to the clerk for the accounts of residents of this state, and all applicable provisions of Subsection (a) above shall apply to the handling and disposition of money or any increase, dividend, or income herefrom so paid to the clerk for the use, benefit, and account of such non-resident creditor.

(c) When the Deposit Is Not Withdrawn by Another Person. If no person authorized hereunder withdraws such money from the clerk as provided for in this Section, then the clerk himself, after termination of his disability, or his subsequent personal representatives or heirs, as the case may be, may at any time, without special bond for the purpose, withdraw such money upon simply exhibiting to the clerk an order of the county or probate court of the county where such money is held by the clerk, directing the clerk to deliver such money to such creditor or to his personal representative or heirs named in such order, the identity of such persons and their credentials being first proved to the satisfaction of the court.

(d) Money in the Registry of a Court and Belonging to an Inmate of a State Eleemosynary Institute. Whenever it is made to appear to the judge of a county court, district court, or other court of the State of Texas, by an affidavit executed by the superintendent, business manager or field representative of any eleemosynary institution of the State of Texas, that a certain inmate therein is a lunatic, idiot, person of unsound mind or a person whose mental illness or mental incapacity, or both, renders him incapable of caring for himself and managing his property and financial affairs, and there is no known legal guardian appointed for the estate of such inmate, and that there is on deposit in the registry of the court a certain sum of money belonging to the inmate and not exceeding the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars, the judge of the court may order the disposition of the funds as herein provided. The judge of the court, upon satisfactory proof by affidavit or otherwise, that the inmate is a lunatic, idiot, person of unsound mind or a person whose mental illness or mental incapacity, or both, renders him incapable of caring for himself and managing his property and financial affairs, without a legally appointed guardian of his estate, may by order direct the clerk of the court to pay the money to the institution for the use and benefit of the inmate. The State institution to which the payment is made shall not be required to give bond or security for receiving the fund from the registry of the court, and the receipt from the State institution for such payment, or the cancelled check or warrant by which the payment was made, shall be sufficient evidence of the disposition thereof and the clerk of the court shall be relieved of further responsibility therefor. Upon receipt of the money the institution shall deposit all of the amount received to the trust account of the inmate, to be used by or for the personal use of the owner thereof under the regulations or custom of the institution in the expenditure of such funds by the inmate or for the use and benefit of the inmate by the responsible officer of the institution. The provisions of this subdivision shall be cumulative of all other laws affecting the rights of lunatics, idiots, persons of unsound mind or of mental illness, and moneys belonging to such persons as inmates of a state eleemosynary institution.

Should such inmate become deceased leaving a balance in his trust account, such balance may be applied on the burial expenses of said inmate, or applied on his care, support and treatment account at said institution. After the expenditure of all funds in such trust account or after the death of such inmate the responsible officer shall furnish a statement of expenditures of such funds to nearest relative entitled to such statement; and, a copy of such statement shall be filed with the court which first granted the order to dispose of the funds in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

PART 4. INDEPENDENT ADMINISTRATION

§ 145. Independent Administration

(a) Independent administration of an estate may be created as provided in Subsections (b) through (e) of this section.

(b) Any person capable of making a will may provide in his will that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of his estate than the probating and recording of his will, and the return of an inventory, appraisement, and list of claims of his estate.

(c) In situations where an executor is named in a decedent's will, but the will does not provide for independent administration of the decedent's estate as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, all of the distributees of the decedent may agree on the advisability of having an independent administration and collectively designate in the application for probate of the decedent's will the executor named in the will to serve as independent executor and request in the application that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of the decedent's estate other than the probating and recording of the decedent's will, and the return of an inventory, appraisement, and list of claims of the decedent's estate. In such case the county court shall enter an order granting independent administration and appointing the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as independent executor, unless the county court finds that it would not be in the best interest of the estate to do so.

(d) In situations where no executor is named in the decedent's will, or in situations where each executor named in the will is deceased or is disqualified to serve as executor or indicates by affidavit filed with the application for administration of the decedent's estate his inability or unwillingness to serve as executor, all of the distributees of the decedent may agree on the advisability of having an independent administration and collectively designate in the application for probate of the decedent's will a qualified person, firm, or corporation to serve as independent administrator and request in the application that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of the decedent's estate other than the probating and recording of the decedent's will, and the return of an inventory, appraisement, and list of claims of the decedent's estate. In such case the county court shall enter an order granting independent administration and appointing the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as independent administrator, unless the county court finds that it would not be in the best interest of the estate to do so.

(e) All of the distributees of a decedent dying intestate may agree on the advisability of having an independent administration and collectively designate in the application for administration of the decedent's estate a qualified person, firm, or corporation to serve as independent administrator and request in the application that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of the decedent's estate other than the return of an inventory, appraisement, and list of claims of the decedent's estate. In such case the county court shall enter an order granting independent administration and appointing the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as independent administrator, unless the county court finds that it would not be in the best interest of the estate to do so.

(f) In those cases where an independent administration is sought under the provisions of Subsections (c) through (e) above, all distributees shall be served with citation and notice of the application for independent administration unless the distributee waives the issuance or service of citation or enters an appearance in court.

(g) In no case shall any independent administrator be appointed by any court to serve in any intestate administration until those parties seeking the appointment of said independent administrator offer clear and convincing evidence to the court that they constitute all of the said decedent's heirs.

(h) When an independent administration has been created, and the order appointing an independent executor has been entered by the county court, and the inventory, appraisement, and list aforesaid has been filed by the executor and approved by the county court, as long as the estate is represented by an independent executor, further action of any nature shall not be had in the county court except where this Code specifically and explicitly provides for some action in the county court.

(i) If a distributee described in Subsections (c) through (e) of this section is a minor or an incompetent, the guardian of the person of the distributee may sign the application on behalf of the distributee. If the county court finds that either the granting of independent administration or the appointment of the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as independent executor would not be in the best interests of the minor or incompetent, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Subsections (c) through (e) of this section, the county court shall not enter an order granting independent administration of the estate. If such distributee who is a minor or incompetent has no guardian of the person, the county court may appoint a guardian ad litem to make application on behalf of the minor or incompetent if the county court considers such an appointment necessary to protect the interest of the distributees.

(j) If a trust is created in the decedent's will, the person or class of persons first eligible to receive the income from the trust, when determined as if the trust were to be in existence on the date of the decedent's death, shall, for the purposes of Subsections (c) and (d) of this section, be deemed to be the distributee or distributees on behalf of such trust, and any other trust or trusts coming into existence upon the termination of such trust, and are authorized to apply for independent administration on behalf of the trusts without the consent or agreement of the trustee or any other beneficiary of the trust, or the trustee or any beneficiary of any other trust which may come into existence upon the termination of such trust.

(k) If a life estate is created either in the decedent's will or by law, the life tenant or life tenants, when determined as if the life estate were to commence on the date of the decedent's death, shall, for the purposes of Subsections (c) through (e) of this section, be deemed to be the distributee or distributees on behalf of the entire estate created, and are authorized to apply for independent administration on behalf of the estate without the consent or approval of any remainderman.

(l) If a decedent's will contains a provision that a distributee must survive the decedent by a prescribed period of time in order to take under the decedent's will, then, for the purposes of determining who shall be the distributee under Subsections (c), (d), (h), and (i) of this section, it shall be presumed that the distributees living at the time of the filing of the application for probate of the decedent's will survived the decedent by the prescribed period.

(m) In the case of all decedents, whether dying testate or intestate, for the purposes of determining who shall be the distributees under Subsections (c), (d), (e), (h), and (i) of this section, it shall be presumed that no distributee living at the time the application for independent administration is filed shall subsequently disclaim any portion of such distributee's interest in the decedent's estate.

(n) If a distributee of a decedent's estate should die and if by virtue of such distributee's death such distributee's share of the decedent's estate shall become payable to such distributee's estate, then the deceased distributee's personal representative may sign the application for independent administration of the decedent's estate under Subsections (c), (d), (e), (h), and (i) of this section.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this section, a person capable of making a will may provide in his will that no independent administration of his estate may be allowed. In such case, his estate, if administered, shall be administered and settled under the direction of the county court as other estates are required to be settled.

(p) If an independent administration of a decedent’s estate is created pursuant to Subsections (c), (d), or (e) of this section, then, unless the county court shall waive bond on application for waiver, the independent executor shall be required to enter into bond payable to and to be approved by the judge and his or her successors in a sum that is found by the judge to be adequate under all circumstances, or a bond with one surety in a sum that is found by the judge to be adequate under all circumstances, if the surety is an authorized corporate surety. This subsection does not repeal any other section of this Code.

(q) Absent proof of fraud or collusion on the part of a judge, no judge may be held civilly liable for the commission of misdeeds or the omission of any required act of any person, firm, or corporation designated as an independent executor under Subsections (c), (d), and (e) of this section.

§ 147. Enforcement of Claims by Suit
Any person having a debt or claim against the estate may enforce the payment of the same by suit against the independent executor; and, when judgment is recovered against the independent executor, the execution shall run against the estate of the decedent in the hands of the independent executor which is subject to such debt. The independent executor shall not be required to plead to any suit brought against him for money until after six months from the date that an independent administration was created and the order appointing an independent executor was entered by the county court.

§ 148. Requiring Heirs to Give Bond
When an independent administration is created and the order appointing an independent executor is entered by the county court, any person having a debt against such estate may, by written complaint filed in the county court where such order was entered, cause all distributees of the estate, heirs at law, and other persons entitled to any portion of such estate under the will, if any, to be cited by personal service to appear before such county court and execute a bond for an amount equal to the amount of the creditor's claim or the full value of such estate, as shown by the inventory and list of claims, whichever is the smaller; such bond to be payable to the judge, and his successors, and to be approved by said judge, and conditioned that all obligors shall pay all debts that shall be established against such estate in the manner provided by law. Upon the return of the citation served, unless such person so entitled to any portion of the estate, or some of them, or some other person for them, shall execute such bond to the satisfaction of the county court, such estate shall thereafter be administered and settled under the direction of the county court as other estates are required to be settled. If the bond is executed and approved, the independent administration shall proceed. Creditors of the estate may sue on such bond, and shall be entitled to judgment thereon for the amount of their debt, or they may have their action against those in possession of the estate.

§ 149A. Accounting
(a) Interested Person May Demand Accounting. At any time after the expiration of fifteen months from the date that an independent administration was created and the order appointing an independent executor was entered by the county court, any person interested in the estate may demand an accounting from the independent executor. The independent executor shall thereupon furnish to the person or persons making the demand an exhibit in writing, sworn and subscribed by the independent executor, setting forth in detail:

1. The property belonging to the estate which has come into his hands as executor.
2. The disposition that has been made of such property.
3. The debts that have been paid.
4. The debts and expenses, if any, still owing by the estate.
5. The property of the estate, if any, still remaining in his hands.
6. Such other facts as may be necessary to a full and definite understanding of the exact condition of the estate.
7. Such facts, if any, that show why the administration should not be closed and the estate distributed.

Any other interested person shall, upon demand, be entitled to a copy of any exhibit or accounting that has been made by an independent executor in compliance with this section.

(b) Enforcement of Demand. Should the independent executor not comply with a demand for an accounting authorized by this section within sixty days after receipt of the demand, the person making the demand may compel compliance by an action in the county court or by a suit in the district court.
§ 149A TEXAS PROBATE CODE

After a hearing, the court shall enter an order requiring the accounting to be made at such time as it deems proper under the circumstances.

§ 149B. Accounting and Distribution

(a) In addition to or in lieu of the right to an accounting provided by Section 149A of this code, at any time after the expiration of 12 months after all estate and all inheritance taxes are paid or three years from the date that an independent administration was created and the order appointing an independent executor was entered, whichever date is later, a person interested in the estate may petition the court for an accounting and distribution. The proceeding for an accounting and distribution may be brought in the county court if the county judge is licensed to practice law in the State of Texas or may be brought in a statutory probate court, a county court at law with probate jurisdiction, or a district court of the county. The court may order an accounting to be made with the court by the independent executor at such time as the court deems proper. The accounting shall include the information that the court deems necessary to determine whether any part of the estate should be distributed.

(b) On receipt of the accounting and, after notice to the independent executor and a hearing, unless the court finds a continued necessity for administration of the estate, the court may order its distribution by the independent executor to the persons entitled to the property.

(c) If all the property in the estate is ordered distributed by the executor and the estate is fully administered, the court also may order the inde-dependent executor to file a final account with the court and may enter an order closing the administration and terminating the power of the independent executor to act as executor.

§ 149C. Removal of Independent Executor

(a) The county court, if the county judge is licensed to practice law in the State of Texas, or a statutory probate court, a county court at law with probate jurisdiction, or a district court of the county, on motion of any interested person, after the inde-dependent executor has been cited by personal service to answer at a time and place fixed in the notice, may remove an independent executor when:

(1) the independent executor fails to return within ninety days after qualification, unless such time is extended by order of the court, an inventory of the property of the estate and list of claims that have come to his knowledge;

(2) sufficient grounds appear to support belief that he has misapplied or embezzled, or that he is about to misapply or embezzle, all or any part of the property committed to his care;

(3) he fails to make an accounting which is required by law to be made;

(4) he is proved to have been guilty of gross misconduct or gross mismanagement in the performance of his duties; or

(5) he becomes an incompetent, or is sentenced to the penitentiary, or from any other cause becomes legally incapacitated from properly performing his fiduciary duties.

(b) The order of removal shall state the cause of removal and shall direct by order the disposition of the assets remaining in the name or under the control of the removed executor. The order of removal shall require that letters issued to the removed executor shall be surrendered and that all letters shall be canceled of record. If an independent executor is removed by the court under this section, the court may, on application, appoint a successor independent executor as provided by Section 154A of this code.

(c) An independent executor who defends an action for his removal in good faith, whether successful or not, shall be allowed out of the estate his necessary expenses and disbursements, including reasonable attorney's fees, in the removal proceedings.

§ 150. Partition and Distribution or Sale of Property Incapable of Division

If the will does not distribute the entire estate of the testator, or provide a means for partition of said estate, or if no will was probated, the independent executor may file his final account in the county court in which the will was probated, or if no will was probated, in the county court in which the order appointing the independent executor was entered, and ask for either partition and distribution of the estate or an order of sale of any portion of the estate alleged by the independent executor and found by the court to be incapable of a fair and equal partition and distribution, or both; and the same either shall be partitioned and distributed or shall be sold, or both, in the manner provided for the partition and distribution of property and the sale of property incapable of division in estates administered under the direction of the county court.

§ 154A. Court-Appointed Successor Independent Executor

(a) If the will of a person who dies testate names an independent executor who, having qualified, fails for any reason to continue to serve, or is removed for cause by the court, and the will does not name a successor independent executor or if each successor executor named in the will fails for any reason to qualify as executor or indicates by affidavit filed with the application for an order continuing independent administration his inability or unwillingness to serve as successor independent executor, all of the distributees of the decedent as of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration may apply to the county court for the appointment of a qualified person, firm, or corporation to serve as successor independent executor. If the county court finds that continued administration of the estate is necessary, the county court shall enter an order continuing independent administration and appointing the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as successor independent executor, unless the county court finds that it would not be in the best interest of the estate to do so. Such successor shall serve with all of the powers and privileges granted to his predecessor independent executor.

(b) If a distributee described in this section is a minor or an incompetent, the guardian of the person of the distributee may sign the application on behalf of the distributee. If the county court finds that either the continuing of independent administration or the appointment of the person, firm, or corporation designated in the application as successor independent executor would not be in the best interest of the minor or incompetent, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in subsection (a) of this section, the county court shall not enter an order continuing independent administration of the estate. If the distributee who is a minor or incompetent has no guardian of the person, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem to make application on behalf of the minor or incompetent if the county court considers such an appointment necessary to protect the interest of such distributee.

(c) If a trust is created in the decedent's will, the person or class of persons first eligible to receive the income from the trust, determined as if the trust were to be in existence on the date of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be the distributee or distributees on behalf of such trust, and any other trust or trusts coming into existence upon the termination of such trust, and are authorized to apply for an order continuing independent administration on behalf of the trust without the consent or agreement of the trustee or any other beneficiary of the trust, or the trustee or any beneficiary of any other trust which may come into existence upon the termination of such trust.

(d) If a life estate is created either in the decedent's will or by law, and if a life tenant is living at the time of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration, then the life tenant or life tenants, determined as if the life estate were to commence on the date of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed to be the distributee or distributees on behalf of such trust, and any other trust or trusts coming into existence upon the termination of such trust, and are authorized to apply for an order continuing independent administration on behalf of the trust without the consent or agreement of the trustee or any other beneficiary of the trust, or the trustee or any beneficiary of any other trust which may come into existence upon the termination of such trust.

(e) If a decedent's will contains a provision that a distributee must survive the decedent by a prescribed period of time in order to take under the decedent's will, for the purposes of determining who shall be the distributee under this section, it shall be presumed that the distributees living at the time of the filing of the application for an order continuing independent administration of the decedent’s estate survived the decedent for the prescribed period.

(f) In the case of all decedents, whether dying testate or intestate, for the purposes of determining who shall be the distributees under this section, it shall be presumed that no distributee living at the time the application for an order continuing independent administration of the decedent’s estate is filed shall subsequently disclaim any portion of such distributee’s interest in the decedent’s estate.

(g) If a distributee of a decedent’s estate should die, and if by virtue of such distributee’s death such distributee’s share of the decedent’s estate shall become payable to such distributee’s estate, then the deceased distributee’s personal representative may sign the application for an order continuing independent administration of the decedent’s estate under this section.

(h) If a successor independent executor is appointed pursuant to this section, then, unless the county court shall waive bond on application for waiver, the successor independent executor shall be required to enter into bond payable to and to be approved by the judge and his or her successors in a sum that is found by the judge to be adequate under all circumstances, or a bond with one surety in a sum that is found by the judge to be adequate under all circumstances, if the surety is an authorized corporate surety. The bond shall be conditioned that the guardian will faithfully discharge the duties of guardian of the person of his ward.

§ 194. Bonds of Personal Representatives of Estates

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of 1 to 3]

4. Penalty of Bond.
The penalty of the bond shall be fixed by the judge in an amount equal to the estimated value of all personal property belonging to the estate, or to the person under disability, together with an additional amount to cover revenue anticipated to be derived during the succeeding twelve (12) months from interest, dividends, collectible claims, the aggregate amount of any installments or periodical payments exclusive of income derived or to be derived from federal social security payments, and rentals for use of real and personal property; provided, that the penalty of the original bond shall be reduced in proportion to the amount of cash or value of securities or other assets authorized or required to be deposited or placed in safekeeping by order of court, or voluntarily made by the representative or by his sureties as hereinafter provided in Subdivisions 6 and 7 hereof.

§ 199. Bonds of Married Persons

§ 200. Bond of Married Person Under Eighteen Years of Age

When a person under eighteen years of age who is or has been married shall accept and qualify as executor, administrator, or guardian, any bond re-required to be executed by him shall be as valid and binding for all purposes as if he were of lawful age. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 105, ch. 45, § 3, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

PART 5. GENERAL POWERS OF PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES

§ 230. Care of Property of Estates

[See Compact Edition, Volume 2 for text of (a)]

(b) Estates of Wards (1) General Powers and Duties. The guardian of the estate of a ward is entitled to the possession and management of all properties belonging to the ward, to collect all debts, rentals, or claims due such ward, to enforce all obligations in his favor, and to bring and defend suits by or against him; but, in the management of the estate, the guardian shall be governed by the provisions of this Code. It is the duty of the guardian of the estate to take care of and manage such estate as a prudent man would manage his own property. He shall account for all rents, profits, and revenues that the estate would have produced by such prudent management.

(2) Power to Make Tax-Motivated Gifts. (A) On application of the guardian or any interested party, and after notice to all interested persons and to such other persons as the court may direct, and on a showing that the ward will probably remain incompetent during his lifetime, the court may, after hearing and by order, authorize the guardian to apply such principal or income of the ward's estate as is not required for the support of the ward during his lifetime or of his family towards the establishment of an estate plan for the purpose of minimizing income, estate, inheritance, or other taxes payable out of the ward's estate. The court may authorize the guardian to make gifts of the ward's personal property or real estate, outright or in trust, on behalf of the ward, too or for the benefit of

(i) organizations to which charitable contributions may be made under the Internal Revenue Code and in which it is shown the ward would reasonably have an interest,

(ii) the ward's heirs at law who are identifiable at the time of the order,

(iii) devisees under the ward's last validly executed will, if there be such a will,

(iv) and a person serving as guardian of the ward provided he is eligible under either category

(ii) or (iii) above.

(B) The person making application to the court shall outline the proposed estate plan, setting forth all the benefits to be derived therefrom. The application shall also indicate that the planned disposition is consistent with the intentions of the ward insofar as they can be ascertained. If the ward's intentions cannot be ascertained, the ward will be presumed to favor reduction in the incidence of the various forms of taxation and the partial distribution of his estate as herein provided.

(C) The court may appoint a guardian ad litem for the ward or any interested party at any stage of the proceedings, if deemed advisable for the protection of the ward or the interested party.

(D) Subsequent modifications of an approved plan may be made by similar application to the court. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 268, ch. 114, § 1, eff. April 30, 1975.]

§ 236. Sums Allowable for Education and Maintenance of Ward

(b) Court Approval of Previous Expenditures. When a guardian has in good faith expended funds from the corpus of his ward's estate for support and maintenance for the ward, and when it is not convenient or possible to first secure approval of the Court, if the proof is clear and convincing that such expenditures were reasonable and proper and such that the Court would have granted authority to make the expenditures out of the corpus, and that the ward received the benefits of such expenditures, the judge, in the exercise of his sound discretion, may approve such expenditures in the same manner as if such expenditures were made by the guardian out of the income from the ward's estate. Provided, however, such expenditures may not exceed the sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000) during an annual accounting period. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 978, ch. 374, § 1, eff. § 238A. Administration of Partnership Interest by Personal Representative

If the decedent was a partner in a general partnership and the articles of partnership provide that, on the death of a partner, his or her executor or other personal representative shall be entitled to the place of the deceased partner in the firm, the executor or other personal representative so contracting to come into the partnership shall, to the extent allowed by law, be liable to third persons only to the extent of the deceased partner's capital in the partnership and the estate's assets held by the executor or other personal representative. This section does not exonerate an executor or other personal representative from liability for his or her negligence. [Amended by Acts 1979, 68th Leg., p. 71, ch. 46, § 1, eff. April 1, 1979.]

PART 6. COMPENSATION, EXPENSES, AND COURT COSTS

§ 245. When Costs Are Adjudged Against Representative

When the personal representative of an estate or person neglects the performance of any duty required of him, and any costs are incurred thereby, or if he is removed for cause, he and the sureties on his bond shall be liable for costs of removal and other additional costs incurred that are not authorized expenditures, as defined by this code. [Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1171, ch. 448, § 3, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

CHAPTER XI. NOW TESTAMENTARY TRANSFERS

PART 1. MULTIPLE-PARTY ACCOUNTS

§ 436. Definitions

In this part:

(1) "Account" means a contract of deposit of funds between a depositor and a financial institution, and includes a checking account, savings account, certificate of deposit, share account, and other like arrangement.

(2) "Beneficiary" means a person named in a trust account as one for whom a party to the account is named as trustee.

(3) "Financial institution" means an organization authorized to do business under state or federal laws relating to financial institutions, including, without limitation, banks and trust companies, savings banks, building and loan associations, savings and loan companies or associations, and credit unions.

(4) "Joint account" means an account payable on request to one or more of two or more parties whether or not there is a right of survivorship.

(5) "Multiple-party account" means a joint account, a P.O.D. account, or a trust account. It does not include accounts established for deposit of funds of a partnership, joint venture, or other association for business purposes, or accounts controlled by one or more persons as the duly authorized agent or trustee for a corporation, unincorporated association, charitable or civic organization, or a regular fiduciary or trust account where the relationship is established other than by deposit agreement.

(6) "Net contribution" of a party to a joint account as of any given time is the sum of all deposits made to that account by or for him, less all withdrawals made by or for him which have not been paid to or applied to the use of any other party, plus a pro rata share of any interest or dividends included in the current balance. The term includes, in addition, any proceeds of deposit life insurance added to the account by reason of the death of the party whose net contribution is in question.

(7) "Party" means a person who, by the terms of the account, has a present right, subject to request, to payment from a multiple-party account. A P.O.D. payee or beneficiary of a trust account is a party only after the account becomes payable to him by reason of his surviving the original payee or trustee. Unless the context otherwise requires, it includes a guardian, personal representative, or assignee, including an attaching creditor, of a party. It also includes a person identified as a trustee of an account for another whether or not a beneficiary is named, but it does not include a named beneficiary unless the beneficiary has a present right of withdrawal.

(8) "Payment" of sums on deposit includes withdrawal, payment on check or other directive of a party, and any pledge of sums on deposit by a party and any set-off, or reduction or other disposition of all or part of an account pursuant to a pledge.

(9) "Proof of death" includes a certified copy of a death certificate or the judgment or order of a court in a proceeding where the death of a person is proved by circumstantial evidence to the satisfaction of the court as provided by Section 72 of this code.

(10) "P.O.D. account" means an account payable on request to one person during lifetime and on his death to one or more P.O.D. payees, or to one or more persons during their lifetimes and on the death of all of them to one or more P.O.D. payees.

(11) "P.O.D. payee" means a person designated on a P.O.D. account as one to whom the account is payable on request after the death of one or more persons.

(12) "Request" means a proper request for withdrawal, or a check or order for payment, which complies with all conditions of the account, including special requirements concerning necessary signatures and regulations of the financial institution, but if the financial institution conditions withdrawal or payment on advance notice, for purposes of this part the request for withdrawal or payment is treated as immediately effective and a notice of intent to withdraw is treated as a request for withdrawal.

(13) "Sums on deposit" means the balance payable on a multiple-party account including interest, dividends, and in addition any deposit life insurance proceeds added to the account by reason of the death of a party.

(14) "Trust account" means an account in the name of one or more parties as trustee for one or more beneficiaries where the relationship is established by the form of the account and the deposit agreement with the financial institution and there is no subject of the trust other than the sums on deposit in the account. It is not essential that payment to the beneficiary be mentioned in the deposit agreement. A trust account does not include a regular trust account under a testamentary trust or a trust agreement which has significance apart from the account, or a fiduciary account arising from a fiduciary relation such as attorney-client.

(15) "Withdrawal" includes payment to a third person pursuant to check or other directive of a party.

§ 437. Ownership as Between Parties and Others

The provisions of Sections 438 through 440 of this code that concern beneficial ownership as between parties, or as between parties and P.O.D. payees or beneficiaries of multiple-party accounts, are relevant only to controversies between these persons and their creditors and other successors, and have no bearing on the power of withdrawal of these persons as determined by the terms of account contracts.

§ 438. Ownership During Lifetime

(a) A joint account belongs, during the lifetime of all parties, to the parties in proportion to the net contributions by each to the sums on deposit, unless there is clear and convincing evidence of a different intent.

(b) A P.O.D. account belongs to the original payee during his lifetime and not to the P.O.D. payee or payees. If two or more parties are named as original payees, during their lifetimes rights as between them are governed by Subsection (a) of this section.

(c) Unless a contrary intent is manifested by the terms of the account or the deposit agreement or there is other clear and convincing evidence of an irrevocable trust, a trust account belongs beneficially to the trustee during his lifetime, and if two or more parties are named as trustee on the account, during their lifetimes beneficial rights as between them are governed by Subsection (a) of this section. If there is an irrevocable trust, the account belongs beneficially to the beneficiary.

(a) Sums remaining on deposit at the death of a party to a joint account belong to the surviving party or parties against the estate of the decedent if, by a written agreement signed by the party who dies, the interest of such deceased party is made to survive to the surviving party or parties. A survivorship agreement will not be inferred from the mere fact that the account is a joint account. If there are two or more surviving parties, their respective ownerships during lifetime shall be in proportion to their previous ownership interests under Section 438 of this code augmented by an equal share for each survivor of any interest the decedent may have owned in the account immediately before his death, and the right of survivorship continues between the surviving parties if a written agreement signed by a party who dies so provides.

(b) If the account is a P.O.D. account, on death of the original payee or of the survivor of two or more original payees, any sums remaining on deposit belong to the P.O.D. payee or payees if surviving, or to the survivor of them if one or more die before the original payee. If two or more P.O.D. payees survive, there is no right of survivorship in event of death of a P.O.D. payee thereafter unless the terms of the account or deposit agreement expressly provide for survivorship between them.

(c) If the account is a trust account, on death of the trustee or the survivor of two or more trustees, any sums remaining on deposit belong to the person or persons named as beneficiaries, if surviving, or to the survivor of them if one or more die before the trustee, unless there is clear and convincing evidence of a contrary intent. If two or more beneficiaries survive, there is no right of survivorship in event of death of any beneficiary thereafter unless the terms of the account or deposit agreement expressly provide for survivorship between them.

(d) In other cases, the death of any party to a multiple-party account has no effect on beneficial ownership of the account other than to transfer the rights of the decedent as part of his estate.

