(2) “Person” includes any individual, partnership, corporation or association, or legal representative or agent.

(3) “Commerce” means any and all commerce within the State of Texas and subject to the jurisdiction thereof; and includes the operation of any business or service establishment.

(4) “Hazardous substance” means any substance or mixture of substances which is toxic, corrosive, flammable, an irritant, a strong sensitizer, or generates pressure through decomposition, heat, or other means, if the substance or mixture of substances may cause substantial personal injury or substantial illness during or as a proximate result of any customary or reasonably foreseeable handling or use, including reasonably foreseeable ingestion by children, or any toy or other article other than clothing intended for use by children which presents an electrical, mechanical, or thermal hazard; and any radioactive substance if, with respect to the substance as used in a particular class of article or as packaged, the department finds by regulation that the substance is sufficiently hazardous to require labeling in accordance with the provisions of this Act in order to protect the public health. The term “hazardous substance” does not apply to economic pesticides subject to the State or Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act nor to foods, drugs, and cosmetics subject to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act or to beverages complying with or subject to the Federal Alcohol Administration Act, or to the Texas Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, nor to substances intended for use as fuels when stored in containers and used in the heating, cooking or refrigeration system of a private residence, nor does it apply to or include any source material, special nuclear material, or by-product material as defined in the federal Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and regulations issued pursuant thereto by the Atomic Energy Commission.

tered, or when inhaled continuously for a period of one hour or less at an atmospheric concentration of 200 parts per million by volume or less of gas or vapor or two milligrams per liter by volume or less of mist or dust, if the inhaled concentration is likely to be encountered by any person when the substance is used in any reasonably foreseeable manner; or which produces death within 14 days in half or more than half of a group of 10 or more rabbits tested in a dosage of 200 milligrams or less per kilogram of body weight, when administered by continuous contact with the bare skin for 24 hours or less. However, if the department finds that available data based on human experience indicate results different from those obtained on animals, the human data shall take precedence.

(7) “Corrosive” means any substance which in contact with living tissue will cause destruction of that tissue by chemical action. It does not refer to chemical action on inanimate surfaces.

(8) “Irritant” means any noncorrosive substance which on immediate, prolonged, or repeated contact with normal living tissue will induce a local inflammatory reaction.

(9) “Strong sensitizer” means any substance which will cause on normal living tissue, through an allergic or photodynamic process, a hypersensitivity which becomes evident on reapplication of the same substances. Before designating any substance as a strong sensitizer, the department, upon consideration of the frequency of occurrence and severity of the reaction, shall find that the substance has a significant potential for causing hypersensitivity.

(10) “Flammable” applies to any substance which has a flash point of above 20 degrees to and including 80 degrees Fahrenheit, as determined by the Tagliabue Open Cup Tester. Any substance which has a flash point at or below 20 degrees Fahrenheit, as determined by the Tagliabue Open Cup Tester shall be designated “extremely flammable.” However, the flammability of solids, fabrics, children's clothing, household furnishings, and of the contents of self-pressurized containers shall be determined by methods found by the department to be generally applicable to these materials or containers, and shall be established by regulations issued by the department.

(11) “Radioactive substance” means a substance which emits ionizing radiation.

(12) “Label” means a display of written, printed, or graphic matter upon the immediate container of any substance, or in the case of an article which is unpackaged or is not packaged, in an immediate container intended or suitable for delivery to the ultimate consumer, a display of this matter directly on the article involved or on a tag or other suitable material affixed thereto.

(14) “Misbranded hazardous substance” means a hazardous substance (including a toy, or other article intended for use by children, which is a hazardous substance, or which bears or contains a hazardous substance in a manner which is susceptible of access by a child to whom the toy or other article is entrusted, intended or packaged in a form suitable for use in the household or by children) which fails to bear a proper label as required by this Act.

(15) “Electrical hazard” means an article which, in normal use or when subjected to reasonably foreseeable damage or abuse, by its design or manufacture may cause personal injury or illness by electrical shock.

(16) “Mechanical hazard” means an article which, in normal use or when subjected to reasonably foreseeable damage or abuse, by its design or manufacture presents an unreasonable risk of personal injury or illness;

(A) from fracture, fragmentation, or disassembly of the article;

(B) from propulsion of the article or any part or accessory thereof;

(C) from points or other protrusions, surfaces, edges, openings, or closures;

(D) from moving parts;

(E) from lack or insufficiency of controls to reduce or stop motion;

(F) as a result of self-adhering characteristics of the article;

(G) because the article or any part or accessory thereof may be aspirated or ingested;

(H) because of instability; or

(I) because of any other aspect of the article’s design or manufacture.

(17) “Thermal hazard” means an article which, in normal use or when subjected to reasonably foreseeable damage or abuse, by its design or manufacture presents an unreasonable risk of personal injury or illness because of heat as from heated parts, substances, or surfaces.

Sec. 3. (a) Any article of clothing (other than diapers) intended for the use of children which is not in compliance with flammability standards for such clothing established by the department shall be declared to be a banned hazardous substance by the department. The determination by the department that articles of clothing of a specified range of sizes are intended for the use of a child 14 years or younger shall be conclusive.
(b) Any toy or other article other than clothing intended for use by children, which is a hazardous substance, or which bears or contains a hazardous substance in a manner susceptible of access by a child to whom the toy or other article is entrusted, shall be declared to be a banned hazardous substance by the department.

(c) Any hazardous substance intended, or packaged, in a form suitable for use in a household, which, notwithstanding cautionary labeling required by this Act, is potentially so dangerous or hazardous when present or used in a household, that the protection of the public health and safety can be adequately served only by keeping the substance out of the channels of commerce, shall be declared to be a banned hazardous substance by the department.

(d) Any article subject to the provisions of this Act which cannot be labeled adequately to protect the public health and safety, or which presents an imminent danger to the public health and safety, shall be declared a banned hazardous substance by the department.

(e) The provisions of this section do not apply to any toy or article such as chemical sets which by reason of functional purpose requires the inclusion of a hazardous substance, or necessarily presents an electrical, mechanical, or thermal hazard, and which bears labeling which in the judgment of the department gives adequate directions and warnings for safe use, and is intended for use by children who have attained sufficient maturity and may reasonably be expected to read and heed these directions and warnings; nor do the provisions of this section apply to the manufacture, sale, distribution, or use of fireworks of any class.

No more than one such prescription shall be recorded on each form. Before delivering forms to a practitioner, the department shall print on the forms the name, address, and federal drug enforcement administration number of the practitioner.

(b) Each prescription form used to prescribe a controlled substance must be serially numbered and in triplicate, with the original copy labeled “Copy 1,” the duplicate copy labeled “Copy 2,” and the triplicate copy labeled “Copy 3.” Each form must contain spaces for:

(2) the date the prescription is filled;
(3) the drug prescribed, the dosage, and instructions for use;
(4) the name, address, and federal drug enforcement administration number of the dispensing pharmacy and the name of the pharmacist who fills the prescription; and
(5) the name, address, and age of the person for whom the controlled substance is prescribed.

(c) Except for oral prescriptions prescribed under Subsection (a) of Section 3.08 of this Act, the prescribing practitioner shall:

(3) retain Copy 3 of the form with his records for a period of not less than two years from the date the prescription is written.

(d) In the case of an oral prescription prescribed under Subsection (a) of Section 3.08 of this Act, the prescribing practitioner shall give the dispensing pharmacy the information it needs to complete the form.

(e) Each dispensing pharmacist shall:

(1) fill in on copies 1 and 2 of the form in the space provided the information not required to be filled in by the prescribing practitioner or the Department of Public Safety;

(2) retain Copy 2 with the records of the pharmacy for a period of not less than two years; and

(f) A practitioner in possession of prescription forms issued under Subsection (a) of Section 3.09 of this Act whose license to practice or federal drug enforcement administration number is suspended or revoked shall within seven days after the suspension or revocation becomes effective return to the department all of such forms which have not been used to issue prescriptions.

(g) The director shall not permit access to information submitted to the Department of Public Safety pursuant to this section to any person, except:

(1) investigators for the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, the Texas State Board of Podiatry Examiners, the State Board of Dental Examiners, the State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners, or the State Board of Pharmacy; or

(h) The system for retrieval of information submitted to the Department of Public Safety pursuant to this section shall be designed in all respects so as to preclude improper access to information through use of automated information security techniques and devices. The director shall submit the system design to the State Board of Pharmacy and the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners for review and approval or comment a reasonable time before implementation of the system and shall comply with the comments of those agencies unless it would be unreasonable to do so. The Texas State Board of Medical Examiners and the State Board of Pharmacy shall promptly approve or comment on the system design submitted by the director.

(i) Information submitted to the Department of Public Safety pursuant to this section shall be used only for bona fide drug-related criminal investigatory or evidentiary purposes or for investigatory or evidentiary purposes in connection with the functions of one or more of the regulatory boards listed in Subdivision (1) of Subsection (g) of this section.

(j) Each identity of an individual which is submitted to the Department of Public Safety pursuant to this section shall be removed from the system for retrieval of such information and shall be destroyed and rendered irretrievable not later than the end of the sixth calendar month following the month in which such identity was submitted to the department; provided that an individual identity which is necessary for use in a specific ongoing investigation conducted in accordance with this section may be retained in the system until the end of the month in which the necessity for retention of such identity ends. The department shall issue a report at least quarterly to the Legislative Budget Board certifying that the provisions of this subsection have been complied with and setting forth in detail the results of monthly audits showing that identities have been removed from the system and rendered irretrievable in compliance with this subsection. Failure to comply with any provision of this subsection shall be corrected as soon as practicable after discovery, and any person responsible for failure to comply with this subsection shall be subject to disciplinary action for such failure, including but not limited to dismissal.

(k) The director may promulgate rules to implement this section.

seizure is made, or if the property is a conveyance, in any county in which the conveyance was used or intended for use to transport or in any manner facilitate the transportation, sale, receipt, possession, or concealment of any property described in Paragraph (1), (2) or (3) of Section 5.03(a), a notice of the seizure and intended forfeiture. Replevy of Seized Property

Sec. 5.06. Any property, other than a controlled substance or raw material, or money, negotiable instrument, or security furnished or intended to be furnished by a person in exchange for a controlled substance in violation of this Act or used or intended to be used to facilitate a violation of this Act that is seized under this subchapter may be replevied by the owner, lienholder, secured party, or other party holding an interest in the nature of a security interest affecting the property, upon execution by him of a good and valid bond with sufficient surety in a sum double the appraised value of the property replevied, which bond shall be approved by the seizing officer and shall be conditioned upon return of the property to the custody of the officer on the day of hearing of the forfeiture proceeding and abide the judgment of the court.

Forfeiture Hearing

Sec. 5.07. (a) An owner of property, other than a controlled substance or raw material, that has been seized shall file a verified answer within 20 days of the mailing or publication of notice of seizure. If no answer is filed, the court shall hear evidence that the property is subject to forfeiture and may upon motion forfeit the property to the state or an agency of the state or to a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers. If an answer is filed, a time for hearing on forfeiture shall be set within 30 days of filing the answer and notice of the hearing shall be sent to all parties.

(b) If the owner of the property has filed a verified answer denying that the property is subject to forfeiture then the burden is on the state to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the property is subject to forfeiture. However, if no answer has been filed by the owner of the property, the notice of seizure may be introduced into evidence and is prima facie evidence that the property is subject to forfeiture.

(c) At the hearing any claimant of any right, title, or interest in the property may prove his lien, security interest, or other interest in the nature of a security interest, to be bona fide and created without knowledge or consent that the property was to be used so as to cause the property to be subject to forfeiture.

(d) If it is found that the property is subject to forfeiture, then the judge shall upon motion forfeit the property to the state or an agency of the state or to a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers. However, if proof at the hearing discloses that the interest of any bona fide lienholder, secured party, or other person holding an interest in the property in the nature of a security interest is greater than or equal to the present value of the property, the court shall order the property released to him. If such interest is less than the present value of the property and if the proof shows that the property is subject to forfeiture, the court shall order the property forfeited to the state or an agency of the state or to a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers.

(e) Upon petition of the seizing officer, filed in the name of the State of Texas with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the seizure of any controlled substance or raw material is made, the district court having jurisdiction may order the controlled substance or raw material summarily forfeited except when lawful possession and title can be ascertained. If a person is found to have had lawful possession and title prior to seizure, the court shall order the controlled substance or raw material returned to the owner, if the owner so desires.

Disposition of Forfeited Property

Sec. 5.08. (a) Regarding all controlled substances and raw materials which have been forfeited, the district court shall by its order direct a law enforcement agency to:

(1) retain the property for its official purposes;
(2) deliver the property to a government agency or department for official purposes;
(3) deliver the property to a person authorized by the court to receive it; or
(4) destroy the property that is not otherwise disposed in the manner prescribed by Section 5.081 of this Act.

(b) All other property that has been forfeited, except the money derived from the sale, manufacture, distribution, dispensation, delivery, or other commercial undertaking violating of this Act, and except as provided below, shall be sold at a public auction under the direction of the county sheriffs after notice of public auction as provided by law for other sheriff's sales. The proceeds of the sale shall be delivered to the district clerk and shall be disposed of as follows:

1. to any bona fide lienholder, secured party, or other party holding an interest in the property in the nature of a security interest, to the extent of his interest; and

2. the balance, if any, after deduction of all storage and court costs, shall be forwarded to the state comptroller and deposited with and used as general funds of the state.

(c) The state or an agency of the state or a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers may maintain, repair, use, and operate for official purposes all property that has been forfeited to it if it is free from any interest of a bona fide lienholder, secured party, or other party who holds an interest in the property in the nature of a security interest. The department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle may purchase the interest of a bona fide lienholder, secured party, or other party who holds an interest so that the property can be released for use by the department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle. The department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle may maintain, repair, use, and operate the property with money appropriated to the department or agency for current operations. If the property is a motor vehicle susceptible of registration under the motor vehicle registration laws of this state, the department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle is deemed to be the purchaser and the certificate of title shall be issued to it as required by Subsection (e) of this section.

(d) Storage charges on any property accrued while the property is stored at the request of a seizing officer of the department or agency receiving the forfeited vehicle pending the outcome of the forfeiture proceedings shall be paid by the department or agency out of its appropriations if such property after final hearing is not forfeited to the department or agency.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of 5.08(e)]

(f) All money, securities, negotiable instruments, stocks, or bonds forfeited to an agency of the state or an agency of a political subdivision of the state authorized by law to employ peace officers shall be deposited in a special fund to be administered by the agency or office to which they are forfeited. Expenditures from this fund shall be used solely for the investigation of any alleged violations of the criminal laws of this state. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to decrease the total salaries, expenses, and allowances which an agency or office is receiving from other sources at or from the time this subsection takes effect.

Forfeiture and Destruction of Excess Quantities

Sec. 5.081. (a) If notice is given in accordance with Subsection (b) of this section, a peace officer may file a petition before a magistrate who has jurisdiction over the subject matter asking that the controlled substance or the mixture containing the controlled substance that has been seized be forfeited to the state and destroyed.

(b) At least five days before a peace officer files a petition under Subsection (a) of this section, the sheriff of the county in which the seizure was made shall serve notice in accordance with the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure of the peace officer's intention to file the petition to each person arrested and charged with an offense under this Act related to the property which is the subject of the petition, and to each person who claims an interest in the seized property at the time notice is given. A copy of the petition must accompany each notice.

(c) Each petition filed under this section must identify the controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance, establish its location, and include an affidavit stating that:

1. at least five random and representative samples have been taken from the total amount of controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance, and a sufficient quantity has been preserved to provide for discovery by parties entitled to discovery;

2. photographs have been taken which reasonably demonstrate the total amount of the controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance;

3. the gross weight of the controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance has been determined, either by actually weighing the substance or by estimating its weight after making dimensional measurements of the total amount seized; and

4. after considering the difficulty and security risk of transporting and storing the substance and the nature of available storage facilities, the peace officer that has custody of the controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance has determined that it is not reasonably practical to preserve the substance in place, or to remove it to another location.

(d) The magistrate shall provide an interested person an opportunity to object to the proposed destruction.

(e) If the objection of an interested person is not sustained and the magistrate finds that the requirements of Subsections (b) and (c) of this section have been met, the magistrate shall issue an order forfeiting the controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance to the state and ordering the peace officer that has custody of the controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance to destroy it.
(f) On destruction of the controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance, the peace officer accomplishing the destruction shall sign a sworn statement before the magistrate attesting to the fact that the property was destroyed, the place of destruction, and the type and quantity of controlled substance or mixture containing the controlled substance destroyed.

(g) Representative samples, photographs, and records made pursuant to this section are admissible in evidence, regardless of whether or not the remainder of the substance has been destroyed. No inference or presumption of spoliation applies to substances destroyed pursuant to this section.

The Department of Community Affairs may charge reasonable fees for initial certifications and renewal certifications in such amounts as are necessary to cover the costs of the accreditation program. All certification fees collected by the Texas Department of Community Affairs under the provisions of this Act shall be placed in a special fund in the State Treasury to be known as the Drug Dependency Treatment Program Certification Fund. The fund may be appropriated only to the Texas Department of Community Affairs for the purpose of administering the drug dependency treatment certification program.

Section of Birth Certificate.—The section entitled "For Medical and Health Use Only" shall not be considered a part of the legal certificate of birth.

Rule 51a. Blanks and Registration Forms; Index of Births and Deaths; Records; Transcripts; Fees; Delayed Registrations; Judicial Procedure to Establish Facts of Birth.—A. The State Department of Health shall prepare, print, and supply to local registrars all blanks and forms used in registering, recording, and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purposes of this Act, and each city and incorporated town shall supply its local registrar, and each county shall supply the county clerk with permanent record books, in forms approved by the State Registrar, for the recording of all births, deaths, and stillbirths occurring within their respective jurisdictions. The State Registrar shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to procure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration; and no other forms shall be used than those approved by the State Department of Health. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory he shall require such further information to be supplied as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. All physicians, midwives, informants or funeral directors, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to supply, upon a form provided by the State Department of Health, or upon the original certificate, such information as they may possess regarding any birth, death, or stillbirth upon demand of the State Registrar, in person, by mail, or through the local registrar. After its acceptance for registration by the local registrar, no record of any birth, death, or stillbirth shall be altered or changed; provided, however, that if any such record is incomplete, or satisfactory evidence can be submitted proving the record to be in error in any respect, an amending certificate may be filed for the purpose of correcting such record, which amendment shall be in a form prescribed by the State Department of Health and shall, if accepted for filing, be attached to and become a part of the legal record of such birth, death, or stillbirth. The State Registrar shall further arrange, bind, and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner, and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive index of all births and deaths registered; said index to be arranged alphabetically, in the case of deaths, by the names of decedents, and in the case of births, by the names of fathers and mothers. When the State Registrar receives the death certificate of a person under 18 years of age whose birth has been registered in this state, the State Registrar shall make a conspicuous notation on the face of the decedent's birth certificate showing that the person is dead and shall provide copies of the death certificate to the county clerk of the county in which the decedent was born and to the local registrar of the district in which the decedent was born. If any organization or individual is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of this state, such organization or individual may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the State Registrar. If any person desires a transcript of any such record, the State Registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office, and for his services in so furnishing such transcript and certificate he shall be entitled to a fee of Ten Cents (10¢) per folio, Fifty Cents (50¢) per hour or fraction of an hour necessarily consumed in making such transcript, and to a fee of Twenty-five Cents (25¢) for the certificate, which fees shall be paid by the applicant; provided, that before the issuance of any such transcript, the State Registrar shall be satisfied that the applicant is properly entitled thereto, and that it is to be used only for legitimate purposes.

A-1. If an amending certificate of birth filed under Subsection A of this section completes or corrects information in a person's original or supplementary record of birth concerning the person's sex or color or race, then on request of that person or his legal representative, the State Registrar of Vital Statistics, local registrar, or other person who issues birth certificates shall issue a corrected or completed certificate of birth that incorporates the necessary changes in one document instead of issuing a copy of the original or supplementary certificate of birth with an amending certificate attached. The Texas Department of Health shall prescribe the form for certificates issued under this subsection.

A-2. A person whose certificate of birth was amended before the effective date of Subsection A-1 of this section to correct or complete information concerning sex or color or race, or such person's legal representative, may request a corrected or completed certificate of birth under Subsection A-1.

Rule 52a. Duties of Local Registrars.—That each local registrar shall supply blank forms of certificates to such persons as require them. Each local registrar shall carefully examine each certificate of birth or death when presented for record in order to ascertain whether or not it has been made out in accordance with the provisions of this act and the instructions of the state registrar; and if any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, it shall be his duty to call attention to the defects in the return. All certificates, either of birth or death, shall be written legibly, in durable black ink, and no certificate shall be held to be complete and correct that does not supply all of the items of information called for therein, or satisfactorily account for their omission.

If a certificate of birth is incomplete, the local registrar shall immediately notify the informant, and require him to supply the missing items of information if they can be obtained. He shall number consecutively the certificates of birth and death, in two separate series, beginning with number 1 for the first birth and the first death in each calendar year, and sign his name as registrar in attest of the date of filing in his office. He shall also make a complete and accurate copy of each birth and each death certificate registered by him in a record book supplied in accordance with provisions of Section 18 of this Act,1 to be preserved permanently in his office as the local record, in such manner as directed by the state registrar, or in the event that local ordinances require that all reports of births and deaths be made in duplicate, he may permanently bind the duplicate reports and index them in the manner prescribed in Section 18 for the state registrar. And he shall, on the tenth day of each month, transmit to the state registrar all original certificates registered by him for the preceding month. And if no births or no deaths occurred in any month, he shall, on the tenth day of the following month, report that fact to the state registrar, on a card provided for such purposes.

When the state registrar notifies the county clerk of the county in which the decedent was born and the local registrar of the district in which the decedent was born, the county clerk and the local registrar shall make a conspicuous notation on the face of the decedent’s birth certificate showing that the person is dead.

The State Registrar shall keep a true and correct account of all money received by him under these provisions, and deposit the same with the State Treasurer at the close of each month and at such other intervals as the Registrar deems advisable, and all such money shall be kept by the State Treasurer in a special and separate fund, to be known as the vital statistics fund, and the amounts so deposited in this fund shall be used for defraying expenses incurred in the enforcement and operation of this Act.
The State Registrar shall refund to the applicant any fee received for services which the Bureau cannot render. If the money has been deposited in the vital statistics fund, the Comptroller shall issue a warrant against the fund, upon presentation of a claim signed by the State Registrar, for the purpose of refunding the payment.

The State Registrar shall be entitled to a fee of Five Dollars ($5.00) for filing a new birth certificate based on adoption, a fee of Eight Dollars ($8.00) for filing a new birth certificate based on legitimation or paternity determination, and a fee of Five Dollars ($5.00) for filing an amendment to a birth certificate based on a court order of change of name, said fees to be paid by the applicants.

(e) The Texas Air Control Board shall cooperate with any legislative committee appointed to monitor the progress made in satisfying the requirements of this section.

(f) This section shall become effective upon approval by the administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency of those provisions of the plan submitted by the governor of the State of Texas in accordance with the Federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1977, which relate to inspection and maintenance of motor vehicles and the use of emission reductions credited to the pilot program established by this Act to allow for new source growth in affected areas.

The department of water resources shall consult with the department with respect to the public health aspects, and with the Texas Air Control Board with respect to the air pollution control and ambient air quality aspects, of the matters placed under the jurisdiction of the department of water resources by this Act.

(c) Where both municipal solid waste and industrial solid waste, except Class I industrial solid waste which is not routinely collected with municipal solid waste, are involved in any activity of management of solid waste, the department is the state agency responsible and has jurisdiction over the activity; and, with respect to that activity, the department may exercise all of the powers, duties and functions vested in the department by this Act.

(d) The department is designated under Chapter 72, Acts of the 57th Legislature, Regular Session, 1961, as amended (Article 4590f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as the state agency with respect to regulating radioactive waste activities that are not preemptively regulated by the federal government. The department has all powers under the Solid Waste Disposal Act, as amended (Article 4477-7, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), necessary or convenient to carry out responsibilities concerning the regulation of the management of solid waste components of any radioactive wastes under its jurisdiction.

State Agencies; Authority and Powers; Permits
Sec. 4. (a) As used in this section the term "state agency" refers to either the department or the department of water resources, and "state agencies" means both the department and the department of water resources.
(b) The department is authorized to develop a state municipal solid waste plan, and the department of water resources is authorized to develop a state industrial solid waste plan. The state agencies shall coordinate the solid waste plans developed. Before a state agency adopts its solid waste plan or makes any significant amendments to the plan, the Texas Air Control Board shall have the opportunity to comment and make recommendations on the proposed plan or amendments, and shall be given such reasonable time to do so as the state agency may specify.

(c) Each state agency may adopt and promulgate rules consistent with the general intent and purposes of this Act, and establish minimum standards of operation for all aspects of the management and control of the solid waste over which it has jurisdiction under this Act. Each state agency shall require persons who generate, transport, process, store, or dispose of Class I industrial solid waste or hazardous waste to provide recordkeeping and use a manifest or other appropriate system to assure that such wastes are transported to a processing, storage, or disposal facility permitted or otherwise authorized for that purpose.

(d) Each state agency is authorized to inspect and approve solid waste facilities used or proposed to be used for the storage, processing, or disposal of the solid waste over which it has jurisdiction.

(e) Except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section with respect to certain industrial solid wastes, each state agency has the power to require and issue permits authorizing and governing the operation and maintenance of solid waste facilities used for the storage, processing, or disposal of solid waste. This power may be exercised by a state agency only with respect to the solid waste over which it has jurisdiction under this Act. If this power is exercised by a state agency, that state agency shall prescribe the form of and reasonable requirements for the permit application and the procedures to be followed in processing the application, to the extent not otherwise provided for in this subsection. The following additional provisions apply if a state agency exercises the power authorized in this subsection:

(1) The state agency to whom the permit application is submitted shall mail a copy of the application or a summary of its contents to the Texas Air Control Board, to the other state agency, to the mayor and health authorities of any city or town within whose territorial limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction the solid waste facility is located, and to the county judge and health authorities of the county in which the facility is located. The governmental entities to whom the information is mailed shall have a reasonable time, as prescribed by the state agency to whom the application was originally submitted, to present comments and recommendations on the permit application before that state agency acts on the application.

(2) A separate permit shall be issued for each solid waste facility. The permit shall include the names and addresses of the person or persons who own the land where the solid waste facility is located and the person who is or will be the operator or person in charge of the facility; a legal description of the land on which the facility is located; and the terms and conditions on which the permit is issued, including the duration of the permit. The state agency in its discretion shall have the power to process a permit application for purpose of determining land use compatibility alone, and at another time, if the site location is acceptable, consider technical matters related to the application. Where this power is exercised, a public hearing may be held for each determination in accordance with Paragraph (4) of this Subsection (e).

(3) The state agency may amend, extend, or renew any permit it issues in accordance with reasonable procedures prescribed by the state agency. The procedures prescribed in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (e) for permit applications apply also to applications to amend, extend, or renew a permit.

(4) Before a permit is issued, amended, extended, or renewed, the state agency to which the application is submitted shall provide an opportunity for a hearing to the applicant and persons affected; the state agency may also hold such a hearing upon its own motion. The state agency by rule shall establish procedures for public notice and any public hearing authorized under this paragraph. A hearing on a permit involving a solid waste facility for hazardous industrial solid waste must include one session held in the county in which the solid waste facility is located. Hearings under this paragraph shall be conducted in accordance with the hearing rules adopted by the state agency and the applicable provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

(5) Before a permit is issued, amended, extended, or renewed, the state agency to which the application is submitted may require the permittee to execute a bond or give other financial assurance conditioned on the permittee’s satisfactorily operating and closing the solid waste facility. The state agency to which the application is submitted shall require an assurance of financial responsibility as may be necessary or desirable consistent with the degree and duration of risks associated with the processing, storage, or disposal of specified solid waste. Financial requirements established by the state agency shall at a minimum be consistent with the federal requirements established under the federal Solid Waste Disposal Act, as amended by the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act of 1976, 42 U.S.C., 6901 et seq., as amended.
(6) If a permit is issued, amended, renewed, or extended by a state agency in accordance with this Subsection (e), the owner or operator of the solid waste facility does not need to obtain a license for the same facility from a county, or from a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act.

(7) A permit issued under this Act is issued only to the person in whose name the application is made and is issued only for the facility described in the permit. A permit may not be transferred without prior written notice to and prior written approval by the state agency which issued it.

(8) The state agency has the authority, for good cause, to revoke or amend any permit it issues for reasons pertaining to public health, air or water pollution, land use, or violation of this Act or of any other applicable law or rules controlling the management of solid waste. The state agency using this authority shall notify the governmental entities named in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (e) and provide an opportunity for a hearing to the permittee and persons affected. The state agency may hold such a hearing upon its own motion. The state agency by rule shall establish procedures for public notice and any public hearing authorized under this paragraph. Hearings under this paragraph shall be conducted in accordance with the hearing rules adopted by the state agency and the applicable provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(9) Manufacturing and processing establishments, commonly known as rendering plants, which process for any purpose waste materials originating from animals, poultry, and fish (all hereinafter referred to as "animals") and materials of vegetable origin, including without limitation animal parts and scraps, offal, paunch masure, and waste cooking grease of animal and vegetable origin are subject to regulation under the industrial solid waste provisions of this Act and may also be regulated under Chapter 26, Water Code. When a rendering establishment is owned by a person who operates the rendering establishment as an integral part of an establishment engaged in manufacturing or processing for animal or human consumption food derived wholly or in part from dead, slaughtered, or processed animals, poultry, or fish, the combined business may operate under authority of a single permit issued pursuant to Chapter 26, Water Code. The provisions of this subsection do not apply to those rendering plants in operation and production on or before August 27, 1973.

(10) Each state agency may issue an emergency order, either mandatory or prohibitory in nature, regarding any activity of solid waste management within its jurisdiction, whether such activity is covered by a permit or not, if the state agency determines that the activity is creating or will cause extensive or severe property damage or economic loss to others or is posing an immediate and serious threat to human life or health and that other procedures available to the state agency to remedy or prevent the occurrence of the situation will result in unreasonable delay. The order may be issued without notice and hearing, or with such notice and hearing as the state agency deems practicable under the circumstances.

(i) If an emergency order is issued under this authority without a hearing, the issuing agency shall fix a time and place for a hearing to be held in accordance with the departmental rules by the state agency, so as to affirm, modify, or set aside the emergency order.

(ii) The requirements of Paragraph (4) of this subsection relating to public notice do not apply to such a hearing, but such general notice of the hearing shall be given in accordance with the departmental rules of the state agency.

(f)(1) This subsection applies to the collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal of industrial solid waste which is disposed of within the property boundaries of a tract of land owned or otherwise effectively controlled by the owners or operators of the particular industrial plant, manufacturing plant, mining operation, or agricultural operation from which the waste results or is produced, and which tract of land is within 50 miles from the plant or operation which is the source of the industrial solid waste. This subsection does not apply if the waste is collected, handled, stored, processed, or disposed of with solid waste from any other source or sources or if the waste, which is collected, handled, stored, processed, or disposed of is hazardous waste. The department of water resources may not require a permit under this Act for the disposal of any solid waste to which this subsection applies, but this does not change or limit any authority the department of water resources may have with respect to the requirement of permits, the control of water quality, or otherwise, under Chapter 26, Water Code. However, the department of water resources may adopt rules as provided under Subsection (c) of this section to govern and control the collection, handling, storage, processing, and disposal of the industrial solid waste to which this subsection applies so as to protect the property of others, public property and rights-of-way, groundwater, and other rights requiring protection. The department of water resources may require a person who disposes or plans to dispose of industrial solid waste under the authority of this subsection to submit to the department of water resources such information as may be reasonably required to enable the department of water resources to determine whether in its judgment the waste disposal activity is one to which this subsection applies.

(2) No person shall process, store, or dispose of hazardous industrial solid wastes under this subsection without having first obtained a hazardous waste permit issued by the commission; provided, however, that any person who has on or before November 19, 1980, commenced on-site processing, storing, or disposing of hazardous waste under this subsection and who has filed a hazardous waste permit application in accordance with the rules of the board may continue to process, store, or dispose of hazardous waste until such time as the commission approves or denies the application. Upon its own motion or the request of a person affected, the commission may hold a public hearing on an application for a hazardous waste permit. The board by rule shall establish procedures for public notice and any public hearing authorized by this subsection. The commission may include requirements in the permit for any remedial actions by the applicant that are determined by the commission to be necessary to protect the public health and safety and the environment.

(g) Each state agency is authorized to develop a program for the training of solid waste technicians to improve the competency of those technicians. Each state agency is authorized to issue letters of competency. The owner or operator of a solid waste facility is encouraged to employ as site manager a solid waste technician holding a letter of competency from the appropriate state agency. If a state agency develops a program for training solid waste technicians under this subsection, the state agency may:

(1) prescribe standards of training required for the program;
(2) determine the duration of the letter of competency;
(3) award one or more categories of letters of competency with each category reflecting a different degree of training or skill;
(4) require a reasonable, nonrefundable fee, in an amount determined from time to time by the state agency, to be paid by participants, deposited in the general revenue fund, and used for administering the program;
(5) extend or renew letters of competency issued by the state agency; and
(6) withdraw a letter of competency for good cause, which may include a violation of this Act or rules of the agency relating to the technician’s duties and responsibilities.

(h) The state agencies may, either individually or jointly:

(1) provide educational, advisory, and technical services to other agencies of the state, regional planning agencies, local governments, special districts, institutions, and individuals with respect to solid waste management;
(2) assist other agencies of the state, regional planning agencies, local governments, special districts, and institutions in acquiring federal grants for the development of solid waste facilities and management programs, and for research to improve the state of the art; and

(3) accept funds from the federal government for purposes relating to solid waste management, and to expend money received from the federal government for those purposes in the manner prescribed by law and in accordance with such agreements as may be necessary and appropriate between the federal government and each state agency.

If a state agency engages in any of the programs and activities named in this subsection on an individual basis, it may do so only as the participation by that state agency is related to the management and control of the solid waste over which it has jurisdiction. When the state agencies do not participate jointly, they shall coordinate on any efforts undertaken by either one individually so that similar programs and activities of the state agencies will be compatible.

(i) The state agencies are authorized to administer and expend state funds provided to them by legislative appropriations, or otherwise, for the purpose of making grants to local governments for solid waste planning, the installation of solid waste facilities, and the administration of solid waste programs. The grants made under the terms of this Act shall be distributed in a manner determined by the state agency to whom the appropriation is made. Any financial assistance granted by the state through either of the state agencies to any local government under the terms of this Act must, at a minimum, be equally matched by local government funds.

County Powers

Sec. 5. (a) Every county has the solid waste management powers which are enumerated in this Section 5. However, the exercise of the licensing authority and other powers granted to counties by this Act does not preclude the department or the department of water resources from exercising any of the powers vested in the department or the department of water resources under other provisions of this Act, including specifically the provisions authorizing the department and the department of water resources to issue permits for the operation and maintenance of facilities for the processing, storage, or disposal of solid waste. The powers specified in Subsections (d) and (e) of this section and Section 18 of the County Solid Waste Control Act (Article 4477–8, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes) may not be exercised by a county with respect to the industrial solid waste disposal practices and areas to which Subsection (f) of Section 4 of this Act applies. The department or the department of water resources, by specific action or directive, may supersede any authority or power granted to or exercised by a county under this Act, but only with respect to those matters which are, under this Act, within the jurisdiction of the state agency acting.

(b) A county is authorized to appropriate and expend money from its general revenues for the management of solid waste and for administering a solid waste program; and to charge reasonable fees for the services.

(c) A county may develop county solid waste plans and coordinate those plans with the plans of local governments, regional planning agencies, other governmental entities, the department, and the department of water resources.

(d) Except as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, a county is empowered to require and issue licenses authorizing and governing the operation and maintenance of facilities used for the processing, storage, or disposal of solid waste, excluding hazardous waste, in areas not within the territorial limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of incorporated cities and towns. If a county elects to exercise licensing authority, it must adopt, promulgate, and enforce rules for the management of solid waste. The rules shall be compatible with and not less stringent than those of the department or the department of water resources, as appropriate, and must be approved by, the department or the department of water resources as appropriate. The following additional provisions apply if a county exercises the power authorized in this Subsection (d):

(1) The county shall mail a copy of the license application with pertinent supporting data to the department, the department of water resources, and the Texas Air Control Board. The governmental entities to whom the information is mailed shall have no less than 60 days to submit comments and recommendations on the license application before the county acts on the application unless waived by the commenting agency.

(2) A separate license shall be issued for each solid waste facility. The license shall include the names and addresses of the person or persons who own the land where the solid waste facility is located and the person who is or will be the operator or person in charge of the facility; a legal description of the land on which the facility is located; and the terms and conditions on which the license is issued, including the duration of the license. The county is authorized to charge a fee for a license of not to exceed $100.00, as set by the commissioners court of the county. Receipts from the fees shall be placed in the general revenue fund of the county.

(3) The county may amend, extend, or renew any license it issues in accordance with rules prescribed by the county. The procedures prescribed in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (d) apply also to applications to amend, extend, or renew a license.

(4) No license for the use of a facility for the processing, storage, or disposal of solid waste may be issued, amended, renewed, or extended without the prior approval, as appropriate, of the department or the department of water resources. If a license is issued, amended, renewed, or extended by a county in accordance with this Subsection (d), the owner or operator of the facility does not need to obtain a permit from the department or the department of water resources for the same facility.

(5) A license issued under this Act is issued only to the person in whose name the application is made and is issued only for the facility described in the permit. A license may not be transferred without prior notice to and prior approval by the county which issued it.

(6) The county has the authority, for good cause, after hearing with notice to the licensees and to the governmental entities named in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (d), to revoke or amend any license it issues for reasons pertaining to public health, air or water pollution, land use, or violation of this Act or of any other applicable laws or rules controlling the processing, storage, or disposal of solid waste. For like reasons, the department and the department of water resources each may, for good cause, after hearing with notice to the licensee, the county which issued the license, and the other governmental entities named in Paragraph (1) of this Subsection (d), revoke or amend any license issued by a county, but only as to those facilities which fall, under the terms of this Act, within the jurisdiction of the state agency acting.

(e) Subject to the limitation specified in Subsection (a) of this section, a county may designate land areas not within the territorial limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of incorporated cities and towns as suitable for use as solid waste facilities. The county shall base these designations on the principles of public health, safety, and welfare, including proper land use, compliance with state statutes, and any other pertinent considerations.

(f) A county is authorized to enforce the requirements of this Act and the rules promulgated by the board of health and the board as related to the management of solid waste.

(h) A county may enter into cooperative agreements with local governments and other governmental entities for the purpose of the joint operation of solid waste management activities and to charge reasonable fees for the services.

Political Subdivisions With Jurisdiction in Two or More Counties

Sec. 6. This section applies to a political subdivision of the state which has jurisdiction over two or more counties or parts of two or more counties, and which has been granted the power by the Legislature to regulate solid waste handling or disposal practices or activities within its jurisdiction. The governing body of such a political subdivision may, by formal resolution, assume for the political subdivision the exclusive authority to exercise, within the area subject to its jurisdiction, the powers granted in this Act to a county, to the exclusion of the exercise of the same powers by the counties otherwise having jurisdiction over the area. In the exercise of these powers the political subdivision is subject to the same duties, limitations and restrictions applicable to counties under this Act. When a political subdivision assumes this authority, it shall also serve as the coordinator of all solid waste management practices and activities for all cities, counties and other governmental entities within its jurisdiction which have solid waste management regulatory powers or engage in solid waste management practices or activities. Once a political subdivision assumes the authority granted in this section, it is empowered to and shall exercise the authority so long as the resolution of the political subdivision remains in effect.

Restrictions on Use of Facility

Sec. 6a. (a) No incorporated city or town may abolish or restrict the use or operation of a solid waste facility within its limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction if the solid waste facility:

1. was in existence at the time the city or town was incorporated or was in existence at the time the city or town annexed the area where it is located; and
2. is operated in substantial compliance with all applicable state and county regulations.

(b) An incorporated city or town or a political subdivision operating a solid waste facility shall not be prevented from operating the solid waste facility on the ground that it is located within the limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of another city or town.

Right of Entry; Inspections; Access to Hazardous Waste Records

Sec. 7. (a) The authorized agents or employees of the department, the department of water resources, and local governments have the right to enter at all reasonable times in or upon any property, whether public or private, within the governmental entity's jurisdiction, including in the case of an incorporated city or town, its extraterritorial jurisdiction, for the purpose of inspecting and investigating conditions relating to solid waste management and control. Agents and employees shall not enter private property having management in residence without notifying the management, or the person in charge at the time, of their presence and exhibiting proper credentials. The agents and employees shall observe the rules and regulations of the establishment being inspected concerning safety, internal security, and fire protection.

(b) The authorized agents or employees of the department and the department of water resources may have access to, examine, and copy during regular business hours any records pertaining to hazardous waste management and control.

(c) Records copied pursuant to Subsection (b) of this section shall be public records, except that, if a showing satisfactory to the commissioner of the department or to the executive director is made by the owner of such records that the records would divulge trade secrets if made public, then the department or the department of water resources shall consider such copied records as confidential. Nothing in this subsection shall require the department of water resources or the department to consider the composition or characteristics of solid waste being processed, stored, disposed, or otherwise handled to be held confidential.

Prohibited Acts; Violations; Penalties; Injunction

Sec. 8. (a) Civil Penalties; Injunction. (1) No person may cause, suffer, allow, or permit the collection, storage, handling, transportation, processing, or disposal of solid waste, or the use or operation of a solid waste facility for the storage, processing, or disposal of solid waste, in violation of this Act or of the rules, permits, licenses or other orders of the department or the department of water resources, or a county or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act within whose jurisdiction the violation occurs.

(2) Any person who violates any provision of this Act or of any rule, permit, license, or other order of the department or the department of water resources, or a county or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act within whose jurisdiction the violation occurs, which is not a requirement applicable to hazardous waste, is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $100.00 nor more than $2,000.00 for each act of violation and for each day of violation, as the court may deem proper, to be recovered in the manner provided in this Section 8. Any person who violates any requirement applicable to hazardous waste shall be subject to a civil penalty of not less than $100.00 nor more than $25,000.00 for each act of violation and for each day of violation, as the court may deem proper, to be recovered in the manner provided in this Section 8(a).

(3) Whenever it appears that a person has violated, or is violating or threatening to violate, any provision of this Act, or of any rule, permit, or other order of the department or the department of water resources, or a county or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act within whose jurisdiction the violation occurs, the department or the department of water resources may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court for injunctive relief to restrain the person from continuing the violation or threat of violation, or for the assessment and recovery of a civil penalty as provided by this subsection, as the court may deem proper, or for both injunctive relief and civil penalty. Upon application for injunctive relief and a finding that a person is violating or threatening to violate any provision of this Act or any rule, permit, or other order of the department or the department of water resources, the district court shall grant appropriate injunctive relief. At the request of the commissioner or the executive director, the attorney general shall institute and conduct a suit in the name of the State of Texas for injunctive relief or to recover the civil penalty, or for both injunctive relief and penalty, as authorized in this subsection.

(4) Whenever it appears that a violation or threat of violation of any provision of this Act, or of any rule, permit, license, or other order of the department, the department of water resources, a county, or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, has occurred or is occurring within the jurisdiction of that county or political subdivision, the county or political subdivision, in the same manner as the department of water resources and the department, may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court through its own attorney for the injunctive relief or civil penalties, or both, as authorized in Subsection (3) of this section, against the person who committed, is committing, or is threatening to commit, the violation.

(5) Whenever it appears that a violation or threat of violation of any provision of this Act, or of any rule, permit, license, or other order of the department, the department of water resources, a county, or political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, has occurred or is occurring within the area of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of an incorporated city or town, or is causing or will cause injury to or an adverse effect on the health, welfare or physical property of the city or town or its inhabitants, then the city or town, in the same manner as the department of water resources and the department, may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court through its own attorney for the injunctive relief or civil penalties, or both, as authorized in Subsection (3) of this section, against the person who committed, is committing, or is threatening to commit, the violation.

(6) A suit for injunctive relief or for recovery of a civil penalty, or for both injunctive relief and penalty, may be brought either in the county where the defendant resides or in the county where the violation or threat of violation occurs. In any suit brought to enjoin a violation or threat of violation of this Act or of any rule, permit, license or other order of the department of water resources, the department, a county, or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, the court may grant the governmental entity bringing the suit, without bond or other undertaking, any prohibitory or mandatory injunction the facts may warrant, including temporary restraining orders after notice and hearing, temporary injunctions, and permanent injunctions.

(7) In a suit brought by a local government under Subsection (4) or (5) of this section, the department of water resources and the department are necessary and indispensable parties.

(8) Any party to a suit may appeal from a final judgment as in other civil cases.

(9) All civil penalties recovered in suits instituted under this Act by the State of Texas through the department of water resources or the department shall be paid to the General Revenue Fund of the State of Texas. All civil penalties recovered in suits first instituted by a local government or governments under this Act shall be equally divided between the State of Texas on the one hand and the local government or governments on the other, with 50 per cent of the recovery to be paid to the General Revenue Fund of the State of Texas and the other 50 per cent equally to the local government or governments first instituting the suit.

(b) Criminal Penalties. (1) Any person who knowingly:

(A) transports, or causes to be transported for storage, processing, or disposal, any hazardous waste to any location which does not have a permit as required by a state agency exercising jurisdiction under Section 4 of this Act;

(B) stores, processes; or disposes, or causes to be stored, processed, or disposed, any hazardous waste without having obtained a permit as required by a state agency exercising jurisdiction under Section 4 of this Act or in knowing violation of any material condition or requirement of a permit;

(C) makes, or causes to be made, any false material statement or representation in any application, label, manifest, record, report, permit, or other document filed, maintained, or used for purposes of compliance with any requirement of this Act applicable to hazardous waste; or

(D) generates, transports, stores, processes, or disposes of, or otherwise handles, or causes to be generated, transported, stored, processed, disposed of, or otherwise handled, any hazardous waste (whether such activity took place before or after the date of enactment of this section) and who knowingly destroys, alters, or conceals, or causes to be destroyed, altered, or concealed, any record required to be maintained under the rules promulgated by the state agency under this Act, shall be subject, upon conviction, to a fine or not less than $100.00 nor more than $25,000.00 for each act of violation and each day of violation, or to imprisonment not to exceed 180 days, or both.

If the conviction is for a violation committed after a first conviction of such person under this Section 8(b), punishment shall be by a fine of not less than $800.00 nor more than $50,000.00 for each day of violation, or by imprisonment not to exceed one year, or both.

(c) Knowing Endangerment. (1) Any person who knowingly:

(A) transports, processes, stores, or disposes of, or causes to be transported, processed, stored, or disposed of, any hazardous waste in violation of this Act and who knows at the time that he thereby places another person in imminent danger of death or serious bodily injury, and

(B)(i) if his conduct in the circumstances manifests an unjustified and inexcusable disregard for human life, or

(ii) if his conduct in the circumstances manifests an extreme indifference for human life, shall be subject upon conviction to a fine of not more than $250,000.00 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both, except that a person that violates Subsections (c)(1)(A) and (c)(1)(B)(ii) of this section shall, upon conviction, be subject to a fine of not more than $250,000.00 or imprisonment for not more than five years, or both. A person, other than an individual, shall upon conviction of violating this Section 8 be subject to a fine of not more than $1,000,000.00.

(2) It is an affirmative defense to a prosecution under this subsection that the conduct charged was consented to by the person endangered and that the danger and conduct charged were reasonably foreseeable hazards of

(A) an occupation, a business, or a profession; or

(B) medical treatment or medical or scientific experimentation conducted by professionally approved methods, if such endangered person had been made aware of the risks involved prior to giving consent.

(d) For purposes of Sections 8(b) and 8(c) of this Act, the term "person" means an individual, corporation, company, association, firm, partnership, joint stock company, foundation, institution, trust, society, union, or any other association of individuals.

(e) Venue for prosecution for any alleged violation of Subsections (b)(1) and (c)(1) of this Section 8 is in the county in which the violation is alleged to have occurred or in Travis County, Texas.

(f) All fines recovered under Sections 8(b) and 8(c) of this Act shall be equally divided between the State of Texas and the local government or governments first instituting the cause with 50 per cent of the recovery to be paid to the General Revenue Fund of the State of Texas and the other 50 per cent to be paid equally to the local government or governments instituting the cause, or as otherwise provided by this Act.

Appeals

Sec. 9. A person affected by any ruling, order, decision, or other act of the department or the department of water resources may appeal by filing a petition in a district court of Travis County. A person affected by any ruling, order, decision, or other act of a county, or of a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, may appeal by filing a petition in a district court having jurisdiction in the county or political subdivision. The petition must be filed within 30 days after the date of the action, ruling, order, or decision of the governmental entity complained of. Service of citation must be accomplished within 30 days after the date the petition is filed. The plaintiff shall pursue his action with reasonable diligence. If the plaintiff does not prosecute his action within one year after the action is filed, the court shall presume that the action has been abandoned. The court shall dismiss the suit on a motion for dismissal made by the governmental entity whose action is appealed, unless the plaintiff, after receiving due notice, can show good and sufficient cause for the delay. In an appeal from an action by the department, the department of water resources, a county, or a political subdivision exercising the authority granted in Section 6 of this Act, the issue is whether the action is invalid, arbitrary or unreasonable.

Cumulative Act

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative of and supplemental to any other laws and parts of laws relating to the same subject and does not repeal those other laws or parts of laws. Nothing in this Act diminishes or limits, or is intended to diminish or limit, the authority of the department, the department of water resources, the Texas Air Control Board, or local governments in performing any of the powers, functions, and duties vested in those governmental entities by other laws.

Section 10 of the 1981 amendatory act provides: "On or before January 1, 1982, the Texas Department of Water Resources, the Texas Department of Health, and the Railroad Commission of Texas shall execute a memorandum of understanding that specifies in detail these agencies' interpretation of the division of jurisdiction among the agencies over waste materials that result from or are related to activities associated with the exploration for and the development, production, and refining of oil or gas. The agencies shall amend the memorandum of understanding at any time that the agencies find it to be necessary."

Sec. 4. (a) Each issuer is authorized to acquire, construct, and improve or cause to be acquired, constructed, and improved solid waste resource recovery systems for lease or sale as provided below. The issuer is also authorized to acquire real property as deemed appropriate by the issuer for the solid waste resource recovery systems. Such solid waste resource recovery systems may be located upon property owned by the issuer or upon property of another person or persons. The issuer is authorized to enter into leases with persons whereby such persons shall lease any solid waste resource recovery systems of the issuer. The issuer is authorized to sell such solid waste resource recovery systems to any person or persons, including a person or persons using such systems, such sale to be by installment payments or otherwise and upon such conditions as the issuer deems desirable. Any lease or other sales contract entered into pursuant to this Act may be for such term as the parties may agree and shall provide that it shall continue in effect until the bonds specified therein or refunding bonds issued in lieu of such bonds are fully paid.

(b) Any public agency may contract with an issuer or with any person financing, acquiring, constructing, or improving a solid waste resource recovery system on such terms as the public agency considers appropriate.

Bonds and Bond Anticipation Notes

Sec. 5. (a) Each issuer is empowered to issue its bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness (hereinafter referred to as "bonds") payable from revenues of the issuer for the purpose of financing or refinancing the cost of acquiring, constructing, or improving or causing to be acquired, constructed, or improved solid waste resource recovery systems.

(b) The issuer may declare an emergency in the matter of funds not being available to pay principal and interest on any bonds of the issuer or to meet any other needs of the issuer and may issue bond anticipation notes to borrow the money needed by the issuer. Bond anticipation notes may bear interest at any rate or rates, fixed, floating, or otherwise, and shall mature within one year of their date. The bond anticipation notes so issued will be taken up with the proceeds of bonds, or the bonds may be issued and delivered in exchange for and in substitution of such notes.

(c) Such bonds shall be authorized by resolution of the governing body and shall have characteristics and bear such designation as may be determined by the governing body, provided that the designation of the bonds shall include the name or names of the person or persons leasing or purchasing such solid waste resource recovery systems, or if the solid waste resource recovery systems are to be leased or purchased by a group of persons, the designation may state that a group of persons will be leasing or purchasing such solid waste resource recovery systems as therein provided. The bonds shall be signed by the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer of the governing body, shall be attested by its secretary, and shall bear the seal of the issuer of the governing body. It is provided, however, that such signatures may be printed or lithographed on the bonds if authorized by the governing body, and such may be impressed on the bonds or may be printed or lithographed thereon. The issuer may adopt or use for any purpose the signature of any person who shall have been an officer, notwithstanding the fact that he may have ceased to be such officer at the time when bonds shall be delivered to a purchaser or purchasers. The bonds shall have any serial or otherwise in not to exceed 40 years, may bear interest at a rate or rates, fixed, floating, or otherwise, may be sold at public or private sale at a price or under terms determined by the governing body to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable within the discretion of the governing body, may be made callable prior to maturity at such times and prices as may be prescribed by the governing body and may be in coupon form with or without provisions for registration as to principal or may be registrable as to both principal and interest.

(d) Such bonds may be issued in more than one series and from time to time as required for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(e) The bonds of any issuer shall be payable solely from and secured by a pledge of all or any part of the revenues of the issuer derived from the lease or sale of solid waste resource recovery systems and in certain events out of amounts attributable to the proceeds of such bonds or amounts obtained through the exercise of any remedy provided in any resolution of the governing body or in any trust indenture or other instrument securing the bonds or notes in the manner specified in such resolution, trust indenture, or instrument. Any such pledge under this paragraph may reserve the right under conditions therein specified to issue additional bonds which will be on a parity with or subordinate to the bonds then being issued. Bonds issued for the purposes set out in this Act may be combined in the same issue with bonds issued for other purposes authorized by law.

(f) It shall be the duty of the governing body to fix and from time to time revise payments under leases and contracts for sale of the solid waste resource recovery systems of the governing body in order that such payments together with any other pledged revenues will be sufficient to pay such bonds and the interest thereon as the same mature and become due and to maintain the reserve or other funds as provided in the resolutions authorizing such bonds or the trust indenture or other instruments securing such bonds. The governing body shall have the power to direct the investment of money in the funds created by such resolutions, trust indentures, or other instruments securing the bonds; provided, however, that the issuer in its discretion may delegate this power to its authorized agent.

(g) From the proceeds from the sale of the bonds, the governing body may set aside amounts for payments into the interest and sinking fund and reserve funds, and provisions for such may be made in the resolution authorizing the bonds or the trust indenture or other instrument securing the bonds. Proceeds from the sale of the bonds shall be used for the payment of all expenses of issuing and selling the bonds. The proceeds from the sale of the bonds shall be invested in the manner set forth in the resolution authorizing the bonds or notes or the trust.
indenture or other instrument securing the bonds. Any bank or trust company with trust powers may be designated to act as depository of the proceeds of bonds or of sales contract or lease revenues. Such bank or trust company shall furnish such indemnifying bonds or pledge such securities as may be required by the issuer to secure the deposits.

(b) The resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or the trust indenture or other instrument securing them may provide that in the event of a default or under the conditions therein stated a threatened default in the payment of principal of or interest on bonds any court of competent jurisdiction may, upon petition of the holders of outstanding bonds, appoint a receiver with authority to collect and receive pledged income, and such instruments may limit or qualify the rights of less than all of the holders of the outstanding bonds payable from the same source to institute or prosecute any litigation affecting the issuer's property or income.

(i) All such bonds shall be special obligations of the issuer payable solely from the revenues pledged to their payment and shall not be considered general obligations of the governing body, an issuer, or the State of Texas. The holder of the bonds shall never have the right to demand payment from money derived by taxation or any other revenues of the issuer except those revenues pledged to the payment of the bonds.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 6. The governing body is authorized to issue refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding the principal of and interest and redemption premium, if any, on outstanding bonds authorized by this Act. Such refunding bonds may be issued to refund more than one series of outstanding bonds and combine the revenues pledged to the outstanding bonds for the security of the refunding bonds and may be secured by other or additional revenues and deed of trust liens. The provisions of this law with reference to the issuance by the governing body of bonds, their security, and their approval by the attorney general and the remedies of the holders shall be applicable to refunding bonds. Refunding bonds shall be registered by the comptroller upon surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded, but in lieu thereof the resolution authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold and the proceeds thereof deposited in the bank where the original bonds are payable, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient to pay the principal of, any redemption premium, and the interest on the original bonds to their option date or maturity date, and the comptroller shall register them without concurrent surrender and cancellation of the original bonds.

Additional Security

Sec. 7. Any bonds, including refunding bonds, authorized by this law may be additionally secured by a trust indenture under which the trustee may be a bank having trust powers situated either within or outside the State of Texas. Such bonds within the discretion of the governing body may be additionally secured by a mortgage or a deed of trust lien or security interest upon designated solid waste resource recovery systems and all property, franchises, easements, leases, and contracts and all rights appurtenant to such properties, vesting in the trustee power to sell such solid waste resource recovery systems for the payment of the indebtedness, power to operate such solid waste resource recovery systems, and all other powers and authority for the further security of the bonds. Such trust indenture, regardless of the mortgage or the deed of trust lien or security interest in the properties, may contain any provisions prescribed by the governing body for the security of the bonds and the preservation of the trust estate and may make provision for amendment or modification thereof, may condition the right to expend the issuer's money or sell the issuer's solid waste resource recovery systems as provided therein, and may make such other provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law. Any purchaser at a sale made under the mortgage or the deed of trust lien where one is given shall be the absolute owner of the solid waste resource recovery systems and rights so purchased. The trust indenture may also contain provisions governing the issuance of bonds to replace lost, stolen, or mutilated bonds.

Approval and Registration of Bonds and Contracts

Sec. 8. After any bonds, including refunding bonds, are authorized by the governing body, such bonds and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for his examination as to the validity thereof. Where such bonds recite that they are secured by a pledge of the proceeds of a lease or leases or a contract or contracts of sale theretofore made between the issuer and any person, such contracts may also be submitted to the attorney general. If such bonds have been authorized and if such contracts have been made in accordance with the constitution and laws of the State of Texas, he shall approve the bonds and such contracts, and the bonds then shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After the bonds and the leases or other contracts of sale, if any, have been approved by the attorney general and the bonds registered by the comptroller of public accounts, such bonds and any such leases or contracts of sale shall be incontestable for any cause.

Bonds as Investments and Security

Sec. 9. All bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, and the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Contracts; Payments; Elections

Sec. 10. (a) All public agencies are authorized to enter into contracts with any person for the supply of solid waste, including contracts for the collection and transportation of solid waste, for disposal at any solid waste resource recovery system and may covenant and agree in such contracts to supply minimum quantities of solid waste and to pay minimum fees and charges for the right to have solid waste disposed of at such solid waste resource recovery system during the term of such contracts. Any such contract may continue in effect for such term of years as the governing body of the public agency shall determine is desirable.

(b) All public agencies are authorized to use and pledge any available revenues or resources whatsoever for and to the payment of amounts due under such contracts as a source or sources of payment thereof or as the sole source or sources of payment thereof and may covenant with respect thereto so as to assure the availability thereof when required. All public agencies may agree to make sufficient provision in their annual budgets to make all payments under such contracts. In addition, all public agencies are authorized to fix, charge, and collect fees, rates, charges, rentals, and other amounts for any services or facilities provided pursuant to or in connection with any such contract from their inhabitants or from any users or beneficiaries of such services or facilities, including specifically water charges, sewage charges, solid waste disposal fees and charges (including garbage collection or handling fees), and other fees and charges and to use and pledge same to make payments required under such contract and may covenant to do so in amounts sufficient to make all or any part of such payments when due. Further, any public agency having taxing power, which at the time of entering into any such contract is using its general funds (including its tax revenues) for the purpose of paying all or a part of the costs of providing solid waste collection, transportation, and disposal services, may determine, agree, and pledge that such contracts may be an obligation against the taxing power of the public agency; provided that no person shall be entitled to demand payment from taxes during any period unless during such period the contracting person is willing and able to receive and dispose of solid waste as provided in the contract.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if a public agency having taxing power holds an election substantially according to the applicable provisions of Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, relating to the issuance of bonds of cities, and it is determined by a favorable vote at such election that the public agency is authorized to levy an ad valorem tax to make all or a part of the payments under a contract with a person and that such payments are to be made unconditionally even though the contracting person is not willing and able to receive and dispose of solid waste as provided in the contract, then the contract shall be an obligation against the taxing power of the public agency to the extent provided. The ballot proposition for any election held pursuant to this subsection shall plainly state that ad valorem tax funds may be used to make contract payments if, because of mechanical failure of the facility financed by such bonds or other reasons, the contractor is unable to receive or dispose of solid waste.

1 Article 701 et seq.

Performance and Payment Bonds; Terms of Contracts; Procedures in Letting Contracts

Sec. 11. the provisions of Article 5160, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, relating to performance and payment bonds, shall apply to construction contracts entered into by an issuer. An issuer may contract for the acquisition, construction, and improvement of any solid waste resource recovery system upon such terms and under such conditions as the governing body deems appropriate, including without limitation a contract pursuant to which a person agrees to perform and supply or cause to be performed and supplied all services and materials required in connection with the design, construction, and placing into operation of such solid waste resource recovery system; provided, however, that as to any such contract, notice of the time and place when and where such contract shall be let shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the boundaries of the issuer once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to the time set for letting such contract, the date of the first publication to be at least 14 days prior to the date set for letting said contract, and competitive proposals received in response to such notice will be analyzed and the contract shall be let to the responsible party making the proposal which will be most advantageous to the issuer and result in the best and most economical completion of the solid waste resource recovery system.

Taxation

Sec. 12. Bonds issued hereunder and their transfer and the income therefrom shall at all times be free from taxation within this state. Any solid waste resource recovery systems that are the subject of any contract for purchase or lease under this Act shall be construed to be subject to ad valorem taxation payable by the person contracting with the issuer in accordance with the laws of this state.
Items purchased or leased as part of a solid waste resource recovery system are subject to all applicable state taxation.

Certain Actions Accomplished at Sole Expense of Issuer

Sec. 13. In the event any issuer in the exercise of the power of relocation or any other power makes necessary the relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, or changing the grade of or altering the construction of any highway, railroad, electric transmission line, telegraph or telephone properties and facilities, or pipelines, all such necessary relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, changing of grade, or alteration of construction shall be accomplished at the sole expense of the issuer, and such expense shall be paid from the proceeds of any bonds issued to finance solid waste resource recovery systems, the installation of which results in such expense. The term "sole expense" shall mean the actual cost of such relocation, raising, lowering, rerouting, or changing the grade of or alteration of construction to provide comparable replacement without enhancement of such facilities.

Construction With Other Laws

Sec. 14. Nothing in this Act diminishes or limits or is intended to diminish or limit the authority of the Texas Department of Water Resources, the Texas Department of Health, or local governments in the performing of any of the powers, functions, and duties vested in such entities by other laws. The Solid Waste Disposal Act, as amended (Article 4477-7, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), shall be enforced without regard to ownership of any solid waste resource recovery systems financed under this Act.

Remedies Available; Rules and Regulations

Sec. 15. (a) Nothing in this Act affects the right of any private person to pursue against a person contracting with an issuer pursuant to this Act all common law remedies available to abate a condition of pollution or other nuisance or recover damages therefor or both. No person contracting with an issuer for the purchase or lease of solid waste resource recovery systems shall ever be entitled to urge the defense of sovereign immunity by reason of the ownership of such solid waste resource recovery systems by an issuer.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, it is further provided that nothing in this Act shall in any way limit or diminish the power and authority of the Texas Department of Water Resources, the Texas Department of Health, or a local government to enact and enforce rules and regulations to carry out other duties authorized by the Solid Waste Disposal Act, as amended (Article 4477-7, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Industrial Development Corporations

Sec. 16. A public agency which has entered into a contract pursuant to Section 10 of this Act may sponsor the creation of an industrial development corporation pursuant to the provisions of The Development Corporation Act of 1979 (Article 5190.6, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and such an industrial development corporation may, pursuant to the provisions of such Act, issue its bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness to finance the costs of any solid waste resource recovery system contemplated under such contract whether such system is located within or without the boundaries of such public agency.

Cumulative Act; Conflicts With Other Laws

Sec. 17. This Act shall be cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds, the execution of the contracts, the performance of the other acts and procedures, and the pledge of revenues authorized hereby, without reference to any other general or special laws or specific acts or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided; and in any case, to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provision of this Act and any other provision of law (including any home-rule city charter provisions), this Act shall prevail and control provided, however, that all issuers and public agencies shall have the right to use any other provisions of law not in conflict with the provisions of this Act to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Constitutional Construction and Acts

Sec. 18. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to violate any provision of the United States or state constitutions, and all acts done under this Act shall be in such manner as will conform thereto, whether expressly provided or not.

Severability

Sec. 19. The provisions of this Act are severable. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, section, part, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of this Act shall nevertheless be valid; and the legislature hereby declares that the Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, section, part, or provision.

Art. 4477-9. Dumping Solid Waste on Property or Into Waters; Penalty

Any person who shall dump or otherwise dispose of trash, junk, garbage, refuse, unsightly matter, or other solid waste on public highways, rights-of-way, on other public or private property, or into any inland or coastal waters of Texas shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $15 nor more than $200. It is a defense to prosecution under this Act that before the disposal, the person disposing of solid waste had written consent to dispose of solid waste on that property from the owner, the owner's agent, or the public official in charge of the property. Every law enforcement officer of this State and its subdivisions and health officers of municipalities authorized by law to regulate matters of sanitation and public health may issue citations for violations of this Act and may otherwise enforce this Act.

Art. 4477-9a  HEALTH—PUBLIC

Sec. 4.02. Subject to the availability of state and federal funds, it is the intent of the legislature to comply with the Highway Beautification Act of 1965 (Public Law 89-285) to the extent that it is implemented by Congress. This article is conditioned on the provisions of that law. The legislature declares that to promote the health, safety, welfare, morals, convenience, and enjoyment of the traveling public and to protect the public investment in the interstate and primary highway systems, it is necessary to regulate the erection and maintenance of outdoor advertising and the establishment, operation, and maintenance of junkyards and automobile graveyards in areas adjacent to the interstate and primary systems. The legislature considers that the landscaping and developing of recreational areas, acquisition of interests in and improvement of strips of land within, adjacent to, or within view of the interstate or primary system, which are necessary for the restoration, preservation, and enhancement of scenic beauty, and developing publicly owned and controlled rest and sanitary facilities within or adjacent to highway rights-of-way are means of protecting and providing for the general welfare of the traveling public and promoting the safety of citizens using the highways of this state.

Sec. 4.03. (a) Except as provided by this section, a person commits an offense if that person erects or maintains outdoor advertising within 660 feet of the nearest edge of a right-of-way if the advertising is visible from the main-traveled way of the interstate or primary system, and was erected for the purpose of having its message seen from the main-traveled way of the interstate or primary system.

(c) The determination of whether an area is to be designated industrial or commercial shall be based on actual land use under criteria established by rules of the commission.

(d) The commission may adopt rules to regulate the orderly and effective display of outdoor advertising consistent with the customary use of outdoor advertising in this state in an area in which the land use is designated industrial or commercial under authority of law and in an area in which the land use is not designated industrial or commercial but in which the land use is consistent with areas designated industrial or commercial in the manner provided by Subsection (c) of this section.

2. outside an urban area if the sign is located more than 660 feet from the nearest edge of a right-of-way, is visible from the main-traveled way of the interstate or primary system, and was erected for the purpose of having its message seen from the main-traveled way of the interstate or primary system.

