an amount equal to the sum of:

(1) 12 percent of the rate of the member's annual compensation during the first full 12 months of service as a member that is after the date the service for which credit is sought was performed; plus

(2) a fee of five percent a year of the amount determined under Subdivision (1) of this subsection from the date the service for which credit is sought was performed to the date of deposit; plus

(3) any membership fees that would have been paid had the service for which credit is sought been performed as a member of the retirement system.

(c) The retirement system shall use credit established under this section in determining eligibility for all benefits payable by the retirement system.

[Sections 33.404 to 33.500 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER F. REINSTATEMENT OF SERVICE CREDIT

§ 33.501. Credit Canceled by Membership Termination

(a) An eligible person who has terminated membership in the retirement system by withdrawal of contributions or absence from service may reinstate in the system the service credit canceled by the termination.

(b) A person eligible to reinstate service credit under this section is one who resumes membership in the retirement system and subsequently performs membership service for the shorter of the following periods:

(1) two consecutive years; or

(2) a continuous period equal in duration to the period from the date of termination to the date of resumption of membership.

Text of subsec. (c) effective until September 1, 1982.

(c) A member may reinstate credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system:
(1) the amount withdrawn or refunded; plus
(2) membership fees for the period that membership was terminated; plus
(3) a reinstatement fee computed at an annual rate of five percent of the amount withdrawn or refunded from the date of withdrawal or refund to the date of redeposit.

Text of subsec. (c) effective September 1, 1982

(c) A member may reinstate credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system:

(1) the amount withdrawn or refunded; plus
(2) membership fees for the period that membership was terminated; plus
(3) a reinstatement fee of six percent compounded annually of the amount withdrawn or refunded from the date of withdrawal or refund to the date of redeposit.

(d) The retirement system shall determine in each case the amount of money to be deposited by a member reinstating service credit under this section. The system may not provide benefits based on the service until the determined amount has been fully paid.

§ 33.502. Credit of Retiree

(a) An eligible person who has terminated membership in the retirement system by service retirement may:

(1) resume membership in the system;
(2) reestablish service credit in effect immediately before the date of retirement; and
(3) establish credit for service performed since the date of retirement that would have been creditable had the person been a member of the retirement system.

Text of subsecs. (b) and (c) effective until September 1, 1982

(b) A person eligible to resume membership and reestablish and establish credit under this section is one who for five consecutive years after the date of retirement performs service that would be creditable if the person were a member of the retirement system.

(c) A person may resume membership and claim credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system:

(1) an amount equal to service retirement benefits received; plus
(2) a reinstatement fee computed at an annual rate of five percent of the amount determined under Subdivision (1) of this subsection from the date of retirement to service had the person been a member of the retirement system; plus
(3) an amount equal to the total contributions that would have been deducted from the person's annual compensation each year after the return to service had the person been a member of the retirement system; plus
(4) a reinstatement fee computed at an annual rate of five percent of the amount determined under Subdivision (3) of this subsection from the end of each year of service after the return to service to the date of deposit; plus
(5) membership fees for the years after the return to service.

Text of subsecs. (b) and (c) effective September 1, 1982

(d) The retirement system shall determine in each case the amount of money to be deposited by a person claiming credit under this section. On payment in full of the amount required by this section, the person becomes a member of the retirement system, and the system shall grant the member credit for each year of service performed before or after the member's initial retirement.

CHAPTER 34. BENEFITS

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section
34.001. Types of Benefits.
34.002. Effective Date of Retirement.
34.003. When Benefits are Payable.
§ 34.001

Title 110B

§ 34.001. Types of Benefits

The types of benefits payable by the retirement system are:

(1) service retirement benefits;
(2) disability retirement benefits; and
(3) death benefits.

§ 34.002. Effective Date of Retirement

(a) The effective date of a member’s service retirement is the last day of the later of the following months:

(1) the month in which the member applies for retirement as provided by Section 34.301 of this subtitle; or

(2) the month in which the member’s employment in a position included in the coverage of the retirement system ends.

§ 34.003. When Benefits are Payable

Except as otherwise provided by this chapter, an annuity provided by this chapter is not payable for the month in which the person who receives the annuity dies.

§ 34.004. Waiver of Benefits

(a) A person may, on a form prescribed by and filed with the retirement system, waive all or a portion of any benefits from the retirement system to which the person is entitled. A person may revoke a waiver of benefits in the same manner as the original waiver was made.

(b) A revocable waiver may be revoked only as to benefits payable after the date the revocation is filed. If a waiver is made irrevocable and is filed with the retirement system before the first benefit payment is made to the person executing the waiver, Section 34.103 of this subtitle applies to determine alternative beneficiaries.

(c) The retirement system shall transfer to the state contribution account from the appropriate benefit reserve accounts amounts not used to pay benefits because of a waiver executed under this section.

(d) The board of trustees may provide rules for administration of waivers under this section.

§ 34.005. Revocation of Retirement

(a) A person who has retired under the retirement system may revoke that retirement by filing with the system a written revocation in a form prescribed by the system. For a revocation to be effective, the retirement system must receive the written revocation before the 46th day after the original retirement system a written revocation before the 46th day after the original date of retirement, and the person must return to the system an amount equal to the amount of benefits received under the original retirement.

(b) A person who revokes a retirement under this section is restored to membership in the retirement system as if that person had never retired.

[Sections 34.006 to 34.100 reserved for expansion]
SUBCHAPTER B. BENEFICIARIES

§ 34.101. Designation of Beneficiary

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, any member of annuitant may, on a form prescribed by and filed with the retirement system, designate one or more beneficiaries to receive benefits payable by the retirement system on the death of the member or annuitant.

(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, a member or annuitant may change or revoke a designation of beneficiary in the same manner as the original designation was made.

(c) Only one person may be designated as beneficiary of an optional treatment annuity under Section 34.204(c)(1) or Section 34.204(c)(2) of this subtitle, and a designation of beneficiary under either of those options may not be made, changed, or revoked after the date of the member’s retirement.

(d) Unless a contrary intention is clearly indicated by a written designation of beneficiary and except as otherwise provided by law, the most recent designation of beneficiary by a member or annuitant applies to all benefits payable on the death of the member or annuitant.

(e) The retirement system by rule may provide for the designation of alternate beneficiaries.

§ 34.102. Trust as Beneficiary

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, a member or annuitant may designate a trust as beneficiary for the payment of benefits from the retirement system. If a trust is designated beneficiary, the beneficiary of the trust is considered the designated beneficiary for the purposes of determining eligibility for and the amount and duration of benefits. The trustee is entitled to exercise any rights to elect benefit options and name subsequent beneficiaries.

(b) A trust having more than one beneficiary may not receive benefits to which multiple designated beneficiaries are not entitled under this chapter.

§ 34.103. Absence of Beneficiary

(a) Benefits payable on the death of a member or annuitant, except an optional retirement annuity under Section 34.204(c)(1) or 34.204(c)(2) of this subtitle, are payable, and rights to elect survivor benefits, if applicable, are available, to one of the classes of persons described in Subsection (b) of this section, if:

(1) the member or annuitant fails to designate a beneficiary before death;

(2) a designated beneficiary does not survive the member or annuitant;

(3) a designated beneficiary, under Section 34.004 of this subtitle, waives claims to benefits payable on the death of the member or annuitant.

(b) The following classes of persons, in descending order of precedence, are eligible to receive benefits in a situation described in Subsection (a) of this section:

(1) any surviving joint designated beneficiaries;

(2) any alternate beneficiaries;

(3) the surviving spouse of the decedent;

(4) any children of the decedent or their descendants by representation;

(5) the parents of the decedent;

(6) the executor or administrator of the decedent’s estate; or

(7) the persons entitled by law to distribution of the decedent’s estate.

§ 34.104. Failure of Beneficiary to Claim Benefits

(a) If, before the first anniversary of the death of a member or annuitant, the retirement system does not receive a claim for payment of benefits from a designated beneficiary or a person entitled to benefits under Section 34.103 of this subtitle, the retirement system may pay benefits, except an optional retirement annuity under Section 34.204(c)(1) or Section 34.204(c)(2) of this subtitle, under the order of precedence in Section 34.103(b) of this subtitle, as if the person failing to claim benefits had predeceased the decedent.

(b) Payment under Subsection (a) of this section bars recovery by any other person of the benefits distributed.

(c) If, before the fourth anniversary of the death of a member or annuitant, payment of benefits based on the death has not been made and no claim for benefits is pending with the retirement system, the accumulated contributions of the deceased member or the balance of the reserve for the deceased annuitant is forfeited to the benefit of the retirement system. The retirement system shall transfer funds forfeited under this subsection to the state contribution account.

§ 34.105. Beneficiary Causing Death of Member or Annuitant

(a) A benefit payable on the death of a member or annuitant may not be paid to a person convicted of causing that death but instead is payable to a person who would be entitled to the benefit had the convicted person predeceased the decedent.

(b) A person who becomes eligible under this section to select death or survivor benefits may select benefits as if the person were the designated beneficiary.
(c) The retirement system shall reduce any annuity computed in part on the age of the convicted person to a lump sum equal to the present value of the remainder of the annuity. The reduced amount is payable to a person entitled as provided by this section to receive the benefit.

(d) The retirement system is not required to pay benefits under this section unless it receives actual notice of the conviction of a beneficiary. However, the retirement system may delay payment of a benefit payable on the death of a member or annuitant pending the results of a criminal investigation and of legal proceedings relating to the cause of death.

(e) For the purposes of this section, a person has been convicted of causing the death of a member or annuitant if the person:

(1) pleads guilty or no contest contended to, or is found guilty by a court of, causing the death of a member or annuitant, regardless of whether sentence is imposed or probated; and

(2) has no appeal of the conviction pending and the time provided for appeal has expired.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 34.106 to 34.200 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER C. SERVICE RETIREMENT BENEFITS

§ 34.201. Application for Service Retirement Benefits

(a) A member may apply for a service retirement annuity by filing a written application for retirement with the board of trustees.

(b) At any time before the effective date of retirement, a member may, by filing written notice with the board of trustees, revoke the member’s application for retirement or make, revoke, or change a selection of an optional service retirement annuity available as provided by Section 34.204 of this subtitle.

(c) Except as specifically provided in this subtitle, a retiree may not revoke a retirement nor make, revoke, or change a selection of an optional service retirement annuity.

§ 34.202. Eligibility for Service Retirement

(a) A member is eligible to retire and receive a standard service retirement annuity if the member:

(1) is at least 65 years old and has at least 10 years of service credit in the retirement system; or

(2) is at least 60 years old and has at least 20 years of service credit in the retirement system.

(b) If a member is at least 55 years old and has at least 10 years of service credit in the retirement system, the member is eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity reduced from the standard service retirement annuity available under Subsection (a)(1) of this section, to a percentage derived from the following table:

(d) If a member has at least 30 years of service credit in the retirement system, the member is eligible to retire regardless of age and receive a reduced service retirement annuity consisting of a percentage of the standard service retirement annuity available under Subsection (a)(2) of this section, derived from the table in Subsection (c) of this section. The board of trustees shall extend the table in Subsection (c) of this section to ages earlier than 55 years by decreasing the percentages by two percent for each year of age under 55 years.

(e) The board of trustees may adopt tables for reduction of benefits for early retirement by each month of age, but the range of percentages in the tables within a year must be limited to the range provided between two years of age by this section.

(f) Except as provided by Section 33.403(c) of this subtitle or the proportionate retirement program in Subtitle B of this title, a member is not eligible to receive service retirement benefits from the retirement system unless the member has at least 10 years of service credit in the retirement system for actual service in public schools.

§ 34.203. Standard Service Retirement Benefits

Text of subsecs. (a) to (c) effective until September 1, 1982

(a) Except as provided by Subsections (c) and (d) of this section, the standard service retirement annu-
§ 34.204. Optional Service Retirement Benefits

(a) Instead of the standard service retirement annuity payable under Section 34.203 of this subtitle or an annuity reduced because of age under Section 34.202 of this subtitle, a retiring member may elect to receive an optional service retirement annuity, reduced for early retirement if applicable, under this section.

(b) An optional service retirement annuity is an annuity payable throughout the life of the retiree and is actuarially reduced from the annuity otherwise payable under this subtitle to its actuarial equivalent under the option selected under Subsection (e) of this section.

(c) An eligible member may select one of the following options, which provide that:

(1) after the retiree's death, the reduced annuity is payable to and throughout the life of the person nominated by the retiree's written designation filed prior to retirement;

(2) after the retiree's death, one-half of the reduced annuity is payable to and throughout the life of the person nominated by the retiree's written designation filed prior to retirement;

(3) if the retiree dies before 60 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 60 payments are payable to the designated beneficiary; or

(4) if the retiree dies before 120 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 120 payments are payable to the designated beneficiary.

§ 34.205. Deductions From Service Retirement Annuity

(a) A person who receives a service retirement annuity under Section 34.202, 34.203, or 34.204 of this subtitle may, on a form satisfactory to and filed with the retirement system, authorize the retirement system to deduct from the person's monthly annuity payment the amount required as a monthly premium for:

(1) hospital insurance benefits provided to uninsured individuals not otherwise eligible for medical insurance for the aged, as provided by Part A of Title XVIII of the federal Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 1395c et seq.; and

(2) supplementary medical insurance benefits for the aged, as provided by Part B of Title XVIII of the federal Social Security Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 1395j et seq.

(b) After making deductions authorized under Subsection (a) of this section, the retirement system shall pay the required premiums to the treasury of the United States, subject to applicable laws relating to the time and manner of payment.

[Sections 34.206 to 34.300 reserved for expansion]
§ 34.301
SUBCHAPTER D. DISABILITY RETIREMENT BENEFITS

§ 34.301. Application for Disability Retirement Benefits

(a) A member may apply for a disability retirement annuity by:

(1) filing a written application for retirement with the board of trustees; or

(2) having an application filed with the board by the member's legal representative.

(b) In addition to an application for retirement, a member shall file with the board of trustees the results of a medical examination of the member.

(c) The board of trustees by rule may require the submission to it of additional information about a disability. The retirement system shall prescribe forms for the information required by this section.

§ 34.302. Eligibility for Disability Retirement

A member is eligible to retire and receive a disability retirement annuity if the member:

(1) is certified by the medical board as disabled as provided by Section 34.303(b) of this subtitle; and

(2) does not satisfy the age and service requirements under Section 34.202(a) of this subtitle for a service retirement annuity without reduction.

§ 34.303. Certification of Disability

(a) After a member applies for disability retirement, the medical board may require the member to submit additional information about the disability.

(b) If the medical board finds that the member is mentally or physically disabled from the further performance of duty and that the disability is probably permanent, the medical board shall certify disability, and the member shall be retired.

(c) The medical board may rule on an application for disability retirement at a regular or special meeting or by mail, telephone, telegraph, or other suitable means of communication.

§ 34.304. Disability Retirement Benefits

(a) If a member has a total of less than 10 years of service credit in the retirement system on the date of disability retirement, the retirement system shall pay the person a disability retirement annuity of $50 a month for the shortest of the following periods:

(1) the duration of the disability;

(2) the number of months of creditable service the person has at retirement; or

(3) the duration of the person's life.

(b) If a member has a total of at least 10 years of service credit in the retirement system on the date of disability retirement but is not eligible for service retirement without reduction of benefits, the retirement system shall pay the person for the duration of the disability a disability retirement annuity in an amount equal to the greater of:

(1) a standard service retirement annuity computed on the basis of the amount of the person's service credit on the date of retirement; or

(2) $6.50 a month for each year of service credit on the date of retirement.

(c) If a person receives a disability retirement annuity under Subsection (b) of this section and the retirement begins after or continues until the person becomes 60 years old, the disability is conclusively presumed continuous for the rest of the person's life.

(d) Before the 31st day after the date on which the medical board certifies a member's disability, the member may reinstate withdrawn contributions and make deposits for service previously waived, military service, and equivalent membership service and receive service credit as provided by this subtitle.

§ 34.305. Medical Examination of Disability Retiree

(a) Once each year during the first five years after a member retires for disability, and once in each three-year period after that, the board of trustees may require a disability retiree who is less than 60 years old to undergo a medical examination by one or more physicians the board designates.

(b) If a disability retiree refuses to submit to a medical examination as provided by this section, the board of trustees shall discontinue the retiree's annuity payments until the retiree submits to an examination.

§ 34.306. Report of Earnings of Disability Retiree

(a) A disability retiree who is less than 60 years old annually shall submit a report of earnings to the retirement system. The retirement system shall examine each report and may require at any time that a disability retiree undergo a medical examination by one or more physicians the retirement system designates, if the retiree has reported earnings that the board of trustees considers excessive.

(b) The board of trustees may adopt rules establishing limits on the annual earnings of disability retirees and such other rules as are necessary to administer this section.

§ 34.307. Restoration of Disability Retiree to Membership

(a) If the medical board finds that a disability retiree who is less than 60 years old is no longer mentally or physically incapacitated for the performance of duty, it shall certify its findings and submit them to the board of trustees.

(b) If a disability retiree who is less than 60 years old is restored to active service or refuses for more than one year to submit to a required medical examination, or if the board of trustees concurs in a certification issued under Subsection (a) of this section, the board shall discontinue the retiree's annuity payments and the retiree must again become a member of the retirement system.

(c) When a person becomes a member under this section, an amount equal to the sum in the person's individual account in the member savings account at the time of retirement, minus the amount of annuity payments made since retirement, shall be transferred from the retired reserve account to the person's individual account in the member savings account. The member is entitled to service credit for all service credit used to compute the member's disability retirement annuity at the time of retirement. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 34.308 to 34.400 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER E. MEMBER DEATH BENEFITS

§ 34.401. Availability of Annuity

(a) A death benefit annuity under this chapter is payable only if the decedent had, at the time of death, at least the minimum amount of service credit in the retirement system necessary for a service retirement annuity at an attained age.

(b) Multiple beneficiaries are not eligible to receive a death benefit annuity under Section 34.402(a)(4) of this subtitle or an equivalent annuity under Section 34.403 of this subtitle. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 34.402. Benefits on Death of Active Member

(a) Except as provided by Section 34.401 of this subtitle, the designated beneficiary of a member who dies during a school year in which the member has performed service is eligible to receive at the beneficiary's election the greatest of the following amounts:

1. An amount equal to the member's annual compensation for the school year immediately preceding the school year in which the member dies, or $25,000, whichever is less;

2. An amount equal to the member's rate of annual compensation for the school year in which the member dies, or $25,000, whichever is less;

3. 60 monthly payments of a standard service retirement annuity, computed as provided by Section 34.203(a) of this subtitle;

4. An optional retirement annuity for the designated beneficiary's life in an amount computed as provided by Section 34.204(c)(1) of this subtitle as if the member had retired on the last day of the month immediately preceding the month in which the member dies; or

5. An amount equal to the amount of accumulated contributions in the member's individual account in the member savings account.

(b) The board of trustees by rule may prescribe the manner of payment of benefits under this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 34.403. Benefits on Death of Inactive Member

Except as provided by Section 34.401 of this subtitle, the designated beneficiary of a member who dies while absent from service is eligible to receive:

1. The same benefits payable under Section 34.402 or 34.404 of this subtitle if the member's absence from service was:

   (A) because of sickness, accident, or other cause the board of trustees determines involuntary;

   (B) in furtherance of the objectives or welfare of the public school system; or

   (C) during a time when the member was eligible to retire or would become eligible without further service before the fifth anniversary of the member's last day of service as a member; or

2. An amount equal to the accumulated contributions in the member's individual account in the member savings account, if the member's absence from service does not satisfy a requirement of Subdivision (1) of this subsection. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 34.404. Survivor Benefits

(a) The designated beneficiary of a member who dies may, if entitled to a death benefit other than the accumulated contributions of the member, elect to receive, instead of a benefit payable under Section 34.402 or 34.403 of this subtitle, a lump-sum payment of $1,500 plus an applicable benefit described in this section.

(b) If the designated beneficiary is the spouse or a dependent parent of the decedent, the beneficiary may elect to receive for life a monthly benefit of $100, beginning immediately or on the date the beneficiary becomes 65 years old, whichever is later.

(c) If the designated beneficiary is the spouse of the decedent and has one or more children less than 18 years old or has custody of one or more children... of the decedent who are less than 18 years old, the designated beneficiary may elect to receive:

(1) a monthly benefit of $200 payable until the youngest child becomes 18 years old; and

(2) when the youngest child has attained the age of 18, a monthly benefit for life of $100, beginning on the date the beneficiary becomes 65 years old.

(d) If the designated beneficiary or beneficiaries are the decedent's dependent children who are less than 18 years old, their guardian may elect to receive for them:

(1) a monthly benefit of $200, payable as long as two or more children are less than 18 years old; and

(2) a monthly benefit of $100, payable as long as only one child is less than 18 years old.

(e) If the designated beneficiary is the spouse or a dependent parent of the decedent, benefits under Subsection (d) of this section are payable, if a dependent child less than 18 years old exists, on the death of the beneficiary.

(f) A person who qualifies to receive survivor benefits from more than one deceased member as a spouse or a spouse with a dependent child is entitled to be paid only benefits based on the death of one of the decedents.

§ 34.405. Tables for Determination of Death Benefit Annuity

For the purpose of computing a death benefit annuity under Section 34.402(a)(4) or 34.403 of this subtitle, the board of trustees shall extend the tables:

(1) in Section 34.202(b) of this subtitle to ages earlier than 55 years by actuarially reducing the benefit available at the age of 55 years to the actuarial equivalent at the attained age of the beneficiary; and

(2) in Section 34.202(c) of this subtitle to ages earlier than the earliest retirement age by actuarially reducing the benefit available at the earliest retirement age to the actuarial equivalent at the attained age of the beneficiary.

§ 34.406. Benefits for Survivors of Certain Members

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, an eligible surviving spouse who is the designated beneficiary of a person who died before April 8, 1957, and who had at the time of death a total of at least 25 years of service credit and military leave credit in the retirement system, is eligible to receive an applicable survivor benefit available under Section 34.404 of this subtitle.

(b) A surviving spouse eligible under this section to receive a benefit is one who has not received from the retirement system a benefit based on the member's death, other than a return of the member's accumulated contributions.

(c) A surviving spouse who qualifies under this section for a survivor benefit is not eligible to receive a lump-sum benefit under Section 34.404(a) of this subtitle.

(d) A benefit under this section is payable beginning on the last day of the month in which an eligible person applies for the benefit on a form prescribed by and filed with the retirement system.

SUBCHAPTER F. RETIREE DEATH BENEFITS

§ 34.501. Survivor Benefits

(a) The designated beneficiary of a retiree who dies while receiving a retirement benefit is eligible to receive a lump-sum survivor benefit under Section 34.404(a) of this subtitle and any other applicable benefit available under that section.

(b) An eligible person may receive benefits under both this section and Section 34.204 of this subtitle.

§ 34.502. Benefits on Death of Disability Retiree

The designated beneficiary of a disability retiree who dies while receiving a retirement benefit may elect to receive, instead of survivor benefits provided by Section 34.501 of this subtitle, a benefit available under Section 34.402 of this subtitle, computed as if the decedent had been in service at the time of death.

§ 34.503. Return of Excess Contributions

(a) If a retiree dies while receiving a standard or reduced service retirement annuity as provided by Section 34.202 of this subtitle or an optional service retirement annuity as provided by Section 34.204(c)(1) or 34.204(c)(2) of this subtitle and, in the case of a retiree receiving an optional service retirement annuity, if the retiree's designated beneficiary of the annuity has predeceased the retiree, the retirement system shall pay a lump-sum death benefit in an amount, if any, by which the amount of the deceased retiree's accumulated contributions at the time of retirement exceeds the amount of annuity payments made before the retiree's death.

(b) A benefit under Subsection (a) of this section is payable to any existing designated beneficiary or, if none exists, in the manner provided by Section 34.103 of this subtitle.
(c) If a retiree's designated beneficiary dies while receiving an optional annuity under Section 34.204(c)(1) or 34.204(c)(2) of this subtitle, the retirement system shall pay a lump-sum death benefit in an amount, if any, by which the amount of the retiree's accumulated contributions at the time of retirement exceeds the amount of annuity payments made to the retiree and the designated beneficiary before the beneficiary's death.

(d) A benefit under Subsection (c) of this section is payable to the persons entitled to distribution of the deceased beneficiary's estate.

(e) An eligible person may receive benefits under both this section and Section 34.501 of this subtitle.

§ 34.504. Benefits for Survivors of Certain Retirees

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, a surviving spouse who is the designated beneficiary of a retiree who did not perform a year of service after November 23, 1956, that was credited in the retirement system and who died before August 23, 1963, while receiving a retirement benefit, is eligible to receive an applicable survivor benefit available under Section 34.404 of this subtitle.

(b) A surviving spouse who qualifies under this section for a survivor benefit is not eligible to receive a lump-sum benefit under Section 34.404(a) of this subtitle.

(c) A benefit under this section is payable beginning on the last day of the month in which an eligible person applies for the benefit on a form prescribed by and filed with the retirement system.

SUBCHAPTER A. BOARD OF TRUSTEES

§ 35.001. Composition of Board of Trustees

The board of trustees is composed of nine members.

§ 35.002. Trustees Appointed by Governor

(a) The governor shall appoint, with the advice and consent of the senate and as provided by this section, seven members of the board of trustees.

(b) The governor shall appoint three members of the board to hold office for staggered terms, with the term of one trustee expiring on August 31 of each odd-numbered year.

(c) The governor shall appoint two members of the board from a slate of three members of the retirement system who are currently employed by a public school district and who have been nominated in accordance with Subsection (f) of this section by the members of the retirement system whose most recent credited service was performed for a public school district. The two members hold office for staggered terms.

(d) The governor shall appoint one member of the board from a slate of three former members of the retirement system who have retired and are receiving benefits from the retirement system and who have been nominated in accordance with Subsections (f) and (g) of this section by the persons who have retired and are receiving benefits from the retirement system.

(e) The governor shall appoint one member from a slate of three members of the retirement system who are currently employed by an institution of higher education and who have been nominated in accordance with Subsection (f) of this section by the members of the retirement system whose most recent credited service was performed for an institution of higher education.

(f) Persons considered for nomination under Subsection (c), (d), or (e) of this section must have been nominated by written ballot at an election conducted under rules adopted by the board of trustees.

(g) To provide for the nomination of persons for appointment under Subsection (d) of this section, the board shall send to each retiree of the retirement system:

1. notice of the deadline for filing as a candidate for nomination;
2. information on procedures to follow in filing as a candidate; and
3. a written ballot.

§ 35.003. Trustees Appointed by Board of Education

The State Board of Education shall appoint two members of the board of trustees subject to confirmation by two-thirds of the senate.

§ 35.004. Terms of Office; Filling Vacancies

(a) Members of the board of trustees hold office for terms of six years.

(b) A vacancy in the office of a trustee shall be filled for the unexpired term in the same manner that the office was previously filled.

§ 35.005. Oath of Office

Before taking office as a trustee, a person shall take the constitutional oath prescribed for officers of the state.

§ 35.006. Application of Sunset Act

The board of trustees is subject to the Texas Sunset Act (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), but is not abolished under that Act. The board shall be reviewed under that Act during the period in which state agencies abolished effective September 1, 1989, and every 12th year after that date are reviewed.

§ 35.007. Compensation; Expenses

Trustees serve without compensation but are entitled to reimbursement from the expense account of the retirement system for all necessary expenses that they incur in the performance of official board duties.

§ 35.008. Voting

(a) Each trustee is entitled to one vote.

(b) At any meeting of the board, a majority of the trustees is a quorum for the transaction of business.

[Sections 35.009 to 35.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. POWERS AND DUTIES OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

§ 35.101. General Administration

The board of trustees is responsible for the general administration and operation of the retirement system.

§ 35.102. Rulemaking

Subject to the limitations of this subtitle, the board of trustees may adopt rules for:

1. eligibility for membership;
2. the administration of the funds of the retirement system; and
3. the transaction of business of the board.

§ 35.103. Administering System Assets

(a) The board of trustees is the trustee of all assets of the retirement system.

(b) The board may invest and reinvest the retirement system's assets as authorized by Article XVI, Section 67, of the Texas Constitution.

Designation of Authority to Sign Vouchers

(a) The board of trustees shall file with the comptroller of public accounts an attested copy of a board resolution that designates the persons authorized to sign vouchers for payment from accounts of the retirement system.

(b) A filed copy of the resolution required by Subsection (a) of this section evidences the comptroller's authority to issue warrants for payment from funds of the retirement system.

Adopting Rates and Tables

The board of trustees shall adopt rates and mortality, service, and other tables the board considers necessary for the retirement system after considering the results of the actuary's investigation of the mortality, service, and compensation experience of the system's members and beneficiaries.

Interest Rate for Benefit Increase Reserve Account

After reviewing the recommendation of the actuary, the board of trustees shall approve a rate of interest that represents a reasonable anticipation of earnings from the investments of assets in the benefit increase reserve account.

Records of Board of Trustees

(a) The board of trustees shall keep, in convenient form, data necessary for:

1. Actuarial valuation of the accounts of the retirement system; and
2. Checking the system's expenses.

(b) The board shall keep a record of all of its proceedings.

(c) Except as otherwise provided by this title, records of the board are open to public inspection.

Report

Annually, the board of trustees shall publish a report containing the following information:

1. The retirement system's fiscal transactions for the preceding school year;
2. The amount of the system's accumulated cash and securities; and
3. The most recent balance sheet showing an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the system.

Correction of Errors

If an error in the records of the retirement system results in a person's receiving more or less money than the person is entitled to receive under this subtitle, the board of trustees shall correct the error and so far as practicable shall adjust future payments so that the actuarial equivalent of the benefit to which the person is entitled is paid.

Determination of Annual Compensation

The board of trustees shall adopt rules to exclude from annual compensation that part of salary and wages in the final years of a member's employment that reasonably can be attributed to a conversion of fringe benefits, maintenance, and other payments not includable in annual compensation to salary and wages in anticipation of retirement. The rules may include a percentage limitation on the amount of increases in annual compensation that may be subject to credit and deposit during a member's final years of employment.

Sections 35.111 to 35.200 reserved for expansion

SUBCHAPTER C. OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Chairman

The board of trustees shall elect a chairman. The chairman must be a member of the board.

Executive Secretary

(a) The board of trustees, by a majority vote of all members, shall appoint an executive secretary.

(b) The executive secretary may not be a member of the board of trustees.

(c) To be eligible to serve as the executive secretary, a person must have been a citizen of this state for the three years immediately preceding the appointment.

(d) The executive secretary shall recommend to the board actuarial and other services necessary to administer the retirement system.

(e) Annually, the executive secretary shall prepare an itemized expense budget for the following fiscal year and shall submit the budget to the board for review and adoption.

Legal Adviser

The attorney general of the state is the legal adviser of the board of trustees. The attorney general shall represent the board in all litigation.

§ 35.204. Medical Board

(a) The board of trustees shall appoint a medical board composed of three physicians.

(b) To be eligible to serve as a member of the medical board, a physician must be licensed to practice medicine in this state and be of good standing in the medical profession. A physician who is eligible to participate in the retirement system may not be a member of the medical board.

(c) The medical board shall:

(1) review all medical examinations required by this subtitle;

(2) investigate essential statements and certificates made by or on behalf of a member of the retirement system in connection with an application for disability retirement; and

(3) report in writing to the board of trustees its conclusions and recommendations on all matters referred to it.

§ 35.205. Other Physicians

The board of trustees may employ physicians in addition to the medical board to report on special cases.

§ 35.206. Actuary

(a) The board of trustees shall designate an actuary as its technical adviser.

(b) At least once every five years the actuary, on authorization of the board of trustees, shall:

(1) investigate the mortality, service, and compensation experience of the members and beneficiaries of the retirement system;

(2) on the basis of the investigation made under Subdivision (1) of this subsection, recommend to the board of trustees tables and rates that are required; and

(3) on the basis of tables and rates adopted by the board of trustees under Section 35.105 of this subtitle, evaluate the assets and liabilities of the retirement system.

§ 35.207. State Treasurer

(a) Except as provided by Section 35.3011 or 35.3012 of this subtitle, the state treasurer is the custodian of all securities and cash of the retirement system, including securities held in the name of a nominee of the retirement system.

(b) The state treasurer shall pay money from the accounts of the retirement system on warrants drawn by the comptroller of public accounts and authorized by vouchers signed by the executive secretary or other persons designated by the board of trustees.

(c) The state treasurer annually shall furnish to the board of trustees a sworn statement of the amount of the retirement system's assets in the treasurer's custody.

(d) The state treasurer is not responsible, under either civil or criminal law, for any action or losses with respect to assets of the retirement system while the assets are in the custody of a commercial bank as provided by Section 35.3011 or 35.3012 of this subtitle.

§ 35.208. Compensation of Employees; Payment of Expenses

The board of trustees shall approve the rate of compensation of all persons it employs and the amounts necessary for other expenses for operation of the retirement system. The rates and amounts may not exceed those paid for similar services for the state.

§ 35.209. Surety Bonds

(a) The state treasurer shall give a surety bond in the amount of $50,000.

(b) The executive secretary shall give a surety bond in the amount of $25,000.

(c) The board of trustees may require any trustee or employee of the board, other than the executive secretary, to give a surety bond in an amount determined by the board.

(d) All surety bonds must be:

(1) made with a solvent surety company that is authorized to do business in the state;

(2) made payable to the board of trustees;

(3) approved by the board of trustees and the attorney general; and

(4) conditioned on the bonded person's faithful performance of all of the person's duties.

(e) The board of trustees shall pay from the expense account all expenses for the execution of a bond under this section, including premiums.

Except for an interest in the retirement assets as a member of the retirement system, a trustee or employee of the board of trustees may not have a direct or indirect interest in the gains from investments made with the system's assets and may not receive any compensation for service other than designated salary and authorized expenses.

[Sections 35.211 to 35.300 reserved for expansion]
§ 35.301. Investment of Assets
The board of trustees shall invest assets of the retirement system without distinction as to their source. All securities are held collectively for the proportionate benefit of all accounts of the system. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 458, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 35.3011. Investment by Bank in Short-term Securities
The retirement system may contract with one or more commercial banks to serve as custodians of the system's cash or securities pending completion of an investment settlement and may authorize a bank acting as custodian to invest the cash so held in such short-term securities as the board of trustees determines. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 205, ch. 18, § 31, eff. Nov. 10, 1981.]

§ 35.3012. Loan of Securities by Bank
(a) The retirement system may contract with one or more commercial banks to serve as custodians of the system's securities and to lend the securities under rules adopted by the board of trustees and as required by this section.
(b) To be eligible to lend securities under this section, a bank must:
   (1) be experienced in the operation of a fully secured securities loan program;
   (2) maintain adequate capital in the prudent judgment of the retirement system to assure the safety of the securities entrusted to it as a custodian;
   (3) execute an indemnification agreement satisfactory in form and content to the retirement system fully indemnifying the retirement system against loss resulting from the bank's service as custodian of the system's securities and its operation of a securities loan program for the system's securities;
   (4) require any securities broker or dealer to whom it lends securities belonging to the retirement system to deliver to and maintain with the bank collateral in the form of cash or United States government securities, in an amount equal to not less than 100 percent of the market value, from time to time, of the loaned securities; and
   (5) speedily collect and remit to the state treasurer the day of collection by the fastest available means any dividends or interest collectible by it on securities held by it as custodian, together with identification of the source of the dividends or interest. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 205, ch. 18, § 31, eff. Nov. 10, 1981.]

§ 35.3013. Nominee to Hold Securities
(a) The retirement system may select a nominee to hold securities of the system in the name of the nominee, without mention of ownership by the retirement system in the stock certificate, bond certificate, stock registration book, or other evidence of title to the securities. If a nominee is selected under this section, the records and all relevant reports or accounts of the retirement system must show the ownership by the system of the securities held by the nominee and the facts regarding the system's holdings.
(b) A nominee selected under this section shall file with the retirement system a signed statement showing the system's ownership of the securities. A nominee shall also endorse any stock certificate in blank, execute an appropriate stock power in blank and attach it to the stock certificate, or execute a conveyance or assignment of the title to the securities, and promptly deposit it with the appropriate custodian.
(c) A nominee may not possess the securities and may have access to them only under the immediate supervision of the custodian of the securities.
(d) A nominee may be a partnership composed of either retirement system employees or members of the board of trustees, or both. The retirement system may contract with a partnership under this subsection without complying with statutory requirements for awarding contracts for services by state agencies, but the retirement system shall submit any proposed contract under this subsection to the attorney general for review in advance of execution to protect the total interests of the state and the retirement system. A partner who is also a retirement system employee or board member may accept no compensation or profits from the partnership and holds any profits of the partnership in trust for the retirement system. The retirement system may indemnify its employees or board members acting in their capacities as individual partners of the nominee and may purchase performance bonds for them. The retirement system also may pay expenses and provide facilities, services, supplies, and materials necessary to the functioning of the partnership as its nominee. Any expense reimbursements must be at the same rate that the partner incurring the expense would have received as an employee or board member. Amounts may not be expended for office facilities for the partnership separate from those of the retirement system.
(e) The records of a nominee shall be maintained by the retirement system and are subject to audit by the state auditor. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 205, ch. 18, § 31, eff. Nov. 10, 1981.]

§ 35.302. Available Cash
The board of trustees may keep on deposit with the state treasurer available cash not exceeding 10 percent of the total assets of the retirement system, to pay annuity and other disbursements. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 458, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]
§ 35.303. Crediting System Assets

The assets of the retirement system shall be credited, according to the purpose for which they are held, to one of the following accounts:

1. member savings account;
2. state contribution account;
3. retired reserve account;
4. benefit increase reserve account;
5. interest account; or
6. expense account.

§ 35.304. Member Savings Account

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in a member's individual account in the member savings account:

1. the amount of contributions to the retirement system that is deducted from the member's compensation;
2. the portion of a deposit made on or after resumption of membership that represents the amount of retirement benefits received;
3. the portion of a deposit to reinstate service previously canceled that represents the amount withdrawn or refunded;
4. the portion of a deposit to establish membership service credit previously waived that is required by Section 33.202(b)(1) of this subtitle;
5. the portion of a deposit to reinstate membership service credit previously canceled that represents the amount withdrawn or refunded;
6. the portion of a deposit to establish military service credit previously canceled that represents the amount withdrawn or refunded;
7. the portion of a deposit to reinstate service credit that represents a fee.

(b) The retirement system shall use money in the state contribution account to pay all retirement annuities waived or forfeited in accordance with Section 32.102(b) or 34.004 of this subtitle;

(c) Accumulated contributions in an individual's account that is required by Section 33.502(c)(3) or 33.502(c)(5) of this subtitle;

(d) the portion of a deposit required by Section 33.401(e) of this subtitle to establish out-of-state service credit that represents a fee.

§ 35.306. Retired Reserve Account

(a) The retirement system shall transfer to the retired reserve account:

1. from the member savings account, an amount equal to the accumulated contributions in a member's individual account when the member retires or when the retirement system approves the payment of any benefit authorized under this subtitle on the member's retirement or death;
2. from the state contribution account, an amount certified by the actuary as necessary to provide for the payment of the benefit as it becomes due; and
3. from the interest account, the amount required by Section 35.310(b)(2) of this subtitle.

(b) The retirement system shall use money in the retired reserve account to pay all retirement annuities and all death or survivor benefits except those paid under Section 35.307(b) of this subtitle.

§ 35.307. Benefit Increase Reserve Account

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the benefit increase reserve account:

1. money appropriated to pay postretirement benefit increases, or other adjustments of initial benefit payments, authorized by the legislature after January 30, 1975; and
2. interest as required by Section 35.310(b)(4) of this subtitle.

(b) The retirement system shall pay from the account postretirement benefit increases, and other adjustments of initial benefit payments, authorized by the legislature after January 30, 1975.

§ 35.308. Interest Account
In the interest account the retirement system shall:

(1) deposit all income, interest, and dividends from deposits and investments of assets of the retirement system; and

(2) accumulate net capital gains and losses from the sale, call, maturity, or conversion of securities.

§ 35.309. Expense Account
(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the expense account:

(1) all membership fees required by this subtitle; and

(2) money required to be deposited in the account by Sections 35.310(b)(3) and 35.310(c) of this subtitle.

(b) The retirement system shall pay from the account all expenses of administration and maintenance of the retirement system.

§ 35.310. Transfers From Interest Account
(a) Annually, the retirement system shall transfer from the interest account to the state contribution account amounts accumulated under Section 35.308(2) of this subtitle.

(b) On August 31 of each year, the retirement system shall make the following transfers from the interest account:

(1) to the member savings account, an amount computed using the rate prescribed by Section 35.304(b) of this subtitle;

(2) to the retired reserve account, an amount equal to 4% of the average balance of the retired reserve account for that fiscal year or, if the transfer is authorized by resolution of the board, an amount computed at a greater rate if the actuary recommends the greater rate to adequately fund the retired reserve account;

(3) to the expense account, an amount designated by the board of trustees in accordance with Subsection (c) of this section;

(4) to the benefit increase reserve account, an amount representing interest on the average annual balance of the benefit increase reserve account at a rate set by the board of trustees in accordance with Section 35.106 of this subtitle; and

(5) to the state contribution account, the amount remaining in the interest account after the other transfers required by this section are made.

(c) The board of trustees, by resolution recorded in its minutes, shall transfer from the interest account to the expense account an amount necessary to cover the expenses of the retirement system for the fiscal year, including the expense of servicing mortgages insured by the Federal Housing Administration under the National Housing Act (12 U.S.C.A. Sec. 1701 et seq.).

§ 35.311. Use of State Contributions
The retirement system shall use all assets contributed by the state to pay benefits authorized by this subtitle.

[Sections 35.312 to 35.400 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER E. COLLECTION OF MEMBERSHIP FEES AND CONTRIBUTIONS

§ 35.401. Collection of Membership Fees
(a) Each member of the retirement system, with the first contribution to the member savings account in each fiscal year, shall pay a membership fee of $5 to the board of trustees. The member shall pay the fee in the same manner as provided by Section 35.403 of this subtitle for the payment of the member's contributions to the member savings account.

(b) If a member does not currently hold a position included in the class of positions eligible for retirement system membership, the member shall pay the membership fee to the retirement system.

(c) If the membership fee is not paid, the board may deduct an amount equal to the fee from the member's first contribution of the year to the member savings account or from the member's accumulated contributions in that account before a refund is made.

(d) The retirement system shall deposit all membership fees in the expense account.

§ 35.402. Rate of Member Contributions
The rate of contributions for each member of the retirement system is:

(1) five percent of the member's annual compensation or $180, whichever is less, for service rendered after August 31, 1937, and before September 1, 1957;

(2) six percent of the first $8,400 of the member's annual compensation for service rendered after August 31, 1957, and before September 1, 1969;

(3) six percent of the member's annual compensation for service rendered after August 31, 1969, and before the first day of the 1977-78 school year; and § 35.402

(4) 6.65 percent of the member's annual compensation for service rendered after the last day of the period described by Subdivision (3) of this section.

§ 35.403. Collection of Member's Contributions

(a) Each payroll period, each employer shall deduct from the compensation of each member employed by the employer an amount equal to 6.65 percent of the member's compensation for that period.

(b) Each employer or the employer's designated disbursing officer, at a time and in a form prescribed by the retirement system, shall send to the executive secretary all deductions and a certification of earnings of each member employed by the employer.

(c) The executive secretary shall deposit with the state treasurer all deductions received by the executive secretary.

(d) After the deductions are deposited with the state treasurer, the money shall be used as provided by this subtitle.

(e) The county superintendent or ex officio county superintendent, in accordance with this section, shall collect contributions of members employed in common school or other school districts under the superintendent's jurisdiction.

(f) Employers shall make the deductions required by this section even if the member's compensation is reduced below the amount equal to the minimum compensation provided by law.

(g) By becoming a member of the retirement system, a member consents to the deductions required by this section. The payment of compensation less those deductions is a complete release of all claims, except benefits provided by this subtitle for services rendered by the member during the payment period.

(h) If deductions were previously required but not paid, the member shall pay the amount of those deductions plus a fee computed at a rate of five percent a year on the unpaid amount from the end of the school year in which the deductions first became due or the end of the 1974–75 school year, whichever is later, to the date of payment. The board of trustees shall:

(1) prescribe terms for payments under this subsection;

(2) credit the member for prior service to which the member is entitled under this subtitle; and

(3) deposit the fee required by this subsection in the state contribution account.

(i) Contributions required by Section 35.402 of this subtitle shall be deducted from the funds regularly appropriated by the state for the current maintenance of any educational institution supported in whole or part by the state and not otherwise covered by this section.

§ 35.404. Collection of State Contributions

(a) During each fiscal year, the state shall contribute to the retirement system an amount equal to 8½ percent of the aggregate annual contribution of all members of the retirement system during that fiscal year.

(b) Before November 2 of each even-numbered year, the board of trustees shall certify to the comptroller of public accounts for review and adoption an estimate of the amount necessary to pay the state's contributions to the retirement system for the following biennium.

(c) The amount certified under Subsection (b) of this section shall be included in the state budget that the governor submits to the legislature.

(d) Before September 1 of each year the board of trustees shall certify to the comptroller of public accounts and to the state treasurer the estimated amount of contributions to be received from the members of the retirement system during the following fiscal year.

(e) All money appropriated by the state to the retirement system shall be paid to the state contribution account in equal monthly installments as provided by Article 4364a, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925.

§ 35.405. Collection of Contributions From Federal or Private Sources; Offense; Penalty

(a) If an employer applies for money provided by the United States, an agency of the United States, or a privately sponsored source, and if any of the money will pay part or all of an employee's salary, the employer shall apply for any legally available money to pay state contributions required by Section 35.404 or 36.201 of this subtitle.

(b) When an employer receives money for state contributions from an application made in accordance with Subsection (a) of this section, the employer shall immediately send the money to the retirement system for deposit in the general revenue fund of the state treasury.

(c) Monthly, employers shall report to the retirement system in a form prescribed by the system:

(1) the name of each employee paid in whole or part from a grant;

(2) the source of the grant;

(3) the amount of the employee's salary paid from the grant;

(4) the amount of the money paid by the grant for state contributions for the employee; and

(5) any other information the retirement system determines is necessary to enforce this section.

(d) The retirement system may:

(1) require from employers reports of applications for money;
(2) require evidence that the applications include requests for funds available to pay state contributions to the retirement system for employees paid from the grant; and

(3) examine the records of any employer to determine compliance with this section and rules promulgated under it.

(e) A person commits an offense if the person is an administrator of an employer and knowingly fails to comply with this section.

(f) An offense under Subsection (e) of this section is a Class C misdemeanor.

(g) An employer who fails to comply with this section may not, after the failure, apply for or spend any money from a federal or private grant. The retirement system shall report alleged noncompliance to the attorney general, the state treasurer, the Legislative Budget Board, the comptroller of public accounts, and the governor. The attorney general shall bring a writ of mandamus against the employer to compel compliance with this section.

[Sections 35.406 to 35.500 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER F. MISCELLANEOUS ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

§ 35.501. Statement of Amount in Individual Accounts

The board of trustees shall furnish, on written request, to a member of the retirement system a statement of the amount credited to the member's individual account. The board is not required to furnish more than one statement a calendar year.

§ 35.502. Payment of Contributions to a Member Absent From Service

(a) If a demand for the accumulated contributions of a member with fewer than 10 years of service has not been made in accordance with Section 32.005 of this subtitle before the seventh anniversary of the member's last day of service, the retirement system shall return to the member or to the member's heirs all accumulated contributions of the member.

(b) If the member or the member's heirs cannot be found, the member's accumulated contributions are forfeited to the retirement system. The retirement system shall credit the amount forfeited to the retired reserve account.

§ 35.503. Reproduction and Preservation of Records

(a) The retirement system may photograph, microphotograph, or film all records pertaining to a member's individual file, accounting records, district report records, and investment records.

(b) If a record is reproduced under Subsection (a) of this section, the retirement system may destroy or dispose of the original record if the system first:

1. places the reproduction in conveniently accessible files; and

2. provides for the preservation, examination, and use of the reproduction.

(c) A photograph, microphotograph, or film of a record reproduced under Subsection (a) of this section is equivalent to the original record for all purposes, including introduction as evidence in all courts and administrative agency proceedings. A duly certified or authenticated copy of such a photograph, microphotograph, or film is admissible as evidence equally with the original photograph, microphotograph, or film.

(d) The executive secretary or an authorized representative may certify the authenticity of a photograph, microphotograph, or film of a record reproduced under this section and shall charge a fee for the certified photograph, microphotograph, or film as provided by law.

(e) Certified records shall be furnished to any person who is authorized by law to receive them.

§ 35.504. Employer Certification to Board

(a) An employer annually shall certify to the board of trustees the beginning date of the contract of each member whose contract year begins after June 30 and continues after August 31 of the same calendar year.

(b) The board of trustees by rule may prescribe the form of and procedures for filing certifications required by this section.

CHAPTER 36. OPTIONAL RETIREMENT PROGRAM

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section
36.001. Purpose of Chapter.
36.002. Optional Retirement Program.
36.003. Application.
36.004. Administration.
36.005. Exemption From Taxes.

SUBCHAPTER B. PARTICIPATION

36.101. Eligibility to Participate.
36.102. Option to Participate.
36.103. Effect of Transfers and Changes in Employment Status.
36.104. Withdrawal of Contributions to the Retirement System.
36.105. Termination of Participation.
36.106. Eligibility for Resumption of Membership.
§ 36.001. Purpose of Chapter
The purpose of this chapter is to establish a complete retirement program for faculty members employed in state-supported institutions of higher education as an incentive that will attract high quality faculties and thereby improve the level of education at state-supported colleges and universities. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 36.002. Optional Retirement Program
(a) The optional retirement program established as provided by this subtitle shall provide for contributions to any type of investment authorized in Section 403(b) of the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, 42 U.S. Code, as it existed on January 1, 1981, and for the purchase of fixed or variable retirement annuities that meet the requirements of that section and Section 401(g) of the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, 42 U.S. Code, as amended.

§ 36.003. Application
In this chapter, the term "institution of higher education" includes the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, the Texas State Technical Institute, and the institutions defined in Section 31.001(10) of this subtitle, but excludes the Rodent and Predatory Animal Control Service. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 36.004. Administration
(a) A governing board may provide for contributions to any type of investment authorized in Section 403(b) of the federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, 42 U.S. Code, as it existed on January 1, 1981, and may arrange the purchase of annuity contracts from any insurance or annuity company that is qualified to do business in this state.

(b) If a governing board has more than one component institution, agency, or unit under its jurisdiction, the governing board may provide a separate optional retirement program for each component or may place two or more components under a single program. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 208, ch. 18, § 36, eff. Nov. 10, 1981.]

§ 36.005. Exemption From Taxes
If qualified to do business in this state, a life insurance or annuity company is exempt from the payment of franchise or premium taxes on annuity or group insurance policies issued under a benefit program authorized and at least partly paid for by the governing board of an institution of higher education. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 36.101. Eligibility to Participate
(a) The governing board of each institution of higher education shall provide an opportunity to participate in the optional retirement program to all faculty members in the component institutions governed by the board.

(b) Eligibility to participate in the optional retirement program is subject to rules adopted by the governing board. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 36.102. Option to Participate
(a) A member of the retirement system who is eligible to participate in the optional retirement program may elect to continue as a member of the retirement system or to participate in the optional retirement program.

(b) A person eligible to participate in the optional retirement program on the date the program becomes available at the person's place of employment must elect to participate in the program no later than August 1 of the calendar year after the year in which the program becomes available.

(c) A person who becomes eligible to participate in the optional retirement program after the date the program becomes available at the person's place of employment must elect to participate before the 91st day after becoming eligible.

(d) An eligible person who does not elect to participate in the optional retirement program is considered to have chosen to continue membership in the retirement system. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 36.103. Effect of Transfers and Changes in Employment Status
(a) An institution of higher education shall accept the transfer of a participant's optional retirement program from another institution of higher education.

(b) If, after participating in the optional retirement program for at least one year, a person becomes employed in an institution of higher education... in a position normally covered by the retirement system, the person shall continue participation in the optional retirement program if the person has had no intervening employment in the public schools other than in an institution of higher education. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 36.104. Withdrawal of Contributions to the Retirement System

(a) A person who is a participant in the optional retirement program may withdraw accumulated contributions from the retirement system.

(b) An application to withdraw contributions under this section must be in writing and on a form prescribed by the board of trustees.

(c) Before the first anniversary of the date an application is received, the retirement system shall pay a withdrawing member the member's accumulated contributions.

(d) A person who withdraws contributions under this section relinquishes all accrued rights in the retirement system.

(e) Nothing in Section 36.105 of this subtitle precludes the election by a participant to withdraw accumulated contributions under this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 36.105. Termination of Participation

(a) A person terminates participation in the optional retirement program, without losing any accrued benefits, by:

(1) death;

(2) retirement; or

(3) termination of employment in all institutions of higher education.

(b) A change of company providing optional retirement program benefits or a participant's transfer between institutions of higher education is not a termination of employment.

(c) The benefits of an annuity purchased under the optional retirement program are available only if the participant terminates participation in the program as provided by Subsection (a) of this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 208, ch. 18, § 37, eff. Nov. 10, 1981.]

§ 36.106. Eligibility for Resumption of Membership

A participant in the optional retirement program is not eligible for membership in the retirement system unless the person:

(1) terminates employment covered by the optional retirement program; and

(2) becomes employed in the public school system in a position that is not eligible for participation in the optional retirement program. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 36.107 to 36.200 reserved for expansion]
§ 36.204 Benefits

Benefits in the optional retirement program vest in a participant after one year of participation in one or more optional retirement plans operating in one or more institutions of higher education.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

SUBTITLE E. JUDICIAL RETIREMENT SYSTEM OF TEXAS

CHAPTER 41. GENERAL PROVISIONS

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Section
41.001. Definitions.
41.002. Purpose of Subtitle.
41.003. Retirement System.
41.004. Exemption From Execution.

§ 41.001. Definitions

In this subtitle:
(1) "Annuity" means an amount of money payable in monthly installments for life or for another period as provided by this subtitle.
(2) "Board of trustees" means the entity given responsibility under Section 45.001 of this subtitle for the administration of the retirement system.
(3) "Judicial officer" means a person who presides over a court or a commission to a court named in Section 42.001 of this subtitle.
(4) "Retiree" means a person who receives an annuity based on service that was credited to the person.
(5) "Retirement system" means the Judicial Retirement System of Texas.
(6) "Service credit" means the amount of membership, military, and equivalent membership service ascribed by the retirement system to a person and for which the person has made required contributions.
(7) "Supreme court" means the Supreme Court of Texas.

§ 41.002. Purpose of Subtitle

The purpose of this subtitle is to establish a program of benefits for members, retirees, and other beneficiaries of the retirement system and to establish rules for the management and operation of the retirement system.

§ 41.003. Retirement System

The retirement system is an entity of the state. The Judicial Retirement System of Texas is the name by which all its business shall be transacted and all its property held.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

SUBCHAPTER B. RESUMPTION OF JUDICIAL SERVICE BY RETIREE

42.101. Election to be Judicial Officer.
42.102. Assignment as Judicial Officer.
42.103. Ineligibility for Membership.
42.104. Retirement Allowance.

SUBCHAPTER A. MEMBERSHIP

§ 42.001. Eligibility for Membership

(a) Membership in the retirement system is limited to judges, justices, and commissioners of:
(1) the supreme court;
(2) the court of criminal appeals;
(3) courts of appeals;
(4) district courts; and
(5) commissions to a court specified in this subsection.
(b) Membership in the retirement system is mandatory for eligible persons.
(c) Membership in the retirement system begins on the first day a person holds a judicial office specified in Subsection (a) of this section.

§ 42.002. Membership Fee

Each member of the retirement system annually shall pay the system a membership fee of $2.

§ 42.003. Termination of Membership

A person terminates membership in the retirement system by:
§ 43.101. Ineligibility for Membership

A retiree who makes an election under Section 42.101 of this subtitle may not rejoin the retirement system or receive credit in the retirement system for service performed under assignment as provided by Section 42.102 of this subtitle.

§ 42.104. Retirement Allowance

(a) While serving under assignment as provided by Section 42.102 of this subtitle, a retiree is entitled to be paid, instead of the annuity otherwise payable under this subtitle, a retirement allowance equal to the salary of the judge of the court to which the retiree has been assigned.

(b) A retirement allowance payable under this section may not be considered for any purpose as a salary or remuneration for the assignment or service.

CHAPTER 43. CREDITABLE SERVICE

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 43.001. Types of Creditable Service

The types of service creditable in the retirement system are:

(1) membership service;
(2) military service; and
(3) equivalent membership service.

SUBCHAPTER B. ESTABLISHMENT OF SERVICE

§ 43.101. Current Service

Membership service is credited in the retirement system for each month in which a member holds a judicial office and for which the member makes the required contribution.

§ 43.102. Service Credit Previously Canceled

If a person who has withdrawn contributions to the retirement system and canceled service credit under Section 42.004 of this subtitle subsequently rejoins the retirement system, the member may not become eligible for retirement benefits from the retirement system unless the person redeposits with the system the amount withdrawn. Payment under this section reestablishes the service credit canceled by the refund.

§ 43.103. Military Service

(a) An eligible member may establish service credit in the retirement system for military service performed that is creditable in the retirement system.

(b) A member eligible to establish military service credit is one who:

(1) currently contributes to the retirement system;

(2) has at least 8 years of service credit in the retirement system; and

(3) does not receive and is not eligible to receive federal retirement payments based on 20 years or more of active federal military duty or its equivalent.

(c) Military service creditable in the retirement system is active duty federal military service performed during a time that the United States is or was engaged in armed conflict. The board of trustees by rule shall determine the periods recognized for purposes of this subtitle as times of armed conflict.

(d) A member may not establish more than 48 months of service credit in the retirement system for military service.

(e) A member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system a contribution computed for each month of military service claimed at the rate of six percent of the member's current monthly state salary.

§ 43.104. Service on Domestic Relations or Special Juvenile Court

(a) An eligible member may establish equivalent membership service credit in the retirement system for service performed as judge of a domestic relations or special juvenile court.

(b) A member eligible to establish credit under this section is one who serves or served as judge:

(1) of a domestic relations or special juvenile court on the date that the court is or was abolished by the Family District Court Act, as amended (Article 1926a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); or

(2) of a district or appellate court on the date that a domestic relations or special juvenile court is or was abolished by the Family District Court Act, as amended (Article 1926a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), but formerly served as judge of a court abolished by that Act.

(c) A member may establish credit under this section by depositing with the retirement system a contribution in an amount, except as provided by Subsection (f) of this section, computed at the rate of six percent of the state salary of a district judge for the member's full tenure on the abolished court, plus interest computed at the rate of interest credited to a person's account in the Texas County and District Retirement System for the period of the service or, for service performed before January 1, 1968, at the rate of six percent a calendar year.

(d) A member who establishes credit under this section forfeits all rights to benefits based on the claimed service in the Texas County and District Retirement System, except rights to benefits based on the amount paid by the county for the service that exceeds the amount of state salary that would have been paid for the service.

(e) The Texas County and District Retirement System shall transfer to the retirement system the amount credited to the member's account, whether contributed by the member or the member's employer, plus accumulated interest, except any amount representing contributions or interest on salary that exceeds the state salary that would have been paid for the service.

(f) The retirement system shall credit the amount transferred by the Texas County and District Retirement System against the member's required payment under this section. If the total of the amount transferred and the amount paid by the member exceeds the amount required by this section, the retirement system shall leave the excess in the general revenue fund.

(g) The amount of contributions credited in the retirement system to a member who establishes credit under this section is the amount that the member would have contributed as a district judge at the time the service was performed.

§ 44.103. Optional Service Retirement Annuity

(a) Instead of a service retirement annuity payable under Section 44.102 of this subtitle, a retiring member may elect to receive an optional service retirement annuity, payable throughout the life of the retiree and actuarially reduced, under tables adopted by the board of trustees, from the annuity otherwise payable to its actuarial equivalent.

(b) Optional service retirement annuities available to a retiring member are those available to retiring members of the Employees Retirement System of Texas under Section 24.108(c) of Subtitle C of this title.

(c) A person may apply for an optional service retirement annuity by filing an application for the annuity with the retirement system before the 31st day after the date of the person's retirement.

(d) The computation of an optional service retirement annuity must include the ages of the retiring member and the member's designated beneficiary at the time of the member's retirement.

[Sections 44.104 to 44.200 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER C. DISABILITY RETIREMENT BENEFITS

§ 44.201. Eligibility for Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) A member is eligible, regardless of age, to retire from regular active service for disability and receive a disability retirement annuity if the member has at least seven years of service credit in the retirement system.

(b) A member otherwise eligible may not receive a disability retirement annuity unless the chief justice of the supreme court certifies that the member is mentally or physically incapacitated for the further performance of regular judicial duties.

(c) A disability retirement annuity may be denied on the ground that a claimed physical incapacity is caused by or results from an intermperate use of alcohol or narcotic drugs.

§ 44.202. Information About Physical Incapacity

(a) A member who applies for retirement because of physical incapacity shall file with the supreme court written reports by two physicians licensed to practice medicine in this state, fully reporting the claimed physical incapacity.

(b) The chief justice of the supreme court may appoint a physician licensed in this state to make any additional medical investigation the court finds necessary.

§ 44.203. Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) or (c) of this section, a disability retirement annuity is an amount computed as provided by Section 44.102 of this subtitle.

(b) The amount of a disability retirement annuity is not reducible because of the age of the retiring member but may be increased as provided by Section 44.102(b) of this subtitle, if applicable.

(c) Instead of a disability retirement annuity computed as provided by Section 44.102 of this subtitle, a retiring member may elect to receive an optional disability retirement annuity payable as provided by Section 44.103 of this subtitle.

(d) A disability retirement annuity is payable for the duration of the retiree's disability. If a retiree who has selected an optional disability retirement annuity dies while receiving the annuity, the annuity is payable throughout the life of the retiree's designated beneficiary or for a guaranteed period after the date of retirement, depending on the option selected.

SUBCHAPTER D. DEATH BENEFITS

§ 44.301. Selection of Death Benefit Plan by Member

(a) A contributing member who has at least 10 years of service credit in the retirement system, or a noncontributing member who has at least 12 years of service credit, may select a death benefit plan for the payment, if the member dies before retirement, of a death benefit annuity to one or more persons designated by the member. Death benefit annuities available for selection by a member described in this subsection are the optional annuities provided by Sections 24.108(e)(1) and 24.108(e)(4) of Subtitle C of this title.

(b) A member who meets the requirements of Section 24.301(b) of Subtitle C of this title may select a death benefit plan under that subsection. Section 24.301(e) of Subtitle C of this title applies to a death benefit plan selected by a member in applicable circumstances.
(c) The computation of a death benefit annuity must include the ages of the member and of the member's designated beneficiary at the time of the member's death.

(d) A member may select a death benefit plan by filing an application for a plan with the board of trustees on a form prescribed by the board. After selection, a death benefit plan may take effect at retirement, or becomes ineligible to select a plan.

(filing an application for a plan with the board of trustees on a form prescribed by the board. After selection, a death benefit plan may take effect at death unless the member amends the plan, selects a retirement annuity at the time of the member's retirement, or becomes ineligible to select a plan.

(e) A death benefit annuity is payable beginning on the day after the date the member dies.

§ 44.302. Selection of Death Benefit Plan by Survivor of Member

(a) If a member eligible to select a death benefit plan under Section 44.301(a) of this subtitle dies without having made a selection, the member's surviving spouse may select a plan in the same manner as if the member had made the selection. If there is no surviving spouse, the personal representative of the decedent's estate may make the selection.

(b) If a person dies who meets the description in Section 24.302(b) of Subtitle C of this title, the person's surviving spouse or the guardian of surviving minor children may select a death benefit plan under that subsection.

§ 44.303. Return of Contributions

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, if a member dies before retirement, the amount of the member's contributions to the retirement system is payable as a lump-sum death benefit.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable to a person designated by the member in a signed document filed with the board of trustees. If a member does not designate a beneficiary, the benefit is payable to the member's estate.

(c) A death benefit may not be paid under this section if a death benefit annuity has been selected as provided by Section 44.103 or 44.203 of this subtitle.

§ 44.304. Return of Excess Contributions

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, if a person dies after retirement, a lump-sum death benefit is payable in an amount, if any, by which the retiree's contributions to the retirement system on the date of retirement exceed the amount of annuity payments made before the retiree's death.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable to the retiree's designated beneficiary. If a retiree dies without having designated a beneficiary, the benefit is payable to the person entitled to distribution of the decedent's estate, if that person or the personal representative of the decedent's estate claims the benefit before the second anniversary of the decedent's death.

(c) A death benefit may not be paid under this section if an optional retirement annuity has been selected as provided by Section 44.103 or 44.203 of this subtitle.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981]

CHAPTER 45. ADMINISTRATION

SUBCHAPTER A. POWERS AND DUTIES

§ 45.001. General Administration

The board of trustees of the Employees Retirement System of Texas is responsible for the general administration and operation of the retirement system.

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 51.001. Definitions

In this subtitle:

(1) "Actuarial equivalent" means a benefit that, at the time it is entered upon, has the same present value as the benefit it replaces, based on interest and on a mortality table recommended by the actuary and adopted by the board of trustees.

(2) "Annual compensation" means the compensation that is paid to an employee of a participating subdivision by the subdivision that does not exceed the rate of compensation fixed by the subdivision governing body as the maximum compensation for a year on which contributions by the employee to the retirement system may be based.

(3) "Annuity" means an amount of money payable in equal monthly installments at the end of each month for a period determined under this subtitle.

(4) "Board of trustees" means the persons appointed under this subtitle to administer the retirement system.

(5) "Compensation" means the payments made to an employee of a participating subdivision by the subdivision for service, including nonmonetary compensation, the value of which is determined by the governing body of the subdivision.

(6) "Employee" means a person who is certified by a subdivision as being employed in, or elected or appointed to, a position or office in the subdivision that normally requires services from the person for not less than 900 hours a year and for which the person is compensated by the subdivision.

(7) "Governing body" means the commissioners court of a county or, in any other subdivision, the body that is authorized to raise and expend revenue.

(8) "Initial deposit rate" means the percentage of the annual compensation of an employee of a participating subdivision that is required by the subdivision on the effective date of subdivision participation in the retirement system as the rate for employee contributions to the retirement system.

(9) "Local pension system" means a public retirement benefit program of less than statewide scope.

(10) "Retirement" means the withdrawal from service with a retirement benefit granted under this subtitle.

(11) "Retirement system" means the Texas County and District Retirement System.

(12) "Service" means the time a person is an employee.

(13) "Credited service" means the number of months of prior and current service ascribed to a member in the retirement system or included in a prior service certificate in effect for the member.

(14) "Subdivision" means a county, a political unit that consists of all of the geographical area of one county or of all or part of more than one county, a political unit of a county that has taxing authority, the Texas Association of Counties, the Texas County and District Retirement System, or a city and county that jointly operate a city-county hospital under Chapter 383, Acts of the 48th Legislature, Regular Session, 1943 (Article 4494i, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), but does not include an incorporated city or town, a school district, or a junior college district.

§ 51.002. Purpose of Subtitle

The purpose of this subtitle is to establish a program of benefits for members, retirees, and their beneficiaries and to establish rules for the management and operation of the retirement system.

§ 51.003. Retirement System

The Texas County and District Retirement System is continued in existence and is the name by which the business of the retirement system shall be transacted, all its funds invested, and all its cash and other property held. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 51.004. Powers and Privileges

The retirement system has the powers, privileges, and immunities of a corporation, as well as the powers, privileges, and immunities conferred by this subtitle. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 51.005. Action for Accounting

(a) The retirement system or the board of trustees may initiate, or cause to be initiated on its behalf, an action against a participating subdivision, a board of the subdivision, or individual officers of the subdivision, to compel an accounting of sums due to the retirement system or to require the withholding and accounting of sums due from members.

(b) The venue of an action brought under this section is in either Travis County or a county in which the subdivision is situated. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 51.006. Exemption From Execution

All retirement annuity payments, other benefit payments, and a member’s accumulated contributions are unassignable and are exempt from execution, garnishment, attachment, and state and local taxation. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 51.007 to 51.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. PENAL PROVISIONS

§ 51.101. Offenses; Penalty

(a) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly makes a false statement in a report or application to the retirement system in an attempt to defraud the retirement system.

(b) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly makes a false certificate of an official report to the retirement system.

(c) An offense under this section is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, by confinement in jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or both. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

CHAPTER 52. MEMBERSHIP

§ 52.003. Retirement System

The Texas County and District Retirement System is continued in existence and is the name by which the business of the retirement system shall be transacted, all its funds invested, and all its cash and other property held. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

SUBCHAPTER A. SUBDIVISION PARTICIPATION

§ 52.001. Subdivision Participation

(a) A subdivision, in the manner required for official actions of the subdivision, may elect to join the retirement system and be subject to the provisions of this subtitle.

(b) The governing body of a subdivision shall notify the board of trustees of an election under this section before the 11th day after the date of election.

(c) Subject to the approval of the board of trustees, an electing subdivision under this section may begin participation in the retirement system on the first day of any month designated by the subdivision’s governing body. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 52.002. Rules for Participating Subdivisions

The board of trustees may adopt rules concerning:

(1) notices, information, and reports the board of trustees requires from a subdivision that elects to participate in the retirement system; and

(2) the time that a subdivision that elects to participate in the retirement system may begin participation. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 52.003. Additional Membership Classes

If a class of employees becomes eligible for membership in the retirement system as a result of amendment of this subtitle after a subdivision has elected to participate, the subdivision may include that class as members of the retirement system on the same terms as are applicable to employees eligible for optional coverage under Subchapter C of this chapter.
§ 52.003

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 52.0031. Supplemental Death Benefits Fund

(a) If a subdivision is participating in the retirement system on a full-salary basis, the subdivision may elect to participate in the supplemental death benefits fund.

(b) A subdivision that elects to participate in the fund may elect coverage providing postretirement death benefits in addition to coverage providing in-service death benefits.

(c) Before a subdivision that has fewer than 10 employees who are members of the retirement system is permitted to participate in the fund, the board of trustees may require the subdivision to provide evidence that is satisfactory to the board that the members are in good health.

(d) A subdivision that elects to participate in the fund after the operative date of the fund may begin participation on the first day of any month after the month in which the subdivision gives notice of its election to the board of trustees.

(e) If a subdivision has previously discontinued participation in the fund, the board of trustees in its discretion may restrict the right of subdivision to participate again.

§ 52.004. Termination of Subdivision Participation

(a) A subdivision may not terminate participation in the retirement system if it has employees who are members, but it may elect to discontinue participation in the retirement system of nonmembers whose employment or reemployment begins after the date of an election to discontinue.

(b) If before November 1 of any year a subdivision gives written notice of its intention to the retirement system, the subdivision may terminate coverage under, and discontinue participation in, the supplemental death benefits fund. A termination under this subsection is effective on January 1 of the year following the year in which notice is given.

§ 52.005. Merger

A local pension system established for employees of a subdivision may merge into the retirement system on conditions prescribed by the board of trustees.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 52.006 to 52.100 reserved for expansion]
(c) If the commissioners court reverses an election under this section and requires the employees of a county hospital to become members of the retirement system, for the purposes of this subtitle the employees of the county hospital comprise a separate subdivision from other county employees.

§ 52.105. Status as an Employee

For the purposes of this subtitle, a person has the standing of an employee in a participating subdivision if the person:

(1) is employed in a position that normally requires services from the person for not less than 900 hours a year by a judicial district probation department that has executed a contract with the participating subdivision under Article 42.12, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965; or

(2) is eligible for optional membership in the retirement system under Subchapter C of this chapter.

§ 52.106. Multiple Retirement System Membership

(a) Except as provided in this section, a person is not an employee eligible for membership and is not eligible to receive credit in this retirement system for service performed that makes a person eligible for membership or is creditable in another pension fund or retirement system that is at least partly supported at public expense.

(b) A person may simultaneously be a member of, and receive credit for service performed during the same period in the retirement system, the federal program providing old age and survivors insurance, and the Judicial Retirement System of Texas.

§ 52.107. Exception to General Membership Requirement

(a) If on the date a subdivision's participation in the retirement system becomes effective a person has a basis of employment with the subdivision that would be violated by a membership requirement of this subchapter, the person may elect not to become a member of the retirement system.

(b) If a person qualified to make an election under this section has been notified that the subdivision participation becomes effective the person files with the governing body of the subdivision written notice of an election not to become a member.

§ 52.108. Withdrawal of Contributions

A person who is not an employee of any participating subdivision and who has not retired, may, after application, withdraw all of the accumulated contributions credited to the person's individual account in the employees saving fund, and the retirement system shall close the account.

§ 52.109. Termination of Membership

(a) A person terminates membership in the retirement system by:

(1) death;

(2) retirement;

(3) withdrawal of all of the person's contributions while absent from service; or

(4) absence from service for five consecutive years or more either before accumulating enough credited service to enable the person to retire without additional service or before accumulating four or more years of credited service with one or more subdivisions that have adopted a program allowing retirement without additional service after accumulation of 12 years of credited service.

(b) A member of the retirement system is not absent from service and continues to accumulate membership credited service if at any time during a declared or undeclared war involving the United States, during a conflict between the armed forces of the United States and the armed forces of a foreign country, or before the first anniversary of the last day of the war or conflict, the person:

(1) performs active duty service in the armed forces of the United States or their auxiliaries;

(2) performs active duty service in the armed forces reserve of the United States or their auxiliaries;

(3) performs service in the American Red Cross; or

(4) is conscripted and performs war-related service.

(c) On any termination of membership in the retirement system, a person forfeits all credited service established in the retirement system.

§ 52.110. Resumption of Service by Retiree

A person who has retired under this subtitle because of service may not rejoin the retirement system or resume or continue service with a participating subdivision.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 52.111 to 52.200 reserved for expansion]
SUBCHAPTER C. OPTIONAL MEMBERSHIP COVERAGE

§ 52.201. Optional Membership Class

(a) The commissioners court of a county that participates in the retirement system and that uses county funds to pay supplemental compensation to those persons who regularly perform the duties of an elected or appointed state or district office, who also receive compensation from the state, may by order make those persons eligible, to the extent of the compensation paid by the county, for membership in the retirement system.

(b) Unless membership is waived, a person who is made eligible for membership in the retirement system under Subsection (a) of this section becomes a member on the date specified in the order of the commissioners court.

(c) If, after the effective date of an order under Subsection (a) of this section, a person who is less than 60 years old is employed for the first time by the county in a position described by Subsection (a) of this section, the person becomes a member of the retirement system on the date the person's employment begins.

§ 52.202. Waiver of Membership

(a) A person who is eligible under Section 52.201(a) of this subtitle to become a member of the retirement system on the effective date of the commissioners court order may elect to waive membership.

(b) The board of trustees may prescribe the form of a membership waiver under this section, which must be in writing and filed with the director within 30 days after the date specified in an order under Section 52.201(a) of this subtitle.

§ 52.203. Subsequent Election to Become Member

(a) A person who has filed a waiver under Section 52.202 of this subtitle may thereafter become a member of the retirement system, if the person meets the requirements for membership that are applicable to new employees of the subdivision at the time that the person applies for membership that was previously waived. Application for membership under this section must be on a form prescribed by the board of trustees.

(b) The effective date of membership applied for under this section is the first day of the first month after the month in which the application is filed, and no credit in the retirement system may be given for any type of service prior to that effective date.

§ 53.003. Credited Service Previously Forfeited
(a) An eligible member who has withdrawn contributions from the retirement system may reestablish the forfeited credit in the system on which the credit was based was performed for a participating subdivision the governing body of which by order authorizes reestablishment of the credit by eligible employee members of the subdivision.
(b) A member eligible to reestablish credit under this section is one who:
   (1) was a member on the effective date of an order made under Subsection (a) of this section; and
   (2) has, since resuming membership, at least 24 consecutive months of service as an employee of the subdivision for which the order was made.
(c) A member eligible under this section may reestablish credit by depositing with the retirement system in a lump sum the amount withdrawn from the subdivision for which the order was made.
(d) A governing body may not make an order under Subsection (a) of this section unless the actuary first determines that reestablishment of forfeited credit service would not impair the ability of the subdivision:
   (1) to meet all present and prospective liabilities of the subdivision's account in the subdivision accumulation fund; and
   (2) to provide for payment of all basic and supplemental annuities derived from credits granted by the subdivision.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]
[Sections 53.004 to 53.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. ESTABLISHMENT OF PRIOR SERVICE GENERALLY

§ 53.101. Creditable Prior Service
Prior service creditable in the retirement system is service performed as an employee of a participating subdivision before the date the subdivision's participation in the retirement system became effective.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 53.102. Eligibility for Prior Service
(a) A member is eligible to receive credit in the retirement system for prior service if the member:
   (1) became a member as an employee of a subdivision on the effective date of the subdivision's participation in the retirement system; or
   (2) became a member as an employee of a subdivision before the fifth anniversary of the effective date of its participation and continues as an employee of the subdivision for at least five consecutive years after reemployment.
(b) The board of trustees may adopt rules concerning eligibility for prior service under Subsection (a) of this section.

§ 53.103. Statement of Prior Service
A member claiming credit for prior service shall file a detailed statement of the service with the treasurer or other disbursing officer of the subdivision for which the service was performed.

§ 53.104. Certification of Service and Average Compensation
(a) As soon as practicable after a member files a statement of prior service under Section 53.103 of this subtitle, the subdivision employing the officer receiving the statement shall verify the prior service claimed and certify to the board of trustees the amount of service approved and the member's average prior service compensation.
(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, the average prior service compensation of a member is computed as the average monthly compensation for service performed for the subdivision:
   (1) for the 36 months immediately preceding the effective date of the subdivision's participation in the retirement system; or
   (2) if the member did not perform service in each of the 36 months immediately preceding participation, for the number of months of service within the 36-month period.
(c) In a computation of average prior service compensation for service performed for a subdivision whose retirement system participation began before January 1, 1978, monthly compensation is excluded to the extent that it exceeds the lower of the following rates of compensation:
   (1) the annual compensation for member contributions as determined by the subdivision governing body at the time of its election to participate in the retirement system; or
   (2) annual compensation of $12,000.
(d) The board of trustees may adopt rules concerning verification and certification of service and compensation under this section.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 53.105. Determination of Allocated Prior Service Credit
(a) After receiving a certification of prior service and average prior service compensation under Section 53.104 of this subtitle, the board of trustees shall determine the member's maximum and allocated prior service credits.
§ 53.105

§ 53.105. Prior Service Certificate

(a) After determining a member's allocated prior service credit under Section 53.105 of this subtitle, the board of trustees shall issue to the member a prior service certificate stating:

(1) the number of months of prior service credited;
(2) the average prior service compensation; and
(3) the allocated prior service credit.

(b) As long as a person remains a member, the person's prior service certificate is, for purposes of retirement, conclusive evidence of the information it contains, except that a member or participating subdivision may, before the first anniversary of its issuance or modification, request the board of trustees to modify the certificate.

§ 53.106. Prior Service Certificate

(b) The maximum prior service credit is an amount equal to the accumulation at interest of a series of equal monthly amounts for the number of months of approved prior service. Each monthly amount equals twice the subdivision's initial deposit rate, times the member's average prior service compensation. Interest is allowed at the end of each 12-month period on an accumulated amount at the beginning of each period and is credited only for each whole 12-month period. The rate of interest allowed on a maximum prior service credit granted by a subdivision having an effective date of participation in the retirement system after December 31, 1981, is three percent a year.

(c) The allocated prior service credit is the percentage of the maximum prior service credit granted by the subdivision to all members who performed prior service for the subdivision. The total allocated prior service credits for members claiming prior service with the subdivision may not exceed an amount for which the prospective subdivision contributions to the retirement system will be adequate to amortize, before the 25th anniversary of the effective date of subdivision participation in the retirement system:

(1) all obligations charged to its account in the subdivision accumulation fund; and
(2) all basic and supplemental annuities derived from credits granted by the subdivision.

(d) Interest is earned for each whole year on an allocated prior service credit from the effective date of membership to the effective date of retirement at the applicable rate for the period as provided by Section 55.313 of this subtitle.

§ 53.107. Void Prior Service Certificate

(a) When a person terminates membership in the retirement system, any prior service certificate issued to the person becomes void.

(b) A person who has terminated membership and subsequently resumes membership in the retirement system is not entitled to credit for prior service.

SUBCHAPTER C. OPTIONAL PRIOR SERVICE

§ 53.201. Service for Certain Public Facilities

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision by order may authorize the establishment of prior service credit in the retirement system for service performed in a public hospital, utility, or other public facility during a time the facility was operated by a unit of government other than the subdivision and before:

(1) the effective date of the subdivision's participation in the retirement system, if the facility was acquired by the subdivision before that date; or
(2) the date of acquisition of the facility, if the facility was acquired after the effective date of the subdivision's participation in the retirement system.

(b) A member eligible to establish credit under this section after an order under Subsection (a) of this section is one who was employed by a public facility:

(1) on the effective date of subdivision participation, for service under Subsection (a)(1) of this section; or
(2) on the date of acquisition of the facility, for service under Subsection (a)(2) of this section.

(c) Credit under this section is computed and limited in the same manner as is prior service credit of employees of other departments of the participating subdivision for equivalent periods of service.

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision may authorize the establishment of credit for prior service in the retirement system by eligible members who have performed military service creditable as provided by this section.

(b) Military service creditable under this section is active federal duty as a member of the armed forces of the United States during a time that the United States is or was engaged in organized conflict with foreign forces, whether a state of war or a police action. A member may not establish more than 36 months of credited service under this section for military service.

(c) A member eligible to establish credit under this section is one who:

(1) was an employee of the subdivision immediately before beginning military service;
§ 53.301. Member From County With Local Pension System

(a) A person who becomes a member of the retirement system under Section 52.201 of this subtitle as an employee of a subdivision that operated a local pension system before merging it into the retirement system may establish prior service credit in the retirement system for service performed for the subdivision before the effective date of merger.

(b) A member claiming credit under this section shall establish current service credit under Section 52.402 of this subtitle and shall deposit with the local pension system earning the same compensation as the member is credited for under this section for member deposits, an amount equal to the amount of total deposits that a member of the local pension system earning the same compensation during the same period was required to make to the local system.

(c) If a member makes a deposit under Subsection (b) of this section, the subdivision shall deposit with the retirement system, within the period required under this section for member deposits, an amount equal to the amount deposited under Subsection (b), and the retirement system shall grant the member prior service credit under this section.

§ 53.302. Member From County Without Local Pension System

(a) A person who becomes a member of the retirement system under Section 52.201 of this subtitle as an employee of a county that did not operate a local pension system before the 91st day after the effective date of county participation may establish prior service credit in the retirement system for service performed for the county before the effective date of county participation.

(b) A member may establish credit under this section by establishing current service credit under Section 53.402 of this subtitle.

§ 53.303. Member Not Entitled to Prior Service Credit

A person who becomes a member of the retirement system under Section 52.203 of this subtitle is not entitled to credited service in the retirement system for service performed before the date the person's membership begins.

§ 53.304. Certification of Service and Average Compensation; Determination of Allocated Local Service Credit

(a) A member claiming credit for prior service under this subchapter shall file a statement of prior service in the manner required by Section 53.103 of this subtitle.

(b) After a member described in Section 53.301(a) of this subtitle files a statement of prior service, the subdivision employing the officer receiving the statement shall certify to the board of trustees the amount of prior service approved and the average local compensation, determined in the manner provided for computing the average local compensation for employees of the subdivision who became members on the effective date of merger of the local pension system into the retirement system.

(c) After a member described in Section 53.302 of this subtitle files a statement of prior service, the subdivision employing the officer receiving the statement shall certify to the board of trustees the amount of prior service approved and the average local compensation, determined in the manner provided for computing the average local compensation for employees of the subdivision who became members on the effective date of subdivision participation in the retirement system.

[Sections 53.203 to 53.300 reserved for expansion]
the retirement system for each month for which the required contributions are made by the member and the employing subdivision.

§ 53.402. Current Service for Member of Optional Class

(a) A person who becomes a member of the retirement system under Section 52.201 of this subtitle may establish current service credit in the retirement system for service performed for the subdivision for the period beginning on the effective date of the subdivision's participation in the retirement system and ending on the day before the date of an order made under Section 52.201(a) of this subtitle.

(b) A member claiming credit under this section shall deposit with the retirement system, before the 91st day after the effective date of an order made under Section 52.201(a) of this subtitle, for the total number of months of service claimed under this section, an amount equal to the amount of deposits that a member earning the same compensation from the subdivision during the same period was required to make to the retirement system.

(c) If the subdivision deposits with the retirement system, within the period required under this section for member deposits, an amount equal to the amount deposited under Subsection (b) of this section, the retirement system shall grant the member current service credit under this section.

§ 53.403. Determination of Current Service Credit and Matching Credit

(a) As soon as practicable after the end of each calendar year, the board of trustees shall determine a member's current service credit and multiple matching credit.

(b) The current service credit of a member is an amount equal to a percentage of the accumulated contributions made by the member to the retirement system during a calendar year. The percentage is determined by the governing body of the employing subdivision at the time of its election to participate in the retirement system, except that the percentage for a subdivision that begins participation after December 31, 1977, is 100 percent.

(c) The multiple matching credit of a member is an amount equal to a percentage of the accumulated contributions made by the member to the retirement system during a calendar year. The percentage is 0 percent until a greater percentage is adopted as provided by Section 53.703 of this subtitle or, for a subdivision whose participation in the retirement system began after October 31, 1980, unless a greater percentage is adopted by its governing body before the first anniversary of the subdivision's effective date of retirement system participation, after the actuary has determined and certified that the greater percentage would not impair the ability of the subdivision to amortize, before the 25th anniversary of the participation date, all obligations that are charges against its account in the subdivision accumulation fund. A multiple matching credit includes any portion of a current service credit in effect on January 1, 1978, that exceeds the member's current service credit determined under Subsection (b) of this section.

(d) Interest is earned for each whole calendar year on a current service credit or multiple matching credit from the end of each calendar year to the effective date of the member's retirement at the rate credited annually to a member's individual account in the employees saving fund.

[Sections 53.404 to 53.500 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER F. CURRENT SERVICE FOR LEGISLATIVE SERVICE

§ 53.501. Legislative Service

(a) A member may establish credit for current service in the retirement system for service performed as a member of the legislature, if the member deposits with the system a contribution in an amount computed for each month of service claimed at the contribution rate currently required of an employee of the subdivision that employs the member, multiplied by $400. On the member's making a deposit, the employing subdivision shall deposit with the retirement system a contribution in an amount equal to the amount deposited by the member.

(b) A member claiming credit for previous legislative service shall file a detailed statement of the service with the treasurer or other disbursing officer of the subdivision by which the member is currently employed. As soon as practicable after the filing of a statement, the employing subdivision shall verify the service claimed and certify to the board of trustees the amount of service approved.

[Sections 53.502 to 53.600 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER G. OPTIONAL CURRENT SERVICE

§ 53.601. Current Service for Military Duty

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision may, on the terms provided by Section 54.201 of this subtitle, authorize the establishment of credit for current service in the retirement system for military service creditable as provided by this section.

(b) Military service creditable in the retirement system under this section is service as a member of the armed forces of the United States during a time, or before the first anniversary of the last day of a time, that the United States is or was engaged in:

(1) organized conflict with foreign forces, whether a state of war or a police action; or

(2) a crisis in this country.

c) The board of trustees by rule shall determine the periods recognized for purposes of this subtitle as times of organized conflict or crisis.

d) A member eligible to establish credit under this section is one who:

(1) does not receive and is not eligible to receive federal retirement payments based on 20 years or more of active federal military duty or its equivalent;

(2) has been released from military duty under conditions not dishonorable;

(3) became a member of the retirement system after release from military duty; and

(4) has performed as an employee at least 10 years of service that is credited in the retirement system.

e) An eligible member may establish credit under this section by filing with the retirement system an application for the credit before the first anniversary of the effective date of an order made under Subsection (a) of this section or of the date of first eligibility, whichever is later. An application must be accompanied by a contribution in an amount computed as the number of months of service claimed under this section, times the lesser of:

(1) the member's average monthly contribution for the first 12 months as an employee after becoming a member of the retirement system; or

(2) $15.

f) If a member makes a deposit under Subsection (e) of this section, the subdivision shall deposit with the retirement system a contribution in an amount equal to the amount deposited under Subsection (e).

g) The maximum amount of current credited service that may be established under this section is:

(1) 3 years, if the member has performed as an employee at least 10 but less than 15 years of service that is credited in the retirement system; or

(2) 5 years, if the member has performed as an employee at least 15 years of service, that is credited in the system.

(h) Credit may not be established under this section for service that is simultaneously credited by another retirement system or program established or governed by state law.

[Formerly § 83.602, added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, relating to current service for certain elected officers, was repealed and former § 53.602 was redesignated as § 53.601 by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 210, ch. 18, § 47, effective Nov. 10, 1981.]

[Sections 53.603 to 53.700 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER H. OPTIONAL INCREASES IN SERVICE CREDITS

§ 53.701. Increase in Prior Service Credits

The governing body of a participating subdivision may, on the terms provided by Section 54.201 of this subtitle, increase the percentage of maximum prior service credits used in determining the allocated prior service credits previously granted and in effect concerning prior service with the subdivision.

§ 53.702. Recomputation of Service Credits

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision having active members and annuitants whose current or maximum prior service credits have been computed on a basis other than total compensation may by order elect to have the credits recomputed as the sum of:

(1) an amount determined as provided by Section 53.105 of this subtitle, using average compensation as determined under Section 53.104 of this subtitle, except that compensation exceeding the limits provided by Section 53.104(c) may not be excluded in the computation; plus either

(2) an amount determined as two times the excess of (i) over (ii), discounted at interest from the date one year prior to the date of election to the subdivision's participation date, where (i) is the amount of accumulated contributions the member would have had one year prior to the date of election if in each calendar year since membership the member had contributed on the basis of the contribution rate applicable at that time and the member's total compensation at that time, and (ii) is the member's actual accumulated contributions one year prior to the date of election; or

(3) an amount determined as two times the excess of (i) over (ii), discounted at interest from the date of retirement to the subdivision's participation date, where (i) is the amount of accumulated contributions the annuitant would have had on the date of retirement if in each calendar year of membership the annuitant had contributed on the basis of the contribution rate applicable at that time and the annuitant's total compensation at that time, and (ii) is the annuitant's actual accumulated contributions on the date of retirement.

(b) The subdivision governing body shall determine the effective date of an election under this section, which may be the first day of any calendar year.

(c) An election must require member contributions to be based, beginning on the effective date of the election, on the basis of total compensation as prescribed by this section. An election must apply to all members and annuitants.

(d) A subdivision governing body may not make an election under this section unless the actuary first determines that the recomputation would not impair the ability of the subdivision to pay all obligations charged against its account in the subdivision accumulation fund, before the 25th anniversary of the December 31 valuation date determined under Section 54.201 of this subtitle.

§ 53.703. Increase in Multiple Matching Credits

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision may, on the terms provided by Section 54.201 of this subtitle, increase the percentage used in determining multiple matching credits under Section 53.503(c) of this subtitle.

(b) A percentage increase in multiple matching credits must be in a multiple of 10 percent of the amount of member contributions and must be applied to all members and annuitants who have performed or subsequently perform current service that is credited with the subdivision in the retirement system.

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 54.001. Types of Benefits

The types of benefits payable by the retirement system are:

(1) service retirement benefits;
(2) disability retirement benefits; and
(3) death benefits.

§ 54.002. Composition of Retirement Annuity

(a) Each retirement annuity payable under this subtitle consists of a basic annuity and a supplemental annuity.

(b) A basic annuity is an amount payable from the current service annuity reserve fund and is actuarially determined from the sum of a member's:

(1) accumulated contributions; and
(2) current service credit, accumulated at interest as provided by Section 53.403(d) of this subtitle.

(c) A supplemental annuity is an amount payable from the subdivision accumulation fund, subject to reduction under Section 55.307(c) of this subtitle, and equal to the sum of:

(1) a member's allocated prior service credit, accumulated at interest as provided by Section 55.105(d) of this subtitle;
(2) a member's multiple matching credit, accumulated at interest as provided by Section 53.403(d) of this subtitle; and
(3) any increase in the annuity granted by a participating subdivision after December 31, 1978.

§ 54.003. Effective Date of Retirement

(a) Except as provided by Section 54.004 of this subtitle and Subsection (b) of this section, the effective date of a member's service retirement is the date the member designates at the time the member...
§ 54.004. Mandatory Retirement

(a) Except as provided by Subsections (b) and (c) of this section, a member is required to retire and terminate employment with all participating subdivisions on the later of:

(1) the last day of the calendar year in which the member becomes 70 years old; or

(2) the last day of the calendar year in which the member accumulates 12 years of credited service in the retirement system.

(b) A member is not required to retire before the first anniversary of the effective date of the person's membership.

(c) In an exceptional case for substantial cause, a retirement otherwise required by this section may be deferred for a period of not more than one year at a time by mutual consent of the member and the employing subdivision.

§ 54.005. When Annuity is Payable

An annuity under this subtitle is payable for a period beginning on the last day of the month following the month in which retirement occurs and ending, except as otherwise provided by this subtitle, on the last day of the month immediately preceding the month in which death occurs.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 54.006 to 54.100 reserved for expansion]
§ 54.103

(b) A standard service retirement annuity is payable throughout the life of a retiree.

§ 54.104. Optional Service Retirement Annuity

(a) Instead of the standard service retirement annuity payable under Section 54.103 of this subtitle, a retiring member may elect to receive an optional service retirement annuity under this section.

(b) An optional service retirement annuity is payable throughout the life of the retiree and is actuarially reduced from the standard service retirement annuity to its actuarial equivalent under the option selected under Subsection (c) of this section.

(c) An eligible person may select any optional annuity approved by the board of trustees, the entire benefit of which is certified by the actuary as the actuarial equivalent of the annuity to which the person is entitled, or may select one of the following options, which provide that:

(1) after the retiree's death, the reduced annuity is payable throughout the life of a person designated by the retiree;

(2) after the retiree's death, one-half of the reduced annuity is payable throughout the life of a person designated by the retiree;

(3) if the retiree dies before 60 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 60 payments are payable to the retiree's beneficiary or, if one does not exist, to the retiree's estate; or

(4) if the retiree dies before 120 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 120 payments are payable to the retiree's beneficiary or, if one does not exist, to the retiree's estate.

(d) To select an optional service retirement annuity, a member or retiree must make the selection and designate a beneficiary on a form prescribed by and filed with the board of trustees before the 31st day after the effective date of retirement.

(e) A retiree who dies before the 31st day after the effective date of service retirement and who did not select an optional service retirement annuity before death is considered to have selected an optional annuity under Subsection (c)(4) of this section. Alternatively, the decedent's beneficiary may elect to receive a refund of the decedent's accumulated contributions under Section 54.401 of this subtitle, in which case the decedent will be considered to have been a contributing member at the time of death.

§ 54.105. Selection of Optional Service Retirement Annuity

(a) A member who has at least 30 years of credited service in the retirement system may, before the effective date of the member's retirement, file with the board of trustees, on a form prescribed by the board, a selection of an optional service retirement annuity available under Section 54.104 of this subtitle and a designation of beneficiary.

(b) A member may change a selection of an optional annuity or a designation of beneficiary at any time before the member's retirement or death in the same manner that the original selection and designation were made.

(c) If a member eligible under this section to select an optional service retirement annuity dies before retirement without having made a selection, the member's surviving spouse may select an optional annuity in the same manner as if the member had made the selection. If there is no surviving spouse, the executor or administrator of the member's estate may elect:

(1) for an estate beneficiary to receive the optional annuity under Section 54.104(c)(4) of this subtitle, in which case the member will be considered to have retired on the last day of the month before the month in which death occurred; or

(2) for the estate to receive a refund of the member's accumulated contributions under Section 54.401 of this subtitle, in which case the member will be considered to have been a contributing member at the time of death.

§ 54.106. Selection of Optional Service Retirement Annuity by Certain Members

(a) An eligible member who is an employee of a subdivision having an effective date of participation in the retirement system after August 31, 1979, may select an optional service retirement annuity in the manner and under the conditions provided by Section 54.105 of this subtitle.

(b) A member eligible under this section to select an optional service retirement annuity is one who:

(1) is at least 60 years old and has at least 12 years of credited service in the retirement system performed for one or more subdivisions whose employees may select an optional annuity after meeting the same age and service requirements provided in this subdivision; or

(2) has at least 20 years of credited service in the retirement system performed for one or more subdivisions whose employees may select an optional annuity after meeting the same service requirement provided in this subdivision.

(c) If a member eligible under this section dies before retirement without having made a selection, the member's surviving spouse or the executor or administrator of the member's estate may make the selection provided by Section 54.105(c) of this subtitle under the terms of that subsection.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 54.107 to 54.200 reserved for expansion]
§ 54.201. Conditions for Optional Benefits

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision by order or resolution may, on the terms provided by this section:

(1) authorize the establishment of credited service under Section 53.202 or 53.601 of this subtitle;

(2) recompute service credits under Section 53.701 or 53.703 of this subtitle;

(3) extend participation in benefits under Section 54.202, 54.203, or 54.204 of this subtitle; or

(4) recompute annuities under Section 54.205 or 54.206 of this subtitle.

(b) A governing body may not adopt an order or resolution as provided by Subsection (a) of this section before an actuarial valuation under Section 55.206 of this subtitle is made that has a December 31 valuation date that coincides with, or is after, the completion of three years after the later of the following dates:

(1) the effective date of subdivision participation in the retirement system; or

(2) the effective date of the most recent order or resolution adopted under this section.

(c) An increase in annuity payments payable from the current service annuity reserve fund or the subdivision accumulation fund, or attributable to recomputation of allocated prior service credits, current service credits, or multiple matching credits that were originally determined previously may not provide greater benefits for completed service than would be provided through current service credits and multiple matching credits for service that is performed in the future.

(d) An order or resolution may not be adopted as provided by Subsection (a) of this section unless the actuary determines and certifies that:

(1) implementation of the order or resolution would not impair the ability of the subdivision to fund, before the 25th anniversary of the valuation date described in Subsection (b) of this section, all obligations charged against the subdivision's account in the subdivision accumulation fund; and

(2) all retirement obligations of the subdivision existing before the proposed effective date of an order or resolution under this section would be amortized on or before the 20th anniversary of the valuation date described in Subsection (b) of this section.

(e) An order or resolution under this section may not take effect until the order or resolution is approved by the board of trustees as meeting the requirements of this section. After approval by the board, an order or resolution may take effect only:

(1) after the first anniversary of the valuation date described in Subsection (b) of this section; and

(2) on January 1 of a year.

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision may authorize an employee of the subdivision who is a member of the retirement system to terminate employment with the subdivision and remain eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity at any time after the member attains the age of 60, if the member has at least 12 years of credited service performed for one or more subdivisions that either have authorized the eligibility under this section or are subject to Section 54.102(c) of this subtitle.

(b) The governing body of a subdivision may not authorize eligibility for service retirement under this section except on the terms provided by Section 54.201 of this subtitle.

§ 54.203. Optional Selection of Optional Annuity by Certain Members

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision may authorize an employee of the subdivision who is a member of the retirement system to select an optional service retirement annuity in the manner and under the conditions provided by Section 54.105 of this subtitle, if the member has at least 20 years of credited service in the system performed for one or more subdivisions whose employees may select an optional annuity after meeting the same service requirement provided in this subsection.

(b) If a member authorized under this section to select an optional service retirement annuity dies before retirement without having made a selection, the member's surviving spouse or the executor or administrator of the member's estate may make the selection provided by Section 54.105(c) of this subtitle under the terms of that subsection.

(c) The governing body of a subdivision may not authorize selection of an optional annuity under this section except on the terms provided by Section 54.201 of this subtitle.

§ 54.204. Optional Selection of Optional Annuity by Certain Other Members

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision may authorize an employee of the subdivision who is a member of the retirement system to select an optional service retirement annuity in the manner and under the conditions provided by Section 54.105, if the member is at least 60 years old and has at least 12 years of credited service in the system performed for one or more subdivisions whose employees may select an optional annuity after meeting the same age and service requirements provided in this subsection.

(b) If a member authorized under this section to select an optional service retirement annuity dies before retirement without having made a selection, the member's surviving spouse or the executor or administrator of the member's estate may make the selection provided by Section 54.105(c) of this subtitle under the terms of that subsection.

(c) The governing body of a subdivision may not authorize selection of an optional annuity under this section except on the terms provided by Section 54.201 of this subtitle.

§ 54.205. Optional Increase in Annuities From Current Service Annuity Reserve Fund

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision may increase that part of each annuity payment that is attributable to credit granted by the subdivision and that is payable from the current service annuity reserve fund.

(b) The governing body of a subdivision may not increase annuity payments under this section except on the terms provided by Section 54.201 of this subtitle.

§ 54.206. Optional Increase in Annuities From Subdivision Accumulation Fund

(a) The governing body of a participating subdivision may increase that part of each annuity payment that is attributable to credit granted by the subdivision and that is payable from the subdivision accumulation fund.

(b) The governing body of a subdivision may not increase annuity payments under this section except on the terms provided by Section 54.201 of this subtitle.

[Sections 54.207 to 54.300 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. DISABILITY RETIREMENT BENEFITS

§ 54.301. Application for Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) A member may apply for a disability retirement annuity by:

(1) filing an application for retirement with the board of trustees; or

(2) having an application filed with the board by the member's employer or legal representative.

(b) An application for a disability retirement annuity may not be made less than 30 nor more than 90 days before the date the member wishes to retire.

(c) An applicant must submit to medical examination as required by the medical board.

§ 54.302. Eligibility for Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, a member who has less than 12 years of credited service in the retirement system is eligible to retire and receive a disability retirement annuity if the member is the subject of a certification issued as provided by Section 54.303(b)(1) of this subtitle.

(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, a member who has at least 12 years of credited service in the retirement system but is not eligible for a service retirement annuity is eligible to retire and receive a disability retirement annuity if the member is the subject of a certification issued as provided by Section 54.303(b)(2) of this subtitle.

(c) A member is not eligible to retire for disability before the first anniversary of the effective date of the person's membership.

§ 54.303. Certification of Disability

(a) As soon as practicable after an application for disability retirement is filed, the medical board shall evaluate the medical and other pertinent information concerning the member's application.

(b) The medical board shall issue a certificate of disability and submit it to the board of trustees, if the medical board finds:

(1) in the case of a member who has less than 12 years of credited service in the retirement system, that:

(A) the member is mentally or physically incapacitated for the further performance of duty;

(B) the incapacity is the direct result of injuries sustained during membership by external and violent means as a direct and proximate result of the performance of duty;

(C) the incapacity is likely to be permanent; and

(D) the member should be retired; or

(2) in the case of a member who has at least 12 years of credited service in the retirement system but is not eligible for a service retirement annuity, that:

(A) the member is mentally or physically incapacitated for the further performance of duty;

(B) the incapacity is likely to be permanent; and

(C) the member should be retired.

§ 54.304. Standard Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) The standard disability retirement annuity is discounted for the possibility of payment of a benefit under Section 54.403 of this subtitle and is the actuarial equivalent of the sum of a member's:
§ 54.3041. Optional Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) Instead of the standard disability retirement annuity payable under Section 54.304 of this subtitle, a retiring member may elect to receive an optional disability retirement annuity under this section.

(b) An optional disability retirement annuity is payable throughout the life of the retiree and is actuarially reduced from the standard disability retirement annuity to its actuarial equivalent under the option selected under Subsection (c) of this section.

(c) An eligible person may select any optional annuity approved by the board of trustees, the entire benefit of which is certified by the actuary as the actuarial equivalent of the annuity to which the person is entitled, or may select one of the following options, which provide that:

(1) after the retiree's death, the reduced annuity is payable throughout the life of a person designated by the retiree;

(2) after the retiree's death, one-half of the reduced annuity is payable throughout the life of a person designated by the retiree;

(3) if the retiree dies before 60 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 60 payments are payable to the retiree's beneficiary or, if one does not exist, to the retiree's estate;

(4) if the retiree dies before 120 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 120 payments are payable to the retiree's beneficiary or, if one does not exist, to the retiree's estate.

(d) To select an optional disability retirement annuity, a member or retiree must make the selection and designate a beneficiary on a form prescribed by and filed with the board of trustees before the 31st day after the effective date of retirement.

(e) A retiree who dies before the 31st day after the effective date of disability retirement and who did not select an optional disability retirement annuity before death is considered to have selected an optional annuity under Subsection (c)(4) of this section. Alternatively, the decedent's beneficiary may elect to receive a refund of the decedent's accumulated contributions under Section 54.401 of this subtitle, in which case the decedent will be considered to have been a contributing member at the time of death.

(f) If a person's disability retirement annuity is discontinued under Section 54.306 or 54.307 of this subtitle, the person's selection of any optional annuity under this section becomes void.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 211, ch. 18, § 51, eff. Nov. 10, 1981.]

§ 54.305. Medical Examination of Disability Retiree

(a) Once each year during the first five years after a person retires for disability, and once in each three-year period after that, the board of trustees may require a disability retiree who is less than 60 years old to undergo a medical examination.

(b) An examination under this section may be held at the retiree's residence or at any place mutually agreed to by the board and the retiree. The board shall designate a physician to perform the examination.

(c) If a disability retiree refuses to submit to a medical examination as provided by this section, the board of trustees shall suspend the retiree's annuity payments until the retiree submits to an examination. If a retiree has not submitted to an examination as provided by this section before the first anniversary of the date of first refusal, the board shall revoke all rights of the retiree to an annuity.

§ 54.306. Certification of End of Disability

(a) If the medical board finds that a disability retiree is no longer mentally or physically incapacitated for the performance of duty or is engaged in or able to engage in gainful occupation, it shall certify its findings and submit them to the board of trustees.

(b) If the board of trustees concurs in a certification under this section, it shall discontinue annuity payments to the retiree.

§ 54.307. Return of Disability Retiree to Active Service

(a) If a retiree who is less than 60 years old and who is receiving a disability retirement annuity resumes employment with a participating subdivision, the person automatically resumes membership in the retirement system, and the board of trustees shall terminate the person's annuity payments.

(b) If a person resumes membership under this section, the retirement system shall restore to effect any prior service certificate used in determining the amount of the person's annuity at the time of disability retirement. If the person subsequently retires, the retirement system shall allow the person credit for all current service for which required contributions have been made and not withdrawn. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 54.308. Refund at Annuity Discontinuance

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, if a disability retirement annuity is discontinued under Section 54.306 of this subtitle or the right to an annuity revoked under Section 54.305(c) of this subtitle, the retiree is entitled to a lump-sum payment in an amount, if any, by which the amount in the retiree's individual account in the employees saving fund at the time of disability retirement exceeds the amount of basic and supplemental annuity payments made before the date the annuity was discontinued or the right to an annuity revoked.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is not payable to a retiree who resumes employment with a participating subdivision.

(c) The benefit provided by this section is payable from the current service annuity reserve fund and the subdivision accumulation fund in the ratio that the parts of the disability retirement annuity that were payable from the funds bear to the entire benefit as determined on the effective date of retirement.

[Sections 54.309 to 54.400 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER E. DEATH BENEFITS

§ 54.401. Return of Contributions

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, if a member dies before retirement, a lump-sum death benefit is payable from the employees saving fund in the amount of:

1. The accumulated contributions in the member's individual account in the fund; plus

2. Interest computed from the beginning of the year in which death occurs through the end of the month before the month in which death occurs at the rate allowed on member contributions during the preceding year.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable to the decedent's estate unless the decedent has directed that the benefit be paid otherwise.

(c) A benefit is not payable under this section if an annuity based on the decedent's service is payable under this subtitle.

§ 54.402. Excess Contributions of Service Retiree

(a) If a person who receives a standard service retirement annuity dies, a lump-sum death benefit is payable in an amount, if any, by which the amount in the retiree's individual account in the employees saving fund at the time of service retirement exceeds the amount of annuity payments made before the retiree's death.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable to the decedent's estate unless the decedent has directed that the benefit be paid otherwise.

(c) The benefit provided by this section is payable from the current service annuity reserve fund and the subdivision accumulation fund in the ratio that the parts of the service retirement annuity that were payable from the funds bear to the entire benefit as determined on the effective date of retirement.

§ 54.403. Excess Contributions of Disability Retiree

(a) If a person who receives a standard disability retirement annuity dies, a lump-sum death benefit is payable in an amount, if any, by which the amount in the retiree's individual account in the employees saving fund at the time of disability retirement exceeds the sum of annuity payments made before the retiree's death.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable to the decedent's estate unless the decedent has directed that the benefit be paid otherwise.

(c) The benefit provided by this section is payable from the current service annuity reserve fund and the subdivision accumulation fund in the ratio that the parts of the disability retirement annuity that were payable from the funds bear to the entire benefit as determined on the effective date of retirement.

SUBCHAPTER F. OPTIONAL DEATH BENEFITS

§ 54.501. Coverage in Supplemental Death Benefit Program

(a) An employee of a participating subdivision is included within the coverage of the supplemental death benefit program on the first day of the first month in which:

1. The employing subdivision is participating in the supplemental death benefits fund for coverage of all members it employs;

2. The employee is a member of the retirement system; and

3. The employee is required to make a contribution to the retirement system.
(b) Once established, coverage of a person in the supplemental death benefit program continues until the last day of a month in which a requirement of Subsection (a) of this section is not met.

§ 54.502. Extended Supplemental Death Benefit Coverage

(a) A member included in the coverage of the supplemental death benefit program who fails to earn compensation in a month for service to a subdivision participating in the supplemental death benefits fund is eligible to receive extended coverage in the program on complying with the terms of this section.

(b) A member may apply to the retirement system for extended program coverage and submit evidence of eligibility for extended coverage.