§ 440. Effect of Written Notice to Financial Institution

The provisions of Section 439 of this code as to rights of survivorship are determined by the form of the account at the death of a party. Notwithstanding any other provision of the law, this form may be altered by written order given by a party to the financial institution to change the form of the account or to stop or vary payment under the terms of the account. The order or request must be signed by a party, received by the financial institution during the party's lifetime, and not countermanded by other written order of the same party during his lifetime.

§ 441. Accounts and Transfers Nontestamentary

Transfers resulting from the application of Section 439 of this code are effective by reason of the account contracts involved and this statute and are not to be considered as testamentary or subject to the testamentary provisions of this code.

§ 442. Rights of Creditors

No multiple-party account will be effective against an estate of a deceased party to transfer to a survivor sums needed to pay debts, taxes, and expenses of administration, including statutory allowances to the surviving spouse and minor children, if other assets of the estate are insufficient. A party, P.O.D. payee, or beneficiary who receives payment from a multiple-party account after the death of a deceased party shall be liable to account to the deceased party's personal representative for amounts the decedent owned beneficially immediately before his death to the extent necessary to discharge the claims and charges mentioned above remaining unpaid after application of the decedent's estate, but is not liable in an amount greater than the amount that the party, P.O.D. payee, or beneficiary received from the multiple-party account. No proceeding to assert this liability shall be commenced unless the personal representative has received a written demand by a surviving spouse, a creditor, or one acting for a minor child of the decedent, and no proceeding shall be commenced later than two years following the death of the decedent. Sums recovered by the personal representative shall be administered as part of the decedent's estate. This section shall not affect the right of a financial institution to make payment on multiple-party accounts according to the terms thereof, or make it liable to the estate of a deceased party unless before payment the institution received written notice from the personal representative stating the sums needed to pay debts, taxes, and expenses of administration.

§ 443. Protection of Financial Institutions Sections 444 through 449 of this code govern the liability of financial institutions that make payments as provided in this chapter and the set-off rights of the institutions.

§ 444. Payment on Signature of One Party
Financial institutions may enter into multiple-party accounts to the same extent that they may enter into single-party accounts. A multiple-party account may be paid, on request, to any one or more of the parties. A financial institution shall not be required to inquire as to the source of funds received for deposit to a multiple-party account, or to inquire as to the proposed application of any sum withdrawn from an account, for purposes of establishing net contributions.

§ 445. Payment of Joint Account After Death or Disability
Any sums in a joint account may be paid, on request, to any party without regard to whether any other party is incapacitated or deceased at the time the payment is demanded, but payment may not be made to the personal representative or heirs of a deceased party unless proofs of death are presented to the financial institution showing that the decedent was the last surviving party or unless there is no right of survivorship under Section 439 of this code.

§ 446. Payment of P.O.D. Account
A P.O.D. account may be paid, on request, to any original party to the account. Payment may be made, on request, to the P.O.D. payee or to the personal representative or heirs of a deceased P.O.D. payee upon presentation to the financial institution of proof of death showing that the P.O.D. payee survived all persons named as original payees. Payment may be made to the personal representative or heirs of a deceased original payee if proof of death is presented to the financial institution showing that his decedent was the survivor of all other persons named on the account either as trustee or beneficiary. Payment may be made, on request, to the beneficiary upon presentation to the financial institution of proof of death showing that the beneficiary or beneficiaries survived all persons named as trustees.

§ 447. Payment of Trust Account
A trust account may be paid, on request, to any trustee. Unless the financial institution has received written notice that the beneficiary has a vested interest not dependent upon his surviving the trustee, payment may be made to the personal representative or heirs of a deceased trustee if proof of death is presented to the financial institution showing that his decedent was the survivor of all other persons named on the account either as trustee or beneficiary. Payment may be made, on request, to the beneficiary upon presentation to the financial institution of proof of death showing that the beneficiary or beneficiaries survived all persons named as trustees.

§ 448. Discharge from Claims
Payment made as provided by Section 444, 445, 446, or 447 of this code discharges the financial institution from all claims for amounts so paid whether or not the payment is consistent with the beneficial ownership of the account as between parties, P.O.D. payees, or beneficiaries, or their successors. The protection here given does not extend to payments made after a financial institution has received written notice from any party able to request present payment to the effect that withdrawals in accordance with the terms of the account should not be permitted. Unless the notice is withdrawn by the person giving it, the successor of any deceased party must concur in any demand for withdrawal if the financial institution is to be protected under this section. No other notice or any other information shown to have been available to a financial institution shall affect its right to the protection provided here. The protection here provided shall have no bearing on the rights of parties in disputes between themselves or their successors concerning the beneficial ownership of funds in, or withdrawn from, multiple-party accounts.

§ 449. Set-Off to Financial Institution
Without qualifying any other statutory right to set-off or lien and subject to any contractual provision, if a party to a multiple-party account is indebted to a financial institution, the financial institution has a right to set-off against the account in which the party has or had immediately before his death a present right of withdrawal. The amount of the account subject to set-off is that proportion to which the debtor is, or was immediately before his death, beneficially entitled, and in the absence of proof of net contributions, to an equal share with all parties having present rights of withdrawal.

PART 2. PROVISIONS RELATING TO EFFECT OF DEATH

§ 450. Provisions for Payment or Transfer at Death
(a) Any of the following provisions in an insurance policy, contract of employment, bond, mortgage, promissory note, deposit agreement, pension plan, trust agreement, conveyance of real or personal property, or any other written instrument effective as a contract, gift, conveyance, or trust is deemed to be nontestamentary, and this code does not invalidate the instrument or any provision:

(1) that money or other benefits theretofore due to, controlled, or owned by a decedent shall be paid after his death to a person designated by the decedent in either the instrument or a separate writing, including a will, executed at the same time as the instrument or subsequently;

(2) that any money due or to become due under the instrument shall cease to be payable in event of the death of the promisee or the promissor before payment or demand; or

(3) that any property which is the subject of the instrument shall pass to a person designated by the decedent in either the instrument or a separate writing, including a will, executed at the same time as the instrument or subsequently.

(b) Nothing in this section limits the rights of creditors under other laws of this state.

ARTICLE I

Emergency Care; Relief from Liability for Civil Damages

No person shall be liable in civil damages who administers emergency care in good faith:

1. at the scene of an emergency or in a hospital for acts performed during the emergency unless such acts are wilfully or wantonly negligent; provided that nothing herein shall apply to the administering of such care where the same is rendered for remuneration or with the expectation of remuneration or is rendered by any person or agent of a principal who was at the scene of the accident or emergency because he or his principal was soliciting business or seeking to perform some services for remuneration; and further provided that this section shall not apply to a person who regularly administers care in a hospital emergency room or to an admitting physician, or to a treating physician associated by the admitting physician, of the patient bringing a health care liability claim;

ARTICLE 41A-1. PUBLIC ACCOUNTING ACT OF 1979

Policy and Purpose

Sec. 1. The practice of public accountancy is in all respects a learned profession having specialized educational and experience requirements. The terms "accountant" and "auditor" and the derivations, combinations, and abbreviations of those terms carry with them an implication of competence in the profession of public accountancy on which the public relies in personal, business, and public activities and enterprises. It is the policy of this state and the purpose of this Act that the admission of persons to practice public accountancy depends on education and experience commensurate with and required by the exigencies of the profession, that persons professing to practice public accountancy be qualified to do so, that the persons continue to maintain high standards of professional competence, integrity, and learning, that areas of specialized practice require special training, and that the activities and competitive practices of those practicing public accountancy be regulated to be free of commercial exploitation toward the end that the public will be provided with a high level of professional competence at reasonable fees by independent, qualified persons.

Short Title

Sec. 1A. This Act may be cited as the Public Accountancy Act of 1979.

Definitions

Sec. 2. In this Act:

(1) "Board" means the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy.
(2) "Person" means an individual, partnership, or corporation.
(3) "State" includes any state, territory, or insular possession of the United States and the District of Columbia.
(4) "Corporation" means a professional public accounting corporation organized under The Texas Professional Corporation Act, as amended (Article 1528e, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or an equivalent law of another state, territory, or foreign country.

(5) "Financial statement" means a statement and related footnotes that purport to show financial position at a specified time or changes in financial position during a specified period of time, including a statement that uses the cash or other incomplete basis of accounting. The term includes a balance sheet, statement of income, statement of retained earnings, statement of changes in financial position, and statement of changes in owners' equity or any combination thereof, but does not include incidental financial data included in a management advisory or consulting services report to support recommendations to a client, nor does it include a tax return and supporting schedules.

Acts Not Restricted

Sec. 3. (a) Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed as applying to restrict any official act of any county auditor or other officer of the state, county, municipality, or other political subdivision or any officer of a federal department or agency or of their assistants, deputies, or employees while working in their official capacities.

(b) Nothing contained in this Act shall prohibit any person not a certified public accountant or public accountant from serving as an employee of a certified public accountant or public accountant, partnership, or corporation composed of certified public accountants and/or public accountants holding a license or licenses to practice issued by the board; provided, however, that such employee shall not issue any accounting or financial statement over his own name.

(c) Nothing contained in this Act shall prohibit a certified public accountant or a registered public accountant of another state or any accountant who holds a certificate, degree, or license in a foreign country, constituting a recognized qualification for the practice of public accountancy in such country, from temporarily practicing in this state on professional business incident to his regular practice outside this state; provided that such temporary practice is conducted in conformity with the laws of Texas and the regulations and rules of professional conduct promulgated by the board. The person coming into this state shall notify the board of his incidental, temporary practice in the state and shall pay to the board a fee set by the board, not to exceed $10.

State Board of Public Accountancy

Sec. 4. (a) The Texas State Board of Public Accountancy shall consist of 12 members, each of whom shall be a citizen of the United States and a resident of this state. Members of the board and their successors shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. At least seven members shall be certified public accountants in public practice. Two members shall be certified public accountants or public accountants. The remaining three members shall be public representatives who are not licensed under this Act and who are not financially involved in an organization subject to regulation by the board. The term of office of each member of the board shall be six years and each member shall continue until a successor is appointed. Members of the present board shall continue in office until their respective terms have expired or until their successors have been appointed.

(b) A member of the board may not be an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association of the public accountancy profession.

(c) A member or employee of the board may not be related within the second degree of affinity or within the second degree of consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association of the profession of public accountancy.

(d) A board member who has served as a member for six consecutive years shall not be eligible for reappointment until two years shall have elapsed between the end of the term of his last prior appointment and the beginning of the term of a new appointment.

(e) Each member of the board is entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary expenses incurred in performing the functions of the board and to $100 for each day on which the member attends an official meeting of the board or assists in the administration of an examination under this Act.

(f) Appointments to the board shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees.

(g) Each member of the board shall be present for at least one-half of the regularly scheduled board meetings held each year. Failure of a board member to meet this requirement automatically removes the member from the board and creates a vacancy on the board.

(h) A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), may not act as a general counsel to the board or serve as a member of the board.

Powers and Duties of Board

Sec. 5. (a) The board shall administer and carry out this Act and shall:

(1) elect from its members a chairman, secretary, treasurer, and other officers as the board considers necessary;
(2) keep records of all proceedings and actions by and before the board;
(3) keep a seal which shall be judicially noticed; and
(4) employ personnel and independent contractors necessary to assist it in the performance of its duties.

(b) A majority of the board constitutes a quorum for the transaction of business. The members of the board who are not certified public accountants have all the authority, responsibility, and duties of any other member of the board.

(c) The board shall keep an information file about each complaint filed with the board. If a written complaint is filed with the board relating to a licensee under this Act, the board, at least as frequently as quarterly and until the complaint is finally disposed of, shall notify the complainant of the status of the complaint.

Rulemaking

Sec. 6. (a) The board shall promulgate rules deemed necessary or advisable to effectuate this Act, including the promulgation of rules of professional conduct in order to establish and maintain high standards of competence and integrity in the practice of public accountancy and to insure that the conduct and competitive practices of licensees serve the purposes of this Act and the best interest of the public. The board in its rules of professional conduct shall not restrict advertising or competitive bidding by licensees except if necessary to:

(1) insure that advertising, price information, and other communications from licensees are informative, free of deception, and consistent with the professionalism expected and deserved by the public from those engaged in the practice of public accountancy;
(2) insure that the conduct and dealings of licensees are free from fraud, undue influence, deception, intimidation, overreaching, harassment, and other forms of vexatious conduct, including uninvited solicitations to perform professional accounting services; provided, however, that the term "uninvited solicitation" shall not be deemed to include advertising in print, radio, motion pictures, and television media; or
(3) regulate the competitive practices of licensees to the extent necessary to insure that:

(A) contracts or engagements between a licensee and any state agency, political subdivision, county, municipality, district, authority, or publicly owned utility for the performance of professional accounting services are not solicited or awarded on the basis of competitive bids submitted for such contracts or engagements in violation of law;

(B) contracts or engagements for the preparation of or opinion on any financial statement which is or can be used by or given to a person or entity not a party to the contract or engagement for the purpose of inducing reliance thereon are not entered into on the basis of competitive bids; this paragraph shall not apply to any tax or consulting services; further, this paragraph shall not apply to any accounting services or any contracts or engagements for or opinion on any financial statement of any sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation whose sales or other revenues did not exceed $300,000 for the latest complete fiscal year; however, the $300,000 amount provided in this paragraph shall be adjusted proportionately upward or downward on the first day of each calendar year according to changes from January 1, 1979, in the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers published by the United States Department of Labor; or

(C) no licensee engages in any competitive practice which would impair the independence of or quality of services rendered by any licensee or which would impair or restrict the opportunity for members of the public to seek and secure high quality professional accounting services at reasonable prices or which would unreasonably restrict competition among licensees.

The board may adopt a system of required annual continuing education for licensees to assure that the licensees remain informed of changes in the field of accountancy. The board may recognize areas of specialization in the field of accountancy and may recognize alternate ways by which licensees may demonstrate acceptable levels of competency.

(b) If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Section 5(g), Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as added (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the board statements opposing adoption of a rule under this section, the rule may not take effect or, if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the board receives the committees' statements.

Expenses of Board

Sec. 7. (a). The fees and other money received by the board under this Act shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of a special fund to be known as the public accountancy fund and may be used only for the administration of this Act.

(b) The board shall file an annual report of its activities with the governor and the Legislative Budget Board. The report shall include a summary statement of all receipts and disbursements of the board for each calendar year. The board's funds shall be audited each fiscal year by the state auditor.

(e) No person shall assume or use the title or designation “certified accountant,” “chartered accountant,” “enrolled accountant,” “licensed accountant,” or any other title or designation likely to be confused with “certified public accountant” or “public accountant,” or any of the abbreviations, “CA,” “PA,” “EA,” “RA,” or “LA,” or similar abbreviations likely to be confused with “CPA”; provided, however, that only a person holding a license issued under Section 9 of this Act and all of whose offices in this state for the practice of public accountancy are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act may hold himself out to the public as an “accountant” or “auditor” or any combination of said terms; and provided further that a foreign accountant registered under this or prior Acts who holds a license issued under Section 9 of this Act and all of whose offices in this state for the practice of public accountancy are maintained and registered as required under Section 10 of this Act, may use the title under which he is generally known in his state or country, followed by the name of the state or country from which he received his certificate, license, or degree.

(g) No licensee shall assume or use a name which is misleading in any way as to the legal form of the firm or as to the persons who are partners, officers, or shareholders of the firm. The name or designation any partnership or corporation may assume or use shall contain the personal name or names of one or more individuals presently or previously members thereof, and the name or designation any individual may assume or use shall contain his name. No trade name or descriptive words indicating character or grade of service offered may be used or included except as authorized by rules promulgated by the board.

Annual Licenses to Practice

Sec. 9. (a) Licenses shall be issued by the board to the following upon the payment of fees herein after specified:

(1) holders of the certificate of “Certified Public Accountant” issued under this or prior Acts; and

(2) such persons as are registered with the board under the provisions of this or prior Acts.

There shall be paid to the Texas State Board of Public Accountancy by all persons referred to in Subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection an annual license fee not to exceed $60. All licenses shall expire on the 31st day of December of each year or on such other date or dates as set by the board pursuant to Subsection (b) of this section, but shall annually be renewed for a period of one year upon the payment of a fee of not more than $60, the board being hereby given the authority and duty to determine the amount of such renewal fee not less than 30 days prior to the beginning of the year to which it applies and to mail notices thereof each year by that date.

Failure of any licensee to pay the annual license renewal fee on or before the date it is due shall automatically cancel his license. Any licensee whose license shall have been canceled because of failure to pay the annual license renewal fee may secure reinstatement of his license at any time within that license year upon payment of the delinquent fee together with a penalty of $20. After expiration of the license year for which the license fee was not paid, no license shall be reinstated except upon application and examination satisfactory to the board and payment of delinquent fees and a penalty to be assessed by the board. The board shall have no authority to waive the collection of any fee or penalty.

(b) The board by rule may adopt a system under which licenses expire on various dates during the year. Dates relating to cancellation and reinstatement of licenses shall be adjusted accordingly. For the year in which the license expiration date is changed, license fees shall be prorated on a monthly basis so that each licensee shall pay only that portion of the license fee which is allocable to the number of months during which the license is valid. On renewal of the license on the new expiration date, the total license renewal fee shall be payable.
(e) The board by rule may adopt a system by which individual licensees over age 65 may qualify for a reduced license fee.

Each such office shall be under the direct supervision of a resident manager who may be either a principal or a staff employee holding a license issued by the board which is in full force and effect; provided that the title or designation “Certified Public Accountant” or the abbreviation “CPA” shall not be used in connection with such office unless such resident manager is the holder of a certificate as a certified public accountant and a license issued by the board, both of which are in full force and effect; and the board shall by regulation prescribe the procedure to be followed in effecting such registrations. The board may by rule require that a sign notifying consumers that complaints may be directed to the board be prominently displayed in each office registered under the provisions of this section and may prescribe the size and contents of such sign.

All applicants for registration shall furnish satisfactory evidence of eligibility for registration. The board shall have power to examine such applications and may refuse registration to any applicant who is unable to meet the standards imposed by this Act.

(2) who shall have qualified to take the examination for the certificate in this state;
(3) who has attained the age of 18 years;
(4) who is of good moral character;
(5) who meets the requirements of education and experience as hereinafter provided:

(A) the experience requirements shall be for the number of years as provided in Paragraph (B) or (C) below and shall be in public practice under the supervision of a certified public accountant or public accountant or in an activity comparable thereto or in any combination of such types of experience in work of a nonroutine accounting nature which continually requires independent thought and judgment on important accounting matters; and all such experience must be satisfactory to the board;

had during such six-year period the experience described in Paragraph (A) above; and

(C) the experience requirement shall be only one year of the experience described in Paragraph (A) above for any candidate holding a master's degree in accounting or business administration from a college or university recognized by the board or holding a professional degree in accounting with a minimum of 30 semester hours in accounting designated other than as a master's degree but judged by the board to be equivalent to that degree and to be at an appropriate professional level, if the candidate has satisfactorily completed at least 30 semester hours in accounting and 20 semester hours in other areas of business administration and such related subjects as the board shall determine to be appropriate; and

(6) who shall have passed a written examination in theory of accounts, accounting practice, auditing, commercial law affecting public accounting, and such other related subjects as the board shall determine to be appropriate. A grade of at least 75 percent on each subject shall be required as a passing grade.

Any candidate who meets the education requirements under Paragraph (B) or (C) of Subdivision (5) above and who is duly enrolled as an attorney by the Supreme Court of Texas shall be given credit for commercial law without taking the written examination on commercial law.

The board may by written regulations provide for granting credit to a candidate for his satisfactory completion of a written examination in any of the subjects specified in Subdivision (6) above given by the licensing authority in any other state. Such regulations shall include such requirements as the board shall determine to be appropriate in order that any examination approved as a basis for any such credit shall in the judgment of the board be at least as thorough as the most recent examination given by the board at the time of granting such credit.

None of the education or experience requirements specified above shall apply to a candidate who is registered as a public accountant under The Public Accountancy Act of 1945, as amended (Article 41a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and holds a license issued under this Act.

The applicable education and experience requirements under this Act shall be those in effect on the date of the candidate's application for the examination or reexamination by which the candidate successfully completes the examination. Any person qualified to sit under The Public Accountancy Act of 1945, as amended (Article 41a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), shall continue to qualify to sit for the examination as long as the initial qualifications are met.

Any person who at the effective date of this Act has entered a program to meet the education and experience requirements of The Public Accountancy Act of 1945, as amended and as in force immediately prior to the effective date of this Act, shall file with the board within 180 days after the effective date of this Act a written declaration thereof and submit such proof thereof as the board may require. After the filing of such declaration and proof under rules and regulations prescribed by the board, a person shall be allowed the time reasonably required to complete his program to meet the education requirements in force immediately prior to the effective date of this Act, but no more than four years following the effective date of this Act to meet such education requirements in force immediately prior to the effective date of this Act. Upon completion of such requirements, if otherwise qualified to take the examination, he shall be permitted to make his application and take the examination under such education requirements.

All merit pay authorized by the Executive Director must be based on the system established under this section. The Commission shall maintain an information file about each complaint filed with the Commission. If a written complaint is filed with the Commission, the Commission, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the parties to the complaint of the status of the complaint until final disposition unless the notification would jeopardize an undercover investigation.

Art. 46c-6. Commission Powers and Duties

Subd. 1. General. The Commission, and its Executive Director acting under its authority, is empowered and directed to encourage, foster, and assist in the development of aeronautics in this state and to encourage, aid and assist in the establishment of airports and airstrips and air navigational facilities in this state, and, as to lands, or portions thereof, or navigational aids or facilities donated or given to the state, or to the Texas Aeronautics Commission to be held by it in trust for the state, the Texas Aeronautics Commission may control, administer, and have jurisdiction thereover, and may lease the same on the terms hereafter provided. The Commission and its Executive Director may cooperate with and assist the United States, municipalities or other governmental subdivisions of this state, or persons engaged in aeronautics or in the development of aeronautics and may endeavor to coordinate the aeronautical activities of such others, and, municipalities and governmental subdivisions are authorized to cooperate with the Commission in the development of aeronautics and aeronautical navigational facilities or aids in this state.

Subd. 2. Authority to Contract. The Commission may enter into contracts which it deems necessary or advisable in conformity with and in the execution of the powers granted it by this Act, as amended. However, the Commission shall have no power to enter into any contract or agreement binding on the State of Texas for the payment of any moneys which have not been authorized by appropriation of the Legislature from the general revenues or from the Texas Aeronautics Commission Fund. All contracts entered into by the Commission shall be submitted to the attorney general for the approval as to form. The Commission shall not enter into any contract binding the State of Texas in excess of the power granted in this Act.

Subd. 3. Air Carriers.

(a) The Commission is hereby granted and vested with the right, power and authority to promulgate and administer economic rules and regulations over air carriers. The Commission shall promulgate and administer rules providing for the safety of air carriers subject to the requirements of this Act. The Commission shall be vested with broad discretion in promulgating such rules and regulations. Without limiting the right, power and authority of the Commission, to the extent necessary to enable it to perform its functions, it shall determine the financial, managerial, and equipment fitness and operational capability of each air carrier, require filing of such reports and other data of air carriers as the Commission may deem necessary, inspect air carrier facilities and equipment, and adopt a program, rules and regulations necessary to effectuate its duties hereunder to the extent that its rules and regulations do not conflict with federal rules and legislation concerning functions within the jurisdiction of federal agencies.

(b) No air carrier shall operate as such, after this Act goes into effect, without having first obtained from the Commission a certificate that all operating rights and privileges granted to any air carrier by the Commission prior to the passage of this Act shall continue in effect, authorizing the same service under the same terms and conditions as previously granted by the Commission. Upon notice and hearing, certificates shall be subject to revocation or suspension for violation of the Commission's regulations, the provisions of this Act or the regulations or laws of the United States or any authorized agency or board thereof. Proceedings for the refusal, suspension, or revocation of a certificate are governed by the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Any such certificates so revoked or suspended may be reinstated upon order of the Commission on its own motion or upon application of the air carrier, when the Commission finds reinstatement to be in the public interest. Prior to issuing or amending a certificate of public convenience and necessity or a certificate of operating authority, the Commission shall consider the encouragement and development of an intrastate air transportation system properly adapted to the present and future needs of the State of Texas, and in addition shall consider the financial responsibility of the air carrier, its proposed points of service or routes and rates or charges, the effect, if any, upon existing air carriers and CAB certificated carriers, and any other factors similarly related to the interest and safety of the public. Nothing in this Act affects any litigation pending on the effective date of this Act.

(b–1) The Commission by rule may establish reasonable classifications of air carriers. In the interest of limiting the scope of regulation, the Commission by rule may exempt any class of air carriers from any or all of the requirements of this Act or from any or all rules promulgated pursuant to this Act if the exemption is just and reasonable and is in the public interest.
Art. 46c-6

(e) No application for a certificate shall be received and filed by the Commission unless the same shall be in writing under oath in original and six copies filed with the Executive Director of the Commission and contain the following information:

(1) The name and address of the applicant and the names and addresses of its officers, if any, and full information concerning the financial condition and physical properties of the applicant.

(2) The complete route or routes over which the applicant desires to operate or intended points of service, together with the description of each aircraft which the applicant intends to use.

(3) A proposed schedule of service and schedule of rates to be charged between the several points or localities to be served.

(4) It shall be accompanied by plats or maps showing the route or routes over which the applicant desires to operate, on which plats or maps shall be delineated the line or lines of any existing air carrier or airlines, whether or not subject to this Act, serving such territory, and shall point out the need for additional air service.

(5) Such other information, exhibits and other data in regard to the application as may be required by duly promulgated rules and regulations of the Commission.

(6) Every application filed with the Commission for a certificate shall be accompanied by a filing fee in an amount determined by the Commission, but not less than $200, which fee shall be in addition to any other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission, whether the application is approved or not, to defray operating expenses.

Copies of such application shall be transmitted contemporaneously by certified mail, return receipt requested, to the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Aviation Administration and to any air carrier or CAB certified carrier, which serves, or is authorized to serve, over the routes or to the service points proposed to be served by the applicant. Upon receipt of such application in proper form, the Commission shall set a date for public hearing which may be conducted by the Commission, or at its discretion, by the Executive Director, or any staff member of the Commission.

Any other provision of this Act notwithstanding, carriers certified by the Civil Aeronautics Board pursuant to the Federal Aviation Act of 1958, as now or hereafter amended, together with any other interested party shall be afforded the right to appear and present evidence and arguments at such hearing on all issues involved in any such hearing. The final determination of such application shall be made by the Commission by written order setting forth its findings and served upon the parties in such manner as the Commission shall specify, and such application may be granted or denied, in whole, or in part. The order of the Commission granting any application and the certificate issued thereunder shall be voidable upon appeal unless the Commission shall set forth in its order full and complete findings of fact pointing out in detail the basis on which it made each of its findings on the factors related to the interest and safety of the public as provided in Subsection (b) of this Subdivision.

(d) Any certificate held, owned or obtained by any air carrier operating under the provisions of this Act may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred or inherited; provided, however, that any proposed sale, lease, assignment or transfer shall be first presented in writing to the Commission for its approval or disapproval and after public notice and public hearing the Commission may disapprove such proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer if it is found and determined by the Commission that such proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer is not in good faith or that the proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee or transferee is not in good faith or that the proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee or transferee is not able or capable of continuing the operation of the equipment proposed to be sold, assigned, leased or transferred in such manner as to render the services required by the certificate held, or that the proposed sale, assignment, lease or transfer is not in the best public interest. The Commission in approving or disapproving any sale, assignment, lease or transfer of any certificate may take into consideration all the requirements and qualifications of a regular applicant required in this Act and apply the same as necessary qualifications of any proposed purchaser, assignee, lessee or transferee. Every application filed with the Commission for an order approving the lease, sale or transfer of any certificate of convenience and necessity shall be accompanied by a filing fee in an amount equal to one-half of the application fee required for a certificate, which fee shall be in addition to any other fees and taxes and shall be retained by the Commission whether the lease, sale or transfer of the certificate is approved or not.

(g) No carrier may limit its liability for loss of or damage to freight or baggage unless the carrier files a limiting tariff with the Commission before the claimed loss or damage. The Commission shall establish specific liability limits under its rule-making authority.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 6(a)]

(b) Independently and additionally, the Commission shall be authorized to accept any grant, payment, or gift of moneys, funds or property made to it by any person, individual, firm, association, corporation, municipality, county, or other political subdivision of the state, or from the United States, or any department or agency thereof, as to which the donor has prescribed a particular use for one or more aeronautical purposes. The Commission shall utilize any such grant of property in accordance with the terms of the grant, and as to any such payment, or gift of funds or moneys, the Commission shall utilize such moneys for the purpose or purposes prescribed by the donor. A record shall be maintained in the Commission's offices of such properties and funds. Such funds shall be expended only upon general or special order of the Commission, and all checks shall be signed by the Executive Director.

Subd. 7. Investigations, Hearings (General). The Commission shall have the power to conduct and hold investigations, inquiries, and hearings concerning matters covered by the provisions of this Act and the rules, regulations and orders of the Commission, unless specifically provided otherwise herein. Hearings shall be open to the public. Each member of the Commission, the Executive Director and every officer or employee of the Commission, designated by it to hold an inquiry, investigation or hearing, shall have the power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, issue subpoenas, and order the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of papers, books and documents. In the case of the failure of any person to comply with any subpoena or order issued under the authority of this section, the Commission shall notify the attorney general who may bring suit in the name of the state in any district court of Travis County, Texas. The court, if it determines such noncompliance was not justified, shall thereupon order such person to comply with the requirements of the subpoena or order, and failure to obey the order of the court may be punished by the court as a contempt thereof.