(d) A permit issued to control the erection and maintenance of outdoor advertising by a political subdivision of this state within the jurisdiction of the political subdivision shall be accepted in lieu of the permit required by this section if the erection and maintenance of outdoor advertising is in compliance with Section 4.04 of this article and the commission’s rules adopted under Section 4.03(d) of this article.

(b) The determination of whether an area is to be designated industrial shall be based on actual land use under criteria established by rules of the commission.

(c) The commission may screen with natural objects, plantings, fences, or other appropriate means, a lawfully existing junkyard or automobile graveyard if the junkyard or automobile graveyard is within 1,000 feet of the nearest edge of a right-of-way of the interstate or primary system. The commission may acquire an area outside of a highway right-of-way so that a junkyard or automobile graveyard may be screened from the main-traveled way of the interstate or primary system.

(d) The commission may adopt rules governing the location, planting, construction, and maintenance of the materials used in screening junkyards and automobile graveyards.

Authority to Take Possession of Abandoned Motor Vehicles

Sec. 5.02. (a) A police department may take into custody an abandoned motor vehicle found on public or private property.

(b) A police department may employ its own personnel, equipment, and facilities or hire persons, equipment, and facilities to remove, preserve, and store an abandoned motor vehicle it takes into custody.

Notification of Owner and Lien Holders

Sec. 5.03. (a) A police department that takes into custody an abandoned motor vehicle shall notify not later than the 10th day after taking the motor vehicle into custody, by certified mail, the last known registered owner of the motor vehicle and all lien holders of record pursuant to the Certificate of Title Act (Article 6687–1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), that the vehicle has been taken into custody. The notice shall describe the year, make, model, and vehicle identification number of the abandoned motor vehicle, set forth the location of the facility where the motor vehicle is being held, inform the owner and any lien holders of their right to reclaim the motor vehicle not later than the 20th day after the date of the notice, on payment of all towing, preservation, and storage charges resulting from placing the vehicle in custody, or garagekeeper's charges if notice is under Section 5.05 of this article. The notice shall also state that the failure of the owner or lien holders to exercise their right to reclaim the vehicle within the time provided constitutes a waiver by the owner and lien holders of all right, title, and interest in the vehicle and their consent to the sale of the abandoned motor vehicle at a public auction.

(b) If the identity of the last registered owner cannot be determined, if the registration contains no address for the owner, or if it is impossible to determine with reasonable certainty the identity and addresses of all lien holders, notice by one publication in one newspaper of general circulation in the area where the motor vehicle was abandoned is sufficient notice under this article. The notice by publication may contain multiple listings of abandoned vehicles, shall be published within the time requirements prescribed for notice by certified mail, and shall have the same contents required for a notice by certified mail.

(c) The consequences and effect of failure to reclaim an abandoned motor vehicle are as set forth in a valid notice given under this section.

Auction of Abandoned Motor Vehicles

Sec. 5.04. If an abandoned motor vehicle has not been reclaimed as provided by Section 5.03 of this article, the police department shall sell the abandoned motor vehicle at a public auction. Proper notice of the public auction shall be given, and in the case of a garagekeeper's lien, the garagekeeper shall be notified of the time and place of the auction.
The purchaser of the motor vehicle takes title to the motor vehicle free and clear of all liens and claims of ownership, shall receive a sales receipt from the police department, and is entitled to register the purchased vehicle and receive a certificate of title. From the proceeds of the sale of an abandoned motor vehicle, the police department shall reimburse itself for the expenses of the auction, the costs of towing, preserving, and storing the vehicle that resulted from placing the abandoned motor vehicle in custody, and all notice and publication costs incurred under Section 5.03 of this article. Any remainder from the proceeds of a sale shall be held for the owner of the vehicle or entitled lien holder for 90 days and then shall be deposited in a special fund that shall remain available for the payment of auction, towing, preserving, storage, and all notice and publication costs that result from placing another abandoned vehicle in custody, if the proceeds from a sale of another abandoned motor vehicle are insufficient to meet these expenses and costs.

Garagekeepers and Abandoned Motor Vehicles

Sec. 5.05 (a) A motor vehicle left for more than 10 days in a storage facility operated for commercial purposes after notice is given to the owner as provided by this section, or for more than 10 days after a period when under a contract the vehicle was to remain on the premises of the storage facility, or a motor vehicle left for more than 10 days in a storage facility by someone other than the registered owner or by a person authorized to have possession of the motor vehicle under a contract of use, service, storage, or repair, is considered an abandoned vehicle, and shall be reported by the garagekeeper to the police department.

(b) A garagekeeper who fails to report the possession of an abandoned vehicle within 10 days after it becomes abandoned may no longer claim reimbursement for storage of the vehicle.

(c) The police department, upon receipt of a report from a garagekeeper of the possession of a vehicle considered abandoned under the provisions of this section shall follow the notification procedures provided by Section 5.03 of this article, except that custody of the vehicle shall remain with the garagekeeper until after compliance with the notification requirements. A fee of $2 shall accompany the report of the garagekeeper to the police department. The $2 fee shall be retained by the police department receiving the report and used to defray the cost of notification or other cost incurred in the disposition of an abandoned motor vehicle. If the Department of Public Safety is the police department involved this fee shall be deposited in the state treasury and shall be used to defray the costs of administering this article.

(d) An abandoned vehicle left in a storage facility and not reclaimed after notice is sent in the manner provided by Section 5.03 of this article shall be taken into custody by the police department and sold in the manner provided by Section 5.04 of this article. The proceeds of a sale under this section shall first be applied to the garagekeeper's charges for servicing, storage, and repair, but as compensation for the expense incurred by the police department in placing the vehicle in custody and the expense of auction, the police department shall retain two percent of the gross proceeds of the sale of each vehicle auctioned, unless the gross proceeds are less than $10. If the gross proceeds are less than $10, the department shall retain the $10 to defray expenses of custody and auction. If the Department of Public Safety conducts the auction, the compensation shall be deposited in the state treasury and shall be used to defray the expense incurred. Surplus proceeds remaining from an auction shall be distributed in accordance with Section 5.04 of this article.

(e) Except for the termination of claim for storage failure to report an abandoned motor vehicle, nothing in this section may be construed to impair any lien of a garagekeeper under the laws of this state.

(f) The police department shall send notice to the owner of a vehicle by certified mail. The notice shall direct the owner to pick up the vehicle. If the notice is returned by the post office unclaimed, notice by one publication in one newspaper of general circulation in the area where the vehicle was left in storage is sufficient.

Disposal to Demolishers

Sec. 5.06. (a) A person, firm, corporation, or unit of government on whose property or in whose possession is found any abandoned motor vehicle and a person who is the owner of a motor vehicle whose title certificate is faulty, lost, or destroyed, may apply to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for authority to sell, give away, or dispose of the vehicle to a demolisher. Nothing in this section may be construed as being in conflict with the provisions of Sections 5.09 and 5.10 of this article. The application, except one submitted by a unit of government, shall be accompanied by a fee of $2 that shall be deposited in the state highway fund.

(b) The application must set out the name and address of the applicant, the year, make, model, and vehicle identification number of the motor vehicle, if ascertainable, together with any other identifying features, and must contain a concise statement of the facts surrounding the abandonment, a statement that the title of the motor vehicle is lost or destroyed, or a statement of the reasons for the defect of title in the owner. The applicant shall execute an affidavit stating that the facts alleged in the application are true and that no material fact has been withheld.

(c) If the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation finds that the application is executed in proper form and shows that the motor vehicle has been abandoned on the property of the applicant or that the motor vehicle is not abandoned but that the applicant appears to be the rightful owner, the department shall follow the notification procedures as provided in Section 5.03 of this article.

(d) If an abandoned motor vehicle is not reclaimed in accordance with Section 5.03 of this article, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, on notification of that fact by the applicant, shall issue the applicant a certificate of authority to sell the motor vehicle to a demolisher for demolition, wrecking, or dismantling. A demolisher shall accept the certificate in lieu of the certificate of title to the motor vehicle.

(e) The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation may issue the applicant a certificate of authority to dispose of the motor vehicle to a demolisher without following the notification procedures of Section 5.03 of this article if the motor vehicle is more than eight years old and has no engine or is otherwise totally inoperable.

(f) A person in possession of an abandoned vehicle that was authorized to be towed in by a police department and that is more than eight years old and has no engine or is otherwise totally inoperable may, on affidavit of that fact and approval of the police department, apply to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation for a certificate of authority to dispose of the vehicle to a demolisher for demolition, wrecking, or dismantling only.

(g) The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation may adopt rules and prescribe forms that are necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

Duties of Demolishers

Sec. 5.07. (a) A demolisher who purchases or otherwise acquires a motor vehicle to wreck, dismantle, or demolish it is not required to obtain a certificate of title for the motor vehicle in the demolisher’s name. After the motor vehicle has been demolished, processed, or changed so that it physically is no longer a motor vehicle, the demolisher shall surrender for cancellation the certificate of title or authority. The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall issue such forms and rules governing the surrender of auction sales receipts and certificates of title as are appropriate. The Certificate of Title Act (Article 6687-1, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes) governs the cancellation of title of the motor vehicle.

(b) A demolisher commits an offense if the demolisher fails to keep an accurate and complete record of a motor vehicle purchased or received in the course of business in the manner provided by this subsection. These records must contain the name and address of the person from whom each motor vehicle was purchased or received and the date of the purchase or receipt. The records shall be open for inspection by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or any police department at any time during normal business hours. A record required by this subsection must be kept by the demolisher for at least one year after the transaction to which it applies. A demolisher who commits an offense under this subsection is, on conviction, subject to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $1,000, to confinement in the county jail for not less than 10 days nor more than six months, or to both.

(b) A person commits an offense if that person maintains a public nuisance as determined under this section.

(c) A person who commits an offense under this section is, on conviction, subject to a fine not to exceed $200. On conviction, the court shall order removal and abatement of the nuisance.

The procedures must conform to the requirements of this section.

(b) For a nuisance on private property, the procedures must require not less than 10 days’ notice stating the nature of the public nuisance on private property, that it must be removed and abated within 10 days, and that a request for a hearing must be made before expiration of the 10-day period. The notice must be mailed, by certified mail with a 5-day return requested, to the owner or occupant of the private premises on which the public nuisance exists. If the notice is returned undelivered by the United States Post Office, official action to abate the nuisance shall be continued to a date not less than 10 days after the date of the return.

(c) For a nuisance on public property, the procedures must require not less than 10 days’ notice, stating the nature of the public nuisance on public property or on a public right-of-way, that the nuisance must be removed and abated within 10 days, and that a request for a hearing must be made before expiration of the 10-day period. The process of disposal must comply with the provisions of Section 5.09(d) of this article. A city, town, or county may operate a disposal site if its governing body determines that commercial channels of disposition are not available or are inadequate, and it may make final disposition of the vehicles or vehicle parts, or the city, town, or county may transfer the vehicles or vehicle parts to another disposal site if the disposal is only as scrap or salvage.

Issuance of Bonds

Sec. 3. For any purpose or purposes authorized under Section 2 of this Act, the governing body of an eligible city may issue its revenue bonds from time to time in one or more series to be payable from and secured by liens on all or part of the revenues derived from any project or projects.

Ordinances Authorizing Bonds; Maturity; Registration as "Security"; Disposition of Proceeds from Sale; Property Tax

Sec. 4. (a) Said bonds may be issued when authorized by ordinance duly adopted by an eligible city's governing body and may mature serially or otherwise within not to exceed 40 years from their date or dates, and provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds.

(b) Said bonds, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, shall be deemed and construed to be a "security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, Uniform Commercial Code (Chapter 785, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967). The bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to principal and interest, and shall be executed, and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, and may be issued in such form, denominations, and manner, and under such terms, conditions and details, and may be sold in such manner, at such price, and under such terms, and such bonds shall bear interest at such rates, as all as shall be determined and provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(c) If so provided in said ordinance, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during and after the period of the acquisition, construction or improvement of any project or projects, for paying expenses of operation and maintenance of said project or projects, for creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal and interest on the bonds, and for establishing any other funds. The proceeds of sale of the bonds may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent, and in the manner provided, in the bond ordinance.

(d) An eligible city is authorized to levy and pledge to the payment of the operation and maintenance of any project or projects, either as a supplement to the pledge of revenues for such purpose or in lieu thereof, a continuing annual ad valorem tax at a rate or rates on each $100 valuation of taxable property within said city sufficient for such purposes, all as may be provided in said ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds; provided, that such taxes shall be within any constitutional or charter limit for eligible cities; and provided further, that no part of any moneys raised by such taxes shall ever be used for the payment of the interest on or principal of any bonds issued hereunder. The proceeds of any such taxes thus pledged shall be utilized annually to the extent required by, or provided in, the ordinance for operation and maintenance of such projects, and such city in its discretion may covenant in such ordinance that certain costs of operating and maintaining such projects, as may be enumerated therein, or all of such costs, will be paid by the eligible city from the proceeds of such tax.

(e) An eligible city shall not acquire or construct any such project or projects with the proceeds of bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness the interest on which is exempt from federal income taxation by virtue of Section 103(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as heretofore or hereafter amended, unless (1) such project is operated by an eligible city or a political subdivision of the State of Texas on behalf of such eligible city or, (2) such project provides pretreatment for waste which is then discharged into a project operated by an eligible city or a political subdivision on behalf of such city.

Fees, Purchase Prices, Rentals, Rates and Charges

Sec. 5. An eligible city is authorized to fix and collect fees, purchase prices, rentals, rates and charges for the sale, occupancy, use or availability of all or any of the projects in such amounts and in such manner as may be determined by the governing body of the eligible city.

Pledges for Payment of Bonds

Sec. 6. (a) An eligible city may pledge all or any part of the revenues, income or receipts from such fees, purchase prices, rentals, rates and charges to the payment of the bonds, including the payment of principal, interest and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged fees, purchase prices, rentals, rates and charges shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds, and, to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds, to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds, and for the payment of... operation, maintenance and other expenses in connection with the projects.

(b) The bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property relating to the projects owned or to be acquired by the eligible city and by chattel mortgages, liens or security interests on any personal property appurtenant to the real property. The governing body of the eligible city may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust or other forms of encumbrances to evidence the indebtedness.

(c) An eligible city may also pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenues or income received or to be received from the United States government or any other public or private source, whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 7. (a) Any bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for that purpose under any terms or conditions as are determined by ordinance of the governing body of the eligible city. All appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to refunding bonds, and the refunding bonds shall be issued in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds. The refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal, interest and redemption premium, if any, of bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date.

(b) The refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded by them. In that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. The exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(c) Bonds issued at any time by a city under this Act may also be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law.

Examination of Bonds by Attorney General; Approval and Registration

Sec. 8. All bonds issued under this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If the bonds recite that they are secured by a pledge of revenues or rentals from a contract or lease, a copy of the contract or lease and the proceedings relating to it shall also be submitted to the attorney general. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized and any contract or lease has been made in accordance with law, he shall approve the bonds and the contract or lease, and thereupon the bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration the bonds and any contract or lease relating to them are incontestable for any reason, and are valid and binding obligations for all purposes in accordance with their terms.

Bonds as Legal and Authorized Investments and Security

Sec. 9. All bonds issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. The bonds are also eligible and lawful security for all deposits of public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of it, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic, to the extent of the market value of the bonds, when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant thereto.

Cumulative Effect; Conflicting Laws

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized by it without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided. When any bonds are issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any law or home-rule-charter provision, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control. An eligible city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability

Sec. 11. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance, shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act, or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

Control and Sanitary Management of Tuberculosis

Sec. 4. Tuberculosis in a contagious, infectious, or communicable state is hereby declared to be dangerous to public health.

(a) Any physician, or other person, who makes a diagnosis in, or treats a case of tuberculosis, and every head or manager of a hospital, dispensary, or charitable, or penal institution in which there is a case of tuberculosis, shall report such case as soon as possible, in writing, or by an acknowledged telephone communication to the local health authority, stating the name, address, age, sex, color, and occupation of the diseased person and the date of the onset of the disease, and the probable source of infection.

(b) All local health authorities shall keep a careful and accurate record of all cases of tuberculosis as reported to them with the date, name, age, sex, race, location, and such other necessary data as may be prescribed by the Department. Such health authorities shall make a report of all tuberculosis cases of which they may be cognizant to the Department within forty-eight (48) hours of receiving a report upon blank forms provided by the Department. These reports may be used by the Department for any and all purposes consistent with the care and treatment of individuals afflicted with tuberculosis, for research purposes, for statistical purposes, for investigative purposes, with the ultimate goal being the eradication of tuberculosis in Texas.

(c) It shall be the duty of every physician and of every other person who examines or treats a person having tuberculosis to instruct him in measures for preventing the spread of such disease and of the necessity for treatment until cured.

Notice of Evidence of Tuberculosis

Sec. 4A. (a) The Bureau of Tuberculosis Services must be notified when a laboratory examination of a specimen derived from a human indicates microscopic, cultural, or other evidence of the presence or likely presence of Mycobacterium tuberculosis.

(b) The person in charge of the laboratory in which the evidence of tuberculosis disease is discovered shall notify the local health authority, or if there is no local health authority, the Bureau of Tuberculosis Services in the Department.

(c) The notification must contain:
(1) the name and age of the person from whom the specimen was obtained;
(2) the name and address of the physician requesting the tests; and
(3) the tests performed, the date of the tests, and the results.

(d) Cumulative reports must be reported weekly.

(e) All laboratory notifications required by this section are confidential and are not open for inspection by anyone other than authorized public health personnel.

(f) No person from the Bureau of Tuberculosis Services or the local health authority may communicate with a suspected tuberculosis patient or a person who may be exposed to tuberculosis by a suspected patient until a diagnosis is reported to the Department by the attending physician.

Measures for Protection of Persons not Having Tuberculosis

Sec. 5. Upon receipt of a report of a case of tuberculosis, the local health authority shall institute measures for protection of other persons from infection by such diseased person.
(a) All duly authorized health authorities of this State are authorized to notify any person who is known to be infected with tuberculosis, to place himself under the medical care of a physician licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, hospital, or clinic, for treatment or examination until such physician, hospital, or clinic shall furnish such health authority with a certificate that such person examined or treated is free from tuberculosis in an infectious or contiguous state. The certificate shall state that the person examined has been given an actual and thorough examination. A certificate may not be issued until the physician, hospital, or clinic has submitted to the local health authority a report on the person for whom a certificate is to be issued summarizing the clinical and appropriate radiologic or laboratory evidence that the person no longer has tuberculosis in an infectious or contiguous state.

(b) Physicians, local health authorities, and all other persons are prohibited from issuing certificates of freedom from tuberculosis unless the examination includes clinical and appropriate radiographic or laboratory evidence that the person so examined is free from tuberculosis in an infectious or contagious state. Before a certificate of freedom from tuberculosis can be issued in the case of a person who has previously had tuberculosis, it will be necessary that the physician or person on giving the certificate shall submit to the local health authority a report of the person summarizing the clinical and appropriate radiologic or laboratory evidence that the person no longer has tuberculosis in an infectious or contagious state.

(c) Any person who violates the provisions of Section 4, or who fails to follow the directions of the local health authority, or who fails to follow the directions of his attending physician pursuant to Section 4, or who in the opinion of the local health authority cannot be treated with reasonable safety to the public, at home, may be quarantined, as that term is hereinafter defined, and the local health authority may direct the removal of the person to a suitable place for examination, and if such person is found to have tuberculosis in an infectious and contagious state, then such person may be quarantined, as that term is hereinafter defined, until such person is no longer in an infectious and contagious state.

Quarantine, as used in this Section, means the limitation of movement and separation, during that period of time while infectious and contagious, from other persons not infected, in such places and under such conditions as will prevent the conveyance of such infectious or contagious condition to others not infected.

A person found to have tuberculosis in an infectious and contagious state and quarantined under the provisions of this Section may be placed in any place suitable for the detention and segregation required under the provisions of this Section. If suitable facilities are not available within the jurisdiction of the local health authority, then in such event, the person so quarantined may be transported to a State chest hospital designated by the Board. The Board is hereby empowered and directed to provide suitable facilities for detention of such individuals.

The Commissioners Courts of the various counties and the governing body of all incorporated towns and cities are hereby empowered to provide suitable places for the detention of persons who may be subject to quarantine and who should be segregated for the execution of the provisions of this Section; and such commissioners courts and governing body of incorporated cities and towns are hereby authorized to incur on behalf of their said counties, cities, or towns, the expenses necessary to the enforcement of this Section.

The Commissioners Courts of the various counties and the governing body of all incorporated towns and cities are hereby empowered and directed to provide transportation to the State chest hospital so designated by the Board for any person quarantined under the provisions of this Section when suitable facilities are not available within the jurisdiction of the local health authority.

The local health authority shall inform all persons who are to be released from quarantine for tuberculosis of the status of their disease and what further treatment is required.

(d) It shall be the duty of all persons with tuberculosis, or who, from exposure to tuberculosis, may be liable to endanger others who may come in contact with them, to strictly observe such instructions as may be given them by any local health authority of the State in order to prevent the spread of tuberculosis.

(e) If an attending physician or other person knows or has good reason to suspect that a person having tuberculosis is so conducting himself or herself as to expose other persons to infection or is about so to conduct himself or herself, he shall notify the local health authority of the name and address of the diseased person and the essential facts in the case, and the local health authority shall investigate the facts of the case and shall adopt or employ the necessary measures as set out herein.

Violations; Penalties

Sec. 6. (a) A person commits an offense if he violates the provisions of Section 4, 4A, or 5 of this Act.

(b) An offense under this section is a Class B misdemeanor.

Local Regulations

Sec. 7. These regulations shall not be construed to prevent any city, county, or town from establishing such types of disinfection, isolation, control, and management of tuberculosis cases which they deem necessary for the preservation of the health of the individuals and the public; provided that such rules and regulations are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Code and are subordinate to said Code, and the rules and regulations prescribed by the Department. The local health authority shall at once furnish the Department with a true copy of any such regulations adopted by said local authorities.

Provided, however, that no provision in this Act shall be construed in any manner such that it would deprive any person of his right to depend on prayer or spiritual means alone for healing, in the practice of the principles, tenets, or teachings of his religion; provided that in so doing the isolation and quarantine rules and regulations under this Act are complied with.

Admission

Sec. 8. Residents of Texas as defined in Section 1 herein, having tuberculosis, may be admitted to a State chest hospital. Non-resident indigents with tuberculosis who have been quarantined under the provisions of Section 5 herein may be admitted to a State chest hospital pending their return to the State or country of their residence.

Classification of Patients

Sec. 9. Patients admitted to State chest hospitals shall be two (2) classes:

1. Indigent public patients and
2. Non-indigent public patients.

(a) Indigent public patients are those who possess no property of any kind nor have anyone legally responsible for their support, and who are unable to reimburse the State. This class shall be supported at the expense of the State.

(b) Non-indigent public patients are those who possess some property out of which the State may be reimbursed, or who have someone legally responsible for their support. This class shall be kept and maintained at the expense of the State as in (a) above, but in such case the State shall have the right to be reimbursed for the support of such patients, and the claim of the State shall constitute a valid lien against any property of any such patient, or in case he has a guardian, against any property of his which is in the possession of said guardian, or against the person or persons who may be legally responsible for his support and financially able to contribute as herein provided. Such claim may be collected by suit or other proceedings in the name of the State of Texas by the County or District Attorney of the county from which said patient is sent or the Attorney General against such patient or his guardian or the person or persons legally responsible for his support; and the suit shall be brought in the county from which such patient was sent. Such suit shall be instituted upon the written request of the head of the State chest hospital accompanied by a certificate as to the amount due the State. In all suits or proceedings, the certificate of the head of the hospital shall be sufficient evidence of the amount due the State for the support of such patient. It shall be the duty of said Attorney upon such request being made to institute and conduct such proceedings and for which he shall be entitled to a commission of ten per cent (10%) of the amount collected. All moneys so collected, less such commission, shall be paid by said County Attorney to the head of said hospital, who shall receive and receipt for the same.

Certificate of Examination

Sec. 11. The application for admission to a State chest hospital shall be accompanied by a certificate of a physician licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, or in the case of indigent patients by a certificate from the local health authority if such individual or individuals are licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, stating that he has thoroughly examined the person for whose admission application has been made, and that such person is suffering from tuberculosis. The certificate shall be in the form and contain such information as prescribed by the Department.

In the event that the person applying for admission to a State chest hospital is afflicted with a contagious, infectious, or transmissible disease other than tuberculosis, then in such event the head of the State chest hospital to whom application has been made may use the presence of such contagious, infectious, or transmissible disease other than tuberculosis as a valid reason for delaying admission until such contagious disease is rendered non-contagious.

Duties of Board

Sec. 12. (a) The State chest hospital shall review applications for admission and admit or deny admission to applicants.

(b) The Board shall prepare and adopt by-laws, rules, and regulations for the government, control, and management of all State chest hospitals, prescribing the duties of all officers and employees, and for enforcing the necessary discipline and restraint of all patients.

(c) The Board shall appoint for each of said chest hospitals a physician licensed to practice medicine in the State of Texas by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. Each physician so appointed shall be the head of the hospital under his control and shall have power to remove with just cause any person employed in said hospital over which he has such authority. Any such physician so appointed shall be removable at the discretion of the Board. The provisions applying to the powers and duties of the Board and of the head of the hospital as set forth in this Section are in addition to any others provided for by law. The Board shall supply each hospital with the necessary personnel for the operation and maintenance of such hospital.

(d) In addition to the specific authority granted by other provisions of law, the Board is authorized to prescribe the form of application, certificates, records, and reports provided for under this Code and the information required to be contained therein; to require reports from the head of any State chest hospital relating to the admission, examination, diagnosis, release, or discharge of any patient; to visit each hospital regularly to review the admitting procedures and care and treatment of all new patients admitted between visits; to investigate by personal visit complaints made by any patient or by any person on behalf of a patient; and to adopt such rules and regulations not inconsistent with the provisions of this Code as may be necessary for proper and efficient hospitalization of tuberculosis patients.

(e) Unless otherwise expressly provided in this Code, a power granted to, or a duty imposed upon the Board may be exercised or performed by an authorized employee, but the delegation of a duty does not relieve the Board from its responsibility.

Unless otherwise expressly provided in this Code, a power granted to, or a duty imposed upon the head of a hospital may be exercised or performed by an authorized employee, but the delegation of a duty does not relieve the head of a hospital from his responsibility.

(f) The Board may return a non-resident patient admitted to a State chest hospital in this State to the proper agency of the State of his residence.

The Board may permit the return of any resident of this State who is admitted to a tuberculosis hospital in another state.

All expenses incurred in returning admitted patients to other states shall be paid by this State. The expense of returning residents of this State shall be borne by the states making the return.

(g) The Board is authorized to enter into reciprocal agreements with the proper agencies of other states to facilitate the return to the states of their residence of patients admitted to State chest hospitals in this or other states.

No Preference in Admission

Sec. 14. (a) No patient in any state chest hospital shall be discriminated against but all patients shall be treated alike, given equal facilities, equal attention and equal treatment; it being recognized, however, that the condition of the individual patient may necessitate a greater or lesser degree of care and treatment.

(b) No patient in any such hospital shall be permitted to give any officer, servant, agent, or employee in any such hospital any tip, pay, or reward of any kind, and if such patient does so, it shall be a cause for his expulsion from said hospital, and the discharge of any servant accepting the same; and the Board shall see that this provision is rigidly enforced.

Private Additions to State Chest Hospitals

Sec. 15. (a) The Board is hereby authorized, on request of any charitable fraternity or society in this State, to permit the erection, furnishing, and maintenance by such fraternities or societies upon the grounds of any State chest hospital or dormitories and such other accommodations as may be desired by any such fraternity or society for the proper treatment and care of any member or members of such fraternity or society or for any members of their families, or for the widows and children of deceased members of such fraternity or society, who may have tuberculosis, and which accommodations so erected shall be reserved for the preferential use of such members and members of their families and of the widows and children of deceased members of the fraternity or society so erecting, furnishing, and maintaining such accommodations hereunder. The State shall be at no expense whatever in the erection, furnishing, or maintenance of such accommodations, and the fraternity or society entering a patient or patients shall provide such pro rata part for the maintenance of such patient or patients as may be found just and equitable pending the next succeeding appropriation to be made by the Legislature for the maintenance of said State chest hospitals. "Children" under this Article shall mean any minor child of a deceased member of such fraternity or society. Such accommodations or any part of them not being used or required by those entitled to such preference, may be used and occupied by other patients in said State chest hospitals at the discretion of the head of the hospital and without any charge therefor against the State.

(b) Plan of buildings.

All matters pertaining to the location, construction, style or character of buildings, term of their existence and all other questions arising in connection with the granting of the permission to erect and maintain the accommodations contemplated in the preceding Section, shall be arranged and agreed upon in writing by and between the Board on the part of the State and the properly authorized officers, board, or committee of each respective charitable fraternity or society, and such written agreement in each case shall be recorded at length upon the minutes of the Board.
(c) Rules of admission.

The members of such charitable fraternities or societies, members of their families, and the widows and children of deceased members thereof, shall be classified according to the facts the same as other patients of said State chest hospitals are classified, and shall be admitted, maintained, cared for and treated in said hospitals upon the same terms and conditions and under the same regulations as all other patients therein, save and except that they shall at all times have the preference and right to occupy the accommodations erected and maintained hereunder by their several and respective fraternities or societies when not already filled with others having the same preferential right.

Conveyances by Counties in Establishing Chest Hospitals

Sec. 17. All counties in this State are hereby authorized to donate and convey land to the State of Texas in consideration of the establishment of a State chest hospital by the Board. The desirability, manner, and form of the donation and conveyance shall be within the discretion of the Commissioners Court of the particular county. No provision of this Section shall authorize the Commissioners Court of any such county to convey any land given or donated or granted to the county for the purpose of education in any manner other than that which is or shall be directed by law.

Appropriations

Sec. 18. All appropriations heretofore made and now effective or appropriations hereafter made by the Legislature for the use and benefit of San Antonio State Chest Hospital, San Antonio, Texas, and Harlingen State Chest Hospital, Harlingen, Texas; or in names previously used by these hospitals, shall remain available for their use and benefit.

Contracts

Sec. 19. All contracts heretofore entered into in behalf of San Antonio State Chest Hospital, San Antonio, Texas, and Harlingen State Chest Hospital, Harlingen, Texas; or in names previously used by these hospitals, are hereby ratified, confirmed, and validated for and in their behalf.

The governing body of each public school shall verify that each individual within its jurisdiction who is included within this Act, has the required certificate and shall not permit any individual to commence his or her duties in the absence of the certificate. The Texas Board of Health may require reexamination of any individual employee or volunteer as the Board determines is necessary and appropriate to protect the public health.

force more stringent standards, except that the requirements for a tuberculosis examination may not include exposure to X-rays unless the person being examined consents or the examining physician determines that the X-ray examination is medically necessary and states that determination on the required certificate.

(1) the proceeds of insurance, group health plan or prepaid medical care plan, if the proceeds are paid to the recipient or the person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the recipient and if the Texas Department of Health has paid for the services upon which the claims for the proceeds are based; and

(2) five percent of the adjusted gross income, as defined in the United States Internal Revenue Code, as amended, for federal income tax purposes of the recipient or the person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the recipient, minus

(3) the yearly premiums paid by the recipient or the person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the recipient to support the recipient for insurance, group health plan or prepaid medical care plan which provides benefits to pay the cost or part of the cost of the services required by the recipient because of end stage renal disease section; and

(4) a uniform yearly deduction of $1,000.

(c) The failure or refusal by a recipient of services under this Act and/or by a person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the recipient to provide the financial information necessary for the department to determine the recipient's reimbursement obligation may constitute cause for the modification, suspension, or termination of services in Section 9.2 of this Act.

(d) The failure or refusal by a recipient of services under this Act and/or by a person or persons who have a legal obligation to pay the reimbursement obligation determined by the department to be owed by the recipient or the person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the recipient may constitute cause for the modification, suspension, or termination of services in Section 9.2 of this Act, and/or the filing of a suit for total reimbursement obligation under Subsection 9.1(5) of this Act.

(e) This section may not be interpreted in a manner which would prevent the payment of costs by an insurance company, a group health plan, or a prepaid medical care plan directly to a medical provider.

Entitlement to Other Benefits

Sec. 9.1. (1) An applicant or recipient is not eligible to receive services provided by this Act to the extent that the applicant or recipient or other person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the applicant or recipient are eligible for some other benefit that would pay for the service or part of the service provided by this Act. This requirement may be waived by the Texas Board of Health in certain individually considered cases where its enforcement will deny services to a class of end stage renal disease patients because of conflicting state or federal laws or regulations.
(2) An applicant or recipient of services provided by this Act, or the person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the applicant or recipient, shall inform the department at the time of application or at any time during eligibility and the receipt of services of any other benefit to which the applicant or recipient or other person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the applicant or recipient may be entitled.

(3) In this section, “other benefit” means a benefit to which a person is entitled other than a benefit under this Act for payment of the costs of medical care and treatment, services, pharmaceuticals, transportation, and supplies including but not limited to benefits available under:

(a) an insurance policy, group health plan, or prepaid medical care plan;

(d) the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services;
(e) workers' compensation or other compulsory employers' insurance program;
(f) a public program created by federal law, state law, or the ordinances or rules of a municipality or political subdivision of the state, except those benefits created by the establishment of a city or county hospital, a joint city-county hospital, a county hospital authority, or a hospital district; or
(g) benefits available from a cause of action for medical expenses to a person applying for or receiving services from the department or a settlement or judgment based upon such cause or action, if the expenses are related to the need for services provided by the program.

(4) The recipient or other person or persons who have a legal obligation to support a recipient who has received services that are covered by some other benefit shall reimburse the department to the extent of the cost of the services provided when the other benefit is received.

(5) The department may recover the expenditure for services provided under this Act from a person who does not reimburse the department as required by Subsection (4) of this section or from any third party upon whom there is a legal obligation to pay other benefits and to whom notice of the department's interest in the other benefits has been given. At the request of the Commissioner of Health, the attorney general may bring suit in the appropriate court of Travis County on behalf of the department. The court may award attorney's fees, court costs, and interest accruing from the date the department provides the service to the date the department is reimbursed in a judgment in favor of the department.

(6) This section may not be interpreted in a manner which would limit the freedom of an eligible person in selecting a treating physician, a treatment facility, or a treatment modality if the physician, facility, or modality is approved by the board as required in this Act.

Modification, Suspension, or Termination of Services
Sec. 9.2. (a) The department, after notice to an applicant or to a recipient and/or a person or persons who have a legal obligation to support the applicant or recipient, for good cause may modify, suspend, or terminate services to an applicant who has been found to be eligible for services or a recipient who is receiving services from the department.

(b) The criteria for departmental action authorized under this section shall be contained in the department's program rules.

A county that operates a county hospital and that has a population of 10,000 or less, according to the most recent federal census, may sell the hospital if the Commissioners Court determines by an order entered in its minutes that:

(1) the responsibilities and expense of operating the hospital are an unjustifiable burden on the taxpayers of the county and result in inadequate health care;

(2) the public interest would be served and health care in the county would be improved if the hospital were operated by another entity; and

(3) the hospital should be sold.

(b) The proposed lease or sale of such county hospital shall not be completed until the Commissioners Court of such county shall have complied with the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 2. When the Commissioners Court shall determine that it is to the best interest of such county that such hospital be leased or sold, it shall fix a time and place at which such question will be heard and considered by it, which date shall be not less than fifteen (15) days nor more than thirty (30) days from the date of the order. Sec. 3. If, by the time fixed for such hearing and consideration by the Court, as many as ten per cent (10%) in number of the qualified voters of said county shall petition the Commissioners Court in writing to submit to a referendum vote the question as to whether or not the county hospital shall be leased or sold or shall be continued under county operation, then such Commissioners Court shall not finally lease or sell the same unless the proposition to lease or sell such county hospital is sustained by a majority of the votes cast at said election. Such election shall be held under and governed by the election provisions of Article 4478, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, of the State of Texas.

If such petition is not so filed with the county clerk, then the Commissioners Court may proceed with the hearing of all evidence relative to the advisability of leasing or selling such hospital. Any person interested may appear before the Court in person or by attorney and contend for or protest the leasing or selling of such county hospital. Such hearing may be adjourned from day to day and from time to time as the Court may deem necessary. Upon the completion of such hearing the Court may proceed to adjudicate such matter by entering an order determining whether or not such hospital shall be leased or sold. Even though such petition is not filed with the county clerk, the Commissioners Court may at its discretion also submit such question to a vote of the people and may withhold its final determination of such question pending the holding of such election.

Sec. 4. If no petition is submitted upon the date fixed for such hearing, and the Commissioners Court, after holding the hearing, finds that due notice has been given, no petition has been filed, and that the proposed leasing or selling of such hospital would be for the best interests and benefit of the county, then such Court may make and cause to be entered upon its minutes an order directing that such county hospital shall be leased or sold. Such Court shall thereupon be authorized to sell the hospital or to lease such county hospital to be operated as a hospital by the lessee of same under such terms and conditions as may be satisfactory to the Commissioners Court and the lessee. The action of the Commissioners Court in leasing or selling such hospital shall be evidenced by an order duly entered, which order shall contain a complete copy of the lease or sales contract and shall be recorded in the minutes of the Court.

Provided, however, if a petition signed by fifty (50) qualified, property taxpaying voters of the county is filed with the Commissioners Court in writing to submit to a referendum vote the question as to whether or not the county hospital shall be leased or sold or shall be continued under county operation, then such Commissioners Court shall not finally lease or sell the same until the expiration of five (5) years from the date of the petition if no election is held, from the date the petition is filed, unless the proposition to lease or sell such hospital is sustained by a majority of votes cast at said election.

The Commissioners Court shall have the authority to levy the tax aforesaid for the entire year in which the said Hospital District is established, for the purpose of securing funds to initiate the operation of the Hospital District, and to pay assumed bonds.

Sec. 2c. The Commissioners Court of El Paso County on its own motion may order the Assessor and Collector of Taxes to assess the property in the El Paso County Hospital District at a greater or lesser percentage of its fair cash market value than that used in assessing the property for state and county purposes.

As used in this law, "County" means any county in the State of Texas; "Governing Body" means the Commissioners Court of a county; "Authority" means a County Hospital Authority created under this Act; "Board" or "Board of Directors" means the board of directors of the Authority; "bond" or "bonds" means bonds or notes; "Bond Resolution" means the resolution authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds; "Trust Indenture" means the mortgage, deed of trust or other instrument pledging revenues of, or creating a mortgage lien on properties, or both, to secure the revenue bonds issued by the Authority; "Trustee" means the trustee under the Trust Indenture; "Hospital" or "Hospitals" means any "Hospital Project" as defined in Section 3(g) of Senate Bill No. 243, as enacted, Acts of the 64th Legislature, Regular Session, 1975, as now or hereafter amended.¹

Board of Directors

Sec. 4. (a) The Authority shall be governed by a Board of Directors consisting of not less than seven (7) nor more than eleven (11) members to be determined at the time of creating the Authority. Unless otherwise provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds or the Trust Indenture securing them, the number of Directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to the order creating the Authority adopted by the Governing Body of the County, but no decrease in number shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent Director. Except as hereinafter in this Section provided, the first Directors shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the County, and they shall serve until their successors are appointed as hereinafter provided. When the Authority issues its revenue bonds the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or the Trust Indenture securing them may prescribe the method of selecting and the term of office of a majority of the members of the Board. The remaining members of the Board shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the County. The Trust Indenture may also provide that, in the event of default as defined in the Trust Indenture, the Trustee may appoint all of the Directors, in which event the terms of the Directors then in office shall automatically terminate. Unless and until provision is made in the Bond Resolution or Indenture... in connection with the issuance of bonds for the appointment by other means of part of the Directors, all of the Directors shall be appointed by the Governing Body of the County for terms not to exceed three (3) years, but the terms of Directors appointed prior to the issuance of the first issue of revenue bonds shall be subject to the exercise of the provision herein made for appointment of a majority of the members of the Board in connection with the issuance of the bonds. No officer or employee of any such County shall be eligible for appointment as a Director. Directors shall not receive compensation for services but shall be entitled to reimbursement of their expenses incurred in performing such service.

(b) In the event the Authority purchases a nonprofit corporation a hospital then in existence or in process of construction, the first members of the Board of Directors and their successors shall be determined as provided in the contract of purchase.

Sec. 5. The Board of Directors shall elect from among their members a president and vice president, and shall elect a secretary and a treasurer who may or may not be Directors, and may elect such other officers as may be authorized by Authority’s bylaws. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be combined. The president shall have the same right to vote on all matters as other members of the Board. A majority of the members of the Board shall constitute a quorum and when a quorum is present action may be taken by a majority vote of Directors present. If the bylaws so provide, the Board of Directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the Directors in office, may designate one or more committees, which, to the extent and in the manner provided in such resolution or in the bylaws, shall have and exercise the authority of the Board of Directors in the management of the Authority. Each such committee shall consist of two or more persons who are directors and may have additional non-voting members who, if such resolution or the bylaws so provide, need not be directors. The Board of Directors may not, however, provide for the delegation to such committees of the Authority of the power to issue bonds, enter into or amend a management agreement with respect to a Hospital or to employ or discharge a manager or an executive director. The Board may employ a manager or executive director of the Hospital and such other employees, experts and agents as it may see fit, or enter into a management agreement with any person and it may delegate to the manager the power to manage the Hospital and to employ and discharge employees. The Board may sell, lease, or close the Hospital as otherwise provided by law and may employ legal counsel.

Sec. 6. (a) The Authority shall have the power to construct, enlarge, furnish and equip Hospitals, purchase existing Hospitals, furnishings and equipment for its Hospitals, and to operate and maintain Hospitals. A Hospital must be located within the County creating the Authority.

(b) The Board may sell real property acquired by donation, gift, or purchase that the Board determines is not needed for Hospital purposes if the sale does not contravene (1) a trust indenture or bond resolution relating to outstanding bonds of the Authority or (2) any agreement entered into either prior to or after the effective date of this Section 6(b) between the Authority and a nonprofit corporation under the provisions of the Hospital Project Financing Act (Article 4437e–2, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes). The Board shall sell the property through sealed bids or at a public auction. If the Board conducts the sale by sealed bids, the Board shall provide notice of the sale in the manner provided by Chapter 455, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 5421c–12, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes). If the Board conducts the sale by public auction, the Board shall publish notice of the sale, including a description of the property and the date, time, and place of the auction in a newspaper with general circulation in the County creating the Authority once a week for three consecutive weeks, the first notice to appear at least 20 days before the auction. Nothing in this Section 6(b) is intended to affect or amend the powers granted to the Authority by the Hospital Project Financing Act (Article 4437e–2, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

Revenue Bonds

Sec. 7. The Authority may issue revenue bonds to provide funds for any of its purposes. Such bonds shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of all or any part of the revenues to be derived from the operation of the Hospital or Hospitals and any other revenues resulting from the ownership of the Hospital properties. The bonds may be additionally secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on real property of Authority or by a chattel mortgage on its personal property, or by both.

Content of Bonds; Maturity

Sec. 8. The bonds shall be authorized by resolution adopted by a majority vote of a quorum of the Board of Directors, and shall be signed by the president or vice president and countersigned by the secretary, or either or both of their facsimile signatures may be printed thereon. The seal of the Authority shall be impressed or printed thereon. The bonds shall mature serially or otherwise in not more than forty (40) years and may be sold at a price and under terms determined by the Board of Directors to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, provided that the net effective interest rate as defined by law in Article 717k-2 does not exceed ten per cent (10%) per annum, and within the discre-

Money Set Aside Out of Bond Sale Proceeds

Sec. 11. Money for the payment of not more than two (2) years' interest on the bonds and an amount estimated by the Board to be required for operating expenses during the first year of operation and an amount to fund any bond reserve fund or other reserve funds provided for in the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture may be set aside for those purposes out of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds.

Refunding Outstanding Bonds

Sec. 12. Bonds may be issued for the purpose of refunding outstanding bonds in the manner provided in this Act for other bonds, and may be exchanged by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas or sold and the proceeds applied in accord-

Operation of Hospital: Rates Charged; Creation of Funds; Lease Conditions

Sec. 14. Unless the Hospital is being leased, the Hospital shall be operated by the Authority without the intervention of private profit for the use and benefit of the public. If the Hospital is not being used, operated, or acquired by a nonprofit corporation under the provisions of the Hospital Project Financing Act (Article 4437e-2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes) or not leased it shall be the duty of the Board of Directors to charge sufficient rates for services rendered by the Hospital and to utilize other sources of its revenues that revenues will be produc-

Investment of Funds and Proceeds of Bonds

Sec. 18. The law as to the security for and the investment of funds, applicable to Counties, shall control, insofar as applicable the investment of funds belonging to Authority. The Bond Resolution or the Indenture or both may further restrict the making of such investments. In addition to other powers Authority shall have the right to invest the proceeds of its bonds, until such money is needed, in the manner authorized in the Bond Resolution or Indenture, and the proceeds of its bond may be deposited in such banks and may be paid out pursuant to such terms as may be provided in the Bond Resolution or Trust Indenture.

Art. 4494r-2.1. Advisory Elections in Issuance of Revenue Bonds

The commissioners court of each county which is authorized by law to issue revenue bonds for and on behalf of a hospital district in the county shall have the option, within its discretion and on its own motion, of calling an advisory election for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not a majority of the resident, qualified electors of the hospital district voting at an election held for such purpose favor the issuance of any such revenue bonds. In the event a commissioners court determines to exercise such option, it is authorized to call an election for such purpose, to be held in accordance with the Texas Election Code, except as hereinafter provided. The order of election shall set forth the date of the election, the proposition to be submitted and voted on, the polling places, the hours during which the polls will be open, and any other matters deemed necessary or advisable by the commissioners court. The expenses of holding the election shall be paid from hospital district funds. Notice of the election shall be given by publishing a substantial copy of the election order one time, at least 10 days prior to the date set for the election, in a newspaper of general circulation in the hospital district. The commissioners court shall canvass the returns and declare the results of the election; but the election shall be advisory only and shall not affect the authority of the commissioners court to issue revenue bonds for and on behalf of the hospital district under any applicable law if no election is required thereby.

Art. 4494r-4. Adoption of Tax Rolls by Hospital Districts Board of Equalizations; Assessment and Collections of Taxes

Sec. 1. That a hospital district organized pursuant to the provisions of Article IX, Section 9, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, may appoint its own assessor and collector of taxes for the hospital district.

Section 2 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., ch. 841, repealing § 2 of this article, enacted the Property Tax Code, constituting Title 5 of the Tax Code.

Art. 4494r-5. Payment of Current Operating Expenses of County-Wide Hospital District in Counties of 1,000,000 or More Applicability of Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall be applicable to counties now or hereafter containing a population of 1,000,000 or more according to the last preceding federal census, wherein there exists a county-wide hospital district whose taxes are levied and collected by the commissioners court and which has teaching hospital facilities that are affiliated with a state-owned medical school, such counties hereinafter referred to as “authorized counties.”

Revenue Anticipation Agreements Authorized

Sec. 2. The commissioners court of any authorized county is hereby authorized to enter into and execute with any bank or banks or other corporations, partnerships, persons, financial institutions, or lending institutions revenue anticipation agreements in accordance with this Act.

Advances and Repayments: Revenue Anticipation Agreements

Sec. 3. Upon a finding and determination by the commissioners court of an authorized county that the projected revenues and tax collections of and for the hospital district will not be received by the district at the times necessary to pay when due the district’s operating and maintenance expenses, the commissioners court may execute a revenue anticipation agreement by which the other contracting party (or parties) agrees to advance to the district, and the authorized county and the district agree to repay (from the sources hereinbelow specified), funds necessary for the operation and maintenance of the district’s hospital facilities during the term of the revenue anticipation agreement. The revenue anticipation agreement may be upon such terms as the parties may agree, subject to the following limitations:

(a) The term of the revenue anticipation agreement shall not exceed two years.

(b) Advances made to the district during the term of the agreement shall not be made more frequently than once each month and each shall not be greater in amount than the difference between (i) the accumulated and unpaid operating and maintenance expenses of the district, and (ii) the revenues and income of the district, including tax revenues, actually received by the district to the date of the advance and lawfully available for the purpose of paying such expenses. The party or parties making the advances may conclusively rely on certifications made by authorized officers of the district as to the facts specified in this subsection.

(c) The advances under the revenue anticipation agreement may bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding the rate permitted by law for revenue bonds of the district, shall mature and become due and payable on a date not later than the last day of the term of the revenue anticipation agreement, shall be subject to prepayment without penalty at any time before their maturity date, and they shall not be refunded or in any manner refinanced or extended. The agreement may provide that the rates or rate of interest on the advances may be determined at the time made by reference to such determinative factors and formulas as the parties may agree.

(d) If, in any month during the term of the agreement while advances are outstanding, revenues, including tax revenues, are received and are not required to pay and are not lawfully committed to the payment of other obligations and expenses of the district, the commissioners court shall apply the same upon receipt to the payment or prepayment of any advances at the time outstanding and unpaid under the revenue anticipation agreement, and no advances shall be made under a subsequent revenue anticipation agreement until all advances made under the prior agreement have been paid in full, retired, and canceled.

(e) Advances made under the revenue anticipation agreement shall be and are hereby directed to be secured by and payable, either or both, (1) from a pledge of and lien upon revenues of the district derived from the operation and maintenance of its hospital facilities, and/or (2) from tax revenues when collected, levied for the purpose of operating and maintaining the district's facilities for the year during which the advances are made. Upon default in the payment or repayment of any advances made under the terms of the revenue anticipation agreement when due or when required to be prepaid under the terms of this Act, any district court may be petitioned by mandamus or otherwise to enforce the agreement and prepayment as required by this Act.

Use of Advances

Sec. 4. Funds received from advances made pursuant to revenue anticipation agreements authorized by this Act shall be used solely for the purposes authorized by this Act. However, it shall not be a defense to repayment of advances that the funds have been used for a purpose not authorized hereby. The auditor of the affairs of the hospital district shall concurrently with the regular audit thereof audit the use of said funds and shall certify to the commissioners court whether or not the funds have been used for proper operating and maintenance purposes as authorized hereby.

Bonds or Notes; Ad Valorem Taxes

Sec. 5. (a) The commissioners court of an authorized county is authorized to include in any revenue anticipation agreement provisions pursuant to which the authorized county will agree to execute and deliver, concurrently with the making of advances under the agreement, interest-bearing bonds (which may be designated as notes) evidencing the obligation of the authorized county and the hospital district to repay the advances made pursuant to the agreement and in accordance therewith and with this Act. Such bonds or notes may be delivered upon such terms and may contain such provisions not inconsistent with Section 3 of this Act as may be prescribed in the revenue anticipation agreement.

(b) The provisions hereof relating to advances shall apply to bonds or notes evidencing the obligation to repay the same issued under this section. It is provided, however, that if such hospital district was created pursuant to the authority granted to the legislature by Article IX, Section 4, of the Texas Constitution and the creation of such hospital district was approved at an election held in such hospital district as required by Article IX, Section 4, of the Texas Constitution or if such hospital district was created pursuant to any other constitutional provision which would permit the levy and pledge of taxes as hereinafter authorized, then regardless of any restrictions in any other law of this state the commissioners court also is authorized in addition to the mandatory security required in Section 3(e) hereof to pay and secure the bonds or notes issued under this section from and by annual ad valorem taxes levied and to be levied on all taxable property in such hospital district, and such annual ad valorem taxes may be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds or notes to the extent required therein and in the agreement. If such annual ad valorem taxes are thus pledged it shall be the duty of the commissioners court annually to levy a tax on all taxable property in the hospital district sufficient or to the extent necessary to pay the principal of and the interest on the bonds or notes when due, but the rate of the tax, if any, for each year may be fixed after giving consideration to the amount of money estimated to be received from revenues pledged under Section 3 hereof which may be available for the payment of such principal and interest, all to the extent and in the manner provided in the revenue anticipation agreement, but provided further that such annual ad valorem tax together with all other annual ad valorem taxes levied in the hospital district shall never exceed a maximum annual rate of 75 cents on the $100 valuation of all taxable property within such hospital district. Further, if such annual ad valorem taxes are thus pledged, it shall be the duty of the commissioners court during each year while any of the bonds or notes or interest thereon is outstanding and unpaid to compute and ascertain a rate and amount of ad valorem tax, if any, which will be sufficient to raise and produce the money required to make the aforesaid payment to the extent required; and said tax shall be based on the latest approved tax rolls of such hospital district, with full allowance being made for tax delinquencies and the cost of tax collection. Said rate and amount of ad valorem tax shall be levy and ordered to be levied subject to the maximum limitation prescribed above against all taxable property in such hospital district for each year while any of the bonds or notes or interest thereon are outstanding and unpaid; and said tax shall be assessed and collected each such year and used for such purpose to the extent so required.

(c) Upon the issuance, sale, and delivery of bonds or notes under the authority of this section, such bonds or notes shall be incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms and conditions for all purposes. Such bonds or notes shall constitute "investment securities" under the Uniform Commercial Code of Texas. Any such bonds or notes shall be legal and authorized security for public funds of this state and its political subdivisions and shall be legal and authorized investments by all banks, savings banks, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies of all types.

Cumulative Effect; Conflicting Provisions

Sec. 6. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the execution of revenue anticipation agreements and the issuance of bonds or notes to evidence obligations to repay advances made thereunder and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby without reference to any other laws or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided; and when any bonds are being issued pursuant to the authority of this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provisions of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control.

CHAPTER SIX. MEDICINE

Art. 4495a. Repealed.

Art. 4495b. Medical Practice Act

Sec. 1.02. The legislature makes the following declarations:

(1) the practice of medicine is a privilege and not a natural right of individuals and as a matter of policy it is considered necessary to protect the public interest through the specific formulation of this Act to regulate the granting of that privilege and its subsequent use and control;

(2) the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners should remain the primary means of licensing, regulating, and disciplining the individual physicians and surgeons who are licensed to practice medicine;

(3) the current system relating to licensing physicians and surgeons is basically a sound, workable system and should be continued;

(4) the separate laws regulating the practice of medicine should be brought together under one Act; this Act is not intended to make substantive changes or alter prior judicial interpretation unless the subject matter in this Act is substantively changed or new matter is expressly added or old matter expressly deleted;

(5) this Act is to continue the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, previously established under the laws of this state, as an independent agency of the executive branch of government;

(6) the acts that created the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners and that regulate the practice of medicine and related subjects have been enacted as separate articles of the Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended; this Act is to comply with the Texas Sunset Act and to modernize and make the laws relating to the practice of medicine more accessible and understand-one purpose of this Act is to make the laws regulating physicians and surgeons more accessible and understandable by:

(A) rearranging those laws into a more logical order;
(B) employing a format and numbering system designed to facilitate citation of the law and to accommodate future expansion of the law;
(C) eliminating repealed, duplicative, unconstitutional, expired, executed, and other ineffective provisions;
(D) bringing together in one Act multiple articles; and
(E) restating the law in a more modern language where possible;

(8) the individual physician should be given the greatest opportunity to exercise his best independent professional judgment in deciding what medical acts can be safely delegated; therefore, rules of the board regulating delegation should have the purpose of promoting such exercise of professional judgment and decision by not containing, except as absolutely necessary, global prohibitions or restrictions on delegation of medical acts; and

(9) recognizing that state agencies and political subdivisions which own or operate hospitals, facilities, or institutions or administer programs are responsible for determining medical staff appointments or the qualifications of physicians for such programs, and further recognizing that all persons licensed under this Act have met certain basic educational requirements, been examined by the board, and passed the same qualifying examination which applies the same standards to all who desire to practice medicine, irrespective of the academic medical degree, it is the intent of the legislature to prohibit differentiation solely on the basis of the academic medical degree held by a person licensed under this Act in determining such medical staff appointments or such qualifications.

To this end such state agencies or political subdivisions shall not differentiate solely on the basis of the academic medical degree held by a person licensed under this Act. State agencies or political subdivisions which own or operate hospitals, facilities, or institutions shall, however, be free to adopt reasonable rules, regulations, and requirements relating to qualifications for medical staff appointments, reappointments, termination of appointments, the delineation of clinical privileges, or the curtailment of clinical privileges of those who are appointed to such medical staff or permitted to participate in educational programs so long as such rules, regulations, and requirements are determined upon a reasonable basis, such as professional and ethical qualifications of the physician, upon standards that are reasonable, applied untainted by irrelevant considerations, supported by sufficient evidence, free of arbitrariness, capriciousness, or unreasonableness and which do not differentiate solely upon the academic medical degree held by such physician. The provisions contained herein relating to the academic medical degree shall not be applicable to any medical school or college or any programs of a medical school or college.

(h) A person is ineligible for appointment to the board if, at the time of appointment, the person is a stockholder, paid full-time faculty member, or a member of the board of trustees of a medical school.

(i) All board members must take the official oath.

(h) The board may receive criminal records or reports from any law enforcement agency or source pertaining to its licensees or any applicant for license. The board shall submit to the Department of Public Safety a complete set of fingerprints of every applicant for a license, and the Department of Public Safety shall cause them to be classified and checked against those in their fingerprint files and shall forthwith certify their findings concerning the criminal record of the applicant or shall report the lack of a criminal record, as the case may be, to the board. All criminal records and reports received from the Department of Public Safety shall be for the exclusive use of the board and shall be privileged and shall not be released or otherwise disclosed to any person or agency by the board except on court order. Any applicant for licensure or any licensee whose license is subject to revocation, cancellation, or suspension because of adverse information shall be afforded the opportunity for a hearing before the board prior to any action on the application for license or revocation, cancellation, or suspension of license.

(i) The board shall have the power to appoint committees from its own membership and to make rules and regulations not inconsistent with this Act as may be necessary for the performance of its duties. (q) The board shall prepare the following:

1. An alphabetical listing of the names of the licensees;
2. An alphabetical listing of the names of the licensees by the county in which the licensee’s principal place of practice is located;
3. A summary of the board’s functions;
4. A copy of this Act and a listing of other laws relating to the practice of medicine;
5. A copy of the board’s rules; and
6. Other information considered appropriate by the board.

(r) The board on request shall distribute a copy of information prepared under Subsection (q) of this section to the requesting person. The board shall distribute on request copies of the information to the public libraries in this state.

(s) The board shall prepare information of consumer interest describing the regulatory functions of the board and describing the board’s procedures by which consumer complaints are filed with and resolved by the board. The board on request shall make the information available to the general public and appropriate state agencies.

(t) The board shall on request of a licensee issue certification on endorsement of its license to other states and charge a reasonable fee for the issuance.

(v) The board shall cause to be developed a system of annual performance evaluations of the board’s employees based on measurable job tasks. Any merit pay authorized by the board must be based on the system established under this subsection.

SUBCHAPTER C. LICENSURE
Registration of Practitioners and Interns

Sec. 3.01. (a) All persons now lawfully qualified to practice medicine in this state, or who are hereafter licensed for the practice of medicine by the board, shall be registered as practitioners with the board on or before the first day of January of each succeeding year. Each person so registered with the board shall pay, in connection with each annual registration and for the receipt hereinafter provided for, a fee established by the board which fee shall accompany the application of each person for registration. The payment shall be made to the board. Every person so registered shall file with the board a written application for annual registration, setting forth his name and mailing address, the place or places where the applicant is engaged in the practice of medicine, and other necessary information prescribed by the board.

(b) Any person desiring to serve in this state as an intern, resident, or fellow in graduate medical education programs herein described who is not otherwise licensed by the board shall register with the board within 30 days after beginning service as an intern, resident, or fellow, and annually thereafter, and shall pay the fee as the board may determine to be reasonable. Upon registration, a permit shall be issued annually to the interns, residents, and fellows participating in graduate medical education programs at hospitals and other medical institutions approved by the board on request of the hospitals or medical institutions as provided by rules of the board. The fees shall be deposited in the medical registration fund. Registration as an intern, resident, or fellow does not authorize the performance of medical acts except as the acts are performed as a part of graduate medical education programs and under the supervision of a licensed practitioner of medicine.

(c) Failure of any licensee to pay the annual license renewal fee on or before the 90th day after the date it is due automatically cancels his licensure. Any licensee whose license has been canceled because of failure to pay the annual license renewal fee may secure reinstatement of his license at any time within that license year upon payment of the delinquent fee together with a penalty in an amount as the board may determine to be reasonable. After expiration of the license year for which the license fee was not paid, no license shall be reinstated except upon application and satisfaction of other conditions as the board may establish and payment of delinquent fees and a penalty to be assessed by the board.

(d) Practicing medicine as defined in this Act without an annual registration receipt for the current year as provided in this Act has the same force and effect as and is subject to all penalties of practicing medicine without a license.

(e) On receipt of an application, accompanied by the proper registration fee, the board, after ascertaining, either from the records of the board or from other sources considered by it to be reliable, that the applicant is a licensed practitioner of medicine in this state, shall issue to the applicant an annual registration receipt certifying that the applicant has filed the application and has paid the registration fee for the year in question. The filing of the application, the payment of the registration fee, and the issuance of the receipt shall not entitle the
The bond shall be in an amount not less that $10,000, be in compliance with the insurance laws of the state, and be payable to the state for the use of the state if the secretary-treasurer does not faithfully discharge the duties of the office. The board shall file a surety bond with the board. The bond shall be in an amount not less that $10,000, be in compliance with the insurance laws of the state, and be payable to the state for the use of the state if the secretary-treasurer does not faithfully discharge the duties of the office. The board shall pay the premium on the bond. The salary shall be paid out of said medical registration fund and shall not be in any way a charge upon the general revenue of the state.

(g) The annual registration fee shall apply to all persons licensed by the board, whether or not they are practicing within the borders of this state.

(h) The secretary-treasurer shall determine the eligibility of each applicant for licensure by examination or reciprocity and shall recommend to the board all applicants eligible for licensure. If the secretary-treasurer cannot determine the eligibility of an applicant, then a committee of the board shall determine eligibility of the applicant. If the committee of the board cannot determine the eligibility of an applicant, then the board shall determine eligibility of the applicant. If a physician’s application is denied by the secretary-treasurer, the applicant may request within 20 days of receipt of denial that a committee of the board determine his eligibility. If a physician’s application is denied by the committee of the board, the applicant may request within 20 days of denial a hearing to appeal the committee’s decision. The board shall decide at the next regular board meeting the final administrative decision as to licensure. This hearing is not a contested case under the Administrative Procedure Act, but the applicant is entitled to legal counsel of his choice and may appeal the decision of the board to a district court under Section 19 of the Administrative Procedure Act. The denied applicant is entitled to know in writing why he was denied, but all reports received or gathered by the board on each applicant are confidential and are not subject to disclosure under the Open Records Law.

(i) The board must notify each delinquent licensee of his impending license cancellation by registered or certified mail sent to the licensee’s address listed with the board not less than 30 days prior to the cancellation.

Sec. 3.02. (a) On application on forms provided by the board for this purpose and receipt of renewal fees, licenses shall be renewed annually by the board.

(b) The board by rule may adopt a system under which registrations expire on various dates during the year. The date for license cancellation due to nonpayment shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the expiration date is changed, registration fees payable on or before January 1 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each registrant shall pay only that portion of the registration fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the registration is valid. On renewal of the registration on the new expiration date, the total registration fee is payable.

Reciprocal Agreements

Sec. 3.03. (a) The board, at its sole discretion and upon payment by an applicant of a fee prescribed by the board under this Act, may grant a license to practice medicine to any reputable physician who is a graduate of a reputable medical college and who:

1. is a licensee of another state or Canadian province having requirements for physician registration and practice substantially equivalent to those established by the laws of this state; or

2. is qualified by an examination for a certificate to practice medicine under a commission in the uniformed services of the United States.

(b) An application for a license under this section must be in writing and upon a form prescribed by the board. The application must be accompanied by:

1. a diploma or photograph of a diploma awarded to the applicant by a reputable medical college and a certified transcript or a certificate, license, or commission issued to the applicant by the Medical Corps of the uniformed services of the United States;

2. a license or a certified copy of a license to practice medicine lawfully issued to the applicant, on examination, by some other state or a Canadian province that requires in its examination the same general degree of fitness required by this state and that grants the same reciprocal privileges to persons licensed by the board; or

3. a certification made by an executive officer of the uniformed services of the United States, the president or secretary of the board that issued the license, or a duly constituted registration office of the state or Canadian province that issued the certificate or license, reciting that the accompanying certificate or license has not been canceled, suspended, or revoked except by honorable discharge from the Medical Corps of the uniformed services of the United States and reciting that the statement of the qualifications made in the application for medical license in Texas is true and correct.

(c) Applicants for a license under this section must subscribe to an oath in writing before an officer authorized by law to administer oaths. The written oath must be a part of the application. The application must state that:

(1) the license, certificate, or authority under which the applicant practiced medicine in the state or Canadian province from which the applicant is removed or in the uniformed service in which the applicant served was at the time of the removal or completion of service in full force and not canceled, suspended, or revoked;
(2) the applicant is the identical person to whom the certificate, license, or commission and the diploma were issued;
(3) no proceeding has been instituted against the applicant for the cancellation, suspension, or revocation of the certificate, license, or authority to practice medicine in the state, Canadian province, or uniformed service of the United States in which it was issued; and
(4) no prosecution is pending against the applicant in any state, federal, or Canadian court for any offense that under the laws of this state is a felony.

(d) A “reputable physician” means one who would be eligible for examination by the board. A “reputable medical school or college” means a medical school or college that was approved by the board at the time the applicant’s degree was conferred.

(e) In addition to other licensure requirements, the board may require by rule and regulation that graduates of medical schools located outside of the United States and Canada, or the schools themselves, provide additional information to the board concerning the medical school attended prior to approval.

(f) The board may refuse to issue a license to an applicant who graduated from a medical school outside of the United States and Canada if it finds that the applicant does not possess the requisite qualifications to provide the same standard of medical care as provided by a licensed physician in this state.

(g) In addition to the requirements prescribed by this section, the board may require applicants to comply with other requirements that the board considers appropriate.

Qualification of Licensee

Sec. 3.04. (a) An applicant, to be eligible for the examination, must present satisfactory proof to the board that the applicant:

(1) is at least 21 years of age;
(2) is of good professional character;
(3) has completed 60 semester hours of college courses other than in medical school, which courses would be acceptable, at the time of completion, to The University of Texas for credit on a bachelor of arts degree or a bachelor of science degree; and
(4) is a graduate of a medical school or college that was approved by the board at the time the degree was conferred.

(b) Applications for examination must be made in writing, verified by affidavit, filed with the board on forms prescribed by the board, and accompanied by a fee as the board determines to be reasonable.

Examination

Sec. 3.05. (a) All examinations for license to practice medicine shall be conducted in writing in the English language and in a manner as to be entirely fair and impartial to all individuals and to every school or system of medicine. All applicants shall be known to the examiners only by numbers, without names or other method of identification on examination papers by which members of the board may be able to identify the applicants or examinees, until after the general averages of the examinees' numbers in the class have been determined and license granted or refused. Examinations shall be conducted on and cover those subjects generally taught by medical schools, a knowledge of which is commonly and generally required of candidates for the degree of doctor of medicine or doctor of osteopathy conferred by schools or colleges of medicine approved by the board, and the examinations shall also be conducted on and cover the subject of medical jurisprudence. On satisfactory examination conducted as required by this Act under rules of the board, applicants shall be granted licenses to practice medicine. All questions and answers, with the grades attached, shall be preserved for one year in the executive office of the board or such other repository as the board by rule may direct. All applicants examined at the same time shall be given identical questions. All certificates shall be attested by the seal of the board. The board in its discretion may give the examination for license in two parts.