(c) The board of trustees shall grant extended coverage in the supplemental death benefit program to an applicant, if the board finds:

1. that as a result of illness or injury, the member is unable to engage in gainful occupation; and

2. that the member made a required contribution to the retirement system as an employee of a subdivision participating in the supplemental death benefits fund for the month immediately preceding the first full month in which the member was unable to engage in gainful occupation.

(d) Once established, extended coverage of a person in the supplemental death benefit program continues until the last day of the month in which:

1. the member returns to work as an employee of a participating subdivision;

2. the board of trustees finds that the member is able to engage in gainful occupation;

3. the person's membership in the retirement system is terminated; or

4. the member retires under this subtitle.

(e) The board of trustees by rule may require a member to submit to it annual proof of continued inability to engage in gainful occupation. The board may require a member to undergo a medical examination by a physician designated by the board. Failure of a member to undergo a medical examination as required by this subsection is a ground for the board's finding that the member has become able to engage in gainful occupation.

§ 54.503. Member Supplemental Death Benefit

(a) If a person included in the coverage or extended coverage of the supplemental death benefit program dies, a lump-sum supplemental death benefit is payable from the supplemental death benefits fund in an amount equal to the current annual salary of the member at the time of death.

(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, the current annual salary of a member is computed as the amount paid to the member for service on which contributions were made to the retirement system during the 12 months immediately preceding the month of death. If a member did not receive compensation for service in each of the 12 months immediately preceding the month of death, the member's current annual salary is computed by converting to an annual basis the amount paid to the member on which contributions were made to the system during the period of employment within the 12-month period. If a member did not receive compensation for service in any of the 12 months immediately preceding the month of death, or if the member was employed by a subdivision that was not participating on a full-salary basis for 12 calendar months immediately preceding the month of death, the member's current annual salary is computed by converting to an annual basis the rate of compensation payable to the member during the month of death.

(c) The current annual salary of a member included in the extended coverage of the supplemental death benefit program is computed in the manner provided by Subsection (b) of this section but as if the member had died during the first month of extended coverage.

(d) If a member, because of a change in employment, makes contributions to the retirement system during the same month as an employee of more than one subdivision participating in the supplemental death benefits fund, a death benefit is payable only on the basis of the member's most recent employment. If a member, because of simultaneous employment by more than one subdivision, makes contributions to the retirement system during the same month as an employee of more than one subdivision participating in the supplemental death benefits fund, a death benefit is payable on the basis of the member's employment by each subdivision participating in the fund.

(e) The board of trustees by rule may require such proof of compensation and periods of employment as it finds necessary.

§ 54.504. Retiree Supplemental Death Benefit

If a retiree dies whose most recent employment as a member of the retirement system was with a subdivision that has elected to provide, and continues to provide, postretirement supplemental death benefits, a lump-sum supplemental death benefit is payable from the fund in the amount of $2,500. If a retiree dies who was employed at the time of retirement by more than one subdivision that has elected to provide, and continues to provide, postretirement supplemental death benefits, the financing of the lump-sum benefit shall be prorated among the employing subdivisions participating in the fund.

§ 54.505. Beneficiary of Supplemental Death Benefit

(a) Unless a member has directed otherwise on a form prescribed by the board of trustees and filed with the retirement system:

(1) a supplemental death benefit under Section 54.503 of this subtitle is payable to the person entitled to receive the decedent's accumulated contributions, unless the decedent was eligible under Section 54.105 of this subtitle to select an optional annuity; and

(2) a supplemental death benefit under Section 54.504 of this subtitle is payable to a person entitled to receive any remaining payments of the decedent's annuity.

(b) If a person entitled under this section to receive a supplemental death benefit does not survive the member or retiree covered by the supplemental death benefit program, the benefit is payable to the estate of the covered member or retiree.

§ 55.010. Administration

(a) The retirement system is a trust.
(b) The board of trustees is responsible for the administration of the retirement system.

§ 55.012. Rulemaking

The board of trustees shall adopt rules and perform reasonable activities necessary or desirable for efficient administration of the system.

§ 55.013. Administering System Assets

(a) The board of trustees may sell, assign, exchange, or trade and transfer any security in which the retirement system's assets are invested. The board may use or reinvest the proceeds as the board determines that the system's needs require.

(b) In handling the funds of the retirement system, the board of trustees has all powers and duties granted to the State Depository Board.

§ 55.014. Accepting Gift, Grant, or Bequest

The board of trustees shall accept a gift, grant, or bequest of money or securities:

(1) for the purpose designated by the grantor if the purpose provides an endowment or retirement benefits to some or all participating employees or annuitants of the retirement system; or

(2) otherwise, for deposit in the endowment fund.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.015. Indebtedness; Payment

(a) The board of trustees may:

(1) incur indebtedness;

(2) on the credit of the retirement system, borrow money to pay expenses incident to the system's operation;

(3) renew, extend, or refund its indebtedness; or
§ 55.105 TITLE 110B 4220

(4) issue and sell negotiable promissory notes or negotiable bonds of the system.

(b) A note or bond issued under this section must mature before the 20th anniversary of the issuance of the note or bond. The rate of interest on the note or bond may not exceed six percent a year.

(c) The board shall charge a note or bond issued under this section against the system's expense fund and shall pay the note or bond from that fund. The total indebtedness against the expense fund may not exceed $100,000 at any time.

(d) A note or bond issued under this section must expressly state that the note or bond is not an obligation of this state.

§ 55.106. Grants and Payment of Benefits

The board of trustees, in accordance with this subtitle, shall consider all applications for annuities and benefits and shall decide whether to grant the annuities and benefits. The board may suspend one or more payments in accordance with this subtitle.

§ 55.107. Audit

Annually, or more often, the board of trustees shall have the accounts of the retirement system audited by a certified public accountant.

§ 55.108. Designation of Authority to Sign Vouchers

The board of trustees by resolution shall designate one or more representatives who have authority to sign vouchers for payments from the assets of the retirement system.

§ 55.109. Depositories

The board of trustees shall designate financial institutions to qualify and serve the retirement system as depositories in accordance with Article 2525 et seq., Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

§ 55.110. Adopting Rates and Tables

(a) The board of trustees shall adopt rates and tables that the board considers necessary for the retirement system after considering the results of the actuary's investigation of the mortality and service experience of the system's members and annuitants.

(b) Based on recommendations of the actuary, the board of trustees shall adopt rates and tables necessary to determine the supplemental death benefits contribution rates for each subdivision participating in the supplemental death benefits fund. The initial rates and tables become effective on the date that the fund and coverage become operative.

§ 55.111. Certification of Current Interest Rate

(a) The board of trustees shall certify the current interest rate as computed in accordance with Section 55.315(c) of this subtitle and approved in writing by the actuary.

(b) The board shall notify each participating subdivision of the current interest rate.

§ 55.112. Records of Board of Trustees

(a) The board of trustees shall maintain the offices of the retirement system in Austin and may contract for and construct a building to house those offices.

(b) The board shall keep the books and records of the retirement system in those offices.

§ 55.113. Office

(a) The board of trustees shall maintain the offices of the retirement system in Austin and may contract for and construct a building to house those offices.

(b) The board shall keep the books and records of the retirement system in those offices.

§ 55.114. Obtaining Information

(a) The board of trustees shall obtain from a member or a participating subdivision information necessary for the proper operation of the retirement system.

(b) The board may require reports from the participating subdivisions for the efficient handling of members' deposits. The treasurer or other payroll disbursing officer of each participating subdivision shall:

(1) prepare the reports in the form specified by the board; and

(2) file the reports at the time specified by the board.

[Sections 55.115 to 55.200 reserved for expansion]
§ 55.201. Officers
(a) The board of trustees annually shall elect from members of the board:
(1) a chairman; and
(2) a vice-chairman.
(b) The board may appoint the director or a member of the board as secretary.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.202. Director
(a) The board of trustees shall appoint a director.
(b) The director shall:
(1) manage and administer the retirement system under the supervision and direction of the board; and
(2) invest the assets of the system.
(c) The board of trustees may delegate to the director powers and duties in addition to those stated by Subsection (b) of this section.
(d) The director annually shall:
(1) prepare an itemized budget showing the amount required to pay the retirement system's expenses for the following fiscal year; and
(2) submit the report to the board for review, amendment, and adoption.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.203. Legal Adviser
(a) The board of trustees shall appoint an attorney.
(b) The attorney shall act as the legal adviser to the board and shall represent the system in all litigation.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.204. Medical Board
(a) The board of trustees shall designate a medical board composed of three physicians.
(b) To be eligible to serve as a member of the medical board, a physician must be licensed to practice medicine in the state and be of good standing in the medical profession. A physician who is eligible to participate in the retirement system may not be a member of the medical board.
(c) The medical board shall:
(1) review all medical examinations required by this subtitle;
(2) investigate essential statements and certificates made by or on behalf of a member of the retirement system in connection with an application for disability retirement; and
(3) report in writing to the board of trustees its conclusions and recommendations on all matters referred to it.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.205. Other Physicians
The board of trustees may employ physicians in addition to the medical board to report on special cases.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.206. Actuary
(a) The board of trustees shall appoint an actuary.
(b) The actuary shall perform duties in connection with advising the board concerning operation of the system's funds.
(c) At least once every five years the actuary shall:
(1) make a general investigation of the mortality and service experience of the members and annuitants of the system; and
(2) on the basis of the results of the investigation, recommend for adoption by the board required tables and rates.
(d) On the basis of tables and rates adopted by the board, the actuary shall:
(1) compute the current interest rate in accordance with Section 55.313 of this subtitle;
(2) certify the amount of each annuity and benefit granted by the board; and
(3) make an annual valuation of the assets and liabilities of the funds of the retirement system.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.207. Other Employees
The board of trustees shall employ actuarial, clerical, legal, medical, and other assistants required for the efficient administration of the retirement system.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.208. Compensation of Employees
The board of trustees shall determine the amount of compensation that employees of the retirement system receive.

§ 55.209. Surety Bond
(a) The board of trustees shall require a surety bond for the director and may require a surety bond for other employees of the retirement system. The board shall determine the amount of a bond that is required.
§ 55.209

(b) A bond must be conditioned on a person's faithful performance of the duties of the person's office.

c) The board shall secure a required bond and shall pay for the bond from the system's assets.

[Sections 55.210 to 55.300 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. MANAGEMENT OF ASSETS

§ 55.301. Investment of Assets

The board of trustees shall invest and reinvest the assets of the retirement system without distinction as to their source in:

(1) interest-bearing bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of this state, a county, school district, city, or other municipal corporation of this state, the United States, or an authority or an agency of the United States;

(2) securities for which the United States or any authority or agency of the United States guarantees the payment of principal and interest;

(3) interest-bearing bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness that are issued by a company:

(A) incorporated in the United States and that are rated "A" or better by one or more nationally recognized rating agencies approved by the board; or

(B) in whose stock the retirement system may invest as provided by Subdivision (4) of this subsection; or

(4) common or preferred stocks of a company incorporated in the United States that has paid cash dividends on its common stock for 10 consecutive years immediately before the date of purchase and, unless the stocks are bank or insurance stocks, that is listed on an exchange registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or its successor.

§ 55.302. Restrictions on Investments

(a) The board of trustees may not invest more than 20 percent of the retirement system's total assets in preferred and common stocks of corporations.

(b) The board may not invest more than one percent of the total assets of the system in the stock of one corporation.

(c) The system may not own more than five percent of the voting stock of one corporation.

§ 55.303. Duty of Care

In making investments for the retirement system, the board of trustees shall exercise the judgment and care, under the circumstances, that persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, considering the probable income from the securities and probable safety of their capital.

§ 55.304. Cash on Hand

The board of trustees shall determine the amount of cash on hand required to pay benefits and the expenses of the retirement system.

§ 55.305. Crediting System Assets

(a) The retirement system shall immediately deposit all money received by the system with a depository designated under Section 55.109 of this subtitle.

(b) When the securities of the retirement system are received, the system shall deposit the securities in trust with a depository designated under Section 55.109 of this subtitle. The depository shall provide adequate safe deposit facilities for the preservation of the securities.

(c) All assets of the retirement system shall be credited according to the purpose for which they are held to one of the following funds:

(1) employees saving fund;

(2) subdivision accumulation fund;

(3) current service annuity reserve fund;

(4) interest fund;

(5) endowment fund;

(6) expense fund; or

(7) supplemental death benefits fund.

§ 55.306. Employees Saving Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in a member's individual account in the employees saving fund:

(1) the amount of contributions to the retirement system deducted from the member's compensation;

(2) interest allowed on money in the account in accordance with this subtitle;

(3) an amount deposited by a member in accordance with Section 55.405 of this subtitle to establish credited service during a time of war;

(4) the portion of a deposit required by Section 53.003 of this subtitle to reinstate credited service previously terminated that represents the amount withdrawn;
§ 55.310

(b) Subject to Subsection (c) of this section, the retirement system shall pay from the subdivision accumulation fund all payments under prior service annuities granted before January 1, 1978, and currently in force and all payments under supplemental annuities from credits granted by a participating subdivision. The retirement system shall charge payments from the fund to the participating subdivision's account.

(c) The board of trustees may proportionately reduce all payments under prior service annuities and supplemental annuities at any time and for a period necessary to prevent payments under those annuities for a year from exceeding the amount available in the participating subdivision's account.

(d) If credited service previously forfeited is reinstated in accordance with Section 53.003 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall charge the subdivision's account in the subdivision accumulation fund with the necessary reserves to fund the credits restored to the member.

§ 55.308. Current Service Annuity Reserve Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit and hold in the current service annuity reserve fund all reserves for:

(1) current service annuities in force that were granted before January 1, 1978; and

(2) all basic annuities granted on or after January 1, 1978.

(b) The retirement system shall pay from the current service annuity reserve fund annuities described by Subsection (a) of this section and all benefits in lieu of those annuities as provided by this subtitle.

§ 55.309. Interest Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the interest fund all income, interest, and dividends from deposits and investments authorized by this subtitle.

(b) On December 31 of each year, the system shall transfer money from the interest fund in accordance with Section 55.814 of this subtitle.

§ 55.310. Endowment Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit and hold in the endowment fund gifts, awards, funds, and assets delivered to the retirement system:

(1) that are not specifically required by the system's other funds; or

(2) that are designated by the grantor as perpetual endowments for the system.

(b) The endowment fund consists of:

(1) the general reserves account;

(2) the distributive benefits account;
§ 55.310

(3) the perpetual endowment account; and
(4) other special accounts that the board of trustees by resolution establishes.

c) The system shall credit to the general reserves account and to the distributive benefits account interest in accordance with Section 55.314 of this subtitle.

d) The board of trustees shall transfer money from the general reserves account to the expense fund in accordance with Section 55.311(b) of this subtitle.

e) If the board of trustees determines that the amount credited to the distributive benefit account on December 31 of any year is sufficient to do so, the board by resolution may:

(1) authorize the distribution and payment of all or part of the money credited to the account to persons who were annuitants on that day in the ratio of the rate of the monthly benefit of each annuitant to the total of all annuity payments made by the system for the final month of the year; or

(2) authorize the distribution of all or part of the amount credited to the account to:

(A) each member's individual account in the employees saving fund as supplemental interest in the ratio of the amount of current interest paid on the individual's account to the current interest paid to all individual accounts for the year; and

(B) each participating subdivision's account in the subdivision accumulation fund as supplemental interest in the ratio of the current interest allowed on the account of the subdivision to the total current interest paid to all subdivisions' accounts for the year.

(f) The retirement system shall deposit and hold in the perpetual endowment account funds, gifts, and awards that the grantors designate as perpetual endowment for the retirement system and money forfeited to the retirement system as provided by Section 55.603 of this subtitle.

§ 55.311. Expense Fund

(a) The board of trustees shall deposit in the expense fund:

(1) membership fees paid in accordance with Section 55.401 of this subtitle; and

(2) subdivision contributions for expenses of the retirement system paid in accordance with Section 55.404 of this subtitle.

(b) The board of trustees by resolution recorded in its minutes shall transfer from the general reserves account of the endowment fund to the expense fund the amount that exceeds the amount needed to provide adequate reserves against insufficient earnings on investments and against special and contingency requirements of other funds of the system and that is needed to pay the system's estimates expenses for the fiscal year.

c) The retirement system shall pay from the expense fund:

(1) administrative and maintenance expenses of the system; and

(2) notes and bonds issued in accordance with Section 55.105 of this subtitle.

d) If the amount of the system's estimated expenses exceeds the amount in the general reserves account available for administrative expenses, the board of trustees, by a resolution recorded in its minutes, shall require an amount equal to the difference from participating subdivisions and members. The board shall collect the required amount and deposit the amount collected in the expense fund.

§ 55.3111. Supplemental Death Benefits Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the supplemental death benefits fund contributions paid by subdivisions to the retirement system to provide supplemental death benefits in accordance with Section 55.406 of this subtitle. The retirement system may not establish separate accounts in the fund for subdivisions participating in the fund but shall credit contributions to a single account.

(b) The retirement system shall pay supplemental death benefits only from money in the supplemental death benefits fund, and the benefits are not an obligation of other funds of the system.

c) The supplemental death benefits fund may become operative only after a sufficient number of subdivisions elect to participate in the fund so that 4,000 members or more are covered by the fund.

d) The board of trustees shall determine the operative date of the fund.

e) The effective participation date of a subdivision is:

(1) the operative date of the fund if the subdivision elected to participate in the fund on or before the fund's operative date; or

(2) the first day of any calendar month after the month in which the subdivision notifies the board of its election to enter the fund.

(f) The board of trustees shall notify each subdivision of its effective participation date.

§ 55.312. Disbursements

(a) Disbursements from the assets of the retirement system may be made only on vouchers signed by the person designated for that purpose in accordance with Section 55.108 of this subtitle.
§ 55.313. Interest Rates

(a) Unless this subtitle expressly states that interest is computed using the current interest rate or another specified rate of interest, interest is computed using the rate of:

(1) three percent a year compounded annually for periods before January 1, 1977;

(2) four percent a year compounded annually for periods after December 31, 1976, but before January 1, 1982; and

(3) four and one-half percent a year compounded annually for periods after December 31, 1981.

(b) Subsection (a) of this section does not change the amount of an annuity on which a monthly benefit payment was made before January 1, 1982, and does not require recomputation of that amount.

(c) The current interest rate is the lesser of:

(1) the interest rate prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section; or

(2) the interest rate computed by:

(A) adding the mean amount in the current annuity reserve fund during the year and an amount equal to the amount in the subdivision accumulation fund on January 1 of the year;

(B) computing, in accordance with Subsection (a) of this section, the amount of interest on the sum obtained under Paragraph (A) of this subdivision;

(C) subtracting the amount computed under Paragraph (B) of this subdivision from an amount equal to the amount in the interest fund on December 31 of the year, before transfers of interest to other funds are made;

(D) adding an amount equal to the amount in the endowment fund on January 1 of the year and an amount equal to the sum of the accumulated deposits in the employees saving fund on January 1 of the year of all persons who are members on December 31 of the year, before any transfers for retirements effective December 31 are made; and

(E) dividing the amount computed under Paragraph (C) of this subdivision by the amount computed under Paragraph (D) of this subdivision and expressing the result to the nearest one-tenth of one percent.

(b) If the retiring member's accumulated deposits are the result of service for more than one participating subdivision, the retirement system shall reduce the amount credited to the account of each subdivision by the amount chargeable to the subdivision for the member.

(c) If a person who receives disability benefits and who is less than 60 years old returns to active service, the board of trustees shall transfer the balance of the person's retirement reserve from the current service annuity reserve fund to the employees saving fund and to the subdivision accumulation fund in proportion to the original amount transferred to the current service annuity reserve fund from those funds.

§ 55.316. Payment to Formerly Participating Subdivision

(a) If a participating subdivision has no employees who are members of the retirement system and has no present or potential liabilities resulting from the participation of former employees, the subdivision's participation in the system stops and the system shall repay to the subdivision on application any amount in the subdivision accumulation fund that is credited to the subdivision.

(b) If a participating subdivision does not exist as a separate entity because it has merged or consolidated with a city or other agency that is not eligible to participate in the retirement system and if under the applicable law or merger agreement the successor is entitled to the assets of the subdivision, the retirement system, on application, shall pay to the successor the amount in the subdivision accumulation fund that is credited to the subdivision.

§ 55.317. Consolidation of County's Accounts in Subdivision Accumulation Fund

(a) If a county that has provided for participation of county hospital employees separately from other county employees stops operating a county hospital, the commissioners court of the county, by order, may direct the retirement system to consolidate the separate accounts of the county in the subdivision accumulation fund.

(b) The retirement system shall consolidate the accounts and after consolidation shall charge each obligation of the county arising under this subtitle because of service performed by employees of the county against the consolidated account.

ee's compensation that exceeds $3,600 a year or a greater multiple of $1,200 a year. A participating subdivision's governing body, by order or resolution certified to the board of trustees, may increase the amount of compensation on which contributions are paid.

(f) A participating subdivision may not require a member to pay a monthly contribution that exceeds an amount computed on the basis of one-twelfth of the annual compensation to be considered for payment of contributions as specified by the order or resolution described by Subsection (e) of this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.403. Collection of Member Contributions

(a) Each payroll period after the effective date of a subdivision's participation, the subdivision shall cause the contribution for that period to be deducted from the compensation of each member that it employs.

(b) In determining the amount of a member's compensation for a payroll period, the board of trustees may use the rate of annual compensation payable to a member on the first day of the payroll period as the rate for the entire period and may omit deductions from compensation for less than a full payroll period if the employee was not a member on the first day of the period.

(c) To facilitate the making of deductions, the board of trustees may modify a member's required deductions by an amount that does not exceed 25 cents.

(d) A participating subdivision shall certify to the board of trustees on each payroll, or in another manner prescribed by the board, the amount to be deducted from the compensation of each member that it employs.

(e) The treasurer or disbursing officer of each participating subdivision shall:

(1) make deductions from each member's compensation for contributions to the retirement system;

(2) transmit monthly, or at the time designated by the board of trustees, the payroll and other pertinent information prescribed by the board; and

(3) pay the deductions to the board of trustees at the board's home office.

(f) After the deductions for member contributions are paid, the board of trustees shall:

(1) record all receipts; and

(2) deposit the receipts to the credit of the employees saving fund.

(g) The treasurer or disbursing officer of a participating subdivision shall make the deductions required by this section even if the member's compensation is reduced below the amount equal to the minimum compensation provided by law.

(h) By becoming a member of the retirement system, a member consents to the deductions required by this section. The payment of compensation less those deductions is a complete release of all claims, except benefits provided by this subtitle, for services rendered by the member during the payroll period. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.404. Collection of Subdivision Contributions

(a) Before the 16th day of each month, each participating subdivision shall pay or cause to be paid to the retirement system at the system's office:

(1) an amount equal to the total amount of contributions to the retirement system paid by all employees of the subdivision for the preceding month; and

(2) a contribution for expenses of the retirement system equal to the total amount of membership fees paid by the employees of the subdivision for the preceding month.

(b) Unless otherwise provided for and paid by a subdivision, a subdivision shall pay its contributions to the retirement system from:

(1) the fund from which compensation is paid to members; or

(2) the general fund of the subdivision. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.405. War Period Contributions

(a) A member to whom this section applies may pay to the retirement system, during each 12 months of the period described by Subsection (b) of this section, an amount that does not exceed the amount of the member's contribution to the system during the most recent 12-month period in which the member was employed by a participating subdivision.

(b) This section applies to a member who, as a result of conscription or volunteering, is serving in the United States armed forces, armed forces reserve, an auxiliary of the armed forces or reserves, or the American Red Cross or who as a result of government conscription is in war work, during a declared or undeclared war involving the United States, during a conflict between the armed forces of the United States and the armed forces of a foreign country, or before the first anniversary of the last day of the war or conflict.

(c) The board of trustees shall treat the amounts paid to the system under this section in the same manner as funds deposited by the member while an employee of a participating subdivision.

(d) The participating subdivision that most recently employed a member paying contributions under this section shall pay an amount equal to the amount paid by the member under this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.405. War Period Contributions

(a) A member to whom this section applies may pay to the retirement system, during each 12 months of the period described by Subsection (b) of this section, an amount that does not exceed the amount of the member's contribution to the system during the most recent 12-month period in which the member was employed by a participating subdivision.

(b) This section applies to a member who, as a result of conscription or volunteering, is serving in the United States armed forces, armed forces reserve, an auxiliary of the armed forces or reserves, or the American Red Cross or who as a result of government conscription is in war work, during a declared or undeclared war involving the United States, during a conflict between the armed forces of the United States and the armed forces of a foreign country, or before the first anniversary of the last day of the war or conflict.

(c) The board of trustees shall treat the amounts paid to the system under this section in the same manner as funds deposited by the member while an employee of a participating subdivision.

(d) The participating subdivision that most recently employed a member paying contributions under this section shall pay an amount equal to the amount paid by the member under this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.405. War Period Contributions

(a) A member to whom this section applies may pay to the retirement system, during each 12 months of the period described by Subsection (b) of this section, an amount that does not exceed the amount of the member's contribution to the system during the most recent 12-month period in which the member was employed by a participating subdivision.

(b) This section applies to a member who, as a result of conscription or volunteering, is serving in the United States armed forces, armed forces reserve, an auxiliary of the armed forces or reserves, or the American Red Cross or who as a result of government conscription is in war work, during a declared or undeclared war involving the United States, during a conflict between the armed forces of the United States and the armed forces of a foreign country, or before the first anniversary of the last day of the war or conflict.

(c) The board of trustees shall treat the amounts paid to the system under this section in the same manner as funds deposited by the member while an employee of a participating subdivision.

(d) The participating subdivision that most recently employed a member paying contributions under this section shall pay an amount equal to the amount paid by the member under this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.405. War Period Contributions

(a) A member to whom this section applies may pay to the retirement system, during each 12 months of the period described by Subsection (b) of this section, an amount that does not exceed the amount of the member's contribution to the system during the most recent 12-month period in which the member was employed by a participating subdivision.

(b) This section applies to a member who, as a result of conscription or volunteering, is serving in the United States armed forces, armed forces reserve, an auxiliary of the armed forces or reserves, or the American Red Cross or who as a result of government conscription is in war work, during a declared or undeclared war involving the United States, during a conflict between the armed forces of the United States and the armed forces of a foreign country, or before the first anniversary of the last day of the war or conflict.

(c) The board of trustees shall treat the amounts paid to the system under this section in the same manner as funds deposited by the member while an employee of a participating subdivision.

(d) The participating subdivision that most recently employed a member paying contributions under this section shall pay an amount equal to the amount paid by the member under this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.405. War Period Contributions

(a) A member to whom this section applies may pay to the retirement system, during each 12 months of the period described by Subsection (b) of this section, an amount that does not exceed the amount of the member's contribution to the system during the most recent 12-month period in which the member was employed by a participating subdivision.

(b) This section applies to a member who, as a result of conscription or volunteering, is serving in the United States armed forces, armed forces reserve, an auxiliary of the armed forces or reserves, or the American Red Cross or who as a result of government conscription is in war work, during a declared or undeclared war involving the United States, during a conflict between the armed forces of the United States and the armed forces of a foreign country, or before the first anniversary of the last day of the war or conflict.

(c) The board of trustees shall treat the amounts paid to the system under this section in the same manner as funds deposited by the member while an employee of a participating subdivision.

(d) The participating subdivision that most recently employed a member paying contributions under this section shall pay an amount equal to the amount paid by the member under this section. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 55.405. War Period Contributions

(a) A member to whom this section applies may pay to the retirement system, during each 12 months of the period described by Subsection (b) of this section, an amount that does not exceed the amount of the member's contribution to the system during the most recent 12-month period in which the member was employed by a participating subdivision.

(b) This section applies to a member who, as a result of conscription or volunteering, is serving in the United States armed forces, armed forces reserve, an auxiliary of the armed forces or reserves, or the American Red Cross or who as a result of government conscription is in war work, during a declared or undeclared war involving the United States, during a conflict between the armed forces of the United States and the armed forces of a foreign country, or before the first anniversary of the last day of the war or conflict.
§ 55.406. Supplemental Death Benefits Program

(a) In addition to other contributions to the retirement system required by this subtitle, each subdivision participating in the supplemental death benefits fund monthly shall pay to the fund an amount equal to the rate of contribution computed in accordance with this section, multiplied by the total compensation for the month of the members employed by the subdivision.

(b) A limitation on subdivision contribution rates provided by this subtitle does not apply to the rate of the contribution to the supplemental death benefits fund.

(c) As soon as practical after the supplemental death benefits program is established and at the time of each investigation of members' mortality and service experience required by Section 55.110 of this subtitle, the actuary shall investigate the mortality experience of the members and eligible annuitants participating in the supplemental death benefits program. On the basis of the result of that investigation, the actuary shall recommend to the board of trustees rates and tables necessary to determine supplemental death benefits contribution rates. The rates and tables may provide for the anticipated mortality experience of the persons covered under the supplemental death benefits fund and for a contingency reserve.

(d) Before a subdivision’s participation date in the supplemental death benefits fund and before January 1 of each subsequent year, the actuary shall compute, on the basis of rates and tables adopted by the board of trustees, the supplemental death benefits contribution rate of a subdivision participating in the supplemental death benefits contribution fund. The rate must be expressed as a percentage of the compensation of members employed by the subdivision. When the rate is approved by the board of trustees, the rate is effective for the calendar year for which it was approved.

(e) If the balance in the supplemental death benefits fund is insufficient to pay the supplemental death benefits due, the board of trustees may direct that, to the extent available, an amount equal to the amount of the deficiency be transferred from the general reserves account of the endowment fund to the supplemental death benefits fund. The board may adjust future contributions to the supplemental death benefits fund to repay the general reserves account the transferred amount.

(f) If the total number of members covered by the supplemental death benefits fund becomes fewer than 4,000, the board of trustees may order that the fund be discontinued and all coverage terminated. The termination date must be December 31 of a year designated by the board and may not be before the expiration of six months after the date on which the order of termination was adopted.

(g) To protect against adverse claim experience, the board of trustees may secure reinsurance from one or more stock insurance companies doing business in this state if the board determines that reinsurance is necessary. The retirement system shall pay the premiums for reinsurance from the supplemental death benefits fund.

SUBCHAPTER F. MISCELLANEOUS ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

§ 55.501. Statement of Amount in Account

(a) As soon as possible after the end of each calendar year, the board of trustees shall send to the governing body of each subdivision and to each requesting member an annual statement that contains:

(1) a balance sheet showing the financial and actuarial condition of the retirement system at the end of the calendar year;

(2) a statement showing the receipts and disbursements made during the calendar year;

(3) a statement showing changes in the asset, liability, reserve, and surplus accounts during the calendar year; and

(4) additional statistics necessary for proper interpretation of the condition of the retirement system.

(b) The board of trustees shall furnish to a member, on written request, a statement of the amount credited to the member's individual account. During a calendar year, the board is not required to furnish to a member more than one statement requested under this subsection.

§ 55.502. Interest in Assets

A particular person or subdivision has no right in a specific security or in an item of cash other than an undivided interest in the assets of the retirement system.

§ 55.503. Forfeiture of Contributions

(a) If an application for the accumulated contributions of a member under Section 52.108 of this subtitle has not been made before the seventh anniversary of the member's last day of service, the retirement system shall return to the contributor or the contributor's estate all of the person's accumulated contributions.

(b) If the contributor or the administrator of the contributor's estate cannot be found, the person's accumulated contributions are forfeited to the retirement system. The retirement system shall credit the amount forfeited to the perpetual endowment account of the endowment fund.

§ 61.001. Definitions

In this subtitle:

(1) "Accumulated contributions" means the sum of all contributions made by a member and credited to the member's individual account in the employees saving fund, plus interest allowed on the account as provided by this subtitle.

(2) "Actuarial equivalent" means a benefit that, at the time it is entered upon, has the same present value as the benefit it replaces, based on interest and on a mortality table recommended by the actuary and adopted by the board of trustees.

(3) "Annuity" means an amount of money payable in equal monthly installments at the end of each month for a period determined under this subtitle.

(4) "Annuity reserve" means the present value, computed on the basis of annuity or mortality tables adopted by the board of trustees, with interest, of all payments to be made under an annuity.

(5) "Board of trustees" means the persons appointed under this subtitle to administer the retirement system.

(6) "Compensation" means the sum of payments made to an employee for performance of personal services, as certified on a written payroll of an employing department, that does not exceed any rate of compensation fixed by a governing body as the maximum salary on which member contributions to the retirement system may be based.

(7) "Department" means a recognized division performing a governmental or proprietary function of a municipality.

(8) "Employee" means a person who receives compensation from and is certified by a municipality as being regularly engaged in the performance of duties of:

(A) an appointive office or position that normally requires services from the person for not less than 1,000 hours a year; or

(B) an elective office that normally requires services from the person for not less than 1,000 hours a year, in a municipality that began participating in the retirement system after December 31, 1981, or that has adopted a membership requirement under Section 62.107 of this subtitle.

(9) "Municipality" means any incorporated city or town in this state.

(10) "Rate of compensation" means the rate at which payments to an employee are computed, as certified by the employing municipality, converted into compensation for any period on the assumption that 2,400 hours, 300 days, 52 weeks, 12 months, and 1 year are equivalents.

(11) "Retirement" means withdrawal from service with a retirement benefit granted under this subtitle.

(12) "Retirement system" means the Texas Municipal Retirement System.

(13) "Service" means the time a person is an employee.

(14) "Credited service" means the number of months of prior and current service ascribed to a member in the retirement system or included in a prior service certificate in effect for the member.

(15) "Amortization period" means, as to a particular municipality, the time ending with the latest of:

(A) the expiration of 25 years from the effective date of the municipality's participation in the retirement system, from the effective date of the most recent annuity increases allowed by the municipality under Section 64.203 of this subtitle, or from the effective date of the most recent updated service credits allowed by the municipality under Section 68.401 of this subtitle; or

(B) the expiration of 20 years from the date the municipality allowed any special prior service credits or antecedent service credits. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 218, ch. 18, §§ 65, 66, eff. Jan. 1, 1982.]

§ 61.002. Purpose of Subtitle

The purpose of this subtitle is to establish a program of benefits for members, retirees, and their beneficiaries and to establish rules for the management and operation of the retirement system. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 61.003. Retirement System

The Texas Municipal Retirement System is continued in existence and is the name by which the business of the retirement system shall be transacted, all its funds invested, and all its cash and other property held. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]
§ 61.004. Powers and Privileges

The retirement system has the powers, privileges, and immunities of a corporation, as well as the powers, privileges, and immunities conferred by this subtitle.

§ 61.005. Action for Accounting

(a) The retirement system or the board of trustees may initiate, or cause to be initiated on its behalf, an action against a participating municipality, a board of the municipality, or individual officers of the municipality, to compel an accounting of sums due to the retirement system or to require the withholding and accounting of sums due from members.

(b) The venue of an action brought under this section is in either Travis County or a county in which the municipality is situated.

§ 61.006. Exemption From Execution

All retirement annuity payments, other benefit payments, and a member's accumulated contributions are unassignable and are exempt from execution, garnishment, attachment, and state and local taxation.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 61.007 to 61.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. PENAL PROVISIONS

§ 61.101. Offenses; Penalty

(a) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly makes a false statement in a report or application to the retirement system in an attempt to defraud the retirement system.

(b) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly makes a false certificate of an official report to the retirement system.

(c) An offense under this section is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, confinement in jail for not less than 30 days nor more than one year, or both.

CHAPTER 62. MEMBERSHIP

SUBCHAPTER A. MUNICIPAL PARTICIPATION

§ 62.001. Election to Participate

(a) By vote of its governing body in the manner required for other official actions, a municipality may elect to have one or more of its departments participate in the retirement system and be subject to the provisions of this subtitle.

(b) The governing body of a municipality shall notify the board of trustees of an election under this section and shall identify the participating departments before the 11th day after the date of election.

(c) A department begins participation in the retirement system on the first day of the second month after the month the board of trustees receives notice of an election to participate.

[Added by Act 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 62.002. Referendum on Participation

(a) If qualified voters representing at least 10 percent of the total votes cast at the most recent regular municipal election petition the governing body of a municipality for an election on the issue of participation in the retirement system by the municipality or specified departments of the municipality, the governing body shall make arrangements for an election to be held before the 61st day after the day the petition is filed.

(b) If a majority of the votes cast in an election under this section favor municipal or departmental participation in the retirement system, the governing body of the municipality immediately shall elect to participate.

§ 62.003. Supplemental Disability Benefits Fund

(a) A municipality that is participating in the retirement system may elect for all of its participating departments to participate in the supplemental disability benefits fund.

(b) An election under this section may be made in the manner provided by Section 62.001 or 62.002 of this subtitle.

[Added by Act 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]
§ 62.004. Supplemental Death Benefits Fund

(a) If a municipality has one or more departments participating in the retirement system on a full-salary basis, the municipality may elect to participate in the supplemental death benefits fund.

(b) A municipality that elects to participate in the fund may elect coverage providing postretirement death benefits in addition to coverage providing in-service death benefits.

(c) Before a municipality that has fewer than 10 employees who are members of the retirement system is permitted to participate in the fund, the board of trustees may require the municipality to provide evidence that is satisfactory to the board that the members are in good health.

(d) A municipality that elects to participate in the fund after the operative date of the fund may begin participation on the first day of any month after the month in which the municipality gives notice of its election to the board of trustees.

(e) If a municipality has previously discontinued participation in the fund, the board of trustees in its discretion may restrict the right of the municipality to participate again.

§ 62.005. Status as a Municipality

(a) For the purposes of this subtitle, the Texas Municipal Retirement System and, as limited by Subsection (b) of this section, the Texas Municipal League, have the standing of municipalities.

(b) The Texas Municipal League has the standing conferred by this section except as to a person who is employed by the league for the first time and who is engaged in lobbying activities.

§ 62.006. Termination of Participation

(a) Except as provided in this section, a municipality may not terminate participation in the retirement system or in the supplemental disability benefits fund if the municipality has employees who are members of the system or who participate in the fund, but the municipality may elect to discontinue the participation in the system or in the supplemental disability benefits fund. A termination under this subsection is effective on January 1 of the year following the year in which notice is given.

(b) If before November 1 of any year a municipality gives written notice of its intention to the retirement system, the municipality may terminate coverage under, and discontinue participation in, the supplemental death benefits fund. A termination under this subsection is effective on January 1 of the following year. A termination under this subsection is effective on January 1 of the following year in which notice is given.

(c) If a municipality participating in the retirement system has no employees who are members of the system and has no present or potential liabilities as a result of the participation of former employees, the municipality, on receiving a refund under Section 65.319 of this subtitle, ceases participation in the system.

[Sections 62.007 to 62.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. MEMBERSHIP

§ 62.101. General Membership Requirement

(a) Except as otherwise provided by this subchapter, a person who is not a member becomes a member of the retirement system if:

1. on the date a municipal department's participation in the retirement system becomes effective, the person is an employee of the department; and

2. after the date a municipal department's participation in the retirement system becomes effective, the person becomes an employee of the department and is less than 55 years old;

3. the person is an employee of a participating department that has an effective date of participation in the retirement system after August 26, 1979, and the person is less than 60 years old; or

4. the person was an employee before, but not on, the date a municipal department's participation in the system became effective, the person's previous service to the municipality is equal to or greater than the difference between the person's age and 55, and the person is reemployed by the municipality.

(b) Any person to whom Subsection (a)(1) of this section applies becomes a member of the retirement system on the date the department's participation becomes effective, and any person to whom Subsection (a)(2) or (a)(4) of this section applies becomes a member of the retirement system on the date the person is employed or reemployed. A person to whom Subsection (a)(3) of this section applies becomes a member of the retirement system on the date the department's participation becomes effective or the date the person is employed, whichever is later.

§ 62.102. Exception to General Membership Requirement

(a) If on the effective date of participation of the employing department, a person had with a municipality an employment contract that is violated by the membership requirement of Section 62.101(a)(1) of this subtitle, the person is not required, but may elect, to become a member of the retirement system.

(b) If a person who is qualified to make an election under this section has been notified that the municipality has elected to participate in the retirement system, or if the person makes contributions to the retirement system, the person is considered to have elected membership in the retirement system unless before the date the municipality's participation becomes effective the person files with the board of trustees written notice of an election not to become a member.

(c) A person who elects under this section not to become a member may never become a member of the retirement system.

§ 62.103. Withdrawal of Contributions

A living person who is not an employee of a participating department and who has not retired may, after application, withdraw all of the accumulated contributions credited to the person's individual account in the employees saving fund, and the retirement system shall close the account.

§ 62.104. Termination of Membership

(a) Except as otherwise provided by this section, a person terminates membership in the retirement system by:

(1) death;
(2) retirement;
(3) withdrawal of all of the person's contributions while the person is absent from service; or
(4) absence from service for more than 60 consecutive months.

(b) A member of the retirement system is not absent from service and continues to accumulate credited service if at any time during a state of war involving the United States, during a conflict between the armed forces of the United States and the armed forces of a foreign country, or before the first anniversary of the last day of the war or conflict, the person:

(1) performs active duty service in the armed forces of the United States or their auxiliaries;
(2) performs active duty service in the armed forces reserve of the United States or their auxiliaries;
(3) performs service in the American Red Cross; or
(4) is conscripted and performs war-related service.

(c) If a member of the retirement system is an employee of a participating department of a municipality that, as provided by this subtitle, allows a person to terminate employment and remain eligible for retirement after accumulating a specified amount of credited service, and if the person meets the requirement, the person may terminate employment and is not subject to loss of membership because of absence from service.

(d) Termination of membership in the retirement system terminates membership in the supplemental disability benefits fund.

§ 62.105. Optional Membership Requirement

(a) The governing body of a municipality that has an effective date of participation in the retirement system after December 31, 1975, or that previously has authorized updated service credits, by ordinance may require that each employee of each participating department of the municipality become a member of the retirement system if the employee is less than 60 years old or was less than 60 years old at the time of employment but did not become a member at that time because the person exceeded the maximum age for membership.

(b) A governing body may not adopt an ordinance under this section unless the ordinance includes the provisions specified in Section 64.202 of this subtitle and the actuary makes the determination required by Section 64.202(d) of this subtitle.

(c) The governing body shall specify the effective date of an ordinance under this section, which may be the first day of any month after the month in which the actuary makes the determination required by Section 64.202(d) of this subtitle. The effective date of membership for a person who becomes a member under this section is the effective date of the ordinance or the date the person is employed by a participating department of the municipality that adopted the ordinance, whichever is later.

§ 62.106. Ineligibility for Membership; Multiple Retirement System Membership

(a) Except as provided by this section:

(1) a person who is elected to public office is not an employee eligible for membership in the retirement system; and
(2) a person who is elected to public office is not eligible to receive credited service in this retirement system for service performed that makes a person eligible for membership or is creditable in another pension fund or retirement system that is at least partly supported at public expense.

(b) A person may simultaneously receive credit or benefits for service performed during the same period in the retirement system and the federal program providing old age and survivors insurance.

(c) If a volunteer firefighter or an elected officer is employed by a participating municipality in another capacity that satisfies the definition of "employee" under this subtitle, the person may be a member of, and receive service credit in, the retirement system for service performed in the other capacity.
(d) If a person is elected to an office of a municipality that began participating in the retirement system after December 31, 1981, the person is required to become a member of the retirement system as of the date the person takes office or the effective date of participation, whichever is later. If a person is elected to an office of a municipality that has adopted an ordinance under Section 62.107 of this subtitle, the person is required to become a member of the retirement system as of the date the person takes office or the effective date of the ordinance, whichever is later.

§ 62.107. Optional Membership Requirement for Elected Officers

(a) The governing body of a municipality that began participation in the retirement system before January 1, 1982, by ordinance may provide that persons who hold and are regularly engaged in the performance of duties of an elective office that normally requires actual performance of services in a participating department of the municipality for more than 1,000 hours a year are employees required to become members of the retirement system.

(b) An ordinance under this section takes effect on the first day of any calendar month after adoption that is designated by the governing body adopting the ordinance.

(c) A person required to become a member under an ordinance adopted under this section becomes a member on the effective date of the ordinance or the date the person takes office, whichever is later, unless the date the person takes office is after the effective date of the ordinance and the person is then ineligible for membership under applicable age restrictions of this subtitle.

(d) A person who becomes a member as provided by this section is entitled to prior service credit as provided by Section 63.302 of this subtitle.

§ 62.108. Resumption of Service by Retiree

A person who has retired under this subtitle because of service may not rejoin the retirement system or resume or continue service with a participating municipality.

CHAPTER 63. CREDITABLE SERVICE

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 63.001. Types of Creditable Service

The types of service creditable as credited service in the retirement system are prior service and current service.

§ 63.002. Benefit Eligibility Based on Credited Service

A member's eligibility to receive a benefit is based on credited service at the time of retirement.

§ 63.003. Credited Service Previously Canceled

(a) An eligible member who has withdrawn contributions and canceled credited service in the retirement system may reestablish the canceled credit in the system if the governing body of the municipality that currently employs the member by ordinance authorizes reestablishment of the credit by eligible employee members.

(b) A member eligible to reestablish credit under this section is one who has, since resuming membership, at least 24 consecutive months of credited service as an employee of the municipality for which the ordinance was adopted.

(c) A member may reestablish credit by depositing with the retirement system in a lump sum the amount withdrawn from the system, plus a withdrawal charge computed at an annual rate of five percent from the date of withdrawal to the date of redeposit.

(d) Credit reestablished under this section is treated as if all service on which the credit is based were performed for the municipality authorizing the reestablishment.

(e) A governing body may not adopt an ordinance under Subsection (a) of this section unless the actuary first determines that all obligations charged against the municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund, including the obligations proposed in the ordinance, can be funded by the municipality within its maximum contribution rate and within its amortization period.

[Sections 63.004 to 63.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. ESTABLISHMENT OF PRIOR SERVICE

§ 63.101. Creditable Prior Service

Prior service creditable in the retirement system is:

1. service performed as an employee of a participating department of a municipality before the date the department's participation in the retirement system became effective;

2. for a person who becomes a member of the retirement system under Section 62.105 of this subtitle, service performed as an employee of a participating department during a time the person was ineligible for membership because of age; or

3. for a person entitled to prior service credit under Section 63.102(a)(3) of this subtitle, service for which current service credit has not been granted that was performed as an employee of a participating department during a time the person was ineligible to participate because of age.

§ 63.102. Eligibility for Prior Service

(a) A member is eligible to receive credit in the retirement system for prior service if the member:

1. became a member as an employee of a department of a municipality on the effective date of the department's participation in the retirement system;

2. became a member as an employee of a department of a municipality before the fifth anniversary of the effective date of the department's participation and continued as an employee of a participating department of the municipality for at least five consecutive years after reemployment;

3. was less than 55 years old on the later of January 1, 1979, or the date of employment, and became a member on August 27, 1979, by being an employee of a participating department of a municipality that adopts the provisions of Sections 62.105 and 64.202 of this subtitle; or

4. became a member under Section 62.105 of this subtitle.

(b) The board of trustees may adopt rules concerning eligibility for prior service under this section.

§ 63.103. Statement of Prior Service

A member may claim credit for prior service by filing a detailed statement of the service with the city clerk or city secretary of the municipality for which the service was performed.

§ 63.104. Certification of Service and Average Compensation

(a) As soon as practicable after a member files a statement of prior service under Section 63.103 of this subtitle, the municipality that employs the person who receives the statement shall verify the prior service claimed and certify to the board of trustees the amount of service approved and the member's average prior service compensation.

(b) The average prior service compensation of a member is computed as the average monthly compensation for service performed for a participating department of the municipality:

1. for the 36 months immediately preceding the effective date of the department's participation in the retirement system; or

2. if the member did not perform service in each of the 36 months immediately preceding participation, for the number of months of service within the 36-month period.

(c) The board of trustees may adopt rules concerning verification and certification of service and compensation under this section.

§ 63.105. Determination of Prior Service Credit

(a) After receiving a certification of prior service and average prior service compensation under Section 63.104 of this subtitle, the board of trustees shall determine the member's prior service credit.

(b) For an employee of a municipality having an effective date of participation in the retirement system before January 1, 1976, the prior service credit is an amount equal to the accumulation at interest of a series of equal monthly amounts for the number of months of approved prior service. Each monthly amount equals 10 percent of the member's average prior service compensation, or $300 a month, whichever is less. Interest is allowed at the end of each 12-month period on an accumulated amount at the beginning of each period and is credited only for each whole 12-month period.

(c) For an employee of a municipality having an effective date of participation in the retirement system after December 31, 1975, the prior service credit is an amount computed as a percentage determined as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, times a base credit equal to the accumulation at three percent interest of a series of monthly amounts for the number of months of approved prior service, times the sum of:

(1) the rate of contributions required of employees of the municipality for current service; plus

(2) the rate described in Subdivision (1) of this subsection times the municipal current service matching ratio.

(d) The governing body of a municipality having an effective date of retirement system participation after December 31, 1975, shall determine in the ordinance providing for participation the percentage to be applied against the base credit in computing a prior service credit under Subsection (c) of this section. The percentage adopted may be any multiple of 10 percent that does not exceed 100 percent of the base credit. A governing body may not adopt a percentage under this subsection until the actuary first determines, and the board of trustees concurs in the determination, that the municipality is able to fund, before the 25th anniversary of the effective date of its participation in the retirement system, all prior service obligations that the municipality proposes to assume under this section.

(e) The prior service credit of a person who becomes a member of the retirement system under Section 62.105 of this subtitle or who is entitled to prior service credit under Section 63.102(a)(3) of this subtitle is computed on the percentage of the base prior service credit that was most recently used by the person's employing municipality in computing prior or updated service credits for current employees.

(f) Interest on a prior service credit is earned for each whole year beginning on the effective date of membership and ending on the effective date of retirement.

§ 63.106. Prior Service Certificate

(a) After determining a member's prior service credit under Section 63.105 of this subtitle, the board of trustees shall issue to the member a prior service certificate stating:

(1) the number of months of prior service credited;

(2) the average prior service compensation; and

(3) the prior service credit.

(b) As long as a person remains a member, the person's prior service certificate is, for purposes of retirement, conclusive evidence of the information it contains, except that a member or participating municipality, before the first anniversary of its issuance or modification, may request the board of trustees to modify the certificate.

§ 63.107. Void Prior Service Certificate

(a) When a person's membership in the retirement system is terminated, any prior service certificate issued to the person becomes void.

(b) A person whose membership has terminated and who subsequently resumes membership in the retirement system is not entitled to credit for prior service.

[Sections 63.108 to 63.200 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER C. ESTABLISHMENT OF CURRENT SERVICE

§ 63.201. Creditable Current Service

Service performed as an employee member of a participating department of a municipality is credited in the retirement system for each month for which the required contributions are made by the member.

[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 63.202 to 63.300 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. OPTIONAL SERVICE

§ 63.301. Service for Certain Public Facilities

(a) The governing body of a participating municipality by ordinance may authorize the granting of prior service credit in the retirement system for service performed in a public hospital, utility, or other public facility currently operated by the municipality, during a time the facility was operated by a unit of government other than the municipality and before:

(1) the effective date of the municipality's participation in the retirement system, if the facility was acquired by the municipality before that date; or

(2) the date of acquisition of the facility, if the facility was acquired after the effective date of the municipality's participation in the retirement system.
(b) A member eligible to receive credit under this section after an ordinance is adopted under Subsection (a) of this section is one who was employed by the municipality at a public facility:

(1) on the effective date of the municipality’s participation, for service under Subsection (a)(1) of this section; or

(2) on the date of acquisition of the facility, for service under Subsection (a)(2) of this section.

(c) All credit authorized by a municipality under this section is treated as if it were performed for the municipality.

§ 63.302. Service for Elected Officers

An elected officer who becomes a member of the retirement system on the effective date of an ordinance adopted under Section 62.107 of this subtitle is entitled to prior service credit computed as provided by Section 63.105 of this subtitle, except that if the employing municipality has granted updated service credits, the percentage to be used in computing a prior service credit under this section is the percentage of the base updated service credit that was most recently used by the municipality in computing updated service credits.

[Sections 63.303 to 63.400 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER E. OPTIONAL INCREASES IN SERVICE CREDITS

§ 63.401. Ordinance Authorizing Updated Service Credits

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, the governing body of a participating municipality by ordinance may authorize the crediting in the retirement system of updated service credits for service performed for the municipality by members. An updated service credit authorized under this section replaces any updated service credit, prior service credit, special prior service credit, or antecedent service credits previously authorized for part of the same service.

(b) A municipality may not authorize updated service credits for members who had less than 36 months of credited service on the date prescribed by Section 63.402(e) of this subtitle.

(c) In adopting an ordinance under this section, a governing body shall specify the percentage of base updated service credits to be used in computing updated service credits for employees of the municipality and shall specify the date the updated service credits will take effect. The percentage adopted may be any multiple of 10 percent that does not exceed 100 percent of a base updated service credit. The effective date must be January 1 of a year specified by the governing body.

(d) An ordinance under this section also must require, beginning on the effective date of the updated service credits, that a member’s monthly contributions for current service be based on the member’s total monthly compensation from the municipality, if the requirement is not already in effect for employees of the municipality.

(e) A governing body that adopts an ordinance under this section shall send it to the retirement system, and the system must receive it before the effective date of the updated service credits authorized in the ordinance.

§ 63.402. Determination of Updated Service Credits

(a) If a governing body sends the retirement system an ordinance adopted under Section 63.401 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall determine for each affected member the average updated service compensation, base updated service credit, and updated service credit.

(b) The average updated service compensation of a member is computed as the monthly average compensation for:

(1) the 36 months immediately preceding the date prescribed by Subsection (e) of this section; or

(2) if the member did not perform service in each of the 36 months described in Subdivision (1) of this subsection, for the number of months of service within the 36-month period; or

(3) if the member did not perform any service within the 36-month period, for the number of months of service within the 36-month period ending with the last month of the calendar year in which the member’s most recent service was performed.

(c) The base updated service credit of a member is an amount computed as the number 1.03, times the difference by which the amount computed under Subdivision (1) of this subsection exceeds the amount computed under Subdivision (2), where:

(1) “(1)” is an amount equal to the accumulation at three percent interest of a series of monthly amounts for the number of months of credited service on the date prescribed by Subsection (e) of this section, each amount of which equals the member’s average updated service compensation, times the sum of:

(A) the rate of contributions required of the member for current service; plus
(B) the member’s contribution rate, times the municipal current service ratio in effect on the effective date of the ordinance adopted under Section 63.401 of this subtitle; and where

(2) “(2)” is an amount equal to the sum of:

(A) the amount credited to the member’s individual account in the employees saving fund on § 63.502. Establishment of Military Service Credit

(a) A member may establish credit for military service under this subchapter by depositing with the retirement system an amount equal to $15 for each month for which credit is sought.

(b) A member must make the deposit required by this section before the first anniversary of the effective date of the ordinance adopted under Section 63.501 of this subtitle or before the first anniversary of the date the member becomes eligible to establish the credit, whichever is later.

(c) The employing municipality shall contribute for service, established under this section an amount equal to the amount required of the member, times the municipality's current service matching percentage in effect on the date the member applies for credit under this section.

§ 63.503. Use of Military Service Credit
(a) The retirement system shall use military service credit established under this subchapter in determining satisfaction of length-of-service requirements for benefits.
(b) When a person who has military service credit retires, the retirement system shall transfer to the current service annuity reserve fund the amounts paid by the person and the employing municipality under Section 63.502 of this subtitle. The retirement system shall use the amounts to make annuity payments to the person computed in the same manner as is the person's current service annuity, but the credit and the amounts may not be used in other computations, including computations of updated service credits, antecedent service credits, prior service credits, or special prior service credits.

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 64.001. Types of Benefits
The types of benefits payable by the retirement system are:
(1) service retirement benefits;
(2) disability retirement benefits; and
(3) death benefits.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 64.002. Composition of Retirement Annuity
(a) Each retirement annuity payable under this subtitle consists of a prior service annuity and a current service annuity.
(b) A prior service annuity is actuarially determined from any updated service credit or any prior service, special prior service, or antecedent service credit in effect for a member on the date of retirement, plus accumulated interest.
(c) A current service annuity is actuarially determined on the date of a member's retirement from the sum of:
(1) the amount credited to the member's individual account in the employees saving fund; and
(2) the amount from the municipality accumulation fund equal to the amount in the member's individual account or a greater amount authorized by a participating municipality under Section 65-501 of this subtitle.

§ 64.003. Effective Date of Retirement
(a) The effective date of a member's service retirement is the date the member designates at the time the member applies for retirement under Section 64.101 of this subtitle, but the date must be the last day of a calendar month and may not precede the date the member terminates employment with all participating municipalities.
(b) If a member dies before retirement and has a valid optional retirement annuity selection on file with the retirement system, the member is considered to have retired on the last day of the month immediately preceding the month in which death occurred.
(c) The effective date of a member's disability retirement is the date designated on the application for retirement filed by or for the member as provided by Section 64.301 of this subtitle, but the date may not precede the date the member terminates employment with all participating municipalities.
§ 64.004. When Annuity is Payable

An annuity under this subtitle is payable for a period beginning on the last day of the first month following the month in which retirement occurs and ending, except as otherwise provided by this subtitle, on the last day of the month immediately preceding the month in which death occurs.

§ 64.005. Reduction of Annuity Payments on Request

(a) An annuitant by written request may authorize the retirement system to reduce the annuitant’s monthly payment to an amount specified in the request. In writing, the annuitant may subsequently request the retirement system to increase the annuitant’s monthly payment to any specified amount that does not exceed the amount originally payable.

(b) If the retirement system receives a request under Subsection (a) of this section, the director may cause the monthly annuity payment of the requesting annuitant to be reduced or increased as specified in the request.

(c) Any amounts by which an annuity is reduced under this section are forfeited to the retirement system and are not recoverable by the retirement system.

[Sections 64.006 to 64.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. SERVICE RETIREMENT BENEFITS

§ 64.101. Application for Service Retirement

A member may apply for service retirement by filing a retirement application with the board of trustees not less than 30 days nor, if the member has previously selected an optional service retirement annuity under Section 64.105 of this subtitle, more than 90 days before the date the member wishes to retire.

§ 64.102. Eligibility for Service Retirement Annuity

(a) A member is eligible, beginning on the first anniversary of the effective date of the person’s membership, to retire and receive a service retirement annuity, if the member:

(1) has effective dates of participation in the retirement system after May 28, 1969; or

(2) have adopted a like provision under Section 64.201 or 64.202 of this subtitle.

(c) A member is eligible, beginning on the first anniversary of the effective date of the person’s membership, to retire and receive a service retirement annuity, if the member is at least 60 years old and has at least 10 years of credited service in the retirement system performed for one or more municipalities that either have an effective date of participation in the retirement system after August 26, 1979, or have adopted a like provision under Section 64.202 of this subtitle.

(d) A member employed by a municipality having an effective date of participation in the retirement system after May 28, 1969, may terminate employment and remain eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity at any time after the member attains an applicable age provided by law for service retirement of employees of the municipality, if the member has at least 15 years of credited service performed for one or more municipalities that are either subject to this subsection or have adopted a like provision under Section 64.201(e) of this subtitle.

(e) A member employed by a municipality having an effective date of participation in the retirement system after August 26, 1979, may terminate employment and remain eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity at any time after the member attains an applicable age and service requirement, if the member has at least 10 years of credited service performed for one or more municipalities that are either subject to this subsection or have adopted a like provision under Section 64.202 of this subtitle.

§ 64.103. Standard Service Retirement Annuity

(a) The standard service retirement annuity payable under this subtitle is the sum of a member’s prior service annuity and current service annuity.

(b) A standard service retirement annuity is payable throughout the life of a retiree. If a retiree dies before 60 monthly payments of a standard service retirement annuity have been made, the remainder of the 60 monthly payments are payable to the retiree’s designated beneficiary.

§ 64.104. Optional Service Retirement Annuity

(a) Instead of the standard service retirement annuity payable under Section 64.103 of this subtitle, a retiring member may elect to receive an optional service retirement annuity under this section.

(b) An optional service retirement annuity is payable throughout the life of the retiree and is actuarially adjusted from the standard service retirement annuity to its actuarial equivalent under the option selected under Subsection (c) of this section.

(c) An eligible person may select any optional annuity approved by the board of trustees, the entire benefit of which is certified by the actuary as the actuarial equivalent of the annuity to which the person is entitled, or may select one of the following options, which provide that:

(1) after the retiree's death, the reduced annuity is payable throughout the life of a person designated by the retiree;

(2) after the retiree's death, one-half of the reduced annuity is payable throughout the life of a person designated by the retiree;

(3) if the retiree dies before 120 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 120 payments are payable to the retiree's beneficiary or, if one does not exist, to the retiree's estate;

(4) if the retiree dies before 180 monthly annuity payments have been made, the remainder of the 180 payments are payable to the retiree's beneficiary or, if one does not exist, to the retiree's estate; or

(5) the annuity is payable only during the retiree's lifetime.

(d) An option under Subsection (c) of this section applies to both prior and current service annuities, except that prior service annuities are subject to reduction under Section 65.308(f) of this subtitle.

(e) To select an optional service retirement annuity, a member or retiree must make the selection and designate a beneficiary on a form prescribed by and filed with the board of trustees before the 31st day after the effective date of retirement.

§ 64.105. Selection of Optional Service Retirement Annuity

(a) A member who is eligible for service retirement may, while continuing to perform service for a participating municipality, file with the board of trustees, on a form prescribed by the board, a selection of an optional service retirement annuity available under Section 64.104 of this subtitle and a designation of beneficiary. An annuity selected as provided by this section is payable on the member's retirement or on the member's death before retirement.

(b) A member may change a selection of an optional annuity or a designation of beneficiary at any time before the member's retirement or death in the same manner that the original selection and designation were made.

(c) If a member eligible under this section to select an optional service retirement annuity dies before retirement without having made a selection, the member's surviving spouse may select an optional annuity in the same manner as if the member had made the selection. If there is no surviving spouse, the executor or administrator of the member's estate may elect:

(1) for an estate beneficiary to receive the optional annuity under Section 64.104(c)(4) of this subtitle, in which case the member will be considered to have retired on the last day of the month immediately preceding the month in which death occurred; or

(2) for the estate to receive a refund of the member's accumulated contributions under Section 64.501 of this subtitle, in which case the member will be considered to have been a contributing member at the time of death.

[Sections 64.106 to 64.200 reserved for expansion]
A participating municipality that adopted the provisions that were included in this section before January 1, 1982, shall be considered to have adopted the provisions as they existed on that date, unless the governing body of the municipality, before April 1, 1982, elects not to adopt the amended provisions and notifies the director of the election. This subsection expires April 1, 1982. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 224, ch. 18, § 82, eff. Jan. 1, 1982.]

§ 64.202. Additional Optional Service Retirement Eligibility

(a) The governing body of a municipality that has an effective date of participation in the retirement system after December 31, 1975, or that has previously authorized updated service credits, by ordinance may authorize eligibility for a service retirement annuity as provided by this section for a member who is or was an employee of any participating department of the municipality.

(b) The governing body may authorize a member, beginning on the first anniversary of the effective date of the person’s membership, to retire and receive a service retirement annuity, if the member:

(1) is at least 50 years old and has at least 25 years of credited service performed for one or more municipalities that have authorized eligibility under this subdivision; or

(2) is at least 60 years old and has at least 10 years of credited service performed for one or more municipalities that either have authorized eligibility under this subdivision or have a participation date in the retirement system after August 26, 1979.

(c) The governing body may authorize a member who is or was an employee of the municipality to terminate employment and remain eligible to retire and receive a service retirement annuity at any time after the member attains an applicable age and service requirement, if the member has at least 10 years of credited service performed for one or more municipalities that either have authorized eligibility under this subsection or are subject to Section 64-102(e) of this subtitle.

(d) An ordinance adopted under this section must also include the provisions specified in Section 62.105 of this subtitle. A governing body may not adopt an ordinance under this section unless the actuary first determines, on the basis of mortality and other tables adopted by the board of trustees, that all obligations of the municipality to the municipality accumulation fund, including obligations proposed under the ordinance, can be funded by the municipality within its maximum contribution rate and within its amortization period.

(e) The governing body shall specify the effective date of an ordinance under this section, which may be the first day of any month after the month in which the actuary makes the determination required by Subsection (d) of this section.

Text of subsec. (f) effective until April 1, 1982

(f) A participating municipality that adopted the provisions that were included in this section before January 1, 1982, shall be considered to have adopted the provisions as they existed on that date, unless the governing body of the municipality, before April 1, 1982, elects not to adopt the amended provisions and notifies the director of the election. This subsection expires April 1, 1982. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 224, ch. 18, §§ 83, 84, eff. Jan. 1, 1982.]

§ 64.203. Optional Increase in Retirement Annuities

(a) The governing body of a participating municipality by ordinance, from time to time but not more frequently than once in each 12-month period, may authorize and provide for increased annuities to be paid to retirees and beneficiaries of deceased retirees of the municipality. An annuity increased under this section replaces any annuity or increased annuity previously granted to the same person.

(b) The amount of annuity increase under this section is computed as the sum of the prior and current service annuities on the effective date of retirement of the person on whose service the annuities are based, multiplied by:

(1) the percentage change in the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers, published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor, from December of the year immediately preceding the effective date of the person’s retirement to the December that is 13 months before the effective date of the ordinance providing the increase; and

(2) a fraction, specified by the governing body in the ordinance, that is not less than 10 percent nor more than 70 percent and is a multiple of 5 percent.

(c) Except as provided by Subsection (g) of this section, the effective date of an ordinance under this section is January 1 of the year that begins after the year in which the governing body adopts and notifies the retirement system of the ordinance.

(d) An increase in an annuity that was reduced because of an option selection is reducible in the same proportion and in the same manner that the original annuity was reduced.

(e) If a computation under Subsection (b) of this section does not result in an increase in the amount of an annuity, the amount of the annuity may not be changed under this section.

(f) The amount by which an increase under this section exceeds all previously granted increases to an annuitant is payable as a prior service annuity, is an obligation of the municipality’s account in the municipality accumulation fund, and is subject to reduction under Section 65.308(f) of this subtitle.
(g) An ordinance under this section may not take effect until it is approved by the board of trustees as meeting the requirements of this section. The board may not approve an ordinance unless the actuary first determines that all obligations charged against the municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund, including the obligations proposed in the ordinance, can be funded by the municipality within its maximum contribution rate before the 25th anniversary of the effective date of the increases.

(h) A governing body may not authorize and provide for annuity increases under this section unless it simultaneously provides for updated service credits under Subchapter E of Chapter 63 of this subtitle.

[Sections 64.204 to 64.300 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER D. DISABILITY RETIREMENT BENEFITS

§ 64.301. Application for Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) A member may apply for a disability retirement annuity by:

(1) filing an application for retirement with the board of trustees; or

(2) having an application filed with the board by the member's employer or legal representative.

(b) An application for a disability retirement annuity may not be made less than 30 nor more than 90 days before the date the member wishes to retire.

(c) An applicant must submit to medical examination as required by the medical board.

§ 64.302. Eligibility for Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, a member who has less than 10 years of credited service in the retirement system is eligible to retire and receive a disability retirement annuity if the member is the subject of a certification issued as provided by Section 64.303(b)(1) of this subtitle.

(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, a member who has at least 10 years of credited service in the retirement system but is not eligible for a service retirement annuity if the member is the subject of a certification issued as provided by Section 64.303(b)(2) of this subtitle.

(c) A member is not eligible to retire for disability before the first anniversary of the effective date of the person's membership.

§ 64.303. Certification of Disability

(a) As soon as practicable after an application for disability retirement is filed, the medical board shall evaluate the medical and other pertinent information concerning the member's application.

(b) The medical board shall issue a certification of disability and send it to the board of trustees if the medical board finds:

(1) in the case of a member who has less than 10 years of credited service in the retirement system, that:

(A) the member is mentally or physically incapacitated for the further performance of duty;

(B) the incapacity is the direct result of injuries sustained during membership by external and violent means as a direct and proximate result of the performance of duty;

(C) the incapacity is likely to be permanent; and

(D) the member should be retired; or

(2) in the case of a member who has at least 10 years of credited service in the retirement system but is not eligible for a service retirement annuity, that:

(A) the member is mentally or physically incapacitated for the further performance of duty;

(B) the incapacity is likely to be permanent; and

(C) the member should be retired.

§ 64.304. Standard Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) The standard disability retirement annuity payable under this subtitle is the sum of a member's prior service annuity and current service annuity.

(b) A prior service annuity is subject to reduction as provided by Section 65.308(f) of this subtitle.

(c) A standard disability retirement annuity is payable throughout the life of a retiree. When a retiree who receives an annuity under this section dies, an additional benefit may be payable under Section 64.502 of this subtitle.

§ 64.3041. Optional Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) Instead of the standard disability retirement annuity payable under Section 64.304 of this subtitle, a member retiring for disability may elect to receive an optional disability retirement annuity under this section.

(b) An optional disability retirement annuity is payable throughout the life of the retiree and is actuarially adjusted from the standard disability retirement annuity to its actuarial equivalent under
§ 64.306. Certification of End of Disability
(a) If the medical board finds that a disability retiree is no longer mentally or physically incapacitated for the performance of duty or is able to engage in gainful occupation, it shall certify its findings and submit them to the board of trustees.
(b) If the board of trustees concurs in a certification under this section, it shall discontinue annuity payments to the retiree.

§ 64.307. Return of Disability Retiree to Active Service or Employment
(a) If a retiree who is less than 60 years old and who is receiving a disability retirement annuity resumes employment with a participating municipality or otherwise becomes gainfully employed, the person automatically resumes membership in the retirement system, and the board of trustees shall terminate the person's annuity payments.
(b) If a person resumes membership under this section, the retirement system shall restore to effect any prior service credit, special prior service credit, antecedent service credit, or updated service credit used in determining the amount of the person's annuity at the time of disability retirement. If the person subsequently retires, the retirement system shall allow the person credit for all current service for which required contributions have been made and not withdrawn.

§ 64.308. Refund at Annuity Discontinuance
(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, if a disability retirement annuity is discontinued under Section 64.306 of this subtitle or the right to an annuity revoked under Section 64.305(c) of this subtitle, the retiree is entitled to a lump-sum payment in an amount, if any, by which the amount in the retiree's individual account in the employees saving fund at the time of disability retirement exceeds the amount of current service annuity payments made before the date the annuity was discontinued or the right to an annuity revoked.
(b) The benefit provided by this section is not payable to a retiree who resumes employment with a participating subdivision or otherwise becomes gainfully employed.
(c) The benefit provided by this section is payable from the current service annuity reserve fund.
[Sections 64.309 to 64.400 reserved for expansion]
§ 64.401. Eligibility for Supplemental Disability Retirement Annuity

A member as an employee of a municipal department included, as provided by Section 62.003 of this subtitle, in the coverage of the supplemental disability benefits fund is eligible to retire and receive a supplemental disability retirement annuity if the member:

(1) is eligible to receive a disability retirement annuity under Section 64.302 of this subtitle; and

(2) is the subject of a certification and finding under Section 64.402 of this subtitle, as well as a certification under the applicable finding provided by Section 64.303 of this subtitle.

§ 64.402. Certification and Finding of Disability

(a) The medical board shall issue and send to the board of trustees a certification of disability for a member included in the coverage of the supplemental disability benefits fund if, after a medical examination of the member, the medical board finds that the member is mentally or physically incapacitated and is unable to engage in gainful occupation.

(b) A member is entitled to a supplemental disability retirement annuity if the board of trustees, after receiving a certification of disability for the member under this section, finds that the member's incapacity:

(1) is the direct result of injuries sustained after the effective date of coverage of the member in the supplemental disability benefits fund as a direct and proximate result of the performance of the duties of the member's employment; and

(2) is likely to be permanent.

§ 64.403. Supplemental Disability Retirement Annuity

(a) A supplemental disability retirement annuity payable under this subtitle is an amount that, when added to a member's standard disability retirement annuity or, if the member is eligible for service retirement, to the member's standard service retirement annuity, equals one-half of the member's average monthly compensation for service as an employee of a participating department of a municipality:

(1) for the 60 months immediately preceding the month in which the injury occurred; or

(2) if the member did not perform service in each of the 60 months immediately preceding the month in which the injury occurred, for the number of months of service within the 60-month period.

(b) In a computation of average monthly compensation under this section, compensation is excluded that exceeds the maximum amount on which the member was required to make contributions to the retirement system.

§ 64.404. Conditions for Benefits

(a) Supplemental disability benefits payable from the supplemental disability benefits fund cease on the death of the disability retiree and are, except as provided by this subchapter, subject to the same terms of issuance as are standard disability retirement benefits. The suspension or discontinuance of a disability retirement annuity automatically suspends or discontinues, as applicable, a supplemental disability retirement annuity based on the same service.

(b) The board of trustees may reduce proportionally all supplemental disability benefits payable from the supplemental benefits fund at any time and for a period that the board finds necessary to prevent payments from the fund in a year from exceeding available assets in the fund in that year.

[Sections 64.405 to 64.500 reserved for expansion]
employees saving fund at the time of disability retirement exceeds the amount of current service annuity payments made before the retiree's death.

(b) The benefit provided by this section is payable to the decedent's estate unless the decedent has directed that the benefit be paid otherwise.

(c) The benefit provided by this section is payable from the current service annuity reserve fund.

[Sections 64.503 to 64.600 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER G. OPTIONAL DEATH BENEFITS

§ 64.601. Coverage in Supplemental Death Benefit Program

(a) An employee of a participating municipality is included within the coverage of the supplemental death benefit program on the first day of the first month in which:

(1) the employing municipality is participating in the supplemental death benefits fund for coverage of all members it employs;

(2) the employee is a member of the retirement system; and

(3) the employee is required to make a contribution to the retirement system.

(b) Once established, coverage of a person in the supplemental death benefit program continues until the last day of a month in which a requirement of Subsection (a) of this section is not met.

§ 64.602. Extended Supplemental Death Benefit Coverage

(a) A member included in the coverage of the supplemental death benefit program who fails to earn compensation in a month for service to a municipality participating in the supplemental death benefits fund is eligible to receive extended coverage in the program on complying with this section.

(b) A member may apply to the retirement system for extended program coverage and submit evidence of eligibility for extended coverage.

(c) The board of trustees shall grant extended coverage in the supplemental death benefit program to an applicant, if the board finds:

(1) that as a result of illness or injury, the member is unable to engage in gainful occupation; and

(2) that the member made a required contribution to the retirement system as an employee of a municipality participating in the supplemental death benefits fund for the month immediately preceding the first full month in which the member was unable to engage in gainful occupation.

(d) Once established, extended coverage of a person in the supplemental death benefit program continues until the last day of the month in which:

(1) the member returns to work as an employee of a participating municipality;

(2) the board of trustees finds that the member is able to engage in gainful occupation;

(3) the person's membership in the retirement system is terminated; or

(4) the member retires under this subtitle.

(e) The board of trustees by rule may require a member to submit to it annual proof of continued inability to engage in gainful occupation. The board may require a member to undergo a medical examination by a physician designated by the board. Failure of a member to undergo a medical examination as required by this subsection is a ground for the board's finding that the member has become able to engage in gainful occupation.

§ 64.603. Member Supplemental Death Benefit

(a) If a person included in the coverage or extended coverage of the supplemental death benefit program dies, a lump-sum supplemental death benefit is payable from the supplemental death benefits fund in an amount equal to the current annual salary of the member at the time of death.

(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, the current annual salary of a member is computed as the amount paid to the member for service on which contributions were made to the retirement system during the 12 months immediately preceding the month of death. If a member did not receive compensation for service in each of the 12 months immediately preceding the month of death, the member's current annual salary is computed by converting to an annual basis the amount paid to the member on which contributions were made to the system during the period of employment within the 12-month period. If a member did not receive compensation for service in any of the 12 months immediately preceding the month of death, the member's current annual salary is computed by converting to an annual basis the rate of compensation payable to the member during the month of death.

(c) The current annual salary of a member included in the extended coverage of the supplemental death benefit program is computed in the manner provided by Subsection (b) of this section but as if the member had died during the first month of extended coverage.

(d) If a member makes contributions to the retirement system during the same month as an employee of more than one municipality participating in the supplemental death benefits fund, a death benefit is payable only on the basis of the member's most recent employment.
§ 64.603
4246
(e) The board of trustees by rule may require such proof of compensation and periods of employment as it finds necessary.

§ 64.604. Retiree Supplemental Death Benefit
If a retiree dies whose most recent employment as a member of the retirement system was with a municipality that has elected to provide, and continues to provide, postretirement supplemental death benefits, a lump-sum supplemental death benefit is payable from the fund in the amount of $2,500.

§ 64.605. Beneficiary of Supplemental Death Benefit
(a) Unless a member has directed otherwise on a form prescribed by the board of trustees and filed with the retirement system:

(1) a supplemental death benefit under Section 64.603 of this subtitle is payable to the person entitled to receive the decedent's accumulated contributions; and

(2) a supplemental death benefit under Section 64.604 of this subtitle is payable to a person entitled to receive any remaining payments of the decedent's annuity.

(b) If a person entitled under this section to receive a supplemental death benefit does not survive the member or retiree covered by the supplemental death benefit program, the benefit is payable to the estate of the covered member or retiree.

§ 65.006. Application of Sunset Act
The board of trustees is subject to the Texas Sunset Act (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) but is not abolished under that Act. The board shall be reviewed under that Act during the period in which state agencies abolished effective September 1, 1989, and every 12th year after that date are reviewed.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 65.007. Meetings
(a) The board of trustees shall hold regular meetings in March, June, September, and December of each year and special meetings when called by the director.
(b) Before the fifth day preceding the day of a meeting, the director shall give written notice of a special meeting to each trustee unless notice is waived.
(c) All meetings of the board must be open to the public.
(d) The board shall hold its meetings in the office of the board or in a place specified by the notice of the meeting.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 65.008. Compensation; Expenses
Each trustee serves without compensation but is entitled to:
(1) reimbursement for reasonable traveling expenses incurred in attending board meetings; and
(2) payment of an amount equal to any compensation withheld by the trustee's employing municipality because of the trustee's attendance at board meetings.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 65.009. Voting
(a) Each trustee is entitled to one vote.
(b) At any meeting of the board, four or more concurring votes are necessary for a decision or action by the board.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[Sections 65.010 to 65.100 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER B. POWERS AND DUTIES OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

§ 65.101. Administration
(a) The retirement system is a trust.
(b) The board of trustees is responsible for the administration of the retirement system.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 65.102. Rulemaking
(a) The board of trustees shall adopt rules and perform reasonable activities it finds necessary or desirable for efficient administration of the system.
(b) The board may adopt and enforce rules concerning:
(1) the time that a municipality electing to participate in the system begins its participation; or
(2) notice, information, and reports required of municipalities electing to participate in the system.
[Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 65.103. Administering System Assets
(a) The board of trustees may sell, assign, exchange, or trade and transfer any security in which § 65.103

The retirement system's assets are invested. The board may use or reinvest the proceeds as the board determines that the system's needs require.

(b) In handling the funds of the retirement system, the board of trustees has all powers and duties granted to the State Depository Board.

§ 65.104. Accepting Gift, Grant, or Bequest

The board of trustees shall accept a gift, grant, or bequest of money or securities:

(1) for the purpose designated by the grantor if the purpose provides an endowment or retirement benefits to some or all participating employees or annuitants of the retirement system; or

(2) if no purpose is designated, for deposit in the endowment fund.

§ 65.105. Indebtedness; Payment

(a) The board of trustees may:

(1) incur indebtedness;

(2) on the credit of the retirement system, borrow money to pay expenses incident to the system's operation;

(3) renew, extend, or refund its indebtedness; or

(4) issue and sell negotiable promissory notes or negotiable bonds of the retirement system.

(b) A note or bond issued under this section must mature before the 20th anniversary of the issuance of the note or bond. The rate of interest on the note or bond may not exceed six percent a year.

(c) The board shall charge a note or bond issued under this section against the system's operation;

(d) The board of trustees shall adopt rates and tables necessary for the actuary's investigation of the mortality and service experience of the system's members and annuitants.

§ 65.106. Grants and Payment of Benefits

The board of trustees, in accordance with this subtitle, shall consider all applications for annuities and benefits and shall decide whether to grant the annuities and benefits. The board may suspend one or more payments in accordance with this subtitle.

§ 65.107. Audit

Annually, or more often, the board of trustees shall have the accounts of the retirement system audited by a certified public accountant.

§ 65.108. Designation of Authority to Sign Vouchers

The board of trustees by resolution shall designate one or more representatives who have authority to sign vouchers for payments from the assets of the retirement system.

§ 65.109. Depositories

The board of trustees shall designate financial institutions to qualify and serve the retirement system as depositaries in accordance with Article 2525, et seq., Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

§ 65.110. Adopting Rates and Tables

(a) The board of trustees shall adopt rates and tables that the board considers necessary for the retirement system after considering the results of the actuary's investigation of the mortality and service experience of the system's members and annuitants.

(b) Based on recommendations of the actuary, the board of trustees shall adopt rates and tables necessary to determine the supplemental death benefits contribution rates for each municipality participating in the supplemental death benefits fund.

§ 65.111. Certification of Rates

(a) The board of trustees shall certify all current service contribution rates, all prior service contribution rates, and the current interest rate computed in accordance with Section 65.316(c) of this subtitle and approved in writing by the actuary.

(b) The board shall notify each participating municipality of the rates certified in accordance with this section.

§ 65.112. Records of Board of Trustees

(a) The board of trustees shall keep, in convenient form, data necessary for required computations and valuations by the actuary.

(b) The board shall keep a permanent record of all of its proceedings.

(e) Records of the board are open to the public.

§ 65.113. Office

(a) The board of trustees shall establish an office in Austin or in one of the participating municipalities.

§ 65.201. Director
(a) The board of trustees shall appoint a director.
(b) The director shall:
(1) manage and administer the retirement system under the supervision and direction of the board; and
(2) invest the assets of the system.
(c) The board of trustees may delegate to the director powers and duties in addition to those stated by Subsection (b) of this section.
(d) The director annually shall:
(1) prepare an itemized budget showing the amount required to pay the retirement system's expenses for the following fiscal year; and
(2) submit the report to the board for review, amendment, and adoption.

§ 65.202. Legal Adviser
(a) The board of trustees shall appoint an attorney.
(b) The attorney shall act as the legal adviser to the board and shall represent the system in all litigation.

§ 65.203. Medical Board
(a) The board of trustees shall designate a medical board composed of three physicians.
(b) To be eligible to serve as a member of the medical board, a physician must be licensed to practice medicine in the state and be of good standing in the medical profession. A physician who is eligible to participate in the retirement system may not be a member of the medical board.
(c) The medical board shall:
(1) review all medical examinations required by this subtitle;
(2) investigate essential statements and certificates made by or on behalf of a member of the retirement system in connection with an application for disability retirement; and
(3) report in writing to the board of trustees its conclusions and recommendations on all matters referred to it.

§ 65.207. Compensation of Employees
The board of trustees shall determine the amount of compensation that employees of the retirement system receive.

§ 65.114. Obtaining Information
The board of trustees shall obtain from members or participating municipalities information necessary for the proper operation of the retirement system.

§ 65.115 to 65.200 reserved for expansion

SUBCHAPTER C. OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES OF BOARD OF TRUSTEES

§ 65.204. Other Physicians
The board of trustees may employ physicians in addition to the medical board to report on special cases.

§ 65.205. Actuary
(a) The board of trustees shall appoint an actuary.
(b) The actuary shall perform duties in connection with advising the board concerning operation of the retirement system's funds.
(c) At least once every five years the actuary shall:
(1) make a general investigation of the mortality and service experience of the members and annuitants of the retirement system; and
(2) on the basis of the results of the investigation, recommend for adoption by the board tables and rates that are required.
(d) On the basis of rates and tables adopted by the board, the actuary shall:
(1) annually compute the normal contribution rate for each participating municipality;
(2) annually compute the prior service contribution rate for each participating municipality;
(3) compute the current interest rate in accordance with Section 65.316(c) of this subtitle;
(4) compute the supplemental death benefits rate and the supplemental disability benefits rate for each participating municipality;
(5) certify the amount of each annuity and benefit granted by the board; and
(6) make an annual valuation of the assets and liabilities of the funds of the retirement system.

§ 65.206. Other Employees
The board of trustees shall employ actuarial, clerical, legal, medical, and other assistants required for the efficient administration of the retirement system.

§ 65.207. Compensation of Employees
The board of trustees shall determine the amount of compensation that employees of the retirement system receive.
§ 65.208. Surety Bond

(a) The board of trustees shall require a surety bond for the director. The board shall determine the amount of a bond that is required.

(b) A bond must be conditioned on the director's faithful performance of the duties of the director's office.

(c) The board shall secure a required bond and shall pay for the bond from the retirement system's assets.

§ 65.301. Investment of Assets

The board of trustees shall invest and reinvest the assets of the retirement system without distinction as to their source in:

1. interest-bearing bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of this state, a county, school district, city, or other municipal corporation of this state, the United States, or an authority or agency of the United States;

2. securities on which the United States or any authority or agency of the United States guarantees the payment of principal and interest;

3. corporate bonds or debentures that are issued by a company:
   (A) incorporated in the United States and that are rate "A" or better by one or more nationally recognized rating agencies approved by the board; or
   (B) in whose stock the retirement system may invest as provided by Subdivision (4) of this subsection; or

4. common or preferred stocks of a company incorporated in the United States that has paid cash dividends on its stock for 20 consecutive years immediately before the date of purchase and, unless the stocks are bank or insurance stocks, that is listed on an exchange registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or its successor.

§ 65.302. Restrictions on Investments

(a) The board may not invest more than two percent of the total assets of the retirement system in the stocks, bonds, or debentures of one corporation.

(b) The system may not own more than five percent of the voting stock of one corporation.

§ 65.303. Duty of Care

In making investments for the retirement system, the board of trustees shall exercise the judgment and care, under the circumstances, that persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, considering the probable income from the securities and probable safety of their capital.

§ 65.304. Cash on Hand

The board of trustees shall determine the amount of cash on hand required to pay benefits and the expenses of the retirement system.

§ 65.305. Crediting System Assets

(a) The retirement system shall immediately deposit all money received by the system with a depository designated under Section 65.109 of this subtitle.

(b) When securities of the retirement system are received, the system shall deposit the securities in trust with a depository designated under Section 65.109 of this subtitle. The depository shall provide adequate safe deposit facilities for the preservation of the securities.

(c) All assets of the retirement system shall be credited, according to the purpose for which they are held, to one of the following funds:

1. employees saving fund;
2. municipality accumulation fund;
3. current service annuity reserve fund;
4. interest fund;
5. endowment fund;
6. expense fund;
7. supplemental disability benefits fund; or
8. supplemental death benefits fund.

§ 65.306. Employees Saving Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in a member's individual account in the employees saving fund:

1. the amount of contributions to the retirement system deducted from the member's compensation;
2. interest allowed on money in the account in accordance with this subtitle;
3. an amount deposited by the member in accordance with Section 65.410 of this subtitle to establish credited service during a time of war;
4. the portion of a deposit required by Section 63.003 of this subtitle to reinstate credited service previously canceled that represents the amount withdrawn; and
(5) an amount deposited by the member in accordance with Section 63.502 of this subtitle to establish credited service for military service.

(b) On December 31 of each year the retirement system shall credit to each member's individual account interest as allowed by this subtitle on the amount of accumulated contributions credited to the member's account on January 1 of that year.

(c) The retirement system may not pay interest on money in a person's individual account:
   (1) for a part of a year; or
   (2) after the person's membership has been terminated in accordance with Section 62.104 of this subtitle because of absence from service.

§ 65.307. Municipality Accumulation Fund: Current Service

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the account of a participating municipality in the municipality accumulation fund:
   (1) all current service contributions made by the municipality to the retirement system;
   (2) interest allowed as provided by this subtitle on money in the fund;
   (3) amounts deposited by the municipality in accordance with Section 65.410 of this subtitle to establish credited service during a time of war;
   (4) the withdrawal charge for reinstatement of credited service as provided by Section 63.003 of this subtitle; and
   (5) amounts deposited by the municipality in accordance with Section 63.502 of this subtitle to establish credited service for military service.

(b) The retirement system shall pay from the account of a participating municipality in the municipality accumulation fund:
   (1) money to the current service annuity reserve fund in accordance with Section 63.318 of this subtitle; and
   (2) refunds to certain municipalities in accordance with Section 63.319 of this subtitle.

(c) If credited service previously canceled is reinstated in accordance with Section 63.003 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall charge the municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund with the necessary reserves to fund credits based on prior service that are restored to the member.

(d) The retirement system shall charge reserves required to fund optional benefit increases authorized under Section 64.203 of this subtitle against the account of the municipality allowing the increases.

(e) The board of trustees may proportionately reduce all payments under annuities payable under this section, at any time and for a period necessary, to prevent those payments for a year from exceeding the amount available in the participating municipality's account.

§ 65.309. Current Service Annuity Reserve Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit and hold in the current service annuity reserve fund all reserves for current service annuities and all benefits in lieu of current service annuities.

(b) The retirement system shall pay from the current service annuity reserve fund annuities and benefits described by Subsection (a) of this section.

§ 65.310. Interest Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the account of a participating municipality in the municipality accumulation fund all prior service contributions made by the municipality to the retirement system.

(b) In addition to amounts paid as provided by Section 65.307 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall pay from the account of a participating municipality in the municipality accumulation fund:
   (1) all payments under annuities arising from prior service credits, special prior service credits, antecedent service credits, or updated service credits authorized by a participating municipality; and
   (2) optional increased payments authorized by a participating municipality under Section 64.203 of this subtitle.

(c) The retirement system shall charge municipal liabilities from updated service credits against the account of the municipality that authorized the credits.

(d) If credited service previously canceled is reinstated in accordance with Section 63.003 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall charge the municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund with the necessary reserves to fund credits based on prior service that are restored to the member.

(e) If credited service previously canceled is reinstated in accordance with Section 63.003 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall charge the municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund with the necessary reserves to fund the credits based on current service that are restored to the member.

§ 65.308. Municipality Accumulation Fund: Prior Service

(a) In addition to amounts deposited as provided by Section 65.307 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall deposit in the account of a participating municipality in the municipality accumulation fund all prior service contributions made by the municipality to the retirement system.

(b) In addition to amounts paid as provided by Section 65.307 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall pay from the account of a participating municipality in the municipality accumulation fund:
   (1) all payments under annuities arising from prior service credits, special prior service credits, antecedent service credits, or updated service credits authorized by a participating municipality; and
   (2) optional increased payments authorized by a participating municipality under Section 64.203 of this subtitle.

(c) The retirement system shall charge municipal liabilities from updated service credits against the account of the municipality that authorized the credits.

(d) If credited service previously canceled is reinstated in accordance with Section 63.003 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall charge the municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund with the necessary reserves to fund credits based on prior service that are restored to the member.

(e) If credited service previously canceled is reinstated in accordance with Section 63.003 of this subtitle, the retirement system shall charge the municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund with the necessary reserves to fund the credits based on current service that are restored to the member.

§ 65.310. Interest Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the interest fund all income, interest, and dividends from deposits and investments authorized by this chapter. The system shall credit the amount of an adjustment made in accordance with Section 65.320 of this subtitle to the interest fund.

(b) On December 31 of each year, the retirement system shall transfer money from the interest fund in accordance with Section 65.317 of this subtitle.

§ 65.311. Endowment Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the endowment fund gifts, awards, funds, and assets delivered to the retirement system that are not specifically required by the system's other funds.

(b) The endowment fund consists of:

1. the interest reserve account;
2. the general reserves account;
3. the distributive benefits account;
4. the perpetual endowment account; and
5. other special accounts that the board of trustees by resolution establishes.

(c) The retirement system shall credit to the interest reserve account, general reserves account, and distributive benefits account interest in accordance with Section 65.317 of this subtitle.

(d) The board of trustees shall transfer money from the interest reserve account to the expense fund in accordance with Section 65.312 of this subtitle.

(e) If the board of trustees determines that the amount credited to the distributive benefits account on December 31 of any year is sufficient to do so, the board by resolution may:

1. authorize the distribution and payment of all or part of the money credited to the account to persons who were annuitants on that day in the ratio of the rate of the monthly benefit of each annuitant to the total of all annuity payments made by the system for the final month of the year; or
2. authorize the distribution of all or part of the amount credited to the account to:
   - (A) each member's individual account in the employees saving fund as supplemental interest in the ratio of the amount of current interest paid on the individual's account to the current interest paid to all individual accounts for the year; and
   - (B) each participating municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund as supplemental interest in the ratio of the current interest allowed on the account of the municipality to the total current interest paid to all municipalities' accounts for the year.

(f) The retirement system shall deposit and hold in the perpetual endowment account:

1. funds, gifts, and awards that the grantors designate as perpetual endowments for the retirement system; and
2. money forfeited to the retirement system as provided by Section 65.603 of this subtitle.

§ 65.312. Expense Fund

(a) The board of trustees shall deposit in the expense fund municipality contributions for expenses of the retirement system paid in accordance with Section 65.404 of this subtitle.

(b) The board of trustees by resolution recorded in its minutes shall transfer from the interest reserve account of the endowment fund to the expense fund the amount that exceeds the amount needed to provide adequate reserves against insufficient earnings on investments and against special and contingency requirements of other funds of the system and that is needed to pay the system's estimated expenses for the fiscal year.

(c) The retirement system shall pay from the expense fund:

1. administrative and maintenance expenses of the system; and
2. notes and bonds issued in accordance with Section 65.105 of this subtitle.

(d) If the amount of the system's estimated expenses exceeds the amount in the interest reserve account of the endowment fund available for administrative expenses, the board of trustees, by a resolution recorded in its minutes, shall assess an amount equal to the difference against each participating municipality in proportion to the number of its members in the retirement system. The board shall collect the assessments and deposit the amount collected in the expense fund.

§ 65.313. Supplemental Disability Benefits Fund

(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the supplemental disability benefits fund contributions to provide supplemental disability benefits in accordance with Section 65.408 of this subtitle. The retirement system may not establish separate accounts in the fund for municipalities participating in the fund but shall credit contributions to a single account.

(b) The retirement system shall pay supplemental disability benefits only from money in the supplemental disability benefits fund, and the benefits are not an obligation of other funds of the system.

(c) The board of trustees shall determine the operative date of the fund.

(d) The effective participation date of a municipality is:

1. the operative date of the fund if the municipality elected to participate in the fund on or before the fund's operative date; or
2. the first day of the second calendar month after the month in which the municipality notifies the board of its election to enter the fund.

(e) The board of trustees shall notify each municipality of its effective participation date.

§ 65.314. Supplemental Death Benefits Fund
(a) The retirement system shall deposit in the supplemental death benefits fund contributions paid by municipalities to the retirement system to provide supplemental death benefits in accordance with Section 65.409 of this subtitle. The retirement system may not establish separate accounts in the fund for municipalities participating in the fund but shall credit contributions to a single account.
(b) The retirement system shall pay supplemental death benefits only from money in the supplemental death benefits fund, and the benefits are not an obligation of other funds of the system.
(c) The supplemental death benefits fund may become operative only after a sufficient number of municipalities elect to participate in the fund so that 4,000 members or more are covered by the fund.
(d) The board of trustees shall determine the operative date of the fund.
(e) The effective participation date of a municipality is:
   (1) the operative date of the fund if the municipality elected to participate in the fund on or before the fund’s operative date; or
   (2) the first day of any calendar month after the month in which the municipality notifies the board of its election to enter the fund.
(f) The board of trustees shall notify each municipality of its effective participation date.

§ 65.315. Disbursements
(a) Disbursements from the assets of the retirement system may be made only on vouchers signed by the person designated for that purpose in accordance with Section 65.108 of this subtitle.
(b) A person designated to sign vouchers may draw checks or warrants only on proper authorization from the board of trustees recorded in the official minutes of the board.
(c) When a voucher is properly signed, a depository with which assets of the system are deposited shall accept and pay the voucher. The depository is released from liability for payment made on the voucher.

§ 65.316. Interest Rates
(a) Unless this subtitle expressly states that interest is computed using the current interest rate or another specified rate of interest, interest is computed using the rate of:
   (1) 2 1/2 percent a year compounded annually for periods before January 1, 1970;
   (2) 3 percent a year compounded annually for periods after December 31, 1969, and before January 1, 1977; (3) 4 percent a year compounded annually for periods after December 31, 1976, and before January 1, 1982; and
   (4) 5 percent a year compounded annually for periods after December 31, 1981.
(b) The current interest rate is the lesser of:
   (1) the interest rate prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section; or
   (2) the interest rate computed by:
      (A) adding to the amount in the municipality accumulation fund on January 1 of the year for which the computation is made the sum of the accumulated contributions in the employees saving fund on January 1 of the year of all persons who are members on December 31 of the year, before any transfers for retirements effective December 31 of the year are made, and the amount in the endowment fund, after transfer of money to the expense fund, on January 1 of the year; and
      (B) dividing the amount in the interest fund on December 31 of that year after the transfer of interest to the current service annuity reserve fund, municipality accumulation fund, supplemental disability benefits fund, and supplemental death benefits fund, by the amount computed under Paragraph (A) of this subdivision.

§ 65.317. Transfer of Assets From Interest Fund
(a) On December 31 of each year, the board of trustees shall transfer from the interest fund the following amounts:
   (1) to the current service annuity reserve fund, interest on the mean amount in the current service annuity reserve fund during that year;
   (2) to the supplemental disability benefits fund, interest on the mean amount in the supplemental disability benefits fund during that year;
   (3) to the supplemental death benefits fund, interest on the mean amount in the supplemental death benefits fund during that year;
   (4) to the municipality accumulation fund, current interest on the amount in the municipality accumulation fund on January 1 of that year;
   (5) to the interest reserve account of the endowment fund, current interest on the amount in the endowment fund on January 1 of that year; and
   (6) to the employees saving fund, current interest on the sum of the accumulated contributions in the employees saving fund credited on January 1 of that year to all persons who are members on December 31 of that year before any transfers for retirement effective December 31 of that year are made.
(b) The board of trustees shall transfer to the interest reserve account of the endowment fund the portion of the amount remaining in the interest fund after the transfers required by Subsection (a) of this section are made that the board determines is necessary:

1. To provide adequate reserves against insufficient future earnings on investments to allow interest on the retirement system's funds;
2. To provide adequate reserves against special and contingency requirements of other funds of the system; and
3. To provide the amount required for the administration expenses of the system for the following year.

(c) After the requirements of the interest reserve account of the endowment fund have been satisfied, the board of trustees may transfer any of the amount remaining in the interest fund to the general reserves account of the endowment fund to maintain adequate reserves against special requirements of other funds of the retirement system.

(d) After the requirements of the interest reserve account and the general reserves account of the endowment fund have been satisfied, the board of trustees shall transfer any amount remaining in the interest fund to the distributive benefits account of the endowment fund.

(§ 65.317)

§ 65.318. Transfer of Assets on Member's Retirement or Restoration to Active Duty

(a) When a member retires, the retirement system shall transfer:

1. The accumulated contributions of the member to the current service annuity reserve fund; and
2. The accumulated contributions and interest of the municipality to the current service annuity reserve fund.

If the board of trustees determines that on December 31 of a year the aggregate market value of common stocks held by the retirement system plus the amount credited to the interest reserve account of the endowment fund exceeds the sum of 120 percent of the book value of the stocks plus 2 percent of the book value of all other invested assets of the system, the board may direct that all or a part of the excess may be capitalized and applied to adjust the book value of the stock upward in accordance with rules adopted by the board. The board shall treat the amount of the adjustment as investment income and shall credit the amount to the interest fund.

§ 65.319. Payment to Formerly Participating Municipality

If a participating municipality has no employees who are members of the retirement system and has no present or potential liabilities resulting from the participation of former employees, the municipality's participation in the system stops and the system shall repay to the municipality on application any amount in the municipality accumulation fund that is credited to the municipality.

§ 65.320. Adjusting Stocks' Book Value

(a) Each municipality that has one or more participating in the retirement system by ordinance shall designate the rate of member contributions.

(b) A participating municipality by ordinance may increase the rate of member contributions.

(c) A participating municipality by ordinance may reduce the rate.

Subchapter E. Collection of Contributions

§ 65.401. Member Contributions

(a) Each municipality that has one or more participating departments in the retirement system by ordinance shall designate the rate of member contributions for employees of a participating department. The municipality shall elect a rate of three, five, or seven percent of the employees' compensation. Different departments of a municipality may have different rates of member contributions.

(b) A participating municipality by ordinance may increase the rate of member contributions.

(c) A participating municipality may reduce the rate of member contributions if:

1. At an election by secret ballot conducted under rules adopted by the board of trustees, the proposal to reduce the rate is passed by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of all members employed by the municipality; and
§ 65.402. Collection of Member Contributions

(a) Each payroll period each participating municipality shall cause the contribution for the period to be deducted from the compensation of each member that it employs.

(b) In determining the amount of a member's compensation for a payroll period, the board of trustees may use the rate of annual compensation payable to a member on the first day of the payroll period as the rate for the entire period and may omit deductions from compensation for less than a full payroll period if the employee was not a member on the first day of the period.

(c) The board of trustees may modify a member's required deduction by an amount that does not exceed one-tenth of one percent of the annual compensation on which the deduction is made.

(d) A participating municipality shall certify to the board of trustees on each payroll, or in another manner prescribed by the board, the amount to be deducted from the compensation of each member that it employs.

(e) The treasurer or disbursing officer of each participating municipality shall:

(1) make deductions from each member's compensation for contributions to the retirement system;

(2) transmit monthly, or at the time designated by the board of trustees, a certified copy of the payroll; and

(3) pay the deductions in cash to the board of trustees at the board's home office.

(f) To facilitate the collection of member contributions, the city clerk or city secretary of each participating municipality, before January 31 of each year, shall file with the director a certified list that states the name and monthly and annual salaries of each employee of the municipality who is a member of the retirement system. Any addition to or deletion from the list must be certified.

(g) After the deductions for member contributions are paid, the board of trustees shall:

(1) record all receipts; and

(2) deposit the receipts to the credit of the employees saving fund.

(h) The treasurer or disbursing officer of a participating municipality shall make the deductions required by this section even if the member's compensation is reduced below the amount equal to the minimum compensation provided by law.

(i) By becoming a member of the retirement system, a member consents to the deductions required by this section. The payment of compensation less those deductions is a complete release of all claims, except benefits provided by this subtitle, for services rendered by the member during the payroll period.

§ 65.403. Collection of Municipality Contributions

(a) Before the 16th day of each month, each participating municipality shall pay or cause to be paid to the retirement system at the system's office expense contributions in accordance with Section 65.404 of this subtitle, current service contributions in accordance with Section 65.405 of this subtitle, and prior service contributions in accordance with Section 65.406 of this subtitle.

(b) Unless otherwise provided for and paid by a municipality, a municipality shall pay its contributions to the retirement system from:

(1) the fund from which earnings are paid to members; or

(2) the general fund of the municipality.

§ 65.404. Municipality Expense Contribution

(a) Each participating municipality shall pay to the retirement system an expense contribution prescribed in accordance with this section.

(b) The board of trustees, before January 1 of each year, shall set the rate of the contribution necessary to provide an amount required to pay the difference between:

(1) the estimated administrative expenses for the following year; and

(2) the anticipated revenue, from sources other than municipality contributions, to be used for the expenses of the year as adjusted for a surplus or deficiency existing on January 1 of that year.

(c) The rate set by the board of trustees under Subsection (b) of this section may not exceed 50 cents a month for each member.

(d) The board of trustees shall certify the rate set under Subsection (b) of this section to each participating municipality before January 1 of the year for which the rate is set.

§ 65.405. Municipality Normal Contribution
Each participating municipality shall pay to the municipality accumulation fund, as its normal contribution, an amount equal to a percentage of the compensation of members employed by the municipality for that month. The rate of contribution is the normal contribution rate determined annually by the actuary and approved by the board of trustees. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 233, ch. 18, § 106, eff. Jan. 1, 1982.]

§ 65.406. Municipality Prior Service Contribution
(a) Each participating municipality shall pay to the municipality accumulation fund, as its prior service contribution, an amount equal to a percentage of the compensation of members employed by the municipality for that month.
(b) The rate of contribution is the rate determined annually by the actuary and approved by the board of trustees as being the rate required to fund all obligations charged against the municipality’s account in the municipality accumulation fund within the municipality’s amortization period without resulting in a probable future depletion of that account. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 233, ch. 18, § 106, eff. Jan. 1, 1982.]

§ 65.407. Limitation on Municipality Contribution Rates
(a) The combined rates of a municipality’s normal contributions and prior service contributions may not exceed:
   (1) 9½ percent of the total compensation paid by the municipality to the employees of its participating departments if the rate of member contributions of the employees of its participating departments is 7 percent of their compensation;
   (2) 7½ percent of the total compensation paid by the municipality to the employees of its participating departments if the rate of member contributions of the employees of its participating departments is 5 percent of their compensation; or
   (3) 5½ percent of the total compensation paid by the municipality to the employees of its participating departments if the rate of member contributions of the employees of its participating departments is 3 percent of their compensation.
(b) The actuary annually shall determine the municipality normal contribution rate and the prior service contribution rate from the most recent data available at the time of the determination. Before January 1 of each year, the board of trustees shall certify the rates to each participating municipality. If a participating municipality has different rates of contribution for employees of different departments, the actuary shall determine the maximum rate for the municipality using the average rate of contribution prescribed for contributions of employees of its participating departments. To compute the average rate the actuary shall consider the number of employees in each participating department of the municipality.
   (c) A reduction in the member contribution rate for employees of a participating municipality does not reduce the maximum rate of contribution of the municipality.
   (d) If the dates of participation of each department of a municipality are not the same, the governing body of the municipality may request that, to determine the municipality normal contribution rate and prior service contribution rate and to determine the period during which the municipality must fund the obligations charged against its account in the municipality accumulation fund, all of its departments have a single composite participation date. The actuary shall determine the composite participation date by computing an average weighted according to the number of members entering the retirement system on the actual dates of participation of the departments involved.
   (e) If the combined rates of a municipality’s normal contributions and prior service contributions exceed the rate prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section, the rate for prior service contributions shall be reduced to the rate that equals the difference between the maximum rate prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section and the normal contribution rate for the municipality. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 234, ch. 18, § 107, eff. Jan. 1, 1982.]

§ 65.408. Municipality Supplemental Disability Benefits Fund Contribution
(a) Beginning from the effective participation date of the municipality, each municipality participating in the supplemental disability benefits fund shall pay to that fund an amount equal to a percentage of the compensation of members employed by the municipality.
(b) The board of trustees on the recommendation of the actuary shall determine the rate of contribution necessary to accumulate the reserves needed to pay the benefits from the supplemental disability benefits fund. The rate of contribution may not exceed one-half of one percent of the compensation of the municipality’s employees covered by the fund.
(c) The limitation of Section 65.407(e) of this subtitle does not affect the rate of contribution to the supplemental disability benefits fund. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

§ 65.409. Municipality Supplemental Death Benefits Contribution
(a) In addition to other contributions to the retirement system required by this subtitle, each municipality participating in the supplemental death benefits fund monthly shall pay to the supplemental death benefits fund an amount equal to the rate of contribution computed in accordance with Section 65.502 of this subtitle, multiplied by the total compensation for the month of the members employed by the municipality.

(b) The limitation of Section 65.407(e) of this subtitle does not apply to the rate of the contribution to the supplemental death benefits fund.

§ 65.410. War Period Contributions

(a) During a period that the United States is at war and until the first anniversary of the last day of the war, a member who as a result of conscription or volunteering is serving in the United States armed forces, armed forces reserve, an auxiliary of the American Red Cross or who as a result of conscription by the government in war work may pay, each year, to the retirement system an amount that does not exceed the amount of the member's contribution to the system during the last year that the member was employed by a participating municipality.

(b) The board of trustees shall treat the amounts paid to the system under this section in the same manner as funds deposited by the member while an employee of a participating municipality.

[Sections 65.411 to 65.500 reserved for expansion]

SUBCHAPTER F. OPTIONAL PROGRAMS

§ 65.501. Increased Current Service Annuities

(a) A participating municipality may elect to provide for an increased current service annuity reserve on the retirement of each of its employees who are members.

(b) The governing body of a municipality electing to provide for increased reserves by ordinance shall provide that for each month of current service rendered by a participating employee of the municipality after the date of its election the municipality will provide a contribution as provided by Subsection (e) of this section equal to 150 or 200 percent of the member's accumulated contribution to the retirement system for that month.

(c) On the retirement of a member covered by an increased current service annuity reserve, the retirement system shall transfer to the current service annuity reserve fund:

(1) accumulated contributions credited to the member's account in the employees saving fund; and

(2) the amount from the municipality's account in the municipality accumulation fund that the municipality has adopted under Subsection (b) of this section.

(d) If the retiring member's accumulated contributions are the result of service for more than one participating municipality, the retirement system shall transfer from the account of each municipality the amount chargeable to that municipality for the member.

(e) A participating municipality electing to provide an increased current service annuity reserve and electing a contribution rate of 150 percent for a year is liable for total contributions at a rate that does not exceed a rate equal to the maximum rate prescribed for the municipality by Section 65.407 of this subtitle plus two percent a year. A municipality electing a rate of 200 percent a year is liable for contributions at a rate that does not exceed a rate equal to the maximum rate prescribed for the municipality by Section 65.407 of this subtitle plus four percent a year.

(f) Except as provided by Subsection (g) of this section, an increased rate of contribution authorized under this section may become effective only on January 1 of a calendar year.

(g) A municipality that begins participation in the retirement system after December 31, 1975, may elect to provide for an increased current service annuity reserve beginning on its effective date of participation. That election remains in effect until the municipality elects to pay contributions at another rate.