Subd. 8. Education, Publications. The Commission may organize and administer a program of aeronautical education in the schools and colleges of the state and for the general public and may prepare and conduct flight clinics for air crews. The programs and clinics may be conducted with or without charge by the Commission. The Commission may issue such aeronautical publications as may be required in the public interest. The Commission shall charge a fee sufficient to recover the cost of preparing and distributing all Commission publications that do not clearly promote public safety.

Subd. 10. Aviation Facilities Development and Financial Assistance. (a) When in the discretion of the Commission the public interest will best be served, and the governmental function of the state or its political subdivisions relative to aeronautics will best be discharged, it may provide funds, through loan agreements or grant contracts, appropriated to it for that purpose by the Legislature, to any state agency with a governing board that is authorized to operate airports, and to any governmental entity in this state for the establishment, construction, reconstruction, enlargement or repair of airports, airstrips or air navigational facilities. Provided that any such funds must be expended by the governmental entity for the purpose provided herein and in conformity with the laws of this state and with the rules and regulations which the Commission is hereby authorized to promulgate.

(b) The Commission shall:

(1) prepare and adopt an aviation facilities development program identifying the aviation facility requirements, locations, timing, eligibility for funding, and the investment necessary for a statewide airport system that, for the least practicable cost, will provide for the state's air transportation needs;

(2) establish and maintain a method for determining priorities among locations and projects eligible to receive state financial assistance for aviation facility development;

(3) prepare and update at least annually a multi-year aviation facilities capital improvement program based on those priorities, with the estimated annual cost of the total program being approximately equal to revenues forecast to be available for aviation facilities development during the year; and

(4) periodically review the adopted capital improvement program to determine the need for revision of system development criteria; addition or deletion of aviation facility requirements; revision of capital improvement program priorities; and the addition, deletion, or revision of the scope of projects in the program.

(c) The aviation facilities capital improvement program shall be the basis for allocation of state financial assistance and for preparation of the Commission's biennial budget request to the Legislature.

(d) Prior to approving any financial assistance under this Act the Commission shall hold a public hearing at which all interested parties shall have an opportunity to be heard. No loan shall be made without a majority vote of the entire Commission in favor thereof. No grant contract shall be made without a two-thirds vote of the entire Commission in favor thereof.

(e) Prior to approving any loan or grant contract the Commission shall require that:

(1) The airport or facility remain in the control of the political subdivision or political subdivisions involved for at least 20 years, and

(2) The political subdivision disclose the source of all funds for the project and its ability to finance and operate the project, and
Art. 46c-6

(3) All loans shall bear interest at the rate of at least three percent 'per annum and have a term of not longer than 20 years; and the principal and interest derived from the loans shall be placed in the Texas Aeronautics Commission revolving loan fund administered by the Commission for the purpose of future loans and the administration of the loans, and

(4) At least ten percent of the total project cost be provided from sources other than the State of Texas, and

(5) The project be adequately planned.

(f) Loans shall be made in lieu of grants whenever feasible under this subdivision, and in particular the Commission shall consider carefully the making of loans in lieu of grants for revenue-producing improvements.

(g) Under a grant contract, prior to payment by the Commission of the final ten percent of its share of project costs, the sponsor shall have enacted an airport hazard zoning ordinance or order under the Airport Zoning Act, as amended (Article 46c-1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

1 49 U.S.C.A. § 1301 et seq. Validation of certain actions. Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 863, ch. 325, § 1, provides:

"All orders previously made, prior to January 1, 1977, by the Texas Aeronautics Commission granting certificates of public convenience and necessity for the operation of intrastate air carriers are hereby in all respects validated, ratified, and confirmed."

Art. 46c-7. Executive Director

Subd. 1. Appointment, Compensation. An Executive Director shall be appointed by the Commission. He shall receive such compensation as may be provided in the biennial department appropriation bill and shall be reimbursed for all traveling and other expenses incurred by him in the discharge of his official duties.

Subd. 2. Powers and Duties. The Executive Director shall be the executive officer of the Commission and under its supervision shall administer the provisions of this Act (and the rules, regulations, and orders established thereunder), and all other laws of the state relative to aeronautics. He shall attend all meetings of the Commission, but shall not have the power to vote. At the direction of the Commission he shall execute all contracts entered into by the Commission which are legally authorized and for which funds are provided by this Act, as amended, or in any appropriation Act.

Art. 46d-7. Regulations and Jurisdiction

(a) In this section “airport hazard area” means any area of land or water upon which an airport hazard might be established if not prevented as provided in this Act.

(b) Scope. A municipality, which has established or acquired or which may hereafter establish or acquire an airport or air navigation facility, is authorized to adopt, amend and repeal such reasonable ordinances, resolutions, rules, regulations and orders as it shall deem necessary for the management, government and use of such airport or air navigation facility under its control or an airport hazard area relating to the airport, whether situated within or without the territorial limits of the municipality. For the enforcement thereof, the municipality, may, by ordinance or resolution, as may by law be appropriate, appoint airport guards or police, with full police powers, and fix penalties, within the limits prescribed by law, for the violation of the aforesaid ordinances, resolutions, rules, regulations and orders. Said penalties shall be enforced in the same manner in which penalties prescribed by other ordinances, or resolutions of the municipality are enforced. To the extent that an airport, air navigation facility, or airport hazard area controlled and operated by a municipality is located outside the territorial limits of the municipality, it shall, subject to Federal and State laws, rules and regulations, be under the jurisdiction and control of the municipality controlling or operating it, and no other municipality shall have any authority to charge or exact a license fee or occupation tax for operations thereon.

(c) Conformity to Federal and State Law. No ordinance, resolution, rule, regulation or order adopted by a municipality pursuant to this Act shall be inconsistent with, or contrary to, any Act of the Congress of the United States or laws of this State, or to any regulations promulgated or standards established pursuant thereto.

Art. 46d-14. Joint Operations

(a) Authorization. For the purposes of this Section, unless otherwise qualified, the term “public agency” includes municipality, as defined in this Act, any agency of the State government and of the United States, and any municipality, political subdivision and agency of another State; and the term “governing body” means the governing body of a county or municipality, and the head of the agency if the public agency is other than a county or municipality, and the term “airport hazard area” means any area of land or water upon which an airport hazard might be established if not prevented as provided in this Act. All powers, privileges and authority granted to any municipality by this Act may be exercised and enjoyed jointly with any public agency of any other State or of the United States to the extent that the laws of such other State or of the United States permit such joint exercise or enjoyment. If not otherwise authorized by law, any agency of the State government when acting jointly with any municipality, may exercise and enjoy all of the powers, privileges and authority conferred by this Act upon a municipality.

(b) Agreement. Any two (2) or more public agencies may enter into agreements with each other for joint action pursuant to the provisions of this Act and any two (2) or more municipalities are specially authorized to make such agreement or agreements as they may deem necessary for the joint acquisition and operation of airports, air navigation facilities, or airport hazard areas. Concurrent action by ordinance, resolution or otherwise of the governing bodies of the participating public agencies shall constitute joint action. Each such agreement shall specify its duration, the proportionate interest which each public agency shall have in the property, facilities and privileges involved, the proportion to be borne by each public agency of preliminary costs and costs of acquisition, establishment, construction, enlargement, improvement, and equipment of the airport, air navigation facility, or airport hazard area, the proportion of the expenses of maintenance, operation, regulation and protection thereof to be borne by each and such other terms as are required by the provisions of this Section. The agreement may also provide for: amendments thereof, and conditions and methods of termination of the agreement; the disposal of all or any of the property, facilities and privileges jointly owned, prior to or upon said property, facilities and privileges, or any part thereof, ceasing to be used for the purposes provided in this Act, or upon termination of the agreement; the distribution of the proceeds received upon any such disposal, and of any funds or other property jointly owned and undisposed of; the assumption or payment of any indebtedness arising from the joint venture which remains unpaid upon the disposal of all assets or upon a termination of the agreement; and such other provisions as may be necessary or convenient.

(c) Joint Board. Public agencies acting jointly pursuant to this Section shall create a joint board which shall consist of members appointed by the governing body of each participating public agency. The number to be appointed, their term and compensation, if any, shall be provided for in the joint agreement. Each such joint board shall organize, select officers for terms to be fixed by the agreement, and adopt and amend from time to time rules for its own procedure. The joint board shall have power to plan, acquire, establish, develop, construct, enlarge, improve, maintain, equip, operate, regulate, protect and police any airport, air navigation facility, or airport hazard area to be jointly acquired, controlled and operated, and such board may exercise on behalf of its constituent public agencies all the powers of each with respect to such airport, air navigation facility or airport hazard area, subject to the limitations of Subsection (d) of this Section.

Section 1 of Acts 1979, 66th Leg., ch. 841, repealing this article, enacted the Property Tax Code, constituting Title 1 of the Tax Code.

AIRPORT ZONING REGULATIONS

Art. 46e-1. Definitions

(1) “Airport” means any area of land or water, whether of public or private ownership, designed and set aside for the landing and taking off of aircraft and utilized or to be utilized in the interest of the public for such purposes. The term “Airport” shall also include any area having installations relating to flight and particularly including installations, facilities and base of operations for tracking and/or data acquisition concerning flight. Such areas shall be deemed to be “utilized in the interest of the public” when the owner thereof by contract, license or otherwise permits the use of such areas by the public to an extent that the airport fulfills an essential community purpose. Such areas also shall be deemed to be “utilized in the interest of the public” when utilized by the Government of the State of Texas or an agency thereof or by the Government of the United States or any agency thereof in furtherance of the National Defense or any National Government Program relating to flight.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of (2) to (7)]

(8) “Obstruction” means any structure, growth, or other object, including a mobile object, that exceeds a limiting height established by federal regulations or by a hazard zoning regulation.

(9) “Runway” means a defined area on an airport prepared for landing and taking off of aircraft along its length.

(10) “Compatible land use” includes any use of land adjacent to an airport that will protect the owners, occupants, or users of the land from levels of noise or vibrations created by the operations of the airport, including the taking off and landing of aircraft, that may endanger the health, safety, or welfare of the owners, occupants, or users of the land, and protect airport users from airport hazards.

Art. 46e-3. Power to Adopt Airport Zoning Regulations

(1) In order to prevent the creation or establishment of airport hazards, every political subdivision having an airport hazard area within its territorial limits may adopt, administer, and enforce, under the police power and in the manner and upon the conditions hereinafter prescribed, airport zoning regulations for such airport hazard area, which regulations may divide such area into zones, and, within such zones, specify the land uses permitted and regulate the types of structures permitted and restrict the height to which structures and trees may be erected or allowed to grow so as not to create an obstruction to flight operations or air navigation.

(2) Where an airport is utilized in the interest of the public to the benefit of a political subdivision or where an airport owned or operated by a defense agency of the federal government or the State of Texas is located within the territorial limits of a political subdivision and any airport hazard area appertaining to such airport is located outside the territorial limits of said political subdivision, the political subdivision gaining the benefits of the air-port's utilization in the public interest or the political subdivision within whose territorial limits the airport owned or operated by a defense agency of the federal government or the State of Texas is situated and the political subdivision within which the airport hazard area is located may create, by ordinance or resolution duly adopted, a joint airport zoning board, which board shall have the same power to adopt, administer, and enforce airport zoning regulations applicable to the airport hazard area in question as that vested by subsection (1) in the political subdivision within which such area is located. Each such joint board shall have as members two (2) representatives appointed by each political subdivision participating in its creation and in addition a chairman elected by a majority of the members so appointed.

Provided, however, where an airport is utilized in the interest of the public to the benefit of any political subdivision having more than 25,000 inhabitus, according to the last preceding Federal Census, and such airport is located within the territorial limits of such political subdivision and any airport hazard area appertaining to such airport is located outside of the territorial limits of said political subdivision receiving the benefits of the airport's utilization, the political subdivision shall have the same power to adopt, administer, and enforce airport zoning regulations applicable to the airport hazard area in question as that vested by subsections (1) and (3) in the political subdivision within which such area is located. Each hazard zoning regulation shall include a statement that the airport fulfills an essential community purpose.

(3) In this subsection, "centerline" means a line extending through the midpoint of each end of a runway; "primary runway" means existing or planned paved runway(s), as shown in the official Airport Layout Plan (ALP), of at least 4,000 feet on which a majority of the approaches to and departures from the airport occur; "instrument runway" means existing or planned runway(s) of at least 4,000 feet for which there is or is planned to be an instrument landing procedure published by a defense agency of the federal government or by the Federal Aviation Administration; and "controlled area" means that land located outside airport boundaries and within a rectangle bounded by lines located no farther than one and one-half (1.5) statute miles from the centerline of an instrument or primary runway and lines located no farther than five (5) statute miles from each end of the paved surface of an instrument or primary runway.

When an airport is utilized in the interest of the public to the benefit of a political subdivision or when an airport owned or operated by a defense agency of the federal government or by the State of Texas is located within the territorial limits of a political subdivision, and whether the controlled area is located within or outside the territorial limits of the political subdivision, the political subdivision may, for the purpose of restricting the controlled areas to compatible land use, exercise the powers prescribed by subsections (1) and (2) of this section.
The political subdivision may also by ordinance or resolution implement federal laws or rules control-ing the use of land located adjacent to or in the immediate vicinity of the airport in connection with compatible land use restrictions. The establishment and enforcement of compatible land use restrictions in the controlled area shall be accomplished in the same manner as prescribed in this Act for airport hazard zoning. Each compatible land use regulation shall include a statement that the airport fulfills an essential community purpose.

Sept. 1, 1981.]

Art. 46e-4. Relation to Comprehensive Zoning Regulations

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of (1)]

(2) Conflict. In the event of conflict between any airport hazard zoning regulations adopted under this Act and any other regulations applicable to the same area, whether the conflict be with respect to the height of structures or trees, or any other matter, and whether such other regulations were adopted by the political subdivision which adopted the airport zoning regulations or by some other political subdivision, the more stringent limitation or requirement shall govern and prevail.

(3) Conflict. In the event of a conflict between any airport compatible land use regulation adopted under this Act and any other regulation applicable to the same area, whether the conflict is with respect to the use of land or any other matter and whether the other regulation was adopted by the political subdivision that adopted the airport land use regulation or by some other political subdivision, the airport compatible land use regulation governs.

Art. 46e-6. Airport Zoning Requirements

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of (1)]

(2) Non-conforming Uses. No airport zoning regulations adopted under this Act shall require changes in land use or the removal, lowering or other change or alteration of any structure or tree not conforming to the regulations when adopted or amended, or otherwise interfere with the continuance of any non-conforming use, except as provided in Section 7(3).¹

¹Article 46e-7(3).

OPERATION OF AIRCRAFT

Art. 46f-1. Taking Off, Landing or Maneuvering Aircraft on Highway, Road or Street

Sec. 1. No person may take off, land, or maneuver an aircraft, including heavier than air and lighter than air, on a public highway, road, or street except when it is necessary to prevent serious injury to a person or property or except as provided by Article 46f-4, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925. However, nothing herein shall prohibit any operation of said aircraft on a public highway, road or street during or within a reasonable time after an emergency.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1b and 2]

Art. 46f-4. Use of Aircraft on County Roads

Sec. 1. A commissioners court of a county may enact ordinances to ensure the safe use of county roads by aircraft. The ordinances may:

(1) limit the kinds of aircraft that may use the roads;

(2) establish the procedure that a pilot shall follow before using a road, including, but not limited to, requiring the pilot to furnish flagmen at both ends of the road to be used; and

(3) establish other requirements that the commissioners court considers necessary for the safe use of the roads by aircraft.

Sec. 2. If the ordinances relating to the use of an aircraft on a county road are followed, the pilot of the aircraft may land or take off in the aircraft on the county road and is not subject to the traffic laws of this state during the landing or takeoff.

MISCELLANEOUS

Art. 46g. Airport Security Personnel; Employment; Commission as Peace Officers

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of (a) to (c)]

(d) Any peace officer commissioned under this Act shall be vested with all the rights, privileges, obligations, and duties of any other peace officer in this state while he is on the property under the control of the airport, or in the actual course and scope of his employment.

Art. 46h. Expenditure of Bond Revenues by Joint Boards without Competitive Bidding in Certain Circumstances

Sec. 1. This Act applies to any joint board created under the provisions of Section 14, Municipal Airports Act (Article 46d-14, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 2. (a) A joint board covered by this Act is authorized to spend or agree to spend the proceeds of revenue bonds under its control for the acquisition and installation of furniture, fixtures, and equipment to be used at any airport operated by such joint board, without the necessity of inviting, advertising for, or otherwise requiring competitive bids therefor, or requiring or obtaining payment or performance bonds in connection therewith. The provisions of this Act shall apply to such furniture, fixtures, and equipment hereafter purchased, presently in the process of purchase, or on order by (i) the joint board, or (ii) a private entity which will ease such facilities in accordance with the provisions of this Act. In order to qualify under this Act, such furniture, fixtures, and equipment must be, prior to the delivery of such bonds, the subject of a lease from the joint board to a private entity pursuant to the terms of which the lessee is obligated to maintain such furniture, fixtures, and equipment solely at its expense and is unconditionally obligated throughout the term of the bonds to make payments of net rent in such amounts and at such times as will be sufficient to provide for the timely payment of all principal, interest, redemption premiums, and other costs and expenses arising or to arise in connection with the payment of such bonds.
(b) This Act does not apply to the expenditure of the proceeds of bonds unless the bonds provide by their own terms that:
(1) they are payable solely from the net rents required by Subsection (a) of this section; and
(2) they are not payable in any circumstances from tax revenues.
(c) This Act does not apply to the expenditure of the proceeds of bonds that provide for the creation of a contractual mortgage lien against real property owned by any public agencies creating such joint board.

Sec. 3. This Act is permissive only, and any such joint board may promulgate such rules and regula­tions as it finds to be in the public interest to govern the method and installation of the properties to which this Act relates.

Art. 135b-6. Structural Pest Control Act

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1]

Definitions

Sec. 2. (a) For purposes of this Act a person shall be deemed to be engaged in the business of structural pest control if he engages in, offers to engage in, advertises for, solicits, or performs any of the following services for compensation:

(1) identifying infestations or making inspections for the purpose of identifying or attempting to identify infestations of:

(A) arthropods (insects, spiders, mites, ticks, and related pests), wood-infesting organisms, rodents, weeds, nuisance birds, and any other obnoxious or undesirable animals which may infest households, railroad cars, ships, docks, trucks, airplanes, or other structures, or the contents thereof, or

(B) pests or diseases of trees, shrubs, or other plantings in a park or adjacent to a residence, business establishment, industrial plant, institutional building, or street;

(2) making inspection reports, recommendations, estimates, or bids, whether oral or written, with respect to such infestations; or
(3) making contracts, or submitting bids for, or performing services designed to prevent, control, or eliminate such infestations by the use of insecticides, pesticides, rodenticides, fumigants, or allied chemicals or substances or mechanical devices.

(b) As used in this Act:

(1) “Person” means an individual, firm, partnership, corporation, association, or other organization, or any combination thereof, or any type of business entity.

(2) “Restricted-use pesticide” means a pesticide classified for restricted or limited use by the administrator of the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

(3) “State-limited-use pesticide” means a pesticide classified for restricted or limited use by the state commissioner of agriculture.

(4) “Certified applicator” means an individual who has been licensed and determined by the board to be competent to use or supervise the use of any restricted-use and state-limited-use pesticide covered by his currently valid certified applicator license.

(5) “Direct supervision” means that, in the application of a pesticide, the application is made by an individual acting under the instructions and control of a certified applicator responsible for the actions of that individual and available if and when needed for consultation or assistance although the certified applicator need not be physically present at the time and place of the pesticide application.

(6) “Branch office” means any place of business other than the primary office that has at least one employee during normal business hours who is capable of answering customers’ normal questions, scheduling normal inspections or work, or performing structural pest control functions; provided, however, that a facility serving solely as a telephone answering service shall not be a branch office.

(7) “Structural Pest Control Business License” means that license issued to a person entitling that person and his employees to engage in the business of structural pest control under the direct supervision of a certified applicator.

(8) “Device” means an instrument or contrivance, except a firearm, that is designed for trapping, destroying, repelling, or mitigating the effects of a pest or another form of plant or animal life, other than human beings or bacteria, viruses, or other microorganisms that live on or in human beings or animals. The term does not include any equipment used for the application of pesticides if the equipment is sold separately from a device as defined in this subdivision.

(9) “Endorsement of license” means an individual who establishes residence in Texas and who has been determined by the board to meet the qualifications of a certified applicator by taking the appropriate examination in a state other than Texas.

Board; Members; Chairman; Bylaws; Expenses; Executive Director; Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 3. (a) The Texas Structural Pest Control Board is created. The board is composed of nine members, six of whom shall be appointed. Four of the appointed members must be persons who have been engaged in the business of structural pest control for at least five years. No two members shall be representatives of the same business entity. Two members must be representatives of the general public who are not licensed under this Act. These appointments to the board shall be made by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Senate for staggered terms of two years. Appointments to the board shall be made without regard to the race, creed, sex, religion, or national origin of the appointees. The failure of an appointed member of the board to attend at least one-half of the regularly scheduled meetings held by the board each year automatically removes the member from the board and creates a vacancy on the board. In addition to the appointed members, the board shall also consist of the Commissioner of Agriculture, the Commissioner of Health, and the chairman of the Department of Entomology at Texas A&M University, or their designated representatives.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 3(b) and 3(c)]

(d) The board shall appoint an executive director who shall administer the provisions of this Act and the rules and regulations promulgated by the board. The executive director shall receive a salary as determined by the board which shall be paid from funds available to the board. A person who is required to register as a lobbyist under Chapter 422, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9c, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), may not act as the general counsel to the board or serve as a member of the board.

(e) The Texas Structural Pest Control Board is subject to the Texas Sunset Act (Article 5429k, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes) and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the board is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

(f) A member of the board or an employee of the board who carries out the functions of the board may not:

(1) be an executive officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the structural pest control industry;

(2) be related within the second degree by affinity or within the third degree by consanguinity to a person who is an officer, employee, or paid consultant of a trade association in the structural pest control industry; or
(3) communicate directly or indirectly with a party or the party's representative to a proceeding pending before the board unless notice and an opportunity to participate are given to all parties to the proceeding, if the member or employee is assigned to make a decision, a finding of fact, or a conclusion of law in the proceeding.

(g) A member of the board, except those members who are duly licensed structural pest control operators, may not have personally, nor be related to persons within the second degree by affinity or third degree by consanguinity who have, except as consumers, financial interests in structural pest control businesses as officers, directors, partners, owners, employees, attorneys, or paid consultants of the structural pest control business or otherwise.

(h) The board is subject to the open meetings law, Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

Licensing Standards; Rules and Regulations; Coordination of Activities; Examinations; Complaints; Contracts of Licensees; Public Information Program

Sec. 4. (a) The board shall develop standards and criteria for licensing individuals engaged in the business of structural pest control. The board may require individuals to pass an examination demonstrating their competence in the field in order to qualify for a Certified Applicator's License. Not later than the 30th day after the day on which a person completes an examination administered by the board, the board shall send to the person his examination results. If requested in writing by a person who fails the examination, the board shall send to the person not later than the 30th day after the day on which the request is received by the board an analysis of the person's performance on the examination.

(b) The board shall develop standards and criteria for issuing Structural Pest Control Business Licenses to persons engaged in the business of structural pest control. Persons engaged in the business of structural pest control must possess a Structural Pest Control Business License for each place of said business, including each branch office. Each structural pest control business licensee shall have in his employment at all times a certified applicator.

(c) The board shall promulgate rules and regulations governing the methods and practices of structural pest control when it determines that the public's health and welfare necessitates such regulations in order to prevent adverse effects on human life and the environment. The rules and regulations relating to the use of economic poisons shall comply with applicable standards of the federal government and the state commissioner of agriculture governing the use of such substances.

(d) The board may waive all or part of any examination requirement on a reciprocal basis with any other state or federal agency which has substantially the same standards as those prescribed by the board.

(e) The board shall coordinate its computer, administrative, and licensing functions with the Department of Agriculture if the board determines that the coordination would result in the more practical and efficient performance of those functions.

(f) The board may not promulgate rules restricting advertising or competitive bidding by licensees except to prohibit false, deceptive, or misleading practices by the licensee.

(g) If a written complaint is filed with the board relating to a licensee under this Act, the board, at least as frequently as quarterly, shall notify the complainant of the status of the complaint until the complaint is finally resolved or until litigation has been initiated. All records of complaints shall be filed in the offices of the board.

(h) The board must within 31 days from the date of filing of the complaint determine whether a hearing shall be held on such complaint or whether such complaint shall be dismissed and shall notify both the person who filed the complaint and the person against whom the complaint has been filed of the board's decision.

(i) If the appropriate standing committees of both houses of the legislature acting under Subsection (g), Section 5, Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252-13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), transmit to the board statements opposing adoption of a rule under that section, the rule may not take effect, or if the rule has already taken effect, the rule is repealed effective on the date the board receives the committees' statements.

(j) In each written contract in which a licensee under this Act agrees to perform structural pest control services in this state, the licensee shall include the mailing address and telephone number of the board and a statement that the board has jurisdiction over individuals licensed under this Act.

(k) The board shall establish a public information program for the purpose of informing the public about the practice and regulation of structural pest control in this state. As part of the program, the board shall prescribe and distribute in a manner that it considers appropriate a standard complaint form and shall make available to the general public and other appropriate state agencies the information compiled as part of the program. The program shall inform prospective applicants for licensing under this Act about the qualifications and requirements for licensing.

Prohibited Acts; Work on Own or Employer's Premises

Sec. 5. (a) No person, except an individual under the direct supervision of a certified applicator, may engage in the business of structural pest control after the effective date of this Act unless he meets the standards set by the board and possesses a valid Structural Pest Control Business License issued by the board.

(b) A person without a license may, on his own premises or on the premises of an employer by whom he was hired primarily to perform other services, use insecticides, pesticides, rodenticides, fumigants, or allied chemicals or substances or mechanical devices designed to prevent, control, or eliminate pest infestations unless that use is prohibited by rule of the United States Environmental Protection Agency or unless the substance used is labeled as a restricted-use pesticide or a state-limited-use pesticide.

Application Forms; List of Study Materials; and Seminars; Expiration and Renewal of Licenses; Nontransferability; Arrest and Conviction Records

Sec. 6. (a) All applications for licenses shall be made on forms prescribed and provided by the board, and each applicant shall furnish such information as the board may require for its determination of the applicant’s qualifications. The board shall make public a list of study materials and educational seminars that are available to help applicants successfully complete any examination administered under this Act.

(b) All licenses issued by the board before 1981 shall expire on March 1 of each calendar year. Licenses issued by the board during or after 1981 expire on December 31 of each year or on various dates of the year as the board may determine as part of a staggered license renewal system. The board may issue a license for a period of less than one year if necessary to conform the license to a renewal system authorized by this subsection. If the board issues a license for a period of less than one year, the board shall prorate the fee for the license on a monthly basis. A person may renew a license by submitting an application to the board and paying the required renewal fees.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 6(c)]

(d) The Department of Public Safety shall, upon request, supply the board arrest and conviction records of individuals applying for or holding Structural Pest Control Business Licenses or Certified Applicator’s Licenses.

Fees, New Developments; Proof of Study

Sec. 7. (a) An applicant for an initial or renewal Structural Pest Control Endorsement of License, Business License, or a Certified Applicator’s License shall accompany his application with a fee of not more than $75 each, as determined by the board, and a fee of not more than $20, as determined by the board, for each employee of the applicant who is engaged in structural pest control services.

(b) A licensee whose license has been lost or destroyed or whose name has been changed shall be issued a replacement license after application therefor and the payment of a fee set by the board not to exceed $20.

(e) The board may retroactively grant a Structural Pest Control Business License or a Certified Applicator’s License to the applicant for a renewal license if such applicant pays a late renewal fee of $25 and if his application is filed with the board not more than 30 days after the expiration of his license. If such application is received between 30 and 60 days after the expiration of the applicant’s license, the board may retroactively grant the renewal license when said application is accompanied by a renewal fee of $50. An applicant who applies for a renewal license more than 60 days after the expiration of his license must be reexamined by the board to obtain a license.

(d) Each time an applicant takes a test for a license, he shall pay the board a testing fee of not more than $25, as determined by the board, for each test taken.

(e) If the board determines that new developments in pest control have occurred that are so significant that their proper knowledge is necessary to protect the public, the board may require proof of study either by attendance of approved training courses or by taking additional examinations on the new developments only.