(b) In addition to the requirements prescribed by this Act, the board may require applicants to comply with other requirements that the board considers appropriate and establish reasonable fees for examination.

(c) All applicants for license to practice medicine in this state not otherwise licensed under the provisions of law must successfully pass an examination by the board. The board is authorized to adopt and enforce all rules of procedure not inconsistent with statutory requirements. All applicants shall be given due notice of the date and place of the examination; provided that the partial examinations provided for in this Act shall not be disturbed by this section. If any applicant, because of failure to pass the required examination, is refused a license, the applicant, at a time as the board may fix, shall be permitted to take a subsequent examination upon any subjects required in the original examination as the board may prescribe on the payment of a fee as the board may determine to be reasonable. In the event satisfactory grades shall be made on the sub-subjects prescribed and taken on the reexamination, the board may grant the applicant a license to practice medicine. The board shall determine the credit to be given examinees on answers turned in on the subjects of complete and partial examination, and its decision is final.

(d) Examination questions that may be used in the future, examinations other than the one taken by the person requesting it, and deliberations and records relating to the professional character and fitness of applicants are exempted from the Open Meetings Law and the Open Records Law. The records, however, shall be disclosed to individual applicants upon written request, unless the person supplying the information to the board requests that it not be disclosed.

(e) Within 30 days after the day on which an examination is administered under this Act, the board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination. However, if an examination is graded or reviewed by a national testing service, the board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination within four weeks after the date the board receives the results from the testing service. If the notice of the examination results will be delayed for longer than 90 days after the examination, the board shall notify the examinee of the reason for the delay before the 90th day.

(f) If requested in writing by a person who fails the examination administered under this Act, the board shall furnish the person with a summarized analysis of the person's performance on the examination consisting of the person's score on each portion of the examination.

Construction

Sec. 3.06. (a) Nothing in this Act shall be construed so as to discriminate against a school or system of medical practice or to affect or limit in any way the application or use of the principles, tenets, or teachings of any church in the administration to the sick or suffering by prayer or pastoral counseling without the use of any drug or material substance represented as being medically effective.

(b) This Act does not apply to:

(1) dentists, duly qualified and registered under the laws of this state who confine their practice strictly to dentistry;
(2) duly licensed optometrists who confine their practice strictly to optometry as defined by law;
(3) duly licensed chiropractors who confine their practice strictly to chiropractic as defined by law;
(4) registered or professional nurses and licensed vocational nurses registered or licensed under the laws of this state who confine their practice strictly within the provisions of such applicable licensing Acts and the laws of this state;

(7) duly licensed physical therapists who confine their activities or practice strictly to physical therapy and who are not in violation of any law relating to physical therapy practice;
(8) commissioned or contract surgeons of the uniformed services of the United States or in the Public Health Service in the performance of their duties and not engaged in private practice;
(9) any person furnishing medical assistance in case of an emergency or disaster situation if no charge is made for the medical assistance;
(10) a student in training in a medical school approved by the board while performing the duties assigned in the course of training, providing the duties are performed under the supervision of a licensed practitioner, except that medical residents, intern, and fellows shall be required to register and be subject to the other applicable provisions of this Act;
(11) legally qualified physicians of other states called in consultation but who have no office in Texas and who appoint no place in this state for seeing, examining, or treating patients; or
(12) any other activities that the board may designate as exempt from the application of this Act.

(c) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prohibit any person from providing nutritional advice or giving advice concerning proper nutrition. However, this subsection confers no authority to practice medicine or surgery or to undertake the prevention, treatment, or cure of disease, pain, injury, deformity, or physical or mental conditions or to state that any product might cure any disease, disorder, or condition in violation of any provision of law. In this subsection, the terms "providing nutritional advice" and "giving advice concerning proper nutrition" mean the giving of information as to the use and role of food and food ingredients, including dietary supplements.

(d) This Act shall be so construed that:

The administration or provision, as ordered by a physician, may be delegated through physician’s orders, standing medical orders, standing delegation orders, or other orders, where applicable, as the orders are defined by the board. The administration or provision of dangerous drugs shall be in compliance with laws relating to the practice of medicine and Texas and federal laws relating to the dangerous drugs. This subdivision does not permit the physician or person or persons acting under the supervision of the physician to keep a pharmacy, advertised or otherwise, for the retailing of the dangerous drugs without complying with the applicable laws relating to the dangerous drugs;

(3) a person licensed to practice medicine shall be authorized and shall have the authority to delegate to any qualified and properly trained person or persons, acting under the physician’s supervision, the act or acts of administering or providing dangerous drugs, if the provision is provided through a facility licensed by the State Board of Pharmacy pursuant to applicable law, as ordered by the physician, which are used or required to meet the immediate needs of the physician’s patients. In this subdivision, “administering” means the direct application of a drug by injection, inhalation, ingestion, or any other means to the body of the patient; “provision” means to supply one or more unit doses of a drug, medicine, or dangerous drug. The drug or medicine shall be supplied in a suitable container that has been labeled in compliance with the applicable drug laws. However, a qualified and trained person or persons, acting under the supervision of a physician, may be permitted to specify at the time of the provision the inclusion of the date of provision and the patient’s name and address;

The administration or provision, as ordered by a physician, may be delegated through physician’s orders, standing medical orders, standing delegation orders, or other orders, where applicable, as the orders are defined by the board. The provision of dangerous drugs shall be in compliance with any laws relating to the practice of medicine, laws relating to the practice of pharmacy, and laws relating to the practice of professional nursing. The orders may not be inconsistent with this Act and may not be used for the performance of acts and duties that require the exercise of independent medical judgment. In this subdivision, “administering” means the direct application of a drug by injection, inhalation, ingestion, or any other means to the body of the patient; “provision” means to supply one or more unit doses of a drug, medicine, or dangerous drug. The drug or medicine shall be supplied in a suitable container that has been labeled in compliance with the applicable drug laws. (i) is issued to the optometrist by an area physician licensed to practice medicine in this state; and

(ii) authorizes the use of the pharmaceutical agents authorized by this subdivision.

It is necessary that the physician have knowledge of the requesting optometrist, and if not, then same shall be good cause for denial.

(D) A standing delegation order issued under this subdivision or a representation of the order will be prominently displayed in the office of the optometrist. The board will prescribe the form of the standing delegation order and the certificate or representation of the order. The standing delegation order, as a minimum, will:

(16) inability to practice medicine with reasonable skill and safety to patients by reason of age, illness, drunkenness, excessive use of drugs, narcotics, chemicals, or any other type of material or as a result of any mental or physical condition. In enforcing this subdivision the board shall, upon probable cause, request a physician to submit to a mental or physical examination by physicians designated by the board. If the physician refuses to submit to the examination, the board shall issue an order requiring the physician to show cause why he should not be required to submit to the examination and shall schedule a hearing on the order within 30 days after notice is served on the physician. The action does not constitute state action on the part of the association, society, or hospital medical staff;

(20) repeated or recurring meritorious healthcare liability claims that in the opinion of the board evidence professional incompetence likely to injure the public; or

(21) suspension, revocation, or restriction by another state of a license to practice medicine, based upon acts by the licensee similar to acts described in this section. A certified copy of the record of the state taking the action is conclusive evidence of it.

On proof that a practitioner of medicine has been initially convicted of a felony under the Texas Controlled Substances Act, as amended (Article 4476–15, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), or Chapter 425, Acts of the 56th Legislature, Regular Session, 1959, as amended (Article 4476–14, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), the board shall suspend the practitioner’s license. On the practitioner’s final conviction for such a felony offense, the board shall revoke the practitioner’s license.

Initiation of Charges

Sec. 4.02. Proceedings, unless otherwise specified, under this Act and charges against a licensee may be instituted by the board on its own initiative or by any person. Charges must be in writing and on sworn affidavit filed with the board detailing the nature of the charges. The president or his designee shall set a time and place for a hearing and shall cause a copy of the charges, together with a notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing to be served on the respondent or the respondent’s counsel.

Notice

Sec. 4.03. (a) Service of process notifying the respondent of the time and place of a hearing and the nature of the charges against the person shall be made in person or by mail. Notice shall be sufficient if made in person or if sent by registered or certified mail to the person charged at the address shown in the board files or on his most recent application for registration or renewal, no later than 10 days before the hearing.
(b) If service of notice as prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section is impossible or cannot be effected, the board shall cause to be published once a week for two successive weeks a notice of the hearing in a newspaper published in the county of the last known place of practice in Texas of the person, if known. If the licensee is not currently practicing in Texas as evidenced by information in the board files, or if the last county of practice is unknown, publication shall be in a newspaper in Travis County. If a written complaint is filed with the board relating to a person licensed by the board, the board, at least as often as quarterly and until final determination of the action to be taken relative to the complaint, shall notify the complaining party consistent with this Act of the status of the complaint unless the notice would jeopardize an active investigation.

(e) The board in its discretion may accept the voluntary surrender of a license. No license may be returned unless the board determines, under rules established by it, that the licensee is competent to resume practice.

Right to Counsel

Sec. 4.06. In all hearings under this subchapter, the respondent shall have the right to appear either personally or by counsel or both.

The board, at the time of probation, shall set out the period of time that constitutes the probationary period.

(b) The board may at any time while the probationer remains on probation hold a hearing and, upon majority vote, rescind the probation and enforce the board’s original action.

Temporary Suspension of License

Sec. 4.13. If the executive committee of the board determines from the evidence or information presented to it that a person licensed to practice medicine in this state by his continuation in practice of the profession of a physician constitutes an immediate danger to the public, the executive committee of the board may temporarily suspend the license of that person without notice or hearing on the complaint, provided institution of proceedings for a hearing before the board is initiated simultaneously with the temporary suspension and provided that a hearing is held as soon as can be accomplished under the Administrative Procedure Act and this Act.

Examination of Applicants for License; Evidence of College Credits

Sec. 10. (a) All applicants for license to practice chiropractic in this State, not otherwise licensed under the provisions of this law, must successfully pass an examination by the Texas Board of Chiropractic Examiners established by this law. The Board is authorized to adopt and enforce rules of procedure not inconsistent with the statutory requirements. All applicants shall be eligible for examination who present satisfactory evidence to the Board that they are more than eighteen (18) years of age, of good moral character, have completed sixty (60) semester hours of college courses, other than a chiropractic school, and are graduates of bona fide reputable chiropractic schools (whose entrance requirements and course of instruction are as high as those of the better class of chiropractic schools in the United States); a reputable chiropractic school shall maintain a resident course of instruction equivalent to not less than four (4) terms of eight (8) months each, or a resident course of not less than the number of semester hours required by The University of Texas at Austin leading toward a Bachelor of Arts degree; shall give a course of instruction in the fundamental subjects named in Section 12 of this Act; and shall have the necessary teaching force and facilities for proper instruction in all of said subjects. In the event satisfactory grades shall be made in the subjects prescribed and taken on such re-examination, the Board shall grant to the applicant a license to practice chiropractic. The Board shall determine the grade to be given the examinees on the answers turned in on the subjects of complete and partial examination, and its decision thereupon shall be final.

(d) Prior to the issuance of a license to practice chiropractic, the Board shall require from a person otherwise qualified by law, evidence, verified by transcript of credits, certifying that the person has satisfactorily completed sixty (60) or more semester hours of college credits at a college or university which issues credits acceptable by The University of Texas at Austin leading toward a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree. If the notice of the examination results will be delayed for longer than ninety (90) days after the examination date, the Board shall notify the examinee of the reason for the delay before the ninetieth (90th) day.
Art. 4512b

Conduct of Examinations; Subjects

Sec. 12. All examinations for license to practice chiropractic shall be conducted in writing in the English language and in such manner as to be entirely fair and impartial to all applicants. All applicants shall be known to the examiners only by numbers, without names or other method of identification on examination papers by which members of the Board may be able to identify such applicants, or examinees, until after the general averages of the examinees’ numbers in the class have been determined, and license granted or refused. Examinations shall be conducted on practical and theoretical chiropractic and in the subjects of anatomy-histology, chemistry, bacteriology, physiology, symptomatology, pathology and analysis of the human spine, and hygiene and public health. Upon satisfactory examination, conducted as aforesaid under the rules of the Board, which shall consist of an average grade of not less than seventy-five per cent (75%) with not less than sixty per cent (60%) in any one subject, applicants shall be granted license to practice chiropractic. (c) If a written complaint is filed with the Board relating to a licensee, the Board at least as frequently as quarterly and until final disposition of the complaint, shall notify the parties to the complaint of the status of the complaint unless the notice would jeopardize an undercover investigation.

(d) Any person whose license to practice chiropractic has been cancelled, revoked or suspended by the Board may take an appeal to any of the district courts in the county of his residence, but the decision of the Board shall not be enjoined or stayed except upon application to such district court after notice to the Board.

(e) Upon application, the Board may reissue a license to practice chiropractic to a person whose license has been cancelled or suspended, but such application, in the case of cancellation or revocation, shall not be made prior to one (1) year after the cancellation or revocation, and shall be made in such manner and form as the Board may require.

(f) If the Board proposes to refuse a person’s application for a license, to suspend or revoke a person’s license, or to probate or reprimand a person, the person is entitled to a hearing before the Board.

(g) Disciplinary proceedings are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6222–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

The Board shall have the right to order corrective advertising when a psychologist, individually or under his assumed name, engages in false, misleading, or deceptive advertising.

(b) If the Board proposes to refuse a person’s application for a license or certification, to suspend or revoke a person’s license or certificate, or to reprimand a person, the person is entitled to a hearing before the Board.

(c) Proceedings for the refusal, suspension, or revocation of a license or certificate or for the reprimand of a person are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

The Board, at the time of probation, shall set out the period of time which shall constitute the probationary period. Provided further, that the Board may at any time while the probationer remains on probation hold a hearing, and upon majority vote, rescind the probation and enforce the Board's original action in revoking, cancelling, or suspending the psychologists' license or certification, the said hearing to rescind the probation shall be called by the Chairman of the Texas State Board of Examiners of Psychologists who shall cause to be issued a notice setting a time and place for the hearing and containing the charges or complaints against the probationer, said notice to be served on the probationer or his counsel at least ten (10) days prior to the time set for the hearing. At said hearing the respondent shall have the right to appear either personally or by counsel or both, to produce witnesses or evidence in his behalf, to cross-examine witnesses, and to have subpoenas issued by the Board. The Board shall thereupon determine the charges upon their merits. All charges, complaints, notices, orders, records, and publications authorized or required by the terms of this Act shall be privileged. The order revoking or rescinding the probation shall not be subject to review or appeal.

(f) On application, the Board may recertify the applicant or reissue a license to a person whose license has been cancelled, revoked, or suspended. However, in the case of cancellation or revocation, the application may not be made before one year after the cancellation or revocation and must be made in the manner and form as the Board may require.

Enforcement of Competency Requirements

Sec. 24A. (a) If the Board reasonably believes that a person applying to take the certification examination, or applying for renewal of certification, is not physically and mentally competent to render psychological services with reasonable skill and safety to his patients, or is afflicted with a disease or condition, either physical or mental, which would impair his competency to render psychological services, the Board may request that that person submit to a physical examination by a medical doctor approved by the Board or submit to a mental examination by a medical doctor or licensed psychologist approved by the Board.

(b) If the applicant or person seeking renewal of certification refuses to submit to the examination, the Board shall issue an order requiring that person to show cause for his refusal and shall schedule a hearing on the order within thirty (30) days after notice is served on the person who has refused to submit to the examination. Notice shall be given either by personal service or by registered mail return receipt requested. At the hearing the person may appear personally and by counsel and present evidence in justification of his refusal to submit to the examination. After a complete hearing the Board shall issue an order either requiring the person to submit to the examination or withdrawing the request for the examination. Unless the request is withdrawn the person who has refused to take the examination may not take the certification examination, and is not entitled to renewal of his certification. An appeal from the order of the Board may be made under Section 23 of this Act.

At the hearing the respondent has the right to appear either personally, by counsel, or both, to produce witnesses or evidence in his behalf, to cross-examine witnesses, and to have subpoenas issued by the board. The hearing to rescind the probation shall be held by the chairman of the board who shall cause to be issued a notice setting the time and place for the hearing containing the charges or complaints against the probationer, said notice to be served on the probationer or his counsel at least 30 days prior to the time set for the hearing. When personal service is impossible, the same provisions for service of process by publication in lieu of personal service as set out in Subsection (b) of this section apply. At the hearing the probationer has the right to appear either personally, by counsel, or both, to produce witnesses or evidence in his behalf, to cross-examine witnesses, and to have subpoenas issued by the board. A member is entitled to compensation for transportation expenses as provided by the General Appropriations Act.

Sec. 8. (a) The executive secretary must be an employee of the department. The Commissioner of Health, after consulting with the board, shall designate an employee to serve as executive secretary of the board. The executive secretary shall be the administrator of professional counselor licensing activities for the board. The department may secure by agreement services that it considers necessary and provide for compensation for these services and may employ and compensate, within appropriations available, the professional consultants, technical assistants, and employees on a full- or part-time basis necessary to administer this Act.

Initial Licensing Period

Sec. 9. (a) For one year beginning on the effective date of this Act, a person may apply for licensing without examination, except that if the board cannot establish competence to its satisfaction through an examination of credentials, it may require examination of an applicant under the initial licensing period. For the initial licensing period an applicant must:

(1) be at least 18 years old;
(2) have submitted a completed application as required by the board accompanied by the application fee set by the board; the board may require that the statements on the application be made under oath; and

(3) have:

(B) at least 30 graduate semester hours in the field of counseling or the substantial equivalent in both subject matter and extent of training; and
(C) 24 months or 2,000 hours of professional experience working in a counseling setting that meets the requirements established by the board.

(b) For two years beginning on the effective date of this Act, a person may apply for licensing in a counseling specialty authorized by Section 13 of this Act without examination, except that if the board cannot establish competence to its satisfaction through an examination of credentials, it may require examination of an applicant under the initial licensing period. For the initial licensing period an applicant must:

1) meet the requirements prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section; and

2) have attained professional credentials consistent with the standards of the counseling specialty required by Section 13 of this Act.

Applicant Qualifications

Sec. 10. An applicant is qualified for a license to practice counseling if the applicant:

2) has submitted an application as required by the board, accompanied by the application fee set by the board; the board may require that the statements on the application be made under oath;

3) has met requirements prescribed by the board;

4) has successfully completed at a regionally accredited institution of higher education a planned graduate program of 45 semester hours or the substantial equivalent, including 300 clock hours of supervised practicum that is primarily counseling in nature and that meets the specific academic course content and training standards established by the board. The board shall use the standards as developed by the appropriate professional association; and

5) has 24 months or 2,000 hours of supervised experience working in a counseling setting that meets the requirements established by the board.

Application Review

Sec. 11. After investigation of the application and other evidence submitted, the board shall, not later than the 30th day before the examination date, notify each applicant that the application and evidence submitted are satisfactory and accepted or unsatisfactory and rejected. If rejected, the notice shall state the reasons for the rejection.

Examination

Sec. 12. (a) Examinations to determine competence shall be administered to qualified applicants at least twice each calendar year. The examinations shall be in any of the following forms as determined by the board for each applicant:

1) a field examination through questionnaires answered by the applicant's instructors, employers, supervisors, references, and others who are competent in the board's judgment to evaluate the applicant's professional competence, which may include the submission of written case studies and taped interviews with the applicant's instructors, employers, supervisors, references and others or submission of documentary evidence of the quality, scope, and nature of the applicant's experience and competence as the board considers necessary; or

2) other examinations as prescribed by the board.

(b) If a written examination is required, the board shall grade the examination and recommend to the chairman action to be taken. To ensure impartiality, written examination documents shall be identified by number, and no paper may be marked with the name of an applicant but shall be anonymously graded by the board. In the event an applicant fails to receive a passing grade on the entire examination, he may reapply and shall be allowed to take a subsequent examination. An applicant who has failed two successive examinations may not reapply until two years have elapsed from the date of the last examination or he has satisfactorily completed nine graduate semester hours in the applicant's weakest portion of the examination.

(c) Within 30 days after the day a licensing examination is administered under this Act, the board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination. However, if an examination is graded or reviewed by a national testing service, the board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination within two weeks after the day the board receives the results from the testing service. If the notice of the examination results will be delayed for more than 90 days after the examination date, the board shall notify the examinee of the reason for the delay before the 90th day.

(d) If requested by a person who fails the examination for a license, the board shall furnish to the person an analysis of the person's performance on the examination.

Licensed Professional Counselor Specialties

Sec. 13. A specialty designation may be added on demonstration to the board that the applicant has met the recognized minimum standards as established by nationally recognized certification agencies. On passage of an examination, written, oral, or situational, or all three, and on receipt of credentials from certifying agencies, the board may, by a simple majority of the board members present and voting, consider the credentials adequate evidence of professional competence and recommend to the chairman of the board that a license with appropriate specialty designation, if any, be approved. A professional counselor may not claim or advertise a counseling specialty unless the qualifications of that specialty have been met and have been approved by the board.
Art. 4512g

Licenses and Renewal of Licenses

Sec. 14. (a) A license certificate issued by the board is the property of the board and must be surrendered on demand.

(b) The licensee shall display the license certificate in an appropriate and public manner.

(c) The licensee shall inform the board of his current address at all times.

(d) Each year the board shall prepare a registry of licensed professional counselors with specialties, if any, identified. The registry shall be made available to the licensees, other state agencies, and the general public on request.

(e) The license may be renewed annually if the licensee is not in violation of this Act at the time of application for renewal and if the applicant fulfills current requirements of continuing education as established by the board.

(f) Each person licensed under this Act is responsible for renewing his license before the expiration date.

(g) The board shall adopt a system under which licenses expire on various dates during the year. For the year in which the expiration date is changed, license fees payable on the date of issuance shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee that is applicable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license fee is payable. Failure to renew a license by the expiration date shall result in an increase of the renewal fee by an amount to be determined by the board with the approval of the department. If failure to renew continues for more than 30 days after the date of expiration, the board shall notify the person licensed under this Act of the expiration date of his license and the amount of the fee required for renewal. If failure to renew continues for more than 90 days after the date of expiration of the license, the license shall be revoked. Any licensee whose license is revoked because of failure to pay the annual license renewal fee may secure reinstatement of his license at any time within one year from the expiration date on payment of the license fee and a penalty fee in an amount to be determined by the board with the approval of the department. After the expiration of the year for which the license fee was not paid, a license may not be reinstated unless the licensee fulfills current requirements applicable to all licensees as provided by the rules adopted by the board.

(h) A licensee may request that his license be declared inactive. The licensee then foregoes the licensing rights granted under this Act but is relieved of renewal fees and penalty fees. At any time in the future, the license shall be declared active on the payment of a license fee if the applicant is not in violation of this Act at the time of application for reactivation or renewal of the license and if the applicant fulfills current requirements applicable to all licensees as provided by the rules adopted by the board.

Penalty

Sec. 15. (a) A person commits an offense if the person, after one year from the effective date of this Act, knowingly or intentionally acts as a licensed professional counselor without a license issued under this Act.

(b) An offense under this section is a Class B misdemeanor.

Revocation or Suspension of License

Sec. 16. (a) The board may revoke or suspend the license of a counselor on proof that the counselor:

(1) has violated this Act or a rule or code of ethics adopted by the board; or

(2) is legally committed to an institution because of mental incompetence for any cause.

(b) Proceedings for revocation or suspension of a license and appeals from those proceedings are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Power to Sue

Sec. 17. The board or the department may institute a suit in its own name to enjoin the violation of this Act. The suit is in addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy authorized by law. The board shall be represented by the attorney general or the appropriate county or district attorney.

Reciprocity

Sec. 18. The board may grant, on application and payment of fees, a license without examination to a person who at the time of application holds a valid license or certificate as a counselor issued by another state or any political territory or jurisdiction acceptable to the board if in the board's opinion the requirements for that license or certificate are substantially the same as the requirements of this Act.

Revenue, Receipts and Disbursements

Sec. 19. The department shall receive and account for funds derived under this Act. The funds shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the professional counselors licensing fund and may be used only for the administration of this Act. The board may impose application, examination, license, and renewal fees and any other appropriate fees in an amount fixed by the board. The board shall fix the amounts of the fees to collect sufficient revenue to meet the expenses of administering this Act without accumulating unnecessary surpluses.

Annual Report

Sec. 20. Not later than the 90th day after the last day of each state fiscal year, the board shall submit to the governor, lieutenant governor, and speaker of the house a report about the activities of the board during the preceding fiscal year.

(2) inspect, within reasonable limits and in a reasonable manner, a facility's storage, equipment, security, prescription drugs or devices, or records; or
(3) inventory any stock of any prescription drugs or devices in the facility and obtain samples of those substances.

(e) Except when the owner, pharmacist, or agent in charge of the facility consents in writing, an inspection authorized by this section may not extend to:

(1) financial data;
(2) sales data other than shipment data; or
(3) pricing data.

(f) A warrant is not required under this section for the inspection of books and records under an administrative subpoena issued under this Act or for entries and administrative inspections under the following conditions:

(1) with the consent of the owner, pharmacist, or agent in charge of the facility;
(2) in situations presenting imminent danger to the public health and safety;
(3) in situations involving inspection of conveyances where there is reasonable cause to believe that the mobility of the conveyance makes it impracticable to obtain a warrant; or
(4) in any other exceptional situation or emergency involving an act of God or natural disaster when time or opportunity to apply for a warrant is lacking.

(g) Issuance and execution of administrative inspection warrants shall be as follows:

(1) a judge of a state district court of record may, within the territorial jurisdiction of the district court and on proper oath or affirmation showing probable cause, issue warrants for the purpose of conducting administrative inspections authorized by this Act or the rules adopted under this Act and seizures of property appropriate to the inspections; for purposes of this subsection, the term "probable cause" means a valid public interest in the effective enforcement of this Act or rules, sufficient to justify administrative inspections of the area, facility, building, or conveyance, or their contents, in the circumstances specified in the application for the warrant;

(2) a warrant shall issue only on an affidavit of a board employee having knowledge of the facts alleged, sworn to before the judge and establishing the grounds for issuing the warrant; if the judge is satisfied that grounds for the application exist or that there is probable cause to believe they exist, the judge shall issue a warrant identifying the area, facility, building, or conveyance to be inspected, the purpose of the inspection, and when appropriate, the type of property to be inspected; the warrant shall identify the items or types of property to be seized, if any; the warrant shall be directed to a person authorized under this Act to execute it; the warrant shall state the grounds for its issuance and the name of the person or persons whose affidavit has been taken in support of the warrant; it shall command the person to whom it is directed to inspect the area, facility, building, or conveyance identified for the purpose specified, and when appropriate, shall direct the seizure of the property specified; the warrant shall direct that it be served during normal business hours; it shall designate the judge to whom it shall be returned;

(3) a warrant issued under this section shall be executed and returned within 10 days of its date unless, on a showing by the board of a need therefor, the judge allows additional time in the warrant; if property is seized pursuant to a warrant, the person executing the warrant shall give to the person from whom or from whose facility the property was taken a copy of the warrant and a receipt for the property taken or shall leave the copy and receipt at the place from which the property was taken; the return of the warrant shall be made promptly and shall be accompanied by a written inventory of any property taken; the inventory shall be made in the presence of the person executing the warrant and of the person from whose possession or premises the property was taken, if present, or in the presence of at least one credible person other than the person making the inventory, and shall be verified by the person executing the warrant; the judge, on request, shall deliver a copy of the inventory to the person from whom or from whose facility the property was taken and to the application for the warrant;
and

(4) the judge who issued a warrant under this section shall attach to the warrant a copy of the disposed of in a manner considered appropriate by the board or district court, whichever has jurisdic­

(i) Before a complaint may be filed with the board as a result of an inspection authorized by this section, the licensee must be given a reasonable time, as determined by the board, to comply with this Act or rules adopted by the board as provided by this Act.

Pharmacist-Intern Registration
Sec. 20. (a) A person must register with the board before beginning the board-approved inter­ ship in this state. An application for the registration of a pharmacist-intern must be on a form prescribed by the board. Registration shall remain in effect during internship training and thereafter until the earlier of the following occurs:

(1) the failure of the pharmacist-intern to take the next regularly scheduled examination; or

(2) the failure to pass the next regularly scheduled examination.

(b) The board may in its discretion refuse to issue a registration to an applicant and may suspend or revoke a pharmacist-intern registration for any violation of this Act.

Qualifications for Licensing by Examination
Sec. 21. (a) To qualify for a license to practice pharmacy, an applicant for licensing by examination must submit to the board a license fee as determined prescribed by the board with satisfactory sworn evi­

(1) is at least 18 years old;

(2) is of good moral character;

(3) has graduated and received a professional degree from an accredited college of pharmacy that has been approved by the board; and

(4) has completed a minimum of a 1,000-hour

(5) has passed the examination required by the board.

(b) A person who falsely makes the affidavit prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section is guilty of fraudulent and dishonorable conduct and malpractice and is subject to all penalties that may be prescribed for making a false affidavit.

(c) The examinations for licensing required under this section shall be given by the board at least two times during the fiscal year of the state. The board shall determine the content and subject matter of each examination and determine which persons have successfully passed the examination. An applicant who fails the examination may retake the examination. If a person who fails the licensing examination administered under this Act so requests in writing, the board shall furnish the person an analysis of his performance on the examination.

(d) The examination shall be prepared to measure the competence of the applicant to engage in the practice of pharmacy. The board may employ and cooperate with any organization or consultant in the preparation and grading of an appropriate examination, but shall retain the sole discretion and responsibility of determining which applicants have successfully passed the examination.

(e) Within 30 days after the date a licensing examination is administered under this Act, the board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination. However, if an examination is graded or reviewed by a national testing service, the board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination within two weeks after the date the board receives the results from the testing service. If the notice of the examination results will be delayed for more than 90 days after the examination date, the board shall notify the examinee of the reason for the delay before the 90th day.

(f) Each applicant for licensing by examination shall obtain practical experience in the practice of pharmacy concurrent with college attendance or after college graduation, or both, under conditions that the board shall determine.

(g) The board shall establish standards for internship or any other program necessary to qualify an applicant for the licensing examination and shall also determine the necessary qualifications of any preceptors used in any internship or other program.

(b) A person who falsely makes the affidavit prescribed by Subsection (a) of this section is guilty of fraudulent and dishonorable conduct and malpractice and is subject to all penalties that may be prescribed for making a false affidavit.

Display of Pharmacist License

Sec. 23. A pharmacist shall publicly display the license to practice pharmacy and the license renewal certificate in his primary place of practice.

License Renewal Certificate

Sec. 24. (a) A license to practice pharmacy expires on December 31 of each year or of every other year, as determined by the board.

(b) The license may be renewed for one or two years, as determined by the board, by payment of a renewal fee as determined by the board and by filing a completed application, given under oath, with the board for a license renewal certificate before the expiration date of the license or license renewal certificate.

(c) On timely receipt of the completed application and renewal fee, the board shall issue a license renewal certificate bearing the pharmacist's license number, the period for which it is renewed, and other information the board determines necessary.

(d) If a person's license has been expired for not more than 90 days, the person may renew the license by paying to the board the required renewal fee and a fee that is one-half of the examination fee for the license.

(e) If a person's license has been expired for more than 90 days but less than two years, the person may renew the license by paying to the board all unpaid renewal fees and a fee that is equal to the examination fee for the license.

(f) If a person's license has been expired for two years or more, the person may not renew the license. The person may obtain a new license by submitting to reexamination and complying with the requirements and procedures for obtaining an original license.

(g) The board shall notify each licensee in writing of the licensee's impending license expiration at least 30 days prior to the expiration date.

(h) The board shall specify by rule the procedures to be followed and the fees to be paid for renewal and penalties for late renewal of licenses.

(i) Practicing pharmacy without an annual or biennial renewal certificate for the current year, as provided by this Act, shall have the same effect and be subject to all penalties of practicing pharmacy without a license.
(j) A license to practice pharmacy or annual or biennial renewal certificate issued by the board may not be duplicated in any manner except as expressly provided by this Act. The board may in its discretion issue duplicate copies of either the license to practice pharmacy or the annual or biennial renewal certificate on request from the holder and on payment of a fee as determined by the board.

Alternative License Renewal

Sec. 25. (a) The board may adopt a system in which licenses to practice pharmacy expire on various dates during the year.

(b) In the year the expiration date is changed, the board shall prorate the license renewal fee due December 31 of each year or of every other year, as determined by the board, to cover the months for which the license is valid. The total license renewal fee is due on the new expiration date.

Grounds for Discipline

Sec. 26. (a) The board shall refuse to issue a pharmacist license for failure to meet the requirements of Section 21 or 22 of this Act. The board may in its discretion refuse to issue or renew a license or may fine, reprimand, revoke, restrict, cancel, or suspend any license granted by the board, and may probate any license suspension if the board finds that the applicant or licensee has:

In enforcing this subdivision, the board shall, on probable cause, request a pharmacist to submit to a mental or physical examination by physicians designated by the board. If the pharmacist refuses to submit to the examination, the board shall issue an order requiring the pharmacist to show cause why he will not submit to the examination and shall schedule a hearing on the order within 30 days after notice is served on the pharmacist. The pharmacist shall be notified by either personal service or certified mail with return receipt requested. At the hearing, the pharmacist and his attorney are entitled to present any testimony and other evidence to show why the pharmacist should not be required to submit to the examination. After the hearing, the board shall issue an order either requiring the pharmacist to submit to the examination or withdrawing the request for examination;
(5) engaged in any fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation as those words are defined by the rules of the board in the practice of pharmacy or in seeking a license to act as a pharmacist;
(6) been convicted of a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude by a court of competent jurisdiction;

(13) been negligent in the practice of pharmacy;
(14) failed to submit to an examination after hearing and being ordered to do so by the board pursuant to Subdivision (4) of this subsection; or
(15) had a license to practice pharmacy issued by another state canceled, revoked, or suspended for conduct substantially equivalent to conduct described in Subdivisions (1)- (14) of this subsection. A certified copy of the record of the state taking action as set out above shall be conclusive evidence of the action taken by such state.

(b) The board shall refuse to issue a pharmacy license for failure to meet the requirements of Section 29 or 30 of this Act. The board may in its discretion refuse to issue or renew a license or may fine, reprimand, revoke, restrict, cancel, or suspend any license granted by the board, and may probate any license suspension if the board finds that the applicant or licensee has:

(1) been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or if the applicant is an association, joint stock company, partnership, or corporation, that a managing officer has been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude under the law of this state, another state, or the United States;
(2) advertised any prescription drugs or devices in a deceitful, misleading, or fraudulent manner;

(4) sold without legal authorization prescription drugs or devices to persons other than:
(A) a pharmacy licensed by the board;
(B) a practitioner;
(C) a person who procures prescription drugs or devices for the purpose of lawful research, teaching, or testing, and not for resale;

(9) failed to establish and maintain effective controls against diversion of prescription drugs into other than legitimate medical, scientific, or industrial channels as provided by this Act or other state or federal laws or rules.

Procedure
Sec. 27. Unless otherwise provided, any disciplinary action taken by the board under Section 26 of this Act is governed by the Administrative Procedure Act and the rules of practice and procedure before the board.

Penalties and Reinstatement
Sec. 28. (a) On the finding of the existence of grounds for discipline of any person holding a license or seeking a license or a renewal license under this Act, the board may impose one or more of the following penalties:

(1) suspension of the offender's license;
(2) revocation of the offender's license;
(3) restriction of the offender's license to prohibit the offender from performing certain acts or from engaging in the practice of pharmacy or operating a pharmacy in a particular manner for a term and under conditions to be determined by the board;

The petition shall be in writing and in the form prescribed by the board. On investigation and hearing, the board may in its discretion grant or deny the petition or it may modify its original finding to reflect any circumstances that have changed sufficiently to warrant the modification.

(c) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as barring criminal prosecutions for violations of this act if the violations are considered criminal offenses in this Act or other laws of this state or of the United States.

(d) A final decision by the board is subject to judicial review in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act. Any review by the court of a final action by the board shall be under the substantial evidence rule.

(e) Upon a finding that a rule of the board has been violated, the board may impose only those sanctions listed in Subsections (a)(1), (3), (4), (6), and (7) of this section; provided, however, nothing in this subsection shall be construed to preclude imposition of sanctions for violation of board rules regarding controlled substances.

(d) A pharmacy license issued by the board under this Act is not transferable or assignable.

(e) The board shall specify by rule minimum standards for professional responsibility in the conduct of a pharmacy.

(f) A separate license is required for each principal place of business, and only one pharmacy license may be issued to a specific location.

(g) A pharmacy shall display in full public view the license in the pharmacy operating under the license.

(h) A Class A or Class C pharmacy that serves the general public shall:

1. display the word “pharmacy” in a prominent place on the front of the pharmacy or a similar word or symbol as determined by the board; and

2. display in public view the licenses of the pharmacists employed in the pharmacy.

Renewal of Pharmacy Licenses

Sec. 31. (a) A license to operate a pharmacy expires on May 31 of each year.

(b) A license may be renewed by payment of a renewal fee as determined by the board and by filing with the board a completed application given under oath for a license renewal certificate before the expiration date of the license or license renewal certificate.

(c) On timely receipt of the completed application and renewal fee, the board shall issue a license renewal certificate bearing the pharmacy license number, the year for which it is renewed, and other information the board determines necessary.

Such administration or provision as ordered by a physician may be delegated through the physician's orders, standing medical orders, standing delegation orders, or other orders, where applicable, as such orders are defined by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. Such administration or provision of dangerous drugs shall be in compliance with laws relating to the practice of medicine and Texas and federal laws relating to dangerous drugs. Nothing in this section shall permit the physician or person or persons acting under the supervision of such physician to keep a pharmacy, advertised or otherwise, for the retailing of such drugs without complying with the applicable laws relating to same.

(b) A person licensed to practice medicine shall have the authority to delegate to any qualified and properly trained person or persons, acting under such physician's supervision, the act or acts of administering or providing dangerous drugs, if such provision is provided through a facility licensed by the board pursuant to Section 29(b)(4) of this Act, as ordered by such physician, that are used or required to meet the needs of such physician's patients. Such administration or provision, as ordered by physician, may be delegated through physician's orders, standing medical orders, standing delegation orders, or other orders, where applicable, as such orders are defined by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners. Such provision of dangerous drugs shall be in compliance with any laws relating to the practice of medicine, laws relating to the practice of professional nursing, laws relating to the practice of pharmacy, Texas or federal drug laws, and rules that may be properly issued by the board. Such administration shall be in compliance with any laws relating to the practice of medicine, laws relating to the practice of professional nursing, laws relating to the practice of pharmacy, and Texas or federal drug laws. Violations and Penalties

Sec. 34. (a) No pharmacy designated in Section 29 of this Act may be operated until a license or renewal certificate has been issued to the pharmacy by the board. On the finding of a violation of this Act or rules adopted under this Act, the board may impose one or more of the penalties prescribed by Section 28(a) of this Act.

(b) Reinstatement of a pharmacy license that has been canceled, revoked, or restricted by the board may be granted in accordance with Section 28(b) of this Act.

Unlawful Use of "Pharmacy"

Sec. 35. A person may not display in or on any store or place of business the word "pharmacy," either in English or any other language, any other word or combination of words of the same or similar meaning, or any graphic representation that would mislead or tend to mislead the public unless it is a pharmacy licensed under this Act.

Unlawful to Impersonate Applicant, Licensed Pharmacist, or Fraudulently Acquire License

Sec. 36. A person may not impersonate before the board an applicant applying for licensing under this Act, fraudulently acquire a license in any other manner than provided by this Act, impersonate a licensed pharmacist, or use the title “Registered Pharmacist” or “R.Ph.,” or words of similar intent unless the person is licensed to practice pharmacy in this state.

Penalties

Sec. 37. (a) A person commits an offense if the person knowingly or intentionally violates the licensing requirements of this Act or Section 35 or 36 of this Act.

(b) An offense under this section is a Class A misdemeanor.

(c) Each day of violation is a separate offense.

Burden of Proof; Liabilities

Sec. 38. (a) It is not necessary for the state to negate any exemption or exception set forth in this Act in any complaint, information, indictment, or other pleading or in any trial, hearing, or other proceedings under this Act, and the burden of going forward with the evidence with respect to any exemption or exception is on the person claiming its benefit.

(b) In the absence of proof that a person is the duly authorized holder of an appropriate license issued under this Act, he is presumed not to be the holder of the license. The presumption is subject to rebuttal by a person charged with an offense under this Act.
Sec. 39. The board may not charge more than the following fees for the performance of the following duties and functions to carry out the purposes of this Act:

1. for processing application and administration of examination for licensure—$150;
2. for processing application for licensure by reciprocity—$250 (plus the applicable license fee);
3. for processing application and issuance of a pharmacist license or renewal of a pharmacist license—$85 a year; and
4. for processing of an application and issuance of a pharmacy license or renewal of a pharmacy license—$150.

Substitution

Sec. 40. (a) It is the intent of the legislature to save consumers money by allowing the substitution of lower-priced generically equivalent drug products for certain brand name drug products and for pharmacies and pharmacists to pass on the net benefit of the lower costs of the generically equivalent drug product to the purchaser.

(b) Except as otherwise provided by this section, a pharmacist who receives a prescription for a drug product for which there exists one or more generic equivalents, as defined herein, may dispense any of such substituted drug products.

(c) In this section:
1. "Generically equivalent" means a drug that is "pharmaceutically equivalent" and "therapeutically equivalent" to the drug prescribed.
2. "Pharmaceutically equivalent" means drug products which have identical amounts of the same active chemical ingredients in the same dosage form and which meet the identical compendial or other applicable standards of strength, quality, and purity according to the United States Pharmacopoeia or other nationally recognized compendium.
3. "Therapeutically equivalent" means pharmaceutically equivalent drug products which, when administered in the same amounts, will provide the same therapeutic effect, identical in duration and intensity.
(d) Unless otherwise directed by the practitioner, the label on the dispensing container shall indicate the actual drug product dispensed, either (1) the brand name, or if none (2) the generic name, the strength, and the name of the manufacturer or distributor. In instances where a drug product has been selected other than the one prescribed, the pharmacist shall place on the container the words "Substituted for brand prescribed." The brand name of the prescribed drug shall not appear on the prescription container label unless it is the drug product actually dispensed.

(e) A pharmacist may not select a generically equivalent drug unless the generically equivalent drug selected costs the patient less than the prescribed drug product. A pharmacist may not charge a higher professional fee for dispensing a generically equivalent drug product than the fee he or she customarily charges for dispensing the brand name product prescribed.

(f) A pharmacist who selects a generically equivalent drug product as authorized by this section shall:
1. personally, or through his or her agent or employee and prior to delivery of a generically equivalent drug product, inform the patient or the patient's agent that a less expensive generically equivalent drug product has been substituted for the brand prescribed and the patient or patient's agent's right to refuse such substitution; or
2. cause to be displayed, in a prominent place that is in clear public view where prescription drugs are dispensed, a sign in block letters not less than one inch in height that reads, in both English and Spanish:
   "TEXAS LAW ALLOWS A LESS EXPENSIVE GENERICALLY EQUIVALENT DRUG TO BE SUBSTITUTED FOR CERTAIN BRAND NAME DRUGS UNLESS YOUR PHYSICIAN DIRECTS OTHERWISE. YOU HAVE A RIGHT TO REFUSE SUCH SUBSTITUTION. CONSULT YOUR PHYSICIAN OR PHARMACIST CONCERNING THE AVAILABILITY OF A SAFE, LESS EXPENSIVE DRUG FOR YOUR USE."

Only one sign displayed in a pharmacy, as required above, shall be deemed compliance with this subsection.

3. A pharmacist complies with the requirements of this section if an employee or agent of the pharmacist notifies a purchaser as required by Subdivision (1) of this subsection. The patient or patient's agent shall have the right to refuse such product selection.

(g) No written prescription may be dispensed unless it is ordered on a form containing two signature lines of equal prominence, side by side, at the bottom of the form. Under either signature line shall be printed clearly the words "product selection permitted," and under the other signature line shall be printed clearly the words "dispense as written." The practitioner shall communicate dispensing instructions to the pharmacist by signing on the appropriate line. If the practitioner's signature does not clearly indicate that the prescription must be dispensed as written, generically equivalent drug selection is permitted. No prescription form furnished a practitioner shall contain a preprinted order for a drug product by brand name, generic name, or manufacturer.

(h) If a prescription is transmitted to a pharmacist orally, the pharmacist shall note any dispensing instructions by the practitioner or the practitioner’s agent on the file copy of the prescription and retain the prescription for the period of time specified by law. Properly authorized prescription refills shall follow the original dispensing instructions unless otherwise indicated by the practitioner or practitioner’s agent.

(i) A pharmacist shall record on the prescription the form the name, strength, and manufacturer or distributor of any drug product dispensed as herein authorized.

(j) A pharmacist who selects a generally equivalent drug to be dispensed pursuant to this section assumes the same responsibility for selecting the generically equivalent drug that he does in filling a prescription for a drug product prescribed by generic name. There shall be no liability on the prescriber for an act or omission by a pharmacist in selecting, preparing, or dispensing a drug product pursuant to this section.

(k) Drug product selection as authorized in this section shall not apply to enteric-coated tablets; controlled release products; injectable suspensions, other than antibiotics; suppositories containing active ingredients; aerosol or nebulizer drugs. This subsection shall not apply to any drug product which is determined to be generically equivalent to the brand prescribed.

Sec. 42. (a) The board may appoint an agent or licensee as provided by Section 26 of this Act if the agent or licensee has been duly appointed to the act of substitution as that term is hereinafter defined. The term substitution as used in this Act shall mean the dispensing of a drug or a brand of drug other than that which is ordered or prescribed without the express consent of the orderer or prescriber. Sec. 2. The term of office of each member of said Board shall be limited to one six-year term or until their successors shall be appointed and qualify. Board terms are limited to one six-year term except that this restriction shall not prohibit those Board members holding office on May 1, 1981, from being reappointed to one additional six-year term. The terms shall be staggered with the terms of one-third of the members expiring every two years. The members of said Board shall be appointed by the Governor of the State. Before entering upon the duties of his office each member of the Board shall take the constitutional oath of office, same to be filed with the Secretary of State. At its first meet-

(2) does not maintain during the service on the Board the qualifications required by Section 1 of this article for appointment to the Board;

(3) violates a prohibition established by Section 3 of this article; or

(4) fails to attend at least one-half of the regularly scheduled meetings held each year.

(b) The validity of an action of the Board is not affected by the fact that it was taken when a ground for removal of a member of the Board existed.

Section 9 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:

"(a) A person holding office as a member of the State Board of Dental Examiners on the effective date of this Act continues to hold office for the term for which the member was originally appointed.

"(b) The governor shall make initial appointments to the board of three public members. The governor shall designate one public member for a term expiring in 1983, one for a term expiring in 1985, and one for a term expiring in 1987."

If an appeal be taken from the District Court to a Court of Appeals, the order of such Court shall become final within thirty (30) days after the making and entry of such order by such Court of Appeals. Provided in all such cases of appeal that the Court shall give preference to same, and advance them on the docket of said Court so that speedy action may be had; providing also that trial in the District Court shall be de novo.

(e) It is a ground for removal from the board if a member:

(1) does not have at the time of appointment the qualifications required by Subsection (a) or (b) of this section for appointment to the board;

(2) does not maintain during his service on the board the qualifications required by Subsection (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section for appointment to the board; or

(3) fails to attend at least half of the regularly scheduled board meetings held on calendar year, excluding meetings held while the person was not a board member.

(f) The validity of an action of the board is not affected by the fact that it was taken when a ground for removal of a member of the board existed.

(g) It shall be the duty of any board member who no longer maintains the qualifications required by Subsection (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section to immediately inform the governor and the attorney general of that fact and to resign from the board.

(h) Upon complaint by any person to the attorney general that a member of the board no longer maintains the qualifications required by Subsection (a), (b), (c), or (d) of this section, the attorney general shall investigate the complaint; and if the attorney general determines that there is reason to believe the complaint is valid, the attorney general shall institute suit in Travis County district court to have the board member in question removed from office.

(i) No person may serve more than a total of 12 years on the board. Time served on the board prior to September 1, 1981, shall not count toward this limitation.

Subsections (a) to (e) of § 4 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"(a) A person who holds office as a member of the Texas Optometry Board on the effective date of this Act shall continue to hold the office for the term for which the member was originally appointed and shall for the balance of the member's current term be deemed to satisfy the qualifications for office set forth in Section 2.02, Texas Optometry Act, as amended (Article 4552-1,1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), if the member satisfies the qualifications for office under the Texas Optometry Act as it existed immediately prior to the effective date of this Act.

"(b) After the effective date of this Act, the governor shall appoint two initial public members and one initial optometrist member affiliated with the Texas Association of Optometrists, Inc., to the board. The governor shall designate one public member for a term expiring January 31, 1985, one public member for a term expiring January 31, 1987, and the initial optometrist member affiliated with the Texas Association of Optometrists, Inc., for a term expiring January 31, 1987.

"(c) After January 31, 1983, the governor shall appoint one optometrist member affiliated with the Texas Association of Optometrists, Inc., to fill the office of an incumbent optometrist member whose term expires January 31, 1983. Art. 4552-2.03. Terms of Office

The members of the board hold office for staggered terms of six years, with the terms of one member affiliated with the Texas Optometric Association, Inc., and one public member expiring on January 31 of each odd-numbered year.

Art. 4552-2.04. Organization of Board

Every two years the board shall elect a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a secretary-treasurer, provided that the chairman and vice-chairman shall not be from the same group of the three groups represented on the board.

Art. 4552-2.05. Meetings

(a) The board shall hold regular meetings at least twice a year at which examinations of applicants for licenses shall be given.

(b) Special meetings shall be held upon the request of five members of the board or upon the call of the chairman.

(c) Five members constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. If a quorum is not present on the day set for any meeting, those present may adjourn from day to day until a quorum is present, but this period may not be longer than three successive days.

(d) The board is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

Art. 4552-2.06. Records

(a) The board shall preserve a record of its proceedings in a book kept for that purpose.

(b) A record shall be kept showing the name, age, and present legal and mailing address of each applicant for examination, the name and location of the school of optometry from which he holds credentials, and the time devoted to the study and practice of optometry, together with such information as the board may desire to record. Said record shall also show whether applicants were rejected or licensed and shall be prima facie evidence of all matters therein contained.

The secretary of the board shall on or before March 1 of each year send a certified copy of said record to the secretary of state for permanent record. A certified copy of said record with the hand and seal of the secretary of said board to the secretary of state, shall be admitted as evidence in all courts.

(e) Every license and annual renewal certificate issued shall be numbered and recorded in a book kept by the secretary of the board.

(d) The board shall prepare information of consumer interest describing the regulatory functions of the board and the board’s procedures by which consumer complaints are filed with and resolved by the board. The board shall make the information available to the general public and appropriate state agencies.

(e) Within a reasonable time after the completion of an examination of each patient, the examining optometrist shall present to the patient a prescription, a bill, or a receipt containing the license number and name of the optometrist performing the examination. Individual professional liability of the examining optometrist is not affected by this subsection.

(f) The board shall maintain an information file about each complaint filed with the board relating to a licensee. If a written complaint is filed with the board relating to a licensee, the board, at least as frequently as quarterly and until final disposition of the complaint, shall notify the parties to the complaint of the status of the complaint unless the notification would jeopardize an undercover investigation.

Art. 4552-2.08. Employees of Board

(a) The board shall have the power to employ an executive director as the executive head of the agency and to employ the services of stenographers, secretaries, inspectors, legal assistants, and other personnel necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act. In all hearings before the board, and in all suits in the courts in which the board is a party, the staff attorney employed by the board may at the board’s discretion be an attorney of record for the board; provided, however, that when the county attorney, district attorney, or attorney general is also an attorney of record, the board’s staff attorney shall be subordinated to such county attorney, district attorney, or attorney general, and nothing herein shall be construed to deprive, limit, or exclude the county attorney, district attorney, or attorney general from their right to appear as the board’s attorney in the respective courts to which they are assigned by the constitution to represent the state. In all suits in which the board is a party, the board’s staff attorney may also be appointed as special assistant to the county attorney, district attorney, or attorney general, provided, however, that such members of the board’s staff shall be paid by the board.
(b) The executive director of the board or his designee shall develop an intraagency career ladder program, one part of which shall be the intraagency posting of all nonentry level positions for at least 10 days before any public posting.

(c) The executive director of the board or his designee shall develop a system of annual performance evaluations based on measurable job tasks. All merit pay for board employees must be based on the system established under this subsection.

(a) The board may by a majority vote of a quorum promulgate procedural rules and regulations. The board may by a majority vote of each of the three groups represented on the board promulgate substantive rules and set fees. However, the board may not promulgate any rule or regulation which is in any way contrary to the underlying and fundamental purposes of this Act or make any rule or regulation which is unreasonable, arbitrary, capricious, or illegal. The board may not promulgate any substantive rule prior to submitting the proposed rule to the attorney general for a ruling on the proposed rule's validity.

(b) If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Section 5(g), Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6228-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the board statements opposing adoption of a rule under that subsection, the rule may not take effect or, if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the board receives the committee's statements.

Secs. 410 and 5 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 4. (f) The portion of Section 2.14, Texas Optometry Act, as amended (Article 4552-1.03 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), which authorizes the board to promulgate substantive rules shall not become effective until January 31, 1983.

"Sec. 5. A rule adopted by the Texas Optometry Board before the effective date of this Act that conflicts with the Texas Optometry Act (Article 4552-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, is void. Within 90 days after the effective date of this Act, the board shall repeal the rule."

Art. 4552-2.15. Disposition of Fees

(a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, the fund realized from all fees payable under this Act shall first be applied to the payment of all necessary expenses of the board, and the remainder shall be applied, by order of the board, to compensate members of the board. Each member of the board is entitled to a per diem as set by legislative appropriation for each day that the member engages in the business of the board. A member may not receive any compensation for travel expenses, including expenses for meals and lodging, other than transportation expenses. A member is entitled to compensation for transportation expenses as provided by the General Appropriations Act. Each board member shall make out, under oath, a complete statement of the number of days engaged and the amount of his expenses when presenting same for payment.

(b) The funds realized from annual renewal fees shall be distributed as follows: $10 of each renewal fee collected by the board shall be dedicated to the University of Houston Development Fund. The license money placed in the development fund pursuant hereto shall be utilized solely for scholarships and improvements in the physical facilities, including library, of the School of Optometry.

The remainder of the fees attributable to annual renewal fees and all other fees payable under this Act shall be placed in the state treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the "Optometry Fund," and the comptroller shall upon requisition of the board from time to time draw warrants upon the state treasurer for the amounts specified in such requisition; provided, however, the fees from this optometry fund shall be expended as specified by itemized appropriation in the General Appropriations bill and shall be used by the Texas Optometry Board, and under its direction in carrying out its statutory duties.

(c) The state auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the board during each fiscal biennium.

(d) On or before January 1 of each year, the board shall make in writing to the governor and the presiding officer of each house of the legislature a complete and detailed annual report accounting for all funds received and disbursed by the board during the preceding year.

ARTICLE 3. EXAMINATIONS

Art. 4552-3.01. Must Pass Examination

Every person hereafter desiring to be licensed to practice optometry in this state shall be required to pass the examination given by the Texas Optometry Board. However, the board may adopt substantive rules to authorize the waiver of this or other license requirements for an applicant with a valid license from another state having, at the time of the applicant's initial licensure in that state, license requirements and continuing education requirements substantially equivalent to those currently required in this state.

Art. 4552-3.02. Application

(a) The applicant shall make application, furnishing to the secretary of the board, on forms to be furnished by the board, satisfactory sworn evidence that he has attained the age of majority, is of good moral character, and has at least graduated from a first grade high school, or has a preliminary education equivalent to permit him to matriculate in the University of Texas, and that he has attended and graduated from a reputable university or college of optometry which meets with the requirements of the board, and such other information as the board may deem necessary for the enforcement of this Act.

(b) A university or school of optometry is reputable whose entrance requirements and course of instruction are as high as those adopted by the better class of universities and schools of optometry and whose course of instruction shall be equivalent to not less than six terms of eight months each, and approved by the board. Provided, however, that the provisions of this subsection shall only apply to those students enrolling in school from and after the effective date of this Act.

(c) Any person who has met all requirements of Subsection (a) above shall be eligible to take the examination given by the Texas Optometry Board. The board may cancel, revoke, or suspend the license of such person if it finds that such licensee has violated any provision of Section 4.04 of this Act. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2798, ch. 758, § 2, eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]

Art. 4552-3.03. Fees

The board shall establish reasonable and necessary fees for the administration of this Act in amounts not to exceed:

1. Examination $ 55
2. Re-examination 20
3. License 40
4. License renewal 135
5. Lost license 15

The board shall not maintain unnecessary fund balances, and fee amounts shall be set in accordance with this requirement. If anyone successfully passing the examination and meeting the requirements of the board has not paid the fee for issuance of a license within 90 days after having been notified by registered mail at the address given on his examination papers, or at the time of the examination that he is eligible for same, such person shall by his own act have waived his right to obtain his license, and the board may at its discretion refuse to issue such license until such person has taken and successfully passed another examination.

Art. 4552-3.06. Conduct of Examination

All examinations shall be conducted in writing and by such other means as the board shall determine adequate to ascertain the qualifications of applicants and in such manner as shall be entirely fair and impartial to all individuals and every recognized school of optometry. All applicants examined at the same time shall be given the same written examination. Within 30 days after the date a licensing examination is administered under this Act, the board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination. However, if an examination is graded or reviewed by a national testing service, the board shall notify each examinee of the results of the examination within two weeks after the date the board receives the results from the testing service. If the notice of the examination results will be delayed for more than 90 days after the examination date, the board shall notify each examinee of the reason for the delay before the 90th day. If requested in writing by a person who fails the licensing examination administered under this Act, the board shall furnish the person with an analysis of the person's performance on the examination.

ARTICLE 4. LICENSES—RENEWAL, REVOCATION, ETC.

Art. 4552-4.01. Annual Renewal

(a) On or before January 1 of each year, every licensed optometrist in this state shall pay to the secretary-treasurer of the board an annual renewal fee for the renewal of his license to practice optometry for the current year. The amount of the fee shall be as determined by the board. A person may renew an unexpired license by paying to the board before the expiration date of the license the required renewal fee. If a person's license has been expired for not more than 180 days, the person may renew the license by paying to the board the required renewal fee and a fee that is one-half of the examination fee for the license. If a person's license has been expired for more than 180 days but less than three years, the person may renew the license by paying to the board all unpaid renewal fees and a fee that is equal to the examination fee for the license. If a person's license has been expired for three years or more, the person may not renew the license. The person may obtain a new license by submitting to reexamination and complying with the requirements and procedures for obtaining an original license.

(b) On receipt of the required fees, the board shall issue an annual renewal certificate bearing the number of the license, the year for which renewed, and such other information from the records of the board as said board may deem necessary for the proper enforcement of this Act.
(c) When the person’s license has been expired for three years, the board shall notify the county clerk of the county in which such license may have been recorded of the cancellation, and such clerk, upon receipt of such notice from said board, shall enter upon the optometry register of such county the fact that such license has been cancelled for nonpayment of annual renewal fee and shall notify the board in writing that such entry has been made.

(d) Practicing optometry without an annual renewal certificate for the current year as provided herein, shall have the same force and effect and be subject to all penalties of practicing optometry without a license.

Art. 4552-4.01B. Educational Requirement for Renewal

(a) Each optometrist licensed in this state shall take annual courses of study in subjects relating to the utilization and application of scientific, technical, and clinical advances in vision care, vision therapy, visual training, and other subjects relating to the practice of optometry regularly taught by recognized optometric universities and schools.

(b) The length of study required is 12 hours per calendar year.

(c) The continuing education requirements established by this section shall be fulfilled by attendance in continuing education courses sponsored by an accredited college of optometry or in a course approved by the board. Attendance at a course of study shall be certified to the board on a form provided by the board and shall be submitted by each licensed optometrist in conjunction with his application for renewal of his license and submission of renewal fee.

(d) The board may take action necessary in order to qualify for funds or grants made available by the United States or an agency of the United States for the establishment and maintenance of programs of continuing education.

(e) Licensees who have not complied with the requirement of this section may not be issued a renewal license, except for the following persons who are exempt:

(1) a person who holds a Texas license but who does not practice optometry in Texas;

(2) a licensee who served in the regular armed forces of the United States during part of the 12 months immediately preceding the annual license renewal date;

(3) a licensee who submits proof that he suffered a serious or disabling illness or physical disability which prevented him from complying with the requirements of this section during the 12 months immediately preceding the annual license renewal date; or

(4) a licensee first licensed within the 12 months immediately preceding the annual renewal date.

[Added by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1875, ch. 591, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 4552-4.02. Renewal After Discharge From Military

Any licensed optometrist whose renewal certificate has expired while he has been engaged in active duty with any United States military service or with the United States Public Health Service, engaged in full-time federal service, or engaged in training or education under the supervision of the United States, preliminary to induction into the military service, may have his renewal certificate reinstated without paying any lapsed renewal fee or registration fee, or without passing an examination, if within one year after termination of said service, training or education, other than by dishonorable discharge, he furnishes the board with affidavit to the effect that he has been so engaged and that his service, training or education has been so terminated.

Art. 4552-4.03. Lost or Destroyed License

If any license issued under this law shall be lost or destroyed, the holder of said license shall make an affidavit of its loss or destruction, and that he is the same person to whom such license was issued, and such other information as may be desired by the board, and shall upon payment of a fee of $10 be granted a license under this law.

Art. 4552-4.04. Revocation, Suspension, etc.

(a) By five or more votes, the board may refuse to issue a license to an applicant, revoke or suspend a license, probate a license suspension, or reprimand a licensee if it finds that:

(1) the applicant or licensee is guilty of any fraud, deceit, dishonesty, or misrepresentation in the practice of optometry or in his seeking admission to such practice;

(2) the applicant or licensee is unfit or incompetent by reason of negligence;

(3) the applicant or licensee has been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor which involves moral turpitude;

(4) the applicant or licensee is an habitual drunkard or is addicted to the use of morphine, cocaine or other drugs having similar effect or has become insane or has been adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be of unsound mind;

(5) the licensee has directly or indirectly employed, hired, procured, or induced a person, not licensed to practice optometry in this state, to so practice;
(6) the licensee directly or indirectly aids or abets in the practice of optometry any person not duly licensed to practice under this Act;

(7) the licensee lends, leases, rents or in any other manner places his license at the disposal or in the service of any person not licensed to practice optometry in this state;

(8) the applicant or licensee has willfully or repeatedly violated any of the provisions of this Act;

(9) the licensee has willfully or repeatedly presented to the public or any member thereof that he is authorized or competent to cure or treat diseases of the eye; or

(10) the licensee has his right to practice optometry suspended or revoked by any federal agency for a cause which in the opinion of the board warrants such action.

(b) Any person may begin proceedings under this section by filing charges with the board in writing and under oath. If charges are filed against a person or if the board proposes to refuse a person's application for a license or to suspend or revoke a person's license, the person is entitled to a hearing before the board. Except as provided by Subsection (e) of this section, proceedings are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(c) The petition for judicial review of a board action may be filed in a district court in the county of residence of the person against whom the original charges were filed.

(d) Upon application, the board may reissue a license to practice optometry to a person whose license has been revoked but such application shall not be made prior to one year after the revocation and shall be made in such manner and form as the board may require.

(e) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent the administrator or executor of the estate of a deceased optometrist from employing a licensed optometrist to carry on the practice of such deceased during the administration of such estate nor to prevent a licensed optometrist from working for such person during the administration of the estate when the legal representative thereof has been authorized by the county judge to continue the operation of such practice.

(f) A violation of this Act which occurs four or more years prior to the filing of a complaint which results in a disciplinary hearing before the board on that complaint shall not be considered a violation for purposes of disciplinary action under Subdivisions (8) and (9) of Subsection (a) of this section.

ARTICLE 5. DUTIES OF LICENSEES; CONDUCT OF LICENSEES AND OTHERS

Art. 4552-5.09. Deceptive Advertising

(a) A person may not publish or display or cause or permit to be published or displayed in any newspaper or by radio, television, billboard, window display, or any other means or medium, any statement or advertisement concerning ophthalmic services or materials, including but not limited to lenses, frames, spectacles, contact lenses, or parts thereof, which is false, deceptive, or misleading.

(b) Any advertisement of prescription spectacles or contact lenses is required to contain language to the effect that an eye doctor's prescription is required for the purchase of such prescription spectacles or contact lenses.

(c) Any advertisement of the price of prescription spectacles or contact lenses is required to contain the following information:

(1) a statement of whether or not the cost of an examination by an eye doctor is included in the price;

(2) if the advertised goods are to be available to the public at the advertised price for less than 30 days after the date of publication of the advertisement, the advertisement shall state the time limitation on the offer;

(3) if the advertised goods are to be available to the public in limited quantities and no rainchecks are given upon total depletion of the inventory of the goods advertised, the advertisement shall state the total quantity available to all customers; and

(4) if the advertised goods are to be available to the public at a limited number per customer, the advertisement shall state the limit per customer.

(d) Any person who fails to satisfy the requirements of Subsection (b) or (c) above shall be deemed to have published a false, deceptive, or misleading statement within the meaning of this section.

(e) Any person who shall be injured by another person who violates any provision of this section may institute suit in any district court of the county wherein the violation is alleged to have occurred to require enforcement by injunctive procedures and to recover damages sustained, plus costs of court and reasonable attorney's fees.

(f) The attorney general or the Texas Optometry Board may institute suit in any district court of the county in which a violation of this section is alleged to have occurred to require enforcement by injunctive procedures and to recover a civil penalty not to exceed $10,000 per violation, plus costs of court and reasonable attorney's fees.

(g) Violations of this section are actionable under the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act, as amended (Subchapter E, Chapter 17, Title 2, Business & Commerce Code).1

1 Business and Commerce Code, § 17.41 et seq.
Art. 4552-5.10. Board Rules Restricting Advertising

The board may not adopt substantive rules restricting competitive bidding or advertising by a person regulated by the board except to adopt such rules as are necessary to prevent false, misleading, or deceptive practices.

Art. 4552-5.11. Control of Optometry Prohibited

(a) Any person who is a manufacturer, wholesaler, or retailer of ophthalmic goods is prohibited from:

(1) directly or indirectly controlling or attempting to control the professional judgment, the manner of practice, or the practice of an optometrist; or

(2) directly or indirectly employing or hiring or contracting for the services of an optometrist if any part of such optometrist's duties involve the practice of optometry; or

(3) directly or indirectly making any payment to an optometrist for any service not actually rendered.

(b) For purposes of this section "controlling or attempting to control the professional judgment, the manner of practice, or the practice of an optometrist" shall include but not be limited to:

(1) setting or attempting to influence the professional fees of an optometrist;

(2) setting or attempting to influence the office hours of an optometrist;

(3) restricting or attempting to restrict an optometrist's freedom to see patients on an appointment basis;

(4) terminating or threatening to terminate any lease, agreement, or other relationship in an effort to control the professional judgment, manner of practice, or practice of an optometrist;

(5) providing, hiring, or sharing employees or business services or similar items to or with an optometrist; or

(6) making or guaranteeing a loan to an optometrist in excess of the value of the collateral securing the loan.

(c) It is the intent of the legislature to prevent manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers of ophthalmic goods from controlling or attempting to control the professional judgment, manner of practice, or the practice of an optometrist, and the provisions of this section shall be liberally construed to carry out this intent.