(h) A municipality electing to provide for an increased current service annuity reserve may reduce its rate of contribution to 150 percent of the member contributions or to a rate equal to the member contributions. The reduction becomes effective on January 1 of the calendar year following the date on which the municipality's governing body adopts an ordinance reducing the rate of contribution.

§ 65.502. Supplemental Death Benefits Program

(a) As soon as practical after the supplemental death benefits program is established and at the time of each investigation of members' mortality and service experience required by Section 65.110 of this subtitle, the actuary shall investigate the mortality experience of the members and eligible annuitants participating in the supplemental death benefits program. On the basis of the result of that investigation, the actuary shall recommend to the board of trustees rates and tables necessary to determine supplemental death benefits contribution rates. The rates and tables may provide for the anticipated mortality experience of the persons covered under the supplemental death benefits fund and for a contingency reserve.

(b) Before a municipality's participation date in the supplemental death benefits fund and before January 1 of each subsequent year, the actuary shall compute, on the basis of rates and tables adopted by the board of trustees, the supplemental death benefits contribution rate of a municipality participating in the supplemental death benefits contribution fund. The rate must be expressed as a percentage of the compensation of members employed by the municipality. When the rate is approved by the board of trustees, the rate is effective for the calendar year for which it was approved.

(c) If the balance in the supplemental death benefits fund is insufficient to pay the supplemental death benefits due, the board of trustees may direct that, to the extent available, an amount equal to the amount of the deficiency be transferred from the general reserves account of the endowment fund to the supplemental death benefits fund. The board may adjust future contributions to the supplemental death benefits fund to repay to the general reserves account the transferred amount.

(d) If the total number of members covered by the supplemental death benefits fund becomes fewer than 4,000, the board of trustees may order that the fund be discontinued and all coverage terminated. The termination date must be December 31 of a year designated by the board and may not be before the expiration of six months after the date on which the order of termination was adopted.

(e) To protect against adverse claim experience, the board of trustees may secure reinsurance from one or more stock insurance companies doing business in this state if the board determines that reinsurance is necessary. The retirement system shall pay the premiums for reinsurance from the supplemental death benefits fund.

The termination date must be December 31 of a year than expiration of six months after the date on which the order of termination was adopted.

(f) If the person or the administrator of the person's estate cannot be found, the person's accumulated contributions are forfeited to the retirement system. The retirement system shall return to the person or the person's estate all accumulated contributions of the person.

(b) If the board of trustees shall furnish to a member, on written request, a statement of the amount credited to the member's individual account. During a calendar year, the board is not required to furnish to a member more than one statement requested under this subsection.

§ 65.602. Interest in Assets

A particular person, group of persons, municipality, or other entity has no right in a specific security, item of cash, or other property of the retirement system other than an undivided interest in the assets of the retirement system.

§ 65.603. Forfeiture of Contributions

(a) If an application under Section 62.103 of this subtitle for the accumulated contributions of a person who has ceased to be employed by a participating department for a reason other than death or retirement has not been made before the seventh anniversary of the person's last day of service, the retirement system shall return to the person or the person's estate all accumulated contributions of the person.

(b) If the person or the administrator of the person's estate cannot be found, the person's accumulated contributions are forfeited to the retirement system. The retirement system shall credit the amount forfeited to the perpetual endowment account of the endowment fund.

§ 65.604. Merger

A pension system for municipal employees may merge into the retirement system under terms adopted by the board of trustees and the trustees of the other system after the other system has approved the merger by a majority vote.

§ 65.605. Participation of Members of Fire Department

(a) If the employees of the fire department of a municipality, with the consent of the municipality, elect to become members of the retirement system, the funds of the municipality's firemen's relief and retirement fund, if any, and future payments to the fund may be transferred to the board of trustees on the voluntary application of the municipality.

(b) A participating municipality shall pay to the board of trustees money that could have been paid annually to the firemen's relief and retirement fund if the fire department were not covered by the retirement system or another pension system or if the municipality had taken the proper steps to secure the money. The retirement system shall credit amounts paid under this subsection for the benefit of fire fighters as the board of trustees directs. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1876, ch. 453, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

CHAPTER EIGHT. RESTRICTIONS, DUTIES AND LIABILITIES

Art. 6419a. Engineer's Operator Permits

Sec. 1. A railroad company shall issue to each person that it employs to operate or permits to operate a railroad locomotive in this state an engineer's operator permit. A permit must include the engineer's name, address, physical description, and date of birth.

Sec. 2. A person operating a railroad locomotive in this state shall have in his or her immediate possession a permit issued under this Act.

Sec. 3. A person who operates a railroad locomotive and who is required by a peace officer to show proof of identification in connection with the person's operation of a locomotive shall display the person's permit issued under this Act and may not be required to display an operator's commercial operator's or chauffeur's driver's license issued under Chapter 173, Acts of the 47th Legislature, Regular Session, 1941, as amended (Article 6687b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 4. If a person operating a railroad locomotive is involved in an accident with another train or a motor vehicle or is arrested for violation of a law relating to the person's operation of a locomotive, the number or other identifying information about the person's operator's, commercial operator's, or chauffeur's driver's license may not be included in any report of the accident or violation, and the person's involvement in the accident or violation may not be recorded in the person's individual driving record maintained by the Department of Public Safety.

Art. 6445a. Application of Sunset Act

The Railroad Commission of Texas is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished effective September 1, 1983.

Sec. 9 of the 1981 repealing act provides:

"(a) This Act takes effect September 1, 1981.

(b) On the effective date of this Act, all money credited to the railroad commission operating fund in transferred to the General Revenue Fund.

(c) Any appropriation for the fiscal years ending on August 31, 1982, and on August 31, 1983, from the railroad commission operating fund is an appropriation from the General Revenue Fund."

Art. 6519c. Disposition of Taxes and Fees

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (c), Section 17, Chapter 314, Acts of the 41st Legislature, Regular Session, 1929, as amended (Article 911b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and by Section 131.231, Natural Resources Code, all taxes, license fees, permit fees, examination fees, and truck registration fees collected or received by the Railroad Commission of Texas shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

(b) The comptroller of public accounts may establish accounts as are necessary to account for the sources and uses of dedicated funds deposited to the General Revenue Fund under this section.

(c) The legislature may appropriate funds from the General Revenue Fund to the Railroad Commission of Texas for the operation of the commission and for carrying out the duties of the commission as required or permitted by law.

Art. 6550(a). Repealed.

Art. 6550c. Rural Rail Transportation Districts.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN. MISCELLANEOUS RAILROADS

The repealed article, relating to the Texas State Railroad and the Board of Managers thereof, was derived from Acts 1953, 53rd Leg., p. 79, ch. 56, as amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1832, ch. 735, § 2.005.

Sections 2 to 6 of the 1977 repealing act provided:

"Sec. 2. The legislature hereby grants, sells, and conveys by this Act does grant, sell, and convey to the city of Palestine all of the interest of the State of Texas in the right-of-way and trackage of the Texas State Railroad..."
from Mile Post 0.0 at Palestine, extending eastwardly to Mile Post 3.69, in consideration of the benefit to the public welfare and the agreement of the city of Palestine to develop the property for industrial purposes, with the income from the property to be paid to the Parks and Wildlife Department for the benefit of the Palestine terminal of the Texas State Railroad Park.

"Sec. 3. On or before June 1 of each year, the city of Palestine shall furnish a report to the comptroller of public accounts showing the financial condition of the property for the preceding calendar year and shall transmit all income after expenses to the State Treasury to be deposited in a special fund for use by the Parks and Wildlife Department for the benefit of the Palestine terminal of the Texas State Railroad Park.

"Sec. 4. If the city of Palestine shall fail or cease to develop for industrial purposes the property conveyed by this Act, with the income after expenses paid to the Parks and Wildlife Department as provided in Section 3 of this Act, all right, title, and interest granted and conveyed by this Act shall, without further action by any of the parties, revert to the State of Texas, unless such reversion is waived by the legislature during the biennium following the happening of the conditions of reversion.

"Sec. 5. It is the duty of the present Board of Managers of the Texas State Railroad to transfer and deliver possession of the Texas State Railroad right-of-way and trackage from Mile Post 0.0 at Palestine, extending eastwardly to Mile Post 3.69, to the governing body of the city of Palestine on the effective date of this Act, together with all equipment, supplies, books, records, documents, and property of any kind belonging to the railroad.

"Sec. 6. A copy of this Act, duly certified by the Secretary of State, may be filed of record by the county clerk in the deed records of Anderson County."

Art. 6550c. Rural Rail Transportation Districts

Findings

Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(1) the state contains many rural areas that are heavily dependent on agriculture for economic survival;

(2) transportation of agricultural and industrial products is essential to the continued economic vitality of rural areas;

(3) the rail transportation systems in some rural areas are threatened by railroad bankruptcies and abandonment proceedings that would cause the cessation of rail services to the areas; and

(4) it is in the interest of all citizens of the state that existing rail systems be maintained for the most efficient and economical movement of essential agricultural products from the areas of production to the local, national, and export markets.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Board" means the board of directors of a rural rail transportation system.

(2) "District" means a rural rail transportation district created under this Act.

(3) "System" means all real and personal property held or used for rail transportation purposes, including land, easements, rights-of-way, other interests in land, franchises, stations, platforms, terminals, garages, shops, control houses, other buildings and structures, rolling stock, tracks, signals, other equipment, supplies, and other facilities necessary or convenient for the use of or access to rail transportation.

Creation of District

Sec. 3. (a) The commissioners courts of two or more eligible counties that, taken together, constitute a contiguous geographic area may by order create a rural rail transportation district consisting of the territory of the counties whose commissioners courts adopt the order.

(b) After approval by the board of directors of a district, the commissioners court of an eligible county by order may include the territory of that county in the district.

(c) A county eligible to form or join a district is one in which is located a rail line that is in the process of being or has been abandoned through a bankruptcy court or Interstate Commerce Commission proceeding, or any line carrying 3 million gross tons per mile per year or less.

Board of Directors; Employees

Sec. 4. (a) Each commissioners court that participates in the creation of or joins a district shall appoint one person to be a member of the board of directors of the district. Provided however, that if the district shall be composed of three counties or less, then each commissioners court shall appoint two directors to the board of directors. The board is responsible for the management, operation, and control of the district.

(b) To be eligible for appointment to the board, a person must be a resident of the district. A board member serves for a term of two years. A vacancy on the board shall be filled for the remainder of the term by the commissioners court that appointed the member who vacated the position. A board member may be removed from office for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office by the commissioners court that appointed the member, after at least 10 days' written notice to the member and a hearing before the commissioners court. At a hearing on the question of removal of a board member, the board member is entitled to be heard in person or through counsel.

(c) Members of the board shall select their presiding officers. The board shall hold at least one regular meeting each month for the purpose of transacting business of the district. The presiding officer may call special meetings of the board. A majority of the members is a quorum.

(d) The board shall adopt rules for its proceedings and may employ and compensate persons to carry out the powers and duties of the district.

(e) A board member or employee of a district may not be pecuniarily interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract or agreement to which the district is a party.

Powers of District

Sec. 5. (a) A rural rail transportation district is a public body exercising public and essential governmental functions and having all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out the purposes of this Act, including the powers granted in this section.

(b) A district has perpetual succession.

(c) A district may sue and be sued in all courts of competent jurisdiction, may institute and prosecute suits without giving security for costs, and may appeal from a judgment without giving supersedeas or cost bond.
(d) A district may acquire by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or otherwise and may hold, use, sell, lease, or dispose of real and personal property, licenses, patents, rights, and interests necessary, convenient, or useful for the full exercise of any of its powers under this Act.

(e) A district may acquire, construct, own, operate, and maintain a system within its boundaries, both inside and outside the limits of incorporated cities, towns, and villages, and has the right to use the streets, alleys, roads, highways, and other public ways and to relocate, raise, lower, reroute, regulate, change the grade of, and alter the construction of any street, alley, highway, or road; any railroad track, bridge, or other facility or property; any gas transmission or distribution pipes, pipelines, mains, or other facility or property; any water, sanitary sewer, or storm sewer pipes, pipelines, or other facility or property; any electric lines, telegraph or telephone facility or property; any cable television lines, cables, conduits, or other facility or property; and pipelines and facilities, conduits and facilities, or other property whether publicly or privately owned, in the construction, reconstruction, repair, maintenance, or operation of the system. A district shall pay the cost of any change made under this subsection and is liable for any damage to property occurring because of the change.

(f) A district has the right of eminent domain to acquire lands in fee simple and any interest less than fee simple, in, on, under, or above lands, including, without limitation, easements, rights-of-way, rights of use of airspace or subsurface space. The right may not be exercised in a manner that would unduly interfere with interstate commerce or unduly impair the neighborhood character of property surrounding or adjacent to the property sought to be condemned. Eminent domain proceedings brought by a district are governed by Title 52, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, except as it is inconsistent with this Act. Proceedings for the exercise of the power of eminent domain are commenced by the adoption by the board of a resolution declaring the public necessity for the acquisition by the district of the property or interest described in the resolution, and that the acquisition is necessary and proper for the construction, extension, improvement, or development of the system and is in the public interest. The resolution of the district is conclusive evidence of the public necessity of the proposed acquisition and that the real or personal property or interest in property is necessary for public use.

(g) A district may enter into agreements with any other public utility, private utility, communication system, common carrier, or transportation system for the joint use of its facilities, installations or properties within the district and establish through routes, joint fares, and, subject to approval of any tariff-regulating body having jurisdiction, divisions of tariffs.

(h) A district shall establish and maintain rents or other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system acquired, constructed, operated, regulated, or maintained by the district that are reasonable and nondiscriminatory and, together with grants received by the district, are sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

(1) to pay all expenses necessary to the operation and maintenance of the properties and facilities of the district;
(2) to pay the interest on and principal of all bonds issued by the district under this Act payable in whole or in part from the revenues, as they become due and payable; and
(3) to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of bonds or with any person in their behalf.

(i) A district may make contracts, leases, and agreements with, and accept grants and loans from the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the state, its agencies, and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons, and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it. A district may acquire rolling stock or other property under conditional sales contracts, leases, equipment trust certificates, or any other form of contract or trust agreement. Any revenue bond indenture may provide limitations on the exercise of the powers granted by this section, and the limitations apply so long as any of the revenue bonds issued pursuant to the indenture are outstanding and unpaid.

(j) A district may sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of any of its rights, interests, or properties not needed for or, in the case of leases, not inconsistent with the efficient operation and maintenance of the system. It may sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of, at any time, any surplus materials or personal or real property not needed for its requirements or for the purpose of carrying out its power under this Act.

(k) A district by resolution may adopt rules and regulations governing the use, operation, and maintenance of the system and shall determine all routings and change them whenever the board considers it advisable.

(l) A district may lease the system or any part to, or contract for the use or operation of the system or any part by, any operator. A district shall encourage to the maximum extent practicable the participation of private enterprise in the operation of the system.

(m) A district may contract with any county or other political subdivision of the state for the district to provide rail transportation services to any area outside the boundaries of the district on such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by the parties.
Sec. 6. (a) A district may issue revenue bonds and notes from time to time and in such amounts as its board considers necessary or appropriate for the acquisition, purchase, construction, reconstruction, repair, equipping, improvement, or extension of its system. All bonds and notes are fully negotiable and may be made redeemable before maturity, at the option of the issuing district, at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the issuing district in the resolution authorizing the bonds or notes, and may be sold at public or private sale, as determined by the board.

(b) Before delivery, all bonds and notes authorized to be issued, except notes issued to an agency of the federal or state government, and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If the attorney general finds that they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act, and that they will be binding obligations of the district issuing them, the attorney general shall approve them, and they shall be registered by the state comptroller of public accounts. After approval, registration, and sale and delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, they are incontestable.

(c) In order to secure the payment of the bonds or notes, the district may encumber and pledge all or any part of the revenues of its system, may mortgage and encumber all or any part of the properties of the system, and everything pertaining to them acquired or to be acquired, and may prescribe the terms and provisions of the bonds and notes in any manner not inconsistent with this Act. If not prohibited by the resolution or indenture relating to outstanding bonds or notes, any district may encumber separately any item or items of real estate or personality.

(d) All bonds and notes are legal and authorized investments for banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies. The bonds and notes are eligible to secure the deposit of public funds of the state, cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the state. The bonds and notes are lawful and sufficient security for the deposits to the extent of the bonds' principal amount or market value, whichever is less, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant to them.

(e) Bonds payable solely from revenues may be issued by resolution of the board.

Sec. 7. A contract in the amount of more than $10,000 for the construction of improvements or the purchase of material, machinery, equipment, supplies, or any other property except real property may only be let on competitive bids after notice published, at least 15 days before the date set for receiving bids, in a newspaper of general circulation in the district. A board may adopt rules governing the taking of bids and the awarding of contracts. This section does not apply to personal or professional services or the acquisition of existing rail transportation systems.

Sec. 8. The property, revenues, and income of a district and the interest on bonds and notes issued by a district are exempt from all taxes levied by the state or a political subdivision of the state.

Sec. 9. The powers and duties provided by this Act are in addition to the powers and duties provided by other law for counties regarding rail transportation.

TITLE 113A

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Article

Art. 6573a. The Real Estate License Act

Short Title; License Required; Responsibility for Acts and Conduct; Compensation and Commissions

Sec. 1. (a) This Act shall be known and may be cited as “The Real Estate License Act.”

(b) It is unlawful for a person to act in the capacity of, engage in the business of, or advertise or hold himself out as engaging in or conducting the business of a real estate broker or a real estate salesman within this state without first obtaining a real estate license from the Texas Real Estate Commission. It is unlawful for a person licensed as a real estate salesman to act or attempt to act as a real estate agent unless he is, at such time, associated with a licensed Texas real estate broker and acting for the licensed real estate broker.

(c) Each real estate broker licensed pursuant to this Act is responsible to the commission, members of the public, and his clients for all acts and conduct performed under this Act by himself or by a real estate salesman associated with or acting for the broker.

(d) No real estate salesman shall accept compensation for real estate sales and transactions from any person other than the broker under whom he is at the time licensed.

(e) No real estate salesman shall pay a commission to any person except through the broker under whom he is at the time licensed.

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this Act:

(1) “Real estate” means a leasehold, as well as any other interest or estate in land, whether corporeal, incorporeal, freehold, or nonfreehold, and whether the real estate is situated in this state or elsewhere.

(2) “Real estate broker” means a person who, for another person and for a fee, commission, or other valuable consideration, or with the intention or in the expectation or on the promise of receiving or collecting a fee, commission, or other valuable consideration from another person:

(A) sells, exchanges, purchases, rents, or leases real estate;

(B) offers to sell, exchange, purchase, rent, or lease real estate;

(C) negotiates or attempts to negotiate the listing, sale, exchange, purchase, rental, or leasing of real estate;

(D) lists or offers or attempts or agrees to list real estate for sale, rental, lease, exchange, or trade;

(E) appraises or offers or attempts or agrees to appraise real estate;

(F) auctions, or offers or attempts or agrees to auction, real estate;

(G) buys or sells or offers to buy or sell, or otherwise deals in options on real estate;

(H) aids, attempts, or offers to aid in locating or obtaining for purchase, rent, or lease any real estate;

(I) procures or assists in the procuring of prospects for the purpose of effecting the sale, exchange, lease, or rental of real estate; or

(J) procures or assists in the procuring of properties for the purpose of effecting the sale, exchange, lease, or rental of real estate.

(3) “Broker” also includes a person employed by or on behalf of the owner or owners of lots or other parcels of real estate, at a salary, fee, commission, or any other valuable consideration, to sell the real estate or any part thereof, in lots or parcels or other disposition thereof. It also includes a person who engages in the business of charging an advance fee or contracting for collection of a fee in connection with a contract whereby he undertakes primarily to promote the sale of real estate either through its listing in a publication issued primarily for such purpose, or for referral of information concerning the real estate to brokers, or both.

(4) “Real estate salesman” means a person associated with a Texas licensed real estate broker for the purposes of performing acts or transactions comprehended by the definition of “real estate broker” as defined in this Act.

(5) “Person” means an individual, a partnership, or a corporation, foreign or domestic.

(6) “Commission” means the Texas Real Estate Commission.

(7) If the sense requires it, words in the present tense include the future tense; in the masculine gender, include the feminine or neuter gender; in the singular number, include the plural number; in the plural number, include the singular number; the word “and” may be read “or”; and the word “or” may be read “and.”
Art. 6573a REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any of the following persons and transactions, and each and all of the following persons and transactions are hereby exempted from the provisions of this Act, to wit:

(a) an attorney at law licensed in this state or in any other state;
(b) an attorney in fact under a duly executed power of attorney authorizing the consummation of a real estate transaction;
(c) a public official in the conduct of his official duties;
(d) a person acting officially as a receiver, trustee, administrator, executor, or guardian;
(e) a person acting under a court order or under the authority of a will or a written trust instrument;
(f) a salesperson employed by an owner in the sale of structures and land on which said structures are situated, provided such structures are erected by the owner in the due course of his business;
(g) an on-site manager of an apartment complex;
(h) transactions involving the sale, lease, or transfer of any mineral or mining interest in real property;
(i) an owner or his employees in renting or leasing his own real estate whether improved or unimproved;
(j) transactions involving the sale, lease, or transfer of cemetery lots.

Acts Constituting Broker or Salesman

Sec. 4. A person who, directly or indirectly for another, with the intention or on the promise of receiving any valuable consideration, offers, attempts, or agrees to perform, or performs, a single act defined in Subdivisions 2 and 3, Section 2 of this Act, whether as a part of a transaction, or as an entire transaction, is deemed to be acting as a real estate broker or salesman within the meaning of this Act. The commission of a single such act by a person required to be licensed under this Act and not so licensed shall constitute a violation of this Act.

Exemptions

Sec. 5. (a) The administration of the provisions of this Act is vested in a commission, to be known as the “Texas Real Estate Commission,” consisting of nine members to be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the senate present. The commissioners hold office for staggered terms of six years with the terms of three members expiring every two years. Each member holds office until his successor is appointed and has qualified. Within 15 days after his appointment, each member shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office and furnishing a bond payable to the Governor of Texas in the penal sum of $10,000, conditional on the faithful performance of his duties as prescribed by law. A vacancy for any cause shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term. Notwithstanding any other provisions in this subsection, the six members of the commission in office on September 1, 1979, shall continue in office until the 5th day of October of the years in which their respective terms expire, or until their successors are appointed and have qualified. The terms of office of the appointees who fill the offices of incumbent members whose terms expire October 5, 1979, 1981, and 1983, expire on January 31, 1985, 1987, and 1989, respectively. Each succeeding term of office expires on January 31 of odd-numbered years. For the three public members initially appointed under this Act, the governor shall designate one member for a term expiring January 31, 1981, one member for a term expiring January 31, 1983, and one member for a term expiring January 31, 1985. At a regular meeting in February of each year, the commission shall elect from its own membership a chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary. Each member of the commission shall be present for at least one-half of the regularly scheduled meetings held each year by the commission. The failure of a member to meet this requirement automatically removes the member from the commission and creates a vacancy on the commission. A quorum of the commission consists of five members.

(b) All members, officers, employees, and agents of the commission are subject to the code of ethics and standards of conduct imposed by Chapter 421, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 6252-9b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(c) Appointments to the commission shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees. Each member of the commission shall be a citizen of Texas and a qualified voter. Six members shall have been engaged in the real estate brokerage business as licensed real estate brokers as their major occupations for at least five years next preceding their appointments. Three members must be representatives of the general public who are not licensed under this Act and who do not have, other than as consumers, a financial interest in the practice of a real estate broker or real estate salesman. It is grounds for removal from the commission if:

(1) a broker-member of the commission ceases to be a licensed real estate broker;
(2) a public member of the commission or a person related to the member within the second degree by consanguinity or within the second degree by affinity acquires a real estate license or a financial interest in the practice of real estate; or
(3) a member of the commission or a person related to the member within the second degree by consanguinity or within the second degree by affinity becomes an employee or paid consultant of a real estate trade association or an officer of a statewide real estate trade association elected by the entire voting membership of the statewide association.

(d) Each member of the commission shall receive as compensation for each day actually spent on his official duties the sum of $50 and his actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of his official duties.

(e) The commission shall have the authority and power to make and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the performance of its duties, to establish standards of conduct and ethics for its licensees in keeping with the purposes and intent of this Act or to insure compliance with the provisions of this Act. If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Subsection (g), Section 5, Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as added (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the commission statements opposing adoption of a rule under that section, the rule may not take effect, or if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the commission receives the committees' statements. In addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy authorized by law, the commission shall have the right to institute an action in its own name to enjoin any violation of any provision of this Act or any rule or regulation of the commission and in order for the commission to sustain such action it shall not be necessary to allege or prove, either than an adequate remedy at law does not exist, or that substantial or irreparable damage would result from the continued violation thereof. Either party to such action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause. The commission shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any action or proceeding to enforce the provisions of this Act.

(f) The commission is empowered to select and name an administrator, who shall also act as executive secretary, and to select and employ such other subordinate officers and employees as are necessary to administer this Act. The salaries of the administrator and the officers and employees shall be fixed by the commission not to exceed such amounts as are fixed by the applicable general appropriations bill. The commission may designate a subordinate officer as assistant administrator who shall be authorized to act for the administrator in his absence. A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not act as the general counsel to the commission or serve as a member of the commission.

(g) Repealed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 158, ch. 71, § 1, eff. April 23, 1981.

(h) The commission shall adopt a seal of a design which it shall prescribe. Copies of all records and papers in the office of the commission, duly certified and authenticated by the seal of the commission, shall be received in evidence in all courts with like effect as the original.

(i) Except as provided in Subsection (j) of this section, all money derived from fees, assessments, or charges under this Act, shall be paid by the commission into the State Treasury for safekeeping, and shall be placed by the State Treasurer in a separate fund to be available for the use of the commission in the administration of this Act on requisition by the commission. A necessary amount of the money so paid into the State Treasury is hereby specifically appropriated to the commission for the purpose of paying the salaries and expenses necessary and proper for the administration of this Act, including equipment and maintenance of supplies for the offices or quarters occupied by the commission, and necessary travel expenses for the commission or persons authorized to act for it when performing duties under this Act. At the end of the state fiscal year, any unused portion of the funds in the special account, except such funds as may be appropriated to administer this Act pending receipt of additional revenues available for that purpose, shall be paid into the General Revenue Fund. The comptroller shall, on requisition of the commission, draw warrants from time to time on the State Treasurer for the amount specified in the requisition, not exceeding, however, the amount in the fund at the time of making a requisition. However, all money expended in the administration of this Act shall be specified and determined by itemized appropriation in the general departmental appropriation bill for the Texas Real Estate Commission, and not otherwise.

(j) Fifteen dollars received by the commission from fees received from real estate brokers and $7.50 received by the commission from fees received from real estate salesmen for licensure status shall be transmitted annually to Texas A & M University for deposit in a separate banking account. The money in the separate account shall be expended for the support and maintenance of the Texas Real Estate Research Center and for carrying out the purposes, objectives, and duties of the center. However, all money expended from the separate account shall be as determined by legislative appropriation.

(k) The Texas Real Estate Commission is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the commission is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

(l) The commission is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).
Art. 6573a

REAL ESTATE DEALERS

Licenses: Qualification

Sec. 6. (a) A person desiring to act as a real estate broker in this state shall file an application for a license with the commission on a form prescribed by the commission. A broker desiring to engage a person to participate in real estate brokerage activity shall join the person in filing an application for a salesman license on a form prescribed by the commission.

(b) To be eligible for a license, an individual must be a citizen of the United States or a lawfully admitted alien, be at least 18 years of age, and be a legal resident of Texas for at least 60 days immediately preceding the filing of an application, and must satisfy the commission as to his honesty, trustworthiness, integrity, and competency. However, the competency of the individual, for the purpose of qualifying for the granting of licensure privileges, shall be judged solely on the basis of the examination referred to in Section 7 of this Act.

(c) To be eligible for a license, a corporation must designate one of its officers to act for it. The designated person must be a citizen of the United States or a lawfully admitted alien, be at least 18 years of age, and be a resident of Texas for at least 60 days immediately preceding the filing of an application, and must be qualified to be licensed individually as a real estate broker. However, the competency of the corporation shall be judged solely on the basis of the examination referred to in Section 7 of this Act.

Moral Character Checks

Sec. 6A. (a) If, at any time before a person applies for a license under this Act, the person requests the commission to determine whether his moral character complies with the commission's moral character requirements for licensing under this Act and the person pays a $10 fee for the moral character determination, the commissioner shall make its determination of the person's moral character.

(b) Not later than the 30th day after the day on which the commission makes its determination, the commission shall give the person notice of the determination.

(c) If the person later applies for a license under this Act, the commission may conduct a supplemental moral character check of the person. The supplemental check may cover only the time since the day on which the person requested the original moral character determination.

Examinations, Educational Requirements; Evidence of Qualification

Sec. 7. (a) Competency as referred to in Section 6 of this Act shall be established by an examination prepared by or contracted for by the commission. The examination shall be given at such times and at such places within the state as the commission shall prescribe. The examination shall be of scope sufficient in the judgment of the commission to determine that a person is competent to act as a real estate broker or salesman in a manner to protect the interest of the public. The examination for a salesman license shall be less exacting and less stringent than the examination for a broker license. The commission shall furnish each applicant with study material and references on which his examination shall be based. When an applicant for real estate licensure fails a qualifying examination, he may apply for reexamination by filing a request therefor together with the proper fee. The examination requirement shall be satisfied within one year from the date the application for a license is filed. Courses of study required for licensure shall include but not be limited to the following which shall be considered core real estate courses for all purposes of this Act:

1. Principles of Real Estate (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to an overview of licensing as a real estate broker and salesman, ethics of practice, titles to and conveyancing of real estate, legal descriptions, law of agency, deeds, encumbrances and liens, distinctions between personal and real property, contracts, appraisal, finance and regulations, closing procedures, and real estate mathematics.
2. Real Estate Appraisal (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to the central purposes and functions of an appraisal, social and economic determinant of value, appraisal case studies, cost, market data and income approaches to value estimates, final correlations, and reporting.
3. Real Estate Law (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to legal concepts of real estate, land description, real property rights and estates in land, contracts, conveyances, encumbrances, foreclosures, recording procedures, and evidence of titles.
4. Real Estate Finance (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to monetary systems, primary and secondary money markets, sources of mortgage loans, federal government programs, loan applications, processes and procedures, closing costs, alternative financial instruments, equal credit opportunity acts, community reinvestment act, and state housing agency.
5. Real Estate Marketing (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to real estate professionalism and ethics, characteristics of successful salesmen, time management, psychology of marketing, listing procedures, advertising, negotiating and closing, financing, and the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act, as amended, Section 17.01 et seq., Business & Commerce Code.
6. Real Estate Mathematics (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to basic arithmetic skills and review of mathematical logic, percentages, interest, time-valued money, depreciation, amortization, proration, and estimation of closing statements.
Real Estate Brokerage (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to law of agency, planning and organization, operational policies and procedures, recruiting, selection and training of personnel, records and control, and real estate firm analysis and expansion criteria.

Property Management (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to role of property manager, landlord policies, operational guidelines, leases, lease negotiations, tenant relations, maintenance, reports, habitability laws, and the Fair Housing Act.

Real Estate Investments (or equivalent) shall include but not be limited to real estate investment characteristics, techniques of investment analysis, time-valued money, discounted and nondiscounted investment criteria, leverage, tax shelters depreciation, and applications to property tax.

The commission shall waive the examination of an applicant for broker licensure who has, within one year previous to the filing of his application, been licensed in this state as a broker, and shall waive the examination of an applicant for salesman licensure who has, within one year previous to the filing of his application, been licensed in this state as either a broker or salesman.

From and after the effective date of this Act, each applicant for broker licensure shall furnish the commission satisfactory evidence that he has had not less than two years active experience in this state as a licensed real estate salesman practitioner during the 36-month period immediately preceding the filing of the application; and, in addition, shall furnish the commission satisfactory evidence of having completed successfully 36 semester hours of core real estate courses or related courses accepted by the commission. On January 1, 1983, the number of required semester hours shall be increased to 48. On or after January 1, 1985, the required semester hours shall be increased to 60. These qualifications for broker licensure shall not be required of an applicant who, at the time of making the application, is duly licensed as a real estate broker by any other state.

From and after the effective date of this Act, as a prerequisite for applying for salesman licensure each applicant shall furnish the commission satisfactory evidence of having completed 12 semester hours of postsecondary education, six semester hours of which must be completed in core real estate courses, of which a minimum of two semester hours must be completed in Principles of Real Estate as described in Subdivision (1) of Subsection (a) of Section 7. The remaining six semester hours shall be completed in core real estate courses or related courses. As a condition for the second annual certification of salesman licensure privileges, the applicant shall furnish the commission satisfactory evidence of having completed a minimum of 14 semester hours, eight semester hours of which must be completed in core real estate courses. As a condition for the third annual certification of salesman licensure privileges, the applicant shall furnish the commission satisfactory evidence of having completed a minimum of 16 semester hours, 10 semester hours of which must be completed in core real estate courses. As a condition for the fourth annual certification of salesman licensure privileges, the applicant shall furnish the commission satisfactory evidence of having completed a minimum of 18 semester hours, 12 semester hours of which must be completed in core real estate courses.

Insofar as is necessary for the administration of this Act, the commission is authorized to inspect and accredit educational programs or courses of study in real estate and to establish standards of accreditation for such programs conducted in the State of Texas, other than accredited colleges and universities. Schools, other than accredited colleges and universities, which are authorized to offer real estate educational courses pursuant to provisions of this section shall be required to maintain a corporate surety bond in the sum of $10,000 payable to the commission, for the benefit of a party who may suffer damages resulting from failure of a commission approved school or course to fulfill obligations attendant to the approval.

A person who is licensed as a salesman on the effective date of this Act is not subject to the educational requirements or prerequisites of this Act as a condition for holding salesman licensure privileges. A person who is licensed as a broker on the effective date of this Act is not subject to the educational requirements or prerequisites of this Act as a condition for holding broker licensure privileges.

A person who is licensed as a real estate salesman on the effective date of this Act may submit an application for broker licensure during the 24-month period immediately following such date if he furnishes evidence satisfactory to the commission that he meets the prerequisites for applying for broker licensure in force and effect on the day prior to the effective date of this Act.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, from and after the effective date of this Act each applicant for broker licensure shall furnish the commission with satisfactory evidence:

1. that he has satisfied the requirements of Subsection (c) of this section; or
2. that prior to July 1, 1981, he has applied for broker licensure and has satisfied the requirements for broker licensure effective on or after January 1, 1985, as provided by Subsection (c) of this section; or
3. that he is a licensed real estate broker in another state, that he has had not less than two years' active experience in the other state as a licensed real estate salesman or broker during the...
Art. 6573a  REAL ESTATE DEALERS

36-month period immediately preceding the filing of the application, and that he has satisfied the educational requirements for broker licensure as provided by Subsection (c) of this section; or

(4) that he has, within one year previous to the filing of his application, been licensed in this state as a broker.

(i) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the commission shall waive the requirements of Subsection (d) of Section 7 of this Act for an applicant for salesman licensure who has, within one year previous to the filing of his application, been licensed in this state as a broker or salesman. However, with respect to an applicant for salesman licensure who was licensed as a salesman within one year previous to the filing of the application but whose original licensure privileges were issued under the provisions of this Act for failure to pay this fee.

Part 2. If on December 31 of any year the balance remaining in the real estate recovery fund is less than $500,000, each real estate broker and each real estate salesman, on recertification of his license during the following calendar year, shall pay, in addition to his license recertification fee, a fee of $10, which shall be deposited in the real estate recovery fund. If the commission does not issue the license, this fee shall be returned to the applicant.

Part 3. (a) No action for a judgment which subsequently results in an order for collection from the real estate recovery fund shall be started later than two years from the accrual of the cause of action. When an aggrieved person commences action for a judgment which may result in collection from the real estate recovery fund, the real estate broker or real estate salesman shall notify the commission in writing to this effect at the time of the commencement of the action.

(b) When an aggrieved person recovers a valid judgment in a court of competent jurisdiction against a real estate broker, or real estate salesman, on the grounds described in Part 1(a) of this section that occurred on or after the effective date of this Act, the aggrieved person may, after final judgment has been entered, execution returned nulla bona, and a judgment lien perfected, file a verified claim in the court in which the judgment was entered and, on 20 days' written notice to the commission, may apply to the court for an order directing payment out of the real estate recovery fund of the amount unpaid on the judgment, subject to the limitations stated in Part 8 of this section.

(c) The court shall proceed on the application forthwith. On the hearing on the application, the aggrieved person is required to show that:

(1) the judgment is based on facts allowing recovery under Part 1(a) of this section;

(2) he is not a spouse of the debtor, or the personal representative of the spouse;
(3) he has obtained a judgment as set out in Part 8(b) of this section, stating the amount of the judgment and the amount owing on the judgment at the date of the application;
(4) the judgment debtor lacks sufficient attachable assets to satisfy the judgment; and
(5) the amount that may be realized from the sale of real or personal property or other assets liable to be sold or applied in satisfaction of the judgment and the balance remaining due on the judgment after application of the amount that may be realized.

d) The court shall make an order directed to the commission requiring payment from the real estate recovery fund of whatever sum it finds to be payable on the claim, pursuant to and in accordance with the limitations contained in this section, if the court is satisfied, on the hearing, of the truth of all matters required to be shown by the aggrieved person by Part 3(e) of this section and that the aggrieved person has satisfied all of the requirements of Parts 3(b) and (e) of this section.

(e) If the commission pays from the real estate recovery fund any amount toward satisfaction of a judgment against a licensed real estate broker or real estate salesman, the license of the broker or salesman shall be automatically revoked on the issuance of a court order authorizing payment from the real estate recovery fund. No broker or salesman is eligible to receive a new license until he has repaid in full, plus interest at the current legal rate, the amount paid from the real estate recovery fund on his account. A discharge in bankruptcy shall not relieve a person from the penalties and disabilities provided in this Act.

Part 4. The sums received by the real estate commission for deposit in the real estate recovery fund shall be held by the commission in trust for carrying out the purposes of the real estate recovery fund. These funds may be invested and reinvested in the same manner as funds of the Texas State Employees Retirement System, and the interest from these investments shall be deposited to the credit of the real estate recovery fund, provided, however, that no investments shall be made which will impair the necessary liquidity required to satisfy judgment payments awarded pursuant to this section.

Part 5. When the real estate commission receives notice of entry of a final judgment and a hearing is scheduled under Part 8(d) of this section, the commission may notify the Attorney General of Texas of its desire to enter an appearance, file a response, appear at the court hearing, defend the action, or take whatever other action it deems appropriate on behalf of, and in the name of, the defendant, and take recourse through any appropriate method of review on behalf of, and in the name of, the defendant. In taking such action the real estate commission and attorney general shall act only to protect the fund from spurious or unjust claims.

Part 6. When, on the order of the court, the commission has paid from the real estate recovery fund any sum to the judgment creditor, the commission shall be subrogated to all of the rights of the judgment creditor to the extent of the amount paid. The judgment creditor shall assign all his right, title, and interest in the judgment up to the amount paid by the commission which amount shall have priority for repayment in the event of any subsequent recovery on the judgment. Any amount and interest recovered by the commission on the judgment shall be deposited to the fund.

Part 7. The failure of an aggrieved person to comply with the provisions of this section relating to the real estate recovery fund shall constitute a waiver of any rights under this section.

Part 8. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision, payments from the real estate recovery fund are subject to the conditions and limitations in Subsections (b) through (d) of this part.

(b) Payments may be made only pursuant to an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, as provided in Part 3, and in the manner prescribed by this section.

(c) Payments for claims, including attorneys' fees, interest, and court costs, arising out of the same transaction shall be limited in the aggregate to $20,000 regardless of the number of claimants.

(d) Payments for claims based on judgments against any one licensed real estate broker or salesman may not exceed in the aggregate $50,000, until the fund has been reimbursed by the licensee for all amounts paid.

Part 9. Nothing contained in this section shall limit the authority of the commission to take disciplinary action against a licensee for a violation of this Act or the rules and regulations of the commission; nor shall the repayment in full of all obligations to the real estate recovery fund by a licensee nullify or modify the effect of any other disciplinary proceeding brought pursuant to this Act.

Part 10. Any person receiving payment out of the real estate recovery fund pursuant to Section 8 of this Act shall be entitled to receive reasonable attorney fees as determined by the court, subject to the limitations stated in Part 8 of this section.

Issuance of License; Certification Fees; Expiration Dates

Sec. 9. (a) When an applicant has satisfactorily met all requirements and conditions of this Act, a license shall be issued which may remain in force and effect so long as the holder of the license remains in compliance with the obligations of this Act, which include payment of the annual certification fee as provided in Section 11 of this Act. Annual certification fees shall be paid in September, October, and November of each calendar year. Each salesman license issued shall be delivered or mailed to the broker with whom the salesman is associated and shall be kept under his custody and control.
(b) An applicant is not permitted to engage in the real estate business either as a broker or salesman until a license evidencing his authority to engage in the real estate business has been received.

(c) The commission by rule may adopt a system under which licenses expire on various dates during the year. Dates for payment of the annual certification fee shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the certification date is changed, annual certification fees payable shall be prorated on a monthly basis so each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On certification of the license on the new certification date, the total annual certification fee is payable.

(d) Any other provision of this Act notwithstanding, the commission may issue licenses valid for a period not to exceed 24 months and may charge and collect certification fees for such period; provided, however, that such certification fees shall not, calculated on an annual basis, exceed the amounts established in Section 11 of this Act, and further provided that the educational conditions for annual certification established in Subsection (d) of Section 7 of this Act shall not be waived by the commission.

Refusal to Issue License; Review

Sec. 10. If the commission declines or fails to license an applicant, it shall immediately give written notice of the refusal to the applicant. Before the applicant may appeal to a district court as provided in Section 18 of this Act, he must file within 10 days after the receipt of the notice an appeal from the ruling, requesting a time and place for a hearing before the commission. The commission shall set a time and place for the hearing within 30 days after receipt of the appeal, giving 10 days' notice of the hearing to the applicant. The time of the hearing may be continued from time to time with the consent of the applicant. Following the hearing, the commission shall enter an order which is, in its opinion, appropriate in the matter concerned.

If an applicant fails to request a hearing as provided in this section, the commission's ruling shall become final and not subject to review by the courts.

Fees

Sec. 11. The commission shall charge and collect the following fees:

(1) a fee not to exceed $40 for the filing of an original application for real estate broker licensure;
(2) a fee not to exceed $40 for annual certification of real estate broker licensure status;
(3) a fee not to exceed $20 for the filing of an original application for salesman licensure;
(4) a fee not to exceed $20 for annual certification of real estate salesman licensure status;
(5) a fee not to exceed $10 for taking a license examination;
(6) a fee not to exceed $10 for filing a request for a license for each additional office or place of business;
(7) a fee not to exceed $10 for filing a request for a license for a change of place of business or change of sponsoring broker;
(8) a fee not to exceed $10 for filing a request to replace a license lost or destroyed;
(9) a fee not to exceed $400 for filing an application for approval of a real estate course pursuant to the provisions of Subsection (f) of Section 7 of this Act; and
(10) a fee not to exceed $200 per annum for and in each year of operation of a real estate course, established pursuant to the provisions of Subsection (f) of Section 7 of this Act.

Maintenance and Location of Offices; Display of License

Sec. 12. (a) Each resident broker shall maintain a fixed office within this state. The address of the office shall be designated on the broker's license. Within 10 days after a move from a previously designated address, the broker shall submit applications for new licenses for himself and each salesman associated with him, designating the new location of his office, together with the required fee, or fees, whereupon the commission shall issue a license, or licenses, reflecting the new location, provided the new location complies with the terms of this section.

(b) If a broker maintains more than one place of business within this state, he shall apply for, pay the required fee for, and obtain an additional license to be known as a branch office license for each additional office he maintains.

(c) The license or licenses of the broker shall at all times be prominently displayed in the licensee's place or places of business.

(d) Each broker shall also prominently display in his place or in one of his places of business the license of each real estate salesman associated with him.

Inactive Licenses

Sec. 13. (a) When the association of a salesman with his sponsoring broker is terminated, the broker shall immediately return the salesman license to the commission. The salesman license then becomes inactive.

(b) The salesman license may be activated if, within the calendar year, a request, accompanied by the required fee, is filed with the commission by a licensed broker advising that he assumes sponsorship of the salesman.

Unlawful Employment or Compensation; Nonresident License

Sec. 14. (a) It is unlawful for a licensed broker to employ or compensate directly or indirectly a person for performing an act enumerated in the definition of real estate broker in Section 2 of this Act if the person is not a licensed broker or licensed salesman in this state or an attorney at law licensed in this state or in any other state. However, a licensed broker may pay a commission to a licensed broker of another state if the foreign broker does not conduct in this state any of the negotiations for which the fee, compensation, or commission is paid.

(b) A resident broker of another state who furnishes the evidence required in Subsection (h) of Section 7 of this Act may apply for a license as a broker in this state. A nonresident licensee need not maintain a place of business in this state. The commission may in its discretion refuse to issue a broker license to an applicant who is not a resident of this state for the same reasons that it may refuse to license a resident of this state.

(c) Each nonresident applicant shall file an irrevocable consent that legal actions may be commenced against him in the proper court of any county of this state in which a cause of action may arise, or in which the plaintiff may reside, by service of process or pleading to the defendant. No default in an action may be taken except on certification by the commission that legal actions may be commenced against him in the proper court of any county of this state in which a cause of action may arise, or in which the plaintiff may reside, by service of process or pleading authorized by the laws of this state, or by serving the administrator or assistant administrator of the commission. The consent shall stipulate that the service of process or pleading shall be valid and binding in all courts as if personal service had been made on the nonresident broker in this state. The consent shall be duly acknowledged, and if made by a corporation, shall be authenticated by its seal. A service of process or pleading served on the commission shall be by duplicate copies, one of which shall be filed in the office of the commission and the other forwarded by registered mail to the last known principal address which the commission has for the nonresident broker against whom the process or pleading is directed. No default in an action may be taken except on certification by the commission that a copy of the process or pleading was mailed to the defendant as provided in this section, and no default judgment may be taken in an action or proceeding until 20 days after the day of mailing of the process or pleading to the defendant.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, a nonresident of this state who resides in a city whose boundaries are contiguous at any point to the boundaries of a city of this state, and who has been an actual bona fide resident of that city for at least 60 days immediately preceding the filing of his application, is eligible to be licensed as a real estate broker or salesman under this Act in the same manner as a resident of this state. If he is licensed in this manner, he shall at all times maintain a place of business either in the city in which he resides or in the city in this state which is contiguous to the city in which he resides, and he may not maintain a place of business at another location in this state unless he also complies with the requirements of Section 14(b) of this Act. The place of business must satisfy the requirements of Subsection (a) of Section 12 of this Act, but the place of business shall be deemed a definite place of business in this state within the meaning of Subsection (a) of Section 12.

Investigations; Suspension or Revocation of License; Civil or Criminal Liability

Sec. 15. The commission may, on its own motion, and shall, on the verified complaint in writing of any person, provided the complaint, or the complaint together with evidence, documentary or otherwise, presented in connection with the complaint, provides reasonable cause, investigate the actions and records of a real estate broker or real estate salesman. The commission may suspend or revoke a license issued under the provisions of this Act at any time when it has been determined that:

(1)(A) the licensee has entered a plea of guilty or nolo contendere to, or been found guilty of, or been convicted of, a felony, in which fraud is an essential element, and the time for appeal has elapsed or the judgment or conviction has been affirmed on appeal, irrespective of an order granting probation following such conviction, suspending the imposition of sentence; or

(B) a final money judgment has been rendered against the licensee resulting from contractual obligations of the licensee incurred in the pursuit of his business, and such judgment remains unsatisfied for a period of more than six months after becoming final; or

(2) the licensee has procured, or attempted to procure, a real estate license, for himself or a salesman, by fraud, misrepresentation or deceit, or by making a material misstatement of fact in an application for a real estate license; or

(3) the licensee, when selling, trading, or renting real property in his own name, engaged in misrepresentation or dishonest or fraudulent action; or

(4) the licensee, while performing an act constituting a broker or salesman, as defined by this Act, has been guilty of:

(A) making a material misrepresentation, or failing to disclose to a potential purchaser any latent structural defect or any other defect known to the broker or salesman. Latent structural defects and other defects do not refer to trivial or insignificant defects but refer to those defects that would be a significant factor to a reasonable and prudent purchaser in making a decision to purchase; or

(B) making a false promise of a character likely to influence, persuade, or induce any person to enter into a contract or agreement when the licensee could not or did not intend to keep such promise; or

(C) pursuing a continued and flagrant course of misrepresentation or making of false promises through agents, salesmen, advertising, or otherwise; or
(D) failing to make clear, to all parties to a transaction, which party he is acting for, or receiving compensation from more than one party except with the full knowledge and consent of all parties; or

(E) failing within a reasonable time properly to account for or remit money coming into his possession which belongs to others, or commingling money belonging to others with his own funds; or

(F) paying a commission or fees to or dividing a commission or fees with anyone not licensed as a real estate broker or salesman in this state or in any other state, or not an attorney at law licensed in this state or any other state, for compensation for services as a real estate agent; or

(G) failing to specify in a listing contract a definite termination date which is not subject to prior notice; or

(H) accepting, receiving, or charging an undisclosed commission, rebate, or direct profit on expenditures made for a principal; or

(I) soliciting, selling, or offering for sale real property under a scheme or program that constitutes a lottery or deceptive practice; or

(J) acting in the dual capacity of broker and undisclosed principal in a transaction; or

(K) guaranteeing, authorizing, or permitting a person to guarantee that future profits will result from a resale of real property; or

(L) placing a sign on real property offering it for sale, lease, or rent without the written consent of the owner or his authorized agent; or

(M) inducing or attempting to induce a party to a contract of sale or lease to break the contract for the purpose of substituting in lieu thereof a new contract; or

(N) negotiating or attempting to negotiate the sale, exchange, lease, or rental of real property with an owner or lessor, knowing that the owner or lessor had a written outstanding contract, granting exclusive agency in connection with the property to another real estate broker; or

(O) offering real property for sale or for lease without the knowledge and consent of the owner or his authorized agent, or on terms other than those authorized by the owner or his authorized agent; or

(P) publishing, or causing to be published, an advertisement including, but not limited to, advertising by newspaper, radio, television, or display which is misleading, or which is likely to deceive the public, or which in any manner tends to create a misleading impression, or which fails to identify the person causing the advertisement to be published as a licensed real estate broker or agent; or

(Q) having knowingly withheld from or inserted in a statement of account or invoice, a statement that made it inaccurate in a material particular; or

(R) publishing or circulating an unjustified or unwarranted threat of legal proceedings, or other action; or

(S) establishing an association, by employment or otherwise, with an unlicensed person who is expected or required to act as a real estate licensee, or aiding or abetting or conspiring with a person to circumvent the requirements of this Act; or

(T) failing or refusing on demand to furnish copies of a document pertaining to a transaction dealing with real estate to a person whose signature is affixed to the document; or

(U) failing to advise a purchaser in writing before the closing of a transaction that the purchaser should either have the abstract covering the real estate which is the subject of the contract examined by an attorney of the purchaser's own selection, or be furnished with or obtain a policy of title insurance; or

(V) conduct which constitutes dishonest dealings, bad faith, or untrustworthiness; or

(W) acting negligently or incompetently in performing an act for which a person is required to hold a real estate license; or

(X) disregarding or violating a provision of this Act; or

(Y) failing within a reasonable time to deposit money received as escrow agent in a real estate transaction, either in trust with a title company authorized to do business in this state, or in a custodial, trust, or escrow account maintained for that purpose in a banking institution authorized to do business in this state; or

(Z) disbursing money deposited in a custodial, trust, or escrow account, as provided in Subsection (Y) before the transaction concerned has been consummated or finally otherwise terminated; or

(AA) failing or refusing on demand to produce a document, book, or record in his possession concerning a real estate transaction conducted by him for inspection by the Real Estate Commission or its authorized personnel or representative; or

(BB) failing within a reasonable time to provide information requested by the commission as a result of a formal or informal complaint to the commission which would indicate a violation of this Act; or

(CC) failing without just cause to surrender to the rightful owner, on demand, a document or instrument coming into his possession; or

(DD) discriminating against an owner, potential purchaser, lessor, or potential lessee on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, or ancestry. Prohibited discrimination shall include but not be limited to directing prospective home buyers or lessees interested in equivalent properties to different areas according to the race, color, religion, sex, national origin, or ancestry of the potential owner or lessee.

The provisions of this section do not relieve a person from civil liability or from criminal

Issuance of License After Revocation Prohibited for One Year

Sec. 15A. If the commission revokes a person's license issued under this Act, the commission may not issue another license to the person for one year after the revocation.

Legislative Intent: Investigations; Probation of License

Sec. 15B. It is the intent of the legislature that the commission only is vested with the authority and responsibility for the administration, implementation, and enforcement of this Act. Duties, functions, and responsibilities of the commission’s administrative assistants, agents, investigators, and all other employees shall be those assigned and determined by the commission. Notwithstanding any other provision of the Act, there shall be no undercover or covert investigations conducted by authority of this Act unless expressly authorized by the commission after due consideration of the circumstances and determination by the commission that such measures are necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act. No investigations of licensees or any other actions against licensees shall be initiated on the basis of anonymous complaints whether in writing or otherwise but shall be initiated only upon the commission’s own motion or a verified written complaint. Upon the adoption of such motion by the commission or upon receipt of such complaint, the licensee shall be notified promptly and in writing unless the commission itself, after due consideration, determines otherwise. Provided, however, that the commission shall have the right and may, upon majority vote, rule that an order revoking, cancelling, or suspending a license be probated upon reasonable terms and conditions determined by the commission.

Unauthorized Practice of Law

Sec. 16. A license granted under the provisions of this Act shall be suspended or revoked by the commission on proof that the licensee, not being licensed and authorized to practice law in this state, for a consideration, reward, pecuniary benefit, present or anticipated, direct or indirect, or in connection with or as a part of his employment, agency, or fiduciary relationship as a licensee, drew a deed, note, deed of trust, will, or other written instrument that may transfer or anywise affect the title to or an interest in land, or advised or counseled a person as to the validity or legal sufficiency of an instrument or as to the validity of title to real estate.

Sec. 17. (a) Before a license is suspended or revoked, the licensee is entitled to a public hearing. The commission shall prescribe the time and place of the hearing. However, the hearing shall be held, if the licensee so desires, within the county where the licensee has his principal place of business, or if the licensee is a nonresident, the hearing may be called for and held in any county within this state. The notice calling the hearing shall restate the allegations against the licensee and the notice may be served personally or by mailing it by certified mail to the licensee’s last known business address, as reflected by the commission’s records, at least 10 days prior to the date set for the hearing. In the hearing, all witnesses shall be duly sworn and stenographic notes of the proceedings shall be taken and filed as a part of the records in the case. A party to the proceeding desiring it shall be furnished with a copy of the stenographic notes on the payment to the commission of a fee of $1.50 per page plus applicable sales tax and postage. After a hearing, the commission shall enter an order based on its findings of fact adduced from the evidence presented.

(b) The commission may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of records or documents. The process issued by the commission may extend to all parts of the state, and the process may be served by any person designated by the commission. The person serving the process shall receive compensation to be allowed by the commission, not to exceed the fee prescribed by law for similar services. A witness subpoenaed who appears in a proceeding before the commission shall receive the same fees and mileage allowances as allowed by law, and the fees and allowances shall be taxed as part of the cost of the proceedings.

(c) If, in a proceeding before the commission, a witness fails or refuses to attend on subpoena issued by the commission, or refuses to testify, or refuses to produce a record or document, the production of which is called for by the subpoena, the attendance of the witness and the giving of his testimony and the production of the documents and records shall be enforced by a court of competent jurisdiction of this state in the same manner as the attendance, testimony of witnesses, and production of records are enforced in civil cases in the courts of this state.

(d) If a hearing relating to the denial, suspension, or revocation of a license under this Act is conducted by the administrator or assistant administrator, the applicant for the license or the licensee who is adversely affected by the decision of the administrator or assistant administrator is entitled to request a rehearing by the commission itself on making a timely motion for the rehearing.

Judicial Review

Sec. 18. (a) A person aggrieved by a ruling, order, or decision of the commission has the right to appeal to a district court in the county where the hearing was held within 30 days from the service of notice of the action of the commission.

(b) The appeal having been properly filed, the court may request of the commission, and the commission on receiving the request shall within 30 days prepare and transmit to the court, a certified copy of its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken. The appeal shall be tried in accordance with Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(c) In the event an appeal is taken by a licensee or applicant, the appeal does not act as a supersedeas unless the court so directs, and the court shall dispose of the appeal and enter its decision promptly.

(d) If an aggrieved person fails to perfect an appeal as provided in this section, the commission’s ruling becomes final.

Contents of Listing Contract Forms

Sec. 18A. (a) Any listing contract form adopted by the commission relating to the contractual obligations between a seller of real estate and a real estate broker or salesman acting as an agent for the seller shall include a section that informs the parties to the contract that real estate commissions are negotiable.

(b) When appropriate to the form, it shall include a section explaining the availability of Texas coastal natural hazards information important to coastal residents.

Information Given to Complainants and Subjects of Complaints

Sec. 18B. (a) If a person files a complaint with the commission relating to a real estate broker or salesman, the commission shall furnish to the person an explanation of the remedies that are available to the person under this Act and information about appropriate state or local agencies or officials with which the person may file a complaint. The commission shall furnish the same explanation and information to the person against whom the complaint is filed.

(b) The commission shall keep an information file about each complaint filed with the commission.

(c) If a written complaint is filed with the commission relating to a real estate broker or salesman, the commission, at least as frequently as quarterly and until the complaint is finally resolved, shall inform the complainant and the person against whom the complaint is filed of the status of the complaint.

Registration of Real Estate Inspectors; Civil or Criminal Liability

Sec. 18C. (a) Any person or persons who hold themselves out to the public as being trained and qualified to inspect improvements to real property, including structural items and/or equipment and systems, and who accept employment for the purpose of performing such an inspection for a buyer or seller of real property pursuant to the provisions of any earnest money contract form adopted by the commission shall:

(1) register his or her current name, type of legal entity, mailing address, place of business or businesses, and business telephone number or numbers with the commission;

(2) furnish to the commission a bond executed by said person, as principal, and a surety company authorized to do business in this state, as surety, in the principal sum of $25,000, payable to the commission for the purpose of reimbursing aggrieved persons who suffer monetary damages by reason of conduct by the inspector which constitutes fraud, misrepresentation, deceit, false pretenses, or trickery; and

(3) pay the following fees to the commission:

(i) a fee not to exceed $100 for the filing of an original registration;

(ii) a fee not to exceed $100 for annual certification of registration status; and

(iii) a fee not to exceed $10 for a change of registration information.

(b) The bond required by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (a) hereof shall be open to successive claims up to the amount of face value of the bond, and the surety shall not be liable for successive claims in excess of the bond amount, regardless of the number of years the bond remains in force.

(c) No person required to register pursuant to the provisions of this section shall pay to any person who is acting as the agent, representative, attorney, or employee of the owner or prospective owner of real property any consideration, either directly or indirectly, as an inducement or compensation for the issuance, purchase, or acquisition of the inspection of improvements to real property.

(d) The commission shall assign a registration number to each person registered in accordance with this section, and said registration number shall be published in connection with the business use of such registrant’s name in soliciting or performing inspections of improvements to real property. Only persons registered in accordance with the section shall be entitled to use the designation “Registered Real Estate Inspector.”

(e) It is the intent of the legislature that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any electrician, plumber, carpenter, any person engaging in the business of structural pest control in compliance with the Texas Structural Pest Control Act, as amended (Article 135b–6, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), or any other person who repairs, maintains, or inspects improvements to real property and who does not hold himself or herself out to the public via personal solicitation or public advertising as being in the business of inspecting such improvements pursuant to the provisions of any earnest money contract form adopted by the commission.

(f) The provisions of this section shall not be construed so as to prevent any person from performing any and all acts which said person is authorized to perform pursuant to a license issued by the State of Texas or any governmental subdivision thereof.
(g) Any person or persons who wilfully violate this section is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor.

(h) It shall be a deceptive trade practice actionable under Subchapter E, Chapter 17, Business & Commerce Code, as amended,1 and a violation of this section for any person required to register pursuant to the provisions of this section to perform an inspection pursuant to a written contract which does not contain the following statement in at least 10-point bold type above or adjacent to the signature of the purchaser of the inspection, to wit:

"NOTICE: YOU THE BUYER HAVE OTHER RIGHTS AND REMEDIES UNDER THE TEXAS DECEPTIVE TRADE PRACTICES-CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT WHICH ARE IN ADDITION TO ANY REMEDY WHICH MAY BE AVAILABLE UNDER THIS CONTRACT.

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONCERNING YOUR RIGHTS, CONTACT THE CONSUMER PROTECTION DIVISION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, YOUR LOCAL DISTRICT OR COUNTY ATTORNEY, OR THE ATTORNEY OF YOUR CHOICE."

(i) Any violation of this section is a deceptive trade practice and is actionable by any person for $1,000 as a civil penalty or actual damages sustained, whichever is greater. Any plaintiff who shows a violation of this section shall recover court costs and attorney's fees that are reasonable in relation to the amount of work expended. Such violation is also actionable by any consumer as a deceptive trade practice pursuant to Subchapter E, Chapter 17, Business & Commerce Code, as amended.

Penalties; Injunctions

Sec. 19. (a) A person acting as a real estate broker or real estate salesman without first obtaining a license is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed one year, or both; and if a corporation, shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $2,000. A person, on conviction of a second or subsequent offense, shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000, or by imprisonment for a term not to exceed two years, or both; and if a corporation, shall be punishable by a fine of not less than $2,000 nor more than $5,000.

(b) In case a person received money, or the equivalent thereof, as a fee, commission, compensation, or profit by or in consequence of a violation of Subsection (a) of this section, he shall, in addition, be liable to a penalty of not less than the amount of the sum of money so received and not more than three times the sum so received, as may be determined by the court, which penalty may be recovered in a court of competent jurisdiction by an aggrieved person.

(c) When in the judgment of the commission a person has engaged, or is about to engage, in an act or practice which constitutes or will constitute a violation of a provision of this Act, the county attorney or district attorney in the county in which the violation has occurred or is about to occur, or in the county of the defendant's residence, or the attorney general may maintain an action in the name of the State of Texas in the district court of such county to abate and temporarily and permanently enjoin the acts and practices and to enforce compliance with this Act. The plaintiff in an action under this subsection is not required to give a bond, and court costs may not be adjudged against the plaintiff.

Actions for Compensation or Commission; Abstracts or Title Insurance

Sec. 20. (a) A person may not bring or maintain an action for the collection of compensation for the performance in this state of an act set forth in Section 2 of this Act without alleging and proving that the person performing the brokerage services was duly licensed real estate broker or salesman at the time the alleged services were commenced, or was a duly licensed attorney at law in this state or in any other state.

(b) An action may not be brought in a court in this state for the recovery of a commission for the sale or purchase of real estate unless the promise or agreement on which the action is brought, or some memorandum thereof, is in writing and signed by the party to be charged or signed by a person lawfully authorized by him to sign it.

(c) When an offer to purchase real estate in this state is signed, the real estate broker or salesman shall advise the purchaser or purchasers, in writing, that the purchaser or purchasers should have the abstract covering the real estate which is the subject of the contract examined by an attorney of the purchaser's own selection, or that the purchaser or purchasers should be furnished with or obtain a policy of title insurance. Failure to advise the purchaser as provided in this subsection precludes the payment of or recovery of any commission agreed to be paid on the sale.

Sections 7 and 8 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 161, ch. 71, provide:

"Sec. 7. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act shall be and the same are hereby repealed.

"Sec. 8. If any article, section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Act is for any purpose or reason tend to be unconstitutional, such invalid portion shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the valid portions of the Act irrespective of the fact that any one or more portions thereof be declared unconstitutional."

Sections 2 and 3 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 302, ch. 121, provide:

"Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.

"Sec. 3. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall nevertheless be valid, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision."
Art. 6573a
REAL ESTATE DEALERS 4282

Sections 6 and 7 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 3253, ch. 85b, provide:
“Sec. 6. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.
“Sec. 7. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall nevertheless be valid, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision.”

Art. 6573b. Residential Service Company Act
Text as added by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1812, ch. 739, § 1

Short Title
Sec. 1. This Act constitutes and shall be known as the Residential Service Company Act.

Statutory Construction in Relationship to Other Laws
Sec. 2. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, provisions of the insurance laws of this state shall not be applicable to any service company granted a license under this Act. This provision shall not apply to an insurance company licensed and regulated pursuant to the insurance laws of this state.

(b) Nothing in this Act shall apply to “home warranty insurance” as defined in Section 2, Article 558-A of the Insurance Code.

(c) The provisions of this Act shall not be applicable to any person who sells, offers for sale or issues any service or maintenance contract or agreement which provides for the maintenance, repair, service, replacement, operation, or performance of any product or part thereof manufactured or sold by such seller, offeror, or issuer, and no such person, its employees or agents shall be required to be licensed or regulated under this Act.

(d) Notwithstanding any other exemptions or provisions contained in this Act, this Act may not be construed to exempt any other warranties or service contracts other than residential service contracts defined herein from the provisions of the Insurance Code.

Delegation of Authority
Sec. 3. When in this Act a power, right, or duty is conferred on the Texas Real Estate Commission, the commission may direct such power, right, or duty to be exercised by the administrator or the assistant administrator of the commission.

Definitions
Sec. 4. (a) “Residential service contract” means any contract or agreement whereby, for a fee, a person undertakes, for a specified period of time, to maintain, repair, or replace all or any part of the structural components, the appliances, or the electrical, plumbing, heating, cooling, or air-conditioning systems of residential property; provided, however, the term does not mean nor include any service or maintenance contract or agreement sold, offered for sale, or issued by any manufacturer or merchant in which such contract or agreement the manufacturer or merchant undertakes, for a fee and for a specified period of time, to service, maintain, repair, or replace any product or part thereof, including but not limited to the structural components, the appliances, or the electrical, plumbing, heating, cooling, or air-conditioning systems of residential property, manufactured or sold by such manufacturer or merchant, or installed by such merchant in any building or residence.

(b) “Service company” means any person who issues and performs, or arranges to perform, services pursuant to a residential service contract.

(c) “Licensed service company” means a service company which is licensed by the Texas Real Estate Commission as provided herein.

(d) “Person” means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or other organization.

(e) “Commission” means the Texas Real Estate Commission.

(f) “Holder” or “contract holder” means any person entitled to receive services from a service company pursuant to a residential service contract.

Powers of the Commission
Sec. 5. The commission shall administer this Act and, to that end, may adopt, promulgate, and enforce rules and regulations necessary to effectuate the intent and provisions of this Act.

License Required
Sec. 6. (a) No person shall issue, or undertake or arrange to perform services pursuant to residential service contracts unless such person is a licensed service company or its authorized representative.

(b) No person shall sell, offer to sell, arrange or solicit the sale of, or receive applications for, residential service contracts, unless (a) such person is an employee of a licensed service company or is duly licensed as a real estate salesman, real estate broker, mobile home dealer, or insurance agent in this state, and (b) such residential service contracts are issued by a licensed service company.

(c) Notwithstanding any law of this state to the contrary, any person may apply to the commission for and obtain a license to offer residential service contracts in compliance with this Act. A foreign corporation may qualify under this Act, subject to its registration to do business in this state as a foreign corporation under the Texas Business Corporation Act and compliance with all provisions of this Act and other applicable Texas statutes.

(d) Within 90 days of the effective date of this Act, every service company doing business in this state shall submit an application for a license. The commission shall either approve or deny the application within six months. The applicant may continue to operate until its application is denied. In the event that an application is denied, the applicant shall henceforth be treated as a service company whose license has been revoked.
Application for License

Sec. 7. (a) Each application for a license shall be on a form prescribed by rule of the commission and shall be verified by the applicant, an officer, or other authorized representative of the applicant, and shall set forth or be accompanied by the following:

(1) a copy of the basic organizational document, if any, of the applicant, such as the articles of incorporation, articles of association, partnership agreement, trust agreement, or other applicable documents and all amendments thereto;
(2) a copy of the bylaws, rules, and regulations, or similar document, if any, regulating the conduct of the internal affairs of the applicant;
(3) a list of the names, addresses, and official positions of the persons who are to be responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the applicant, including all members of the board of directors, board of trustees, executive committee, or other governing body or committee, the principal officer in the case of a corporation, and the partners or members in the case of a partnership or association;
(4) a copy of the residential service contract made or to be made between the applicant and any other person;
(5) a statement generally describing the residential service contract, its coverage or plan;
(6) a financial statement prepared by an independent certified public accountant within six months prior to submission of application showing the applicant's assets, liabilities, and sources of financial support. The commission may direct that additional or more recent financial information is required for proper administration of this Act;
(7) a description of the proposed method of marketing the contracts and a statement as to the sources of working capital, as well as any other sources of funding;
(8) a power of attorney duly executed by such applicant, if not domiciled in this state, appointing the administrator of the commission and his successors in office, or a duly authorized deputy, as the true and lawful attorney of such applicant in and for the state upon whom all lawful processes in any legal action or proceedings against the applicant or its agents on a cause of action arising in this state may be served;
(9) a license application fee not to exceed $3,500 as determined by the commission; and
(10) such other information as the commission may require to make the determinations required by this Act.

(b) A service company shall file notice with the commission prior to any modification of the operations or documents described in Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) As soon as reasonably possible after the application has been submitted, the commission shall in writing approve or disapprove same. An application shall be considered approved unless disapproved within 30 days; provided that the commission may by official order postpone the action for such further time, not exceeding 30 days, as may be considered necessary for proper consideration.

Issuance of License

Sec. 8. (a) Upon receipt of an application in approved form as provided in Section 7, the commission shall determine whether the applicant, with respect to the services to be provided, has demonstrated the potential ability to assure that such services will be provided in a timely and responsible manner.

(b) The commission shall, after notice and hearing, issue or deny a license to any person filing an application pursuant to Section 7 of this Act within 75 days of the receipt of same.

(c) Issuance of the license shall be granted if the commission determines:

(1) that the applicant has demonstrated the potential ability to assure that the services will be provided in a timely and responsible manner;
(2) that the person responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the applicant is competent, trustworthy, and possesses a good reputation;
(3) that the applicant may reasonably be expected to meet its obligations pursuant to its residential service contract. In making this determination, the commission shall consider:
   (i) the financial soundness of the applicant;
   (ii) any agreement between applicant and any other party which provides for the provision of the services required in the residential service contract; and
   (iii) any other matters which the commission deems relevant; and
(4) that the applicant has complied with or will comply with each of the provisions of this Act.
(d) If the commission determines that a license shall not be granted, the commission shall notify the applicant that it is deficient, and shall specify in writing in what respects it is deficient.
(e) A license shall continue in force as long as the person to whom it is issued meets the requirements of this Act or until suspended or revoked by the commission or terminated at the request of the licensee.

Protection Against Insolvency

Sec. 9. (a) A residential service company shall maintain a funded reserve for its liability to furnish repairs and replacement services under its issued and outstanding contracts. Such reserve shall be calculated according to sound actuarial principles. Such reserve shall not be required to be greater than 40 percent of annualized contract fees received in this state, less any amounts theretofore paid on account of such liability.

(b) For purposes of this article, such reserve shall not include contract fees on home service contracts to the extent that provision is made for reinsurance in an admitted insurer and/or a surplus line insurer and/or a surplus line bonding company or residential service company of the outstanding risk on such contracts; provided however that the issuer of such reinsurance has submitted to the commission for its approval evidence, by certified audit and other pertinent information it may require, of its ability to cover its contractual obligations.

(c) Each service company shall furnish a surety bond in the amount of $100,000 as a guarantee that the obligation of the service company to the persons contracting for its services shall be performed.

Annual Report

Sec. 10. (a) Each service company shall annually, on or before the 1st day of April, file a report, verified by at least two principal officers, with the commission covering the preceding calendar year.

(b) Such report shall be on forms prescribed by the commission and shall include:

(1) a financial statement of the service company, including its balance sheet and receipts and disbursements for the preceding year, certified by an independent public accountant;

(2) any material changes in the information submitted pursuant to Section 7;

(3) the number of residential service contracts entered into during the year, the number of holders of contracts as of the end of the year, and the number of contracts terminating during the year; and

(4) such other information relating to the performance and solvency of the service company as is necessary to enable the commission to carry out its duties under this Act and such information shall be, to the extent legally permissible, confidential in nature and solely for the use of the commission.

Prohibited Practices

Sec. 11. (a) No service company may cause or permit the use of advertising which is untrue or misleading, solicitation which is untrue or misleading, or any form of evidence of coverage which is deceptive.

(b) No service company, unless licensed as an insurer, may use in its name, contracts, or literature, any of the words "insurance," "casualty," "surety," "mutual," or any other words descriptive of the insurance, casualty, or surety business or deceptively similar to the name or description of any insurance or surety corporation, or any other service company doing business in this state.

(c) Only those persons who comply with the provisions of this Act and are issued a license by the commission as provided herein may use the phrase "residential service company" in the course of operation.

(d) No provisions of this Act shall be construed to exempt a residential service company from liability for the actions of its agents or representatives relevant to the conduct of that company's business as provided by the common law or statutory law of this state.

(e) No seller or his agent shall make purchase of a residential service contract a condition of sale, and seller or his agent shall furnish buyer a statement that shall clearly and conspicuously state that purchase is optional and buyer may purchase similar coverage through other residential service companies or insurance companies authorized to transact business in Texas.

(f) No residential service company or its agent shall without the written consent of the homeowner, lessor, or renter knowingly charge a homeowner, lessor, or renter for duplication of coverage or duties required by state or federal law, including coverage under Section 14 of the Texas Mobile Home Standards Act (Article 5221f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), a warranty expressly issued by a manufacturer or seller of a product, or any implied warranty enforceable against lessor, seller, or manufacturer of a product.

Rebates or Commissions

Sec. 12. No service company shall pay to any person which is acting as the agent, representative, attorney, or employee of the owner or prospective owner of residential property with respect to which a residential service contract is issued or is to be issued, any commission or any other consideration, either directly or indirectly, as an inducement or compensation for the issuance, purchase, or acquisition of a residential service contract, provided, however, that a service company may make reasonable payment for the sale, advertising, inspection, or processing of residential service contracts.

Examinations

Sec. 13. (a) The commission may make an examination of the affairs of any service company as it is deemed necessary.

(b) Every service company shall make its books and records relating to its operation available for such examinations and in every way facilitate the examinations.

(c) For the purpose of examinations, the commission may administer oaths to and examine the officers and agents of the service company.

Hazardous Financial Condition

Sec. 14. (a) Whenever the financial condition of a service company indicates a condition such that the continued operation of the service company might be hazardous to its service contract holders, creditors, or the general public, then the commission may, after notice of hearing, order the service company to take such action as may be reasonably necessary to rectify the existing condition, including but not necessarily limited to one or more of the following steps:

(1) to reduce the total amount of present and potential liability for benefits by reinsurance, and/or by obtaining an appropriate bond from an admitted carrier or a surplus line carrier;
(2) to reduce the volume of new business being accepted;
(3) to reduce expenses by specified methods;
(4) to suspend or limit the writing of new business for a period of time; or
(5) to increase the service company's net worth by contribution.

(b) The commission is authorized, by rules and regulations, to fix uniform standards and criteria for early warning that the continued operation of any service company might be hazardous to its service contract holders, creditors, or the general public, and to fix standards for evaluating the financial condition of any service company which standards shall be consistent with the purposes expressed in Subsection (a) of this section.

Evidence of Coverage and Charges

Sec. 15. (a)(1) Every service contract holder residing in this state is entitled to evidence of coverage under a service contract. The service company shall issue the evidence of coverage.

(2) No evidence of coverage, or amendment thereto, shall be issued or delivered to any person in this state until a copy of the form of evidence of coverage or amendment thereto has been filed with the commission not less than 30 days in advance of its issuance or use.

(3) An evidence of coverage shall contain:
(A) no provisions or statements which are unjust, unfair, inequitable, misleading, deceptive, which encourage misrepresentation, or which are untrue, misleading, or deceptive; and
(B) a clear and complete statement, if a contract, or a reasonably complete facsimile, if a certificate, of:
(i) the services or benefits to which the holder is entitled;
(ii) any limitation on the services, kinds of services, or benefits to be provided, including any deductible or co-payment feature;
(iii) where and in what manner information is available as to how services may be obtained;
(iv) the period during which the coverage will remain in effect;
(v) the service company's agreement that services will be performed upon telephonic request therefor to the service company, without any requirement that claim forms or applications be filed prior to the rendition of service;
(vi) the service company's agreement that the services contracted for will be initiated under normal circumstances by the service company within 48 hours after request is made therefor by the holder of the contract; and
(vii) the service fee, if any, to be charged for a service call.

(b) No schedule of charges for holder coverage for services or amendments thereto may be used in conjunction with any service contract until a copy of such schedule or amendments thereto has been filed with the commission not less than 60 days in advance of its implementation. The commission shall determine that such schedule of charges bears a reasonable relationship to the amount, term, and conditions of the contract within 60 days of filing, and may reject any schedule which does not bear such reasonable relationship.

(c) The commission shall approve any evidence of coverage if the requirements of this section are met. If the commission disapproves such filing, it shall notify the filer. In the notice, the commission shall specify in detail the reason for the disapproval. A hearing shall be granted within 30 days after a request in writing by the person filing. If the commission does not approve any evidence of coverage within 30 days after the filing thereof, it shall be deemed approved.

(d) The commission may require the submission of relevant information it deems necessary in determining whether to approve or disapprove any evidence of coverage.

Nonwaiver of Remedies

Sec. 16. (a) A contract holder does not waive under a residential service contract any remedy that the holder may have under any other law against any other person.

(b) It shall be a deceptive trade practice actionable under Chapter 17, Subchapter E, Business & Commerce Code, as amended, and a violation of this Act for any person to sell, or offer to sell, a residential service contract which does not contain the following statement in at least 10-point bold type above or adjacent to the signature of the purchaser, to wit:

NOTICE: YOU THE BUYER HAVE OTHER RIGHTS AND REMEDIES UNDER THE TEXAS DECEPTIVE TRADE PRACTICES-CONSUMER PROTECTION ACT WHICH ARE IN ADDITION TO ANY REMEDY WHICH MAY BE AVAILABLE UNDER THIS CONTRACT. FOR MORE INFORMATION CONCERNING YOUR RIGHTS, CONTACT THE CONSUMER PROTECTION DIVISION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, YOUR LOCAL DISTRICT OR COUNTY ATTORNEY OR THE ATTORNEY OF YOUR CHOICE.

1 Business and Commerce Code, § 17.41 et seq.
Section 17. Any residential service contract shall be noncancellable by the service company during the initial term for which it was issued, except for:

1. Nonpayment of any service contract fees or charges due from the holder under the terms of the residential service contract;
2. Fraud or misrepresentation by the holder of facts material to the issuance of such contract; or
3. Contracts providing coverage prior to the time that an interest in the residential property to which it attaches is sold, upon the contingency that such sale does not occur.

Suspension or Revocation of License

Section 18. (a) The commission may suspend or revoke any license issued to a service company under this Act if the commission finds any of the following conditions exist:

1. The service company is operating in contravention of its basic organization documents or in a manner which is contrary to that described in and reasonably inferred from any information submitted under Section 7 of this Act, unless amendments to such submissions have been filed with and approved by the commission;
2. The service company issues evidence of coverage or uses a schedule of charges which does not comply with the requirements of Section 15 of this Act;
3. The service company is no longer financially responsible and may be reasonably expected to be unable to meet its obligations to service contract holders;
4. The service company has failed to comply with the provisions of Section 9 of this Act;
5. The service company, or any person on its behalf, has advertised or merchandised its services in an untrue, misrepresentative, misleading, deceptive, or unfair manner;
6. The continued operation of the service company would be hazardous to its contract holders;
7. The service company has otherwise failed to comply substantially with this Act, and any rule or regulation thereunder.

(b) When the license of a service company is revoked, such service company shall proceed, immediately following the effective date of the order of revocation, to wind up its affairs, and shall conduct no further business except as may be essential to the orderly conclusion of the affairs of such organization. It shall engage in no further advertising or solicitation whatsoever. The commission may, by written order, permit such further operation of the service company as it may find to be in the best interests of the service contract holders, to the end that the holders will be afforded the greatest practical opportunity to obtain the services contracted for.

Receivership

Section 19. When, in the opinion of the commission, the continued operation of a service company would be hazardous either to the service contract holders or to the people of the state, the commission may request a district court in Travis County, Texas, to appoint a receiver. Upon order appointing a receiver. Said order must clearly state whether the receiver will have general power to manage and operate the service company's business or have power to manage only the service company's finances.

Appeals

Section 20. Any person adversely affected by any rule, ruling, or decision of the commission may file a petition setting forth the particular objection to such rule, ruling, or decision, or either or all of them, in a district court of Travis County, Texas, and not elsewhere, against the Texas Real Estate Commission as a defendant. Said appeal shall be filed within 20 days after the commission has entered an order. The decision of the commission shall not be enjoined or stayed except on application to such district court after notice to the Texas Real Estate Commission. The proceedings on appeal shall be under the substantial evidence rule. Either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said appeal shall at once be returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending. The commission shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder.

Penalty

Section 21. A person or persons who wilfully violate this Act or the rules promulgated pursuant to this Act or who knowingly makes a false statement with respect to a report or a statement required by this Act is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor. Any service company doing business in violation of this Act shall forfeit $100 for every day it continues to write new business while in violation of this Act.

Injunctions

Section 22. When it appears to the commission that a service company is violating or has violated this Act or any rule or regulation issued pursuant to this Act, the commission may bring suit in a district court of Travis County, Texas, to enjoin the violation and for such other relief as the court may deem appropriate.

Civil Penalty

Section 23. Any violation of this Act is a deceptive trade practice and is actionable by any person for $1,000 as a civil penalty, or actual damages sustained, whichever is greater. Any plaintiff who shows a violation of this Act shall recover court costs and attorney's fees that are reasonable in relation to the amount of work expended. Such violation is also actionable by any consumer as a deceptive trade practice pursuant to Chapter 17, Subchapter E, Business & Commerce Code, as amended.

Fees
Sec. 24. Every person subject to this chapter shall pay the commission the following fees:

(a) for filing a copy of its original application for license or amendment thereto not to exceed $3,500;
(b) for filing each annual report pursuant to Section 10 of this Act, not to exceed $3,500;
(c) the expense of any examinations conducted pursuant to this Act; and
(d) for every other filing required by this Act, not to exceed $500.

Disposition of Funds
Sec. 24A. Funds collected by the commission under this Act shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the residential service company fund. The fund may be used only to administer this Act.

Exemptions
Sec. 25. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any of the following persons and transactions, and each and all of the following persons and transactions are hereby exempted from the provisions of this Act, to wit:

(a) performance guarantees given by either the builder of a home or the manufacturer or seller of an appliance or other system or component;
(b) any residential service contract executed on or before the effective date of this Act;
(c) any service contract, guarantee, or warranty intending to guarantee or warrant the repairs or service of a home appliance, system, or component, provided such service contract, guarantee, or warranty is issued by a person who has sold, serviced, repaired, or provided replacement of such appliance, system, or component at the time of, or prior to the issuance of such contract, guarantee, or warranty; and provided further that the person issuing the service contract, guarantee, or warranty does not engage in the business of a service company;
(d) any person engaging in the business of structural pest control in compliance with the Texas Structural Pest Control Act, as amended (Article 135b–6, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, 1925);
(e) any service or maintenance contract or agreement, or warranty, which provides for, warrants, or guarantees, the maintenance, repair, service, replacement, or operation or performance, of any product or part thereof, including but not limited to a structural component, the appliances, or the electrical, plumbing, heating, cooling or air-conditioning systems in or of a building or residence, provided such service or maintenance contract or agreement, or warranty is sold, offered for sale, or issued by the manufacturer or merchant who manufactured or sold such product or part thereof.

Sections 2 and 3 of the 1979 Act provided:

"Sec. 2. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word in this Act, or application thereof to any person or circumstance for any reason is held invalid, such holdings shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, and the legislature hereby declares it would have passed such remaining portions of this Act despite such invalidity of any part thereof.

"Sec. 3. All laws or parts of laws in conflict or inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict or inconsistency only."
1. RECORDS

Article 6574c. Microfilming and Retention of Public Records by Incorporated Cities.

Sec. 1. Any incorporated city in this state may adopt an ordinance providing for a microphotograph or microfilm process which accurately and permanently copies, reproduces, or originates public records on film, if the ordinance contains:

(a) a provision specifying the types of records for recording on microfilm;
(b) a provision requiring indices to microfilm records;
(c) a provision requiring microfilm to meet requirements of the United States of America Standards Institute for archival quality, density, resolution, and definition, except that microfilm intended only for short-term use, as determined by the governing body;
(d) a provision requiring a person or persons to check and certify that each microfilm record is a true and correct duplication of the original public record; and
(e) a provision which guarantees the public free access to information in microphotographs or microfilms to which they are entitled under law.

Microfilm Records as Original Record; Certified Copy

Sec. 2. A microfilm record of an incorporated city is an original record and will be accepted by any court or administrative agency of this state, if the microfilm record is made in compliance with an ordinance authorized by this Act. When issued and certified by a record keeper of an incorporated city, a copy on paper or film of the microfilm record will be accepted as a certified copy of an original record by any court or administrative agency of this state.

Destruction of Original Records; Notice; Transfer to State Library

Sec. 3. Original public records which are microfilmed in compliance with an ordinance authorized by this Act may be destroyed as directed by the governing body with the advice and consent of the city attorney or attorney officially performing the duties of city attorney, unless otherwise required by federal law or state law other than this article. Any original public record, the subject matter of which is in litigation, may not be destroyed until such litigation is final. Original public records which are not microfilmed in compliance with an ordinance authorized by this Act or are determined worthless by the governing body of an incorporated city may be destroyed as directed by the governing body. Notice of proposed destruction or disposition of original public records shall first be given to the State Librarian or State Archivist, and if such records are, in his opinion, needed for the State Library, the records shall be transferred thereto.

Repealer

Sec. 4. Chapter 58, Acts of the 50th Legislature, Regular Session, 1947, as amended (Article 6574b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is repealed, to the extent of any conflict, including but not limited to this Act.

Severability

Sec. 5. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared severable.

TITLE 115
REGISTRATION

CHAPTER TWO. ACKNOWLEDGMENTS AND PROOF FOR RECORD

Article 6607a. Short Forms for Acknowledgment.

Art. 6607a. Short Forms for Acknowledgment

Sec. 1. The forms of acknowledgment set forth in Section 3 of this article may be used as alternatives to other authorized forms. They shall be known as and may be referred to as "statutory forms of acknowledgment." They may be altered as circumstances require, and the authorization of these forms does not prevent the use of other forms. A person's marital status or other status may be shown after the person's name.

Sec. 2. In the forms of acknowledgment provided by this article, the words "was acknowledged" mean:

(1) in the case of the acknowledgment of a natural person, that the person personally appeared before the officer taking the acknowledgment and acknowledged executing the acknowledged instrument for the purposes and consideration expressed in the instrument;

(2) in the case of the acknowledgment of a person as principal by an attorney-in-fact for the principal, that the attorney-in-fact personally appeared before the officer taking the acknowledgment and that the attorney-in-fact acknowledged executing the acknowledged instrument as the act of the principal for the purposes and consideration expressed in the instrument;

(3) in the case of the acknowledgment of a partnership by a partner or partners acting for the partnership, that the partner or partners personally appeared before the officer taking the acknowledgment and acknowledged executing the acknowledged instrument as the act of the partnership for the purposes and consideration expressed in the instrument;

(4) in the case of the acknowledgment of a corporation by an officer or agent acting for the corporation, that the acknowledging officer or agent personally appeared before the officer taking the acknowledgment and that the officer or agent acknowledged executing the acknowledged instrument in the capacity stated as the act of the corporation for the purposes and consideration expressed in the instrument; and

(5) in the case of a person acknowledging as a public officer, trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, or other representative, that the public officer, trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, or other representative personally appeared before the officer taking the acknowledgment and acknowledged executing the acknowledged instrument by proper authority and in the capacity stated and for the purposes and consideration expressed in the instrument.

Sec. 3. Short forms of acknowledgment include:

(1) For a natural person acting in his or her own right:
State of Texas
County of

This instrument was acknowledged before me on (date) by (name or names of person or persons acknowledging).

(Signature of officer)
(Title of officer)
My commission expires:

(2) For a natural person as principal acting by attorney-in-fact:
State of Texas
County of

This instrument was acknowledged before me on (date) by (name of attorney-in-fact) as attorney-in-fact on behalf of (name of principal).

(Signature of officer)
(Title of officer)
My commission expires:

(3) For a partnership acting by one or more partners:
State of Texas
County of

This instrument was acknowledged before me on (date) by (name of acknowledging partner or partners), partner(s) on behalf of (name of partnership), a partnership.

(Signature of officer)
(Title of officer)
My commission expires:
Art. 6626a

(4) For a corporation:
State of Texas
County of ________________

This instrument was acknowledged before me on (date) by (name of officer), (title of officer) of (name of corporation acknowledging) a (state of incorporation) corporation, on behalf of said corporation.

(Signature of officer)
(Title of officer)
My commission expires: ________________

(5) For a public officer, trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, or other representative:
State of Texas
County of ________________

This instrument was acknowledged before me on (date) by (name of representative) as (title of representative) of (name of entity or person represented).

(Signature of officer)
(Title of officer)
My commission expires: ________________

Sec. 4. To avoid the unnecessary use of words in acknowledgments whether the statutory form or another form is used, the rules and definitions in this article shall apply to all instruments executed or delivered on or after the effective date of this article.

CHAPTER THREE. EFFECT OF RECORDING

Art. 6626. What May Be Recorded

(a) The following instruments of writing which shall have been acknowledged or proved according to law, are authorized to be recorded, viz.: all deeds, mortgages, conveyances, deeds of trust, bonds for title, covenants, defeasances or other instruments of writing concerning any lands or tenements, or goods and chattels, or moveable property of any description; provided, however, that in cases of subdivision or re-subdivision of real property no map or plat of any such subdivision or re-subdivision shall be filed or recorded unless and until the same has been authorized by the Commissioners Court of the county in which the real estate is situated by order duly entered in the minutes of said Court, except in cases of the partition or other subdivision through a court of record; provided that where the real estate is situated within the corporate limits or within five miles of the corporate limits of any incorporated city or town, the governing body thereof or the city planning commission, as the case may be, as provided in Article 974a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, shall perform the duties hereinabove imposed upon the Commissioners Court. Nothing in this Article shall require the acknowledgement of the party or parties to, nor prohibit the recording of, financing statements or security agreements filed as financing statements or continuation statements filed for record pursuant to the Business & Commerce Code.

(b) A deed or other conveyance conveying an interest in real property, if executed after December 31, 1981, shall contain a mailing address of each grantee appearing on the document or in a separate instrument signed by a grantor or grantee and attached to the document. Failure to include an address of each grantee in the document or attached instrument does not affect the validity of the conveyance between the parties to the document. Any such deed or other conveyance which fails to include a mailing address of each grantee appearing in the document or attached instrument may only be filed for record with the county clerk of the county in which the real property is situated after payment of a penalty filing fee equal to the greater of (1) twice the statutory filing fee for the filing of such documents with the county clerk, or (2) the sum of $25. Upon acceptance by the county clerk of a deed or other conveyance for recordation and the payment of the filing fee as determined by the county clerk, it shall be conclusively presumed that such deed or other conveyance meets all filing fee requirements of this Subsection (b) of this Article 6626, prerequisite to the lawful filing of a deed or other conveyance.

Art. 6626a. Subdivision Plats; Recording; Counties of Less Than 190,000 Population; Powers of Commissioners Court

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 2]

Sec. 3. The Commissioners Courts of any such counties may, by an order duly adopted and entered upon the minutes of the Court, after a notice published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, be specifically authorized to make the following requirements:

(a) To provide for right of way on main artery streets or roads within such subdivision of a width of not less than fifty (50) feet nor more than one hundred (100) feet.

(b) To provide for right of way on all other streets or roads in such subdivision of not less than forty (40) feet nor more than fifty (50) feet.

(c) To provide that the street cut on main arteries within the right of way be not less than thirty (30) feet nor more than forty-five (45) feet.
(d) To provide for the street cut on all other streets or roads within such subdivision within the right of way to be not less than twenty-five (25) feet nor more than thirty-five (35) feet.

(e) To promulgate reasonable specifications to be followed in the construction of any such roads or streets within such subdivision, considering the amount and kind of travel over said streets.

(f) To promulgate reasonable specifications to provide adequate drainage in accordance with standard engineering practices for all roads or streets in said subdivision or addition.

(g) To require the owner or owners of any such tract of land, which may be so subdivided, to give a good and sufficient bond for the proper construction of such roads or streets affected, with such sureties as may be approved by the Court; and in the event a surety bond by a corporate surety is required, such bond shall be executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of Texas. Such bond shall be made payable to the County Judge or his successors in office, of the county wherein such subdivision lies, and conditioned that the owner or owners of any such tract of land to be subdivided will construct any roads or streets within such subdivision in accordance with the specifications promulgated by the Commissioners Court of such county. The bond shall be in such an amount as may be determined by the Commissioners Court not to exceed the estimated cost of constructing such roads or streets.

Art. 6626d. Canceling Subdivisions

Any person, firm, association or corporation owning lands in this State, which lands have been subdivided into lots and blocks or small subdivisions, may make application to the commissioners court of the county wherein any such lands are located for permission to cancel all or any portion of such subdivision or subdivisions, so as to throw the said lands back into acreage tracts as it existed before such subdivisions were made. When such application is made by the owner or owners of such land, and it is shown that a cancellation of such subdivisions, or portion thereof, will not interfere with the established rights of any purchaser owning any portion of such subdivisions, or if it be shown that said person or persons agreed to such cancellation, said commissioners court shall enter an order, which order canceling said subdivision shall be spread upon the minutes of such court, authorizing such owner or owners of such lands to cancel the same by written instrument describing such subdivisions, or portions thereof, so cancelled as designated by said court. When such cancellation is filed and recorded in the deed records of such county, the tax assessor of such county shall assess such property as though it had never been subdivided. When such application is so filed, said court shall cause notice to be given of such application by publishing such application in some newspaper, published in the English language, in such county for at least three weeks prior to action thereon by said court, and action shall be taken on such petition or petitions at a regular term of said court. Such notice, in addition to said publication, shall command any person interested in such lands to appear at the time specified in such notice to protest if desired against such action. If such lands are delinquent for taxes for any preceding year, or years, and such application is granted as hereinbefore provided, the owner or owners of said land shall be permitted to pay such delinquent taxes upon an acreage basis, the same as if said lands had not been subdivided, and for the purpose of assessing lands for such preceding years the county assessor of taxes shall back assess such lands upon an acreage basis. This law shall not apply to any lands or lots included in an an incorporated city or town.

Art. 6627. When Sales, etc., to be Void Unless Registered

All bargains, sales and other conveyances whatever, of any land, tenements and hereditaments, whether they may be made for passing any estate of freehold of inheritance or for a term of years; and deeds of settlement upon marriage, whether land, money or other personal thing; and all deeds of trust and mortgages shall be void as to all creditors and subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration without notice, unless they shall be acknowledged or proved and filed with the clerk, to be recorded as required by law; but the same as between the parties and their heirs, and as to all subsequent purchasers, with notice thereof or without valuable consideration, shall be valid and binding; provided, however, that the rights, duties, obligations, and priorities of creditors, secured parties and their heirs, successors, and assigns, and the rights and priorities of creditors and subsequent purchasers with respect to the goods or other collateral described in the financing statements or security agreements filed as financing statements or continuation statements filed for record pursuant to the Business & Commerce Code, shall be governed by that code.

Art. 6630. Deeds, etc., Recorded

All deeds, conveyances, mortgages, deeds of trust, bonds for title, financing statements, security agreements filed as financing statements, continuation statements, covenants, defeasances, or other instruments of writing relating to real estate, which are authorized to be recorded, shall be recorded in the county where such real estate, or a part thereof, is situated; provided, that where such instruments grant security interests by a utility, as such term is defined in Section 35.01 of the Business & Commerce Code, they shall be filed in the place and manner described in Section 35.02 of the Business & Commerce Code.

All such instruments, when relating to real estate situated in an unorganized county, shall be recorded in the county to which such unorganized county is attached for judicial purposes, in a well bound book, or books, to be kept for that purpose, separately from the records of the county to which it is attached and from other unorganized counties; and the clerk or other officer having the custody of such books, when such unorganized county shall be organized, or has been detached therefrom and attached to another county for judicial purposes, shall deliver such book or books, without charge, to the proper officer of such newly organized county, or of the county to which it is attached for judicial purposes when demanded by him; and, where such records have been heretofore kept in separate books, they shall also be delivered in like manner as above, and in each case the same shall become archives of the county to which it is so delivered. When such records have not heretofore been kept separately, upon the organization or attachment of such unorganized county to another organized county, a certified transcript from the records of such instruments so recorded shall be obtained by such new clerk or officer; and when so made the same shall in like manner become archives of such newly organized county, or county to which such unorganized county may be attached, as the case may be.

Change of Names

The names of the State Highway Department and the Highway Commission were changed to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission, respectively, by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2063, ch. 678, § 3, amending art. 6663.

Art. 6663a. Photographic or Microphotographic Records; Authority of Highway Department and Public Safety Department to Make; Destruction of Original Records

Sec. 1. The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation is hereby authorized to photograph, microphotograph, or film all records of any kind or character pertaining to departmental operations; and the Texas Department of Public Safety is hereby authorized to photograph, microphotograph, or film all records in connection with the issuance of operators' licenses, chauffeurs' licenses, and commercial operators' licenses and all records of the various divisions of the Texas Department of Public Safety, with the exception that no original fingerprint card or any evidence submitted in connection with a criminal case or any confession or statement made by the defendant in a criminal case shall be photographed or filmed for the purpose of disposing of the original records, and that whenever the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or the Texas Department of Public Safety shall have photographed, microphotographed or filmed such records and whenever such photographs or microphotographs or films shall be placed in conveniently accessible files and provisions made for preserving, examining and using the same, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or the Texas Department of Public Safety may cause the original records from which the photographs, micro-photographs or films have been made to be disposed of or destroyed; provided, however, that all deeds conveying land or interests in land to the State of Texas for highway purposes shall be retained and deposited in the offices of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation at Austin, Texas. This authorization includes the creation of original records in micrographic form on media such as computer output microfilm.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2]

Sec. 2a. The State Engineer-Director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, and the Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, or their duly authorized representatives are hereby authorized to certify to the authenticity of any photograph or microphotograph herein authorized and shall make such charges therefore as may be authorized by law. Such certified records shall be furnished to any person who is entitled to receive the same under the law.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3]

"All laws and parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict only."

Art. 6663b. Mass Transportation

Sec. 1. (a) The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation:

(1) may purchase, construct, lease, and contract for public transportation systems in the state;
(2) shall encourage, foster, and assist in the development of public and mass transportation, both intracity and intercity, in this state;
(3) shall encourage the establishment of rapid transit and other transportation media;
(4) shall develop and maintain a comprehensive master plan for public and mass transportation development in this state;
(5) shall assist any political subdivision of the state in procuring aid offered by the federal government for the purpose of establishing or maintaining public and mass transportation systems;
(6) shall conduct hearings and make investigations it considers necessary to determine the location, type of construction, and cost to the state or its political subdivisions of public mass transportation systems owned, operated, or directly financed in whole or in part by the state;
(7) may enter into any contracts necessary to exercise any functions under this Act;
(8) may apply for and receive gifts and grants from governmental and private sources to be used in carrying out its function under this Act;
(9) may represent the state in public and mass transportation matters before federal and state agencies;
(10) may recommend necessary legislation to advance the interests of the state in public and mass transportation;
(11) may not issue certification of convenience and necessity;
(12) may utilize the expertise of recognized authorities and consultants in the private sector, both for the planning and design of public and mass transportation systems.

(b) In the exercise of the power of eminent domain under the provisions of this Act which relate to public and mass transportation, the department shall be prohibited from any action which would unduly interfere with interstate commerce or which would establish any right to operate any vehicle on railroad tracks used to transport freight or other property.

Sec. 2. On the effective date of this Act, all programs, contracts, assets, and personnel of the Texas Mass Transportation Commission are transferred to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The comptroller of public accounts and the State Board of Control shall assist in the orderly implementation of this transfer.

Sections 3 and 4 of the 1975 Act amended arts. 6663 and 6663; § 5 thereof repealed art. 4413(34) creating the Mass Transportation Commission.

Art. 6663c. Administration and Funding of Mass Transportation

Findings and Purpose

Sec. 1. (a) The legislature finds that:

(1) transportation is the lifeblood of an urbanized society, and the health and welfare of that society depend on the provision of efficient, economical, and convenient transportation within and between urban areas;
(2) public transportation is an essential component of the state’s transportation system;
(3) energy consumption and economic growth are vitally influenced by the availability of public transportation;
(4) providing public transportation has become so financially burdensome that private industry can no longer provide service in many areas in the state and that the continuation of this essential service on a private or proprietary basis is threatened; and
(5) providing public transportation is a public, governmental responsibility and a matter of direct concern to state government and to all the citizens of the state.

(b) The purposes of this Act are to provide:

(1) improved public transportation for the state through local governments acting as agents and instrumentalities of the state;
(2) state assistance to local governments and their instrumentalities in financing public transportation systems to be operated by local governments as determined by local needs; and

(3) coordinated direction by a single state agency of both highway development and public transportation improvement.

Definitions
Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) “Capital improvement” means the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, or improvement of facilities, equipment, or land for use by operation, lease, or otherwise in public transportation service in urbanized areas, and all expenses incidental to the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, or improvement including designing, engineering, supervising, inspecting, surveying, mapping, relocation assistance, acquisition of rights-of-way, and replacement of housing sites.

(2) “Commission” means the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission.

(3) “Department” means the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

(4) “Federally funded project” means a public transportation project proposed for funding under this Act which is being funded in part under the provisions of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended,1 the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1973, as amended,2 or other federal program for funding public transportation.

(5) “Local share requirement” means the amount of funds which are required and are eligible to match federally funded projects for the improvement of public transportation in this state.

(6) “Public transportation” means transportation by bus, rail, watercraft, or other means which provides general or specialized service to the public on a regular or continuing basis.

(7) “Urbanized area” means an area so designated by the United States Bureau of the Census or by general state law.

(8) “Ridesharing activities” means transportation provided by rubber-tired vehicles that carry no fewer than 10 nor more than 15 passengers and that are operated on a nonprofit basis.

Formula Program
Sec. 3. (a) The commission shall administer the formula program and allocate 60 percent of the funds in the public transportation fund to that program.

(b) Only an urbanized area with a population in excess of 200,000 according to the last preceding federal census is eligible for participation in the formula program. A municipality, regional authority, or other local governmental entity designated as a recipient of federal funds by the governor with the concurrence of the Secretary of the United States Department of Transportation is a designated recipient of funds under the formula program.

(c) The funds allocated to the formula program shall be apportioned annually on the basis of a formula under which the designated recipients of an eligible urbanized area are entitled to receive an amount equal to the sum of:

(1) one-half of the total amount apportioned to the formula program for the year multiplied by the ratio by which the population of the eligible urbanized area bears to the total population of all eligible urbanized areas that are eligible for the formula program; and

(2) one-half of the total amount apportioned to the formula program for the year multiplied by the ratio by which the number of inhabitants per square mile of the eligible urbanized area bears to the combined number of inhabitants per square mile of all eligible urbanized areas.

(d) Designated recipients may only use formula program funds to provide 65 percent of the local share requirement of federally funded projects for capital improvements.

(e) Within 30 days after an application for funds under the formula program is received, if there are unallocated formula funds for the applicant, the commission shall certify to the federal government that the state share of the local share requirement is available. The application must contain a certification by the designated recipient that:

(1) funds are available to provide 35 percent of the local share requirement of federally assisted programs; and

(2) the proposed public transportation project is consistent with ongoing, continuing, cooperative, and comprehensive regional transportation planning being carried out in accordance with the provisions of the Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964, as amended, and the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1973, as amended.

(f) If the commission has previously certified that the state share is available for a project, the commission shall direct that payment of the state share be made to the designated recipient within 30 days after federal approval of a proposed transportation project proposal.

(g) Funds allocated by the department for use in the formula program which are unencumbered and unexpended one year after the close of the fiscal year for which the funds were originally allocated shall be transferred at that time by the commission for use in the discretionary program.

Discretionary Program
Sec. 4. (a) The commission shall allocate 40 percent of the funds annually credited to the public transportation fund to the discretionary program, which shall be administered by the commission.

(b) Except as provided in Subsections (e) and (f) of this section, only rural and urban areas of the state other than urbanized areas eligible for participation in the formula program are eligible for participation in the discretionary program. Any local government having the power to operate or maintain a public transportation system may be a designated recipient of funds from the discretionary program.

(c) Designated recipients under the discretionary program may use discretionary program funds only to provide 65 percent of the local share requirement of federally funded projects for capital improvements, except that if a designated recipient certifies that federal funds are unavailable for a proposed project and the commission finds that the project is vitally important to the development of public transportation in this state, the commission may supply that federal funds are unavailable for a proposed project and the commission finds that the project is vitally important to the development of public transportation in this state, the commission may supply

(d) In considering any project under this section, the commission shall take into consideration the need for fast, safe, efficient, and economical public transportation.

(e) Designated recipients in urbanized areas eligible for participation in the formula program and any local government having the power to operate or maintain a public transportation system within an urbanized area are also eligible to apply for and receive funds allocated by the commission for use in the discretionary program which are unexpended and unencumbered 180 days after the close of the fiscal year for which the funds were originally allocated and all unexpended and unencumbered funds transferred from the formula program to the discretionary program. The commission shall make grants out of the discretionary fund to designated recipients under the provisions of this section.

(f) Designated recipients in urbanized areas eligible for participation in the formula program and any local government having the power to operate or maintain a public transportation system within an urbanized area may apply for and receive funds from the discretionary program for capital expenditures to carry out ridesharing activities. If the commission approves an application to fund ridesharing activities, the commission shall provide 80 percent of the cost of the capital expenditures. An applicant for funding for ridesharing activities must certify that:

(1) funds are available to provide the remaining 20 percent of the cost of the expenditures;
(2) equipment furnished by the applicant in connection with ridesharing activities will be used primarily for commuting purposes; and
(3) ridesharing activities will be operated on a nonprofit basis and without publicly funded operating subsidies.

Public Transportation Fund

Sect. 5. The Public Transportation Fund is established as a special fund in the State Treasury. The Public Transportation Fund may only be used by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation in carrying out the responsibilities and duties of the commission and the department for public transportation purposes as established under this state law. Grants of money to the state from public and private sources for public transportation shall be deposited in the Public Transportation Fund. On the effective date of this Act, the comptroller of public accounts shall transfer the sum of $1,000,000 from the General Revenue Fund to the Public Transportation Fund. There is hereby appropriated from the Public Transportation Fund the sum of $1,000,000 for use by the department for the period from the effective date of this Act through August 31, 1975, and thereafter. On September 1, 1975, and on September 1, 1976, the comptroller of public accounts shall transfer the sum of $15,000,000 each year from the General Revenue Fund to the Public Transportation Fund. There is hereby appropriated from the Public Transportation Fund the sum of $15,000,000 for each year of the biennium beginning September 1, 1975, for use by the department for public transportation in the state.

Art. 6669. Engineer-Director

The Commission shall elect a State Engineer-Director for Highways and Public Transportation who shall be a Registered Professional Engineer in the State of Texas experienced and skilled in highway construction and maintenance and in public and mass transportation planning or development. He shall hold his position until removed by the Commission. He shall first execute a bond payable to the Commission. He shall first execute a bond payable to the

Art. 6673-1. Farm-to-Market Roads

(a) The farm-to-market road fund is established for financing the construction of farm-to-market roads by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.
(b) The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall use the money transferred to the farm-to-market road fund under Article 4364a, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, and other funds made available to the department for such purposes so that not less than $23 million each year is used for the construction of additional miles of newly designed farm-to-market roads, meaning roads in rural areas, including feeder roads, secondary roads, school bus routes, rural mail routes, milk routes, and others, which roads and routes are not a part of the designated state highway system or the designated primary federal aid highway system.

c) The farm-to-market road fund shall be used for a system of roads selected by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation after consultation with the commissioners courts of the counties of the state relative to the most needed unimproved rural roads in the counties. The selections shall be made in a manner to insure equitable and judicious distribution of funds and work among the several counties of the state.

(d) The general characteristics of the roads to be selected are as follows:

1. The roads shall not be potential additions to the federal aid primary highway system;
2. The roads shall serve rural areas primarily and shall connect farms, ranches, rural homes, and sources of natural resources such as oil, mines, timber, etc., and water loading points, schools, churches, and points of public congregation, including community developments and villages;
3. The roads shall be capable of assisting in the creation of economic values in the areas served;
4. The roads shall preferably serve as public school bus routes, or rural free delivery postal routes, or both; and
5. The roads shall be capable of early integration with the previously improved Texas road system, and at least one end should connect with a road already or soon to be improved on the state system of roads.

Art. 6673a. Sale or Exchange and Conveyance of Abandoned Routes; Correction Deeds; Tax Exemption

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Disposition of Proceeds: Land Never Used for Purpose for Which Acquired

Sec. 1A. If any real property owned by the state and sold under Section 1 of this article was acquired by a city or county with a part of the cost reimbursed to the city or county by the state, and it is determined by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission that the real property was never used for the purpose for which it was acquired, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation may pay to the city or county a percentage of the proceeds received from the sale, such percentage being equal to the percentage of the value or cost not reimbursed to the city or county at the time of the initial acquisition.