Security Insurance

Sec. 7A. (a) The board may not issue or renew a Structural Pest Control Business License until the license applicant:

(1) files with the board a policy or contract of insurance, approved as sufficient by the board, in an amount of not less than $25,000 in bodily injury coverage and $5,000 in property damage coverage insuring him against liability for damages to persons or property occurring as a result of operations performed in the course of the business of structural pest control to premises or any other property under his care, custody, or control; or

(2) files with the board a certificate or other evidence from an insurance company, in the case of an applicant who has an unexpired and uncanceled insurance policy or contract on file with the board, stating that the policy or contract insures the applicant against liability for acts and damage as described in Subdivision (1) of this subsection and that the amount of insurance coverage is not less than $25,000 in bodily injury coverage and $5,000 in property damage coverage.

(b) The policy or contract shall be maintained at all times in an amount not less than $25,000 in bodily injury coverage and $5,000 in property damage coverage. Failure to renew the policy or contract or maintain it in the required amount is a ground for suspension or revocation of a Structural Pest Control Business License.
(c) The board by rule may require different amounts of insurance coverage for different classifications of operations under this Act.

Records by Licensee

Sec. 7B. The board may require each licensee to make records, as prescribed by the board, of his use of pesticides. Records required shall be maintained for at least two years on business premises of the licensee and shall be made available for inspection by the board and by its authorized agents during normal business hours.

Disposition of Fees; Report; Audit

Sec. 8. (a) The proceeds from the collection of the fees provided in this Act shall be deposited in a special fund in the State Treasury to be known as the Structural Pest Control Fund, and shall be used for the administration and enforcement of the provisions of this Act. Any balance in the special fund at the end of each State fiscal biennium in excess of appropriations out of that fund for the succeeding biennium shall be transferred to the general revenue fund.

(b) Before September 1 of each year, the board shall file a written report with the legislature and the governor in which the board accounts for all funds received and disbursed by the board during the preceding year.

(c) The state auditor shall audit the financial transactions of the board during each fiscal year.

License Suspension, Revocation and Refusal; Appeal

Sec. 9.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 9(a)]

(b) An applicant or licensee may appeal from an order or other action of the board by an action in the district court of Travis County. Notice of appeal must be filed within 30 days of issuance of the order by the board. The hearing in district court shall be governed by the substantial evidence rule.

Civil Penalties and Injunctive Relief

Sec. 10. (a) A person who violates any provision of this chapter or any rule, regulation, permit, or other order of the board is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each act of violation and for each day of violation to be recovered as provided in this chapter. Whenever it appears that a person has violated or is threatening to violate any provision of this chapter, or any rule, regulation, license, or other order of the board, then the board, or the executive director when authorized by the board, may have a civil suit instituted in a district court for injunctive relief to restrain the person from continuing the violation or threat of violation, or for the assessment and recovery of a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each act of violation and for each day of violation, or for both injunctive relief and civil penalty.

(b) Upon application for injunctive relief and a finding that a person is violating or threatening to violate any provision of this chapter or any rule, regulation, license, or other order of the board, the district court shall grant the injunctive relief the facts may warrant.

(c) At the request of the board, or the executive director when authorized by the board, the attorney general shall institute and conduct a suit in the name of the State of Texas for injunctive relief or to recover the civil penalty or for both injunctive relief and penalty, as authorized in Subsection (a) of this section.

Criminal Offenses

Sec. 10A. (a) A person commits an offense if he:

1. violates any section of this Act;
2. violates regulations adopted under Section 4 of this Act; or
3. intentionally makes a false statement in an application for a license or otherwise fraudulently obtains or attempts to obtain a license.

(b) Each day of violation is a separate offense.

(c) An offense under this section is a Class C misdemeanor unless the person has been convicted previously of an offense under this section, in which event the offense is a Class B misdemeanor.

Exceptions

Sec. 11. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to nor shall the following persons be deemed to be engaging in the business of structural pest control:

1. an officer or employee of a governmental or educational agency who performs pest control services as part of his duties of employment;
2. a person who performs pest control work upon property which he owns, leases, or rents as his dwelling;

Effect of Election

Sec. 9. (a) In a legalization election, if a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question vote in favor of legalization, the holding of bingo games as authorized by this Act is legalized throughout the political subdivision effective the 10th day after the date the result of the election is officially declared, except that the legalization does not apply to any part of the political subdivision for which Section 10 of this Act requires a contrary status.

(b) In a prohibitory election, if a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question vote in favor of prohibition, the holding of bingo games as authorized by this Act is prohibited throughout the political subdivision effective the 10th day after the date the result of the election is officially declared, except that the prohibition does not apply to any part of the political subdivision for which Section 10 of this Act requires a contrary status.

(c) If a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question in a legalization election do not favor legalization, or if a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question in a prohibitory election do not favor prohibition, the election has no effect on the status under this Act of the political subdivision in which the election is held.

(d) If a majority of the qualified voters vote to legalize bingo in the political subdivision, the governing body of the political subdivision shall within 10 days of the election notify in writing the comptroller of public accounts and the attorney general of the date and results of the election and shall furnish with the notice a map prepared by the governing body indicating the boundaries of the political subdivision in which the playing of bingo may be conducted.

Determination of Local Option Status

Sec. 10. (a) In determining whether bingo games authorized by this Act are permitted in an area, the rules prescribed by this section apply.

(b) The games are permitted in an area only as the result of a successful legalization election held under this Act.

(c) To the extent that the results of local option elections held by different types of political subdivisions conflict with regard to the same territory, the relative dates of the elections are of no consequence and the following rules apply:

(1) the status of an area as determined by a municipal election prevails over a contrary status as determined by a justice precinct or county election; and

(2) the status of an area as determined by a justice precinct election prevails over the status of an area as determined by a county election.

(d) To the extent that two or more local option elections held at the justice precinct level apply to the same territory, the most recent election prevails.

(e) If a municipality has established a status under this Act by a municipal election, territory annexed assumes the status under this Act of the rest of the municipality. Territory detached from such a municipality assumes the status the territory would have had if it had never been a part of the municipality. If the detached territory is added to another municipality that has established a status by a municipal election, the territory assumes the status of the municipality to which it is added.

(f) The addition of territory to or detachment of territory from a justice precinct does not affect the status under this Act of the added or detached territory. The abolition of a justice precinct does not affect the status under this Act of the territory formerly within the justice precinct.

Restrictions on Bingo Games

Sec. 11. (a) The conduct of bingo games authorized under this Act is subject to the restrictions prescribed by this section regardless of whether the restrictions are contained in a local ordinance.

(b) A person, other than a licensee under this Act, may not lease or otherwise make available for conducting bingo a hall or other premises for any consideration, direct or indirect.

(c) A bingo game may not be conducted on or within any leased premises if rental under the lease is to be paid, in whole or part, on the basis of a percentage of the receipts or net proceeds derived from the operation of the game.

(d) The net proceeds of any game of bingo and of any rental of premises for bingo shall be exclusively devoted to the charitable purposes of the organization permitted to conduct the game. The proceeds of any game of bingo or of any rental may not be used to support or oppose a particular candidate or a slate of candidates for public office or in favor of or in opposition to any measure submitted to a vote of the people.

(e) A prize may not exceed the sum or value of $500 in any single game of bingo.

(f) A series of prizes on any one bingo occasion may not aggregate more than $2,500.

(g) A person other than a member of a licensed authorized organization may not conduct, promote, or administer a bingo game.

(h) A person may not be denied admission to a game or the opportunity to participate in a game because of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, or handicap.

(i) Bingo games may not be conducted at more than one location on property owned or leased by a licensed authorized organization.

(b) Delinquent tax shall draw interest at the rate of 10 percent a year, beginning 60 days from the due date.

Recomputation of Tax

Sec. 30. If the comptroller of public accounts is not satisfied with the return or returns of the tax or the amount of tax required to be remitted to the state by any licensee, he may compute and determine the amount required to be paid on the basis of the facts contained in the return or returns or report of receipts and expenses or on the basis of any information within his possession or which may come into his possession.

Determination if No Return Made

Sec. 31. If any licensee fails to make a required return, the comptroller of public accounts shall make an estimate of the gross receipts of the licensee. The estimate shall be made for the period in respect to which the licensee failed to make a return and shall be based on any information that is in the comptroller's possession or may come into his possession. On the basis of this estimate, the comptroller shall compute and determine the amount required to be paid to the state, adding to the sum thus arrived at a penalty equal to 10 percent thereof. One or more determinations may be made for one or for more than one period.

Jeopardy Determination

Sec. 32. (a) If the comptroller of public accounts believes that the collection of any tax or any amount of tax required to be remitted to the state or the amount of any determination will be jeopardized by delay, he shall make a determination of the tax or amount of tax required to be collected, noting that fact upon the determination. The amount determined is due and payable immediately.

(b) If the amount specified in the determination is not paid within 20 days after service of notice thereof on the licensee against whom the determination is made, the amount becomes final at the expiration of the 20 days unless a petition for redetermination is filed within the 20 days. A delinquency penalty of 10 percent of the tax or amount of the tax and interest at the rate of 10 percent a year shall attach to the amount of the tax or the amount of the tax required to be collected.

(b) The district court may order the comptroller of public accounts to issue a license to an applicant or reform a license issued to an applicant or order that the application be reconsidered by the comptroller if the court finds that the comptroller abused his discretion in his decision on the application.

Exemption From Prosecution

Sec. 35. (a) A person lawfully conducting or participating in the conduct of bingo or permitting the conduct on any premises owned or leased by him or it under any license lawfully issued under this Act is not liable to prosecution or conviction for violation of any provision of the Penal Code, as amended, or any other law or ordinance to the extent that such conduct is specifically authorized by this Act. The immunity does not extend to any person knowingly conducting or participating in the conduct of bingo under any license obtained by any false pretense or by any false statement made in any application for license or otherwise or permitting the conduct on any premises owned or leased by him or it of any game of bingo conducted under any license known to him or it to have been obtained by any false pretense or statement.

(b) A licensee under this Act may possess paraphernalia, devices, or equipment that is required to conduct bingo games.

(c) This Act does not apply to a bingo game or any conduct related to bingo under circumstances that would not constitute an offense under Chapter 47 of the Penal Code if this Act were not in effect.

Sec. 36. (a) A person commits an offense and forfeits a license issued under this Act if the person:

(1) makes a false statement in an application for a license authorized to be issued under this Act;

(2) fails to maintain records that fully and truly record all transactions connected with the conducting of bingo or the leasing of premises to be used for the conduct of bingo;

(3) falsifies or makes any false entry in any books or records so far as they relate in any manner to the conduct of bingo, to the disposition of the proceeds thereof, or to the application of rent received by any authorized organization;

(4) diverts or pays any portion of the net proceeds of any game of bingo to any person except in furtherance of one or more of the lawful purposes prescribed by this Act; or

(5) violates this Act or a term of a license issued under this Act.

(b) An offense under this section is a Class C misdemeanor, unless the person has been convicted previously under this section, in which event it is a Class B misdemeanor.

(c) A person whose license is forfeited under this section may not apply for another license under this Act until one year has elapsed from the date of forfeiture.

Seizure and Sale

Sec. 37. (a) At any time within three years after a person is delinquent in the payment of any amount of required tax due, the comptroller of public accounts may collect the amount as provided by this section.

(b) The comptroller of public accounts shall seize any property, real or personal, of the person and sell the property, or a sufficient part of it, at public auction to pay the amount due with any interest or penalties on account of the seizure and sale. Any seizure made to collect a tax due shall be only of property of the licensee not exempt from execution under the laws of this state.

(c) Notice of the sale and the time and place of the sale shall be given to the delinquent person in writing at least 20 days before the date set for the sale as provided by this subsection. The notice shall be enclosed in an envelope addressed to the person, in case of a sale for limited sales tax due, at his last known address or place of business, and in case of a sale for use taxes due, at his last known residence or place of business in this state. It shall be deposited in the United States mail, postage prepaid. The notice shall also be published for at least 10 days before the date set for the sale in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the property seized is to be sold. If there is no newspaper of general circulation in the county, notice shall be posted in three public places in the county at least 20 days before the date set for the sale. The notice shall contain a description of the property to be sold, a statement of the amount due, including interest, penalties, and costs, the name of the delinquent, and the further statement that unless the amount due, interest, penalties, and costs are paid on or before the time fixed in the notice for the sale, the property, or so much of it as may be necessary, will be sold in accordance with the law and the notice.

(d) At the sale, the comptroller of public accounts shall sell the property in accordance with law and the notice and shall deliver to the purchaser a bill of sale for the personal property and a deed for any real property sold. The bill of sale or deed vests the interest or title of the person liable for the amount in the purchaser. The unsold portion of any property seized may be left at the place of sale at the risk of the person liable for the amount.

(e) If on the sale the money received exceeds the total of all amounts, including interest, penalties, and costs due the state, the comptroller of public accounts shall return the excess to the person liable for the amounts and obtain his receipt. If any person having an interest in or lien on the property files with the comptroller before the sale notice of his interest or lien, the comptroller shall withhold any excess pending a determination of the rights of the respective parties thereto by a court of competent jurisdiction. If for any reason the receipt of the person liable for the amount is not available, the comptroller shall deposit the excess money with the state treasurer, as trustee for the owner, subject to the order of the person liable for the amount, his heirs, successors, or assigns.

Bonds or Securities

Sec. 38. (a) Each licensee under this Act shall furnish to the comptroller of public accounts a cash bond, a bond from a surety company chartered or authorized to do business in this state, certificates of deposit, certificates of savings or U.S. treasury bonds, or, subject to the discretion and approval of the comptroller, an assignment of negotiable stocks or bonds, or such other security as the comptroller may deem sufficient to secure the payment of required taxes under this Act. The comptroller of public accounts shall fix the amount of the bond or security in each case, taking into consideration the amount of money that has or is expected to become due from the licensee under this Act. The amount of the bond or security required by the comptroller may not exceed three times the amount the licensee’s average monthly reports.

(b) On failure to pay taxes imposed under this Act, the comptroller of public accounts may notify both the licensee and any surety of the delinquency by jeopardy or deficiency determination. If payment is not made when due, the comptroller may forfeit the bond or security or any part thereof.

(c) If the licensee ceases to conduct bingo games and relinquishes his license, the comptroller of public accounts shall authorize the release of all bonds and security on his determination that no amounts of tax remain due and payable under this Act.

Unlawful Bingo or Game

Sec. 39. (a) For the purposes of this section, “bingo” or “game” means a specific game of chance, commonly known as bingo or lotto, in which prizes are awarded on the basis of designated numbers or symbols on a card conforming to numbers or symbols selected at random, whether or not a person who participates as a player furnishes something of value for the opportunity to participate.

(b) Any person conducting, promoting, or administering a game commits a felony of the third degree unless the person is conducting, promoting, or administering a game:

(1) in accordance with a valid license issued under this Act;

(2) within the confines of a home for purposes of amusement or recreation when:

(A) no player or other person furnishes anything of value for the opportunity to participate;

(B) participation in the game does not exceed 15 players; and

(C) the prizes awarded or to be awarded are nominal; or

(B) the prizes awarded or to be awarded are nominal.

(c) This section applies to all political subdivisions regardless of local option status.

Fraudulent Award of Prizes

(b) An offense under this section is a felony of the third degree.

(c) It is a defense to prosecution under this section that no participant in the game furnished anything of value for the opportunity to participate in the game.

Application of Penal Code

Sec. 41. Section 47.09, Penal Code applies to any prosecution for a violation of this Act.

Civil Remedies and Penalties

Sec. 42. (a) If the comptroller of public accounts, the governing body, or the attorney general has reason to believe that this Act has been or is about to be violated, the comptroller of public accounts, the governing body, or the attorney general may petition the court for injunctive relief to restrain any such violations. Venue for the injunctive relief is in the district courts of Travis County, Texas.

(b) If the court finds that this Act has been violated by any person, the court shall issue a temporary restraining order, and after due notice and hearing a temporary injunction and after a final trial a permanent injunction to restrain such violations.

(c) If the court finds that this Act has been knowingly violated, the court shall order all proceeds from the illegal bingo game or games to be forfeited to the appropriate governing body as a civil penalty. [Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., p. 85, ch. 11, §§ 1 to 42, eff. Nov. 10, 1981.]

1. CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

Art. 182a. Disposition of Cruelly Treated Animals

Sec. 1. In this Act "cruelly treated" means tortured, seriously overworked, unreasonably abandoned, unreasonably deprived of necessary food, care, or shelter, cruelly confined, caused to fight with another animal, or otherwise cruelly treated.

Sec. 2. (a) If a county sheriff, constable, or deputy constable or an officer who has responsibility for animal control in an incorporated city or town has reason to believe that an animal has been or is being cruelly treated, he may apply to a justice court in the county where the animal is located for a warrant to seize the animal. On a showing of probable cause to believe that the animal has been or is being cruelly treated, the court shall issue the warrant and set a time within 10 days for a hearing in the court to determine whether the animal has been cruelly treated. The officer executing the warrant shall cause the animal to be impounded and shall give written notice to the owner of the animal of the time and place of the justice court hearing.

Sec. 3. (a) Notice of an auction ordered as provided in this Act must be posted on a public bulletin board where other public notices are posted for the city, town, or county. At the auction, a bid by the former owner of the animal or his representative may not be accepted.

(b) If the owner of the animal is found guilty in county court of a violation of Section 42.11, Penal Code, involving the animal, this finding is prima facie evidence at the hearing that the animal has been cruelly treated. Statements of an owner made at a hearing provided for in this Act are not admissible in a trial of the owner for a violation of Section 42.11, Penal Code. After all interested parties have been given an opportunity to present evidence at the hearing, if the court finds that the owner of an animal has cruelly treated the animal, the court shall order a public sale of the animal by auction. If the court does not find that the owner of the animal has cruelly treated the animal, the court shall order the animal returned to the owner.

Sec. 4. An owner of an animal ordered sold at public auction as provided in this Act may appeal the ruling by giving notice of appeal in justice court within 10 days of the hearing. Appeal is by means of a hearing in county court in the county where the animal was impounded. At the hearing in county court, the court may assess costs of the hearing. During the pendency of an appeal under this section the animal shall not be sold, destroyed, or given away as provided in Sections 2 and 3 of this Act.

by this Act or the State Bar Rules, the board shall from time to time reapportion the state into bar districts as conditions require, taking into account the purposes of the State Bar as defined in Section 3 of this Act. The reapportionment shall be subject to the Supreme Court’s approval.

If any director should, as determined by the board of directors, become incapacitated from performing his duties as director, or if any director should be absent from any two consecutive regular meetings of the board of directors or from a total of four meetings, without cause deemed adequate by the board of directors, he may be removed by the board of directors at any regular meeting by resolution declaring his position vacant.

No board member or employee of the board shall be an employee or paid consultant of a trade associa­

(b) The executive director of the State Bar shall be elected by a majority vote of the board of directors and shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. The executive director may be elected as including other duties as may be assigned to him or her by the board of directors. The executive di­ and shall receive from the clerk of the Supreme Court funds of the State Bar as provided by this Act. In this regard, the executive director shall be audited annually as provided in Subsection (b) of Section 7 of this Act. The executive director shall maintain the membership files and supervise the administrative staff of the State Bar in preparing the annual budget. He or she shall be required to execute a corporate surety bond in such amount as the board may direct, conditioned on faithful performance of his or her duties, the premium for which shall be paid by the State Bar. The executive director shall have no vote on matters presented to the board of directors.

(c) The general counsel of the State Bar shall be elected by a majority vote of the board of directors and shall hold office during the pleasure of the board. The general counsel may be reelected as many times as the board may choose. He or she shall be a member of the State Bar.

The duties of the general counsel shall include all of those duties usually expected of and performed by a general counsel. It shall be the duty of the general counsel to standardize throughout all grievance districts the procedure, method, and practice for the processing of grievance complaints. It shall also be the duty of the general counsel to receive and maintain on behalf of the State Bar the files and records of the grievance committees that pertain to discipline. The general counsel shall expedite and coordinate the State Bar’s grievance duties which are made mandatory by this Act. The general counsel on request of any grievance committee may investigate and prosecute grievance actions as provided in Section 12 of this Act. The general counsel on request of any unauthorized practice of law committee or by a grievance committee may investigate and prosecute suits to enjoin members, nonlicensees, and nonmembers of the State Bar from the practice of law. The general counsel’s duties shall also include those matters delegated from time to time by the board of directors of the State Bar.

The general counsel may not be a lobbyist registered with the secretary of state.

(d) The executive director and the general counsel of the State Bar shall be subject to the Texas conflict of interest law, Chapter 421, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-9b, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

(e) The executive director of the State Bar shall confer with the clerk of the Supreme Court as to the maintenance of correct membership files and in preparing the annual budget for review as provided in Subsection (a) of Section 7 of this Act. All membership fees shall be collected by the clerk of the Supreme Court and held by him or her until distributed to the State Bar for expenditure under the direction of the Supreme Court for the purpose of administering this Act.

The clerk of the Supreme Court, with the permission of the court, may employ a deputy to assist in discharging the duties imposed on him or her by this Act and any rules promulgated to administer this Act. The salary of the deputy shall be fixed by the board of directors and paid from the funds of the State Bar.

(f) All records of the State Bar, except for records pertaining to grievances and records pertaining to the Texas Board of Legal Specialization, shall be subject to the Texas open records law, Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-17a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

Membership; Fees

Sec. 10. (a) All persons who are enrolled as members of the State Bar on the effective date of this Act and any person who after the effective date of this Act shall be licensed to practice law in this state, shall constitute and be members of the State Bar, and shall be subject to the provisions of this Act and the rules adopted by the Supreme Court of Texas. All persons not members of the State Bar are prohibited from practicing law in this state except that the Supreme Court may promulgate rules and regulations prescribing the procedure for limited practice of law by attorneys licensed in another jurisdiction, bona fide law students, or nonlicensed graduate students who are attending or have attended a law school approved by the Supreme Court.

(b) Every person who after the effective date of this Act becomes licensed to practice law in this state shall enroll in the State Bar by registering his or her name with the clerk of the Supreme Court within 10 days of his or her admission to practice. Membership of the State Bar shall consist of four classes: active, inactive, emeritus, and associate.

Every licensed member of the State Bar is an active member until he or she requests to be enrolled as an inactive member.

The class of “inactive members” shall include those persons who are eligible for active membership but are not engaged in the practice of law in this state and have filed with the executive director and the clerk of the Supreme Court written notice requesting enrollment in the class of inactive members.

Inactive members are not entitled to hold office or vote in any election conducted by the State Bar or practice law. Those who are enrolled as inactive members at their request may on application and payment of fees required become active members.

The class of “emeritus members” shall include those persons who are either active or inactive members at good standing but who are at least 70 years of age and have filed a written notice requesting enrollment in the class of emeritus members. An emeritus member shall enjoy all the privileges of membership in the State Bar and shall not be required to pay membership dues for the years following the year in which he or she attains the age of 70.

The class of “associate members” may include those persons who are enrolled in law school in this state. Enrollment as an associate member shall be voluntary on the part of the enrollee. Associate members are not entitled to hold office or vote in any election conducted by the State Bar or practice law, except as provided by rule promulgated by the Supreme Court. Dues for associate members shall be set by the board of directors.

(c) The Supreme Court is empowered and it shall be its duty to prescribe fees for members of the State Bar to be paid to the clerk of the court until distributed to the executive director as provided in Subsection (e) of Section 9 of this Act and expended by the board of directors under the direction of the Supreme Court for the purposes of administering this Act. Fees, except those fixed by the board for associate members, shall be prescribed in accordance with Subsections (a) and (b) of Section 8 rulemaking provisions of this Act. The fees shall be used exclusively for administering the public purposes provided by this Act.

Exclusive Jurisdiction of Supreme Court

Sec. 11. Rules and regulations governing the admission to the practice of law shall be within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Supreme Court. The officers and directors of the State Bar of Texas have no authority to approve or disapprove of any rule or regulation which governs admissions to the practice of law nor to regulate or administer said admissions standards.

Discipline

Sec. 12. (a) Any attorney admitted to practice in this state and any attorney specially admitted by a court of this state for a particular proceeding is subject to the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of Texas and its administrative agent, the State Bar of Texas.

(b) In furtherance of the court's powers to supervise the conduct of attorneys at law, the following grievance procedures are established. The Supreme Court shall, in accordance with Section 8 of this Act, prepare, propose, and adopt rules and regulations for disciplining, suspending, disbarring, and accepting resignations of attorneys as it considers necessary in addition to the minimum standards and procedures provided in this Act.

(c) Disciplinary jurisdiction shall be divided into grievance districts. Each bar district shall have one or more grievance committee districts. The board of directors, with the advice of the director of each bar district, shall determine whether the State Bar's grievance duties can be performed effectively by one committee for the entire bar district or whether the same should be divided into more than one grievance committee district. When a bar district contains more than one grievance committee district for which he or she is appointed, one-third of the total membership of each grievance committee district to which he or she is appointed.

(e) The president shall on recommendation of the director or directors for the district appoint the members of the grievance committee. Each member of the committee shall be a resident of the grievance committee district for which he or she is appointed. One-third of the total membership of each grievance committee shall be representative of the general public who are not licensed attorneys and who do not have, other than as consumers, a financial interest in the practice of law.

Annually the committee shall select its own chairperson.

Powers of Grievance Committees

Sec. 13. (a) The grievance committee shall exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred on it by this Act as well as any other powers and duties imposed by rules or regulations promulgated as provided herein by the Supreme Court.

The grievance committee shall consider and investigate any alleged ground for discipline or alleged incapacity of any attorney called to its attention or on its own motion and take action with respect thereto as shall be appropriate under the disciplinary rules in effect from time to time in this state.

(b) The committee shall maintain records of all matters processed and the disposition thereof. Committee records are confidential and are not subject to the open records law, Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 6252-17a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). The final action of a committee resulting in a vote to publicly reprimand, suspend, or seek disbarment shall be made public; provided, however, that proceedings which result in a private reprimand shall remain confidential. Nothing shall prohibit the committee, with the consent of the accused attorney, from disclosing final action which clears the attorney of misconduct or which finds no jurisdiction or lack of probable cause to proceed. All records shall be forwarded to the general counsel and he shall maintain a permanent record of such actions, which will be public records for statistical purposes but which are subject to the provisions above concerning privacy.

(c) A "complaint" is defined as an allegation of attorney misconduct or attorney mental incompetency which, if established in fact, could subject the attorney to disciplinary action. Inquiries which do not allege an offense cognizable under the Code of Professional Responsibility or under this Act or which do not show probable cause of professional misconduct shall not be classified as complaints and are not within the disciplinary jurisdiction of the grievance committee.

d) Every inquiry which the committee determines to be a complaint as defined in this Act shall be docketed by the grievance committee. When docketed, the committee shall notify the general counsel of the State Bar, the complainant, and the accused attorney that the complaint has been scheduled for action by the committee, and the committee shall report periodically to the general counsel its progress in the matter.

e) Every complaint as defined in this Act shall be acted on expeditiously by the grievance committee and the action shall be reported to the general counsel, the complainant, and the accused attorney. If the committee fails to take action on a complaint within a reasonable time, the general counsel shall report the committee's inaction to the president of the State Bar and the director or directors for the bar district which encompasses the grievance committee.

When notified by the general counsel of a committee's inaction, the president of the State Bar, with the advice of the board director for the district concerned, may transfer the complaint to another grievance committee in the bar district if there is one. The president may discharge a committee and appoint new members, if after consulting the board director for the district concerned the president determines that the committee should be reconstituted to assure the expeditious transaction of disciplinary business. Failure to report grievance matters to the general counsel shall be grounds for the discharge of a committee.

Grievance Oversight Committee

Sec. 14. There shall be created a grievance oversight committee which shall be responsible for reviewing the structure, function, and effectiveness of the grievance procedures which are implemented pursuant to this Act. It shall be composed of nine members to be appointed by the Supreme Court, six of whom shall be licensed members of the State Bar and three of whom shall not be licensed members of the State Bar of Texas. Of the six licensed members of the State Bar, three shall be members or former members of grievance committees. This committee shall report its findings annually to the Supreme Court, including any recommendations concerning needed changes in grievance procedures or structures.

The members of this committee shall serve staggered terms of three years each and the initial terms of office of the committee shall be as follows: three members for a term of one year, three members for a term of two years, and three members for a term of three years. The Supreme Court shall designate a chairperson of the committee who shall serve as chairperson for a period of one year. A majority of the total membership shall constitute a quorum of the committee. All necessary and actual expenses of the committee shall be provided for and paid out of the budget of the State Bar.

Disbarment Proceedings

Sec. 15. (a) The Supreme Court of Texas shall not adopt or promulgate any rule or regulation abrogating the right of trial by jury to either party to a disbarment action in the county of the residence of the accused attorney.

(b) Disbarment proceedings shall be instituted against a resident attorney in a district court located in the county of the attorney's residence; provided, however, that the accused attorney may make application for change of venue pursuant to Texas Rule of Civil Procedure 257. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prohibit a grievance committee from investigating complaints of professional misconduct alleged to have occurred within the geographical area served by the committee, but any action must be filed in the county of that attorney's residence.

(c) All nonresident attorneys licensed by the Supreme Court are subject to the disciplinary rules and regulations governing resident members of the State Bar; provided, however, that venue in disbarment proceedings against nonresident members of the State Bar shall be in a district court located in Travis County, Texas, or in any county where the alleged misconduct occurred.