(d) Any person who shall be injured by another person who violates any provision of this section may institute suit in any district court in the county wherein the violation is alleged to have occurred to require enforcement of this section by injunctive procedures and to recover damages sustained, plus costs of court and reasonable attorney's fees.

Where a manufacturer, wholesaler, or retailer of ophthalmic goods has been found to be in violation of this section, any person injured as a result of such violation, including any optometrist who is a lessee of such manufacturer, wholesaler, or retailer, shall be entitled to all remedies in this section.

(e) The attorney general or the Texas Optometry Board may institute suit against a manufacturer, wholesaler, or retailer of ophthalmic goods in any district court of the county in which a violation of this section is alleged to have occurred to require enforcement by injunctive procedures and to recover a civil penalty not to exceed $1,000 for each day that a violation of this section is found to have occurred, plus costs of court and reasonable attorney's fees.

(f) Violations of this section are actionable under the Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act, as amended (Subchapter E, Chapter 17, Title 2, Business & Commerce Code). 1

(g) This section shall not apply where the manufacturer, wholesaler, or retailer of ophthalmic goods is a licensed optometrist or a licensed physician or legal entity 100 percent owned and controlled by one or more licensed optometrists or licensed physicians; however, the exception set forth in this subsection shall not apply where the optometrist or legal entity has offices at more than three locations.

Art. 4552-5.13. Professional Responsibility

(a) The provisions of this section are adopted in order to protect the public in the practice of optometry, better enable members of the public to fix professional responsibility, and further safeguard the doctor-patient relationship.

(b) No optometrist shall divide, share, split, or allocate, either directly or indirectly, any fee for optometric services or materials with any lay person, firm or corporation, provided that this rule shall not be interpreted to prevent an optometrist from paying an employee in the regular course of employment, and provided further, that it shall not be construed as a violation of this Act for any optometrist to lease space from an establishment on a percentage or gross receipts basis or to sell, transfer or assign accounts receivable.

(c) No optometrist shall divide, share, split or allocate, either directly or indirectly, any fee for optometric services or materials with another optometrist or with a physician except upon a division of service or responsibility provided that this rule shall not be interpreted to prevent partnerships for the practice of optometry. This Act does not prohibit an optometrist from being employed on a salary, with or without bonus arrangements, by a licensed optometrist or physician, regardless of the amount of supervision exerted by the employing optometrist or physician over the office in which the employed optometrist works, provided such bonus arrangements, if any, shall not be based in whole or in part on the business or income of any optical company.

(d) An optometrist may practice optometry under a trade name or an assumed name or under the name of a professional corporation or a professional association. Every optometrist practicing in the State of Texas, including those practicing under a trade or assumed name, shall be required to display the actual name under which he is licensed by the board in a manner such that his name will be visible to the public prior to entry of the optometrist's office reception area.

(e) No optometrist shall use, cause or allow to be used, his name or professional identification, as authorized by Article 4590e, as amended, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, on or about the door, window, wall, directory, or any sign or listing whatsoever, of any office, location or place where optometry is practiced, unless said optometrist is actually present and practicing optometry therein during the hours such office, location or place of practice is open to the public for the practice of optometry.

(f) No optometrist shall practice or continue to practice optometry in any office, location or place of practice where any name, names or professional identification on or about the door, window, wall, directory, or any sign or listing whatsoever, or in any manner used in connection therewith, shall indicate or tend to indicate that such office, location or place of practice is owned, operated, supervised, staffed, directed or attended by any person not actually present and practicing optometry therein during the hours such office, location or place of practice is open to the public for the practice of optometry.

(g) The requirement of Subsections (e) and (f) of this section that an optometrist be "actually present" in an office, location or place of practice holding his name out to the public shall be deemed satisfied if the optometrist is, as to such office, location or place of practice, either:

Said bond shall be payable to the Governor of this State, for the benefit of said Board; shall be conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of such officer; and shall be in such form as may be approved by the Attorney General of this State; and shall be executed by a surety company, as surety, and be approved by the Texas State Board of Podiatry Examiners.

The Board shall have the right to institute an action in its own name to join the violation of any of the provisions of the law regulating the practice of podiatry or the regulations promulgated in accordance therewith, and in such connection a temporary injunction may be granted. Said action for an injunction shall be in addition to any other action, proceeding or remedy authorized by law. The Board shall keep a correct record of all the proceedings of the Board, and of all moneys received or expended by the Board, which record shall be open to public inspection at all reasonable times. A certified copy of said record, with the hand and seal of the secretary of said Board, shall be admitted as evidence in all courts. Every license and annual renewal certificate issued shall be numbered and recorded in a book kept by the Board. The records shall be kept by the Board.

known address that the annual license renewal fee is due on the following September first.

(c) A person may renew his unexpired license by paying to the Board before the expiration date of the license the required renewal fee.

(d) If a person's license has been expired for 90 days or less, the person may renew the license by paying to the Board the required renewal fee and a fee that is one-half of the examination fee for the license.

(e) The Board by rule may adopt a system under which licenses expire on various dates during the year, and the dates for sending notice that payment is due and dates of suspension, revocation, and assessment of a penalty for nonpayment shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the license renewal date is changed, license fees payable on September 1 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license renewal fee is payable.

(f) If a person's license has been expired for more than 90 days but less than two years, the person may renew the license by paying to the Board renewal fees and a fee that is equal to the examination fee for the license.

(g) If a person's license has been expired for two years or more, the person may not renew the license. The person may obtain a new license by submitting to reexamination and complying with the requirements and procedures for obtaining an original license.

Sec. 2. Practicing podiatry without an annual renewal certificate for the current year, as provided herein, shall have the same force and effect and be subject to all penalties of practicing podiatry without a license.

Re-Examination If License Revoked

Sec. 3. After the Board has declared a license suspended or revoked for nonpayment of the annual license renewal fee as provided for in this Article, the Board may thereafter in its discretion refuse to reinstate the license or issue a new license until the podiatrist, whose license has been declared suspended or revoked has passed the regular examination for license.

Reissuance of Lost or Amended License

Sec. 4. If any license issued by the Board is lost, destroyed or stolen from the legally qualified and authorized person to whom it was issued, the owner of the license shall report the fact to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board, in an affidavit form. The affidavit shall set forth detailed information as to the loss, destruction or theft, giving dates, place and circumstances. If the owner of a license desires to have an amended license issued to him because of a lawful change in the name or degree designation of the licensee or for any other lawful and sufficient reason, the owner of the license shall make application for such amended license to the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board setting forth the reasons the issuance of an amended license is requested. A duplicate or amended license shall be issued upon regular application of the owner of the original license and payment of a fee set by the Board for the duplicate or amended license; however, the Board shall not issue a duplicate or amended license until sufficient evidence by the owner of the original license has been submitted to prove the license has been lost or to establish the lawful reason an amended license should be issued, and unless the records of the Board show a license had been issued and been in full force and effect at the time of such loss, destruction or theft, or such request for an amended license. If an amended license is issued, the original license shall be returned to the Board.

Display of License

Sec. 5. Every person licensed by the State Board of Podiatry Examiners to practice in the state shall conspicuously display both his license and an annual renewal certificate for the current year of practice in the place or office wherein he practices and shall be required to exhibit such license and renewal certificate to a representative of the Board upon such representative's official request for its examination or inspection.

Renewal After Military Service

Sec. 6. (a) Any licensed podiatrist whose license has been suspended or revoked or whose annual renewal certificate has expired while he has been engaged in Federal service or on active duty with the Army of the United States, the United States Navy, the United States Marine Corps, the United States Coast Guard, the United States Air Force, or the United States Maritime Service or the State Militia, called into service or training of the United States of America or in training or education under the supervision of the United States preliminary to induction into the military service, may have his license renewed without paying any lapsed renewal fee or without passing any examination, if, within one (1) year after termination of said service, training or education, other than by dishonorable discharge, he furnishes the State Board of Podiatry Examiners an affidavit to the effect that he has been so engaged and that his service, training or education has been so terminated.

(b) This section does not apply to a person whose license is revoked under Article 4573a of this chapter.

Section 2 of the 1977 amendatory act repealed art. 4571a and § 3 thereof provided:

"All laws or parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed to the extent of such conflict."
See, now, § 1(d) of art. 4571.

Art. 4573. Revocation, Probation, Cancellation, and Suspension of License; Complaints

(a) The Board shall maintain an information file about each complaint filed with the Board relating to a licensee. If a written complaint is filed with the Board relating to a licensee, the Board, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the parties to the complaint of the status of the complaint until final disposition unless the notification would jeopardize and undercover investigation.

(b) The Board shall revoke or suspend a license, probate a license suspension, or reprimand a licensee for violation of the law regulating the practice of podiatry or a rule adopted by the Board.

(c) If the Board proposes to suspend or revoke a person’s license, the person is entitled to a hearing before the Board.

(d) Proceedings for the suspension or revocation of a license are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

(e) Any person whose license to practice podiatry has been cancelled, revoked or suspended by order of the Board may take an appeal to a district court of Travis County, but the decision of the Board shall not be enjoined or stayed except on application to the district court after notice to the Board. The proceeding on appeal shall be under the substantial evidence rule.

(f) The Board may, upon majority vote, rule that the order revoking, cancelling, or suspending the practitioner’s license be probated so long as the probationer conforms to such orders and rules as the Board may set out as the terms of probation. The Board, at the time of probation, shall set out the period of time constituting the probationary period.

(g) At any time while the probationer remains on probation, the Board may hold a hearing and, upon majority vote, rescind the probation if the terms of the probation have been violated, and enforce the Board’s original action in revoking, cancelling, or suspending the practitioner’s license. The hearing to rescind the probation shall be called by the President of the Texas State Board of Podiatry Examiners, who shall cause to be issued a notice setting a time and place for the hearing and containing the charges or complaints against the probationer. The notice shall be served on the probationer or his counsel, and any person or persons complaining of the probationer or their counsel, at least ten (10) days prior to the time set for the hearing. When personal service is impossible, or cannot be effected, the same provisions for service in lieu of personal service set out in Subsection (d) of this Article shall apply. The respondent and any person or persons complaining of the respondent have the right to appear at the hearing either personally or by counsel, or both, to produce witnesses or evidence, to cross-examine witnesses, and to have subpoenas issued by the Board. The Board may also issue subpoenas on its own motion. The subpoenas of the Board may be enforced through any district court having jurisdiction and venue in the county where the hearing is held. The Board shall determine the charges upon their merits. The order revoking or rescinding the probation is not subject to review or appeal.

(h) Upon application, the Board may reissue a license to practice podiatry to a person whose license has been cancelled or suspended, but the application, in the case of cancellation or revocation, may not be made prior to one (1) year after the cancellation or revocation, and shall be made in such manner and form as the Board may require.

On the person’s final conviction, the board shall revoke the person’s license. Five (5) members must be licensed embalmers or funeral directors in the State of Texas and each of these members must have a minimum of five (5) years, consecutively, of such experience in this state immediately preceding appointment. At least three (3) such licensed members shall be embalmers. Four (4) members must be representatives of the general public who are not regulated under this Act.

(2) The members of said Board shall be appointed by the Governor, by and with the consent of the Senate for staggered terms of six (6) years. Each member shall be subject to removal by the Governor for neglect of duty, incompetence, or fraudulent or dishonest conduct. The Governor shall remove from the Board any member whose license to practice funeral directing and/or embalming has been voided, revoked or suspended. Any vacancy in an unexpired term shall be filled by appointment of the Governor for the unexpired term. No member of the Board shall be appointed for more than one (1) full term of service.

(3) A member of the Board or an employee of the State Board of Morticians who carries out the functions of the Board may not:

(a) be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the funeral industry;
(b) be related within the second degree by affinity or within the third degree by consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the funeral industry; or
(c) communicate directly or indirectly with a party or the party's representative to a proceeding pending before the Board unless notice and an opportunity to participate is given to all parties to the proceeding, if the member or agent is assigned to make a decision, a finding of fact, or a conclusion of law in the proceeding.

(4) Members of the Board, except those members who are duly licensed embalmers or funeral directors, may not have personally, nor be related to without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees.

(8) Each member of the Board shall be present for at least one-half of the regularly scheduled meetings

D. The Board shall elect, after thirty (30) days' written notice is given to members, a President, duties and performances incident to the office of the President of the Board, and in his absence the Vice-

Board, shall receive and be paid a salary for the time he devotes to the business of the Board, and the amount and method of payment shall be fixed by the Board and in addition thereto, he shall receive necesthe Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k,

O. The Board is subject to the open meetings

Sec. 3.

B. The minimum requirements for the issuance of licenses by this Board to practice funeral directing and/or embalming in Texas are as follows, to wit:

1. For a license to practice funeral directing: the applicant shall be found by the Board to be not less than eighteen (18) years of age, a resident of the State of Texas, having graduated from an accredited high school or passed examination prescribed by the Texas Education Agency, having served as an apprentice for at least one (1) year under the personal supervision and instruction of a licensed funeral director and having satisfied the Board through written examination as to his proficiency by examination on the subjects of: (a) the art and technique of funeral directing; (b) signs of death; (c) the manner by which death may be determined; (d) sanitation; (e) hygiene; (f) mortuary management and mortuary law; (g) business and professional ethics; (h) laws applicable to vital statistics pertaining to dead human bodies; (i) local, state, and federal rules and laws relating to the preparation, transportation, care, and disposition of dead human bodies; and such other subjects as may be taught in a recognized school or college of mortuary science. Not later than the 30th day after the day on which a person completes an examination administered by the Board, the Board shall send to the person his examination results. If requested in writing by a person who fails the examination, the Board shall send to the person not later than the 30th day after the day on which the request is received by the Board an analysis of the person’s performance on the examination.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of C]

D. It shall be the duty of the Board to prescribe and supervise the course of instruction received by an apprentice while serving his or her apprenticeship, consistent with the following requirements to establish such an apprenticeship registration procedure:

1. Apprenticeship for embalmer: A license to practice the science of embalming shall not be issued unless and until the applicant therefor has served an apprenticeship period of not less than twelve (12) consecutive months under the personal supervision and instruction of a licensed embalmer and has successfully completed all requirements of apprenticeship. The only exception to this requirement shall be in the case of an applicant under reciprocity.

(a) Any person, eighteen (18) years of age or more, who desires to practice the science of embalming in this state, files application therefor, meets the requirements of the law and this Board, and possesses such qualification to enter into apprenticeship training, may be registered as an apprentice. Apprenticeship for a license to practice the science of embalming must be served by the person after graduation from a school or college of mortuary science. Applicant shall pay a fee not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10) at the time he requests such apprenticeship registration.

(1) An applicant for a license to practice the science of embalming who attains a grade of 70% or higher on the written examination given by the Board upon payment of a fee not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10) therefor, shall be registered as an apprentice within six (6) months of such examination.

(b) Each registered apprentice embalmer shall be issued a certificate of apprenticeship or other means of apprenticeship identification by the Board to be served in the State of Texas. During the period of apprenticeship he shall assist in embalming a minimum of sixty (60) dead human bodies, six (6) of which bodies the apprentice shall embalm without aid but in the immediate presence and under the personal supervision of an embalmer duly and currently licensed in the State of Texas. No more than two (2) apprentices may receive credit due for work on any one body.

(c) An apprentice embalmer must report within ten (10) days after the end of each month each separate case handled by him or with which he has assisted in handling. Each such report shall be certified by the licensee under whom the apprentice performed his work. Throughout the period of apprenticeship, the apprentice shall report on at least one (1) such case of embalming each calendar month, within the month. In any month in which he did not embalm at least one (1) case under the direction of a licensed embalmer, a report shall be made to the Board notwithstanding.

2. Apprentice for Funeral Director: The term of apprenticeship for a funeral director’s license shall be a period of not less than twelve (12) months, and may be served concurrently with apprenticeship for an embalmer’s license; however, apprenticeship must be served in twelve (12) consecutive months. A person desiring to become an apprentice funeral director shall make application to the Board on a form provided by the Board, and if the Board desires, he shall appear before at least one (1) member of the Board, or a designated representative thereof, for approval of his application, subject to review of it by the entire Board. Applicant must be not less than eighteen (18) years of age and have completed the educational requirements prescribed for a funeral director, except an applicant for a funeral director’s license may elect to serve apprenticeship therefor in like manner to that of one who has applied for a license to practice the science of embalming, by serving one (1) year of apprenticeship prior to completing a course of study in funeral directing prescribed by the Board and graduating from a school of embalming or college of mortuary science. The application for registration shall be sworn to and accompanied by a fee of not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10). If the application is accepted, applicant will be issued a certificate of apprenticeship registration upon determination by the Board that his qualifications are satisfactory.

(a) An applicant for a funeral director’s license and the examination therefor who has not completed one (1) year of apprenticeship prior to graduation from a school of embalming or college of mortuary science shall be admitted to apprenticeship only in the event he shall have attained a grade of 70% or higher on the written and practical examination given by the Board, and the payment of a fee of not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10) therefor, whereupon he shall be registered as an apprentice. Provided, however, applicant must register as an apprentice within six (6) months of such examination.

(b) An apprentice funeral director must report within ten (10) days after the end of each month each separate case with which he has assisted in handling. Each such report shall be certified by the licensee under whom the apprentice performed the work. Throughout the period of apprenticeship the apprentice shall report on at least one (1) such case each calendar month, within the month. In any month within which he did not assist a funeral director in handling a funeral, a report shall be made to the Board notwithstanding.

(c) During the course of apprenticeship each apprentice shall assist a licensed funeral director in this state to prepare, other than by embalming, and to make final disposition of not less than sixty (60) dead human bodies, six (6) of which bodies the apprentice shall handle after the first six months of the apprenticeship. No more than two (2) apprentices may receive credit for work done on any one body.

3. Annual renewal apprenticeship certificate: Each certificate of apprenticeship issued by the Board to an apprentice embalmer or apprentice funeral director must be renewed on the first day of January of each year and will be renewed upon payment by the apprentice of a renewal fee not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10), provided the apprentice has observed the rules and regulations of the Board and with respect to his apprenticeship. Notice shall be mailed, during the month of December each year, to each registered apprentice at his last known address, notifying him that the renewal fee is due. If the renewal fee is not paid on or before the 31st day of January in the year in which it became due, a penalty in the sum of not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10) will be added to the renewal fee of each certificate when paid. Thirty (30) days after the grace period as above provided, if said annual renewal fee and penalty still remain unpaid, it shall be the duty of the Board, acting through its Secretary, to suspend his certificate for nonpayment of the annual renewal fee and to notify such apprentice of such suspension by registered mail, addressed to his last known address. If the said renewal fee and penalty is not then paid within ninety (90) days from the date of such notice of suspension, the Board shall then cancel such certificate. Provided, however, after an apprentice certificate has been cancelled, the apprentice may apply for reinstatement within eighteen (18) months from the date such apprentice certificate was cancelled and the Board may reinstate said apprentice provided he meets all other requirements of the Board. It is provided that the registration fee of any apprentice who is actively engaged in the military service of the United States may be remitted for the duration of such service or for such fees and such time as the Board may deem advisable upon presentation of proper evidence required by the Board.
3a. The board by rule shall adopt a system under which certificates expire on various dates during the year. The date for sending notice that payment is due, the dates of the grace period, the date on which penalty attaches, and the date for suspension due to nonpayment shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the certificate expiration date is changed, certification fees payable on January 1 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each certificate holder shall pay only that portion of the certification fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the certificate is valid. On renewal of the certificate on the new expiration date the total renewal fee is payable.

4. Notification of the Board upon entry into apprenticeship: When an apprentice enters the employ of a licensed embalmer or funeral director, he shall immediately notify the Board the name and place of business of the licensed embalmer or funeral director whose service he has entered and the name of the funeral director or embalmer under whom he will train, and such notification shall be signed by the embalmer or funeral director in each case. If at any time thereafter such apprentice leaves the employ of the licensed embalmer or funeral director whose services he has entered, the said licensed embalmer or funeral director shall give to such apprentice an affidavit showing the length of time he has served as an apprentice with him and the number of cases handled while so employed; the original of said affidavit shall be filed with the Board and made a matter of record, and a copy shall be furnished to the apprentice. The Board shall furnish report forms to be used by each apprentice.

(a) Any apprentice registration shall be cancelled, and the applicant required to re-register, including paying the required fees, for failure to pass the Board’s examination of such apprentice after only part of the apprenticeship has been completed. Provided, however, such applicant shall be given credit for apprenticeship time served under the cancelled license in any new registration.

5. Certificate of Apprenticeship may be suspended or revoked as provided and set forth in Section 3, subsection H.

E. Any person engaged or desiring to engage in the practice of embalming or funeral directing in this state, in connection with the care and disposition of dead human bodies, shall make written application to the Board for a license accompanying same with a fee not to exceed Fifty Dollars ($50). The license or licenses when issued shall be signed by a majority of the Board and shall authorize the licensee to practice the science of embalming and/or funeral directing. All licenses shall be registered in the office of the County Clerk in any county in which the holder thereof resides and practices embalming and/or funeral directing and shall be displayed conspicuously in the place of business. Every licensed embalmer and/or funeral director who desires to continue his practice shall biennially pay to the Secretary of the said Board a fee not to exceed Forty Dollars ($40) for the renewal of each funeral director’s license and each embalmer’s license. Said license shall become due and payable biennially on the 31st day of May, and the Board will give written notice on or before April 1st, of each year that the license fees are due and payable.

When a licensee under this Act shall fail to pay his biennial registration fee, it shall be the duty of the Board to notify such licensee at his last known address that his biennial registration fee is due and unpaid and that a penalty equal to the amount of the registration fee has been added. If such fee and penalty are not paid within thirty (30) days after notification by regular mail, it shall be the duty of the Board to suspend the license and notify the licensee by certified mail, return receipt requested, of such suspension. Ninety (90) days after the Board shall have declared a license suspended, as provided herein, the license shall be automatically cancelled and the Board may thereafter refuse to reinstate the licensee until the applicant has passed a regular examination for license as provided in this Act. If any license issued under this Act shall be lost or destroyed, the holder of any such license may present his application for duplicate license to the State Board of Morticians, on a form to be prescribed by the Board, together with his affidavit of such loss or destruction, and that he is the same person to whom such license was issued, and such other information concerning its loss or destruction as the State Board of Morticians shall require, and shall, upon payment of a fee not to exceed Ten Dollars ($10), as determined by the Board, be granted a duplicate license. The Board shall adopt rules to carry out the biennial licensing system.

1. Any license that has been cancelled, suspended or lapsed for a period of five (5) years or more may be reinstated only after the applicant shall have passed a written and practical examination by the Board on embalming and/or a written examination on funeral directing.

2. The board by rule shall adopt a system under which licenses expire on various dates during the year. All dates for sending notice regarding payment of fees and dates for license suspension for nonpayment shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the license expiration date is changed, license fees payable on May 31 shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license renewal fee is payable.

F. (1) On a reciprocal basis with other states, countries, or territories the Board may issue, without sessions of this Act shall subscribe to an oath in writing

Secretary of the Board of Mortician Examiners corresponding certificate or license issued by another examination, a license to an applicant who has a corresponding certificate or license issued by another state, country, or territory having standards for the license that are at least substantially equivalent to those of this state and who pays a fee of Fifty Dollars ($50). The person's application shall be accompanied by an affidavit made by the President or Secretary of the Board of Mortician Examiners which issued the license, or by a duly constituted registration officer of the state, country, or territory by which the certificate or license was granted, and on which the application for registration in Texas is based, reciting that the accompanying certificate or license has not been cancelled, suspended or revoked, and that the statement of the qualifications made in the application for a license in Texas is true and correct. Applicants for a license under the provisions of this Act shall subscribe to an oath in writing before an officer authorized by law to administer oaths, which shall be a part of such application, stating that the license, certificate, or authority under which the applicant practiced as a funeral director or embalmer in the state, country, or territory from which the applicant removed, was at the time of such removal in full force and effect and not cancelled or suspended or revoked. Said application shall also state that the applicant is the identical person to whom the said certificate, license, or commission was issued, and that no proceeding has been instituted against the applicant for the cancellation, suspension or revocation of such certificate or license in the state, country, or territory in which the same was issued; and that no prosecution is pending against the applicant in any state or federal court for any offense which, under the laws of the State of Texas, is a felony, or is a misdemeanor related to the practice of embalming or funeral directing.

(2) Licenses granted under this subsection shall be on the following basis: Before a license is granted, the applicant shall receive a temporary permit good for one (1) year from date of issuance by the Board. At the end of one (1) year, the holder of said temporary permit shall again be considered by the Board, and if his application for license has been maintained and he meets all other requirements, the Board may grant said applicant a license.

H. The State Board of Morticians may seek appropriate injunctive relief against a funeral establishment, licensed embalmer, or funeral director who fails to comply with any provision of this Act. This Act does not affect any remedy or enforcement power under other laws. The State Board of Morticians may revoke, suspend, or place on probation any licensed funeral director and/or embalmer, or apprentice and may refuse to license or admit persons to examination for any of the following reasons all of which are offenses as provided in Section 6A of this Act:

1. The presentation to the Board of any license, certificate, or diploma which was illegally or fraudulently obtained, or when fraud or deception has been practiced in passing the examination;

However, the Board shall have the right to initiate a civil action in a District Court in the county in which the accused resides for the purpose of seeking a revocation or suspension of such license or probationary action or fine all as hereinafter provided.

If the Board shall be of the opinion that the license of the accused should be revoked or suspended for a period not to exceed three years, and if the accused will accept a decision of the Board to such effect, it shall prepare a formal judgment and submit the same to him; and upon his agreement to its entry, evidenced by memorandum in writing signed and acknowledged by him, the Board shall enter judgment accordingly and the same shall have the force and effect of a judgment of the District Court of the county of the residence of the accused. A copy of the judgment, together with a copy of the complaint, shall be mailed to the clerk of the District Court of the county of residence of the accused for entry in the minutes of the court.

(d) The term “Accusation” or “Complaint” shall embrace all complaints brought before the Board. By the terms “civil suit,” “court action” or “formal complaint” is meant the pleading by which disciplinary action is instituted by the Board in a District Court of this state.

The Texas rules of civil procedure shall govern the procedure in all proceedings under Civil Actions (Formal Complaint).

The District Attorney or the County Attorney of the county of residence of the accused licensee as defendant, or the Attorney General or such counsel as the Board may designate shall represent the Board as it shall determine.

The formal complaint shall be the pleading by which the proceeding is instituted. The formal complaint shall be filed in the name of the Texas State Board of Morticians as plaintiff against the accused licensee as defendant and shall set forth the violation with which the defendant is charged. The prayer may be that the defendant “be placed on probation or his (its) license suspended or revoked or he (it) be fined as the facts shall warrant.”

The answer of the defendant to the formal complaint shall either admit or deny each allegation of the petition, except where the defendant is unable to admit or deny the allegation, in which case defendant shall set forth the reasons he (it) cannot admit or deny.

Proceedings under formal complaint shall be entitled to preferred setting at the request of either party.
If the court shall find from the evidence in a case tried without a jury, or from the verdict of the jury, if there be one, that the defendant is guilty of no violation, he shall enter judgment so declaring and dismiss the complaint; but if he shall find the defendant guilty, he shall determine whether the party shall be (a) placed under probation (in which case he shall specify the terms thereof), (b) the license suspended (in which case he shall fix the term of suspension), (c) the license revoked, or (d) fined (in which case he shall set the amount thereof); and he shall enter the judgment accordingly. If the judgment be one finding the defendant guilty as aforesaid, it shall direct transmittal of certified copies of the judgment and complaint to the Secretary of the Board of Morticians; and the latter shall make proper notation on the membership rolls.

At any time after the expiration of one year from the date of final judgment or revocation of a license, such party may petition the District Court of the county of his residence for reinstatement. Notice of such action shall be given to the Secretary of the State Board of Morticians.

The Board shall have the right to institute an action in its own name to enjoin the violation of any of the provisions of this Section. Said action for an injunction shall be in addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy recognized by law. The Board shall be represented by counsel designated by it, or, by the Attorney General and/or County and District Attorney of this state.

Any fine imposed on the accused through judicial proceedings shall be no less than Two Hundred Dollars ($200) nor more than Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000). Any fines collected by the court shall be deposited in the General Fund of the State of Texas.

Sec. 6A. A person commits an offense if the person:

(1) acts or holds himself out as a funeral director, embalmer, or apprentice, as those terms are defined in this Act, without being properly licensed under this Act or shall make a "first call" without the authorization or supervision as provided in Section 1C of this Act;

(2) is a licensed funeral director or embalmer and engages in a funeral practice that is grounds for suspension or revocation of the person's license.

Proceedings under this Section shall be initiated by filing charges with the State Board of Morticians in writing and under oath. Said charges may be made by any person or persons. The President of the State Board of Morticians shall set a time and place for hearing. Upon application, the Board may reissue a license to practice as a funeral director or embalmer to a person whose license has been cancelled or suspended, but such application, in the case of cancellation or revocation, shall not be made prior to one (1) year after the cancellation or revocation, and shall be made in such a manner and form as the Board may require.

The State Board shall have the power to appoint committees to the membership. The duties of any committees appointed from the State Board of Morticians membership may consider such matters pertaining to the enforcement of this Act as shall be referred to such committees, and they shall make recommendations to the State Board of Morticians with respect thereto. The State Board of Morticians shall have the power, and may delegate the said power to any committee, to issue subpoenas, duces tecum, and to compel the attendance of witnesses, the production of books, records and documents, to administer oaths, and to take testimony concerning all matters within its jurisdiction. The determination shall be founded on sufficient legal evidence to sustain it. The State Board of Morticians shall have the right to institute an action in its own name to enjoin the violation of any of the provisions of this Act. Said action for an injunction shall be in addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy authorized by law. The State Board of Morticians shall be represented by the Attorney General and/or the County or District Attorneys of this state, or counsel designated and empowered by the Board. Before entering any order cancelling, suspending, refusing to renew, or revoking a license to practice as a funeral director and/or embalmer, the Board shall hold a hearing in accordance with the procedure as set forth in this Act.

The provisions of this Section shall not apply to funeral establishments or licenses pertaining to funeral establishments.

Sec. 6C. (a) A person who is denied a license or certificate by the Board is entitled to a hearing before the Board in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), if the person requests the hearing in writing.

(b) A proceeding conducted by the Board relating to the suspension or revocation of a license or certificate is governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act. Judicial review of the proceeding is by trial de novo and is governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act.

Complaints

Sec. 6D. (a) The Board shall investigate and keep an information file about each complaint received by the Board relating to a funeral director, embalmer, apprentice, or funeral establishment.

(b) The Board shall include in each information file a description of the complaint, the date on which the complaint was filed, the name of the complainant, a description of any information obtained by the Board after investigating the complaint, a description and date of any formal actions taken by the Board relating to the complaint, a description of the current status of the complaint, and other information that the Board considers appropriate.

(c) The Board, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the complainant of the status of the complaint until the complaint is finally resolved.

(d) The information file, except for information in the file obtained by the Board after investigating the complaint, is public information. The information obtained after investigating the complaint is not public information.

(e) If a person files a complaint with the Board relating to a licensed funeral director, embalmer, or funeral establishment, the Board shall furnish to the person an explanation of the remedies that are available to the person under this Act and information about appropriate state or local agencies or officials with which the person may file a complaint.

(f) The Board shall employ at least one person who is a licensed private investigator under the laws of this state and who is not regulated under this Act. The private investigator may investigate complaints of consumer interest and other complaints received by the Board.

Consumer Information

Sec. 6E. (a) The Board shall prepare information of consumer interest explaining matters relating to funerals, describing the regulatory functions of the Board, and describing the Board's procedures by which consumer complaints are filed with and resolved by the Board.

(b) The Board shall disseminate the information to the general public.

Ex Parte Communications

Sec. 6F. The members and employees of the Board are subject to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-3a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), relating to ex parte communications.

Penalty

Sec. 7. (a) An offense under Section 6A of this Act is a Class B misdemeanor.

(b) The Board may file a complaint with the appropriate governmental authorities to begin prosecution of a person who commits an offense under Section 6A of this Act. The State Board of Morticians or any adversely affected party may sue a funeral establishment or licensed embalmer or funeral director who fails to comply with any provision of this Act for appropriate injunctive relief. This Act does not affect a remedy or enforcement power under other laws. Any person who practices as a funeral director, embalmer or apprentice in violation of any provisions of this Act shall be fined not less than Fifty Dollars ($50) nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500) or shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than thirty (30) days, or both. Each day of such practice shall constitute a separate offense.

(d) In order to secure a complete record, the hearing shall be adversary in nature. The attorney ad litem shall advocate the ward’s interest, if any, in not being a donor.

(e) Upon request, any party to a proceeding instituted pursuant to this Act shall be entitled to a preferential setting.

Licensing and Registration of Sources of Radiation

Sec. 6. (a) The Agency shall provide by rule for general or specific licensing of radioactive materials, or devices or equipment utilizing such materials. Such rules shall provide for issuance, amendment, suspension or revocation of licenses. Such rules shall provide that:

(1) Each application for a specific license shall be in writing and shall state such information as the Agency by rule may determine to be necessary to decide the technical, insurance and financial qualifications or any other qualification of the applicant as the Agency may deem reasonable and necessary to protect the occupational and public health and safety and the environment. The Agency may at any time after the filing of the application, and before the expiration of the license, require further written statements and may make such inspections as the Agency may deem necessary in order to determine whether the license should be granted or denied or whether the license should be modified, suspended, or revoked. All applications and statements shall be signed by the applicant or licensee. The Agency may require any applications or statements to be made under oath or affirmation;

(2) Each license shall be in such form and contain such terms and conditions as the Agency may prescribe;

(3) No license issued under the authority of this Act shall be assigned except to persons qualified pursuant to rules of the Agency;

(4) The terms and conditions of all licenses shall be subject to amendment, revision, or modification by rules, or orders issued in accordance with the provisions of this Act;

(5) For each application for a specific license that involves the disposal or processing of any radioactive waste from other persons, the applicant shall provide any additional information that is necessary for Agency consideration of the following factors in making its licensing decisions:

(A) site suitability, including geological, hydrological, and meteorological factors, and natural hazards;

(B) compatibility with present uses of the land in the vicinity of the site;

(C) socioeconomic effects on surrounding communities of operation of the licensed activity and of associated transportation of radioactive material;

(D) need for and alternatives to the proposed activity including an alternative siting analysis prepared by the applicant;

(E) qualifications of the applicant including financial, technical, and past operating practices;

(F) background monitoring plans for the proposed site;

(G) suitability of facilities associated with the proposed activities;

(H) chemical, radiological, and biological characteristics of the radioactive waste and waste classification under Section 4(d)(9E) of this Act;

(I) adequate insurance of the applicant to cover potential injury to any property or any person, including potential injury from transportation-associated risks;

(J) training and retraining programs for the applicant's employees;

(K) monitoring and record-keeping and reporting program;
(L) spill detection and cleanup plans for the licensed site and related to associated transportation of radioactive material;
(M) decommissioning and postclosure care plans;

(6) The Agency by rule shall provide specific criteria for the different types of licensed radioactive waste activities for the factors listed in Subdivision (5) of this subsection and may include additional factors and criteria that the Agency determines necessary for full consideration of a license.
(7) In adopting rules for the issuance of licenses for new sites for processing or disposal of radioactive waste from other persons, the Agency shall adopt criteria for the designation of unsuitable sites, including but not limited to:
(A) flood hazard areas;
(B) areas with characteristics of discharge from or recharge of any groundwater aquifer systems; or
(C) areas where soil conditions are such that spill cleanup would be impracticable.
Under this Subdivision, the Agency shall consult with the State Soil and Water Conservation Board, the Bureau of Economic Geology, and other appropriate State agencies in the development of proposed rules and shall issue rules that:
(A) require selection of sites in areas where natural conditions minimize potential contamination of surface water and groundwater; and
(B) prohibit issuance of licenses for unsuitable sites as defined by the rules of the Agency.
(8) No licensee may operate a facility to dispose of or process radioactive waste until the licensee has obtained licenses or permits from other agencies as required by law; and
(9) No license to dispose of radioactive waste shall be issued to any person other than a public entity specifically authorized by law for radioactive waste disposal.
(b) The Agency is authorized to require registration or licensing of other sources of radiation.
(c) The Agency is authorized to issue rules that exempt certain sources of radiation or kinds of uses or users from the licensing or registration requirements set forth in this Section when the Agency makes a finding that the exemption of such sources of radiation or kinds of uses or users will not constitute a significant risk to the health and safety of the public and the environment.
(d) Rules promulgated pursuant to this Act may provide for recognition of other state or federal licenses as the Agency shall deem desirable subject to such registration requirements as the Agency may prescribe.
(e) Each applicant for a license or for the renewal of a license shall demonstrate to the Agency, before the issuance or renewal of a license, that the applicant is financially qualified to conduct the licensed activity, including any required decontamination, decommissioning, reclamation, and disposal. The licensee shall submit proof to the Agency of its financial qualifications at such intervals as the Agency may require by rule or in the license. The qualifications of and security provided by a licensee under Section 6A or 6B of this Act shall be reevaluated every five (5) years and such reevaluation may coincide with license renewal procedures if both are to occur in the same year.
(f) A licensee may be required to provide security acceptable to the Agency to assure performance of its obligations under this Act.
(g) The amount and type of security required shall be determined under rules of the Agency in accordance with criteria that include the following:
(1) consideration of the need for and scope of any decontamination, decommissioning, reclamation, or disposal activity reasonably required to protect the public health and safety and the environment;
(2) reasonable estimates of the costs of decontamination, decommissioning, reclamation, and disposal as provided by Section 16 of this Act; and
(3) the costs of perpetual maintenance and surveillance, if any.
(h) In making the determination of whether to grant, deny, amend, revoke, suspend, or restrict a license or registration, the Agency may consider those aspects of an applicant's or licensee's background that, in its judgment, bear materially on ability to fulfill the obligations of licensure, including but not limited to technical competency and its record in areas involving radiation.

Additional Requirements for Certain By-Product Materials
Sec. 6A. (a) A radioactive materials license issued or renewed after the effective date of this Act, for any activity that results in the production of by-product material as defined in Subdivision (2) of Subsection (a) of Section 3 of this Act, shall minimize and to the maximum extent practicable eliminate the need for long-term maintenance and monitoring and shall contain terms and conditions the Agency determines to be necessary to assure that before termination of the license:

fund all money and security received by the Agency under this Act.

(c) Money and security deposited in the fund may be used by the Agency only for decontamination, decommissioning, stabilization, reclamation, maintenance, surveillance, control, storage, and disposal of radioactive material for the protection of the public health and safety and the environment under this Act.

(d) Money and security deposited in the fund may not be used for normal operating expenses of the Agency.

(e) If a licensed activity may require maintenance, surveillance, or other care on a continuing or perpetual basis after termination of the licensed activity, the Agency may require the licensee to pay annually to the Agency for deposit in the fund an amount determined by the Agency.

(f) Each year the Agency shall review a licensee's payments to the fund made under Subsection (e) of this section to determine if the payment schedule is adequate for the maintenance and surveillance that the licensed activity requires or may require in the future.

(g) Any estimates of costs required to be made under this Act are subject to review and change by the Agency according to the need, nature, and cost of any decontamination, stabilization, decommissioning, reclamation, and disposal activity and the maintenance and surveillance required for public health and safety and the environment. Any charges imposed for maintenance and perpetual care shall be established at a level consistent with existing technology. The charges imposed by the Agency may not exceed the estimated amount that is projected by the Agency to be required for the maintenance and surveillance and other necessary care required after termination of the licensed activity. Any increase in costs may not be applied retroactively but may result in increases in subsequent annual payments.

(h) If a licensee has satisfied all obligations under this Act, the Agency shall have the Comptroller of Public Accounts promptly refund to the licensee from the fund any excess of the amount of Subdivision (1) of this subsection over the amount of Subdivision (2) of this subsection:

(1) all payments made by the licensee to the Agency for deposit into the fund under this Act and all investment earnings on such payments; and

(2) the amount determined to be required for the continuing maintenance and surveillance of the land, buildings, and radioactive material conveyed to the state under this Act.

Fees

(c) Fees collected by the Agency under this section shall be deposited in the General Revenue Fund.

Nuclear Reactor and Fixed Nuclear Facility Fee

Sec. 18. The Agency may prescribe and collect an annual fee from the operator of each nuclear reactor or other fixed nuclear facility in the state that utilizes special nuclear material. The amount of fees collected may not exceed the actual expenses arising from emergency planning and implementation and environmental surveillance activities. The annual fees collected shall be deposited in the General Revenue Fund.

Section 2 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 46, ch. 21, as amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 386, ch. 155, § 4, provides:

"(a) A person holding office as a member of the Radiation Advisory Board on the effective date of this Act shall continue to hold that office for the term for which he was originally appointed.

"(b) The governor shall appoint to the board a public member, a representative of the petroleum well-servicing industry, and one representative of the nuclear utility industry for terms expiring in 1983; a representative engaged in the use and application of nuclear physics in medicine, a representative of the radioactive waste processing industry, and one representative of the nuclear utility industry for terms expiring in 1985; and a public member, a health physicist, and a representative from the uranium mining industry for terms expiring in 1987. Art. 4590f-1. Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority Act

ARTICLE 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Findings, Purpose, and Intent

Sec. 101. (a) Low-level radioactive wastes are generated as by-products of medical, research, and industrial activities and through the operation of nuclear power plants. Loss of capability to dispose of low-level radioactive waste would pose a threat to the health and welfare of the citizens of the state and would ultimately lead to the loss of the benefits of these activities that are dependent on reliable facilities for low-level radioactive waste disposal.

(b) This state is currently dependent on low-level radioactive waste disposal sites in other states. Recent events have demonstrated that the availability of these sites for low-level radioactive waste disposal is increasingly uncertain and as a consequence, medical institutions, research facilities, and industries within the state could be adversely affected.
(c) It is the purpose and intent of this Act to establish the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority with responsibility for assuring much-needed disposal capability for specific categories of low-level radioactive wastes generated within this state.

"Sec. 1.02. This Act may be cited as the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority Act."

The term does not include irradiated reactor fuel and high-level radioactive waste as defined by Title 10, Code of Federal Regulations.

(6) "Disposal site" means the property and facilities acquired, constructed, and owned by the authority at which low-level waste may be processed and may be disposed of permanently.

(1) the volume of low-level waste generated by type and source categories for the expected life of the site;
(2) geology;
(3) surface characteristics (topography);
(4) other aspects of transportation and access;
(5) meteorology;
(6) population density;
(7) surface and subsurface hydrology;
(8) flora and fauna;
(9) current land use;
(10) criteria established by the agency for site selection;
(11) the proximity to sources of low-level waste, including related transportation costs, to the extent that the proximity and transportation costs do not interfere with selection of the best site for protecting public health and the environment; and

(a) On receiving the results of the studies and evaluations required under Sections 3.05 and 3.06 of this Act, the board shall select the site that appears from the studies to be the most suitable for a disposal site and shall hold a public hearing to consider whether or not that site should be selected as the disposal site and give 30 days notice thereof, published in the English language once a week for four consecutive weeks preceding the hearing, in some newspaper published in the county of the disposal site. If there is no newspaper published in the county or none which will publish the notice, the board shall then post such notice in writing in three public places in the county, one of which shall be at the courthouse door of the county courthouse, for at least 30 days successively before the day of the hearing. The hearing shall be commenced in the county seat at the county courthouse in which the proposed disposal site is located.

(b) Before giving notice of the hearing, the authority shall prepare a report that includes detailed information regarding all aspects of the disposal site selection process, criteria for site selection as established by the appropriate licensing authority, and
(c) On a thorough consideration of the studies and evaluations relating to site selection required under Sections 3.05 and 3.06 of this Act, the criteria required to be used in those studies, and testimony and evidence presented at the hearing, the board shall determine if the proposed disposal site should be selected, and if the board selects that site as the disposal site, the board shall issue an order designating that site as the proposed disposal site, shall issue a final report, and shall direct the general manager to prepare necessary applications, disposal plans, and other material for obtaining licenses and other authorizations for the disposal site. If the board determines that the proposed site should not be selected, it shall issue an order rejecting selection of the site and shall call another hearing to consider another site that appears from the studies and evaluations under Sections 3.05 and 3.06 of this Act to be suitable. The board shall continue to follow the procedures under Subsection (a) of this section and this subsection until a suitable disposal site is selected.

(d) A copy of the final report and order selecting a disposal site shall be submitted to the governor and to the legislature for informational purposes.

(e) The authority may appoint a mediator to consider the views of parties interested in the selection of a disposal site. The mediator may conduct a series of meetings with delegates from groups of interested parties. The selection of delegates shall be determined by criteria established by the board. Mediation meetings may be held in the counties in which the potential sites are located and shall be held prior to the public hearing required by Subsection (a) of this section. The mediator shall prepare a report and submit it to the board before the notice is given of the public hearing.

(d) On completion of construction work, the engineers, inspectors, and other personnel shall submit to the board a final detailed written report including information necessary to show whether or not the contractor has fully complied with the contract.

Payment for Construction Work

Sec. 3.18. (a) The authority shall pay the contract price of construction contracts as provided in this section.

(b) The authority will make progress payments under construction contracts monthly as the work proceeds or at more frequent intervals as determined by the board.

(c) If requested by the board, the contractor shall furnish an analysis of the total contract price showing the amount included for each principal category of the work in such detail as requested to provide a basis for determining progress payments.

(d) In making progress payments, 10 percent of the estimated amount shall be retained until final completion and acceptance of the contract work. However, if the board, at any time after 50 percent of the work has been completed, finds that satisfactory progress is being made, it may authorize any of the remaining progress payments to be made in full. Also, if the work is substantially complete, the board, if it finds the amount retained to be in excess of the amount adequate for the protection of the authority, may release to the contractor all or a portion of the excess amount.

(e) On completion and acceptance of each separate project, work, or other division of the contract, on which the price is stated separately in the contract, payment may be made without retention of a percentage.

(f) When construction work is completed according to the terms of the contract, the board shall draw a warrant on the depository to pay any balance due on the contract.

Contracts for Purchase of Equipment, Materials, Supplies, etc. Over $5,000

Sec. 3.19. (a) If the estimated amount of a proposed contract for the purchase of materials, machinery, equipment, or supplies is more than $5,000, the board shall ask for competitive bids as provided by Section 3.12 of this Act.

Management and Operation of Sites

Sec. 3.20. (a) The board has general authority to manage and, if necessary, operate the disposal sites under this Act and take any actions necessary under this Act to manage and operate the disposal sites in a manner that will protect the public health and safety and the environment.

(b) The board may enter into contracts with persons to perform overall operation in the operation of a disposal site, but no contract may include provisions that relieve the authority of its management responsibility under this Act. The board shall adopt rules establishing criteria for determining the competence of a person to perform the overall operation of a disposal site in the operation of a disposal site.

(c) The board shall manage and, if necessary, operate the authority’s disposal sites in a manner that complies with laws and with rules and standards of appropriate federal and state agencies having jurisdiction over disposal sites.

(d) Each disposal site shall be supervised by an on-site operator with responsibility for all operations.
at the site. If the authority contracts under Subsec­ may not be less stringent than those adopted by the agency.

(f) A contract with a person under Subsection (b) of this section shall specify that:

(1) the board retains management authority over the low-level disposal site and may monitor and inspect any part of the disposal site and operations taking place on the disposal site at any time;

in a manner that complies with laws and licenses regulating operations at the site issued by the agency and the federal government;

the contract the contract is subject to termination after notice and hearing.

(g) In contracting with a person under Subsection
(b) of this section, the board may:

(1) select the person with whom it will contract before it obtains the license for the disposal site so before it is transported to a Texas permanent disposal site. The rules of the department shall provide that the department charge a reasonable fee for the inspection. The fee shall be limited to the cost of the inspection of the radioactive waste.

(b) For shipments of low-level waste that are in excess of 75 cubic feet, the person making the shipment shall give the on-site operator of the disposal site written notice of the shipment containing information required by the board at least 72 hours before shipment of the low-level waste to the dispos­

(c) On arrival of a shipment of low-level waste at disposal site, the on-site operator or his agent shall determine that the waste complies with all laws, rules, and standards relating to processing and packing of low-level waste before the waste is accepted for disposal at the disposal site.

(d) If low-level waste that is not properly processed or packaged arrives at a disposal site, the on-site operator or his agent shall properly process and package the waste for disposal and charge the person making the shipment the fee required by Section 4.08 of this Act.

(e) The on-site operator or his agent shall report to the federal and state agencies that establish rules and standards for processing, packaging, and transportation of low-level waste any person who delivers to a disposal site low-level waste that is not properly processed or packaged.

of low-level waste from a disposal site if the low-level waste is incompatible with disposal operations.

Disposal Site Activities

Sec. 3.23. Disposal sites shall be used for permanent storage of low-level wastes, and the authority may adopt any methods and techniques for permanent disposal that comply with federal and state stands for low-level waste disposal and that protect the public health and safety and the environment. Also, the authority may provide facilities at disposal sites for processing and packaging low-level waste for disposal.

Emergency Response

Sec. 3.24. (a) To protect the public health and safety and the environment, the board, after notice and hearing, shall adopt an emergency response plan for each disposal site to be implemented in the event a disposal site becomes a threat to the public health or safety or the environment.

(b) The authority shall cooperate with and seek the cooperation of federal and state agencies responsible for regulating disposal sites and of federal, state, and local agencies engaged in disaster relief activities.

Decommissioning and Closing Disposal Sites

Sec. 3.25. (a) On a finding by the board, after notice and hearing, that a disposal site should be closed, the authority and any operator with which it has contracted shall proceed with decommissioning of the disposal site in compliance with federal and state laws and rules and standards adopted under those laws and with rules and plans of the authority.

(b) On completion of decommissioning activities and receipt of necessary approval from any federal and state agencies, the board shall, if required by law, transfer fee simple title to the disposal site to the agency.

Reports

Sec. 3.26. At least 60 days before each regular session, the authority shall submit to the appropriate committees of the legislature a biennial report that shall serve as a basis for periodic oversight hearings on the authority's operations and on the status of interstate compacts and agreements.

(b) The board shall adopt and periodically revise by rule a schedule of waste disposal fees based on the volume of low-level waste delivered for disposal and the relative hazard presented by each type of low-level waste that is delivered to the disposal site. In determining relative hazard, the board shall consider the radioactive, physical, and chemical properties of each type of low-level waste.

(c) Waste disposal fees adopted by the board shall be sufficient to allow the authority to recover operating and maintenance costs, expenses incurred before beginning operation of the site amortized over a period of not more than 20 years beginning on the first day of operation of the disposal site, an amount necessary to meet future costs of decommissioning and closing the disposal site, an amount sufficient to meet needs for impact assistance under Section 4.04 of this Act, an amount necessary to pay licensing fees and to provide security required by the agency under laws and rules of the agency.

Processing and Packaging Fee

Sec. 4.03. The board shall adopt and periodically revise by rule a schedule of processing and packaging fees based on the volume of improperly processed or packaged low-level waste delivered for disposal and on the cost to the authority for processing and packaging the waste properly in compliance with federal and state standards.

Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Impact Assistance

Sec. 4.04. (a) The board may make grants to a city, county, hospital district, school district, water district, or other political subdivision of this state to reimburse that entity for actual costs or to pay expenses anticipated in connection with additional fire, police, educational, utility, public access, and other governmental services, public works projects, and planning that are required by the city, county, hospital district, school district, water district, or other political subdivision of this state as a result of the construction and operation of a disposal site within or adjacent to the affected city, county, hospital district, school district, water district, or other political subdivision of this state.

(b) The board shall adopt rules establishing:

(1) procedures for the application for grants under this section;

(2) criteria for determining the adverse effect that the construction and operation of a disposal site will have on cities, counties, hospital districts, school districts, water districts, and other political subdivisions of this state;

CHAPTER TWENTY. NATURAL DEATH

Art. 4590h. Natural Death Act

Sec. 1. This Act shall be known and may be cited as the Natural Death Act.

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Attending physician" means the physician selected by, or assigned by the physician selected by, the patient who has primary responsibility for the treatment and care of the patient.

(2) "Directive" means a written document voluntarily executed by the declarant in accordance with the requirements of Section 3 of this Act. The directive, or a copy of the directive, shall be made part of the patient's medical records.

(3) "Life-sustaining procedure" means a medical procedure or intervention which utilizes mechanical or other artificial means to sustain, restore, or supplant a vital function, which, when applied to a qualified patient, would serve only to artificially prolong the moment of death and where, in the judgment of the attending physician, noted in the qualified patient's medical records, death is imminent whether or not such procedures are utilized.

(4) "Physician" means a physician and surgeon licensed by the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners.

(5) "Qualified patient" means a patient diagnosed and certified in writing to be afflicted with a terminal condition by two physicians, one of whom shall be the attending physician, and the other shall be chosen by the patient or the attending physician, who have each personally examined the patient.

(6) "Terminal condition" means an incurable condition caused by injury, disease, or illness, which, regardless of the application of life-sustaining procedures, would, within reasonable medical judgment, produce death, and where the application of life-sustaining procedures serves only to postpone the moment of death of the patient.

Directive for Withholding or Withdrawal of Life-Sustaining Procedures in Event of Terminal Condition

Sec. 3. Any adult person may execute a directive for the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in the event of a terminal condition. The directive shall be signed by the declarant in the presence of two witnesses not related to the declarant by blood or marriage and who would not be entitled to any portion of the estate of the declarant on his or her death under any will of the declarant or codicil thereto or by operation of law. In addition, a witness to a directive shall not be the attending physician, an employee of the attending physician or a health facility in which the declarant is a patient, a patient in a health care facility in which the declarant is a patient, or any person who has a claim against any portion of the estate of the declarant upon his or her death, or any person who has a claim against any portion of the estate of the declarant upon his or her death, or any person who has a claim against any portion of the estate of the declarant upon his or her death.

The signature of the declarant shall be acknowledged, and the witnesses shall subscribe and swear to the directive before a notary public. The directive shall be in the following form:

"DIRECTIVE TO PHYSICIANS

"Directive made this ___ day of _____ (month, year).

"I ____________, being of sound mind, willfully and voluntarily make known my desire that my life shall not be artificially prolonged under the circumstances set forth below, and do hereby declare:

"1. If at any time I should have an incurable condition caused by injury, disease, or illness certified to be a terminal condition by two physicians, and where the application of life-sustaining procedures would serve only to artificially prolong the moment of my death and where my attending physician determines that my death is imminent whether or not life-sustaining procedures are utilized, I direct that such procedures be withheld or withdrawn, and that I be permitted to die naturally.

"2. In the absence of my ability to give directions regarding the use of such life-sustaining procedures, it is my intention that this directive shall be honored by my family and physicians as the final expression of my legal right to refuse medical or surgical treatment and accept the consequences from such refusal.

"3. If I have been diagnosed as pregnant and that diagnosis is known to my physician, this directive shall have no force or effect during the course of my pregnancy.

"4. I have been diagnosed and notified as having a terminal condition by __________________________, M.D., whose address is __________________________, and whose telephone number is ________. I understand that if I have not filled in the physician's name and address, it shall be presumed that I did not have a terminal condition when I made out this directive.

"5. This directive shall be in effect until it is revoked.

"6. I understand the full import of this directive and I am emotionally and mentally competent to make this directive.

"7. I understand that I may revoke this directive at any time."

Sec. 4. (a) A directive may be revoked at any time by the declarant, without regard to his mental state or competency, by any of the following methods:

(1) by being canceled, defaced, obliterated, or burnt, torn, or otherwise destroyed by the declarant or by some person in his presence and by his direction;

(2) by a written revocation of the declarant expressing his intent to revoke, signed and dated by the declarant. Such revocation shall become effective only on communication to an attending physician by the declarant or by a person acting on behalf of the declarant. An attending physician or his designee shall record in the patient's medical records the time and date when he received notification of the written revocation and shall enter the word "VOID" on each page of the copy of the directive in the patient's medical records; or

(3) by a verbal expression by the declarant of his intent to revoke the directive. Such revocation shall become effective only on communication to an attending physician by the declarant or by a person acting on behalf of the declarant. An attending physician or his designee shall record in the patient's medical record the time, date, and place of the revocation and the time, date, and place, if different, of when he received notification of the revocation and shall enter the word "VOID" on each page of the copy of the directive in the patient's medical records.

(b) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, there shall be no criminal or civil liability on the part of any person for failure to act on a revocation made pursuant to this section unless that person has actual knowledge of the revocation.

Sec. 5. A directive shall be effective until it is revoked in a manner prescribed in Section 4 of this Act. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent a declarant from reexecuting a directive at any time in accordance with the formalities of Section 3 of this Act, including reexecution subsequent to a diagnosis of a terminal condition. If the declarant has executed more than one directive, such time shall be determined from the date of execution of the last directive known to the attending physician. If the declarant becomes comatose or is rendered incapable of communicating with the attending physician, the directive shall remain in effect for the duration of the comatose condition or until such time as the declarant's condition renders him or her able to communicate with the attending physician.

Sec. 6. No physician or health facility which, acting in accordance with the requirements of this Act, causes the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient, shall be subject to civil liability therefrom unless negligent. No health professional, acting under the direction of a physician, who participates in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall be subject to any civil liability unless negligent. No physician, or health professional acting under the direction of a physician, who participates in the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall be subject to any civil liability unless negligent. No physician, or health care facility, or health care professional shall be liable either civilly or criminally for failure to act pursuant to the declarant's directive where such physician, health care facility, or health care professional had no knowledge of such directive.
Section 7. (a) Prior to effecting a withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient pursuant to the directive, the attending physician shall determine that the directive complies with the form of the directive set out in Section 3 of this Act, and, if the patient is mentally competent, that the directive and all steps proposed by the attending physician to be undertaken are in accord with the existing desires of the qualified patient and are communicated to the patient.

(b) If the declarant was a qualified patient prior to executing or reexecuting the directive, the directive shall be conclusively presumed, unless revoked, to be the directions of the patient regarding the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures. No physician, and no health professional acting under the direction of a physician, shall be criminally or civilly liable for failing to effectuate the directive of the qualified patient pursuant to this subsection. A failure by a physician to effectuate the directive of a qualified patient pursuant to this subsection may constitute unprofessional conduct if the physician refuses to make the necessary arrangements or fails to take the necessary steps to effect the transfer of the qualified patient to another physician who will effectuate the directive of the qualified patient.

(c) If the declarant becomes a qualified patient subsequent to executing the directive, and has not subsequently re-executed the directive, the attending physician may give weight to the directive as evidence of the patient's directions regarding the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures and may consider other factors, such as information from the affected family or the nature of the patient's illness, injury, or disease, in determining whether the totality of circumstances known to the attending physician justifies effectuating the directive. No physician, and no health professional acting under the direction of a physician, shall be criminally or civilly liable for failing to effectuate the directive of the qualified patient pursuant to this subsection.

Effect on Offense of Aiding Suicide and Insurance Policies

Section 8. (a) The withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from a qualified patient in accordance with the provisions of this Act shall not, for any purpose, constitute an offense under Section 22.08, Penal Code.

(b) The making of a directive pursuant to Section 3 of this Act shall not restrict, inhibit, or impair in any manner the sale, procurement, or issuance of any policy of life insurance, nor shall it be deemed to modify the terms of an existing policy of life insurance. No policy of life insurance shall be legally impaired or invalidated in any manner by the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures from an insured-qualified patient, notwithstanding any term of the policy to the contrary.

(c) No physician, health facility, or other health provider, and no health care service plan, or insurer issuing insurance, may require any person to execute a directive as a condition for being insured for, or receiving, health care services nor may the execution or failure to execute a directive be considered in any way in establishing the premiums for insurance.

Tampering with Directive

Section 9. A person who willfully conceals, cancels, defaces, obliterates, or damages the directive of another without such declarant's consent shall be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor. A person who falsifies or forges the directive of another, or willfully conceals or withholds personal knowledge of a revocation as provided in Section 4 of this Act, with the intent to cause a withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures contrary to the wishes of the declarant, and thereby, because of any such act, directly causes life-sustaining procedures to be withheld or withdrawn and death to thereby be hastened, shall be subject to prosecution for criminal homicide under the provisions of the Penal Code.

Mercy Killing not Condoned

Section 10. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to condone, authorize, or approve mercy killing, or to permit any affirmative or deliberate act or omission to end life other than to permit the natural process of dying as provided in this Act.

Act as Cumulative

Section 11. Nothing in this Act shall impair or supersede any legal right or legal responsibility which any person may have to effect the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in any lawful manner. In such respect the provisions of this Act are cumulative.

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE. MEDICAL LIABILITY AND INSURANCE IMPROVEMENT

Art. 4590i. Medical Liability and Insurance Improvement Act

SUBCHAPTER A. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Short Title

Section 1.01. This part may be cited as the Medical Liability and Insurance Improvement Act of Texas.

Findings and Purposes

Section 1.02. (a) The Legislature of the State of Texas finds that:

1. the number of health care liability claims (frequency) has increased since 1972 inordinately;
2. the filing of legitimate health care liability claims in Texas is a contributing factor affecting medical professional liability rates;
of this section, it is the purpose of this Act to improve and modify the system by which health care liability claims are determined in order to:

(1) reduce excessive frequency and severity of health care liability claims through reasonable improvements and modifications in the Texas insurance, tort, and medical practice systems;

(2) decrease the cost of those claims and assure that awards are rationally related to actual damages;

(3) do so in a manner that will not unduly restrict a claimant's rights any more than necessary to deal with the crisis;

(4) make available to physicians, hospitals, and other health care providers protection against potential liability through the insurance mechanism at reasonably affordable rates;

(5) make affordable medical and health care more accessible and available to the citizens of Texas;

(6) make certain modifications in the medical, insurance, and legal systems in order to determine whether or not there will be an effect on rates charged by insurers for medical professional liability insurance; and

(7) make certain modifications to the liability laws as they relate to health care liability claims only and with an intention of the legislature to not extend or apply such modifications of liability laws to any other area of the Texas legal system or tort law.

1 See note under Insurance Code, art. 21.49-3.

Definition

Sec. 6.01. In this subchapter, “panel” means the Texas Medical Disclosure Panel.

Theory of Recovery

Sec. 6.02. In a suit against a physician or health care provider involving a health care liability claim that is based on the failure of the physician or health care provider to disclose or adequately to disclose the risks and hazards involved in the medical care or surgical procedure rendered by the physician or health care provider, the only theory on which recovery may be obtained is that of negligence in failing to disclose the risks or hazards that could have influenced a reasonable person in making a decision to give or withhold consent.

Texas Medical Disclosure Panel

Sec. 6.03. (a) The Texas Medical Disclosure Panel is created to determine which risks and hazards related to medical care and surgical procedures must be disclosed by health care providers or physicians to their patients or persons authorized to consent for their patients and to establish the general form and substance of such disclosure.

(b) The panel established herein is administratively attached to the Texas Department of Health. The Texas Department of Health, at the request of the panel, shall provide administrative assistance to the panel; and the Texas Department of Health and the panel shall coordinate administrative responsibilities in order to avoid unnecessary duplication of facilities and services. The Texas Department of Health, at the request of the panel, shall submit the panel’s budget request to the legislature. The panel shall be subject, except where inconsistent, to the rules and procedures of the Texas Department of Health; however, the duties and responsibilities of the panel as set forth in the Medical Liability and Insurance Improvement Act of Texas, as amended (Article 4590i, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), shall be exercised solely by the panel and the board or Texas Department of Health shall have no authority or responsibility with respect to same.

(c) The panel is composed of nine members, with three members licensed to practice law in this state and six members licensed to practice medicine in this state. Members of the panel shall be selected by the Commissioner of Health.

(d) The commissioner shall select members of the panel according to the following schedule:

(1) one attorney and two physicians to serve a term of two years, which term shall begin on September 1, 1979, and expire on August 31, 1981, or until a successor is qualified;

(2) one attorney and two physicians to serve a term of four years, which terms shall begin September 1, 1979, and expire August 31, 1983, or until a successor is qualified;

(3) one attorney and two physicians to serve a term of six years, which term shall begin September 1, 1979, and expire on August 31, 1985, or until a successor is qualified.

Thereafter, at the expiration of the term of each member of the panel so appointed, the commissioner shall select a successor, and such successor shall serve for a term of six years, or until his successor is selected. Any member who is absent for three consecutive meetings without the consent of a majority of the panel present at each such meeting may be removed by the commissioner at the request of the panel submitted in writing and signed by the chairman. Upon the death, resignation, or removal of any member, the commissioner shall select a successor, and such successor shall serve for a term of six years, or until a successor is qualified.

(e) Members of the panel are not entitled to compensation for their services, but each panelist is entitled to reimbursement of any necessary expense incurred in the performance of his duties on the panel including necessary travel expenses.

(f) Meetings of the panel shall be held at the call of the chairman or on petition of at least three members of the panel.

(g) At the first meeting of the panel each year after its members assume their positions, the panelists shall select one of the panel members to serve as chairman and one of the panel members to serve as vice-chairman, and each such officer shall serve for a term of one year. The chairman shall preside at meetings of the panel, and in his absence, the vice-chairman shall preside.

(h) Employees of the Texas Department of Health shall serve as the staff for the panel.

Sec. 6.04. (a) To the extent feasible, the panel shall identify and make a thorough examination of all medical treatments and surgical procedures in which physicians and health care providers may be involved in order to determine which of those treatments and procedures do and do not require disclosure of the risks and hazards to the patient or person authorized to consent for the patient.

(b) The panel shall prepare separate lists of those medical treatments and surgical procedures that do and do not require disclosure and for those treatments and procedures that do require disclosure shall establish the degree of disclosure required and the form in which the disclosure will be made.

(c) Lists prepared under Subsection (b) of this section together with written explanations of the degree and form of disclosure shall be published in the Texas Register.

(d) At least annually, or at such other period the panel may determine from time to time, the panel will identify and examine any new medical treatments and surgical procedures that have been developed since its last determinations, shall assign them to the proper list, and shall establish the degree of disclosure required and the form in which the disclosure will be made. The panel will also examine such treatments and procedures for the purpose of revising lists previously published. These determinations shall be published in the Texas Register.

Duty of Physician or Health Care Provider

Sec. 6.05. Before a patient or a person authorized to consent for a patient gives consent to any medical care or surgical procedure that appears on the panel’s list requiring disclosure, the physician or health care provider shall disclose to the patient, or person authorized to consent for the patient, the risks and hazards involved in that kind of care or procedure. A physician or health care provider shall be considered to have complied with the requirements of this section if disclosure is made as provided in Section 6.06 of this subchapter.

Manner of Disclosure

Sec. 6.06. Consent to medical care that appears on the panel’s list requiring disclosure shall be considered effective under this subchapter if it is given in writing, signed by the patient or a person authorized to give the consent and by a competent witness, and if the written consent specifically states the risks and hazards involved in the medical care or surgical procedure in the form and to the degree required by the panel under Section 6.04 of this subchapter.

Effect of Disclosure

Sec. 6.07. (a) In a suit against a physician or health care provider involving a health care liability claim that is based on the negligent failure of the physician or health care provider to disclose or adequately to disclose the risks and hazards involved in the medical care or surgical procedure rendered by the physician or health care provider:

(1) both disclosure made as provided in Section 6.05 of this subchapter and failure to disclose based on inclusion of any medical care or surgical procedure on the panel’s list for which disclosure is not required shall be admissible in evidence and shall create a rebuttable presumption that the requirements of Sections 6.05 and 6.06 of this subchapter have been complied with and this presumption shall be included in the charge to the jury; and

(2) failure to disclose the risks and hazards involved in any medical care or surgical procedure required to be disclosed under Sections 6.05 and 6.06 of this subchapter shall be admissible in evidence and shall create a rebuttable presumption of a negligent failure to conform to the duty of disclosure set forth in Sections 6.05 and 6.06 of this subchapter, and this presumption shall be included in the charge to the jury; but failure to disclose may be found not to be negligent if there was an emergency or if for some other reason it was not medically feasible to make a disclosure of the kind that would otherwise have been negligence.