Art. 6673a-1. Lease of Right-of-Way for Development of Oil and Gas

The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission may not lease:
1. Land owned by the state that was acquired to construct or maintain a highway, road, street, or alley; or
2. Land owned by the state under the jurisdiction or control of the commission.

Section 3 of the 1981 Act provides:
"This Act does not affect leases in existence on the effective date of this Act."

Art. 6673a-2. Lease of Right-of-Way for Development of Minerals Other Than Oil and Gas

Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter, the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission may lease for development of minerals other than oil and gas:
1. Land owned by the state that was acquired to construct or maintain a highway, road, street, or alley; or
2. Land owned by the state under the jurisdiction or control of the commission.

Section 3 of the 1981 Act provides:
"This Act does not affect leases in existence on the effective date of this Act."

Art. 6673e-1. Acquisition of Rights of Way in Cooperation with Local Officials; Payments to Counties and Cities

In the acquisition of all rights of way authorized and requested by the Texas Highway Department, in cooperation with local officials, for all highways designated by the State Highway Commission as United States or State Highways, the Texas Highway Department is authorized and directed to pay to the counties and cities not less than ninety percent (90%) of the value as determined by the Texas Highway Department of such requested right of way or the net cost thereof, whichever is the lesser amount; provided, that if condemnation is necessary, the participation by the Texas Highway Department shall be based on the final judgment, conditioned that such Department has been notified in writing prior to the filing of such suit and prompt notice is also given as to all action taken therein. Such Department shall have the right to become a party at any time for all purposes, including the right of appeal at any stage of the proceedings.

The various counties and cities are hereby authorized and directed to acquire such right of way for such highways as are requested and authorized by the Texas Highway Department, as provided by existing laws, and in the event condemnation is necessary, the procedure shall be the same as that set out in Title 52, Articles 3264 to 3271, inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, and amendments thereto.

Upon delivery to the Texas Highway Department of acceptable instruments conveying to the State the requested right of way, the Texas Highway Department shall prepare and transmit to the Comptroller of Public Accounts vouchers covering the reimbursement to such county or city for the Department's share of the cost of providing such right of way, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts is hereby authorized and directed to issue warrants on the appropriate account covering the State's obligations as evidenced by such vouchers.

The Texas Highway Department is authorized and directed to acquire by purchase, gift or condemnation all right of way necessary for the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways.

Sec. 2. If a person requesting permission to mow, bale, shred, or hoe a highway right-of-way is not an owner of land adjacent to the right-of-way that is the subject of the request, the district engineer, before granting permission, must provide a person owning land adjacent to the right-of-way the option of mowing, baling, shredding, or hoeing the right-of-way. A district engineer may deny any request authorized by this Act.

Sec. 3. A person granted permission to mow, bale, shred, or hoe a highway right-of-way under this Act may not receive compensation for the mowing, baling, shredding, or hoeing but is entitled to use or dispose of the hay or other materials produced by the mowing, baling, shredding, or hoeing.

Sec. 4. The state, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, and the district engineer are not liable for any personal injuries, property damage, or death resulting from the performance of services or agreements as provided in this Act.

1A. CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE

Art. 6674c. Inmate Labor for Highway System Improvement Projects

The commission may contract with the Texas Board of Corrections for the provision of inmate labor for a state highway system improvement project. Contracts made pursuant to this article must be made in conformity with The Interagency Cooperation Act, as amended (Article 4413(32), Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes.)

Art. 6674e. Appropriations from Highway Fund

All moneys now or hereafter deposited in the State Treasury to credit of the "State Highway Fund", including all Federal aid moneys deposited to the credit of said fund under the terms of the Federal Highway Act 1 and all county aid moneys deposited to the credit of said fund under the terms of this Act shall be subject to appropriation for the specific purpose of the improvement of said system of State Highways by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. However, direct appropriations in an amount not to exceed $30 million each fiscal year shall be made from the State Highway Fund to the Department of Public Safety for policing the State Highway System and for the administration of laws prescribed by the Legislature pertaining to the supervision of traffic and safety on public roads. There shall be subtracted from the $30 million maximum which may be appropriated to the Department of Public Safety the amount of appropriations for each fiscal year from the State Highway Fund to the State Employee's Retirement System to provide for the state's share of retirement contributions, social security taxes, and state paid health insurance for employees and officers of the Department of Public Safety.

1 See 23 U.S.C.A. § 101 et seq.

Art. 6674f. Highway Cost Index Committee; Transfers to State Highway Fund

(a) The Highway Cost Index Committee consists of the governor or, in the governor's absence, the secretary of state; the lieutenant governor; and the comptroller of public accounts.

(b) On or before November 1 of each even-numbered year, the Highway Cost Index Committee shall certify to the comptroller the estimated amount of transfers to the state highway fund that are required by this article and Article 4364a, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, for the following fiscal biennium.

(c) On or before August 1 of each year, the Highway Cost Index Committee shall certify to the comptroller the estimated amount of transfers to the state highway fund that are required by this article and Article 4364a, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, for the following fiscal year.

(d) On or before November 1 of each year, the Highway Cost Index Committee shall determine and certify to the comptroller:

1. the amount of dedicated revenue earned for the state highway fund for the preceding fiscal year;
2. the highway cost index for the preceding fiscal year;
3. the difference, if any, between the amounts transferred under this article and Article 4364a, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, during the preceding fiscal year (exclusive of any adjustments made under this subsection during the preceding fiscal year) and the amounts that would have been transferred during the preceding fiscal year if the actual amount of dedicated revenue and the actual highway cost index for that year had been used to determine the amounts transferred; and
4. the amount by which the transfers for the current fiscal year are to be adjusted to compensate for the amount of the difference determined under Subdivision (3) of this subsection.

(e) The amounts transferred to the state highway fund under this article and Article 4364a shall be estimated and determined under the following formula:

\[ \text{Amount} = (\text{cost index} \times \text{$750 million}) - \text{dedicated revenue}. \]

(f) In the formula:

1. "Amount" means the total yearly amount to be transferred from the general revenue fund to the state highway fund.
2. "Cost index" means the factor determined under Subdivision (g) of this section.
3. "Dedicated revenue" means the revenue credited to the state highway fund under the following:

   (A) Chapters 9 and 20, Title 122A, Taxation—General, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended;
   (B) Article 6686, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended;
   (C) Sections 1 through 16, Chapter 88, General Laws Acts of the 41st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 6675a–1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
   (D) Chapter 18, General Laws, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 5th Called Session, 1930, as amended (Article 6675a–6c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
   (E) Section 2, Chapter 178, General Laws, Acts of the 43rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1938, as amended (Article 6675a–13½, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
   (F) Chapter 298, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959 (Article 6675a–5b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
   (G) Chapter 456, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959, as amended (Article 6675a–6b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
   (H) Chapter 517, Acts of the 58th Legislature, 1963, as amended (Article 6675a–6c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
   (I) Chapter 707, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965, as amended (Article 6675a–6d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and

(g) The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall compute the highway cost index for each fiscal year according to procedures approved by the Highway Cost Index Committee. The index for a fiscal year is determined upon the weighted combined costs of highway operations, maintenance, and construction for the fiscal year compared to those costs for the base fiscal year beginning on September 1, 1978. The highway cost index for the base fiscal year is 1.00.

(h) This article does not authorize the transfer of funds from the state highway fund to the general revenue fund or any other fund.

1 Repealed; see, now, Tax Code, §§ 153.001 et seq. and 153.001 et seq.

Art. 6674h. Competitive Bids

All contracts proposed to be made by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for the improvement of any highway constituting a part of the State Highway System or for materials to be used in the construction or maintenance thereof shall be submitted to competitive bids. Notice of the time when and place where such contracts will be let and bids opened shall be published in some newspaper published in the county where the improvement is to be done once a week for at least two weeks prior to the time set for the letting said contract and in two other newspapers that the department may designate. Provided, however, that on contracts involving less than One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00) Dollars such advertising may be limited to two successive issues of any newspaper published in the county in which the work is to be done, and if there is no newspaper in the county in which the work is to be done then said advertising shall be for publication in some newspaper in some county nearest the county seat of the county in which the work is to be done. Provided further, that any person, firm or corporation may make application to have the name of said applicant placed upon a mailing list to receive notices of lettings of any contracts provided for herein; and notices of said lettings shall be mailed by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission to all persons, firms or corporations on said mailing list. The Commission shall have the right to require all applicants to deposit with the commission a sum of not exceeding Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars per year to cover costs of mailing notices. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 608, ch. 285, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 6674i. Opening and Rejecting Bids

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall have the right to reject any and all such bids. All such bids shall be sealed, and filed with the State Engineer-Director for Highways and Public Transportation at Austin, Texas, and shall be opened at a public hearing of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. All bidders may attend and all bids shall be opened in their presence. Copies of all such bids shall be filed with the county in which the work is to be performed. Provided however, on contracts involving less than One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars bids may in the discretion of the Commission be received at a public hearing by the District Engineer at the District Headquarters. All bids so received by the District Engineer shall be tabulated and forwarded to the Commission, and the Commission shall have the right to accept or reject same, and if accepted, award the contract to the lowest bidder. It shall be the duty of the Commission to prescribe rules and regulations on all bidders on bids received by District Engineers, but the rules and regulations required by the Commission for bids received at Austin by said Commission shall not apply to bidders submitting bids to District Engineers. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 608, ch. 285, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

Art. 6674m. Partial Payments

Said contracts may provide for partial payments to an amount not exceeding ninety-five per cent (95%) of the value of the work done. Five per cent (5%) of the contract price shall be retained until the entire work has been completed and accepted. Provided, that at the request of the contractor and with the approval of the State Highway Department and the State Treasurer the five per cent (5%) retained amount may be deposited under the terms of a trust agreement with a state or national bank domiciled in Texas as selected by the contractor. Said bank, acting as escrow agent and by instructions from the contractor, may reinvest the retained amount in certificates of deposit issued by state or national banks domiciled in Texas, bank time deposits, or other similar investments prescribed by the trust agreement. Interest earned on said funds shall be paid to the contractor unless otherwise specified under the terms of said trust agreement. The escrow agent shall be responsible for all investments and funds as a result of the deposit of the retained amounts until released from such responsibility as instructed by the provisions of said trust agreement. The State Highway Department shall provide a trust agreement that will protect the interests of the State of Texas. All expenses incident to the deposit and all charges made by the escrow agent for custody of the securities and forwarding of interest thereon shall be paid solely by the contractor. No such expense or charge shall apply to either the contract or the State of Texas. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 404, ch. 189, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Section 2 of the 1975 amendatory act provided:

"If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any body or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Art. 6674q-7b. Distribution and Use of County and Road District Highway Fund

Distribution of Funds

Sec. 1. The State Treasurer shall distribute to the counties on or before October 15 of each year the money appropriated from the county and road district highway fund for that fiscal year.

Formula

Sec. 2. The allocation of the money among the counties is determined as follows:

(1) one-fifth of the money appropriated is allocated on the basis of area, determined by the ratio of the area of the county to the area of the state;

(2) two-fifths of the money appropriated is allocated on the basis of rural population according to the most recent federal census, determined by the ratio of the rural population of the county to the rural population of the state; and
(3) two-fifths of the money appropriated is allocated on the basis of lateral road mileage, determined by the ratio of the mileage of lateral roads in the county to the mileage of lateral roads in the state as of January 1 of the year of the allocation as shown by the records of the State-Federal Highway Planning Survey and the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Survey of Lateral Road Mileage

Sec. 3. On its own motion or at the request of a county, the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission may have a survey made of the county's lateral road mileage. If a survey is made its results shall be substituted for the corresponding government figures. The governmental entity requesting the study shall pay for it.

Use of Funds

Sec. 4. A county may use the money it receives from the county and road district highway fund only for the following purposes:

(1) purchasing right-of-way for lateral roads, farm-to-market roads, or state highways;
(2) constructing and maintaining lateral roads, including the hiring of labor and purchasing of materials, supplies, and equipment; and
(3) paying the principal, interest, and sinking fund requirements maturing during the fiscal year on bonds, warrants, or other legal obligations incurred to finance the activities described in subdivisions (1) and (2) of this section.

Annual Report by County Judge

Sec. 5. On or before October 1 of each year the county judge of each county shall file with the State Treasurer a sworn report including:

(1) an account of how the money allocated to the county under this Act during the preceding year was spent;
(2) a description, including the location, of any new roads constructed in whole or in part with these funds; and
(3) other information pertinent to the administration of this Act that the State Treasurer requests.

Other Information

Sec. 6. A county officer or employee shall provide to the State Treasurer on request any information necessary to determine the legality of the use of funds allocated under this Act.

Bids for Construction

Sec. 7. A county may require that bids for construction funded in whole or in part by money received under this Act be submitted to the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission in the manner provided for bids for construction of state highways.

Sec. 8. On request by a county the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission shall provide technical and engineering assistance in making surveys, preparing plans and specifications, preparing project proposals, and supervising construction. The cost of this assistance shall be paid by the county.

Adoption of General Workers' Compensation Laws

Sec. 7. (a) The following laws as amended or as they may hereafter be amended are adopted except to the extent that they are inconsistent with this Act:

(1) Article 8306, except Sections 5 and 28, and Articles 8307, 8307b, 8309, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended;
(2) Chapter 248, General Laws, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931, as amended (Article 8306a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes);
(3) Chapter 77, Acts of the 65th Legislature, Regular Session, 1977 (Article 8306b, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes);
(4) Chapter 208, General Laws, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931, as amended (Article 8307a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes);
(5) Chapter 115, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 8307c, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes);
(6) Chapter 358, Acts of the 64th Legislature, 1975 (Article 8307d, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); and

(b) Provided that wherever in the above adopted laws the words “association,” “subscriber,” or “employer” or their equivalents appear, they shall be construed to and shall mean “the department.”

Art. 6674v. Turnpike Projects

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 2]

Texas Turnpike Authority

Sec. 3. There is hereby created an authority to be known as the "Texas Turnpike Authority," hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "Authority."
By and in its name the Authority may sue and be sued, and plead and be impleaded. The Authority is hereby constituted an agency of the State of Texas, and the exercise by the Authority of the powers conferred by this Act in the construction, operation, and maintenance of turnpike projects shall be deemed and held to be an essential governmental function of the State.

The Board of Directors of the Authority (hereinafter in this Act sometimes called the “Board”) shall be composed of directors, who shall occupy, respectively, places on the Board to be designated as Places 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12. The Directors who will occupy Places 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Appointed Directors shall serve staggered terms of six (6) years with the terms of one-third of the members expiring on February 15 of each odd-numbered year. Each Director appointed to fill Places 2, 3, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 shall have been a resident of the State and of the County from which he shall have been appointed for a period of at least one (1) year prior to his appointment.

Appointments to the Authority shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees.

The members of the Texas State Highway Commission at the time this Act becomes effective are hereby made Directors of said Authority. The Highway Commissioners and their successors in office shall respectively and successively occupy Places 1, 4, and 7 on such Board. Each member of the Texas State Highway Commission shall serve ex officio as a member of the Board of Directors of such Authority. The Directors and successors in office shall be eligible for reappointment. All directors shall have equal status and all Directors shall have a vote. Each member of the Board before entering upon his duties shall take an oath as provided by Section 1 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

The Board shall elect one of the Directors as chairman and another as vice chairman, and shall elect a secretary and treasurer who need not be a member of the Board. Seven members of the Board shall constitute a quorum and the vote of a majority shall be necessary for any action taken by the Board. No vacancy in the membership of the Board shall impair the right of a quorum to exercise all the rights and perform all the duties of the Board.

Before the issuance of any turnpike revenue bonds under the provisions of this Act, each Director shall execute a surety bond in the penal sum of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) and the secretary and treasurer shall execute a surety bond in the penal sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000), each surety bond to be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of his office, to be executed by a surety company authorized to transact business in the State of Texas as surety and to be approved by the Governor and filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The expense of such bonds shall be paid by the Authority.

Each appointed Director may be removed by the Governor for misfeasance, malfeasance or willful neglect of duty, but only after reasonable notice and public hearing unless the notice and public hearing are in writing expressly waived. Failure of an appointed member to attend at least one-half of the regularly scheduled meetings held each year automatically removes such member and creates a vacancy on the Board.

The members of the Authority shall not be entitled to any additional compensation for their services, but each member shall be reimbursed for his actual expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this Act shall be payable solely from funds provided under the authority of this Act and no liability or obligation shall be incurred by the Authority hereunder beyond the extent to which moneys shall have been provided under the authority of this Act.

The Legislature imposes on any Director, who may be a member of the State Highway Commission the extra duties required hereunder.

Name changed to State Highway and Public Transportation Commission; see art. 6663.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 3a. The Texas Turnpike Authority is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the authority is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

Texas Turnpike Authority Feasibility Study Fund

Sec. 12b. Any funds of the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike remaining on December 31, 1977, or on such earlier date as the tolls may be lifted in the authority's discretion, after provision for transition expenses, debts, and obligations pursuant to Section 17a of this Act shall be deposited by the authority in a fund which shall be entitled “Texas Turnpike Authority Feasibility Study Fund.” No more than One Million Dollars shall be so deposited on such date. The amount deposited shall be reduced by the cost of feasibility studies, if any, requested by the authority and approved by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission between April 4, 1977, and the date of such deposit. Such fund shall be a revolving fund held in trust by a banking institution chosen by the authority separate and apart from the funds of any project. No funds from any other existing, presently constructed project shall be added to this fund. Such fund shall be used for the purpose of paying the expenses of studying the cost and feasibility and any other expenses relating to the preparation and issuance of turnpike revenue bonds for the construction of any turnpike project; the study of which thereafter shall be authorized by the Texas Turnpike Authority, subject to the prior approval of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission. The funds expended from this fund on behalf of any such new project shall be regarded as a part of the cost of such new project, and said fund shall be reimbursed out of the proceeds of turnpike revenue bonds issued for the construction of any such additional project. After this Act is signed by the governor, all money reimbursable from the sale of bonds of projects whose studies and other expenses have been advanced from funds of the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike shall be reimbursed to this fund for use as a part hereof. For the same purposes the authority may borrow money and issue promissory notes or other interest-bearing evidences of indebtedness payable out of any sums therein or to be placed therein.

In addition to the above, any municipality or group of municipalities, any county or group of counties, or any combination of municipalities and counties, or any private group or combination of individuals within the state may pay all or part of the expenses of studying the cost and feasibility and any other expenses relating to the preparation and issuance of turnpike revenue bonds for the construction of a turnpike project. The funds expended on behalf of any new project shall be regarded as part of the cost of such new project and, with the consent of the Texas Turnpike Authority, shall be reimbursable to the party paying the expenses out of the proceeds of turnpike revenue bonds issued for the construction of such new project.

Toll Free Status of Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike; Transition Plan

Sec. 17a. This section shall apply only to the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike, constructed pursuant to this Act and presently existing in Dallas and Tarrant Counties, and to no other project now or hereafter existing and shall supersede any provisions of this Act in conflict herewith. The Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike shall become toll free, at 12:00 p.m. on December 31, 1977, or on such earlier date as the tolls may be lifted in the authority's discretion. The authority shall, with the approval of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission, effectuate a plan for an orderly transition of the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation on the date when tolls are lifted. In no event shall the transition plan operate to extend the cutoff time for the collection of tolls set out above. The transition plan shall provide a reasonable time within which said plan shall be consummated and shall include retention by the authority of toll collection and accounting equipment, toll booths and other equipment, furnishings, and supplies usable by the authority in the operation of other projects, the provision of funds for unemployment compensation and other payments required by state law in the termination of employment of state employees, the payment of debts and other contractual obligations of the authority payable from funds of the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike, including but not limited to the payment to the City of Fort Worth and Tarrant County of their proportionate interests in the balance remaining in the Special Trust Fund created to hold money paid by said city and county for free use of the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike from Oakland Boulevard to the Fort Worth terminus and such other requisites to the transition as may be appropriate. Money for the payment of such transition expenses, debts, and obligations shall be set aside and retained by the authority for such purposes in a trust fund with a banking institution chosen by the authority to be used for such purposes and the payment of expenses appurtenant thereto.

Public Hearings

Sec. 16a. (a) Before the authority finally approves an engineering design for a project, the authority or a designated representative of the authority shall hold at least one public hearing in the general locality in which the project is to be located. Persons interested in the project shall be given an opportunity at the public hearing to testify about the project and to inspect the plans and designs prepared for the project.

(b) Not less than 15 days nor more than 21 days before the public hearing, the authority shall furnish a written notice of the public hearing to the governing body of each county, city, or town in which any part of the project is to be located and shall publish the notice in the general locality in which the project is to be located in a manner likely to inform the general public of the public hearing.

(c) At least seven days before the public hearing, the authority shall file with the governing bodies the plans and designs prepared for the project.

Public Hearings

Sec. 21. Each Turnpike Project when constructed and opened to traffic shall be maintained and kept in good condition and repair by the Authority.
Each such project shall also be policed and operated by such force of police, toll-takers and other operating employees as the Authority may in its discretion employ. Within its discretion the Authority may make arrangements with the Department of Public Safety for the services of police officers of that Agency.

All private property damaged or destroyed in carrying out the powers granted by this Act shall be restored or repaired and placed in its original condition as nearly as practicable or adequate compensation made therefor out of funds provided under the authority of this Act.

All counties, cities, villages and other political subdivisions and all public agencies and commissions of the State of Texas, notwithstanding any contrary provision of law, are hereby authorized and empowered to lease, lend, grant or convey to the Authority of the State of Texas, notwithstanding any contrary provision made therefor out of funds provided under the authority of this Act.

Each such project shall also be policed and operated by such force of police, toll-takers and other operating employees as the Authority may in its discretion employ. Within its discretion the Authority may make arrangements with the Department of Public Safety for the services of police officers of that Agency.

An action by the Authority may be evidenced in any legal manner, including a resolution adopted by its Board of Directors.

If the Authority employs a general counsel, the counsel shall be prohibited from lobbying for the Authority, and no member of the Authority shall engage in activities requiring registration as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Any member, agent or employee of the Authority who contracts with the Authority or is interested, either directly or indirectly, in any contract with the Authority or in the sale of any property, either real or personal, to the Authority, shall be punished by a fine of not more than One Thousand Dollars ($1,000).

Any person who uses any turnpike project and fails or refuses to pay the toll provided therefor, shall be punished by a fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100) and in addition thereto the Authority shall have a lien upon the vehicle driven by such person for the amount of such toll and may take and retain possession thereof, until the amount of such toll and all charges in connection therewith shall have been paid.

The Authority shall cause an audit of its books and accounts to be made at least once in each year by certified public accountants and the cost thereof may be treated as a part of the cost of construction or of operation of the Turnpike Project.

Travel Expenses

Sec. 21a. (a) Employees of the authority are entitled to a per diem and transportation allowance for travel on official business. The rates of reimbursement are as provided in the travel provisions of the General Appropriations Act.

(b) The secretary, treasurer, the project manager of a project, and the executive head of the authority are entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred for travel on official business, except that reimbursement for transportation expenses is at the rates provided in the travel provisions of the General Appropriations Act.

Reports

Sec. 21b. (a) The authority shall file with the governor, the Legislative Reference Library, and the Legislative Budget Board certified copies of the minutes of the authority's meetings. The authority similarly shall file copies of any corrections or changes of the minutes. The authority shall file the copies as soon as possible after the minutes, changes, or corrections are approved by the authority.

(b) On or before March 1 of each year, the authority shall file with the governor's budget and planning office, or its successor, and the Legislative Budget Board an itemized budget covering the current calendar year.

(c) On or before March 31 of each year, the authority shall file with the governor, the legislature, and the Legislative Budget Board a report about the authority's activities during the preceding calendar year. The report shall include information about each project, including a complete operating and financial statement covering each project, and shall include an itemized statement about the professional or consulting fees paid by the authority, including the name of each individual or business entity who received the fees and a description of the purposes for which the fees were paid.

Consultants

Sec. 21c. The authority is subject to Chapter 454, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1977 (Article 6252-11c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), relating to the use of consultants.

Project Pooling Within the Same County

Sec. 27. Notwithstanding any conflicting provisions in this Act and superseding the same where in conflict with this section, the authority is hereby authorized and empowered, but only as to projects located wholly within the same county and subject to all the provisions of this section:
(a) To determine after a public hearing, subject to prior approval by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission and a resolution approving the same duly passed by the county commissioners court of the county where the projects are located, that any two or more projects now or hereafter constructed or determined to be constructed by the authority in the same county shall be pooled and designated as a “pooled project.” Any existing project or projects may be pooled in whole or in part with any new project or projects or parts thereof. Upon designation such “pooled project” shall become a “project” or “turnpike project” as defined in Section 4(c) of this Act and as used in other sections of this Act. No project may be pooled more than once. Consistent with the trust indenture regarding securing bonds of that project, the resolution of the county commissioners court shall set a date certain when each of the projects being authorized to be pooled shall become toll free.

(b) Subject to the terms of this Act and subject to the terms of any trust agreement securing the payment of any turnpike revenue bonds, the authority is authorized to provide by resolution from time to time for the issuance of turnpike revenue bonds of the authority for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of any pooled project or the cost of any part of such pooled project and to pledge revenues of such pooled project or any part thereof.

(c) Subject to the terms of any trust agreement securing the payment of any turnpike revenue bonds, the authority is authorized to issue by resolution turnpike revenue refunding bonds of the authority for the purpose of refunding any bonds then outstanding, issued on account of any new project or projects or any part of such pooled project to the payment thereof. Any existing project or projects may be pooled in whole or in part with any new project or projects or parts thereof.

(2) MODERNIZATION OF HIGHWAY FACILITIES; CONTROLLED ACCESS HIGHWAYS

Art. 6674w–3. Acquisition of Property

In addition to other powers conferred by law, the following are added, to wit:

1. Powers of Purchase and Condemnation for Highway Purposes. (a) Any land in fee simple or any lesser estate or interest therein; any property rights of any kind or character including, but not limited to, rights of ingress and egress and reservation rights in land which restrict or prohibit the adding of new, or addition to or modification of existing improvements on such land, or subdividing the same; and any timber, earth, stone, gravel, or other material which the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission may in its judgment determine to be necessary or convenient to any State Highway to be constructed, reconstructed, maintained, widened, straightened or lengthened including, but not limited to, any land, property rights or materials deemed by the Commission necessary or convenient for the purpose of protecting any State Highway; draining any State Highway; diverting streams or rivers or any other watercourse from the right of way of any State Highway; storing materials and equipment used in the construction and maintenance of State Highways; constructing and operating warehouses and other buildings and facilities used in con-connection with the construction, maintenance, and operation of State Highways; laying out, construction, and maintenance of roadside parks; laying out, construction, and maintenance of vehicular parking lots that will contribute to maximum utilization of State Highways with the least possible congestion; and any other purpose related to the laying out, construction, improvement, maintenance, beautification, preservation and operation of State Highways, may be purchased by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission in the name of the State of Texas, on such terms and conditions and in such manner as the Commission may deem proper.

(b) Any land or any estate or interest therein; any property rights of any kind or character including, but not limited to, rights of ingress and egress, and reservation rights in land which restrict or prohibit for any period of time not to exceed seven (7) years the adding of new, or addition to or modification of existing improvements on such land, or subdividing or resubdividing same; and any timber, earth, stone, gravel, or other material which the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission may in its judgment determine to be necessary or convenient to any State Highway to be constructed, reconstructed, maintained, widened, straightened or lengthened including, but not limited to, any land, property rights or materials deemed by the Commission necessary or convenient for the purpose of protecting any State Highway; draining any State Highway; diverting streams or rivers or any other watercourse from the right of way of any State Highway; laying out, construction, and maintenance of roadside parks; laying out, construction, and maintenance of vehicular parking lots that will contribute to maximum utilization of State Highways with the least possible congestion; and any other purpose related to the laying out, construction, improvement, maintenance, and operation of State Highways, may be acquired by the exercise of the power of Eminent Domain by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation in the name of the State of Texas in the manner hereinafter provided.

The purchase or power of Eminent Domain being hereby authorized is granted regardless of the location of any such land, property rights, or materials to be acquired, whether within or without the confines of any incorporated city, town or village, whether same are incorporated under general or special laws, including Home Rule Cities.

In the prosecution of any condemnation suit brought by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission in the name of the State of Texas for the acquisition of property pursuant to the powers granted in this Act, the Attorney General, at the request of the Commission, or, at the Attorney General’s direction, the applicable County or District Attorney or Criminal District Attorney, shall bring and prosecute the suit in the name of the State of Texas and the venue of any such suit shall be in the county in which the property or a part thereof is situated.

In the exercise of the powers of Eminent Domain herein conferred, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall be subject to the laws and procedures prescribed by Title 52, Articles 3264 to 3271, inclusive, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as said Articles or said Title have been or may be from time to time amended, and shall be entitled to condemn the fee or such lesser estate or interest as it may specify in any statement or petition in any condemnation proceeding filed by it pursuant to such powers; provided however, that any statement or petition in condemnation proceeding brought by the Department pursuant hereto shall exclude from the estate sought to be condemned all the oil, gas and sulphur which can be removed from beneath the land condemned without any right whatever remaining to the owners of such oil, gas and sulphur of ingress or egress to or from the surface of the land condemned for the purpose of exploring, developing, drilling or mining of the same; and further provided, that none of the powers granted herein shall be a grant to the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission for the purpose of condemning property which is used and dedicated for cemetery purposes pursuant to Articles 912a–10 et seq., Vernon’s Revised Civil Statutes of Texas.

2. State and Other Public Lands. The governing body of every county, city, town, village, political subdivision or public agency is hereby authorized without any form of advertisement to make conveyance of title or rights and easements, owned by any such body, to any property needed by the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission to effect its purposes in connection with the construction or operation of the State Highway System.

Whether purchased or condemned by the Commission, the lands, property rights and materials which are purchased or condemned may also include those belonging to the public, whether under the jurisdiction of the State or any department or agency thereof, county, city, town, village, including Home Rule Cities, or other entity or subdivision thereof.

The State of Texas hereby consents to the use of all lands owned by it, including lands lying underwater, which are deemed by the Commission to be necessary for the construction or operation of any State Highway; provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed as depriving the School Land Board of authority to execute leases in the manner authorized by law for the development of oil, gas and other minerals on State-owned lands adjoining any such State Highway, or in tidewater limits, and to this end such leases may provide for directional drilling from such adjoining land and tidewater area. The Commission shall advise, and make arrangements with, the State Department or agency having jurisdiction over such lands to accomplish such necessary purposes. Any such State Department or agency is hereby directed to cooperate with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation in this connection, and as to any such department or agency not expressly authorized to act through some designated representatives, express authority is hereby granted to such department or agency to do whatever acts are necessary hereunder by and through the Chairman of its Board, Department Head, or Executive Director, whether appointed or elected, whichever may be appropriate.

If the land, property rights, or material to be acquired by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation are of such a nature that its acquisition under the provisions of this Act will deprive any such department or agency of the State of a thing of value to such department or agency in the exercise of its lawful functions, then adequate compensation therefor shall be made, based upon vouchers drawn for this purpose payable to the furnishing department or agency. Payments received by the furnishing department or agency shall be credited to that department's or agency's current appropriation items or accounts from which the expenditures of that character were originally made, or if no such items or accounts from which the expenditures of that character were originally made, or if no such item or account exists, then to an account of such department or agency determined to be appropriate thereto by the Comptroller of Public Accounts.

In the event, but only in the event, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and such other department or agency are unable to agree upon adequate compensation, then the State Board of Control shall determine the fair, equitable and realistic compensation to be paid.

Art. 6675a–3. Application for Registration

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of (a) and (b)]

(c) Owners of motor vehicles, trailers and semitrailers which are the property of and used exclusively in the service of the United States Government, the State of Texas, or any county, city or school district thereof, shall apply annually to the Department as provided in Section 3–aa of this Act to register all such vehicles, but shall not be required to pay the registration fees herein prescribed, provided that affidavit is made at the time of registration by a person who has the proper authority that such vehicles are the property of and used exclusively in the service of the United States Government, the State of Texas, or a county, city or school district thereof, as the case may be. Owners of vehicles designed and used exclusively for fire fighting shall apply to the Department as provided in Section 3–aa of this Act to register all such vehicles, but shall not be required to pay the registration fees herein prescribed, provided that affidavit is made at the time of registration by a person who has the proper authority that such vehicles are used exclusively for fire fighting; and provided further, that such person shall supply the Department with a reasonable description of the vehicle and the fire fighting equipment mounted thereon. A vehicle owned by a volunteer fire department and used exclusively in the conduct of business of the department shall be registered without the payment of an annual registration fee, if the application for registration is accompanied by an affidavit, stating that the vehicle is owned by, and used exclusively in the conduct of business of, the department and signed by a person with authority to act for the department, and if the application is approved as provided in Section 3-aa of this Act. An owner of a land vehicle used exclusively in county marine law enforcement activities, which may include rescue operations, shall apply to the Department as provided in Section 3-aa of this Act to register the vehicle but is exempt from paying a registration fee. The owner shall include with the application for registration an affidavit that is signed by a person with authority to act for a county sheriff’s department and that states that the vehicle is used exclusively in marine law enforcement activities under the direction of the department. An exempted vehicle may be privately owned and operated by a volunteer if it is used only for marine law enforcement activities.

Art. 6675a–3e. Operation of Motor Vehicles without License Number Plates

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 to 4]

Violation a Misdemeanor; Dealers; Purchase of Plates in February and March or Month Preceding Expiration Date

Sec. 5. Any person who operates a passenger car or a commercial motor vehicle upon the public highways of this State at any time without having displayed thereon, and attached thereto, two (2) license number plates, one (1) plate at the front and one (1) at the rear, which have been duly and lawfully assigned for said vehicle for the current registration period or have been validated by the attachment of a symbol, tab, or other device for the current registration period, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; this shall not apply to dealers operating vehicles under present provisions of the law, and provided, however, license number plates may be purchased during the months of February and March and beginning February first, or if this date falls on Sunday they may be purchased February second, for registration and when purchased may be used from and after date of purchase preceding and during the registration period for which they are issued. Beginning April 1, 1978, license plates may be purchased during the month preceding the date on which the registration expires.

Road-tractors, Motorcycles, Trailers, etc.

Sec. 6. Any person who operates a road-tractor, motorcycle, trailer or semi-trailer upon the public highways of this State at any time without having attached thereto and displayed on the rear thereof, a license number plate duly and lawfully assigned therefor for the current period or validated by the attachment of a symbol, tab, or other device showing that the vehicle is currently registered, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed as changing or repealing any law with reference to any requirement to pay or not to pay a license or registration fee or the amount thereof not expressly enumerated in Sections 1, 2 and 3 hereof.1

1 Articles 6675a–3, 6675a–4, 6675a–36.

Operation with Old License Plates

Sec. 7. Any person operating any motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer upon the highways of this State with a license plate or plates for any preceding period which have not been validated by the attachment of a symbol, tab, or other device for the current registration period, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Art. 6675a–4. Registration Dates

(a) By January 1, 1978, the Department shall establish a year-round system for registering vehicles. The system shall be designed so as to distribute the work load as uniformly as practicable within the various offices of the county tax assessor-collectors, as well as the Department, on a year-round basis. In implementing a year-round registration system, the Department may establish separate and distinct registration years for any vehicles or classifications of vehicles. Each registration year so designated shall begin on the first day of a calendar month and expire on the last day of the last calendar month in a registration period. Registration periods may be designated to include less than twelve (12) consecutive calendar months and registration fees shall be computed at a rate of one-twelfth of the appropriate annual registration fee per month in each registration period. The Department shall not establish a registration year of more than twelve (12) months except that registration fees for designated periods of more than twelve (12) months may be paid at the option of the owner. Each application for registration filed more than one month subsequent to the expiration date of the previous year’s registration shall be accompanied by an affidavit that the vehicle has not been operated upon the streets or highways of this state at any time subsequent to the expira-
Art. 6675a-5. Fees: Motorcycles, Passenger Cars, Buses

Text of article effective July 1, 1982

(a) The annual license fee for registration of a motorcycle is Five Dollars.

(b) The annual license fee for registration of a passenger car and a street or suburban bus shall be based upon the weight of a vehicle as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Weight in Pounds</th>
<th>Fee</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1–3,500</td>
<td>$15.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3,501–4,500</td>
<td>25.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4,501–6,000</td>
<td>33.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6,001 and over</td>
<td>60¢ cwt.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The weight of any passenger car or of any street or suburban bus, for purpose of registration, shall be the weight generally accepted as its correct shipping weight plus on hundred (100) pounds.

[Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 474, ch. 203, § 2, eff. July 1, 1982]

Art. 6675a-5e. Disabled Veterans and Their Transporters; Special License Plates; Fee Exemptions; Regulations

(a) A veteran of the armed forces of the United States who, as a result of military service, has suffered at least a 60% service-connected disability or has a 40% service-connected disability due to the amputation of a lower extremity, and who receives compensation from the federal government because of such disability, is entitled to register, for his own personal use, one passenger car or light commercial vehicle having a manufacturer’s rated carrying capacity of one (1) ton or less, without payment of the prescribed annual registration fee.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of (b) and (c)]

(b) In addition, the department shall provide identification cards for issuance to temporarily disabled persons. These cards shall be of a design prescribed by the department. Cards issued to temporarily disabled persons become invalid after a definite time to be determined by the department.

"Permanently Disabled" Defined; Application

Sec. 2. (a) A person is disabled who has mobility problems that substantially impair the person’s ability to ambulate, or who is legally blind. In this Act, “legally blind” means having not more than 20/200 of visual acuity in the better eye with correcting lenses, or visual acuity greater than 20/200 but with a limitation in the field of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees.
(b) Owners of motor vehicles regularly operated by or for the transportation of such persons may make application to the department through the county tax collector of the county in which they reside for the special symbol, tab, or other device on a form prescribed and furnished by the department. The first such application must be accompanied by acceptable medical proof that the operator or regularly transported passenger is currently and permanently disabled.

(c) A temporarily disabled person may apply for an identification card to the department through the county tax collector of the county in which the person resides on a form prescribed and furnished by the department. The application of each temporarily disabled person must be accompanied by medical proof acceptable to the department that the applicant is currently disabled.

Submission of Application; Fee

Sec. 3. An application for a symbol, tab, or other device shall be submitted to the county tax collector of the vehicle owner's resident county and shall be accompanied by the annual registration fee prescribed by law for the particular vehicle being registered plus $1. Applications for temporarily disabled person identification cards shall be submitted to the county tax collector of the disabled person's county and shall be accompanied by §5. The county tax collector shall forward the fees to the department for deposit in the State Highway Fund to defray the cost of providing the specially designed symbols, tabs, or other devices and identification cards.

Limit on Devices

Sec. 4. The special devices shall be issued only for passenger vehicles and light commercial vehicles having a manufacturer's rated carrying capacity of one ton or less operated by or for the transportation of permanently disable persons for noncommercial use.

Furnishing of Devices

Sec. 5. (a) The department shall furnish the special devices and identification cards to the appropriate county tax assessor-collector.

(b) The department shall design for posting at each parking space or area designated specifically for the temporarily or permanently disabled nonmovable sign that:

1. has a notice of the penalty for a violation of Section 10 of this Act;
2. is permanently mounted on a pole at least five feet in height; and
3. has a profile view of a wheelchair with an occupant in white on a blue background.

(c) The department shall provide at cost a design and stencil for use by political subdivisions or persons who own or control property used for parking to designate parking spaces as provided by Section 6A of this Act.

(d) The department shall set a minimum width requirement for the parking spaces specifically designated for the disabled.

Parking Privileges

Sec. 6. (a) Any vehicle upon which such special devices are displayed or in which a temporarily disabled person identification card is placed in the lower left-hand side of the front windshield, when being operated by or for the transportation of a disabled person, shall be allowed to park for unlimited periods in any parking space or parking area designated specifically for the physically handicapped.

(b) The owner of a vehicle on which the special devices are displayed or in which a temporarily disabled person identification card is placed in the lower left-hand side of the front windshield is exempt from the payment of fees or penalties imposed by a governmental authority for parking at a meter or in a space with a limitation on the length of time for parking, unless the vehicle was not parked at the time by or for the transportation of a disabled person. This exemption does not apply to fees or penalties imposed by a branch of the United States government. This section does not permit parking a vehicle at a place or time that parking is prohibited.

Designation of Parking Spaces by Political Subdivision or Private Property Owner; Enforcement

Sec. 6A. (a) A political subdivision or a person who owns or controls property used for parking may designate one or more parking spaces or a parking area for the exclusive use of vehicles transporting temporarily or permanently disabled persons. The political subdivision or person designates the space by posting in a conspicuous place a sign that conforms with the design and posting requirements of Section 5 of this Act. A political subdivision or private property owner may not designate a parking space or area specifically for the temporarily or permanently disabled unless a sign that conforms with the design and posting requirements is posted. A political subdivision may not require a private property owner or a person who controls property used for parking to designate a parking space or area for the exclusive use of vehicles transporting temporarily or permanently disabled persons.

(b) A peace officer may file charges against a person who commits an offense under this Act at a parking space or a parking area designated specifically for the temporarily or permanently disabled by a political subdivision or a private property owner as provided by Subsection (a) of this section.

Sign Posted at Access or Curb Ramp

Sec. 6B. A political subdivision shall post a sign that conforms with the design and posting requirements of Section 5 of this Act at each access or curb ramp designed for the use of temporarily or permanently disabled persons on a public street under the jurisdiction of the political subdivision.
Sec. 6C. A political subdivision or private property owner who voluntarily designates a parking space or area specifically for the disabled must post a sign that conforms to the department's design, and the space or spaces provided must conform to the width requirement set by the department.

Disposition of Devices Upon Disposal of Vehicle

Sec. 7. Except as provided by Section 9(d) of this Act, if the owner of a vehicle bearing such special devices disposes of the vehicle during the registration year, he shall turn the devices in to the county tax assessor-collector. If the owner registers another vehicle under this Act at the time he returns the devices, the assessor-collector shall issue replacement devices for the fee prescribed by law.

Registration Year

Sec. 8. Devices with the “Disabled” designation provided for by this Act shall be issued for the registration year beginning April 1, 1976, and thereafter.

Registration under Other Act

Sec. 9. (a) A person who is eligible to register a motor vehicle under both this Act and Section 5e, Chapter 88, General Laws, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 6675a–5e, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), may register a vehicle under either or both Acts.

(b) If a person has registered a motor vehicle under Section 5e, Chapter 88, General Laws, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 6675a–5e, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and then applies for registration of the vehicle under this Act, the county tax collector, after the person pays the application fee of $1 required by Section 3 of this Act, shall issue the special devices but may not issue a set of license plates. The person shall attach the devices to the plates issued under Section 5e.

(c) If a person has registered a motor vehicle under this Act and then applies for registration of the vehicle under Section 5e, the person shall return to the Department the license plates and devices issued under this Act. After the person pays the registration fee required by Section 5e, the Department shall issue license plates as provided by that section and also shall issue without charge a set of devices provided for by this Act.

(d) If the owner of a vehicle registered under both this Act and Section 5e disposes of the vehicle during the registration year provided by either Act, the person shall return to the Department the license plates and devices. At that time the person may register another vehicle under both Acts and, after paying the replacement fee required by this Act and the issuance fee required by Section 5e, receive from the Department another set of license plates and devices.

Penalty

Sec. 10. (a) A person commits an offense if the person is neither temporarily or permanently disabled nor transporting a temporarily or permanently disabled person and parks a vehicle with such special device or displaying a temporarily disabled person identification card in any parking space or parking area designated specifically for the disabled.

(b) A person commits an offense if the person parks a vehicle neither displaying the special device nor displaying a temporarily disabled person identification card in a parking space or parking area designated specifically for the disabled.

(c) A person commits an offense if the person parks a vehicle so that the vehicle blocks an access or curb ramp or any other architectural improvement designed to aid the disabled.

Art. 6675a–5e.2. Former Prisoners of War; Registration and Special License Plates

Text as added by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1040, ch. 470, § 1

(a) Any person, other than a person discharged from the armed forces under conditions less than honorable, who was captured and incarcerated by an enemy of the United States during a period of conflict with the United States, is entitled to register under this Section, for the person’s own use, one (1) passenger car or light commercial vehicle having a manufacturer’s rated carrying capacity of one (1) ton or less, without payment of any annual registration fee or service charge.

(b) The Department shall design and provide for the issuance of special license plates for persons entitled to register under this Section. The license plates shall be designed to indicate that the recipient is a former prisoner of war.

(c) A person may apply to the Department at any time for registration under this Section on a form prescribed by the Department. The Department shall require an applicant to submit proof of eligibility to register under this Section. Registration under this Section is valid for one (1) year.

(d) If license plates issued under this Section are lost, stolen, or mutilated, the owner of the vehicle for which the plates were issued may obtain replacement plates from the Department without charge. If the owner of a vehicle registered under this Section disposes of the vehicle during the registration year, the person shall return the special license plates to the Department. At that time the person may register another passenger car or light commercial motor vehicle under this Section without charge.

(e) A person who has registered a vehicle and received license plates under this Section may renew the registration of the vehicle without charge through application to the County Tax Collector in the county of the person’s residence for an annual registration sticker.

Art. 6675a–5f. Refund of Overcharges on Registration Fees

If the owner of a motor vehicle that is required to be registered pays an annual registration fee in excess of the statutory amount, he shall be entitled to a refund of the overcharge from the county tax collector who collected the excessive fee. The refund shall be paid from the fund in which the county’s share of registration fees is deposited. A refund of the overcharge shall be made on presentation of satisfactory evidence of the overcharge to the county tax collector who collected the excessive fee. The owner of a motor vehicle who pays an excessive registration fee shall make his claim for a refund of the overcharge within five (5) years of the date that the excessive registration fee was paid.

Art. 6675a–5h. Voluntary Firefighters; Registration and Special License Plates

(a) The Department shall design and provide for the issuance of special license plates for volunteer firefighters who have been certified by the Texas Volunteer Firefighters and Fire Marshals Certification Board.

(b) A person who is a certified member of a volunteer fire department is entitled to register under this section, for the volunteer’s personal use, one passenger car or light commercial vehicle having a manufacturer’s rated carrying capacity of one ton or less. The person shall pay the annual registration fee for the vehicle plus $4. The County Tax Collector shall forward the additional $4 fee to the Department for deposit in the State Highway Fund to defray the cost of providing the specially designed license plates.

(c) A person may apply at any time for registration under this section through the County Tax Collector in the county of the person’s residence. The Department shall prescribe the form of the application. The Department shall require an applicant to submit proof of eligibility to register under this section that is satisfactory to the Department. Registration under this section is valid for one year.

(d) If license plates issued under this section are lost, stolen, or mutilated, the owner of the vehicle for which the plates were issued may obtain replacement plates from the Department. The owner shall pay a fee of $4 in addition to the fee required for replacement plates. If the owner of a vehicle registered under this section disposes of the vehicle during the registration year, the person shall return the special license plates to the Department. At that time the person may register another passenger car or light commercial motor vehicle under this section.

Art. 6675a-6d. Temporary Permits for Commercial Motor Vehicles

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Sec. 2. A temporary permit valid for seventy-two (72) hours shall be issued to each such vehicle for the fee of Ten Dollars ($10), and such temporary permit shall be valid for any period of time not to exceed seventy-two (72) hours from the effective day and time as shown on the receipt issued as evidence of such registration. Such vehicles, with the exception of vehicles currently registered in another State of the United States or a Province of Canada; and with the exception of mobile drilling and servicing equipment used in the production of gas and crude petroleum, oil, including, but not limited to, mobile cranes and hoisting equipment, mobile lift equipment, forklifts, and tugs, shall be subject to Sections 140 and 141 of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways.¹

¹ Article 6701a, §§ 140 and 141.

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect September 1, 1981, and applies to registration under a temporary permit issued on or after the effective date of this Act. Registrations under temporary permits issued before that date are covered by the law as it existed at the time of registration, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose."

Art. 6675a-8c. Diesel Motors, Certain Vehicles Propelled by; Fee; License Receipts to Show Type of Motor

It is expressly provided that the license fees for all motor vehicles, other than a passenger car and other than a truck that has a manufacturer's rated carrying capacity of two (2) tons or less, using or being propelled by diesel motors or engines shall be the fees provided in other sections of this Act, plus an additional eleven percent (11%) provided, however, that such additional percentage shall not apply to the fee for the combined gross weight of vehicles registered in combination. When motor vehicles other than a passenger car or a truck described by this section are propelled by diesel fuel, such fact shall be indicated on the license receipts issued for such vehicles by the county tax collectors.

Art. 6675a-10. Apportionment of Funds

Text of article effective July 1, 1982

(a) On Monday of each week each County Tax Collector shall deposit in the County Depository of his County to the credit of the County Road and Bridge Fund an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of net collections made hereunder during the preceding week until the amount so deposited for the current calendar year shall have reached a total sum of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) plus Three Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($350) for each mile of county road, not to exceed five hundred (500) miles, maintained by the County according to the latest data available from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

(b) After depositing the amount provided by Subsection (a) of this section, the County Tax Collector shall deposit to the credit of the Fund on Monday of each week fifty per cent (50%) of the collections made during the preceding week until the additional amount deposited equals the sum of One Hundred Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($125,000).

(c) After depositing the amounts provided by Subsections (a) and (b) of this section, he shall make no further deposits to the credit of said Fund during that calendar year. All collections made during any week under the provisions of this Act in excess of the amounts required to be deposited to the credit of the Road and Bridge Fund of his County shall be remitted by each County Tax Collector on each Monday of the succeeding week to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation together with carbon copies of each license receipt issued hereunder during the preceding week. He shall also on Monday of each week remit to the Department, as now provided by law, all transfer fees and chauffeurs' license fees collected by him during the preceding week, together with carbon copies of all receipts issued for said fees during the week.

(d) The County Tax Collector may defer remittance to the Department of fees collected under this Act if the fees are deposited in a daily interest savings account in the County Depository. The County Tax Collector shall remit to the Department fees so deposited no later than the thirty-fourth (34th) day after the due dates set forth in Subsections (b) and (c) of this section.

(e) He shall also accompany all remittances to the Department with a complete report of such collections made and disposition made thereof, the form and contents of said report to be prescribed by the Department. None of the moneys so placed to the credit of the Road and Bridge Fund of a county shall be used to pay the salary or compensation of any County Judge or County Commissioner, but all said moneys shall be used for the construction and maintenance of lateral roads in such county under the supervision of the County Engineer, if there be one, and if there is no such engineer, then the County Commissioners Court shall have authority to command the services of the District Engineer or Resident Engineer of the Department for the purposes of supervising the construction and surveying the lateral roads in their respective counties. All funds allocated to the counties by the provisions of this Act may be used by the counties in the payment of obligations, if any, issued and incurred in the construction or the improvement of all roads, including State Highways of such counties and districts therein; or the improvement of the roads comprising the county road system; or for the purpose of constructing new roads, or in aid thereof. Roads to be constructed under contract by counties utilizing funds provided under this Act should be accomplished to the maximum extent possible by contracts awarded on the basis of competitive bids.

(f) The County owns all interest earned on fees deposited in a daily interest savings account under Subsection (d) of this section. The County Treasurer shall credit the interest earned on fees so deposited to the County General Fund.

Art. 6675a–11. Fees and Expenses of Tax Collector; Mailing Procedures

Text of article effective July 1, 1982

As compensation for services under the provisions of this and other laws relating to the registration of vehicles, each County Tax Assessor-Collector shall receive a uniform fee of One Dollar and Fifty Cents ($1.50) for each of the receipts issued each year pursuant to those laws. Said compensation shall be deducted weekly by each County Tax Assessor-Collector from the gross collection made pursuant to this Act and other laws relating to registration of vehicles. Out of the compensation allowed the County Tax Assessors-Collectors, it is hereby expressly provided and required that they shall pay the entire expense of issuing all license receipts and license plates issued pursuant to this Act. It is further provided that the County Tax Assessors-Collectors may collect an additional service charge of One Dollar ($1.00) from each applicant desiring to register or reregister by mail. This service charge shall be used to cover the cost of handling and postage to mail the registration receipt and insignia to the applicant. The Department of Highways and Public Transportation may issue and promulgate procedures to cover the timely application for and issuance of registration receipts and insignia by mail.

Art. 6675a–13. Plate or Plates or Other Devices for Attachment to Vehicles

(a) The Department shall issue to applicants for a motor vehicle registration, on payment of the required fee, a plate or plates, symbols, tabs, or other devices which when attached to a vehicle as prescribed by the Department are the legal registration insignia for the period issued.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of (b) to (g)]

Art. 6675a–13½. Designs and Specifications or Reflectorized Plates, Symbols and Tabs

(a) The State Highway Department shall prepare the designs and specifications for the single plate or plates of metal or other material, symbols, tabs, or other devices selected by the State Highway Commission to be used as the legal registration insignia with the requirement, however, that all license plates shall be made with a reflective material so as to be a reflectorized safety license plate. The reflectorized material shall be of such a nature as to provide effective and dependable brightness in the promotion of highway safety during the service period of the license plate issued. The State Highway Department shall design the license plates to include a design at least one-half inch wide that represents in silhouette the shape of the State of Texas and that appears, in lieu of a star, between letters and numerals.

Art. 6675a–13a. Replacement Number Plates

The owner of a registered motor vehicle may obtain from the Department through the County Tax Collector replacement number plates for such vehicle by filing with said collector an affidavit showing that said number plate or plates have been lost, stolen or mutilated, and by paying a fee of five dollars for each set of plates issued. The County Tax Assessor-Collector shall retain as commission one-half (½) of this fee collected for replacement number plates and the other one-half (½) of such fee shall be reported to and remitted to the State Depart of Highways and Public Transportation on Monday of each week as other registration fees are now required to be reported and remitted. In case one or more plates are left in possession of such owner same shall be returned to the Tax Collector when making this affidavit. Said affidavit shall state that such plate or plates have been lost, stolen or mutilated and will not be used on any vehicle owned or operated by the person making this affida-tit. No Tax Collector shall issue replacement plates without requiring compliance with the provisions of this Section.

Art. 6675a–16. Agreements With Other States,
Provinces, Territories or Possessions
Regarding Exemptions; Rules and Regulations; Disposition of Fees; Violations

(a) In addition to and regardless of the provisions of this Act, or any other Act relating to the operation of motor vehicles over the public highways of this State, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation acting by and through the State Engineer-Director is hereby authorized to enter into agreements with duly authorized officials of other jurisdictions, including any State of the United States, the District of Columbia, a State or Province of a foreign country, or a territory or possession of either the United States or of a foreign country to provide for the registration of vehicles by Texas residents and non-residents on an allocation or mileage apportionment basis (such as is provided in the International Registration Plan) or to grant exemptions from payment of registration fees by non-residents provided such grants are reciprocal to Texas residents.

(b) The Department is further authorized and empowered to promulgate and to enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of the International Registration Plan or any other agreement entered into under the authority herein set forth.

(c) All fees collected for other jurisdictions under the provisions of the International Registration Plan or other agreements entered into under the provisions of this Act shall be distributed to the appropriate jurisdiction at the direction of the Department to carry out the provisions of such agreement.
There is hereby created a special fund account in the State Treasury, to be known as the Proportional Registration Distributive Fund, and all such fees collected shall be deposited and disbursed through such account.

(d) This section shall be cumulative of all other laws on this subject, but in the event of a conflict between the provisions of this section and any other Act on this subject, the provisions of this section shall prevail.

(e) Any person owning or operating a vehicle not registered in this State, in violation of the terms of any agreement made under this section, or in the absence of any agreement, in violation of the applicable registration laws of this State, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined any sum not exceeding Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars.

Art. 6686. Dealer's and Manufacturer's License Plates and Tags

(a) Dealer's and Manufacturer's License Plates for Unregistered Motor Vehicles, Motorcycles, House
Trailers, Trailers, and Semitrailers.

(1) Dealer's License. Any dealer in motor vehicles, motorcycles, house trailers, trailers, or semi-trailers doing business in this State may, instead of registering each vehicle he operates or permits to be operated for any reason upon the streets or public highways, apply for and secure a general distinguishing number and master dealer's license plate which may be attached to any such vehicle he owns and operates or permits to be operated unregistered. Each dealer holding a current distinguishing number and master dealer's license plate may apply for and be issued additional or supplemental metal dealer's plates, as hereinafter provided, which may be attached to any vehicle which he owns and operates or permits to be operated unregistered in the same manner as a vehicle operated on the master dealer's license plate. A dealer within the meaning of this Act means any person, firm, or corporation regularly and actively engaged in the business of buying, selling, or exchanging motor vehicles, motorcycles, house trailers, trailers, or semitrailers at an estabishment and permanent place of business; provided, however, that at each such place of business a sign in letters at least six (6) inches in height must be conspicuously displayed showing the name of the dealership under which such dealer is doing business, and that each such place of business must have a furnished office and, except for dealers who are licensed by the Texas Motor Vehicle Commission pursuant to the Texas Motor Vehicle Commission Code and dealers who sell vehicles to or exchange vehicles with no person other than another dealer licensed under this Act, sufficient space to display five (5) vehicles of the type cus-tomarily bought, sold, or exchanged by such dealer.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of (a)(2)]

(3) Buyer's Temporary Cardboard Tags. Each dealer holding a current distinguishing number may issue temporary cardboard tags, which may be used by a buyer to operate an unregistered vehicle he purchased from said dealer for a period of twenty (20) days from the date of purchase; provided, however, that a dealer may issue only one (1) buyer's tag to a purchaser for each unregistered vehicle said dealer sells. The specifications, color, and form of such buyer's cardboard tag shall be prescribed by the Department; provided, however, that each dealer shall be responsible for the safekeeping and distribution of all cardboard tags obtained by him; and furthermore, each dealer is responsible for showing in ink on each buyer's cardboard tag he issues the actual date of sale of each unregistered vehicle together with other information asked for thereon.

(4) Dealer's Temporary Cardboard Tags. Each dealer holding a current distinguishing number may issue temporary cardboard tags, which may only be used by such dealer or his employees for the following purposes:

(a) to demonstrate or cause to be demonstrated his unregistered vehicles to prospective buyers only for the purpose of sale; provided, however, that no provision of this Act shall be construed to prohibit a dealer from permitting a prospective buyer to operate such vehicles in the course of demonstration.

(b) to convey or cause to be conveyed his unregistered vehicles from the dealer's place of business in one part of the State to his place of business in another part of the State, or from his place of business to a place to be repaired, reconditioned, or serviced, or from the point in this State where such vehicles are unloaded to his place of business, including the moving of such vehicles from the State line to his place of business, or to convey such vehicles from one dealer's place of business to another dealer's place of business or from the point of purchase of such vehicles by the dealer to the dealer's place of business, or for the purpose of road testing, and such vehicles displaying such tags while being so conveyed shall be exempt from the mechanical inspection requirements of Sections 140 and 141 of the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways.2

Such tags shall not be used to operate vehicles for the personal use of a dealer or his employees. Whenever a dealer sells an unregistered vehicle to a retail purchaser, it shall be such dealer's responsibility to display the Buyer's Temporary Cardboard Tag thereon pursuant to Subsection (3) of this Act. The specifications, form, and color of such dealer's cardboard tags shall be prescribed by the Department.

(5) Cancellation of License. It shall be the duty of the Department to cancel the dealer's or manufacturer's license issued to a person, firm or corporation when such license was obtained by submitting false or misleading information; and the Department is hereby authorized to cancel dealer's licenses whenever a person, firm, or corporation fails, upon demand, to furnish within thirty (30) days to the Department satisfactory and reasonable evidence of being regularly and actively engaged in the business of buying, selling, or exchanging new or used motor vehicles, motorcycles, house trailers, trailers, or semitrailers at either wholesale or retail; and, it is also provided that the Department may cancel dealer's or manufacturer's licenses issued under this Act for the violation of any provisions of this Act or for the misuse or for allowing the misuse of any cardboard tag authorized under this Act; and, furthermore, the Department is hereby authorized to cancel such licenses whenever a dealer refuses to show on such tags the date of sale or any other reasonable information required to be shown thereon by the Department; provided, however, that nothing in this Act shall be construed to prohibit new entries into the business of buying, selling, exchanging, or manufacturing such vehicles; and provided further that any dealer or manufacturer whose license was cancelled under the terms of this Act shall, within ten (10) days, surrender to a representative of the Department any and all license plates, cardboard tags, license stickers, and receipts issued pursuant to this Act. If any dealer or manufacturer shall fail to surrender to the Department the license plates, the cardboard tags, license stickers, and receipts as provided herein, the Department shall forthwith direct any peace officer to secure possession thereof and to return same to the Department. Whenever a dealer's or manufacturer's license is cancelled under the provisions of this Act, all benefits and privileges afforded to Texas licensed dealers or manufacturers under the Certificate of Title Act (Article 6687–1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), are automatically cancelled, also.

(6) Limited Use of Dealer's Plates and Tags. The use of dealer's license or dealer's temporary cardboard tags is prohibited on service or work vehicles or on commercial vehicles carrying a load; provided, however, that a boat trailer carrying a boat will not be considered to be a commercial vehicle carrying a load, and a dealer complying with the provisions of this Act may affix to the rear of a boat trailer he owns or to the rear of a boat trailer he sells such dealer's distinguishing number or cardboard tags pursuant to the provisions of Subsections (1), (3) and (4) of this section; and, further provided, that the term "commercial vehicle carrying a load" shall not be construed to prohibit the operation or conveyance of unregistered vehicles by licensed dealers (or buyers therefrom) utilizing the full mount method, the saddle mount method, the tow bar method, or any combination thereof, pursuant to Subsections (3) and (4) of this section.

(7) Fees and Forms. Each applicant for a dealer's or manufacturer's general distinguishing number and master dealer's license plate shall pay to the Department an annual fee of One Hundred Dollars ($100) for the number and master dealer's plate and Ten Dollars ($10) for each additional or supplemental metal dealer's plate desired, and all such fees shall be deposited in the State Highway Fund. Applications for a dealer's or manufacturer's license plate, and for renewals thereof, shall be made in writing on forms prescribed and furnished by the Department, and such applications shall require any pertinent information, including sufficient information for the Department to determine that the applicant is actively and regularly engaged in the sale of motor vehicles, motorcycles, house trailers, trailers, or semitrailers as a dealer, to insure proper enrollment and administration; and, furthermore, each such application shall contain a statement to the effect that the applying dealer agrees to permit the Department to examine during working hours the ownership papers for each vehicle, registered or unregistered, in the possession of said dealer or under his control. All facts stated in an application shall be sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths and no dealer's or manufacturer's distinguishing number shall be issued until this Act is complied with. All such applications for dealer's or manufacturer's licenses, accompanied by the prescribed fee, should be made to the Department by January 15 of each year and the license plates for those applications meeting the provisions of this Act will be mailed to the applicants during the succeeding months of February and March. Each dealer's and manufacturer's license shall expire at the expiration of the "Motor Vehicle Registration Year."

(b) No person who is under the age of twenty-one (21) years shall drive any motor vehicle except a taxicab while in use as a public or common carrier of persons, nor until he has been licensed as a chauffeur. No person who is under the age of nineteen (19) years shall drive a taxicab while in use as a public or common carrier of persons, nor until he has been licensed as a chauffeur. However, the governing body of a home-rule city having a population of more than 800,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may authorize by ordinance the issuance of temporary taxicab permits to persons who are qualified by age to drive a taxicab and who hold a valid Texas operator's license. A temporary taxicab permit must be issued for a definite period of time not to exceed 10 days and may not be issued to the same individual more than once every 90 days. The holder of a valid temporary taxicab permit may operate a taxicab while it is in use as a public or common carrier of persons. Temporary taxicab permits may be issued only in connection with special events in the city being attended by out-of-city visitors resulting in demand for transportation beyond the capabilities of established transportation facilities and may not be issued for the purpose of providing transportation in lieu of transportation services suspended or lapsed as the result of a dispute between employees and their employer. Proof of liability insurance coverage in an amount equal to that required by locally franchised taxicab companies shall be required before a temporary taxicab permit may be issued.

Application for License

Sec. 6.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 6(a)]

(b) Every said original application shall state the applicant's full name, place and date of birth, such information to be verified by presentation of a certified copy of the applicant's birth certificate or other documentary evidence deemed satisfactory by the Department. Such application shall also include the thumbprints, or if for any reason thumbprints cannot be taken, the index fingerprints of the applicant, and shall state the sex and residence address of the applicant, and briefly describe the applicant, and shall state whether the applicant has theretofore been licensed as an operator, commercial operator, or chauffeur, and, if so, when and by what state or country, and whether any such license has ever been suspended or revoked or whether an application has ever been refused, and, if so, the date of and reason for such suspension, revocation, or refusal, and whether the applicant, if less than twenty-five (25) years of age, has completed a driver education course approved by the Department, and such other information as the Department may require to determine the applicant's identity, competency and eligibility. Information about the medical history of an applicant supplied to the Department or a Medical Advisory Board is for the confidential use of the Department or the Board and may not be divulged to any person or used as evidence in a legal proceeding except a proceeding under Section 22 or Section 31 of this Act.

Anatomical Gifts; Execution on Reverse Side of Driver's License

Sec. 11B. (a) A gift of any needed parts of the body may be made by executing a statement of gift printed on the reverse side of the donor's operator's, commercial operator's, or chauffeur's license. A signed and witnessed statement of gift thereon shall be deemed to comply with the Texas Anatomical Gift Act (Article 4590–2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The gift is invalid on expiration, cancellation, revocation, or suspension of the operator's, commercial operator's, or chauffeur's license. To be valid, the statement must be executed each time the operator's, commercial operator's, or chauffeur's license is replaced, reinstated, or renewed.

(b) The Department shall print a statement certifying the willingness to make an anatomical gift on the reverse side of each operator's, commercial operator's, and chauffeur's license.

Allergy Designation on Reverse Side of License

Sec. 11C. The Department shall print a statement on the reverse side of each operator's, commercial operator's, and chauffeur's license as follows:

Allergic Reaction to Drugs: ______

Restricted Licenses

Sec. 12.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 12(a) to (d)]

(e)(1) The Department may issue a special restricted operator's license to any person between the ages of fifteen (15) and eighteen (18) years to operate only a motorcycle, motor scooter or motorized bicycle, with less than one hundred twenty-five (125) cc piston displacement; provided such person has completed and passed a motorcycle operator training course approved by the Department. This motorcycle operator training course will be made available. This motorcycle operator training course will be an exception to the driver training course, regarding the age limit, as applied in Section 7(a), Article 6687b, Vernon's Texas Statutes; shall be subject to the requirements of Section 10 of Article 6687b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, and to other provisions of this Act governing restricted operator's licenses, without completing any further motorcycle courses. This special restricted license shall be issued on application to the Department in accordance with Section 7 of Article 6687b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes; shall be subject to the requirements of Section 10 of Article 6687b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, and to other provisions of this Act in the same manner as operator's licenses; and shall be in the form prescribed by the Department. A motor-assisted bicycle operator's license is required for operators of motor-assisted bicycles. A person must be at least fifteen (15) years old to be issued a motor-assisted bicycle operator's license. The Department shall examine applicants for that type of license by administering to them a written examination concerning traffic laws applicable to the operation of motor-assisted bicycles. No test involving the operation of the vehicle is required. The fee for the license is Seven Dollars ($7). All applicable provisions of this Act governing restricted operator's licenses for the operation of motorcycles only also apply to motor-assisted bicycle operator's licenses, including provisions relating to the application, issuance, duration, suspension, and cancellation of those licenses.

Duplicate Licenses and Certificates

Sec. 14. In the event that an operator's license, commercial operator's license, chauffeur's license, identification certificate, or handicap or health condition certificate issued under the provisions of this Act is lost, destroyed, or there is a change in pertinent information, the person to whom the same was issued may obtain a duplicate or correction thereof upon furnishing proof satisfactory to the Department that such permit, license, or certificate was lost or destroyed or upon the supplying of the required information which has changed, together with proof acceptable to the Department supporting such change, and upon the payment of a fee of One Dollar ($1).

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 14A]

Person Identification Certificates: Handicap or Health Condition; Fee

Sec. 14B. (a) The department may issue to persons who have a physical handicap or health condition that may cause unconsciousness, incoherence, or inability to communicate a specially notated personal identification certificate that indicates the particular handicap or health condition by word, symbol, or code.

(b) Original applications and applications for renewal of identification certificates shall require information and be submitted on a form promulgated by the department.

(c) The department shall levy and collect a fee of $5 for preparation and issuance of the certificate.

(d) Fees collected for these certificates shall be deposited in the Operator's and Chauffeur's License Fund and are hereby appropriated to defray the cost incurred in issuing these certificates. Any collections in excess of cost shall be deposited in the State Treasury in the General Revenue Fund.

Disposition of Fees

Sec. 15. (a) All fees and charges required by this Act and collected by an officer or agent of the Department shall be remitted without deduction to the Department in Austin, Texas.
(b) All monies received for operators, commercial operators and chauffeurs license fees shall be deposited in the State Treasury in a fund to be known as the Operator's and Chauffeur's License Fund.

(c) Fees and charges deposited in the Operator's and Chauffeur's License Fund under the provisions of this Act may, upon appropriation by the Legislature, be used by the Texas Department of Public Safety for the payment of salaries, purchase of equipment and supplies, maintenance, and any and all other necessary expenses incident to the operation of the Department of Public Safety in carrying out the duties as are by law required of such Department. Any remaining balance in the Operator's and Chauffeur's License Fund on September 1st of each and every year shall remain in such Fund and shall be available for appropriation by the Legislature for the maintenance and support of the Texas Department of Public Safety as set forth hereinafter.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 15A to 19]

Notice of Change of Address or Name

Sec. 20. Whenever any person after applying for or receiving an operator's license, commercial operator's license, chauffeur's license, identification certificate, or handicapped or health condition certificate shall move from the address named in such application or in the license or certificate issued to him or when the name of the licensee is changed by marriage or otherwise, such person shall within thirty (30) days thereafter notify the Department in writing of his old and new addresses or of such former and new names, of the number of any license or certificate then held by him, and such person shall apply for a duplicate license or certificate as set out in Section 14.

Records to be Kept by the Department

Sec. 21.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 21(a)]

(b) Except as specifically provided by this subsection, the Department shall also file all accident reports and abstracts of court records of convictions received by it under the laws of this State and in connection therewith maintain convenient records or make suitable notations in order that an individual record of each licensee showing the convictions of such licensee and the traffic accidents in which he has been involved shall be readily ascertainable and available for the consideration of the Department upon any application for the renewal of a driver's license and at other suitable times. The individual record of a licensee who is employed as a peace officer or a fire fighter shall not include information relating to a traffic accident if the accident occurred during an emergency while the peace officer or fire fighter was driving a law enforcement vehicle or fire department vehicle in pursuit of his or her duties as a peace officer or fire fighter. Before licensing or renewing any license, the Department shall examine the applicant's record for information concerning conviction of traffic violations and involvement in traffic accidents. The Department shall not issue or renew a license when, in its opinion, the applicant's record indicates that issuance or renewal of his license would be impractical to the public safety.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 21(c) to 21(e)]

(f) The Department is authorized to provide information pertaining to an individual's date of birth, current license status, most recent address, completion of an approved driver education course, the fact of (but not the reason for) completion of a driving safety course, and a listing of reported traffic law violations, and motor vehicle accidents, by date and location, as listed on the records of the Department upon written request and the payment of a Three Dollar ($3.00) fee by a person showing a legitimate need for such information, provided, however, that if requests for such information be prepared in quantities of one hundred (100) or more from a single person at any one time and upon data processing request forms acceptable to the Department, such information may be provided upon payment of a One Dollar ($1.00) fee for each individual request.

ARTICLE IV—CANCELLATION, SUSPENSION, AND REVOCATION OF LICENSES

Authority of Department to Suspend or Revoke a License

Sec. 22. (a) When under Section 10 of this Act the Director believes the licensee to be incapable of safely operating a motor vehicle, the Director may notify said licensee of such fact and summons him to appear for hearing as provided hereinafter. Such hearing shall be had not less than ten (10) days after notification to the licensee or operator under any of the provisions of this section, and upon charges in writing, a copy of which shall be given to said operator or licensee not less than ten (10) days before said hearing, except as otherwise provided by this subsection. For the purpose of hearing such cases, jurisdiction is vested in the mayor of the city, or judge of the police court, or a Justice of the Peace in the county where the operator or licensee resides. Such officer may receive a fee for hearing such cases if such a fee is approved and set by the County Commissioners Court which has jurisdiction over the residence of the operator or licensee and such fee shall not exceed Five Dollars ($5.00) per case and shall be paid from the General Revenue Fund of the County. Any fees, not to exceed Five Dollars ($5.00) per case, which the County Commissioners Court may determine to be owed to such officer for past hearings, or any fees, not to exceed Five Dollars ($5.00) per case, previously paid such officer for hearing said cases, is hereby authorized. Such court may administer oaths and may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of relative books and papers. It shall be the duty of the court to set the matter for hearing upon ten (10) days' written notice to the Department. Upon such hearing, the issues to be determined are whether the license shall be suspended or whether the license shall be revoked, and, in the event of a suspension, the length of time of the suspension, which shall not exceed one (1) year. The officer who presides at such hearing shall report the finding to the Department which shall have authority to suspend the license for the length of time reported; provided, however, that in the event of such affirmative finding, the licensee may appeal to the county court of the county wherein the hearing was held, said appeal to be tried de novo. Notice by registered mail to the address shown on the license of the licensee shall constitute service for the purpose of this section. If the hearing is to determine whether a licensee is an habitual violator of the traffic law, and if the registered letter is returned to the Department because the Department has not been notified of the licensee's correct address or because the licensee has refused to accept the registered letter, the Director may give the licensee notice of a pending hearing by publishing notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the County of the licensee's residence, as listed in Department records, at least thirty (30) days before the hearing. The Director shall specify in the notice the place, time, and date of the hearing and shall state in the notice that the Department is entitled to suspend for a period of not more than one (1) year the license of a licensee who is found to be an habitual violator of the traffic law.

(b) The authority to suspend the license of any operator, commercial operator, or chauffeur as authorized in this Section is granted the Department upon determining after proper hearing as hereinbefore set out that the licensee:

1. Has committed an offense for which automatic suspension of license is made upon conviction;
2. Has been responsible as a driver for any accident resulting in death;
3. Is an habitual reckless or negligent driver of a motor vehicle;
4. Is an habitual violator of the traffic law.
The term "habitual violator" as used herein, shall mean any person with four (4) or more convictions arising out of different transactions in a consecutive period of twelve (12) months, or seven (7) or more convictions arising out of different transactions within a period of twenty-four (24) months, such convictions being for moving violations of the traffic laws of this state or its political subdivisions.
5. Is incapable to drive a motor vehicle;
6. Has permitted an unlawful or fraudulent use of such license;
7. Has committed an offense in another state, which if committed in this State would be grounds for suspension or revocation;
8. Has failed or refused to submit a report of any accident in which he was involved as provided in Section 39 of this Act;
9. Has been responsible as a driver for any accident resulting in serious personal injury or serious property damage;
10. Is the holder of a provisional license under Section 11A of this Act and has been convicted of two (2) or more moving violations committed within a period of twelve (12) months;
11. Has not complied with the terms of a citation issued by a jurisdiction that is a member of the Nonresident Violator Compact of 1977 1 for a violation to which the compact applies.

Occupational License to Meet Essential Need; Hearing; Restrictions; Financial Responsibility; Violations

Sec. 23A. (a) Any person whose license has been suspended for causes other than physical or mental disability or impairment may file with the judge of the county court or district court having jurisdiction within the county of his residence, or with the judge of the county court or district court having jurisdiction within the county where an offense occurred for which his license was suspended, a verified petition setting forth in detail an essential need for operating a motor vehicle in the performance of his occupation or trade. The hearing on the petition may be ex parte in nature. The judge hearing the petition shall enter an order either finding that no essential need exists for the operation of a motor vehicle in the performance of the occupation or trade of the petitioner or enter an order finding an essential need for operating a motor vehicle in the performance of the occupation or trade of the petitioner. In the event the judge enters the order finding an essential need as set out herein, he shall also, as part of such finding, determine the actual need of the petitioner in operating a motor vehicle in his occupation or trade and shall restrict the use of the motor vehicle to the petitioner's actual occupation or trade and the right to drive to and from the place of employment of the petitioner, and shall require the petitioner to give proof of a valid policy of automobile liability insurance in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Safety Responsibility Law, Article 6701h, Vernon's Annotated Texas Statutes. Such restrictions shall be definite as to hours of the day, days of the week, type of occupation and areas or routes of travel to be permitted, except that the petitioner shall not be allowed to operate a motor vehicle more than ten (10) hours in any twenty-four (24) consecutive hours. On a proper showing of necessity, however, the court may waive the 10-hour restriction. Unless further extended at the discretion of the court, orders entered by such court shall extend for a period of twelve (12) months or less from the date of the original suspension. A certified copy of the petition and the court order setting out the judge's finding and the restrictions shall be forwarded to the Department.

Sec. 24.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 24(a) to 24(c)]

(d) If a person is convicted of the offense of driving a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicating liquor, the person's license shall not be automatically suspended if the court places the person on probation and either requires as a condition of probation that the person attend an educational program designed to rehabilitate persons who have driven while intoxicated as provided by Article 42.13, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, or waives that requirement, or the jury recommends, under Section 3a, Article 42.13, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, probation and no suspension of the person's license. The probation officer shall report to the court whether or not the person has completed the program. If the person fails to complete the program, the person's license shall be automatically suspended as provided by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (a) of this section.

Court to Report Convictions; Restricted Licenses for Convicted Persons

Sec. 25. (a) Whenever any person is convicted of any offense for which this Act makes automatic the suspension of the operator's, commercial operator's, or chauffeur's license of such person, the court in which such conviction is had shall require the surrender to it of all operators', commercial operators', and chauffeurs' licenses then held by the person so convicted and the clerk of said court shall thereupon forward the same together with a record of such conviction. The court may enter an order restricting the operation of a motor vehicle to the person's occupation or to participation in an alcoholic or drug treatment, rehabilitation, or educational program, provided the person gives proof of a valid policy of automobile liability insurance in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act, as amended (Article 6701h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The order shall state reasons for the order to cancel the license or certificate upon determining that the licensee or holder of the certificate was not entitled to the issuance thereof hereunder or that said licensee or holder of the certificate failed to give the required or correct information in his application.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 25(b) and 25(c)]

Authority of Department to Cancel License or Certificate

Sec. 25A. The Department is hereby authorized to cancel any driver's license, identification certificate, or handicap or health condition certificate upon determining that the licensee or holder of the certificate was not entitled to the issuance thereof hereunder or that said licensee or holder of the certificate failed to give the required or correct information in his application.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 26 to 29]

Cancellation of License for Medical Reasons

Sec. 30. It shall be unlawful for any person to act as an operator, commercial operator, or chauffeur who is addicted to the use of alcohol or narcotic drugs, or who has been adjudged mentally incompetent and has not been restored to competency by judicial decree or released from a hospital for the mentally incompetent upon a certificate of the superintendent that such person is competent. Any finding by any court of competent jurisdiction that any person holding an operator's license, commercial operator's license, or chauffeur's license is mentally incompetent or addicted to the use of alcohol or narcotics shall carry with it a revocation of such operator's, commercial operator's, or chauffeur's license. It shall be the duty of the clerk of any court in which such findings are made, to certify same to the Department within ten (10) days.

at the discretion of the judge, provided that if the order is granted for longer than a twelve (12) month period, the person convicted must give proof to the Department of Public Safety of a valid policy of automobile liability insurance in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act (Article 6701h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). But in no event may the order remain in effect beyond the period for which the convicted person's license has been suspended. A certified copy of the order shall be given to the person convicted and shall be forwarded to the Department together with the person's licenses and the record of his conviction. Upon receipt of the order, the Department shall issue a license showing upon its face the restrictions and expiration date set out in the order. The person convicted may use the order of the court as a restricted license for a period of fourteen (14) days following the date of the order. Any person who violates the restrictions of the order of the court or on the license issued under this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished in the same manner as one convicted of driving a motor vehicle while license is suspended, and the license and order shall be automatically cancelled.

Violation of License or Certificate Provision

Sec. 32. (a) In this section:

(1) “Driver’s license” means a license or a permit issued by the Department that authorizes the operation of a motor vehicle.

(2) “Certificate” means a personal identification certificate, handicap certificate, or health condition certificate issued by the Department.

(b) Except as provided in Subsection (c) of this section, it is unlawful for any person to commit any of the following acts:

1. To display or cause or permit to be displayed or to have in possession any driver’s license or certificate knowing the same to be fictitious or to have been cancelled, revoked, suspended, or altered;

2. To lend or knowingly permit the use of, by one not entitled thereto, any driver’s license or certificate issued to the person so lending or permitting the use thereof;

3. To display or to represent as one’s own, any driver’s license or certificate not issued to the person so displaying same;

4. To fail or refuse to surrender to the Department on demand any driver’s license or certificate which has been suspended, cancelled, or revoked as provided by law;

5. To apply for or have in one’s possession more than one currently valid driver’s license or more than one currently valid certificate; or

6. To use a false or fictitious name or give a false or fictitious address in any application for a driver’s license or a certificate or any renewal or duplicate thereof, or knowingly to make a false statement or knowingly to conceal a material fact or otherwise commit a fraud in any such application.

(c) After written approval by the Director, the Department may issue to a law enforcement officer an alias driver’s license to be used in supervised activities involving criminal investigations. Possession or use for the purposes described in this subsection of a driver’s license as provided in this subsection by the officer to whom the license was issued is not a violation of this section, unless the Department has suspended, cancelled, or revoked the license. Application for a license for the purposes described in this subsection is not a violation of this section.

Employing Unlicensed Chauffeur or Commercial Operator

Sec. 37. Before employing a person as a chauffeur or commercial operator of a motor vehicle, an employer shall request from the Department of Public Safety a list of convictions for traffic violations contained in their files on the potential employee and a verification that the potential employee has a valid license. No person shall employ as a chauffeur or commercial operator of a motor vehicle any person not then licensed as provided in this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 38 to 46]

Section 4 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 359, ch. 142, provides:

This Act takes effect January 1, 1982, and applies only to probation and license suspension for offenses committed on or after that date. Probation under Article 42.13, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, and license suspension under Section 29, Chapter 173, Acts of the 47th Legislature, Regular Session, 1941, as amended (Article 6687b, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), for an offense committed before the effective date of this Act are governed by the law as it existed when the offense occurred, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose. For purposes of this Act, an offense is committed before the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense occurs before the effective date.

Section 2 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 58, ch. 35, provides:

The legislature intends, in enacting this legislation that epilepsy be treated as are other disabilities and diseases under the authority of Subdivision 8, Section 4, Chapter 173, Acts of the 47th Legislature, Regular Session, 1941, as amended (Article 6687b, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), in determining eligibility for an operator’s, commercial operator’s, or chauffeur’s license, and as other disabilities and diseases are treated under the authority of Section 22 of that Act, as amended, in determining grounds for suspension or revocation of a license.

Art. 6687-1. Certificate of Title Act

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 1a]

“Motor Vehicle” Defined

Sec. 2. The term “motor vehicle” means every kind of motor driven or propelled vehicle now or hereafter required to be registered or licensed under the laws of this state, including trailers, house trailers, and semitrailers, and shall also include motorcycles, whether required to be registered or not, except motorcycles designed and used exclusively on golf courses. "Motor vehicle" does not include a motor-assisted bicycle as defined in the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

1 See art. 6701d, § 21(m).

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2a to 2c]

"Motorcycle" Defined

Sec. 2d. The term "motorcycle" means every motor vehicle designed to propel itself on not more than three wheels in contact with the ground.

"Motor Vehicle" and "House Trailer" not to include "Manufactured Housing"

Sec. 2e. The terms "motor vehicle" and "house trailer" do not include "manufactured housing" as defined in the Texas Manufactured Housing Standards Act, as amended (Article 5221f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3 to 29]

Vehicles Brought into State: Sale of Vehicles; Liens or Encumbrances

Sec. 30. (a) Before any motor vehicle which was last registered and titled, or registered in some other state or country may be registered and titled in Texas, the applicant shall furnish to the designated agent a certificate as required under Section 142A, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as added (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

No designated agent shall accept any application for registration and a certificate of title until the provisions of this Section have been complied with.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 30(b) to 34]

Transfer by Operation of Law; New Certificate

Sec. 35. When the ownership of a motor vehicle registered or licensed within this State is transferred by operation of law, as upon inheritance, devise or bequest, bankruptcy, receivership, judicial sale, or any other involuntary divestiture of ownership, the Department shall issue a new certificate of title upon being provided with a certified copy of the order appointing a temporary administrator or of the probate proceedings, or letters testamentary or of administration, if any (if no administration is necessary, then upon affidavit showing such fact and all of the heirs at law and specification by the heirs as to in whose name the certificate shall issue), or order, or bill of sale from the officer making the judicial sale. If the security interest or other lien is foreclosed in accordance with law by nonjudicial means, the affidavit of the secured party or other mortgagee of the fact of the nonjudicial foreclosure in accordance with law is sufficient to authorize the Department to issue a new certificate of title in the name of the purchaser at the foreclosure sale. If the foreclosure is of a constitutional or statutory lien, the affidavit of the mortgagee of the fact of the creation of the lien and of the divestiture of title by reason thereof in accordance with law and proof of notice as required by Article 5504a, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, are sufficient to authorize the Department to issue a new certificate of title in the name of the purchaser. If an agreement providing for right of survivorship is signed by the husband and wife, upon the death of either spouse the Department shall issue a new certificate of title to the surviving spouse upon being provided with a copy of the death certificate of the deceased spouse.

Art. 6687-2. Automobile Salvage Dealers

(a) In this article:

(1) "Automobile salvage dealer" means an individual, corporation, association, partnership, organization, or other entity engaged in the business of obtaining abandoned, wrecked, or junked motor vehicles or motor vehicle parts for scrap disposal, resale, repairing, rebuilding, demolition, or other form of salvage.

(2) "Major component part" means the front end assembly or tail section of an automobile, the cab of a truck (light or heavy), the bed of a one ton or lighter truck, or a vehicle part that contains or should contain a federal safety sticker, motor number, serial number, manufacturer's permanent vehicle identification number, or a derivative of a vehicle identification number.

(3) "Front-end assembly" means the hood, right and left front fender, grill, bumper, radiator, and radiator support, if two or more such parts are assembled together as one unit.

(4) "Tail section" means the roof, floor pan, right and left rear quarter panel, deck lid, and rear bumper, if two or more of such parts are assembled together as one unit.

(5) "Federal safety sticker" means a sticker, label, or tag required by 15 U.S.C. Section 1403 or rules adopted under that section.

(b) An automobile salvage dealer shall not receive a motor vehicle described in Subsection (a) of this article, unless the dealer first obtains a certificate of authority, sales receipt, or transfer document under Sections 5 and 11, respectively, Texas Abandoned Motor Vehicle Act (Article 6687-9, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or a Certificate of Title showing that there are no liens on the vehicle or that all recorded liens have been released. On receipt of a vehicle, an automobile salvage dealer shall immediately remove any unexpired license plates from the motor vehicle and place them in a secure, locked place. An inventory list of such plates showing the license number, the make, the motor number, and the vehicle identification number of the motor vehicle from which such plates were removed shall be maintained on forms to be furnished by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. Upon demand the Certificate of Title or authority, the sales receipt, or transfer document, the license plates, and inventory lists shall be surrendered to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for cancellation. It is further provided that all Certificates of Title covering such motor vehicles shall be surrendered to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for cancellation. It shall thereafter be the duty of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to furnish a signed receipt for the surrendered license plates and Certificates of Title.

(c) An automobile salvage dealer shall keep an accurate and legible inventory of each major component part purchased by or delivered to him, as follows:

(1) date of purchase or delivery;
(2) name, age, address, sex, and driver's license number of the seller;
(3) the license number of the motor vehicle used to deliver the major component part;
(4) a complete description of the item purchased;
(5) the vehicle identification number of the motor vehicle from which a major component part was removed.

(d) In lieu of the requirements contained in Subsection (c) of this article, an automobile salvage dealer may record the name of the dismantler and the Texas Certificate of Inventory number.

(e) An automobile salvage dealer shall keep all records required to be kept by this article for one year after the date of sale or disposal of the item, and he shall allow an inspection of the records by a peace officer at any reasonable time. A peace officer may inspect the inventory on the premises of the automobile salvage dealer at any reasonable time in order to verify, check, or audit the records. An automobile salvage dealer shall allow and shall not interfere with a full and complete inspection by a peace officer of the inventory, premises, and records of the dealer.

(f) A peace officer may seize, hold, and dispose of according to the Code of Criminal Procedure a motor
Art. 6687-6. Secondhand Vehicle Transfers

The current year registration license receipt and the properly assigned Certificate of Title or other evidence of title required to be delivered to the transferee of a used or secondhand vehicle under the terms of Article 6687-5, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, shall be filed by the transferee within twenty (20) working days of the date of transfer with the County Tax Assessor-Collector of the county in which the transferee resides as an application for transfer of title as required under the Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and as an application for transfer of license and in addition to the fees required under the Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), for the transfer of title of there shall be paid a transfer fee of fifty cents (50¢) for the transfer of registration; provided that if said transferee does not file said applications within twenty (20) working days a penalty or fee of Five Dollars ($5) shall be paid upon the filing of such application and such penalty shall be collected for each vehicle upon application filed by the transferee. The Tax Assessor-Collector and his bondsmen shall be liable for the penalty herein provided in the event such penalty is not collected. For his services under this Act the County Tax Assessor-Collector shall retain as compensation one-half (½) of fees collected for transfer of registration and one-half (½) of any penalties collected for delinquent filing of applications and the other one-half (½) such fees and penalties shall be reported and remitted to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation on Monday of each week as other registration fees are now required to be reported and remitted. Upon receipt of an application for transfer of Certificate of Title and registration the application for transfer of title shall be handled by the Tax Assessor-Collector as provided under the Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and in addition the Department shall issue or cause to be issued a transfer of registration receipt on the application for transfer of registration. The Department may promulgate such reasonable rules and regulations and prescribe such forms as it shall deem necessary to carry out the orderly operation of this Act. It is expressly provided that upon the transfer of any vehicle from one person to another in the State of Texas, all papers or documents relating to or supporting transfer of registration and/or Certificate of Title shall be executed in full and dated as of the date of such transfer, and any person who shall transfer a vehicle and execute such papers or documents as provided for herein wholly or partly in blank leaving out any information that is required to be furnished, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined in any sum not less than Fifty Dollars ($50) and not exceeding Two Hundred Dollars ($200). It is further provided that any transferee who accepts transfer papers as herein provided executed wholly or partly in blank or any person who alters, changes, or mutilates such transfer papers, or whoever violates any provision of this Section for which no specific penalty is provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined in any sum not less than Fifty Dollars ($50) nor exceeding Two Hundred Dollars ($200). In this Article, the term "working day" means any day except Saturday, Sunday, or a holiday on which county offices are closed.

Sec. 2 of the 1979 amendatory act provided:
"The time limit for filing a transfer of title and registration for a used or secondhand vehicle transferred before the effective date of this Act is covered by the law in effect when the transfer occurred. The former law is continued in effect for the enforcement of that time limit and the prosecution of violations."

Art. 6687-9. Abandoned Motor Vehicle Act

Notification of Owner and Lien Holders

Sec. 4. (a) A police department which takes into custody an abandoned motor vehicle shall notify within 10 days thereof, by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, the last known registered owner of the motor vehicle and all lien holders of record pursuant to the Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), that the vehicle has been taken into custody. The notice shall describe the year, make, model, and vehicle identification number of the abandoned motor vehicle, set forth the location of the facility where the motor vehicle is being held, inform the owner and any lien holders of their right to reclaim the motor vehicle within 20 days after the date of the notice upon payment of all towing, preservation, and storage charges resulting from placing the vehicle in custody, or garagekeepers' charges if notice is pursuant to the provisions of Section 6 of this Article dealing with garagekeepers and abandoned vehicles. Further, the said notice shall state that the failure of the owner or lien holders to exercise their right to reclaim the vehicle within the time provided shall be deemed a waiver by the owner and all lien holders of all right, title, and interest in the vehicle and their consent to the sale of the abandoned motor vehicle at a public auction.

(b) If the identity of the last registered owner cannot be determined, or if the registration contains no address for the owner; or if it is impossible to determine with reasonable certainty the identity and addresses of all lien holders, notice by one publication in one newspaper of general circulation in the area where the motor vehicle was abandoned shall be sufficient to meet all requirements of notice pursuant to this Article. Such notice by publication can contain multiple listings of abandoned vehicles. Any such notice shall be within the time requirements prescribed for notice by registered or certified mail and shall have the same contents required for a notice by registered or certified mail.

(c) The consequences and effect of failure to reclaim an abandoned motor vehicle shall be as set forth in a valid notice given pursuant to this section.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, a police department or its agent which takes into custody an abandoned vehicle as defined by Subdivision (2), Section 2 of this Act, is entitled to reasonable storage fees for a maximum of 10 days only until notification is mailed to the last known registered owner and all lien holders of record as provided by Subsection (a) of this section. After such notice is mailed, storage fees may continue until the vehicle is removed and all accrued charges are paid.

Garagekeepers and Abandoned Motor Vehicles

Sec. 6. (a) Any motor vehicle left for more than 10 days in a storage facility operated for commercial purposes after notice by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, to the owner and all lien holders of record under the Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), to pick up the vehicle (if such notice is returned by the post office unclaimed, notice by one publication in one newspaper of general circulation in the area where the vehicle was left in such storage facility shall constitute notification), or for more than 10 days after the period when, pursuant to contract, the vehicle was to remain on the premises of such storage facility, and any motor vehicle left for more than 10 days in such storage facility by someone other than the registered owner or left by a person authorized to have possession of the motor vehicle under a contract of use, service, storage, or repair, shall be deemed an abandoned vehicle, and shall be reported by the garagekeeper to the police department.

(b) If a garagekeeper or storage facility acquires possession of a motor vehicle for a purpose other than repair, the garagekeeper or storage facility is entitled to towing, preservation, and notification charges and to reasonable storage fees, in addition to storage fees earned pursuant to contract, for a maximum of 10 days only until notification is mailed to the last known registered owner and all lien holders of record as provided by Subsection (a) of this section. After such notice is mailed, storage fees may continue until the vehicle is removed and all accrued charges are paid. Any garagekeeper who fails to report the possession of such a vehicle to the police department within 10 days after it becomes abandoned within the meaning of this section shall no longer have any claim for storage of the vehicle.

(c) The police department, upon receipt of a report from a garagekeeper of the possession of a vehicle deemed abandoned under the provisions of this section shall follow the notification procedures set forth in Section 4 of this Article, except that custody of the vehicle shall remain with the garagekeeper until after the notification requirements have been complied with. A fee of $2 shall accompany the report of the garagekeeper to the police department. The $2 fee shall be retained by the police department receiving the report and used to defray the cost of notification or other cost incurred in the disposition of abandoned motor vehicles, and where the Texas Department of Public Safety is the “police department” this fee shall be deposited in the state treasury and shall be used to defray the cost of administering this Act. All abandoned vehicles left in storage facilities which are not reclaimed after such notice in accordance with procedures set forth in Section 4 of this Article shall be taken into custody by the police department and sold in accordance with the procedure set forth in Section 5 of this Article. The proceeds of a sale under the provisions of this Section shall first be applied to the garagekeeper’s charges for servicing, storage and repair; provided, however, that as compensation for the expense incurred by the police department in placing the vehicle in custody and the expense of auction the police department shall retain an amount of two percent of the gross proceeds of the sale of each vehicle auctioned, but in case such percent of the gross proceeds shall be less than $10, the department shall retain the sum of $10 to defray expenses of custody and auction. Further, it is provided that when the Texas Department of Public Safety conducts the auction, the aforementioned compensation shall be deposited in the State Treasury and shall be used to defray the expense incurred. Any surplus proceeds remaining from such auction shall be distributed in accordance with Section 5 of this Article. Except for the termination or limitation of claim for storage for failure to report an abandoned motor vehicle, nothing in this section shall be construed to impair any lien of a garagekeeper under the laws of this State.

Duties of Demolishers

Sec. 8. (a) Any demolisher who purchases or otherwise acquires a motor vehicle for purposes of wrecking, dismantling, or demolition shall obtain a valid certificate of title, sales receipt, or transfer document under Sections 5 and 11, respectively, of this Act or certificate of authority from the person delivering the vehicle for demolition, but is not required to obtain a certificate of title for such motor vehicle in his own name. The demolisher shall, upon demand of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, surrender for cancellation the certificate of title or authority. The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall issue such forms, rules, and regulations governing the surrender of auction sales receipts and certificates of title as are appropriate. The Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), shall govern the cancellation of title of the motor vehicle.

City or County Procedures for Abating Nuisance

Sec. 10. Any city, town, or county within this State may adopt procedures for the abatement and removal of junked vehicles or parts thereof, as public nuisances, from private property, public property or public rights-of-way; provided, however, that any such procedures shall contain:

(a) A provision requiring not less than a ten (10) day notice, stating the nature of the public nuisance on private property and that it must be removed and abated within ten (10) days and further that a request for a hearing must be made before expiration of said ten (10) day period, such notice to be mailed, by certified or registered mail with a 5-day return requested, to the last known registered owner of the motor vehicle and all lien holders of record and to the owner or the occupant of the premises whereupon such public nuisance exists. If any notice is returned undelivered by the United States Post Office, official action to abate said nuisance shall be continued to a date not less than ten (10) days from the date of such return.

(b) A provision requiring not less than a ten (10) day notice, stating the nature of the public nuisance on public property or on a public right-of-way and that it must be removed and abated within ten (10) days and further that a request for a hearing must be made before expiration of said ten (10) day period, such notice to be mailed, by certified or registered mail with a 5-day return requested, to the last known registered owner of the motor vehicle and all lien holders of record and to the owner or the occupant of the premises whereupon such public nuisance exists. If any notice is returned undelivered by the United States Post Office, official action to abate said nuisance shall be continued to a date not less than ten (10) days from the date of such return.

(c) A provision that after a vehicle has been removed it shall not be reconstructed or made operable.

(d) A provision requiring a public hearing prior to the removal of the vehicle or part thereof as a public nuisance, to be held before the governing body of the city, town, or county or any other board, commission, or official of the city, town, or county as designated by the governing body, when such a hearing is requested by the owner or occupant of the public or private premises or by the owner or occupant of the premises adjacent to the public right-of-way on which said vehicle is located, within ten (10) days after service of notice to abate the nuisance. Any resolution or order requiring the removal of a vehicle or part thereof shall include a description of the vehicle, and the correct identification number and license number of the vehicle, if available at the site.

(e) A provision requiring notice to be given to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation within five days after the date of removal identifying the vehicle or part thereof. Said Department shall forthwith cancel the certificate of title to such vehicle pursuant to the Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

(f) A provision that such procedure shall not apply to (1) a vehicle or part thereof which is completely enclosed within a building in a lawful manner where it is not visible from the street or other public or private property, (2) a vehicle or part thereof which is stored or parked in a lawful manner on private property in connection with the business of a licensed vehicle dealer or a junkyard or (3) unlicensed, operable or inoperable antique and special interest vehicles stored by a collector on his property, provided that the vehicles and the outdoor storage areas are maintained in such a manner that they do not constitute a health hazard and are screened from ordinary public view by means of a fence, rapidly growing trees, shrubbery, or other appropriate means.

(g) A provision for administration of the procedures by regularly salaried, full-time employees of the city, town, or county except that the removal of vehicles or parts thereof from property may be by any other duly authorized person.

(h) A provision for the filing of a complaint in an appropriate court for the violation of maintaining a public nuisance, if the nuisance is not removed and abated, and a hearing is not requested, within the ten (10) day period provided in Subsections (a) and (b). If a person is found guilty of maintaining a public nuisance as defined in Section 9 of this Act, the person shall be punished by a fine not to exceed two hundred dollars ($200) and the court shall order removal and abatement of the nuisance.

Repeal

Art. 6701a

Permits for Heavy Trucks on Highways

Sec. 1. When any person, firm or corporation shall desire to operate over a state highway super-heavy or over-size equipment for the transportation of cylindrically shaped bales of hay or such commodities as cannot be reasonably dismantled, where the gross weight or size exceeds the limits allowed by law to be transported over a state highway the State Highway Department may, upon application, issue a permit for the operation of said equipment with said commodities, when said State Highway Department is of the opinion that the same may be operated without material damage to the highway. Provided, however, that all cities and towns having a state highway within their limits shall designate to the State Highway Department the route within the city or town to be used by said equipment operating over the state highway. When so designated, the route shall be shown on all maps routing said equipment with said commodities by the State Highway Department. In the event a route is not so designated by a city or town, the State Highway Department shall determine the route on the state highway for equipment within such cities or towns.

Art. 6701a–2. Portable Buildings; Movement of Overlength and Overwidth on Highways; Permits; Fees

A. When any person, firm, or corporation shall desire to move over a state highway one or more portable building units which in combination with the towing vehicle are in excess of the legal length or width provided by law, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation may, upon application, issue a permit for the movement of said super-heavy or over-size equipment on the route of a state highway designated by the State Highway Department, or on said special route designated by a city or town.

No fee or license shall be required by any city or town for movement of said portable building units on the route of a state highway designated by the state highway department or on said special route designated by a city or town.

B. The application for a permit as provided for in this article shall be in writing and contain the following:

1. The make and model of the portable building unit or units, the overall length and width, the make and model of the towing vehicle, the length and width of the towing vehicle, and the overall length and width of the combined portable building unit or units and towing vehicle;

2. The highway or highways over which the same is to be moved, indicating the point of origin and destination;

3. The date and signature of the applicant.

C. The special permits shall be issued by the highway department through the agent or agents in each county designated for that purpose as set out in Section 1–a, Article 6701a of this title.

D. There shall also accompany the application for permit a fee of $5, which fee shall be deposited by the highway department in the State Treasury to the credit of the State Highway Fund. Said fee shall be paid by cashier's or certified check or postal or express money order.

E. Permits issued by the state highway department as provided for under this article shall be substantially in the following form:

1. Permits shall contain the name of the applicant and shall be dated and signed by the State Engineer-Director for Highways and Public Transportation, a division engineer, or a designated agent.

2. Permits shall state the make and model of the portable building unit or units to be transported over the highways, the make and model of the towing vehicle, and the combined overall length and width of the portable building unit or units and towing vehicle.

3. Permits shall state the highway or highways over which the same is to be moved.

F. Said special permits shall be good for a period of 10 days and valid only for a single continuous movement.

G. Movements authorized by said special permits shall be made during daylight hours only.

Art. 6701c–1. Commercial Vehicles or Truck-tractors; Operation by Other Than Owner

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Filing Copy of Lease, Memorandum or Agreement; Letter of Acknowledgment; Copies Carried in Cab; Display; Exceptions

Sec. 2. No commercial motor vehicle nor any truck-tractor shall be operated over any public highway of this state by any person other than the registered owner thereof, or his agent, servant or employee under the supervision, direction, and control of such registered owner unless such other person under whose supervision, direction and control said motor vehicle or truck-tractor is operated shall have caused to be filed with the Department an executed copy of the lease, memorandum or agreement under which such commercial motor vehicle or truck-tractor is being operated.

Immediately upon receipt thereof, the Department shall deliver or mail forthwith to the lessee of such motor vehicle or truck-tractor, a letter of acknowledgment thereof, with the official stamp or seal of the Department affixed to such letter.

Such letter of acknowledgment shall contain:
1. The names of the lessor and lessee and their addresses;
2. The term of the lease;
3. The make, and motor or serial number of the vehicle covered by such lease; and
4. Such other data as the Department may determine.

For the purposes of this Act, a lease, memorandum or agreement shall not be considered as filed with the Department unless and until the lessee of such motor vehicle or truck-tractor shall have mailed by certified mail a duly executed copy of said lease, memorandum or agreement in the United States Mail properly addressed to the Department, and at the time of said mailing obtaining from the Post Office a receipt for certified mail properly marked by the Post Office Clerk showing the date and place of mailing.

The lessee of said motor vehicle or truck-tractor shall have in the cab thereof during the first fifteen (15) days of operation under said lease, memorandum or agreement a true copy of said lease, memorandum or agreement, together with the letter of transmittal of such lease to the Department, as well as said receipt for certified mail, which shall be effective for a period not to exceed fifteen (15) days from the date issued. Following the expiration of said fifteen (15) day period the lessee of said motor vehicle or truck-tractor shall have in the cab thereof at all times while such motor vehicle or truck-tractor is being operated on the roads or highways of this state, a true copy of the original letter of acknowledgment, as provided herein, with the official stamp or seal of the Department affixed thereto. Such letter of acknowledgment, or an effective receipt for certified mail, must be displayed to any officer authorized to enforce this law, upon request of such officer.

The operation of any such leased motor vehicle or truck-tractor over the public highways or roads of this state without having in the cab thereof such letter of acknowledgment from the Department with its official stamp or seal affixed thereto, or an effective receipt for certified mail, as well as the letter of transmittal and copy of said lease, memorandum or agreement, as provided for herein, shall be unlawful.

Wherever the word “Department” is used herein it means “Department of Public Safety of the State of Texas.”

Provided, however, that this Act shall not apply to any vehicle lawfully registered as a farm vehicle under the provisions of Acts of the 41st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1929, Chapter 88, page 172, Section 6a, as amended by subsequent session of the Legislature and as codified as Article 6675a-6a, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas. And provided further, that this Act shall not apply to motor vehicles, commercial motor vehicles, and truck-tractors used exclusively to transport sand, gravel, dirt, caliche, shell, cement, ready-mix concrete, asphalt rock, and aggregate; nor shall this Act apply to such vehicles as are used exclusively in the transportation of sand, gravel, dirt, caliche, shell, cement, ready-mix concrete, asphalt rock, aggregate, and other similar road-building substances ordinarily transported in bulk when such substances are being transported or from the job site of any construction project being performed for or on behalf of the Federal Government, the State of Texas or any political subdivision thereof, or to or from the construction site of any national defense project, airport and roadways leading thereto, or to or from the construction site of any road, highway, and expressway; nor shall the requirements of this Act apply to any motor vehicle or truck-tractor which is used exclusively in the transportation of liquefied petroleum gases when such vehicle is being operated in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 363, page 612, Acts 52nd Legislature, 1951, and the provisions of Article 6053, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and the rules and regulations adopted by the Railroad Commission of Texas governing the handling and odorization of liquefied petroleum gases and specifications for the design, construction and installation of equipment used in the transportation, storage, dispensing, and consumption of liquefied petroleum gases. And provided further, that this Act shall not apply to commercial motor vehicles and truck-tractors leased or rented:

(a) without drivers from an individual, person, copartnership, association or corporation whose principal business is the bona fide leasing or renting of motor vehicle equipment without drivers for compensation to the general public;

(b) and who maintain an established place of business and whose lease or rental contracts require the motor vehicle equipment to return to the established place of business;

(c) and who have dated and filed within ten (10) days of January 1st, April 1st, July 1st, and October 1st of each year, with the Department of Public Safety, a complete list giving a full description of all such commercial motor vehicles and truck-tractors owned by such individual, person, co-partnership, association or corporation, as of the date of the report, and available for lease or rent without drivers for compensation. The first complete list filed herein must be accompanied by a fee of One ($1.00) Dollar for each vehicle listed therein, together with a photostat or certified copy of the registration or title papers on every such motor vehicle; however, no such fee need be filed in subsequent quarterly filings unless such subsequent list contains additional equipment, in which event a fee of One ($1.00) Dollar, together with photostat or certified copy of the registration or title papers on such additional equipment shall be filed. Provided, however, that the provisions of this Act shall not apply to motor vehicles, commercial motor vehicles, and truck-tractors used exclusively to transport household goods, used office furniture and equipment.

If for any reason any one or more of the foregoing exceptions contained in this Act is unconstitutional or invalid, it is hereby declared to be the intention of the Legislature to enact, and it does here now enact, and pass, this Act without any such exception, one or more, if any such exception, one or more, be invalid, then such exception alone shall fail and be held for naught, and the remainder of the Act shall be and remain unimpaired, and it is so enacted.

Sec. 3. When any such lease, memorandum, or agreement, as required by Section 2 of this Act, shall have been filed with the Department covering the operation of any commercial motor vehicle or truck-tractor, no further such lease, memorandum, or agreement covering the operation of the same commercial motor vehicle or truck-tractor may be accepted by the Department for filing, except a lease between regulated carriers subject to the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission of Texas or the Interstate Commerce Commission, that the operation of such vehicle shall be under the full and complete control and supervision of the person other than the registered owner, that the person other than the registered owner shall provide for each vehicle during the term of such lease, memorandum or agreement proof of financial responsibility as defined in the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act, as amended (Article 6701h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and shall state that such commercial motor vehicle or vehicles or truck-tractors are not the subject of any other such lease, memorandum, or agreement which shall have been filed with the Department of Public Safety in accordance with Section 2 of this Act and which is still in effect, unless the lease, memorandum, or agreement is otherwise required by law.

All information contained in any lease, memorandum, or agreement filed with the Department as required by Section 2 of this Act shall, with the exception of the name and address of the registered owner, the name and address of the person other than the owner, under whose supervision, direction and control the same is being operated, and a full description of the commercial motor vehicle or truck-tractor covered thereby, shall be for the confidential use of the Department; except, however, that the Department of Public Safety may make such information available to the law enforcement officers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and may further use such information in any judicial proceeding brought in the name of the State of Texas.