Disciplinary Proceedings

Sec. 16. (a) No attorney shall be suspended from practice, except by the attorney's concurrence under an order of suspension entered by the grievance committee, until such attorney has been convicted of the charge or charges for disbarment pending against him or her in a court of competent jurisdiction. Provided, however, that on proof of conviction of an attorney in any trial court of competent jurisdiction of any felony involving moral turpitude or of any misdemeanor involving the theft, embezzlement, or fraudulent misappropriation of money or other property, the district court of the county of the residence of the convicted attorney shall enter an order suspending the attorney from the practice of law during the pendency of any appeals from the conviction. An attorney who has been given probation after the conviction, whether adjudicated or unadjudicated, shall be suspended from the practice of law during the probation. On proof of final conviction of any felony involving moral turpitude or any misdemeanor involving theft, embezzlement, or fraudulent misappropriation of money or other property, the district court of the county of the residence of the convicted attorney shall enter a judgment disbarring him or her.

Either the grievance committee for the bar district or the general counsel shall have the authority to seek the enforcement of this section.
Art. 320a-1

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

(b) In any action seeking to disbar an attorney for acts made the basis of a conviction for a felony involving moral turpitude or a misdemeanor involving theft, embezzlement, a fraudulent misappropriation of money or other property, the record of conviction shall be conclusive evidence of the guilt of the attorney for the crime of which he or she was convicted.

(c) Nothing in this Act shall be construed to prevent an attorney from being prosecuted in a disciplinary action after conviction for a criminal act based either on the weight of the conviction or on conduct by the attorney which led to his or her conviction.

Sec. 17. The board shall create from time to time committees and sections as it considers advisable and necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act. Nothing in this Act shall prevent the appointment of nonlawyers to the State Bar committees.

Sec. 18. (a) A professional ethics committee consisting of nine members of the State Bar to be appointed by the Supreme Court for a term of three years each is established. The initial terms of office of the committee shall be as follows: three members for terms of one year, three members for terms of two years, and three members for terms of three years. The Supreme Court shall designate a chairperson of the committee who shall serve as chairperson for a period of one year. A majority of the total membership shall constitute a quorum of the committee. All necessary and actual expenses of the committee shall be provided for and paid out of the budget of the State Bar. Nothing in this Act shall prevent the court from appointing members of the judicial department to the professional ethics committee.

(b) The standing committee on professional ethics shall:

(1) by the concurrence of a quorum of its members, express its opinion on the propriety of professional conduct, either on its own initiative or when requested to do so by a member of the State Bar of Texas, except that an opinion may not be issued on a question that is pending before a court of this state;

(2) the foregoing provision notwithstanding, the committee may meet in three member panels to express its opinion on behalf of the whole committee; provided, however, if the inquirer is dissatisfied with the panel’s opinion, he or she may appeal it to the full committee for review;

(3) periodically publish its issued opinions to the legal profession in summary or complete form and on request provide copies of the opinions to members of the bar or public;

(4) on request advise or otherwise assist State Bar committees or local bar associations relating to the Code of Professional Responsibility;

(5) recommend appropriate amendments or clarifications of the Code of Professional Responsibility, if it considers them advisable; and

(6) adopt such rules as it considers appropriate relating to the procedures to be used in expressing opinions, effective when approved by the Supreme Court. Insofar as it is possible to do so, the committee shall disclose the rationale for its opinion and shall indicate whether it is based on ethical considerations or upon the disciplinary rules. Opinions of the committee shall not be binding on the Supreme Court.

Sec. 19. (a) For purposes of this Act, the practice of law embraces the preparation of pleadings and other papers incident to actions of special proceedings and the management of the actions and proceedings on behalf of clients before judges in courts as well as services rendered out of court, including the giving of advice or the rendering of any service requiring the use of legal skill or knowledge, such as preparing a will, contract, or other instrument, the legal effect of which under the facts and conclusions involved must be carefully determined. This definition is not exclusive and does not deprive the judicial branch of the power and authority both under this Act and the adjudicated cases to determine whether other services and acts not enumerated in this Act may constitute the practice of law.

(b) The Supreme Court shall appoint an unauthorized practice of law committee for the State Bar to consist of nine members, three of whom shall be nonlawyers. Except as provided in this Act, members of the committee shall serve for a term of three years beginning with the effective date of this Act. All members of the committee shall be eligible for reappointment. The court shall designate each year which member shall act as chairperson. A majority of the committee shall constitute a quorum. All necessary and actual expenses of the committee should be provided for and paid out of the budget of the State Bar.

The court in making the first appointment shall appoint three members to serve an initial term of one year, three members to serve an initial term of two years, and three members to serve an initial term of three years. Thereafter, each appointed member shall serve a term of three years.

The unauthorized practice of law committee shall keep the court and the State Bar informed with respect to the unauthorized practice of law by lay persons and lay agencies and the participation of attorneys therein and concerning methods for the prevention thereof. The committee shall seek the elimination of the unauthorized practice by action and methods as may be appropriate for that purpose, including the filing of suits in the name of the committee. Nothing in this Act shall prohibit the establishment of local Unauthorized Practice of Law committees to aid and assist this committee in carrying out its purpose.

Carry-Over Clause

Sec. 20. (a) All rules and regulations adopted and promulgated by the Supreme Court relating to the State Bar which are in force on the effective date of this Act shall constitute the rules governing the State Bar of Texas until and unless amended pursuant to Section 8 of this Act.

The foregoing provision notwithstanding, any rules and regulations which are in force on the effective date of this Act and which are in conflict with the provisions of this Act are repealed to the extent of the conflict.

(b) The officers and directors of the State Bar who have been elected and are serving on the effective date of this Act shall continue in office for the balance of their term.

(c) All dues and fees assessed and in effect on the effective date of this Act shall remain in force and effect until and unless amended pursuant to Section 8 of this Act.

(d) All bonds, notes, debentures, evidences of indebtedness, mortgages, deeds of trust, assignments, pledges, contracts, leases, agreements, or other contractual obligations owed to or by the State Bar of Texas on the effective date of this Act shall remain in force and effect in accordance with the terms of the obligation.

Application of Sunset Act

Sec. 21. The State Bar is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, and unless continued in existence as provided by that Act the State Bar is abolished, and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS

SENATE BILL 287 ORDER
Effective June 11, 1979

On June 11, 1979, the Governor signed into law, effective immediately, Senate Bill 287 which had passed the Senate by a vote of thirty of its members to one, and had passed the House by a vote of one hundred nineteen of its members to twenty-two. This statute continued the State Bar of Texas "as a public corporation and an administrative agency of the Judicial Department of government." The Legislature in Section Two of the statute stated that:

"This legislation is in aid of the Judicial Department's powers under the Constitution to regulate the practice of law and not to the exclusion of those powers. The Supreme Court of Texas, on behalf of the Judicial Department, shall exercise administrative control over the State Bar under this Act." The Legislature has thus recognized that this Court is the primary responsibility for the administration of justice in the constitutional separation of powers between the three governmental branches.

This Court recognizes the actions of the Legislative and Executive Departments in aid of this Court's responsibilities regarding the legal profession, in declining any attempt to place funds of the Judicial Branch under control of the Legislative or Executive Branch, and in enacting Senate Bill 287 of the 66th Texas Legislative Session. The Court agrees that a unified Bar is the best method of regulating the legal profession and in assisting this Court in the administration of Justice.

It is, however, the duty of this Court in the exercise of its own inherent power to regulate and control the practice of law and to provide for the proper administration of justice. It is therefore ordered:

1. The State Bar Act, Acts 1979, 66th Leg., Reg.Sess., ch. 510, p. 1081, Article 320a-3 Vernon's Texas Statutes, as supplemented by this order and subsequent orders, and all prior orders of this Court not in conflict herewith, shall govern the State Bar of Texas;

2. All rules, regulations and supplemental orders of this Court relating thereto, including the Rules Governing the State Bar of Texas and the Code of Professional Responsibility, which on the effective date of this order are in force, and which are not in conflict with the State Bar Act, as amended, shall continue to be the rules, regulations and orders governing the State Bar;

3. All officers and directors of the State Bar of Texas who are serving on the effective date hereof shall continue in office for their terms of office and until their successors are elected or appointed and qualified in accordance with the rules and regulations governing the State Bar of Texas;

4. All committees, sections and organizations of the State Bar in existence on the effective date of this order shall continue as they presently exist, until reconstituted in accordance with provisions of the State Bar Act as amended;

5. All dues and fees assessed and in effect on the effective date of this order, shall remain in full force and effect and the budget hereafter adopted for the Bar's fiscal year 1979-80 shall remain in full force and effect;

6. All persons who are enrolled as members of the State Bar on the date hereof and any person who, after the date hereof, shall be licensed to practice law in this State shall be members of the State Bar and subject to the rules and orders of this Court;

7. All persons not members of the State Bar are prohibited from practicing law in this State except for limited practice of law by attorneys licensed in other jurisdictions, law students and nonlicensed graduates of approved law schools in accordance with rules hereafter promulgated by this Court;

8. All property and contractual rights, titles, interests and obligations heretofore existing in the name of the State Bar of Texas are hereby continued and are confirmed;

9. The State Bar of Texas as a unified or integrated Bar is hereby continued and confirmed as an administrative agency of this Court and as a public corporation;

10. All complaints being investigated, all formal complaints voted by district grievance committees, all prosecutions begun and all appeals pending involving attorney misconduct, mental incompetency or the unauthorized practice of law shall proceed and shall not be abated or dismissed on account of the promulgation of this order or the passage of the State Bar Act.

This order is effective as of June 11, 1979, until further order of the Court.

In Chambers, on this the 19th day of June, 1979.

TITLE 14—APPENDIX

A. RULES GOVERNING THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

ARTICLE V. OFFICERS

Sec. 1. Officers Named
The Officers of the State Bar of Texas shall be a President, a President-Elect, a General Counsel, and an Executive Director. The President and President-Elect shall each serve for a term of one year, and neither shall succeed himself in office.

[Feb. 8, 1977.]

Sec. 2. How President and President-Elect Elected
The State Bar shall elect annually from its membership a President-Elect in the manner and form provided in Article VI, Section 3, for the election of Directors, except that the election shall be for the entire state instead of by districts. The ballots cast at any such election shall be marked and returned by the voting members and thereafter canvassed and the results declared, as prescribed in said Section 3.

At its regular January meeting each year, the Board of Directors shall nominate by majority vote not fewer than two members of the State Bar as candidates for President-Elect for the ensuing year, which nominations shall be published in the Bar Journal and by all practicable means. All such names shall be printed on the official ballot.

Any other member’s name shall be printed also on the ballot as a candidate for President-Elect when a petition in writing, signed by not fewer than 175 members requesting such action, is filed with the Executive Director on or before March 15th.

Every ballot for President-Elect shall be designated as “Official Ballot, State Bar of Texas.” The ballots shall be mailed to members at the same time as ballots for the election of Directors are mailed, or a combined ballot may be used for both Officers and Directors.

The President-Elect shall automatically become President at the conclusion of his term as President-Elect.

[Feb. 8, 1977.]

Sec. 3. When Officers Assume Duties
The President-Elect and Directors shall take office immediately upon the adjournment of the annual meeting next after their election. The President shall take office immediately upon the adjournment of the annual meeting held at the close of his term as President-Elect.

[Feb. 8, 1977.]

ARTICLE VI. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Sec. 1. How Comprised
The Board shall consist of one Director elected from each of the Bar Districts of this State and any additional districts hereafter created. The President and President-Elect of the State Bar shall be ex-officio members of the Board with the same powers and duties as those of elected members.

At the first meeting after the Directors assume office, the Board shall elect one of its own number as Chairman. He shall serve for one year and shall preside at all meetings of the Board.

[Feb. 8, 1977.]

Sec. 2. Qualifications of Director; Vacancies; How Filled
Each elected Director shall be a resident of the District for which he is elected and upon removal from the District shall thereby automatically vacate his office. No member, except residents of Bexar, Dallas, Harris, Tarrant and Travis Counties, may be a candidate for Director if the county of his residence was the county of residence of the last preceding Director from that District. This prohibition shall not apply to a member appointed to fill a vacancy, if at the time of the next regular annual election following his appointment the combined service of himself and his predecessor as Director does not exceed eighteen calendar months.

If there be any vacancy, the President shall appoint some member who is a resident of the District in which the vacancy exists to serve until the next regular annual election of Directors. The appointed Director may be a resident of the same county as his predecessor only in the event that the predecessor served as a Director for less than eighteen months. This restriction shall not apply to residents of the four populous counties above named.

Each last immediate retiring President shall be a member ex-officio of the Board of Directors for one year next succeeding his retirement. [Feb. 27, 1973].

1 So in rule; probably should read "five".

ARTICLE VIII. MEETINGS OF STATE BAR

Sec. 1. Time and Place of Annual Meeting
The annual meeting of the State Bar shall be held between June 1st and July 15th of each year at a time and place to be determined by vote of the Board of Directors at its regular January meeting preceding. The Board of Directors may at any regular or special meeting prior to the holding of an annual meeting change the date (within the above period of time) or the place of, or cancel, such annual meeting for that year. [Feb. 8, 1977.]

ARTICLE X. FISCAL

Sec. 1. Budget Committee
There is hereby created a Budget Committee, and its membership shall consist of the President of the State Bar, who shall be ex-officio Chairman, the President-Elect, the Chairman of the Board, and two members of the Board of Directors to be appointed by the President, and who shall serve for one year. [Feb. 8, 1977.]

Sec. 3. Bar Warrants; How and for What Purposes Drawn
No warrant on account of the State Bar of Texas shall be drawn against State Bar funds, nor paid out of the funds, unless the warrant is countersigned by the Executive Director or the President. The Executive Director shall see that no warrant is so drawn and issued except to pay some item of expense authorized in the annual budget, or some amendment thereto; and that no warrant is drawn, if its payment shall overdraw the amount allocated by the budget or its amendments to the payment of that item. Each warrant shall specify thereon what item of expenditure it is drawn to pay.

The Board of Directors and Officers of the State Bar shall be without authority to make any contract or incur any debt that cannot be paid from the receipts for the current year, except with the concurrent approval obtained by referendum of all members of the State Bar and the Supreme Court.

Any violation by the Executive Director of the terms of this Section, or neglect by him to perform the duties imposed by this Section, shall constitute a breach of trust and he shall be liable therefor on his bond to the State Bar. [Feb. 8, 1977.]
B. CODE OF JUDICIAL CONDUCT

Adopted July 25, 1974
Effective September 1, 1974
Amended to November 9, 1976

Canon 1
A Judge Should Uphold the Integrity and Independence of the Judiciary

An independent and honorable judiciary is indispensable to justice in our society. A judge should participate in establishing, maintaining, and enforcing, and should himself observe, high standards of conduct so that the integrity and independence of the judiciary may be preserved. The provisions of this Code should be construed and applied to further that objective.

Canon 2
A Judge Should Avoid Impropriety and the Appearance of Impropriety in all his Activities

A. A judge should respect and comply with the law and should conduct himself at all times in a manner that promotes public confidence in the integrity and impartiality of the judiciary.

B. A judge should not allow his family, social, or other relationships to influence his judicial conduct or judgment. He should not lend the prestige of his office to advance the private interests of others; nor should he convey or permit others to convey the impression that they are in a special position to influence him. He should not testify voluntarily in an adjudicative proceeding as a character witness.

A Judge Should Perform the Duties of his Office Impartially and Diligently

The judicial duties of a judge take precedence over all his other activities. His judicial duties include all the duties of his office prescribed by law. In the performance of these duties, the following standards apply:

A. Adjudicative Responsibilities.
(1) A judge should be faithful to the law and maintain professional competence in it. He should be unswayed by partisan interests, public clamor, or fear of criticism.

(2) A judge should maintain order and decorum in proceedings before him.

(3) A judge should be patient, dignified, and courteous to litigants, jurors, witnesses, lawyers, and others with whom he deals in his official capacity, and should require similar conduct of lawyers, and of his staff, court officials, and others subject to his direction and control.

(4) A judge should accord to every person who is legally interested in a proceeding, or his lawyer, full right to be heard according to law, and, except as authorized by law, neither initiate nor consider ex parte or other private communications concerning a pending or impending proceeding.

(5) A judge should dispose promptly of the business of the court.

(6) A judge should abstain from public comment about a pending or impending proceeding in any court, and should require similar abstention on the part of court personnel subject to his direction and control. This subsection does not prohibit judges from making public statements in the course of their official duties or from explaining for public information the procedures of the court.

(7) A judge should prohibit broadcasting, televising, recording, or taking photographs in the courtroom and areas adjacent thereto during sessions of court or recesses between sessions (Estes vs. Texas, 381 U.S. 532; Sheppard vs. Maxwell, 384 U.S. 333), except that a judge may authorize:

(a) the use of electronic or photographic means for the presentation of evidence, for the perpetuation of a record, or for other purposes of judicial administration;
B. CODE OF JUDICIAL CONDUCT

(b) the broadcasting, televising, recording, or photographic of investigative, or ceremonial proceedings;

(c) the photographic or electronic recording and reproduction of appropriate court proceedings under the following conditions:

(i) the means of recording will not distract participants or impair the dignity of the proceedings;

(ii) the parties have consented, and the consent to being depicted or recorded has been obtained from each witness appearing in the recording and reproduction;

(iii) the reproduction will not be exhibited until after the proceeding has been concluded and all direct appeals have been exhausted; and

(iv) the reproduction will be exhibited only for instructional purposes in educational institutions.

(d) Oral arguments by the parties in the appellate courts may be recorded by electronic means upon: the prior consent obtained from the court, or the chief justice or presiding judge as the case may be, where the means of recording will not distract the participants or impair the dignity of the proceedings.

Amended Nov. 9, 1976.

B. Administrative Responsibilities.

(1) A judge should diligently discharge his administrative responsibilities, maintain professional competence in judicial administration, and facilitate the performance of the administrative responsibilities of other judges and court officials.

(2) A judge should require his staff and court officials subject to his direction and control to observe the standards of fidelity and diligence that other judges and court officials subject to his direction and control to observe the standards of fidelity and diligence that apply to him.

(3) A judge should take or initiate appropriate disciplinary measures against a lawyer for unprofessional conduct of which the judge may become aware.

(4) A judge should not make unnecessary appointments. He should exercise his power of appointment only on the basis of merit, avoiding nepotism and favoritism. He should not approve compensation of appointees beyond the fair value of services rendered.

C. Disqualification. (Art. V, Sec. 11 Texas Constitution; Art. 15 V.A.T.S.; C.C.P. Art. 30.01).

(1) A judge should disqualify himself in a proceeding in which his impartiality might reasonably be questioned, including, but not limited to, instances where:

(a) he has a personal bias or prejudice concerning a party, or personal knowledge of disputed evidentiary facts concerning the proceeding;

(b) he served as lawyer in the matter in controversy, or a lawyer with whom he previously practiced law served during such association as a lawyer concerning the matter, or the judge or such lawyer has been a material witness concerning it;

(c) he knows that he, individually or as a fiduciary, or his spouse or minor child residing in his household, has a financial interest in the subject matter in controversy or in a party to the proceeding, or any other interest that could be substantially affected by the outcome of the proceeding;

(2) A judge should inform himself about his personal and fiduciary financial interests, and make a reasonable effort to inform himself about the personal financial interests of his spouse and minor children residing in his household.

(3) For the purposes of this section:

(a) "fiduciary" includes such relationships as executor, administrator, trustee, and guardian;

(b) "financial interest" means ownership of a legal or equitable interest, however small, or a relationship as director, advisor, or other active participant in the affairs of a party, except that:

(i) ownership in a mutual or common investment fund that holds securities is not a "financial interest" in such securities unless the judge participates in the management of the fund;

(ii) an office in an educational, religious, charitable, fraternal, or civic organization is not a "financial interest" in securities held by the organization;

(iii) the proprietary interest of a policy holder in a mutual insurance company, of a depositor in a mutual savings association, or a similar proprietary interest, is a "financial interest" in the organization only if the outcome of the proceeding could substantially affect the value of the interest;

(iv) ownership of government securities is a "financial interest" in the issuer only if the outcome of the proceeding could substantially affect the value of the securities.

Canon 4

A Judge May Engage in Activities to Improve the Law, the Legal System, and the Administration of Justice

A judge, subject to the proper performance of his judicial duties, may engage in the following quasi-judicial activities, if in doing so he does not cast doubt on his capacity to decide impartially any issue that may come before him:

A. He may speak, write, lecture, teach, and participate in other activities concerning the law, the legal system, and the administration of justice.

B. He may appear at a public hearing before an executive or legislative body or official on matters concerning the law, the legal system, and the administration of justice, and he may otherwise consult with an executive or legislative body or official, but only on matters concerning the administration of justice.
B. CODE OF JUDICIAL CONDUCT

C. He may serve as a member, officer, or director of an organization or governmental agency devoted to the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice. He may assist such an organization in raising funds and may participate in their management and investment, but should not personally participate in public fund raising activities. He may make recommendations to public and private fund-granting agencies on projects and programs concerning the law, the legal system, and the administration of justice.

A Judge Should Regulate his Extra-Judicial Activities to Minimize the Risk of Conflict with his Judicial Duties

A. Avocational Activities. A judge may write, lecture, teach, and speak on non-legal subjects, and engage in the arts, sports, and other social and recreational activities, if such avocational activities do not detract from the dignity of his office or interfere with the performance of his judicial duties.

B. Civic and Charitable Activities. A judge may participate in civic and charitable activities that do not reflect adversely upon his impartiality or interfere with the performance of his judicial duties. A judge may serve as an officer, director, trustee, or non-legal advisor of an educational, religious, charitable, fraternal, or civic organization not conducted for the economic or political advantage of its members, subject to the following limitations:

(1) A judge should not serve if it is likely that the organization will be engaged in proceedings that would ordinarily come before him or will be regularly engaged in adversary proceedings in any court.

(2) A judge should not solicit funds for any educational, religious, charitable, political, or civic organization, or use or permit the use of the prestige of his office for that purpose, but he may be listed as an officer, director, delegate, or trustee of such an organization. He should not be a speaker or the guest of honor at an organization's fund raising events, but he may attend such events.

(3) A judge should not give investment advice to such an organization, but he may serve on its board of directors or trustees even though it has more than ten owners.

(4) Neither a judge nor a member of his family residing in his household should accept a gift, bequest, favor, or loan from anyone except as follows:

(a) a judge may accept a gift incident to a public testimonial to him; books supplied by publishers on a complimentary basis for official use; or an invitation to the judge and his spouse to attend a bar-related function or activity devoted to the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice;

(b) a judge or a member of his family residing in his household may accept ordinary social hospitality; a gift, bequest, favor, or loan from a relative; a wedding or engagement gift; a loan from a lending institution in its regular course of business on the same terms generally available to persons who are not judges; or a scholarship or fellowship awarded on the same terms applied to other applicants;

(c) a judge or a member of his family residing in his household may accept any other gift, bequest, favor, or loan only if the donor is not a party or other person whose interests have come or are likely to come before him, and, if its value exceeds $100, the judge reports it in the same manner as he reports compensation in Canon 6C.

(5) For the purposes of this section "member of his family residing in his household" means any relative of a judge by blood or marriage, or a person treated by a judge as a member of his family, who resides in his household.

(6) A judge is not required by this Code to disclose his income, debts, or investments, except as provided in this Canon and Canons 3 and 6.

(7) Information acquired by a judge in his judicial capacity should not be used or disclosed by him in financial dealings or for any other purpose not related to his judicial duties.

D. Fiduciary Activities. A judge should not serve as the executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary, except for the estate, trust, or person of a member of his family; and then only if such service will not interfere with the proper performance of his judicial duties. “Member of his family” includes a spouse, child, grandchild, parent, grandparent, or other relative or person with whom the judge maintains a close familial relationship. As a family fiduciary a judge is subject to the following restrictions:

(1) He should not serve if it is likely that as a fiduciary he will be engaged in proceedings that would ordinarily come before him, or if the estate, trust, or ward becomes involved in adversary proceedings in the court on which he serves or one under its appellate jurisdiction.

(2) While acting as a fiduciary a judge is subject to the same restrictions on financial activities that apply to him in his personal capacity.

E. Arbitration. A judge should not act as an arbitrator or mediator.

F. Practice of Law. A judge should not practice law.

G. Extra-judicial Appointments. A judge should not accept appointment to a governmental committee, commission, or other position that is concerned with issues of fact or policy on matters other than the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice. A judge, however, may represent his country, state, or locality on ceremonial occasions or in connection with historical, educational, and cultural activities.

A Judge Should Regularly File Reports of Compensation Received for Quasi-Judicial and Extra-Judicial Activities

A judge may receive compensation and reimbursement of expenses for the quasi-judicial and extra-judicial activities permitted by this Code, if the source of such payments does not give the appearance of influencing the judge in his judicial duties or otherwise give the appearance of impropriety, subject to the following restrictions:

A. Compensation. Compensation should not exceed a reasonable amount nor should it exceed what a person who is not a judge would receive for the same activity.

B. Expense Reimbursement. Expense reimbursement should be limited to the actual cost of travel, food, and lodging reasonably incurred by the judge and, where appropriate to the occasion, by his family. Any payment in excess of such an amount is compensation.

C. A judge shall file with the Judicial Qualifications Commission of this State on or before the last Friday of April of each year a financial report consisting of the following documents:

(a) A true copy of the most recent Federal income tax return filed by him.

(b) An affidavit which asserts compliance with Article 6252-9b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes, the financial disclosure law.

(c) A verified list of the names of the corporations, businesses or other financial undertakings in which he has an interest. If any of the above have no name, then a description of their nature shall be given.

(d) At the expiration of two years from the time a judge by reason of death, disability or other reason is no longer subject to recall to judicial service, the Commission shall destroy the documents filed by a judge in compliance with this Canon.

The copy of income tax return called for in subparagraph (a) above shall be transmitted in a sealed envelope, placed by the Commission in safekeeping, and shall be opened only during an investigation and pursuant to a majority vote of the full Commission duly assembled.

If the federal government has granted an extension of time for the filing of an income tax return, that fact shall be made known to the Judicial Qualifications Commission on or before the last Friday of April of the year in which the tax return is due. The judge shall in that case file the copy of his income tax return with the Judicial Qualifications Commission within ten days after he files his income tax return with the government.

The list of corporations and businesses in which the judge has a financial interest called for in subparagraph (c) above shall be transmitted in a separate sealed envelope, placed by the Commission in safekeeping, and shall not be opened or the contents thereof disclosed except in the manner hereinafter providing for the opening and examination of the documents called for in subparagraph (a) above, or as hereinafter provided.

At any time during or after the pendency of a cause, any party may request information as to whether the most recent list filed by the judge or judges before whom the cause is or was pending contains the name of any specific person or corporation or other business which is a party to the cause or which has a substantial, direct, or indirect financial interest in its outcome. Neither the making of the request nor the contents thereof shall be revealed by the Chairman to any judge or other person except at the instance of the individual making the request. If the request meets the requirements hereinafore set forth, the Chairman shall render a prompt answer thereto and thereupon return the report to safekeeping for retention in accordance with the provisions hereinafore stated. All such requests shall be verified and transmitted to the Chairman of the Commission on forms to be approved by it.

Canon 7
A Judge Should Refrain from Political Activity Inappropriate to his Judicial Office

A. Political Conduct in General. Any candidate for judicial office, including an incumbent judge, and others acting on his behalf, should refrain from all conduct which might tend to arouse reasonable belief that he is using the power or prestige of his judicial position to promote his own candidacy.
B. CODE OF JUDICIAL CONDUCT

B. Campaign Conduct:

(1) A candidate, including an incumbent judge, for a judicial office that is filled by public election between competing candidates:

(a) should maintain the dignity appropriate to judicial office, and should encourage members of his family to adhere to the same standards of political conduct that apply to him;

(b) should prohibit others subject to his direction or control from doing for him what he is prohibited from doing under this Canon;

(c) should not make pledges or promises of conduct in office other than the faithful and impartial performance of the duties of the office. Any statement of qualifications, record, or performance in office should be such as can withstand the closest scrutiny as to accuracy, candor and fairness.

Amended Nov. 9, 1976.

Compliance with the Code of Judicial Conduct

A. The following judges shall comply with this Code:

Those elected in a statewide election.
Justices of courts of civil appeals.
Commissioners of any appellate court.
District judges.
Judges of domestic relations courts.
Judges of juvenile courts.
Judges of county courts at law.

Provided, however, that Canon 6C(b) shall apply only to those judges who are subject to Article 6252-9b, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes.

The Code shall not apply to county judges whether they are also judges of juvenile courts or not.

B. Part-time Judge. A part-time judge is a judge who serves on a continuing or periodic basis, but is permitted by law to devote time to some other profession or occupation and whose compensation for that reason is less than that of a full-time judge. A part-time judge:

(1) is not required to comply with Canon 5C(2), D, E, F, G, and Canon 6C(a) and 6C(c).

(2) should not practice law in the court on which he serves or in any court subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the court on which he serves, or act as a lawyer in a proceeding in which he has served as a judge or in any other proceeding related thereto.

C. Judge Pro Tempore. A judge pro tempore is a person who is appointed to act temporarily as a judge.

(1) While acting as such, a judge pro tempore is not required to comply with Canon 5C(2), (3), D, E, F, G, Canon 6C(a) and 6C(c).