(b) If medical care or surgical procedure is rendered with respect to which the panel has made no determination either way regarding a duty of disclosure, the physician or health care provider is under the duty otherwise imposed by law.

SUBCHAPTER G. RES IPSA LOQUITUR
Application of Res Ipsa Loquitur
Sec. 7.01. The common-law doctrine of res ipsa loquitur shall only apply to health care liability claims against health care providers or physicians in those cases to which it has been applied by the appellate courts of this state as of the effective date of this subchapter.

SUBCHAPTER H. BAD FAITH CAUSE OF ACTION
Separate Cause of Action for Bad Faith
Sec. 8.01. With respect to a health care liability claim actually filed, a cause of action based on bad faith may be filed and litigated in a separate lawsuit.

Definition
Sec. 8.02. As used in this subchapter, “bad faith” means to file and maintain a claim with reckless disregard as to whether or not reasonable grounds exist for asserting the claim.

Notice of Bad Faith Claim
Sec. 8.03. At least 60 days before the filing of a suit based on bad faith in any court of this state, a person or his authorized agent asserting a bad faith cause of action shall give written notice by certified mail, return receipt requested, of the claim, to the defendant or his attorney against whom the claim is being made.

Persons Against Whom Claims May be Made; Damage Limits
Sec. 8.04. The right of action created in this subchapter shall lie against any claimant or defendant or claimant’s or defendant’s attorney, or both, who file a health care liability claim in bad faith, or file a claim under this article in bad faith, and the measure of damages with respect thereto shall be limited to $100,000 for compensatory and exemplary damages, as applicable.

Effective Date
Sec. 8.05. This subchapter will take effect if and only if the State Bar of Texas fails to certify to the Supreme Court of Texas by January 31, 1979, that it has adopted rules for appropriate disciplinary measures against an attorney who has been determined to have filed a claim in bad faith. If the provisions of this section are held unconstitutional or invalid for any reason, the legislature specifically declares this section to be severable and that such holding shall in no way affect the validity of the other sections of this subchapter.

SUBCHAPTER I. ADVANCE PAYMENTS
Advance Payments not Admission of Liability
Sec. 9.01. In an action brought to recover damages based on a health care liability claim, no advance payment made on that claim by the defendant health care provider or physician, or the professional liability insurer, to or for the claimant, or any other person, shall be construed as an admission of liability by the health care provider or physician or any person for any injuries or damages suffered by the claimant or anyone else.

Admissibility of Advance Payments
Sec. 9.02. Except as provided in this subchapter, evidence of an advance payment shall not be admissible during the trial of an action based on a health care liability claim at any stage of the proceedings, unless and until there is a final award in favor of the claimant, in which event the trial judge shall reduce the award to the claimant to the extent of the advance payment.

Adjustments for Advance Payments
Sec. 9.03. The advance payment shall inure to the exclusive benefit of the defendant or his or its carrier making the advance payment, and in the event the advance payment exceeds the pro rata liability of the defendant or the carrier making the payment, the trial judge shall order any adjustment necessary to equalize the amount which each defendant is obligated to pay under this subchapter, exclusive of costs.
Certain Advance Payments Exempt from Repayment

Sec. 9.04. In no case shall an advance payment in excess of an award be repayable by the person receiving it.

SUBCHAPTER J. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

Limitations on Health Care Liability Claims

Sec. 10.01. Notwithstanding any other law, no health care liability claim may be commenced unless the action is filed within two years from the occurrence of the breach or tort or from the date the medical or health care treatment that is the subject of the claim or the hospitalization for which the claim is made is completed; provided that, minors under the age of 12 years shall have until their 14th birthday in which to file, or have filed on their behalf, the claim. Except as herein provided, this subchapter applies to all persons regardless of minority or other legal disability.

Causes of Action Covered by Other Law

Sec. 10.02. Causes of action accruing between the effective date of this Act and the effective date of Article 5.82, Insurance Code, shall be filed pursuant to Section 4 of Article 5.82.

SUBCHAPTER K. LIABILITY LIMITS

Definition

Sec. 11.01. Limit on Civil Liability

Sec. 11.02. (a) In an action on a health care liability claim where final judgment is rendered against a physician or health care provider, the limit of civil liability for damages of the physician or health care provider shall be limited to an amount not to exceed $500,000.

(b) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to the amount of damages awarded on a health care liability claim for the expenses of necessary medical, hospital, and custodial care received before judgment or required in the future for treatment of the injury.

(c) This section shall not limit the liability of any insurer where facts exist that would enable a party to invoke the common law theory of recovery commonly known in Texas as the "Stowers Doctrine."

(d) In any action on a health care liability claim that is tried by a jury in any court in this state, the following shall be included in the court's written instructions to the jurors: Do not consider, discuss, nor speculate whether or not liability, if any, on the part of any party is or is not subject to any limit under applicable law.

Sec. 11.03. In the event that Section 11.02(a) of this subchapter is stricken from this subchapter or is otherwise invalidated by a method other than through legislative means, the following shall become effective:

TITLE 79

INTEREST—CONSUMER CREDIT—CONSUMER PROTECTION

Chapter 1A. Alternative Credit Provisions

CHAPTER ONE. INTEREST

Art. 5069-1.01. Definitions

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (a) to (e)]

(f) "Open-end Account" means any account, under a written contract under which the creditor may permit the obligor to make purchases or borrow money from time to time, and under which interest or time price differential may from time to time be computed on an outstanding unpaid balance. The term includes, but is not limited to, accounts under agreements described by Section (4), Article 3.15; Section (4), Article 4.01; and Chapters 6 and 15 of this Title.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section 10(12), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or price differential is 28 percent a year.

Art. 5069-1.03. Legal Rate Applicable

When no specified rate of interest is agreed upon by the parties, interest at the rate of six percent per annum shall be allowed on all accounts and contracts ascertaining the sum payable, commencing on the thirtieth (30th) day from and after the time when the sum is due and payable.

Art. 5069-1.04. Limit on Rate

(a) The parties to any written contract may agree to and stipulate for any rate of interest, or in an agreement described in Chapter 6, 6A, or 7 of this Title, any rate or amount of time price differential producing a rate, that does not exceed:

(1) an indicated rate ceiling that is the auction average rate quoted on a bank discount basis for 26-week treasury bills issued by the United States government, as published by the Federal Reserve Board, for the week preceding the week in which the rate is contracted for, multiplied by two, and rounded to the nearest one-quarter of one percent; or, as an alternative,

(2) an annualized or quarterly ceiling that is the average of the computations under Subsection (1) of this section and is computed pursuant to Section (d) of this Article.

(b)(1) If a computation under Section (a)(1), (a)(2), or (c) of this Article is less than 18 percent a year, the ceiling under that provision is 18 percent a year. If a computation under Section (a)(1), (a)(2), or (c) of this Article is more than 24 percent a year, the ceiling under that provision is 24 percent a year.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (1) of this Section (b), on any contract under which credit in an amount in excess of $250,000 is or is to be extended, or any extension or renewal of such a contract, and under which the credit is extended for business, commercial, investment, or other similar purpose, but excluding any contract that is not for any of those purposes and is primarily for personal, family, household, or agricultural use, the 24 percent limitation on the ceilings in Section (b)(1) above that is applicable to the computations under Section (a)(1), (a)(2), or (c) of this Article shall not apply, and the limitation on the ceilings determined by those computations shall be 28 percent a year.

(3) References in this Article to the indicated rate ceiling, annualized ceiling, quarterly ceiling, or monthly ceiling mean such a ceiling as modified by this Section (b).

(c) A monthly ceiling is available only in variable rate contracts, including contracts for open-end accounts, that are not made for personal, family, or household use. Subject to Section (b) of this Article, the monthly ceiling is the average of all the computations under Section (a)(1) of this Article for auctions occurring during the preceding calendar month.
and shall be computed by the consumer credit commissioner on the first business day of the calendar month in which the rate applies. In contracts for which the monthly ceiling is available under this section, if the parties agree that the rate is subject to being adjusted on a monthly basis in accordance with Section (f) of this Article they may further contract that the rate from time to time in effect may not exceed the monthly ceiling from time to time in effect under this section and the monthly ceiling from time to time in effect is the ceiling on those contracts, instead of any ceiling under Article 1.04(a) of this Title.

(d) The consumer credit commissioner shall compute, on the computation dates of December 1, March 1, June 1, and September 1 of each year, the quarterly and annualized ceilings for the next succeeding calendar quarter beginning January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1, respectively. For each computation date, the computation under Section (a)(2) of this Article for the quarterly ceiling is the average of all the computations under Section (a)(1) of this Article for auctions occurring during the three calendar months preceding the computation date. For each computation date, the computation under Section (a)(2) of this Article for the annualized ceiling is the average of all the computations under Section (a)(1) of this Article for auctions occurring during the 12 calendar months preceding the computation date.

(e) In a contract that does not involve an open-end account, as an alternative to the indicated rate ceiling, the parties may contract for a rate not exceeding the quarterly ceiling in effect at the time the rate is contracted for, but the creditor may not rely on the annualized ceiling in such a contract, and in a contract subject to Section (f) of this Article may not rely on both the indicated rate ceiling and the quarterly ceiling in any given contract.

(f) The parties to any contract, including a contract for an open-end account, may agree to and stipulate for a rate or amount by contracting for any index, formula, or provision of law, by or under which the numerical rate or amount can from time to time be determined. However, the rate or amount so produced may not exceed the ceiling that may from time to time be in effect and applicable to the contract, for so long as debt is outstanding under the contract. Provided, further, that variable contract rates as described in this Section (f) are not allowed in a contract in which the interest or time price differential is precomputed and added into the amount of the contract at the time of the contract.

(f)-(1) Any agreement or amendment to an agreement for credit extended primarily for personal, family, or household use, entered under the authority of Article 1.04 and providing for a variable rate or amount on the balance under the agreement or amendment shall disclose the following in not less than 10-point type or computer equivalent on or with the agreement or amendment:

"NOTICE TO CONSUMER: UNDER TEXAS LAW, IF YOU CONSENT TO THIS AGREEMENT, YOU MAY BE SUBJECT TO A FUTURE RATE AS HIGH AS 24 PERCENT PER YEAR."

This section shall not apply to or affect any agreement or amendment for which a disclosure relating to variable rates or amounts is required or provided by federal law, regulation, or interpretation. In the event that the contract provides for a maximum rate of less than 24 percent per year, then the above disclosure may be amended to reflect the actual maximum rate of the contract.

(g) Unless otherwise agreed, when the parties have agreed to a rate, they are considered also to have agreed to any lesser rate that the creditor may elect, or is required under Section (h) of this Article to implement.

(h)(1) If the agreement of the parties so provides, or is amended pursuant to Section (i) of this Article or Article 1A.01 of this Title to so provide, a creditor of an open-end account may, as an alternative to the indicated rate ceiling, from time to time implement any rate permitted under the quarterly or annualized ceiling, as to any current and future balances in any of its open-end accounts by giving notice of the rate at any time or times after the computation date for the quarterly or annualized ceiling and before the last day of the next succeeding calendar quarter. The creditor may implement a rate, not exceeding the annualized ceiling, for a 12-month period from the date it becomes effective as to an account, or the creditor may implement a rate not exceeding the quarterly ceiling for a three-month period from the date it becomes effective as to an account. The rate may not exceed the ceiling for the period elected. If the period elected is 12 months, and the rate in effect is less than or equal to the quarterly ceiling in effect at the end of 12 months, the creditor may leave the election in effect for the succeeding 12-month period, which is then the new elected period. If the period elected is three months, and the rate in effect is less than or equal to the quarterly ceiling in effect at the end of the three months, the creditor may leave the election in effect for the succeeding three-month period, which is then the new elected period. No further notice of the renewal of an election, or of any successive renewals of elections, is required if the creditor has previously disclosed to the obligor that the election may be renewed in accordance with this section and the rate does not exceed the rate previously agreed to by the obligor. If a rate in excess of that previously agreed to is to be implemented by the creditor under Section (a) of this Article, or other applicable law, the creditor shall comply with Section (i) of this Article before the end of the calendar quarter in which the prior period elected ends, and the ceiling previously in effect remains the ceiling until a new rate is agreed to.
(2) If an open-end account agreement provides, or is amended pursuant to Article 1A.01 of this Title or Section (i) of this Article to provide, for a variable rate or amount, according to any index, formula, or provision of law disclosed to the obligor, the applicable rate ceiling is the annualized ceiling, quarterly ceiling, or indicated rate ceiling as disclosed to the obligor, except for variable rate commercial contracts subject to Section (e) of this Article. The annualized ceiling shall be adjusted every 12 months, the quarterly ceiling shall be adjusted every three months, and the indicated rate ceiling shall be adjusted weekly.

Except to the extent inconsistent with any federal law, regulation, or interpretation from time to time in effect, on any open-end account entered under authority of this Article 1.04 which is primarily for personal, family, or household use, the creditor shall disclose any changes in the rate resulting from operation of the index, formula, or provision of law by giving notice of the change in the rate on or with the billing statement for a billing cycle preceding the first cycle as to which the change in the rate is effective or by a separate document mailed on or before the beginning of the first cycle as to which the change in the rate is effective. Variations in the rate on the account due to operation of the previously disclosed index, formula, or provision of law need not be further disclosed under this Section (h) or under Section (i) of this Article.

(i)(1) In any open-end account, the creditor may provide in the agreement covering the open-end account or, pursuant to Article 1A.01 of this Title, amend the agreement to provide that the terms, including the rate, or index, formula, or provision of law used to compute the rate on the open-end account will be subject to revision as to current and future balances, from time to time, by notice from the creditor to the obligor. Any creditor revising a rate, or index, formula, or provision used to compute the rate, shall disclose in the notice:

(A) the new rate or the new index, formula, or provision to be used in computing the rate;
(B) the date on which it will become effective;
(C) the period for which it is elected, or at which the ceiling will be adjusted and whether or not it will affect current as well as future balances;
(D) the obligor's rights under this section and the procedures for the obligor to exercise those rights; and
(E) the address to which the obligor may send notification of the obligor's election not to continue the open-end account.

(F) If the amendment increases the rate, the notice shall contain the following printed in not less than 10-point type or computer equivalent:

"YOU MAY TERMINATE THIS AGREEMENT IF YOU DO NOT WISH TO PAY THE NEW RATE."

(2) With a notice required by Subsection (i) of this section, the creditor shall include a form which may be returned at the expense of the creditor and on which the obligor may indicate his or her decision not to continue the account by checking or marking an appropriate box, or similar arrangement. The form may be included on a portion of the account statement to be returned to the creditor or on a separate sheet. Any obligor who is mailed a notice required by Subsection (i) of this section addressed to the obligor's last known address as shown by the creditor's records, is considered to have agreed to the revision if the obligor, or a person authorized by the obligor, after the expiration of five days after the notice is mailed, accepts or uses any extensions of credit, or if the obligor elects to retain the privilege of using the open-end account. Such an election is considered to have occurred unless the obligor notifies the creditor in writing before the 21st day after the date on which the notice is sent that the obligor does not wish to continue the open-end account. The parties may also amend the contract by any other means of amending those agreements permitted by any applicable law. Any obligor who rejects a rate change in accordance with this section has the right to pay off the then existing balance on the open-end account at the rate, and over the time period, in effect prior to the change, and at the same minimum payment terms previously agreed to, unless the obligor agrees to the new rate in accordance with this section. Rejection of a new rate may not accelerate the balance due.

(j) If a creditor implements an annualized or quarterly ceiling as to a majority of its open-end accounts that are under a particular plan or arrangement and are for obligors in this state, that ceiling is also the ceiling for all open-end accounts that are opened or activated under that plan for obligors in this state during the period that the election is in effect.

(k)(1) The consumer credit commissioner shall cause the annualized, quarterly, and monthly ceilings to be published in the Texas Register before the 11th day after the day on which they are computed, and shall cause the indicated rate ceiling in effect under Section (a) of this Article to be published from time to time. If the furnishing of any of the information required to compute the ceilings is discontinued so that it is no longer available to the consumer credit commissioner from the Federal Reserve Board on a timely basis, the consumer credit commissioner shall obtain that information from reliable sources satisfactory to the commissioner.

(2) If the information required to compute a ceiling is not available, then that ceiling remains at the level at which it was when the information became unavailable until the information again becomes available.
(3) Any court may take judicial notice of the ceilings, and related information, caused to be published in the Texas Register by the consumer credit commissioner pursuant to this Article and of the information published pursuant to Article 2.08 of this Title.

(1) The maximum rate on any contract to renew or extend the terms of payment of any indebtedness at any time incurred, is the applicable ceiling allowed by this Article for a contract entered at the time the renewal or extension is made or agreed to.

(m) The ceilings provided by this Article for a contract, including a contract for an open-end account, are optional and any person may, notwithstanding any other law, contract for, charge, and receive the rates or amounts allowed by this Article for that contract, or the rates or amounts allowed by any other applicable provision of this Title or any other law applicable to such a contract, except as restricted under Section (q) of this Article.

(n)(1) Any loan made under authority of this Article that is extended either primarily for personal, family, or household use but not for business, commercial, investment, agricultural, or other similar purposes, or primarily for the purchase of a motor vehicle, and that is payable in two or more installments, not secured by a lien on real estate, and that is entered by a person engaged in the business of making or negotiating those types of loans, is subject to Chapter 4 of this Title, and any person except a bank or savings and loan association engaged in that business shall obtain a license under Chapter 3 of this Title.

(2) Any loan made under this Article that is extended primarily for personal, family, or household use but not for business, commercial, investment, agricultural, or other similar purposes, and that is payable in consecutive monthly installments and is described by Section (1), Article 5.01, of this Title and that is made by a person engaged in the business of making or negotiating those types of loans, is subject to Chapter 5 of this Title, and any person except a bank or savings and loan association engaged in that business shall obtain a license under Chapter 3 of this Title.

(3) In any contract, including any contract for an open-end account, subject to Chapter 6, 6A, or 7 of this Title, the rate or amount contracted for, charged, or received under this Article is considered to be the rate or amount of time price differential within the meanings given to that term in those respective Chapters, and those contracts are not subject to the provisions of Chapters 3, 4, and 5 of this Title.

(4) In any contract, including a contract for an open-end account, which is subject to Chapter 4, 5, 6, 6A, or 7 of this Title, the parties and their assignees may contract for any rate or amount allowed by that Chapter, or any simple or precomputed contract rate or amount not exceeding those allowed by this Article, but except to the extent inconsistent with this Article in any event the parties to any contract under any of such Chapters or to any contract under Chapter 3 of this Title shall comply with all of the other rights, duties, and obligations under the applicable Chapter and the parties and their assignees have all other rights under the applicable Chapter, including those provisions requiring certain refund credits in event of prepayment or acceleration.

(5) Any person (except a person subject to Chapter 24 of the Insurance Code) engaged in the business of extending open-end credit primarily for personal, family, or household use and charging a rate or amount under authority of this Article 1.04 shall be subject to either the applicable Chapter in Subtitle 2 of this Title or Chapter 15 of this Title, as applicable, except to the extent inconsistent with this Article; the parties to such open-end accounts and their assignees shall comply with and have all other rights, duties and obligations under the applicable Chapter, except to the extent inconsistent with this Article.

(6) Any person subject to the Texas Credit Union Act, as amended (Article 2461-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), who contracts for, charges, or receives a rate authorized by this Article shall comply with all other duties, obligations, and prohibitions of that Act and the parties to the transaction have all other rights provided by that Act, except to the extent inconsistent with this Article. Notwithstanding this Article, credit unions are not subject to Chapter 15 or Subtitle 2 of this Title and are not required to obtain a license under this Title.

(7) Any person subject to a provision of Chapter 24 of the Insurance Code who contracts for, charges, or receives a rate authorized by this Article shall comply with all other applicable duties, obligations, and prohibitions in that law and the parties to those contracts, including those for open-end accounts, have all other rights applicable to those transactions under Chapter 24 of the Insurance Code, except to the extent inconsistent with this Article. The licensing requirements of Subtitle 2 of this Title are not applicable to those persons.

(o)(1) All other written contracts whatsoever, except those otherwise authorized by law, which may in any way, directly or indirectly, provide for a greater rate of interest shall be subject to the appropriate penalties prescribed in this Subtitle.

(2) If, in any contract, including one for an open-end account, subject to Chapter 4, 5, 6, 6A, 7, or 15 of this Title, any person contracts for, charges, or receives a rate or amount of interest or time price differential that exceeds the rate allowed by that Chapter and the rate allowed by this Article, the amount of the penalty for that overcharge shall be determined under Chapter 8 of... this Title rather than under this Subtitle and all of the provisions of Articles 8.01, 8.02, 8.03, 8.04, 8.05, and 8.06 of this Title are in effect as to that contract and are applicable to this Article as if it were a part of Subtitle 2 of this Title. The failure to perform any duty or comply with any prohibition required by Article 2.01, in a contract entered under authority of Article 1.04, shall be subject to the penalties set out in Article 8.01(b) and shall be subject to such of the other provisions of Articles 8.01 through 8.06 which apply to failures to perform duties or comply with prohibitions to the same extent as if the duties and prohibitions in Article 1.04 were contained in Subtitle 2.

(3) The consumer credit commissioner, subject to Section (1), Article 2.01, of this Title, shall enforce Chapters 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 6A, 7, 8, 15, and 51 of this Title, as modified by this Article and Article 2.08 of this Title, and shall enforce this Article as applicable to contracts subject to those Chapters. Every licensee shall, on or before each December 1st, pay the Consumer Credit Commissioner an annual fee for each license held by him for the succeeding calendar year. The annual fee shall be Two Hundred Dollars, except if on September 30 immediately preceding the due date of the annual fee, the gross unpaid balance of regulated loans in a licensed office is One Hundred Thousand Dollars or less the annual fee for that office shall be One Hundred Dollars. If the annual fee remains unpaid fifteen days after written notice of delinquency has been given to the licensee by the Consumer Credit Commissioner, the license shall thereupon expire but not before December 31st of any year for which an annual fee has been paid.

Art. 5069-3.08. Examination of Licensees, Access to Records, Investigation

At such times as the Commissioner shall deem necessary, the Commissioner, or his duly authorized representative shall make an examination of the place of business of each licensee and shall inquire into and examine the loans, transactions, books, accounts, papers, correspondence, and records of such licensee insofar as they pertain to the business regulated by this Chapter. In the course of such examination, the Commissioner or his duly authorized representative shall have free access to the office, place of business, files, safes and vaults of such licensee, and shall have the right to make copies of such books, accounts, papers, correspondence and records. The Commissioner or his duly authorized representative may, during the course of such examination, administer oaths and examine any person under oath upon any subject pertinent to any matter about which the Commissioner is authorized or required by this Chapter to consider, investigate, or secure information. Any licensee who shall fail or refuse to let the Commissioner or his duly authorized representative examine or make copies of such books, or other relevant documents shall thereby be deemed in violation of this Chapter and such failure or refusal shall constitute grounds for the suspension or revocation of such license. The information obtained in the course of such examination shall be confidential. Each licensee shall pay to the Commissioner an amount assessed by the Commissioner to cover the direct and indirect cost of such examination and a proportionate share of general administrative expense, and the total cost so assessed and charged a licensee in any one calendar year shall not exceed Five Hundred Dollars for each licensed office.

Art. 5069-3.13. Advertising

No licensee shall advertise or cause to be advertised, in any manner whatsoever, any false, misleading or deceptive statement or representation with regard to the rates, terms or conditions of any loan.

Art. 5069-3.15. Maximum Rates of Interest

(1) Every licensee may contract for and receive on any loan made under this Chapter repayable in consecutive monthly installments, substantially equal in amount, an interest charge, however calculated or shown, that does not exceed an add-on interest charge computed on the cash advance for the full term of the loan contract in accordance with the following schedule:

Eighteen Dollars per One Hundred Dollars per annum on that part of the cash advance not in excess of Three Hundred Dollars, and Eight Dollars per One Hundred Dollars per annum on that part of the cash advance in excess of Three Hundred Dollars but not in excess of Twenty-five Hundred Dollars.

(2) Interest authorized in Section (1) of this Article may be computed at the time the loan is made for the full term of the loan contract notwithstanding the requirement of the loan contract for payment in substantially equal regular installments and may be computed on the basis of a full month for any fractional period in excess of fifteen days. Precomputed interest authorized by Section (1) of this Article shall be added to the cash advance and said sum shall be the amount of the loan.

(3) Notwithstanding the foregoing, a licensee may make loans which require repayment in other than substantially equal successive monthly installments, as where payable in irregular or unequal installments either in amount or periods of the installments or in equal successive monthly installments followed by or interspersed with an irregular, unequal, or larger installment or installments, or in other than monthly installments or if the first installment is not payable one month from the date of the contract and may compute, contract for, charge, or receive interest charges under any method or formula different from that prescribed in Section (1) of this Article if the interest charges do not exceed an amount that, having due regard for the schedule of installment payments, will provide the same effective return as if the loan were repayable in equal successive monthly installments beginning one month from the date of the contract.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Chapter, a borrower and a licensee may enter into a written agreement pursuant to which one or more loans or advances to or for the account of the borrower may be made from time to time. The agreement shall contain the date of the agreement and the name and address of each borrower and of the licensee and shall be signed by the parties. A copy of the agreement shall be delivered to the borrower. The agreement may provide for a maximum loan charge on the unpaid principal amounts from time to time outstanding not in excess of a rate producing an interest yield equivalent to that which would be permitted on a similar loan made under Section (1) of this Article. The Commissioner shall prescribe monthly rates of charge which produce an interest yield equal to that permitted under Section (1) of this Article on a loan of the same amount. The loan agreement shall clearly set forth the insurance coverages afforded the borrower through the lender and, if a charge for insurance is to be made to the borrower, a simple statement of the amount of such charge or the method by which it will be calculated.

(5) On any loan contract which includes precomputed interest and is payable in substantially equal successive monthly installments, additional interest for default, if contracted for, may equal but shall not exceed Five Cents for each One Dollar of any scheduled installment when any portion of such installment continues unpaid for ten days or more following the date such payment is due, including Sundays and holidays. Interest for such default shall not be collected more than once on the same installment. If the payment date of each wholly unpaid installment, on which no interest for default has been collected is deferred as of an installment date for one or more full months and the maturity of the contract is extended for a corresponding period of time, the licensee may charge and collect additional interest for such deferment. The interest for such deferment may be equal to the difference between the refund which would be required for prepayment in full, as of the date of deferment and the refund which would be required for prepayment in full as of one month prior to such date multiplied by the number of months in the deferment period as defined below. The portion of the interest contracted for under Section (1) of this Article applicable to each deferred balance and installment period following a deferment period shall remain the same as that applicable to such balance and period under the original contract of loan. If a loan is prepaid in full during the deferment period defined below, the borrower shall receive, in addition to the refund required under Section (6) of this Article, a pro-rata refund of that portion of the interest for deferment applicable to any unexpired full month or months of such period. The deferment period is that period beginning with the day following the due date of the scheduled installment preceding the first installment being deferred, and during which no payment is made or required by reason of such deferment. The interest for default or interest for deferment may be collected at the time of its accrual, or at any time thereafter. On any loan contract which includes precomputed interest but which is not payable in substantially equal successive monthly installments, the loan contract may provide for interest from the maturity date of any installment until paid at a rate not exceeding the highest lawful contract rate.

(6)(a) When any loan contract which includes precomputed interest and is payable in substantially equal successive monthly installments beginning within one month plus fifteen days after the date of the contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, renewal, or otherwise, or when the licensee makes demand for payment in full of the unpaid balance, after the first installment due date but before the final installment due date, the licensee shall refund or credit the borrower with an amount which shall be as great a proportion of the total interest contracted for under Section (1) of this Article as the sum of the periodic balances scheduled to follow the installment date after the date of prepayment in full or demand for payment in full, bears to the sum of all the periodic time balances under the schedule of payments set out in the loan contract. If such prepayment in full or demand for payment in full occurs before the first installment due date the licensee shall retain for each elapsed day from the date the loan was made, one-thirtieth of the portion of the interest which could be retained if the first installment period were one month and the loan were prepaid in full on the first installment period due date and the interest contracted for under Section (1) of this Article in excess of such amount shall be refunded or credited to the borrower.

(b) When any loan contract which includes precomputed interest and is payable in other than substantially equal successive monthly installments beginning within one month plus fifteen days after the date the contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, renewal, or otherwise, or when the licensee makes demand for payment in full of the unpaid balance prior to final maturity, the licensee may retain earned interest for the period from the date of the loan to the date of prepayment in full or date of demand for payment in full in an amount not to exceed that which would accrue at the simple annual interest rate which the loan contract would have produced over its full term if each scheduled payment had been paid on the date due when applied to the unpaid principal amounts determined to be outstanding from time to time according to the schedule of payments, having due regard for the amount of each scheduled installment and the time of each scheduled installment period. In the event prepayment in full or demand for payment in full occurs on a date during an installment period, the licensee, in addition to interest earnings for the installment period or periods that have elapsed, may retain for each day elapsed from the immediately preceding installment due date to the date of prepayment in full or demand for payment in full an interest charge produced by applying the simple annual interest rate under the contract as herebefore described to the unpaid principal balance of the loan determined to be outstanding according to the schedule of payments as of the immediately preceding installment due date and dividing that product by three hundred sixty-five. All interest contracted for and precomputed in the amount of loan in excess of the interest authorized to be retained by this Subsection shall be refunded or credited to the borrower.

The licensee may also retain earned interest on any additions to principal or other permissible charges added to the loan subsequent to the date of the loan contract, at the simple annual interest rate as described above, from the date such additions are made until paid or until demand for payment in full of the total unpaid balance under the loan contract is made by the licensee.

If the loan contract does not contain precomputed interest, then interest may be earned on the principal balance, including additions to principal subsequent to the loan contract, from time to time unpaid, at the rate contracted for, until the date of payment in full or demand for payment in full.

(c) No refund shall be required for partial prepayments and no refund of less than One Dollar need be made.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (7) and (8)]

(9) The dollar amounts of the rate brackets and ceiling prescribed by Section (1) of this Article are subject to adjustment from time to time under Article 2.08 of this Title.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person confining his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section (b)(2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 5069-3.16. Alternative Rates of Interest Authorized

(1) On a loan made under this section, a licensee may charge, in lieu of charges specified in Article 3.15, the following amounts:

(a) On any amount up to and including Twenty-nine Dollars and Ninety-nine Cents a charge may be added at the ratio of One Dollar for each Five Dollars advanced to the borrower.

(b) On any cash advance in an amount in excess of Twenty-nine Dollars and Ninety-nine Cents up to and including the amount of Thirty-five Dollars there shall be allowed an acquisition charge for making the advance not in excess of one-tenth of the amount of the cash advance. In addition thereto, an installment account handling charge shall be allowed not to exceed Three Dollars per month.

(c) On any cash advance in an amount in excess of Thirty-five Dollars but not more than Seventy Dollars there shall be allowed an acquisition charge for making the advance not in excess of one-tenth of the amount of the cash advance. In addition thereto, an installment account handling charge shall be allowed not to exceed Four Dollars per month.

(d) On any cash advance in an amount in excess of Seventy Dollars but not in excess of One Hundred Dollars there shall be allowed an acquisition charge for making the advance not in excess of one-tenth of the amount of the cash advance. In addition thereto, an installment account handling charge shall be allowed not to exceed Four Dollars per month.

(e) On any cash advance in an amount in excess of One Hundred Dollars, the maximum acquisition charge may not exceed Ten Dollars and the maximum monthly installment account handling charge may not exceed the ratio of Four Dollars per month per One Hundred Dollars of cash advance.

(2) The maximum term of any loan made under the terms of this Article shall be one month for each Ten Dollars of cash advance up to a maximum term of six months on loans of One Hundred Dollars or less, and one month for each Twenty Dollars of cash advance on loans in excess of One Hundred Dollars as provided for by Section (1)(e) of this Article.

(3) On such loans under this Article, no insurance charges or any other charges of any nature whatsoever shall be permitted.

(4) The acquisition charge authorized on loans made pursuant to Articles 3.16(1)(a), (b), (c), and (d) shall be deemed to be earned at the time a loan is made and shall not be subject to refund. On the prepayment of any loan made pursuant to Articles 3.16(1)(a), (b), (c), and (d) the installment account handling charge shall be subject to the provisions of Article 3.15 as it relates to refunds. On the prepayment of any loan made pursuant to Article 3.16(1)(e) both the acquisition charge and the installment account handling charge shall be subject to the provisions of Article 3.15 as it relates to refunds. Provisions of Article 3.15 relating to default charges on loans and the deferment of loans shall apply to loans made under this Article.

(5) The Commissioner shall have authority to formulate schedules providing for repayment in weekly, bi-weekly or semi-monthly installments for use by licensees on loans made under the authority of this Article provided the ratio of charges permitted under such schedules do not exceed the maximum rates authorized in this Article.
(6) The maximum cash advance of any loan made under this Article shall be One Hundred Dollars as from time to time may be adjusted by the provisions of Article 2.08 of this Title.

Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no part thereof shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional, is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section (b)(2), Article 3.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year.

Art. 5069-3.18. Insurance

(3) When insurance is required in connection with a loan made under this Chapter, the lender shall furnish the borrower a statement which shall clearly and conspicuously state that insurance is required in connection with the loan, and that the borrower shall have the option of furnishing the required insurance either through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverages through any insurance company authorized to transact business in Texas. In addition when any requested or required insurance is sold or procured by the licensee at a premium or rate of charge not fixed or approved by the State Board of Insurance, the licensee shall include such fact in the foregoing statement, and the borrower shall have the option for a period of five days from the date of loan of furnishing the required insurance coverage either through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverage through any insurance company authorized to transact business in Texas. Such statement or statements may be made as separate written statements delivered in conjunction with the loan contract or may be included as a part of the loan contract.

(4) All insurance for which a charge is included in the loan contract shall be written at lawful rates and in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Insurance Code by a company authorized to do business in this State.

(5) Where insurance for which a charge is included in the loan contract is to be procured by the lender, the lender shall within thirty days after execution of the loan contract deliver, mail, or cause to be mailed to the borrower at his address as specified in the contract, a policy, or policies, or certificates of insurance, clearly setting forth the amount of the premium, the kind or kinds of insurance, the coverages and all of the terms, options, limitations, restrictions and conditions of the policy or policies of insurance.

(6) If a borrower is obligated under the terms of a loan contract to obtain or maintain required insurance coverages and fails to do so or requests the lender to procure that insurance, the lender may procure substitute insurance coverage, which coverage is substantially equivalent to or more limited than that originally required, in accordance with Sections (4) and (5) of this Article, and may procure insurance to cover only the interest of the lender as a secured party if the borrower does not request that the borrower's interest be covered. The lender may add the premium advanced by the lender for that insurance to the unpaid balance of the loan contract and may charge interest on that amount from the time of its addition to the unpaid balance of the loan contract until it is paid at a rate not in excess of the rate that the loan contract would produce over its full term if each scheduled payment were paid on the due date. If any insurance for which a charge is included in or added to the loan contract is cancelled, adjusted or terminated for any reason, the refund for unearned insurance premiums received by the lender shall be credited, except to the extent applied to the purchase by the lender of similar insurance, to any amounts then unpaid on the account and the balance shall be promptly refunded to the borrower; provided, however, that no cash refund shall be required if the amount thereof is less than One Hundred Dollars.

(a) The names and addresses of the borrower and of the licensee; and

(b) The types of insurance, if any, for which a charge is included in the loan contract in connection with the loan, and the charge to the borrower for such insurance.

CHAPTER FOUR. INSTALLMENT LOANS

Art. 5069-4.01. Installment Loans Authorized

(1) Any bank or savings and loan association doing business under the laws of this State or of the United States, and any person licensed to do business under the provisions of Chapter 8 of this Subtitle relating to regulated loans may contract for and receive on any loan made under the authority of this Chapter repayable in consecutive monthly installments, substantially equal in amount, an interest charge, however calculated or shown, which does not exceed an add-on interest charge of Eight Dollars per One Hundred Dollars per annum for the full term of the loan contract.

(2) Interest authorized in Section (1) of this Article may be computed on the cash advance at the time the loan is made for the full term of the loan contract notwithstanding the requirement of the loan contract for payment in substantially equal regular installments and may be computed on the basis of a full month for any fractional period in excess of fifteen days. Precomputed interest authorized by Section (1) of this Article shall be added to the cash advance and said sum shall be the amount of the loan.

(3) Notwithstanding the foregoing, a lender may make loans which require repayment other than in substantially equal successive monthly installments, as where payable in irregular or unequal installments either in amount or period of the installments or in equal successive monthly installments followed by or interspersed with an irregular, unequal, or larger installment or installments, or in other than monthly installments, or if the first installment is not payable one month from the date of the contract and may compute, contract for, charge, or receive interest charges under any method or formula different from that prescribed in Section (1) of this Article if the interest charges do not exceed an amount that, having due regard for the schedule of installment payments, will provide the same effective return as if the loan were repayable in equal successive monthly installments beginning one month from the date of the contract.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Chapter, a borrower and a lender may enter into a written agreement pursuant to which one or more loans or advances to or for the account of the borrower shall be made from time to time. The agreement shall contain the date of the agreement and the name and address of each borrower and of the lender and shall be signed by the parties. A copy of the agreement shall be delivered to the borrower. The agreement may provide for a maximum loan charge on the unpaid principal amounts from time to time outstanding not in excess of a rate producing an interest yield equivalent to that which would be permitted on a similar loan made under Section (1) of this Article. The Commissioner shall prescribe monthly rates of charge which produce an interest yield equal to that permitted under Section (1) of this Article on a loan of the same amount. The loan agreement shall clearly set forth, if a charge for insurance is to be included in the contract, a simple statement of the amount of such charge or the method by which it will be calculated.

(5) On any loan contract which includes precomputed interest, and is payable in substantially equal, successive monthly installments, additional interest for default, if contracted for, may equal but shall not exceed Five Cents for each One Dollar of any scheduled installment when any portion of such installment continues unpaid for ten days or more following the date such payment is due, including Sundays and holidays. Interest for such default shall not be collected more than once on the same installment. If the payment date of each wholly unpaid installment, on which no interest for default has been collected is deferred as of an installment date for one or more full months and the maturity of the contract is extended for a corresponding period of time, the lender may charge and collect additional interest for such deferment. The interest for such deferment may be equal to the difference between the refund which would be required for prepayment in full as of the date of deferment and the refund which would be required for prepayment in full as of one month prior to such date multiplied by the number of months in the deferment period as defined below. The portion of the interest contract­ed for under Section (1) of this Article applicable to each deferred balance and installment period follow­ing a deferment period shall remain the same as that applicable to such balance and period under the original contract of loan. If a loan is prepaid in full during the deferment period defined below, the bor­rower shall receive, in addition to the refund re­quired under Section (6) of this Article, a pro-rata refund of that portion of the interest for deferment applicable to any unexpired full month or months of such period. The deferment period is that period beginning with the day following the due date of the scheduled installment preceding the first installment being deferred, and during which no payment is made or required by reason of such deferment. The interest for default or interest for deferment may be collected at the time of its accrual or deferment or at any time thereafter. On any loan contract which includes precomputed interest but which is not payable in substantially equal successive monthly instal­lments, the loan contract may provide for interest from the maturity date of any installment until paid at a rate not exceeding the highest lawful contract rate.

(6)(a) When any loan contract payable in substan­tially equal successive monthly instal­lments begin­ning within one month plus fifteen days after the date of the contract and containing precomputed interest is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, renewal, or otherwise, or when the lender demands payment in full of the unpaid balance before the final installment due date, the lender shall retain earned interest for the period from the date of the loan to the date of prepayment in full or demand for payment in full in an amount not to exceed that which would accrue at the simple annual interest rate which the loan contract would have produced over its full term if each scheduled payment had been paid on the date due when applied to the unpaid principal amounts determined to be outstanding from time to time according to the schedule of payments having due regard for the amount of each scheduled installment and the time of each scheduled installment period. In the event prepayment in full or demand for payment in full occurs on a date during an installment period, the lender, in addition to interest earnings for the installment period or periods that have elapsed, may retain for each day elapsed from the immediately preceding installment due date to the date of prepayment in full or demand for payment in full an interest charge produc­ed by applying the simple annual interest rate under the contract as heretofore described to the unpaid principal balance of the loan determined to be outstanding according to the schedule of payments as of the immediately preceding installment due date and dividing that product by three hundred sixty-five. All interest contracted for and precomputed in the amount of loan in excess of the interest authorized to be retained by this subsection shall be refunded or credited to the borrower.

When any loan contract which includes precom­puted interest and is payable in other than substan­tially equal successive monthly installments begin­ning within one month plus fifteen days after the date of the contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, renewal, or otherwise, or if the lender demands payment in full of the unpaid balance before the final installment due date, the lender shall retain earned interest for the period from the date of the loan to the date of prepayment in full or demand for payment in full in an amount not to exceed that which would accrue at the simple annual interest rate which the loan contract would have produced over its full term if each scheduled payment had been paid on the date due when applied to the unpaid principal amounts determined to be outstanding from time to time according to the schedule of payments having due regard for the amount of each scheduled installment and the time of each scheduled installment period. In the event prepayment in full or demand for payment in full occurs on a date during an installment period, the lender, in addition to interest earnings for the installment period or periods that have elapsed, may retain for each day elapsed from the immediately preceding installment due date to the date of prepayment in full or demand for payment in full an interest charge produc­ed by applying the simple annual interest rate under the contract as heretofore described to the unpaid principal balance of the loan determined to be outstanding according to the schedule of payments as of the immediately preceding installment due date and dividing that product by three hundred sixty-five. All interest contracted for and precomputed in the amount of loan in excess of the interest authorized to be retained by this subsection shall be refunded or credited to the borrower.

The lender may also retain earned interest on any additions to principal or other permissible charges added to the loan subsequent to the date of the loan contract, at the simple annual interest rate as de­scribed above, from the date such additions are made until paid or until demand for payment in full of the total unpaid balance under the loan contract is made by the lender.

If the loan contract does not contain precomputed interest, then interest may be earned on the prin­cipal balance, including additions to principal subse­quent to the loan contract, from time to time unpaid, at the rate contracted for, until the date of payment in full or demand for payment in full.

(c) 1 No refund shall be required for partial prepayments and no refund of less than One Dolar need be made.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section 10(2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 5069-4.02. Insurance

(3) When insurance is required in connection with a loan made under this Chapter, the lender shall furnish the borrower a statement which shall clearly and conspicuously state that insurance is required in connection with the loan, and that the borrower shall have the option of furnishing the required insurance either through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverages through any insurance company authorized to transact business in Texas. In addition when any requested or required insurance is sold or procured by the lender at a premium or rate of charge not fixed or approved by the State Board of Insurance, the lender shall include such fact in the foregoing statement, and the borrower shall have the option for a period of five days from the date of loan furnishing the required insurance coverage either through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverage through any insurance company authorized to transact business in Texas. Such statement or statements may be made as separate written statements delivered in conjunction with the loan contract or may be included as a part of the loan contract.

(4) All insurance for which a charge is included in the loan contract shall be written at lawful rates and in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Insurance Code by a company authorized to do business in this State.

(5) Where insurance for which a charge is included in the loan contract is to be procured by the lender, the lender shall within thirty days after execution of the loan contract deliver, mail, or cause to be mailed to the borrower at his address as specified in the contract, a policy, or policies, or certificates of insurance, clearly setting forth the amount of the premium, the kind or kinds of insurance, the coverages and all of the terms, options, limitations, restrictions and conditions of the policy or policies of insurance.

(6) If a borrower is obligated under the terms of a loan contract to obtain or maintain required insurance coverages and fails to do so or requests the lender to procure that insurance, the lender may procure substitute insurance, which coverage is substantially equivalent to or more limited than that originally required, in accordance with Sections (4) and (5) of this Article and may procure insurance to cover only the interest of the lender as a secured party if the borrower does not request that the borrower's interest be covered. The lender may add the premium advanced by the lender for that insurance to the unpaid balance of the loan contract and may charge interest on that amount from the time of its addition to the unpaid balance of the loan contract until it is paid at a rate not in excess of the rate that the loan contract would produce over its full term if each scheduled payment were paid on the date due. If any insurance for which a charge is included in or added to the loan contract is cancelled, adjusted or terminated for any reason, the refund for unearned insurance premiums received by the lender shall be credited, except to the extent applied to the purchase by the lender of similar insurance, to any amounts then unpaid on the account and the balance shall be promptly refunded to the borrower; provided, however, that no cash refund shall be required if the amount thereof is less than One Dollar.

If such prepayment in full or demand for payment in full occurs before the first installment due date the lender shall retain for each elapsed day from date the loan was made, one-thirtieth of the portion of the interest which could be retained if the first installment period were one month and the loan were prepaid in full on the first installment period due date and the interest contracted for under Section (1) of this Article in excess of such amount shall be refunded or credited to the borrower. No refund shall be required for partial prepayments and no refund of less than One Dollar need be made.

(vii) the reasonable and necessary charges paid to persons not salaried employees of the lender for: appraisal and inspection of collateral, investigation of the credit standing or credit worthiness of the borrower, legal fees to an attorney for the preparation of documents in connection with the transaction, or official fees for construction permits.

(6) As an alternative to the rate provided by Section (1) of this Article, the parties may agree to any rate not exceeding a rate authorized by Article 1.04 of this Title.

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act."

The term also includes, but is not limited to, a structure, except a mobile home, to be used as a residence, any boat, boat-trailer, motor scooter, motor-assisted bicycle, motorcycle, camper-type trailer, horse trailer, any vehicle propelled or drawn exclusively by muscular power, and merchandise certificates or coupons, issued by a retail seller, not redeemable in cash and to be used in their face amount in lieu of cash, in exchange for goods or services sold by such seller.

(d) "Retail seller" or "seller" means a person regularly and substantially engaged in the business of selling goods or services to retail buyers, but does not include the services of a member of a learned profession.

(e) “Retail installment transaction” means any transaction in which a retail buyer purchases goods or services from a retail seller pursuant to a retail installment contract or a retail charge agreement, as defined in this Article, which provides for a time price differential, as defined in this Article, and under which the buyer agrees to pay the unpaid balance in one or more installments, together with a time price differential. The term includes transactions made pursuant to a retail credit card arrangement as defined in this Article.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (f)]

(g) “Retail charge agreement” means an instrument or instruments prescribing the terms of retail installment transactions which may be made thereunder from time to time (whether secured or unsecured), and under the terms of which a time price differential, as defined in this Article, is to be computed in relation to the buyer’s unpaid balance from time to time. The term includes an instrument or instruments prescribing the terms of a retail credit card arrangement.

(h) “Time price differential,” however denominated or expressed, means the amount which is paid or payable for the privilege of purchasing goods or services to be paid for by the buyer in installments over a period of time. In addition the term also includes any amounts paid or payable to a seller or holder as consideration for accepting payment in installments over time for goods and services charged under a retail credit card arrangement as defined by this Chapter.

(i) “Cash price” means the price stated in a retail installment contract or in a sales slip or other memorandum furnished by a retail seller to a retail buyer under or in connection with a retail charge agreement, for which the seller would have sold or furnished to the buyer and the buyer would have bought or obtained from the seller the goods or services which are the subject matter of a retail installment transaction, if the sale had been a sale for cash. The cash price may include any taxes and charges for delivery, installation, servicing, repairs, alterations or improvements and any of the charges described in Subsections (i), (iii), (iv), and (vi) of Section (j) of this Article which are not separately itemized on the contract.

(j) “Itemized Charges” however denominated or expressed means those amounts included in the contract or agreement but not included in the cash price for charges made to the buyer for:

(vi) official filing, recording, and construction permit fees; and

(vii) in a retail installment transaction involving modernization, rehabilitation, repair, alteration, improvement, or construction of real property, the reasonable and necessary fees and costs paid by the seller or holder for charge for title insurance or for title examination and opinion not to exceed the charge or premium promulgated by the State Board of Insurance for title insurance for such a transaction and the reasonable and necessary fees and costs paid by the seller or holder to persons not the salaried employees of the seller or holder of the contract for appraisal and inspection fees, fees and costs of investigation of the credit standing or credit worthiness of applicant, and legal fees to an attorney for the preparation of any and all documents in connection with the transaction.

(k) “Principal balance” means the cash price of the goods or services which are the subject matter of a retail installment contract plus the amounts, if any, included therein for itemized charges, less the amount of the buyer’s down payment in money or goods or both.

(m) “Holder” means the retail seller of the goods or services under the retail installment contract or retail charge agreement or the credit card issuer under the retail credit card arrangement or the assignee if the retail installment contract or the retail charge agreement or outstanding balance under either has been sold or otherwise transferred.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (n) to (o)]

Art. 5069-6.02. Retail Installment Contracts—Requirements—Disclosure

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (1)]

(2) The printed or typed portion of the contract, other than instructions for completion, shall be in a size equal to at least eight-point type. The contract shall be designated "Retail Installment Contract" and shall contain substantially the following notice printed or typed in a size equal to at least ten-point bold type:

"NOTICE TO THE BUYER. DO NOT SIGN THIS CONTRACT BEFORE YOU READ IT OR IF IT CONTAINS BLANK SPACES. YOU ARE ENTITLED TO A COPY OF THE CONTRACT YOU SIGN. UNDER THE LAW YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO PAY OFF IN ADVANCE THE FULL AMOUNT DUE AND UNDER CERTAIN CONDITIONS MAY OBTAIN A PARTIAL REFUND OF THE FINANCE CHARGE. KEEP THIS CONTRACT TO PROTECT YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS."

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (3) and (4)]

(5) The retail installment contract shall contain and disclose the following items:

(a) The cash price of the goods or services;
(b) The amount of the buyer's down payment, specifying the amounts paid in money and allowed for goods traded in;
(c) Any itemized charges, as defined in Article 6.01. Any charges for insurance permitted by Article 6.04 may be disclosed in the manner described in Article 6.04;
(d) In the event of any inconsistency or conflict between the disclosure requirements of this Chapter and those of a federal law, regulation, or an interpretation thereof, the requirements of the federal law, regulation, or interpretation shall control and the inconsistent or conflicting disclosures required by this Chapter need not to be given;
(e) Any promise, whether made in writing or orally, by the seller, made as an inducement to the buyer to become a party to the contract or which is part of the contract or which is made incidental to negotiations between the seller and the buyer with respect to the sale of the goods or services that are the subject of the contract, that the seller will compensate the buyer for referring customers or prospective customers to the seller for goods or services which the seller has for sale or for referring the seller to such customers or prospective customers. In any case in which, pursuant to the preceding provisions, the contract contains a promise to compensate the buyer for referring customers or prospective customers to the seller or the seller to such customers, the contract must contain a provision to the effect that the amount otherwise owing under the contract at any time is reduced by the amount of compensation owing pursuant to such promise.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (6)]

(7)(a) Retail installment contracts or retail charge agreements negotiated and entered into by mail or telephone, without solicitations in person by salesmen or other representatives of the seller, and based upon a catalog of the seller or other printed solicitation which clearly sets forth the cash prices of sales to be made through such medium, may be made as provided in this section. The provisions of this Article with respect to retail installment contracts shall be applicable to such sales, except that the designation and notice provisions of Section (2) of this Article shall not be applicable to such contract.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (7)(b) to (9)]

(10) Notwithstanding the provisions of any retail installment contract to the contrary, any buyer may prepay in full the unpaid time balance thereof at any time before its final due date and, if he does so, or if the holder demands payment in full of the unpaid balance prior to its final due date, he shall receive a refund credit thereon for such prepayment or upon such demand for payment in full. The amount of such refund credit shall represent at least as great a proportion of the original time price differential, after first deducting therefrom an amount equivalent to the minimum charge authorized in this Article, as

(a) the sum of the monthly unpaid balances under the schedule of payments in the contract (beginning as of the date after such prepayment or demand for payment in full which is the next succeeding monthly anniversary date of the due date of the first installment under the contract, or, of the prepayment or demand for payment in full is prior to the due date of the first installment under the contract, then as of the date after such prepayment or demand for payment in full which is the next succeeding monthly anniversary date of the date of the contract bears to

(b) the sum of all the monthly unpaid balances under the schedule of installment payments in the contract. Where the amount of refund credit is less than One Dollar, no refund credit need be made. On contracts payable in other than substantially equal successive monthly installments commencing one month after the date of the contract, the refund shall be computed in a manner proportionate to the above described method, having due regard for the amount of each installment and to the irregularity of each installment period.

If, subsequent to demand of payment in full under a contract, the buyer and holder agree to reinstate such contract, they may so do and may amend the contract pursuant to Section (12) of this Article.

(12)(a) The holder of a retail installment contract, upon request of the buyer, may agree to one or more amendments to extend or defer the scheduled due date of all or any part of any installment or installments and may collect for same a charge computed on the amount of the scheduled installment or installments extended or deferred for the period of extension or deferment at the rate of Fifteen Cents for each Ten Dollars per month; provided that a minimum extension or deferment charge of One Dollar may be charged and collected. Such amendments may also include payment by the buyer of the additional cost to the holder of premiums for continuing in force any insurance provided for in the contract and of any additional necessary official fees.

(b) The holder of a retail installment contract, upon request of the buyer may agree to an amendment to renew, restate or reschedule the unpaid balance of the contract and may collect for same a charge to be computed as follows: The sum of the unpaid balance as of the date of the amendment and the cost of any insurance, any additional necessary official fees and any accrued delinquency charges, after deducting an amount which would be equivalent to the required refund credit applicable in the case of prepayment in full as of the date of the amendment charges, shall constitute a principal balance on which a charge may be computed for the term of the amended contract at the applicable rate of charge as provided in Article 6.02.

(c) Any amendment to a retail installment contract must be confirmed in writing and signed by the buyer, and a copy of the writing shall be delivered to the buyer at the time of execution of same. Said writing together with the original contract and any previous amendments thereto shall constitute the retail installment contract.

(14)(a) If, in a retail installment transaction, a retail buyer makes any subsequent purchases of goods or services from a retail seller from whom he has previously purchased goods or services under one or more retail installment contracts, and the amounts under such previous contract or contracts have not been fully paid, the subsequent purchases may, at the seller's option, be included in and consolidated with one or more of such previous contracts or contracts. Each subsequent purchase shall be a separate retail installment contract under this Chapter, notwithstanding that the same may be included in and consolidated with one or more of such previous contract or contracts. All the provisions of this Chapter with respect to retail installment contracts shall be applicable to such subsequent purchases except as hereinafter stated in this section.

(b) In the event of such consolidation, in lieu of the buyer's executing a retail installment contract respecting each subsequent purchase, as provided in this Article, it shall be sufficient if the seller shall prepare a written memorandum of each subsequent purchase, in which case the provisions of Sections (1), (2), (3), and (5) of this Article shall not be applicable. The seller shall deliver to the buyer a copy of such memorandum prior to the due date of the first installment of such consolidated contract.

(c) When such subsequent purchases are made, if the seller has retained title or taken a lien or other security interest in any of the goods purchased under any one of the contracts included in the consolidation, the entire amount of all payments made prior to such subsequent purchases shall be deemed to have been applied to the previous purchases; and each payment after such subsequent purchase made on the consolidated contract shall be deemed to have been allocated to all of the various purchases in the same ratio as the original cash sale prices of the various purchases bear to the total of all. Where the amount of each installment payment is increased in connection with such subsequent purchases, at the seller's option, the subsequent payments may be deemed to be allocated as follows: an amount equal to the original periodic payment to the previous purchase, the balance to the subsequent purchase. However, the amount of any down payment on the subsequent purchase shall be allocated in its entirety to such subsequent purchase. The provisions of this Subsection (c) shall not apply to cases where such previous and subsequent purchases involve equipment, parts, or other goods attached or affixed to goods previously purchased and not fully paid, or to services in connection therewith rendered by the seller at the buyer's request.

(15) The dollar amount of the rate brackets prescribed by Section (9)(a) of this Article are subject to adjustment from time to time under Article 2.08 of this Title. As an alternative to the rates and amounts of time price differential provided by Section (9)(a) of this Article, the parties may agree to any rate or amount of time price differential not exceeding a rate or amount authorized by Article 1.04 of this Title.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section (b)(2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 5069-6.03. Retail Charge Agreements—Requirements—Disclosure

(1) A retail charge agreement may be established by a seller or credit card issuer upon the request of a buyer or prospective buyer. The retail charge agreement shall be in writing and signed by the buyer. A copy of such agreement executed on or after the effective date of this Chapter shall be delivered or mailed to the buyer prior to the date on which the first payment is due thereunder. Any acknowledgment by the buyer of delivery of a copy of the agreement contained in the body thereof shall be in a size equal to at least ten-point bold type and shall appear directly above the buyer's signature. No agreement executed on or after the effective date of this Chapter shall be signed by the buyer when it contains blank spaces to be filled in after it has been signed. The buyer's acknowledgment, conforming to the requirements of this section, of delivery of a copy of an agreement, shall be presumptive proof, in any action or proceeding, of such delivery and that the agreement, when signed, did not contain any blank spaces as herein provided. If no copy of the agreement is retained by the seller, a notation in his permanent record showing that such agreement was mailed and the date of mailing shall serve as presumptive proof of such mailing. Any such agreement shall contain substantially the following notice printed or typed in a size equal to at least ten-point bold type:

"NOTICE TO THE BUYER—DO NOT SIGN THIS AGREEMENT BEFORE YOU READ IT OR IF IT CONTAINS BLANK SPACES. YOU ARE ENTITLED TO A COPY OF THE AGREEMENT YOU SIGN. KEEP THIS AGREEMENT TO PROTECT YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS."

(2) The buyer under the retail charge agreement shall be supplied with a statement as of the end of each monthly period (which need not be a calendar month), or other regular period agreed upon in writing, at the end of which there is any unpaid balance thereunder, which statement shall recite and disclose a legend to the effect that the buyer may at any time pay his total unpaid balance or any part thereof.

(2a) A retail charge agreement that complies with the applicable duties and requirements regarding disclosure under the Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.), shall be deemed to comply with the duties and requirements regarding disclosure included in Section (2) of this Article.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (3) and (4)]

(5) The dollar amount of the rate brackets in this Article is subject to adjustment from time to time under Article 2.08 of this Title. As an alternative to the rates or amounts of time price differential provided by Section (3) of this Article, the parties may agree to any rate or amount of time price differential not exceeding a rate or amount authorized by Article 1.04 of this Title. The provisions of Article 1.04 of this Title applicable to open-end accounts apply to this Article.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section (b)(2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 5069-6.04. Insurance

(1) On any retail installment contract or retail charge agreement made under the authority of this Chapter, a seller or holder may request or require a buyer to provide credit life insurance and credit health and accident insurance as additional protection for such contract or agreement and include the cost of such insurance as a separate charge in such contract or agreement. Only one policy of life insurance and one policy of health and accident insurance on any one buyer may be in force with respect to any one contract or agreement at any one time.

(2) A seller or holder may, in addition, request or require a buyer to insure the property purchased in, or improved by, goods and services provided under a retail installment transaction subject to this Chapter, including title insurance on real property involved in the retail installment contract or retail charge agreement and subject to a lien or security interest of seller or holder, and include the cost of such insurance as a separate charge in such contract or agreement. If the property involved in such contract or agreement is a boat which may be enrolled or licensed as a yacht with the United States Coast Guard and be subject to the maritime laws of the United States, a seller or holder may also require a buyer to provide protection and indemnity insurance, longshoremen’s and harbor worker’s compensation insurance and medical payments insurance in connection with the boat, and include the cost of such insurance as a separate charge in such contract or agreement. Such insurance and the premiums or charges for that insurance shall bear a reasonable relationship to the amount, term and conditions of the contract or agreement, the existing hazards or risk of loss, damage or destruction, or the potential liability and shall not provide for unusual or exceptional risks or coverages which are not ordinarily included in policies issued to the general public.

Additionally, the buyer and seller may agree to include in the retail installment contract charges for insurance coverages which (1) cover risks of loss or liability reasonably related to the goods or services sold, the anticipated use thereof, or goods or services related to the goods or services sold and which may be insured with the goods and services sold; and (2) are written on policies or endorsement forms prescribed or approved by the State Board of Insurance; and (3) are ordinarily offered in policies or endorsements offered to the general public. The retail installment contract shall clearly identify the type of coverage for each such type of coverage purchased and the premiums therefor and shall clearly indicate that such coverage is optional.

(3) When insurance is required in connection with such a contract or agreement made under this Chapter, the seller or holder shall furnish the buyer a statement which shall clearly and conspicuously state that insurance is required in connection with the contract or agreement, and that the buyer shall have the option of furnishing the required insurance either through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverages through any insurance company authorized to transact business in Texas. In addition when any requested or required insurance is sold or procured by the seller or holder and a premium or rate of charge not fixed or approved by the State Board of Insurance is included in the retail installment contract or under the retail charge agreement, the seller or holder shall include or cause to be included such fact in a written statement delivered or mailed to the buyer, and the buyer shall have the option for a period of ten days from the date of the contract or agreement or the mailing of the written statement to the buyer of furnishing the required insurance coverage either through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverage through any insurance company authorized to transact business in Texas. Such statement or statements may be made in conjunction with or as part of the retail installment contract required by Article 6.02 or the retail charge agreement required by Article 6.03, respectively, or may be made in a separate written statement or statements.

(4) All such insurance subject to Section (1) or (2) of this Article for which a separate charge is included in the retail installment contract or under the retail charge agreement shall be written at lawful rates and in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Insurance Code by a company or companies authorized to do business in this State.

(5) The contract or agreement, separate written statement, or a specimen copy of a certificate or policy of insurance delivered to the buyer shall identify the type of coverage, term and amount of premium for such insurance coverages described in Sections (1) and (2) of this Article for which a separate charge is included in the retail installment contract or under the retail charge agreement.

(6) The buyer shall have the privilege at the time of execution of the contract or agreement of purchasing such insurance from an agent or broker of his own selection and of selecting an insurance company acceptable to the seller or holder, but, in such case the inclusion of the insurance premium in the contract or agreement shall be optional with the seller or holder.

(7)(a) Subsequent to the execution of the retail installment contract, a buyer and holder may agree to add to the unpaid balance of the contract premiums for insurance policies obtained subsequent to the retail installment transaction and covering the goods or services sold or goods or services related thereto, including premiums for renewal of policies originally included in the contract. Such policies shall comply with the limitations set out in Sections (1), (2), and (4) above, as applicable.

(b) If the buyer fails to present to the holder reasonable evidence that he or she has obtained or maintained a coverage required by the retail installment contract or retail charge agreement, the holder may but shall not be required to procure substitute insurance coverage which is substantially equivalent to or more limited than the coverages originally required and may add the premium advanced for that insurance to the unpaid balance of the contract or under the retail charge agreement. The substitute insurance may cover only the interest of the holder or the interest of the holder and the buyer. The substitute insurance shall be written at lawful rates and in accordance with the Texas Insurance Code by a company authorized to do business in this State.

(c) If any premium is added to the unpaid balance of a retail installment contract under this Section, the rate of time price differential previously agreed to in the retail installment contract remains in effect.
and shall be applied to the new unpaid balance or the contract may be rescheduled in accordance with Article 6.02. If any premium is added under a retail charge agreement, the premium shall be added to the unpaid balance under the retail charge agreement. When any substitute insurance is obtained by the holder of a retail installment contract or retail charge agreement when the buyer has failed to obtain or maintain a required coverage, the amendment adding the premium or rescheduling the contract need not be signed by the buyer but the holder shall deliver to the buyer or send to the buyer's last known address as shown by the records of the holder specific written notification of that action.

(8) If the insurance is to be procured by the seller or holder, he shall, within forty-five days after delivery of the goods or furnishing of the services under the contract or agreement, deliver, mail, or cause to be mailed to the buyer at his address as specified in the contract or agreement, a policy, or policies, or certificates of insurance, clearly setting forth the amount of the premium, the kind or kinds of insurance, the coverages and all the terms, options, limitations, restrictions and conditions of the policy or policies of insurance.

(9) If the insurance is cancelled, adjusted or terminated for any reason, the refund for unearned insurance premiums received by the seller or the holder shall, at the seller or holder's option, be applied to replace required insurance coverages or be credited to the final maturing installments of the retail installment contract or retail charge agreement, and the remaining balance of the unearned insurance premiums shall be refunded to the buyer; provided, however, that no cash refund shall be required if the amount thereof is less than One Dollar.

(10) Any gain, or advantage to the seller or holder, or any employee, officer, director, agent, general agent, affiliate or associate from such insurance or its provision or sale shall not be considered as an additional charge or further time price differential in connection with any contract or agreement made under this Chapter except as specifically provided herein.

Art. 5069-6.05. Prohibited Provisions

No retail installment contract or retail charge agreement shall:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (1) to (6)]

(7) Provide for or grant a first lien upon real estate to secure such obligation, except, (a) such lien as is created by law upon the recording of an abstract of judgment or (b) such lien as is provided for or granted by a contract or series of contracts for the sale or construction and sale of a structure to be used as a residence so long as the time price differential does not exceed an annual percentage rate permitted under either this Chapter or Article 1.04 of this Title.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act."

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person confirming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section (b)(2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 5069-6.08. Application

None of the provisions of this Chapter shall affect or apply to any loans or to the business of making loans under or in accordance with the laws of this State, nor shall any of the provisions of the loan or interest statutes of this State affect or apply to any retail installment transaction. Nor shall any seller pay, promise to pay, or otherwise tender cash to any buyer as a part of any transaction made pursuant to this Chapter unless otherwise specifically authorized by this Chapter. Nothing in this Chapter shall be construed to impair or in any way affect any rule of law applicable to or governing retail installment sales not otherwise subject hereto. This Chapter shall apply exclusively to retail installment transactions as defined in Article 6.01 hereof. The provisions of this Chapter defining specific rates and amounts of charges and requiring certain credit disclosures to be made shall be deemed to control over any contrary Texas law respecting those subjects. Except as displaced by the particular provisions of this Chapter, the Uniform Commercial Code as adopted in Texas, other applicable statutes, and the principles of the common law shall remain applicable to transactions hereunder to the extent they are applicable.

Art. 5069–6A.01. Purpose

The legislature finds that manufactured homes have become a major source of single family housing and that a large number of manufactured homes are being placed on private property as permanent residences. Accordingly, the legislature has determined that credit transactions, both credit sales and consumer loans, for the purchase of manufactured homes should be regulated equally and in the same chapter. The legislature also finds that there have been substantial revisions in the Federal Truth-in-Lending Act 1 and regulations issued pursuant to that Act and has determined that disclosure requirements should be modified to eliminate duplications and inconsistencies and that certain definitions should be revised to coordinate with federal law and regulations. The legislature also desires to make it clear that, before the effective date of Chapter 6A, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–6A.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), mobile home credit sales were regulated exclusively by Chapter 7, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–7.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and modular homes by Chapter 6, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–6.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The legislature also finds that there is a growing the written agreements between the consumer and creditor that relate to the credit transaction.

Art. 5069–6A.03. Credit Charge
(1) Subject to Subsection (2) of this section, the interest or time price differential in a credit transaction may not exceed the sum obtained by applying a simple interest rate equal to 13.32 percent a year to the unpaid balance for the scheduled term of the transaction.