Sec. 4. Such lease, memorandum, or agreement as required by Section 2 of this Act shall contain or provide, but shall not be limited to, the name and address of the registered owner of such commercial motor vehicle or truck-tractor, the name and address of the person other than the owner under whose supervision, direction, and control the vehicle will be operated, the actual consideration, the term, the commodity or commodities to be transported under such lease, memorandum, or agreement and a full description of the commercial motor vehicle or vehicles or truck-tractors covered thereby, and except as to leases between regulated carriers subject to the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission of Texas or the Interstate Commerce Commission, that the operation of such vehicle shall be under the full and complete control and supervision of the person other than the registered owner, that the person other than the registered owner shall provide for each vehicle during the term of such lease, memorandum or agreement proof of financial responsibility as defined in the Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-Responsibility Act, as amended (Article 6701h, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and shall state that such commercial motor vehicle or vehicles or truck-tractors are not the subject of any other such lease, memorandum, or agreement which shall have been filed with the Department of Public Safety in accordance with Section 2 of this Act and which is still in effect, unless the lease, memorandum, or agreement is otherwise required by law.

All information contained in any lease, memorandum, or agreement filed with the Department as required by Section 2 of this Act shall, with the exception of the name and address of the registered owner, the name and address of the person other than the owner, under whose supervision, direction and control the same is being operated, and a full description of the commercial motor vehicle or truck-tractor covered thereby, shall be for the confidential use of the Department; except, however, that the Department of Public Safety may make such information available to the law enforcement officers of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and may further use such information in any judicial proceeding brought in the name of the State of Texas.

Sec. 2. No person under 18 years of age may operate a motorcycle on a public street or highway of this state unless he wears protective headgear which has been approved by the Department of Public Safety, nor may any person carry a passenger under 18 years of age on a motorcycle on a public

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

SUBDIVISION I—VEHICLES AND EQUIPMENT DEFINED

Vehicles

Sec. 2.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2(a) to 2(c)]

(d) “Authorized Emergency Vehicle” means vehicles of the fire department (fire patrol), police vehicles, public and private ambulances for which permits have been issued by the State Board of Health, emergency vehicles of municipal departments or public service corporations as are designated or authorized by the governing body of an incorporated city, private vehicles operated by volunteer firemen or certified Emergency Medical Services volunteers while answering a fire alarm or responding to a medical emergency, and vehicles operated by blood banks or tissue banks, accredited or approved under the laws of this state or the United States, while making emergency deliveries of blood, drugs or medicines, or organs.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2(e) to 8]

SUBDIVISION II—GOVERNMENTAL AGENCIES, PERSONS, OWNERS, ETC., DEFINED

Director, Department, State, Urban District, Metropolitan Area

Sec. 9.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 9(a) to 9(d)]

(e) “Metropolitan area” means an area which contains at least one city with a population of one hundred thousand (100,000) or more, according to the latest federal census, and includes the adjacent incorporated cities and unincorporated urban districts.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 10 to 12]

SUBDIVISION III—HIGHWAYS, RESTRICTED DISTRICTS, ZONES, ETC., DEFINED

Highways, Roads, Streets, Sidewalks, Freeways and Ramps

Sec. 13.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 13(a) to 13(h)]

(i) “Freeway” means a divided, controlled access highway for through traffic.

(j) “Freeway main lane” means a traffic lane to which access is controlled, permitting uninterrupted flow of through traffic.

(k) “Ramp” means an interconnecting roadway of a traffic interchange, or any connection between highways at different levels or between parallel highways, on which vehicles may enter or leave a designated roadway.

(l) “Shoulder” means the portion of a highway that is:

(1) contiguous to the roadway;

(2) designed or ordinarily used for parking;

(3) set off from the roadway by different design, construction, or marking; and

(4) not intended for normal vehicular travel.

(m) “Improved shoulder” means a paved shoulder.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 14 to 17]

Public Beach

Sec. 17A. “Public beach” shall mean any beach bordering on the Gulf of Mexico which extends inland from the line of mean low tide to the natural line of vegetation bordering on the seaward shore of the Gulf of Mexico, or such larger contiguous area to which the public has acquired a right of use or easement to or over by prescription, dedication, or estoppel, or has retained a right by virtue of continuous right in the public since time immemorial as recognized by law or custom.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 18 to 20]

SUBDIVISION IV—MISCELLANEOUS DEFINITIONS

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 20A to 20H]

Normally and Safely Driven

Sec. 20J. “Normally and safely driven” means the vehicle does not require towing and can be operated under its own power in its customary manner, without further damage or hazard to the vehicle, other traffic, or the roadway.
Art. 6701d  ROADS, BRIDGES, AND FERRIES

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 21 to 23]

Sec. 24.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 24(a) to 24(c)]

(d) The exemptions herein granted to an authorized emergency vehicle shall apply only when such vehicle is making use of audible and visual signals meeting the requirements of Section 124 of this Act, except that an authorized emergency vehicle operated as a police vehicle need not be equipped with or display a red light visible from in front of the vehicle. The driver of an authorized emergency vehicle that is used for law enforcement purposes may operate without using the emergency warning devices required by this subsection only when the driver is responding to an emergency call or when he or she is in pursuit of a suspected violator of the law and he or she has probable cause to believe that:

1. knowledge of his or her presence will cause the suspect to destroy or lose evidence of a suspected felony;
2. knowledge of his or her presence will cause the suspect to cease a suspected continuing felony before the driver has acquired sufficient evidence to establish grounds for arrest;
3. knowledge of his or her presence will cause the suspect to evade apprehension or identification of the suspect or his or her vehicle; or
4. traffic conditions on a multilaned roadway are such that movements of motorists in response to the emergency warning devices may increase the potential for a collision or may unreasonably extend the duration of the pursuit.

(d-1) The driver of an authorized emergency vehicle that is used for law enforcement purposes may not operate without using the emergency warning devices as provided above unless he or she has first notified a designated office of his or her intention to operate without such devices. The designated office to which such notification is made shall keep an accurate record of the exact time notification is received.

Speed Limit Applicability on Private Roads

Sec. 28A. (a) The owners of a majority of the parcels of real property abutting a private road that is outside the limits of an incorporated city or town and that runs through or in any part of a subdivision for which a plat has been filed in the deed records of a county and which has four hundred (400) or more residents may submit to the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission a petition for the purpose of having the speed restrictions of this Act extended to the portion of the road that is within the subdivision.

(b) After receiving a petition and verifying the property ownership of the signers of the petition, if the commission finds that it would be in the interests of the residents of the area and the public generally, the commission shall issue an order making the speed restrictions of this Act applicable to the portion of the private road that is the subject of the petition.

(c) If the commission rejects a petition submitted under this section, the commission shall hold a public hearing in the county in which the portion of the private road that is the subject of the petition is located, on the question of the advisability of including the private road within the scope of the speed restrictions of this Act. The commission shall cause notice of the public hearing to be published at least ten (10) days before the date of the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the hearing is scheduled.

(d) At the hearing, if the commission finds that it would be in the interests of the residents of the area and the public generally, the commission shall issue an order extending the speed restrictions of this Act to a private road, the private road becomes a public highway for purposes of setting and enforcing speed restrictions under this Act. After issuance of an order under this section, the commission shall cause signs stating speed limits to be posted on property abutting the private road, with the consent of the owners of the property on which the signs are placed.

Accident Involving Damage to Vehicle

Sec. 39. The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting only in damage to a vehicle which is driven or attended by any person shall immediately stop such vehicle at the scene of such accident or as close thereto as possible without obstructing traffic more than is necessary but shall forthwith return to and in every event shall remain at the scene of such accident until he has fulfilled the requirements of Section 40. However, when an accident occurs on a main lane, ramp, shoulder, median, or adjacent area of a freeway in a metropolitan area and each vehicle involved can be normally and safely driven, each driver shall move his vehicle as soon as possible off the freeway main lanes, ramps, shoulders, medians, and adjacent areas to a designated accident investigation site, if available, a location on the freeway, the nearest suitable cross street, or other suitable location to complete the requirements of Section 40, so as to minimize interference with the freeway traffic. Any person failing to stop or to comply with said requirements under such circumstances shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.
Duty to Give Information and Render Aid

Sec. 40. The driver of any vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury to or death of any person or damage to any vehicle which is driven or attended by any person shall give his name, address, and the registration number of the vehicle he is driving and the name of his motor vehicle liability insurer, and shall upon request and if available exhibit his operator's, commercial operator's, or chauffeur's license to the person struck or the driver or occupant of or person attending any vehicle colliding with and shall render to any person injured in such accident reasonable assistance, including the carrying, or the making of arrangements for the carrying, of such person to a physician, surgeon, or hospital for medical or surgical treatment if it is apparent that such treatment is necessary or if such carrying is requested by the injured person.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 41 and 42]

Immediate Reports of Accidents

Sec. 43. The driver of a vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury to or death of any person or damage to any vehicle to the extent that it cannot be normally and safely driven shall immediately by the quickest means of communication give notice of such accident to the local police department if such accident occurs within a municipality, otherwise to the office of the county sheriff or the nearest office of the Texas Highway Patrol.

Investigation of Accidents

Sec. 43A. A peace officer notified of a motor vehicle accident resulting in injury to or death of any person or damage to the property of any one person to an apparent extent of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250) or more may investigate the accident and file any justifiable charges relating thereto without regard to whether the accident occurred on a public street or highway or other public property, on a road owned and controlled by any water control and improvement district, on private property commonly used by the public such as supermarket or shopping center parking lots, parking areas provided by business establishments for the convenience of their customers, clients, or patrons, parking lots owned and operated by the State or any other parking area owned and operated for the convenience of, and commonly used by, the public. It is specifically provided, however, that this Section shall not apply to accidents occurring on privately owned residential parking areas or on privately owned parking lots where a fee is charged for the privilege of parking or storing a motor vehicle.

Written Reports of Accident

Sec. 44. (a) The driver of a vehicle involved in an accident resulting in injury to or death of any person, or damage to the property of any one person, including himself, to an apparent extent of at least Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($250), shall within ten (10) days after such accident forward a written report of such accident to the Department. Any person who shall fail to make such a report shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished as provided in Section 143. The venue for the prosecution of such offense shall be in the county where the accident occurred.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 44(b) and (c)]

Accident Report Forms

Sec. 45. (a) The department shall prepare and upon request supply to police departments, sheriffs, garages, and other suitable agencies or individuals, forms for accident reports required hereunder, appropriate with respect to the persons required to make such reports and the purposes to be served. The written reports to be made by person involved in accidents and by investigating officers shall call for sufficiently detailed information to disclose with reference to a traffic accident the cause, conditions then existing, and the persons and vehicle involved. Also, the forms for the written reports shall include a means for designating and identifying peace officers and fire fighters who during an emergency are involved in accidents while driving law enforcement vehicles or fire department vehicles in pursuit of their duties. The forms shall also contain a statement by the peace officers and fire fighters describing the nature of the emergency.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 45(b) to 49]

Persons Under the Influence of Drugs

Sec. 50. (a) A person may not intentionally or knowingly operate a motor vehicle in a public place intended for the use of motor vehicles if the person is under the influence of a controlled substance or drug to a degree that renders the person incapable of safely operating a motor vehicle.

(b) A person who operates a motor vehicle in violation of Subsection (a) of this section commits an offense. The fact that any person charged with a violation of this section is or has been entitled to use the controlled substance or drug under the laws of this State is not a defense against any charge of violating this section.

(c) In this section:

(1) "Controlled substance" has the meaning assigned by Section 1.02(5), Texas Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476–15, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(2) "Drug" has the meaning assigned by Section 1.02(14), Texas Controlled Substances Act (Article 4476–15, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(3) "Public place" has the meaning assigned by Section 1.07(29), Penal Code.
(d) An offense under this section is a Class A misdemeanor, unless the actor has been convicted previously under this section, in which case it is a felony of the third degree.

Sec. 50A. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 918, ch. 342, § 16, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 51 to 54]

Operation of Vehicle on Improved Shoulder

Sec. 54A. (a) A driver may operate a vehicle on an improved shoulder to the right of the main traveled portion of the roadway as long as necessary and when the operation may be done in safety only under the following circumstances:

(1) to stop, stand, or park;
(2) to accelerate prior to entering the main traveled lane of traffic;
(3) to decelerate prior to making a right turn;
(4) to overtake and pass another vehicle that is slowing or stopped on the main traveled portion of the highway disabled or preparing to make a left turn;
(5) to allow other vehicles to pass that are traveling at a greater speed;
(6) when permitted or required by an official traffic control device; or
(7) at any time to avoid a collision.

(b) A driver may operate a vehicle on the improved shoulder to the left of the main traveled portion of a divided or controlled-access highway when the operation may be done in safety only under the following conditions:

(1) to slow or stop when the vehicle is disabled and traffic or other circumstances prohibit the safe movement of the vehicle to the shoulder to the right of the main traveled portion of the roadway;
(2) when permitted or required by an official traffic control device; or
(3) to avoid a collision.

(c) The provisions of this section limiting the operation of vehicles upon improved shoulders shall not apply to:

(1) authorized emergency vehicles responding to calls;
(2) police patrols; or
(3) vehicles and equipment actually engaged in work upon a highway but shall apply to such persons and vehicles when traveling to or from such work.

When Overtaking on the Right is Permitted

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 55(a)]

(b) The driver of a vehicle may overtake and pass another vehicle upon the right only under conditions permitting such movement in safety. In no event shall such movement be made by driving off the main traveled portion of the roadway except as provided in Section 54A.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 56 to 70]

ARTICLE VIII—RIGHT-OF-WAY

Vehicles Approaching or Entering Intersection

Sec. 71.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 71(a) to 71(c)]

(d) Except as provided in Subsection (d–1) of this section, the driver of a vehicle approaching the intersection of a different street or roadway, not otherwise regulated herein, or controlled by traffic control signs or signals, shall stop, yield and grant the privilege of immediate use of such intersection to any other vehicle which has entered the intersection from such driver's right or is approaching such intersection from such driver's right in such proximity thereto as to constitute a hazard and after so stopping may only proceed thereafter when such driver may safely enter such intersection without interference or collision with traffic using such different street or roadway.

(d–1) The driver of a vehicle approaching the intersection of a street or roadway from a street or roadway which terminates at the intersection, not otherwise regulated in this section or controlled by traffic control signs or signals, shall stop, yield, and grant the privilege of immediate use of the intersection to another vehicle which has entered the intersection from the other street or roadway or is approaching the intersection on the other street or roadway in such proximity as to constitute a hazard and after stopping may only proceed when the driver may safely enter the intersection without interference or collision with the traffic using the other street or roadway.

(e) A driver obligated to stop and yield the right-of-way in accord with Sections (a), (b), (c), (d), and (d–1) of Section 71, who is involved in a collision or interference with other traffic at such intersection is presumed not to have yielded the right-of-way as required by this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 72 and 73]

Vehicle Entering or Leaving Controlled Access Highway

Sec. 73A. The driver of a vehicle proceeding on an access or feeder road of a controlled access highway shall yield the right-of-way to a vehicle entering or about to enter the road from the highway or leaving or about to leave the road to enter the highway.
ARTICLE XII—STOPPING, STANDING, AND PARKING

Sec. 93. (a) A person may not stop, park, or leave standing any vehicle, whether attended or unattended, upon the main-traveled part of a highway outside of a business or residence district unless:

(1) it is not practicable to stop, park, or so leave such vehicle off such part of said highway;

(2) an unobstructed width of the highway opposite a standing vehicle is left for the free passage of other vehicle; and

(3) a clear view of such stopped vehicle is available from a distance of two hundred (200) feet in each direction upon such highway.

ARTICLE XV—INSPECTION OF VEHICLES

Compulsory Inspection

Sec. 140. (a) Every motor vehicle, trailer, semi-trailer, pole trailer, or mobile home, registered in this state and operated on the highways of this state, shall have the tires, brake system (including power brake unit), lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle, steering system (including power steering), wheel assembly, safety guards or flaps if required by Section 139A of this Act, tax decal if required by Section 141(d) of this Act, exhaust system, and exhaust emission system inspected at state-appointed inspection stations or by State Inspectors as hereinafter provided. Provisions relating to the inspection of trailers, semitrailers, pole trailers, or mobile homes shall not apply when the registered gross weight of such vehicles and the load carried thereon is four thousand five hundred (4,500) pounds or less. Only the mechanism and equipment designated in this section may be inspected, and the owner shall not be required to have any other equipment or part of his motor vehicle inspected as a prerequisite for the issuance of an inspection certificate.

(b) If such inspection discloses the necessity for adjustments, corrections, or repairs, the vehicle shall be adjusted, corrected, or repaired before a certificate is issued as hereinafter provided. The owner may have such adjustments, corrections, or repairs made by such qualified person or persons as he may choose, subject to reinspection as hereinafter provided.

If an inspection discloses the necessity for adjustments, corrections, or repairs, such vehicle shall be reinspected once within fifteen (15) days, not including day of issuance, free of charge at the same inspection station after the adjustments, corrections, or repairs have been made. Any such vehicle under the terms of this Act, if involved in an accident subsequent to the required inspection, which accident affects the safe operation of any item of inspection, shall return to an inspection station after adequate repairs are made. The subsequent inspection shall be as if the vehicle had not been inspected before. The inspection fee shall be charged for reinspection.

(c) Official inspection stations appointed and supervised by the State of Texas shall make all inspections pursuant to the provisions of this Section, except as provided in subdivision (d) hereof. The Department shall cause one (1) inspection to be made in the year commencing with the effective date of this Act, and annually thereafter. If the motor vehicle, trailer, semi-trailer, pole trailer or mobile home, registered in this State, is damaged to the apparent extent that it would require repair before passing state inspection, the investigating officer shall remove the inspection certificate from the vehicle windshield and shall give the operator of the vehicle a dated receipt. Within thirty (30) days of the date indicated on the receipt, the vehicle shall be reinspected. The periods of inspection shall be fixed by the Department, provided, however, that at no time, except as provided in Section 142A of this Act, shall a certificate of inspection or a receipt for a certificate of inspection be required or demanded as a condition precedent to securing a license plate for any motor vehicle, regardless of any period or periods of inspection as may be fixed by the Department. The Department shall have power to make rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, with respect to the periods of inspection.
(e) After the fifth (5th) day following the expiration of the period designated for the inspection, no person shall operate on the highways of this State any motor vehicle registered in this State unless a valid certificate of inspection is displayed thereon as required by this Section. Any peace officer who shall exhibit his badge or other signs of authority may stop any vehicle not displaying this inspection certificate on the windshield and require the owner or operator to produce an official inspection certificate for the Vehicle being operated. It is a defense to a prosecution under this section that a valid inspection certificate for the vehicle is in effect at the time of the arrest.

(f) All mopeds and no peds shall be subject to annual inspection in the same manner as are motorcycles and the fee for inspection shall be as provided in Section 141 of this Act and shall be used for the purposes prescribed by law. The only items of equipment required to be inspected are the brakes, headlamps, rear lamps, and reflectors, which are required to comply with the standards prescribed in Section 184 of this Act. The Department shall promulgate rules and regulations relating to the inspection of mopeds and no peds and the issuance and display of inspection certificates with respect to those vehicles.

(g) Any person operating a vehicle on the highways of this State, other than a vehicle licensed in another State and being temporarily and legally operated under a valid reciprocity agreement, in violation of the provisions of this Act or without displaying a valid inspection certificate or having equipment which does not comply with the provisions of Article XIV of this Act is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be punished as provided in Section 143 of this Act.

(h) The provisions of this Act shall not apply to the vehicles referred to in Subsection (a) of this Section when moving under or bearing current “Factory-Delivery License Plates” or current “In-transit License Plates.” Nor shall the provisions of this Act apply to farm machinery, road-building equipment, farm trailers, paper dealer in-transit tag, machinery license, disaster license, parade license, prorate tabs, one-trip permits, antique license, temporary 24-hour permits, permit license, and all other vehicles required to have a slow-moving-vehicle emblem under Section 139(b) of this Act.

State Appointed Inspection Stations

Sec. 141. (a) The Department may establish state-appointed inspection stations to carry out the provisions of this Section. Such stations may be located anywhere in the state, and should any be established or appointed, there shall be at least one (1) for each county. The Department is authorized to furnish instructions to, and to supervise official inspection stations and mechanics for inspection of motor vehicles, trailers, semi-trailers, pole trailers, and mobile homes for the proper and safe performance of the required items of inspection. The certification of persons to inspect vehicles shall be in accordance with the rules and regulations promulgated by the Department. Every person desiring to operate as an official inspection station shall file an application for a certificate of appointment with the Department.

The application shall be made upon a form prescribed and furnished by the Department, and shall set forth the name of the applicant, the name under which the applicant transacts or intends to transact business, the location of his place of business within the state, and such other information as the Department may require. If the applicant has or intends to have more than one place of business within the state, a separate application shall be made for each place of business.

If the applicant is an association, the application shall set forth the names and the addresses of the persons constituting the association, and if a corporation, the names and addresses of the principal officers thereof, and any other information prescribed by the Department for purposes of identification. The application shall be signed and verified by oath or affirmation by the owner, if a natural person; in the case of a corporation, by an executive officer thereof or some person specifically authorized by the corporation to sign the application, to which shall be attached written evidence of his authority.

Only such locations which fulfill the Department’s requirements and whose owners or proprietors comply with the Department regulations shall qualify and be appointed and issued a certificate. Upon approval of an application, the Department shall issue to the owner a certificate of appointment as an official inspection station for the place of business within the state set forth in the application.

Certificates of appointment shall not be assignable, and shall be valid for the owners in whose names issued and for the transaction of business at the place designated therein, and shall at all times be conspicuously displayed at the place for which issued.

The application for certificate as an inspector will be made upon a form prescribed and furnished by the Department and shall set forth the name of the applicant, residence address, place of employment address, driver license number, and such other information as the Department may require. An applicant for appointment as an inspector shall submit with his first application a certificate fee of Ten Dollars ($10). An individual’s first appointment as an inspector is effective until August 31 of the even-numbered year following the date of appointment. Thereafter, appointments as inspectors shall be made for two-year periods, and the certificate fee for each two-year period shall be Ten Dollars ($10).

Upon being advised that an application will be approved, an applicant for an appointment as an inspection station shall pay a fee of Thirty Dollars ($30) which shall constitute the certificate fee until August 31 of the odd-numbered year following the date of appointment. Thereafter, appointments of stations shall be made for two-year periods and the certificate fee for each such period shall be Thirty Dollars ($30). All certificate fees shall be placed in a fund in the State Treasury to be known as the Motor Vehicle Inspection Fund and shall be used by the Department in the administration of this Act.

(b) Any owner of an official inspection station who by himself, agent, servant, or employee, violates any provision of Section 140, 141, 142, or 142A of this Act, or requires the repair of any mechanism or equipment other than that set forth in the uniform standards of safety items to be inspected as established, shall upon conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding Two Hundred Dollars ($200).

c) The fee for compulsory inspection to be made under this Section shall be Five Dollars ($5.00). One Dollar and Seventy-Five Cents ($1.75) of each fee shall be paid to the Department and shall be placed in the Motor Vehicle Inspection Fund for the purpose of paying the expense of the administration of this law and the payment of supplemental retirement benefits as provided by law. The Department may require each official inspection station to make an advance payment of One Dollar and Seventy-Five Cents ($1.75) for each inspection certificate furnished to it, and the money so received shall be placed in the Motor Vehicle Inspection Fund, and no further payment to the Department shall be required upon issuance of the certificate. If such advance payment has been made, the Department shall refund to the inspection station the amount of One Dollar and Seventy-Five Cents ($1.75) for each unissued certificate which the inspection station returns to the Department in accordance with rules and regulations promulgated by the Department.

d) No certificate of inspection shall be issued by any inspector or inspection station until the vehicle has been inspected and found to be in proper and safe condition and to comply with the uniform standards of safety, inspection rules and regulations, and laws of this state. No person shall make, issue, or knowingly use an imitation or counterfeit of an official inspection certificate. No certificate of inspection may be issued by any inspector or inspection station for a motor vehicle equipped with a carburetion device permitting the use of liquefied gas alone or interchangeably with other fuels, unless a currently valid liquefied gas tax decal issued by the comptroller of public accounts is affixed to the lower right-hand corner of the front windshield of the vehicle on the passenger side.

No person shall display or cause or permit to be displayed any inspection certificate knowing the same to be fictitious or issued for another vehicle or issued without the required inspection having been made. No person may transfer an inspection certificate from one windshield or location to another windshield or location.

No person shall perform an inspection or issue an inspection certificate without such person first having been certified to do so by the Department.

No person shall drive or move on any highway any motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer, pole trailer, mobile home, or combination thereof unless the equipment upon any and every said vehicle is in good working order and adjustment as required in this Act and said vehicle is in such safe mechanical condition as not to endanger the driver or other occupant or any person or property.

e) The Department may appoint as official inspection stations, for the limited purpose of inspecting vehicles owned by political subdivisions and agencies of the state, vehicle maintenance facilities owned and operated by the political subdivisions or agencies. The political subdivisions and agencies may not be required to pay the compulsory inspection fee but shall pay to the Department an advance payment such as provided for in Subsection (c) of this section for each inspection certificate issued to it. The funds received by the Department shall be placed in the Motor Vehicle Inspection Fund and used for the purposes prescribed by law. Inspection stations appointed under this subsection must satisfy all requirements set forth in Sections 140, 141, 142, and 142A of this Act except the provisions relating to the fee contained in Subsection (a) of this section. No officer, employee, or inspector of any political subdivision or agency shall place or cause to be placed any inspection certificate received from the Department under the provisions of this subsection on any vehicle other than a vehicle owned by the political subdivision or agency.

f) The Director may deny an application for a license or revoke or suspend an outstanding certificate of any inspection station or the certificate of any person to inspect vehicles, in addition to action taken under Subsection (g) of this section, for any of the following reasons:

1. issuing a certificate without required adjustments, corrections, or repairs having been made when an inspection disclosed the necessity for those adjustments, corrections, or repairs;
2. refusing to allow the owner of the vehicle to have required corrections or adjustments made by any qualified person he may choose;
3. issuing an inspection certificate without having made an inspection of the vehicle;
4. knowingly or willfully issuing an inspection certificate for a vehicle without the required items of inspection or with items which were not at the
Art. 6701d  ROADS, BRIDGES, AND FERRIES

of the evidence submitted at the hearing, the Director acting for himself or upon the recommendation of his designee may refuse the application or suspend or revoke the certificate.

Any person dissatisfied with the action of the Director, without filing a motion for rehearing, may appeal the action of the Director by filing a petition within thirty (30) days after the action is taken in a district court in the county where the person resides or in a district court of Travis County, and the court is vested with jurisdiction, and it shall be the duty of the court to set the matter for hearing upon ten (10) days written notice to the Director and the attorney representing the Director. The court in which the petition of appeal is filed shall determine whether any action of the Director shall be suspended pending hearing and enter its order accordingly, which shall be operative when served upon the Director, and the Director shall provide the attorney representing the Director with a copy of the petition and order. The Director shall be represented in these appeals by the district or county attorney of the county, or the attorney general, or any of their assistants.

(g) No person who performs an inspection at a state-appointed inspection station may fraudulently represent to an applicant that a mechanism or item of equipment required to be inspected must be repaired, adjusted, or replaced before the vehicle will pass inspection when that is not the case. The Department may cancel or suspend the certificate of appointment of any state-appointed inspection station or the certificate of the person performing the inspection if it finds, after notice and hearing, that a violation of this Section occurred at the inspection station.

Safety Standards, Inspection Certificates and Verification Forms

Sec. 142. (a) The Public Safety Commission shall establish uniform standards of safety whenever applicable with respect to items to be inspected as provided by Section 140 of this Act and shall list those items to be inspected in conformity with these standards established as provided by law. The list of items to be inspected and uniform standards of safety shall be posted in every official inspection station. Every vehicle inspected shall conform in all respects to the uniform standards of safety and the list of items to be inspected shall be current and established pursuant to this Section.

(b) The Department shall furnish serially numbered certificates of inspection and verification forms to inspection stations. It shall be the responsibility of each owner and certified inspector, upon being licensed, to provide for the safekeeping of certificates of inspection and verification forms, safeguarding them against theft, loss or damage, controlling their sequence of issuance, and insuring that they are issued in accordance with the Department rules and regulations. Each inspection certificate and verification form, when issued, shall bear such information as required by the Department for the type of vehicle that was inspected. The inspection certificate shall be invalid after the end of the twelfth month in which the vehicle was last inspected, approved, and the certificate of inspection issued. A certificate of inspection and approval for any vehicle shall be attached to or produced for such vehicles as the Department shall require. The Department shall require that certificates for motorcycles be attached to the rear of the vehicle near the license plate. A record and report as prescribed by the Department. A record and report as prescribed by the Department representing a prior inspection period shall be issued after the beginning of the next ensuing period.

(c) The Department may adopt rules necessary for the administration and enforcement of Article XV of this Act.

Inspection Before Certificate of Title Registration

Sec. 142A. Inspection before certificate of title registration. (a) Before a vehicle may be registered and titled under Subsection (a), Section 39, Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the owner must have the vehicle inspected as required under Section 140 of this Act and in addition must have the state-appointed inspection station record the permanent identification number and such other information as the Department may require on a verification form prescribed and furnished by the Department.

(b) An inspection station may not issue a verification form required under Subsection (a) of this section unless the vehicle satisfies the inspection requirements under Article XV of this Act.

(c) The fee for issuance of an inspection certificate and advance payment to the Department for certificates issued under this section shall be as provided under Subsection (c), Section 141 of this Act and shall be placed in the Motor Vehicle Inspection Fund and used for the purposes prescribed by law. The inspection station shall charge in addition to the fee for compulsory inspection as provided by Subsection (c), Section 141 of this Act a fee of One Dollar ($1) for each verification form issued as required by this section.

Dismissal of Certain Misdemeanor Charges Upon Completing Driving Safety Course

Sec. 143A. (a) When a person is charged with a misdemeanor offense under this Act, other than a violation of Section 50 or 51, committed while operating a motor vehicle, the court:

(1) in its discretion may defer proceedings and allow the person 90 days to present evidence that, subsequent to the alleged act, the person has successfully completed a defensive driver's course approved by the Texas Department of Public Safety or other driving safety course approved by the court; or

(2) shall defer proceedings and allow the person 90 days to present written evidence that, subsequent to the alleged act, the person has successfully completed a driving safety course approved by the court, if:

(A) the person presents to the court an oral request or written motion to take a course;

(B) the person has a valid Texas driver's license or permit; and

(C) the person's driving record as maintained by the Texas Department of Public Safety does not indicate successful completion of a driving safety course under this subdivision within the two years immediately preceding the date of the alleged offense.

(b) When the person complies with the provisions of Subsection (a) of this section and the evidence presented is accepted by the court, the court shall dismiss the charge.

When a charge is dismissed under this section, the charge may not be part of the person's driving record or used for any purpose, but the court shall report the fact that a person has successfully completed a driving safety course and the date of completion to the Texas Department of Public Safety for inclusion in the person's driving record. The court shall note in its report whether the course was taken under the procedure provided by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (a) of this section for the purpose of providing information necessary to determine eligibility to take a subsequent course under that subdivision.

Disposition of Fines and Forfeitures

Sec. 144. (a) Fines collected for violation of any highway law as set forth in this Act shall be used by the municipality or the counties in which the same are assessed and to which the same are payable in the construction and maintenance of roads, bridges, and culverts therein, and for the enforcement of the traffic laws regulating the use of the public highways by motor vehicles and motorcycles and to help defray the expense of county traffic officers.

(b) When a person is convicted in a municipal court of the offense of operating a vehicle on an interstate highway, as that term is defined in Subsection 144(c), at a speed greater than is reasonable and prudent under the circumstances, the municipal court shall remit to the state treasurer any portion of the fine assessed and collected which exceeds two dollars ($2) times the number of miles per hour by which the offender exceeded the posted speed limit as such excess speed is determined by a speed-measuring device as defined in Subsection 144(d). The number of miles per hour by which an offender exceeds the posted speed limit is determined by subtracting the posted prima facie speed limit from the number of miles per hour the offender is alleged to have driven at the time of the offense according to the summons or promise to appear. The state treasurer shall deposit funds received under this Section in the General Revenue Fund.

(c) Definition: “Interstate highway” as used herein is a portion of the national system of interstate and defense highways located within this state which now or hereafter may be designated officially by the Texas Highway Commission and approved pursuant to Title 23, United States Code.1

(d) Definition: “Speed-measuring device” as used herein is any “Doppler shift speed meter” or other “radar” device whether operating under a pulse principle or a continuous-wave principle, photo-traffic camera, or any other electronic device used to detect and measure speed.

(e) The provisions of Subsection 144(b), shall not be applicable to municipal courts of any municipality having a population of 5,000 or more inhabitants according to the last preceding federal census.

Notice to Appear in Court; Promise to Appear

Sec. 148. (a) Whenever a person is arrested for any violation of this Act punishable as a misdemeanor, and such person is not immediately taken before a magistrate as hereinbefore required, the arresting officer shall prepare in duplicate written notice to appear in court containing the name and address of such person, the license number of his vehicle, if any, the offense charged, and the time and place when and where such person shall appear in court. Provided, however, that the offense of speeding shall be the only offense making mandatory the issuance of a written notice to appear in court, and only then if the arrested person gives his written promise to appear in court, by signing in duplicate the written notice prepared by the arresting officer; and provided further, that it shall not be mandatory for an officer to give a written notice to appear in court to any person arrested for the offense of speeding when such person is operating a vehicle licensed in a state or country other than the State of Texas or who is a resident of a state or country other than the State of Texas, except as provided by the Nonresident Violator Compact of 1977.2

ARTICLE XIX—SPEED RESTRICTIONS

[1963 ENACTMENT]

Maximum Speeds of Vehicles

Sec. 166.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of (a) to (c)]

(d) A person may not operate a motor vehicle on a beach at a speed greater than 25 miles per hour during the daytime or greater than 20 miles per hour during the nighttime.

Authority of State Highway Commission to Alter Maximum Speed Limits

Sec. 167.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 167(a) to (c)]

(d) The State Highway and Public Transportation Commission shall hold upon request a public hearing at least once each calendar year to consider maximum prima facie speed limits on highways in the State Highway System that are near public or private institutions of elementary or secondary education.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 168]

Authority of County Commissioners Court and Governing Bodies of Incorporated Cities, Towns and Villages to Alter Maximum Prima Facie Speed Limits

Sec. 169.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 169(a) and (b)]

(e) An incorporated city, town, or village with respect to any highway, street, or part of a highway or street, including those marked as a route of a highway of the State Highway System, within its corporate limits, shall have the same authority to alter maximum prima facie speed limits upon the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation as that delegated to the State Highway Commission with respect to any officially designated or marked highway, road, or street of the State Highway System, when the highway, street, or part of a highway or street, including those marked as a route of a highway of the State Highway System, is under repair, construction, or maintenance, which limits, when appropriate signs giving notice of the limits are erected, shall be effective at that highway, street, or part of a highway or street, including those marked as a route of a highway of the State Highway System at all times or during hours of daylight or darkness, or at other times as may be determined; provided that under no circumstances may any governing body have the authority to modify or alter the basic rule established in Subsection (a) of Section 166, nor to establish a speed limit higher than sixty (60) miles per hour, and that any order of the State Highway Commission declaring a speed limit upon any part of a designated or marked route of the State Highway System made pursuant to Section 167 or Section 169B shall supersede any conflicting designated speed established under the provisions of this section.

Text of subsec. (d) added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 916, ch. 344, § 2

(d) The governing body of an incorporated city, town, or village in which a public or private institution of elementary or secondary education is located shall hold upon request a public hearing at least once each calendar year to consider maximum prima facie speed limits on streets and highways, including highways in the State Highway System, near the institution. If a county road outside the State Highway System is located within 500 feet of a public or private institution of elementary or secondary education that is not within the limits of an incorporated city, town, or village, the county commissioners court shall hold upon request a public hearing at least once each calendar year to consider the maximum prima facie speed limit on the road near the institution. A municipal governing body or commissioners court may hold upon request one public hearing for all public and private institutions of elementary or secondary education within its jurisdiction. Text of subsec. (d) added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2120, ch. 846, § 1

(d) The commanding officer of a United States military reservation, with respect to any highway, street, or part of a highway or street, including one marked as a route of a highway of the State Highway System, within the limits of the military reservation, has the same authority by order to alter maximum prima facie speed limits on the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation as that delegated to the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission with respect to any officially designated or marked highway, road, or street of the State Highway System. However, a commanding officer may not modify or alter the basic rule established in Subsection (a) of Section 166 of this Act, as amended, nor may he establish a speed limit higher than sixty (60) miles an hour. An order of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission declaring a speed limit on any part of a designated or marked route of the State Highway System made pursuant to Section 167 or Section 169B of this Act, as amended, supersedes any conflicting order of a commanding officer.

(e) The chairman of the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission and the chairman of the State Board of Education shall provide assistance and information relevant to consideration of speed limits to commissioners courts, municipal governing bodies, and other interested persons.

Sec. 169A.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 169A(a) to (d)]

(e) No person may operate on a public highway at a speed greater than thirty (30) miles per hour any self-propelled machinery specifically designed or especially adapted for applying plant food materials or agricultural chemicals and not designed or adapted for the sole purpose of transporting the materials or chemicals, unless the machinery is registered under Chapter 88, General Laws, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 6675a–1 et seq., Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 169B.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 169B(a) to (i)]

(j) This section expires when the national maximum speed limit of 55 miles per hour as provided in Section 154, Chapter 1, Title 23, United States Code, is repealed.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 170 and 171]

Exceptions to Speed Law

Sec. 172. The provisions of this Article regulating speeds of vehicles shall not apply to authorized emergency vehicles responding to calls, nor to police patrols, nor to physicians and/or ambulances responding to emergency calls, provided that incorporated cities and towns may by ordinance regulate the speed of ambulances, emergency medical services vehicles, and authorized emergency vehicles operated by blood banks or tissue banks.

ARTICLE XXI—OPERATION OF BICYCLES AND PLAY VEHICLES

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 178]

Traffic Laws Apply to Persons Riding Bicycles; Competitive Racing

Sec. 179. Every person riding a bicycle upon a roadway shall be granted all of the rights and shall be subject to all of the duties applicable to the driver of a vehicle by this Act, except as to special regulations in this Article and except as to those provisions of this Act which by their nature can have no application.

However, organized, competitive bicycle races may be held on public roads, provided that the sponsoring organization shall have obtained the approval of the appropriate local law enforcement agencies. The sponsoring organization and the local law enforcement agency may establish by agreement special regulations regarding the movement of bicycles during such races, or in training for races, including, but not limited to, permission to ride abreast and other regulations to facilitate the safe conduct of such races or training for races. “Bicycle” as used herein means a nonmotorized vehicle propelled by human power.

ROADS, BRIDGES, AND FERRIES

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 183 to 188]

Section 2 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1156, ch. 559, provided:
"The Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall erect appropriate signs near the entrances and exits of controlled access highways to advise motorists of the requirements of this Act.

Section 2 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1156, ch. 559, provided:
"This Act takes effect September 1, 1979, and applies only to offenses committed on or after that date. Offenses committed under Section 5, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Statutes), before the effective date of this Act are subject to prosecution under that section as it existed when the offense occurred, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose. For the purpose of this Act, an offense is committed before the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense occurs before the effective date.

Section 6 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 999, ch. 377, provides:
"This Act takes effect September 1, 1981, and applies to offenses committed on or after that date. Offenses committed before the effective date of this Act are subject to prosecution under the law as it existed when the offense occurred, and that law is continued in effect for that purpose. For the purposes of this Act, an offense is committed before the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense occurs before the effective date."

Section 4 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2725, ch. 741, provides:
"Sec. 4. This Act takes effect January 1, 1982, and applies only to offenses committed on or after that date. Offenses committed before the effective date of this Act are governed by the law in effect when the offense was committed and the prior law is continued in effect for that purpose. An offense is committed before the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense occurs before that date."

Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1405, ch. 545, repealing this article, enacts the Parks and Wildlife Code.

Art. 6701d-11. Regulating Operating of Vehicles on Highways

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 2]

Width, Length and Height

Sec. 3. (a) No vehicle shall exceed a total outside width, including any load thereon, of ninety-six (96) inches, except that the width of a farm tractor shall not exceed nine (9) feet, excepting further that the limitations as to size of vehicle stated in this Section shall not apply to vehicles on which implements of husbandry, machinery used solely for the purpose of drilling water wells regardless of whether it is a unit in itself or is a unit mounted on a conventional vehicle or chassis, and highway building and maintenance machinery temporarily propelled or moved upon the public highways, excepting further, that the limitations as to size of vehicles stated in this Section shall not apply to vehicles on which implements of husbandry are being carried or moved provided such vehicles are being moved by the owner thereof or his agent or employee for the purpose of carrying on agricultural operations, and provided further that such implements are being moved or carried a distance of not more than fifty (50) miles, and excepting further, that the width of a motor bus or trolley bus operated exclusively within the limits of an incorporated city or town in this State and suburbs contiguous thereto and the county in which said incorporated city is located shall not exceed one hundred and two (102) inches. However, a vehicle used to carry cylindrically shaped bales of hay may exceed ninety-six (96) inches in width but its width may not exceed one hundred and twenty (120) inches except when operated on the National System of Interstate and Defense Highways where its width may not exceed the maximum width authorized by 23 U.S.C. 127.

No vehicle, other than vehicles herein exempted from these provisions, which has a total outside width, including any load thereon, in excess of the applicable width herein stated shall be permitted to operate on the public highways except under a special permit issued for such movement as prescribed in Section 2 of this Act or in Chapter 41, General Laws of the Forty-first Legislature, Second Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 6701a of Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) or except as authorized in some other Statute permitting or regulating such movement.

Vehicles Transporting Seed Cotton Modules

Sec. 3B. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, a single motor vehicle used exclusively to transport seed cotton modules may exceed the limitation on width provided for a single vehicle by Subsection (a) of Section 3 of this Act but may not exceed a width of one hundred and eight (108) inches.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3(b) to 3a]
(b) Except as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, a single motor vehicle used exclusively to transport seed cotton modules may exceed the limitation on length provided for a single vehicle by Subsection (c) of Section 3 of this Act but may not exceed a length of forty-eight (48) feet.

(c) Except as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, a vehicle or combination of vehicles used exclusively to transport seed cotton modules may exceed the limitations on weight provided by Section 5 of this Act, but the load on any one axle may not exceed twenty thousand (20,000) pounds without van-type cover; thirty-nine (39) thousand pounds with van-type cover, and the overall gross weight of the vehicle or vehicles may not exceed fifty-nine (59) thousand pounds.

(d) A vehicle may not be operated on the national system of interstate and defense highways if it exceeds the maximum size or weight authorized by 23 U.S.C. Section 127.

(e) The owner of a vehicle covered by this section having a tandem axle weight greater than thirty-four thousand (34,000) pounds is liable to and shall compensate the state, county, or city for all damages to a highway, street, road, or bridge caused by the weight of the tandem axle load.

Weight of Load

Sec. 5. Except as otherwise provided by law, no commercial motor vehicle, truck-tractor, trailer or semitrailer, nor combination of such vehicles, shall be operated over, on, or upon the public highways outside the limits of an incorporated city or town, having a weight in excess of one or more of the following limitations:

(1) No such vehicle nor combination of vehicles shall have a greater weight than twenty thousand (20,000) pounds on any one axle, including all enforcement tolerances; or with a tandem axle weight in excess of thirty-four thousand (34,000) pounds, including all enforcement tolerances; or with an overall gross weight on a group of two or more consecutive axles produced by application of the following formula:

where \( W \) = overall gross weight on any group of two or more consecutive axles to the nearest 500 pounds, \( L \) = distance in feet between the extreme of any group of two or more consecutive axles, and \( N \) = number of axles in group under consideration, except that two consecutive sets of tandem axles may carry a gross load of 34,000 pounds each providing the overall distance between the first and last axles of such consecutive sets of tandem axles is thirty-six (36) feet or more; provided, that such overall gross weight may not exceed eighty thousand (80,000) pounds, including all enforcement tolerances.

(2) No such vehicle nor combination of vehicles shall have a greater weight than six hundred (600) pounds per inch width of tire upon any wheel concentrated upon the surface of the highway and using high-pressure tires, and a greater weight than six hundred and fifty (650) pounds per inch width of tire upon any wheel concentrated upon the surface of the highway and using low-pressure tires, and no wheel shall carry a load in excess of eight thousand (8,000) pounds on high-pressure tires and ten thousand (10,000) pounds on low-pressure tires, nor any axle a load in excess of sixteen thousand (16,000) pounds on high-pressure tires, and twenty thousand (20,000) pounds on low-pressure tires.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting size or weight limits on the national system of interstate and defense highways in this state in excess of those permitted under 23 U.S.C. Section 127. If the federal government prescribes or adopts vehicle size or weight limits greater than those now prescribed by 23 U.S.C. Section 127 for the national system of interstate and defense highways, the increased limits shall become effective on the national system of interstate and defense highways in this state.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to deny the operation of any vehicle or combination of vehicles that could be lawfully operated upon the highways and roads of this state on December 16, 1974.

(5) In this section, an axle load is defined as the total load transmitted to the road by all wheels whose centers may be included between two (2) parallel transverse vertical planes forty (40) inches apart, extending across the full width of the vehicle. Tandem axle group is defined as two (2) or more axles spaced forty (40) inches or more apart from center to center having at least one (1) common point of weight suspension.

Exceeding Weight Limits to Cross Width of Highway

Sec. 5½. A person may operate a vehicle that exceeds the overall gross weight limits as provided by Section 5 of this Act to cross the width of a highway with the vehicle from private property to other private property if:

(1) the overall gross weight of the vehicle does not exceed 110,000 pounds;
(2) the person is operating the vehicle to transport grain, sand, other commodities, and products;
(3) an agreement authorized by law was executed under which a private party has contracted with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation to indemnify the department for the cost of the maintenance and repair for damage caused by the vehicles crossing that portion of the highway; and

(4) the private party has executed an adequate surety bond to compensate for the cost of maintenance and repairs, approved by the State Treasurer and the attorney general, with a corporate surety authorized to do business in this state, conditioned on the private party fulfilling the obligations of the agreement.

Weighing Loaded Vehicles by Inspectors

Sec. 6. Subd. 1. Any License and Weight inspector of the Department of Public Safety, any highway patrolman or any sheriff or his duly authorized deputy, having reason to believe that the gross weight or axle load of a loaded motor vehicle is unlawful, is authorized to weigh the same by means of portable or stationary scales furnished or approved by the Department of Public Safety, or cause the same to be weighed by any public weigher, and to require that such vehicle be driven to the nearest available scales for the purpose of weighing. In the event the gross weight of such vehicle be found to exceed the maximum gross weight authorized by law, plus a tolerance allowance of five per cent (5%) of the gross weight authorized by law, such license and weight inspector, highway patrolman, sheriff or his duly authorized deputy, shall demand and require the operator or owner of such motor vehicle to unload such portion of the load as may be necessary to decrease the gross weight of such vehicle to the maximum authorized by law plus such tolerance allowance, except as otherwise provided. Such operator or owner shall forthwith unload such vehicle to the extent necessary to reduce the gross weight thereof to such lawful maximum and such vehicle may not be operated further over the public highways or roads of the State of Texas until the gross weight of such vehicle has been reduced to a weight not in excess of the maximum limit plus such tolerance allowance. In the event the axle load of any such vehicle be found to exceed the maximum authorized by law, plus a tolerance allowance of five per cent (5%) of the axle load authorized by law, such officer shall demand and require the operator or owner thereof to rearrange his cargo, if possible, to bring such vehicle and load within the maximum axle load authorized by law, and if this cannot be done by rearrangement of said cargo, then such portion of the load as may be necessary to decrease the axle load to the maximum authorized by law plus such tolerance allowance shall be unloaded before such vehicle may be operated further over the public highways or roads of the State of Texas. Provided, however, that if such load consists of livestock, then such operator shall be permitted to proceed to destination without being unloaded provided destination be within the State of Texas.

It is further provided that in the event the gross weight of the vehicle exceeds the registered gross weight, the License and Weight Inspector, State Highway Patrolman or Sheriff or his duly authorized Deputy shall require the operator or owner thereof to apply to the nearest available County Tax Assessor-Collector for additional registration in an amount that will cause his gross registration to be equal to the gross weight of the vehicle, provided such total registration shall not exceed gross weight allowed for such vehicle, before such operator or owner may proceed. Provided, however, that if such load consists of livestock or perishable merchandise then such operator or owner shall be permitted to proceed with his vehicle to the nearest practical point in the direction of his destination where his load may be protected from damage or destruction in the event he is required to secure additional registration before being allowed to proceed. It shall be conclusively presumed and deemed prima facie evidence that where an operator or owner is apprehended and found to be carrying a greater gross load than that for which he is licensed or registered, he has been carrying similar loads from the date of purchase of his current license plates and will therefore be required to pay for the additional registration from the date of purchase of such license. Provided further that when an operator or owner is required to purchase additional registration in a county other than the county in which the owner resides, the Tax Assessor-Collector of such county shall remit the fees collected for such additional registration to the State Highway Department to be deposited in the State Highway Fund. It shall be the duty of the State Highway Department, and the necessary funds are hereby appropriated, to remit the counties' portion of such fees collected to the county of the residence of the owner; and it is provided further that the provisions of this Section will in no way conflict with Article 6675a, Section 2, of the Revised Civil Statutes.

It is further provided that all forms and accounting procedure necessary to carry out the provisions of this Section shall be prescribed by the State Highway Department.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 6, 2 to 5]

Subd. 6. Notwithstanding Subdivision 1 of Section 6 of this Act, the operator or the owner of a motor vehicle loaded with timber or pulp wood or agricultural products in their natural state being transported from the place of production to the place of market or first processing, or the operator or owner of a vehicle crossing a highway as provided by Section 5/8 of this Act, is not required to unload any portion of his load.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 7 to 16a-2]

Section 2 of the 1973 amendatory act provided:

"This amendatory Act does not affect Section 51/2 or 6, Chapter 42, General Laws, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 6701d–11, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); Section 1, Chapter 293, Acts of the 53rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1953, as amended (Article 6701d–12, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); or any state law authorizing the issuance of special permits for weights in excess of those provided by this amendatory Act."

Art. 6701d–11a. Registration and Width Requirement of Vehicles Transporting Fertilizer

Sec. 1. In this Act, “fertilizer” includes agricultural limestone.

Sec. 2. The annual license fee for the registration of motor vehicles designed or modified exclusively to transport fertilizer to the field and spread it, and used only for that purpose, is $50.

Sec. 3. The width requirements in Subsection (a), Section 3, Chapter 42, General Laws, Acts of the 41st Legislature, 2nd Called Session, 1929, as amended (Article 6701d–11, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), do not apply to a vehicle registered under Section 2 of this Act which has a width of 186 inches or less at its widest point.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 373, ch. 184, §§ 1 to 3, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 6701d–12. Weight of Vehicles Transporting Ready-Mixed Concrete

Sec. 1. Vehicles used exclusively to transport ready-mixed concrete, which is hereby defined as a perishable product, may be operated upon the public highways of this state with a tandem axle load not to exceed 44,000 pounds, a single axle load not to exceed 20,000 pounds and a gross load not to exceed 64,000 pounds, provided that where the vehicle is to be operated with a tandem axle load in excess of 34,000 pounds, the owner of such vehicle shall first file with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation a surety bond in a sum not to exceed $15,000, and conditioned that the owner of such vehicle will pay to such county, city, or town all damages done to the highways by reason of the operation of such vehicle with a tandem axle load in excess of 34,000 pounds.

Sec. 2. When any county, city, or town determines public highways under their jurisdiction are found insufficient to carry the maximum gross vehicle axle loads authorized in Section 1 of this Act, the governing body of such county, city, or town is hereby authorized to prescribe, by order or ordinance, reasonable rules and regulations governing the operation of vehicles to transport ready-mixed concrete over public highways maintained by such county, city, or town. Such rules and regulations may include, but need not be limited to, weight limitations on vehicles with a tandem axle load which exceeds 36,000 pounds, a single axle load which exceeds 12,000 pounds, and a gross load which exceeds 48,000 pounds.

Sec. 3. The governing body of any county, city, or town may require the owner of any ready-mixed concrete vehicle to file a surety bond in a sum not to exceed $15,000, and conditioned that the owner of such vehicle will pay to such county, city, or town all damages done to the highways by reason of the operation of such vehicle with a tandem axle load in excess of 34,000 pounds.

Sec. 4. This Act does not authorize the operation on the national system of interstate and defense highways in this state of vehicles of a size or weight greater than authorized in Title 23, United States Code, Section 127, as amended. If the United States government authorizes the operation on the national system of interstate and defense highways of vehicles of a size or weight greater than those authorized on January 1, 1977, the new limits automatically shall be in effect on the national system of interstate and defense highways in this state.

Art. 6701d–12a. Weight and Size of Vehicles Transporting Milk

Sec. 1. A vehicle used exclusively to transport milk may be operated on the public highways of this state if the distance between the front wheel of the forward tandem axle and the rear wheel of the rear tandem axle, measured longitudinally, is at least 28 feet, and the maximum load carried on any group of axles does not exceed 68,000 pounds.

Sec. 2. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as permitting size or weight limits on the national system of interstate and defense highways in this state in excess of those permitted under Title 23, U.S.C., Section 127, as amended. If the federal government prescribes or adopts vehicle size or weight limits greater than those now prescribed by Title 23, U.S.C., Section 127, as amended, for the national system of interstate and defense highways, the increased limits shall become effective on the national system of interstate and defense highways in this state.

Art. 6701d-22. Speed of Vehicles in Parks of Counties Bordering Gulf of Mexico

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Section 4 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"This Act takes effect January 1, 1982, and applies only to offenses committed on or after that date. An offense committed before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect when the offense was committed and the prior law is continued in effect for that purpose. An offense is committed before the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense occurs before that date."

Art. 6701d-23. Nonresident Violator Compact of 1977

Sec. 1. The Nonresident Violator Compact of 1977 is adopted by this state and entered into with all other jurisdictions adopting the compact in form substantially as follows:

"NONRESIDENT VIOLATOR COMPACT OF 1977

"Art. I. FINDINGS, DECLARATION OF POLICY, AND PURPOSE

"(a) The party jurisdictions find that:

"(1) In most instances, a motorist who is cited for a traffic violation in a jurisdiction other than his home jurisdiction:

"(i) Must post collateral or bond to secure appearance for trial at a later date; or

"(ii) If unable to post collateral or bond, is taken into custody until the collateral or bond is posted; or

"(iii) Is taken directly to court for his trial to be held.

"(2) In some instances, the motorist’s driver’s license may be deposited as collateral to be returned after he has complied with the terms of the citation.

"(3) The purpose of the practices described in paragraphs (1) and (2) above is to ensure compliance with the terms of a traffic citation by the motorist who, if permitted to continue on his way after receiving the traffic citation, could return to his home jurisdiction and disregard his duty under the terms of the traffic citation.

"(4) A motorist receiving a traffic citation in his home jurisdiction is permitted, except for certain violations, to accept the citation from the officer at the scene of the violation and to immediately continue on his way after promising or being instructed to comply with the terms of the citation.

"(5) The practice described in paragraph (1) above causes unnecessary inconvenience and, at times, a hardship for the motorist who is unable at the time to post collateral, furnish a bond, stand trial, or pay the fine, and thus is compelled to remain in custody until some arrangement can be made.

"(6) The deposit of a driver’s license as a bail bond, as described in paragraph (2) above, is viewed with disfavor.

"(7) The practices described herein consume an undue amount of law enforcement time.

"(b) It is the policy of the party jurisdictions to:

"(1) Seek compliance with the laws, ordinances, and administrative rules and regulations relating to the operation of motor vehicles in each of the jurisdictions.

"(2) Allow motorists to accept a traffic citation for certain violations and proceed on their way without delay whether or not the motorist is a resident of the jurisdiction in which the citation was issued.

"(3) Extend cooperation to its fullest extent among the jurisdictions for obtaining compliance with the terms of a traffic citation issued in one jurisdiction to a resident of another jurisdiction.

"(4) Maximize effective utilization of law enforcement personnel and assist court systems in the efficient disposition of traffic violations.

"(c) The purpose of this compact is to:

"(1) Provide a means through which the party jurisdictions may participate in a reciprocal program to effectuate the policies enumerated in paragraph (b) above in a uniform and orderly manner.

"(2) Provide for the fair and impartial treatment of traffic violators operating within party jurisdictions in recognition of the motorist’s right of due process and the sovereign status of a party jurisdiction.

"Art. II. DEFINITIONS

"(a) In the Nonresident Violator Compact, the following words have the meaning indicated, unless the context requires otherwise.

"(b)(1) ‘Citation’ means any summons, ticket, or other official document issued by a police officer for a traffic violation containing an order which requires the motorist to respond.

"(2) ‘Collateral’ means any cash or other security deposited to secure an appearance for trial, following the issuance by a police officer of a citation for a traffic violation.

"(3) ‘Court’ means a court of law or traffic tribunal.

"(4) ‘Driver’s license’ means any license or privilege to operate a motor vehicle issued under the laws of the home jurisdiction."
“(5) ‘Home jurisdiction’ means the jurisdiction that issued the driver's license of the traffic violator.

“(6) ‘Issuing jurisdiction’ means the jurisdiction in which the traffic citation was issued to the motorist.

“(7) ‘Jurisdiction’ means a state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

“(8) ‘Motorist’ means a driver of a motor vehicle operating in a party jurisdiction other than the home jurisdiction.

“(9) ‘Personal recognizance’ means an agreement by a motorist made at the time of issuance of the traffic citation that he will comply with the terms of that traffic citation.

“(10) ‘Police officer’ means any individual authorized by the party jurisdiction to issue a citation for a traffic violation.

“(11) ‘Terms of the citation’ means those options expressly stated upon the citation.

“Art. III. PROCEDURE FOR ISSUING JURISDICTION

“(a) When issuing a citation for a traffic violation, a police officer shall issue the citation to a motorist who possesses a driver's license issued by a party jurisdiction and shall not, subject to the exceptions noted in paragraph (b) of this article, require the motorist to post collateral to secure appearance, if the officer receives the motorist's personal recognizance that he or she will comply with the terms of the citation.

“(b) Personal recognizance is acceptable only if not prohibited by law. If mandatory appearance is required, it must take place immediately following issuance of the citation.

“(c) Upon failure of a motorist to comply with the terms of a traffic citation, the appropriate official shall report the failure to comply to the licensing authority of the jurisdiction in which the traffic citation was issued. The report shall be made in accordance with procedures specified by the issuing jurisdiction and shall contain information as specified in the Compact Manual as minimum requirements for effective processing by the home jurisdiction.

“(d) Upon receipt of the report, the licensing authority of the issuing jurisdiction shall transmit the license to the licensing authority in the home jurisdiction of the motorist the information in a form and content as contained in the Compact Manual.

“(e) The licensing authority of the issuing jurisdiction may not suspend the privilege of a motorist for whom a report has been transmitted.

“(f) The licensing authority of the issuing jurisdiction shall not transmit a report on any violation if the date of transmission is more than six months after the date on which the traffic citation was issued.

“(g) The licensing authority of the issuing jurisdiction shall not transmit a report on any violation where the date of issuance of the citation predates the most recent of the effective dates of entry for the two jurisdictions affected.

“Art. IV. PROCEDURE FOR HOME JURISDICTION

“(a) Upon receipt of a report of a failure to comply from the licensing authority of the issuing jurisdiction, the licensing authority of the home jurisdiction shall notify the motorist and initiate a suspension action, in accordance with the home jurisdiction's procedures, to suspend the motorist's driver's license until satisfactory evidence of compliance with the terms of the traffic citation has been furnished to the home jurisdiction licensing authority. Due process safeguards will be accorded.

“(b) The licensing authority of the home jurisdiction shall maintain a record of actions taken and make reports to issuing jurisdictions as provided in the Compact Manual.

“Art. V. APPLICABILITY OF OTHER LAWS

“Except as expressly required by provisions of this compact, nothing contained herein shall be construed to affect the right of any party jurisdiction to apply any of its other laws relating to licenses to drive to any person or circumstance, or to invalidate or prevent any driver license agreement or other cooperative arrangement between a party jurisdiction and a nonparty jurisdiction.

“Art. VI. COMPACT ADMINISTRATOR PROCEDURES

“(a) For the purpose of administering the provisions of this compact and to serve as a governing body for the resolution of all matters relating to the operation of this compact, a Board of Compact Administrators is established. The board shall be composed of one representative from each party jurisdiction to be known as the compact administrator. The compact administrator shall be appointed by the jurisdiction executive and will serve and be subject to removal in accordance with the laws of the jurisdiction he represents. A compact administrator may provide for the discharge of his duties and the performance of his functions as a board member by an alternate. An alternate may not be entitled to serve unless written notification of his identity has been given to the board.

“(b) Each member of the Board of Compact Administrators shall be entitled to one vote. No action of the board shall be binding unless taken at a meeting at which a majority of the total number of votes on the board are cast in favor. Action by the board shall be only at a meeting at which a majority of the party jurisdictions are represented.

“(c) The board shall elect annually, from its membership, a chairman and a vice chairman.
“(d) The board shall adopt bylaws, not inconsistent with the provisions of this compact or the laws of a party jurisdiction, for the conduct of its business and shall have the power to amend and rescind its bylaws.

“(e) The board may accept for any of its purposes and functions under this compact any and all donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services, conditional or otherwise, from any jurisdiction, the United States, or any other governmental agency, and may receive, utilize, and dispose of the same.

“(f) The board may contract with, or accept services or personnel from, any governmental or intergovernmental agency, person, firm, or corporation, or any private nonprofit organization or institution.

“(g) The board shall formulate all necessary procedures and develop uniform forms and documents for administering the provisions of this compact. All procedures and forms adopted pursuant to board action shall be contained in the Compact Manual.

“Art. VII. ENTRY INTO COMPACT AND WITHDRAWAL

“(a) This compact shall become effective when it has been adopted by at least two jurisdictions.

“(b)(1) Entry into the compact shall be made by a Resolution of Ratification executed by the authorized officials of the applying jurisdiction and submitted to the chairman of the board.

“(2) The resolution shall be in a form and content as provided in the Compact Manual and shall include statements that in substance are as follows:

“(i) A citation of the authority by which the jurisdiction is empowered to become a party to this compact.

“(ii) Agreement to comply with the terms and provisions of the compact.

“(iii) That compact entry is with all jurisdictions then party to the compact and with any jurisdiction that legally becomes a party to the compact.

“(3) The effective date of entry shall be specified by the applying jurisdiction, but it shall not be less than 60 days after notice has been given by the chairman of the Board of Compact Administrators or by the secretariat of the board to each party jurisdiction that the resolution from the applying jurisdiction has been received.

“(c) A party jurisdiction may withdraw from this compact by official written notice to the other party jurisdictions, but a withdrawal shall not take effect until 90 days after notice of withdrawal is given. The notice shall be directed to the compact administrator of each member jurisdiction. No withdrawal shall affect the validity of this compact as to the remaining party jurisdictions.

“Art. VIII. EXCEPTIONS

“The provisions of this compact shall not apply to parking or standing violations, highway weight limit violations, and violations of law governing the transportation of hazardous materials.

“Art. IX. AMENDMENTS TO THE COMPACT

“(a) This compact may be amended from time to time. Amendments shall be presented in resolution form to the chairman of the Board of Compact Administrators and may be initiated by one or more party jurisdictions.

“(b) Adoption of an amendment shall require endorsement of all party jurisdictions and shall become effective 30 days after the date of the last endorsement.

“(c) Failure of a party jurisdiction to respond to the compact chairman within 120 days after receipt of the proposed amendment shall constitute endorsement.

“Art. X. CONSTRUCTION AND SEVERABILITY

“This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes stated herein. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence, or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any party jurisdiction or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person, or circumstance, the compact shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any jurisdiction thereto, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining jurisdictions and in full force and effect as to the jurisdiction affected as to all severable matters.

“Art. XI. TITLE

“This compact shall be known as the Nonresident Violator Compact of 1977.”

Sec. 2. (a) The office of nonresident violator compact administrator is created. The governor shall appoint the compact administrator, with the advice and consent of the senate, to a two-year term that expires on February 1 of each odd-numbered year. The compact administrator is entitled to compensation and reimbursement for expenses as provided by legislative appropriation. The compact administrator shall perform the duties specified by the Nonresident Violator Compact of 1977.

(b) The Department of Public Safety shall report, as provided by Article III(c) of the Nonresident Violator Compact of 1977, the failure of a motorist to comply with the terms of a traffic citation. The department shall establish procedures for the reports.

(c) For the purposes of the compact, the “licensing authority” means the Department of Public Safety.

Acts 1979, 66th Leg., ch. 842, repealing this article, enacts the Human Resources Code for disposition of the subject matter of the repealed article. For disposition Table following the Human Resources Code.

Art. 6701g-1. Removal of Unauthorized Vehicles Parked in Fire Lanes

Sec. 1. The owner of premises at or upon which a governmental body requires the designation and maintenance of a fire lane, or the agent of the owner, may have any motor vehicle that is parked in the fire lane, except an authorized emergency vehicle, removed and stored at the expense of the owner or operator of the vehicle, if the fire lane is required by a governmental body having authority to require fire lanes and is conspicuously designated as a fire lane in compliance with requirements of the governmental body.

Sec. 2. The owner of the premises, or his agent, who has a vehicle removed and stored as provided in Section 1 of this Act is not liable for damages incurred by the owner or operator of the vehicle as a result of removal or storage if the vehicle is removed by a vehicle wrecker service insured against liability for property damage incurred in towing vehicles and is stored by a storage company insured against liability for property damage incurred in the storage of vehicles.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1243, ch. 480, §§ 1, 2, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 6701g-2. Removal of Unauthorized Vehicles from Parking Facilities or Public Highways

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(a) "Parking facility" means any public or private property used, in whole or in part, for restricted and/or paid parking of vehicles. "Parking facility" includes but is not limited to commercial parking lots, parking garages, and parking areas serving or adjacent to businesses, churches, schools, homes, and apartment complexes. "Parking facility" also includes a restricted portion or portions of an otherwise unrestricted parking facility.

(b) "Parking facility owner" means any operator or owner (including any lessee, employee, or agent thereof) of a parking facility.

(c) "Public highway" means any public street, alley, road, right-of-way, or other public way.

(d) "Towing company" means any individual, corporation, partnership, or association engaged in the business of towing vehicles on a public highway for compensation or with the expectation of compensation for the towing, storage, or repair of vehicles. The term "towing company" includes the owner, operator, employee, or agent of a towing company, but does not include cities, counties, or other political subdivisions of the state.

(e) "Vehicle" means every kind of device in, upon, or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn on a public highway, except devices moved by human power or used exclusively on stationary rails or tracks.

(f) "Unauthorized vehicle" means any vehicle parked, stored, or situated in or on a parking facility without the consent of the parking facility owner.

Removal by Parking Facility Owner

Sec. 2. (a) A parking facility owner may, without the consent of the owner or operator of an unauthorized vehicle, cause such vehicle to be removed and stored at the expense of the owner or operator of the vehicle, if any of the following occurs:

(i) a sign or signs, specifying those persons who may park in the parking facility and prohibiting all others, are placed so that they are readable day or night from all entrances to the parking facility (but signs need not be illuminated);

(ii) the owner or operator of the unauthorized vehicle has actually received notice from the parking facility owner that the vehicle will be towed away if it is not removed; or

(iii) the unauthorized vehicle is obstructing an entrance, exit, fire lane, or aisle of the parking facility.

(b) Otherwise, a parking facility owner may not have an unauthorized vehicle removed except under the direction of a peace officer or the owner or operator of such vehicle.

(c) A parking facility owner who causes the removal of an unauthorized vehicle in compliance with the provisions of this section shall not be liable for damages arising out of the removal or storage of such vehicle, if the same is removed by an insured towing company.

Removal by Towing Company

Sec. 3. (a) A towing company may, without the consent of the owner or operator of an unauthorized vehicle, remove and store such vehicle at the expense of the owner or operator of the vehicle, if any of the following occurs:

(i) a sign or signs, specifying those persons who may park in the parking facility and prohibiting all others, are placed so that they are readable day or night from all entrances to the parking facility (but signs need not be illuminated);
(ii) the towing company has received written verification from the parking facility owner that the owner or operator of the unauthorized vehicle has been actually notified by the parking facility owner that the vehicle will be towed away if it is not removed; or

(iii) the unauthorized vehicle is obstructing an entrance, exit, fire lane, or aisle of the parking facility.

(b) Otherwise, a towing company may not remove an unauthorized vehicle except under the direction of a peace officer or the owner or operator of such vehicle.

Removal from Public Highway by Towing Company

Sec. 4. A towing company may not remove a vehicle from a public highway except under the direction of a peace officer or the owner or operator of such vehicle.

Pecuniary Interest in Towing Company by Parking Facility Owner

Sec. 5. A parking facility owner may not accept anything of value, directly or indirectly, from a towing company in connection with the removal of a vehicle from a parking facility. A parking facility owner may not have a pecuniary interest, directly or indirectly, in a towing company which removes unauthorized vehicles for compensation from a parking facility in which the parking facility owner has an interest.

Pecuniary Interest in Parking Facility by Towing Company

Sec. 6. A towing company may not give anything of value, directly or indirectly, to a parking facility owner in connection with the removal of a vehicle from a parking facility. A parking facility owner may not have a pecuniary interest, directly or indirectly, in a parking facility which the towing company removes unauthorized vehicles for compensation.

Violation of Act; Damages; Attorney's Fees

Sec. 7. (a) Any towing company or parking facility owner who violates this Act shall be liable to the owner or operator of the vehicle for damages arising out of the removal or storage of such vehicle and/or any towing or storage fees assessed in connection with the removal or storage of such vehicle. Negligence on the part of the parking facility owner or towing company need not be proven in order to recover under this Act.

(b) In any suit brought under this Act, the prevailing party shall recover reasonable attorney's fees from the nonprevailing party.

Penalty: Injunction

Sec. 8. Any violation of this Act is a Class B misdemeanor. Any violation of the provisions of this Act may be enjoined pursuant to the provisions of the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act.¹

Art. 6701h. Safety Responsibility Law

ARTICLE I—WORDS AND PHRASES DEFINED

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Necessity of Automobile Liability Insurance Exempted Vehicles

Sec. 1A. (a) On and after January 1, 1982, no motor vehicle may be operated in this State unless a policy of automobile liability insurance in at least the minimum amounts to provide evidence of financial responsibility under this Act is in effect to insure against potential losses which may arise out of the operation of that vehicle.

(b) The following vehicles are exempt from the requirement of Subsection (a) of this section:

(1) vehicles exempt by Section 33 of this Act;
(2) vehicles for which a bond or a certificate of deposit of money or securities in the minimum amount of Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) is on file with the Department;
(3) vehicles that are self-insured under Section 34 of this Act;
(4) vehicles that are both registered to and operated by persons who are not residents of this State, except for those vehicles that are primarily operated in this State; and
(5) implements of husbandry.

(c) An out-of-state vehicle or driver exempt from the compulsory insurance requirement by Subsection (b) of this section may be proceeded against under this Act after involvement in an accident in this State in which death, personal injury, or damage to the property of any person other than himself or herself is sustained.

Furnishing Evidence of Financial Responsibility

Sec. 1B. On and after January 1, 1982, every owner and/or operator in the State of Texas shall be required, as a condition of driving, to furnish, upon request, information concerning evidence of financial responsibility to a law enforcement officer of the State of Texas or any subdivision thereof, or agent of the Department, or to another person involved in an accident.

Failure to Maintain Financial Responsibility

Sec. 1C. Failure to maintain financial responsibility as defined in Section 1(10) of this Act is a Class C misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than Seventy-five Dollars ($75). Subsequent offenses shall be Class B misdemeanors, punishable by a fine of not less than Two Hundred Dollars ($200).

Rebuttable Presumption of Failure to Maintain Financial Responsibility

Sec. 1D. Failure to give information as required in Section 1B, or the giving of information which is false, will raise a rebuttable presumption of failure to maintain financial responsibility.
Response of Insurance Company When No Policy in Effect

Sec. 1E. When notified of an accident by the Department in which an owner or operator has reported evidence of financial responsibility with an insurance company, the insurance company so notified shall be required to respond to the Department only if there is not a policy of liability insurance in effect, as reported.

Suspension of Driver's License and Motor Vehicle Registration

Sec. 1F. A conviction of failure to maintain financial responsibility shall also carry a suspension of driver's license and motor vehicle registration unless the defendant establishes and maintains proof of financial responsibility for five years from the date of conviction.

Operator's and Chauffeur's License Fund

Sec. 1G. Fees collected under the provisions of this Act shall be deposited in the Operator's and Chauffeur's License Fund and are hereby appropriated to the Department of Public Safety for the purpose of defraying the expenses necessary for administration of the Act, including but not limited to the employment of necessary clerical, administrative, and enforcement personnel and for defraying the necessary expenses incident to travel, equipment rental, postage, printing of necessary forms, and purchase of all necessary furniture, fixtures, and equipment.

ARTICLE II—ADMINISTRATION OF ACT

Administration of Act; Appeal to Court; Stay Order; Proof of Financial Responsibility; Maintaining Proof With Department

Sec. 2.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2(a)]

(b) Any order or act of the Department, under the provisions of this Act, may be subject to review within thirty (30) days after notice thereof, or thereafter for good cause shown, by appeal to the County Court at Law at the instance of any party in interest and in the county wherein the person aggrieved by such order or act resides, or if there be no County Court at Law therein, then in the County Court of said county, or if there be no County Court having jurisdiction, then such jurisdiction shall be in the District Court of said county, and such court is hereby vested with jurisdiction, and such appeal shall be by trial de novo. The Court shall determine whether the filing of the appeal shall operate as a stay of any such order or decision of the Department, with the exception that no stay order shall be granted staying an order of suspension by the Department of Public Safety that is based on a final judgment rendered against any person in this State by a court of competent jurisdiction growing out of the use of a motor vehicle in this State when said judgment is a subsisting final judgment and unsatisfied; further, an appeal shall not operate as a stay of any such other orders or decisions of the Department of Public Safety where the aggrieved party was involved in an accident involving a motor vehicle which he was operating if he was charged with a violation of any of the laws of the State of Texas, or any of its political subdivisions, and said complaint or indictment is pending at the time the appeal is filed, unless the aggrieved party shall file proof of financial responsibility with the Department of Public Safety as a condition precedent to the obtaining of said stay and maintain said proof of financial responsibility until dismissal of said complaint or indictment as provided for in Section 2(d) of this Act. If the aggrieved party shall at the time of said appeal in lieu of proof of financial responsibility file with the court and the Department of Public Safety an affidavit setting forth specific facts which would entitle the aggrieved party to an acquittal of the complaint or indictment filed against the aggrieved party, he shall be entitled to a temporary stay of the order of the Department of Public Safety without the necessity of filing proof of financial responsibility. Upon the filing of such affidavit, the cause shall be set upon the court's docket in said Court where such complaint or indictment is pending and if the same is not tried within forty-five (45) days from the date of filing of such complaint or indictment, shall thereafter be subject to transfer to such county or District Court of an adjoining county upon the filing of a motion thereof by the aggrieved party. If within ninety (90) days from the date of the original suspension or order by the Department of Public Safety, the Department has not received a certified copy of a judgment of the court acquitting the aggrieved party, the Department of Public Safety shall again order the driver's license and the registrations of all motor vehicles registered in the aggrieved party's name suspended and from this said order of the Department of Public Safety, no appeal shall operate as a stay unless the aggrieved party files with the Department of Public Safety, as an absolute condition precedent to the obtaining of a stay, proof of financial responsibility and maintain said proof of financial responsibility until said complaint or indictment has been dismissed or if the aggrieved party has pled guilty or been convicted for the period of time provided for in Section 2(d) of this Act. Upon the disposition of said complaint or indictment either by a plea of guilty or final conviction, the aggrieved party who shall have pled guilty or been finally convicted and has previously filed proof of financial responsibility as a condition precedent to obtaining a stay from an order of suspension of the Department of Public Safety, must maintain said proof of financial responsibility with the Department of Public Safety for that period of time provided for in Section 2(d) of this Act. If no stay order has been previously applied for prior to a plea of guilty or final conviction, the aggrieved party can obtain a stay from any order or decision of the Department of Public Safety if said party will file with the Department of Public Safety as a condition precedent to the obtaining of a stay of said order or decision proof of financial responsibility and maintain said proof of financial responsibility as provided for in Section 2(d) of this Act. Where the aggrieved party has been found not guilty to the complaint or indictment filed against him, or said complaint or indictment has been dismissed, filing of proof of financial responsibility shall not be a condition precedent to the granting of a stay from any order or decision of the Department of Public Safety, and prior filing of proof of financial responsibility with the Department of Public Safety as a condition precedent to obtaining a stay from an order or decision of the Department of Public Safety, may be withdrawn. The above provision restricting the granting of a stay order in appeals where the aggrieved party has been charged with the violation of any of the laws of the State of Texas or of any of the political subdivisions shall also limit any court in this State in any original action brought against the Department of Public Safety to enjoin or order the enforcement of any order of the Department of Public Safety issued under this Act.

ARTICLE III—SECURITY FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 4 and 4A]

Security: Determination of Amount; Suspension of License and Registrations; Notice; Exceptions

Sec. 5. (a) If twenty (20) days after the receipt of a report of a motor vehicle accident within this State which has resulted in bodily injury or death, or damage to the property of any one person of at least Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($250), the Department does not have on file evidence satisfactory to it that the person who would otherwise be required to file security under Subsection (b) of this section has been released from liability, or has been finally adjudicated not to be liable, or has executed a duly acknowledged written agreement providing for the payment of an agreed amount in installments with respect to all claims for injuries or damages resulting from the accident, and the Department finds that there is a reasonable probability of a judgment being rendered against the person as a result of the accident, the Department shall determine the amount of security which shall be sufficient in its judgment, and in no event less than Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($250) to satisfy any judgment or judgments for damages resulting from such accident as may be recovered against each operator or owner.

(b) The Department shall, subject to the provisions of Subsection (c) of this section, suspend the license and all registrations of each operator and owner of a motor vehicle in any manner involved in such accident, if there is found to be a reasonable probability of a judgment being rendered against that person as a result of the accident, and if such operator or owner is a nonresident the privilege of operating a motor vehicle within this State, and the privilege of the use within this State of any motor vehicle owned by him unless such operator, owner or operator and owner shall deposit security in the sum so determined by the Department or by a person presiding at a hearing and in no event less than Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($250), and unless such operator and owner shall give proof of financial responsibility.

Before suspension of a license, registration, or privilege, the Department must find that there is a reasonable probability of a judgment being rendered against the person as a result of the accident and the amount of security that must be deposited. For this purpose it may consider the report of the investigating officer, the accident reports of all parties involved, and any affidavits of persons having knowledge of the facts. Notice of the determination by the Department shall be served personally on the person or mailed by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the affected person’s last known address, as shown by the records of the Department. The notice shall specify that the license to operate a motor vehicle and the registration, or nonresident’s operating privilege, will be suspended unless the person, within twenty (20) days after personal service or the mailing of the notice, establishes that the provisions of this section are not applicable to him and that he has previously furnished such information to the Department or that there is no reasonable probability of a judgment being rendered against him as a result of the accident. The notice shall recite that the person to whom it is addressed is entitled to a hearing as provided in this Act if a written request for a hearing is delivered or mailed to the Department within twenty (20) days after personal service or the mailing of the notice. The person’s license to operate the vehicle and his registration or nonresident’s operating privilege may not be suspended pending the outcome of the hearing and any appeal.

If a hearing is requested, the Department shall summon the person requesting the hearing to appear for the hearing as provided in this subsection. The hearing shall be held not less than ten (10) days after notice is given to the person requesting the hearing and written charges shall be made and a copy given to the person requesting the hearing at the time he is given the hearing notice. Jurisdiction for the hearing is vested in the judge of a police court, or a justice of the peace in the county and precinct in which the person requesting the hearing resides. The hearing officer may receive a fee for hearing these cases if the fee is approved by the commissioners court of the county of jurisdiction, but the fee may not be more than Five Dollars ($5) a case and shall be paid from the general revenue fund of the county. The hearing officer may administer oaths and may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of relative books and papers. It shall be the duty of the court to set the matter for hearing upon ten (10) days written notice to the Department. Such proceeding shall have precedence over all other matters of a different nature, and shall be tried before the judge within fifteen (15) days from the filing thereof, and neither party shall be entitled to a jury. At the hearing, the issues to be determined are whether there is a reasonable probability of a judgment being rendered against the person requesting the hearing as a result of the accident and, if so, the amount of security that will be sufficient to satisfy any judgment or judgments for damages resulting from the accident, but in no event less than Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($250), that may be recovered from the person requesting the hearing. The officer who presides at the hearing shall report the findings in the case to the Department. Notice as required by this paragraph shall be served personally on the person or mailed by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the person's last known address, as shown by the records of the Department.

If, after a hearing, the determination is that there is a reasonable probability of a judgment being rendered against the person as a result of the accident, the person may appeal the findings to the county court of the county in which the hearing was held and the appeal shall be de novo.

If a written request for a hearing is not delivered or mailed to the Department within twenty (20) days after personal service or the mailing of notice and the person has not established within that time that the provisions of this section do not apply to him or if within twenty (20) days after a hearing and exhaustion of the appeal procedure, if an appeal is made in which the decision is against the person requesting the hearing, security and proof of financial responsibility are not deposited with the Department, the Department shall suspend the person's license to operate a motor vehicle, the vehicle registration, or nonresident's operating privilege until the person complies with the provisions of this Act.

Notice of such suspension shall be sent by the Department to such operator and owner not less than ten (10) days prior to the effective date of such suspension and shall state the amount required as security and the necessity for proof of financial responsibility. Where erroneous information is given the Department with respect to the matters set forth in subdivisions 2, 3, and 4 of Subsection (c) of this Section, it shall take appropriate action as hereinafter provided, within sixty (60) days after receipt by it or correct information with respect to said matters.

The determination by the Department or by a person presiding at a hearing of the question of whether there is a reasonable probability of a judgment being rendered against a person as a result of an accident may not be introduced in evidence in any civil suit for damages arising from the accident. (c) This section shall not apply under the conditions stated in Section 6 nor:

1. To a motor vehicle operator or owner against whom the Department or a person presiding at a hearing finds there is not a reasonable probability of a judgment being rendered as a result of the accident;

2. To such operator or owner if such owner had in effect at the time of such accident a motor vehicle liability policy with respect to the motor vehicle involved in such accident;

3. To such operator, if not the owner of such motor vehicle, if there was in effect at the time of such accident a motor vehicle liability policy or bond with respect to his operation of motor vehicles not owned by him;

4. To any person employed by the government of the United States, when such person is acting within the scope or office of his employment;

5. To such operator or owner if the liability of such operator or owner for damages resulting from such accident is, in the judgment of the Department, covered by any other form of liability insurance policy or bond; nor

6. To any person qualifying as a self-insurer under Section 34 of this Act, or to any person operating a motor vehicle for such self-insurer.

No such policy or bond shall be effective under this section or under Section 7 unless issued by an insurance company or surety company authorized to write motor vehicle liability insurance in this State, except that if such motor vehicle was not registered in this State, or was a motor vehicle which was registered elsewhere than in this State at the effective date of the policy, or the most recent renewal thereof, such policy or bond shall not be effective under this section unless the insurance company or surety company if not authorized to do business in this State shall execute a power of attorney authorizing the Department to accept service on its behalf of notice or process in any action upon such policy or bond arising out of such accident; providing, however, every such policy or bond is subject, if the accident has resulted in bodily injury or death, to a limit, exclusive of interest and costs, of not less than Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident and, subject to said limit for one person, to a limit of not less than Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000) because of bodily injury to or death of two (2) or more persons in any one accident, and, if the accident has resulted in injury to or destruction of property, to a limit of not less than Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) because of injury to or destruction of property of others in any one accident. The policy or bond may exclude coverage of the first Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($250) of liability for bodily injury to or death of any one person in any one accident, and, subject to that exclusion for one
Art. 6701i. Brake Fluids; Marketing Regulated; Penalties

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Brake fluid" means the liquid medium through which force is transmitted in the hydraulic brake system of any motor vehicle operated upon the highways of this state.

(2) "Package" means the immediate container in which the brake fluid is packed for sale but does not include a carton or wrapping containing several packages, nor a tank car or truck.

(3) "Packer" means a person who fills with brake fluid a package that is subsequently distributed for sale in this state.

(4) "Person" means an individual, corporation, or association.

(5) "Sell" means to convey, give, barter, trade, exchange, keep for sale, offer for sale, expose for sale, advertise for sale, deliver for or after sale, or distribute.

(6) "Labeling" means written, printed, or graphic representations in any form printed on or affixed to a package.

(7) "Department" means the Department of Public Safety.

Sec. 1A. The legislature of the State of Texas, mindful of the importance of braking systems in motor vehicles, determines that it is necessary in the interest of the safety of the motoring public to establish brake fluid standards and provide for the proper enforcement of the standards. It is the purpose of this Act to insure to the motoring public at the time of purchase of brake fluid that the fluid meets the necessary minimum standards established under this Act.

Sec. 2. (a) A person who knowingly, intentionally, or recklessly manufactures, packs, sells, or adds to the hydraulic brake system of a motor vehicle in this state, any brake fluid: (1) which is misbranded, (2) which is not currently registered under this Act, or (3) which is adulterated, commits an offense.

(b) An offense under this section is a Class B misdemeanor.

Sec. 3. (a) A brake fluid is misbranded:

(1) if its labeling is false or misleading in any particular; or

(2) if the package in which it is packed for sale does not bear a label or imprint containing in clear and legible type:

(A) the name and address of the manufacturer, packer, or seller;

(B) the words "brake fluid" and a designation of the contents as described by rule of the department; and

(C) an accurate statement of the net contents in terms of liquid measure.

(b) A brake fluid is adulterated:

(1) if the formula for or proportions of its contents have been changed since it was most recently registered; or

(2) if its quality or characteristics do not meet the standards and specifications for brake fluid established by the department.

Sec. 4. The Department of Public Safety shall from time to time adopt rules relating to the enforcement of this Act and establishing as minimum standards and specifications for brake fluids and packages for brake fluid the standards adopted from time to time by the United States Department of Transportation.

Sec. 5. (a) Any manufacturer, packer, or distributor, or their agents or representatives, desiring to market any brake fluid in the State of Texas that is not currently registered under this Act shall first furnish to the department such sample of the fluid as it may require for testing purposes and present in writing to the department an application for registration of the brake fluid for marketing in Texas.

(b) An application must be accompanied by a report of an independent testing laboratory approved by the department. The report must contain an analysis of the contents of the brake fluid submitted to the laboratory, showing that the quality of the laboratory sample meets the standards and specifications for brake fluid established by departmental rule. The applicant shall sign a sworn statement attached to the report, certifying that the formula for and proportions of the contents of the sample of brake fluid submitted to the independent testing laboratory are the same as the formula and proportions of the sample submitted to the department and the formula and proportions of the brake fluid being manufactured or packaged for sale.

(c) The department shall cause such tests to be made as may be necessary to determine whether or not a sample of brake fluid conforms to the standards and specifications adopted under this Act and may submit any sample to the University of Texas for official testing for the department.

(d) After the department has caused such tests to be made of a sample of brake fluid submitted for registration as the department finds necessary, the department, if the sample meets the standards and specifications adopted under this Act, shall issue the applicant a certificate of registration authorizing manufacture, packing, and sale in the state of the brake fluid for which the sample is a representative during the time specified on the certificate.

(e) After such testing as the department finds necessary, if the department finds that a sample of brake fluid does not meet the standards and specifications established by rule, the department shall deny registration of the brake fluid and notify the applicant by registered or certified mail of its decision. The notice shall specify the reasons for denying registration.

(f) Within 30 days after receipt of a notice of a denial of registration, an applicant may request the department to hold a hearing on the department's decision.

(g) After providing notice and an opportunity for a hearing, the department may revoke registration and cancel a certificate of registration for brake fluid if the department finds that:

(1) any portion of the brake fluid is misbranded or adulterated; or

(2) the registrant has failed since registration to comply with a requirement of this Act or a rule issued under the authority of this Act.

(h) An appeal from a decision of the department after a hearing under Subsection (f) or (g) of this section is by trial de novo.

Enforcement

Sec. 6. (a) If brake fluid is manufactured, packed, or sold in violation of Section 2 of this Act, the department may issue and enforce a written or printed stop-sale order prohibiting the further manufacture, packing, or sale of brake fluid of the same brand name on the premises where the violation occurred. The department shall terminate a stop-sale order after remedy of the violation or after voluntary destruction or other disposal, under the supervision of the department, of the fluid that is the subject of the violation. The owner or custodian of brake fluid to which a stop-sale order applies may appeal the stop-sale order to a district court in the county in which the brake fluid is located. Appeal is by trial de novo.

(b) The department may apply to a magistrate in a county in which brake fluid manufactured, packed, or sold in violation of Section 2 of this Act is located for a search warrant to inspect the premises where the violation occurred or is occurring and to seize misbranded, unregistered, or adulterated brake fluid. Brake fluid seized under warrant issued under this subsection is subject to disposition in the manner provided for disposition of brake fluid seized as provided by Subsection (d) of this section.

(c) The department may institute an action in a district court in the county in which a violation of Section 2 of this Act has occurred or is occurring, to enjoin further violations of this Act. A bond may not be required for issuance of an injunction under this subsection.

(d) Any misbranded, unregistered, or adulterated brake fluid sold within this state may be proceeded against in any county or district court in any county of the state where it may be found, by the county or district attorney for the county, and seized for confiscation by process of libel for condemnation. If, following seizure, the article is condemned it shall, after entry of decree, be disposed of by destruction or sale as the court may direct, and the proceeds, if such article is sold, less legal costs, shall be paid to the State Treasury. The article shall not be sold contrary to the provisions of this Act and upon payment of costs and execution and delivery of a good and sufficient bond, to be approved by the court, conditioned that the article shall not be disposed of unlawfully, the court may direct that the article be delivered to the owner thereof for relabeling or reprocessing as the case may be.

(e) The department may enter, during reasonable hours, any premises where brake fluid is manufactured, packed, or sold, for the purpose of enforcing this Act. The department may inspect, sample, analyze, and test any brake fluid found on the premises. Before the department requests entrance to premises where brake fluid is manufactured, packed, or sold or if the department is refused entrance to the premises, the department may request a magistrate in the county in which the premises are located to issue a search warrant to inspect the area. The magistrate shall issue the warrant without prior notice to the owner or custodian of the premises if the department shows specific evidence of a violation of a requirement of this Act or a rule adopted under the authority of this Act or shows that the department has complied with reasonable administrative standards for conducting inspections under this Act. The department shall adopt rules prescribing reasonable administrative standards for conducting inspections under this Act.

(f) The methods of enforcement provided by this section are cumulative, and the use of one method does not preclude the use of any other method provided by this section.

(g) The department shall cooperate with the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration of the Sections 3 and 4 of the 1979 amendatory act provided:

"Sec. 3. In enacting this legislation, the legislature intends that if the registration provisions of this Act are held invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction, the provisions of this Act relating to the enforcement of brake fluid standards established by the United States Department of Transportation shall be given effect if at all possible."

"Sec. 4. This Act takes effect on September 1, 1979. Chapter 224, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1957 (Article 6701k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is continued in effect as it existed on August 31, 1979, for the prosecution of offenses committed before the effective date of this Act."

Art. 6701-1. Intoxicated Driver; Penalty

Any person who drives or operates an automobile or any other motor vehicle upon any public road or highway in this State, on a beach as defined in the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or upon any street or alley within the limits of an incorporated city, town or village, while intoxicated or under the influence of intoxicating liquor, shall be guilty of or under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and who shall thereafter drive or operate an automobile or other motor vehicle upon any public road or highway in this state, on a beach as defined in the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or upon any street or alley within the limits of an incorporated city, town or village, while such person is intoxicated or under the influence of intoxicating liquor, shall for each and every subsequent such violation be guilty of a felony; and upon conviction shall be punished:

1. by a fine of not less than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars nor more than Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars;

2. by confinement in the county jail not less than ten (10) days nor more than two (2) years or in the state penitentiary not to exceed five (5) years; or

3. by both such fine and imprisonment.

Section 2 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"(a) The change in the punishment for a subsequent offense of driving while intoxicated made by this Act applies only to an offense committed on or after the effective date of this Act. For purposes of this section, an offense is committed before the effective date of this Act if any element of the offense occurs before the effective date.

"(b) An offense committed before the effective date of this Act is covered by the law in effect when the offense was committed, and the former law is continued in effect for this purpose."

Art. 6701-4. Driving by Certain Minors While Intoxicated; Traffic Violations

Sec. 1. Any minor who has passed his or her 14th birthday but has not reached his or her 17th birthday, and who drives or operates an automobile or any other motor vehicle on any public road or highway in this state or upon any street or alley within the limits of any city, town or village, upon any beach as defined in Chapter 430, Acts of the 51st Legislature, Regular Session, 1949 (Article 6701d-21, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), in such way as to violate any traffic law of this state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00). As used in this section, the term "any traffic law of this state" shall include the following statutes, as heretofore or hereafter amended:

Art. 6701m-1. Inscription on State Vehicle

There shall be printed upon each side of every automobile, truck or other motor vehicle owned by the State of Texas the word "Texas," followed in letters of not less than two (2) inches high by the title of the department, bureau, board, commission or official having the custody of such car, and such inscription shall be in a color sufficiently different from the body of the car so that the lettering shall be plainly legible at a distance of not less than one hundred (100) feet, and the official having control thereof shall have such wording placed thereon as prescribed herein, and whoever drives any automobile, truck or other motor vehicle belonging to the State upon the streets of any town or city or upon a highway without such inscription printed thereon shall be fined not less than Twenty-five Dollars ($25.00) nor more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00). Provided, however, State-owned vehicles under control and custody of the State Board of Pharmacy, Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, the Department of Public Safety, the Department of Corrections, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, Agencies and Branches of Government for whom appropriations are made under the article of the General Appropriations Act that appropriates money to the legislature, and the Texas Youth Council may be exempt from the requirements of this Act by rule and regulation of the governing bodies of these State agencies. Such rules and regulations shall specify the primary use to which vehicles exempt from the requirements of this Act are devoted, the purpose to be served by not printing on them the inscriptions required by this Act and such rules and regulations shall not be effective until filed with the Secretary of State. Whoever drives a vehicle exempted from the requirements of this Act as authorized by this provision shall not be subject to the penalties prescribed in this Act.

Art. 6701½. Mobile Homes; Movement of Overlength and Overwidth on Highways; Permits; Fees

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of A to G]

H. The term "mobile home" as used in this Article means "manufactured housing" as that term is defined by the Texas Manufactured Housing Standards Act, as amended (Article 5221f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

CHAPTER TWO. ESTABLISHMENT OF COUNTY ROADS

Art. 6704. Classes of Roads

The Commissioners Court shall classify all public roads in their counties as follows:

1. First class roads shall be clear of all obstructions, and not less than forty (40) feet nor more than one hundred (100) feet wide; all stumps over six (6) inches in diameter shall be cut down to six (6) inches of the surface and rounded off, and all stumps six (6) inches in diameter and under, cut smooth with the ground, and all causeways made at least sixteen (16) feet wide. No first or second class road shall be reduced to a lower class.

2. Second class roads shall conform to the requirements of first class roads except that they shall be not less than forty (40) feet wide.

3. Third class roads shall not be less than twenty (20) feet wide and the causeway not less than twelve (12) feet wide; otherwise they shall conform to the requirements of first class roads.

4. Any county in this State containing a population of less than sixty thousand (60,000) inhabitants, according to the last preceding federal census, may by a majority vote of the Commissioners Court thereof authorize the construction of cattle guards across any or all of the first class, second class, or third class roads in said county, and such cattle guards shall not be classed or considered as obstructions on said roads.

The Commissioners Court of any county coming under the provisions of this Act shall provide proper plans and specifications of a standard cattle guard to be used on the roads of said county, said plans and specifications to be plainly written, supplemented by such drawings as may be necessary and shall be available to the inspection of the citizenship of such county. After said Commissioners Court provides said proper plans and specifications of a standard cattle guard to be used on the roads of said county any person constructing any cattle guard that is not in accordance with said approved plans and specifications prepared by said Commissioners Court shall be deemed guilty of obstructing said roads of said county, and the person responsible for such improper construction of said cattle guards shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined not less than Five Dollars ($5) nor more than One Hundred Dollars ($100).

The Commissioners Court of any county coming under the provisions of this Act is hereby authorized and empowered to construct cattle guards on the first class, second class, and third class roads of said county and pay for same out of the Road and Bridge Funds of said county when in their judgment they believe the construction of such cattle guards to be to the best interest of the citizens of said county.

CHAPTER THREE. MAINTENANCE OF ROADS

4. OPTIONAL ROAD LAW

Art. 6762. Ex Officio Commissioners

Sec. 1. In all counties of this state the members of the Commissioners Court shall be ex officio road commissioners of their respective precincts; and under the direction of the Commissioners Court shall have charge of the teams, tools and machinery belonging to the county and placed in their hands by said court. They shall superintend the laying out of new roads, the making or changing of roads and the building of bridges under rules adopted by said court. Each commissioner shall first execute a bond of Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.00) payable to and to be approved by the County Judge for the use and benefit of the road and bridge fund, conditioned that he will perform all duties required of him by law, or by the Commissioners Court, and that he will account for all money or other property belonging to the county that may come into his possession.

Sec. 2. Chapter 178, Acts of the 50th Legislature, Regular Session, 1947, as amended (Article 6716-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Articles 6737 through 6761, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, do not apply in a county in which the Commissioners Court acting under Article 6769 has adopted this article and Articles 6763, 6764, and 6766. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2584, ch. 691, § 1, eff. June 16, 1981.]

Art. 6763. Powers
The commissioners court shall adopt such system for working, laying out, draining and repairing the public roads as it deems best, and from time to time said court may change its plan or system of working. Said court may purchase such teams, tools and machinery as may be necessary for the working of public roads; and construct, grade, or otherwise improve any road or bridge by contract in the manner provided in the preceding subdivision of this chapter. Subject to authorization by the commissioners court, each ex officio road commissioner may employ persons for positions in the commissioner's precinct paid from the county road and bridge funds. Each ex officio road commissioner may discharge any county employee working in the commissioner's precinct if the employee is paid from county road and bridge funds. Each ex officio road commissioner also has the powers of a supervisor of public roads as provided by Article 6713, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2585, ch. 691, § 2, eff. June 16, 1981.]

CHAPTER FIVE. BRIDGES AND FERRIES
Art. 6795b-1. Causeways, Bridges, Tunnels, Turnpikes, or Highways Authorized in Gulf Coast Counties of 50,000 or More

Construction and Operation Authorized; Cost and Expenses
Sec. 1. Any county in the State of Texas which borders on the Gulf of Mexico or any bay or inlet opening thereinto and which has a population of fifty thousand (50,000) or more, according to the last Federal Census preceding the authorization of bonds hereunder, acting through its Commissioners Court, is hereby authorized and empowered to construct, acquire, improve, operate and maintain a causeway, bridge, tunnel, turnpike, highway, or any combination of such facilities, including all necessary overpasses, underpasses, interchanges, entrance plazas, toll houses, service stations, approaches, fixtures, accessories, equipment, and administration, storage, and other necessary buildings, together with all property rights, easements, and interests acquired in connection therewith (all of which are hereinafter referred to as "the project") from one (1) point in said county to another, or from one (1) point in said county to a point in another county (regardless of the population of such other county), and to issue its tax bonds, revenue bonds, or combination tax and revenue bonds, to pay the cost of such construction, acquisition, or improvement. Among other things, the cost of the project may include the following: the cost of construction; the cost of all property, real, personal, and mixed, and all appurtenances, easements, contracts, franchises, pavements, and properties of every nature, used or useful in connection with the construction, acquisition, improvement, operation, and maintenance of the project; the payment of the cost of condemning any such property, including both the payment of the award and the payment of the court costs and attorneys fees; the payment of all legal, fiscal, and engineering expenses incurred in connection with the acquisition and construction of the project and the making of preliminary surveys and investigations and the authorization and issuance of the bonds; and the payment of interest on the bonds and operating expenses on the project prior to and during the period occupied by the construction of the project and for one (1) year thereafter. If the Commissioners Court shall consider it desirable to acquire, through purchase or lease, existing ferry properties for the purpose of operating such properties during the period of construction, over the route to be traversed by the project, such properties may be so acquired and the cost thereof paid from the proceeds of the bonds. Any preliminary expenses paid from county funds shall be repaid to such funds from the proceeds of the bonds when available, and all engineering and fiscal contracts and agreements for such projects heretofore entered into are hereby validated and confirmed. Where any causeway, bridge, tunnel, turnpike, highway, or combination thereof constructed or acquired and financed hereunder extends from a point in the county issuing the bonds to a point in another county, it may be so constructed or acquired only after there shall have been adopted by the Commissioners Court of the county not issuing the bonds, a resolution approving and consenting to such construction or acquisition, and the Commissioners Court of any such county is hereby authorized to adopt such resolution. So long as and to the extent... that the project, or part thereof, has not been designated as part of the State Highway System and is not considered a Turnpike Project, as defined in Chapter 410, Acts of the Fifty-Third Legislature, 1953, as amended,\(^1\) that part of the project (which has not been so designated and is not so considered) in each county shall be considered a part of the county road system of such county, and all laws relating to the maintenance and operation of county roads are hereby made applicable to any project constructed or acquired hereunder in so far as they do not conflict with the provisions hereof; and each county into which the project extends may acquire necessary lands or right of ways or other property by purchase, condemnation or otherwise, under the General Laws of Texas, and the county issuing the bonds shall have such powers with respect to necessary lands or right of ways or other property in each county into which the project extends; provided that provision for the payment of the purchase price, award, or other costs may be upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the Commissioners Courts of the county issuing the bonds and the other county, and the proceeds of the bonds issued hereunder may be used for such purposes; and provided, further, that no election shall be necessary to authorize the issuance of any bonds issued hereunder payable solely from revenues, but in case no election is held, notice of intention to issue such bonds shall be given as provided in Sections 2 and 3 of the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931, as amended,\(^2\) and the authority to issue such bonds shall be subject to the right of referendum provided in Section 4 of said Law. Bonds authorized to be issued under this law shall be sold in such manner, either at public or private sale, and for such price as the Commissioners Court of the county issuing the bonds may determine to be for the best interests of the county.

\(^1\) Article 6674v.
\(^2\) Article 2368a.

Sec. 2. No bonds authorized pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section shall ever be a debt of the county issuing them, but shall be solely a charge upon the revenues of the project and shall never be reckoned in determining the powers of the county to issue any bonds, payable in whole or in part from taxes, for any purpose authorized by law. Each such bond payable solely from the revenues of a project shall contain this clause: “The holder hereof shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation.” All bonds issued hereunder may be presented to the Attorney General for his approval in the same manner and with like effect as is provided for the approval of tax bonds issued by counties. In such case the bonds shall be registered by the State Comptroller as in the case of other county bonds. But notwithstanding any limitations in this Act or in the law which it amends, any county proceeding hereunder after this amendatory Act becomes effective may issue bonds for such purpose secured by any one of the following methods:

(a) Solely by the pledge of revenues as prescribed hereinabove in this Section and elsewhere in Chapter 304, Acts of the Regular Session of the Fiftieth Legislature, as amended;\(^1\) or

(b) A pledge of and payable from either an ad valorem tax levied under Article 8, Section 9 of the Constitution, or an unlimited ad valorem tax authorized under Article 3, Section 52 of the Constitution and laws enacted pursuant thereto; or

(c) A designated part of the bonds to be secured solely by a pledge of revenues as provided under sub-section (a) and a designated part of the bonds to be secured by pledges of such ad valorem tax as provided under sub-section (b) of this Section; or

(d) A combination of the methods prescribed under sub-sections (a) and (b) wherein all of the bonds are to be supported and secured by such ad valorem tax with the duty imposed on the County to collect tolls for use of the facilities so long as any of the bonds are outstanding so that in the manner to be prescribed in the bond resolution or the trust indenture the amount of the tax to be collected from time to time may be reduced or abated to the extent that the revenues from the operation of the facilities are sufficient to meet the requirements for operation and maintenance and to provide funds for the bonds as prescribed in the indenture.

But no such bonds wholly or partially supported by an ad valorem tax shall be issued unless and until they shall have been authorized at an election at which the question of their issuance shall have been submitted.

\(^1\) This article.

Pooled Projects

Sec. 2a. Any two or more projects constructed by a county proceeding hereunder may, upon the adoption of a resolution approving the same, duly passed by the Commissioners Court, be pooled and designated as a “pooled project.” Any existing project or projects may be pooled in whole or in part with any new project or projects thereof. After being so designated, such “pooled project” shall become a “project” as used in Chapter 304, Acts of the Regular Session of the Fiftieth Legislature, 1947, as amended. No project may be pooled more than once. Consistent with the resolution or order providing for the issuance of the bonds or the trust indenture securing the same, the resolution of the Commissioners Court shall set a date certain when each of the projects being authorized to be pooled shall be available for the free use of the public. Subject to the terms of any such bond resolution or trust indenture, any county proceeding hereunder is authorized to issue from time to time bonds of the county as hereinbefore authorized, including bonds which are payable either in whole or in part from the revenues of a pooled project, for the purpose of...
Art. 6795b-1
ROADS, BRIDGES, AND FERRIES

(i) paying all or any part of the cost of such pooled project or the cost of any part of such pooled project, (ii) paying the costs of constructing improvements, extensions, or enlargements to all or any part of any pooled project, or (iii) refunding any bonds then outstanding issued on account of any pooled project or any part of any pooled project, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon and any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of redemption of such bonds, and, if deemed advisable by the Commissioners Court, paying the costs of constructing improvements, extensions, and enlargements to the pooled project or to any part of any pooled project in connection with which or in connection with any part of which bonds to be refunded shall have been issued. Revenues of all or any part of such pooled project may be pledged to the payment of such bonds. Improvements, extensions, or enlargements to be paid from refunding bonds issued hereunder are not restricted to and need not be constructed on any particular part of a pooled project in connection with which bonds to be refunded may have been issued but may be constructed in whole or in part on other parts of the pooled project not covered by the bonds to be refunded. Within the discretion of the issuing county, refunding bonds issued hereunder may be issued in exchange for outstanding bonds or may be sold and the proceeds used for the purpose of redeeming outstanding bonds. Any county having previously designated a "pooled project" may from time to time, subject to the terms of any bond resolution or trust indenture, add to, delete from, or otherwise amend the extent or component parts of any pooled project, which pooled project as so amended shall be and become a project as used in Chapter 304, Acts of the Regular Session of the Fiftieth Legislature, Regular Session, 1947, as amended.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3]

Contract or Agreement for Project Construction, Acquisition, etc.; Project Feasibility Studies and Surveys

Sec. 3a. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, any county proceeding hereunder may contract or agree with any other county, city, village, town, special district, or any other legally constituted political subdivision or agency of the State of Texas, or any combination of these, to construct, acquire, improve, operate, and maintain a project. Any such contract or agreement may provide for joint ownership of the project or for title to the project to be in any one of the contracting parties. In addition, any contracting county proceeding hereunder may issue its bonds, as authorized herein, for the purpose of paying all or any part of the cost of a project which said county is obligated to pay under any such contract or agreement. Any contract or agreement entered into under this section may contain any terms and extend for any period of time to which the parties can agree, and may provide that it will continue in effect until bonds specified in it and refunding bonds issued in lieu of those bonds are paid. If any such contract or agreement so provides, payments made thereunder shall be operating and maintenance expenses of the project, and the revenues derived from operation of such project may be pledged to such payment.

If on the effective date of this amendment any agency of the State of Texas has expended funds in the amount of $75,000 or more for the purpose of conducting studies and surveys or making other investigations for the purpose of determining the feasibility and practicability of constructing a toll project, a county proceeding hereunder may not, without the consent of such state agency, assume sole responsibility for the construction, acquisition, improvement, operation, and maintenance of the project and thereby exclusively preempt the state agency from constructing such project; provided, however, that the foregoing restriction set forth in this sentence shall not apply to any county proceeding hereunder if such county has given the state agency written notice by certified mail of its intention to proceed with construction, acquisition, improvement, operation, and maintenance of the project and the state agency has failed or refused for any reason within six months from the date of such notice to issue its bonds in the amount required to pay the cost of the project.

Bonds; Tolls; Trust Indenture

Sec. 4. The bonds issued hereunder may be authorized by resolution at one time or from time to time. If such bonds are payable in whole or in part from the revenues to be derived from the operation of the project, it shall be the mandatory duty of the county, which duty may be executed by an operating board appointed pursuant to Section 5b hereof, to impose such tolls and charges for use of the project as will be fully sufficient, when taken with any other funds or revenues available for such purposes, to pay the maintenance and operating expenses which are charged against the revenues of the project, to pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the bonds when due, to establish an adequate fund for depreciation and replacement. As to such bonds which are payable either in whole or in part from the revenues to be derived from the operation of a project, the operating and maintenance expenses of the project shall be charged against the revenues of the project which shall include only such items as are set forth and defined in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of such bonds. The Commissioners Court shall have full discretion in fixing the details of the bonds authorized to be issued hereunder and in determining the manner of sale thereof, provided that the bonds, whether term, serial, or combination thereof, shall mature not more than forty (40) years from their date. The bonds may contain such mandatory or optional redemption provisions and may mature in such manner and at such prices as may be determined by the Commissioners Court prior to the issuance of the bonds. All bonds issued hereunder shall and are hereby declared to have all of the qualifications and incidents of negotiable instruments under the Negotiable Instruments Law of Texas. Provision may be made for registration of such bonds as to principal or interest or both. The proceeds of the bonds shall be used solely to pay the cost of the project as above defined, and shall be disbursed under such restrictions as may be provided by bondholders including, but without limitation, covenants under the Negotiable Instruments Law of Texas and may restrict the individual rights of action of the bondholders. The proceeds of the bonds shall be used solely to pay the other provisions as the Commissioners Court may prescribe in respect of such bonds. Unless otherwise provided in such bond resolution or trust indenture, the amount of the deficit and shall deemed to be of the same issue and entitled to payment from the same fund without preference or priority of the bonds first issued. Any surplus remaining from bond proceeds after the cost of the project has been paid in full shall be used in paying interest on and retiring bonds unless otherwise provided in the bond resolution or trust indenture. Prior to the issuance of definitive bonds, interim bonds, with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds may be issued. Such bonds may be authorized and issued without any proceedings or the happening of any conditions or things or the publication of any proceedings or notices other than those specifically specified and required by this Act, and may be authorized and issued without regard to the requirements, restrictions, or procedural provisions contained in any other law. The resolution authorizing the bonds may provide that such bonds shall contain a recital that they are issued pursuant to this Act and such recital shall be conclusive evidence of their validity and the regularity of their issuance.