(2) A person who has been a judge pro tempore should not act as a lawyer in a proceeding in which he has served as a judge or in any other proceeding related thereto.

D. Retired Judge. A retired judge who is eligible for recall to judicial service should comply with all the provisions of this Code except Canon 5C(2), D, E, F, G, and Canon 6C(a) and 6C(c), but he should refrain from judicial service during the period of an extra-judicial appointment not sanctioned by Canon 5G. A retired judge who is not subject to recall for judicial service or who by reason of disability does not perform such services, which facts are shown to the satisfaction of the Judicial Qualifications Commission is excused from compliance with Canon 5C(2), D, E, F, G, Canon 6C(a) and 6C(c).

Amended Sept. 24, 1974; Nov. 9, 1976.

A person to whom this Code become applicable should arrange his affairs as soon as reasonably possible to comply with it. If, however, the demands on his time and the possibility of conflicts of interest are not substantial, a person who holds judicial office on the date this Code becomes effective may:

A. continue to act as an officer or director of a publicly owned business for a period not to exceed four (4) years from the effective date of this Code;

B. continue to act as an executor, administrator, trustee, or other fiduciary for the estate or person of one who is not a member of his family.

Art. 332d. Prosecutor Council

Purpose of Act

Sec. 1. The Legislature of the State of Texas finds and declares that a uniform quality of prosecution will aid in improving the efficiency and effectiveness of the state's criminal justice system. The legislature recognizes that the prosecutor performs a judicial function which has a significant effect on the executive branch and on law enforcement. To this end, it is the purpose of this Act to provide a centralized agency of the judicial department of government capable of delivering technical assistance, educational services, and professional development training to the prosecutors of Texas and their assistants and to improve the administration of criminal justice through professionalization of the prose-hereinafter referred to as the "council."

Membership; "Prosecuting Attorney" Defined

Sec. 3. (a) The council shall be composed of nine members, selected as follows:

(1) four citizens of the State of Texas, who are not licensed to practice law, appointed by the Governor of Texas, with the advice and consent of the senate. In making such appointments, the governor shall give due consideration to geographical areas of the state and their population diversities; and

(2) five incumbent, elected prosecuting attorneys to be elected by prosecuting attorneys, at least one each of whom shall be a county attorney, a district attorney, and a criminal district attorelecting prosecutors to the council.

ney" means the person who holds the office of county attorney, district attorney, or criminal dis-those of their elected position, and membership on the council shall not constitute dual officeholding.

Vacancies

Sec. 5. Vacancies on the council shall be filled in the same manner as the original appointment. A member appointed to fill a vacancy created other than by expiration of a term shall be appointed for the unexpired term of the member he is to succeed.
Any member may be reappointed for additional terms. If a member who is a prosecuting attorney ceases to be a prosecuting attorney, a vacancy on the council shall exist.

out compensation but may be entitled to their actual expenses in attending meetings and in the performance of their duties hereunder.

Meetings; Officers; Quorum; Executive Director

Sec. 7. (a) The council shall meet at least twice each year and shall hold such other meetings as may be necessary. The council shall designate from among its prosecutor members a chairman and from its lay members a vice-chairman who shall serve two-year terms and who may be reelected. The chairman shall preside over the meetings, and in his absence the vice-chairman shall preside. The council shall establish its own procedures with respect to its meetings, and five members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. A majority vote of the members present and voting shall be required for approval of any action authorized by this Act.

(b) The council shall appoint an executive director who shall be an attorney licensed by the Supreme Court of Texas. The executive director shall perform the functions and duties assigned him by the council and shall represent the council in all cases in the courts of the state or of the United States.

matters to improve local prosecution within the state.
Art. 332d

Sec. 9. The council may:

(1) respond to the request of a judge for recommendations regarding the appointment of a special prosecutor in case of disqualification of the prosecuting attorney;

(2) enter into agreements with other public or private agencies or organizations to implement the intent and purpose of this Act;

(3) accept funds, grants, and gifts from any public or private source to implement this Act;

(4) employ such staff and clerical assistants as necessary to fulfill its duties and responsibilities; and

(5) pay the expenses of prosecutors and their staffs to attend professional development courses, to assist other prosecutors, to advise the council, and to perform the other activities that the council deems to be in the interest of improving the quantity of prosecution; and

(6) take such other action as may be appropriate for the improvement and more efficient administration of criminal justice.

Sec. 10. (a) A prosecuting attorney may be reprimanded, disqualified, or removed from office as hereinafter provided.

(b) For purposes of this Act:

(1) “incompetency” means:

(A) gross ignorance or neglect of official duty;

(B) physical or mental defect which prohibits the prompt or proper discharge of official duties; or

(C) failure to maintain the qualifications required by law for election to the office.

(2) “misconduct” means:

(A) any unlawful behavior defined in Chapter 39 of the Penal Code;

(B) any act which is a felony or a misdemeanor or involving moral turpitude; or

(C) willful or persistent conduct which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of official duties.

(c) A prosecuting attorney is disqualified from performing the duties and functions or exercising the privileges of his office when a petition for removal from office has been filed against him as provided in this Act.

(d) A prosecuting attorney is suspended from office when:

(1) he has been disbarred or suspended from the practice of law in the State of Texas, whether through trial or upon agreement;

(2) he has been found guilty in a court of competent jurisdiction of any felony or any misdemeanor involving moral turpitude or;

(3) a finding of incompetency or misconduct follows a trial on the merits of a petition for removal.

(e) A prosecuting attorney is removed from office upon final adjudication or conviction for any cause of action which was the basis for his suspension. The court entering the appropriate judgment as provided by Subsection (d) of this section shall include an order suspending the prosecuting attorney and removing him from office when the judgment becomes final.

(f)(1) During a period of disqualification, the prosecuting attorney shall be entitled to receive the compensation provided by law for such office but shall be disqualified from the performance of any official duties imposed upon his office by law or exercising any privilege incident thereto.

(2) During a period of suspension, the prosecuting attorney shall not be entitled to any compensation provided by law for his office and shall be disqualified from the performance of any official duties imposed upon his office by law or exercising any privilege incident thereto. If the trial court judgment which causes a suspension is upon final determination overturned, then he shall be entitled to receive as compensation an amount equal to the total compensation he would have received during the period of such suspension.

(g)(1) After investigation of a complaint of prosecuting attorney incompetency or misconduct, the council may, in its discretion, issue a private reprimand, order a hearing to be held before the council, or request the supreme court to appoint a master to hold a hearing.

(2) The supreme court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the council and masters in hearings relating to the investigation of complaints of prosecuting attorney incompetency or misconduct, consistent with this Act and due process of law.

(3) In the conduct of investigations or hearings, any member of the council or the master may administer oaths and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and to compel testimony and the production of books, records, papers, accounts, and documents relevant to any investigation or hearing. Orders for attendance of witnesses, testimony, or production of evidence shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the district court.

(4) It shall be the duty of all law enforcement officers to serve process and execute all lawful orders of the council or master. Such process and orders may also be served by any other person designated by the master, the council, or their authorized representative.

(5) In any investigation or hearing, process shall extend to all parts of the state, and each witness, other than an officer or employee of the state or a political subdivision, shall receive the same fees and mileage as allowed witnesses in civil cases.

(6) In any investigation or hearing, the council or master may order the deposition of any person be taken in accordance with the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(h) Upon the appointment of a master, notice shall be given to the prosecuting attorney who is the subject of any complaint or investigation, specifying the matters under investigation and the complaint against him and setting a date for a hearing or for the taking of testimony for purposes of investigation.

(i) After the conclusion of the hearing, the master shall file with the council a statement of his findings of fact, together with a complete transcript of all proceedings had in the cause. Such findings and transcripts shall be filed with the council not later than 30 days after the date set for the hearing to commence. For good cause shown, the council may, in its discretion, extend the time for filing such findings and transcripts.

(j) All proceedings and records before the council or a master shall be confidential and privileged until such time as they are introduced in evidence in any proceeding for removal.

(k) If, after examining the records and proceedings before it, the council finds by majority vote of the council membership good cause therefor, it shall cause to be filed in the district court of the county in which the prosecuting attorney resides a petition for removal. Such petition shall be filed in the name of the State of Texas and docketed on the civil docket of the court. Such petition shall allege incompetency or misconduct, together with the facts which form the basis of the allegations. The trial on a petition for removal shall proceed in accordance with the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

(l) When a petition for removal is filed pursuant to this section, the judge of the court in which it is filed shall request the appointment of a special judge who shall hear the case. Upon appointment, the special judge shall appoint an attorney to prosecute the case, such counsel to be selected from a list of not less than five qualified attorneys submitted by the council.

(m) Upon disqualification or suspension of a prosecuting attorney, the duties of his office shall be performed by a prosecuting attorney pro tempore as provided by this Act. The prosecuting attorney pro tempore shall serve until the disqualification or suspension is lifted or until a successor has been appointed and qualified.

Prosecuting Attorney Pro Tempore

Sec. 10A. (a) A prosecuting attorney pro tempore shall be appointed by the body or person who has the authority to appoint the prosecuting attorney in the event of a vacancy.

(b) The prosecuting attorney pro tempore shall receive as compensation an amount not less than the compensation the disqualified or suspended prosecuting attorney was entitled to receive. Each governmental body shall pay that part of the compensation it paid the predecessor out of any available funds. This obligation shall take precedence over any other governmental body may have.

Limitations; Intent of Legislative

Sec. 10B. No prosecuting attorney shall be reprimanded or removed for misconduct as defined by Section 10 of this Act occurring more than four years prior to the time of filing of a complaint with the council, but limitation will not run where fraud or concealment is involved until the misconduct is discovered or should have been discovered by reasonable diligence. The complaint shall be considered as filed when made in writing to the executive director of the council. It is the intention of the legislature that there continue to be no restrictions to the reprimand or removal of a prosecuting attorney other than those stated in this Act.

Severability

Sec. 11. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end, the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable.

Effect of Constitutional Amendment

Art. 332d-1. Application of Sunset Act

The Prosecutor Council is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Unless the Prosecutor Council is continued in existence as provided by that Act, the Prosecutor Council is abolished and this Act expires effective September 1, 1985. [Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2652, ch. 709, § 5, eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]

Sections 1 to 4 of the 1981 Act amended art. 332d.

4. PUBLIC DEFENDERS

Art. 341-2. Counties Having Four County and Four District Courts; Appointment and Compensation; Entitlement of Indigents

Findings and Purpose

Sec. 1. (a) Recent federal and state court decisions have emphasized the constitutional obligation of the state to afford needy persons the effective assistance of counsel in criminal actions. In some counties, the bar has partially met this obligation through creation of a nonprofit organization, primarily financed by federal grants, which provides counsel; in others, volunteers from the bar donate their services to defend needy persons. And in still other counties, the courts concerned appoint counsel under Articles 26.04 and 26.05, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

(b) The obligation to furnish competent counsel imposes a substantial burden on county financial resources. None of the alternative methods presently employed to furnish counsel has proved entirely satisfactory and the legislature finds that a county-wide public defender system, functioning either alone or in a combination with other methods, may better satisfy the constitutional and statutory obligations for providing counsel for the needy accused.

Appointment of Public Defender

Sec. 2. (a) The commissioners court of any county having four county courts and four district courts may appoint one or more attorneys to serve as a public defender to serve at its pleasure.

(b) To be eligible for appointment as a public defender, a person must:

(1) be a member of the State Bar of Texas;
(2) have practiced law at least three years; and
(3) be experienced in the practice of criminal law.

Compensation

Sec. 3. (a) The public defenders shall receive an annual salary to be fixed by the commissioners court and paid from the appropriate county fund.

(b) The provisions of Article 26.05, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, regarding daily appearance fees shall not apply to public defenders; however, all other provisions of Article 26.05, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended, regarding fees and allowances shall apply to public defenders.

(c) A public defender may not engage in any criminal law practice other than that authorized in this Act and shall accept nothing of value, except as authorized in this Act, for any services rendered in connection with a criminal case.

(d) A violation of Subsection (c), Section 3 of this Act shall be cause for removal of the public defender by the judge who appointed him.

Entitlement to Representation

Sec. 4. (a) Any indigent person charged with a criminal offense or any indigent person who is a party in a juvenile delinquency proceeding shall be represented by a public defender in a county having at least four county courts and at least four district courts, if one has been appointed, or other practicing attorneys appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction. If an attorney, other than a public defender, is appointed, he shall be compensated as provided in Article 26.05, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

(b) A public defender may inquire into the financial condition of any person whom he is appointed to represent and shall report any findings of the investigation to the court appointing him. The court may hold a hearing into the financial condition of the defendant and shall make a determination as to his indigency and to his entitlement to representation by a public defender.

Substitute Defender

Sec. 5. At any stage, including appeal or other postconviction proceedings, the court concerned may assign a substitute attorney. The substitute attorney shall be entitled to compensation as provided in Article 26.05, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1965, as amended.

Text as amended by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 2469, ch. 641, § 2

The Commissioner shall examine each state bank three times each twenty-four months and no more, unless he deems additional examinations necessary to safeguard the interest of depositors, creditors, and stockholders, and to enforce the provisions of the Banking Code of 1943. The performance of bank services by a processor shall be subject to regulation and examination by the Commissioner to the same extent as if the services were being performed by the bank itself on its own premises. The Commissioner, Deputy Commissioner, Departmental Examiner and each examiner may administer oaths and examine any person under oath upon any subject of any state bank. The Commissioner shall assess and collect a fee in connection with each examination, based on the bank's total assets, covering the cost of such examination, the equitable or proportionate cost of maintenance and operation of the Banking Department, and the enforcement of the provisions of the Banking Code of 1943, including but not limited to, the premium on the bond of the Commissioner and other officers and employees of the Banking Department, and such other fidelity or casualty insurance or coverage required or furnished pursuant to or in connection with the provisions of the Banking Code of 1943, together with all other expenses of the Banking Department, which fee shall in no event be less than Fifty Dollars ($50) for each examination so made. Such fees, together with any other fees, penalties or revenues collected by the Commissioner, pursuant to any law of this State, shall be retained by the Banking Department and shall be expended only for the expenses of said department.

Art. 342-208a. Examination of Nonbanking Affiliates

The Commissioner may examine the affiliates of a state bank to the extent it is necessary to safeguard the interest of depositors, creditors, and stockholders of the bank and to enforce the provisions of the Texas Banking Code of 1943. The Commissioner may conduct the examination in conjunction with any examination of the state bank or affiliate conducted by any other state or federal regulatory authority. For the purpose of this Article, "affiliate" means any bank holding company of which the state bank is a subsidiary and any nonbanking subsidiary of that bank holding company, as "subsidiary" is defined by Section 2 of the federal Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 (12 U.S.C., Sec. 1841(d), as amended).

Art. 342-209. Call Statements—Filing—Publication—Posting—Penalty

The Commissioner shall at least twice each year call upon each state bank to make and publish a statement of its financial condition as of the close of business on a date specified in such call. Such statements shall be upon such form and reflect such information as may be prescribed by the Commissioner; shall be sworn to by any one of the following: the president, vice-president, cashier, assistant cashier, secretary, or treasurer, and attested by at least three directors; and shall be filed with the Commissioner within the time specified in the call. Such statement shall be published within the time specified in the call in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county of the bank's domicile, or if no such newspaper is published in said county, then in a newspaper of general circulation published in an adjacent county, and a publisher's certificate reflecting such publication shall be filed with the Commissioner within the time specified in the call. A copy of the latest called statement shall be kept posted in the lobby of the banking house at a point accessible to the public. Any state bank which fails to file or publish such statement or to file such publisher's certificate, within the periods herein prescribed in the call, or to post such notice, shall be subject to a penalty not exceeding Five Hundred Dollars ($500) to be collected by suit by the Attorney General on behalf of the Commissioner.

The articles of association of a state bank shall be signed and acknowledged by each incorporator and shall contain:
1. The name of the corporation.
2. The city or town and the county of its domicile.
3. Such of the powers listed in Article 1 of this Chapter as it shall choose to exercise.
4. The capital and the denomination and number of shares.
5. The number of directors.

Art. 342-305. Application for and Granting of Charters—Approval

B. Applicants desiring to incorporate a State bank shall file with the Banking Commissioner an application for charter upon official forms prepared and prescribed by the Commissioner. All persons subscribing to the capital stock of the proposed bank shall sign and verify under oath a statement of such stock subscribed, and which statement shall truly and prescribed by the Commissioner. All persons subscribing to the capital stock of the proposed bank shall sign and verify under oath a statement of such stock subscribed, and which statement shall truly

Art. 342-306. Amendment of Articles of Association

A. Each stockholder of a state bank shall be entitled to subscribe for his proportionate part of any increase of stock, or who will pay any portion of the consideration; whether said stock is to be pledged as security for any loan; whether a loan has been committed or is intended for the subscription and purchase of said stock, and if so, the name and address of such person or corporation which is intended to loan funds for said purchase; the names of any cosigners, guarantors, partners or other persons liable for the repayment of any loan financing the purchase of such stock. Provided, however, that the verified statement of subscribers to stock shall be confidential and privileged from public disclosure prior to the final determination by the Board of the application for a charter, unless the Board shall find that public disclosure prior to public hearing and final determination of the charter application is necessary to a full development of the factual record.

C. The Commissioner shall require deposit of such charter fees as are required by law and shall proceed to conduct a thorough investigation of the application, the applicants and their personnel, and the charter conditions alleged. The actual expense of such investigation and report shall be paid by the applicants, and the Commissioner may require a deposit in an estimated amount, the balance to be paid in full prior to hearing of the application. A written report of the investigation shall be furnished to the State Banking Board and shall be made available to all interested parties at their request.

D. Upon filing of the application, the Commissioner shall promptly set the time and place for public hearing of the application for charter, giving the applicants and such other banks in the same trade area reasonable notice thereof. After full and public hearing the Board shall vote and determine whether the necessary conditions set out in Section A above have been established. Should the Board, or a majority of the Board, determine all of the said conditions affirmatively, then the application shall be approved; if not, then the application shall be denied. If approved, and when the Commissioner receives satisfactory evidence that the capital has been paid in full in cash, the Commissioner shall deliver to the incorporators a certified copy of the Articles of Association, and the bank shall come into corporate existence. Provided however, that the State Banking Board may make its approval of any application conditional, and in such event shall set out such condition in the resolution granting the charter, and the Commissioner shall not deliver the certified copy of the Articles of Association until such condition has been met, after which the Commissioner shall in writing inform the State Banking Board as to compliance with such condition and delivery of the Articles of Association.

E. The provisions of the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act (Article 6252–13a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes) governing contested cases do not apply to charter applications filed for the purpose of assuming the assets and liabilities of any bank deemed by the Commissioner to be in an unsafe condition.

Art. 342-312. Amendment of Articles of Association—Rights of Stockholders upon Increase in Capital—Stock Option Plans

Subject to the provisions of this Code, any state bank may amend its articles of association for any lawful purpose.

If the owners of record of two-thirds of the capital stock, at any regular meeting of stockholders, or any special meeting called for that purpose, vote to amend the charter, the board of directors shall prepare, execute in the manner provided for the execution of articles of association, and file with the Commissioner an amendment to the articles of association. If the Commissioner finds that the amendment is not violative of law and does not prejudice the interest of depositors and creditors or the public, he shall approve such amendment and deliver to the bank a certified copy thereof, and said amendment shall thereupon become effective; provided, however, that if a state bank does not have the power to receive demand deposits, no amendments of its articles of association adopting any power provided under Subsection (a), (b), (c), (d), or (f) of Article 1 of this Chapter and no amendment changing the domicile of any state bank shall be effective until approved by the State Banking Board in the manner provided for the approval of an original application for charter. Any state bank may amend its articles of association to extend its corporate existence for a perpetual period or for any period of years.

Each stockholder of a state bank shall be entitled to his proportionate part of any increase of stock effected out of surplus funds or undivided profits, and shall be entitled to subscribe for his proportionate share of any capital increase to be paid in cash; provided, however, the bank may arrange for the disposition of fractional shares by those entitled thereto or pay in cash the fair value of fractions of a share as of the time when those entitled to receive such fractions are determined. Each stockholder or his assignee, in event he elects to assign such rights of subscription, shall subscribe for and pay the amount of such subscription to the corporation within ten (10) days after the stockholders have adopted such amendment, otherwise the board of directors may allocate the unsubscribed or unpaid portion of the increase among the other stockholders or otherwise as they deem to the best interest of the bank.

With prior approval of the owners of record of two-thirds of the capital stock, shares of stock in a bank, which are created by a capital increase, may be allocated to and purchased by the bank out of its surplus which is not certified or out of its undivided profits to be held by the bank for fulfilling the requirements of an officer or employee stock option or bonus plan, whereby officers or employees, or both, of the bank are given options to purchase or a bonus of shares of the bank's capital stock at a specified price, subject to the following requirements and restrictions:

The number of shares so held shall not, at any time, exceed five percent (5%) of the total number of shares outstanding in the hands of other stockholders. Employee benefit plans, including employee stock option plans, stock bonus plans, restricted stock option or bonus plans, or any other plans, the sole purpose of which is to compensate employees of the bank for services rendered to the bank, authorized under this Article, may not extend beyond a period of ten years from the date of issuance. No officer or employee who owns or controls more than five percent (5%) of the bank's capital stock shall be eligible to participate or to continue participation in a stock option plan authorized by this Article. [Amended by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 624, ch. 289, § 1, eff. May 24, 1979; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 1827, ch. 416, § 1, eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]

Art. 342-314. Change of Domicile

(a) A state bank may change its domicile to a location no more than thirty (30) miles from where it is located or to any place within the city of its domicile. No state bank may change its domicile to another location without receiving the prior approval of the State Banking Board.

(b) Applications for a change of domicile shall be granted by the State Banking Board only upon good and sufficient proof that all the following conditions exist:

1. a public necessity exists for the bank at the proposed location;
2. proposed capital structure is adequate;
3. volume of business in the community where the bank is to be located is such as to indicate profitable operation of the bank at that location;
4. the proposed officers and directors have sufficient banking experience, ability, and standing to render success of the bank probable; and
5. the applicants are acting in good faith.

(c) If the proposed relocation of the bank would effect an abandonment of all or part of the community presently served by the bank, the bank must establish that the abandonment is consistent with the original determination of public necessity for the establishment of a bank at that location. [Amended by Acts 1977, 66th Leg., p. 25, ch. 10, § 1, eff. March 10, 1977; Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 465, ch. 196, § 1, eff. May 25, 1981.]

CHAPTER FOUR. STOCK, STOCKHOLDERS, BY-LAWS, DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, EMPLOYEES

Art. 342-401a. Transfer of Stock—Review by Commissioner

A. No person may acquire any voting security of a state bank or of any corporation or other entity owning voting securities of a state bank if, after the acquisition, the person would own or possess the power to vote twenty-five per cent (25%) or more of the voting securities of the bank unless an application is filed with the Commissioner for his review of the proposed transaction and for his action, if any, as provided in this Article.

B. The application shall be on a form prescribed by the Commissioner and shall be made under oath. The application shall, except to the extent expressly waived by the Commissioner, contain the following information:

1. the identity, personal history, business background and experience, and financial condition of each person by whom or on whose behalf the acquisition is to be made, including a description of the managerial resources and future prospects of each acquiring party and a description of any material pending legal or administrative proceedings in which he is a party;
2. the terms and conditions of any proposed acquisition and the manner in which the acquisition is to be made;
3. the identity, source, and amount of the funds or other consideration used or to be used in making the acquisition, and if any part of these funds or other consideration has been or is to be borrowed or otherwise obtained for the purpose of making the acquisition, a description of the transaction, the names of the parties, and arrangements, agreements, or understandings with such persons;
4. any plans or proposals which any acquiring party making the acquisition may have to liquidate the bank, to sell its assets or merge it with any company, or to make any other major changes in its business or corporate structure or management;
Art. 342-401a

(5) the terms and conditions of any offer, invitation, agreement, or arrangement under which any voting security will be acquired and any contract affecting such security or its financing after it is acquired; and

(6) such other information that the Commissioner by rule shall require to be furnished in an application as well as any information that the Commissioner orders to be included in the particular application being filed.

The applicant shall pay the appropriate filing fee when he files the application. A "person" proposing to acquire voting securities subject to the provisions of this Article includes an individual, two (2) or more individuals acting in concert, any type of partnership, corporation, syndicate, trust, or any other organization, or any combination of the foregoing, and the information required by the Commissioner may be required of each member of the group, as directed by the Commissioner. Information obtained by the Commissioner under this Article is confidential and may not be disclosed by the Commissioner or any officer or employee of the Banking Department, except that the Commissioner may in his discretion, if he deems it necessary or proper to the enforcement of the laws of this state or the United States and to the best interest of the public, divulge such information to any department, agency, or instrumentality of the state or federal government, and provided that notice of the application, its date of filing, and the identity of all parties thereto shall be submitted to the Texas Register by the Commissioner upon receipt of the said application and shall be published in the next issue thereof following the date such information is received.

C. The Commissioner shall issue an order denying an application if he finds that:

(1) the acquisition would substantially lessen competition or would in any manner be in restraint of trade and would result in a monopoly or would be in furtherance of a combination or conspiracy to monopolize or attempt to monopolize the banking industry in any part of the State, unless he also finds that the anticompetitive effects of the proposed acquisition are clearly outweighed in the public interest by the probable effect of acquisition in meeting the convenience and needs of the community to be served and that the proposed acquisition is not in violation of any law of this State or the United States;

(2) the poor financial condition of any acquiring party might jeopardize the financial stability of the bank being acquired;

(3) plans or proposals to liquidate or sell the bank or its assets are not in the best interest of the bank;

(4) the experience, ability, standing, competence, trustworthiness, or integrity of the applicant is such that the acquisition would not be in the best interest of the bank;

(5) the bank will not be solvent, have adequate capital structure, or be in compliance with the laws of this State after the acquisition;

(6) the applicant has failed to furnish all of the information pertinent to the application reasonably requested by the Commissioner; or

(7) the applicant is not acting in good faith.

D. If an application filed under this Article is not denied by the Commissioner within thirty (30) days after it is filed, the transaction may be consummated. The Commissioner may, before the expiration of the thirty-day period, give the applicant written notice that the application will not be denied, in which case the transaction may be consummated. Any agreement entered into by the applicants and the Commissioner as a condition that the application will not be denied is enforceable against the bank and is considered for all purposes an agreement under the provisions of this Code.

E. If the Commissioner issues an order denying an application, the applicant is entitled to a hearing if he requests one in writing no later than the thirtieth (30th) day after the day the application is filed or the fifteenth (15th) day after the day the application is denied, whichever date is later. After hearing the matter, the Commissioner shall, within thirty (30) days, enter a final order either affirming his denial or withdrawing his denial of the application. An applicant may not appeal the Commissioner's denial of an application or order affirming his denial until a final order is entered. Any applicant herein shall have the right to appeal such final order to the district court of Travis County, Texas, and not elsewhere, against the Banking Commissioner of Texas as defendant. The action shall not be limited to questions of law and the substantial evidence rule shall not apply, but such action shall be tried and determined upon a trial de novo to the same extent as now provided for in the case of an appeal from the justice court to the county court. Either party to said action may appeal to the appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said appeal shall be at once returnable to said appellate court having jurisdiction of said cause and said action so appealed shall have precedence in said appellate court over all causes of a different character therein pending. The Commissioner shall not be required to give any appeal bond in any cause arising hereunder. The filing of an appeal pursuant to this Article shall not stay the order of the Commissioner adverse to the applicant.

F. This Article does not apply to:

(1) the acquisition of securities in connection with the exercise of a security interest or otherwise by way of foreclosure on default in the payment of a debt previously contracted for in good faith, provided that the person acquiring such securities does not vote the securities so acquired without having given written notice of such foreclosure to the Commissioner;
(2) transactions governed by Article 8, 9, or 10 of Chapter III of this Code; 1

(4) acquisitions by the owner of more than fifty per cent (50%) of the voting securities of the bank; or acquisitions of less than ten per cent (10%) of the voting securities of the bank in any one (1) year by the owner of twenty-five per cent (25%) or more, but not more than fifty per cent (50%), of those voting securities, provided that such acquisition does not result in the owner of twenty-five per cent (25%) or more acquiring fifty per cent (50%) or more of the voting securities;

(5) acquisitions or transfers by operation of law or by will or intestate succession, provided that the person acquiring such securities does not vote the securities so acquired without having given written notice of acquisition to the Commissioner; or

(6) any transaction which the Commissioner by rule or order may exempt as not being contemplated by the purposes of this Article or the regulation of which is not necessary or appropriate to achieve the objectives of this Article.

No provision of this Section shall excuse or diminish the notice requirements provided elsewhere in this Code.

G. No provision of this Article shall be construed to prevent the Commissioner from investigating, commenting upon, or seeking to enjoin or set aside any transfer of voting securities, whether the transfer is included within this Article or not, if the Commissioner deems the transfer to be against the public interest.

H. If it appears to the Commissioner that any person has committed or is about to commit a violation of this Article or any rule or order of the Commissioner adopted under it, the Attorney General on behalf of the Commissioner may apply to the district court of Travis County for an order enjoining the violation and for any other equitable relief as the nature of the case may require.