(2) The rate and limitation prescribed by Subsection (1) of this section are effective only if the federal usury preemptions for residential mortgage loans contained in the Veterans’ Disability Compensation and Survivors’ Benefits Act of 1979, Public Law 96–128,1 the Housing and Community Development Act of 1979, Public Law 96–158,2 and the Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act of 1980, Public Law 96–221,3 are expressly made inapplicable to transactions made in this state by an Act of the legislature of this state. The limitation prescribed by Subsection (1) of this section becomes effective on the effective date of such an Act.

(3) By agreement between the consumer and the creditor expressly set forth in the credit document, the credit transaction may provide for an adjustable rate by which the initial contract rate of interest or time price differential is to be adjusted at certain stated regular intervals in accordance with Section 4 of this chapter. Such an interval is the “rate adjustment period.”

(4) For purposes of disclosure only, the finance charge is computed on the unpaid balance from the effective date of the credit transaction as set forth in the credit document until the maturity of the final installment, notwithstanding that the total of payments is required to be paid in installments; if the credit document includes an adjustable rate provision, the finance charge shall be computed on the amount financed using the initial contract rate.

(5) For a period less or greater than 12 months or for amounts less or greater than $100, the amount of the maximum charge shall be decreased or increased proportionately. A fractional monthly period of 15 days or more may be considered a full month.

(6) If a credit transaction is payable other than in substantially equal successive monthly installments, as where payable in irregular or unequal installments, either in amounts or periods, or in equal successive monthly installments followed by or interspersed with an irregular, unequal, or larger installment or installments, or in other than monthly installments, or if the first installment is not payable one month from the date of the contract, the finance charge may not exceed an amount that, having due regard for the schedule of installment payments, will provide the same effective return as if the credit transaction were payable in substantially equal successive monthly installments, beginning one month from the date of the credit document.

(7) The provisions of this chapter shall apply to credit transactions as defined by Subsection 2(d) notwithstanding any provision of Article 1.04 of this title.

This article was revised by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2126, ch. 496, eff. Sept. 1, 1981, without reference to amendment of this article by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 285, ch. 111, § 19, eff. May 8, 1981, which added a § G to read: "G. Alternate Rate. As an alternative to the rates and amounts of time price differential provided by Subsection A of this section, the parties may agree to any rate or amount of time price differential not exceeding a rate or amount authorized by article 1.04 of this Title."

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act adding § G provide: "Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Article 5, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section 0123, Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 5069–6A.04. Adjustment of Rate Charged
(1) Adjustments in the rate charged as permitted by Subsection (3) of Section 3 of this chapter must be based on changes in a specific index, as set forth in the credit document, with the index base being fixed by the index value on the first day of the month in which the credit document is dated. The index may be only:

(a) the monthly average gross yield to the Federal National Mortgage Association on accepted bids in weekly or biweekly auctions for four-month commitments to purchase FHA-insured or VA-guaranteed home mortgages, as published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin;

(b) the monthly average yield on United States Treasury securities adjusted to a constant maturity of five years as published in the Federal Reserve Bulletin; or

(c) an index expressly approved by the Federal Home Loan Board or by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Department of the Treasury, for adjustable or variable interest rates on residential mortgage loans.

(2)(a) Rate adjustments may not exceed one-half of one percent a year for any six-month period. If the stated regular interval for rate adjustments is a 12-month period or longer, rate adjustments may not exceed one percent a year. In no event shall the total of all rate adjustments over the term of the credit transaction exceed the lesser of:
creditor shall mail to the consumer, postage prepaid, the date on which a rate adjustment is effective, the notice that sets forth:

(a) the initial contract rate or the current adjusted rate if different from the initial contract rate;
(b) the index base, or the index value used for the immediately preceding rate adjustment, if any, and the dates on which the index base or value, as appropriate, was determined;
(c) the index value, and the date of the index value, used to calculate the change in the index;
(d) the rate adjustment;
(e) the new adjusted rate;
(f) the amount of current monthly payments on the indebtedness;
(g) the adjusted amount of monthly payments and the date on which the adjustment is effective; and
(h) a statement of the prepayment rights of the consumer as set forth in the credit document.

The creditor may not charge any fees or assess a consumer any costs in connection with the processing of any rate adjustment.

Notwithstanding any of the requirements and limitations set forth by Subsections (1) through (6) of this section, a creditor and consumer may agree on any terms or provisions in the credit transaction as may be expressly authorized or permitted in any program for residential mortgage loans by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board or by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, Department of the Treasury, or any other federal department, agency, or board. If the creditor and consumer agree on such an alternative residential mortgage loan, the creditor shall comply with all limitations, requirements, and disclosures of the agency that relate thereto.

Art. 5069–6A.05. Requirements and Disclosures

1. The creditor shall comply with all applicable requirements and disclosures pursuant to Part I of the Consumer Credit Protection Act (also known as Truth-in-Lending Act), 15 U.S.C. Sec. 1601 et seq., as amended, and as implemented by Regulation Z as promulgated by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System. In the event of any inconsistency or conflict between the provisions of this chapter and federal requirements, disclosures, or interpretations thereof, the federal requirements, disclosures, or interpretations control, and the inconsistent or conflicting provisions of this chapter do not apply.

2. In a transaction involving more than one creditor, each creditor whose identity is known at the time of the execution of the credit document shall be clearly identified. The disclosure of any one item by any creditor satisfies the requirement to disclose that item regardless of which creditor makes the disclosure.

3. In a credit transaction involving more than one consumer, the creditor is required to furnish the disclosures required by this chapter to only one of the consumers.

4. The printed portion of the credit transaction, other than instructions for completion, must be in a size equal to at least eight-point type. The document must contain substantially:

"NOTICE TO THE CONSUMER—DO NOT SIGN THIS DOCUMENT BEFORE YOU READ IT OR IF IT CONTAINS ANY BLANK SPACES. YOU ARE ENTITLED TO A COPY OF THE DOCUMENT YOU SIGN. UNDER THE LAW YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO PAY OFF IN ADVANCE THE FULL AMOUNT DUE AND OBTAIN A SUBSTANTIAL REFUND OF THE CREDIT CHARGE. KEEP THIS DOCUMENT TO PROTECT YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS."
(5) The creditor may collect, on each installment in default for a period of more than 15 days, a delinquency charge that may not exceed an amount equal to five percent of each installment or $20, whichever is less. Only one delinquency charge may be collected on any installment, regardless of the period for which it remains in default. The creditor shall disclose in the credit document the amount or method of computing the amount of any default, delinquency, or similar charges payable in the event of late payments. The charge or collection of a delinquency charge does not affect the right of a creditor to accelerate the debt under Section 10 of this chapter.

(6) The consumer's acknowledgment of delivery of a copy of the credit document is conclusive proof:

(a) of the document's delivery;

(b) that the document, when signed by the consumer, did not contain any blank spaces except as provided by this chapter; and

(c) in any action or proceeding by or against a subsequent creditor who does not have knowledge to the contrary, of compliance with this section by the creditor.

(7) If a consumer desires to order from a creditor a manufactured home that is not in the inventory of the creditor and must be ordered from the manufacturer, or if a consumer desires that the creditor hold a particular manufactured home that is in inventory for a period of 30 days or more for purchase by the consumer at the later time, and the consumer desires to make the purchase by entering into a credit transaction under this chapter, the creditor may require the consumer to pay a deposit that may not exceed five percent of the estimated cash price. On arrival of the specially ordered manufactured home or on the last day that the creditor is obligated to hold the manufactured home, the consumer shall execute a credit document under this chapter and the creditor shall apply the deposit toward payment of the cash price. Before the execution of the credit document, the consumer may cancel the purchase or hold order. If the order is canceled, the creditor may retain all or any portion of the deposit, and the consumer is not responsible for any costs or expenses other than the forfeited deposit. A creditor who is an arranger of credit and who has failed to qualify the consumer for a loan or credit sale may not retain more than 10 percent of the total deposit or $50, whichever is less. If the creditor fails to order or fails to hold the manufactured home in accordance with a deposit agreement, the creditor forfeits and must be ordered from the manufacturer, or if a consumer desires that the creditor hold a particular manufactured home that is in inventory for a period of 30 days or more for purchase by the consumer at the later time, and the consumer desires to make the purchase by entering into a credit transaction under this chapter, the creditor may require the consumer to pay a deposit that may not exceed five percent of the estimated cash price. On arrival of the specially ordered manufactured home or on the last day that the creditor is obligated to hold the manufactured home, the consumer shall execute a credit document under this chapter and the creditor shall apply the deposit toward payment of the cash price. Before the execution of the credit document, the consumer may cancel the purchase or hold order. If the order is canceled, the creditor may retain all or any portion of the deposit, and the consumer is not responsible for any costs or expenses other than the forfeited deposit. A creditor who is an arranger of credit and who has failed to qualify the consumer for a loan or credit sale may not retain more than 10 percent of the total deposit or $50, whichever is less. If the creditor fails to order or fails to hold the manufactured home in accordance with a deposit agreement, the creditor forfeits and shall pay to the consumer an amount equal to two times the amount of the deposit.

Art. 5069–6A.06. Prepayment

Notwithstanding the provisions of any credit transaction to the contrary, a consumer may prepay the debt in full at any time before maturity. On prepayment, after the deduction of an acquisition charge not exceeding $50, the consumer is entitled to a refund credit of the time price differential, or interest in the case of loans, calculated on an actuarial basis in accordance with Federal Home Loan Bank Board regulations promulgated pursuant to the Depository Institutions Deregulation and Monetary Control Act of 1980, Public Law 96–221, for the prepayment of mortgage loans that are secured by first liens on residential manufactured homes. In making the calculation, the creditor may assume that the payments have been made as originally scheduled and ignore any differences created by late or early payments.

Art. 5069–6A.07. Amendment to Extend or Defer

(1) The creditor, on request by the consumer, may agree to an amendment to extend or defer the scheduled due date of all or any part of any installment or installments, to renew, restate, or reschedule the unpaid balance of the debt, or to increase or reduce the number of installments and may collect for such an amendment a charge that may not exceed the amount obtained by the application of the actual contract rate of interest or time price differential, as adjusted, to the remaining amount of the unpaid balance, calculated under Section 6 of this chapter, for the period that any sum is extended or deferred. The creditor and consumer may agree to an unlimited number of different extensions, with each extension for as long a period as agreed to by both parties.

(2) Alternatively, the creditor, on request by the consumer, may agree to amend the original credit transaction by renewal, restatement, or rescheduling of the unpaid portion of the total of payments. In such an event, the charge shall be computed in accordance with this subsection. If the original credit transaction is amended, the sum of the unpaid balance as of the date of amendment, the cost of any insurance incidental to the amendment, any additional necessary official fees, and any accrued delinquency and collection charges remaining after deducting the prepayment refund credit required by Section 6 of this chapter constitutes an unpaid balance on which the charge for the amended transaction may be computed for the term of the amended transaction at the applicable rate provided by Section 3 of this chapter. The provisions of this chapter relating to minimum charges and acquisition costs do not apply in calculating the unpaid balance for the amended transaction.

(3) An amendment to the transaction as authorized by Subsection (2) of this section must be confirmed in writing and signed by the consumer. The writing must set forth the terms of the amendment and the new due dates and amounts of the installments. The creditor shall deliver to the consumer or mail to the consumer at the address shown on the credit document a copy of the writing. The writing together with the original credit document and any previous amendments to the original credit document constitute the credit document.

Art. 5069-6A.08. Insurance

(1) In a credit transaction under this chapter, a creditor may require a consumer to insure the property involved in a credit transaction with coverage designated by the creditor. That insurance may include federal flood coverage. The cost of the insurance permitted by this subsection may be included as a separate charge in the credit transaction.

(2) When insurance is required in connection with a credit transaction made under this chapter, the creditor shall furnish to the consumer a statement that clearly and conspicuously states that insurance is required in connection with the transaction and that the consumer has the option of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverages through any insurance company authorized to transact business in this state subject to the limitations of Subsection (9) of this section. Such a statement may be made in conjunction with or be a part of the credit document.

(3) If the consumer fails to obtain the required insurance at any time, the creditor may treat the failure as an event of default or may purchase the required insurance and add the premium of the insurance, together with interest, at the contract rate of interest or time price differential or last adjusted rate to the credit transaction. In addition, the consumer may agree to purchase any insurance allowed by this chapter after the date of the credit document and include the amount of the premium for the insurance in the unpaid balance. The additional insurance premium bears interest at a rate not in excess of the contract rate of interest or time price differential or last adjusted rate. The additional premium and interest may be paid in any period and any number of installments agreed to by the parties. In the case of forced place insurance, the creditor shall notify the consumer that the insurance has been forced placed and that the premium for the insurance and interest have been added to the debt. The creditor may require the consumer to pay the premium and interest in any period and in the number of installments as the creditor elects, including but not limited to a lump-sum payment on the date of the last installment, equal increments added to each of the remaining installments, or a lesser number of installments or unequal increments. In addition, the consumer and creditor may agree that the purchase of any additional insurance will be handled in accordance with an insurance premium financing agreement made under the Insurance Code and will be treated separately from the transaction.

(4) A creditor may finance as part of the credit transaction any insurance required in accordance with Subsection (1) of this section, as well as any other insurance coverage requested by the consumer. However, vendor's single interest insurance is prohibited and may not be financed as part of the credit transaction. If the consumer elects to purchase the optional insurance, the consumer must sign a statement indicating the consumer's desire to purchase the insurance and describing the term, premium, and type of insurance purchased. That statement may be included as part of the credit document or may be part of a separate document.

(5) The credit document must disclose the term, premium, and type of insurance that is included in the unpaid balance. If required insurance is not included in the unpaid balance, the creditor shall disclose only the term and type of insurance required.

(6) The premium of any insurance included in the credit transaction may be included in the unpaid balance and paid as part of the total of payments even if the term of the insurance is less than the term of the credit transaction.

(7)(a) If the creditor and consumer agree, the consumer may elect to purchase any insurance through the creditor and include the premiums of the insurance in the credit transaction. In the alternative, the consumer may elect to include in the credit transaction, or pay to the creditor, the first year's premium and, on the date each installment is due, pay a sum equal to one-twelfth of the yearly premium for the insurance as reasonably estimated.

(b) The creditor shall deposit and hold the insurance premium installments paid to the creditor in an institution, the deposits or accounts of which are insured or guaranteed by a federal or state agency. The creditor shall apply those funds to pay the insurance premiums. The creditor may not charge for holding and applying the funds, analyzing the account, or verifying and compiling the bills. The creditor is not required to pay the consumer any interest or earnings on those funds. The creditor shall give to the consumer, without charge, an annual accounting of the funds showing credits and debits to the funds and the purpose for which each debit to the funds was made.

(c) If the sum of the insurance premium installments held by the creditor and the future insurance premium installments of funds payable before the due dates of insurance premiums exceeds the amount required to pay the insurance premiums as they come due, the creditor, at the consumer's option, shall either repay the excess to the consumer or credit the excess to the payment of the consumer's future insurance premium installments. If the amount of the insurance premium installments held by the creditor is not sufficient to pay insurance premiums as they come due, the consumer shall pay to the creditor before the 31st day after the day on which the creditor mails to the consumer notice requesting the consumer to pay the amount of the deficiency an amount equal to the amount of the deficiency. If the consumer fails to make such an adjustment with regard to insurance required under Subsection (1) of this section, the creditor may treat the deficiency in the same manner as forced placed insurance described by Subsection (3) of this section.

(d) If the consumer agrees to enter into an insurance escrow agreement, the creditor may require the consumer to use that method of payment for the full term of the debt. However, the creditor may not in any way require the consumer initially to enter into an escrow agreement.

(8) All insurance required by the credit transaction or included in the credit transaction shall be written at lawful rates and in accordance with the Insurance Code by a company authorized to do business in this state.

(9) If the consumer procures required insurance from someone other than the creditor, the creditor has the right for good cause to refuse to accept certain insurance policies from insurance companies designated by the creditor. The reason for such a refusal shall, on request by the consumer, be set forth in writing and delivered to the consumer.

(10) If the insurance is canceled, adjusted, or terminated for any reason, the refund for unearned insurance premiums received by the creditor shall be credited to the final maturing installments of the credit transaction; if there is a remaining balance of the unearned insurance premiums, it shall be refunded to the consumer, except that a cash refund is not required if the remaining balance is less than $1.

(11) Any gain or advantage to the creditor or any employee, officer, director, agent, general agent, affiliate, or associate of the creditor from insurance or its provision or sale may not be considered as an additional charge or further finance charge in connection with any credit transaction made under this chapter except as specifically provided by this chapter.

Art. 5069-6A.09. Transfer

A creditor may agree to accept a subsequent consumer as an obligor under an existing obligation and, if so, may charge and receive a transfer fee not in excess of one-half of one percent of the outstanding balance computed under Section 6 of this chapter or $50, whichever is greater.

Art. 5069-6A.10. Default

(1) A creditor may accelerate the maturity of any part or all of the amount owing on a credit transaction only if the consumer is in default on the performance of any obligation under the credit transaction.

(2) Before the 31st day before the day on which the creditor takes any action to accelerate the maturity of any debt, to start any legal action to recover under such an obligation, or to take possession of any security under the credit transaction, the creditor shall mail by registered or certified mail to the address where the manufactured house is located a written notice of intent to take the action. The notice must set forth in a clear and concise manner:

(a) the particular obligation or security interest, including the date of the credit transaction according to the records of the creditor, as well as a brief description of the manufactured home;

(b) the nature of the default claimed, which may be stated in general terms, for example: "failure to maintain property damage insurance";

(c) the action that the creditor proposes to take at the expiration of the notice period; and

(d) the right of the consumer to cure the default and the exact manner in which to cure, including the sum of money that must be tendered, if any, in order to cure, the individual or office address to whom it must be tendered, and the form of acceptable payment in accordance with the provisions of this title.

(3) If the consumer has abandoned or voluntarily surrendered the property that is the subject of the credit transaction, the creditor is not required to give the notice required by Subsection (2) of this section if the creditor retains evidence of the abandonment or surrender to the satisfaction of the commissioner.

(4) In calculating the amount owing, the creditor may grant to the consumer a refund of the finance charge calculated in accordance with Section 6 of this chapter. In addition, the credit document may provide for the payment of an attorney's reasonable fee and for court costs and disbursements. In the event of repossession, sequestration, or other action necessary to secure possession of the manufactured home securing the payment of the credit transaction, the credit document may provide for the charge and collection of actual and reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with repossession or foreclosure, including costs of storing, reconditioning, and reselling the manufactured house, subject to the standards of good faith and commercial reasonableness set by the Business & Commerce Code, as amended. In the event of default, any sum in the insurance and tax escrow account established under this chapter shall be applied to the remaining balance of the credit transaction.

(5) In the event of acceleration, the outstanding debt as calculated in accordance with this section, including any expenses actually incurred and authorized by this section, bears interest at a rate equal to the contract rate or last adjusted rate. The creditor who possesses the first recorded perfected security interest may repossess the manufactured home. If the manufactured home has been affixed to real property, the creditor, after notice pursuant to this section, may remove the manufactured home from the real property in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Business & Commerce Code, as amended, as if they were personal property.

Art. 5069-6A.11. Land and Home Transactions

(1) If real estate, not to exceed 200 acres, is purchased by the consumer at the same time as, or in conjunction with, the purchase of a manufactured home, with the agreement that the manufactured home will be attached to the real property within a reasonable time, the real estate, on agreement of the parties, may be considered to be a part of the credit transaction under this chapter and included in the cash price even if the real estate and manufactured home are sold by separate persons.

(2) If the real estate is included in the cash price under Subsection (1) of this section, the creditor may charge fees that are ordinarily associated with real estate transactions, and are not otherwise prohibited by law, including but not limited to those fees associated with real estate transactions that are excluded from the finance charge by the Federal Truth-in-Lending Act 1 and Regulation Z. 2

(3) In a land and home credit transaction permitted in this section the creditor may elect to treat the manufactured home as if it were residential real estate for all purposes in connection with the credit transaction. The election must be conspicuously disclosed to the consumer. On such an election the provisions of this chapter, except the definitions in Section 2, are not applicable to the credit transaction, and the credit transaction is considered to be a residential real estate loan for all purposes.

Art. 5069-6A.12. Tax Escrow

(1) If the creditor and consumer agree, the consumer may elect to pay ad valorem taxes on the manufactured home through the creditor and include these taxes as reasonably estimated for the first year in the credit transaction or pay the tax estimate for the first year to the creditor and, on the date each installment is due, pay a sum equal to one-twelfth of the annual ad valorem taxes as reasonably estimated.

(2) The creditor shall deposit and hold the tax installments paid to the creditor in an institution the deposits or accounts of which are insured or guaranteed by a federal or state agency. The creditor shall apply those funds to pay the ad valorem taxes on the manufactured home. The creditor may not charge for holding and applying the funds, analyzing the account, or verifying and compiling the bills. The creditor is not required to pay the consumer any interest or earnings on those funds. The creditor shall give to the consumer, without charge, an annual accounting of the funds showing credits and debits to the funds and the purpose for which each debit to the funds was made.

(3) If the sum of the tax installments held by the creditor and the future tax installments of funds payable before the due dates of taxes on the manufactured home exceeds the amount required to pay the taxes as they come due, the creditor, at the consumer's option, shall either repay the excess to the consumer or credit the excess to the payment of the consumer's future tax installments. If the amount of the tax installments held by the creditor is not sufficient to pay taxes as they come due, the consumer shall pay to the creditor before the 31st day after the day on which the creditor mails to the consumer notice requesting the consumer to pay the amount of the deficiency an amount equal to the amount of the deficiency. If the consumer fails to make such an adjustment with regard to the tax installments, the creditor may treat the deficiency in the same manner as forced placed insurance pursuant to Subsection (3) of Section 8 of this chapter.

(4) If the consumer agrees to enter into a tax escrow agreement, the creditor may require the consumer to use that method of payment for the full term of the debt. However, the creditor may not in any way require the consumer initially to enter into a tax escrow agreement.

A credit transaction may not:

(a) contain a power of attorney to confess judgment in this state or an assignment of wages;

(b) provide that the consumer agrees not to assert against a creditor or any assignee of the credit transaction any claim or defense arising out of the sale; or

(c) authorize the creditor or other person acting on the creditor's behalf to enter on the consumer's premises unlawfully or to commit any breach of the peace in the repossession of a manufactured home.

Art. 5069-6A.14. Transfer of Creditor's Rights in a Credit Transaction

(1) Any person may purchase or acquire or agree to purchase or acquire any credit transaction or any outstanding balance from any other person on the terms and conditions and for the price on which the parties agree.

(2) Notice to the consumer of the transfer of rights and any requirement that the creditor be deprived of dominion over payments on a credit transaction or over the manufactured home, if returned to or repossessed by the creditor, is not necessary to the validity of a written transfer of the credit transaction or any outstanding balance as against creditors, subsequent purchasers, pledgees, mortgagees, and lien claimants of the creditor. (3) Unless the consumer has notice of the transfer of the credit transaction or any outstanding balance under the transaction, payment made before notice by the consumer to the creditor last known to the consumer is binding on all subsequent creditors. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2136, ch. 496, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 5069-6A.15. Waiver

No act or agreement of the consumer before or at the time of the making of a credit transaction or purchase under the transaction constitutes a valid waiver of any of the provisions of this chapter. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2136, ch. 496, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 5069-6A.16. Consumer Credit Commissioner

The Consumer Credit Commissioner of Texas has the same powers and authority to enforce this chapter as those provided by Chapter 2 of this title. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2136, ch. 496, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 5069-6A.17. Interpretations by Commissioner and Court Decisions

A person does not violate this chapter by any act done or omitted that conforms to an interpretation of any provision of this chapter by the Consumer Credit Commissioner or by a final decision of an appellate court of this state or of the United States in effect at the time the act was done or omitted. If such an interpretation or decision is modified, whether in whole or part, or is rescinded or invalidated by either a subsequent interpretation or final decision, the subsequent interpretation or final decision does not apply to a credit transaction made before the effective date of the subsequent interpretation or final decision. [Amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2136, ch. 496, § 1, eff. Sept. 1, 1981.]

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (b) to (e)]

(f) "Cash Price" means the price stated in a retail installment contract for which the seller would have sold to the buyer and the buyer would have bought from the seller, the motor vehicle and other goods and services which are the subject matter of such contract if such sale had been a sale for cash. The cash price may include any taxes and charges for delivering, servicing, repairing, altering or improving the motor vehicle, or for installation of the motor vehicle or of goods to the motor vehicle, and charges for accessories and goods related to or used with the motor vehicle, if such charges are made to both cash and credit buyers alike and may include any of the charges described in Subsections (ii) and (iii) of Section (g) of this Article if they are not separately itemized on the contract.

(g) “Itemized Charges” however denominated or expressed means those amounts, if any, included in the contract but not included in the cash price for charges made to the buyer for:

(i) any registration, certificate of title, and license fees;

(ii) any taxes;

(iii) any other fees or charges that are set or prescribed by law, that are not more than the amounts allowed by law, and that are connected with the sale or inspection of a motor vehicle; and

(iv) any charges permitted by Article 7.06 for insurance, service contracts, or warranties permitted by Article 7.06.

(h) “Principal Balance” means the cash price plus the amounts, if any, included in the retail installment contract for itemized charges, less the amount of the buyer’s down payment, if any, in money or goods or both.

(h-1) In addition to the provisions of Section (h) of this article, “principal balance” includes a motor vehicle inspection fee and a documentary fee for services actually rendered to, for, or on behalf of the retail buyer in preparing, handling, and processing documents relating to the motor vehicle and the closing of the transaction evidenced by the retail installment contract. If a documentary fee is charged:

(i) it must be charged to both cash and credit buyers;

(ii) it may not exceed $25;

(iii) it shall be disclosed on the retail installment contract as a separate itemized charge; and
(iv) All preliminary worksheets which are exhibited to the buyer in which the motor vehicle retail seller calculates a sale price for the buyer, the buyer's order, and the retail installment contract shall include in reasonable proximity to the point in the worksheet, buyer's order, and retail installment contract where the documentary fee is disclosed the amount of the documentary fee to be charged and the following notice in boldface type:

"A DOCUMENTARY FEE IS NOT AN OFFICIAL FEE. A DOCUMENTARY FEE IS NOT REQUIRED BY LAW, BUT MAY BE CHARGED TO BUYERS FOR HANDLING DOCUMENTS AND PERFORMING SERVICES RELATING TO THE CLOSING OF A SALE. BUYERS MAY AVOID PAYMENT OF THE FEE TO THE SELLER BY HANDLING THE DOCUMENTS AND PERFORMING THE SERVICES RELATING TO THE CLOSING OF THE SALE. A DOCUMENTARY FEE MAY NOT EXCEED $25. THIS NOTICE IS REQUIRED BY LAW."

(v) If the language primarily used in the oral sales presentation is not the same as that in which the retail installment contract is written, the seller shall furnish to the buyer a written statement containing the notice set out in Subsection (iv) in the language primarily used in the oral sales presentation.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (i) and (j)]

(k) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, joint venture, trust, association, or any legal entity however organized.

(n) "Heavy Commercial Vehicle" means any domestic or foreign truck or truck tractor that weighs 25,000 or more pounds gross vehicular weight (GVW) or any trailer or semitrailer designed for use in combination with any truck or truck tractor weighing 25,000 or more pounds gross vehicular weight (GVW) and that is not used primarily for personal, family, or household use.

Art. 5069-7.02. Requirements and Prohibitions as to Retail Installment Contracts

(1) Each retail installment contract shall be in writing, dated, signed by both the buyer and the seller, and completed as to all essential provisions before it is signed by the buyer; provided, however, if delivery of the motor vehicle is not made at the time of the execution of the contract, the identifying numbers or marks or similar information and the due date of the first installment may be inserted in the contract after its execution. A retail installment contract need not be contained in a single document.

(2) The printed portion of the retail installment contract, other than instructions for completion, shall be in a size equal to at least eight-point type. Such contract shall contain substantially the following notice in a size equal to at least ten-point bold type:

"NOTICE TO THE BUYER—DO NOT SIGN THIS CONTRACT BEFORE YOU READ IT OR IF IT CONTAINS ANY BLANK SPACES. YOU ARE ENTITLED TO A COPY OF THE CONTRACT YOU SIGN. UNDER THE LAW YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO PAY OFF IN ADVANCE THE FULL AMOUNT DUE AND UNDER CERTAIN CONDITIONS MAY OBTAIN A PARTIAL REFUND OF THE FINANCE CHARGE. KEEP THIS CONTRACT TO PROTECT YOUR LEGAL RIGHTS."

(3) A retail installment contract or separate written statement shall also contain, in a size equal to at least ten-point bold type, a specific statement that liability insurance coverage for bodily injury and property damage caused to others is not included, if that is the case.

(4) The seller shall deliver to the buyer, or mail to him at his address shown on the retail installment contract, a copy of such contract as accepted by the seller. Until the seller does so, a buyer who has not received delivery of the motor vehicle shall have the right to rescind his contract and to receive a refund of all payments made and a return of all goods traded in to the seller on account of or in contemplation of such contract, or if the goods traded in cannot be returned, the value thereof. Any acknowledgment by the buyer of delivery of a copy of the retail installment contract shall be in a size equal to at least ten-point bold type and shall appear directly above the buyer's signature.

(5) The retail installment contract shall contain the names of the seller and the buyer, the place of business or address of the seller, the residence or other address of the buyer as specified by the buyer, and a description of the motor vehicle sold or to be sold.

(6) The retail installment contract shall specifically set out the following items:

(a) The cash price as defined in Article 7.01;
(b) The amount of the buyer's down payment, if any, specifying the amounts paid in money and in goods traded in;
(c) Any itemized charges, as defined in Article 7.01. Any charges for insurance, service contracts, or warranties permitted by Article 7.06 may be disclosed in the manner described in Article 7.06;
(d) In the event of any inconsistency or conflict between the disclosure requirements of this Chapter and those of a federal law or regulation or an interpretation thereof, the requirements of the federal law, regulation, or interpretation shall control and the inconsistent or conflicting disclosures required by this Chapter need not be given.

(e) The above items need not be stated in the sequence or order set forth and additional information may be included.

(7) The buyer's acknowledgment, conforming to the requirements of this Article, of delivery of a copy of the retail installment contract shall be conclusive proof of such delivery, that such contract when signed by the buyer did not contain any blank spaces except as herein provided, and of compliance with this Article in any action or proceeding by or against a holder of such contract without knowledge to the contrary when he purchases it.

(8) Upon written request of the buyer, the holder of a retail installment contract shall give or forward to the buyer a written statement of the dates and amounts of installment payments and the total amount unpaid under such contract. Such a statement shall be given the buyer once every six months without charge; if any additional statement is requested by the buyer, it shall be supplied by the holder at a charge not in excess of One Dollar for each additional statement. A buyer shall be given a written receipt for any payment when made in cash.

(9)(a) Except as provided in Subsection (b) of this Section, if any scheduled installment of a retail installment contract is more than twice as large as the average of all prior scheduled installments (except the down payment), the buyer has the right, at the buyer's option, to refinance, without being charged an acquisition cost, that payment at the time it is due. The buyer has the right to refinance that payment in installments which are neither larger nor more frequent than the average amount and frequency of payments preceding that payment, and the rate of time price differential applicable to such refinancing shall not exceed that originally agreed upon.

(b) Section (9)(a) of this Article does not apply to:

(i) a lease;
(ii) a retail installment transaction for a vehicle to be used primarily for purposes other than personal, family, or household use;
(iii) a transaction for which the payment schedule is adjusted to the seasonal or irregular income or scheduled payments or obligations of the buyer; or
(iv) a transaction of a kind determined by the Commissioner as not requiring the protection of the buyer provided in Section (9)(a) of this Article.

Art. 5069-7.03. Finance Charge Limitations

(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other law, the time price differential in a retail installment contract payable in substantially equal successive monthly installments beginning one month after the date of the contract shall not exceed the larger of Twenty-five Dollars or an amount determined under the following schedule:

Class 1. Except the heavy commercial vehicles provided for in Class 2, any new domestic motor vehicle designated by the manufacturer by a year model not earlier than the year in which the sale is made and any new foreign motor vehicle—Seven Dollars and Fifty Cents per One Hundred Dollars per annum.

Class 2. Any new domestic motor vehicle not in Class 1, any used domestic motor vehicle designated by the manufacturer by a year model of the same or not more than two years prior to the year in which the sale is made, any used foreign motor vehicle not more than two years old, and any new or used heavy commercial vehicle not more than two years old—Ten Dollars per One Hundred Dollars per annum.

Class 3. Any used motor vehicle not in Class 2 and, if a domestic motor vehicle, designated by the manufacturer by a year model not more than four years prior to the year in which the sale is made, and, if a foreign motor vehicle, not more than four years old—Twelve Dollars and Fifty Cents per One Hundred Dollars per annum.

Class 4. Any used motor vehicle not in Class 2 or Class 3—Fifteen Dollars per One Hundred Dollars per year. Provided, however, if the principal balance is Three Hundred Dollars or less, the time price differential shall be Eighteen Dollars per One Hundred Dollars per annum.

(2) Such charge shall be computed on the principal balance as defined under Article 7.01(h) of this Chapter from the date of the contract until the maturity of the final installment, notwithstanding that the balance thereof is required to be paid in installments.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (3) and (4)]

(5) A buyer under a retail installment contract may, upon written consent of the holder, transfer his equity in the motor vehicle at any time to another person, but in that event the holder shall be entitled to a transfer of equity fee not exceeding Twenty-five Dollars or Fifty Dollars in the case of a heavy commercial vehicle retail installment transaction.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (6)]

(7) As an alternative to the time price differential authorized by Section (1) of this Article, the parties may agree to any rate or amount of time price differential not exceeding a rate or amount authorized by Article 1.04 of this Title.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 amendatory act provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act.

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-7.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section (b)(2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069-1.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year.

Art. 5069-7.04. Refunds on Prepayment

Notwithstanding the provisions of any retail installment contract to the contrary, any buyer may prepay it in full at any time before maturity, and if he does so, or when the holder demands payment in full of the unpaid balance of the contract before its final installment is due, the buyer is entitled to receive the following refund credit thereon:

On a contract payable in substantially equal successive monthly installments commencing one month after the date of the contract, the amount of such refund credit shall represent at least as great a proportion of the finance charge, after first deducting therefrom an acquisition cost of Twenty-five Dollars, as (i) the sum of the monthly balances under the schedule of payments in the contract beginning as of the date after such prepayment or demand for payment in full which is the next succeeding monthly anniversary date of the due date of the first installment under the contract, or, if the prepayment or demand for payment in full is prior to the due date of the first installment under such contract, then as of the date after such prepayment or demand for payment in full, which is one month after the next succeeding monthly anniversary date of the date of such contract, bears to (ii) the sum of all the monthly balances under the schedule of payments in such contract. When the amount of refund credit is less than One Dollar no refund credit need be made. On contracts payable in other than substantially equal successive monthly installments commencing one month after the date of the contract, the refund shall be computed in a manner proportionate to the above-described method, having due regard to the amount of each installment, to the irregularity of each installment period and to the provisions of Sections (2) and (4) of Article 7.03 hereof.

If, subsequent to demand of payment in full under a contract, the buyer and holder agree to reinstate such contract, they may so do and may amend the contract pursuant to Article 7.05 hereof.

Art. 5069-7.05. Amendments of Retail Installment Contracts

(1) The holder of a retail installment contract upon request by the buyer, may agree to one or more amendments thereto to extend or defer the scheduled due date of all or any part of any installment or installments or to renew, restate or reschedule the unpaid balance of such contract, and may collect for same a charge not to exceed an amount computed under either of the following:

(a) If all or any part of any installment or installments is deferred for not more than three months per amendment, the holder may at his election charge and collect on the amount deferred for the period deferred a charge computed at a rate which will not exceed the same effective return as is permitted on monthly payment contracts under Article 7.03; provided that the minimum charge shall be One Dollar. Such amendment may also include payment by the buyer of the additional cost to the holder of premiums for continuing in force any insurance coverages provided for in the contract and any additional necessary official fees.

(b) In any other extension, renewal, restatement or rescheduling of the unpaid balance, the charge may be computed as follows: The sum of the unpaid balance as of the date of amendment and the cost of any insurance incidental to the amendment, any additional necessary official fees, and any accrued delinquency and collection charges, after deducting the prepayment refund credit required by Article 7.04, shall constitute a principal balance on which the charge may be computed for the term of the amended contract at the applicable time price differential provided in Article 7.03 after reclassifying the motor vehicle by its year model at the time of the amendment. The provisions of this Chapter relating to minimum charges under Article 7.03 and acquisition costs under the refund schedule in Article 7.04 shall not apply in calculating the principal balance of the amended contract. The amendment to the contract must be confirmed in a writing signed by the buyer, and a copy of the writing shall either be delivered to the buyer or mailed to him at his last known address as shown by the records of the holder. Said writing together with the original contract and any previous amendments thereto shall constitute the retail installment contract.

(1) On any retail installment contract made under the authority of this Chapter, a seller or holder may request or require a buyer to provide credit life insurance and credit health and accident insurance as additional protection for such contract, and include the cost of such insurance as a separate charge in such contract. Only one policy of life insurance and one policy of health and accident insurance on any one buyer may be in force with respect to any one loan contract at any one time.
(2) A seller or holder may, in addition, request or require a buyer to insure tangible personal property purchased in a retail installment transaction subject to this Chapter and accessories and related goods subject to the seller's security interest, and include the cost of such insurance as a separate charge in such contract. Such insurance and the premiums or charges therefrom shall bear a reasonable relationship to the amount, term and conditions of the contract, the existing hazards or risk of loss, damage or destruction, and shall not provide for unusual or exceptional risks or coverages which are not ordinarily included in policies issued to the general public. Additionally, the buyer and seller may agree to include in the retail installment contract charges for insurance coverages which (1) cover risks of loss or liability reasonably related to the motor vehicle, the use thereof, or goods or services related to the motor vehicle and which may ordinarily be insured with the motor vehicle; and (2) are written on policies or endorsement forms prescribed or approved by the State Board of Insurance; and (3) are ordinarily available in policies or endorsements offered to the general public. The retail installment contract shall clearly identify the type of coverage for each such type of coverage purchased and the premiums therefor and shall clearly indicate that such coverage is optional.

(3) When insurance is required in connection with such a contract or agreement made under this Chapter, the seller or holder shall furnish the borrower a statement which shall clearly and conspicuously state that insurance is required in connection with the contract, and that the buyer shall have the option of furnishing the required insurance either through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverages through any insurance company authorized to transact business in Texas. In addition when any requested or required insurance is sold or procured by the seller or holder and a premium or rate of charge not fixed or approved by the State Board of Insurance is included in the contract for that insurance, the seller or holder shall include or cause to be included such fact in a written statement delivered or mailed to the buyer, and the buyer shall have the option for a period of ten days from the date of the contract or agreement or the mailing or delivery of the written statement to the buyer of furnishing the required insurance coverage either through existing policies of insurance owned or controlled by him or of procuring and furnishing equivalent insurance coverages through any insurance company authorized to transact business in Texas. Such statement or statements may be made in conjunction with or as part of the retail installment contract required by Article 7.02 or may be made in a separate written statement or statements.

(4) All insurance described in Sections (1) and (2) of this Article for which a separate charge is included in the retail installment contract shall be written at lawful rates and in accordance with the provisions of the Texas Insurance Code by a company authorized to do business in this State.

(5) The retail installment contract must identify the type of coverage, term and amount of premium for such insurance coverages described in Sections (1) and (2) of this Article for which separate charges are included in the retail installment contract.

(6) If dual interest insurance on the motor vehicle is purchased by the seller or seller's assignee, as the case may be, it shall within a reasonable time after execution of the retail installment contract, send or cause to be sent to the buyer a policy, or policies, or certificates of insurance written by an insurance company authorized to do business in this State, clearly setting forth the amount of the premium, the kind or kinds of insurance, the coverage and all the terms, options, limitations, restrictions and conditions of the policy or policies of insurance. The buyer shall have the privilege at the time of execution of the contract of purchasing such insurance from an agent or broker of his own selection and of selecting an insurance company acceptable to the buyer, but in such case the inclusion of the insurance premium in the retail installment contract shall be optional with the seller.

(7)(a) Subsequent to the execution of the retail installment contract, a buyer and holder may agree to add to the unpaid balance of the contract premiums for insurance policies obtained subsequent to the retail installment transaction and covering the motor vehicle or use thereof or goods or services related thereto, including premiums for renewal of policies originally included in the contract. Such policies shall comply with the limitations set out in Sections (1), (2), and (4) above, as applicable.

(b) If the buyer fails to present to the holder reasonable evidence that he or she has obtained or maintained a coverage required by the contract, the holder may but shall not be required to procure substitute insurance coverage, which coverage is substantially equivalent to or more limited than that originally required, and may add the additional premium to the unpaid balance of the contract. The substitute insurance may at the holder's option cover only the interest of the holder or the interest of the holder and the buyer. The substitute insurance shall be written at lawful rates in accordance with the Texas Insurance Code by a company authorized to do business in this State.

(c) If any premium is added to the unpaid balance under this Section, the rate of time price differential previously agreed to in the retail installment contract remains in effect and shall be applied to the new unpaid balance or the contract may be rescheduled in accordance with Article 7.05, without reclassifying the motor vehicle by its year model at the time of the amendment. When any substitute insurance is obtained by the holder when the buyer has failed to obtain or maintain a required coverage, the amendment adding the premium or rescheduling the contract need not be signed by the buyer but the holder shall deliver to the buyer or send to the buyer's last known address as shown by the records of the holder specific written notification of that action.

(8) If the insurance is cancelled, adjusted or terminated for any reason, the refund for unearned insurance premiums received by the seller or the holder shall, at holder's option, be applied to replace required insurance coverages, or be credited to the final maturing installments of the retail installment contract, and the remaining balance of the unearned insurance premiums shall be refunded to the buyer; provided, however, that no cash refund shall be required if the amount thereof is less than One Dollar.

(9) A buyer and seller may agree to include motor vehicle property damage or bodily injury liability insurance, mechanical breakdown insurance, or a warranty or service contract relating to the motor vehicle as a separate charge in a contract for the sale of a motor vehicle. If a charge is added to a contract as provided by this section, the contract shall clearly and conspicuously disclose that fact.

(10) Any gain, advantage to the seller or holder, or any employee, officer, director, agent, general agent, affiliate or associate from such insurance or its provision or sale shall not be considered as an additional charge or further time price differential in connection with any retail installment contract made under this Chapter except as specifically provided herein.

No retail installment contract or retail charge agreement shall:

(1) Provide that the seller or holder may accelerate the maturity of any part or all of the amount owing thereunder unless (a) the buyer is in default on the performance of any of his obligations or (b) the seller or holder in good faith believes that the prospect of payment or performance is impaired;

(2) Contain a power of attorney to confess judgment in this State or an assignment of wages;

(3) Authorize the seller or holder or other person acting on his behalf to enter upon the buyer's premises in violation of Chapter 9, Business & Commerce Code, as amended, or to commit any breach of the peace in the repossession of a motor vehicle;

(4) Provide for a waiver of the buyer's rights of action against the seller or holder or other person acting therefor for any illegal act committed in the collection of payments under the contract or agreement or in the repossession of a motor vehicle;

(5) Contain any provision by which the buyer executes a power of attorney appointing the seller or holder or other person acting on his behalf, as the buyer's agent in the repossession of a motor vehicle;

(6) Provide that the buyer agrees not to assert against the seller or holder of any claim or defense arising out of the sale;

(7) Contain an authorization for the seller or holder or any person acting on the seller's or holder's behalf to retain or dispose of other tangible personal property that is not subject to a security interest and that is acquired in the repossession of a motor vehicle, except property attached to the vehicle, unless the contract or a separate writing requires the seller or holder to send written notice of such an acquisition to the last known address of the buyer as shown by the records of the holder within fifteen days of the discovery of the personal property by the seller or holder. Such notice shall disclose to the buyer:

(a) that the buyer may identify and claim the property at a reasonable time before the end of the thirtieth day after the day on which the notice was mailed or delivered; and

(b) the location at which and reasonable times at which the buyer may identify and claim the property during that period.

If a contract contains an authorization complying with this Section and such property is not claimed within the thirty days after notice is mailed or delivered, the seller or holder may retain such property subject to any legal rights of buyer or dispose of such property in a reasonable manner and distribute any proceeds of such disposition according to applicable law.

Art. 5069-7.09. Application

None of the provisions of this Chapter shall affect or apply to any loans or to the business of making loans under or in accordance with the laws of this State, nor shall any of the provisions of the loan or interest statutes of this State affect or apply to any retail installment transaction. Nor shall any seller pay, promise to pay, or otherwise tender cash to any buyer as a part of any transaction made pursuant to this Chapter unless otherwise specifically authorized by this Chapter. Nothing in this Chapter shall be

CHAPTER EIGHT. PENALTIES

Art. 5069–8.01. Contracting For, Charging or Receiving Interest, Time Price Differential or Other Charges Greater Than Authorized; Failure to Perform Duty or Committing Prohibited Act; Correction of Violations

(a) Any person who violates this Subtitle by contracting for, charging or receiving interest, time price differential or other charges which are greater than the amount authorized by this Subtitle, shall forfeit to the obligor twice the amount of interest or time price differential and default and deferment charges contracted for, charged, or received, and reasonable attorneys' fees fixed by the court.

(b) Any person who violates this Subtitle or Chapter 14 of this Title by

(i) failing to perform any duty or requirement specifically imposed on him by any provision of this Subtitle or Chapter 14 of this Title, or by

(ii) committing any act or practice prohibited by this Subtitle or Chapter 14 of this Title, shall be liable to the obligor for a penalty in an amount equal to twice the time price differential or interest contracted for, charged, or received but not to exceed $2,000 in a transaction in which the amount financed is in excess of $5,000, or less, and not to exceed $4,000 in a transaction in which the amount financed is in excess of $5,000 and reasonable attorneys' fees fixed by the court.

(c)(1) A person has no liability to an obligor for a violation of this Subtitle or of Chapter 14 of this Title if within 60 days after having actually discovered such violation such person corrects such violation as to such obligor by performing the required duty or act or by refunding any amount in excess of that authorized by law; provided, however, that such person gives written notice to such obligor of such violation prior to such obligor having given written notice of or having filed an action alleging such violation of this Subtitle or of Chapter 14 of this Title.

As used herein, the term "actually discovered" shall not be construed, interpreted, or applied in such manner as to refer to the time or date when, through reasonable diligence, an ordinarily prudent person could or should have discovered or known as a matter of law or fact of the violation in question, but such term shall be construed, interpreted, and applied to refer to the time of the discovery of the violation in fact, provided, however, that the actual discovery of such violation in one transaction may constitute actual discovery of the same violation in other transactions if the violation actually discovered is of such nature that it would necessarily be repeated and would be clearly apparent in such other transactions without the necessity of examining all such other transactions.

(2) A person has no liability to an obligor for a violation of this Subtitle or of Chapter 14 of this Title if prior to the effective date of the Act or within 60 days after the effective date of the Act such person corrects such violation as to such obligor by performing the required duty or act or by refunding any amount in excess of that authorized by law; provided, however, that such person gives written notice to such obligor of such correction prior to such obligor having given written notice of or having filed an action alleging such violation of this Subtitle or of Chapter 14 of this Title.

(3) If, subsequent to the times specified in Article 8.01(c)(1) and (2) of this Act but prior to the obligor having given written notice of or having filed an action alleging a violation for which a penalty is provided in Article 8.01(b) of this Act, such violation is corrected as to such obligor by performing the required duty or act and written notice of such violation is given to such obligor, then the liability of any person to such obligor shall be limited in each transaction to a penalty in an amount equal to the time price differential or interest contracted for, charged, or received but not to exceed $2,000 and reasonable attorneys' fees fixed by the court.

(4) If, subsequent to the times specified in Article 8.01(c)(1) and (2) of this Act but prior to the obligor having given written notice of or having filed an action alleging a violation for which a penalty is provided in Article 8.01(a) of this Act for contracting for, charging, or receiving

(i) other charges in excess of the amount authorized by law, or

(ii) interest or time price differential in excess of the amount authorized by law, where such excess is directly and solely attributable to and calculated upon the amount of such other charges, or

(iii) both of the foregoing, such violation is corrected as to such obligor by refunding the amount of the excess and written notice of such refund is given to such obligor, then the liability of any person to such obligor shall be limited in each transaction to a penalty in an amount equal to the time price differential or interest contracted for, charged, or received but not to exceed $2,000 and reasonable attorneys' fees fixed by the court.

(5) For purposes of this Article the giving of written notice shall be accomplished by and upon the delivery of such notice to the person to whom such notice is directed or to such person's duly authorized agent or attorney of record, such delivery to be made either in person or by United States mail to the address shown on the most recent documents in the transaction. Deposit of such notice as registered or certified mail in a postage paid, properly addressed wrapper in a post office or official depository under the care and custody of the United States Postal Service shall constitute prima facie evidence of the delivery of such notice to such person.

(d) The action of a person who corrects a violation of this Subtitle or of Chapter 14 of this Title pursuant to Article 8.01(e) of this Act shall be effective as to all persons in the same transaction, and such persons shall be entitled to the same protection as that provided by Article 8.01(e) of this Act to the person who makes the correction.

(e) If a person has violated both Articles 8.01(a) and 8.01(b) of this Act as part of the same transaction, then he shall be liable only for the penalties set forth in Article 8.01(a) of this Act.

(f) A person may not be held liable in any action brought under this Article for a violation of this Subtitle or of Chapter 14 of this Title if such person shows by a preponderance of evidence that (1) the violation was not intentional and resulted from a bona fide error notwithstanding the maintenance of procedures reasonably adopted to avoid such violation or that (2) the violation was an act done or omitted in good faith in conformity with any rule, regulation, or interpretation of this Title by any state agency, board, or commission, or with the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C. Section 1601 et seq.) or with any rule, regulation, or interpretation thereof by any federal agency, board, or commission, notwithstanding that after such act or omission has occurred, such rule, regulation, or interpretation is amended, rescinded, or determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

(g) Multiple violations of this Subtitle or Chapter 14 of this Title occurring in a single transaction shall entitle the obligor to a single recovery.

(h) The liability of any person under this Article for a violation of this Subtitle is in lieu of and not in addition to his liability under the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C. Section 1601 et seq.). A final judgment granting or denying relief under the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C. Section 1601 et seq.) shall bar any subsequent action under this Article by the same obligor with respect to the same violation. If a final judgment has been rendered against any person in favor of an obligor pursuant to this Article and thereafter an action is instituted with respect to the same violation by the obligor under the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U.S.C. Section 1601 et seq.) against the same person, then such person may in the same or in an independent action have a cause of action against the obligor who obtained such judgment to recover the amount of the judgment rendered under this Article and reasonable attorneys' fees fixed by the court.

Section 2 of the 1977 amendatory act added subsec. (l) to art. 5069-14.19; 1977, 65th Leg., p. 228, ch. 111, § 5 thereof provided:

"Sec. 5. If any provision, paragraph, subsection, or section of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is determined to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other application thereof which can be given effect without the invalid or unconstitutional provision or application, and to this end the provisions, paragraphs, subsections, and sections of the Act are severable."

Art. 5069-4.02. Contracting For, Charging or Receiving Interest, Time Price Differential or Other Charges in Excess of Double the Amount Authorized

Any person who violates this Subtitle by contracting for, charging or receiving interest, time price differential or other charges which are in the aggregate in excess of double the total amount of interest, time price differential and other charges authorized by this Subtitle shall forfeit to the obligor as an additional penalty all principal or principal balance, as well as all interest or time price differential, and all other charges, and shall pay reasonable attorneys' fees actually incurred by the obligor in enforcing the provisions of this Article, provided further that any such person violating provisions of this Article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than One Hundred Dollars. Each contract or transaction in violation of this Article shall constitute a separate offense punishable hereunder.

Art. 5069-8.03. Engaging in Lending Business Without License

In addition to the foregoing penalties, if applicable, any person engaging in any business under the scope of Chapters 3, 4, or 5 of this Subtitle without... first securing a license provided, or without the authorization prescribed, in such Chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine of not more than One Thousand Dollars, and each such loan made without the authority granted by such license shall constitute a separate offense punishable hereunder; and in addition such person shall forfeit all principal and charges contracted for or collected on each such loan, and shall pay reasonable attorneys’ fees incurred by the obligor.

Art. 5069–8.04. Venue and Limitation Periods

(a) Actions under this Chapter may be brought in the county where the transaction was entered into or where the Defendant resides at the time the action was filed. Such actions may be brought within four years from the date of the loan or retail installment transaction or within two years from the date of the occurrence of the violation, whichever is later; provided, however, that in the case of open-end credit transactions, such actions may be brought within two years from the date of the occurrence of the violation.

(b) If an action alleging any violation or violations of this Subtitle or Chapter 14 of this Title is brought as a class action and is determined by the court to be maintainable as a class action, the court may recover the amount of actual damages proximately caused to the members of the class as a result of a violation or violations. The court may assess a penalty of: (i) such amount for each obligor who is named as a class representative at the time that the action is determined to be maintainable as a class action as could be recovered by such persons under this Chapter; (ii) such amount as the court may allow for all other class members, except as to each such member of the class no minimum recovery shall be applicable, and the total recovery under this subparagraph in any class action or series of class actions arising out of the same failure to comply by the same person shall not be more than the lesser of $100,000 or five percent of the net worth of the person; and (iii) in the case of any successful action to enforce the foregoing liability, the costs of the action together with a reasonable attorney’s fee as determined by the court. In determining the amount of award in any class action, the court shall consider, among other relevant factors, the amount of any actual damages awarded, the frequency and persistence of failures of compliance by the creditor, the resources of the creditor, the number of persons adversely affected, and the extent to which the creditor’s failure of compliance was intentional or reckless.

'Repealed.'
(5) “Home solicitation transaction” means a consumer transaction:

(A) for the purchase of goods, other than farm equipment, and insurance sales regulated by the State Board of Insurance, or services, payable in installments or in cash where the consideration exceeds $25, in which the merchant or person acting for him engages in a personal solicitation of the sale to the consumer at a residence and the consumer's agreement or offer to purchase is given at the residence to the merchant or person acting for him, but it does not include a sale made pursuant to a preexisting revolving charge account or retail charge agreement, or a sale made pursuant to prior negotiations between the parties at a business establishment at a fixed location where goods or services are offered or exhibited for sale; or

(B) for the purchase of realty, payable in installments or in cash where the consideration exceeds $100 in which the merchant or person acting for him engages in a solicitation of the sale to the consumer at the residence of the consumer and the consumer’s agreement or offer to purchase is given at the residence of the consumer; but it does not include a sale of realty in which transaction the purchaser is represented by a licensed attorney or in which the transaction is being negotiated by a licensed real estate broker or in which the transaction is being negotiated by the person who owns the realty not at the residence of the consumer.

(1) exercise the state's police power to ensure a sound system of making pawn loans and acquiring and disposing of tangible personal property by and through pawnshops and to prevent unlawful property transactions, particularly in stolen property, through licensing and regulating pawnbrokers and certain persons employed by or in pawnshops;
(2) provide for licensing fees, investigation fees, and minimum capital requirements of licensees;
(3) ensure financial responsibility to the state and the public;

If the pawnshop is a corporation, the capital investment consists of common or preferred shares and capital or earned surplus as those terms are defined by the Texas Business Corporation Act, as amended; if it is any other form of business entity, the capital investment consists of a substantial equivalent of that of a corporation and is determined by generally accepted accounting principles.

(b) A pawnbroker may not employ an individual for the purpose of writing pawn transactions after the 30-day grace period for filing an application for a pawnshop employee license unless the person:

(2) proof of general liability and fire insurance coverage if and as required by the Commissioner; and

(3) an annual fee of $100.

The aggregate liability of such surety shall not exceed the amount stated in the bond. The said bond shall run to the State for the use of the State and of any person or persons who may have a cause of action against the obligor under the provisions of this Act. Such bond shall be conditioned that the obligor will comply with all rules and regulations lawfully made by the Commissioner hereunder, and will pay to the State and to any such person or persons any and all amounts of money that may become due or owing to the State or to such person or persons from said obligor under and by virtue of the provisions of this Act during the time such bond is in effect.

(a) When an application and the required fees are received, the Commissioner shall investigate the facts and shall notify the Department of Public Safety and all local law enforcement agencies in the county in which the business is to be conducted that the application has been filed. In the notice, the Commissioner shall state the names and addresses of the persons that are required to be listed on the license application under Subsection (a) of Section 4 of this Act. The Commissioner shall give those law enforcement agencies a reasonable time to respond with information concerning those persons or with any other relevant information.

The investigation fee shall be retained by the Commissioner, but the annual fee shall be returned to the applicant in the event of denial.

(d) The Commissioner shall grant or deny each application for a license within sixty days from its filing with the required fees, or, from the hearing thereon, if any, unless the period is extended by written agreement between the applicant and the Commissioner.

(e) If a license is granted pursuant to an application filed after June 30 of any year, the annual license fee for the remainder of that year is $50 and the Commissioner shall return to the applicant the balance of the annual fee filed with the application.

If a license is denied, the Commissioner shall retain the investigation fee but shall return the annual license fee to the applicant.

(f) Any license issued to a pawnshop before October 1, 1981, remains valid as long as the licensee complies with this Act.

(g) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this Act, the Commissioner may issue a temporary license authorizing the operation of a pawnshop on the receipt of an application to transfer a license from one person to another or on the receipt of an application for a license involving principals and owners that are substantially identical to those of an existing licensed pawnshop. The temporary license is effective until the permanent license is issued or denied.

Art. 5069-51.06. Effect of License; Annual Fee; Statutory Agent; Minimum Assets

(a) Each license shall state the name of the licensee and the address at which the business is to be conducted. The license shall be displayed at the place of business named in the license. The license shall not be transferable or assignable except upon approval by the Commissioner.

(b) When a licensee wishes to move a pawnshop to another location, the licensee must give thirty days' written notice to the Commissioner, who shall amend the license accordingly.

(c) Each licensee shall maintain on file with the Commissioner a written appointment of a resident of this state as his agent for service of all judicial or other process or legal notice unless the licensee has appointed an agent under another statute of this state. In case of noncompliance, the service may be made on the Commissioner.

(d) Each licensee shall maintain net assets either used or readily available for use in the conduct of the business of each licensed pawnshop in the amount of $75,000, as determined by using the definition of net assets prescribed by this Act; provided, however,

(1) as to licenses in force on the effective date of this Act, the then applicable net assets requirement shall continue to apply to such license until there is a change of ownership of the licensed business; and

(2) as to license applications pending on the effective date of this Act, the net assets requirement shall be $25,000, as determined by the definition and policy of the Commissioner in force at the time the application was filed, and shall remain $25,000 until there is a change of ownership of the licensed business.

(e) Each license shall remain in full force and effect until relinquished, suspended, revoked or expired. Every licensee, on or before each December 1st, shall pay the Commissioner $100 for each license held by him as the annual fee for the succeeding calendar year. If the annual fee remains unpaid fifteen days after written notice of delinquency has been given to the licensee by the Commissioner, the license shall thereupon expire, but not before December 31st of any year for which an annual fee has been paid.

Art. 5069-51.07. Revocation, Suspension, Surrender, Reinstatement of Licenses

(a) The Commissioner may, after notice and hearing, suspend or revoke any license if he finds that:

(1) The licensee has failed to pay any fee or charge properly imposed by the Commissioner under the authority of this Act;

(2) The licensee, either knowingly or without the exercise of due care to prevent the same, has violated any provision of this Act or any regulation or order lawfully made pursuant to and within the authority of this Act;

(3) Any fact or condition exists which, if it has existed or had been known to exist at the time of the original application for such license, clearly would have justified the Commissioner in refusing to issue such license;

(4) The licensee has established an association with an unlicensed person who, with the knowledge of the licensee, has acted in violation of this Act;

(5) The licensee has aided, abetted, or conspired with a person to circumvent the requirements of this Act; or

(6) The licensee or a legal or beneficial owner of the licensee is not of good moral character or has been convicted of theft, fraud, forgery, or any crime involving moral turpitude.

Art. 5069-51.07A. Employee License; Eligibility; Application

(a) To be eligible for a pawnshop employee license an individual must be of good business repute and must not have been convicted of or be under indictment for theft, fraud, forgery, or any crime involving moral turpitude.

(b) An individual who begins employment at a licensed pawnshop must file an application with the commissioner for a pawnshop employee license within 30 days after the day employment begins. The application must state:

(1) the applicant's name and address;

(2) the name of the pawnshop at which the applicant is employed;

(3) whether the applicant has been convicted of or is under indictment for theft, fraud, forgery, or any crime involving moral turpitude;

(4) whether the applicant has had a license to engage in any occupation, business, or profession revoked or suspended and the reason for the action;

(5) whether the applicant has been refused a pawnshop employee license or any other occupational, business, or professional license in this or any other state;
(6) the business or occupation engaged in by the applicant for five years immediately preceding the date of application; and

(7) other relevant information that the commissioner requires.

c) The application for an employee license must be accompanied by an investigation and annual fee of $25.

d) Any individual employed at a licensed pawnshop on October 1, 1981, must file an application accompanied by an investigation and annual fee of $10 with the commissioner before December 1, 1981.

Art. 5069-51.07B. Issuance or Denial of an Employee License; Fee

(a) If the application for a pawnshop employee license is timely made, the applicant may continue employment until the license is granted or denied. The commissioner shall determine whether the applicant is qualified for a license within 60 days after the date the application is filed. If the commissioner finds that an applicant is qualified for a license, the commissioner shall issue a license. Otherwise, the commissioner shall notify the applicant and the employing pawnbroker in writing that the application will be denied unless the applicant, not later than the 30th day after the date of the notice, makes a written request for a hearing on the application.

(b) If an applicant who is given notice of his opportunity for a hearing does not request a hearing within the time allowed, the application is denied on the day after the last day for requesting a hearing. If the applicant requests a hearing within the time allowed, the commissioner shall conduct a hearing on the application in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes). On the conclusion of the hearing, the commissioner shall either grant or deny the application.

c) A pawnshop employee license is effective until surrendered, suspended, revoked, or expired. On or before December 1, a licensee shall pay the commissioner a $10 annual fee to renew the license for the succeeding calendar year. The commissioner shall send a written notice of delinquency to the licensee if the licensee does not pay the fee on or before December 1. The licensee has 15 days after the date of the delinquency notice to pay the annual fee. If the licensee does not pay the fee within this period, the license expires on January 1 of the year for which the renewal fee was not paid or on the 16th day after the date of the delinquency notice, whichever date is later.

Art. 5069-51.07C. Suspension, Revocation, Surrender, or Reinstatement of Employee License

(a) The commissioner may, after notice and hearing, suspend or revoke a pawnshop employee license if the commissioner finds that:

(1) the licensee knowingly or recklessly violated a provision of this Act or a rule or order issued under this Act; or

(2) a fact or condition exists that, if it had existed or had been known to exist at the time of the original application, clearly would have justified the refusal to issue the license.

(b) The commissioner shall send written notice of the hearing to the licensee and the employing pawnbroker licensee and shall hold the hearing not less than 20 days after the day the notice was sent. The commissioner shall conduct the hearing in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

c) A licensed employee may surrender his license by delivering it to the commissioner with written notice of the surrender. The surrender does not affect the licensee’s civil or criminal liability for acts committed before the surrender.

d) The commissioner may reinstate a suspended license or issue a new license to an individual whose license has been revoked if no fact or condition exists that clearly would have justified the refusal to issue the license under this Act.

e) On application and payment of the cost, the commissioner shall furnish, under the commissioner’s seal and signature, a certificate of good standing and a certified copy of a pawnshop employee license.

Art. 5069-51.07D. Expiration Dates of Licenses

The commissioner by rule may adopt a system under which the licenses issued under this Act expire on various dates during the year. For the year in which the expiration date is changed, license fees payable on the date of issuance shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee that is applicable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license fee is payable.

Art. 5069-51.08. Examinations

(a) At such times as the Commissioner may deem necessary, the Commissioner, or his duly authorized representative, may make an examination of the place of business of each licensee and may inquire into and examine the transactions, books, accounts, papers, correspondence and records at such licensee insofar as they pertain to the business regulated by

This Act. Such books, accounts, papers, correspondence and records shall also be open for inspection at any reasonable time by any peace officer, without need of judicial writ or other process. In the course of an examination, the Commissioner or his duly authorized representative shall have free access to the office, place of business, files, safes, and vaults of such licensee, and shall have the right to make copies of any books, accounts, papers, correspondence and records. The Commissioner or his duly authorized representative may, during the course of such examination, administer oaths and examine any person under oath upon any subject pertinent to any matter about which the Commissioner is authorized or required by this Act to consider, investigate, or secure information. Any licensee who fails or refuses to let the Commissioner or his duly authorized representative or any peace officer examine or make copies of such books, or other relevant documents shall thereby be deemed in violation of this Act and such failure or refusal shall constitute grounds for the suspension or revocation of such license. The information obtained in the course of any examination or inspection shall be confidential and privileged, except for use in a criminal investigation or prosecution. Each licensee shall pay to the Commissioner an amount assessed by the Commissioner to cover the direct and indirect cost of such examinations and a proportionate share of general administrative expense, not to exceed $500 in any calendar year, and in the event a licensee hereunder is also licensed to do business under Chapter 3, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–3.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), in the same place of business licensed hereunder, the aggregate charges for examinations authorized by the said Chapter 3, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–3.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and by this Act shall not exceed $500 in any calendar year.

(b) If the Commissioner questions the net assets requirement of a licensed pawnshop, the Commissioner may require certification by an independent certified public accountant that the accountant has reviewed a licensee's books, records, and transactions during the reporting year, that the books and records are maintained using generally accepted accounting principles, and that the licensee fulfills the net assets requirement of this Act.

Art. 5069–51.12A. Bracket and Ceiling Adjustment

The dollar amounts of the brackets establishing rates of charge, and the ceilings on the size of transactions that are subject to this Chapter, are subject to adjustment from time to time under Article 2.08 of this Title.

Sections 27 and 28 of the 1981 Act adding this article provide:

"Sec. 27. This Act shall be applicable to all claims of forfeiture made after the effective date of this Act but, with respect to claims of forfeiture in litigation pending at such effective date, the amount forfeited shall be determined under the provisions of the law as it existed prior to the effective date of this Act."

"Sec. 28. If any provision of this Act is held to be unconstitutional, no liability or forfeiture shall attach under Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–1.01 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or any other law of this state to any person conforming his conduct to the applicable provisions of this Act. If any provision of this Act under which a rate or amount is determined or made available is determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential on contracts, including those for open-end accounts that would be subject to such a provision if it were constitutional is 24 percent a year except that in the case of contracts subject to Section 1(b) (2), Article 1.04, Title 79, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended (Article 5069–3.04, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as amended by this Act, the maximum rate of interest or time price differential is 28 percent a year."

Art. 5069–51.16. Prohibited Practices

A pawnbroker shall not:

(a) Accept a pledge from a person under the age of eighteen years.

(b) Make any agreement requiring the personal liability of a pledgor in connection with a pawn transaction.

(c) Accept any waiver, in writing or otherwise, of any right or protection accorded a pledgor under this Act.

(d) Fail to exercise reasonable care to protect pledged goods from loss or damage.

(e) Fail to return pledged goods to a pledgor upon payment of the full amount due the pawnbroker on the pawn transaction. In the event such pledged goods are lost or damaged while in the possession of the pawnbroker it shall be the responsibility of the pawnbroker to replace the lost or damaged goods with like kind(s) of merchandise. All such replacements are subject to the approval or rejection of the Commissioner.