If so provided by the Commissioners Court, the bonds may be secured by a trust indenture by and between the county and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or outside of the State of Texas. Such trust indenture may pledge or assign tolls and revenues but shall not convey or mortgage the project itself or any part thereof. Either the resolution providing for the issuance of the bonds or such trust indenture may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties of the county in relation to the acquisition of properties and the construction, maintenance, operation, repair, and insurance of the project, and the custody, safeguarding, and application of all moneys. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company in this State to act as depository of the proceeds of the bonds or revenues derived from the operation of the project and to furnish such indemnity bonds or to pledge such securities as may be required by the county. Such bond resolution or indenture may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders and of the trustee and may restrict the individual rights of action of the bondholders. In addition to the foregoing, such bond resolution or trust indenture may contain such other provisions as the Commissioners Court may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders including, but without limitation, covenants prescribing all happenings or occurrences which constitute events of default and the terms and conditions upon which any or all of the bonds shall become or may be declared to be due before maturity and as to the rights, liabilities, powers and duties arising upon the breach by the county of any of its duties or obligations.

Operating Board

Sec. 5b. Any county proceeding hereunder, upon a determination by the Commissioners Court thereof that a project could be developed, constructed, operated, and managed better and more efficiently by an operating board, may provide for the appointment of such an operating board. An operating board so appointed shall have and may exercise, subject to such limitations and restrictions as may be prescribed by the Commissioners Court, the same power and authority, including the power of eminent domain, as may be exercised by the Commissioners Court in regard to the development, construction, operation, and management of a project; provided, however, that an operating board appointed hereunder shall not have the power to tax or to borrow money. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such an operating board shall have the power and authority, subject to the restrictions and limitations prescribed by the Commissioners Court, to design the project, to acquire necessary lands or rights-of-way or other property for the project by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, to establish and revise from time to time the rates and tolls charged for use of said project, to establish and prescribe the methods, systems, procedures, and policies for the operation, maintenance, and use of the project, and to employ consultants, attorneys, engineers, financial advisors, agents, and other employees or contractors in connection with the development, construction, operation, and management of the project.

Bonds for Payment of Outstanding Toll Bridge Revenue Bonds

Sec. 8a. When any county has herefore issued or may hereafter issue bonds under authority of Chapter 304, Acts of the Regular Session of the Fiftieth Legislature, 1947, as amended payable from the revenues derived from tolls collected for the use of a project and which bonds are also payable from an unlimited tax authorized under Article III, Section 52, of the Constitution, and laws enacted pursuant thereto, such county acting through its Commissioners Court may, after being duly authorized in the manner provided by Article III, Section 52, of the Constitution, and laws enacted pursuant thereto, authorize, issue, and sell its bonds and use the proceeds therefrom in an amount sufficient to call, redeem, and pay off its outstanding tax and revenue bonds pursuant to the terms of said bonds, and thereby remove the pledge of the revenues from such facility and the covenants in connection with such bonds and the operation of said project, and make such project available for the free use of the public.
Art. 6795b-1  ROADS, BRIDGES, AND FERRIES

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2160, ch. 861, §§ 1 to 7, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Section 5 of the 1977 amendatory act provided:

"If any word, phrase, clause, sentence, or part of this Act shall be held by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid or unconstitutional, it shall not affect any other word, phrase, clause, sentence, or part of this Act, and such remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect."

Tolls, Fees and Charges; Power of County to Collect; Purpose of Tolls

Sec. 3. Any such county thus acquiring any such toll bridge or bridges or constructing a new toll bridge shall have power, through its Commissioners Court as expressed by appropriate resolution or order thereof, to fix and to enforce and collect tolls, fees and charges for the use thereof, and for the passage or transportation of persons or property, passengers, vehicles, freight and commodities, over and across such toll bridge or bridges. Such tolls, fees and charges shall be fixed from time to time by the Commissioners Court of such county and collected under its direction in accordance with the provisions and requirements of any permits or franchises granted or extended by any governmental authority in respect of or applicable thereto; and, subject to the provisions and requirements of such permits or franchises, such tolls, fees and charges shall be just and reasonable and non-discriminatory, as determined by the Commissioners Court of such county, and, subject to the provisions and requirements of any such permits and franchises, shall be sufficient to at least produce revenues adequate:

(a) To pay all expenses necessary for the maintenance and operation of such toll bridge or bridges, and to comply with the requirements and make all payments necessary under the provisions of any such permits and franchises therefor;

(b) To pay the interest on and the principal of all bonds and/or warrants issued under this Act, when and as the same shall become due and payable;

(c) To pay all sinking fund and/or reserve fund payments agreed to be made in respect of any such bonds and/or warrants, and, payable out of such revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable; and

(d) To fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of such bonds and/or warrants and/or with any person in their behalf;

(e) To recover a reasonable rate of return on invested capital;

(f) Out of the revenues which may be received in excess of those required for the purposes specified in (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) above, the Commissioners Court of any such county may in its discretion use such excess revenues for any or all of the following:

(1) to establish a reasonable depreciation and emergency fund;

(2) to retire by purchase and cancellation or redemption any outstanding bonds or outstanding warrants issued under the authority of this Act and amendments thereto;

(3) to provide needed budgetary support to local government for legitimate public purposes and for the general welfare;

(4) to apply the same to accomplish the purposes of this Act and amendments thereto;

(g) It is the intention of this Act that the tolls, fees and charges herein provided for shall be those necessary to fulfill all obligations imposed by this Act and amendments thereto, and shall be sufficient to produce revenues to comply with the above subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f).

Nothing herein shall be construed as depriving the State of Texas or the United States of America, or other appropriate agencies having jurisdiction, of its power to regulate and control tolls and charges to be collected for such purposes, provided that the State of Texas does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the bonds and/or warrants issued hereunder that the State will not limit or alter the power hereby vested in any such county and the Commissioners Court thereof to establish and collect such tolls and charges as will produce revenues sufficient to pay the items specified in subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f) of this Section 3 of this Act, or exercise its powers in any way which may impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the bonds and/or warrants, or of any person acting in their behalf until the bonds and/or warrants, together with interest thereon and with interest on unpaid installments of interest and all costs and expenses in connection with any acts or proceedings by or on behalf of the bondholders and/or warrant holders and all other obligations of any such county is connection with such bonds and/or warrants are fully met and discharged.

(b) This section shall apply to international toll bridges now in existence and owned by a county... or that may be acquired or controlled by a county in the future.

Operating Board

Sec. 3a. Any such county acquiring any such toll bridge or bridges, upon a determination by the Commissioners Court thereof that the same could be better and more efficiently operated by an operating board, may provide by either the resolution or order providing for the issuance of bonds or the trust indenture securing same that such toll bridge or bridges will be operated by an operating board to be appointed as provided in such resolution, order, or trust indenture and with such powers, except the power of eminent domain and the power to borrow money, as may be granted by such resolution, order, or trust indenture.

CHAPTER SIX. PARTICULAR COUNTIES, LAW RELATING TO

Art. 6812f. Road Improvements and Assessments by Galveston County Commissioners Court.

Art. 6812g. Road Improvements and Assessments by Live Oak County Commissioners Court.

Art. 6812h. Private roads; Acquisition of Public Interest in Counties of 50,000 or less.

Art. 6812b-1. Counties of 128,400 to 130,000; County Engineer; Duties

County Engineer

Sec. 1. The commissioners court of any county having a population of not less than 128,400 nor more than 130,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may appoint a county engineer, but the selection shall be controlled by considerations of skill and ability for the task. The engineer may be selected at any regular meeting of the commissioners court, or at any special meeting called for that purpose. The engineer selected shall be a Registered Professional Engineer in the State of Texas. The engineer shall hold his office for a period of two years, his term of office expiring concurrently with the terms of other county officers, and he may be removed at the pleasure of the commissioners court. The engineer shall receive a salary to be fixed by the commissioners court not to exceed the amount of the salary paid to the highest county official, to be paid out of the Road and Bridge Fund. The engineer, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall take the oath of office prescribed by law, and shall execute a bond in the sum of $15,000 with a good and sufficient surety or sureties thereon, payable to the county judge of the county and successors in office in trust, for the use and the benefit of the Road and Bridge Fund, of the county to be approved by the court, conditioned that such engineer will faithfully and efficiently discharge and perform all of the duties required of him by law and the orders of said commissioners court and shall faithfully and honestly and in due time account for all of the money, property and materials placed in his custody.

Art. 6812f. Road Improvements and Assessments by Galveston County Commissioners Court

Improvements Authorized

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court of Galveston County may cause to be improved any county road in the county, whether by filling, grading, raising, paving, or repairing in a permanent manner, or by constructing, reconstructing, repairing, or realigning curbs, gutters, and sidewalks, or by constructing drains and culverts.

Constitutional Basis

Sec. 2. This Act is a local law relating to the maintenance of public roads authorized by Article VIII, Section 9, of the Texas Constitution.

Assessments Against Property Owners; Liens

Sec. 3. (a) The commissioners court by order may assess all or any part of the cost of constructing, reconstructing, repairing, or realigning curbs, gutters, and sidewalks, and not more than ninetenths of the cost of any other improvements authorized by this Act, against property abutting on the portion of the county road to be improved, and against the owners of that property. The commissioners court may provide the time, terms, and conditions of payment and default of the assessments, and may prescribe the rate of interest on them, which may not exceed eight percent a year.

(b) Any assessment against abutting property is a first and prior lien on the property from the date improvements are ordered, and is a personal liability and charge against the owner or owners of the property, whether named or not. Nothing in this Act empowers the commissioners court to fix a lien against any interest in property that is exempt at the time the improvements are ordered, but the owner or owners of the property are personally liable for any assessment in connection with the property.
Sec. 4. The part of the cost of improvements on each portion of the county road ordered improved which is assessed against abutting property and owners of the property shall be apportioned among the parcels of abutting property and the owners thereof in accordance with the front foot plan or rule, except that if the application of this rule would, in the judgment of the commissioners court, in particular cases, result in injustice or inequity, the commissioners court may apportion and assess the costs against abutting property owners in a manner that the commissioners court determines is just and equitable, so as to produce a substantial equality of benefits received and burdens imposed. Provided, however, it is expressly found and determined that railroad rights-of-way will not benefit from such improvements and may not be assessed therefor.

Certificates

Sec. 5. (a) The commissioners court may order the issuance of assignable certificates in evidence of assessments levied, declaring the lien on the property and the liability of the true owner or owners of the property, and may fix the terms and conditions of the certificates. Any certificate that recites substantially that the proceedings referred to in it have occurred in compliance with law and that all prerequisites to the fixing of the assessment lien against the property described in the certificate and the personal liability of the owner or owners of the property have been performed, is prima facie evidence of all matters recited in the certificate, and no further proof of the matters is required.

(b) In any suit on an assessment or reassessment in evidence of which a certificate may be issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act, it is sufficient to allege the substance of the recitals in the certificate and that the recitals are in fact true. Further allegations as to the proceedings relating to the assessment or reassessment are not necessary.

(c) The assessments are collectable with interest, expense of collections, and reasonable attorney’s fee, if any are incurred, and are a first and prior lien on the property assessed, superior to all other liens and claims except county, school district, and city ad valorem taxes, and are a personal liability and charge against owners of the property assessed.

Joint Assessments

Sec. 6. Assessments against several parcels of property may be made in one assessment when owned by the same person, firm, corporation, or estate, and property owned jointly may be assessed jointly.

Estimate

Sec. 7. No assessment is valid unless the commissioners court makes or causes to be made an estimate of the cost of the improvement or improvements to be constructed, and the estimate is included in any published or mailed notice of the public hearing required by this Act.

Sec. 8. (a) No assessment may be made against any abutting property or its owners until after notice and opportunity for hearing has been provided in accordance with this Act, and no assessment may be made against any abutting property or owners of it in excess of the special benefits to the property and owners resulting from the enhanced value of the property by means of the improvement, as may be determined at the hearing.

(b) Notice shall be by advertisement inserted at least three times in a newspaper of general circulation in the county, the first publication to be made at least 21 days before the date of the hearing. Additional written notice of the hearing shall be given by depositing in the United States mail, at least 14 days before the date of the hearing, postage prepaid, in an envelope addressed to the owners of the respective properties abutting the county road to be improved, as the names of the owners are shown on the then current rendered or unrendered tax rolls of the county, at the addresses listed there. To be sufficient and binding on any person owning or claiming the abutting property, or any interest in it, the mailed notice must describe in general terms the nature of the improvements for which assessments are to be levied, the county road or portion of it to be improved, the estimated cost per front foot proposed to be assessed against the property and the owner or owners of the property, the estimated total cost of the improvement or improvements, and the time and place of the hearing. The notice to be mailed may be a copy of the public notice, which must contain all of the information required for a mailed notice to be sufficient and binding. If the owner is listed on the county tax rolls as “unknown,” no notice is required to be mailed. If the owner is shown on the county tax roll as an estate, the mailed notice may be addressed to the estate.

(c) The commissioners court shall hold the hearing. Any person owning abutting property or any interest in it may be heard at the hearing on any matter relating to the improvement or assessment, including the amount of the proposed assessment or assessments, the lien and liability created by it, the special benefits to the abutting property and owners of the property by the improvements for which assessments are to be levied, and the accuracy, sufficiency, regularity, and validity of the proceedings and contract in connection with the improvements and proposed assessments.

(d) The commissioners court may correct any errors, inaccuracies, irregularities, and invalidities, and may supply any deficiencies, and may determine the amount of assessments and all other matters necessary, and may levy the assessments before, during, or after the construction of the improvements, except no part of any assessment may be made to mature prior to acceptance by the county of the improvements for which the assessment is levied.
Sec. 9. Any person owning or claiming any interest in any property assessed under the provisions of this Act, who desires to contest any assessment because of the amount of it or any inaccuracy, irregularity, invalidity, or insufficiency of the proceedings or contract with reference to it, or with reference to the improvements, or because of any matter or thing not in the discretion of the commissioners court, may appeal to a district court in the county within 15 days after the time the assessment is levied. Any person who fails to institute suit within this time shall be held to have waived every matter that might have been heard at the hearing before the commissioners court, and shall be barred and estopped from contesting or questioning the assessment or any matter relating to it, and the only defense to any assessment in a suit to enforce it is that the notice of hearing was not mailed or delivered as required by this Act, was not published, or did not contain the information required by this Act, or that the assessments exceeded the amount of the estimate. No words or acts of any officer or employee of the county or any member of the commissioners court, shall in any way affect the force and effect of the provisions of this Act.

Changes in Proceedings

Sec. 10. The commissioners court may provide for any changes in plans, methods, or contracts for improvements, but any change substantially affecting the nature or quality of any improvements may be made only after it is determined by a four-fifths vote of the commissioners court that it is not practical to proceed with the improvement as previously provided, and following any such vote, the commissioners court may make the substantial change only after first obtaining the consent of the person, firm, or corporation with which the commissioners court has contracted for construction of the improvements, and after obtaining a new estimate for the cost of the improvements and holding a new hearing, together with the issuance of proper notice as required by this Act. The commissioners court may at any time abandon any improvement with the consent of the person, firm, or corporation constructing the improvements, and shall by order cancel any assessments levied for abandoned improvements.

Correction

Sec. 11. If any assessment is for any reason held or determined to be invalid or unenforceable, the commissioners court may supply any deficiency in proceedings and correct any mistake or irregularity relating to the assessment, and may at any time make and levy reassessments after notice and hearing as nearly as possible in the manner provided by this Act for the original improvements. Recitals in certificates issued in evidence of reassessments shall have the same force as provided for recitals relating to original assessments.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1396, ch. 540, eff. June 19, 1975.]
(d) Notice under Subsection (b) or (c) of this section must contain the following information:

1. A general description of the proposed improvement which is to be financed by special assessments;
2. An estimate of the proposed assessment per front foot of abutting property;
3. An estimate of the total cost of the proposed improvement to be made on each portion of road;
4. The location of the proposed improvement; and
5. The date, time, and place of the hearing on the proposed improvement.

(e) If the estimate under Subsection (d)(2) of this section is not uniform, then the notice under Subsections (b) and (c) of this section must specify each variation and identify the property which is affected.

Conduct of Hearing

Sec. 5. The commissioners court shall hold a public hearing at which any owner of an interest in property abutting a proposed improvement is entitled to contest the amount of the assessment as well as the accuracy, sufficiency, and validity of the proceedings and the determinations of the commissioners court related to the proposed improvement and assessment. After correcting any deficiencies or errors in its proceedings or determinations, the commissioners court by order may levy assessments against property abutting the proposed improvement.

Determination of Assessments

Sec. 6. (a) The commissioners court shall apportion the cost of the improvements assessed against abutting property and property owners on a front footage basis, which may vary among the properties assessed. In order to produce a substantial equality of burdens imposed in relation to benefits received, the commissioners court shall determine assessments in a just and equitable manner, keeping in mind the enhanced value to be gained by the abutting property and property owners. The commissioners court may not levy an assessment in excess of the special benefit in enhanced value to the property or property owner.

(b) If several parcels of property are owned by the same person or entity, the commissioners court may make one assessment covering them all. If property is owned jointly, the commissioners court may assess the owners jointly.

(c) The commissioners court may determine the time, terms, conditions of payment and default, and rate of interest, which may not exceed 10 percent a year, of the assessments levied.

Enforcement of Assessments

Sec. 7. (a) The county has a lien against property assessed under this Act from the date the assessment is levied. This lien has the same priority as a lien for county ad valorem taxes.

(b) The owner of an interest in property against which the commissioners court has levied an assessment for improvements is personally liable for the amount assessed. Liability for an assessment levied against property having more than one owner is joint and several. The county may not assert a lien against property which on the date the assessment is ordered is exempt by law from execution on a judgment for debt. A property owner may, however, waive an exemption to which he is entitled and voluntarily grant an assessment lien against his property in the same manner provided by law for granting a mechanic's lien for improvements to a homestead.

(c) The lien against assessed property and the personal liability of the owner of the property may be enforced by suit in the district court. Interest and the expenses of collection, including attorneys' fees, may also be recovered, and are included in the assessment lien. It is a defense to a suit brought to enforce the levy of an assessment that the notice of hearing was not delivered or published in the form or manner required, or that the amount of the assessment exceeded the estimate given in the notice.

(d) No part of an assessment matures before the commissioners court accepts the improvements for which the assessment is levied.

Certificates of Assessment

Sec. 8. (a) The commissioners court may issue assignable certificates in the name of the county which evidence the assessments levied and which declare the existence of a lien against the assessed property and the personal liability of the property owner. The commissioners court may determine the terms and conditions of the certificates.

(b) If a certificate recites that the proceedings ordering the improvements referred to in the certificate were conducted in compliance with the law, and that all prerequisites to fixing the assessment lien against the property described in the certificate and the personal liability of the property owner have been met, the certificate is prima facie evidence of its recitals.

Correction of Assessments

Sec. 9. (a) If an assessment is held to be invalid or unenforceable, the commissioners court may correct any error related to the assessment, and make and levy a reassessment after notice and hearing in the manner provided for an original assessment.

(b) The commissioners court may issue a reassessment certificate which reflects each modification of the original assessment. A reassessment certificate has the same attributes and effect from the date a reassessment is ordered as an original certificate.
Any one owning or claiming an interest in property against which there has been a reassessment has the same right of appeal, from the date the reassessment is ordered, as provided with regard to an original assessment. The provisions of this Act regarding waiver of appeal and limitation of defenses also apply to reassessments.

Appeal

Sec. 10. The owner of an interest in property against which an assessment for improvements has been levied may contest the amount of the assessment, or the accuracy or validity of the proceedings or determinations related to the assessment or the improvements, by filing a suit for that purpose in the district court not later that the 15th day after the date on which the assessment is ordered. The 15-day time limit begins on the day after the date on which the property owner receives actual notice of the results of the hearing if the property owner shows by a preponderance of the evidence that notice of hearing was not mailed or delivered to the owner or published in the form or manner required by this Act. A complaint based on a determination or proceeding of the commissioners court related to an order for improvements or an assessment is waived if not filed within the time prescribed. [Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2404, ch. 609, eff. June 15, 1981.]

Art. 6812h. Private Roads; Acquisition of Public Interest in Counties of 50,000 or Less

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, “dedication” means the explicit, written communication to the commissioners court of the county in which the land is located of a voluntary grant of the use of a private road for public purposes.

Public Interest

Sec. 2. (a) A county may not establish, acquire, or receive any public interest in a private road except under the following circumstances: (1) purchase; (2) condemnation; (3) dedication; or (4) adverse possession.

(b) Once a public interest has been established in accordance with Subsection (a) of this section, the interest must be recorded in the records of the commissioners court of the county in which the road is located.

Contest

Sec. 3. Any person asserting any right, title, or interest in a private road in which a public interest has been asserted in accordance with Section 2 of this Act may file suit in a district court in the county in which the road is located within two years after the notation in the records of the commissioners court of the public interest in the road.

Verbal Dedication

Sec. 4. For the purposes of this Act, neither verbal dedication nor intent to dedicate by overt act is sufficient to establish a public interest in a private road.

Public Use; Maintenance

Sec. 5. For the purposes of this Act, neither the use of a private road by the public with the permission of the owner nor the maintenance with public funds of a private road in which no public interest has been recorded as provided by Section 2 of this Act is sufficient to establish adverse possession.

Effect on Counties With Population Greater Than 50,000

Sec. 6. This Act shall have no effect on counties with population greater than 50,000 according to the last preceding federal census. [Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2412, ch. 613, eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]
Art. 6813b. Salaries of State Officers and Employees for Biennium; Exceptions

Sec. 1. From and after the effective date of this Act, all salaries of all State officers and State employees, including the salaries paid any individual out of the General Revenue Fund, shall be in such sums or amounts as may be provided for by the Legislature in the biennial Appropriations Act. It is specifically declared to be one of the intents hereof that the Legislature shall also fix the amount of supplemental salaries hereafter, out of court fees and receipts, to be paid to the clerks and other employees of the Courts of Appeals, the Supreme Court, and the Court of Criminal Appeals. It is further provided that in instances where the biennial Appropriations Act does not specify or regulate the salaries or compensation of a State official or employee, the law specifying or regulating the salary or compensation of such official or employee is not suspended by this Act.

Sec. 2. All laws and parts of laws fixing the salaries of all State officers and employees, saving only the exception specified in Section 1 of this Act and the Position Classification Act of 1961 (Chapter 123, Acts 1961, Fifty-seventh Legislature, Regular Session), are hereby specifically suspended insofar as they are in conflict with this Act. It is specifically declared to be one of the intents hereof that any and all laws authorizing payment of supplemental salaries from court receipts and fees to clerks and other employees of the Courts of Appeals, the Supreme Court, and the Court of Criminal Appeals, are suspended insofar as they are in conflict with this Act.

Sec. 3. (a) Effective September 1, 1983, and notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the associate justices of the Courts of Appeals of the State of Texas shall each be paid by the State an annual salary that is 10 percent less than the salary provided in the General Appropriations Acts for a justice of the Supreme Court of Texas. The chief justice of each Court of Appeals shall be paid by the State an annual salary that is 10 percent less than the salary provided in the General Appropriations Act for the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. The combined salary of each of the associate justices of the Courts of Appeals from all State and county sources must be at least $1,000 less than the salary provided for a justice of the Supreme Court, and in the case of the chief justices of the Courts of Appeals, the differential shall be $500 less than the salary provided for a justice of the Supreme Court.

(b) For the purpose of salary payments by the State, the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall determine from sworn statements filed by the justices of the Courts of Appeals that the required salary differential set out in Subsection (a) of this section is maintained. In the event the salary, with its county supplement, is in excess of the differential provided by Subsection (a), the comptroller shall reduce the State's portion of that salary by the amount of the excess.

Art. 6813c. Travel Expense Reimbursements and Group Insurance Premiums for State Officers and Employees

Travel expense reimbursements and the state's participation in group insurance premiums for all state officers and employees shall be in such sums or amounts as may be provided for by the legislature in the General Appropriations Act.

Art. 6813d. Longevity Pay for State Employees

Except as provided by Chapter 477, Acts of the 64th Legislature, Regular Session, 1975 (Article 6252-20a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), each state employee covered by the Position Classification Act of 1961, each line item or exempt state employee, each regular full-time hourly employee of the state, and each regular full-time nonacademic employee of a state institution of higher education is entitled to longevity pay of a maximum of $4 per month for each year of service as an employee of the state up to and including 25 years of service. Such longevity pay is to commence at the end of the fifth year and to be increased at the end of each five years thereafter.

[Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1770, ch. 718, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1979.]

Art. 6813e. Deductions From Compensation of State Officers and Employees

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, “state governmental body” means:

(1) a board, commission, department, office, or other agency that is in the executive branch of state government and that was created by the constitution or a statute of the state, including an institution of higher education as defined by Section 61.003, Texas Education Code, as amended;

(2) the legislature or a legislative agency; or

(3) the Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, a court of civil appeals, or the State Bar of Texas or another state judicial agency.

Prohibition of Salary Deductions

Sec. 2. A state governmental body may not make a deduction from the compensation paid to an officer or employee whose compensation is paid in full or in part from state funds unless the deduction is authorized by law.

Art. 6813f. Per Diem for State Board or Commission Members

Definition

Sec. 1. In this Act, “state board or commission” means a board, commission, committee, council, or other similar agency in the state government that is composed of two or more members.

Amount of Per Diem

Sec. 2. If a member of a state board or commission is entitled by law to per diem relating to the member’s service on the board or commission, the amount of per diem is the amount prescribed by the General Appropriations Act.

Suspension of Laws

Sec. 3. Each law prescribing the amount of per diem relating to membership on a state board or commission is suspended to the extent of a conflict with this Act. If the General Appropriations Act does not prescribe the amount of per diem to which a member of a state board or commission is entitled by law, the law prescribing the amount of per diem is not suspended by this Act. If a law imposes a limit on the number of days for which a member of a state board or commission is entitled to claim per diem, the limit is not suspended by this Act.

Salaries of justices of Courts of Appeals, see now, art. 6813b, § 31a. 1

Art. 6819a–12. Salary of District Judge in 106th Judicial District

In the 106th Judicial District, the district judge may receive annually, payable in monthly installments, a salary to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of each county, to be paid by said county out of the general fund thereof, as compensation for all administrative services rendered by said judge, in addition to all salaries paid to said judge by the State of Texas out of state revenues. The salary herein authorized to be paid shall be a reasonable sum for performing such duties, not to exceed the sum of $8,000 per annum.

Art. 6819a–12a. Salary of District Court Judge in 109th Judicial District

In the 109th Judicial District, the District Judge may receive annually, payable in monthly installments, a salary to be fixed by the Commissioners Court of each county, to be paid by said county out of the General Fund thereof, as compensation for all judicial and administrative services now rendered by said Judge, and any additional judicial or administrative services hereafter to be assigned to said Judge, in addition to all salaries paid or hereafter to be paid to said Judge by the State of Texas, out of state revenues; provided, however, that the salary herein authorized to be paid by any County Commissioners Court to any Judge shall not exceed the sum of $5,000 per annum.

Art. 6819a–14. Additional Compensation of District Court Judge of 70th Judicial District

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the State, the Commissioners Court of Ector County is authorized to pay each of the judges of the 70th, 161st, and 244th Judicial Districts for services rendered to Ector County and for performing administrative duties, a reasonable sum not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) per annum.

Sec. 2. The compensation provided for in Section 1 shall be in addition to all other compensation paid or authorized to be paid to each of the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Ector County.

Art. 6819a-15. Additional Compensation of District Court Judges in El Paso County

Sec. 1. For all services rendered to the county and for performing administrative services, the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in El Paso County shall receive, in addition to the salary paid to them by the state, the sum of $9,000 per annum, subject to the provisions of Section 2 of this Act, to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the general fund or officers salary fund of the county. The commissioners court shall make proper budget provisions for the payment thereof. A district judge of the state who may be assigned to sit for the judge of a district court in El Paso County under the provisions of Chapter 156, Acts of the 40th Legislature, Regular Session, 1927, as amended (Article 156, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), may, while so serving, receive in addition to his necessary expenses, additional compensation from county funds in an amount not to exceed the difference between the pay of the visiting judge from all sources and the pay received from all sources by district judges in El Paso County, such amount to be paid by the county on approval of the presiding judge of the administrative judicial district.

Sec. 2. The combined yearly salary rate from state and county sources of the judges of the district courts in El Paso County may not exceed an amount which is $1,000 less than the combined yearly salary rate from state and county sources received by the judges of the court of civil appeals in whose district El Paso County is located.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act do not affect the salary and compensation authorized to be paid to the County Judge of El Paso County as a member of the El Paso County Juvenile Board and do not affect the existence or the functions of the juvenile board.

Sec. 4. This Act is cumulative of existing laws and any laws in conflict are repealed to the extent of conflict only.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 346, ch. 147, § 1, eff. May 8, 1975; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1419, ch. 627, § 1, eff. Aug. 27, 1979.]

See, now, art. 6819a-15.

Salaries of justices of Courts of Appeals, see, now, art. 6812b, § 3(a).

Art. 6819a-18a. Additional Compensation for Justices of Courts of Appeals

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the State of Texas, the Commissioners Courts in the counties of each of the fourteen Supreme Judicial Districts of Texas are hereby each authorized to pay to each of the Justices of the Courts of Appeals residing within said Supreme Judicial Districts for all judicial and administrative services performed by them a sum not to exceed Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) per annum, to be paid in twelve equal monthly installments; provided, however, that the total of all sums so authorized to be paid to the individual Justices of the Courts of Appeals shall not exceed the total additional compensation authorized to be paid to any District Judge residing within such affected Supreme Judicial District.

Sec. 2. The compensation provided for in Section 1 shall be in addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the State of Texas to the various Justices of the Courts of Appeals.

Art. 6819a-19b. Judges of District Courts in Counties of 1,600,000 or More

In any county in this State having a population of 1,600,000 or more, according to the last preceding Federal Census, and having twenty-five or more district courts of general jurisdiction, the judges of the several district courts of such counties shall receive, in addition to the salary paid by the State to them, and to other district judges of this State, a sum not less than $12,000 nor more than $25,000 annually, to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the General Fund or Officers’ Salary Fund of such counties, such salary to be as compensation for all judicial and administrative services performed by them. The Commissioners Court shall make proper budget provision for the payment thereof. Any district judge of the State who may be assigned to sit for the judge of any district court in such county under the provisions of Article 200-A, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes, as amended, may, while so serving, receive in addition to his necessary expenses, additional compensation from county funds in an amount not to exceed the difference between the pay of such visiting judge from all sources and that pay received from all sources by district judges in the counties affected by the provisions of this Act, such amount to be paid by the county upon approval of the presiding judge of the administrative district in which said court is located.

Section 146(1) of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 600, ch. 237, provides: "To the extent that a law enacted by the 67th Legislature, Regular Session, conflicts with this Act, the other law prevails, regardless of relative date of enactment or relative effective date."

Art. 6819a-20. Additional Compensation of District Court Judge of 16th Judicial District

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the State, the Commissioners Court of Denton County is hereby authorized to pay the District Judge of the 16th Judicial District for services rendered to Denton County and for administrative duties, a reasonable sum not less than Two Thousand Four Hundred Dollars ($2,400) per annum; and in addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the State, the Commissioners Court of Cooke County is hereby authorized to pay the said District Judge of the 16th Judicial District for services rendered to Cooke County and for administrative duties, a reasonable sum not less than One Thousand Two Hundred Dollars ($1,200) per annum.

Sec. 2. The compensation provided for in Section 1 shall be in addition to all other compensation paid or authorized to be paid the District Judge of the 16th Judicial District.

Art. 6819a–25a. Additional Compensation of Judges of District and Criminal District Courts in Counties of 1,200,000 to 2,000,000

In any county in this State having a population of 1,200,000 or more and not more than 2,000,000 according to the last preceding Federal Census, the Judges of the several District and Criminal District Courts of such counties shall receive, in addition to the salary paid by the State to them, and to other District Judges of this State, the sum of Twelve Thousand Dollars ($12,000) annually, to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the General Fund or Officers' Salary Fund of such counties. The Commissioners Court shall make proper budget provisions for the payment thereof. Any District Judge of the State who may be assigned to sit for the Judge of any District Court in such counties under the provisions of Chapter 156, Acts of the 40th Legislature, Regular Session, 1927, as amended (Article 200a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may, while so serving, receive in addition to his necessary expenses, additional compensation from county funds in an amount not to exceed the difference between the pay of such visiting Judge from all sources by District Judges in the counties affected by the provisions of this Act, such amount to be paid by the county upon approval of the presiding Judge of the Administrative District in which said Court is located.

Art. 6819a–28. Additional Compensation of District Court Judges of 10th, 56th, 122nd and 212th Judicial Districts

In addition to the compensation paid by the State of Texas to District Judges, the Commissioners Court of Galveston County may pay to the District Judges of the 10th Judicial District, the 56th Judicial District, the 122nd Judicial District, and the 212th Judicial District, respectively, for services rendered to Galveston County for performing administrative duties, a sum of not less than Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) nor more than Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) annually to each of the Judges of said District Courts. This amount shall be paid in equal monthly installments out of the General Fund or Officers Salary Fund of Galveston County. The Commissioners Court of Galveston County may make proper budget provisions for the payment of the sums authorized in this Act.

Art. 6819a–31. Additional Compensation of District Court Judges of 121st and 286th Judicial Districts

In addition to compensation provided by law and paid by the State, each of the Commissioners Courts in the 121st and 286th Judicial Districts may pay the Judge of the District Court having jurisdiction in its county, for services rendered in performing administrative duties in the district, a sum to be set by the Commissioners Court in each county and to be paid in equal monthly installments.

Art. 6819a–33. Additional Compensation of District Court Judges of 128th, 163rd and 260th Judicial Districts

In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the state, the Commissioners Court of Orange County is hereby authorized to pay each of the Judges of the 128th, 163rd, and 260th Judicial Districts, for services rendered to the county and for performing administrative duties, a reasonable sum to be set by the commissioners court. Such sum shall be in addition to all other compensation paid or authorized to be paid to each of the Judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Orange County.

Art. 6819a–35. Additional Compensation of District Court Judges of 85th and 13th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the state, the Commissioners Court of Brazos County shall pay the district judge of the 85th Judicial District not less than Four Thousand Dollars ($4,000) per annum for performing administrative duties in Brazos County.

Art. 6819a-42. Additional Compensation for Judges of the 49th and 111th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation now paid or authorized to be paid by law, the Judge of the 49th Judicial District of Texas and the Judge of the 111th Judicial District of Texas shall each be paid by the Commissioners Court of Webb County, Texas, a sum to be set by the commissioners court in an amount not less than $2,000 per annum, payable in monthly installments out of the general fund, officers' salary fund, jury fund, or any fund available for that purpose, for additional judicial and administrative services, and especially additional services rendered to Webb County in the trial of all criminal and civil cases ordinarily tried by a county court at law.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2]

Art. 6819a-44a. Additional Compensation for Judges of the 23rd and 130th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation paid by the state, each of the judges of the 23rd Judicial District and the 130th Judicial District may receive from the counties, as compensation for the judicial and administrative services performed by them, a salary in an amount to make the combined yearly salary rate of the district judge from state and county sources $1,000 less than the combined yearly salary rate from state and county sources received by the associate justices of the First Supreme Judicial District.

Sec. 2. Each salary provided in this Act may be paid by the counties composing the judicial district in accordance with the proportion that the population of each county bears to the total population of the judicial district, as shown by the last preceding federal census, and may be paid in equal monthly installments out of the general fund or any other fund available for that purpose, as determined by the commissioners court of each county.

Art. 6819a-45. Additional Compensation for Judges of the 103rd, 107th, 138th and 197th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. The Commissioners Court of Cameron County may supplement the compensation of the judges of the 103rd, 107th, 138th, and 197th Judicial Districts in an amount not to exceed $8,000 a year.

Sec. 2. The compensation provided for in Section 1 of this Act shall be in addition to all other compensation now paid or authorized to be paid the district judges of the 103rd, 107th, 138th, and 197th Judicial Districts by the state or the county.

[Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 114, ch. 51, eff. April 18, 1975.]

Art. 6819a-46. Additional Compensation for Judges of the 24th and 135th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. For services rendered to the counties and for performing administrative services, the District Judges of the 24th Judicial District and the 135th Judicial District may receive from each of the counties in the respective judicial districts, in addition to the salary paid to them by the state and any other compensation authorized to be paid to them by the counties, a reasonable sum to be set by the commissioners court, subject to the provisions of Section 2 of this Act, to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the general fund or officers salary fund of the respective counties. The commissioners courts shall make proper budget provisions for the payment thereof.

Sec. 2. The combined yearly salary from state and county sources of the District Judges of the 24th Judicial District and the 135th Judicial District may not exceed an amount which is $1,000 less than the combined yearly salary rate from state and county sources received by the judges of the court of civil appeals in whose district the aforementioned judicial districts are located.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 312, ch. 146, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]
Art. 6819a-47. Additional Compensation for Judges of the 51st and 119th Judicial Districts

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the state, the commissioners court of each county in either the 51st Judicial District or the 119th Judicial District may pay each district judge having jurisdiction in the county, for services rendered to the county and for performing administrative duties, an annual salary not to exceed that county's proportionate share of $8,000, determined by the proportion that its population bears to the total population of the judicial district as shown by the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. The compensation provided for in Section 1 of this Act shall be in addition to all other compensation paid or authorized to be paid the district judges in each county in either the 51st or the 119th Judicial District.

Art. 6819a-48. Additional Compensation of District Court Judges in Montgomery County

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the State of Texas, and any other compensation authorized to be paid by any county, the Commissioners Court of Montgomery County may pay to the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Montgomery County, for services rendered to Montgomery County and for performing administrative duties, a sum to be set by the commissioners court, subject to the provisions of Section 2 of this Act, and to be paid in equal monthly installments from funds of the county.

Sec. 2. The combined yearly salary from state and county sources of the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Fort Bend County may not exceed an amount that is $1,000 less than the combined yearly salary rate from state and county sources received by the associate justices of the courts of appeals of the supreme judicial districts in which Fort Bend County is located.

Art. 6819a-49. Additional Compensation of District Court Judges in Fort Bend County

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the state and any other compensation authorized to be paid by the county, the Commissioners Court of Fort Bend County may pay to the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Fort Bend County, for services rendered to the county and for performing administrative duties, a sum to be set by the commissioners court, subject to the provisions of Section 2 of this Act, and to be paid in equal monthly installments from funds of the county.

Sec. 2. The combined yearly salary from state and county sources of the judges of the district courts having jurisdiction in Fort Bend County may not exceed an amount that is $1,000 less than the combined yearly salary rate from state and county sources received by the associate justices of the courts of appeals of the supreme judicial districts in which Fort Bend County is located.

Art. 6819a-50. Additional Compensation for Judge of 229th Judicial District

Sec. 1. In addition to the compensation provided by law and paid by the state, the commissioners court of each county in the 229th Judicial District may pay the judge of the 229th District Court, for judicial, administrative, and all other services, an annual salary not to exceed that county's proportionate share of $5,000, determined by the proportion that its population bears to the total population of the judicial district as shown by the last preceding federal census.

Sec. 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, the compensation provided for in Section 1 of this Act shall be the total compensation paid the judge of the 229th District Court by the counties in the district, but shall be in addition to all compensation paid by the state to the judge of the 229th District Court.

Art. 6819b. Salaries of Court Officers

The salaries of the District Attorneys of the State of Texas, the State's Attorney before the Court of Criminal Appeals, the clerks of the Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeals and Courts of Appeals and the salaries of the other officers and employees of the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, the Court of Criminal Appeals and the Courts of Appeals, shall be as determined by the Legislature in its various appropriation Acts for the support of the Judiciary of this State.

Art. 6823a. Travel Regulations Act of 1959

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Application of Act

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall apply to all officers, heads of state agencies, state employees, and prospective state employees incurring expenses when requested to visit a state agency, department, or institution of higher education for the purpose of being interviewed and evaluated for employment. Heads of state agencies shall mean elected state officials, excluding members of the Legislature who shall receive travel reimbursement as provided by the Constitution, appointed state officials, appointed state officials whose appointment is subject to Senate confirmation, directors of legislative interim committees or boards, heads of state hospitals and special schools, and heads of state institutions of higher education.
Art. 6823a

SAALARIES 4374

Basis of Reimbursement or Advance; Per Diem and Transportation Allowance: Rate and Computation; Revolving Petty Cash Fund

Sec. 3.a A reimbursement or advance from funds appropriated by the Legislature for traveling and other necessary expenses incurred by the various officials, heads of state agencies, and employees of the state in the active discharge of their duties shall be on the basis of either a per diem or actual expenses as specifically fixed and appropriated by the Legislature in General Appropriation Acts. A per diem allowance shall mean a flat daily rate payment in lieu of actual expenses incurred for meals and lodging and as such shall be legally construed as additional compensation for official travel purposes only.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 3b]

c. All agencies, boards, commissions, departments, and institutions are authorized to establish a revolving petty cash fund out of funds in the State Treasury or local funds in accordance with Section 6, Subsection g of this Article. The sole purpose of the petty cash fund shall be to advance projected travel expense. This fund shall be reimbursed by warrants drawn and approved by the Comptroller of Public Accounts out of funds in the State Treasury or checks drawn against funds held outside the treasury.

Advanced Approval of Governor; Travel Outside United States

Sec. 5. Any travel connected with official business of the state for which reimbursement for travel expenses incurred is claimed or for which an advance for travel expenses to be incurred is sought, with the exception of travel to, in, and from the several states, United States possessions, Mexico, and Canada, must have the advance written approval of the Governor. Blanket authority by the Governor may be given to the International Trade Development Division personnel of the Texas Industrial Commission and to the Department of Public Safety to law enforcement personnel.

Rules and Regulations: Standard Expense Account Forms; Reimbursement or Advance Payment for Travel by Private Conveyance; Overpayment

Sec. 6.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 6a]

b. Standard expense account forms shall be used by all state agencies in preparing the expense accounts for traveling state employees. Such forms shall contain information stating

(1) the point of origin and the town, place or point of destination of each trip and the reimbursable mileage travelled, or projected, between each point, town, or place. This provision shall also apply to intra-city mileage;

(2) the actual period of time the employee is away, or plans to be away, from his designated headquarters entitling him to travel expenses; and

(3) a brief statement which clearly shows the purpose of the trip and the character of official business performed or to be performed.

c. In determining transportation reimbursement or advance payment for travel by private conveyance, the Comptroller shall determine the mileage by shortest highway distance between point of origin and the destination via intermediate points at which official state business is conducted and other necessary mileage at points where official state business is conducted. In determining the amounts of reimbursement or advance payment for transportation by personal car within the State, the Comptroller shall compute all distances according to the shortest route between points. In determining the amount of reimbursement or advance payment for transportation by personal car within this state, the Comptroller shall adopt a mileage guide including a chart of distances showing the shortest route between points, and which shall include all Farm-to-Market roads and shall be reissued annually.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 6f]

e. When two, three, or four officials or employees of the same state agency with the same itinerary on the same dates are required to travel on the same official state business for which travel reimbursement for mileage in a personal car is claimed, or for which an advance payment is sought, a payment will be claimed and allowed for only one of the employees except as provided hereafter. To the extent of mileage claimed, the Comptroller shall consider such travel claims as multiple claims and may pay only one such claim. If more than four employees attend such meeting or conference in more than one car, full mileage shall be allowed for one car for each four employees and for any fraction in excess of a multiple of four employees. If, in any instance, it is not feasible for these officials or employees to travel in the same car, then prior official approval from the head of the state department or agency shall be obtained and shall be considered as authorization and the basis for reimbursement, or advance payment, for travel for each person authorized to use his personal car in such travel.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 6g]

g. The Comptroller shall, by promulgation of appropriate rules and regulations, establish a procedure by which a state officer or employee may receive in advance the projected travel expense to be incurred in a particular exercise of official duties. The Comptroller shall require a final accounting after the actual travel expense has been determined to provide for reimbursement and adjustment, as necessary, to equalize the allowance and the actual expense incurred.

Double Travel Expense Payments; Compensation by Non-state Agency

Sec. 7. Double travel expense payments to state officials or employees are prohibited. When an employee engages in travel for which he is to be compensated by a non-state agency, he shall not receive any reimbursement, and may not seek an advance payment, for such travel from authorized amounts in the General Appropriation Acts.

Local Transportation Allowance; Limits

Sec. 8. An employee whose duties customarily require travel within his designated headquarters may be authorized a local transportation allowance for this travel. Such allowance, however, may not exceed the transportation allowance for use of a privately owned automobile as set by the Legislature in the General Appropriations Acts, except that an employee with a physical handicap which precludes his personal operation of a privately owned automobile may, without regard to the standard otherwise set in the General Appropriations Acts, be authorized a reasonable transportation allowance not to exceed the amount to which such handicapped employee would be entitled for similar travel occurring outside of his designated headquarters.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 9]

Public Conveyances; Courtesy Cards

Sec. 10. The provisions of this Act shall not preclude reimbursement of claims, or requests for advance payments, by officials or employees for use of public conveyances. Transportation is authorized by courtesy cards for air, rail and bus lines.

Art. 6826. How Paid

Sec. 1. Except as provided by Section 2 of this article, annual salaries provided for in this title shall be paid monthly on warrants drawn by the Comptroller on the Treasurer.

Sec. 2. An employee of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, Texas Department of Human Resources, or Texas Employment Commission or of any other state agency designated by the Comptroller is entitled to be paid his employment compensation twice a month if:

(1) the employee holds a classified position under the state's position classification plan;

(2) the position is classified below salary group 12 under the classification salary schedule prescribed by the General Appropriations Act;

(3) the employee's agency meets the requirements established by the Comptroller relating to the payment of compensation twice a month; and

(4) at least 30 percent of the eligible employees of the agency participate in the program to pay compensation twice a month.

TITLE 119

SEQUESTRATION

Art. 6840. Grounds for Issuance and Dissolution

Sec. 1. (a) Judges of the district and county courts and justices of the peace shall, at the commencement or during the progress of any civil suit, before final judgment, have power to issue writs of sequestration, returnable to their respective courts, in the cases and upon the grounds provided for in Subsections (b) through (e) of this section.

(b) When a person sues for the title or possession of any personal property or fixtures of any type or kind or sues for the foreclosure or enforcement of a mortgage or lien or security interest upon personal property or fixtures of any type or kind, a writ of sequestration may be issued if a reasonable conclusion may be drawn that there is immediate danger that the defendant or party in possession thereof will conceal, dispose of, ill-treat, waste, or destroy such property, or remove the same out of the limits of the county during the pendency of the suit.

(c) When a person sues for the title or possession of real property or sues for the foreclosure or enforcement of a mortgage on real property, a writ of sequestration may be issued if a reasonable conclusion may be drawn that there is immediate danger that the defendant or party in possession thereof will make use of his possession to injure or ill-treat such property or waste or convert to his own use the timber, rents, fruits, or revenue thereof.

(d) A writ of sequestration may be issued when any person sues for the title or possession of any property from which he has been ejected by force or violence.

(e) A writ of sequestration may be issued when any person sues to try the title to any real property, or to remove cloud upon the title to such real property, or to foreclose a lien upon any such real property, or for a partition of real property, and makes oath that the defendant or either of them, in the event there be more than one defendant, is a nonresident of this state.

Sec. 2. The application for the issuance of the writ shall be made under oath and shall set forth specific facts stating the nature of the plaintiff's claim, the amount in controversy, if any, and the facts justifying the issuance.

Sec. 3. (a) When a writ of sequestration has been issued as provided in this article and the rules of civil procedure, the defendant may seek a dissolution of the writ by written motion filed with the court.

(b) A hearing on the motion to dissolve the writ shall be held and the issue determined not later than 10 days after the motion to dissolve is filed, unless the parties agree to an extension of time. At the hearing, the writ shall be dissolved unless the party who secured the issuance of the writ proves the specific facts alleged and the grounds relied upon for its issuance.

(c) If the writ is dissolved, the action shall proceed as if no writ had been issued except that an action for damages for wrongfully securing the issuance of the writ must be brought as a compulsory counterclaim. In addition to all other elements of damages, the party moving to dissolve the writ may recover his reasonable attorney's fees incurred in the dissolution of the writ.

(d) If the writ is dissolved and the personal property sought to be subjected to the writ is consumer goods, as that term is defined in the Texas Business and Commerce Code, the defendant or the party in possession shall be entitled to damages which shall be reasonable attorney's fees and the greatest of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), the finance charge contracted for, or actual damages. No damages may be awarded for the failure of the plaintiff to prove by a preponderance of the evidence the specific facts alleged and such failure is a result of a bona fide error. For a bona fide error to be available as a defense, the plaintiff must prove the use of reasonable procedures to avoid such error.

(e) A motion to dissolve the writ is cumulative of the right of replevy, and the filing of the motion to dissolve shall stay any further proceedings under the writ until a hearing is had, and the issue is determined.

Sec. 4. Requisites of Writ of Sequestration. There shall be prominently displayed on the face of the writ, in 10-point type and in a manner calculated to advise a reasonably attentive person of its contents, the following:

"YOU HAVE A RIGHT TO REGAIN POSSESSION OF THE PROPERTY BY FILING A 'REPLEVY' BOND.

YOU HAVE A RIGHT TO SEEK TO REGAIN POSSESSION OF THE PROPERTY BY FILING WITH THE COURT A MOTION TO DISOLVE THIS WRIT."

SHERIFFS AND CONSTABLES

1. SHERIFFS

Art. 6869.1. Reserve Deputy Sheriffs and Constables

Sec. 1.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(a) to 1(c)]

(d) The Commissioners Court may compensate reserve deputy sheriffs as provided by law for the compensation of deputy sheriffs and may compensate reserve deputy constables as provided by law for the compensation of deputy constables. The Commissioners Court may reimburse reserve deputy sheriffs and reserve deputy constables for reasonable and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1(e) and 1(f)]

(g) The sheriff of any county bordering the Gulf of Mexico may organize a portion of the reserve deputy sheriffs within such county for special service as marine reserve deputy sheriffs and lifeguards for beach and water safety purposes and related functions as may be determined by the sheriff.

Reserve deputies organized for marine and lifeguard beach and water safety purposes shall be subject to all provisions of the laws of this state relating to reserve deputy sheriffs except that they shall not be authorized in the performance of their duties to carry firearms.

(h) Any organization authorized hereunder for marine safety and lifeguard purposes in a county bordering the Gulf of Mexico may include both paid and unpaid deputy sheriffs and reserve deputy sheriffs, and such organization may accept contributions and gifts from foundations, individuals, corporations, and other governmental entities including appropriations which may be made by the State of Texas on a direct or matching fund basis to assist such county in the performance of water safety programs in the interest of the health, safety, and welfare of persons using the coastal waters of this state.

2. CONSTABLES

Art. 6878. Election

Sec. 1. The qualified voters of each justice precinct at each general election shall elect a constable for such precinct for a term of four years.

Sec. 2. A person who has served as constable of a precinct for 10 or more consecutive years preceding a change in boundaries of the precinct is not ineligible for reelection in the precinct because of residence outside the precinct as long as the constable’s residence is within the boundaries of the precinct as they existed before they were changed.

See, now, art. 6879a.

Art. 6879a. Appointment of Deputies

Sec. 1. The duly elected Constable in each Justice Precinct may appoint Deputies in accordance with the provisions of Section 2 of this Act, and each and every instance said Deputy Constables shall qualify as required of Deputy Sheriffs.

Enforcement

Sec. 8. The District Courts of this State and the judges thereof shall have full power, authority, and jurisdiction, upon the application of the State of Texas, acting through the District Attorney, Criminal District Attorney, or County Attorney, to issue any and all proper restraining orders, temporary and permanent injunctions, and any other writs and processes appropriate to carry out and enforce the provisions of this Act; no injunction or other writ shall be granted, used or relied upon under the provisions of this Act in any labor dispute or disputes. Such proceedings shall be instituted, prosecuted, tried, and heard as other civil proceedings of like nature in such courts, provided that no such proceedings shall be instituted unless and until the Director of the Texas State Department of Public Safety or his assistant in charge has been notified by telephone, telegraph, or in person of the intention to institute such proceeding, and an affidavit of such notice filed with the application for such injunction proceedings shall be sufficient for the filing of the same.

Nothing in this Act shall be construed to alter in any way the powers now held by the courts of this State or of this nation under the laws of this State in labor disputes.

Art. 6889-7. Disaster Act of 1975
Short Title
Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Texas Disaster Act of 1975.

Purposes
Sec. 2. The purposes of this Act are to:
(1) reduce vulnerability of people and communities of this state to damage, injury, and loss of life and property resulting from natural or man-made catastrophes, riots, or hostile military or paramiliitary action;
(2) prepare for prompt and efficient rescue, care, and treatment of persons victimized or threatened by disaster;
(3) provide a setting conducive to the rapid and orderly restoration and rehabilitation of persons and property affected by disasters;
(4) clarify and strengthen the roles of the governor, state agencies, and local governments in prevention of, preparation for, response to, and recovery from disasters;
(5) authorize and provide for cooperation in disaster prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery;
(6) authorize and provide for coordination of activities relating to disaster prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery by agencies and officers of this state, and similar state-local, interstate, federal-state, and foreign activities in which the state and its political subdivisions may participate;
(7) provide an emergency management system embracing all aspects of predisaster preparedness and postdisaster response;
(8) assist in prevention of disasters caused or aggravated by inadequate planning for and reguloration of public and private facilities and land use; and
(9) provide the authority and mechanism to respond to an energy emergency.

Limitations

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Act may be construed to:

(1) interfere with the course or conduct of a labor dispute, except that actions otherwise authorized by this Act or other laws may be taken when necessary to forestall or mitigate imminent or existing danger to public health or safety;

(2) interfere with dissemination of news or comment on public affairs, but any communications facility or organization, including radio and television stations, wire services, and newspapers, may be required to transmit or print public service messages furnishing information or instructions in connection with a disaster or potential disaster;

(3) affect the jurisdiction or responsibilities of police forces, fire fighting forces, units of the armed forces of the United States, or of any of their personnel when on active duty, but state, local, and interjurisdictional emergency management plans shall place reliance on the forces available for performance of functions related to disasters; or

(4) limit, modify, or abridge the authority of the governor to proclaim martial law or exercise any other powers vested in him under the constitution or laws of this state independent of or in conjunction with any provisions of this Act.

Definitions

Sec. 4. In this Act
(1) "Disaster" means the occurrence or imminent threat of widespread or severe damage, injury, or loss of life or property resulting from any natural or man-made cause, including fire, flood, earthquake, wind, storm, wave action, oil spill or other water contamination, volcanic activity, epidemic, air contamination, blight, drought, infestation, explosion, riot, hostile military or paramilitary action, other public calamity requiring emergency action, or energy emergency.

(2) "Political subdivision" means a county or incorporated city.

(3) "Organized volunteer groups" means organizations such as the American National Red Cross, the Salvation Army, Civil Air Patrol, Radio Amateur Civil Emergency Services, and other similar organizations recognized by federal or state statute, regulation, or memorandum.

(4) "Temporary housing" means temporary housing as defined in the Federal Disaster Relief Act of 1974 (PL 93–288, 88 Stat. 143).1

(5) "Interjurisdictional agency" means a disaster agency maintained by and serving more than one political subdivision.
preparedness and response aspects of the plan shall be activated as provided in the plan.

(f) During the continuance of any state of disaster and the pursuant recovery period, the governor is commander-in-chief of state agencies, boards, and commissions having emergency responsibilities. To the greatest extent practicable, the governor shall delegate or assign command authority by prior arrangements embodied in appropriate executive orders or plans, but nothing in this Act restricts his authority to do so by orders issued at the time of the disaster.

(g) In addition to any other powers conferred on the governor by law, he may:

(1) suspend the provisions of any regulatory statute prescribing the procedures for conduct of state business or the orders, rules, or regulations of any state agency if strict compliance with the provisions of any statute, order, rule, or regulation would in any way prevent, hinder, or delay necessary action in coping with the disaster;

(2) utilize all available resources of the state government and of each political subdivision of the state which are reasonably necessary to cope with the disaster;

(3) temporarily reassign resources, personnel, or functions of state executive departments and agencies or their units for the purpose of performing or facilitating emergency services;

(4) subject to any applicable requirements for compensation under Section 12 of this Act, commander or utilize any private property if he finds this necessary to cope with the disaster;

(5) recommend the evacuation of all or part of the population from any stricken or threatened area in the state if he deems this action necessary for the preservation of life or other disaster mitigation, response, or recovery;

(6) prescribe routes, modes of transportation, and destinations in connection with evacuation;

(7) control ingress and egress to and from a disaster area and the movement of persons and the occupancy of premises in the area;

(8) suspend or limit the sale, dispensing, or transportation of alcoholic beverages, firearms, explosives, and combustibles;

(9) enter into purchase, lease, or other arrangements with an agency of the United States for temporary housing units to be occupied by disaster victims and to make units available to any political subdivision of the state;

(10) assist any political subdivision which is the locus of temporary housing for disaster victims to acquire sites necessary for temporary housing and to do all things required to prepare the site to receive and utilize temporary housing units by advancing or lending funds available to the governor from any appropriation made by the legislature or from any other source; “passing through” funds made available by any agency, public or private; or becoming a copartner with the political subdivision for the execution and performance of any temporary housing for disaster victims project;

(11) under such regulations as he shall prescribe, temporarily suspend or modify for not to exceed 60 days any public health, safety, zoning, transportation within or across the state, or other requirement of law or regulation within this state when by proclamation he deems the suspension or modification essential to provide temporary housing for disaster victims;

(12) on his determination that a local government of the state has or will suffer a substantial loss of tax and other revenues from a major disaster and has demonstrated a need for financial assistance to perform its governmental functions, apply to the federal government on behalf of the local government for a loan, receive and disburse the proceeds of any approved loan to any applicant local government, determine the amount needed by any applicant local government to restore or resume its governmental functions, certify that to the federal government provided that no application amount may exceed 25 percent of the annual operating budget of the applicant for the fiscal year in which the major disaster occurs, and recommend to the federal government, based on his review, the cancellation of all or any part of repayment when in the first three full fiscal-year periods following the major disaster the revenues of the local government are insufficient to meet its operating expenses, including additional disaster-related expenses of a municipal operation character;

(13) through the use of state departments or agencies or the use of any of the state's instrumentalities, clear or remove from publicly or privately owned land or water, debris and wreckage that may threaten public health or safety or public or private property in any state of disaster declared by the governor or major disaster as declared by the President of the United States;

(14) accept funds from the federal government and utilize the funds to make grants to any local government for the purpose of removing debris or wreckage from publicly or privately owned land or water;

(15) on his determination that financial assistance is essential to meet disaster-related necessary expenses or serious needs of individuals or families adversely affected by a major disaster which cannot be otherwise adequately met from other means of assistance, accept a grant from the federal government to fund financial assistance subject to terms and conditions as may be imposed on the grant, and enter into an agreement with the federal government or any officer or agency of the United States pledging the state to participate in funding not more than 25 percent of the financial assistance authorized in this subsection;
(16) make financial grants to meet disaster-related necessary expenses or serious needs of individuals or families adversely affected by a major disaster which cannot otherwise adequately be met from other means of assistance, which shall not exceed an aggregate amount in excess of that established by federal statute to an individual or family in any single major disaster declared by the President of the United States; and

(17) make rules and regulations as are necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Act, including standards of eligibility for persons applying for benefits, procedures for applying and administration, methods of investigation, filing, and approving applications, and formation of local or statewide boards to pass on applications and procedures for appeals.

(h) The governor may designate in the state emergency management plan the Department of Human Resources or other state agency to carry out the functions of providing financial aid to individuals or families qualified for disaster relief. The designated agency may employ temporary personnel for these functions to be paid from funds appropriated to the agency, federal funds, or the Disaster Contingency Fund. The merit system does not apply to the temporary positions. The governor may allocate funds appropriated under this Act to implement the purposes of this Act.

(i) Nothing in this Act may be construed to limit the governor's authority to apply for, administer, or expend any grant, gift, or payment in aid of disaster prevention, preparedness, response, or recovery.

(j) No debris or wreckage from public or private property may be removed until the affected local government, corporation, organization, or individual presents an unconditional authorization for removal to the governor. No debris or wreckage may be removed from private property until the state is indemnified against any claim arising from removal. Whenever the governor provides for clearance of debris or wreckage under the provisions of this Act, state employees or other individuals acting by authority of the governor may enter on private land or water to perform tasks necessary to the removal or clearance operation. Except in cases of willful misconduct, gross negligence, or bad faith, a state employee or agent performing his duties while complying with orders of the governor issued under the provisions of this Act shall not be liable for the death of or injury to persons or damage to property.

(k) Any political subdivision of this state is expressly authorized to acquire, temporarily or permanently, by purchase, lease, or otherwise, sites required for installation of temporary housing units for disaster victims and to enter into whatever arrangements (including purchase of temporary housing units and payment of transportation charges) which are necessary to prepare or equip the sites to utilize the housing units.
make field reviews of the areas, circumstances, and conditions to which particular local and interjurisdictional emergency management plans are intended to apply and may suggest revisions.

(d) In preparing and revising the state emergency management plan, the division shall seek the advice and assistance of local government, business, labor, industry, agriculture, civic, and volunteer organizations and community leaders. In advising local and interjurisdictional agencies, the division shall encourage them also to seek advice from these sources.

(e) The state emergency management plan or any part of it may be incorporated in regulations of the division or executive orders which have the force and effect of law.

(f) The division shall:

1. determine requirements of the state and its political subdivisions for food, clothing, and other necessities in event of a disaster;
2. procure and pre-position supplies, medicines, materials, and equipment;
3. promulgate standards and requirements for local and interjurisdictional emergency management plans;
4. periodically review local and interjurisdictional emergency management plans;
5. provide for mobile support units;
6. establish and operate training programs and programs of public information or assist political subdivisions and disaster agencies to establish and operate the programs;
7. make surveys of public and private industries, resources, and facilities in the state which are necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act;
8. plan and make arrangements for the availability and use of any private facilities, services, and property and provide for payment for use under terms and conditions agreed on if the facilities are used and payment is necessary;
9. establish a register of persons with types of training and skills important in disaster prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery;
10. establish a register of mobile and construction equipment and temporary housing available for use in a disaster;
11. prepare, for issuance by the governor, executive orders and regulations necessary or appropriate in coping with disasters;
12. cooperate with the federal government and any public or private agency or entity in achieving any purpose of this Act and in implementing programs for disaster prevention, preparation, response, and recovery; and
13. do other things necessary, incidental, or appropriate for the implementation of this Act.

(g) The division may employ temporary personnel to be paid from funds appropriated to the division, federal funds, or the Disaster Contingency Fund. The merit system does not apply to the temporary positions.

(h) The division may provide assistance to private aviators, including partial reimbursement for funds expended, to meet the actual costs of aircraft operation in performing search, rescue, or disaster-related functions requested by the governor or the governor’s designee. The reimbursements shall be limited to the actual cost of aircraft operation not reimbursable from other sources.

Financing

Sec. 7. (a) It is the intent of the legislature and declared to be the policy of the state that funds to meet disasters always be available.

(b) The Disaster Emergency Funding Board, which is composed of the governor, the lieutenant governor, the chairman of the State Board of Insurance, the commissioner of the Department of Human Resources, and the director of the division, is established.

(c) A disaster contingency fund is established which shall receive money appropriated by the legislature.

(d) It is the legislative intent that the first recourse shall be to funds regularly appropriated to state and local agencies. If the governor finds that the demands placed on these funds in coping with a particular disaster are unreasonably great, he may with the concurrence of the Disaster Emergency Funding Board make funds available from the Disaster Contingency Fund.

(e) Whenever the federal government or any other public or private agency or individual offers to the state or through the state to any political subdivision of the state, services, equipment, supplies, materials, or funds as gifts, grants, or loans for purposes of emergency services or disaster recovery, the governor, if required by the donor, and the political subdivision through the presiding officer of its governing body may accept the offer in behalf of the state or its political subdivision. Where any gift, grant, or loan is accepted by the state, the governor, or on his designation the Emergency Management Council or the state coordinator may dispense the gift, grant, or loan directly to accomplish the purpose for which it was made or allocate and transfer to any political subdivision of this state, services, equipment, supplies, materials, or funds in the amount he or his designated agent may determine. The funds received by the state shall be placed in a special fund or funds and shall be disbursed by warrants issued by the comptroller of public accounts an order of the governor or his designated agent, who may be named by him either in a written agreement accepting the funds or in a written authorization filed with the secretary of state. Where the funds are to be used for the purchase of equipment, supplies, or commodities of any kind, it is not nec 33 necessary that bids be obtained or that the purchases be approved by any other agency. On receipt of an order for disbursement, the comptroller shall issue a warrant without delay. Political subdivisions are authorized to accept and utilize all services, equipment, supplies, materials, and funds to the full extent authorized by the agreement under which they are received by the state or by the political subdivision.

Local and Interjurisdictional Disaster Agencies and Services

Sec. 8. (a) Each political subdivision within this state is within the jurisdiction of and served by the division and by a local or interjurisdictional agency responsible for disaster preparedness and coordination of response.

(b) Each county shall maintain an emergency management program or participate in a local or interjurisdictional emergency management program which, except as otherwise provided under this Act, has jurisdiction over and serves the entire county or interjurisdictional area.

(c) The governor shall determine which municipal corporations need emergency management programs of their own and shall recommend that they be established and maintained. He shall make his determinations on the basis of the municipality's disaster vulnerability and capability or response related to population size and concentration. The emergency management program of a county must be coordinated with the emergency management programs of municipalities situated within its borders but shall not apply in a municipality having its own emergency management program.

(d) The governor may recommend that a political subdivision establish and maintain a program and form an interjurisdictional agency jointly with one or more other political subdivisions if he finds that the establishment and maintenance of a joint program or participation in it is made necessary by circumstances or conditions that make it unusually difficult to provide disaster prevention, preparedness, response, or recovery services under other provisions of this Act.

(e) Each city which does not have a program and has not made arrangements to secure or participate in the services of an existing program shall designate a liaison officer to facilitate the cooperation and protection of that subdivision in the work of disaster prevention, preparedness, response, and recovery. Each county shall provide an office and a liaison officer to coordinate with state and federal emergency management personnel concerning disaster preparedness, response, or recovery services under other provisions of this Act.

(f) The presiding officer of the governing body of each political subdivision shall notify the division of the manner in which the political subdivision is providing or securing an emergency management program, identify the person who heads the agency responsible for the program, and furnish additional pertinent information that the division requires.

(g) Each local and interjurisdictional agency shall prepare and keep current a local or interjurisdictional emergency management plan for its area providing for disaster preparedness, response, recovery, and rehabilitation. The plan shall provide for:

1. wage, price, and rent controls and other economic stabilization methods in the event of disaster; and

2. curfews, blockades, and limitations on utility usage in an area affected by a disaster, rules governing ingress and egress to the affected area, and other security measures.

(h) The local or interjurisdictional disaster agency shall prepare in written form and distribute to all appropriate officials a clear and complete statement of the disaster responsibilities of all local agencies and officials and of the disaster channels of assistance.

(i) A political subdivision may make appropriations for emergency management services as provided by law for making appropriations for ordinary expenses of the political subdivisions and may enter into agreements for the purpose of organizing emergency management service divisions, provide for a mutual method of financing the organization of units on a basis satisfactory to the political subdivisions, and render aid to other subdivisions under mutual aid agreements provided that the functioning of said units shall be coordinated by the Emergency Management Council. For the payment of the cost of any equipment, construction, acquisition, or any improvements for carrying out the provisions of this Act counties and incorporated cities and towns may issue time warrants. These time warrants shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of the Bond and Warrant Law of 1931. As amended (Article 2368a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Time warrants shall not be issued for financing permanent construction or improvements for emergency management purposes except on the right of a referendum vote as provided in Section 4 of that law.

Qualifications for Rendering Aid

Sec. 9. If any person holds a license, certificate, or other permit issued by any state or political subdivision of any state evidencing the meeting of qualifications for professional, mechanical, or other skills, the person may render aid involving the skill in this state to meet an emergency or disaster, and this state shall give due consideration to the license, certificate, or other permit.

Declaration of Local Disasters

Sec. 10. (a) A local state of disaster may be declared by the presiding officer of the governing body of a political subdivision. It may not be continued or renewed for a period in excess of seven days except by or with the consent of the governing body.
Art. 6889-7  STATE AND NATIONAL DEFENSE of the political subdivision. Any order or proclamation declaring, continuing, or terminating a local state of disaster shall be given prompt and general publicity and shall be filed promptly with the city secretary or county clerk as applicable.

(b) The effect of a declaration of a local state of disaster is to activate the recovery and rehabilitation aspects of any and all applicable local or interjurisdictional emergency management plans and to authorize the furnishing of aid and assistance under the declaration. The preparedness and response aspects of the plans shall be activated as provided in the plans.

Disaster Prevention

Sec. 11. (a) In addition to disaster prevention measures as included in the state, local, and interjurisdictional emergency management plans, the governor shall consider on a continuing basis steps that could be taken to mitigate the harmful consequences of disasters. At his direction and pursuant to any other authority and competence they have, state agencies including but not limited to those charged with responsibilities in connection with floodplain management, stream encroachment and flow regulation, weather modification, fire prevention and control, air quality, public works, land use and land-use planning, and construction standards shall make studies of disaster-prevention-related matters. The governor from time to time shall make recommendations to the legislature, local governments, and other appropriate public and private entities as may facilitate measures for prevention or reduction of the harmful consequences of disasters.

(b) The Department of Water Resources and other state agencies in conjunction with the division shall keep land uses and construction of structures and other facilities under continuing study and identify areas which are particularly susceptible to severe land shifting, subsidence, flood, or other catastrophic occurrence. The studies undertaken under this subsection shall concentrate on means of reducing or avoiding the dangers caused by this occurrence or its consequences.

(c) If the division believes on the basis of the studies or other competent evidence that an area is susceptible to a disaster of catastrophic proportions without adequate warning, that existing building standards and land-use controls in that area are inadequate and could add substantially to the magnitude of the disaster, and that changes in zoning regulations, other land-use regulations, or building requirements are essential in order to further the purposes of this section, it shall specify the essential changes to the governor. If the governor on review of the recommendations finds after public hearing that the changes are essential, he shall make appropriate recommendations to the agencies or local governments with jurisdiction over the area and subject matter. If no action or insufficient action pursuant to his recommendations is taken within the time specified by the governor, he shall so inform the legislature and request legislative action appropriate to mitigate the impact of disaster.

(d) The governor, at the same time that he makes his recommendations pursuant to Subsection (c) of this section, may suspend the standard or control which he finds to be inadequate to protect the public safety and by regulation place a new standard or control in effect. The new standard or control shall remain in effect until rejected by concurrent resolution of both houses of the legislature or amended by the governor. During the time it is in effect, the standard or control contained in the governor's regulation shall be administered and given effect by all relevant regulatory agencies of the state and local governments to which it applies. The governor's action is subject to judicial review but is not subject to temporary stay pending litigation.

Compensation

Sec. 12. (a) Each person in this state shall conduct himself and keep and manage his affairs and property in ways that will reasonably assist and will not unreasonably detract from the ability of the state and the public successfully to manage emergencies. This obligation includes appropriate personal service and use or restriction on the use of property in time of disaster. This Act neither increases nor decreases these obligations but recognizes their existence under the constitution and statutes of this state and the common law. Compensation for services or for the taking or use of property shall be only to the extent that obligations recognized in this Act are exceeded in a particular case and then only to the extent that the claimant may not be deemed to have volunteered his services or property without compensation.

(b) No personal services may be compensated by the state or any subdivision or agency of the state except pursuant to statute or ordinance.

(c) Compensation for property shall be made only if the property was commandeered or otherwise used in coping with a disaster and its use or destruction was ordered by the governor or a member of the disaster forces of this state.

(d) Any person claiming compensation for the use, damage, loss, or destruction of property under this Act shall file a claim for compensation with the division in the form and manner the division provides.

(e) Unless the amount of compensation on account of property damaged, lost, or destroyed is agreed between the claimant and the division, the amount of compensation shall be calculated in the same manner as compensation due for taking of property pursuant to the condemnation laws of this state.

(f) Nothing in this section applies to or authorizes compensation for the destruction or damaging of standing timber or other property in order to pro-provide a firebreak or to the release of water or the breach of impoundments in order to reduce pressure or other danger from actual or threatened flood, or contravention of Article I, Section 17, of the Texas Constitution, or statutes pertaining to that section.

Communications

Sec. 13. The division shall ascertain in cooperation with other state agencies what means exist for rapid and efficient communication in times of disaster. The division shall consider the desirability of supplementing these communication resources or of integrating them into a comprehensive state or state-federal telecommunication or other communication system or network. In studying the character and feasibility of any system or its several parts, the division shall evaluate the possibility of their multipurpose use for general state and local governmental purposes. The division shall make recommendations to the governor as appropriate.

Mutual Aid

Sec. 14. (a) Political subdivisions not participating in interjurisdictional arrangements pursuant to this Act nevertheless shall be encouraged and assisted by the division to conclude suitable arrangements for furnishing mutual aid in coping with disasters. The arrangements shall include provision of aid by persons and units in public employ.

(b) In reviewing local emergency management plans, the division shall consider whether they obtain adequate provisions for the rendering and receipt of mutual aid.

(c) In reviewing local and interjurisdictional emergency management plans, the division may require mutual aid agreements between political subdivisions if it determines that the political subdivisions have available equipment, supplies, and forces necessary to provide mutual aid on a regional basis and that the political subdivisions have not already made adequate provision for mutual aid.

Weather Modification

Sec. 15. The division shall keep continuously apprised of weather conditions which present danger of precipitation or other climatic activities severe enough to constitute a disaster. If the division determines that precipitation that may result from weather modification operations, either by itself or in conjunction with other precipitation or climatic conditions or activity, would create or contribute to the severity of a disaster, it shall request in the name of the governor that the officer or agency empowered to issue permits for weather modification operations suspend the issuance of the permits. On the governor's request, no permits may be issued until the division informs the officer or agency that the danger has passed.

Insurance Coverage

Sec. 16. Property damage insurance covering state facilities may be purchased by agencies of the state when necessary to qualify for federal disaster assistance funds. If sufficient funds are not available for the required insurance, then the agency may petition the Disaster Emergency Funding Board to purchase the insurance in the agency's behalf. The board may expend money from the Disaster Contingency Fund to purchase the required insurance.

Penalty for Violation of Emergency Management Plan

Sec. 17. A state, local, or interjurisdictional emergency management plan may provide that failure to comply with the plan or with a rule, order, or ordinance adopted pursuant to the plan is an offense. The plan may not prescribe as punishment for the offense a fine that exceeds $1,000 or confinement in jail for a term that exceeds 180 days.

Severability

Sec. 18. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act, and to this end the provisions of this Act are held to be severable. All plans, regulations, and executive orders and proclamations not in conflict herewith are continued in full force and effect.

Repealer

Sec. 19. The Texas Disaster Act of 1973 (Article 6889-6, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) is repealed.

PENSION TRUSTS

Art. 7425a-3. Authority of Fiduciaries and Custodians Regarding Certain Securities

In this Act:

(1) "Fiduciary" has the meaning given it in Section 1, Chapter 1002, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 7425a-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and includes a state or national bank acting in a fiduciary capacity.

(2) "Clearing corporation" has the meaning given it in Section 8.102, Business and Commerce Code, as amended.

Sec. 2. In the absence of contrary or limiting provisions in the court order or decree appointing a fiduciary, or in a subsequent order or decree, or in the will, deed, or other instrument appointing a fiduciary, any fiduciary holding securities in its fiduciary capacity, and any bank, trust company, or private banker holding securities as a custodian for a fiduciary or as a managing agent or custodian, is authorized if a member of the Federal Reserve System to deposit, or arrange for the deposit if not a member of the Federal Reserve System, with the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, of any securities the principal and interest of which the United States or any department, agency, or instrumentality of the United States has agreed to pay or has guaranteed certificates of larger denomination. The records of the fiduciary, custodian, any fiduciary holding securities in its fiduciary capacity, and any bank, trust company, or private banker holding securities as custodian for a fiduciary, or managing agent authorized to deposit or arrange for the deposit, either in this state or elsewhere, of such securities in a clearing corporation, irrespective of whether the clearing corporation is domiciled, located, has any office or place of business, or is licensed or authorized to do business in this state. When the securities are so deposited, certificates representing securities of the same class of the same issuer may be merged and held in bulk in the name of the nominee of the clearing corporation with any other securities deposited in the clearing corporation by any person, regardless of the ownership of the securities, and certificates of small denomination may be merged into one or more certificates of larger denomination. The records of the fiduciary and the records of the bank, trust company, or private banker acting as custodian for a fiduciary, managing agent, or custodian shall at all times show the name of the party for whose account the securities are so deposited. Ownership of, and other interests in, the securities may be transferred by entries on the books of the clearing corporation without physical delivery of certificates representing the securities. A bank, trust company, or private banker so depositing securities pursuant to this Act shall be subject to such rules as, in the case of state chartered or private banking institutions, the Finance Commission of Texas, and, in the case of national banking associations, the Comptroller of the Currency, may from time to time issue. A bank, trust company, or private banker acting as custodian for a fiduciary, on demand by the fiduciary, shall certify in writing to the fiduciary the securities so deposited by the bank, trust company, or private banker with the Federal Reserve Bank. Any fiduciary or any bank, trust company, or private banker acting as fiduciary, custodian, custodian for a fiduciary, or managing agent, on demand by any party to its accounting or on demand by the attorney for the party, shall certify in writing to the party the securities so deposited by the bank, trust company, or private banker with the Federal Reserve Bank.
certify in writing to the fiduciary the securities so deposited by the bank, trust company, or private banker in the clearing corporation for the account of the fiduciary. Any fiduciary or any bank, trust company, or private banker acting as fiduciary, custodian for a fiduciary, custodian, or managing agent, on demand by any party to its accounting or on demand by the attorney for the party, shall certify in writing to the party the securities deposited by the fiduciary, bank, trust company, or private banker with the clearing corporation.

(b) As between the fiduciary and the beneficial owner of securities deposited by the fiduciary in a clearing corporation, the fiduciary is liable for any loss occasioned by the acts or omissions of the clearing corporation, but nothing is this Act affects the liabilities as between the fiduciary and the clearing corporation.

Sec. 4. (a) This Act applies to any fiduciary holding securities in its fiduciary capacity and to any bank, trust company, or private banker holding securities as fiduciary, custodian for a fiduciary, custodian, or managing agent, acting on the effective date of this Act or thereafter, regardless of the date of the agreement, instrument, or court order by which it is appointed and regardless of whether or not the fiduciary, custodian for a fiduciary, managing agent, or custodian owns capital stock of the clearing corporation.

(b) This Act does not apply to securities held by any fiduciary, bank, trust company, or private banker on behalf of any domestic insurance company, unless the prior express approval of the State Board of Insurance is obtained. The State Board of Insurance may grant that approval generally to all domestic insurance companies or specifically to individual domestic insurance companies on a case-by-case basis.

TEXAS TRUST ACT

Art. 7425b-19. Contracts of Trustee

Whenever a trustee shall make a contract which is within his powers as trustee, or a predecessor trustee shall have made such a contract, and a cause of action arises thereon:

A. The party in whose favor the cause of action has accrued may sue the trustee in his representative capacity, and any judgment rendered in such action in favor of the plaintiff shall be collectible by execution out of the trust property. In such an action the plaintiff need not prove that the trustee could have secured reimbursement from the trust fund if he had paid the plaintiff's claim.

B. No judgment shall be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in such action unless he proves that within thirty (30) days after the beginning of such action, or within such other time as the court may fix, and more than thirty (30) days prior to obtaining the judgment, he notified each of the beneficiaries known to the trustee who then had a present or contingent interest, or in the case of a charitable trust the Attorney General of Texas and any corporation which is a beneficiary or agency in the performance of such charitable trust, of the existence and nature of the action. Such notice shall be given by mailing copies thereof by registered mail addressed to the parties to be notified at their last known addresses. The trustee shall furnish the plaintiff a list of the beneficiaries or persons having an interest in the trust estate, and their addresses, if their whereabouts are known to the trustee, within ten (10) days after written demand therefor, and notification of the persons on such list shall constitute compliance with the duty placed on the plaintiff by this section.

Any beneficiary, or in the case of charitable trusts the Attorney General of Texas, and any corporation which is a beneficiary or agency in the performance of such charitable trust, may intervene in such action and contest the right of the plaintiff to recover. If any beneficiary is a minor or has been adjudged incompetent, the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem, whose duty it shall be to defend such action.

C. The plaintiff may also hold the trustee who made the contract personally liable on such contract, if the contract does not exclude such personal liability. The addition of the word "trustee" or the words "as trustee" after the signature of a trustee to a contract shall be deemed prima facie evidence of an intent to exclude the trustee from personal liability.

D. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Act, if a decedent was a partner in a general partnership and the articles of partnership provide that, on the death of a partner, his or her trustee shall be entitled to the place of a deceased partner in the firm, a trustee so contracting to come into the partnership shall, to the extent allowed by law, be liable to third persons only to the extent of the deceased partner's capital in the partnership and his or her trust funds held by the trustee. Likewise, any other trustee contracting to enter into a general partnership in its capacity as trustee shall, to the extent allowed by law, have its liability limited to the trust assets contributed to the partnership and the other assets of that trust under the control and management of the contracting trustee. This subdivision does not exonerate a trustee from liability for his or her negligence.

TRUSTS AND TRUSTEES

Art. 7425b-25. Powers, Duties, and Responsibilities of Trustee

In the absence of contrary or limiting provisions in the instrument creating the trust, or a subsequent order or decree of a court of competent jurisdiction, the trustee of an express trust is authorized.

A. To exchange, re-exchange, sub-divide, develop, improve, dedicate to public use, make or vacate public plats, adjust boundaries, and/or partition real property, and to adjust differences in valuation by giving or receiving money or money's worth. Easements may be dedicated to public use without consideration if deemed by the trustee to be for the best interest of the trust.

B. To grant options and to sell real or personal property at public auction or at private sale for cash, or upon credit secured by lien upon the property sold or upon such property or a part thereof and/or other property.

C. To grant or take leases of real property for any term of years, and of all rights and privileges above or below the surface of real property for any term or terms, including exploration for and removal of oil, gas, and other minerals, with or without options of purchase, and with or without covenants as to erection of buildings, or as to renewals thereof, through the term of the lease or renewals thereof, or of such options extending beyond the term of the trust.

D. To raze existing walls or buildings and/or erect new party walls or buildings alone or jointly with the owners of any adjacent property. To make ordinary repairs and in addition thereto such extraordinary alterations, changes, and additions in buildings or other structures which are necessary to make the property productive or more productive. To effect and keep in force fire rent and brokers reasonably necessary in the exercise of the foregoing powers the trust shall be authorized, where he deems such course expedient, to deposit stocks, bonds, or other securities with any protective or other committee formed by or at the instance of persons holding similar securities, under such terms and conditions respecting the deposit thereof as the trustee may approve. Any stock or other securities obtained by conversion, reorganization, consolidation, merger, liquidation, or the exercise of subscription rights shall be free, unless the trust instrument provides otherwise, from any restrictions on sale or otherwise contained in the trust instrument relative to the securities originally held.

G. Generally to execute and deliver any deed or other instrument and to do all things in relation to such trust necessary, desirable, or advisable for carrying out any of the above powers or those considered incident to the purposes of such trust. In addition to the other rights, powers, and authority granted to and conferred upon the trustee of an express trust by this, The Texas Trust Act, the trustee may sell, exchange, transfer, assign, convey, mortgage, or otherwise encumber, lease, contract for the joint exploration and development of the trust property, with other properties, and otherwise contract with reference to oil, gas, or other minerals or natural resources, and mineral rights and mineral royalties, which may be or become a part of the trust estate, upon such terms and conditions, and for such royalties, rents, benefits, and consideration as the trustee may deem to be to the best interest of the trust estate.

H. (1) Employ attorneys, accountants, agents, and brokers reasonably necessary in the administration of the trust estate.

(2) Permit real estate held in trust to be occupied by a surviving spouse or minor child of the trustee and, where reasonably necessary for the maintenance of the surviving wife or minor child, to invest trust funds in real property to be used for a home by any such beneficiary, and, in the trustee's discretion, to pay funeral expenses of any beneficiary actually receiving benefits from the trust estate at the time of his or her death.

I. The following rules of administration shall be applicable to all express trusts but such rules shall not be exclusive of those otherwise imposed by law, unless the latter be contrary to these rules:

1. Where a trustee is authorized to sell or dispose of land, such authority shall include the right to sell or dispose of a part thereof, whether the division is horizontal, vertical, or made in any other way, or of undivided interests therein.

2. Where a trustee is authorized by the trust instrument creating the trust or by law to pay, expend, or otherwise apply capital money subject to the trust for any purpose or in any manner, he shall have and shall be deemed always to have had the power to raise the money so required by selling, converting, calling in, or mortgaging or otherwise encumbering all or any part of the trust property for the time being in possession.

3. A trustee shall have a lien, and may reimburse himself with interest, for, or pay or discharge out of the trust property, either principal or income or both, all advances made for the convenience, benefit or protection of the trust or its property, and all expenses, losses, and liabilities, not resulting from the negligence of the trustee, incurred in or about the execution or protection of the trust or because of his holding or ownership of any property subject thereto.

4. When the happening of any event, including marriage, divorce, attainment of a certain age, performance of educational requirements, death, or any other event, determines or affects the distribution of income or principal of trust estates, the trustees shall not be liable for mistakes of fact made prior to the actual knowledge or written notice of such fact.

J. The powers, duties, and responsibilities stated in this Act shall not be deemed to exclude other implied powers, duties, or responsibilities not inconsistent herewith.

K. Pay all taxes and assessments levied or assessed against the trust estate or the trustee by governmental taxing or assessing agencies.

L. Unless the instrument creating the trust provides to the contrary, the trustee of any trust created after the effective date of this amendment shall be required to give bond payable to all persons interested in the trust as their interest may appear, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties as trustee, to be in such amount and with such surety or sureties as the District Court shall, by order entered in a proceeding brought for such purpose, direct and approve. If the proceeding be brought by the person named as trustee, citation in respect thereof shall not be necessary, but the proceeding may be upon ex parte verified petition showing the nature and probable value of the trust estate, and the District Court may, in term time or vacation, hear the application and enter such order in respect thereof as the court shall deem proper. If the proceeding be brought by some other person interested in the estate, citation shall issue, as required by law, to the trustee, unless such citation be expressly waived in writing. Any bond made pursuant to the provisions of this Subsection L shall be subject to increase, decrease, or the substitution or addition of another surety or other sureties upon order of the District Court in an action brought by any person interested in the trust estate, as in Section 24 1 hereof provided. Any bond made pursuant to the terms of this Subsection shall be deposited with the Clerk of the District Court in which the order shall have been entered, and suit may be maintained on a certified copy thereof, provided that any recovery thereon shall, upon appropriate proof by the surety or sureties, reduce their liability on such bond pro tanto. Failure to comply with the provisions of this paragraph shall not render void or voidable, or otherwise affect, any act or transaction of the trustee with any third person.

Provided, however, that this Subsection shall not apply to corporate trustees which are authorized by law to act as trustee of any trust affected by this Act.

M. In the event that any property which is or may become a part of the assets of a trust is situated in a state or states other than the State of Texas, or in a foreign country, the Texas trustee is empowered to name an individual or corporate trustee qualified to act in any such state or foreign country in connection with the property situated therein as ancillary trustee of such property and require such security as may be designated by the Texas trustee. The ancillary trustee so appointed shall have all rights, powers, discretions, responsibilities and duties as are delegated to it by the Texas trustee, within the limits of the authority possessed by the Texas trustee, but shall exercise and discharge same subject to such limitations or directions of the Texas trustee as shall be specified in the instrument evidencing the appointment. The ancillary trustee shall be answerable to the Texas trustee for all monies, assets or other property entrusted to it or received by it in connection with the administration of the trust. The Texas trustee may remove such ancillary trustee and may or may not appoint a successor at any time or from time to time as to any or all of the assets. Provided, however, that if the ancillary trustee is to be appointed in any jurisdiction that requires any kind of procedure or judicial order for the appointment of such an ancillary trustee or to authorize it to act, the Texas trustee and the ancillary trustee must conform to all such requirements.

N. Whenever an instrument containing a trust reserves unto the trustor, or vests in an advisory investment committee, or in any other person or persons (including a co-trustee), to the exclusion of the trustee or to the exclusion of one or more of several trustees, authority to direct the making or retention of investments, or of any investment, or the performance of any other act in the management and administration of the trust, the excluded trustee or co-trustee shall not be liable as trustee or co-trustee for any loss resulting from the making or retention of any investment pursuant to such authorized direction, or from the doing of any act in the management and administration of the trust in accordance with such authorized direction. This Subsection shall not be applicable if the terms of the trust instrument contain contrary provisions with respect to the liability of the excluded trustee or co-trustee.

[Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 74, ch. 48, § 1, eff. April 11, 1979.]
Art. 7425b-48. Uniform Common Trust Fund Act

Sec. 1. Establishment of common trust funds.
(a) Any bank or trust company qualified to act as fiduciary in this State may establish common trust funds for the purpose of furnishing investments to itself as fiduciary, including itself as custodian under the Uniform Gifts to Minors Act, as amended (Article 5923-101, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or to itself and others, as cofiduciaries; and may, as such fiduciary or cofiduciary, invest funds which it lawfully holds for investment in interests in such common trust funds, if such investment is not prohibited by the instrument, judgment, decree, or order creating such fiduciary relationship, and if, in the case of cofiduciaries, the bank or trust company procures the consent of its cofiduciaries to such investment. Any bank or trust company which is a member of an affiliated group, as defined in Section 1504 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C. Section 1504), with a bank or trust company maintaining common trust funds may participate in one or more of those funds as though they were maintained by the participating bank or trust company.

(b) A common trust fund includes a fund qualified for exemption from federal income taxation as a common trust fund and maintained exclusively for eligible fiduciary accounts and also includes a fund consisting solely of assets of retirement, pension, profit sharing, stock-bonus, and other employees' trusts that are exempt from federal income taxation.

PENSION TRUSTS

Art. 7425d-1. Death Benefits Under Employees' Trusts

Definitions

Sec. 1. When used in this Act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Death benefits" means benefits of any kind, including, but not limited to, proceeds of life-insurance policies of which a trustee of an employees' trust is beneficiary and other payments, in cash or property, pursuant to an employees' trust (or contract purchased by such a trust) or pursuant to a retirement-annuity contract, payable on account of an employee's death to or for the benefit of his beneficiary.

(b) "Employees' trust" means a trust forming a part of a stock-bonus, pension, or profit-sharing plan described in Section 401 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and pension trusts described in Article 7425d, Title 125A, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes.

(c) "Retirement-Annuitv Contract" means an annuity contract described in Section 403 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(d) "Employee" means any person who is covered by the plan of which an employees' trust is made a part, any person whose interest in such trust has not been distributed in full, and any person covered by a plan of which a retirement-annuity contract is a part.

(e) "Internal Revenue Code of 1954" means such code and all references in this Act to specific sections of such code include corresponding provisions of any subsequent federal tax laws.

(f) The definitions of "trust" and "trustee" contained in the Texas Trust Act shall apply to such terms as used in this Act, provided that "trust" shall include any trust, regardless of when created.

Payments to Trustee Under Declaration of Trust or Written Instrument

Sec. 2. Death benefits may be made payable to a trustee of a trust, the terms of which are evidenced by a written instrument or declaration of trust in existence on the date of the death of the employee, if such trustee is designated as beneficiary in accordance with the terms of the plan of which the employees' trust is a part or in accordance with the terms of the retirement-annuity contract. Such death benefits shall be held, administered, and disposed of by such trustee in accordance with the terms of the trust as they appear in writing on the date of the death of the employee. The validity of the trust agreement or declaration of trust shall not be affected even though the trust has no corpus other than the right of the trustee to receive such death benefits as beneficiary, even though the employee has reserved the right to designate another beneficiary of the death benefits, and even though such trust agreement or declaration of trust is subject to amendment, modification, revocation, or termination.

Payments to Trustee Under Will

Sec. 3. Death benefits may be made payable to a trustee named, or to be named, as trustee of a trust created by a will of the employee, if such trustee is designated as beneficiary in accordance with the terms of the plan of which the employees' trust is a part or in accordance with the terms of the retirement-annuity contract, whether or not such will has been executed at the time of such designation. Upon probate of such will the death benefits shall be payable to such trustee to be held, administered, and disposed of in accordance with the terms of the trust created by such will as they exist on the date of death of the employee. Death benefits may be made payable to a trustee named as trustee of a trust created by a will of any person other than the employee if such will has been probated at the death of the employee and the death benefits shall be payable to such trustee to be held, administered, and disposed of in accordance with the terms of the trust created by such will.

Payment Where No Trustee Makes Claim

Sec. 4. In the event no trustee makes claim to the death benefits within a period of one year after the date of death of the employee or if satisfactory evidence is furnished to a trustee or other fiduciary of the employees' trust or other obligor within such one-year period that there is or will be no trustee to receive the death benefits, payment of such death benefits shall be made as required or permitted by such employee's beneficiary designation, the plan of which the employees' trust is a part, or the retirement-annuity contract, and failing such other designation or provision in such plan or contract, such death benefits shall be paid to the personal representative of the deceased employee as a part of such deceased employee's estate.

Exemption from Taxes and Debts

Sec. 5. Unless the trust agreement, declaration of trust, or will provides otherwise, death benefits payable to a trustee as provided in Sections 2, 3, and 4 of this Act (i) shall not be deemed part of the deceased employee's estate, (ii) shall not be subject to any obligation to pay debts of the deceased employee or his estate or other charges enforceable against such estate, and (iii) shall not be subject to any obligation to pay any taxes enforceable against the deceased employee's estate to any greater extent than if such death benefits were payable, free of trust, to beneficiaries other than the executor or administrator of the estate of the deceased employee.

Commingling of Assets

Sec. 6. Death benefits paid to a trustee in accordance with Sections 2, 3, or 4 of this Act may be commingled with any other assets accepted by such trustee either before or after receipt of such death benefits, and held in trust.

Application of This Act

Sec. 7. Nothing in this Act shall affect the validity of any beneficiary designation heretofore made by an employee, in accordance with the terms of the plan of which the employees' trust is a part or in accordance with the terms of the retirement-annuity contract, naming a trustee of a trust under a trust agreement, declaration of trust, or under a will as beneficiary of death benefits.

Declaratory of Common Law; Liberal Construction

Sec. 8. This Act shall, insofar as possible, be deemed declaratory of the common law of the State of Texas and shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the intent that death benefits received by a trustee of a trust under a trust agreement, declaration of trust, or will are not subject to the obligations of the employee or of his estate unless such trust expressly provides otherwise. Neither a reference in any will to any death benefits nor the naming of the trustee of a trust created by a will shall cause such death benefits to be included in the property administered as a part of the testator's estate or require inclusion of such death benefits in any inventory filed with the county court.

CHARITABLE TRUSTS

Art. 7425e. Amendment of Charitable Trusts

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Electon to Avoid Amendment by Law

Sec. 2. (a) The trustee of any trust described in Section 1 of this Act (with the consent of the trustor, if then living and competent to give consent) may, without judicial proceedings, amend such trust to expressly exclude the application of Section 1 of this Act by executing a written amendment to the trust and filing a duplicate original of such amendment with the Attorney General of Texas, and upon filing of such amendment, Section 1 of this Act shall not apply to such trust.

(b) The powers given under Subdivision (2), Paragraph H, Section 25, Texas Trust Act, shall not apply to a charitable remainder unitrust, annuity trust, or pooled income fund, whether presently in existence or hereafter created, that is intended to qualify for a federal tax deduction under Section 664 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 or any successor section thereto.

Responsibility of Veterinarian Toward Animals in His Care.

Art. 7465a. Veterinary Licensing Act
[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 2]

Exceptions to Application of Law

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act shall not apply nor shall the following be construed as the practice of veterinary medicine:

1. Treatment or caring for animals in any manner personally by the owner thereof, or by any employee of the owner thereof.
2. Performance of the operation of male castration on domestic animals, or docking or ear-marking of domestic animals.
3. Performance of the operation of dehorning cattle, or the spaying of large animals, or operation in aid of the birth process in large animals.
4. Drenching and spraying of domestic animals for internal or external parasites, or vaccination for black-leg, shipping fever, or sore mouth.
5. Recommendation by a retail distributor of a medicine, remedy or insecticide which is adequately labeled and has been duly registered with the Texas State Department of Health as required by the Texas Livestock Remedy Act when the retail distributor is advised by the customer of the type of ailment which he wishes to treat.
6. Treatment and caring for poultry and rabbits.
7. Branding animals in any manner.
8. Acts performed by persons who are full-time students of an accredited college of veterinary medicine and who are on a college extern or preceptor program if the acts are performed under direct supervision of a licensee employing the person.

State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners

Sec. 5. (a) The Board consists of nine members appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate for six-year terms.

(b) Appointments shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees. Seven members must be licensed veterinarians and two members must be members of the general public.

(c) To be eligible for appointment to the Board as a licensed veterinarian member, a person must:

1. have resided in the state and practiced veterinary medicine for the six years next preceding his appointment;
2. be of good repute; and
3. not be a member of the faculty of any veterinary medical college or of the veterinary medical department of any college or have a financial interest in a veterinary medical college.

(d) A person is not eligible for appointment as a public member if the person or the person's spouse:

1. is licensed by an occupational regulatory agency in the field of health care;
2. is employed by or participates in the management of a business entity or other organization that provides health-care services or that sells, manufactures, or distributes health-care supplies or equipment; or
3. owns, controls, or has, directly or indirectly, more than a 10 percent interest in a business entity or other organization that provides health-care services or that sells, manufactures, or distributes health-care supplies or equipment.

(e) A person appointed to the Board qualifies for office by taking the constitutional oath of office. After taking the oath, he shall file a signed copy of it with the Secretary of State.

(f) The Governor shall fill by appointment vacancies on the Board resulting from death or resignation of a member. The person appointed to fill a vacancy serves for the unexpired portion of the vacated term.

(g) At its first meeting each year the Board shall elect from its number a president and any other officers it considers necessary or convenient. Six members of the Board constitute a quorum for the transaction of Board business.

(h) Each Board member is entitled to a per diem as set by legislative appropriation for each day that the member engages in the business of the Board. A member may not receive any compensation for travel expenses, including expenses for meals and lodging, other than transportation expenses. A member is entitled to compensation for transportation expenses as prescribed by the General Appropriations Act.

(i) The State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended
Art. 7465a VETERINARY MEDICINE AND SURGERY

(Article 5429k, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the board is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1993.

(i) The Board is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252–17, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

(k) A member or employee of the Board may not be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the veterinary medical industry.

(/) A member or employee of the Board may not be related within the second degree by affinity or consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the regulated industry.

(m) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252–9c, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), may not serve as a member of the Board or act as the general counsel to the Board.

(n) It is a ground for removal from the Board if a member:

(1) does not have at the time of appointment the qualifications required by Subsection (c) or (d) of this section for appointment to the Board;

(2) does not maintain during his service on the Board the qualifications required by Subsection (c) or (d) of this section for appointment to the Board;

(3) violates a prohibition established by Subsection (k), (l), or (m) of this section; or

(4) fails to attend at least half of the regularly scheduled Board meetings held in a calendar year, excluding meetings held while the person was not a member of the Board.

(o) The validity of an action of the Board is not affected by the fact that it was taken when a ground for removal of a member of the Board existed.

Executive Secretary and Other Personnel; Intraagency Career Ladder Program; Annual Performance Evaluations System

Sec. 6. (a) The Board may employ an executive secretary and such other persons as it deems advisable to carry out the purposes of this Act, and shall require the executive secretary, charged with the safekeeping of the moneys and proper disbursement of the veterinary fund provided for in this Act, to file with the Board a surety bond in an amount not less than Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of his office.

(b) The executive secretary or his designee shall develop an intraagency career ladder program, one part of which shall be the intraagency posting of all nonentry level positions for at least 10 days before any public posting.

(c) The executive secretary or his designee shall develop a system of annual performance evaluations based on measurable job tasks. All merit pay authorized by the executive secretary must be based on the system established under this subsection.

Rules and Regulations: Record-Keeping System

Sec. 7. (a) The Board may make, alter or amend such rules and regulations as may be necessary or desirable to carry into effect the provisions of this Act.

(b) The Board may require its licensees to maintain a record-keeping system for certain controlled substances prescribed by the Board that includes the quantities and date of purchase, quantities and date dispensed, quantities and date administered, balance on hand, the name and address of the client and patient receiving the drugs, and the reason for dispensing or administering the drugs to such patient. The records are subject to review by law enforcement agencies and by representatives of the Board. A failure to keep such records shall be grounds for revoking, cancelling, suspending, or probating the license of any practitioner of veterinary medicine.

Rules of Professional Conduct

Sec. 8. (a) The Board may from time to time adopt, alter or amend rules of professional conduct appropriate to establish and maintain a high standard of integrity, skills and practice in the profession of veterinary medicine.

(b) The Board may not adopt rules restricting competitive bidding or advertising by a person regulated by the Board except to prohibit false, misleading, or deceptive practices by the person. The Board may not include in its rules to prohibit false, misleading, or deceptive practices by a person regulated by the Board a rule that:

(1) restricts the person’s use of any medium for advertising;

(2) restricts the person’s personal appearance or use of his voice in an advertisement;

(3) relates to the size or duration of an advertisement by the person; or

(4) restricts the person’s advertisement under a trade name.

(c) If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Subsection (g), Section 5, Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the Board/commission statements opposing adoption of a rule under that section, the rule may not take effect, or if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the Board/commission receives the committees’ statements.
Sec. 10. (a) Any person not previously licensed in this State is qualified to be licensed, provided:

1. he has attained the age of majority;
2. he is a graduate of a reputable school or college of veterinary medicine as approved by the Board;
3. he successfully completes the examination conducted by the Board; and
4. the Board does not refuse issuance of the license as provided in Section 11 (Refusing Examinations).

(b) The Board may waive any license requirement for an applicant with a valid license from another state having license requirements substantially equivalent to those of this State.

Sec. 12. (a) The Board shall hold regular meetings at least twice each year for the holding of examinations as provided in this Act, at such times and places as it deems convenient for applicants for examinations. Notice of meetings for holding examinations shall be given by publication in such newspapers or periodicals as the Board may select, and the Board shall examine all qualified applicants for examinations as follows:

1. Examinations shall be on subjects and operations pertaining to veterinary medicine including veterinary anatomy, veterinary pathology, chemistry, veterinary obstetrics, sanitary science, veterinary practice, veterinary jurisprudence, veterinary physiology and bacteriology and such other subjects as are regularly taught in reputable schools of veterinary medicine.
2. Examinations may be given orally, in writing, or a practical demonstration of the applicant's skill, or any combination of these as the Board may determine.
3. Applicants shall demonstrate such standard of proficiency as the Board may determine is essential for a qualified veterinarian.
4. Within 90 days after the date a licensing examination is administered under this Act, the Board shall furnish the person with an analysis of the person's performance on the examination.

Sec. 13. (a) Licenses shall expire March 1st of each calendar year, and any licensee may renew his license on or before March 1st by making written application to the Board setting forth such facts as the Board may require, and by paying the required fee.

(b) A person may renew an unexpired license by paying to the Board before the expiration date of the license the required renewal fee. If a person's license has been expired for not more than 90 days, the person may renew the license by paying to the Board the required renewal fee and a fee that is one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the examination fee for the license. If a person's license has been expired for more than 90 days but less than two years, the person may renew the license by paying to the Board all unpaid renewal fees and a fee that is equal to the examination fee for the license. If a person's license has been expired for two years or more, the person must pay a new license by submitting to reexamination and complying with the requirements and procedures for obtaining an original license.

(c) The Board shall recognize, renew, or implement continuing education programs for veterinarians. Participation in the programs is voluntary.

Sec. 14. Except as provided by this section with respect to conviction of a felony under the Texas Controlled Substances Act, as amended (Article 4476–15, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or Chapter 425, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959, as amended (Article 4476–14, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the Board shall revoke or suspend a license, place a person whose license has been suspended on probation, or reprimand a licensee, or may refuse to examine an applicant or to issue a license or a renewal of a license, after notice and hearing as provided in Section 15 of this Act, or as provided by the rules of the Board, if it finds that an applicant or licensee:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 9]

Art. 7465a

(a) Has presented to the Board dishonest or fraudulent evidence of qualification; has been guilty of illegal fraud or deception in the process of examination, or for the purpose of securing a license; or
(b) Is chronically or habitually intoxicated or is addicted to drugs; or
(c) Has engaged in dishonest or illegal practices in or connected with the practice of veterinary medicine; or
(d) Has been convicted of a felony under the laws of this or any other state of the United States or of the United States; or
(e) Has engaged in practices or conduct in connection with the practice of veterinary medicine which are violative of the standards of professional conduct as duly promulgated by the Board in accordance with law; or
(f) Has permitted or allowed another to use his license, or certificate to practice veterinary medicine in this state, for the purpose of treating, or offering to treat, sick, injured or afflicted animals.

On conviction of a person licensed by the Board of a felony under the Texas Controlled Substances Act, as amended (Article 4476-15, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or Chapter 425, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959, as amended (Article 4476-14, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the Board shall, after an administrative hearing conducted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), in which the fact of conviction is determined, suspend the person's license. On the person's final conviction, the Board shall revoke the person's license. The Board may not reinstate or reissue a license to a person whose license is suspended or revoked under this section except on an express determination based on substantial evidence contained in an investigative report indicating that the reinstatement or reissue of the license is in the best interests of the public and of the person whose license has been suspended or revoked.

Procedure for Refusal, Suspension or Revocation of License

Sec. 15. If the Board proposes to refuse a person's application for a license, to suspend or revoke a person's license, or to place on probation or reprimand a licensee, the person is entitled to a hearing before the Board. The proceedings are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Appeals

Sec. 16. An appeal of an action of the Board is governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Judicial review of an action of the Board shall be conducted under the substantial evidence rule.

Information of Consumer Interest

Sec. 18A. The Board shall prepare information of consumer interest describing the regulatory functions of the Board and the Board's procedures by which consumer complaints are filed with and resolved by the Board. The Board shall make the information available to the general public and appropriate state agencies. Each written contract for services in this state of a licensed veterinarian shall contain the name, mailing address, and telephone number of the Board.

Complaints

Sec. 18B. (a) The Board shall maintain an information file about each complaint filed with the Board relating to a licensee.

(b) If a written complaint is filed with the Board relating to a licensee, the Board, at least as frequently as quarterly and until final disposition of the complaint, shall notify the parties to the complaint of the status of the complaint unless the notice would jeopardize an undercover investigation.

Fees

Sec. 19. The Board shall establish reasonable and necessary fees for the administration of this Act in amounts not to exceed:

1. Examination fee $200
2. Reciprocal license fee 200
3. Annual license renewal fee 85
4. Duplicate license fee 60

The board shall not maintain unnecessary fund balances, and fee amounts shall be set in accordance with this requirement.

Veterinary Fund; Audit; Annual Report

Sec. 20. (a) All fees collected by the Board under this Act shall be placed in the State Treasury every thirty (30) days, as collected, to the credit of a special fund to be known as the "Veterinary Fund," and all expenditures from this fund shall be on order of the Board, on warrants issued by the State Comptroller for the purposes and in the amounts fixed by the Legislature in appropriation bills. On August 31st of each year, all money in excess of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000) remaining in said "Veterinary Fund" shall revert to the General Revenue Fund of the State Treasury.

(b) The State Auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the Board at least once in each fiscal biennium.

(c) On or before January 1 of each year, the Board shall make in writing to the Governor and the Presiding Officer of each House of the Legislature a complete and detailed annual report accounting for all funds received and disbursed by the Board during the preceding year.
Art. 7465c. Responsibility of Veterinarian Toward Animals in His Care

Sec. 1. (a) Unless otherwise provided by contract between a veterinarian and his client, a veterinarian may dispose of any animal abandoned in his care if he gives notice of his intention to do so by certified mail sent to the last known address of the client. The veterinarian must allow the client 12 days from the mailing of the certified mail in which to retrieve the animal.

(b) Contact of the veterinarian by the client by mail, telephone, or personal communication does not extend the obligation of the veterinarian to treat, board, or care for an animal unless both the client and the veterinarian agree. If no agreement is made to extend the care for the animal, the animal is considered abandoned after 12 days from the date the veterinarian notifies the client that the animal must be removed from the veterinarian’s care.