I. Any person who willfully and knowingly makes a materially false or misleading statement to the Commissioner with respect to the information required herein may be fined in an amount not exceeding Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000), or be confined in jail for a period not to exceed one (1) year, or both. This provision is cumulative of other remedies contained herein.

J. The Commissioner by rule shall adopt a schedule of fees for the filing of applications and the holding of hearings. The schedule may be graduated so that those applications and hearings that are more difficult to review or administer will require a larger fee. An application fee is not refundable on denial of the application, but the Commissioner may refund a portion of the fee if the application is withdrawn before he completes review of it. Fees collected under this Article shall be retained by the Department and may be used only for expenses of the Department.

1 Articles 342-308, 342-309, 342-310.

Art. 342-402. Stockholders’ Meetings—Quorum—Voting
The stockholders of each state bank shall hold one regular meeting each year at the time prescribed in its bylaws and such special meetings as may be deemed necessary after notice as prescribed in the bylaws. At all stockholders’ meetings the owners of a majority of the capital stock, present in person or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum. In the absence of a quorum, a stockholders’ meeting may be adjourned from time to time without notice to the stockholders. Each stockholder of record shall be entitled to one vote for each share of stock owned by such stockholder, which vote may be cast in person or by proxy duly authorized in writing filed among the records of the bank. Stock owned of record by an estate shall be voted by its personal representative, and stock held in a fiduciary capacity shall be voted by the fiduciary, provided, however, that in the election of directors, shares of its own stock held solely by a state bank in any such capacity, whether registered in its own name in such capacity or in the name of its nominee, shall not be voted by the bank unless under the terms of the will or trust, the manner in which such shares shall be voted may be determined by a donor or beneficiary of the will or trust and unless such donor or beneficiary actually directs how such shares shall be voted, and shares of its own stock held by state bank and one or more persons in any such capacities may be voted by such other person or persons in the same manner as if such person or persons were the sole personal representative or sole trustee. Whenever shares of stock cannot be voted by reason of being held by the bank as sole personal representative or sole trustee, such shares shall be excluded in determining whether matters voted upon by the shareholders were adopted by the requisite percentage of shares.

Section 2 of the 1977 Act provided as follows:

"Any provision or part of a provision in the Texas Banking Code of 1943, as amended (Article 342–101 et seq., Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), which is in conflict with the provisions of this Act is hereby repealed to the extent of the conflict only."

Art. 342-405. Directors—Qualifications
No person shall serve as director of a state bank when (1) the bank holds a judgment against him, or (2) holds a charged-off note against him, or (3) he has been convicted of a felony.

Art. 342-407. Directors—Oath and Acceptance

Prior to taking office each director in a state bank shall take oath that he accepts the position as director; that he will not violate, nor knowingly permit any officer, director or employee of the bank to violate, the laws of the State of Texas in the conduct of the business of the bank; and that he will diligently perform his duties as director. Such affidavit shall be sworn and subscribed to before a notary public, spread upon the minutes of the directors' meeting, and a duplicate original thereof filed with the Commissioner.

Art. 342-409. Directors—Duties—Approval of Loans and Expenses—Election, Term and Compensation of Officers

Subject to the by-laws the board of directors of a state bank shall supervise the conduct of its business and may promulgate rules and regulations relative thereto and prescribe the duties and responsibilities of the officers and employees. At each regular meeting the board shall review and approve or disapprove each loan and investment made and item of expense incurred since the last meeting; and shall examine and take appropriate action upon the overdraft, suspense and bills of exchange accounts. The board may designate committees from among its members to perform these duties and approve or disapprove the committees' reports at each regular meeting. Such approval, disapproval or other action of the board shall be spread upon its minutes.

By a majority vote of its qualified members, the board shall elect a president, one or more vice presidents, and a cashier or secretary, and such other officers of the bank as may be prescribed by the by-laws or deemed necessary by the directors and fix their compensation; provided, however, that the president shall be a member of the board of directors. Each officer of the bank shall serve only during the pleasure of the board, and any contract for a fixed term of employment shall be void.

Art. 342-410. Directors, Officers and Employees—Liability—Reimbursement for Expenses

Except as otherwise provided by statute, directors and officers of state banks shall be liable for financial losses sustained by state banks to the extent that directors and officers of other corporations are now responsible for such losses in equity and common law. Any officer or director who does not approve of any act or omission of the board, and desires to relieve himself from any personal liability for such act or omission shall promptly announce his opposition to such act or omission and cause such opposition to be spread upon the minutes of the directors' meeting. If for any reason such opposition is not spread upon the minutes of the directors' meeting, he shall promptly report the facts to the Commissioner.

Any person may be indemnified or reimbursed by a state bank, through action of its board, for reasonable expenses actually incurred by him in connection with any action, suit or proceeding to which he is a party by reason of his being or having been a director, officer or employee of said bank. The board may authorize the purchase by the bank of insurance covering the indemnification of directors, officers or employees. If there is a compromise of such an action or threatened action, there shall be no indemnification or reimbursement for the amount paid to settle the claim or for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with such claim without the vote, or the written consent, of the owners of record of a majority of the stock of the bank. No such person shall be indemnified or reimbursed if he has been finally adjudged to have been guilty of, or liable for, willful misconduct, gross neglect of duty, or a criminal act. This article shall not bar any right or action to which such person would be entitled at common law or any other statute of this State.

Art. 342-411a. Exemption from Securities Law

A person who is an officer, director, or employee of a state bank or national bank domiciled in the state with less than five hundred (500) shareholders is exempt from the registration and licensing provisions of The Securities Act, as amended (Article 581-1 et seq., Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), with respect to that person's participation in a sale or other transaction involving securities issued by the bank of which that person is an officer, director, or employee. An officer, director, or employee may not be compensated for services provided under this Article.

Art. 342-501. Domicile—Furniture and Fixtures—Depreciation—Exception

(a) No state bank shall, without prior written consent of the Commissioner, invest an amount in excess of sixty per cent (60%) of its four primary capital accounts in a domicile (including land and building) and furniture and fixtures.

CHAPTER FIVE. LOANS AND INVESTMENTS

Art. 342-501. Domicile—Furniture and Fixtures—Depreciation—Exception

(a) No state bank shall, without prior written consent of the Commissioner, invest an amount in excess of sixty per cent (60%) of its four primary capital accounts in a domicile (including land and building) and furniture and fixtures.
(b) A state bank shall assign to the portion of its domicile represented by the land on which the banking house is located an original book value of:

(1) the cost of the land when purchased; or
(2) if the land was contributed to the bank, the fair market value of the land at the time of the contribution as determined by the Commissioner.

e) If the land representing a portion of a state bank's domicile was purchased by or contributed to the bank before January 1, 1982, the bank shall assign an original book value to the land in accordance with Section (b) of this article.

(d) A state bank may depreciate the portion of its domicile represented by the land on which the banking house is located.

(e) The portion of the domicile represented by the banking house shall be depreciated each year not less than two and one-half per cent (21/2%) of its cost to the bank until that portion of the domicile is charged down to One Dollar ($1), and the furniture and fixtures shall be depreciated each year not less than ten per cent (10%) of their cost to the bank until said account is charged down to One Dollar ($1), provided that the Commissioner may permit a lesser percentage to be charged off during any year.

Art. 342-502. Other Real Estate—Depreciation—Exceptions

(a) No State bank shall acquire real estate, other than its domicile, except in satisfaction or partial satisfaction of indebtedness, or in the ordinary course of the collection of loans and other obligations owing the bank, or for the use of the bank in future expansion of its banking house.

(b) If a State bank acquires the real estate for use in future expansion of its banking house, or if it acquired real estate for that purpose before January 1, 1982, the bank shall:

(1) assign an original book value to the portion represented by land in accordance with Section (b), Article 1, of this Chapter; and

(2) depreciate the portion represented by a building or other improvement in accordance with the requirements for a banking house provided by Section (e), Article 1, of this Chapter.

e) If a State bank acquires real estate other than for the use in future expansion of its banking house, the bank may not assign an original book value to such real estate in excess of its reasonable value at the time of acquisition, and such real estate shall be depreciated each year ten per cent (10%) of such original book value until charged down to twenty-five per cent (25%) of its original book value; provided that the Commissioner may permit a lesser percentage to be depreciated during any year.

(d) The original book value of real estate acquired for future expansion of the banking house shall be included in determining whether the State bank has invested an amount in excess of sixty per cent (60%) of its four primary capital accounts in a domicile (including land and building) and furniture and fixtures under the provisions of Article 1 of this Chapter.

(e) If such real estate acquired for the use of the bank in future expansion of its banking house is not improved and occupied as a banking house within three (3) years from the date of its acquisition, the bank shall sell or otherwise dispose of such property; provided that the Commissioner may for good cause shown grant an extension of time for a period of one year or more.

Art. 342-506. Own Stock—Security—Acquisition—Disposition—Investment Certificates—Maturity

No state bank shall acquire a lien by pledge or otherwise on its shares of stock nor purchase or acquire title to such stock, except to prevent loss upon a loan or investment previously made in good faith. Provided, however, that with the approval of the owners of record of two-thirds of the capital stock, a bank may purchase and carry as treasury stock its own shares for the purpose of fulfilling the requirements of an officer or employee stock option or bonus plan authorized by Article 12, Chapter III of this code.1

The number of shares so held shall not, at any time, exceed five per cent (5%) of the total number of shares outstanding in the hands of the other stockholders.

If a state bank acquires a lien upon or title to its stock under the exception first provided for in this Article, it shall not permit such lien to continue for more than two (2) years, nor shall it hold title to such stock for more than one (1) year. Provided that the stock on which the bank has a lien plus the stock held by it as owner shall not exceed, in par value, the aggregate of all surplus accounts and undivided profits of said bank; provided, however, that any provision of this Code to the contrary notwithstanding, a state bank may make loans, charge or collect in advance interest thereon at a rate not exceeding that permitted by law, together with other charges permitted by this Code, and take as collateral thereof its investment certificates, issued simultaneously with the granting of the loans or otherwise, requiring weekly, semi-monthly, monthly or other regular periodic installments to be paid upon such certificates; such loans, subject to acceleration for specified causes, shall mature when the withdrawal value of the investment certificate or certificates securing the same equals the face amount of the note evidencing the loans, and shall be comparable in form and principle of operation to sinking-fund loans which building and loan associations are now authorized to make under the laws of this State.

Art. 342-507. Limit of Liability of Any One Borrower—Exceptions—Penalty

No state bank shall permit any person or any corporation to become indebted or in any other way liable to it in an amount in excess of twenty-five per cent (25%) of its capital and certified surplus. The phrase “indebted or in any other way liable” shall be construed to include liability as partner or otherwise. The above limitation shall not apply to the following classes of indebtedness or liability:

1. Liability as endorser or guarantor of commercial or business paper discounted by or assigned to the bank by the actual owner thereof who has acquired it in the ordinary course of business.

2. Indebtedness evidenced by banker's acceptances, bills of exchange or drafts drawn against actually existing values and secured by a lien upon goods in transit with shippers' order bills of lading or comparable instruments attached.

3. Indebtedness evidenced by notes or other paper secured by liens upon agricultural products, manufactured goods, or other chattels in storage in bonded warehouses or elevators with warehouse or elevator receipts attached, cotton yard tickets, signed by a bonded weigher, when the value of the security is not less than one hundred twenty-five per cent (125%) of the indebtedness, and the bank's interest therein is adequately insured against loss, with insurance policies or certificates of insurance attached.

4. Deposit in a reserve depository, or a Federal Reserve Bank.

5. Indebtedness of another state or national bank arising out of short-term loans when such loans are made out of the excess cash reserve funds of the lending bank and have settlement periods of less than one week.

6. Indebtedness arising out of the daily transaction of the business of any clearing house association in this State.

7. Bonds and other legally created general obligations of any State or of any county, city, municipality or political subdivision thereof and indebtedness of the United States of America, or any instrumentality or agency of the United States Government.

8. Any portion of any indebtedness which the United States Government or any agency or instrumentality of the United States Government has unconditionally agreed to purchase or has unconditionally guaranteed as to payment of both principal and interest.

9. Liability under an agreement by a third party to repurchase from the bank an indebtedness that the United States Government or any agency or instrumentality of the United States Government has unconditionally agreed to purchase or has unconditionally guaranteed as to payment of both principal and interest, to the extent that the agreed repurchase price does not exceed the purchase price agreed to or value guaranteed by the United States, its agency or instrumentality.

A state bank may permit any person, partnership, association or corporation to become indebted or in any other way liable to it in an amount equal to or less than fifteen per cent (15%) of its capital and certified surplus in addition to any indebtedness or liability of such person, partnership, association or corporation to the bank in an amount not in excess of twenty-five per cent (25%) of its capital and certified surplus, when such additional indebtedness or liability to the bank is secured by bonds or notes of the United States issued since April 24, 1917, certificates of indebtedness of the United States, Treasury bills of the United States, or obligations fully guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the United States, the market value of which security is at all times not less than one hundred twenty per cent (120%) of such indebtedness or liability to the bank.

Any officer, director or employee of a state bank who knowingly violates or participates in the violation of any provision of this Article shall upon conviction be fined not more than Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000) or confined in the State penitentiary not more than five (5) years, or both.

Art. 342-508. Loan Fees Prohibited—Exception

No bank shall charge or collect any loan fee or any other charge, by whatever name called, for the granting of a loan unless authorized by law. Provided, however, a bank may require an applicant for a loan or discount to pay the cost of any abstract, attorney's opinion or title insurance policy, or other form of insurance, and filing or recording fees or appraisal fees. Expenses necessary or proper for the protection of the lender, and actually incurred in connection with the making of the loan may be charged. In all loan transactions in which the amount loaned is $100 or more and the loan period is one month or more, a bank may charge any borrower the reasonable value of services rendered in connection with the making of any loan, including the drawing of notes, the taking of acknowledgments and affidavits, the preparation of financial statements, and the investigation or analysis of the financial responsibility of the borrower or any endorser, surety or co-signer, in an amount agreed upon, but not to exceed $15 for each loan transaction, which shall be in lieu of all interest and other charges which could otherwise be collected in connection with the loan. No bank shall induce or permit any person, or husband and wife, to be obligated directly or indirectly under more than one loan contract under this article at the same time for the purpose, or with the effect, of obtaining a higher authorized charge than would otherwise be permitted. The charge authorized herein shall not apply to any renewal or extension of an obligation on which the charge has been previously imposed; provided, however, that such renewal or extension may bear interest at the rate that is otherwise provided by law. The charge shall not apply to a loan transaction wherein the borrower applies all or a portion of the loan proceeds to discharge a prior loan made by the same lender to the same borrower and in connection with which the above charge was imposed.

Art. 342-512. Investment in a Bank

A state bank may invest its capital and certified surplus in another bank, except that:

(1) the investing bank may not acquire or retain ownership, control, or power to vote more than five percent of any class of voting securities of the other bank; and

(2) the investing bank may not invest more than five percent of its capital and certified surplus in the other bank.

[Added by Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 104, ch. 64, § 1, eff. April 19, 1979.]

CHAPTER SIX. SURPLUS, DIVIDENDS, LIABILITIES, UNINVESTED TRUST FUNDS, PREFERENCES, RESERVES, DEBENTURES AND WITHDRAWALS

Art. 342-602. Liability Limit—Exceptions

No state bank shall without the prior written consent of the Commissioner be indebted or liable for an amount in excess of its capital and certified surplus except on account of the following:

1. Money on deposit with or collected by it.

2. Bills of exchange, bankers acceptances, checks or drafts drawn against money actually on deposit to the credit of the bank or due to said bank.

3. Liability to stockholders on account of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits.

4. Liabilities arising under or pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Act, the Federal Reserve Act, the Agricultural Credit Act of 1923, or pursuant to any or all amendments to any or all of said acts.

5. Indebtedness evidenced by investment certificates or certificates of indebtedness.

6. Liability on endorsement of notes, bills of exchange or other evidences of indebtedness actually owned by said bank and sold or endorsed with or without recourse, provided said sale or endorsement shall have been previously approved by the board of directors of said bank.

7. Liabilities to other banks arising out of short-term loan transactions when such liabilities are incurred for the purpose of fulfilling cash reserve requirements and have settlement periods of less than one week.

Art. 342-606. Cash Reserve—Calculation—Reserve Depositaries—Amount Carried

Every State bank shall maintain a reserve which shall be established by regulation of the Commissioner.

Such reserve shall be kept in the vaults of the bank or on deposit with Federal Reserve banks or with banks incorporated by any state or the United States with not less than Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) capital approved as reserve depositaries by the Commissioner or such investments authorized by the Commissioner. If a State bank shall fail to maintain the total reserves required by the regulation of the Commissioner, it shall be liable for and the Banking Commissioner may collect as a fee or penalty not more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500) per week for the period of such failure as may be prescribed from time to time by the Banking Section of the Finance Commission of Texas; and upon relation of the Banking Commissioner of default in such payment, the Attorney General shall institute a suit to recover such fees or penalties and for such other relief as in the judgment of the Attorney General is proper and necessary. No State bank shall deposit or loan an amount in excess of twenty per cent (20%) of its capital, certified surplus and deposits in any one reserve depositary.

Art. 342-607. Capital Notes or Debentures—Capital Defined

With the prior written approval of the Commissioner any state bank may, at any time, through action of its board of directors and without requiring any action of its stockholders, issue and sell its capital notes or debentures, which shall be subordinate and subject to the claims of depositors and may be subordinated and subjected to the claims of other creditors or the holders of investment certificates.
With the prior approval of the owners of record of two-thirds of the capital stock and the prior written approval of the Commissioner any state bank may issue and sell its convertible capital notes or debentures, which shall be subordinate and subject to the claims of depositors and may be subordinated and subjected to the claims of other creditors or the holders of investment certificates.

The term "capital" as used in this article relating to solvency of state banks shall be construed to embrace the amount of outstanding capital notes and debentures legally issued by any state bank and sold by it to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or any other corporation or individual. The capital stock of any such bank may be deemed to be unimpaired when the amount of capital notes and debentures as represented by cash or sound assets exceeds the impairment as found by the Commissioner. Before any such capital notes or debentures are retired or paid by the bank, any existing deficiency of its capital (disregarding the notes or debentures to be retired) must be paid in cash, to the end that the sound capital assets shall at least equal the capital stock of the bank. Provided, in the event the net profits are not sufficient to meet the interest and retirement payments on the capital notes or debentures issued prior to the effective date of this Act, the Commissioner may require the bank's stockholders to pay into the bank in cash an amount sufficient to meet the deficiency. Such capital notes or debentures shall in no case be subject to any assessment.

The holders of such capital notes or debentures shall not be held individually responsible as such holders for any debts, contracts, or engagements of such bank, and shall not be held liable for assessments to restore impairment in the capital of such bank.

CHAPTER EIGHT. LIQUIDATION

Art. 342–812. Powers of Commissioner—Sale of Assets, Compromises and Agreements

Pursuant to the order of the district court, entered with or without hearing, the Commissioner may sell any of the assets of a state bank in his hands for liquidation; may borrow money and pledge the whole or any part of such assets of such bank to secure the debt created; may compromise or compound any bad or doubtful claim held by or asserted against such bank; and may enter into any other kind or character of contract or agreement on behalf of such bank which he deems necessary or proper to the management, conservation or liquidation of its assets and all parties interested in the affairs of such bank shall be bound and precluded by the action of the Commissioner. Provided that said court, if it deems it advantageous or proper, may require notice and hearing before entering any order, and in that event shall, by order, fix the time and place of the hearing and prescribe the character of notice to be given thereof. Further provided that said court, in its discretion, and subject to such limitations as it may prescribe, may by general order authorize the Commissioner (a) to compound or compromise any claim or debt involving not more than Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) held by or asserted against the bank, and (b) to sell all chattels belonging to the bank.

CHAPTER NINE. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Art. 342–912. Acquisition of Bank or Holding Company under Federal Law—Notice to Commissioner—Recommendations of Commissioners.

Art. 342–912a. Acquisition of Nonbanking Institution under Federal Law—Notice to Commissioner—Order and Appeal.

Art. 342–903. Branch Banking Prohibited

No State, national or private bank shall engage in business in more than one place, maintain any branch office, or cash checks or receive deposits except in its own banking house or through unmanned teller machines as authorized in Article 3a. For purposes of this article “banking house” means the building in whose offices the business of the bank is conducted and which is functionally one place of business, including (a) office facilities whose nearest wall is located within five hundred (500) feet of the nearest wall of the central building and is physically connected to the central building by tunnel, passageway or hallway providing direct access between the central building and the connected office facility or by closed circuit television or pneumatic tube or other physically connected delivery device, and (b) in addition, not more than one (1) drive-in/walk-up facility whose nearest boundary is located within three thousand five hundred (3,500) feet of the nearest wall of the central building but more than five hundred (500) feet theretofrom, is within the same county as the central building, and is connected to the central building by tunnel, passageway or hallway providing direct access between the central building and the connected drive-in/walk-up facility or by closed circuit television, pneumatic tube or other physically connected delivery device. The entire banking house shall for all purposes under the law be considered one integral banking house. The term “drive-in/walk-up facility” as herein used shall mean a facility offering banking services solely to persons who remain outside of the facility during the transaction of business with the bank.

Any bank adversely affected by a violation of this article may, and the Attorney General, upon request of the Commissioner, shall bring suit in a court of competent jurisdiction to enjoin a violation of this article. The party who prevails in such proceeding shall recover costs of suit and reasonable attorney's fees.

Sec. 2. As used in this article, the following terms shall have these meanings, unless otherwise clearly indicated by the context in which they are used:

(a) "Unmanned teller machine" means a machine, other than a telephone, capable of being operated solely by a customer, by which a customer may communicate to the bank:

(1) a request to withdraw money directly from the customer's account or from the customer's account pursuant to a line of credit previously authorized by the bank for the customer;

(2) an instruction to deposit funds into the customer's account with the bank;

(3) an instruction to transfer funds between one or more accounts maintained by the customer with the bank but not as between the customer's account and an account maintained in the bank or in some other financial institution by some other customer;

(4) an instruction to apply funds against an indebtedness of the customer to the bank; or

(5) a request for information concerning the balance of the account of the customer with the bank.

(b) "Bank" means a state, national, or private bank domiciled in this state.

Sec. 3. Authorization under this article for a bank to install, maintain, operate, or utilize one or more unmanned teller machines within the county or city of the bank's domicile does not preclude the use of bank or other personnel for the following purposes:

(a) to attend an unmanned teller machine on a temporary basis to instruct customers in the use of the machines; or

(b) to collect deposits or other funds placed in the machine, to replenish money dispensed by the machine, or to otherwise service, repair, or attend to the needs of an unmanned teller machine at frequent intervals.

Sec. 4. Banks shall have the right to share, under a written agreement, in the use of any unmanned teller machine that is located within the county or the city of the bank's domicile on a reasonable, nondiscriminatory basis and on the following conditions:

(a) any bank utilizing one or more unmanned teller machines may be required to meet necessary and reasonable technical standards and to pay charges for the use of the machines. The standards or charges imposed shall be reasonable, fair, equitable, and nondiscriminatory among banks. Any charges imposed shall not exceed an equitable proportion of both the cost of establishing the unmanned teller machines, including provisions for amortization of development costs and capital expenditures over a reasonable period of time, and the cost of operation and maintenance of the machine, plus a reasonable return on those costs, and those charges shall be related to the services provided to the bank or its customers.

(b) where more than one bank utilizes an unmanned teller machine and any bank uses, allows the use, or is allowed to use visual or oral data identifying itself, each bank sharing the machine shall receive equal prominence in the visual and oral data available to the public at or adjacent to the machine, and no advertising with regard to the machine shall suggest, imply, or claim that any particular bank has exclusive control over the use of the machine.

Sec. 5. Where the city in which a bank is domiciled lies in more than one county, the bank may install, maintain, operate, utilize, or share one or more unmanned teller machines within the corporate limits of the city in addition to machines in the county of its domicile.

Sec. 6. On written complaint by a bank that is utilizing or that seeks to utilize on unmanned teller machine that it is being denied the use of the machine on a reasonable, nondiscriminatory basis and that the machine is, therefore, not being operated in the best interests of the public, the State Banking Board shall have jurisdiction to determine whether or not the bank has been denied the right to utilize the machine under this article. After a hearing conducted by the board in accordance with the Administrative Procedure and Texas Register Act, as amended (Article 6252–13a, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), the board may enter an order directing compliance with this article and prescribing the manner and means of complying with this article.

Sec. 7. In the event that operation of an unmanned teller machine is to be discontinued, notice of intent to discontinue shall be given to the State Banking Board not less than 60 days before the date... on which operation of the machine is to be discontinued, and a copy of that notice shall be sent to all institutions using the machine. The State Banking Board, on complaint by an affected bank or on its own motion, may delay discontinuance of an unmanned teller machine for a period of not more than 60 days past the proposed date of discontinuance if it finds that the banks sharing the unmanned teller machine would be unfairly prejudiced by discontinuance on the proposed date.

Sec. 8. Any person who violates this article or any order of the board issued pursuant to this article is subject to a civil penalty of not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each day of violation and for each act of violation. All civil penalties recovered under this article shall be paid to the Banking Department under Article 12, Chapter I of this code, as amended (Article 342-112, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), for the use of the State Banking Board in enforcing this article.

Sec. 9. Whenever it appears that a person has violated or is violating or is threatening to violate this article or any order of the State Banking Board issued pursuant to this article, the board may cause a civil suit to be instituted in a district court for injunctive relief to restrain the person from continuing the violation or threat or for the assessment and recovery of the civil penalty provided by this article, or for both injunctive relief and civil penalty. At the request of the board, the attorney general shall institute and conduct a suit in the name of the state for injunctive relief or for the recovery and receipt of a civil penalty, or for both injunctive relief and penalty.

A suit for injunctive relief or for recovery of a civil penalty, or for both, may be brought either in the county where the defendant resides, or in the county where the violation or threat of violation occurs. In any suit to enjoin a violation or threat of violation of this article or of any order of the board, the court may grant the State Banking Board, without bond or other undertaking, any prohibitory or mandatory injunction as the facts may warrant, including temporary restraining orders after notice and hearing, temporary injunctions, and permanent injunctions.

Sec. 10. Banks, under a written agreement, may share unmanned teller machines with savings and loan associations or credit unions on the following conditions:

(1) only those functions permitted for banks under Section 2 of this article are available to the customers of any savings and loan association or credit union using the unmanned teller machine or machines; and

(2) the unmanned teller machine or machines may be utilized by a savings and loan association or credit union for the use of their customers only within the county and the city where the savings and loan association or credit union is domiciled and has its principal place of business.

Sec. 11. Nothing in this article abridges, modifies, affects, or expands any authority under existing law for any savings and loan association or credit union to operate unmanned teller machines separate and apart from their principal places of business.

Sec. 12. This article does not apply to:

(1) an unmanned teller machine located at a bank's banking house; or

(2) the use of an unmanned teller machine, wherever located, solely to withdraw cash.

Sec. 13. The legislature finds that the Congress of the United States has amended the Consumer Protection Act, as amended (15 U.S.C. 1601 et seq.), through passage of the Electronic Fund Transfer Act and that the Consumer Protection Act is sufficiently comprehensive to provide for the full and complete protection of the rights of consumers using unmanned teller machines in this state. The legislature further finds that it would not be in the best interest of the public of this state to have separate regulation of the consumer protection aspects of unmanned teller machines by both the state and federal governments. To ensure the continuing protection of consumers using the unmanned teller machines authorized by this article, the State Banking Board and the attorney general are directed to make a continuing study of the substantive and procedural provisions of the Consumer Protection Act of the regulations promulgated under that Act, and of the effectiveness of enforcement of that Act in this state and to report their findings and recommendations to the legislature on or before June 30, 1981, and on the same date every fourth year after 1981.

1 U.S.C.A. § 1693 et seq.

2 Section 2 of the 1979 Act provided:

"This Act takes effect on the later of:

[(1) the 270th day after approval by the qualified voters of this state of an amendment to the Texas Constitution providing that the legislature may authorize banks to use unmanned teller machines within the county and the city of their domicile, on a shared basis, to serve the public convenience; or

[(2) December 31, 1980. If the constitutional amendment is not adopted, this Act has no effect.""

Such a constitutional amendment was adopted at an election held November 4, 1980.

Art. 342-903b. Connected Office Facilities

For the purposes of Article 3 and notwithstanding the provisions thereof, the term "banking house" may include, in addition to those facilities enumerated in Article 3, one (1) and only one (1) office facility whose nearest wall is located within seven hundred seventy-five (775) feet of the nearest wall of the central building and is physically connected to the central building by tunnel, passageway, or hallway providing direct access between the central building and the connected office facility or by closed circuit television or pneumatic tube or other physically connected delivery device.

1 Article 342-903a.
Section 2 of the 1981 Act provides:

"This Act is not a validating Act and does not authorize the use of any office facility, or any telegraph or telegraphy, in existence or before the effective date of this Act in violation of Article 2, Chapter IX, The Texas Banking Code of 1943, as amended (Article 342–903, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), as it existed before being modified by this Act."