(f) Make any charge for insurance in connection with a pawn transaction.

(g) Enter any pawn transaction which has a maturity date more than one month after the date of the transaction.

(h) Display for sale in storefront windows or sidewalk display case so that same may be viewed from the street, any pistol, dirk, dagger, blackjack, hand chain, sword cane, knuckles made of any metal or any hard substance, switchblade knife, springblade knife, or throwblade knife, or depict same on any sign or advertisement which may be viewed from the street.

Art. 5069–51.17 Penalties and Administrative Enforcement

(a) Any person who engages in the business of operating a pawnshop without first securing the license prescribed by this Act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not in excess of $10,000 or by confinement in the County Jail for not more than one year, or both. Any person who accepts employment at a pawnshop writing pawn loan transactions and does not timely file an application for an employee license or any person who continues employment at a pawnshop after his employee license application has been denied or after his employee license has expired or has been revoked, suspended, or surrendered commits a Class B misdemeanor.

(f) When the commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that a person is violating any provision of this Act, the commissioner, in addition to and without prejudice to the authority provided elsewhere in this Act, may enter an order requiring the person to stop or to refrain from the violation. At the request of the commissioner, the attorney general or an attorney authorized to respect the state in the district court shall sue in any district court of the state having jurisdiction and venue to enjoin the person from engaging in or continuing the violation or from doing any act in furtherance of the violation. In such an action, the court may enter an order or judgment awarding a preliminary or permanent injunction.

Art. 5069-51.17 A. Records Supplied by Department of Public Safety

The Department of Public Safety on request shall supply to the Consumer Credit Commissioner any available arrest and conviction records of an individual applying for or holding a license under this Act.

Art. 5115. Jails Provided

The Commissioners Court shall provide safe and suitable jails for their respective counties, and shall cause the same to be maintained in good sanitary condition at all times, properly ventilated, heated and lighted; structurally sound, fire resistant and kept in good repair. Furthermore, they shall cause the jails in their respective counties to be kept in a clean and healthy condition, provided with water of safe quality and ample quantity and sewer disposal facilities in accordance with good sanitary standards, and provided with clean, comfortable mattresses and blankets, sufficient for the comfort of the prisoners, and that food is prepared and served in a palatable and sanitary manner and according to good dietary practices and of a quality to maintain good health. Such jails shall comply with the provisions of this Act and with the rules and procedures of the Commission on Jail Standards.

SUITABLE SEGREGATION

The term “safe and suitable jails,” as used in this Act, shall be construed to mean jails which provide adequate segregation facilities by having separate enclosures, formed by solid masonry or solid metal walls, or solid walls of other comparable material, separating witnesses from all classifications of prisoners; and males from females; and juveniles from adults; and first offenders, awaiting trial, from all classifications of convicted prisoners; and prisoners with communicable or contagious diseases from all other classifications of prisoners. Furthermore, the term “safe and suitable” jails shall be construed to mean jails either now or hereafter constructed, except that, in lieu of maintaining its own jail, any county whose population is not large enough to justify building a new jail or remodeling its old jail shall be exempt from the provisions of this Act by contracting with the nearest available county whose jail meets the requirements set forth in this Act for the incarceration of its prisoners at a daily per capita rate equal to the cost of maintaining prisoners in said jail, or at a daily rate mutually agreed to by the contracting counties.

No person suspected of insanity, or who has been legally adjudged insane, shall be housed or held in a jail, except that such a person who demonstrates homicidal tendencies, and who must be restrained from committing acts of violence against other persons, may be held in a jail for a period of time not to exceed a total of twenty-four (24) hours, during which period he shall be kept under observation continuously. At the end of the twenty-four (24) hour period, such person shall be released or taken to a hospital or mental hospital. Furthermore, for such temporary holding of each person suspected of insanity, or who has been legally adjudged insane, there shall be provided a special enclosure or room, not less than forty (40) square feet and having a ceiling height of not less than eight (8) feet above the floor. Furthermore, the floor and the walls of such enclosure shall be provided with a soft covering designed to protect a violent person, temporarily held therein, from self-injury or destruction. One hammock, not less than two (2) feet, three (3) inches wide and six (6) feet, three (3) inches long, made of elastic or fibrous material shall be provided in each such special enclosure.

SUITABLE SECURITY AND SAFETY

For the purpose of this Act, the term “safe and suitable jails” is further defined to mean jails which provide adequate security and safety facilities by having separate cells or compartments, dormitories, and day rooms, of varying dimensions and capacities for prisoners confined therein, except that, if practicable, no one such cell or compartment shall be designed for confining two (2) prisoners only. Cells or compartments shall be designed to accommodate from one (1) to eight (8) prisoners each, and furthermore, such dormitories and day rooms shall be designed to accommodate not more than twenty-four (24) prisoners each. Furthermore, in each such jail there shall be provided individual one-man or one-woman cells to accommodate not less than thirty per cent (30%) of the total designated prisoner capacity of the jail and dormitory-type space may be provided to accommodate not more than forty per cent (40%) of the total designated prisoner capacity of the jail. All cells, compartments and dormitories for sleeping purposes, where each such cell, compartment or dormitory is designed to accommodate three (3) or more prisoners, shall be accessible to a day room to which prisoners may be given access during the day. Cells for one (1) prisoner only shall have a minimum floor area of forty (40) square feet and all other cells, compartments, dormitories and day rooms (including safety vestibule area) shall have a minimum floor area equal to eighteen (18) square feet for each prisoner to be confined therein. The ceiling height above finished floor shall be not less than eight (8) feet for any cell, compartment, dormitory or day room where prisoners are confined.

The term "safe and suitable jails," as used in this Act, is further defined to mean that, for reasons of safety to officers and security, the entrance and/or exit to each group of enclosures forming a cell block or group of cells and/or compartments used for the confinement of three (3) or more prisoners shall be through a safety vestibule having one (1) or more interior doors in addition to the main outside entrance door to such cell block, all arranged to be locked, unlocked, opened or closed by control means located outside of any such enclosure or cell block.

SUITABLE SANITATION AND HEALTH

The term "safe and suitable jails" is further defined to mean jails which provide adequate facilities for maintaining proper standards in sanitation and health. Each cell designed for one (1) prisoner only shall be provided with a water closet and a combination lavatory and drinking fountain, table and seat. Each cell, compartment or dormitory designed for three (3) or more prisoners, shall be provided with one (1) water closet and one (1) combination lavatory and drinking fountain for each twelve (12) prisoners or fraction thereof to be confined therein. Furthermore, all such cells, compartments and dormitories shall be provided with one (1) bunk, not less in size than two (2) feet, three (3) inches wide and six (6) feet, three (3) inches long, for each prisoner to be confined therein. Furthermore, each day room for the confinement of three (3) or more prisoners shall be provided with one (1) water closet, one (1) combination lavatory and drinking fountain and one (1) shower bath for each twelve (12) prisoners, or fraction thereof, to be confined therein. Furthermore, each day room shall be otherwise suitably furnished.

The provision of this Act, as amended, shall become applicable to all jails upon its effective date. The standards prescribed by this Act are minimum standards only. The provisions of this Act are enforceable by the Commission on Jail Standards. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 1283, ch. 480, § 15, eff. June 19, 1975.]

1 Article 5429k.

Membership—Appointment, Terms, Vacancies

Sec. 4. (a) The commission consists of nine members appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. Two members shall be county sheriffs, one from a county with a population of over 200,000 persons and one from a county with a population of 200,000 or less, according to the latest United States census. One member shall be a county judge; one shall be a practitioner of medicine licensed by the State Board of Medical Examiners; the other five positions shall be filled by citizens of the state who hold no public office. The sheriffs and the county judge appointed to the commission shall perform the duties of a member of the commission in addition to their other duties.

(b) Except as provided by Subsection (c) of this section, members are appointed for a term of six years expiring on January 31 of an odd-numbered year.

(c) For terms that begin within 60 days after the effective date of this Act, the governor shall appoint:

(1) three members for terms that expire on January 31, 1981;

(2) three members for terms that expire on January 31, 1979; and

(3) three members for terms that expire on January 31, 1977.

(d) If a sheriff or county judge on the commission ceases to hold office or if a vacancy otherwise occurs in the membership of the commission, the governor shall appoint a replacement who possesses the same qualifications as the member who vacated his position, with the advice and consent of the senate, to serve the unexpired portion of the term. If a vacan-
The executive director is subject to the policy direction of the commission and is the chief executive as necessary to enforce and administer this Act.

Meetings; Quorum; Rules

Sec. 6. (a) The commission shall hold a regular meeting each calendar quarter and may hold special meetings at the call of the chairman or on the written request of three members. The chairman, or in his absence, the vice-chairman, shall preside at all meetings of the commission.

(b) Five members constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

c) The commission shall adopt, amend, and rescind rules for the conduct of its proceedings.

Expenses

Sec. 7. Members of the commission are not entitled to compensation but are entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred in performing their official duties.

Director; Staff

Sec. 8. (a) The commission shall employ an executive director to serve at the will of the commission. The executive director is subject to the policy direction of the commission and is the chief executive officer of the commission.

(b) The executive director may employ personnel as necessary to enforce and administer this Act.

c) The executive director and employees are entitled to compensation and expenses as provided by legislative appropriation.

Duties of the Commission

Sec. 9. (a) The commission shall:

(1) promulgate reasonable rules and procedures establishing minimum standards for the construction, equipment, maintenance, and operation of county jails;

(2) promulgate reasonable rules and procedures establishing minimum standards for the custody, care, and treatment of prisoners;

(3) promulgate reasonable rules establishing minimum standards for the number of jail supervisory personnel and for programs and services to meet the needs of prisoners;

(4) promulgate reasonable rules and procedures establishing minimum requirements for programs of rehabilitation, education, and recreation in county jails;

(5) revise, amend, or change rules and procedures if necessary, in a manner not inconsistent with this Act;

(6) provide consultation and technical assistance to local government officials with respect to county jails;

(7) review and comment on plans for the construction and major modification or renovation of county jails;

(8) require that the sheriff and commissioners of each county submit to the commission, on a form prescribed by the commission, an annual report on the conditions in each county jail within their jurisdiction, including all information necessary to determine compliance with state law, commission orders, and the rules promulgated under this Act;

(9) review the reports submitted under Subdivision (8) of this subsection and require its employees to inspect county jails regularly to insure compliance with state law, commission orders, and rules and procedures promulgated under this Act; and

(10) determine annually, or more often, whether each county jail is in compliance with the rules and procedures promulgated under this Act.

(b) The fact that compliance with a commission rule or procedure requires major modification or renovation of an existing jail or construction of a new jail does not render a commission rule or procedure unreasonable.

Annual Report

Sec. 10. The commission shall make a report to the governor, the lieutenant governor, and the speaker of the house of representatives, not later than January 31 of each year, covering its operations, its findings concerning county jails during the preceding year, and whatever recommendations it deems appropriate.

Enforcement of Jail Standards

Sec. 11. (a) The commission shall be granted access at any reasonable time to any county jail facility or part of any county jail facility and shall be granted access to all books, records, and data pertaining to any county jail which the commission or the executive director deems necessary for the administration of the commission's functions, powers, and duties. The commissioners and sheriff of each county shall furnish the commission or any of its members, or the executive director or any employee designated by the executive director, any information which he states is necessary to enable the commission to discharge its functions, powers, and duties, to determine whether its rules are being observed or whether its orders are being obeyed and otherwise to implement the purposes of this Act. In the exercise of its function, powers, and duties, the commission may issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, records, and documents, administer oaths, and take testimony concerning all matters within its jurisdiction. The commission is not bound by strict rules of evidence or procedure in the conduct of its proceedings, but its determinations shall be founded on sufficient legal evidence to sustain them. The commission may delegate to the executive director the authority conferred by this subsection.

(b) When the commission finds that a county jail is not in compliance with state law, or the rules and procedures of the commission, or fails to meet the minimum standards prescribed by the commission or by state law, it shall report the noncompliance to the commissioners and sheriff of the county responsible for the jail that is not in compliance. The commission shall send a copy of the report to the governor.

(c) The commission shall grant the county or sheriff a reasonable time, not to exceed one year after a report of noncompliance, to comply with its rules and procedures and with state law. On application of the sheriff or commissioners of a county, if clearly justified by the facts and circumstances, the commission may grant reasonable variances for operation of county jails not in strict compliance with state law, except that no variance may be granted to permit unhealthy, unsanitary, or unsafe conditions.

(d) If the commissioners or sheriff does not comply within the time granted by the commission, the commission may, by order, prohibit the confinement of prisoners in the noncomplying jail and designate another detention facility for their confinement. If a prohibition and transfer order is issued, the sheriff of the county in which the noncomplying jail is situated shall immediately transfer all prisoners to the detention facility specified by the commission.

(e) The county responsible for a nonconforming jail shall bear the cost of transportation and maintenance of prisoners transferred from a noncomplying jail by order of the commission. The costs of transportation and maintenance shall be determined by the commission and shall be paid into the treasury of the entity operating the detention facility to which the prisoners are transferred.

(f) The commission, in lieu of closing a county jail, may institute an action in its own name to enforce, or enjoin the violation of, its orders, rules, or procedures, or of Article 5115, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended. The commission shall be represented by the attorney general. An action brought pursuant to this subsection is in addition to any other action, proceeding, or remedy provided by law, and may be brought in a district court of Travis County. A suit brought under this subsection shall be given preferential setting and shall be tried by the court, without a jury. The court shall issue an injunction ordering compliance if it finds:

1. that the county jail is being operated in such a manner that it does not comply with the rules and procedures promulgated by the commission or with state law; and

2. that the commissioners or sheriff has been given a reasonable time to comply with the rules and procedures and has failed to do so.

Judicial Review

Sec. 12. (a) A county may appeal a commission order issued under Subsection (d), Section 11, of this Act by filing a petition in a district court of Travis County.

(b) The petition must be filed within 30 days after the date of the commission's order.

(c) Service of citation on the commission must be accomplished within 30 days after the date the petition is filed. Citation may be served on the executive director.

(d) In an action brought under this section, the court is confined to the record developed by the commission, and the only issues before the court are:

1. whether the order of the commission is based on substantial evidence; and

2. whether the order is arbitrary, capricious, or illegal.

Regulations

Sec. 13. (a) The commission shall promulgate the regulations required by Section 9 of this Act on or before January 1, 1977.

(b) On or before March 1, 1977, the commission shall mail a copy of the regulations promulgated pursuant to Section 9 of this Act to each county sheriff in this state. The chairman shall certify to the governor that the commission has complied with the requirements established by this section.

Qualifications of Jail Personnel

Sec. 14. (a) The Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education shall establish minimum physical, mental, educational, and moral standards for persons employed or utilized in the operation of county jails.

(b) The authority and power of the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education is extended to cover all county jail personnel. The staff of the Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education shall be enlarged sufficiently to discharge the additional responsibilities imposed by this section. Counties shall have a period of one year following establishment of standards for county jail personnel within which to have all jail personnel certified by the Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education.

Art. 5115b. Counties of 84,000 to 86,000; Contracts with Cities for Jails or Jail Facilities

Sec. 1. That any county having a population of not less than 84,000 nor more than 86,000 according to the last preceding federal census, in lieu of providing and maintaining its own jail, is hereby authorized to provide safe and suitable jail, jails or jail facilities for such counties by contracting with the city which is the county seat of any such county, for incarceration of the counties' prisoners in the jail, jails or jail facilities owned by said city or cities, on a daily per capita basis, for the lease of a portion of the jail, jails or jail facilities owned by said city or for joint operation and maintenance of the jail, jails or jail facilities owned and operated by such city for the mutual use and benefit of any such county and city, provided said jail, jails or jail facilities meet the requirements set forth in Chapter 277, Section 1, page 637, Acts 1957, 55th Legislature (Article 5115, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended). The Commissioners Court of any such county and the governing body of any such city are hereby authorized and empowered to enter into contracts for the incarceration of any such county's prisoners at a daily per capita rate equal to the cost of maintaining prisoners in said jail, jails or jail facilities or at a daily rate mutually agreed upon by the contracting counties and cities; contracts for lease of a portion of the jail, jails or jail facilities at a rate based upon the proportion of the total area of the jail, jails or jail facilities that is occupied by such counties' prisoners; and contracts for the joint maintenance and operation of such jail, jails or jail facilities determining the respective obligations of each for the maintenance and operation of any such jail or jails, provided that any such contract for lease or for joint maintenance and operation shall not exceed 20 years. Such contracts where not in conflict with the Constitution of the State of Texas may provide for custody, control and operation of such jail, jails or jail facilities, including providing for a jailer to be custodian of such jail, jails or jail facilities, which said jailer shall be under the control and supervision of the sheriff of such county and shall be appointed by the sheriff with the advice and consent of the Commissioners Court and the governing body of such city; providing that the salary of such jailer shall be in an amount as may be now or hereafter authorized by law for a deputy sheriff of such county; and may be paid by such city or cities and by such counties in such proportions as may be agreed upon by such contracts as herein provided. Where not expressly provided to the contrary herein, any such jailer, his rights, duties, salary and tenure of office shall be controlled by the laws governing deputy sheriffs.

Art. 5115c. Intercounty Cooperation Regarding Furnishing and Operating Jail Facilities

Sec. 1. Two or more counties, acting through their commissioners courts, may contract with one another for the joint operation of a jail to serve the contracting counties. The contract may provide for the construction or acquisition of a facility for this purpose or for the use of an existing facility. The joint facility is not required to be located at the county seat of one of the contracting counties.

Sec. 2. A county that is party to a contract under this Act may use any method of financing its share of the capital expenditures under the contract for acquisition, construction, enlargement, or improvement of the joint facility, including necessary acquisition of land, as would be available to it if the county operated its own jail, including the issuance as provided by law of general obligation bonds or other evidences of indebtedness.

Sec. 3. (a) The administration of a jail operated under this Act is the responsibility of the sheriff of the county where the jail is located unless he declines that responsibility by filing a written statement to that effect with the commissioners court of that county. If the sheriff so declines, the commissioners courts of the contracting counties by joint action shall appoint a jail administrator for the jail.

(b) The sheriff or jail administrator responsible for the administration of the jail has all the powers, duties, and responsibilities with regard to the keeping of prisoners and operation of the jail that are conferred by law on a sheriff in a county that operates its own jail.

(c) Action by a sheriff declining the responsibility for the administration of a jail operated under this Act does not take effect until a jail administrator has been appointed and has assumed his duties. If there is a vacancy in the position of jail administrator, the sheriff of the county where the jail is located is responsible for the administration of the jail until a new jail administrator is appointed and assumes the position.

Art. 5117. Federal Officer May Use Jail

(a) Sheriffs and jailers may receive into their jails such federal prisoners as may be delivered or tendered to them by any federal law enforcement officer, unless the sheriff or jailer determines that to receive the federal prisoners may result in a violation of a state or federal court order or statute or a rule promulgated by the Commission on Jail Standards. The sheriff or jailer shall safely keep such prisoners until they are transferred or until they are discharged by due course of law. The federal law enforcement officer by whose authority such prisoners are received and kept shall be directly and personally liable to the sheriff or jailer for the jail fees and all other expenses of the keeping of such prisoners, such fees and expenses to be estimated according to the laws regulating the same in other cases.

(b) In this article "federal law enforcement officer", has the meaning given by 5 U.S.C. Section 8331(20).

Art. 5118a. Commutation for Good Conduct; Forfeiture of Commutation; Record

In order to encourage county jail discipline, a distinction may be made in the terms of prisoners so as to extend to all such as are orderly, industrious and obedient, comforts and privileges according to their deserts; the reward to be bestowed on prisoners for good conduct shall consist of such relaxation of strict county jail rules, and extension of social privileges as may be consistent with proper discipline. Commutation of time for good conduct, industry and obedience may be granted the inmates of each county jail by the sheriff in charge. A deduction in time not to exceed one (1) day for each day of the original sentence actually served may be made from the term or terms of sentences when no charge of misconduct has been sustained against the prisoner. This Act shall be applicable regardless of whether the judgment of conviction is a fine or jail sentence or a combination of jail sentence and fine; provided, however, that such deduction in time shall not exceed one-third (1/3) of the original sentence as to fines and court costs assessed in the judgment of conviction. A prisoner under two (2) or more cumulative sentences shall be allowed commutation as if they were all one sentence. For such sustained charge of misconduct in violation of any rule known to the prisoner (including escape or attempt to escape) any part or all of the commutation which shall have accrued under this Act in favor of the prisoner to the date of said misconduct may be forfeited and taken away by the sheriff, provided that the sheriff has complied with discipline proceedings as approved by the Texas Commission on Jail Standards. No other time allowance or credits in addition to the commutation of time for good conduct herein provided for may be deducted from the term or terms of sentences. The sheriff shall keep or cause to be kept a conduct record in card or ledger form and a calendar card on each inmate showing all forfeitures of commutation time and the reasons therefor.

Section 4 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2649, ch. 708, provides:

"This Act affects the term of a prisoner serving a sentence in a county jail on the effective date of this Act only to the extent that the sentence is served on or after the effective date of this Act."

Art. 5138d. Establishment of Juvenile Probation Departments in All Counties

(a) “Juvenile probation services” means services performed under the direction of a juvenile court including protective services, prevention of delinquent conduct and conduct indicating a need for supervision, diversion, informal adjustment, foster care, diagnostic, supervision, counseling, correctional, and educational services if provided by or under the direction of a juvenile probation officer in response to orders issued by the juvenile court and also including services provided by juvenile probation departments and related to the operation of juvenile detention facilities.
(b) In all Texas counties, the juvenile board or, if there is none, the juvenile court may, with the advice and consent of the commissioners court, employ and designate the titles and fix the salaries of probation officers and of administrative, supervisory, stenographic, and other clerical personnel who are necessary to provide juvenile probation services according to the standards established by the Texas Juvenile Probation Commission and the needs of the local jurisdiction as determined by the juvenile board or, if there is none, the juvenile court. This determination, if inconsistent with salaries established by laws governing the creation of a juvenile probation department for a particular jurisdiction, supersedes and controls over those statutory provisions.

(c) In Texas counties with insufficient case loads to justify a juvenile probation department, the juvenile board or juvenile judge may contract with the county adult probation department to provide juvenile probation services, or may contract with surrounding counties to form a multicounty juvenile probation department.

Art. 5139E-1. Smith County Juvenile Board

[Sec. 1.] (1) There is established a Juvenile Board in Smith County to be composed of the County Judge of the county, the District Judges of the Judicial Districts therein and the Judge of the Court of Domestic Relations. The County Judge of said county shall be chairman of such Board and its chief administrative officer. The official title of the Board in said county shall be the name of the county followed by the words: “County Juvenile Board.”

(2) Deleted by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1330, ch. 528, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.

(3) As compensation for the added duties hereby imposed upon members of such Juvenile Board, each member thereof may be compensated by an annual salary as determined by the Commissioners Court of the county, payable in 12 equal monthly installments; and such compensation shall be in addition to all other compensation now provided for or allowed the Judges of the Domestic Relations, County, and District Courts by law, and shall be paid out of the general fund of the county.

Sec. 2. (a) The Juvenile Board of Smith County may create a child support office in the district clerk’s office of the county to receive payments for the support of children made under the order of a District Court or other court having jurisdiction of a District Court. The child support office shall receive the payments and shall disburse the funds in the manner the court determines to be for the best interest of the parties involved in each case.

(b) The Juvenile Board may appoint an administrator and such assistants as in its judgment may be necessary for a term of two years and shall determine the duties to be assigned the administrator and his assistants and the salaries of the personnel of the child support office to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the general fund of the county, the child support fund, or other available fund. All claims for expenses of the administrator and his assistants and administrative expenses for operation of the child support office, including all necessary equipment and supplies, shall, before payment, be approved by the Board.

(c) The administrator of the child support office shall make a surety bond in a solvent surety company authorized to make such bonds in Texas, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of his position and further conditioned on his properly accounting for the money entrusted to him. The bond shall be in an amount to be fixed by the County Auditor and subject to approval of the County Auditor. The county shall pay the premiums for the bond out of the general fund, the child support fund, or other available fund.

(d) The child support office shall keep an accurate and complete record of its receipts and disbursements of support payment funds. The record is open to inspection by the public. It is the duty of the County Auditor or other duly authorized person in the county to inspect and examine the records and audit the accounts quarterly and to report his findings and recommendations to the Judges.

(e) A service fee for receiving and disbursing payments, not to exceed $2.50 per month, may be assessed in the discretion of the court against each payor or payee of child support that is ordered by a court to be paid to a child support office. However, if the payor is a member of the armed services and the monthly payments for child support exceed the amount ordered by the court, the recipient (payee) of the support payments shall be the person responsible for paying the service fee into the child support office. The service fee applies to all support payments ordered paid to a child support office after the effective date of this amendment and to all other such payments, even though ordered prior to the effective date of this amendment, when the person ordered to make such payments has defaulted and has been cited for contempt of court. The service fee shall be collected by the child support office from the payor annually in advance and shall be paid to the County Treasurer on the last day of each calendar month, to be kept in a separate account to be known as the child support fund. This fund shall be administered by the Juvenile Board, subject to the approval of the Commissioners Court, for the purpose of assisting in the payment of the salaries and operating expenses of the child support office. The first service fee shall be due on the date the payor of support payments has been ordered by the court to commence payments for child support and thereafter on each succeeding annual anniversary of the original court order for payment. In those instances where the payee is charged with the responsibility of making the service fee payment; the first payment shall be due on the date of receipt of the initial support payment and annually thereafter on the anniversary of the date of the receipt of the first support allotment check so long as the payor is a member of the armed services and so long as support allotment payments exceed the amount of support ordered by the court. Failure or refusal of a person to pay the service fee on time and in the amount ordered by the court shall make that person susceptible to an action of contempt of court. A record shall be kept of all service fees collected and expended. The child support fund is subject to regular audit by the County Auditor or other duly authorized person. Annual reports of receipts and expenditures in this account shall be made to the Commissioners Court.

(3) As compensation for the added duties hereby imposed upon members of such Juvenile Board, each member thereof may be compensated by an annual salary or as determined by the Commissioners Court of the county, payable in 12 equal monthly installments; and such compensation shall be in addition to all other compensation now provided for or allowed the Judges of the Domestic Relations, County, and District Courts by law, and shall be paid out of the general fund of the county.

The judges of the District Courts and Domestic Relations Courts shall determine the duties to be assigned the administrator and his assistants and the salaries of the personnel of the child support office to be paid in equal monthly installments out of the general fund of the county, the child support fund, or other available fund. All claims for expenses of the administrator and his assistants and administrative expenses for operation of the child support office, including all necessary equipment and supplies, shall, before payment, be approved by the judges.

(c) If a child support office serves more than one county, the judges of the District Courts and the Domestic Relations Courts in those counties shall determine the location of the child support office. The powers and duties of the county officials and employees prescribed in this section shall be performed by the officials and employees of the county in which the child support office is located. The counties served by the child support office shall pay the salaries of the personnel, premiums for a bond, and other expenses in accordance with the proportion that the population of each county bears to the total population of all counties served by that office.

(d) Each administrator of a child support office shall make a surety bond in a solvent surety company authorized to make such bonds in Texas, conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of his position and further conditioned on his properly accounting for the money entrusted to him. The bond shall be in an amount to be fixed by the County Auditor and subject to approval of the County Auditor. The county shall pay the premiums for the bond out of the general fund, the child support fund, or other available fund.

(e) Each child support office shall keep an accurate and complete record of its receipts and disbursements of support payment funds. The record is open to inspection by the public. It is the duty of the County Auditor or other duly authorized person in each county with a child support office to inspect and examine the records and audit the accounts quarterly and to report his findings and recommendations to the judges.

(f) A service fee for receiving and disbursing payments, not to exceed $1 per month, shall be assessed each payor or payee of child support who is ordered by a court to pay support to a child support office. However, if the payor is a member of the armed services and so long as support allotment payments exceed the amount ordered by the court, the recipient (payee) of the support payments shall be the person responsible for paying the service fee into the child support office. The service fee applies to all support payments ordered paid to a child support office after the effective date of this amendment and to all other such payments, even though ordered prior to the effective date of this amendment, when the person ordered to make such payments has defaulted and has been cited for contempt of court. The service fee shall be collected by the child support office from the payor annually in advance and shall be paid to the county treasurer on the last day of each calendar month, to be kept in a separate account to be known as the “Child Support Fund.” This fund shall be administered by the judges of the District Courts and Domestic Relations Courts, subject to the approval of the Commissioners Court, for the purpose of assisting in the payment of the salaries and operating expenses of the child support office. The first service fee shall be due on the date the payor of support payments has been ordered by the court to commence payments for child support and thereafter on each succeeding annual anniversary of the original court order for payment. In those instances where the payee is charged with the responsibility of making the service fee payments, the first payment shall be due on the date of receipt of the initial support payment and annually thereafter on the anniversary of the date of the receipt of the first support allotment check so long as the payor is a member of the armed services and so long as support allotment payments exceed the amount of support ordered by the court. Failure or refusal of a person to pay the service fee on time and in the amount ordered by the court shall make that person susceptible to an action of contempt of court. A record shall be kept of all service fees collected and expended. The Child Support Fund is subject to regular audit by the County Auditor or other duly authorized person. Annual reports of receipts and expenditures in this account shall be made to the Commissioners Court.

(e) A restated certificate of incorporation together with a triplicate original of the restated articles of incorporation affixed thereto by the secretary of state shall be delivered to the corporation or its representative and to the governing body of the unit under whose auspices the corporation was created.

(f) Upon the issuance of the restated certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto shall be superseded and the restated articles of incorporation shall be deemed to be articles of incorporation of the corporation.

Sec. 22. Bonds issued under the provisions of this Act shall be deemed not to constitute a debt of the state, of the unit, or of any other political corporation, subdivision, or agency of this state or a pledge of the faith and credit of any of them, but such bonds shall be payable solely from the funds herein provided therefor from revenues. All such revenue bonds shall contain on the face thereof a statement to the effect that neither the state, the unit, nor any political corporation, subdivision, or agency of the state shall be obligated to pay the same or the interest thereon and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the state, the unit, or any other political corporation, subdivision, or agency thereof is pledged to the payment of the principal of or the interest on such bonds. The corporation shall not be authorized to incur financial obligations which cannot be paid from proceeds of the bonds or from revenues realized from the lease or sale of a project or realized from a loan made by the corporation to finance or refinance in whole or in part a project. The corporation when established and created pursuant to the terms of the Act shall be a constituted authority and an instrumentality (within the meaning of those terms in the regulations of the treasury and the rulings of the Internal Revenue Service prescribed and promulgated pursuant to Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended 1) and shall be authorized to act on behalf of the unit under whose auspices it is created for the specific public purpose or purposes authorized by such unit; but the corporation is not intended to be and shall not be a political subdivision or a political corporation within the meaning of the constitution and the laws of the state, including without limitation Article III, Section 52, of the Texas Constitution, and a unit shall never delegate to a corporation any of such unit's attributes of sovereignty, including the power to tax, the power of eminent domain, and the police power.

Sec. 23. (a) The corporation shall have and exercise all of the rights, powers, privileges, authority, and functions given by the general laws of this state to nonprofit corporations incorporated under the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act, as amended (Article 1396-1.01, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes); but to the extent that the provisions of the general laws are in conflict or inconsistent with this Act, this Act prevails. In addition, the corporation shall have the following powers with respect to projects together with all powers incidental thereto or necessary for the performance of those hereinafter stated:

(1) to acquire, whether by construction, devise, purchase, gift, lease, or otherwise or any one or more of such methods and to construct, improve, maintain, equip, and furnish one or more projects located within the state or within the coastal waters of the state and within or partially within the limits of the unit under whose auspices the corporation was created or within the limits of a different unit where the governing body thereof requests the corporation to exercise its powers therein;

(2) to lease to a lessee all or any part of any project for such rentals and upon such terms and conditions as its board of directors may deem advisable and not in conflict with the provisions of this Act;

(3) to sell by installment payments or otherwise and convey all or any part of any project for such purchase price and upon such terms and conditions as its board of directors may deem advisable and not in conflict with the provisions of this Act;

(4) to make secured or unsecured loans for the purpose of providing temporary or permanent financing or refinancing of all or part of the cost of any project, including the refunding of any outstanding obligations, mortgages, or advances issued, made, or given by any person for the cost of a project; and to charge and collect interest on such loans for such loan payments and upon such terms and conditions as its board of directors may deem advisable and not in conflict with the provisions of this Act;

(5) to issue bonds for the purpose of defraying all or part of the cost of any project, to secure the payment of such bonds as provided in this Act, and to sell bonds at a price or prices determined by the board of directors or to exchange bonds for property, labor, services, material, or equipment comprising a project or incidental to the acquisition of a project, and those bonds may bear interest at any rate or rates determined by the board of directors, subject to the limitations set forth in this Act;

(6) as security for the payment of the principal of and interest on any bonds issued and any agreements made in connection therewith, to mortgage and pledge any or all of its projects or any part or parts thereof, whether then owned or thereafter acquired, and to assign any mortgage and repledge any security conveyed to the corporation to secure any loan made by the corporation and to pledge the revenues and receipts therefrom;

(7) to sue and be sued, complain and defend, in its corporate name;

(8) to have a corporate seal and to use the same by causing it or a facsimile thereof to be impressed on, affixed to, or in any manner reproduced upon instruments of any nature required to be executed by its proper officers;

(9) to make and alter bylaws not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with the laws of this state with the approval of the unit under whose auspices the corporation was created by resolution of the governing body for the administration and regulation of the affairs of the corporation;

(10) to cease its corporate activities and terminate its existence by voluntary dissolution as provided herein; and

(11) whether included in the foregoing or not, to have and exercise all powers necessary or appropriate to effect any or all of the purposes for which the corporation is organized which powers shall be subject at all times to the control of the governing body of the unit under whose auspices the corporation was created.

(b) The corporation shall not have the power to own or operate any project as a business other than as lessee, seller, or lender or pursuant to the requirements of any trust agreement securing the credit transaction. Accordingly, the lessee, purchaser, or borrower pursuant to any lease, sale, or loan agreement relating to a project shall be considered to be the owner of the project for the purposes of the application of any ad valorem, sales, and use taxes or any other taxes levied or imposed by this state or any political subdivision of this state. The purchase and holding of mortgages, deeds of trust, or other security interests and contracting for any servicing thereof shall not be deemed the operation of a project.

Leases, Sales, and Loan Agreements; Approval of Bonds and Permit for Offer and Sale of Securities

Sec. 24. (a) The commission shall approve the contents of any lease, sale, or loan agreement made under this Act. The commission shall prescribe rules and regulations setting forth minimum standards for project eligibility and for lease, sale, and loan agreements and guidelines with respect to the business experience, financial resources, and responsibilities of the lessee, purchaser, or borrower under any such agreement, but in no event shall the commission approve any agreement unless it affirmatively finds that the project sought to be financed is in furtherance of the public purposes of this Act. Appeal from any adverse ruling or decision of the commission under this subsection may be made by the corporation to the District Court of Travis County. The substantial evidence rule shall apply. Rules, regulations, and guidelines promulgated by the commission and amendments thereto shall be effective only after they have been filed with the secretary of state.

(b) The corporation may submit a transcript of proceedings in connection with the issuance of the bonds to the commission and request that the commission approve such bonds. On filing a request for the commission’s approval of issuance of the bonds, the corporation shall pay to the commission a nonrefundable filing fee of $1,500. If the commission refuses to approve such bond issue solely on the basis of law, the corporation may seek a writ of mandamus from the Supreme Court, and for this purpose the chairman of the commission shall be considered a state officer as provided in Article 1738, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925.

(c) The commission may delegate to the executive director of the commission the authority to approve a lease, sale, or loan agreement made under this Act or bonds issued by a corporation or any documents submitted as provided herein.

(d) No corporation shall sell or offer for sale any bonds or other securities until a permit authorizing the corporation to offer and sell such securities has been granted by the securities commissioner under the registration provisions of The Securities Act, as amended (Article 581–1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except as the State Securities Board may exempt from registration by rule, regulation, or order. Appeal from any adverse decision of the securities commissioner or the State Securities Board shall be as provided by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The substantial evidence rule shall apply in all such appeals.

(e) The commission by rule shall require corporations to file fee schedules and bond procedures. Bond counsel and financial advisors participating in an issue shall be mutually acceptable to the corporation and the user.

(f) The commission shall adopt rules and regulations governing programs for small businesses receiving loans guaranteed in whole or in part by the Small Business Administration or other federal agencies. The commission may also adopt rules and regulations governing the terms and conditions of loans by a corporation to banks or other lending institutions the proceeds of which are reloaned as permanent or temporary financing of a project.

Bonds and Proceeds of Bonds

Sec. 25. (a) The principal of and the interest on any bonds issued by a corporation shall be payable solely from the funds provided for such payment and from the revenues of the one or more projects for which the bonds were authorized. The bonds of each issue shall be dated, shall bear interest at such rate or rates that are fixed, variable, floating, or otherwise, shall mature at such time or times not exceeding 40 years from their date as may be determined by the board of directors, and may be made redeemable before maturity at the option of the board of directors at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the board of directors of the corporation prior to the issuance of the bonds.

(b) The board of directors shall determine the form of the bonds, including any interest coupons to be attached thereto, and shall fix the denomination or denominations of the bonds and the place or places of payment of principal and interest. In cases where any officer whose signature or a facsimile of whose signature shall appear on any bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds, such signature for all purposes the same as if he had remained in office until such delivery. The bonds may be issued in coupon or in registered form or both as the board of directors of the corporation may determine, and provisions may be made for the registration of any coupon bonds as to the principal alone and also as to both principal and interest and for the reconversion into coupon bonds of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest. The corporation may sell bonds at public or private sale and at an interest rate not to exceed that permitted by the constitution or laws of the state.

(c) The proceeds of the bonds of each issue shall be used for the payment of all or part of the cost of or for the making of a loan in the amount of all or part of the cost of the project or projects for which authorized as defined herein and shall be disbursed in such manner and under such restrictions, if any, provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance of the bonds or in the trust agreement securing the same. Bond proceeds may be used to pay all costs incurred in issuing the bonds, interest on the bonds for such time as may be determined by the board of directors of the corporation, and to establish reserve funds and sinking funds for the bonds. If the proceeds of the bonds of any series issued with respect to the cost of any project shall exceed the cost of the project for which the same shall have been issued, the surplus shall be deposited to the credit of the sinking fund for such bonds or used to purchase bonds in the open market.

(d) Prior to the preparation of definitive bonds, the corporation may under like restrictions issue interim or temporary bonds with or without coupons, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such bonds shall have been executed and are available for delivery. Bonds may be issued and lease, sale, and loan agreements entered into under the provisions of this Act without obtaining the consent or approval of any department, division, commission, board, bureau, or agency of the state except as otherwise provided herein.

(e) The principal of and interest on any bonds issued by the corporation shall be secured by a pledge of the revenues and receipts derived by the corporation from the lease or sale of the project so financed or from the loan made by the corporation with respect to the project so financed or refinanced and may be secured by a mortgage covering all or any part of such project, including any enlargements of and additions to such project thereafter made. The resolution under which the bonds are authorized to be issued and any such mortgage may contain any agreements and provisions respecting the maintenance of the project covered thereby, the fixing and collection of rents, purchase price payments or loan payments, the creation and maintenance of special funds from such revenues and the rights and remedies available in the event of default, all as the board of directors shall deem advisable and not in conflict with the provisions hereof. Each pledge, agreement, and mortgage made for the benefit or security of any of the bonds of the corporation shall continue effective until the principal of and interest on the bonds for the benefit for which the same were made have been fully paid.

(f) No issue of bonds, including refunding bonds, shall be delivered by the corporation without a resolution of the governing body adopted no more than 60 days prior to the date of delivery of the bonds specifically approving the resolution of the corporation providing for the issuance of the bonds.

(g) Bonds issued under this Act, and coupons, if any, representing interest on the bonds, are securities as defined by Chapter 8, Business & Commerce Code, as amended, and are negotiable if issued in accordance with this Act.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 26. Each corporation is hereby authorized to provide by resolution for the issuance of its refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding any bonds then outstanding, issued on account of a project, which shall have been issued under the provisions of this Act, including the payment of any redemption premium thereon and any interest accrued or to accrue to the date of redemption of such bonds and, if deemed advisable by the corporation, for the additional purpose of financing improvements, extensions, or enlargements to the project in connection with which the bonds to be refunded shall have been issued or for another project. The issuance of such bonds, the maturities and other details thereof, the rights of the holders thereof, and the rights, duties, and obligations of the corporation in respect to the same shall be governed by the provisions of this Act insofar as the same may be applicable. Within the discretion of the corporation, the refunding bonds may be issued in exchange for outstanding bonds or may be sold and the proceeds used for the purpose of redeeming outstanding bonds.

Trust Agreements

Sec. 27. Any bonds issued under the provisions of this Act may be secured by a trust agreement by and between the corporation and a corporate trustee, which may be any trust company or bank having the powers of a trust company within or without the state. Any such trust agreement may evidence a pledge or assignment of the lease, sale, or loan revenues to be received from a lessee or borrower with respect to a project for the payment of principal of and interest and any premium on such bonds as the same shall become due and payable and may provide for creation and maintenance of reserves for such purposes. Any such trust agreement or resolution providing for the issuance of such bonds may contain such provisions for protecting and enforcing the rights and remedies of the bondholders as may be reasonable and proper and not in violation of law, including covenants setting forth the duties in relation to the acquisition of property and the construction, improvement, maintenance, repair, operation, and insurance of the project in connection with which such bonds shall have been authorized, and the custody, safeguarding, and application of all money. It shall be lawful for any bank or trust company incorporated under the laws of the state which may act as depository of the proceeds of bonds or of revenues to furnish such indemnifying bonds or to pledge such securities as may be required by the corporation. Any such trust agreement may set forth the rights and remedies of the bondholders of and of the trustee and may restrict the individual right of action by bondholders as is customary in trust agreements or trust indentures securing bonds and debentures of private corporations. In addition to the foregoing, any such trust agreement may contain such provisions as the corporation may deem reasonable and proper for the security of the bondholders. All expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of any such trust agreement may be treated as a part of the cost of the operation of the project.

Enforcement of Agreements or Mortgages

Sec. 28. (a) Any agreement relating to any project shall be for the benefit of the corporation. Any such agreement shall contain a provision that, in the event of a default in the payment of the principal of or the interest or premium on such bonds or in the performance of any agreement contained in such proceedings, mortgage, or instrument, such payment and performance may be enforced by mandamus or by the appointment of a receiver in equity with power to charge and collect rents, purchase price payments, and loan payments and to apply the revenues from the project in accordance with such resolution, mortgage, or instrument.

(b) Any mortgage to secure bonds issued thereunder may also provide that, in the event of a default in the payment thereof or the violation of any agreement contained in the mortgage, the mortgage may be foreclosed and sold under proceedings in equity or in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law. Such mortgage may also provide that any trustee under such mortgage or the holder of any of the bonds secured thereby may become the purchaser at any foreclosure sale if the highest bidder therefor.

Option to Purchase Granted to Lessee

Sec. 29. A corporation may grant a lessee an option to purchase all or any part of a project when all bonds of the corporation delivered to provide such facilities have been paid or provision has been made for their final payment. The provisions of this law are procedurally exclusive for authority to convey or grant an option to purchase, and reference to no other law shall be required.
Art. 5190.6

Authority of Corporation Regarding Bonds, Lease, Sale, or Loan Agreements

Sec. 30. Except as limited by the provisions of this Act or as limited by the rules, regulations, and guidelines of the commission, each corporation shall have full and complete authority with respect to bonds, lease, sale, or loan agreements and the provisions thereof.

Bonds as Legal and Authorized Investments

Sec. 31. Any bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, trustees, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

Exemption from Taxation

Sec. 32. The legislature finds, determines, and declares that the activities of a corporation created and organized under the provisions of this Act affect all the people of the unit under whose auspices it is created by assuming to a material extent that which might otherwise become the obligation or duty of such unit, and therefore such corporation is an institution of purely public charity within the tax exemption of Article VIII, Section 2, of the Texas Constitution. However, a corporation is exempt from the franchise tax imposed by Chapter 171, Tax Code, only if the corporation is exempted by that chapter.

Nonprofit Nature of Corporation

Sec. 33. The corporation shall be a nonprofit corporation, and no part of its net earnings remaining after payment of its expenses shall inure to the benefit of any individual, firm, or corporation, except that in the event the board of directors shall determine that sufficient provision has been made for the full payment of the expenses, bonds, and other obligations of the corporation, then any net earnings of the corporation thereafter accruing shall be paid to the unit under whose auspices the corporation was created.

Authority to Alter or Dissolve Corporation

Sec. 34. At any time the unit may in its sole discretion alter the structure, organization, programs, or activities of the corporation or terminate and dissolve the corporation, subject only to any limitation provided by the constitution and laws of the state on the impairment of contracts entered into by the corporation. Such alteration or dissolution shall be made by written resolution of the governing body of the unit and as hereinafter provided.

Dissolution Upon Completion of Purposes

Sec. 35. Whenever the board of directors of the corporation by resolution shall determine that the purposes for which the corporation was formed have been substantially complied with and that all bonds theretofore issued by the corporation have been fully paid, the members of the board of directors of the corporation shall, with the approval by written resolution of the unit under whose auspices the corporation was created, thereupon dissolve the corporation as hereinafter provided.

Dissolution and Certificate of Dissolution

Sec. 36. (a) Articles of dissolution shall be executed in triplicate by the corporation by its president or a vice-president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary or by the presiding officer and secretary or clerk of the governing body under whose auspices the corporation was created. Triplicate originals of such articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that such articles of dissolution conform to the requirements of this Act, he shall, when a fee of $25 has been paid:

1. endorse on each of such originals the word "Filed" and the month, day, and year of the filing thereof;
2. file one of such originals in his office; and
3. issue two certificates of dissolution to each of which he shall affix an original.

(b) A certificate of dissolution together with an original of the articles of dissolution affixed thereto by the secretary of state shall be returned to the representative of the dissolved corporation and to the governing body of the unit. Upon the issuance of such certificate of dissolution the existence of the corporation shall cease, except for the purpose of suits, other proceedings, and appropriate corporate action by members, directors, and officers as provided in this Act.

(c) Whenever dissolution occurs, whether instituted by the governing body unit or by the board of directors of the corporation, the dissolution proceedings shall transfer the title to all funds and properties then owned by the corporation to the unit under whose auspices the corporation was created.

Construction With Other Laws and Federal and State Constitutions: Severability

Sec. 37. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the creation of the corporations authorized herein and all actions by such corporations authorized hereby without reference to any other general or special laws or specific acts or any restrictions or limitations contained therein; and in any case, to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any other provisions of law, this Act shall prevail and control; provided, however, any unit and any corporation shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws not in conflict with the provisions hereof to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

No proceedings, notice, or approval shall be required for the organization of the corporation or the issuance of any bonds or any instrument as security therefor, except as is herein provided, any other law to the contrary notwithstanding; provided that nothing herein shall be construed to deprive the state and its governmental subdivisions of their respective police powers over any properties of the corporation or to impair any police power thereover of any official or agency of the state and its governmental subdivisions as may be otherwise provided by law.

Nothing in this Act shall be construed to violate any provision of the federal or state constitution, and all acts done under this Act shall be in such manner as will conform thereto, whether expressly provided or not. Where any procedure hereunder may be held by any court to be violative of either of such constitutions, the corporation shall have the power by resolution to provide an alternative procedure conformable with such constitutions. If any provisions of this Act should be invalid, such fact shall not affect the validity of any other provisions of this Act, and the legislature hereby declares that it would have enacted the valid provisions of this Act notwithstanding the invalidity of any other provision or provisions hereof.

Sections 15 and 16 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 3036, ch. 792, provide:

"Sec. 15. All corporations for which certificates of incorporation were issued under the Development Corporation Act of 1979 (Article 5190.6, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), before the effective date of this Act are validated in all respects and such a corporation may not be held invalid because the incorporation proceedings were not in accordance with the requirements of the Development Corporation Act of 1979.

"Sec. 16. If a resolution is adopted by the board expressing its intent to issue bonds for the purpose of financing a project or other similar official action is taken by a corporation toward the issuance of such bonds, under the Development Corporation Act of 1979 (Article 5190.6, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the regulations of the commission in effect before the effective date of this Act, the corporation may issue such obligations, and any obligations to refund the same, for the purpose of such project as if the Development Corporation Act of 1979 had not been amended by this Act."

CHAPTER FOURTEEN. UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

Article 5221b-12A. Liens.

Art. 5221b–1. Benefits

(b) Benefit Amount for Total Unemployment:

Each eligible individual who is totally unemployed in any benefit period shall be paid with respect to such benefit period, benefits at the rate of one twenty-fifth (1/25) of his wages received from employment by employers during that quarter in his base period in which wages were highest, provided that:

(2) Such rate shall not be more than Eighty-four Dollars ($84) per benefit period nor less than Fifteen Dollars ($15) per benefit period on valid initial claims filed on or after October 1, 1977; provided that if the annual average of the manufacturing production workers average weekly wage in Texas exceeds by Ten Dollars ($10) the average weekly wage for those workers in 1976 as determined by the Texas Employment Commission and published in its report, “The Average Weekly Wage,” the maximum weekly benefit amount shall be increased by Seven Dollars ($7) and the minimum weekly benefit amount shall be increased by One Dollar ($1) above the maximum and minimum amounts established herein, the increases to become effective on valid initial claims filed on or after October 1 following publication of “The Average Weekly Wage” report. Thereafter, each cumulative (additional) Ten Dollar ($10) increase in the average weekly wage for manufacturing production workers in Texas, as annually determined and reported by the Texas Employment Commission, shall cumulatively increase the maximum weekly benefit amount by an additional Seven Dollars ($7) and the minimum weekly benefit amount by an additional One Dollar ($1) beginning with the next October 1 following publication of “The Average Weekly Wage” report. The maximum benefit amount payable per benefit period under this section to any individual on the effective date of a valid claim shall remain the maximum benefit amount payable to that individual until that individual establishes a new benefit year.

(e) Benefit Wage Credits:

“Benefit wage credits” means those wages as defined in this subsection of the Act, which are used in determining an individual’s right to benefits. “Wages” as used in this Section shall be as defined in subsection (n) of Section 19 of this Act, except that the six-thousand-dollar limitation on wages as set out in subsection (h)(1) of Section 19 shall not be applicable for the purposes of this Section 3; provided that, for the purposes of this Section 3, wages received by an individual in any calendar year shall include all remuneration from each employer for employment up to the maximum amount of wages as defined in the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (Section 3121, Chapter 21, Subtitle C, Internal Revenue Code of 1954), as amended, or as it may hereafter be amended; and provided further, that wages which have been used to qualify an individual for regular benefits under this Act or under any other unemployment compensation law shall not be used again to qualify such individual for regular benefits.

If an employer fails to report wages which were paid to a claimant during a base period when requested by the Commission, the Commission may establish wage credits for such claimant for such base period on the basis of the best information which has been obtained by the Commission.

(f) Equal Treatment: Benefits based on services for all employers in employment defined in subsection 19(f) shall be payable in the same amount, on the same terms, and subject to the same conditions; except that:

(1) with respect to services in an instructional, research, or principal administrative capacity for an educational institution, benefits shall not be payable based on those services for any week commencing during the period between two (2) successive academic years or terms (or, when an agreement provides instead for a similar period between two (2) regular but not successive terms, during that period) to any individual if the individual performs those services in the first of the academic years (or terms) and if there is a contract or reasonable assurance that the individual will perform services in that capacity for any educational institution in the second of the academic years (or terms);

(2) with respect to services in any other capacity for an educational institution (other than an institution of higher education), benefits shall not be payable on the basis of those services to any individual for any week which commences during a period between two (2) successive academic years or terms if the individual performs those services in the first of the academic years or terms and there is a reasonable assurance that the individual will perform those services in the second of the academic years or terms; and

(3) with respect to any services described in Paragraphs (1) and (2), benefits shall be denied to any individual for any week which commences during an established and customary vacation period or holiday recess if such individual performs such services in the period immediately before such vacation period or holiday recess and there is a reasonable assurance that such individual will perform such services in the period immediately following such vacation period or holiday recess.

(g) Athletes: Benefits shall not be payable to any individual on the basis of any services, substantially all of which consist of participating in sports or athletic events or training or preparing to so participate, for any week which commences during the period between two (2) successive sport seasons (or... similar periods) if the individual performed those services in the first of the seasons (or similar periods) and there is a reasonable assurance that the individual will perform those services in the later of the seasons (or similar periods).

(h) Aliens: Benefits shall not be payable on the basis of services performed by an alien unless the alien is an individual who was lawfully admitted for permanent residence at the time such services were performed, was lawfully present for purposes of performing such services, or was permanently residing in the United States under color of law at the time such services were performed (including an alien who was lawfully present in the United States as a result of the application of the provisions of Section 208(a)(7) or Section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act), provided that:

(1) any data or information required of individuals applying for benefits to determine whether or not benefits are payable to them because of their alien status shall be uniformly required from all applicants for benefits; and

(2) in the case of an individual whose application for benefits would otherwise be approved, no determination that benefits are not payable to that individual because of his alien status may be made except on a preponderance of the evidence.

Provided that any modifications to the provisions of Section 3304(a)(14) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act as provided by Public Law 94–566 which specify other conditions or other effective date for the denial of benefits based on services performed by aliens and which modifications are required to be implemented under state law as a condition for full tax credit against the tax imposed by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act shall be considered applicable under the provisions of this Section.

(i) Previously Uncovered Services: With respect to weeks of unemployment beginning after December 31, 1977, benefit wage credits shall include wages for previously uncovered services, provided that benefit payments based on those services are reimbursable from the federal government in accordance with provisions of Public Law 94–566 and provided that no employer's account shall be charged with payments based on those benefit wage credits either as chargebacks or reimbursements. For the purpose of this subsection, the term "previously uncovered services" means services which were not employment and which were not services for an employer under any provision of this Act at any time during the one-year period ending December 31, 1975, and which constitute employment and services for an employer after December 31, 1977, in accordance with the provisions of Section 19 of this Act as services in agricultural labor, domestic services, services for a governmental employer, or services for a nonprofit educational institution which is not an institution of higher education, except to the extent that assistance under Title II of the federal Emergency Jobs and Unemployment Assistance Act of 1974 was paid on the basis of those services.

Art. 5221b–3. Disqualification for Benefits

An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

(a) If the Commission finds that he has left his last work voluntarily without good cause connected with his work. The disqualification continues until the claimant has returned to employment and either worked for six weeks or earned wages equal to six times his weekly benefit amount.

(c) If the Commission finds that during his current benefit year he has failed, without good cause, either to apply for available, suitable work when so directed by the Commission or to accept suitable work when offered him, or to return to his customary self-employment (if any) when so directed by the Commission. The disqualification continues until the claimant has returned to employment and either worked for six weeks or earned wages equal to six times his weekly benefit amount.

(1) In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual, the Commission shall consider the degree of risk involved to his health, safety, and morals at the place of performance of his work, his physical fitness and prior training, his experience and prior earnings, his length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in his customary occupation, and the distance of the available work from his residence.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, no work shall be deemed suitable and benefits shall not be denied under this Act to any otherwise eligible individual for refusing to accept new work under any of the following conditions: (a) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lockout, or other labor dispute; (b) If the wages, hours, or other conditions of the work offered are substantially less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality; (c) If as a condition of being employed the individual would be required to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization.

(d) For any benefit period with respect to which the Commission finds that his total or partial unemployment is (i) due to the claimant's stoppage of work because of a labor dispute at the factory, establishment, or other premises (including a vessel) at which he is or was last employed, or (ii) because of a labor dispute at another place, either within or without this State, which is owned or operated by the same employing unit which owns or operates the premises at which he is or was last employed, and supplies materials or services necessary to the continued and usual operation of the premises at which he is or was last employed; provided that this subsection shall not apply if it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commission that:

(1) He is not participating in or financing directly in the labor dispute; provided, however, that failure or refusal to cross a picket line or refusal for any reason during the continuance of such labor dispute to accept and perform his available and customary work at the factory, establishment, or other premises (including a vessel) where he is or was last employed shall be considered as participation and interest in the labor dispute; and

(2) He does not belong to a grade or class of workers of which, immediately before the commencement of the labor dispute, there were members employed at the premises (including a vessel) at which the labor dispute occurs, any of whom are participating in or furnishing or directly interested in the dispute; provided, that if in any case separate branches of work which are commonly conducted as separate businesses in separate premises are conducted in separate departments of the same premises, each such department shall, for the purposes of this subsection, be deemed to be a separate factory, establishment, or other premises; and where a disqualification arises from the employee's failure to meet the requirements of this paragraph (2) of this subsection (d) his disqualification shall cease if he shall show that he is not, and at the time of the labor dispute was not, a member of a labor organization which is the same as, represented by, or directly affiliated with, or that he, or such organization of which he is a member, if any, is not acting in concert or in sympathy with a labor organization involved in the labor dispute at the premises at which the labor dispute occurred, and he has made an unconditional offer to return to work at the premises at which he is or was last employed.

(e) For any benefit period with respect to which he is receiving or has received remuneration in the form of:

(1) Wages in lieu of notice;

(2) Compensation for temporary partial disability, temporary total disability or total and permanent disability under the Workmen's Compensation Law of any State or under a similar law of the United States;

(3) Old Age Benefits under Title II of the Social Security Act as amended,1 or similar payments under any Act of Congress, or a State Legislature; provided, that if such remuneration is less than the benefits which would otherwise be due under this Act, he shall be entitled to receive for such benefit period, if otherwise eligible, benefits reduced by the amount of such remuneration. If any such benefits, payable under this subsection, after being reduced by the amount of the remuneration, are not an even multiple of One Dollar ($1), they shall be adjusted to the next higher multiple of One Dollar ($1).

(g) For the duration of any period of unemployment with respect to which the Commission finds that such individual has left his most recent work for the purpose of attending an established educational institution; provided, that this subsection shall not apply during a period in which an individual is in training with the approval of the Commission.

(b) For weeks of unemployment beginning after March 31, 1980, for any benefit period with respect to which the individual is receiving a governmental or other pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity, or any other similar periodic payment which is based on the previous work of the individual and which is reasonably attributable to that benefit period; provided that if the remuneration is less than the benefits which would otherwise be due under this Act, the individual shall be entitled to receive for that benefit period, if otherwise eligible, benefits reduced by the amount of the remuneration. If those benefits payable under this subsection, after being reduced by the amount of the remuneration, are not an even multiple of One Dollar ($1), they shall be adjusted to the next higher multiple of One Dollar ($1).

The Legislature declares that the preceding paragraph is enacted because Section 3304(a)(15) of the Federal Unemployment Tax Act as provided in Public Law 94–566 2 requires this provision in State law as of January 1, 1978, as a condition for full tax credit against the tax imposed by the Federal Unemployment Tax Act; and it further declares that if Section 3304(a)(15) is amended to provide modifications of these requirements, the modified requirements, to the extent that they are required for full tax credit, shall be considered applicable under the provisions of this Section rather than the provisions stated in the preceding paragraph.

(i) This Section does not disqualify a claimant whose work-related reason for separation from employment was urgent, compelling, and of a necessary nature so as to make separation involuntary.

1 42 U.S.C.A. § 401 et seq.

Provisions of this Section rather than the provisions stated in the preceding paragraph.
Art. 5221b-4. Claims for Benefits

(b) An unemployed individual who has no current benefit year may file an initial claim in accordance with rules or regulations prescribed by the Commission. The Commission shall mail a notice of the filing of such initial claim to the individual or organization for which the claimant last worked prior to the effective date of the initial claim. If the individual or organization has more than one branch or division operating at different locations, notice of the filing of such initial claim shall be mailed to the branch or division where claimant last worked. Mailing of notice of the initial claim to the correct address of the individual or organization or the branch or division where claimant last worked shall constitute due notice to such individual or organization. A governmental employer may designate in writing to the Commission an address for mail service. When a governmental employer has so designated a mailing address, mailing of notice of claims, determinations, or other decisions to such address shall constitute due notice to the governmental employer. If the individual or organization to which such notice is mailed has knowledge of any facts that may adversely affect such claimant's right to benefits, or that may affect a charge to its account, it shall notify the Commission of such facts promptly. If such individual or organization does not mail or deliver such notification to the Commission within twelve (12) days from the date notice of a claim was mailed to it by the Commission, such individual or organization shall be deemed to have waived all rights in connection with such claim, including any rights it may have under subsection 7(c)(2) of this Act, except with respect to a clerical or machine error as to the amount of its chargeback or maximum potential chargeback in connection with such claim.

The Commission shall determine whether such initial claim is valid. If such initial claim is valid, the Commission shall determine the benefit year, the benefit amount for total unemployment and the duration of benefits. A notice of the determination of the initial claim shall be mailed to the claimant at his last known address as reflected by Commission records. The claimant may within twelve (12) calendar days from the date such notice was mailed request a redetermination or appeal in the manner provided in this Section.

If such individual or organization for which claimant last worked has filed a notification with the Commission in accordance with this Section, an examiner shall make a determination as to whether the claimant is disqualified from receipt of benefits under Section 5 (Article 5221b–3) of this Act, as to any other issue affecting the claimant's right to receive benefits which may have arisen under any other provision of this Act, and as to whether a chargeback shall be made to the account of the individual or organization if benefits are paid, and shall mail a copy of the determination to the claimant and to such individual or organization, or the branch or division for which the claimant last worked, or to the address for mail service designated by a governmental employer. In the absence of such notification from such individual or organization, if, from information on the claim or other information secured, an issue is raised affecting the claimant's rights to benefits under any provision of this Act, an examiner shall prepare a determination reflecting his decision and mail a copy of it to the claimant at his last known address.

Unless the claimant or the individual or organization or branch thereof to which the copy of the determination is mailed files an appeal from such determination within twelve (12) calendar days after such copy of the determination is mailed to his or its last known address as reflected by Commission records, such determination shall be final for all purposes and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith; provided, that within the same period of time, an examiner may file an appeal from such determination, or may, if he discovers error in connection therewith or additional information not previously available, reconsider and redetermine any such determination, and such redetermination shall replace such determination and shall become final unless an appeal therefrom is filed by such claimant or such individual or organization within twelve (12) calendar days after a copy of such redetermination was mailed to his or its last known address as reflected by Commission records.

Notwithstanding any provision in this Act under which benefits may be paid or denied, benefits shall be paid promptly in accordance with a determination or redetermination of an examiner, a decision of an appeal tribunal, the Commission, or a reviewing court, on the issuance of that determination, redetermination or decision (regardless of the pendency of the period to apply for reconsideration, file an appeal, or petition for judicial review, or the pendency of that application, filing, or petition), unless and until that determination, redetermination, or decision has been modified or reversed by a subsequent redetermination or decision, in which event benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance with the modifying or reversing redetermination or decision. If a determination or decision is finally modified or reversed, no chargeback shall be made to the employer's account by reason of payments made to the claimant for any benefit period with respect to which he is finally denied benefits, and any benefits paid to the claimant which were not in accordance with the final decision shall be refunded.
by the claimant to the Commission or in the discretion of the Commission shall be deducted from future benefits payable to him under this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (c) to (e)]

(f) Procedure: The manner in which disputed claims shall be presented, the reports thereon required from the claimant and from employers, or other individuals or organizations, and the conduct of hearings and appeals shall be in accordance with rules or regulations prescribed by the Commission for determining the rights of the parties. A full and complete record shall be kept of all proceedings in connection with a disputed claim and all testimony at any hearing upon a disputed claim shall be recorded.

Art. 5221b-4a. Extended Benefits

(2) There is a national “on” indicator for a week if, for the period consisting of that week and the immediately preceding twelve (12) weeks, the rate of insured unemployment (seasonally adjusted) for all states equaled or exceeded four and five-tenths percent (4.5%). The rate of insured unemployment, for the purposes of this subsection, shall be determined by the Secretary of Labor by reference to the average monthly covered employment for the first four (4) of the most recent six (6) calendar quarters ending before the close of that period.

(3) There is a national “off” indicator for a week if, for the period consisting of that week and the immediately preceding twelve (12) weeks, the rate of insured unemployment (seasonally adjusted) for all states was less than four and five-tenths percent (4.5%). The rate of insured unemployment, for the purposes of this subsection, shall be determined by the Secretary of Labor by reference to the average monthly covered employment for the first four (4) of the most recent six (6) calendar quarters ending before the close of that period.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of (a)(4)]

(5) There is a State “off” indicator for this State for a week if the Commission determines, in accordance with the regulations of the United States Secretary of Labor, that, for the period consisting of such week and the immediately preceding twelve (12) weeks, either paragraph (A) or (B) of subdivision (4) is not satisfied. Provided that with respect to benefits for weeks of unemployment beginning after December 31, 1977, the determination of whether there has been a State “on” or “off” indicator beginning or ending any extended benefit period shall be made under this section as if subdivision (4) did not contain paragraph (A) thereof, and as if the figure “four” (4) contained in paragraph (B) thereof were “five” (5); except that, notwithstanding any other provision of this Section, any week for which there would otherwise be a State “on” indicator shall continue to be such a week and shall not be determined to be a week for which there is a State “off” indicator.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (a)(6) to (a)(9)]

(10) “Exhaustee” means an individual who, with respect to any benefit period of unemployment in his eligibility period:

(A) has received, prior to such benefit period, all of the regular benefits that were available to him under this Act or any other state law (including dependents' allowances and benefits payable to federal civilian employees and ex-servicemen under 5 U.S.C. Chapter 85) in his current benefit year that includes such benefit period;

Provided, that, for the purposes of this subparagraph, an individual shall be deemed to have received all of the regular benefits that were available to him although, as a result of a pending appeal with respect to wage credits that were not considered in the original monetary determination in his benefit year, he may subsequently be determined to be entitled to added regular benefits, or

(B) had a benefit year that expired prior to such benefit period and has no, or insufficient, wage credits on the basis of which he could establish a new benefit year that would include such benefit period; and

(C)(i) has no right to unemployment benefits or allowances, as the case may be, under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act,3 the Trade Expansion Act of 1962,4 the Automotive Products Trade Act of 1965,4 or such other federal laws as are specified in regulations issued by the United States Secretary of Labor, and

(ii) has not received and is not seeking unemployment benefits under the unemployment compensation law of Canada; but if he is seeking such benefits and the appropriate agency finally determines that he is not entitled to benefits under such law, he is considered an exhaustee.
(g) Financing:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (g)(1) to (g)(5)]

(6) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Act, with respect to weeks of unemployment beginning after December 31, 1978, extended benefit payments based on benefit wage credits earned from a state, or any political subdivision thereof, or any instrumentality of any one (1) or more of the foregoing which is wholly owned by one (1) or more states or political subdivisions shall be charged to the employer at the rate of one hundred per cent (100%) rather than at the rate of fifty per cent (50%) as provided for other employers under this Act, and any such employer which is a taxed employer shall receive notice that its maximum potential chargeback may be increased by as much as fifty per cent (50%) rather than twenty-five per cent (25%) as provided for other employers.

(h)(1) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (b) of this section, an individual shall be ineligible for payment of extended benefits for any week of unemployment in his eligibility period if the commission finds that during such period:

(A) he failed to accept any offer of suitable work as defined under Subdivision (3) of this subsection or failed to apply for any suitable work to which he was referred by the commission; or

(B) he failed to engage actively in seeking work as prescribed under Subdivision (5) of this subsection.