(c) The giving of notice by a veterinarian as prescribed in Subsection (a) of this section does not relieve the client of his liability for payment for treatment, board, or care furnished.

Sec. 2. A veterinarian who, on his own initiative or at the request of a person other than the owner, renders emergency treatment to an ill or injured animal is not liable to the owner for damages to the animal except in cases of gross negligence. If the veterinarian performs euthanasia on the animal, it is presumed that it was a humane act necessary to relieve pain and suffering.

PART 5

PART 1

Art. 8306. Damages and Compensation for Personal Injuries

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 and 2]

Nonresidents: Employment of Labor; Service of Process on Chairman of Industrial Accident Board

Sec. 2a. The acceptance by a nonresident of this State of the rights, privileges and benefits extended by law to such persons of employing labor within the State of Texas shall be deemed equivalent to an appointment by such nonresident of the Chairman of the Industrial Accident Board of this State, or his successor in office, to be his true and lawful attorney and agent upon whom may be served all lawful process in any civil action or proceeding now pending or hereafter instituted against said nonresident growing out of any accident resulting in the injury or death of any employee of said nonresident, occurring in the course of employment of the employee in this State, or occurring in the course of employment of the employee in a foreign jurisdiction when the employee is a Texas resident recruited in this State, when the action or proceeding is brought by the employee, his heirs or legal representative. Service of process under this Section shall be in the same manner and method as that prescribed in Chapter 125, Acts of the Forty-first Legislature, Regular Session, 1929, as last amended by Chapter 502, Acts of the Fifty-sixth Legislature, Regular Session, 1959 (compiled as Article 2039a of Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), which relates to citation of nonresident motor vehicle operators by serving the Chairman of the State Highway Commission.

Medical Services

Sec. 7. The employee shall have the sole right to select or choose the persons or facilities to furnish medical aid, chiropractic services, hospital services, and nursing and the association shall be obligated for same or, alternatively, at the employee's option, the association shall furnish such medical aid, hospital services, nursing, chiropractic services, and medicines as may reasonably be required at the time of the injury and at any time thereafter to cure and relieve from the effects naturally resulting from the injury. Such treatment shall include treatments necessary to physical rehabilitation, including proper fitting and training in the use of prosthetic appliances, for such period as the nature of the injury may require or as necessary to reasonably restore the employee to his normal level of physical capacity or as necessary to give reasonable relief from pain, but shall not include any other phase of vocational rehabilitation. The obligation of the association to be responsible for hospital services as herein provided shall not be held to include any obligation on the part of the association to pay for medical, nursing or surgical services not ordinarily provided by hospitals as a part of their services.

Upon receipt thereof, the Board shall promptly analyze each notice of injury incurred by an injured employee covered under this law. If the Board concludes that vocational rehabilitation is indicated in any such case, it immediately shall take the necessary steps to inform the injured employee of the services and facilities available to him under the Texas Rehabilitation Commission and the Board immediately shall notify said Commission of such case. In each such case recommendation of services and facilities shall be made after consultation by the Board with the physician or chiropractor furnishing medical aid or chiropractic services as required by this Section, who shall retain general supervision of treatment of the injured employee and, should the employee request it, the Board shall consult with a physician or chiropractor specially trained in such treatment. The Board shall co-operate with said Texas Rehabilitation Commission with reference to the work of said Commission in providing said services and facilities to injured employees covered under the provisions of this law.
Provided that any physician or chiropractor rendering medical or chiropractic care to any injured worker shall render an initial report as soon as practical identifying the injured worker and stating the nature and extent of the injury and thereafter shall render subsequent reports reasonably necessary to keep the status of the claimant's condition known.

Hospitals shall, upon request of either the injured worker, his attorney, or the association, furnish records pertaining to treatment or hospitalization for which compensation is being sought. All records and records requested hereunder shall be made to the association and the injured worker or his attorney. The failure of the physician or chiropractor to make such reports or of the hospital to furnish requested records shall relieve the association and the injured worker from any obligation to pay for the services rendered by the physician, chiropractor, or hospital. All charges for the furnishing of reports and records hereunder shall be subject to regulation by the Board in accordance with Section 7b hereof, provided however, such charges shall in no event be less than the fair and reasonable charge for the furnishing of said reports and records.

In the event that the association shall contend before the Board that charges for medical aid, hospital services, chiropractic services, nursing services, or medicines are not fair and reasonable, the Board's award shall make an express finding of the amounts which are fair and reasonable charges for the aid or services rendered or the medicines provided. If the amount found is less than those charges submitted by the provider of the aid, services, or medicines, then said provider shall be entitled to appeal the Board's determination as if it were a party to the action. In any subsequent appeal from the award of the Board, if the person or facility providing medical aid, hospital services, chiropractic services, nursing services, or medicines recovers an amount equal to or in excess of the charges submitted to the Board, such person or facility shall be entitled to recover from the association an additional amount equal to 12 percent of the amount unpaid and reasonable attorney's fees. If the amount so recovered is less than the charges submitted to the Board, the association shall be entitled to recover its reasonable attorney's fees from the person or facility providing the medical aid, hospital services, chiropractic services, nursing services, or medicines.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 7a to 7d]

Artificial Appliances

Sec. 7-e. (a) In all cases where liability for compensation exists for an injury sustained by an employee in the course of his employment where artificial appliances of any kind would materially and beneficially improve the future usefulness and occupational opportunities of such injured employee, the association shall furnish such employee with the artificial appliance or appliances needed by him for such occupational opportunities and shall continue to furnish the needed artificial appliance or appliances until a satisfactory fit is obtained in the judgment of the attending physician or physicians. The association shall also be liable for replacing or repairing any artificial appliances so furnished, when needed as determined by the physician or physicians, unless the need for such repair or replacement is due to lack of proper care by the employee. The cost of such artificial appliances so furnished to any such employee shall be in keeping with the salary or wages received by such employee.

(b) In the event the association shall fail or refuse to furnish or provide such artificial appliances, such employee shall make application to the Board for such artificial appliances. On receipt of such application the Board shall order a medical examination of the employee and obtain such other evidence as in their opinion they may deem necessary, after which the Board shall determine whether or not the artificial appliances would materially and beneficially improve the future usefulness and occupational opportunities of the injured employee and in the event they find that such improvement would exist, then the Board shall order the association to furnish the artificial appliances.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 8]
or failure to support. Such compensation shall not pass to the estate of the deceased to be administered upon, but shall be paid directly to said beneficiaries when the same are capable of taking, under the laws of this State, or to their guardian in case of lunacy, infancy or other disqualifying cause; except payments may be made directly to the person having custody of the person of such beneficiary, who shall be entitled to receive and receipt for such payments unless or until the association is notified that a guardian has been appointed, in which event payment shall thereafter be made to such guardian. The compensation provided for in this law shall be paid weekly to the beneficiaries herein specified, subject to the provisions of this law.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 8b]

Funeral Expenses

Sec. 9. If the deceased employee leaves no legal beneficiaries, the association shall pay all expenses incident to his last sickness as a result of the injury, and in addition a funeral benefit not to exceed One Thousand, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($1,250).

If the deceased employee leaves a legal beneficiary or beneficiaries, and is buried at the expense of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, or is buried at the expense of his employer or any other person, the expense of such burial, not to exceed One Thousand, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($1,250), shall be payable without discount for present payment to the person or persons at whose expense the burial occurred, subject to the approval of the Board; and such burial expense, regardless of to whom it is paid, shall be in addition to the compensation due the beneficiary or beneficiaries of such deceased employee.

Total Incapacity

Sec. 10. (a) While the incapacity for work resulting from the injury is total, the association shall pay the injured employee a weekly compensation equal to sixty-six and two-thirds per cent (66 2/3%) of his average weekly wages, but not more than the maximum weekly benefit nor less than the minimum weekly benefit set forth in Section 29 of this article.

(b) If the injury is one of the six (6) enumerated in Section 11a of this article as constituting conclusive total and permanent incapacity, the association shall pay the compensation for the life of the employee, but in no other case of total and permanent incapacity shall the period covered by such compensation be greater than four hundred and one (401) weeks from the date of injury. For the purpose of this section only, the total and permanent loss of use of a member shall be considered to be the total and permanent loss of the member.

(c) No attorney's fee may be allowed in a case involving lifetime benefits under Subsection (b) of this section if the association admits liability while the case is pending before the Board and makes payments. If liability is not admitted before the Board, an attorney representing the claimant is entitled to a reasonable attorney's fee not to exceed twenty-five per cent (25%) of the compensation recovered. The association shall deduct attorney's fees allowed by the Board or court in equal periodic payments not to exceed twenty-five per cent (25%) of the compensation payment. If compensation is being paid in periodic payments, any attorney's fee allowed by the Board or court shall be paid in periodic payments.

(d) The lifetime benefits to the employee payable under this section may not be paid in a lump sum except in a case of bona fide disputes as to liability of the association. Any settlement of a disputed case shall be approved by the Board or court only upon an express finding that a bona fide dispute exists as to such liability.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 11 to 12b]

Subsequent Injury; Second Injury Fund

Sec. 12c. If an employee who has suffered a previous injury shall suffer a subsequent injury which results in a condition of incapacity to which both injuries or their effects have contributed, the association shall be liable because of such injury only for the compensation to which the subsequent injury would have entitled the injured employee had there been no previous injury; provided that there shall be created a fund known as the “Second Injury Fund,” hereinafter described, from which an employee who has suffered a subsequent injury shall be compensated for the combined incapacities resulting from both injuries. Provided further, however, that notice of injury to the employer and filing of a claim with the Industrial Accident Board as required by law shall also be deemed and considered notice to and filing of a claim against the “Second Injury Fund”.

Permanent and Total Incapacity Through Loss of or Loss of Use of, Another Member or Organ

Sec. 12c-1. If an employee who has previously lost, or lost the use of, one hand, one arm, one foot, one leg, or one eye, becomes permanently and totally incapacitated through the loss or loss of use of another member or organ, the association shall be liable only for the compensation payable for such second injury; provided, however, that in addition to such compensation and after the combination of the payments therefor, the employee shall be paid the remainder of the compensation that would be due for the total permanent incapacity out of the special fund known as “Second Injury Fund,” hereinafter defined.

Second Injury Fund: How Created; Presumptions

Sec. 12c-2. The special fund known as the “Second Injury Fund” shall be created in the following manner:
(a) In every case of the death of an employee under this act where there is no person entitled to compensation surviving said employee, the association shall pay to the Industrial Accident Board the full death benefits, but not to exceed 360 weeks of compensation, as provided in Section 8, of Article 8306, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, to be deposited with the Treasurer of the State for the benefit of said Fund and the Board shall direct the distribution thereof.

(b) When the total amount of such payments into the Fund, together with the accumulated interest thereon, equals or exceeds Three Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000) in excess of liabilities, whether vested or contingent, known to the Board, no further payment shall be required to be paid to said Fund; but whenever thereafter the amount of such Fund shall be reduced below Three Hundred Thousand Dollars ($300,000) in excess of liabilities, whether vested or contingent, known to the Board, by reason of payments from such Fund, the payments to such Fund shall be resumed forthwith, and shall continue until such Fund again amounts to Seven Hundred Fifty Thousand Dollars ($750,000) including accumulated interest thereon, in excess of liabilities, whether vested or contingent, known to the Board.

(c) Unless a claim for fatal benefits is filed with the Board by a beneficiary or beneficiaries within eight (8) months following the date of death of the employee, it shall be presumed for purposes of this section only that no person entitled to compensation under Section 8a of this article survived the deceased employee; provided, however, that the presumption created hereby shall not apply against minor beneficiaries or to beneficiaries of unsound mind for whom no guardian has been appointed.

(d) If the Board enters an initial award ordering payments to the Fund hereunder and it is determined by a subsequent final award of the Board or judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction that a beneficiary under Section 8a of the article is entitled to fatal benefits, the Board shall order reimbursement from the Fund to the association of the amounts paid by it to the Fund in good faith by reason of the initial award of the Board.

Injuries Sustained Outside State: Venue

Sec. 19. If an employee, who has been hired or, if a Texas resident, recruited in this State, sustain injury in the course of his employment he shall be entitled to compensation according to the Law of this State even though such injury was received outside of the State, and that such employee, though injured out of the State of Texas, shall be entitled to the same rights and remedies as if injured within the State of Texas, except that in such cases of injury outside of Texas, the suit of either the injured employee or his beneficiaries, or of the Association, to set aside an award of the Industrial Accident Board of Texas, or to enforce it, as mentioned in Article 8307, Sections 5–5a, shall be brought either

a. In the county of Texas where the contract of hiring was made or where the employee was recruited; or

b. In the county of Texas where such employee or his beneficiaries or any of them reside when the suit is brought, or

c. In the county where the employee or the employer resided when the contract of hiring was made or when the employee was recruited, as the one filing such suit may elect.

Providing that such injury shall have occurred within one year from the date such injured employee leaves this State; and provided, further, that no recovery can be had by the injured employee hereunder in the event he has elected to pursue his remedy and recoveries in the state where such injury occurred.

Subscriber's Filing Fee

Sec. 28. In addition to all other taxes now being paid, each stock company, mutual company, reciprocal, or inter-insurance exchange or Lloyds Association writing Workmen's Compensation insurance in this state, shall pay annually into the General Revenue Fund in the State Treasury an amount equal to forty-five one-hundredths (\(4.5\%\)) of one percent (1%) of gross premiums collected by such company or association during the preceding year under workmen's compensation policies written by such companies or associations covering risks in this state according to the reports made to the Board of Insurance Commissioners as required by law. Said amount shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as provided by law for the collection of taxes on gross premiums of such workmen's compensation insurance carriers. All self-insurers under any of the Workmen's Compensation Acts of the State of Texas shall report to the State Board of Insurance the total amount of their medical and indemnity costs for the previous year and pay a like amount of tax as provided above on said total amount of medical and indemnity costs. Failure to make any report required by this Section shall be punishable by fine not to exceed One Thousand ($1000) Dollars and the failure to pay any tax within thirty (30) days after same is due under this Section shall be punishable by a penalty of ten percent (10%) of the amount, and shall be recovered by the Attorney General in a suit brought by him in the name of the State of Texas and such penalties when collected shall be deposited in the General Revenue Fund in the State Treasury.
Sec. 29.

(c) If the annual average of the manufacturing production workers average weekly wage in Texas exceeds by Ten Dollars ($10) the average weekly wage for those workers in 1974 as determined by the Texas Employment Commission and published in its report, "The Average Weekly Wage," the maximum weekly benefit shall be increased by Seven Dollars ($7) and the minimum weekly benefit shall be increased by One Dollar ($1) above the amounts specified in Subsection (b) of this section beginning with the commencement of the state fiscal year following the publication of the report. Thereafter, each cumulative Ten Dollar ($10) increase in the average weekly wage for manufacturing production workers in Texas as annually determined and reported by the Texas Employment Commission shall cumulatively increase the maximum weekly benefit by an additional Seven Dollars ($7) and the minimum weekly benefit by an additional One Dollar ($1) beginning with the commencement of the state fiscal year following the publication of the report.

Art. 8306. "Workmen's Compensation" Changed to "Workers' Compensation"

Sec. 1. The term "workmen's compensation" shall hereafter be known as "workers' compensation," and references to "workmen's compensation" in the statutes of this state shall be changed to "workers' compensation" when sections of those laws are being amended for any purpose.

Sec. 2. Forms and printed materials used by any state agency which incorporate the term "workmen's compensation" shall be modified to substitute the term "workers' compensation" after the present supply of forms and materials is exhausted. State agencies, including the State Board of Insurance and the Industrial Accident Board, may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations necessary to carry out the intent of this Act.

Art. 8307. Industrial Accident Board

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 1a. The Industrial Accident Board is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the board is abolished, and this article expires effective September 1, 1983.

1 Article 5429k.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2 to 4a]

Application of Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act

Sec. 4b. Sections 1 through 12 of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6952–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) apply to the Industrial Accident Board. However, Section 1(c) and Sections 13 through 20 of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act do not apply, and Section 1(b) of that Act shall not apply to orders and decisions of the Industrial Accident Board.

Determination of Questions; Suit to Set Aside Final Ruling and Decision; Revocation of Association's License

Sec. 5. All questions arising under this law, if not settled by agreement of the parties interested therein and within the provisions of this law, shall, except as otherwise provided, be determined by the Board. Any interested party who is not willing and does not consent to abide by the final ruling and decision of said Board shall, within twenty (20) days after the rendition of said final ruling and decision by said Board, file with said Board notice that he will not abide by said final ruling and decision. And he shall within twenty (20) days after giving such notice bring suit in the county where the injury occurred, or in the county where the employee resided at the time the injury occurred (or, if such employee is deceased, then in the county where the employee resided at the time of his death), to set aside said final ruling and decision, and said Board shall proceed no further toward the adjustment of such claim, other than hereinafter provided. In all cases of occupational diseases, for the purpose of determining venue when an appeal is effective to set aside the final ruling and decision of the Board, suit shall be brought in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county in which the employee was last exposed to the disease alleged, prior to the manifestation of the disease, or death therefrom, or in the county in which the adverse party resides, or has a permanent place or business, or by agreement of the parties in a court of competent jurisdiction in any county in this state. Whenever such suit is brought, the rights and liability of the parties thereto shall be determined by the provisions of this law, and the suit of the injured employee or person suing on account of the death of such employee shall be against the Association, if the employer of such injured or deceased employee at the time of such injury or death was a subscriber as defined in this law. If the final order of the Board is against the Association, then the Association and not the employer shall bring suit to set aside said final ruling and decision of the Board, if it so desires, and the court shall in either event determine the issues in such cause, instead of the Board, upon trial de novo, and the burden of proof shall be upon the party claiming compensation. The Industrial Accident Board shall furnish any interested party in said claim pending in court, upon request, free of charge, with a certified copy of the notice of the employer becoming a subscriber, filed with the Board, and the same when properly certified to shall be admissible in evidence in any court in this state upon trial of such claim therein pending, and shall be prima facie proof of all facts stated in such notice in the trial of said cause unless same is denied under oath by the opposing party therein. In case of recovery, the same shall not exceed the maximum compensation allowed under the provisions of this law. If any party to such final ruling and decision of the Board, after having given notice as above provided, fails within said twenty (20) days to institute and prosecute a suit to set the same aside, then said final ruling and decision shall be binding upon all parties thereto; and, if the same is against the Association, it shall at once comply with such final ruling and decision; and failing to do so, the Board shall certify the fact to the Commissioner of Insurance, and such certificate shall be sufficient cause to justify said Commissioner to revoke or forfeit the license or permit of such Association to do business in Texas.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this law, as amended, no award of the Board, and no judgment of the court, having jurisdiction of a claim against the Association for the cost or expense of items of medical aid, hospital services, nursing, chiropractic services, medicines or prosthetic appliances furnished to an employee under circumstances creating a liability therefore on the part of the Association under the provisions of this law, shall include in such award or judgment any cost or expense of any such items not actually furnished to and received by the employee prior to the date of said award or judgment. The first such final award or judgment rendered on such claim shall be res judicata of the liability of the association for all such cost or expense which could have been claimed up to the date of said award or judgment and of the fact that the injury of said employee is subject to the provisions of this law with respect to such items, but shall not be res judicata of the obligation of the association to furnish or pay for any such items after the date of said award or judgment. After the first such final award or judgment, the Board shall have continuing jurisdiction in the same case to render successive awards to determine the liability of the association for the cost or expense of any such items actually furnished to and received by said employee not more than six (6) months prior to the date of each such successive award, until the association shall have fully discharged its obligation under this law to furnish all such medical aid, hospital services, nursing, chiropractic services, medicines or prosthetic appliances to which said employee may be entitled; provided, each such successive award of the Board shall be subject to a suit to set aside said award by a court of competent jurisdiction, in the same manner as provided in the case of other awards under this law.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 5a to 6a]

Record of Injuries; Reports

Sec. 7. Every subscriber shall hereafter keep a record of all injuries, fatal or otherwise, sustained by his employees in the course of their employment. After the occurrence of an accident resulting in an injury to an employee, causing his absence from work for more than one (1) day, or after the employee notifies the employer of a definite manifestation of an occupational disease, a written report thereof shall be made within eight (8) days following said absence from work and notice thereof to the employer or notice of manifestation of an occupational disease to the Board on blanks to be procured from the Board for that purpose. Upon the termination of the incapacity of the injured employee, or if such incapacity extends beyond a period of sixty (60) days, the subscriber shall make a supplemental report upon blanks to be procured for that purpose. The said report shall contain the name and nature of the business of the employer, the location of the establishment, the name, age, sex and occupation of the injured employee, and the character of work in which he was engaged at the time of the injury, and shall state the date and hour of receiving such injury or of the definite manifestation of the occupational disease, and the nature and cause of the injury, and such other information as the Board may require. Any employer wilfully failing or refusing to make any such report within the time herein provided, or wilfully failing or refusing to give said Board any information demanded by said Board relating to any injury to any employee, which information is in the possession of or can be ascertained by the employer by the use of reasonable diligence, shall be liable for and shall pay to the State of Texas a penalty of not more than One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars for each and every offense, the same to be recovered in a suit to be instituted and prosecuted in Travis County by the Attorney General or by the district or county attorney, under his direction, in a District Court thereof.

Confidentiality of Records; Fraudulent Claims or Claimants

Sec. 9a. (a) Information in a worker's claim file is confidential and may not be disclosed except as provided in this section.
(b) If there is a workers' compensation claim for the named claimant open or pending before the Industrial Accident Board or on appeal to a court of competent jurisdiction from the Board or which is the subject matter of a subsequent suit where the carrier is subrogated to the rights of the named claimant at the time a record search or request for information is presented to the Board, the information shall be furnished as provided in this section. The first, middle, and last name of the claimant, age and social security number, and, if possible, dates of injury and the names of prior employers must be given in the request for information by the requesting party. The Board will furnish the requested information or a record check only to the following:

1. the claimant;
2. the attorney for the claimant;
3. the carrier;
4. the employer at the time of the current injury;
5. third-party litigants; or
6. the State Board of Insurance.

A third-party litigant in a suit arising out of an occurrence with respect to which a workers' compensation claim was filed is entitled to the information without regard to whether or not the compensation claim is still pending.

(c) All information of the Industrial Accident Board concerning any person who has been finally adjudicated to be a fraudulent claimant as provided in this section is not confidential and shall be furnished to any person requesting the information, notwithstanding any other provision of this law.

(d) The Board shall release to any employer with whom a person has made application for employment within the 14 days prior to the request the date of injury and nature of injury to that person if that person has had three or more general injury claims filed in the preceding five years in which weekly compensation payments have been made. The request for information shall give the name, address, and social security number of the person about whom information is sought. The Board shall release this information only if the employer has written authorization from the person about whom information is sought. The Board shall release the information by telephone, but the employer must file the written authorization with the Board within 10 days after the information is released. If the employer requests information about three or more persons at the same time, the Board may refuse to release the information except on written request from the employer and receipt of the written authorization from each person about whom the information is sought.

An employer who receives the information but fails to file the authorization within the required period is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be fined not more than $1,000. Failure to file each authorization is a separate offense.

(e)(1) The attorney general shall promptly investigate any allegation of fraud on the part of an employer, employee, attorney, person or facility furnishing medical services authorized by Section 7 of Article 8306, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, or insurance company or its representative relating to any claim. In order to carry out the requirements of this section, the attorney general is vested with complete power to investigate and prosecute any and all allegations of fraudulent claim practices which may be submitted to the Board or which may be uncovered through the attorney general's own efforts. The attorney general shall cooperate with professional grievance committees, law enforcement officials, the Industrial Accident Board, and other state agencies in the investigation and prosecution of fraudulent practices. It shall be the responsibility of the attorney general to prosecute those cases in which he finds the reasonable probability that acts of fraud exist before all hearings of the Board or on appeal from the determination of such hearings.

(2) In those cases in which a claimant makes a fifth claim for compensation within any five-year period, the Board shall automatically notify the attorney general who shall investigate to determine if the probability of fraud exists in connection with the current claim or any of the prior claims.

(3) Whenever the attorney general believes that any person, facility, or company may be in possession, custody, or control of any documentary material relevant to the subject matter under investigation, an authorized member of the attorney general's staff may execute in writing and serve on the person, facility, or company a civil investigative demand requiring the person, facility, or company to produce the documentary material and permit inspection and copying.

(A) Each demand shall:

(i) make reference to this section and state the general subject matter of the investigation;
(ii) describe the class or classes of documentary material to be produced with reasonable specificity so as to fairly indicate the material demanded;
(iii) prescribe a return date within which the documentary material is to be produced; and
(iv) identify the members of the attorney general's staff to whom the documentary material is to be made available for inspection and copying.

(B) A civil investigative demand may contain a requirement or disclosure of documentary material which would be discoverable under the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(C) Service of any demand may be made by:

(i) delivering a duly executed copy of the demand to the person, facility, or company to be served or to a partner or to any officer or agent, authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of process on behalf of that person, facility, or company;

(ii) delivering a duly executed copy of the demand to the principal place of business in the state of the person, facility, or company to be served;

(iii) mailing by registered mail or certified mail a duly executed copy of the demand addressed in the case of a claimant to his last known address, or in the case of any other person, facility, or company, to the principal place of business in this state, or if the person, facility, or company has no place of business in this state, to the principal office or place of business in any other state.

(D) Documentary material demanded pursuant to this subsection shall be produced for inspection and copying during normal business hours at the principal office or place of business or residence of the person, facility, or company served or at other times and places as may be agreed on by the person served and the attorney general's staff.

(E) No documentary material produced pursuant to a demand under this subsection, unless otherwise ordered by the Industrial Accident Board for good cause shown, shall be produced for inspection or copying by nor shall its contents be disclosed to any person other than the designated members of the attorney general's staff without the consent of the person who produced the material. The attorney general shall prescribe reasonable terms and conditions allowing the documentary material to be available for inspection and copying by the person, facility, or company who produced the material. The attorney general may use the documentary material or copies of it as he determines necessary in the prosecution of fraudulent claim practices, including presentation before the Industrial Accident Board and any court.

(F) At any time before the return date specified in the demand or within 10 days after the demand has been served, whichever period is shorter, a petition to extend the return date for or to modify or set aside the demand, stating good cause, may be filed with the Industrial Accident Board.

(G) A person, facility, or company on whom a demand is served under this subsection shall comply with the terms of the demand unless otherwise provided by order of the Industrial Accident Board.

(H) Personal service of a similar investigative demand under this subsection may be made on any person, facility, or company outside of this state if the person, facility, or company has engaged in fraudulent claim practices in this state. Such persons, facilities, or companies shall be deemed to have submitted themselves to the jurisdiction of this state within the meaning of this section.

(4)(A) Any person, facility, or company who, with intent to avoid, evade, or prevent compliance, in whole or in part, with Subdivision (3) of Subsection (e) of this section, removes from any place, conceals, withholds, or destroys, mutilates, alters, or by any means falsifies any documentary material is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

(B) If a person, facility, or company fails to comply with a civil investigative demand for documentary material served on him under Subdivision (3) of Subsection (e) of this section, or if satisfactory copying or reproduction of the material cannot be done and the person, facility, or company refuses to surrender the material, the attorney general may file with the Industrial Accident Board a petition for an order of the Board for enforcement of Subdivision (3) of Subsection (e) of this section.

(C) When a petition is filed with the Industrial Accident Board under Subsection (e)(4)(B) of this section, the Industrial Accident Board shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine the matter presented and to enter any order required to carry into effect the provisions of Subdivision (3) of Subsection (e) of this section. Any final order entered is subject to immediate and preferential review by any district court in Travis County. Failure to comply with any final order entered to carry into effect the provisions of Subdivision (3) of Subsection (e) of this section is punishable by contempt.

(5) If the attorney general finds that a reasonable probability of fraud exists, the attorney general shall request a hearing and the Board shall set the matter for hearing. On the setting of this matter, the Board or any member thereof shall, no later than five days following receipt of the request for hearing, notify the person under investigation, as well as the other parties involved in the case, in writing of the allegation against him and of his rights to attend and offer evidence at the hearing. This notice must be mailed by certified mail to the last known address of the person, must state the time and place for the hearing, which shall be no less than 30 nor more than 45 days after the attorney general has filed the request for hearing, and must notify the person of his right to counsel and his right of access to the complete Board files relating to the claim or claims under investigation. Provided, however, that the 45-day limitation may be waived by the Industrial Accident Board upon receipt by the Board of a written request for waiver signed by the person under investigation or his attorney. Any investigation initiated under this section shall be concluded within 60 days unless by a unanimous vote of the Board the time is extended. In those cases in which a claimant has a claim pending before the Board, extension may not exceed an additional 60 days.

(f) In addition to the powers granted under Section 4 of this article, as amended, the Board or any member thereof has the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, take evidence, and require the production of any records in conjunction with this
The person under investigation has the same power to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of records and documents.

(g) After this hearing, the Board shall reduce its findings to writing and provide the person under investigation, as well as the other parties involved in the case, with a copy. If the Board determines that the claimant has been fraudulent in any or all of his claims for compensation, the Board shall then classify that claimant as a fraudulent claimant, which designation is final unless appealed by the claimant as provided in this section. If the Board determines that any other person except an employer under investigation has been fraudulent in connection with a claim for compensation, the Board may exercise its authority under Section 4 of this article, as amended, or report its findings to the appropriate professional grievance committee, law enforcement officials, or other state agencies for prosecution, or both. An employer who has been adjudicated to be fraudulent shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter 115, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 8307, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as if he had discriminated against an employee for filing a claim. Actions taken by the Board in accordance with this procedure may be appealed by the aggrieved person by trial de novo to a district court of competent jurisdiction in the county of his residence, whose final judgment shall be determinative of his classification as a fraudulent claimant. Appeal shall be in accordance with Section 5 of this article, as amended.

(h) Pending an investigation and hearing or appeal of allegations of fraud under this section, the Board may not approve a compromise settlement agreement or make a final award in connection with the worker's claims then pending before the Board.

(i) If any worker shall be finally adjudicated to be a fraudulent claimant, the Board may terminate any compensation which the fraudulent claimant is currently drawing and require repayment to the association of any amounts so drawn.

(j) If any worker is finally adjudicated to be a fraudulent claimant, that fact shall automatically be furnished to any employer, any insurance carrier, or any attorney for the claimant as regards all claims then pending before the Board and as regards all future claims which that claimant may thereafter file with the Industrial Accident Board; otherwise, the Board shall process the claim as generally provided under the workers' compensation law.

(k) Nothing in the preceding sections shall diminish the power of the Industrial Accident Board on its own initiative to investigate or punish fraudulent acts.

(l) This section does not give authority to withhold information from committees of the legislature to use for legislative purposes.

(m) Any information pertaining to a worker's compensation file which is confidential by virtue of any of the terms of this Act shall retain such confidentiality when released to any investigative, legislative, or law enforcement agency including the attorney general, district attorneys, grand juries, or legislative committees. Any individual who shall publish, disclose, or distribute any such confidential information which is possessed by any investigative, legislative, or law enforcement agency to any other individual, corporation, or association not entitled to have received such information directly from the Industrial Accident Board under the provisions of this law commits an offense, and any person, corporation, or association who receives any such confidential information when such person was not entitled to have received the same from the Industrial Accident Board under the provisions of this law commits an offense. An offense under this subsection is a Class A misdemeanor. Any district court of Travis County shall have jurisdiction to enjoin possession and the use by any individual, corporation, or association of any information made confidential by this Act when such possession or use is not authorized by this Act. This subsection does not prohibit an employer from releasing information about a former employee to another employer with whom the employee has made application for employment, provided such information was lawfully acquired by the employer releasing the same.

(n) Nothing herein prohibits any person from receiving from the Industrial Accident Board all information contained in any record or file of the Industrial Accident Board begun after September 1, 1971, in statistical form and in a manner so as not to disclose the name or identity of any person, except as provided in this section.

Hearings; Investigations; Appearance of Claimants; Pre-hearing Conferences and Officers; Rules and Regulations

Sec. 10. (a) Said Board or any member thereof may hold hearings or take testimony or make investigations at any point within this state, reporting the result thereof, if the same is made by one member, to the Board. The Board shall also employ and use the assistance of a sufficient number of pre-hearing officers for the purpose of adjusting and settling claims for compensation; provided, however, that pre-hearing officers shall not be empowered to take testimony.

Notwithstanding any provision of this Act, no claimant shall be required to appear before the Board or Board Member within a distance greater than one hundred (100) miles from the courthouse of the county of the claimant's residence or within a greater distance than one hundred (100) miles of the courthouse of the county where the injury occurred.

(b) The Board shall examine and review all controverted claims and shall schedule and hold pre-hearing conferences on such claims as the Board may designate. It shall have the power to direct the parties, their attorneys, or authorized agents of the parties to appear before the Board, any member thereof or a pre-hearing officer for pre-hearing conferences to attempt to adjust and settle the claim amicably and to take such other action other than taking of testimony that may aid in the disposition of the claim. Provided, however, that no matter occurring during, or fact developed in, a pre-hearing conference shall be deemed as admissions or evidence or impeachment against the association, employee or the subscriber in any other proceedings except before the Board.

Provided further that pre-hearing officers shall prepare a report to the Board Members on cases not settled at pre-hearing conference, stating the pre-hearing officer's recommendations for the award, and the basis therefor, with copies of said recommendations furnished to all interested parties and the association shall furnish a copy of the recommendation to the subscriber.

The Board shall provide a reasonable time to all interested parties in each case for filing a formal statement of respective positions, both factual and legal, as well as reply to pre-hearing officer's recommendations, all of which evidence shall be duly considered by the Board Members in making said final award. Unrepresented claimants are exempted from the provision requiring formal statement of respective positions.

The Association and counsel for claimant shall be required to admit, deny, or qualify each point in the pre-hearing officer's recommendations.

The Board shall promulgate procedural rules and regulations not inconsistent with this law to govern such pre-hearing conferences and provided further, such rules and regulations shall not affect nor change any substantive portion of this law.

Settlement of Suits to Set Aside Awards

Sec. 12a. On the application of either party to a suit to set aside the award of the board, the court may approve a settlement agreement presented at any time before the jury has returned in the trial of the suit. In approving the settlement agreement, the court may either conduct a hearing on the agreement or approve it without a hearing if the claimant submits a sworn affidavit acknowledging his agreement to settle the cause of action and evidencing his full understanding of all the provisions of the settlement agreement.

Art. 8307a. Suit to Set Aside Decision of Industrial Accident Board; Transfer to County Where Injury Occurred

Any interested party who is not willing and does not consent to abide by the final ruling and decision of the Industrial Accident Board shall, in the manner and within the time provided by Section 5 of Article 8307, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, file notice with said Board, and bring suit in the county where the injury occurred, or in the county where the employee resided at the time the injury occurred or, if such employee is deceased, then in the county where the employee resided at the time of his death to set aside said final ruling and decision; however, in the event such suit is brought in any county other than the county where the injury occurred, or in the county of the employee's residence at the time of injury or death, the Court in which same is filed shall, upon ascertaining that it does not have jurisdiction to render judgment upon the merits, transfer the case to a proper Court in the county where the injury occurred or in the county where the employee resided at the time of injury or at the time of death. Provided, however, that notice of said transfer shall be given to the parties and said suit when filed in the court to which the transfer is made, shall be considered for all purposes, the same as if originally filed in said court.

[Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 293, ch. 112, § 1, eff. May 9, 1979.]

Art. 8307d. Nonsuit in Appeals from Industrial Accident Board Award

At any time before the jury has retired in the trial of a workmen's compensation case on appeal from an award of the Industrial Accident Board, the plaintiff may take a nonsuit after notice to the other parties to the suit and a hearing held by which time all parties must perfect their cause of action, but he shall not thereby prejudice the right of an adverse party to be heard on his claim for affirmative relief. When the case is tried by the judge of a district or county court, such nonsuit, after notice and hearing, may be taken at any time before the decision is announced.

PART 3

Art. 8308. Employers' Insurance Association

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1 to 17]

Furnishing Workmen's Compensation Benefits to Additional Employers or Classifications of Employees by Purchasing Appropriate Insurance; Jurisdiction of Claims

Sec. 18. (a) Any employer may assume with respect to any employee or classification of employees not within the coverage of this law, other than any such employee or classification of employees for whom a rule of liability or a method of compensation has been or may be established by the Congress of the United States, the liability for compensation imposed upon employers by this law with respect to employees within the coverage of this law, and the purchase and acceptance by such employer of valid workmen's compensation insurance applicable to such employee or classification of employees shall constitute as to such employer subscription to this law without any further act on the part of such employer, but only with respect to such employee or such classification of employees as is within the coverage of said workmen's compensation insurance, and such subscription shall take effect from the effective date of such workmen's compensation insurance and shall continue as long only as such employer remains a subscriber, and each such employee shall be held to have waived his right of action at common law or under any statute of this State to recover damages for injuries sustained in the course of his employment if he shall not have given his employer notice that he claimed such right, in accordance with the provisions of Article 8306, Section 3a. It is specifically provided, however, that under no circumstances shall the failure of any employer to assume with respect to any employee or classification of employees the liability for compensation and to purchase workmen's compensation insurance applicable to such employee or classification of employees, as made optional with the employer by this law, be construed as depriving such employer of the common law defenses listed in Section 1 of Article 8306, Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

(b) A claim for compensation under insurance provided under Subsection (a) of this section is subject to the jurisdiction of the Board as other claims for compensation under this law.

Information to be Furnished when Employer Becomes Subscriber; Failure to Comply; Notice; Penalty

Sec. 18a. Whenever any employer of labor in this State becomes a subscriber to this law, he or the insurance company shall immediately notify the Board of such fact, stating in such notice his name, place of business, and the name of the insurance company carrying his insurance, and the effective date of the policy. No further notice shall be required except as provided in Section 20a hereof. Such subscriber's notice shall be acknowledged by the insurance company. Any employer or association willfully failing or refusing to make any such report shall be liable for and shall pay to the State of Texas a penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each offense. The Executive Director of the Board shall notify the Board of any willful failure or refusal to comply with this Section and after notice and hearing, the Board shall make a finding and if said finding is against the employer or association assess a penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars. The employer or association may appeal the Board's ruling de novo as provided in Section 5, Article 8307, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended. The Board's ruling if adverse to the employer or association and not appealed as provided above shall be enforced as provided in Section 5a, Article 8307, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 19 and 20]

Notice of Cancellation or Nonrenewal

Sec. 20a. If the association cancels a policy or does not renew it on its anniversary date, the association shall send notice of the cancellation or nonrenewal to the subscriber by certified mail at least 10 days prior to the effective date of cancellation or nonrenewal and to the board by certified mail or in person on or before the date of cancellation or nonrenewal. Failure of the association to give the notice as required by this section shall extend the policy until the required notice is given to the subscriber and to the Industrial Accident Board.

Sec. 8309. Definitions and General Provisions

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Individuals Covered by Subscriber

Sec. 1a. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this law, a subscriber may cover in its insurance contract a partner, a sole proprietor, or a corporate executive officer, except an officer of a state educational institution. The insurance contract shall specifically include the partner, sole proprietor, or corporate executive officer; and the elected coverage shall continue while the policy is in effect and while the named individual is endorsed thereon by a subscriber.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this law, a subscriber may cover in its insurance contract a real estate salesman who is compensated solely by commissions. The insurance contract shall specifically include the salesman; and the elected coverage shall continue while the policy is in effect and while the named salesman is endorsed thereon by the subscriber.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1b]

Insurance Companies May Insure

Sec. 2. Any insurance company, which term shall include mutual and reciprocal companies, lawfully transacting a liability or accident business in this State, shall have the same right to insure the liability and pay the compensation provided for in Part I of this law, and when such company issues a policy conditioned to pay such compensation, the holder of such policy shall be regarded as a subscriber so far as applicable under this law, and when such company insures such payment of compensation it shall be subject to the provisions of Parts I, II and IV2 and of Sections 10, 17, 18a, 20a, and 21 of Part III of this law. Such company may have and exercise all of the rights and powers conferred by this law on the association created hereby, but such rights and powers shall not be exercised by a mutual or reciprocal organization unless such organization has at least fifty (50) subscribers who have not less than two thousand (2,000) employees. Nothing contained in this or any other law shall require an insurance company or the association to issue a policy to any applicant applying for coverage under this law, except as provided in Article 8.76 of the Insurance Code of Texas.

Rules and Regulations; Physicians or Chiropractors for Examinations; Reports of Examinations

Sec. 13. The institution is authorized to promulgate and publish such rules and regulations and to prescribe and furnish such forms as may be necessary to the effective administration of this Act, and the institution shall have authority to make and enforce such rules for the prevention of accidents and injuries as may be deemed necessary. The institution may obtain and record, on a form and in a manner prescribed by the institution, the medical history of a person to be employed in the service of the institution. The institution may designate a convenient number of regularly licensed practicing physicians, surgeons and chiropractors for the purpose of making physical examinations of persons to be employed in the service of the institution to determine who may be physically fit to be classified as "workman" as that term is defined in subsection 2 of Section 2 of this Act, and said physicians, surgeons and chiropractors so designated and so conducting such examinations shall make and file with the institution a complete transcript of said examination in writing and sworn to upon a form to be furnished by the institution. The institution, in a form and manner prescribed by the institution, shall preserve as a part of the permanent records of the institution all reports of all such examinations and medical histories so filed with it.

Requiring Physical Examination for Certification as Workman

Sec. 14. The institution may require that no person be certified as a workman in the institution under the terms and provisions of this Act until he has submitted himself for a physical examination as provided in Section 13 herein and has been certified by the examining physician, surgeon, or chiropractor, to be physically fit to perform the duties and services to which he is to be assigned.

Certification as Workman of Person having Preexisting Disqualifying Physical Condition; Waiver of Insurance Coverage

Sec. 15. In the discretion of the institution, any person who indicates a preexisting disqualifying physical condition in a medical history provided under Section 13, or any person found to have a preexisting disqualifying medical condition in a physical examination as provided in Section 14 may be certified as a workman on the condition that such person shall execute in writing, prior to his employment, a waiver of coverage under the provisions of this Act for the preexisting disqualifying physical condition. Such waiver shall be valid and binding on the workman so executing it and, in the event of injury or death of the workman suffered in the course of his employment and attributable to the condition for which coverage was waived, no compensation or death benefits shall be paid to him or his beneficiaries.

Art. 8309g. Workmen's Compensation Insurance for Employees of Political Subdivisions

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this article:

(1) “Employee” means a person in the service of the state pursuant to election, appointment, or an express contract of hire, oral or written. The term includes a person who is paid from state funds but whose duties require they work and frequently receive supervision in a political subdivision of the state.

(2) The word “employee” shall not include:

(A) Persons performing personal services for the State of Texas as independent contractors or volunteers.

(B) Members of the state military forces as defined in Section 1, Article 5765, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925.

(C) Persons who are at the time of injury performing services for the federal government and who are covered by some form of federal workers' compensation, including those working under Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 programs; 1 prisoners or inmates of a prison or correctional institution; clients or patients of any state institution or agency.

(D) Persons employed by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation that are covered under Chapter 502, Acts of the 45th Legislature, Regular Session, 1937, as amended (Article 6674s, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(E) Persons employed by The University of Texas that are covered by Chapter 310, Acts of the 52nd Legislature, 1951, as amended (Article 8309d, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas).

(F) Persons employed by The Texas A&M University System that are covered by Chapter 229, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947, as amended (Article 8309b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(3) “Legal beneficiaries,” “average weekly wages,” and “injury sustained in the course of employment” have the meaning assigned to them in Section 1, Article 8309, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(4) “Board” means the Industrial Accident Board.

(5) “Division” means the State Employees Division of the Attorney General's Office.

(6) “Director” means the director of the State Employees Division.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2]

State Employees Division: Director

Sec. 3. The Attorney General shall establish a state employees division within his office to administer this article. He shall appoint a director to act as the chief executive and administrative officer of the division, and shall provide him with office space and sufficient personnel to administer this article. The director shall administer this article with money appropriated by the Legislature. The director, with the approval of the Attorney General, may contract with a company authorized to do business in this state for any or all of the administrative services required by this article. Such contract shall be awarded on the basis of competitive bidding by qualified companies.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 4 and 5]

Rules for Accident Prevention

Sec. 6. The director shall make and enforce reasonable rules for the prevention of accidents and injuries. He shall hold hearings on all proposed rules under this section and afford reasonable opportunity for officers of the departments, boards, commissions, and agencies of the state to testify. The director's responsibility includes reporting to the legislature any agency that fails to meet their obligation regarding the prevention of accidents and injuries to state employees.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 7 to 11]

Effect of Sick Leave and Emergency Leave

Sec. 12. (a) An employee may elect to utilize accrued sick leave before receiving weekly payments of compensation. If the employee elects to utilize sick leave, the employee is not entitled to weekly payments of compensation under this article until he has exhausted his accrued sick leave.

(b) If in accordance with the General Appropriations Act the administrative head or heads of an agency or institution authorize payment for emergency leave to an employee receiving workers' compensation benefits, the payments may not exceed an amount equal to the difference between the basic monthly wage of the employee and the amount of benefits received and may not extend beyond six months from the date on which compensation payments begin. In authorizing these payments for emergency leave, the administrative head or heads of the agency or institution must review the merits of each case individually. If payment for emergency leave is authorized, the agency or institution shall attach a statement of the reasons for the authorization to its duplicate payroll voucher for the first payroll period affected by the leave.

(c) The director has authority under Section 5 of this article to provide rules for the administration of this section.

Adoption of General Worker's Compensation Laws: Employer

Sec. 15. (a) The following laws as amended or as they may hereafter be amended are adopted except to the extent that they are inconsistent with this Act:

(1) Article 8306, except Sections 5 and 23, and Articles 8307, 8307b, and 8309, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended;
(2) Chapter 248, General Laws, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931, as amended (Article 8306a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
(3) Chapter 77, Acts of the 65th Legislature, Regular Session, 1977 (Article 8306b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
(4) Chapter 208, General Laws, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931, as amended (Article 8307a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
(5) Chapter 115, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 8307c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes);
(6) Chapter 358, Acts of the 64th Legislature, 1975 (Article 8307d, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); and

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 15(b)]

(c) For purposes of Chapter 115, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 8307c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the individual agency shall be considered the employer.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 16]

Coverage for Out-of-State Employees

Sec. 17. (a) Notwithstanding Section 19, Article 8806, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, an employee who performs services outside this state is entitled to benefits under this article even if the person is not hired in this state, is injured outside this state, or has been outside this state for more than one year. An employee who elects to pursue remedies provided by the state or the District of Columbia in which an injury occurs is not entitled to benefits under this article.

(b) The director may enter into a reciprocal agreement with the appropriate agency of another state or the District of Columbia whereby employees of one state or the District of Columbia performing services in the other state or the District of Columbia shall be considered to be engaged in employment performed entirely within the employing state or the District of Columbia. The director shall enter the agreement on request of an agency of this state that has employees performing services in another state or the District of Columbia.

(c) If the law of a state or the District of Columbia in which an employee performs services requires the employee to be covered under the workers' compensation law of that state or the District of Columbia, the State of Texas shall act as a self-insurer if permitted by the law of that state or the District of Columbia. If the state is not permitted to act as a self-insurer, the director may contract for insurance coverage for that employee in accordance with the law of the state or the District of Columbia in which the employee performs the services.

Section 3 of the 1975 Act provided:

"If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Art. 8309g-1. Texas Tech University Employees

Eligible employees of Texas Tech University, Pan Tech Farm, Texas Tech University School of Medicine at Lubbock, and other agencies under the direction and control of the board of regents of Texas Tech University are entitled to participate in the workmen's compensation program for state employees provided in Article 8309g, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

[Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 266, ch. 127, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1977.]

Section 2 of the 1977 Act repealed art. 8309f; § 3 thereof provided: "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1977."

Art. 8309h. Workmen's Compensation Insurance for Employees of Political Subdivisions

Definitions

Sec. 1. The following words and phrases as used in this article shall unless a different meaning is plainly required by the context, have the following meanings, respectively:

(1) "Political subdivision" means a county, home-rule city, a city, town, or village organized under the general laws of this state, a special district, a school district, a junior college district, or any other legally constituted political subdivision of the state.
(2) “Employee” means every person in the service of a political subdivision who has been appointed in accordance with the provisions of this article. No person in the service of a political subdivision who is paid on a piecework basis or on a basis other than by the hour, day, week, month, or year shall be considered an employee and entitled to compensation under the terms of the provisions of this article. Provided, however, a political subdivision may cover volunteer firefighters, policemen, emergency medical personnel, and other volunteers that are specifically named who shall be entitled to full medical benefits and the minimum compensation payments provided under the law. A political subdivision may cover an elected official as an employee by a majority vote of the members of the governing body of the political subdivision. Members of a self-insurance fund created hereunder may provide coverage for themselves as well as their staff by a majority vote of such members of the fund. No class of persons who are paid as a result of jury service or an appointment to serve in the conduct of elections may be considered employees under this article unless declared to be employees by a majority vote of the members of the governing body of a political subdivision.

(3) “Board” means the Industrial Accident Board.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 2]

Adoption of General Workers’ Compensation Laws

Sec. 3. (a) The following laws as amended or as they may hereafter be amended are adopted except to the extent that they are inconsistent with this article:

(1) Article 8306, except Sections 5 and 28, and Articles 8307, 8307b, and 8309, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended;

(2) Chapter 248, General Laws, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931, as amended (Article 8806a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes);

(3) Chapter 77, Acts of the 65th Legislature, Regular Session, 1977 (Article 8806b, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes);

(4) Chapter 208, General Laws, Acts of the 42nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1931, as amended (Article 8807a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes);

(5) Chapter 115, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 8807c, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), except that if the city provides by Charter or ordinance for ultimate access to the district court for wrongful discharge, Chapter 115, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 8807c, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes) is not applicable;

(6) Chapter 358, Acts of the 64th Legislature, 1975 (Article 8807d, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); and

(b) Provided that whenever in the above adopted laws the words “association,” “subscriber,” or “employer,” or their equivalents appear, they shall be construed to and shall mean “a political subdivision.”

Establishment of Joint Fund

Sec. 4. A joint fund, as herein provided for, may be established by the concurrence of any two or more political subdivisions. The fund may be operated under the rules, regulations, and bylaws as established by the political subdivisions which desire to participate therein. Each political subdivision shall be and is hereby empowered to pay into said fund its proportionate part as due and to contract for the fund, by and through its directors, to make the payments due hereunder to the employees of the contracting political subdivision. The joint insurance fund herein provided for shall not be considered insurance for the purpose of any other statute of this state and shall not be subject to the regulations of the State Board of Insurance.

Purpose

Sec. 5. (a) It is the purpose of this article that the compensation herein provided for shall be paid from week to week and as it accrues and directly to the person entitled thereto, unless the liability is redeemed as in such cases provided elsewhere herein. Provided further, however, that any and all sums for incapacity received in accordance with Chapter 325, Acts of the 50th Legislature, 1947, as amended (Article 1269m, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and any other statutes now in force and effect that provide for payment for incapacity to work because of injury on the job that is also covered by this Act are hereby offset as against the benefits provided under this Act to the extent applicable. Provided that when an employee’s wage is offset as prescribed above, both the employer and the employee shall pay into the pension fund on the amount of money by which his wage was offset and provided further that under no circumstances shall an employee’s pension benefit be reduced as a result of his injuries or any compensation received under the provision of this Act, unless such reduction is a result of a pension revision passed by majority vote of the affected members of a pension system.

(b) When benefits are offset as in Subsection (a) of Section 5 of this Act, the employer shall not withhold the offset portion of the employees wages until such time as the benefits from this Act are received.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 6 to 8]

CETA Employees

Sec. 9. Notwithstanding any other provision of this law or any applicable workers’ compensation law, an employee hired in accordance with the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act of 1973 shall be considered an employee of the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act prime sponsor, or its contractor or subcontractor, whichever assumes responsibility for wages directly to the employee, and the “borrowed servant doctrine” shall not apply.

Art. 8309i. Payment of Judgments Against State or Department, Division, or Political Subdivision Thereof

In all cases where the State of Texas or any department, division, or political subdivision of the state fails or refuses to comply within 30 days with a judgment against that entity under Articles 8309g and 8309h, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended; Chapter 229, Acts of the 52nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1951, as amended (Article 8309g, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); Chapter 310, Acts of the 52nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1951, as amended (Article 8309d, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes);
Chapter 252, Acts of the 55th Legislature,
Regular Session, 1957 (Article 8309f, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); or Chapter 502, Acts of the 45th Legislature, Regular Session, 1937, as amended (Article 6674a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and the workmen’s compensation claimant secures mandamus that the entity comply with the judgment, the claimant is also entitled to receive an award of:

(1) the sum of 12 percent of the amount of compensation recovered in the judgment, as a penalty; and

(2) a reasonable attorney’s fee for the prosecution of the mandamus action.

PART 5
Art. 8309–1. Crime Victims Compensation Act
Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Crime Victims Compensation Act.

Declaration of Purpose

Sec. 2. The legislature recognizes that many innocent persons suffer personal injury or death as a result of criminal acts. Crime victims and persons who intervene in crimes on behalf of peace officers may suffer disabilities, incur financial burdens, or become dependent on public assistance. The legislature finds and determines that there is a need for indemnification of victims of crime and citizens who suffer personal injury or death in the prevention of crime or the apprehension of criminals.

Definitions

Sec. 3. In this Act:

(1) “Board” means the Industrial Accident
Board.

(2) “Claimant” means a victim or an authorized person acting on behalf of any victim.

(3) “Collateral source” means a source of benefits or advantages for pecuniary loss awardable other than under this Act which the victim has received, or which is readily available to him or her from:

(A) the offender under an order of restitution to the claimant imposed by a court as a condition of probation;

(B) the United States or a federal agency, a state or any of its political subdivisions, or an instrumentality of two or more states, unless the law providing for the benefits or advantages makes them in excess of or secondary to benefits under this Act;

(C) Social Security, Medicare and Medicaid;

(D) state-required temporary nonoccupational disability insurance;

(E) workers’ compensation;

(F) wage continuation programs of any employer;

(G) proceeds of a contract of insurance payable to the victim for loss which he or she sustained because of the criminally injurious conduct; or

(H) a contract providing prepaid hospital and other health care services, or benefits for disability.

(4) “Criminally injurious conduct” means conduct that:

(A) occurs or is attempted in this state;

(B) poses a substantial threat of personal injury or death;

(C) is punishable by fine, imprisonment, or death, or would be so punishable but for the fact that the person engaging in the conduct lacked capacity to commit the crime under the laws of this state; and

(D) is not conduct arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle, aircraft, or water vehicle except when intended to cause personal injury or death in violation of Section 38, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), or Article 6701–1 or 6701–2, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(5) “Dependent” means:

(A) a surviving spouse;

(B) a person who is a dependent of a deceased victim or intervenor within the meaning of Sec-
Art. 8309–1
COMPENSATION LAWS

tion 152, Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended (26 U.S.C. Section 152); or

(C) a posthumous child of the deceased intervenor or victim.

(6) “Financial stress” means financial hardship experienced by a claimant as a result of pecuniary loss from criminally injurious conduct giving rise to a claim under this Act. A claimant suffers financial stress only if he or she cannot maintain his or her customary level of health, safety, and education for himself or herself and his or her dependents without undue financial hardship. In making its finding, the board shall consider all relevant factors, including:

(A) the number of the claimant’s dependents;
(B) the usual living expenses of the claimant and his or her family;
(C) the special needs of the claimant and his or her dependents;
(D) the claimant’s income and potential earning capacity; and
(E) the claimant’s resources.

(7) “Pecuniary loss” means the amount of expense reasonably and necessarily incurred:

(A) regarding personal injury for:
(i) medical, hospital, nursing, or psychiatric care or counseling, and physical therapy;
(ii) actual loss of past earnings and anticipated loss of future earnings because of a disability resulting from the personal injury at a rate not to exceed $150 per week; and
(iii) care of minor children enabling a victim or his or her spouse, but not both of them, to continue gainful employment at a rate not to exceed $80 per child per week up to a maximum of $75 per week for any number of children; and

(B) as a consequence of death for:
(i) funeral and burial expenses;
(ii) loss of support to a dependent or dependents not otherwise compensated for as a pecuniary loss for personal injury, for as long as the dependence would have existed had the victim survived, at a rate of not more than a total of $150 per week for all dependents; and
(iii) care of minor children enabling the surviving spouse of a victim to engage in lawful employment, where that expense is not otherwise compensated for as a pecuniary loss for personal injury, at a rate not to exceed $60 per week per child, up to a maximum of $75 per week for any number of children.

(C) pecuniary loss does not include loss attributable to pain and suffering.

(8) “Intervenor” means a person who goes to the aid of another and is killed or injured in the good faith effort to prevent criminally injurious conduct, to apprehend a person reasonably sus-pected of having engaged in such conduct, or to aid a police officer. Intervenor does not include a peace officer, fireman, lifeguard, or person whose employment includes the duty to protect the public safety acting within the course and scope of his or her employment.

(9) “Victim” means:

(A) a person who is a Texas resident at the time of the crime and who suffers personal injury or death as a result of criminally injurious conduct;
(B) an intervenor;
(C) a dependent of a deceased victim; and
(D) in the event of a death, a person who legally assumes the obligation or who voluntarily pays the medical or burial expenses incurred as a direct result of the crime.

(10) “Crime of violence” means any offense defined in the Penal Code that results in personal injury to a resident of this state. No act involving the operation of a motor vehicle, aircraft, or water vehicle that results in injury or death constitutes a crime of violence for the purposes of this Act, except that a crime of violence includes injury or death intentionally inflicted through the use of a motor vehicle, aircraft, or water vehicle, or injury or death sustained in an accident caused by a driver in violation of Section 38, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic on Highways, as amended (Article 6701d, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), or Article 6701/1–1 or 6701/2, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

Application

Sec. 4. (a) An applicant shall apply in writing in a form that conforms substantially to that prescribed by the board.

(b) No claimant may file an application unless the victim reports the crime to the appropriate state or local public safety or law enforcement agency within 72 hours after the crime is committed or within a longer period that is justified by extraordinary circumstances as determined by the board.

(c) A claimant may file an application within 180 days after the date of the crime, except that the board may extend the time for filing for good cause shown by the claimant.

(d) The application shall be verified and shall contain the following:

(1) a description of the date, nature, and circumstances of the criminally injurious conduct;
(2) a complete financial statement, including the cost of medical care or burial expenses and the loss of wages or support the claimant has incurred or will incur and the extent to which the claimant has been indemnified for these expenses from any collateral source;
(3) when appropriate, a statement indicating the extent of any disability resulting from the injury incurred;
Review, Verification, Hearing

Sec. 5. (a) The board shall appoint a clerk to review all applications for assistance made by claimants under Section 4 of this Act in order to ensure that they are complete. If an application is not complete, the clerk shall return it to the claimant with a brief statement of the additional information required. Within 30 days after receiving the returned application, the claimant may either supply the additional information or appeal the action to the board, which shall review the application to determine whether or not it is complete.

(b) Immediately on receipt of the application, the board shall send a copy of the application and all pertinent documents to the attorney general. The attorney general may investigate the application, appear in hearings on the application, and present evidence supporting or opposing approval of the application.

c) The board shall appoint one of its members to determine whether a hearing is necessary. If the member determines that a hearing is not necessary, he or she may approve the application in accordance with the provisions of Section 6 of this Act. If the member determines that a hearing is necessary or if the attorney general or the claimant requests a hearing, the board shall then consider the application at a hearing at a time and place of its choosing. The board shall notify all interested persons, including the attorney general, not less than 10 days prior to the date of the hearing.

d) At the hearing the board shall:

(1) review the application for assistance and the report prepared by the attorney general and any other evidence obtained as a result of his or her investigation; and

(2) receive other evidence that the board finds necessary or desirable to evaluate the application properly.

e) Incident to its review, verification, and hearing duties under this Act, the board shall have the following powers:

(1) to request from prosecuting attorneys and law enforcement officers investigations and data to enable the board to determine whether and the extent to which a claimant qualifies for an award;

(2) the powers given to the board under Section 4, Article 8307, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 8307, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except as modified by this Act; and

(3) if the mental, physical, or emotional condition of a victim is material to a claim, to order the victim to submit to a mental or physical examination by a physician or psychologist and to order an autopsy of a deceased victim. The order may be made for good cause shown upon notice to the person to be examined and to all persons who have appeared. The order shall specify the time, place, manner, conditions, and scope of the examination or autopsy and the person by whom it is to be made and shall require that person to file with the board a detailed written report of the examination or autopsy. The report shall set out his or her findings, including results of all tests made, diagnoses, prognoses, and other conclusions and reports of earlier examinations of the same conditions. The physician or psychologist shall be compensated from funds appropriated for the administration of this Act.

(f) On request of the person examined, the board shall furnish him or her a copy of the report. If the victim is deceased, the board on request shall furnish the claimant a copy of the report.

Approval or Rejection of Claim

Sec. 6. (a) The board shall award compensation for pecuniary loss arising from criminally injurious conduct if satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the requirements set forth in this Act have been met.

(b) The board shall establish that as a direct result of criminally injurious conduct the victim suffered physical injury or death that resulted in a pecuniary loss which the victim is unable to recoup without suffering financial stress and for which he or she is not compensated from any collateral source.

c) The board shall deny the application if:

(1) the criminally injurious conduct is not reported or the application is not made in the manner specified in Section 4 of this Act;

(2) the victim or person whose injury or death gives rise to the application knowingly and willingly participated in the criminally injurious conduct;

(3) the claimant will not suffer financial stress as a result of the pecuniary loss arising out of criminally injurious conduct; or

(4) the victim resided in the same household as the offender or his or her accomplice.

d) The board may deny or reduce an award otherwise payable:

(1) if the victim has not substantially cooperated with appropriate law enforcement agencies;

(2) if the behavior of the victim at the time of the act or omission giving rise to the claim was such that he or she bears a share of the responsibility for the act or omission; or

(3) to the extent that pecuniary loss is recouped from other persons, including collateral sources.
Art. 8309-1

COMPENSATION LAWS

Types of Assistance; Awards

Sec. 7. (a) If an application for compensation is approved under Section 6 of this Act, the board shall determine what type of state assistance will best aid the claimant. The board may take any or all of the following actions:

1. authorize cash payment or payments to or on behalf of the claimant for pecuniary loss as defined in Subdivision (7), Section 3 of this Act;
2. refer the claimant to a state agency for vocational or other rehabilitative services; and
3. provide counseling services for victims or contract with private entities to provide these services.

(b) Awards payable to a victim and all other claimants sustaining pecuniary loss because of injury or death of that victim may not exceed $50,000 in the aggregate.

(c) The board may provide for the payment of an award in a lump sum or in installments. The part of an award equal to the amount of pecuniary loss accrued to the date of the award shall be paid in a lump sum. An award for allowable expense that would accrue after the award is made may not be paid in a lump sum. Except as provided in Subsection (d) of this section, the part of an award that may not be paid in a lump sum shall be paid in installments.

(d) At the instance of the claimant, the board may compute future pecuniary loss to a lump sum but only upon a finding by the board that:
1. the award in a lump sum will promote the interests of the claimant; or
2. the present value of all future pecuniary loss does not exceed $1,000.

(e) An award for future pecuniary loss payable in installments may be made only for a period as to which the board can reasonably determine future pecuniary loss.

(f) An award is not subject to execution, attachment, garnishment, or other process, except that an award is not exempt from a claim of a creditor to the extent that he or she provided products, services, or accommodations, the costs of which are included in the award.

(g) An assignment or agreement to assign a right to reparations for loss accruing in the future is unenforceable except:
1. an assignment of a right to reparations for work loss to secure payment of alimony, maintenance, or child support; or
2. an assignment of a right to reparations to the extent that the benefits are for the cost of products, services, or accommodations necessitated by the injury or death on which the claim is based and are provided or to be provided by the assignee.

Emergency Award

Sec. 8. If prior to taking action on an application it appears likely that a final award will be made and that the claimant will suffer undue hardship if immediate economic relief is not had, the board or board member may make an emergency award in an amount not to exceed $1,500. The amount paid shall be deducted from the final award or repaid by and recoverable from the claimant to the extent that it exceeds the final award.

Reconsideration; Judicial Review

Sec. 9. (a) The board on its own motion or on request of the claimant may reconsider a decision making or denying an award or determining its amount. The board shall reconsider at least annually every award being paid in installments. An order on reconsideration of an award shall not require refund of amounts previously paid unless the award was obtained by fraud.

(b) The right of reconsideration does not affect the finality of a board decision for the purpose of judicial review.

(c) Within 20 days after the rendition of a final ruling and decision by the board, the claimant or the attorney general may file with the board notice of dissatisfaction with the final ruling and decision. The dissatisfied party shall within 20 days after giving the notice bring suit in the district court having jurisdiction in the county where the injury or death occurred or the county where the victim resided at the time the death or injury occurred, and the board shall provide for the suspension of payments to a claimant and may not reconsider an award during the pendency of an appeal of the ruling and decision on that claim. The court shall determine the issues in the cause by trial de novo, and the burden of proof is on the claimant. In computing the 20 days for filing a notice of dissatisfaction or the 20 days to bring suit, if the last day is a legal holiday or Sunday, the last day shall not be counted, and the time shall be extended to include the next business day.

Rules and Regulations; Notice of Provisions of Act

Sec. 10. (a) The board shall promulgate and adopt rules consistent with this Act governing its administration, including rules relating to the method of filing claims and the proof of entitlement to compensation. Sections 1 through 12 of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except Subdivision (3) of Subsection (a) and Subsection (b) of Section 4, apply to the board. Sections 13 through 20 of that Act do not apply to the board or its orders and decisions.

(b) The board may appoint hearing officers to conduct hearings or prehearing conferences under this Act when hearings or prehearing conferences are necessary to determine eligibility for compensation.
(c) When hearings or prehearing conferences are conducted, they shall be open to the public unless in a particular case the hearing officer or board determines that the hearing or prehearing conference or a part of it should be held in private because a criminal suspect has not been apprehended or because it is in the interest of the claimant.

(d) The board may suspend the proceedings pending disposition of a criminal prosecution that has been commenced or is imminent, but may make an emergency award under Section 8 of this Act.

(e) Every hospital licensed under the laws of this state shall display prominently in its emergency room posters giving notification of the existence and general provisions of this Act. The board shall set standards for the location of the display and shall provide posters, application forms, and general information regarding this Act to each hospital and physician licensed to practice in the State of Texas.

(f) Every local law enforcement agency shall inform victims of criminally injurious conduct of the provisions of this Act and provide application forms to victims who desire to seek assistance. The board shall provide application forms and all other documents that local law enforcement agencies may require to comply with this section. The attorney general shall set standards to be followed by local law enforcement agencies for this purpose and may require them to file with him or her a description of the procedures adopted by each agency to comply.

Subrogation; Notice of Private Action

Sec. 11. (a) If compensation is awarded, the state is subrogated to all the claimant's rights to receive or recover benefits for pecuniary loss to the extent compensation is awarded from a source which is or if readily available to the claimant would be a collateral source.

(b) Before a claimant may bring an action to recover damages related to criminally injurious conduct for which compensation is claimed or awarded, the claimant must give the board prior written notice of the proposed action. After receiving the notice, the board shall promptly:

1. join in the action as a party plaintiff to recover reparations awarded;
2. require the claimant to bring the action in his or her individual name as a trustee in behalf of the state to recover reparations awarded; or
3. reserve its rights and do neither in the proposed action.

(c) If, as requested by the board under Subsection (b) of this section, the claimant brings the action as trustee and recovers compensation awarded by the board, he or she may deduct from the reparations recovered in behalf of the state the reasonable expenses of the suit, including attorney's fees, expended in pursuing the recovery for the state. The claimant shall justify this deduction in writing to the board on a form provided by the board.

Sec. 12. As part of an order, the board shall determine and award reasonable attorney's fees, commensurate with services rendered, to be paid by the state to the attorney representing the claimant. Additional attorney's fees may be awarded by a court in the event of review. Attorney's fees may be denied on a finding that the claim or appeal is frivolous. Awards of attorney's fees shall be in addition to awards of compensation. It is unlawful for an attorney to contract for or receive any larger sum than the amount allowed. Attorney's fees may not be paid to an attorney of a claimant unless an award is made to the claimant.

Annual Report

Sec. 13. The board shall prepare and transmit annually to the governor and the legislature a report of its activities, including a statistical summary of claims and awards made and denied. The report shall be based on the state fiscal year and shall be filed not more than 30 days after the end of each fiscal year.

Fund

Sec. 14. (a) The Compensation to Victims of Crime Fund is created in the State Treasury to be used by the board for the payment of compensation to claimants under this Act and other expenses in administering this Act. The board shall make no payments which exceed the amount of money in the fund. No general revenues may be used for payments under this Act.

(b) A person shall pay $15 as a court cost, in addition to other court costs, on conviction of any felony and shall pay $10 as a court cost, in addition to other court costs, on conviction of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment or by a fine of more than $200.

(c) Court costs under this section are collected in the same manner as other fines or costs.

(d) The officer collecting the costs in a municipal court case shall keep separate records of the funds collected as costs under this section and shall deposit the funds in the municipal treasury. The officer collecting the costs in a justice, county, or district court case shall keep separate records of the funds collected as costs under this section and shall deposit the funds in the county treasury.

(e) The custodian of a municipal or county treasury shall keep records of the amount of funds on deposit collected under this section and shall remit to the comptroller of public accounts before the 10th day of each month the funds collected under this section during the preceding month. The city and the county may retain five percent of the funds collected under this section as a collection fee.

(f) The comptroller of public accounts shall deposit the funds received by him or her under this section in the Compensation to Victims of Crime Fund.
(g) If application is made and an award granted for which no funds or insufficient funds are available, the board shall establish a waiting list of qualified claimants, with payment to be made when funds become available.

Effective Date

Sec. 15. Sections 1 through 13 of this Act take effect January 1, 1980. The board may not award reparations for economic loss arising from criminally injurious conduct that occurred before that date. Sections 14 and 15 of this Act take effect September 1, 1979.

Escrow Account

Sec. 16. Every firm, person, corporation, association, or other legal entity contracting with a person or the representative or assignee of any person, accused or convicted of crime in this state, with respect to the reenactment of the crime in a movie, book, magazine article, tape recording, phonograph record, radio or television presentation, live entertainment, or from the expression of the accused or convicted person's thoughts, feelings, opinions, or emotions regarding the crime shall submit a copy of the contract to the board and pay to the board any money that would otherwise by terms of the contract be owing to the accused or convicted person or his representatives. The board shall deposit the money in an escrow account.

Funds Available to Victim

Sec. 17. Money placed in an escrow account is available to satisfy a judgment against the accused or convicted person in favor of a victim of the crime if the court in which the judgment is taken finds that the judgment is for damages incurred by the victim caused by the commission of the crime.

Maintenance of Escrow Account

Sec. 18. The board shall pay money in an escrow account to the accused person if he is acquitted of the crime. The board shall pay the money in the account to the accused or convicted person if five years elapse from the date when the account was established and the money has not been ordered paid to a victim in satisfaction of a judgment.

CHAPTER ONE. BARBERS

Art. 8401. Repealed by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1368, ch. 613, § 8, eff. Sept. 1, 1979

Art. 8402. Registering Name and Location; Jurisdiction of State Board of Barber Examiners and Cosmetology Commission

(a) Every person, firm, or corporation owning, operating or managing a barber shop shall register his full name and the location of said shop with the State Board of Barber Examiners. Each owner, operator or manager of a barber shop that is first opened for business hereafter shall within three days after the opening of such shop submit an application to the barber board for a barber shop permit.

(b) In order that the public may fix responsibility for services, acts, or treatments performed by persons licensed by the State Board of Barber Examiners vis-à-vis those performed by persons licensed by the Texas Cosmetology Commission, to promote the efficient and orderly administration of laws regulating barbers and the practice of barbering and the laws regulating cosmetologists and the practice of cosmetology and to avoid confusion of the public as well as avoiding conflicts of jurisdiction between such board and commission which might impede effective administration or enforcement of the laws under their respective jurisdictions, from and after January 31, 1980:

(1) a person licensed by the barber board may practice barbering only at a location for which the board has issued a barber shop permit, barber school or college permit, or any other permit. If the State Board of Barber Examiners and the Texas Cosmetology Commission license the same facility, the board may not adopt rules restricting or prohibiting the practice by a Class A barber in the facility; and

(2) a person licensed by the cosmetology commission may practice cosmetology only at a location for which the commission has issued a beauty shop license, private beauty culture school license, or any other license. If the State Board of Barber Examiners and the Texas Cosmetology Commission license the same facility, the commission may not adopt rules restricting or prohibiting the practice by a cosmetologist in the facility.

(c) If the State Board of Barber Examiners and the Texas Cosmetology Commission license the same facility, the agencies may not adopt rules requiring:

(1) that the work areas of barbers and cosmetologists practicing in the facility be separated;

(2) that the waiting areas for customers of the barbers and cosmetologists practicing in the facility be separated;

(3) that the facility have separate restrooms for the barbers or cosmetologists practicing in the facility or for the customers of the barbers and cosmetologists; or

(4) that the barbers and cosmetologists practicing in the facility or the customers of the barbers and cosmetologists be treated separately from each other in any similar manner.

(d) There shall at all times be prominently displayed in each shop and salon regulated under this Act, a sign in letters no smaller than one inch in height, the contents of which shall contain the name, mailing address, and telephone number of the regulatory board having jurisdiction over those individuals licensed under this Act and which shall contain a statement informing consumers that complaints against licensees can be directed to the regulatory board.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2144, ch. 691, § 27, eff. Sept. 1, 1975; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1363, ch. 613, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1979.]

Art. 8407a. Texas Barber Law

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Unlicensed Practice Prohibited

Sec. 2. From and after the effective date of this Act, unless duly licensed and registered in accordance with all laws of this state regulating the practice of barbering, no person shall:

(a) practice, continue to practice, offer, or attempt to practice barbering or any part thereof;

(b) directly or indirectly, employ, use, cause to be used, or make use of any of the following terms or any combinations, variations, or abbreviations thereof, as a professional, business, or commercial identification, title, name, representation, claim, asset, or means of advantage or benefit: “barber,”
"barbering," "barber school," "barber college," "barber shop," "barber salon"; directly or indirectly, employ, use, cause to be used, or make use of any letter, abbreviation, word, symbol, slogan, sign, or any combination or variation thereof, which in any manner whatsoever tends or is likely to create any impression with the public or any member thereof that any person is qualified or authorized to practice barbering or own or manage any barber shop, barber school or college.

Sec. 3. (a) No person may own, operate, or manage a barber shop without a barber shop permit issued by the board.

(b) Any firm, corporation or person who opens a new barber shop shall within three days submit an application in writing to the board for a temporary barber shop permit together with an inspection fee of $25. The applicant must place in his application the permanent address of his shop including a legal description of the premises to be licensed and such other information as shall be required by the board.

(c) The board shall issue a barber shop permit to an applicant who holds a valid class A barber license and whose shop meets the minimum health standards for barber shops as promulgated by the State Department of Public Health and all rules and regulations of the board.

(d) A barber shop permit must be displayed in a conspicuous place in the barber shop for which the permit is issued.

(e) Permits are not transferable to another person. If the ownership of a barber shop is transferred to another person, the shop may continue in operation if the new owner applies for and obtains a new permit within 30 days after the transfer of ownership.

(f) To continue operating a barber shop, a person must renew the permit issued to his shop by paying a renewal fee of $25. All permits expire on July 1 of odd-numbered years.

(g) No person may operate a barber shop unless the shop is at all times under the sole and exclusive supervision and management of a registered Class A barber, and no person is practicing on the premises by authority of any license, permit or certificate issued by the Texas Board of Cosmetology Commission.

(h) A person operating under a permit who wishes to move his operation to another location approved by the board may do so by notifying the Board of Barber Examiners ten days before he makes the move.

Definitions

Sec. 4. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "barber" shall mean any person who performs, offers, or attempts to perform any act of barbering, professes to do barbering or to be engaged in the practice thereof, or who directly or indirectly in any manner whatsoever advertises or holds himself out as a barber or as authorized to practice barbering;

(b) "barbering," "practicing barbering," or the "practice of barbering" shall mean the performing or doing, or offering or attempting to do or perform, any, all or any combination of the following acts, services, works, treatments, or undertakings:

1. arranging, beautifying, coloring, processing, shaving, styling, or trimming the mustache or beard by any means or method;

2. arranging, beautifying, bleaching, cleansing, coloring, curling, dressing, dyeing, processing, shampooing, shaping, singeing, straightening, styling, tinting, waving, or otherwise treating the hair as primary services, services, treatments, or undertakings by any means or method, including any bobbing, clipping, cutting, or trimming of the hair as a necessary incident preparatory or ancillary to such primary services;

3. cutting the hair as a primary service, treatment, or undertaking and not as a necessary incident preparatory or ancillary to those primary services enumerated in Section 4(b)(2), or primarily engaging in the occupation of cutting hair or practicing primarily as a haircutter by cutting hair as a separate and independent service, treatment, or undertaking for which haircut a charge is made, as such, separate and apart from any other service, treatment, or undertaking, directly or indirectly, or in any manner whatsoever;

4. cleansing, stimulating, or massaging the scalp, face, neck, arms, shoulders, or that part of the body above the shoulders, by means of the hands, devices, apparatuses, or appliances, with or without the use of cosmetic preparations, antiseptics, tonics, lotions, or creams;

5. beautifying the face, neck, arms, shoulders, or that part of the body above the shoulders, by the use of cosmetic preparations, antiseptics, tonics, lotions, powders, oils, clays, creams, or appliances;

6. cutting, trimming, polishing, tinting, coloring, cleansing, or maneuvering the nails of any person or attaching false nails;

7. massaging, cleansing, treating, or beautifying the hands of any person;

8. administering facial treatments;

9. hair weaving;

10. shampooing or conditioning hair;

11. servicing a wig, toupee, or artificial hair-piece on a human head or on a block, subsequent to the initial retail sale by any of the acts, services, works, treatments, or undertakings enumerated in Section 4(b)(2) of this Act;
sons are not represented, advertised, or held out to the public directly or indirectly, or in any manner whatsoever, from the provisions of this Act, provided such person as a registered assistant barber the board shall issue such assistant barber a certificate as a registered barber and on the next renewal of any certificate as a registered assistant barber, as registered barber on payment of the applicable renewal fee.

Sec. 5. The classification of "registered assistant barber" is hereby terminated. Any person holding a valid certificate as a registered assistant barber, as of the effective date of this Act, shall for all purposes of this Act be considered as a Class A registered barber and on the next renewal of any certificate as a registered assistant barber the board shall issue such assistant barber a certificate as a Class A registered barber on payment of the applicable renewal fee.

Exemptions

Sec. 6. The following persons shall be exempt from the provisions of this Act, provided such persons are not represented, advertised, or held out to the public, directly or indirectly, or in any manner whatsoever, as barbers, journeymen barbers, barber technicians or under any name, title, or designation indicating such person is authorized to practice by authority of any license or permit issued by the board:

(a) physicians, osteopaths, and registered nurses licensed and regulated by the State of Texas;
(b) commissioned or authorized medical or surgical officers of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Hospital Service;
(c) persons licensed or practicing by authority of the Texas Cosmetology Commission under the provisions of Chapter 1036, Acts of the 62nd Legislature, Regular Session, 1971 (Article 8451a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), so long as such person practice within the scope of the license or permit duly issued by the Texas Cosmetology Commission.

Qualifications of Applicant for Registration

Sec. 7. The following shall be considered as minimum evidence satisfactory to the board that an applicant is qualified for registration as a Class A registered barber:

(a) being at least 16½ years of age;
(b) successfully passing a written and practical examination demonstrating to the satisfaction of the board the applicant's fitness and competence to practice the art and science of barbering.

Forms for Applications

Sec. 8. All applications for any certificate, license, or permit issued by the board shall be on forms prescribed and furnished by the board, shall contain statements made under oath showing the applicant's education and other information required by the board.

Permit to Operate Barber School or College

Sec. 9. (a) Any person desiring to conduct or operate a barber school or college in this state shall first obtain a permit from the board after demonstrating that said school or college has first met the requirements of this section. Said permit shall be prominently displayed at all times at such school or college. No such school or college shall be approved unless such school or college requires as a prerequisite to graduation a course of instruction of not less than 1,500 hours as determined by the board, to be completed within a period of not less than nine months, for a Class A certificate, and at least 800 hours of such course of instruction shall be in the actual practice of cutting hair as a primary service in accordance with the definition set forth in Section 4(b)(3) of this Act. No certificate or permit shall be issued as provided for herein to an applicant to be a student in such a school or college unless said applicant has completed at least a seventh grade education and such other requirements as shall be specified by the board. Provided, however, that any person licensed as a Class A registered barber or registered assistant barber as of the effective date of this Act shall be considered qualified to perform any acts or services within the scope of the definition of barbering and shall be entitled to any or all licenses, certificates, or permits which the board is authorized to issue on payment of the required fees but without meeting further educational or experience requirements.
Art. 8407a  OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

(b) Such schools or colleges shall instruct students in the theory and practice of such subjects as may be necessary and beneficial in the practice of barbering, including the following: scientific fundamentals of barbering; hygienic bacteriology, histology of the hair, skin, muscles, and nerves; structure of the head, neck and face; elementary chemistry relating to sterilization and antiseptics; common disorders of the skin and hair; massaging muscles of the scalp, face, and neck; hair-cutting; shaving, shampooing, and bleaching and dyeing of the hair; manicuring, icing wigs, or any other skills, techniques, services, treatments, or undertakings within the definition of the practice of barbering provided for in this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 9(c) to 9(e)]

(f) No barber school or college which issues “Class A” certificates shall be approved by the Board unless it is under the direct supervision and control of a barber who holds a current registered “Class A” certificate to practice barbering under the Texas Barber Law, and who can show evidence of at least five (5) years experience as a practicing barber. Each school shall have at least one (1) teacher who has a teacher’s certificate issued by the Board upon examination and who is capable and qualified to teach the curriculum outlined herein to the students of such school. All such teachers are required to obtain a teacher’s certificate from the Board and, in addition to requirements set forth by the Board, must meet the following requirements:

1. Demonstrate their ability to teach the said curriculum outlined herein through a written and practical test to be given by the Board.

2. Hold a current certificate as a registered “Class A” barber under this law.

3. Demonstrate to the Board that such applicant is qualified to teach and instruct, to be determined at the discretion of the Board, and show evidence that the applicant has had at least six (6) months experience as a teacher in an approved school or college in Texas or in another state approved by the Board, or have completed a six-month postgraduate course as a teacher in an approved barber school or college in Texas.

Applicants desiring an examination for a teacher’s certificate shall make an application to the Board and accompany same with an examination fee of $35. A new application and fee must be presented for each examination taken by the applicant and fees paid are not refundable. A teacher’s certificate shall be issued upon satisfactory completion of the examination and payment of a certificate fee of $35 if the applicant fulfills the requirements during the period from November 1 of an odd-numbered year and extending through October 31 of the following even-numbered year or $17.50 if the applicant fulfills the requirements during the period from November 1 of an even-numbered year and extending through October 31 of the following odd-numbered year. Teacher’s certificates shall be renewed biennially on or before November 1st of odd-numbered years upon the payment of a renewal fee of $35.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 9(g)]

(h) No barber school or college shall be issued a permit to operate under the provisions of this Section until it has first furnished the following evidence to the Board:

1. A detailed drawing and chart of the proposed physical layout of such school, showing the departments, floor space, equipment, lights and outlets.

2. Photographs of the proposed site for such school including the interior and exterior of the building, rooms and departments.

3. A detailed copy of the training program.

4. A copy of the school catalog and promotional literature.

5. A copy of the building lease or proposed building lease where the building is not owned by the school or college.

6. A sworn statement showing the true ownership of the school or college.

7. A permit fee of $500.

No such school or college shall be operated and no students shall be solicited or enrolled by it until the Board shall determine that the school has been set up and established in accordance with this Section and the proposal submitted to the Board and approved by it prior to the issuance of a permit. Any such school or college must obtain renewal of its certificate by September 1st each year by the payment of an annual renewal fee of $150.

(n) Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2136, ch. 691, § 10, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.

Application for Examination; Examination Results; Reciprocity

Sec. 10. Each applicant for an examination shall [See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 10(a) to 10(c)]

(d) Not later than the 30th day after the day on which a person completes an examination administered by the Board, the Board shall send to the person his examination results. If requested in writing by a person who fails the examination, the Board shall send to the person not later that the 30th day after the day on which the request is received by the Board an analysis of the person's performance on the examination.

(e) On a reciprocal basis with other states or countries, the Board may issue, without examination, a certificate, license, or permit to an applicant who has a corresponding certificate, license, or permit issued by another state or country having standards for the certificate, license, or permit that are at least substantially equivalent to those of this state and who pays the fee prescribed by this Act.

Conduct of Examinations

Sec. 11. (a) The Board shall conduct examination of applicants for certificates of registration to practice as Class A registered barbers and of applicants to enter barber schools to determine their educational fitness, not less than four times each year, at such times and places as the Board may determine and designate. The examination of applicants for certificates of registration as Class A registered barbers shall include both a practical demonstration and a written and oral test, and shall embrace the subjects usually taught in schools of barbering approved by the Board.

(b) No examination shall be held at a barber school, college, or shop owned, managed, or operated by a member of the State Board of Barber Examiners.

Certificates to Successful Applicants

Sec. 12. Whenever the provisions of this Act have been complied with, the Board shall issue to any applicant a certificate of registration as a Class A registered barber, where such applicant shall have passed a satisfactory examination making an average grade of not less than seventy-five per cent, and who shall possess the other qualifications required by this Act.

Permit to Practice as Journeyman Barber

Sec. 13. Any person who is at least sixteen and one-half years of age, and who has a diploma showing graduation from a seven-grade grammar school, or its equivalent as determined by an examination conducted by the Board, and either

(a) Has a license or certificate of registration as a practicing barber from another State or country, which has substantially the same requirements for licensing or registering barbers as required by this Act, or

(b) Who can prove by personal affidavit that he has practiced as a barber in another State for at least two years immediately prior to making application in this State, and who possesses the qualifications required by this Act, shall, upon payment of the required fee, be issued a permit to practice as a journeyman barber only until he is called by the Board of Barber Examiners to determine his fitness to receive a certificate of registration to practice barbering. Should such applicant fail to pass the required examination he shall be allowed to practice as a journeyman barber until he is called by the Board for the next term of examination. Should he fail at the examination he must cease to practice barbering in this State.

Assistant Barbers; Barbers’ Technicians

Sec. 14. (a) Any assistant barber who is at least sixteen and one-half years of age and who has a diploma showing graduation from a seventh grade grammar school, or an equivalent education as determined by an examination conducted by the Board, and who has a certificate of registration as an assistant barber in a State or country which has substantially the same requirements for registration as an assistant barber as is provided for by this Act, shall upon payment of the required fee be issued a permit to work as an assistant barber until called by the Board of Examiners for examination to determine his fitness to receive a certificate of registration as an assistant barber. Should such person be able to pass the required examination, he will be issued a certificate of registration as a registered assistant barber, and that the time spent in such other State or country as an assistant barber shall be credited upon the period of assistant barber required by this Act as a qualification to take the examination to determine his fitness to receive a certificate of registration as a registered barber.

(b) Any person who has spent at least 30 working days at a licensed barber school or college as a barber’s technician including the study of shampooing, shampoos, manipulations, making appointments, preparing patrons, sterilizing tools, and the study of sterilization and the barber laws may be licensed to practice as a barber’s technician. Any licensed barber’s technician may assist the barber in shampooing and sterilizing in a barber shop and shall work under the personal supervision of a registered Class A barber.

Manicurist License

Sec. 15. (a) A person holding a manicurist license issued by the board may perform for compensation only the practice of barbering defined in Section 4(b)(6) and Section 4(b)(7) of this Act.

(b) An applicant for a manicurist license must be at least 16 years of age, have completed the seventh grade or its equivalent, and have completed 150 hours instruction in manicuring.

(c) The application shall be made on a form prescribed by the board and a $5 manicurist administration fee must accompany the application. The application and fee shall be filed at least 10 days prior to the date set for the examination.

(d) The applicant is entitled to a manicurist license if such applicant possesses the qualifications enumerated in Section 15(b), satisfactorily completes the examination, pays a $15 license fee, and has not committed an act which constitutes grounds for denial of a license under this Act.
Art. 8407 a

OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

Wig Specialist License

Sec. 16. (a) A person holding a wig specialist license issued by the board may perform for compensation only the practice of barbering defined in Section 4(b)(11) of this Act.

(b) An applicant for a wig specialist license must be at least 16 years of age, have completed the seventh grade or its equivalent, and have completed 300 hours of instruction in the care and treatment of wigs.

(c) The application shall be made on a form prescribed by the commission and a $5 administration fee must accompany the application. The application and fee must be filed at least 10 days prior to the date set for the examination.

(d) The applicant is entitled to a wig specialist license if he possesses the qualifications enumerated in Subsection (b) of this section, satisfactorily completes the examination, pays a $15 license fee, and has not committed an act which constitutes grounds for revocation of a license under this Act.

(e) Any person who at the time this Act takes effect holds a cosmetology license or manicurist license issued by the cosmetology commission may make application for and upon paying the fee be granted a manicurist license by the barber board without examination.

Wig Instructor License

Sec. 17. (a) A person holding a wig instructor license issued by the board may perform for compensation the practice of barbering as defined in Section 4(b)(11) of this Act and may instruct a person in such practice.

(b) An applicant for a wig instructor license must have a valid wig specialist license and have completed 200 hours of instruction in advanced wig courses and methods of teaching.

(c) The application shall be made on a form prescribed by the board and a $5 administration fee must accompany the application. The application and fee must be filed at least 10 days prior to the date set for the examination.

(d) The applicant is entitled to a wig instructor license if he possesses the qualifications enumerated in Subsection (b) of this section, satisfactorily completes the examination, pays a $35 license fee, and has not committed any act constituting grounds for revocation of a license under this Act.

Wig Salon License

Sec. 18. (a) A person holding a wig salon license issued by the board may maintain an establishment in which only the practice of barbering as defined in Section 4(b)(11) of this Act is performed for compensation.

(b) An applicant for a wig salon license shall submit an application on a form prescribed by the board. The application shall contain proof of the particular requisites for a wig salon as established by the board and shall be verified by the applicant.

(c) The applicant is entitled to a wig salon license if the application shows compliance with the rules and regulations of the board, a $25 license fee is paid, and such applicant has not committed an act which constitutes grounds for revocation of a license under this Act.

Wig School License

Sec. 18.1. (a) A person holding a wig school license issued by the board may maintain an establishment in which only the practice of barbering as defined in Section 4(b)(11) of this Act is taught for compensation.

(b) An applicant for a wig school license shall submit an application on a form prescribed by the board. The application shall contain proof of the particular requisites for a wig school as established by the board and shall be verified by the applicant.

(c) The applicant is entitled to a wig school license if the application shows compliance with the rules and regulations of the board, a $100 license fee is paid, and applicant has not committed an act which constitutes grounds for revocation of a license under this Act.

Renewal of Certificates; Restoration of Expired Certificates; Fees

Sec. 20. (a) Every registered Class A barber and barber technician who continues in active practice or service shall renew his certificate of registration on or before November 1, 1975, and biennially on or before November 1 of odd-numbered years thereafter. The Board of Barber Examiners shall issue the renewal certificate upon payment of a biennial renewal fee of $35. Every certificate of registration which has not been renewed prior to that date shall expire on November 1 of that year.

(b) A Class A registered barber, whose certificate of registration has expired, may, within 30 days thereafter, and not later, have his certificate of registration restored upon making a satisfactory showing to the Board, supported by his personal affidavit, which, in the opinion of the Board, will excuse the applicant for having failed to renew his certificate within the time required by this Act.

(c) Any registered barber who retires from the practice of barbering for not more than five (5) years may renew his certificate of registration by making proper showing to the Board, supported by his personal affidavit, which, in the opinion of the Board, would justify the Board in issuing a certificate to such applicant as upon an original application upon payment of a fee of $35 if the applicant applies during the period from November 1 of an odd-numbered year and extending through October 31 of the following even-numbered year or $17.50 if the applicant applies during the period from November 1 of an even-numbered year and extending through October 31 of the following odd-numbered year.
(d) Any registered barber who retires from the practice of barbering for more than five (5) years may renew his certificate of registration by making application to the Board and by making proper showing to the Board, supported by his personal affidavit, and by paying an examination fee of $35, passing a satisfactory examination conducted by the Board, and paying a license fee of $25 if the applicant fulfills the requirements during the period from November 1 of an odd-numbered year and extending through October 31 of the following even-numbered year or $12.50 if the applicant fulfills the requirements during the period from November 1 of an even-numbered year and extending through October 31 of the following odd-numbered year.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 22a and 20b]

Refusal, Suspension or Revocation of Certificates; Grounds

Sec. 21. The board shall either refuse to issue or to renew, or shall suspend or revoke any certificate of registration for any one of, or a combination of the following causes:

(A) Gross malpractice;
(B) Continued practice by a person knowingly having an infectious or contagious disease;
(C) Advertising by means of knowingly making false or deceptive statements;
(D) Advertising, practicing, or attempting to practice under another's trade name or another's name;
(E) Habitual drunkenness or habitual addiction to the use of morphine, cocaine, or other habit-forming drugs;
(F) The commission of any of the offenses described in Section 24 of this Act;
(G) No certificate shall be issued or renewed, unless and until each applicant shall present a health certificate from a regular practicing medical doctor showing that the applicant is free from any kind of infectious or contagious diseases, tuberculosis, communicable diseases, and free from the use of any kind of morphine, cocaine, or other habit-forming drug, or a habitual drunkard and that said applicant shall make affidavit to said medical examiner that all of the said facts are true.

Violation or Noncompliance with Requirement, Hearing; Denial, Revocation or Refusal to Renew Certificate; Appeal

Sec. 22.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 22(a)]

(b) If, after due notice and hearing, the board denies, revokes, or refuses to renew any certificate, license, or permit, the holder thereof shall have the right to appeal from the order of the board. Any appeals filed hereunder shall be filed within 20 days from the date of the order of the board in a district court of the county where the person filing such appeal has his residence, or in any of the district courts of Travis County, Texas. In all appeals prosecuted in any of the courts of this state pursuant to the provisions of this Act, such trials shall be de novo as that term is used and understood in appeals from justice of the peace courts to county courts. When such an appeal is filed and the court thereby acquires jurisdiction, all administrative or executive action taken prior thereto shall be null and void and of no force and effect, and the rights of the parties thereto shall be determined by the court upon a trial of the matters in controversy under rules governing the trial of other civil suits in the same manner and to the same extent as though the matter had been committed to the courts in the first instance and there had been no intervening administrative or executive action or decision. Under no circumstances shall the substantial evidence rule as interpreted and applied by the courts of Texas in other cases ever be used or applied to appeals prosecuted under the provisions of this Act.

State Board of Barber Examiners: Appointment; Qualifications; Terms; Removal; Vacancy

Sec. 26. (a) The State Board of Barber Examiners is hereby created and shall consist of six members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. The board shall be composed of the following: two members shall be Class A barbers actually and actively engaged in the practice of barbering for at least five years prior to being appointed and while serving as members of the board and who are not holders of a barber shop permit issued by the board; one member shall be a barber shop owner holding a permit issued by the board; one member shall be a person holding a barber school or college permit issued by the board; and two members shall be representatives of the general public who are not regulated under this Act and who do not have, other than as consumers, any financial interests in barbering. The terms of office shall be for six years with terms for two of the six board members expiring at the same time every two years. All members appointed by the governor to fill vacancies in the board caused by death, resignation, or removal shall serve during the unexpired term of such member's predecessor. Before entering upon the duties of office, each member of the board shall take the constitutional oath of office and file it with the secretary of state. Members of the board may be removed from office for cause in the manner provided by the statutes of this state for public officials who are not subject to impeachment. In case of death, resignation, or removal, the vacancy of the unexpired term shall be filled by the governor in the same manner as other appointments.
Art. 8407a

OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

(b) A person holding office as a member of the State Board of Barber Examiners on the effective date of this Act continues to hold the office for the term for which the member was originally appointed.

(c) The governor shall appoint two public members to fill the offices of the two incumbent members whose terms expire on May 19, 1981. The governor shall appoint a barber shop owner and a barber school owner to fill the offices of the incumbent members whose terms expire on May 19, 1983. The governor shall appoint two Class A barbers to fill the offices of the two incumbent members whose terms expire on May 19, 1985.

(e) Appointments to the board shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees.

(f) Each member of the board shall be present for at least one-half of the regularly scheduled board meetings held each year. Failure of a board member to meet this requirement automatically removes the member from the board and creates a vacancy on the board.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 26a. The State Board of Barber Examiners is subject to the Texas Sunset Act; and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the board is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

1. Article 5429k.

Officers of Board; Compensation of Members; Compensation and Bond of Secretary

Sec. 27. The State Board of Barber Examiners shall elect one of its members as president, and shall elect a secretary and such other employees, as may be necessary, to carry out the provisions of this Act and House Bill No. 104, Chapter 65, Acts of the Forty-first Legislature, First Called Session, as amended, and provide for the compensation of such secretary and other employees. Said Board shall maintain its office in the State Office Building in the City of Austin, Texas, and shall adopt rules and regulations for the transaction of the business herein provided for, including a common seal for the authentication of its orders, certificates and records. The secretary shall keep a record of all proceedings of the Board and shall be the custodian of all such records and shall receive and collect for all money collected by the Board. All money so received shall be immediately deposited with the State Treasurer, who shall credit same to a special fund to be known as “State Board of Barber Examiners Fund,” which money shall be drawn from said special fund upon claims made therefor by the Board to the Comptroller; and if found correct, to be approved by him and vouchers issued therefor, and countersigned and paid by the State Treasurer, which special fund is hereby appropriated for the purpose of carrying out all the provisions of this Act. Annually at the close of business on August 31st of each year, a complete report of the business transaction by the Board showing all receipts and disbursements shall be made by the Board to the Governor of the State of Texas. The State Auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the Board at least once every two fiscal years.

The secretary shall give a surety bond, payable to the State of Texas in the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000), conditioned for the faithful performances of his duties as secretary, to be approved by the Board and filed with the State Comptroller. A majority of the Board in meetings duly assembled may perform and exercise all the duties and powers devolving upon the Board.

The compensation of the members of the Board shall be a per diem as set by the General Appropriations Act, and in addition to the per diem provided for herein, they shall be entitled to traveling expenses in accordance with the appropriate provisions of the General Appropriations Act. Each Board member shall make out, under oath, a complete itemized statement of the number of days engaged and the amount of his expenses when presenting same for payment.

Rules and Regulations; Violations

Sec. 28. (a) The State Board of Health shall make, establish and promulgate reasonable sanitary rules and regulations for the conduct of barber shops and barber schools. The State Board of Barber Examiners, by and through the Health Department of the State of Texas, shall have authority, and it is made its duty to enter upon the premises of all barber shops, barber schools or any place where any of its licensees are practicing or performing any service, act or treatment by authority of any license issued by the board and inspect same at any time during business hours. A copy of such sanitary rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Health shall be furnished to the Secretary of the State Board of Barber Examiners who shall in turn forward to each barber, barber school or licensee of the board a copy of such rules and regulations. A copy of the sanitary rules and regulations promulgated and adopted by the State Board of Health shall be posted in barber shops and barber schools in this State. Subject only to the authority of the State Board of Health to make and promulgate reasonable rules and regulations as to sanitation, the State Board of Barber Examiners shall have full authority and power to make and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the performance of its duties, to establish standards of conduct and ethics for all persons licensed or practicing under the provisions of this Act, and to regulate the practice and teaching of barbering in all of its particulars in keeping with the purposes and intent of this Act or to insure strict compliance with and enforcement of this Act.

(b) If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Section 5(g), Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the board statements opposing adoption of a rule under that section, the rule may not take effect or, if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the board receives the committees' statements.

c) The violation by any licensee, permittee, or certificate holder of the board of any provisions of this Act or any rule, regulation, or order of the board shall be sufficient reason or ground to cancel, suspend, or revoke any license, certificate, permit, or authority issued under this Act. In addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy authorized by law, the board shall have the authority to institute any action in its own name to enjoin any violation of any provision of this Act or rule or regulation of the board, and, in order for the board to sustain such action, it shall not be necessary to allege or prove, either that an adequate remedy at law does not exist, or that substantial or irreparable damage would result from the continued violation thereof. Either party to such action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of such cause. The board shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising under this Act. The attorney general shall represent the board in all actions and proceedings to enforce the provisions of this Act.

Information About Complaints

Sec. 29A. (a) The State Board of Barber Examiners shall keep an information file about each complaint filed with the board relating to licensees under this Act.

(b) If a written complaint is filed with the State Board of Barber Examiners relating to a licensee under this Act, the board, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the complainant of the status of the complaint until the complaint is finally resolved.

Restrictions on Board Members and Employees

Sec. 29B. (a) An employee of the State Board of Barber Examiners whose duties include the administration of the board's functions under this Act may not:

(1) have, other than as a consumer, a financial interest in barbering;

(2) be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the barbering industry; or

(3) be related within the second degree by affinity or within the second degree by consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the barbering industry.

(b) A member of the State Board of Barber Examiners may not be:

(1) an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the barbering industry;

(2) related within the second degree by affinity or within the second degree by consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the barbering industry.

(c) An employee who violates this section is subject to dismissal. A board member who violates this section is subject to removal.

Open Meetings Law and Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act Applicable

Sec. 29C. The board is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252–17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Lobbying by General Counsel or Board Member Prohibited

Sec. 29D. A general counsel employed by the board or a member of the board may not lobby for the board and may not engage in conduct for which the person is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252–9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

"Sec. 49. All laws or parts of laws inconsistent or in conflict with this Act or any part thereof are hereby repealed."

CHAPTER TWO. COSMETOLOGY

Art. 8451a. Cosmetology Regulatory Act

Definitions

Sec. 1. As used in this Act:

(1) "Person" means any individual, association, firm, corporation, partnership, or organization.

(2) "Commission" means the Texas Cosmetology Commission.
Art. 8451a
OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION 4430

(3) "Cosmetology" means the performing or doing, or offering or attempting to do or perform for compensation, any of the following acts, services, works, treatments, or undertakings:

(A) arranging, beautifying, bleaching, tinting, cleansing, coloring, dressing, dyeing, processing, shampooing, shaping, singeining, straightening, styling, waving, or otherwise treating the hair as a primary service, treatments, or undertaking by any means or method, including any bobbing, clipping, cutting, or trimming of the hair as a necessary incident preparatory or ancillary to such primary services; cutting the hair as a primary service, treatment, or undertaking and not as a necessary incident preparatory or ancillary to those primary services enumerated in this subdivision, or primarily engaging in the occupation of cutting hair or practicing primarily as a haircutter by cutting hair as a separate and independent service, treatment, or undertaking for which haircut a charge is made, separate and apart from any other service, treatment, or undertaking, directly or indirectly, or in any manner;

(B) cleansing, stimulating, or massaging the scalp, face, neck, or arms by means of the hands, devices, apparatus, or appliances, with or without the use of cosmetic preparations, antiseptics, tonics, lotions, or creams; beautifying the face, neck, or arms by use of cosmetic preparations, antiseptics, tonics, lotions, powders, oils, clays, creams, or appliances;

(C) removing superfluous hair from the body by the use of depilatories or mechanical tweezers;

(D) cutting, trimming, polishing, tinting, coloring, cleansing, or manicuring the nails of any person; or attaching false nails or massaging, cleansing, treating, or beautifying the hands or feet of any person;

(E) servicing a wig or artificial hairpiece either on a human head or on a block subsequent to the initial retail sale and servicing by any of the practices enumerated in Paragraph (A) of this subdivision;

(F) administering facial treatments;

(G) hair weaving; or

(H) shampooing and conditioning hair.

(4) "Public school" includes a public school, public junior college, or any other nonprofit tax-exempt institution conducting a cosmetology program.

Texas Cosmetology Commission

Sec. 2. (a) The Texas Cosmetology Commission is created. The commission shall be composed of one member holding a valid beauty shop license who has no direct or indirect affiliation with or interest, financial or otherwise, in a private beauty culture school; one member holding a valid private beauty culture school license who has no direct or indirect affiliation with or interest, financial or otherwise, in a beauty shop; two members holding valid operator licenses who have no direct or indirect affiliation with or interest, financial or otherwise, in a private beauty culture school or beauty shop; and two members of the general public who are not licensees under this Act and who have no direct or indirect affiliation with or interest, financial or otherwise, in any facet of the beauty industry. The associate commissioner for occupational education and technology of the Central Education Agency or his authorized representative shall as part of his duties serve as an ex officio member of the commission with voting privileges. Members shall be appointed without consideration of race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

(b) To qualify as a member, a person must be a citizen of the United States and a resident of Texas at least 25 years of age, must be actively engaged in the area that the person represents for a period of five years immediately preceding appointment.

(c) The members of the commission shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. Members of the commission hold office for staggered terms of six years, with two members' terms expiring on December 31 of each odd-numbered year. No person may serve more than two consecutive terms.

(d) Each appointee to the commission shall qualify by taking the constitutional oath of office within 15 days from the date of his appointment. On presentation of the oath, the secretary of state shall issue commissions to appointees as evidence of their authority to act as members of the commission.

(e) Each member of the commission shall be present for at least one-half of the regularly scheduled commission meetings held each year. Failure of a commission member to meet this requirement automatically removes the member from the commission and creates a vacancy on the commission.

(f) In the event of death, resignation, or removal of any member, the vacancy of the unexpired term shall be filled by the governor in the same manner as other appointments.

(g) The Texas Cosmetology Commission is subject to the Texas Sunset Act (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Unless continued in existence as provided by the Act, the commission is abolished and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

(h) The commission is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-18a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Commission Organization and Meetings

Sec. 3. (a) The commission shall elect from its members for a term of two years a chairman and may appoint committees that it considers necessary to carry out its duties.

(b) The commission shall meet at least once each year. The commission may meet at other times at the call of the chairman or as provided by commission rule.

(c) The quorum for any meeting of the commission is four members. No action by the commission or its members has any effect unless a quorum is present.

Powers and Duties of the Commission

Sec. 4. (a) The commission may issue rules consistent with this Act after a public hearing in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Section 5(g), Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, transmit to the commission statements opposing adoption of a rule under that section, the rule may not take effect or, if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the commission receives the committees' statements.

(b) The commission shall prescribe the minimum curricula of the subjects and hours of each to be taught by beauty culture schools.

(c) The commission shall prescribe the method and content of the examinations administered under this Act. The examination shall include practical examinations as well as theory tests relating to the subject matter established as curricula by the commission.

(d) The commission shall establish sanitation rules designed to prevent the spread of infectious or contagious diseases.

Compensation

Sec. 5. (a) Members of the commission are entitled to receive $25 a day and reimbursement for actual travel expenses incurred in performing the duties of their office. Per diem compensation may not exceed 30 days in any fiscal year for each member.

(b) The compensation of other employees of the commission is as set by the General Appropriations Act.

Executive Director; Staff

Sec. 6. (a) The commission may employ an executive director who is the executive head of the commission and performs its administrative duties.

(b) The executive director may employ staff members necessary for administering the functions of the commission. A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252–9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not act as the general counsel to the commission or serve as a member of the commission.

c) The commission may employ directors at its discretion.

Conflict of Interest

Sec. 7. (a) An employee of the commission whose duties include the administration of the commission's functions under this Act may not:

(1) have, other than as a consumer, a financial interest in the cosmetology industry;
(2) be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the cosmetology industry;
(3) be related within the second degree by affinity or within the second degree by consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the cosmetology industry.

(b) A member of the commission may not be:

(1) an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the cosmetology industry; or
(2) related within the second degree by affinity or within the second degree by consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the cosmetology industry.

(c) An employee who violates this section is subject to dismissal. A member who violates this section is subject to removal.

Disposition of Funds

Sec. 8. (a) The executive director shall remit, on or before the 10th day of each month, to the state treasurer all fees collected under this Act during the preceding month for deposit in the General Revenue Fund.

(b) On August 31 of each year, the commission shall file with the comptroller its annual report in a form required by the comptroller.

(c) Funds for the administration of this Act are to be provided by the General Appropriations Act.

Prohibited Acts

Sec. 9. (a) A person may not perform or attempt to perform any practice of cosmetology without first obtaining a license or certificate to perform that practice.

(b) A person may not conduct or operate a beauty shop, beauty culture school, specialty shop, or any other place of business in which the practice of cosmetology is taught or practiced without first obtaining a license.

(c) A person may not instruct in the art of cosmetology unless he holds an instructor license from this state and the instruction is done in a private beauty culture school or public school cosmetology program.

Operator License

Sec. 10. (a) A person holding an operator license may perform any practice of cosmetology defined in Subdivision (3), Section 1, of this Act.
Art. 8451a  OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

(b) An applicant for an operator license must be at least 16 years of age, have completed the seventh grade or its equivalent, and have completed 1,500 hours of instruction in a licensed beauty culture school or 1,000 hours of instruction in beauty culture courses and 500 hours of related high school courses prescribed by the commission in a public school vocational program.

(c) The application must be made on a form prescribed by the commission and must be filed at least 10 days before the date set for the examination.

(d) The applicant is entitled to an operator license if he possesses the qualifications enumerated in Subsection (b) of this section, satisfactorily completes the examination, pays a $15 license fee, and has not committed an act that constitutes a ground for denial of a license.

Manicurist License

Sec. 11. (a) A person holding a manicurist license may perform only the practice of cosmetology defined in Paragraph (D), Subdivision (3), Section 1 of this Act.

(b) An applicant for a manicurist license must be at least 16 years of age, have completed the seventh grade or its equivalent, and have completed 150 hours of instruction in manicuring.

(c) The application must be made on a form prescribed by the commission and must be filed at least 10 days before the date set for the examination.

(d) The applicant is entitled to a manicurist license if he possesses the qualifications enumerated in Subsection (b) of this section, satisfactorily completes the examination, pays a $10 license fee, and has not committed an act that constitutes a ground for denial of a license.

Instructor License

Sec. 12. (a) A person holding an instructor license may perform any practice of cosmetology and may instruct a person in any practice of cosmetology as defined by this Act.

(b) An applicant for an instructor license must be at least 18 years of age, have completed the 12th grade or its equivalent, have a valid operator license, and have completed a six-month course consisting of 750 hours of instruction in cosmetology courses and methods of teaching in a licensed beauty culture school or in a vocational training program of a publicly financed postsecondary institution or at least three years of verifiable experience as an operator under a license from the Texas Cosmetology Commission.

(c) The application must be on a form prescribed by the commission and must be filed at least 10 days before the date set for the examination.

(d) The applicant is entitled to an instructor license if he possesses qualifications enumerated in Subsection (b) of this section, satisfactorily completes the examination, pays a $35 license fee, and has not committed an act that constitutes a ground for denial of a license.

Specialty Certificate

Sec. 13. (a) A person holding a specialty certificate may perform only the practice of cosmetology as defined in Paragraph (E), (F), (G), or (H) of Subdivision (3) of Section 1 of this Act.

(b) An applicant for a specialty certificate must be at least 16 years of age, have completed the seventh grade or its equivalent, and have the necessary requisites as determined by the commission in the particular specialty in which certification is sought.

(c) The application must be on a form prescribed by the commission and must be filed at least 10 days before the date set for examination.

(d) The applicant is entitled to a specialty certificate if he possesses the qualifications enumerated in Subsection (b) of this section, satisfactorily completes the examination, pays a $15 certificate fee, and has not committed an act that constitutes a ground for denial of a certificate.

(e) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to an individual who has an instructor license or operator license issued by the commission.

Grandfather Clause

Sec. 14. (a) On the effective date of this Act any person holding a specialty license issued by the commission may, before the expiration date of that license, receive an equivalent certificate by complying with the following guidelines:

(1) sending the renewal portion of the specialty license to the commission along with a valid health certificate; and

(2) paying a one time $15 certification fee.

(b) On the effective date of this Act, any person holding a wig instructor or wig school license may continue to renew that license indefinitely by paying a $35 or $55 fee, respectively, every two years.

Temporary License

Sec. 15. (a) A person holding a temporary license may perform any practice of cosmetology for which he holds a valid license in another state or nation.

(b) A temporary license shall be issued on submission of an application form prescribed by the commission and payment of a $25 temporary license fee if the applicant meets the requirements of Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) A temporary license expires on the 60th day after the date of issue and may not be renewed.

(d) A person is not required to hold a temporary license to engage in the practice of cosmetology for educational or demonstration purposes at seminars, trade shows, or conventions.
OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

 Duplicate License or Certificate

Sec. 16. A duplicate license or certificate shall be issued upon application on a form prescribed by the commission and on the payment of a $5 fee.

 Reciprocal Certificates or Licenses

Sec. 17. (a) Any person who holds a valid license or certificate from another state or nation that has substantially equivalent standards or work experience may apply for a license or certificate to perform the same practice in this state.

(b) The applicant shall submit an application on a form prescribed by the commission and pay a $25 fee.

(c) A license or certificate granted under this section allows the holder to engage in the practice of cosmetology stated on the front of the license or certificate. The holder of this license or certificate is subject to the renewal procedures and fees provided in this Act for the practice of cosmetology for which he is licensed.

Student Permits

Sec. 18. (a) Any student enrolled in a school of cosmetology in this state shall be required to have a permit stating the student's name and the name of the school he is attending. The permit shall be displayed in a reasonable manner at the school.

(b) A student permit shall be issued on submission of an application form prescribed by the commission and payment of a $10 fee which must accompany the application.

(e) The cost of the permit shall also include the examination and transcript fee and may not be refunded.

Beauty Shop License

Sec. 19. (a) A person holding a beauty shop license may maintain an establishment in which any practice of cosmetology is performed.

(b) An applicant for a beauty shop license must submit an application on a form prescribed by the commission. The application must contain proof of the particular requisites for a beauty shop as established by the commission and must be verified by the applicant.

(c) The applicant is entitled to a beauty shop license if the application shows compliance with the rules of the commission, a $25 license fee is paid, and he has not committed an act that constitutes a ground for denial of a license.

(d) In order that the public may fix responsibility for services, acts, or treatments performed by persons licensed by the State Board of Barber Examiners vis-a-vis those performed by persons licensed by the Texas Cosmetology Commission, to promote the efficient and orderly administration of laws regulating barbers and the practice of barbering and the laws regulating cosmetologists and the practice of cosmetology, and to avoid confusion of the public as well as avoiding conflicts of jurisdiction between such board and commission which might impede effective administration or enforcement of the laws under their respective jurisdictions, from and after January 31, 1980:

(1) a person licensed by the barber board may practice barbering only at a location for which the board has issued a barber shop permit, barber school or college permit, or any other permit. If the State Board of Barber Examiners and the Texas Cosmetology Commission license the same facility, the board may not adopt rules restricting or prohibiting the practice by a Class A barber in the facility; and

(2) a person licensed by the cosmetology commission may practice cosmetology only at a location for which the commission has issued a beauty shop license, private beauty culture school license, or any other license. If the State Board of Barber Examiners and the Texas Cosmetology Commission license the same facility, the commission may not adopt rules restricting or prohibiting the practice by a cosmetologist in the facility.

(e) If the State Board of Barber Examiners and the Texas Cosmetology Commission license the same facility, the agencies may not adopt rules requiring:

(1) that the work areas of barbers and cosmetologists practicing in the facility be separated;

(2) that the waiting areas for customers of the barbers and cosmetologists practicing in the facility be separated;

(3) that the facility have separate restrooms for the barbers or cosmetologists practicing in the facility or for the customers of the barbers and cosmetologists; or

(4) that the barbers and cosmetologists practicing in the facility or the customers of the barbers and cosmetologists be treated separately from each other in any similar manner.

Specialty Shop License

Sec. 20. (a) A person holding a specialty shop license may maintain an establishment in which only the practice of cosmetology as defined in Paragraph (D), (E), (F), or (G) of Subdivision (3) of Section 1 of this Act is performed.

(b) An applicant for a specialty shop license must submit an application on a form prescribed by the commission. The application must contain proof of the particular requisites for a specialty shop as established by the commission and must be verified by the applicant.

(c) The applicant is entitled to a specialty shop license if the application shows compliance with the rules and regulations of the commission, a $25 license fee is paid, and he has not committed an act that constitutes a ground for denial of a license.
(d) Subsection (b) of this section does not apply to a shop operated under a beauty shop license issued by the commission.

Private Beauty Culture School License

Sec. 21. (a) A person holding a private beauty culture school license may maintain an establishment in which any practice of cosmetology is taught.

(b) An applicant for a private beauty culture school license must submit an application on a form prescribed by the commission. Each application must be verified by the applicant and must contain:

1. A detailed floor plan of the school building divided into three separate areas, one for instruction in theory, one for practice work of senior students, and one for practice work of juniors; and

2. A statement that the building is fireproof and of permanent type construction, contains a minimum of 3,500 square feet of floor space, with separate restrooms for male and female students, and contains or will contain before classes commence the equipment established by rule of the commission as sufficient to properly instruct a minimum of 50 students.

(c) Each applicant shall furnish a good and sufficient surety bond payable to the State of Texas in the amount of $5,000. The bond must be conditioned to refund any unused portion of the tuition paid if the school closes or ceases operation before the courses of instruction have been completed.

(d) A student is entitled to a pro rata refund of tuition if the student becomes physically unable to complete the courses of instruction.

(e) Each application must be accompanied by payment of a $250 license fee.

(f) The facilities of each applicant shall be inspected. The applicant is entitled to a private beauty culture school license if the inspection shows that this Act and the rules of the commission have been met and the applicant has not committed an act that constitutes a ground for denial of a license.

Private Beauty Culture Schools

Sec. 22. A private beauty culture school shall:

1. Maintain a sanitary establishment;
2. Maintain on its staff and on duty during business hours not less than two full-time instructors licensed under this Act, except that one instructor will be sufficient whenever the student enrollment drops below 15;
3. Maintain a daily record of attendance of students;
4. Establish regular class and instruction hours and grades, and hold examinations before issuing diplomas;
5. Require a school term of not less than nine months and not less than 1,500 hours instruction for a complete course in cosmetology;
6. Require a school term of not less than four weeks and not less than 150 hours instruction for a complete course in manicuring;
7. Require no student to work or be instructed or receive credit for more than eight hours of instruction in any one day or for more than six days in any one calendar week;
8. Maintain a copy of its curriculum in a conspicuously place and verify that this curriculum is being followed as to subject matter being taught; and
9. Submit to the executive director the name of each student within 10 days after enrollment in the school and notify the executive director of the withdrawal or graduation of a student within 10 days of the withdrawal or graduation.

Transfer of Hours of Instruction

Sec. 23. Any student of a private beauty culture school or a vocational cosmetology program in a public school may transfer completed hours of instruction to a private beauty culture school or vocational cosmetology program in a public school in this state. A transcript showing the number and courses of completed hours certified by the school in which the instruction was given must be submitted to the executive director. On evaluation and approval, the executive director shall certify in writing to the student and to the school to which the student desires a transfer that the stated hours and courses have been successfully completed and that the student is not required to repeat the instructions.

Student Work on Patrons

Sec. 24. (a) No school may receive compensation for work done by any student who has not completed 10 percent of the required number of hours for a license as provided by this Act.

(b) Each school shall maintain in a conspicuous place a list of the names and identifying pictures of the students who are enrolled in cosmetology courses.

(c) Any school violating this section is subject to revocation or suspension of its license.

Private Beauty Culture Schools and Beauty Shops

Sec. 25. Private beauty culture schools, beauty shops, or specialty shops may not be conducted in the same quarters or on the same premises unless they are separated by walls of permanent construction with no openings in them.

Employment of Licensees

Sec. 26. (a) A beauty culture school may not employ a person holding an operator, manicurist, or specialty certificate solely to perform the practices of cosmetology for which the person is licensed or employ a person holding an instructor license to perform any acts or practices of cosmetology.
(b) A licensee may not operate a beauty salon unless it is at all times under the direct supervision of a person holding an operator license or instructor license. A licensee or certificate holder may not operate a specialty shop unless it is at all times under the direct supervision of an operator, instructor, or specialty certificate holder.

(c) A person holding a beauty shop or specialty shop license may not employ a person as an operator or specialist who has not first obtained a license or certificate under this Act or who has not first obtained a license or certificate under the law regulating barbers.

Display of License

Sec. 27. Every holder of a license or certificate issued under this Act shall display the license or certificate in his place of business or employment.

Consumer Information

Sec. 28. There shall at all times be prominently displayed in each shop and salon regulated under this Act, a sign in letters no smaller than one inch in height, the contents of which shall contain the name, mailing address, and telephone number of the regulatory board having jurisdiction over those individuals licensed under this Act and which shall contain statement informing consumers that complaints against licensees can be directed to the regulatory board.

Right of Access

Sec. 29. The commission, an inspector, or any duly authorized representative of the commission may enter the premises of any licensee at any time during normal business hours and in such manner as not to interfere with the conduct or operation of the business or school to determine whether or not the licensee is in compliance with this Act and the rules of the commission.

Examinations

Sec. 30. Examinations shall be conducted beginning the first of each month unless it is a legal holiday, in which case the examination shall begin on the following day. The site of the examinations shall be announced at least six months prior to the administration date. Examinations may not be conducted in the schools of commission members. Not later than the 30th day after the day on which a person completes an examination administered by the commission, the commission shall send to the person his examination results. If requested in writing by a person who fails the examination, the commission shall send to the person not later than the 60th day after the day on which the request is received by the commission an analysis of the person's performance on the examination.

Health Certificate

Sec. 31. (a) Every applicant for an original or renewal operator, instructor license, reciprocal license, or specialty certificate must submit a certificate of health signed by a licensed physician, showing that the applicant is free from any contagious disease as determined by an examination that included a tuberculosis test.

(b) Any physician who signs a health certificate required by Subsection (a) of this section showing the applicant to be free from any contagious disease without having made the physical examination is guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction may be fined not less than $50 or more than $200.

Infectious and Contagious Diseases

Sec. 32. (a) A person holding an operator, instructor, or specialty certificate may not perform any practice of cosmetology knowing that he is suffering from an infectious or contagious disease.

(b) A person holding a beauty or specialty shop license or a beauty culture school license may not employ any person to perform any practice or practices of cosmetology knowing that the licensee is suffering from an infectious or contagious disease.

Renewal of Licenses and Certificates

Sec. 33. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (d) of this section, all licenses and certificates issued under this Act, except temporary and private beauty culture school licenses, expire two years from the date of issue.

(b) Applications for renewal of a specialty certificate must be accompanied by a current health certificate.

(c) A renewal license shall be issued on payment of the renewal fee as established by this Act.

(d) All licenses and certificates issued by the commission may be prorated for the number of months the license or certificate will be valid.

(e) A license that has been expired for less than five years may be renewed. A renewal license shall be issued on submission of a completed application form prescribed by the commission and payment of the renewal fee established by this Act for each year the license was expired, plus a $5 delinquency fee.

(f) An applicant for renewal of a license that has been expired for more than five years shall be issued a license on submission of an application, payment of the examination fee, satisfactory completion of the examination, and payment of a $25 reinstatement fee.

Renewal Fees

Sec. 34. Renewal fees under this Act are:

(1) Operator license $15;
(2) Instructor license $35;
(3) Manicurist license $15;
(4) Private beauty school license $150 per year; and
(5) Beauty or specialty shop license $25.
Art. 8451a

OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

Violation

Sec. 35. (a) If an inspector discovers a violation of this Act or of a rule established by the commission, he shall give written notice of the violation on a form prescribed by the commission to the violator, and if the violation is not corrected in 10 days from the date of notice, the inspector shall file a complaint with the executive director.

(b) If a licensee commits three or more violations of a similar nature within any 12-month period, a suit for injunction and proceedings for suspension or revocation of the license shall be instituted.

Grounds for Denial, Suspension, or Revocation of a Permit

Sec. 36. A license or certificate may be denied, or after a hearing, suspended or revoked if the applicant or licensee has:

(1) secured a license or certificate by fraud or deceit;
(2) violated or conspired to violate this Act or a rule issued under this Act;
(3) knowingly made false or misleading statements in any advertising of the licensee’s services;
(4) advertised, practiced, or attempted to practice under the name or trade name of another licensee under this Act; or
(5) engaged in gross malpractice in practicing cosmetology.

Application of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act

Sec. 37. (a) A person whose application for a license, certificate, or permit is denied is entitled to a hearing before the commission in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), if the person submits to the commission a written request for a hearing.

(b) Proceedings for suspension or revocation of a license or certificate and appeals from these proceedings are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended.

Injunction

Sec. 38. The commission may sue in district court to enjoin or restrain a person from violating any section of this Act or the commission rules.

Exemptions

Sec. 39. The following are exempt from the provisions of this Act:

(1) service in the case of an emergency;
(2) persons licensed in this state to practice medicine, surgery, dentistry, podiatry, osteopathy, chiropractic, or nurses;
(3) a person engaged in the business of or receiving compensation for makeup applications only;
(4) a person who acts as a barber regulated by the law of this state if the person does not hold himself out as a cosmetologist;
(5) a person volunteering services or an employee performing regular duties at a licensed nursing or convalescent custodial or personal care home when recipients of the services are patients residing in the home; and
(6) a person who owns, operates, or manages a licensed nursing or convalescent custodial or personal care home which allows a person with an operator license to perform services for patients residing in the home on an occasional but not daily basis.

Penalties

Sec. 40. (a) Any person who violates this Act, except Section 31 of this Act, is guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction is punishable by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $200.

(b) A licensee or certificate holder who violates this Act is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction is punishable under Subsection (a) of this section and is subject to the revocation or suspension of his license or certificate.

Complaints

Sec. 41. (a) The commission shall keep an information file about each complaint filed with the commission relating to a cosmetologist or cosmetology establishment.

(b) If a written complaint is filed with the commission relating to a cosmetologist or cosmetology establishment, the commission, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the complainant of the status of the complaint until the complaint is finally resolved.

CHAPTER THREE. BOXING, SPARRING, WRESTLING, ETC.

Art. 8501-1. Boxing and Wrestling Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Texas Boxing and Wrestling Act.

Purpose

Sec. 2. It is the legislature’s intent to improve the general welfare and safety of the citizens of this state. The legislature finds that the boxing and wrestling industry in this state should be regulated in order to protect the best interest of both contestants and the public, and it is the responsibility of the state to provide for the protection of the contestants and the public through the imposition of certain regulations on the boxing and wrestling industry and to impose a gross receipts tax upon the proceeds obtained from boxing and wrestling performances to finance said regulation. The legislature finds this to be the most economical and efficient means of dealing with this problem and serving the public interest. Accordingly, this Act shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying policies and purposes.

Definitions

Sec. 3. Whenever used in this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the following words and terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Commissioner" means the commissioner of the Texas Department of Labor and Standards or his designated representative.

(b) "Department" means the Texas Department of Labor and Standards.

(c) "Person" includes an individual, association, partnership, or corporation.

(d) "Professional boxer or wrestler" means a person to be licensed by the department who competes for a money prize, purse, or compensation in a boxing or wrestling contest, exhibition, or match held within the State of Texas.

(e) "Exhibition" means a demonstration of boxing or wrestling skills.

(f) "Boxing" as used in the Texas Boxing and Wrestling Act includes kickboxing, a form of boxing in which blows are delivered with any part of the arm below the shoulder, including the hand, and any part of the leg below the hip, including the foot.

(g) "Judge" means a person to be licensed by the department who is at ringside during a boxing or wrestling match and who has the responsibility of scoring the performance of the participants in the match.

(h) "Referee" means a person to be licensed by the department who has the general supervision of a boxing and wrestling match or exhibition and is present inside of the ring during the match or exhibition.

(i) "Promoter" means a person to be licensed by the department who arranges, advertises, or conducts a boxing or wrestling contest, match, or exhibition.

Enforcement Responsibility

Sec. 4. The department shall have the sole jurisdiction and authority to enforce the provisions of this Act, and the commissioner shall investigate any allegations of activity which may violate the provisions of this Act.

(a) The commissioner is authorized to enter at reasonable times and without advance notice any place of business or establishment where said alleged illegal activity may occur.

(b) The commissioner is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations and hold administrative hearings in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The commissioner shall promulgate any and all reasonable rules and regulations which may be necessary for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this Act. The commissioner is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations governing professional kickboxing contests or exhibitions, which shall be fought on the basis of the best efforts of the contestants. The commissioner shall have the power and authority to revoke or suspend the license or permit of any judge, boxer, wrestler, manager, referee, timekeeper, second, or promoter for violations of any rule or regulation promulgated pursuant to this Act or for the violation of any provision of this Act, and he may deny an application for a license when the applicant does not possess the requisite qualifications.

(c) The commissioner shall have the power and authority to hold a hearing regarding allegations that any person has violated or failed to comply with the provisions of this Act. In addition to the denial, revocation, or suspension of a license, the commissioner may order the forfeiture of the purse of any boxer, wrestler, or manager in an amount not to exceed $1,000 for the violation of any rule or regulation promulgated pursuant to the Act or for the violation of any provision of this Act, and said money shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund of the State of Texas.

(d) In the conduct of any administrative hearing held pursuant to this Act, the commissioner may administer oaths to witnesses, receive evidence, and issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers and documents related to matters under investigation. Administrative hearings shall be held in conformity with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Judicial Review

Sec. 5. (a) Any party to the hearing aggrieved by the decision or order of the commissioner may secure judicial review thereof in the following manner:

(1) The petition must be filed in a district court of Travis County, Texas, within 30 days after the decision or order of the commissioner becomes final.

(2) The filing of a petition for review shall not stay the effect of the decision or order complained of, but the commissioner or the reviewing court may order a stay upon appropriate terms and if a stay is so granted no supersedeas bond shall be required.
Art. 8501-1  OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

(3) Service of process. The petition for review shall be served on the commissioner and upon all parties of record in any hearing before the commissioner in respect to the matter for which review is sought. After service of such petition upon the commissioner and within the time permitted for filing an answer or as soon thereafter as the record is made available to the commissioner, the commissioner shall certify to the district court in which such petition is filed the record of the proceedings to which the petition refers. The cost of preparing and certifying such record shall be paid to the commissioner by the petitioner and taxed as part of the cost in the case, to be paid as directed by the court upon final determination of said cause.

(4) The review of any decision or order of the commissioner shall be tried by the court without a jury in the same manner as civil actions generally, but no evidence shall be admissible which was not adduced at the hearing on the matter before the commissioner or officially noticed in record of such hearing.

(5) The burden of proof shall be on the plaintiff. The reviewing court may affirm the action complained of or remand the matter to the commissioner for further proceedings.

(6) Appeals from any final judgment may be taken by either party in the manner provided for in civil actions generally, but no appeal bond shall be required of the commissioner.

Penalties

Sec. 6. (a) A person who violates a provision of this Act or any rule or regulation of the department commits a Class A misdemeanor.

(b) Any person who violates any provision of this Act or the rules and regulations of the department may be assessed a civil penalty to be paid to the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed $1,000 for each such violation as the court may deem proper.

(c) Whenever it appears that any person has violated or is threatening to violate any of the provisions of this Act or of the rules and regulations of the department, either the attorney general or the department may cause a civil suit to be instituted either for injunctive relief to restrain such person from continuing the violation or threat of violation or for assessment and recovery of the civil penalty or for both. Venue for such suit shall be in the district courts of Travis County, Texas.

Amateur Athletic Events

Sec. 7. (a) The promoting, conducting, or maintaining of boxing and wrestling matches, contests, or exhibitions when conducted by educational institutions, Texas National Guard Units, or amateur athletic organizations duly recognized by the commissioner shall be exempt from the licensing and bonding provisions of this Act provided that none of the participants in such contests or exhibitions receive a money remuneration, purse, or prize for their performance or services therein.

(b) None of the licensing and bonding provisions of this Act shall apply to or be enforced against:

(1) all nonprofit amateur athletic associations chartered under the laws of the State of Texas, including their affiliated membership clubs throughout the state which have been recognized by the commissioner;

(2) any contests, matches, or exhibitions between students of educational institutions which are conducted by a college, school, or university as part of the institution’s athletic program;

(3) contests, matches, or exhibitions between members of any troop, battery, company, or units of the Texas National Guard.

(c) When an admission fee is charged by any person conducting or sponsoring an amateur boxing and wrestling contest, match, or exhibition, except those amateur events exempted in Section 7(b) herein, the gross receipts tax hereinafter provided in Section 11 of this Act shall apply and must be paid by the sponsoring person. In addition, amateur boxing or wrestling contests wherein an admission fee is charged shall be conducted under the following conditions:

(1) The commissioner must approve the contest, match, or exhibition at least seven days in advance of the event.

(2) All entries shall be filed with the amateur organization at least three days in advance of the event.

(3) The amateur organization shall determine the amateur standing of all contestants.

(4) The amateur contest, match, or exhibition shall be subject to the supervision of the commissioner, and all profits derived from such contests shall be used in the development of amateur athletics.

(5) Only referees and judges licensed by the commissioner may participate in amateur contests, matches, or exhibitions.

(6) All contestants shall be examined by a licensed physician within a reasonable time prior to the event, and a licensed physician shall be in attendance at the ringside during the entire event.

(7) All professional boxers and wrestlers licensed under this Act are prohibited from participating in any capacity during an amateur contest, match, or exhibition.

Promoters

Sec. 8. (a) No person shall act as a promoter of either boxing or wrestling until he has been licensed pursuant to this Act.

(b) The application for a promoter’s license shall be made upon a form furnished by the commissioner and shall be accompanied by an annual license fee and the license or registration fee shall be $20 for a Boxing Promoter’s License and $20 for a Wrestling Promoter’s License in a city with a population not exceeding 10,000; $50 in cities with a population of 10,001 to 25,000, inclusive; $100 in cities with a population of 25,001 to 100,000, inclusive; $200 in cities with a population of 100,001 to 250,000, inclusive; and $300 in a city above 250,001 inhabitants.

The application for a promoter’s license shall be accompanied by a surety bond subject to the approval of the commissioner and conditioned for the payment of the tax hereby imposed. The commissioner shall fix the sum of the surety bond, but the sum may not be less than $300.

(c) The surety bond shall be issued by a company authorized to do business in Texas and shall be in conformity with the Insurance Code.

d) The surety bond shall be to the state for the use by the state or any political subdivision thereof who establishes liability against a promoter for damages, penalties, taxes, or expenses resulting from promotional activities conducted within the State of Texas.

e) The bond shall be open to successive claims up to the amount of face value, and a new bond must be filed each year. The bonding company is required to provide written notification to the department at least 30 days prior to the cancellation of the bond.

Other Required Licenses

Sec. 9. (a) No person shall act as a professional boxer or wrestler, manager of a professional boxer or wrestler, referee, judge, second, timekeeper, or matchmaker until he has been licensed pursuant to this Act.

(b) The application for a license shall be made upon a form furnished by the commissioner and shall be accompanied by an annual license fee as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Occupation</th>
<th>Fee</th>

(c) Revenue obtained from license fees shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

License Qualifications

Sec. 10. (a) The commissioner is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations setting forth reasonable qualifications for applicants seeking licenses as a promoter, manager, matchmaker, professional boxer or wrestler, judge, referee, second, or timekeeper.

(b) The commissioner may after investigation and hearing deny an application for a license when the applicant has failed to meet the established qualifications or has violated any provision of this Act or any rule or regulation issued pursuant to this Act.

Gross Receipts Tax

Sec. 11. (a) Any person who conducts a boxing or wrestling match, contest, or exhibition wherein an admission fee is charged shall furnish to the department within 72 hours after the termination of the event a duly verified report on a form furnished by the department showing the number of tickets sold, prices charged, and amount of gross receipts obtained from the event. A cashier’s check or money order made payable to the State of Texas in the amount of three percent of the total gross receipts of the event shall be attached to the verified report.

(b) Any person who charges an admission fee for exhibiting a simultaneous telecast of any live, spontaneous, or current boxing or wrestling match, contest, or exhibition on a closed circuit telecast must possess a promoter’s license issued pursuant to this Act and must obtain a permit for each closed circuit telecast shown in Texas. The three percent gross receipts tax described in Section 11(a) herein is applicable to said telecast, and the promoter shall furnish to the department within 72 hours after the event a duly verified report on a form furnished by the department showing the number of tickets sold, prices charged, and amount of gross receipts obtained from the event. A cashier’s check or money order made payable to the State of Texas in the amount of three percent of the total gross receipts of the event shall be attached to the verified report.

(c) Revenue obtained by the department from the three percent gross receipts tax shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

(d) The admissions tax provided in Chapter 21, Title 122A, Taxation-General, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, shall not be applicable to said telecast.

Arrest and Conviction Records

Sec. 12. The Department of Public Safety shall upon request supply to the Texas Department of Labor and Standards any available arrest and conviction records of individuals applying for or holding any license under this Act.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 815, ch. 305, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 2136, ch. 853, § 1, amended former subsec. (a) of this article without reference to revision of the Texas Boxing and Wrestling Laws by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 815, ch. 305, § 1.

Arts. 8501-2 to 8501-17c. Deleted

Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 815, ch. 305, § 1, revised the Texas Boxing and Wrestling Laws, Acts 1933, 43rd Leg., p. 843, ch. 241, classified as arts. 8501-1 to 8501-17c, by enacting the Texas Boxing and Wrestling Act, art. 8501-1.

See, now, art. 8501-1 and notes thereunder.
Art. 8700
OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

CHAPTER SIX. AUCTIONEERS

Art. 8700. Regulation of Auctioneers

Definitions

Sec. 1. For the purpose of this Act:

(1) "Auction" means the sale of any property by competitive bid.

(2) "Person" means an individual.

(3) "Property" means any property, tangible and intangible, real, personal, or mixed.

(4) "Auctioneer" means any person who, as a bid caller, with or without receiving or collecting a fee, commission, or other valuable consideration, sells or offers to sell property at auction.

(5) "Secured party" means a person holding a security interest.

(6) "Commissioner" means the Commissioner of the Texas Department of Labor and Standards.

(7) "Licensee" means any person holding a license under this Act.

(8) "Applicant" means any person applying for a license hereunder.

(9) "Associate auctioneer" means a person who, for compensation, is employed by and under the direct supervision of a licensed auctioneer to sell or offer to sell property at an auction.

Exempt Transactions

Sec. 2. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to the following transactions:

(1) a sale conducted by order of any United States court pursuant to Title II of the United States Code relating to bankruptcy;

(2) a sale conducted by an employee of the United States or the State of Texas or its political subdivisions in the course and scope of his employment;

(3) a sale conducted by a charitable or nonprofit organization, if the auctioneer receives no compensation;

(4) a sale conducted by an individual of his own property if such individual is not engaged in the business of selling such property as an auctioneer on a recurring basis;

(5) a foreclosure sale of realty conducted personally by a trustee under a deed of trust;

(6) a foreclosure sale of personal property conducted personally by the mortgagee or other secured party or an employee or agent of such mortgagee or other secured party acting in the course and scope of his employment if the employee or agent is not engaged otherwise in the auction business and if all property for sale in the auction is subject to a security agreement;

(7) a sale conducted by sealed bid.

(8) An auction conducted in a course of study, approved by the commissioner, for auctioneers and conducted only for student training purposes;

(9) an auction conducted by a posted stockyard or market agency as defined by the Federal Packers and Stockyard Act, 1921, as amended (7 U.S.C. Section 181 et seq.);

(10) an auction of livestock conducted by a nonprofit livestock trade association chartered in this state, if the auction involves only the sale of the trade association's members' livestock; or

(11) an auction conducted by a charitable or nonprofit organization chartered in this state, if the auction involves only the property of the organization's members and the auction is part of a fair that is organized under state, county, or municipal authority.

License Requirements

Sec. 3. (a) Except as exempted under this Act, no person may act as an auctioneer or associate auctioneer in an auction held within this state unless he holds a license issued by the commissioner under this Act.

(b) A person is eligible for an auctioneer's license if he:

(1) is at least 18 years of age;

(2) is a citizen of the United States or a legal alien;

(3) either (i) passes a written or oral examination demonstrating his knowledge of the auction business and of the laws of this state pertaining to the auction business; or (ii) shows proof of his employment by a licensed auctioneer for a period of one year during which the applicant participated in at least five auctions.

(c) A person is eligible for an associate auctioneer's license if he:

(1) is a citizen of the United States or a legal alien; and

(2) is employed under the direct supervision of a licensed auctioneer.

(d) Each person applying for a license must apply to the commissioner on a form provided by the commissioner that establishes the applicant's eligibility for the license. The application must be accompanied by the required bond, the required license fee, and either the limited sales tax permit number issued by the comptroller of public accounts or proof of exemption from the limited sales tax permit requirement.

(e) The commissioner shall prepare license examinations for an auctioneer's license and study and reference materials on which the examinations are based. The examination for auctioneers must be designed to establish the applicant's general knowledge of the auction business, the principles of conducting an auction, and the laws of this state pertaining to auctioneers. The license examination must be offered at least four times a year at locations designated by the commissioner.
(f) A person who establishes his eligibility for an auctioneer's license may apply to the commissioner for a license examination. The application must be accompanied by an examination fee of $25. On receipt of an examination application with the required fee, the commissioner shall furnish the applicant with study materials and references on which the examination will be based and a schedule specifying the dates and places the examination will be offered. The applicant may take the examination at any scheduled offering within 90 days after receipt of the study materials. If an applicant fails the qualifying examination, he may reapply to take the license examination again. However, if the applicant fails the examination twice within a one-year period, he must wait one year to reapply.

(g) If an application for an auctioneer's license from a nonresident of this state is accompanied by a certified copy of an auctioneer's license issued to the applicant by the county, state, or political subdivision of his residence and by proof that the county, state, or political subdivision in which the applicant is licensed has competency standards at least equivalent to those of this state, and if the county, state, or political subdivision extends similar recognition and courtesies to this state, the commissioner shall accept the license as proof of the applicant's professional competence and shall waive the examination and training requirements of Paragraph (3), Subsection (b) of this section. All other application requirements must be complied with by nonresidents, and in addition, a nonresident's application shall be accompanied by a written irrevocable consent of service of process. The consent must provide that actions growing out of any transaction subject to this Act may be commenced against the licensee in the proper court of any county of this state in which the cause of action may arise, or in which the plaintiff may reside, by a service of process according to this Act or any other method authorized by law.

(b) The bond shall be payable to the state for the use and benefit of any damaged party and conditioned that the licensee will pay any judgment recovered by any consumer, the state, or any political subdivision thereof in any suit for damages, penalties, or expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees resulting from a cause of action involving the licensee's auctioneering activities. The bond shall be open to successive claims, but the aggregate amount may not exceed the penalty of the bond.

Preemption

Sec. 6. No municipality or other political subdivision of this state has authority, after the effective date of this amendment, to levy or collect any license tax or fee, as a regulatory or revenue measure, or to require the licensing in any manner of any auctioneer or associate auctioneer who is licensed and complies with all applicable provisions of this Act.

Denial, Suspension, or Revocation of License

Sec. 7. (a) The commissioner may deny, suspend, or revoke the license of any auctioneer for any of the following causes:

(1) for obtaining a license through false or fraudulent representation;
(2) for making any substantial misrepresentation in an application for an auctioneer's license;
(3) for a continued and flagrant course of misrepresentation or for making false promises through agents, advertising, or otherwise;
(4) for failing to account for or remit, within a reasonable time, any money belonging to others that comes into his possession and for commingling funds of others with his own or failing to keep such funds of others in an escrow or trustee account;
(5) for conviction in a court of competent jurisdiction of this state or any other state of a criminal offense involving moral turpitude or a felony;
(6) for violation of this act or any rule or regulation of the department; or
(7) for any violation of the Business & Commerce Code in the conduct of an auction.

Sec. 4. (a) The annual fee for each auctioneer's license issued by the commissioner is $100. The annual fee for each associate auctioneer's license issued by the commissioner is $50. The commissioner shall issue the license upon approval of application and receipt of all license fees.

(b) All fees shall be paid to the state treasury and placed in the General Revenue Fund.

Fees

Sec. 5. (a) Each application for an auctioneer's license must be accompanied by a surety or cash performance bond in the principal amount of $5,000 and shall be in conformity with the Insurance Code.

(b) The bond shall be payable to the state for the use and benefit of any damaged party and conditioned that the licensee will pay any judgment recovered by any consumer, the state, or any political subdivision thereof in any suit for damages, penalties, or expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees resulting from a cause of action involving the licensee's auctioneering activities. The bond shall be open to successive claims, but the aggregate amount may not exceed the penalty of the bond.
(b) Before denying an application for a license or before suspending or revoking any license, the commissioner shall in all cases set the matter for a hearing, and shall, at least 30 days before the date set for the hearing, notify in writing the applicant or licensee of the charges made against him or of the question to be determined, including notice of when and where the hearing will be held.

(c) The applicant or licensee is entitled to an opportunity to be present and to be heard in person or by counsel and to an opportunity to offer evidence by oral testimony, by affidavit, or by deposition.

(d) Written notice may be served by delivery of the notice personally to the applicant or licensee or by mailing the notice by certified mail to the last known mailing address of the applicant or licensee. In the event the applicant or licensee is an associate auctioneer, the commissioner shall also notify the auctioneer employing him or in whose employ he is about to enter by mailing the notice by certified mail to the auctioneer's last known mailing address.

(e) The hearing must be conducted in a manner that will give to the applicant or licensee due process of law and that is consistent with the provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(f) If, after a hearing, the commissioner determines that a license should be denied, revoked, or suspended, the applicant or licensee has 30 days in which to appeal the commissioner's decision to the district court of Travis County or of the county in which the violation is alleged to have occurred.

Investigation of Complaint: Action

Sec. 8. The commissioner may, upon his own motion, and shall, on the written and verified complaint of any person aggrieved by the actions of an auctioneer in the conduct of an auction, investigate alleged violations of this Act by any licensed or unlicensed auctioneer or any applicant.

Rules and Regulations: Hearing of Testimony

Sec. 9. The commissioner may make reasonable rules and regulations relating to the form and manner of filing applications for licenses, the issuance, denial, suspension, and revocation of licenses, and the conduct of hearings consistent with the provisions of The Administrative Procedures Act. The commissioner or other person authorized by him may administer oaths and hear testimony in matters relating to the duties imposed on the commissioner.

Advertising an Auction

Sec. 10. Any auctioneer who advertises to hold or conduct an auction within this state shall indicate in such advertisement his name and license number.

Penalties

Sec. 11. (a) Whoever acts as an auctioneer as defined in this Act without first obtaining a license commits a Class B misdemeanor.

(b) Whoever violates any other provisions of this Act or any rule or regulation promulgated by the commissioner in the administration of this Act, for the violation of which no other penalty is provided, commits a Class C misdemeanor.

Section 12 of the 1975 Act repealed Tax-Gen. art. 19.01, § 11.

CHAPTER SEVEN. IRRIGATORS

Art. 8751. Regulation of Irrigators

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Person" means a natural person.

(2) "Board" means the Texas Board of Irrigators.

(3) "Executive director" means the executive director of the Texas Department of Water Resources.

(4) "Executive secretary" means the executive secretary of the board.

(5) "Commission" means the Texas Water Commission.

(6) "Irrigation system" means an assembly of component parts permanently installed with and for the controlled distribution and conservation of water for the purpose of irrigating any type of landscape vegetation in any location or for the purpose of dust reduction or erosion control.

(7) "Irrigator" means a person who sells, designs, consults, installs, maintains, alters, repairs, or services an irrigation system including the connection of such system in and to a private or public, raw or potable water supply system or any water supply. The term does not include (a) a person who assists in the installation, maintenance, alteration, repair, or service of an irrigation system under the direct supervision of a licensed irrigator, and (b) an owner of a business that regularly employs a licensed irrigator who directly supervises the business's sale, design, consultation, installation, maintenance, alteration, repair, and service of irrigation systems.

(8) "Licensed irrigator" means an irrigator who is licensed under this Act.

(9) "Installer" means a person who actually connects an irrigation system to a private or public, raw or potable water supply system or any water supply.

(10) "Licensed installer" means an installer who is licensed under this Act.
Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to:

(1) any person licensed by the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners;

(2) a registered professional engineer or architect or landscape architect if his or her acts are incidental to the pursuit of his or her profession;

(3) irrigation or yard sprinkler work done by a property owner in a building or on premises owned or occupied by him or her as his or her home;

(4) irrigation or yard sprinkler work done by a maintenance person incidental to and on premises owned by the business in which he or she is regularly employed or engaged and who does not engage in the occupation of licensed irrigator or in yard sprinkler construction or maintenance for the general public;

(5) irrigation or yard sprinkler work done on the premises or equipment of a railroad by a regular employee of the railroad who does not engage in the occupation of licensed irrigator or in yard sprinkler construction or maintenance for the general public;

(6) irrigation and yard sprinkler work done by a person who is regularly employed by a county, city, town, special district, or political subdivision of the state on public property;

(7) a temporary or portable water device such as a garden hose, hose sprinkler, soaker hose, or agricultural irrigation system;

(8) a portable or solid set or other type of commercial agricultural irrigation system; or

(9) irrigation or yard sprinkler work done by an agriculturist, agronomist, horticulturist, forester, gardener, contract gardener, garden or lawn caretaker, nurseryman, or grader or cultivator of land on land owned by himself or herself.

Texas Board of Irrigators

Sec. 3. (a) There is created a Texas Board of Irrigators composed of six members, each of whom shall be a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state.

(b) Each member of the board and his or her successor shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. Two members shall be members of the public not licensed under this Act and four members shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. Two members to serve terms expiring January 31, 1981, two members to serve terms expiring January 31, 1983, and two members to serve terms expiring January 31, 1985.

(c) Except for the initial appointees to the board, the members of the board hold office for terms of six years, with the terms of two members expiring on January 31 of each odd-numbered year. In making initial appointments, the governor shall designate two members to serve terms expiring January 31, 1981, two members to serve terms expiring January 31, 1983, and two members to serve terms expiring January 31, 1985.

(d) The board shall select one of its members as chairman. The chairman shall serve for the term provided by the rules of the board and may be removed for cause, but his or her removal does not disqualify him or her from continuing as a member of the board.

(e) Four members of the board constitute a quorum for transaction of business.

(f) The initial board shall hold its first meeting within 30 days after all members have qualified, and the board shall hold at least two regular meetings each year at a time and place designated by the chairman. The board may hold special meetings at times and places considered necessary by a majority of the members of the board.

(g) Each member shall receive as compensation for his or her services $25 a day for each day he or she is actively engaged in official duties in addition to actual travel expenses.

(h) It is a ground for removal of a member from the board that the member does not attend at least one-half of the regularly scheduled meetings held by the board in a calendar year.

Conflict of Interest

Sec. 4. A member of the board may not be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the field of landscape irrigation. No board member may be related within the second degree by affinity or within the second degree by consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the irrigation industry.

Executive Secretary; Staff; Services

Sec. 5. (a) The board may employ an executive secretary to perform the duties and functions provided by this Act and as directed by the board. On approval of the board the executive secretary may contract with the executive director for staff necessary to assist in the administration of this Act. In the event staff is unavailable through contract, the executive secretary with approval of the board and the executive director may employ such staff.

(b) The executive director shall provide necessary services as available to assist the executive secretary and the board in performing their duties and functions under this Act.

(c) The commission shall hear all contested cases as defined in the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), arising under this Act. The board is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).
Art. 8751  OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

(d) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not act as the general counsel to the board.

Board Finances

Sec. 6. (a) Money paid to the board under this Act shall be deposited in the State Treasury in a special fund known as the Texas Board of Irigators Fund.

(b) The Texas Board of Irrigators Fund shall be used to pay expenses under this Act.

(c) Before September 1 of each year, the board shall make a written report to the governor accounting for all receipts and disbursements under this Act.

(d) The state auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the board during each fiscal year.

Rules

Sec. 7. (a) The board shall adopt only those rules consistent with this Act to govern the conduct of its business and proceedings and shall adopt standards governing revocation of certificates of registration and connections to public or private water supplies by a licensed irrigator or a licensed installer.

(b) The board does not have authority to amend or enlarge by rule on any provision of this Act, to change the meaning of this Act by rule in any manner, to adopt a rule that is contrary to the underlying and fundamental purposes of this Act, or to make a rule that is unreasonable, arbitrary, capricious, illegal, or unnecessary.

(c) The board shall adopt no rules which would preclude advertising or competitive bidding.

(d) If the appropriate standing committee of either house of the legislature acting under Subsection (g), Section 5, Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as added (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), transmits to the board statements opposing adoption of a rule under that section, the rule may not take effect, or if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the board receives the committee's statements.

Registration Requirement

Sec. 8. (a) No person may act as an irrigator or installer unless he or she has a valid certificate of registration under this Act.

(b) The board shall issue certificates of registration to persons of good moral character who have shown themselves fit, competent, and qualified to act as licensed irrigators or licensed installers by passing a uniform, reasonable examination which will include the principles of cross connections and safety devices to prevent contamination of potable water supplies.

(c) The board shall provide in its rules for the preparation, administration, and grading of examinations to acquire certificates of registration under this Act. The fee for taking the examination is $50 for the irrigator certificate of registration and $35 for the installer certificate of registration.

(d) A person holding a certificate of registration under this Act shall not be required to comply with any other licensing requirements of other state agencies to perform connections to private or public raw or potable water supply systems.

(e) Not later than the 30th day after the day on which a person completes an examination administered by the board, the board shall send to the person his or her examination results. If requested in writing by a person who fails the examination, the board shall send to the person not later than the 30th day after the day on which the request is received by the board an analysis of the person’s performance on the examination.

Reciprocity

Sec. 9. (a) The board may certify for registration without examination an applicant who is registered as a licensed irrigator or licensed installer in another state or country that has requirements for registration that are at least substantially equivalent to the requirements of this state and that extends the same privilege of reciprocity to licensed irrigators or licensed installers registered in this state.

(b) The application for registration under this section shall be accompanied by a fee of not to exceed $50 for a licensed irrigator or $35 for a licensed installer as determined by the board.

Renewal

Sec. 10. (a) Certificates of registration expire on August 31 of each year.

(b) The board or the executive secretary shall notify every person registered under this Act of the date of expiration of his or her certificate and the amount of the fee that is required for renewal for one year. The notice shall be mailed at least two months in advance of the date of expiration of the certificate.

(c) A person may renew his or her certificate at any time during the months of July and August of each year by payment of the fee adopted by the board in an amount of not more than $100 for a licensed irrigator or $50 for a licensed installer.

(d) Failure of a registrant to renew his or her certificate by August 31 does not deprive the regis-trant of the right to renewal, but the fee paid for renewal of a certificate after the August 31 expiration date shall be increased 10 percent for each month or part of a month that renewal payment is delayed. If the registrant fails to renew within 90 days after the date of expiration of the registration certificate, the registrant must reapply for registration and must qualify under Section 8 of this Act to act as a licensed irrigator or licensed installer.

(e) Renewal certificates carry the same registration number as the original certificates.

(f) By rule, the board may adopt a system under which certificates of registration may expire on various dates during the year. Renewals may be made at any time during the two-month period before the designated expiration date, and renewal fees paid after the expiration date shall be increased 10 percent for each month or part of a month that renewal payment is delayed. If a registrant fails to renew within 90 days after the expiration date of the registration, the registrant must reapply for registration and must qualify under Section 8 of this Act to act as a licensed irrigator or a licensed installer. For the year in which the expiration date is changed, registration fees payable on August 31 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each registrant will pay only that portion of the registration fee that is allocable to the number of months during which the registration is valid, and on renewal of the registration on the new expiration date, the total of the registration fee is payable.

Revocation

Sec. 11. (a) The commission may revoke a certificate of registration of any registrant whom it finds guilty of:

1. violations of this Act or rules adopted under this Act;
2. fraud or deceit in obtaining a certificate of registration; or
3. gross negligence, incompetency, or misconduct while acting as a licensed irrigator or licensed installer.

(b) The commission shall hear complaints under Subsection (a) of this section subject to standards adopted by the board in its rules.

(c) Any person may file a complaint with the board. The complaint shall be in writing, shall be notarized, and shall set forth the facts alleged. Three copies of the written allegations shall be filed with the executive director. One copy shall be sent by certified mail to the alleged violator.

(d) On receipt of written allegations, the board, if it considers the information sufficient to support further action, shall issue an order referring the complaint to the commission for setting a hearing.

(e) If the executive director determines through investigation that evidence exists of a violation, he may refer such evidence to the board or may proceed directly to the commission to request setting of a hearing.

(f) The commission may compel the attendance of a witness before it as in civil cases in the district court by issuance of a subpoena.

Penalty: Injunction

Sec. 12. (a) A person who represents himself or herself as a licensed irrigator or licensed installer in this state without being licensed or exempted under this Act, who presents or attempts to use as his or her own the certificate of registration or the seal of another person who is a licensed irrigator or licensed installer, who gives false or forged evidence of any kind to the board or to any member of the board in obtaining or assisting in obtaining another a certificate of registration, or who violates a provision of this Act or a rule adopted under this Act shall be guilty of a Class C misdemeanor. Each day a violation of this subsection occurs constitutes a separate offense.

(b) The board or the executive director may request the attorney general to seek injunctive relief to prevent any of the acts of violation listed in Subsection (a) of this section.

Enforcement of Act

Sec. 13. The executive director with the assistance of the attorney general shall enforce this Act and the rules adopted by the board.

Local Rules and Regulations

Sec. 14. The regulatory authority of any city, town, county, special purpose district, or other political subdivision of the state may require licensed irrigators or licensed installers to comply with any reasonable inspection requirements or ordinances and regulations designed to protect the public water supply and pay any reasonable fees imposed by that local entity relating to work performed by licensed irrigators within its jurisdiction.

Certification of Certain Persons

Sec. 15. A person who holds a license as a landscape irrigator under Chapter 457, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 249c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), on the effective date of this Act is entitled to be certified as a licensed irrigator without meeting the requirements of Section 8 of this Act; however, persons seeking to become licensed installers must comply with Section 8 of this Act.

Sunset Provision

Sec. 16. The board is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the board is abolished and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

> "Sec. 17. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this Act shall be and the same are hereby repealed; provided, however, that this Act shall..."
only be construed as repealing or amending any laws affecting or regulating any other profession as necessary to allow a licensed irrigator or a licensed installer under this Act to connect an irrigation system to any public or private raw or potable water supply system.

"Sec. 19. If any article, section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Act is for any purpose or reason held to be unconstitutional, such invalid portion shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the valid portions of the Act irrespective of the fact that any one or more portions thereof be declared unconstitutional."

Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1779, ch. 389, § 33, transferred this Chapter from Title 122A, Taxation—General, Chapter 13, Tax on Coin-Operated Machines. Section 1 of the 1981 Act enacted Title 2 of the Tax Code.

Art. 8801. Definitions

The following words, terms and phrases as used in this Chapter are defined as follows:

(1) The term "owner" means any person, individual, firm, company, association or corporation owning any "coin-operated machine" in this State.

(2) The term "operator" means any person, firm, company, association or corporation who exhibits, displays or permits to be exhibited or displayed, in a place of business other than his own, any "coin-operated machine" in this State.

(3) The term "coin-operated machine" means every machine or device of any kind or character which is operated by or with coins, or metal slugs, tokens or checks, "music coin-operated machines" and "skill or pleasure coin-operated machines" as those terms are hereinafter defined, shall be included in such terms.

(4) The term "music coin-operated machine" means every coin-operated machine of any kind or character, which dispenses or vends or which is used or operated for dispensing or vending music and which is operated by or with coins or metal slugs, tokens or checks. The following are expressly included within said term: phonographs, pianos, graphophones, and all other coin-operated machines which dispense or vend music.

(5) The term "skill or pleasure coin-operated machines" means every coin-operated machine of any kind or character whatsoever, when such machine or machines dispense or are used or are capable of being used or operated for amusement or pleasure or when such machines are operated for the purpose of dispensing or affording skill or pleasure, or for any other purpose other than the dispensing or vending of "merchandise or music" or "service" exclusively, as those terms are defined in this Chapter. The following are expressly included within said term: marble machines, marble table machines, marble shooting machines, miniature race track machines, miniature football machines, miniature golf machines, miniature bowling machines, and all other coin-operated machines which dispense or afford skill or pleasure. Provided that every machine or device of any kind or character which dispenses or vends "merchandise, commodities or confections or plays music in connection with or in addition to such games or dispensing of skill or pleasure shall be considered as skill or pleasure machines and taxed at the higher rate fixed for such machines.

(6) The term "service coin-operated machines" means every pay toilet, pay telephone and all other machines or devices which dispense service only and not "merchandise, music, skill or pleasure.

(7) The term "commission" means the Texas Amusement Machine Commission.

Art. 8802. Amount of Tax

(1) Every "owner", save an owner holding an import license and holding coin-operated machines solely for re-sale, who owns, controls, possesses, exhibits, displays, or who permits to be exhibited or displayed in this State any "coin-operated machine" shall pay, and there is hereby levied on each "coin-operated machine", as defined herein in Article 13.01, except as are exempt herein, an annual occupation tax of $15.00, except that the annual tax on each coin-operated machine that is designed exclusively for showing motion pictures is $1,500.00. The tax shall be paid to the commission by cashier's check or money order.

(2) Provided that the first money taken from each coin-operated machine each calendar year shall be paid to the owner to reimburse the payment of that year's annual occupation tax levied above and those levied by any city or county. No owner shall agree or contract or offer to agree to contract to waive this reimbursement either directly or indirectly. No owner shall agree or contract with a bailee or lessee of a coin-operated machine to compensate said bailee or lessee in excess of fifty percent (50%) of the gross receipts of such machine after the above reimbursement has been made. In addition to all other penalties provided by law the commission shall revoke any license held under Article 13.17 by any person who violates this Subsection.

(3) The commission may provide a duplicate permit if a valid permit has been lost, stolen, or destroyed. The fee for a duplicate permit is $2.

Art. 8803. Exemptions from Tax

Gas meters, pay telephones, pay toilets, food vending machines, confection vending machines, beverage vending machines, merchandise vending machines, and cigarette vending machines which are now subject to an occupation or gross receipts tax, stamp vending machines, and "service coin-operated machines," as that term is defined, are expressly exempt from the tax levied herein, and the other provisions of this Chapter.

Art. 8804. Public Nuisance

Every coin-operated machine subject to the payment of the tax levied herein, and upon which the said tax has not been paid as provided herein, is hereby declared to be a public nuisance, and may be seized and destroyed by the commission, its agents, or any law enforcing agency of this State as in such cases made and provided by law for the seizure and destruction of common nuisances.

Art. 8805. Injunction; Venue; Payment of Tax as Condition Precedent; Records and Reports

(1) Any person who shall invoke the power and remedies of injunction against the commission to restrain or enjoin it from enforcement of the collection of the tax levied herein upon any grounds for which an injunction may be issued, shall file such proceedings in a court of competent jurisdiction in Travis County, Texas, and venue for such injunction is hereby declared to be in Travis County, Texas.

(2) Before any restraining order or injunction shall be granted against the commission to restrain or enjoin the collection of the taxes levied herein the applicant therefor shall pay into the suspense account of the State Treasurer all taxes, fees, and assessments then due by him to the State and the application for restraining order or injunction shall reflect said fact of payment under oath of the applicant, his agent, or attorney. Provided that said applicant shall keep for the inspection at all times of the Attorney General and the commission or their authorized representatives, a complete, itemized record maintained in accordance with generally accepted auditing and accounting practices, showing all coin-operated vending machines possessed and in operation during the pendency of such restraining order or injunction. Such record shall show the make and kind of machine, the serial number, the date such machine was put in operation, and the location and serial number of each and every machine possessed or operated within the State. Provided further that said applicant shall make and file with the commission daily, excluding Sundays and legal holidays, a report on a form to be prescribed by the commission, showing the ownership, make and kind, and the serial number of every such machine operated by said applicant within this State. Said report shall also show the county, city, and location within the city and county of each machine and the date such machine was placed in operation. In the event the location or ownership of any machine is changed such information shall be included in said report. Said application and temporary injunction or restraining order shall be immediately dismissed and dissolved after hearing if said applicant fails, at any time before the case shall have been finally disposed of by the court of last resort, to keep the records or make and file the reports required herein or to pay daily, excluding Sundays and legal holidays, into the suspense account of the Treasurer all taxes, fees and assessments due and thereafter becoming due, and such taxes shall be paid before such machines are operated, exhibited or displayed for operation within this State. The commission, or its authorized representatives, may file in the court granting such injunction an affidavit that said applicant has failed to comply with the provisions of this Chapter or has violated the same. Upon the filing of said affidavit, the clerk of the said court shall issue notice to the said applicant to appear before such court upon the date named therein, which shall be within five (5) days from service of such notice or as soon thereafter as the court can hear the same, to show cause why such injunction should not be dismissed, which notice shall be served by the sheriff of the county in which applicant resides or any other peace officer in this State. In the event the injunction is finally dissolved or dismissed, all taxes, fees and assessments paid into the suspense account of the Treasurer under the provisions of this Chapter shall be paid to the funds to which such taxes, fees and assessments are allocated. If the final judgment maintains the right of applicant to a permanent injunction to prevent the collection of such taxes the funds so deposited shall be refunded by the Treasurer to said applicant.
Art. 8805  OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

(3) No person, firm, association or corporation required to pay the taxes levied herein to the State may receive or take advantage of any benefit of any restraining order or injunction against the commission, to restrain the collection of the tax levied herein except such person, firm, association or corporation as may have applied for said injunction. All other persons not securing an injunction shall pay to the commission all taxes, fees, and assessments due in no way interfere with or impair the power of the commission to collect and enforce the payment of the taxes, fees, and assessments involved in any litigation from taxpayers not parties to the restraining order or injunction. Provided further, that no court shall entertain or hear any restraining order or injunction nor shall any restraining order or injunction be granted in behalf of any class or group unless and until each and every member of such class and/or group shall have been made a party to the cause of action, and shall have paid or deposited the taxes as hereinbefore provided.

Art. 8806. Attachment of Permit to Machine

Provided further, the permit issued by the commission to evidence the payment of the tax levied herein shall be securely attached to the machine in a manner that will require continued application of steam and water to remove the same.

Art. 8807. Rules and Regulations; Revocation of Licenses or Permits

(1) The commission may make and publish rules and regulations, not inconsistent with this Chapter or the other laws or the Constitution of this State or of the United States, for the enforcement of the provisions of this Chapter and the collection of the revenues hereunder.

(2) If any individual, company, corporation or association who owns, operates, exhibits or displays any coin-operated machine in this State, shall violate any provision of this Chapter or any rule and regulation promulgated hereunder, the commission shall investigate the violation, make findings of fact, and may recommend to the Attorney General that a license, permit, or registration certificate be revoked. If the licenses, permits, or registration certificate of any individual, company, corporation, or association owning, operating or displaying coin-operated machines in this State is revoked, such individual, company, corporation, or association shall not operate, display or permit to be operated or displayed such machines until the licenses, permits, or registration certificates are reinstated or until new licenses, permits, or registration certificates are granted.

Art. 8808. Permits; Collection of Tax; Payment of Expenses

The commission shall collect, and issue permits for the payment of the tax levied herein and to employ all the agencies of the law available to him for the enforcement of the provisions of this Chapter. Provided that Twenty-five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) of the funds derived under the provisions of this Chapter shall be deposited annually to the credit of the General Revenue Fund as payment for the services of the commission and other State agencies in the enforcement of this Chapter.

Art. 8809. Existing Laws; Violations Not Authorized

Nothing herein shall be construed or have the effect to license, permit, authorize or legalize any machine, device, table, or coin-operated machine, the keeping, exhibition, operation, display or maintenance of which is now illegal or in violation of any Article of the Penal Code of this State or the Constitution of this State.

Art. 8810. Records

Every "owner" of one or more coin-operated machines in this State shall keep for a period of two (2) years for the inspection at all times by the Attorney General and the commission, or their authorized representatives, a complete, itemized record maintained in accordance with accepted auditing and accounting practices of each and every such machine purchased, received, possessed, handled, exhibited or displayed in this State. Such record shall be kept at a permanent address which address shall be designated on the application for permit and shall include the following information: The kind of each such machine, the date acquired or received in Texas, the date placed in operation, the location or locations of each machine including county, city, street and/or rural route number, the date of each and every change in location, the name and complete address of each and every operator, the full name and address of the owner, or if other than an individual the principal officers or members thereof and their addresses. Such information shall be shown completely and separately for each and every machine. [Acts 1959, 56th Leg., 3rd C.S., p. 187, ch. 1. Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1046, ch. 407, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1975. Transferred from Title 122A, Taxation—General, art. 13.10 (f) to Art. 8811.]

Art. 8811. Violations of Act; Penalty; Suit to Recover Penalty

If any "owner" of a coin-operated machine within this State shall (a) permit any coin-operated machine under his control to be operated, exhibited or displayed within this State without said permit being attached thereto, or (b) if any person shall exhibit, display or have in his possession within this State any coin-operated machine without having annexed or attached thereto a permit issued by the commission showing the payment of the tax due thereon for the current year, or (c) if any person required to keep records of coin-operated machines in this State shall falsify such records, or (d) shall fail to keep such records, or (e) shall refuse or fail to present such records for inspection upon the demand of the commission or its authorized representatives, or (f) if any person in this State shall use any artful device or deceptive practice to conceal any violation of this Chapter, or (g) mislead the commission or its authorized representatives in the enforcement of this Chapter, or (h) if any person in this State shall fail to comply with the provisions of this Chapter, or violate the same, or (i) if any person in this State shall fail to comply with the rules and regulations promulgated by the commission, or violate the same, he shall be guilty of a Class C misdemeanor. [Acts 1959, 56th Leg., 3rd C.S., p. 187, ch. 1. Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1046, ch. 407, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1975. Art. 8812. Offenses; Penalty

(a) If any person shall exhibit, display or have in his possession within this State any coin-operated machine without having annexed or attached thereto a valid permit issued by the commission showing the payment of the tax due thereon for the current year, or

(b) if any person required to keep records of coin-operated machines in this State shall falsify such records or

(c) shall fail to keep such records, or

(d) shall refuse or fail to present such records for inspection upon the demand of the commission or its authorized representatives, or

(e) if any person in this State shall use any artful device or deceptive practice to conceal any violation of this Chapter, or

(f) mislead the commission or its authorized representatives in the enforcement of this Chapter, or

(g) if any person in this State shall fail to comply with the provisions of this Chapter, or violate the same, or

(h) if any person in this State shall fail to comply with the rules and regulations promulgated by the commission, or violate the same, he shall be guilty of a Class C misdemeanor.

Art. 8813. Sealing Machine to Prevent Operations; Penalty for Breaking Seal

Provided that the commission or its authorized representatives, may seal any such machine upon which the tax has not been paid in a manner that will prevent further operation. Whoever shall break the seal affixed by said commission or its authorized representatives, or whoever shall exhibit or display any such coin-operated machine after said seal has been broken or shall remove any coin-operated machine from location after the same has been sealed by the commission shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished as set out in Article 13.12 of this Chapter. The commission shall charge a fee of $25.00 for the release of any coin-operated machine sealed for nonpayment of tax. The fee shall be paid to the commission by cashier's check or money order. [Acts 1959, 67th Leg., 3rd C.S., p. 187, ch. 1. Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1046, ch. 407, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1975. Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2879, ch. 770, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1981. Art. 8814. Apportionment of Tax; Tax Levy by Counties and Cities

Except as herein provided in this Chapter, one-fourth (¼) of the net revenue derived from this Chapter shall be credited to the Available School Fund of the State of Texas and three-fourths (¾) of the net revenue derived from this Chapter shall be credited to the General Revenue Fund. Provided that all counties and cities within this State may levy an occupation tax on coin-operated machines in this State in an amount not to exceed one-half (½) of the State tax levied herein. Further provided that all political subdivisions of this State shall, for zoning purposes, treat the exhibition of a music and skill or pleasure coin-operated machine as indistin-
Art. 8814. OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION

Art. 8815. Sealing of Machines by City or County

Any city or county levying an occupation tax on coin-operated machines is hereby authorized to seal any such machine on which the tax has not been paid. Any city or county levying an occupation tax on coin-operated machines is hereby authorized to charge a fee not exceeding Five Dollars ($5) for the release of any machine sealed as provided herein for nonpayment of tax. Whoever shall break the seal affixed in the name of any city or county or exhibit, display or remove from location any machine on which the seal has been broken shall be guilty of a Class C misdemeanor.

Art. 8816. Taxes, Penalties and Interest Under Re-Enacted or Repealed Statutes; Offenses and Penalties Under Prior Laws

All occupation taxes, penalties and interest accruing to the State of Texas by virtue of any of the re-enacted or repealed provisions as set out in this Chapter before the effective date of this Chapter shall be and remain valid and binding obligations to the State of Texas for all taxes, penalties, and interest accruing under the provisions of prior or pre-existing laws, and all such taxes, penalties and interest now or hereafter becoming delinquent to the State of Texas before the effective date of this Chapter are hereby expressly preserved and declared to be legal and valid obligations to the State.

The passage of this Chapter shall not affect offenses committed, or prosecutions begun, under any pre-existing law, but any such offenses or prosecutions may be conducted under the law as it existed at the time of the commission of the offense.

Art. 8817. Regulation of Music and Skill or Pleasure Coin-Operated Machines

Sec. 1. The purpose of this Article is to provide comprehensive regulation of music and skill or pleasure coin-operated machines.

Sec. 2. In this Article, unless the context requires a different definition,

(2) “financial interest” includes any legal or equitable interest, and specifically includes the ownership of shares or bonds of a corporation.

Sec. 3. The commission shall administer this Article. The commission may initiate investigations, hearings, and take other necessary measures to ensure compliance with the provisions of this Article or to determine whether violations may exist. If the commission finds evidence of a violation, it shall notify the Attorney General who may institute a civil action in the name of the commission against a person who violates a provision of this Article. If the commission finds evidence of violation of penal provisions, it shall present it to the District or County Attorney of the county wherein such violation occurred.

Sec. 4. In addition to its other authority, the commission may, for the purpose of administering this Article,

(1) prescribe all necessary regulations and rules to ensure that all persons affected by this Article are afforded due process of law;

(2) hold hearings and prescribe rules of procedure and evidence for the conduct of hearings;

(3) issue licenses;

(4) prescribe the procedure for registration of music and skill or pleasure coin-operated machines and the method of securely attaching registration stamps;

(5) disclose confidential information to appropriate officials; and

(6) prescribe the form and content of

(a) license applications; and

(b) registration certificates;
(c) tax permits;
(d) reports concerning the location of coin-operated machines; and
(e) reports of the consideration of each party to contracts concerning the placement of coin-operated machines in establishments owned by a person other than the licensee.

Disposition of Fees
Sec. 4A. Fees received by the commission under this article shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

Delegation of Authority
Sec. 5. The commission may delegate to an authorized representative any authority given it by this Article, including the conduct of investigations and the holding of hearings.

Agency Cooperation
Sec. 6. All state agencies are directed to cooperate with the commission in its investigatory functions under this Article, and shall provide it access to their relevant records and reports including those declared or designated as confidential by other law.

Confidentiality; Penalty for Disclosure
Sec. 7. (1) All information derived from books, records, reports, and applications required to be made available under this Article to the commission or the Attorney General is confidential unless specifically designated a public record, and may be used only for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this Article.

(2) Any employee of the commission or Attorney General who discloses confidential information obtained from the administration of this Article to an unauthorized person is guilty of a Class C misdemeanor.

Consumer Information
Sec. 7A. (1) The commission shall prepare information of consumer interest describing the regulatory functions of the commission relating to coin-operated machines and describing the commission procedures by which consumer complaints relating to coin-operated machines are filed with and resolved by the commission. The commission shall make the information available to the general public and appropriate state agencies.

(2) Each written contract between a licensed owner and an operator in this state shall contain the name, mailing address, and telephone number of the commission.

License or Registration Certificate Required; Penalty; Exceptions
Sec. 8. (1) No person shall engage in business to manufacture, own, buy, sell, or rent, lease, trade, lend, or furnish to another, or repair, maintain, service, transport within the state, store, or import, a music coin-operated machine or a skill or pleasure coin-operated machine without a license or registration certificate issued under this Article.

(2) A person who knowingly violates this Section is guilty of a Class B misdemeanor.

(3) No license is required for a corporation or association organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, educational, or benevolent purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inure to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, to own, or lease or rent from another, a music or skill or pleasure coin-operated machine for the corporation's or association's exclusive use and in furtherance of the purposes for which it is established. No tax may be assessed against any of these entities if otherwise prohibited by law.

(4) No license or tax is required for an individual to own a music or skill or pleasure coin-operated machine for personal use and amusement in his private residence.

(5) No license is required for any person subject to regulation by the Railroad Commission of Texas to transport or store in the due course of business a music or skill or pleasure coin-operated machine not owned by him.

(6) A person who knowingly secures or attempts to secure a license under this Article by fraud, misrepresentation or subterfuge is guilty of a third-degree felony.

Nature of License
Sec. 9. (a) A license issued under this Article:

(1) is an annual license which expires on December 31st of each year, unless it expires as provided in subdivision (5) of this Section or is suspended or cancelled earlier;

(2) is effective for a single business entity;

(3) vests no property or right in the licensee except to conduct the licensed business during the period the license is in effect;

(4) is nontransferable, nonassignable, and not subject to execution; and

(5) expires upon the death of an individual licensee, or upon the dissolution of any other licensee.

(b) An application for the renewal of a license must be made to the commission before December 1 of each year.

Temporary Extension of License
Sec. 10. When a license issued under this Article expires because of the death of an individual licensee, or the dissolution of any other licensee, or upon conditions involving receivership or bankruptcy, the commission, except for good cause shown, shall permit the successor in interest to operate the business under the same license through December 31st of the year. The commission shall give this permission in writing upon certification by the County Judge of the county in which the business is located that the person requesting the extension is the successor in interest. The extended license is subject to suspension or cancellation as is any other license issued under this Article. An original license application is necessary upon expiration of the extension.

Sec. 15. (1) A person who wishes to engage in certain business dealing with music coin-operated machines or skill or pleasure coin-operated machines shall apply for a general business license, or an import license, or a repair license, or any combination of these.

(2) A general business licensee may engage in business to manufacture, own, buy, sell, rent, lease, trade, repair, maintain, service, transport or exhibit within the state, and store music and skill or pleasure coin-operated machines.

(3) An import licensee may engage in business to import, transport, own, buy, repair, sell, and deliver, music and skill or pleasure coin-operated machines, for sale and delivery within this State.

(4) A repair licensee may engage in the business of repairing, maintaining, servicing, transporting, or storing music, skill, or pleasure coin-operated machines.

Fees

Sec. 16. (1) The annual license fee for a general business license shall be as follows:
For an applicant with 50 or fewer machines, $200;
For an applicant with 51–200 machines, $400;
For an applicant with over 200 machines, $500.

(2) The annual license fee for an import license is $500.

(3) The annual license fee for a repair license is $50.

(4) The commission may not refund any part of a license fee after the license is issued. In the event a license is not issued, the commission may retain $25 to cover administrative costs, and may refund the balance.

(5) Cities and counties within this state may charge a license fee in an amount not to exceed one-half of the license fee required herein.

(6) A person must renew an unexpired license by paying to the commission before the expiration date of the license the annual license fee. If a person's license has been expired for not more than 90 days, the person must renew the license by paying to the commission a fee that is 1½ times the annual license fee. If a person's license has been expired for more than 90 days but less than two years, the person must renew the license by paying to the commission a fee that is two times the annual license fee. If a person's license has been expired for two years or more, the person may not renew the license. The person must obtain a new license by complying with the requirements and procedures for obtaining an original license.

Exemptions
Sec. 16A. (1) A person who owns or exhibits coin-operated machines is exempt from the licensing and record keeping requirements imposed by this Article if:

(a) he operates or exhibits his machines exclusively on premises occupied by him, and in connection with his business; and

(b) he owns no machine subject to the occupation tax imposed by this chapter located on the business premises of another person; and

(c) he has no financial interest, direct or indirect, in the coin-operated music, skill, or pleasure machine industry, except for the interest he owns in his machines used exclusively on premises occupied by him.

(2) Machines which are exhibited by a nonlicensed owner exempt under this section must be registered with the commission. The owner shall obtain a registration certificate each year. The registration certificate shall show the name and address of the location of each machine and shall certify that the machine has a valid tax stamp affixed to it. The owner shall obtain his registration certificate by filing sworn application.

(3) Each time the location of a machine is changed, the owner of the registration certificate shall notify the commission of the change by filing an amendment to the registration certificate within 10 days of the change.

(4) The fee for registration of machines affected by this section is $50 for the business entity in which the owner's machines are exhibited. The fee shall be paid to the commission by cashier's check or money order.

(5) An application for the renewal of a registration certificate must be made to the commission before December 1 of each year.

(6) A person must renew an unexpired registration for a machine by paying to the commission before the expiration date of the registration the required registration fee. If a person's registration has been expired for not more than 90 days, the person must renew the registration by paying to the commission a fee that is 1½ times the registration fee. If a person's registration has been expired for more than 90 days but less than two years, the person must renew the registration by paying to the commission a fee that is two times the registration fee. If a person's registration has been expired for two years or more, the person may not renew the registration. The person must obtain a new registration by complying with the requirements and procedures for obtaining an original registration.

Removal of Stamp Prohibited; Penalty
Sec. 17. (1) No person other than the commission may intentionally remove a current registration stamp from a music or skill or pleasure coin-operated machine.

(2) A person who violates this Section is guilty of a Class C misdemeanor.

License as Consent to Entry
Sec. 18. Acceptance of a license issued under this Article constitutes consent by the licensee that the commission or any peace officer may freely enter upon the licensed business premises during normal business hours for the purpose of ensuring compliance with this Article.

Grounds for Refusal, Suspension, or Revocation of License
Sec. 19. (1) The commission may not issue a general business or import license for a business under this Article if it finds that the applicant:

(a) has been finally convicted of a felony in a court of competent jurisdiction during the five years preceding the filing of the application; or

(b) has been on probation or parole as a result of a felony conviction during the two years preceding the filing of the application.

(2) The commission may not issue or renew a license for a business under this Article, and shall suspend for any period of time, or cancel a license, if it finds that the applicant or licensee is indebted to the State by judgment for any fees, costs, penalties, or delinquent taxes.
(3) The commission may not issue or renew a license for a business pursuant to the terms of this Article if the applicant does not designate and maintain an office in this state or if the applicant does not permit inspection by the commission of all records which the applicant or licensee is required to maintain.

Grounds for Reprimand of Licensee or Suspension or Revocation of License

Sec. 20. (1) A licensee may be reprimanded or a license issued pursuant to the authority of this Article may be suspended or revoked if:

(a) the licensee has intentionally violated a provision of this Article or a regulation promulgated pursuant to the authority of this Article;
(b) the licensee has intentionally failed to answer a question, or intentionally made a false statement in, or in connection with, his application or renewal;
(c) the licensee extends credit without registering his intent to do so with the consumer credit commission;
(d) the licensee uses coercion to accomplish a purpose or to engage in conduct regulated by the commission;
(e) a contract or agreement between the licensee and a location owner contains a restriction, of any kind and to any degree, on the right of the location owner to purchase, agree to purchase, or use a product, commodity, or service not regulated under the terms of this Article; or
(f) failure to suspend or revoke the license would be contrary to the intent and purpose of this Article.

(2) The commission shall conduct a hearing to ascertain whether a licensee has engaged in conduct which would be grounds for revocation or suspension. The commission shall make findings of fact, and, if the commission determines that grounds for revocation exist, the commission shall file those findings with the Attorney General. The Attorney General upon receipt of the record may institute an action to impose the penalties provided by this Act in Article 13.11 or to revoke or suspend the license. The action shall be instituted in a district court in the county of the licensee's place of business.

Complaints

Sec. 20A. (1) The commission shall maintain an information file about each complaint filed with the commission relating to a licensee.

(2) If a written complaint is filed with the commission relating to a licensee, the commission, at least as frequently as quarterly and until final disposition of the complaint, shall notify the parties to the complaint of the status of the complaint unless the notification would jeopardize an undercover investigation.

Applicant and Licensee Defined

Sec. 21. In Sections 19 and 20 of this Article, unless the context requires a different definition, the words “applicant” and “licensee” include each partner of a partnership; each trustee of a trust; each receiver of a receivership; each officer and director of a corporation; and each shareholder owning not less than 25 percent of the outstanding shares; any individual applicant or licensee; each officer, director, and member of any association or other entity not specified and, when applicable in context, the business entity itself.

Notice and Hearing

Sec. 22. (1) An applicant or licensee is entitled to at least ten days' notice and a hearing in the following instances:

(a) after his original application for a license has been refused;
(b) before his application for a renewal of a license may be refused;
(c) before the commission may file a recommendation of revocation, denial, or other sanction, with the Attorney General.

(2) Notice of hearing for refusal, cancellation, or suspension may be served personally by the commission or its authorized representative or sent by United States certified mail addressed to the applicant or licensee at his last known address. In the event that notice cannot be effected by either of these methods after due diligence, the commission may prescribe any reasonable method of notice calculated to inform a person of average intelligence and prudence in the conduct of his affairs. The commission shall publish notice of a hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the licensee conducts his business activities.

Notice of Commission's Order

Sec. 23. (1) Any order refusing an application or renewal application shall state the reasons for refusal, and a copy of the order shall be delivered immediately to the applicant or licensee.

(2) An order recommending cancellation or suspension of a license shall state the reasons for the cancellation or suspension, and a copy of the order shall be delivered immediately to the licensee.

(3) Delivery of the commission’s recommendation of refusal, cancellation, or suspension may be given by

(a) personal service upon an individual applicant or licensee;
(b) personal service upon any officer or director or partner or trustee or receiver, as the case may be;
(c) personal service upon the person in charge of the business premises, temporarily or otherwise, of the applicant or licensee;
Review of Commission Action

Sec. 24. (1) Appeal by an affected person from all actions of the commission other than a recommendation to the Attorney General for the revocation of a license as provided in Article 13.07(2) and Article 13.17 Section 20(2) of this Act or from denial of requested action shall be to a District Court of the county of the licensee's place of business. The review shall be conducted by the court and shall be confined to the record. If the record is found to be incomplete, the court may order that additional evidence be taken before the commission. The commission may modify its findings and decision or order by reason of the additional evidence and shall file such evidence and any modifications, new findings, decisions, or orders with the court. In cases of alleged irregularities in procedure before the commission, not shown in the record, proof thereon may be taken in the court.

(2) The court shall not substitute its judgment for that of the commission as to the weight of the evidence on questions of fact committed to commission discretion. The court may affirm the decision of the commission in whole or in part; the court shall reverse or remand the case for further proceeding if substantial rights of the appellant have been prejudiced because the commission's findings, inferences, conclusion, or decisions are:

(a) in violation of constitutional or statutory provisions;
(b) in excess of the statutory authority of the commission;
(c) made upon unlawful procedure;
(d) affected by other error of law;
(e) not reasonably supported by substantial evidence in view of the reliable and probative evidence in the record as a whole; or
(f) arbitrary or capricious or characterized by abuse of discretion or clearly unwarranted exercise of discretion.

Appeals

Sec. 25. Appeal from any final judgment of the District Court may be taken by any party, including the commission, in the manner provided for in civil actions generally; provided that the commission may not appeal a decision on motion of the Attorney General to revoke a license.

Prohibited Financial Relationships; Credit Transactions; Penalty

Sec. 26. (1) It shall be unlawful for a person who has a financial interest in a business required to be licensed by this Article or for any agent on behalf of such person to contract either orally or in writing to convey an interest in real property whether by lease, sub-lease or otherwise if such contract contains a provision or provisions in any way limiting the other party's right to secure music or skill or pleasure coin-operated machines from any source.

(2) It shall be unlawful for a person to secure or attempt to secure a contract of lease or bailment of a music or skill or pleasure coin-operated machine by coercion, threats or intimidation, through the commission of, or threat to commit, any act prohibited by the penal laws of this State or the Consumer Credit Code of this State.

(3) A person who violates Subsection (1) or (2) of this Section shall be guilty of a third-degree felony.

(4) Any person required to be licensed by this Article may make an extension of credit or lend the licensee's credit to a lessee or a bailee of a music or skill or pleasure coin-operated machine, or on behalf of either for business or commercial purposes when the following terms and conditions have been met and the following duties and obligations satisfactorily assumed and discharged.

(a) Before making the first such extension of credit, the licensee under this Article shall first notify the Consumer Credit Commissioner of the State of Texas of the intent of such licensee to make extensions of credit in the conduct of the licensee's business.

(b) The consideration for such extensions of credit shall not be less than one-half percent or exceed interest or its equivalent at the rate of one and one-half percent ($1.5%) per month, computed according to the United States Rule. Consideration excludes court costs and attorney's fees as determined by the court, but includes the aggregate interest, fees, bonuses, commissions, brokerage, discounts, expenses, and other forms of costs charged, contracted for, or received by a licensee or any other person in connection with investigating, arranging, negotiating, procuring, guaranteeing, making, servicing, collecting, and enforcing an extension of credit or forbearance of money, credit, goods, or things in action, or any other service rendered. If in any transaction any consideration in excess of that provided above is charged or received by the licensee directly, or indirectly, except as the result of an accidental and bona fide error corrected upon discovery, the unpaid balance of the indebtedness created by such transaction shall be void, and that portion of any indebtedness so created which has been paid to the licensee, either the principal or its equivalent or interest or its equivalent, or both, shall be repaid by the licensee to the person.

(c) No extension of credit may be made by any person required to be licensed by this Article unless it is evidenced by a written agreement signed by the parties thereto specifying both the amount... of credit extended, the consideration for such extension of credit, and the terms according to which such extension of credit is to be repaid.

(d) Each licensee making extensions of credit authorized by this Section shall keep in this State books and records, which shall be consistent with accepted accounting and auditing practices, relating to all such extensions of credit authorized by this Section sufficient to enable any competent person to determine whether or not such licensee is complying with this Section. Such records shall be preserved for four (4) years from the date of the transaction to which they relate, or two (2) years from the date of the final entry made with regard to such transaction, whichever is later.

(e) At such times as the Consumer Credit Commissioner may deem necessary, or at the request of the commission or the Attorney General, the Consumer Credit Commissioner, or his duly authorized representative, may make an examination of the place of business of each licensee hereunder, and may inquire into and examine the transactions, books, accounts, papers, correspondence, or records of such licensee insofar as they pertain to the extensions of credit regulated by this Section. In the course of such examinations, the Consumer Credit Commissioner or his duly authorized representative shall have free access to the office, place of business, files, safes and vaults of such licensee, and shall have the right to make copies of such books, accounts, papers, correspondence and records. The Consumer Credit Commissioner or his duly authorized representative may, during the course of such examination, administer oaths and examine any person under oath upon any subject pertinent to any matter about which the Commissioner is authorized or required by this Section to consider, investigate or secure information. Any licensee who shall fail or refuse to let the Consumer Credit Commissioner or his duly authorized representative examine or make copies of of such books or other relative documents shall thereby be deemed in violation of this Section. The information obtained in the course of such examination shall be confidential. Each licensee shall pay to the Consumer Credit Commissioner an amount assessed by the Commissioner to cover the direct and indirect costs of such examination, including a proportionate share of general administrative expenses, which amount shall be retained and held by the Consumer Credit Commissioner, and no part of such fee shall ever be paid into the General Revenue Fund of this State. All expenses incurred by the Consumer Credit Commissioner in conducting such examinations shall be paid only from such fees, and no such expense shall ever be charged against the funds of this State.

(f) The Consumer Credit Commissioner may make regulations necessary for the enforcement of this Section and consistent with all its provisions. Before making a regulation the Consumer Credit Commissioner shall give each licensee at least thirty (30) days' written notice of a public hearing, stating the time and place thereof and the terms or substance of the proposed regulation. At the hearing, any licensee or other person may be heard and may introduce evidence, data, or arguments or place the same on file. The Consumer Credit Commissioner, after consideration of all relevant matters presented, shall adopt and promulgate every regulation in written form, stating the date of adoption and date of promulgation. Each regulation shall be entered in a permanent record book which shall be a public record and be kept in the Consumer Credit Commissioner's office. A copy of every regulation shall be mailed to each licensee, and no regulation shall become effective until the expiration of at least twenty (20) days after such mailing. On the application of any person and payment of the cost thereof, the Consumer Credit Commissioner shall furnish such person a certified copy of any such regulation.

Art. 9001a. Tourist Trade Centers; Exemption from Saturday-Sunday Law

Definitions
Sec. 1. As used in this Act:

(1) "Tourist trade center" shall mean a specific contiguous area of not more than one-fourth square miles. Merchants within such area shall primarily offer for sale goods that are generally of interest to tourists. Seventy-five percent of all real property within such area shall be publicly owned.

(2) "Tourist trade center merchant" shall mean a merchant who employs no more than 10 persons and who primarily offers for sale goods that are of general interest to tourists and sells more than 75 percent of these goods to tourists and whose gross sales of all products for the preceding one-week period are not more than $10,000.
(3) "Saturday-Sunday Law" is Chapter 15, Acts of the 57th Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1961 (Article 9001, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 2. The governing body of an incorporated city or town, by ordinance, may designate two tourist trade centers within such city. A tourist trade center merchant, exclusively within a tourist trade center, shall be exempt from the provisions of the Saturday-Sunday Law.

Sec. 3. Any person may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction for and may obtain an injunction restraining anyone using the provision of this Act to claim an exemption from the Saturday-Sunday Law, when such person claiming the exemption is not a tourist trade center merchant within a tourist trade center. Such person bringing the action may recover recoverable attorney's fees, costs of court, and actual damages, if any.

Sec. 4. It is the intent of the legislature that this Act would not have been enacted if it in any way affects the constitutionality of the Saturday-Sunday Law and if any portion or provision of this Act is held or found to be unconstitutional, this Act shall be void and such shall not in any manner affect the Saturday-Sunday Law.

Art. 9009. Secondhand Metal Dealers; Records and Reports of Purchases and Sales of Copper, Brass and Bronze Materials

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 1]

Duty to Maintain Record; Exhibition; Form and Contents

Sec. 2. (a) Every secondhand metal dealer in this state shall keep a written record of all sales to and purchases from any individual of copper or brass material in excess of 50 pounds made in the course of his business. The record shall be exhibited on demand to any peace officer of this state or the United States. The record shall be in the English language in written form and shall include:

(1) the place and date of each sale to or purchase from an individual of copper or brass material in excess of 50 pounds made in the conduct of his business;

(2) the name and address of each individual from whom copper or brass material in excess of 50 pounds is purchased or obtained, and the license number of any motor vehicle used in transporting such copper or brass material to the secondhand metal dealer’s place of business;

(3) a description of the article or articles of copper or brass material sold or purchased and the quantity thereof.

(b) Every secondhand metal dealer in this state shall keep a written record of all purchases from any individual of any bronze cemetery vase or receptacle, any bronze cemetery memorial, or any bronze statuary made in the course of his business. The record shall be exhibited on demand to any peace officer of this state or the United States. The record shall be in the English language in written form and shall include:

(1) the place and date of each purchase from an individual of any bronze cemetery vase or receptacle, any bronze cemetery memorial, or any bronze statuary made in the course of his business;

(2) the name and address of each individual from whom any bronze cemetery vase or receptacle, any bronze cemetery memorial, or any bronze statuary is purchased or obtained, and the license number of any motor vehicle used in transporting the bronze pieces to the secondhand metal dealer’s place of business;

(3) a description of the bronze cemetery vase or receptacle, bronze cemetery memorial, or bronze statuary purchased and the weight of it.

Preservation of Records

Sec. 3. Every secondhand metal dealer shall preserve the records required by Section 2 of this Act for a period of at least two years.

Reports; Mailing

Sec. 4. Every secondhand metal dealer shall, within seven days after the purchase or other acquisition of any material required to be recorded under Section 2 of this Act, mail to or file with the Department of Public Safety a report containing the information required to be recorded in Section 2 of this Act.

[Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 380, ch. 169, §§ 1 to 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]
Art. 9009a. Crafted Precious Metals; Dealer Purchase and Disposition

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) “Crafted precious metals” includes jewelry, silverware, art objects, or any other thing or object made, in whole or in part, from gold, silver, platinum, palladium, iridium, rhodium, osmium, ruthenium, or their alloys, excluding coins and commemorative medallions.

(2) “Dealer” means a person who engages in the business of purchasing and selling crafted precious metals.

(3) “Department” means the Department of Public Safety of the State of Texas.

(4) “Person” means an individual, association, corporation, or any other legal entity.

(5) “Temporary location” means a place where business is conducted for a period shorter than 90 days.

Purchases from Minor

Sec. 2. (a) A dealer may not purchase crafted precious metals from a person under 18 years of age unless the seller delivers to the dealer before the purchase a written statement from a parent or legal guardian of the seller consenting to the transaction. The dealer shall preserve the statement with the records required to be kept under this Act. The dealer may destroy the statement one year from date of purchase or until the item is sold, whichever occurs later.

(b) A person who fails to obtain or keep a statement as required by this section commits a Class B misdemeanor.

Retention of Item

Sec. 3. (a) A dealer may not melt, alter, deface, or dispose of an item before the fourth day after the day on which the item was purchased if the item:

(1) is a crafted precious metal, and

(2) was purchased by the dealer in the course of business, and if purchased from other than a manufacturer of or a regular dealer in crafted precious metals.

(b) A dealer shall hold an item that is subject to Subsection (a) of this section for the period prescribed by that subsection:

(1) in the municipality in which the item was purchased; or

(2) in the county in which the item was purchased if it was not purchased inside the boundaries of a municipality.

(c) A person who melts, alters, defaces, or disposes of a crafted precious metal in violation of this section or who fails to hold an item as required by this section commits a Class B misdemeanor.

Sec. 4. (a) Each dealer shall keep at the dealer’s place of business a well-bound book in which the dealer shall enter for each transaction in which the dealer purchases an item made of crafted precious metals, if it was purchased by the dealer in the course of business and if purchased from other than a manufacturer of or a regular dealer in crafted precious metals:

(1) a description of each item purchased and the serial number of the item, if available;

(2) the name and address of the seller;

(3) the driver’s license number of the seller or information from some other method of identification.

(b) Each dealer shall preserve the records required by this section for one year from date of purchase or until the item is sold, whichever occurs later.

(c) A person who fails to keep a record as required by this section commits a Class B misdemeanor.

Inspection

Sec. 5. (a) The purchased property must be made available by the dealer for inspection by any police officer during regular business hours while the property is in the dealer’s possession. The investigating officer may inspect and copy any records required to be kept by this Act without obtaining a court order.

(b) Information obtained under this section is confidential except for use in a criminal investigation or prosecution or a civil court proceeding.

Purchases at Temporary Locations

Sec. 6. (a) A dealer who conducts business from a temporary location may not engage in business of buying precious metal or used items made of precious metal unless the person has filed a registration statement with the department within a 12-month period at least 90 days preceding the date on which each purchase is made and the person has filed, within the same period, a copy of the registration statement with the local law enforcement agency of the municipality in which the temporary location is situated or, if the temporary location is not situated in a municipality, with the local law enforcement agency of the county in which the temporary location is situated. A registration statement must set forth:

(1) the name and address of the person;

(2) the location where business is to be conducted; and

(3) other relevant information required by the department.

(b) If the dealer is an association or corporation, the statement must set forth the name and address of each member of the association or each officer and director of the corporation, respectively.
(c) A dealer who conducts business from a temporary location and who does not maintain a permanent location in the municipality in which the temporary location is located or, if the temporary location is not in a municipality, in the county in which the temporary location is located, shall be required to have delivered by person or by receipted United States mail within 48 hours after terminating business at the temporary location:

(1) the records of purchases made at the temporary location to the department; and

(2) a copy of those records to the law enforcement agency of the municipality or county, as the case may be.

(d) A dealer who fails to file a registration statement in violation of this section and who fails to deliver the records as required by Section 4 of this Act commits a Class B misdemeanor.

Purchase of Melted Items

Sec. 7. (a) A dealer, in the course of business, may not purchase an object that is formed as the result of the melting of crafted precious metal unless the object is purchased from a manufacturer of or a regular dealer in crafted precious metal.

(b) A person who purchases an object in violation of this section commits a Class B misdemeanor.

Necessity of Compliance with Other Law or Ordinance

Sec. 8. Nothing in this Act excuses noncompliance with another state law or city ordinance covering the reporting, holding, or releasing of crafted precious metal.

Effect of Act upon Enactment, Amendment, or Enforcement of Local Ordinance

Sec. 9. This Act does not prohibit enactment, amendment, or enforcement by any city of any local ordinance relating to a dealer and does not supersede any city ordinance except to the extent that an ordinance does not require any reporting for transactions involving crafted precious metal.

Application of Act

Sec. 10. This Act applies only to the crafted precious metals that have been sold or used primarily for personal, family, or household purposes. This Act does not apply to any person whose purchases and sales of precious metals and products made thereof are merely incidental to its business of extracting, recovering, or salvaging precious metals from industrial by-products and industrial waste products nor does this Act apply to dental, pharmaceutical, or medical applications of crafted precious metals.

Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 871, repealing this article, enacts the Natural Resources Code. For disposition of the subject matter of the repealed article, see Disposition Table following the Natural Resources Code.

Art. 9017. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 2305, ch. 719, art. II, § 1, eff. Jan. 1, 1976

Art. 9018. Artists' Consignment Act

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Artists' Consignment Act.

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) “Art” means a painting, sculpture, drawing, work of graphic art, pottery, weaving, batik, macrame, quilt, or other commonly recognized art form.

(2) “Artist” means the creator of a work of art or, if he is deceased, his estate.

(3) “Art dealer” means a person engaged in the business of selling works of art.

(4) “Creditor” has the meaning given that term by Section 1.201, Business & Commerce Code.

(5) “Person” means an individual, partnership, corporation, or association.

Sec. 3. A work of art delivered to an art dealer for the purpose of exhibition or sale, and the proceeds from the sale of the work by the dealer, whether to the dealer on his own account or to a third person, are not subject to the claims, liens, or security interests of the creditors of the art dealer, notwithstanding any provision of the Business & Commerce Code.

Art. 9019. Interception of Communications; Civil Remedies and Criminal Penalties

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(a) “Communication” means speech uttered by any person and any information including speech transmitted in whole or in part with the aid of wire or cable.

(b) “Interception” means the aural acquisition of the contents of any communication through the use of an electronic, mechanical, or other device without the consent of a party to the communication. Interception does not include the ordinary use of:

(1) a telephone or telegraph instrument, facility, or equipment;

(2) a hearing aid designed to correct subnormal hearing to not better than normal;

(3) a radio, television, or other wireless receiver; or
Art. 9019  OCCUPATIONAL AND BUSINESS REGULATION  4460

(4) a cable system that relays public wireless broadcasts from a common antenna to one or more receivers.

Sec. 2. (a) A party to a communication may bring a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction against any person, including a corporation or association, who:

(1) intercepts, attempts to intercept, or employs or obtains the services of another person to intercept or attempt to intercept the communication;

(2) uses or divulges information that he knows, or reasonably should have known, was obtained by intercepting the communication; or

(3) in his capacity as a landlord, building operator, telephone company or other communication common carrier through its agents or employees aids or knowingly permits the actual or attempted interception.

(b) In a suit filed under this section, a person who establishes a cause of action is entitled to:

(1) an injunction prohibiting further interceptions, attempted interceptions, or divulgence or use of information obtained by interception;

(2) statutory damages of $1,000;

(3) all actual damages in excess of $1,000;

(4) Any punitive damages the court or jury may award; and

(5) reasonable attorney's fees and costs.

(c) It shall not be unlawful for an operator of a switchboard or an officer, employee, or agent of any telephone company or other communication common carrier, whose facilities are used in the transmission of a wire communication, to intercept, disclose, or use that communication in the normal course of his employment while engaged in any activity which is a necessary incident to the rendition of his service or to the protection of the rights or property of the telephone company or other communication common carrier, provided that said communication common carriers shall not utilize service observing or random monitoring except for mechanical or service quality control checks. In any civil action under this article, it shall be the burden of any defendant relying upon this defense to establish by a preponderance of the evidence that every such interception, disclosure, or use was a necessary incident to the rendition of service.

(d) It is further provided that no cause of action will arise under this section with respect to surveillance authorized under the provisions of Title 18, United States Code, Section 2516, as amended.

Sec. 3. A landlord, building operator, employee of a telephone company or other communication common carrier, or any other person who knowingly aids or permits the actual or attempted interception of communications, as defined in this Act, shall on first conviction be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor, or, and on second or subsequent conviction be guilty of a third-degree felony, except that no criminal liability shall arise under the provisions of this Act with respect to surveillance authorized under state or federal law.

Art. 9020. Regulation of Invention Development Services Act

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Regulation of Invention Development Services Act.

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Invention development services" means any act done by or for an invention developer for the procurement or attempted procurement by the invention developer of a licensee or buyer of an intellectual property right in an invention. The term includes the evaluation, perfecting, marketing, brokering, or promoting of an invention, a patent search, and preparation or prosecution of a patent application by a person not registered to practice before the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office.

(2) "Invention" means a discovery, process, machine, design, formulation, product, concept, or idea, or any combination of these, whether patentable or not.

Customer

Sec. 3. For the purposes of this Act, a customer is:

(1) an individual who enters into a contract with an invention developer for invention development services; or

(2) a firm, partnership, corporation, or other entity that enters into a contract with an invention developer for invention development services and that is not purchasing those services as an adjunct to the traditional commercial enterprises in which it engages as a business.

Invention Developer

Sec. 4. For the purposes of this Act, an invention developer is an individual, firm, partnership, or corporation, or an agent, employee, officer, partner, or independent contractor of one of those entities, that offers to perform or performs invention development services for a customer and that is not:

(1) a department or agency of federal, state, or local government;

(2) a nonprofit, charitable, scientific, or educational organization, qualified under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act (Article 1396–1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) or described by Section 170(b)(1)(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended; 1

...
(3) an attorney acting within the scope of the attorney's professional license;
(4) a person registered before the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office acting within the scope of that person's professional license; or
(5) a person, firm, corporation, association, or other entity that does not charge a fee, including reimbursement for expenditures made or costs incurred by the entity, for invention development services other than payment made from a portion of the income received by a customer by virtue of acts performed by the entity.

Contracting Requirements

Sec. 5. (a) Each contract for invention development services by which an invention developer undertakes invention development services for a customer is subject to this Act. The contract must be in writing and the invention developer shall give a copy of the contract to the customer at the time the customer signs the contract.

(b) If it is the invention developer's normal practice to seek more than one contract in connection with an invention or if the invention developer normally seeks to perform services in connection with an invention in more than one phase with the performance of each phase covered in one or more subsequent contracts, the invention developer shall give to the customer at the time the customer signs the first contract:

(1) a written statement describing that practice; and
(2) a written summary of the developer's normal terms, if any, of subsequent contracts, including the approximate amount of the developer's normal fees or other consideration, if any, that may be required from the customer.

(c) For the purposes of this section, delivery of a promissory note, check, bill of exchange, or negotiable instrument of any kind to the invention developer or to a third party for the benefit of the invention developer irrespective of the date or dates appearing in that instrument is payment.

(d) Notwithstanding any contractual provision to the contrary, payment for invention development services may not be required, made, or received before the fourth working day after the day on which the customer receives a copy of the contract for invention development services signed by the invention developer and the customer.

(e) Until the payment for invention development services is made, the parties to a contract for invention development services have the option to terminate the contract. The customer may exercise the option by refraining from making payment to the invention developer. The invention developer may exercise the option to terminate by giving to the customer a written notice of its exercise of the option. The written notice becomes effective on its receipt by the customer.

Sec. 6. (a) A contract for invention development services must have a conspicuous and legible cover sheet attached. The cover sheet must set forth:

(1) the name, home address, office address, and local office address of the invention developer; and
(2) the following notice printed in bold-faced type of not less than 10-point size:

THIS CONTRACT BETWEEN YOU AND AN INVENTION DEVELOPER IS REGULATED BY THE STATE OF TEXAS' REGULATION OF INVENTION DEVELOPMENT SERVICES ACT. YOU ARE NOT PERMITTED OR REQUIRED TO MAKE ANY PAYMENTS UNDER THIS CONTRACT UNTIL FOUR (4) WORKING DAYS AFTER YOU SIGN THIS CONTRACT AND RECEIVE A COMPLETED COPY OF IT.

IF YOU ASSIGN EVEN A PARTIAL INTEREST IN THE INVENTION TO THE INVENTION DEVELOPER, THE INVENTION DEVELOPER MAY HAVE THE RIGHT TO SELL OR DISPOSE OF THE INVENTION WITHOUT YOUR CONSENT AND MAY NOT HAVE TO SHARE THE PROFITS WITH YOU.

THE TOTAL NUMBER OF CUSTOMERS WHO HAVE CONTRACTED WITH THE INVENTION DEVELOPER SINCE (year) IS (number). THE TOTAL NUMBER OF CUSTOMERS KNOWN BY THIS INVENTION DEVELOPER TO HAVE RECEIVED, BY VIRTUE OF THIS INVENTION DEVELOPER'S PERFORMANCE, AN AMOUNT OF MONEY IN EXCESS OF THE AMOUNT PAID BY THE CUSTOMER TO THIS INVENTION DEVELOPER IS (number).

YOU ARE ENCOURAGED TO CONSULT WITH A QUALIFIED ATTORNEY BEFORE SIGNING THIS CONTRACT. BY PROCEEDING WITHOUT THE ADVICE OF A QUALIFIED ATTORNEY, YOU COULD LOSE ANY RIGHTS YOU MIGHT HAVE IN YOUR IDEA OR INVENTION.

(b) The invention developer shall complete the cover sheet with the proper information to be provided in the blanks. In the first blank the invention developer shall enter the year that the invention developer began business or the effective date of this Act. The numbers entered in the last two blanks of the cover notice may be rounded to the nearest 100 and need not include those who have contracted with the invention developer during the three calendar months immediately preceding the date of the contract. If the number to be inserted in the third blank is zero, it must be so stated.

(c) The cover notice may not contain anything in addition to the information required by Subsection (a) of this section.
Reports to Customer Required

Sec. 7. For each contract for invention development services, the invention developer, at least once each calendar quarter during the term of the contract, shall deliver to the customer at the address specified in the contract a written report that identifies the contract and that sets forth:

(1) a full, clear, and concise description of the services performed to the date of the report and of the services to be performed;
(2) the name and address of each person, firm, or corporation to whom the subject matter of the contract has been disclosed, the reason for each disclosure, the nature of the disclosure, and copies of all responses received as a result of those disclosures.

Mandatory Contract Terms

Sec. 8. (a) A contract for invention development services shall set forth in bold-faced type of not less than 10-point size:

(1) the terms and conditions of payment and contract termination rights required by Section 5 of this Act;
(2) a full, clear, and concise description of the specific acts or services that the invention developer undertakes to perform for the customer;
(3) a statement as to whether the invention developer undertakes to construct, sell, or distribute one or more prototypes, models, or devices embodying the customer’s invention;
(4) the full name and principal place of business of the invention developer;
(5) the name and principal place of business of any parent, subsidiary, or affiliated company that may engage in performing any of the invention development services;
(6) a statement of estimated or projected customer earnings and a description of the data on which the estimation or projection is based if the invention developer makes an oral or written representation of estimated or projected customer earnings;
(7) the name and address of the custodian of all records and correspondence pertaining to the invention development services for which the contract is made;
(8) a statement that the invention developer is required to maintain all records and correspondence relating to performance of the invention development services for that customer until the second anniversary of the date of the expiration of the contract for invention development services and that on seven days’ written notice the invention developer will make the invention development services records and correspondence available to the customer or the customer’s representative for review and copying at the customer’s reasonable expense on the invention developer’s premises during normal business hours; and
(9) a statement setting forth a time schedule for performance of the invention development services, including an estimated date by which performance of the invention development services is expected to be completed.

(b) To the extent that the description of specific acts or services required by Subsection (a)(2) of this section gives the invention developer discretion in determining which acts or services will be performed, the invention developer is a fiduciary.

Remedies

Sec. 9. (a) A contract for invention development services that does not substantially comply with this Act is voidable at the option of the customer. A contract for invention development services entered into in reliance on any false, fraudulent, or misleading information, representation, notice, or advertisement of the invention developer is voidable at the option of the customer. Any waiver by the customer of any provision of this Act is contrary to public policy and is void.

(b) A customer who has been injured by a violation of this Act by an invention developer, by a false or fraudulent statement, representation, or omission of material fact by an invention developer, or by failure of an invention developer to make all disclosures required by this Act may recover in a civil action against the invention developer:

(1) court costs;
(2) attorney’s fees; and
(3) the amount of actual damages, if any, sustained by the customer or $1,000, whichever is greater.

(e) Alternatively, any violation of this Act by an invention developer, or omission of material fact by an invention developer, or failure of an invention developer to make all disclosures required by this Act constitutes a deceptive trade practice under Chapter 17 of the Business & Commerce Code. Remedies available under Subsection (b) of this section are mutually exclusive to those provided under this Subsection (c) in conformance with Section 17.43 of the Business & Commerce Code, as amended.

(d) For the purpose of this section, substantial violation of any provision of this Act by an invention developer or execution by the customer of a contract for invention development services in reliance on a false or fraudulent statement, representation, or material omission establishes a rebuttable presumption of injury.

Enforcement; Civil Penalty; Restraint of Violations

Sec. 10. The attorney general shall enforce this Act. The attorney general may recover a civil penalty not to exceed $2,000 for each violation of this Act and may seek equitable relief to restrain a violation of this Act.
Sec. 11. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, each invention developer rendering or offering to render invention development services in this state shall maintain a bond issued by a surety company authorized to do business in this state. The principal sum of the bond must be at least five percent of the invention developer's gross income from the invention development business in this state during the invention developer's last fiscal year or $25,000, whichever is greater. The invention developer shall file a copy of the bond with the secretary of state before the day on which the invention developer begins business in this state. Before the 91st day after the last day of the invention developer's fiscal year, the invention developer shall change the amount of the bond if necessary to conform with the requirements of this section.

(b) The bond required by Subsection (a) of this section must be in favor of the State of Texas for the benefit of any person who, after entering into a contract for invention development services with an invention developer, is damaged by fraud, dishonesty, or failure to provide the services of the invention developer in performance of the contract. Any person claiming against the bond may maintain an action at law against the invention developer and the surety. The aggregate liability of the surety to all persons for all breaches of conditions of the bond required by this subsection is limited to the amount of the bond.

(c) Instead of furnishing the bond required by Subsection (a) of this section, the invention developer may deposit with the secretary of state a cash deposit equal to the amount of the bond required by this section. The cash deposit may be satisfied by:

1. certificates of deposit payable to the secretary of state issued by banks doing business in this state and insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation;
2. investment certificates of share accounts assigned to the secretary of state and issued by a savings and loan association doing business in this state and insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation;
3. bearer bonds issued by the United States government or by this state; or
4. cash deposited with the secretary of state.

Effect on Other Laws

Sec. 12. This Act does not annul or limit any obligation, right, or remedy that is applicable or available under the law of this state.

TITLE 133
SAFETY

9205. Regulation and Offenses as to Fireworks

Sec. 2. (a) It shall be unlawful for any individual, firm, partnership, corporation or association to possess for sale within the state, sell or offer for sale, at retail, or use, within the State of Texas, any fireworks other than the permissible fireworks hereinafter enumerated.

Permissible fireworks, as that term is used in this Act, shall be understood to mean ICC Class C Common fireworks only and shall include only those fireworks enumerated as ICC Class C Common fireworks in the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, as said regulations are presently constructed, for the transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles and, except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, shall include and be limited to the following:

(1) Roman Candles, total pyrotechnic composition not to exceed twenty grams each in weight.
(2) Helicopter Type Rockets, total pyrotechnic composition not to exceed twenty grams each in weight.
(3) Cylindrical Fountains, total pyrotechnic composition not to exceed seventy-five grams each in weight. The inside tube diameter shall not exceed ¾ inch.
(4) Cone Fountains, total pyrotechnic composition not to exceed fifty grams each in weight.
(5) Wheels, total pyrotechnic composition not to exceed sixty grams in weight, for each driver unit, but there may be any number of drivers on any one wheel. The inside bore of driver tubes shall not be over ½ inch.
(6) Illuminating Torches and Colored Fire in any Form, total pyrotechnic composition not to exceed one hundred grams each in weight.
(7) Sparklers and Dipped Sticks, total pyrotechnic composition not to exceed one hundred grams each in weight. Pyrotechnic composition containing any chlorate shall not exceed five grams.

(b) Sky rockets with sticks that meet the following specifications are permissible fireworks:

(1) total propellant charge alone may not be less than four grams nor more than twenty grams each in weight;
(2) casing size may not be less than ¾ inch for the outside diameter and may not be less than 2½ inches in length;
(3) overall sky rocket length, including the stick, may not be less than 15 inches; and
(4) rocket stick must be securely fastened to the casing.

(c) Bottle rockets with sticks or sky rockets with sticks that do not meet the specifications of Subsection (b) of this section are not permissible fireworks.

Sec. 5.

D. An annual license fee of $10 will be charged all retailers who possess and sell fireworks enumerated in Section 2, for which an annual retailer's license shall be issued effective until midnight of the following 31st day of January. No person, firm or corporation shall offer fireworks for sale to individuals at retail before the 24th day of June and after the 4th day of July, or the 20th day of December of each year and after midnight of the 1st day of January of the following year.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 5E to 5G]

H. A license fee of $17.50 for each public display shall be paid at the time of obtaining the permit, as hereafter provided, being payable to and in the manner provided in Section 5A.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 5I to 5K]

L. An annual license fee of $200 will be charged all persons securing a general license under Section 10, for which a general license shall be issued effective until midnight of the following 31st day of January. Provided that a person holding a general license shall not be required to obtain a permit for each public display of fireworks which is conducted at a single location for which an original permit has been obtained. Nothing herein shall limit the authority of the State Fire Marshal or his authorized representatives to inspect the single location or to require such fire protection measures as may be appropriate.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of 6 to 15]

Art. 9206. Repealed by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1804, ch. 545, § 2(a)(4)

Art. 9207. Incidents Relating to Hazardous Materials; Liability of Persons Giving Assistance

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) “Hazardous material” means:

(A) a substance classified as a hazardous material under state or federal law or under a rule adopted pursuant to state or federal law; or

(B) a chemical, petroleum product, gas, or other substance that, if discharged or released, will or is likely to create an imminent danger to individuals, property, or the environment.

(2) “Gross negligence” means reckless, wilful, or wanton misconduct.

(3) “Person” means an individual, association, corporation, or other private legal entity.

Liability of Person Giving Assistance

Sec. 2. (a) A person is immune from civil liability for any act or omission that occurs in giving care, assistance, or advice with respect to the prevention or management of an incident related to the storage or transportation by any means of a hazardous material, which incident creates or might create a danger to individuals, property, or the environment as a result of the spillage, seepage, or other release of a hazardous material or as a result of fire or explosion involving a hazardous material.

(b) This section does not apply to a person giving care, assistance, or advice for or in expectation of compensation from or on behalf of the recipient of the care, assistance, or advice in excess of reimbursement for expenses incurred. This section shall not preclude liability for damages as a result of gross negligence or intentional misconduct on the part of a person.

(c) This section only applies when an incident or accident has already occurred and there is a danger or a threat of danger to individuals, property, or the environment.