(2) Any individual who has been found ineligible for extended benefits by reason of the provisions of Subdivision (1) of this subsection shall also be denied benefits beginning with the first day of the week following the week in which such failure occurred and until he has been employed in each of four subsequent weeks, whether or not consecutive, and has earned remuneration equal to not less than four times the extended weekly benefit amount;

(3) For purposes of this Subsection (h), the term "suitable work" means, with respect to any individual, any work which

(A) is within such individual's capabilities; provided, however, that the gross average weekly remuneration payable for the work must exceed the sum of:

(i) the individual's weekly extended benefit amount as determined under Subsection (d) of this section plus

(ii) the amount, if any, of supplemental unemployment compensation benefits, as defined in Section 501(c)(17)(D) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, payable to such individual for such week; and further,

(B) pays wages not less than the higher of

(i) the minimum wage provided by Section 6(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 (29 U.S.C.A. Sec. 206), without regard to any exemption; or

(ii) the applicable state or local minimum wage.

(C) Provided, however, that no individual shall be denied extended benefits for failure to accept an offer of or apply for any job which meets the definition of suitability as described above if:

(i) the position was not offered to such individual in writing and was not listed with the employment service;

(ii) such failure could not result in a denial of benefits under the definition of suitable work for regular benefit claimants in Section 5(e) of this Act, as amended (Article 5221b-3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), to the extent that the criteria of suitability in that section are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Subdivision (6);

(iii) the individual furnishes satisfactory evidence to the commissioner that his or her prospects for obtaining work in his or her customary occupation within a reasonably short period are good. If such evidence is deemed satisfactory for this purpose, the determination of whether any work is suitable with respect to such individual shall be made in accordance with the definition of suitable work for regular benefit claimants in Section 5(c) of this Act without regard to the definition specified by this Subdivision (3).

(4) Notwithstanding the provisions of Subsection (b) to the contrary, no work shall be deemed to be suitable work for an individual which does not accord with the labor standard provisions required by Section 3304(a)(5) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

(5) For the purposes of Paragraph (B) of Subdivision (1) of this subsection, an individual shall be treated as actively engaged in seeking work during any week if:

(A) the individual has engaged in a systematic and sustained effort to obtain work during such week, and

(B) the individual furnishes tangible evidence that he has engaged in such effort during such week.

(6) The employment service shall refer any claimant entitled to extended benefits under this Act to any suitable work which meets the criteria prescribed in Subdivision (3) of this subsection.

(7) An individual shall not be eligible to receive extended benefits with respect to any week of unemployment in his eligibility period if such individual has been disqualified for regular or extended benefits under this Act because he or she voluntarily left work, was discharged for misconduct, or failed to accept an offer of or apply for suitable work unless the disqualification imposed for such reasons has been terminated in accordance with specific conditions established under this Act requiring the individual to perform service for remuneration subsequent to the date of such disqualification.

Sec. 2. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith, insofar as they do conflict herewith, are hereby repealed, but such repeal shall in no way be construed as forfeiting or waiving any rights of the State of Texas or of the Texas Employment Commission which have accrued thereunder.

Sec. 3. "If any word, phrase, sentence, paragraph, subsection, or section of this Act shall be held invalid or unconstitutional, such holding shall not invalidate any other word, phrase, sentence, paragraph, subsection, or section hereof, and the legislature hereby expressly declares that it would have passed such remaining words, phrases, sentences, paragraphs, subsections, and sections despite such invalidity."

Art. 5221b-5. Contributions

(a) Payment: Contributions shall accrue and become payable by each employer for each calendar year, or portion thereof, in which he is subject to this Act, with respect to wages for employment paid during such calendar year, or portion thereof. Such contributions shall become due and be paid by each employer to the Commission for the fund in accordance with such rules or regulations as the Commission may prescribe, and shall not be deducted in whole or in part from the wages of individuals in such employer's employ. For agricultural employers subject to this Act, the Commission may require estimated contributions quarterly, but shall require a full report only once each year.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (b)]

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (c)(1) and (c)(2)(A)]

(2)(B) To each employer to whom notice of an initial claim has not already been mailed under subsection 6(b) of this Act and whose account is potentially chargeable with benefits as the result of such initial claim and payment of benefits, a notice of his maximum potential chargebacks shall be mailed when benefits are first paid and an opportunity afforded for protest of his potential chargebacks. If any such employer desires to protest his potential chargebacks, he shall, within twelve (12) days after such notice was mailed to him, mail his protest, including a statement of the facts upon which his protest is based, to the Commission at Austin, Texas. Any employer who does not protest his potential chargebacks within twelve (12) days after notice was mailed to him shall be deemed to have waived his right to protest such chargebacks. If a timely protest is filed, the examiner shall promptly decide the issues involved in such protest and shall mail a notice of his decision thereon to the protesting employer. Such decision shall become final twelve (12) days from the date of mailing thereof, unless such employer mails to the Commission at Austin, Texas, a written appeal therefrom within such twelve (12) days. Administrative review hereunder shall be in accordance with Commission rules or regulations, and appeals to the Courts shall be permitted only after such employer has exhausted his administrative remedies (not including a motion for rehearing) before the Commission, and within the time prescribed by subsection 6(h) and subsection 6(i) of this Act with respect to Commission decisions on benefits. Venue and jurisdiction of appeals to the Courts with respect to chargebacks shall be the same as venue and jurisdiction of suits to collect contributions and penalties under this Act.

If notice of the claim has been sent previously to the employer under the provisions of Section 6 of this Act, the employer shall be mailed a notice of the amount of his potential chargeback resulting from the claim, and may, within twelve (12) days from the date such notice was mailed, protest any clerical or machine error as to amounts. Such employer shall be mailed a decision on such protest and may appeal within twelve (12) days from the date notice of such decision was mailed to him.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (c)(3) and (c)(4)]

(5) The replenishment ratio for a calendar year is a quotient, stated to the nearest hundredth, derived from the following numerator and denominator.

The numerator of the replenishment ratio shall be the amount of benefits paid from the Unemployment Compensation Fund during the twelve (12) months ending September 30 of the preceding year after deductions have been made for:

(A) benefit warrants canceled,

(B) repayment of benefits which have been overpaid, and

(C) benefits paid which are repayable from reimbursing employers, the federal government, or any other governmental entity.

The denominator of the replenishment ratio shall be the total amount of chargebacks to the accounts of all taxed employers during the twelve (12) months ending September 30, of the preceding year.

The replenishment ratio for each calendar year shall be determined prior to the due date of the first contribution payment with respect to wages for employment paid in that year and such replenishment ratio thus determined shall not be affected or revised by virtue of any subsequent adjustment of any chargebacks of any employer.
Art. 5221b-5a. Reimbursements

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (a) to (h)]

(i) Authority to Terminate Elections: If any reimbursing employer is delinquent in making reimbursements as provided under this Section, the Commission may terminate such reimbursing employer's election to make reimbursements as of the beginning of the next taxable year and such termination shall be effective for that and the succeeding taxable year.

(j) Bond: In the discretion of the Commission, any reimbursing employer (or group of such employers) that elects to become liable for reimbursements may be required to execute and file with the Commission a surety bond approved by the Commission. The amount of such bond shall be determined in accordance with rules prescribed by the Commission. The Commission may require adjustments to be made in a previously filed bond if it deems such action appropriate. Failure by any reimbursing employer covered by such bond to pay the full amount of reimbursements when due, together with any applicable interest and penalties provided for under this Act, shall render the surety liable on such bond to the extent of the bond, as though the surety was such employer. If any reimbursing employer fails to make bond when directed to do so by the Commission, the Commission may terminate such employer's election to make reimbursements as of the beginning of the next taxable year and such termination shall be effective for that and the succeeding taxable year.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 5 for text of (k) and (l)]

(m) Notwithstanding any other provision in this Act, with respect to benefits paid for weeks of unemployment beginning after December 31, 1978, if the reimbursing employer is a state or political subdivision thereof, or any instrumentality of any one (1) or more of the foregoing which is wholly owned by one (1) or more states or political subdivisions, that employer shall pay one hundred percent (100%) of the extended benefits based on benefit wage credits earned from that employer instead of one-half (½) or fifty percent (50%) as indicated for other employers covered under this Act.

(c) Collections:

(1) The provisions for collecting delinquent contributions provided under Section 14 of this Act, shall be applicable with respect to governmental employers.

(2) If any governmental employer is delinquent in payment of contributions or reimbursements under any section of this Act, the Commission shall notify the Comptroller of Public Accounts in writing of the name of the governmental employer and the amount of the delinquency. On receipt of this notice, the Comptroller shall pay a sum to the Commission in the amount of the delinquency from any funds which would otherwise be due from the State to the delinquent governmental employer.

(d) Reports: Each governmental employer shall keep such records and file such reports with the Commission with respect to individuals in its employment as the Commission may prescribe by rules. A governmental employer failing to keep or file these reports when due shall be subject to the same penalties as provided for other employers under subsection 14(c) of this Act.2

(e) Separate Accounting: Benefit payments based on wages from employers under this Section shall be subject to the same penalties as provided for other employers under subsection 14(a) of this Act.

(1) No employing unit shall cease to be an employer subject to this Act except as of the first day of January of any calendar year, and only then if such employer files with the Commission, within the period from January 1 through March 31 of such year, a written application for termination of coverage, and the Commission finds that the employing unit was not an employer as defined in subsection 19(f) of this Act during the preceding year.

Art. 5221b–6. Duration of Coverage and Elections

[See Compact Edition, Volume 4 for text of (a) and (b)(1)]

(4) An election by an employer under subsection 8(b)(2) or 8(b)(3) of this Act to be a reimbursing employer shall be made within forty-five (45) days after the date notice is mailed to the employer that it is subject to the provisions of this Act. The election will be effective January 1 of the year in which the employer became subject to the Act. All elections under subsections 8(b)(2) and 8(b)(3) of this Act may be terminated after the minimum required period by filing with the Commission a written request for termination not later than thirty (30) days preceding the last day of a calendar year, and such termination shall be effective January 1 of the following year.

(e) The commission is authorized to enter into reciprocal arrangements with the appropriate agency of another state or the District of Columbia whereby employees of one state or the District of Columbia performing services in the other state or the District of Columbia shall be considered to be engaged in employment performed entirely within the employing state or the District of Columbia. The commission shall enter the arrangement on request of an agency of this state that has employees performing services in another state or the District of Columbia.

Art. 5221b–22a. Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund

There is hereby established as a special fund, separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this State, an Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund which may be used by the Commission for the purposes of paying costs of the administration of this Act including the costs of reimbursing the Unemployment Compensation Benefits Accounts for unemployment compensation benefits paid to former employees of the State of Texas which are based on service for the state, and the costs of construction and purchase of buildings and land necessary in such administration. The State Treasurer shall be the Treasurer and custodian of the fund. He shall administer such fund in accordance with the directions of the Commission, and the Comptroller shall issue warrants upon it in accordance with the directions of the Commission. All interest and penalties collected under the provisions of this Act and all moneys now on deposit in the Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund shall be paid into this fund. Said moneys shall not be expended or available for expenditure in any manner which would permit their substitution for (or a corresponding reduction in) Federal funds which would, in the absence of said moneys, be available to finance expenditures for the administration of the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act. Nothing in this Section, however, shall prevent said moneys from being used as a revolving fund, to cover expenditures, necessary and proper under the Texas Unemployment Compensation Act, for which Federal funds have been duly requested but not yet received, subject to the charging of such expenditures against such funds when received. The Commission may, by resolution duly entered in its Minutes, authorize to be charged against said moneys any expenditures which it deems proper in the interest of good administration of this Act, provided the Commission in such resolution finds that no other funds are available or can properly be used to finance such expenditures. All moneys which are deposited or paid into the Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund may be expended in accordance with the provisions of this Act, upon appropriation by the legislature, and shall not lapse at any time or be transferred to any other fund. All moneys in the Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund shall be deposited, administered, and disbursed in the same manner and under the same conditions and requirements as is provided by law for other special funds. The State Treasurer shall be liable on his official bond for the faithful performance of his duties in connection with the Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund provided herein. Such liability on the official bond shall be effective immediately upon the enactment of this provision, and such liability shall exist in addition to any liability upon any separate bond existent on the effective date of this provision, or which may be given in the future. All sums recovered on any Surety Bond for losses sustained by the Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund shall be deposited in said Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund. If it be determined by the Commission in accordance with the provisions of subsection 14(j) of this Act that the Commission should refund penalties which have been erroneously collected and which have been deposited in the Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund, the refund of such penalties shall be made, without interest, out of the Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 14(j) of this Act 1 that payment of all refunds shall be made out of the Unemployment Compensation Fund. Such refunds paid out of the Unemployment Compensation Special Administration Fund shall be paid upon warrants issued by the Comptroller under the direction of the Commission.

Registration of Boilers; Certificate of Operation; Injunction Against Operation of Unsafe Boiler

Sec. 2. Unless otherwise specifically exempted in this Act, all boilers operated within the State shall be registered with the Department of Labor and Standards. The Certificate of Operation shall remain in full force and effect until expiration unless cancelled for cause by the Commissioner and shall be placed under glass in a conspicuous place on or near the boiler for which it is issued. No prosecution shall be maintained where the issuance of or the renewal of such Certificate of Operation shall have been requested and shall remain unacted upon. The Commissioner may revoke any Certificate of Operation issued for a boiler within this State after good cause is shown and after notice and opportunity for a hearing on the revocation.

Sec. 2a. There is established within the Department of Labor and Standards a Board of Boiler Rules, consisting of nine members appointed by the Commissioner. Except for the initial appointees, members hold office for terms of six years expiring on January 31 of odd-numbered years. In making the initial appointments, the Commissioner shall designate three for terms expiring in 1979, three for terms expiring in 1981, and three for terms expiring in 1983.

The Commissioner may remove any member of the Board for inefficiency or neglect of duty in office. Upon the resignation, death, suspension, or incapacity of any member, the Commissioner shall fill the vacancy for the remainder of the vacated term with an individual representative of the same interests with which the predecessor was identified.

The nine members shall have experience with boilers, and at least four, when available, shall be registered professional engineers licensed in the State of Texas. Three members shall be representatives of owners or users of boilers, one shall be representative of boiler manufacturers or installers, three shall be representatives of companies insuring boilers in this State, one shall be a mechanical engineer on the faculty of a recognized engineering college within the State, and one shall be a representative of a labor union.

The Chief Inspector shall serve as chairman, and the Commissioner shall be an ex officio member. At the call of the chairman, the Board shall meet at least twice each year at a place designated by the Board. No decision of the Board shall be effective unless supported by the vote of at least five members.

The Board shall act in an advisory capacity to the Commissioner in formulating definitions, rules and regulations for the safe construction, installation, inspection, operating limits, alteration, and repair of boilers and their appurtenances.

The Board members shall serve without salary, but are entitled to reimbursement for actual expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as board members.

If such boilers referred to herein are found, upon inspection, to be in a safe condition for operation, a Certificate of Operation shall be issued by the Commissioner for its operation for a period not longer than the interval required for certificate inspections. If any inspection authorized hereunder shall show the inspected boiler to be in an unsafe or dangerous condition, the Chief Inspector or any Deputy Inspector shall issue a preliminary order requiring such repairs and alterations to be made to such boiler as may be necessary to render it safe for use, and may also order the use of such boiler discontinued until such repairs and alterations are made or such dangerous and unsafe conditions are remedied. Unless such preliminary order be complied with by the owner or user, a hearing before the Commissioner shall be allowed, upon written request, at which the owner or user, making the request, shall have opportunity to appear and show cause why the preliminary order should not be complied with. If it shall thereafter appear to the Commissioner that such boiler is unsafe and that the requirements contained in said preliminary order should be complied with, or that other things should be done to make said boiler safe, the Commissioner may order or confirm the withholding of the Certificate of Operation for said boiler and may make such requirements as may be deemed proper for the repair or alteration of said boiler or the correction of such dangerous and unsafe conditions. The Chief Inspector may issue a temporary Certificate of Operation for a period not to exceed thirty (30) days, pending the completion of replacements or repairs. Nothing in this Section shall be construed to limit the authority of the Commissioner as set forth in Section 6 of this Act. Any boiler which cannot be rendered safe for use shall be condemned and the use of such boiler shall be prohibited.

Sec. 4a. Upon the approval of the Commissioner and the inspection agency having jurisdiction, the interval between internal inspections may be extended to a period not to exceed twenty-four (24) months for power boilers and forty-eight (48) months for waste heat boilers and for other unfired steam boilers using heat resulting from the operation of a process system, the interval may be extended to the next scheduled down time, but not to exceed 60 months provided: (1) continuous water treatment under competent and experienced supervision has been in effect since the last internal inspection for the purpose of controlling and limiting corrosion and deposits; (2) accurate and complete records are available showing that since the last internal inspection samples of boiler water have been taken or monitored at regular intervals not greater than twenty-four (24) hours of operation and that the water condition in the boiler is satisfactorily controlled; (3) accurate and complete records are available showing the dates such boiler has been out of service and the reasons therefor since the last internal inspection, and such records shall include the nature of all repairs to the boiler, the reasons why such repairs were made; and (4) the last internal and current external inspection of the boiler indicates the inspection period may be safely extended. The Commissioner and inspection agency having jurisdiction may grant an additional extension for up to one hundred twenty (120) days to the inspection interval covered by the Certificate of Operation on receipt of a request stating that an emergency exists. However, before an extension is allowed, the Authorized Inspector shall make an external inspection and items (1) through (4) of this Section must be complied with. When such an extended period between internal inspections has been approved by the Commissioner and the inspection agency having jurisdiction, as outlined in this Section, a new Certificate of Operation shall be issued for that extended period of operation.
Sec. 5. The report shall also include the location of the boiler, date inspected, and the name of the inspector.

Any boiler inspected by an authorized inspector shall be exempt from other inspections and inspection fees under the provisions of this Act; provided nothing in this Section shall prevent the Commissioner from authorizing the inspection of any boiler at any reasonable time when, in the opinion of the Commissioner, such boiler may be in an unsafe condition. The Commissioner shall contact the insurance company carrying insurance on the boiler and request the authorized inspector to participate with the Chief Inspector or Deputy Inspector to jointly inspect the boiler, within twenty (20) days. No additional charge shall be made for this inspection.

The Commissioner is authorized to issue a Certificate of Operation to the owner or user of all boilers subject to inspection under this Act. The fee for the Certificate of Operation shall not exceed the sum of Fifteen Dollars ($15).

Art. 5221f. Manufactured Housing Standards Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Texas Manufactured Housing Standards Act.

Purpose

Sec. 2. The legislature finds that there is a growing need to provide the citizens of the state with safe, affordable, and well-constructed housing. The legislature finds that manufactured housing has become a primary housing source of many of the state’s citizens. It is the specific intent of the legislature to encourage the construction of housing for the state’s citizens and to improve the general welfare and safety of purchasers of manufactured housing in this state. The legislature finds that existing statutes and regulations are not adequate to provide for the full protection of the consumer and to prevent certain discriminations that exist in the state with regard to manufactured housing. The legislature finds that it is the responsibility of the state to provide for the protection of its citizens who desire to purchase housing by imposing certain regulations on the construction and installation, to provide economic stability of manufactured housing manufacturers, retailers, installers, and brokers, and to provide fair and effective consumer remedies. In recognition of these findings, the legislature deems it necessary to expand various regulatory powers to deal with these problems. The legislature finds this to be the most economical and efficient means of dealing with this problem and serving the public interest. Accordingly, this Act shall be liberally construed and applied to promote its underlying policies and purposes.

(e) The person required to pay an inspection fee set in accordance with Subsection (d) of this section shall pay the cost of travel to and from the place of the inspection for representatives of the department who make the inspection.

(f) All fees assessed under this Act shall be paid to the State Treasurer and placed in the General Revenue Fund.

(g) The fees charged by the department in effect August 31, 1979, shall remain in effect until the new schedule of fees set forth in this section has been promulgated and adopted.

\(^1\) 42 U.S.C.A. § 5414.

Sec. 12. [Deleted.]
Sec. 13. (a) The department may not issue a certificate of registration, unless the applicant files a surety bond, a cash deposit, or other security in such form as the commissioner may prescribe and a written irrevocable designation of the commissioner as agent for service of legal process.

(b) If a surety bond is filed, it shall be continuous and remain in effect until cancelled by the surety company with notice as provided by this Act. A cash deposit or other security need not be posted annually so long as the applicable amount specified in this section remains posted. If a claim is made against a cash deposit causing the deposit to be lessened, the depositor has 20 calendar days in which to deposit additional money or other security so that compliance may be had with the requirements of this section. If the deficit is not eliminated within 20 days, the certificate of registration of the inadequately covered manufacturer, retailer, broker, or installer is immediately suspended. If a bond is cancelled, the certificate of registration is immediately suspended.

(c) If a cash deposit or other security is posted, the interest from said deposit shall go to the depositor.

(d) The bond shall be a surety bond issued by a company authorized to do business in this state and shall be in conformity with the Insurance Code. The cash deposit or other security shall be in such a form as the commissioner may deem appropriate.

(e) The bond, cash deposit, or other security shall be to the state for the use by a consumer, the state, or any political subdivision thereof who secures any judgment against a manufacturer, retailer, broker, installer or salesperson for damages, restitution, or expenses including reasonable attorney's fees resulting from a cause of action connected with the sale, lease-purchase, exchange, brokerage, or installation of a manufactured home, including but not limited to:

1. retention or conversion of money, property, or any other thing of value from consumers in the form of down payments, any sales and use taxes, deposits, or insurance premiums;
2. failure to deliver proper title documents or certificates of title to consumers;
3. failure to give or the breach of any manufactured home warranty required by this Act or by the Federal Trade Commission; or
4. engaging in any false, misleading, or deceptive acts or practices as the term is set forth in and as those acts or practices are declared unlawful by the provisions of Chapter 17, Subchapter E, Business & Commerce Code. The bond or other security shall not be liable for judgments resulting from tort claims, except as expressly set forth hereinafter, nor for any punitive, exemplary, or treble damages. A consumer, the state, or any political subdivision thereof may recover against the principal or surety jointly and severally for such damages, restitution, or expenses; provided, however, that in no event shall a surety or the cash deposit or other security posted under this section be liable for an amount in excess of actual damages, restitution, or expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees. Any judgment obtained against a principal is conclusive against the surety or other security if notice of the filing of suit is given as required by this section. The bond or other security shall be open to successive claims up to the amount of face value of the bond or other required security. The surety shall not be liable for successive claims in excess of the bond amount, regardless of the number of years the bond remains in force.

(f) A consumer shall inform the manufacturer, retailer, installer, or salesperson, and the department of any claim against the bond or security no later than two years after the purchase of the mobile home. Whenever the department receives notice of the claim against a bond, the department shall promptly notify the bonding company involved. If the consumer claim results in a private lawsuit being filed by the consumer, the consumer shall notify the attorney general's office and the surety company by certified mail of the filing of the lawsuit. At the time of sale or delivery of a manufactured home to a consumer, the consumer must be given conspicuous written notification of this two-year limit and the notice requirements.

(g) Any manufacturer, retailer, broker, or installer who maintains a place of business at one or more locations shall file with the department a separate bond or other security for each location. A manufactured home installed on a permanent foundation system and offered for sale as real estate is not a business location that requires a bond.

(h) A manufacturer shall be bonded, supply a cash deposit or other security in the amount of $100,000. A retailer shall be bonded, supply a cash deposit, or other security in the amount of $25,000. A salesperson shall be bonded, supply a cash deposit or other security in the amount of $2,000. A broker shall be bonded, supply a cash deposit or other security in the amount of $15,000. An installer shall be bonded, supply a cash deposit or other security in the amount of $2,000. A retailer holding a valid certificate of registration shall not be required to be bonded or file any security to secure a certificate of registration as a broker or an installer.

(i) The bonding company must provide written notification to the department at least 60 days prior to the cancellation of any bond required by this Act. Any cash deposit or other security on file with the department shall remain on file with the department two years after the person ceases business as a manufacturer, retailer, broker, or installer or salesperson or at such time as the department may determine that no claims exist against the cash deposit or security.
Warranties

Sec. 14. (a) After the effective date of this Act, all new manufactured homes sold to consumers in the state shall be covered by the manufactured home warranty set forth in this section.

(b) The manufactured home warranty provided for in this Act is given by the manufacturer of the manufactured home.

(c) The manufactured home warranty shall be set forth in a separate written document; shall be delivered to the consumer by the retailer at the time the contract of sale is signed; and shall contain, but is not limited to, the following terms:

1. that the manufactured home complies with the code;
2. that the warranty shall be in effect for a period of at least one year from date of sale or initial installation, whichever is later;
3. that the manufactured home and all appliances and other equipment installed and included therein by the manufacturer or retailer are free from defects in materials or workmanship;
4. that the manufactured home is installed in accordance with all standards, rules, regulations, administrative orders, and requirements of the department;
5. that the manufacturer or the retailer or both shall take appropriate corrective action within a reasonable period of time in instances of defects in materials or workmanship, or failures to comply with the code;
6. that the warranty contains the address of the retailer and manufacturer where notices of defects may be given; and
7. that the purchaser shall notify either the manufacturer or the retailer or both in writing of the need for appropriate corrective action in instances of defects in materials or workmanship or in failures to comply with the code.

(d) The manufacturer and retailer are jointly and severally liable to the consumer for the fulfillment of the manufactured home warranty.

(e) For all installations not covered by the warranty as set forth in Subsection (c) of this section, the installer shall give each manufactured home owner a written warranty that the installation of the home was done in accordance with all standards, requirements, rules, regulations, and administrative orders of the department.

Penalties

Sec. 17. (a) A person, individual, or director, officer, or agent of a corporation who knowingly and willfully violates a provision of this Act or any rule, regulation, or administrative order of the department in a manner that threatens the health or safety of any purchaser or consumer commits a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be fined not more than $1,000 or shall be confined in the county jail not longer than one year or both.

(b) Any person who violates any provision of this Act or the rules and regulations of the department may be assessed a civil penalty to be paid to the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed $1,000 for each such violation as the court may deem proper, except that the maximum civil penalty may not exceed $1,000,000 for any related series of violations occurring within one year from the date of the first violation.

(c) Whenever it appears that any person has violated or is threatening to violate any of the provisions of this Act or of the rules, regulations, and administrative orders of the department, either the attorney general or the department may cause a civil suit to be instituted either for injunctive relief to restrain the person from continuing the violation or threat of violation or for the assessment and recovery of the civil penalty or for both.

(d) Failure by a manufacturer or retailer to comply with the warranty provisions of this Act or any implied warranties or the violation of any provision of this Act by any person is a deceptive trade practice in addition to those practices delineated in Chapter 17, Subchapter E, Business & Commerce Code and is actionable pursuant to said subchapter. As such, the venue provisions and all remedies available in said subchapter apply to and are cumulative of the remedies in this Act.

Miscellaneous Provisions

Sec. 18. (a) Any waiver by a consumer of the provisions of this Act is contrary to public policy and is unenforceable and void.

(b) No provision of this Act shall exclude any implied warranties or the violation of any provision of this Act by any person is a deceptive trade practice in addition to those practices delineated in Chapter 17, Subchapter E, Business & Commerce Code and is actionable pursuant to said subchapter. As such, the venue provisions and all remedies available in said subchapter apply to and are cumulative of the remedies in this Act.

1 Business and Commerce Code, § 17.41 et seq.
Estate License Act, as amended (Article 6573a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), who, as agent of the buyer or seller, negotiates the sale or lease of a mobile home and the real property to which it is affixed; provided that the ownership of the mobile home and real property are of record in the same person and that such sale or lease shall be in a single real estate transaction.

(f) Notwithstanding any provisions of any other statute, regulation, or ordinance to the contrary, an installer is not required to secure any permit, certificate, or license or pay any fee for the transportation of manufactured housing to the place where it is to be installed except as required by the department or the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall cooperate with the department in the routing of the transportation of housing and shall not issue any permits for the transportation of manufactured housing except to persons holding valid certificates of registration issued by the department.

Manufactured Home Titles

Sec. 19. (a) In this section:

(1) “Debtor” has the same meaning as given it by Section 9.105(a)(4), Business & Commerce Code.

(2) “Document of title” means a written instrument issued solely by and under the authority of the department that sets forth:

(A) the name and address of the purchaser and seller at the first retail sale, or the transferee and transferor at any subsequent sale or transfer;

(B) the manufacturer's name and address and, if any, the model designation;

(C) in accordance with applicable rules of the department, the outside dimensions of the manufactured home when installed for occupancy exclusive of the tongue or other towing device as measured to the nearest one-half of one foot at the base of the home, and the approximate square footage of the home when installed for occupancy;

(D) the identification number or numbers for each section or module of the manufactured home;

(E) the county of this state in which the manufactured home is installed for occupancy;

(F) the dates of any liens, and the names and addresses of the lienholders, in chronological order of recordation, and if no liens are registered or recorded on the manufactured home, a statement of that fact;

(G) the signature of the owner signed with pen and ink on receipt of the certificate;

(H) that if a husband and wife file, with the application for document of title, an agreement signed by both providing that the manufactured home is to be held jointly with rights of survivorship, the department will issue the document of title in both names; and

(I) any other data the department requires.

(3) “First retail sale” means the initial acquisition by a consumer of a manufactured home by purchase, exchange, or lease-purchase from a retailer and includes a bargain, sale, transfer, or delivery with intent to pass an interest other than a lien, to a manufactured home for which a document of title has not been previously issued by the department.

(4) “Identification number” means the permanent number affixed to, or imprinted on, a manufactured home or portion of the home as prescribed by the rules of the department.

(5) “Inventory” has the meaning given it by Section 9.105(4), Business & Commerce Code, as amended.

(6) “Lien” means a security interest that is created by any kind of lease, conditional sales contract, deed of trust, chattel mortgage, trust receipt, reservation of title, or other security agreement of whatever kind or character if an interest, other than an absolute title, is sought to be held or given in a manufactured home, and any lien on a manufactured home that is created or given by the constitution or a statute.

(7) “Manufacturer’s certificate” means a document, or a form prescribed by the department, that shows the original transfer of a manufactured home from the manufacturer to the retailer, and if presented with an application for a document of title, the certificate must show, on a form prescribed by the department, each subsequent transfer between retailers and retailer to owner.

(8) “Mortgagee” means a secured party or any other person who holds a lien on a manufactured home.

(9) “Mortgagor” means a debtor or other person who gives a lien on a manufactured home, any person who agrees that a lien may be retained on the home or any part of it, or any person against whom a lien arises under the constitution or a statute.

(10) “Secured party” has the meaning given it by Section 9.105(a)(13), Business & Commerce Code.

(11) “Security agreement” has the meaning given it by Section 1.201(37), Business & Commerce Code.

(12) “Security interest” has the meaning given it by Section 9.105(a)(12), Business & Commerce Code.

(13) “Subsequent sale” means a bargain, sale, transfer, or delivery with intent to pass an interest, other than a lien, to a manufactured home from a person to another person subsequent to the first retail sale and initial issuance of a document of title.
(b) The department shall prescribe forms and adopt rules relating to manufacturer's certificates, to applications for documents of title, and to the issue of documents of title at the first retail sale and for each subsequent sale or transfer of a manufactured home.

(c) At the first retail sale, the retailer and purchaser shall apply for the issuance of a document of title. As a part of the application, the retailer shall surrender the original manufacturer's certificate. At a subsequent sale or transfer the seller and purchaser, or the transferor and transferee, shall apply for the issuance of a new document of title. As a part of the application, the seller or transferor shall surrender the original document of title. The department shall review the application and issue a document of title if the department is satisfied that the document of title should be issued.

(d) If there are no liens registered or recorded, the department shall issue a document of title marked "ORIGINAL" on its face and shall send the original by first class mail to the purchaser or transferee at the address on the application. If a lien is shown in the application or recorded with the department, the department shall issue a document of title marked "ORIGINAL" on its face and send the original by first class mail to the first lienholder. The department shall mail, first class, a copy of the document of title conspicuously marked "NONTRANSFERABLE COPY" on its face to the purchaser or transferee and any other lienholder at the address shown on the application.

(e) The owner designated in the original document of title must transfer the title on a form prescribed by the department executed before a notary public and must file the form with the department before a manufactured home may be conveyed, transferred, or otherwise disposed of at a subsequent sale. The form must include any information the department requires and must include an affidavit that the person signing is the owner of the manufactured home and that there are no liens on the home except a lien shown on the document of title or described in the affidavit. A title to a manufactured home may not pass or vest at a subsequent sale until the transfer is executed as provided by this section and an application for the issuance of a new document of title is sent to the department.

(f) When the ownership of a manufactured home in this state is transferred by operation of law, as in an inheritance, a devise, or a bequest, bankruptcy, receivership, judicial sale, or any involuntary divestiture of ownership, the department shall issue a new document of title when the department is provided with a certified copy of the order or bill of sale from an officer making a judicial sale, or the order appointing a temporary administrator, the probate proceedings, the letters testamentary, the letters of administration, or an affidavit by all of the heirs at law showing that no administration is necessary and showing in whose name the certificate should be issued. If a security interest or other lien is foreclosed in accordance with law by nonjudicial means and the secured party or other mortgagee files an affidavit with the department showing the nonjudicial foreclosure in accordance with law, the department may issue a new document of title in the name of the purchaser at the foreclosure sale. If the foreclosure is of a constitutional or statutory lien and the mortgagee files an affidavit showing the creation of the lien and of the divestiture of title because of the lien in accordance with law, the department may issue a new document of title in the name of the purchaser. If an agreement providing for right of survivorship is signed by the husband and wife and if on the death of either spouse the department is provided with a copy of the death certificate of the deceased spouse, the department shall issue a new document of title to the surviving spouse.

(g) If an original document of title is lost or destroyed, the owner or lienholder may obtain a certified copy of the original from the department by making an affidavit on a form prescribed by the department; but the department shall issue the certified copy only to the first lienholder if a lien is disclosed on the original. The certified copy shall be conspicuously marked "CERTIFIED COPY OF ORIGINAL" on its face. If the original is recovered, the owner or lienholder shall immediately surrender the original to the department with the certified copy of the original document of title, and the department shall issue a new original document of title.

(h) The department shall record all state tax liens as filed by the comptroller on manufactured homes installed for use and occupancy in this state. The department may not issue or transfer the title to a manufactured home on which a state tax lien has been filed until the tax, penalties, and interest are paid. On receipt of a notice that the comptroller has filed a lien, the department shall notify the owner and all lienholders.

(i) A lien on the manufactured homes in the inventory is perfected by filing a security agreement with the department in a form that contains the information the department requires. Failure to pay or satisfy any inventory lien filed and recorded against a manufactured home pursuant to the terms of the security agreement by the retailer is sufficient cause to revoke or suspend the retailer's registration with the department.

(j) If a manufactured home is affixed to real estate by installation on a permanent foundation, as defined by the department, the manufacturer's certificate or the original document of title may be surrendered to the department for cancellation. The address and location of the real estate must be given to the department when the certificate or document of title is surrendered. The department may require the filing of other information. The department may not cancel a manufacturer's certificate or a document of title if a lien has been registered or recorded on the manufactured home. If a lien has been registered or recorded, the department shall notify the owner and each lienholder that the title and a description of the lien have been surrendered to the department and that the department will not cancel the title until the lien is released. Permanent attachment to real estate does not affect the validity of a lien recorded or registered with the department before the manufactured home is permanently attached. The rights of a prior lienholder pursuant to a security agreement or the provisions of a credit transaction and the rights of the state pursuant to a tax lien are preserved.

(k) The registration and recordation of a lien with the department is notice to all persons that the lien exists. Liens recorded or registered with the department have priority, in the chronological order of recordation, over other liens or claims against the manufactured home.

(l) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section, the filing of a security agreement by a secured party perfecting a lien in the inventory of a retailer shall not prevent a buyer in the ordinary course of business as defined by Sections 1.201(9) and 9.307(a) of the Business & Commerce Code from acquiring good title free and clear of such interest, and the department shall not consider such security interest as a lien for the purpose of title issuance.

(m) The department shall furnish each county tax assessor-collector in this state a quarterly report that lists the name of the owner of each manufactured home installed in the county during the preceding calendar quarter, the name of the manufacturer, the model designation, the identification number of each section or module, and the address or location where the manufactured home is installed.

(n) The express provisions of this article supersede any conflicting provisions of the Business & Commerce Code; otherwise, the provisions of the Business & Commerce Code apply to transactions relating to manufactured housing.

(o) A certificate of title to a manufactured home issued pursuant to the Certificate of Title Act, as amended (Article 6687-1, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), before March 1, 1982, is subject to this article. A lien registered or recorded with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation before March 1, 1982, for the purposes of this article is registered or recorded with the department.

(p) Each month the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation shall send the department either a copy of each permit issued in the preceding month for the movement of manufactured housing on the highways or a list of the permits issued and the information on the permits. The department shall pay the reasonable cost of providing the copies or the list and information.

(q) The department shall adopt rules consistent with this article for the titling of a manufactured home that has been previously registered or titled in this state or any other state. The rules must protect a lienholder recorded on a certificate or document of title.

(r) The department shall set a fee for issuing titles to manufactured housing; it shall not be higher than is necessary to pay the estimated expenses of administering this section. These fees shall be paid to the State Treasurer and placed in the general revenue fund.

Notice to Consumers Before Title Transfer

Sec. 20. (a) A retailer or manufacturer shall not transfer title to a manufactured home nor otherwise sell, assign or convey a manufactured home to a consumer without delivering the notice required by this section subject to applicable rules of the department and Subsection (c) of this section. The notice shall be delivered to the consumer prior to the execution of any mutually binding sales agreement or retail installment sales contract.

(b) The notice shall be of such type, size, and format as prescribed by the department. A retailer or manufacturer shall not vary the provisions or form of the notice; it shall read as follows:

WARNING

* CERTAIN BUILDING MATERIALS USED IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF RESIDENTIAL DWELLINGS MAY RELEASE FORMALDEHYDE GAS INTO YOUR HOME OVER A LONG PERIOD OF TIME AND CAUSE OR CONTRIBUTE TO ADVERSE HEALTH EFFECTS.

* FORMALDEHYDE GAS MAY CAUSE EYE, NOSE, AND THROAT IRRITATION, COUGHING, SHORTNESS OF BREATH, SKIN IRRITATION, NAUSEA, DROWSINESS, HEADACHES, AND DIZZINESS. PEOPLE WITH ASTHMA OR OTHER RESPIRATORY PROBLEMS OR ALLERGIES MAY SUFFER MORE SERIOUS REACTIONS, ESPECIALLY PERSONS ALLERGIC TO FORMALDEHYDE.

* PROPER VENTILATION OF YOUR HOME MAY HELP REDUCE THE LEVEL OF FORMALDEHYDE. THEREFORE, PERIODIC AIRING OF YOUR HOME IS RECOMMENDED.

* IF YOU HAVE QUESTIONS CONCERNING FORMALDEHYDE, CONTACT THE TEXAS DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND STANDARDS. IF YOU HAVE HEALTH PROBLEMS, CONSULT YOUR DOCTOR.

(c)(1) The legislature finds that substantial questions currently exist as to the health effects, if any, of formaldehyde gas; that sufficient evidence is not now available to determine whether or not formaldehyde is a health hazard; and further that additional research, testing, and hearings are necessary to make these determinations.

(2) The department shall determine whether or not formaldehyde emitted by building products and materials into the ambient air of manufactured housing is a serious health hazard and at what levels or concentrations, if any, it becomes a serious health hazard. This determination shall be made by contracting for appropriate research and for the testing of homes, by collecting data and information through coordination with all appropriate federal agencies and with the Texas Department of Health and Texas Air Control Board, and by conducting and holding hearings as necessary.

(3) If the department determines that there is not a serious health hazard, or that there is not a serious health hazard at or below certain levels or concentrations, the notice requirement contained in Subsection (a) of this section shall not apply except to those manufactured homes in which there is a level or concentration of formaldehyde, if any, deemed by the department to be a serious health hazard.

(4) If it is determined that a serious health hazard exists at certain levels or concentrations, the department shall establish performance standards for building products and materials, prescribe testing procedures and the standards and conditions under which tests shall be conducted, and shall adopt rules and regulations, all as may be deemed necessary for the protection of the health, safety, and welfare of the consumer. The department shall also amend or modify the warning set forth in Subsection (b) of this section as required to assure that the consumer receives adequate information and notice of the health effects, if any, of formaldehyde in indoor ambient air and the risks, if any, of living in the home.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to imply or infer that the retailer or manufacturer had, or did not have, prior to the passage of this Act any duty to warn any consumer concerning possible health effects of formaldehyde. Failure to comply with the notice provisions of this section or the performance standards for building products and materials which may be established by the department shall, after the effective date of this section, be evidence of wanton disregard for the health and safety of the consumer; compliance with such notice provisions and standards shall be evidence that the home is habitable and that the manufacturer and retailer had due regard for the health and safety of the consumer.

Section 19 of the 1970 amendatory act provided:

"This Act takes effect September 1, 1979. The standards and requirements for the construction and installation of modular homes established by this Act are effective January 1, 1980." Sections 2 and 3 of Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 113, ch. 55, § 1, eff. April 15, 1981.

Definitions

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(a) "Landlord" means the owner, lessor, or sub­lessor of a residential rental unit. A managing agent, leasing agent, or resident manager shall be considered the agent of the landlord for purposes of notice and other communications required or allowed under this Act. Otherwise, a managing agent, leasing agent, or resident manager shall be considered a landlord under this Act only if such agent purports to be the owner or lessor in the rental agreement.

(b) "Tenant" means any person entitled under a rental agreement to occupy a residential rental unit to the exclusion of others.

(c) "Premises" means a residential rental unit and the appurtenances, grounds, and facilities held out for the use of the tenants generally, and any other area or facility the use of which is provided to the tenant in the rental agreement.

(b) the tenant was not delinquent in payment of rent under the rental agreement, as defined in Section 1(d), or any portion thereof at the time of notice of the condition to the landlord;

(c) the condition materially affects the physical health or safety of an ordinary tenant;

(d) the landlord has failed to make a diligent effort to repair or remedy the condition;
(e) the landlord has had a reasonable time, after receipt of notice as provided above, to repair or remedy the condition, considering the nature of the problem and the reasonable availability of material, labor, and utilities from a utility company.

In any judicial action for enforcement of rights and remedies which are conditioned on the above requirements, the tenant shall have the burden of proof. Provided, however, the landlord shall have the burden to prove that the landlord made a diligent effort to repair and that a reasonable time for repair did not elapse if the landlord fails to provide a written explanation of the reasons for delay within five days after receipt of written demand from the tenant for such explanation.

Fire or Casualty Loss

Sec. 4. (a) Where the condition is the result of an insured casualty loss such as fire, smoke, hail, explosion, or similar cause, the time period for repair shall not commence until insurance proceeds are received by the landlord.

(b) If the rental premises are as a practical matter totally unusable for residential purposes after a casualty loss, and if the casualty loss is not due to the negligence or fault of the tenant or the tenant's family, guests, or invitees, either landlord or tenant may terminate the rental agreement at any time prior to completion of repairs by giving written notice to the other. In such event, the tenant shall only be entitled to a pro rata refund of rent from date of move-out and a refund of any security deposit as required by law.

(c) If the rental premises are partially unusable for residential purposes after a casualty loss, and if the casualty loss is not due to the negligence or fault of the tenant or the tenant's family, guest, or invitees, a tenant occupying the premises shall have a right of partial rent reduction only upon application by the tenant to the county or district court; provided, however, a landlord and tenant may agree otherwise in the written rental agreement. Any partial rent reduction shall be in relation to the extent of unusability of the premises due to the casualty.

Nonjudicial Remedy for the Tenant

Sec. 5. (a) The tenant shall have the right to terminate the rental agreement if:

1. all the events in Sections 3(a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) have occurred; and
2. after the lapse of a reasonable time for repair as set forth in Section 3(e), the tenant has given the landlord written notice that the tenant will terminate the rental agreement unless the condition is repaired or remedied within seven days.

(b) In the event of termination of the rental agreement by the tenant under this section and delivery of possession to the landlord, the tenant shall be entitled to a pro rata refund of rent from date of termination or move-out (whichever occurs later) and a refund of any security deposit as required by law. Termination of the rental agreement by the tenant shall preclude the remedies of Sections 6(a) and (b) of this Act.

Judicial Remedies for the Tenant

Sec. 6. The tenant shall have the right to recover judgment for any one or more of the remedies as set forth below, provided that all of the events in Sections 3(a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) have occurred and that the tenant has given the landlord written notice that the tenant will file suit under this Act unless the condition is repaired or remedied within seven days:

(a) a court order directing the landlord to take reasonable action to repair or remedy the condition which materially affects the physical health or safety of an ordinary tenant;

(b) a court order for a partial rent reduction in proportion to the reduction in rental value due to the condition in question until the condition is repaired or remedied;

(c) a court order imposing a civil penalty against the landlord in the amount of one month's rent plus $100;

(d) a court order awarding actual damages to the tenant; and

(e) a court order assessing against the landlord court costs and attorney's fees pursuant to Section 10 hereof; provided, however, nothing in this Act shall authorize the recovery of attorney's fees for a cause of action for damages of any kind or nature relating to or arising out of personal injuries.

Retaliation by Landlord

Sec. 7. (a) A landlord shall not, within six months from the date of the tenant's repair notice, do any of the following acts in retaliation for the tenant's notice to repair or exercise of remedies for nonrepair of a condition which materially affects the health and safety of the ordinary tenant: (1) filing an eviction proceeding on grounds other than those set forth in Section 7(b) below, (2) depriving the tenant of the use of the premises except where authorized by law, (3) decreasing services to the tenant, or (4) giving the tenant notice of termination of the rental agreement or notice of rent increase, which is effective within six months from the date of such notice. The landlord shall have a defense to a cause of action for retaliation by proving that the landlord's actions were not for purposes of retaliation.

(b) The following shall not constitute retaliation and shall constitute valid grounds for eviction in any event:

1. where the tenant was delinquent in rent as of the time of the landlord's written notice to vacate or as of the time of the filing of the eviction lawsuit;
(2) where property damage to the premises was intentionally caused by the tenant or the tenant’s family, guests, or invitees;

(3) where the tenant or the tenant’s family, guest, or invitee has threatened, by word or conduct, the personal safety of the landlord, the landlord’s employees or other tenants;

(4) where the tenant has materially breached the rental agreement; provided, however, material breach for purposes of this subsection shall not include holding over except as provided below;

(5) where the tenant has held over after the tenant has given notice of termination of the rental agreement or notice of intent to vacate;

(6) where the tenant has held over after the landlord has given notice of termination of the rental agreement at the end of the rental term, and the landlord’s termination notice was prior to receipt of actual notice to repair from the tenant; or

(7) where the tenant has held over and the landlord’s notice of termination was motivated by a good faith belief that the tenant or the tenant’s family, guests, or invitees may: (i) adversely affect the quiet enjoyment by other tenants or neighbors, or (ii) materially affect the health or safety of the landlord, other tenants, or neighbors, or (iii) cause damage to property of the landlord, other tenants, or neighbors.

(c) The following shall not constitute retaliation under this Act unless prohibited by previous court order under Section 6 hereof: (1) increases in rent pursuant to an escalation clause for utilities, taxes, or insurance in a written rental agreement, and (2) increases in rent or reduction in services which are part of a pattern of rental increases or service reductions for an entire multidwelling project.

(d) If the landlord has retaliated against the tenant in violation of this section, the tenant shall be entitled to recover from the landlord the following: (1) a court order imposing against the landlord a civil penalty of one month’s rent plus $100, (2) a court order against the landlord awarding the tenant reasonable moving costs, and (3) a court order assessing against the landlord court costs and attorney’s fees pursuant to Section 10 hereof.

Retaliation by the Tenant

Sec. 8. The landlord shall be entitled to recover from the tenant a civil penalty of one month’s rent plus $100 and attorney’s fees as defined in Section 10 hereof if the tenant has, after written notice by the landlord to the tenant of the penalties of this section, withheld payment of any portion of the rent due the landlord in retaliation for an alleged failure by the landlord to repair or remedy a condition of the premises complained of by the tenant. Written notice by the landlord may be in person, by mail, or by delivery to the rental premises.

Sec. 9. The landlord’s failure to repair or remedy a condition pursuant to the provisions of Sections 2 and 3 of this Act shall not be a defense to eviction; however, retaliation by the landlord pursuant to Section 7 of this Act shall be a defense to eviction and shall entitle the tenant to all other remedies set forth in Section 7.

Attorney’s Fees

Sec. 10. Any party who prevails in a lawsuit brought under this Act shall be entitled to recover from the other party reasonable attorney’s fees, together with costs of court. Attorney’s fees, as referred to in this Act, shall mean attorney’s fees in relation to work reasonably expended.

Harassment

Sec. 11. Any tenant or landlord who files or prosecutes a lawsuit under this Act in bad faith for purposes of harassment shall be liable to the defendant for a civil penalty of one month’s rent plus $100 and attorney’s fees as defined in Section 10 hereof.

Closing of the Rental Premises

Sec. 12. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this Act, the landlord may at any time give written notice by certified mail return receipt requested, to the tenant and to the local health officer, and to the local building inspector, if there is one, stating: (1) that the landlord is terminating the rental agreement as soon as legally possible, and (2) that when the tenant moves out, the landlord will immediately either demolish the rental unit or refrain from further use of the rental unit for residential purposes. Reoccupancy and reconnection of utilities shall be allowed only pursuant to Section 12(b) below.

(b) After such notice is received by the tenant and after the tenant moves out, the local health officer and/or building inspector shall not permit further occupancy or utility service by separate meter to the rental unit until such official certifies that there is no condition, known to said official, which materially affects the physical health or safety of an ordinary tenant. The landlord shall not allow reoccupancy or reconnection of utilities by separate meter within six months after the tenant moves out. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting occupancy of other apartments. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as prohibiting occupancy of or utility service by master meter or individual meter to other rental units in an apartment complex which have not been closed down by the landlord pursuant to Section 12(a) of this Act.

(c) If such notice of closing of the rental unit occurs prior to the tenant’s repair notice to the landlord, the remedies of this Act shall not apply.

(d) If such notice of closing of the rental unit occurs after the tenant’s repair notice to the landlord but before a reasonable time has elapsed for repair by the landlord, only the remedies of Sections 12(f) and (g) shall apply.

(e) If such notice of closing of the rental unit occurs after the tenant's repair notice to the landlord and after a reasonable time has elapsed for repair by the landlord, only the remedies of Sections 6(c), (d), and (e) and Sections 12(f) and (g) shall apply.

(f) In the event a tenant moves out on or before the ending of the rental term after receiving notice as referred to in Section 12(d) and (e) above, the landlord shall pay to the tenant reasonable moving expenses actually incurred and the landlord shall make a pro rata return of rent from date of move-out and a return of any security deposit as required by law.

(g) Violation by the landlord of Section 12(b) or (f) shall entitle the tenant to recover a penalty of one month's rent plus $100 and attorney's fees as defined in Section 10 hereof.

Waiver

Sec. 13. The provisions of this Act may not be waived except where the rental agreement is in writing and the waiver is underlined or in bold print in the written rental agreement or in a separate written addendum. Such waiver must be specific and must list with clarity what duties are being waived. Such waiver must be made knowingly, voluntarily, and for consideration.

Other Rights

Sec. 14. The duties of the landlord and remedies of the tenant as set forth in this Act shall apply in lieu of existing common law and statutory law regarding the landlord's warranties or duties of maintenance, repair, security, habitability, and nonretaliation, and the tenant's remedies for violation thereof. Otherwise, nothing in this Act shall serve to affect or diminish any other rights of the landlord or tenant under contract, statute, or common law which are consistent with the purposes of this Act or any right the landlord or tenant may have to bring actions for personal injury or property damage under the laws of this state. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as imposing obligations on the landlord or tenant other than those expressly stated herein.

Laws in Conflict

Sec. 15. All laws in conflict or inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict or inconsistency.

Jurisdiction and Venue Actions Under This Act

Sec. 16. The repair-order and rent-abatement remedies contained in Section 6(a) and (b) of this Act shall be available only in the county and district courts of this state. Venue for all actions under this Act shall be in the county where the premises are located.

Effective Date

Sec. 17. This Act shall take effect on September 1, 1979, and shall apply only to residential rental agreements executed or entered into, renewed, or extended after that date. [Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1978, ch. 780, eff. Sept. 1, 1979.]

Section 18 of the 1979 Act provided in part: "If any portion or provision of this Act or application thereof is held unconstitutional, the remainder of this Act shall nevertheless be valid."

Art. 5236g. Termination of Lease by Landlord

Notwithstanding any of the terms or provisions of a lease, a landlord may terminate either written or oral lease entered into or renewed after the effective date of this Act if the tenant or occupant uses said property for any activity for which he or his employee or agent is convicted under any provision of Chapter 43 of the Penal Code. Within 6 months after the option to terminate the lease arises and 10 days after the fee owner or any intermediate lessor gives notice in writing to the tenant or occupant that he is exercising his option to terminate the lease, the right of possession to the property reverts to the person exercising the option. This option does not arise until all avenues of direct appeal from the conviction have been exhausted or abandoned by the tenant or occupant or his employee. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2375, ch. 588, § 1, eff. June 15, 1981.]

Art. 5236h. Security Devices; Landlord's Duty to Install, Change or Rekey on Dwelling Units

Sec. 1. In this Act:

(1) "Deadbolt lock" means an operable deadbolt lock in a door, with the lock operated from the exterior by a key and from the interior without a key by knob or lever.

(2) "Doorknob lock" means an operable lock in a doorknob, with the lock operated from the exterior by a key and from the interior without a key.

(3) "Dwelling unit" means one or more rooms that are subject to a single rental agreement and that are rented for use by persons as a permanent residence.

(4) "Exterior door" means any exterior door of a dwelling unit, including a door between a garage and the living area of the dwelling unit, except a screen door or garage door.

(5) "Landlord" means the owner, lessor, or sublessor of a dwelling unit. A managing agent or leasing agent, whether residing or maintaining an office on or off the site, is considered the agent of the landlord for purposes of notice and other communications required or allowed by this Act. Otherwise, a manager or agent of the landlord is considered a landlord under this Act only if the managing or agent purports to be the owner, lessor, or sublessor in the rental agreement.
(6) "Night latch" means an operable door chain latch or an operable door lock, with the lock operated without a key and only from the interior by chain, knob, or lever.

(7) "Pin lock" means an operable sliding glass door lock, with the lock operated without a key and only from the interior by inserting a pin or rod to prevent movement.

(8) "Sliding glass door" means a sliding glass door on the exterior of a dwelling unit.

(9) "Security device" means a window latch, deadbolt lock, night latch, or pin lock that is selected by the landlord or any other latch or lock that is acceptable to a landlord and a tenant.

(10) "Tenant" means a person who is entitled to occupy a dwelling unit to the exclusion of others and who is obligated to pay rent for the dwelling unit under a written or oral rental agreement.

(11) "Window latch" means an operable window latch, with the lock operated without a key and only from the interior.

Landlord's Obligation to Install, Change, or Rekey a Security Device

Sec. 2. (a) After receiving a written request from a tenant, a landlord shall install, change, or rekey a security device on any exterior door or window of a dwelling unit rented by the tenant. The landlord may designate the manner and location of installation of a security device.

(b) If there is more than one tenant in the dwelling unit, the landlord may require all the tenants to approve the request prior to the installation, change, or rekeying.

(c) A landlord shall comply with a tenant's request under Subsection (a) of this section within a reasonable time. For the purposes of this subsection, a "reasonable time" is presumed to be before the 15th day after the landlord receives the tenant's request. The landlord has the burden of proving that a reasonable time is longer than 14 days. The presumption may be rebutted by evidence that, despite the diligence of the landlord's representative, a longer time is reasonable in view of:

(1) lack of knowledge of the tenant's request without fault of the landlord or the landlord's representative;

(2) delay or failure of cotenants to approve the tenant's request if required by the landlord under Subsection (b) of this section;

(3) failure of the tenant to pay, in advance, charges requested by the landlord and authorized by Section 4(a) of this Act;

(4) unavailability of materials, labor, or utilities; or

(5) extenuating circumstances, such as the illness or death of the landlord or a member of the landlord's family, or other circumstances beyond the landlord's control.

Sec. 3. (a) The tenant may not require the installation of an additional security device under this Act if installation of the security device requested by the tenant would result in more than one window latch per window, more than one deadbolt lock per door, more than one night latch per door, or more than one pin lock per sliding glass door. Except as provided by this Act, there is no limit on the number of times a tenant may require the change or rekeying of a security device.

(b) The landlord's duty to install, change, or rekey a security device under this Act is limited to installing, changing, or rekeying:

(1) window latches on exterior windows;

(2) deadbolt locks and night latches on exterior doors, except sliding glass doors; and

(3) pin locks on exterior sliding glass doors.

Payment of Costs

Sec. 4. (a) Except as provided by this section, a tenant who requests the installation, change, or rekeying of a security device under this Act shall pay for the total cost to a landlord for compliance with this Act if installation of the security device requested by the tenant would result in more than one window latch per window, more than one deadbolt lock per door, more than one night latch per door, or more than one pin lock per sliding glass door.

(b) The total cost that a landlord may charge a tenant may not exceed the cost for labor, materials, taxes, and extra keys. If the landlord's employees perform the installation, change, or rekeying, the total cost may also include a reasonable amount for overhead expense, but may not include a profit to the landlord. The landlord may require advance payment of the charges authorized by this subsection.

(c) A landlord may not charge a tenant for any portion of the cost to:

(1) install a window latch on a window if there has been no window latch on the window since the beginning of the tenant's occupancy to the time of the tenant's request for the window latch;

(2) install a deadbolt lock on a door if there has not been either a deadbolt or a doorknob lock on the door since the beginning of the tenant's occupancy to the time of the tenant's request for a deadbolt lock on the door; or

(3) install a pin lock on a sliding glass door if there has not been a pin lock or other operable lock on the sliding glass door since the beginning of the tenant's occupancy to the time of the tenant's request for a pin lock on the sliding glass door.

Removal of a Security Device by a Tenant

Sec. 5. If a landlord complies with a tenant's request to install, change, or rekey a security device, the security device becomes a fixture of the dwelling unit and the tenant may not remove it or have it removed without permission of the landlord. A written rental agreement may require the landlord's permission for removal to be in writing.

Landlord's Failure to Comply

Sec. 6. (a) A tenant may exercise a remedy provided by Section 8 of this Act only if:

1. the tenant requests the landlord to install, change, or rekey a security device on a specific exterior door or window in the dwelling unit rented by the tenant;

2. the landlord fails to comply with a request under Subdivision (1) of this subsection within a reasonable time, as defined by Section 2(e) of this Act;

3. after the landlord fails to comply within a reasonable time, the tenant gives the landlord written notice that if the landlord does not comply with the request before the eighth day after receiving the written notice under this subdivision, the tenant will be entitled to exercise the remedies provided by this Act; and

4. the landlord fails to comply with the tenant's request before the eighth day after the tenant gives notice under Subdivision (3) of this subsection.

(b) A request under Subsection (a)(1) of this section need not be in writing unless a written request is required by a written rental agreement.

Landlord's Defenses

Sec. 7. The remedies provided by Section 8 of this Act are not available to a tenant if:

1. at the time the notices required by Section 6 of this Act are given, all rent due by the tenant to the landlord is not paid in full; or

2. at the time a suit is filed or a lease is unilaterally terminated by authority of this Act, the costs that were requested by the landlord by authority of Section 4 of this Act have not been paid in full.

Tenant Remedies

Sec. 8. If a landlord violates a provision of this Act, and if a tenant has met the requirements of Section 6 of this Act, the tenant may:

1. obtain a court order directing the landlord to install, change, or rekey a security device requested by the tenant by authority of this Act, if the tenant is in possession of the dwelling unit at the time the court order is effective;

2. obtain a judgment against the landlord for actual damages suffered by the tenant as a result of the landlord's violation;

3. obtain a judgment against the landlord for the amount of one month's rent plus $100;

4. obtain a judgment against the landlord for court costs and attorney's fees as provided by Section 10 of this Act; and

5. unilaterally terminate the rental agreement without court proceedings.

Harassment

Sec. 9. A person who files or prosecutes a lawsuit under this Act in bad faith or for purposes of harassment is liable to the defendant for one month's rent plus $100 and attorney's fees as provided by Section 10 of this Act.

Attorney's Fees

Sec. 10. A party who prevails in a lawsuit brought by authority of this Act is entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees and costs of court. Attorney's fees as referred to in this Act shall mean attorney's fees in relation to work reasonably expended. This Act does not authorize a recovery of attorney's fees for a cause of action for damages of any type or nature that relate to or arise from property damages, personal injuries, or criminal acts.

Waiver

Sec. 11. A landlord's duties and a tenant's remedies provided by this Act may not be waived. The landlord's duties and the tenant's remedies provided by this Act may be enlarged only by specific written agreement.

Other Rights

Sec. 12. The duties of the landlord and the remedies of the tenant as provided by this Act apply in lieu of common law, statutory law, and local ordinances relating to a residential landlord's duty to install, change, or rekey security devices at the request of a tenant. However, this Act does not affect the landlord's duties or the tenant's remedies under Chapter 780 Acts of the 66th Legislature, 1979 (Article 5236f, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Venue

Sec. 13. Venue for all actions under this Act is in the county where the residential dwelling is located.

(d) "Landlord" means the owner, lessor, or sub­lessor of a dwelling unit. A managing agent or leasing agent, whether residing or officing on-site or off-site, shall be considered the agent of the landlord for purposes of notice and other communications required or allowed under this Act. Otherwise, a manager or agent of the landlord shall be considered a landlord under this Act only if the manager or agent purports to be the owner, lessor, or sublessor in the rental agreement.

(e) "Owner" means the holder of record title of a dwelling unit according to the deed records maintained by the county clerk.

(f) "Property management company" means any entity which is located off-site from a dwelling unit and which is primarily responsible for managing the dwelling unit rented to the tenant.

(g) "Tenant" means any person who is entitled to occupy a dwelling unit to the exclusion of others and who is obligated to pay rent for the dwelling unit under a written or oral rental agreement.

Duty to Furnish Information

Sec. 2. (a) A landlord shall have a duty to disclose to the tenant the name and address of the owner of the dwelling unit rented by the tenant, in a manner provided in Section 3 of this Act.

(b) A landlord shall have a duty to disclose to the tenant the name and street address of any property management company which is managing the dwelling unit rented by the tenant, in a manner provided in Section 3 of this Act.

Manner of Furnishing Information

Sec. 3. The information required to be furnished under Section 2 of this Act may be furnished or corrected by any of the following methods:

(a) by giving a written copy of the information to the tenant prior to the tenant's request for the information or within seven days after receipt of the tenant's request;

(b) by having the information posted continuously in a conspicuous place in the dwelling unit or office of the on-site manager, or on the outside of the entry door to the office of the on-site manager, at the time of the tenant's request for the information, or within seven days after receipt of the tenant's request; or

(c) by having the information included in the tenant's copy of the written rental agreement or written rules and regulations furnished to the tenant prior to the tenant's request for the information.

Landlord's Failure to Furnish Written Copy of Information

Sec. 4. The tenant is entitled to the remedies in Section 8 of this Act if all of the following have occurred:

(a) the tenant has given notice to the landlord, requesting any of the information required to be furnished under this Act. The notice to the landlord need not be in writing unless written notice is required in the written rental agreement;

(b) the landlord has failed to furnish the information requested by the tenant and required by this Act;

(c) the tenant thereafter has given written notice to the landlord that if the information is not furnished to the tenant within seven days the tenant may exercise remedies under this Act; and

(d) the information was not furnished to the tenant by the landlord prior to or within the seven days referred to above.

Landlord's Failure to Correct Posted Information

Sec. 5. The tenant is entitled to the remedies in Section 8 of this Act if all of the following have occurred:

(a) the name or address of the owner or property management company was furnished to the tenant by posting the information in a conspicuous place in the dwelling unit or office of the on-site manager, or on the outside of the entry door of the office of the on-site manager, or by stating the information in the written rental agreement or written rules and regulations;

(b) the above information became incorrect when the name or address of the owner or property management company changed;

(c) the tenant thereafter has given written notice to the landlord that if the above incorrect information is not corrected within seven days, the tenant may exercise remedies under this Act; and

(d) the landlord failed to correct the above incorrect information within seven days referred to above.

Landlord's Wilful Posting of Wrong Information

Sec. 6. The tenant is entitled to the remedies in Section 8 of this Act if the landlord in bad faith furnished an incorrect name or address of the owner or property management company by:

(a) wilfully posting the incorrect information in the dwelling unit, dwelling complex, or office of the on-site manager;

(b) wilfully stating the incorrect information in the written rental agreement or written rules and regulations; or

(c) wilfully failing to correct information so posted or stated which is known by the landlord to be incorrect.

Landlord's Defense

Sec. 7. The landlord shall have a defense to any of the remedies under this Act if, at the time of the notices required under Section 4 or 5, all rent due by the tenant to the landlord was not paid in full. Provided, however, rent delinquency shall not be a defense to any remedy under this Act for the landlord's violation of Section 6.

Tenant Remedies

Sec. 8. The tenant is entitled to one or more of the following remedies if the provisions of either Section 4, 5, or 6 of this Act are satisfied:

(a) a court order requiring the landlord to disclose the information required by this Act;
(b) a court order awarding judgment against the landlord for actual costs incurred by the tenant in discovering the information required by this Act;
(c) a court order imposing a civil penalty against the landlord in the amount of one month's rent plus $100;
(d) a court order assessing against the landlord court costs and attorney's fees as set forth in Section 10 of this Act; or
(e) unilateral termination of the rental agreement by the tenant without court proceedings.

Harassment

Sec. 9. Any party who files or prosecutes a lawsuit under this Act in bad faith or for purposes of harassment shall be liable to the defendant for a civil penalty of one month's rent plus $100 and attorney's fees as set forth in Section 10 of this Act.

Attorney's Fees

Sec. 10. Any party who prevails in a lawsuit brought under this Act shall be entitled to recover reasonable attorney's fees, together with costs of court. Attorney's fees as referred to in this Act shall mean attorney's fees in relation to work reasonably expended. Nothing in this Act shall authorize recovery of attorney's fees for a cause of action for damages of any kind or nature relating to or arising from property damages, personal injuries, or criminal acts.

Waiver

Sec. 11. The landlord's duties and the tenant's remedies under this Act may not be waived. The landlord's duties and the tenant's remedies under this Act may be enlarged only by specific written agreement contained in either the rental agreement or a separate instrument.

Other Rights

Sec. 12. The duties of the landlord and the remedies of the tenant as set forth in this Act shall apply in lieu of common law, statutory law, and local ordinances regarding a residential landlord's duty to disclose the name and address of the owner and any management company managing a dwelling unit. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as imposing obligations on the landlord or tenant other than those expressly stated in this Act. Nothing in this Act shall prevent the adoption of local ordinances which relate to disclosure of ownership and management of a dwelling unit by a landlord to a tenant and which conform to the provisions in this Act and contain additional enforcement provisions.

Laws in Conflict

Sec. 13. All laws in conflict or inconsistent with this Act are repealed to the extent of the conflict or inconsistency.

Venue Under This Act

Sec. 14. Venue for all actions under this Act shall be in the county where the dwelling unit is located.

Sec. 2. (a) For all dwelling units constructed after September 1, 1981, at least one smoke detector shall be installed by the landlord outside of each separate bedroom in the immediate vicinity of the bedroom, except that:

1. where the dwelling unit is designed with the intent that a single multipurpose room be used for dining, living, and sleeping purposes, the smoke detector shall be located inside the room rather than outside;

2. where the bedrooms are served by the same corridor, at least one smoke detector shall be installed in the corridor in the immediate vicinity of the bedrooms; and