Art. 342–910a. Legal Holidays for Banks or Trust Companies—Alternative Legal Holidays for Banks or Trust Companies—Discrimination Prohibited

Sec. 1. Legal Holidays For Banks Or Trust Companies. Notwithstanding any existing provisions of law relative to negotiable or nonnegotiable instruments or commercial paper, but subject to the provisions of Section 2 of this article, only the following enumerated days are declared to be legal holidays for banking purposes on which each bank or trust company in Texas shall remain closed: Saturdays, Sundays, January 1, the third Monday in February, the last Monday in May, July 4, the first Monday in September, the second Monday in October, the 11th day of November, the fourth Thursday in November, and December 25.

When the dates July 4, November 11, or December 25 fall on Saturday, then the Friday immediately preceding such Saturday shall also be a legal holiday for banking purposes on which each bank or trust company in Texas shall remain closed. When the dates January 1, July 4, November 11, or December 25 fall on Sunday, then the Monday next following each Sunday shall also be a mandatory legal holiday for banking purposes on which each bank or trust company shall remain closed. Except as herein provided, any bank or trust company doing business in this state may, at its option, elect to be governed by this section and close for general banking purposes either on Saturday or on any other weekday of any week in the year in addition to mandatory legal holidays, provided:

(a) such day is designated at least 15 days in advance by adoption of a resolution concurred in by a majority of the board of directors thereof (or, if an unincorporated bank or trust company, by its owner or a majority of its owners, if there be more than one owner); and

(b) notice of the day or days designated in such resolution is posted in a conspicuous place in such bank or trust company for at least 15 days in advance of the day or days designated; and

(c) a copy of such resolution certified by the president or cashier of such bank or trust company is filed with the Banking Department of Texas.

The filing of such copy of resolution as aforesaid with the Banking Department of Texas shall be deemed to be proof in all courts in this state that such bank or trust company has duly complied with the provisions of this section. Any such election to so close shall remain in effect until a subsequent resolution shall be adopted and notice thereof posted and a copy thereof filed in the manner above provided.

If any bank or trust company elects to close for general banking purposes on Saturday or any other weekday as herein provided, it may, at its option, remain open on such day for the purpose of performing limited banking services. Notice of election to perform limited banking services shall be contained in the resolution and notice, above provided, with respect to closing for general banking purposes. Limited banking services may include such of the ordinary and usual services provided by the bank as the board of directors may determine, except the following: making loans, renewing or extending loans, certifying checks, and issuing cashier's checks.

Such day upon which such bank or trust company may elect to close for general banking purposes shall with respect to such institution be treated as a legal holiday for all purposes and not a business day; provided that if such bank shall elect to perform limited banking services on such day, the same shall not be deemed a legal holiday for the performance of limited banking services. Any bank or trust company which elects to close for general banking purposes on Saturday or any other weekday but which elects to perform limited banking services shall not be subjected to any liability or loss of rights for performing limited banking services or refusing to perform any other banking services on such day.

Sec. 2. After the close of the hearing, if one is held, the commissioner shall disapprove the acquisition or activity unless he finds that it can reasonably be expected to produce benefits to the public, such as greater convenience or increased competition, that outweigh possible adverse effects such as undue concentration of resources, decreased or unfair competition, conflicts of interest, or unsound banking practices.

Handling of Funds Paid or Collected Under Contract

Sec. 5. All sums heretofore or hereafter paid or collected on contracts for prepaid funeral benefits entered into prior to the effective date of this Act shall be handled in accordance with the manner in which they have heretofore been handled. All sums paid or collected on such contracts entered into after the effective date of this Act (with the exception of those paid where a contract of insurance is created or those approved by the Department, as both are provided for in Section 1a of this Act) shall be handled in the following manner:

(1) The funeral home (or other entity collecting said funds) may retain as its own money, for the purpose of covering its selling expenses, servicing costs, and general overhead, an amount not to exceed one-half of all funds so collected or paid until it has received for its use and benefit an amount not to exceed ten percent of the total amount agreed to be paid by the purchaser of said prepaid funeral benefits as such total amount is reflected in the contract. No charges or assessments, except premiums collected on an insurance policy guaranteeing the payments on a prepaid funeral contract or the unpaid balance thereof, shall be collected from the purchaser other than those included in the total amount of said contract.

(2) All amounts paid or collected, with the exception of those permitted to be retained as set forth above, shall, within thirty days after such collection, be (a) deposited in a savings and loan association in this state, or (b) deposited in a state or national bank in this state, or (c) placed with the trust department in a state or national bank in this state, or in a trust company authorized to do business in this state, to be invested by such trust department or company in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Texas Trust Act. Such deposits or trust accounts shall be carried in the name of the funeral home or other entity to whom the purchaser makes payment, but accounting records shall be maintained showing the amount deposited or invested with respect to any particular purchaser’s contract.

(3) The date of death of the purchaser of such contract (or other individual who may be designated in the contract as the person for whose funeral such funds may be used) shall be the maturity date of the contract, and as soon as conveniently practicable after such maturity date and upon presentation of a certified copy of the death certificate of such person together with proper affidavits as may be required by the Department, such funds shall be released in fulfillment of the contract, and the funeral home (or other entity to the contract which has collected the funds) shall, if the amount so withdrawn does not equal one hundred percent of the total amount paid under such contract, make up the difference so that the amount available for funeral benefits shall equal one hundred percent of the total amount paid in under such contract. Any amounts accumulated at maturity on any particular contract in excess of one hundred percent of the amount paid in on such contract shall be available to the funeral home (or other entity collecting said funds) in making up the difference on any particular contract which at maturity did not have funds available equal to one hundred percent of the amount paid under such contract.

The seller may withdraw at any time funds out of accrued interest or income of the deposit accounts or trust accounts for the purpose of paying reasonable and necessary charges made by a savings and loan association, or bank, or trust department of a bank, or trust company, and trustee’s fees made by a savings and loan association, or bank, or trust department of a bank, or trust company, with respect to such accounts, or for the purpose of paying any taxes caused or created by reason of the existence of such deposit accounts or trust accounts.

Upon the maturity date of a contract as above provided and only after the funeral home has fully performed its obligations under said contract with the purchaser, or at the time of cancellation prior to maturity as provided in Subsection (4) herein, the seller may additionally withdraw from said deposit account (whether a trust or other funded account) any enhanced value, accrued interest, or accrued income of said contract. Such withdrawal shall be the proportionate part of the total enhanced value, accrued interest or accrued income, that the amount deposited under said contract bears to the total amount deposited from all unmatured contracts.

(4) In the event a purchaser under a contract should desire to cancel the contract prior to maturity, such cancellation may be accomplished by the purchaser giving fifteen days notice in writing to the Department and to the seller of the contract, and thereafter, upon written authorization from the Department, such purchaser may withdraw the funds in such depository being held for his use and benefit; provided, however, such purchaser shall be entitled to withdraw and receive only the actual amounts paid in by him less the amounts permitted to be retained as provided in Subsection (1) hereof. Purchaser may make no partial cancellations or withdrawals.

Records Required; Examination; Fee

Sec. 8. Each organization which has outstanding contracts for prepaid funeral benefits shall maintain within this state such records as the Department may require to enable it to determine whether the organization is complying with the provisions of this Act. Such records shall be subject to annual examination by the Department or its agent and to such additional examinations as it deems necessary. The organization shall pay for the cost of examination, including the salary and traveling expenses paid to the person making the examination during the time spent in making the examination and in traveling to and returning from the point where the records are kept, and all other expenses necessarily incurred in the examination. The Banking Commissioner or his agent shall assess and collect a fee in connection with each examination, based on the organization's total outstanding contracts, covering the cost of such examination, the equitable or proportionate cost of maintenance and operation of the Banking Department, and the enforcement of the provisions of this Act; but the cost to the organization shall not be more than a total cost of $1,000 for each examination. Those organizations with less than 50 contracts outstanding shall be assessed an examination fee of $50 plus one-fourth of one percent of the dollar amount of the organization's outstanding contract funds on deposit, in trust, or vested in any other program subject to this Act. Those organizations with 50 or more contracts outstanding shall be assessed an examination fee of $100 plus one-fourth of one percent of the dollar amount of the organization's outstanding contract funds on deposit, in trust, or vested in any other program subject to this Act.

usual commission to said agent), and provided further, that any person acting as agent for said vendor shall be registered pursuant to this Act;

(2) Sales by or on behalf of any insurance company subject to the supervision or control of the Board of Insurance Commissioners of any security owned by such company as a legal and bona fide investment, provided that in no event shall any such sale or offering be exempt from the provisions of this Act when made or intended, either directly or indirectly, for the benefit of any other company as that term is defined in this Act.

D. The distribution by a corporation of securities direct to its stockholders as a stock dividend or other distribution paid out of earnings or surplus.

E. Any offer and any transaction pursuant to any offer by the issuer of its securities to its existing security holders (including persons who at the time of the transaction are holders of convertible securities or nontransferable warrants) if no commission or other remuneration (other than a stand-by commission) is paid or given directly or indirectly for soliciting any security holder in this State.

F. The issue in good faith of securities by a company to its security holders, or creditors, in the process of a bona fide reorganization of the company made in good faith, or the issue in good faith of securities by a company, organized solely for the purpose of taking over the assets and continuing the business of a predecessor company, to the security holders or creditors of such predecessor company, provided that in either such case such securities are issued in exchange for the securities of such holders or claims of such creditors, or both, and in either such case such securities are issued in exchange for the securities of such holders or claims against said company or its predecessor then held or owned by them.

The sale of any security to any bank, trust company, building and loan association, insurance company, surety or guaranty company, savings institution, investment company as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, small business investment company as defined in the Small Business Investment Act of 1958, as amended, or to any registered dealer actually engaged in buying and selling securities; or the issue or sale of any investment contract in connection with an employees' stock bonus, annuity, pension, profit-sharing or similar employee benefit plan provided the securities purchased under the plan either would be exempt if sold by a registered dealer under Section 6 hereof or shall be qualified under Section 7 hereof or purchased in a transaction exempt under Section 5 hereof.

I. Provided such sale is made without any public solicitation or advertisements, (a) the sale of any security by the issuer thereof so long as the total number of security holders of the issuer thereof does not exceed thirty-five (35) persons after taking such sale into account; (b) the sale of shares of stock pursuant to the grant of an employees' restricted stock option as defined in the Internal Revenue Laws of the United States; or (c) the sale by an issuer of its securities during the period of twelve (12) months ending with the date of the sale in question to not more than fifteen (15) persons (excluding, in determining such fifteen (15) persons, purchasers of securities in transactions exempt under other provisions of this Section 5, purchasers of securities exempt under Section 6 hereof and purchasers of securities which are part of an offering registered under Section 7 hereof), provided such persons purchased such securities for their own account and not for distribution.

The issuer shall file a notice not less than five (5) days prior to the date of consummation of any sale claimed to be exempt under the provisions of clause (c), of this Subsection I, setting forth the name and address of the issuer, the total amount of the securities to be sold under this clause, the price at which the securities are to be sold, the date on which the securities are to be sold, the names and addresses of the proposed purchasers, and such other information as the commissioner may reasonably require, including a certificate of a principal officer of the issuer that reasonable information concerning the plan of business and the financial condition of the issuer has been furnished to the proposed purchasers. The commissioner may order revoke or suspend the exemption under this clause (c) with respect to any security if he has reasonable cause to believe that the plan of business of the issuer of such security, the security, or the sale thereof would tend to work a fraud or deceit upon the purchaser or purchasers thereof, such order to be subject to review in the manner provided by Section 24 of this Act. The revocation or suspension of this exemption shall be inapplicable to the issuer until such issuer shall have received actual notice from the commissioner of such revocation or suspension.

L. The sale by the issuer itself, or by a registered dealer, of any security issued or guaranteed by any bank organized and subject to regulation under the laws of the United States or under the laws of any State or territory of the United States, or any insular possession thereof, or by any savings and loan association organized and subject to regulation under the laws of this State, or the sale by the issuer itself of any security issued by any federal savings and loan association.

M. The sale by the issuer itself, or by a registered dealer, of any security either issued or guaranteed by the United States or by any territory or insular possession thereof, or by the District of Columbia, or by any state of the United States, or political subdivision thereof (including but not limited to any county, city, municipal corporation, district, or authority), or by any public or governmental agency or instrumentality of any of the foregoing.

Provided, however, this exemption shall not be applicable to agents and salesmen of any farmers' cooperative association, mutual loan corporation, or farmers' cooperative society when the sale of such securities is made to non-members, or when the sale of such securities is made to members or non-members and a commission is paid or contracted to be paid to the said agents or salesmen.

O. The sale by a registered dealer of outstanding securities provided that:

(1) Such securities form no part of an unsold allotment to or subscription by such dealer as a participant in the distribution of such securities by the issuer thereof; and

(2) Securities of the same class, of the same issuer, are outstanding in the hands of the public; and

(3) Such securities are offered for sale, in good faith, at prices reasonably related to the current market price of such securities at the time of such sale; and

(4) No part of the proceeds of such sale are paid directly or indirectly to the issuer of such securities; and

(5) Such sale is not directly or indirectly for the purposes of providing or furthering any scheme to violate or evade any provision of this Act; and

(6) The right to sell or resell such securities has not been enjoined by any court of competent jurisdiction in this State by proceedings instituted by an officer or agency of this State charged with enforcement of this Act; and

(7) The right to sell such securities has not been revoked or suspended by the commissioner under any of the provisions of this Act, or, if so, revocation or suspension is not in force and effect; and

(8) At the time of such sale, the issuer of such securities shall be a going concern actually engaged in business and shall then be neither in an organization stage nor in receivership or bankruptcy; and

(9) Such securities or other securities of the issuer of the same class have been registered by qualification, notification or coordination under Section 7 of this Act; or at the time of such sale at least the following information about the issuer shall appear in a recognized securities manual or in a statement, in form and extent acceptable to the commissioner, filed with the commissioner by the issuer or by a registered dealer:

(a) A statement of the issuer's principal business;

(b) A balance sheet as of a date within eighteen months of the date of such sale; and

(c) Profit and loss statements and a record of the dividends paid, if any, for a period of not less than three years prior to the date of such balance sheet or for the period of existence of the issuer, if such period of existence is less than three years.

The term "recognized securities manual" shall include the manuals published by Moody's Investment Service, Standard & Poor's Corporation, Best's Life Insurance Reports, and such other nationally distributed manuals of securities as may be approved for use hereunder by the commissioner.

The commissioner may issue a stop order or by order prohibit, revoke or suspend the exemption under this Subsection O with respect to any security if he has reasonable cause to believe that the plan of business of the issuer of such security, the security, or the sale thereof would tend to work a fraud or deceit upon any purchaser or purchasers thereof, such order to be subject to review in the manner provided by Section 24 of this Act. Notice of any court injunction enjoining the sale, or resale, of any such security, or of an order revoking or suspending the exemption under this subdivision with respect to any security, shall be delivered or shall be mailed by certified or registered mail with return receipt requested, to any dealers believed to be selling, or offering for sale, securities of the type referred to in the notice; and the prohibitions of (6) and (7) above of this Subsection O shall be inapplicable to any dealer until he has received actual notice from the commissioner of such revocation or suspension.

Except for the manuals published by Moody's Investment Service, Standard & Poor's Corporation, and Best's Life Insurance Reports, the commissioner may for cause shown revoke or suspend the recognition hereunder of any manuals previously approved by the commissioner under this Subsection but no such action may be taken by the commissioner unless upon notice and opportunity for hearing as provided by Section 24 of this Act. Any interested party aggrieved by any decision of the commissioner pursuant to such hearing may appeal to the district court of Travis County, Texas, in the manner provided by Section 27 of this Act. A judgment sustaining the commissioner in the action complained of shall not bar after one year an application by the plaintiff for approval of its manual or manuals hereunder, nor shall a judgment in favor of the plaintiff prevent any one owner of interests, whether whole, fractional, segregated or undivided in any single oil, gas or mining leases, fees or titles, or contracts relating thereto, where (1) the total number of sales by any one owner of interests, whether whole, fractional, segregated or undivided in any single oil, gas or mineral lease, fee or title, or contract relating thereto, shall not exceed thirty-five (35) within a period of twelve (12) consecutive months and (2) no use is made of advertisement or public solicitation; provided, however, if such sale or sales are made by an agent for such owner or owners, such agent shall be licensed pursuant to this Act. No oil, gas or mineral unitization or pooling agreement shall be deemed a sale under this Act.

R. The sale by a registered dealer or its subsidiary of any securities which would be exempt if sold by a registered dealer under Section 6 (other than Subsection 6-B) of this Act.

S. The sale by or through a registered dealer of any option if at the time of the sale of the option

(1) the performance of the terms of the option is guaranteed by any broker-dealer registered under the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which guaranty and broker-dealer are in compliance with such requirements or regulations as may be approved or adopted by the board;

(2) the option is not sold by or for the benefit of the issuer of the security which may be purchased or sold upon exercise of the option;

(3) the security which may be purchased or sold upon exercise of the option is either (a) exempted under Subsection F of Section 6 of this Act or (b) quoted on the National Association of Securities Dealers Automated Quotation system and meets the requirements of Paragraphs (1), (6), (7), and (8) of Subsection O of Section 5 of this Act; and

(4) such sale is not directly or indirectly for the purposes of providing or furthering any scheme to violate or evade any provisions of this Act.

For purposes of this subsection the term “option” shall mean and include any put, call, straddle, or other option or privilege of buying or selling a specified number of securities at a specified price from or to another person, without being bound to do so, on or prior to a specified date, but such term shall not include any option or privilege which by its terms may terminate prior to such specified date upon the occurrence of a specified event.

T. Such other transactions or conditions as the board by rule, regulation, or order may define or prescribe, conditionally or unconditionally.

Art. 581-25-1. Receiverships of Persons or Assets of Persons Acting as Dealers

A. Whenever it shall appear to the commissioner, either upon complaint or otherwise, that:

(1) any person or company, a substantial portion of whose business consists of acting as a dealer (as defined in Subsection C of Section 4 of this Act), whether or not duly registered by the commissioner as in this Act provided, shall have engaged in any act, transaction, practice, or course of business declared by Section 32 of this Act to be a fraudulent practice;

(2) such person or company shall have acted as a dealer in connection with such fraudulent practice; and

(3) the appointment of a receiver for such person or company, or the assets of such person or company, is necessary in order to conserve and protect the assets of such person or company for the benefit of customers, security holders, and other actual and potential claimants of such person or company the commissioner may request the attorney general to bring an action for the appointment of a receiver for such person or company or the assets of such person or company.

B. Upon request by the commissioner pursuant to Subsection A of this Section 25-1, and if it appears to the attorney general that the facts enumerated in Paragraphs (1) through (3) of Subsection A of this Section 25-1 exist with respect to any person or company, the attorney general may bring an action in the name and on behalf of the State of Texas for the appointment of a receiver for such person or company. The facts set forth in the petition for such relief shall be verified by the commissioner upon information and belief. Such action may be brought in a district court of any county wherein the fraudulent practice complained of has been committed in whole or part, or of any county wherein any defendant with respect to whom appointment of a receiver is sought has its principal place of business, and such district court shall have jurisdiction and venue of such action; this provision shall be superior to any other provision of law fixing jurisdiction or venue with regard to suits for receivership. In any such action the attorney general may apply for and an order应当 be entered to have issued the court's subpoena requiring the forthwith appearance of any defendant and his employees, salesmen, or agents and the production of documents, books, and records as may appear necessary for any hearing, to testify and give evidence concerning matters relevant to the appointment of a receiver.

C. In any action brought by the attorney general pursuant to Subsection B of this Section 25-1, the court, upon a proper showing by the attorney general of the existence of the facts enumerated in Paragraphs (1) through (3) of Subsection A of this Section 25-1 with respect to any person or company, may appoint a receiver for such person or company or the assets of such person or company. D. No person shall be appointed a receiver pursuant to this Section 25-1 unless such person be found by the court, after hearing the views of the attorney general, the commissioner, and, if deemed by the court to be practicable, the person or company against whom such relief is sought, to be qualified to discharge the duties of receiver giving due consideration to the probable nature and magnitude of the duties of receiver in the particular case. No bond for receivership shall be required of the commissioner or attorney general in any proceeding under this Section 25-1 but the court shall require a bond of any receiver appointed hereunder, conditioned upon faithful discharge of the receiver's duties, in an amount found by the court to be sufficient giving due consideration to the probable nature and magnitude of the duties of receiver in the particular case.

E. The remedy of receivership provided by this Section 25-1 shall be in addition to any and all other remedies afforded the commissioner or the attorney general by other provisions of statutory or decisional law of this state, including, without limitation of the generality of the foregoing, any such provision authorizing receiverships.

Art. 581-27. Petition to District Court of Travis County on Complaint of Decision of Commissioner

Any dealer, salesman or applicant aggrieved by any decision of the Commissioner may file within thirty (30) days thereafter in the District Court of Travis County, Texas, a petition against the Commissioner, officially as defendant, alleging therein in brief detail the action and decision complained of. Upon service of a summons upon the Commissioner, returnable within ten (10) days from its date, the Commissioner shall, on or before the return day, file an answer in which he shall allege, by way of defense, the grounds for his decision. The Commissioner shall also, on or before the return day of such summons, certify to said District Court the record of the proceedings to which the petition refers. Such record shall include the testimony taken therein, the finding of fact, if any, of the Commissioner based upon such testimony, a copy of all orders made by the Commissioner in the proceedings, and a copy of the action or decision of the Commissioner which the petition calls upon the court to reverse. The cost of preparing and certifying such record shall be paid to the Commissioner by the petitioner and taxed as a part of the cost in the case, to be paid as directed by the court upon the final determination of the case.

All appeals to the District Court shall be tried by such court as a trial de novo as that term is used in an appeal from Justice of the Peace Court to a County Court, as if there had been no previous determination or hearing on the matters in controversy, and under no circumstances shall the substantial evidence rule as interpreted by the courts of Texas ever be applied to appeals taken under this Act.

From the decision of the District Court an appeal may be taken to the Court of Appeals by either party as in other cases, and no bond shall be required by the Commissioner.

A judgment sustaining the refusal of the Commissioner to grant or renew a registration as a dealer or an agent or salesman of any dealer, shall not bar, after one (1) year, a new application by the plaintiff for registration, nor shall the plaintiff prevent the Commissioner from thereafter revoking or refusing to renew such registration for any proper cause which may thereafter accrue or be discovered. The court shall have full power to dispose of all costs.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides, in part: "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction."

Art. 581-28. Subpoenas or Other Process in Investigations by Commissioner

The Commissioner may require, by subpoena or summons issued by the Commissioner, the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of any books, accounts, records, papers and correspondence or other records or indices showing the names and addresses of the stockholders (except such books of account as are necessary to the continued conduct of the business, which books the Commissioner shall have the right to examine or cause to be examined at the office of the concern and to require copies of such portion thereof as may be deemed necessary touching the matter in question, which copies shall be verified by affidavit of an officer of such concern and shall be admissible in evidence as provided in Section 30 hereof, relating to any matter which the Commissioner has authority by this Act to consider or investigate, and for this purpose the Commissioner may sign subpoenas, administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses and receive evidence; provided, however, that all information of every kind and nature contained therein shall be treated as confidential by the Commissioner and shall not be disclosed to the public except under order of court; but nothing in this section shall be interpreted to prohibit or limit the publication of rulings or decisions of the Commissioner nor shall this limitation apply to hearings provided for in Sections 24 and 25 of this Act. In case of disobedience of any subpoena, or of the contumacy of any witness appearing before the Commissioner, the Commissioner may invoke the aid of the District Court within whose jurisdiction any witness may be found, and such court may thereupon issue an order requiring the person subpoenaed to obey the subpoena or give evidence, or produce books, accounts, records, papers, and correspondence touching the matter in question. Any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by such court as contempt thereof.

In the course of an investigation looking to the enforcement of this Act, or in connection with the application of a person or company for registration or to qualify securities, the Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner shall have free access to all records of the Board of Insurance Commissioners, including company examination reports to the Board and reports of special investigations made by personnel of the Board, as well as records and reports of and to any other department or agency of the state government. In the event, however, that the Commissioner or Deputy Commissioner should give out any information which the law makes confidential, the affected corporation, firm or person shall have a right of action on the official bond of the Commissioner or Deputy for his injuries, in a suit brought in the name of the state at the relation of the injured party.

The Commissioner may in any investigation cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed for depositions in civil actions under the laws of Texas.

Each witness required to attend before the Commissioner shall receive, for each day's attendance, the sum of Two Dollars ($2.00), and shall receive in addition the sum of Ten Cents (10¢) for each mile traveled by such witness by the usual route going to and returning from the place where his presence is required. All disbursements made in the payment of such fees shall be included in and paid in the same manner as is provided for the payment of other expenses incident to the administration and enforcement of this Act as hereinafter provided.

The sheriff's or constable's fee for serving the subpoena shall be the same as those paid the sheriff or constable for similar services. The fees, expenses and costs incurred at or in connection with any hearing may be imposed by the Commissioner upon any party to the record, or may be divided between any and all parties to the record in such proportions as the Commissioner may determine.

Any subpoena, summons, or other process issued by the Commissioner may be served, at the Commissioner's discretion, by the Commissioner, his authorized agent, a sheriff, or a constable.

The Commissioner may, at his discretion, disclose any confidential information in his possession to any governmental authority approved by Board rule; or to any quasi-governmental authority charged with overseeing securities activities which is approved by Board rule. The disclosure does not violate any other provision of this Act or any provision of Chapter 424, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973 (Article 6252-17a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., ch. 327, § 6, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 581-28-1. Adoption of Rules and Regulations

A. For purposes of this Section 28–1, the term “rule and regulation” shall mean any statement by the board of general and future applicability that implements, interprets, or describes the organization, procedure, or practice requirements of the board. The term includes the amendment or repeal of a prior rule or regulation, but does not include statements concerning only the internal management of the board not affecting private rights or procedures or forms or orders adopted or made by the board or the commissioner pursuant to other provisions of this Act.

B. The board may, from time to time, in accordance with the provisions of this Section 28–1, make or adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out and implement the provisions of this Act, including rules and regulations governing registration statements, applications, notices, and reports, and defining any terms, whether or not used in this Act, insofar as the definitions are not inconsistent with the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of this Act. For the purpose of adoption of rules and regulations, the board may classify securities, persons, and matters within its jurisdiction, and prescribe different requirements for different classes. The board may, in its discretion, waive any requirement of any rule or regulation in situations where, in its opinion, such requirement is not necessary in the public interest or for the protection of investors.
C. No rule or regulation may be made or adopted unless the board finds, after notice and opportunity for comment in accordance with the provisions of this Section 28-1, that the action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consistent with the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of this Act.

D. The board may, by rule or regulation adopted in accordance with this Section 28-1, delegate to the commissioner or the deputy commissioner such of the authority granted to the board under this Section 28-1 to hold hearings for adoption of rules and regulations and to make or adopt rules and regulations, or to waive the requirements thereof, as it may, from time to time, deem appropriate. All rules and regulations made or adopted by the commissioner or the deputy commissioner pursuant to such delegated authority shall be made or adopted in accordance with this Section 28-1.

E. No provision of this Act imposing any liability or penalty applies to any act done or omitted in good faith in conformity with any rule or regulation of the board, notwithstanding that the rule or regulation may later be amended or rescinded or be determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

F. In exercising the power granted by this Section 28-1 to make or adopt rules and regulations, the board shall be bound by and shall follow the provisions of any administrative procedure act or other like act of general applicability to state boards, commissions, or departments having statewide jurisdiction, heretofore or hereafter adopted by the legislature of this state, with respect to procedures for adoption, filing, and taking effect, availability, and declaratory judgments on the validity or applicability of rules and regulations; provided, however, that, if there is no such act of general applicability, the board shall be bound by and shall follow the provisions of Subsections G through L of this Section 28-1 with respect to such matters.

G. A notice of any proposed rule or regulation shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in Travis County and shall set forth the full text of any proposed rule or regulation or a summary thereof indicating the place where copies of the full text of such proposed rule or regulation may be obtained, the date on which the board intends its action to be effective, the place or places to which any person may mail or at which any person may deposit written data, views or arguments relating to the proposed action and the final date by which such data, views or arguments must be received for consideration by the board, which date shall not be earlier than 30 days from the date on which notice was first published in accordance with this Section 28-1.

H. The board, at its discretion, may call a hearing to take public testimony concerning a proposed rule or regulation. If the board calls a hearing, a notice setting forth the time, place, and nature of the hearing shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in Travis County at least 20 days prior to the hearing date. All hearings shall be public.

I. After consideration of all relevant matters presented to the board, the board may make any modifications to the proposed rule or regulation that it shall find necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consistent with the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of this Act and the rule or regulation as originally promulgated. The board may then promulgate the rule or regulation, as modified, provided that it shall not be effective until at least 45 days after the date the notice of proposed action was first published pursuant to Subsection G of this Section 28-1. Notice of the adoption of any proposed rule or regulation shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in Travis County and shall set forth the full text of the rule or regulation, as adopted, or a summary thereof indicating the place where copies of the full text of the rule or regulation may be obtained.

J. At the time of publication of any notice published pursuant to Subsections G, H, or I of this Section 28-1, the board shall mail a copy of such notice to each person who has requested in writing that copies of such notices be mailed to him and who has paid to the board the fee, if any, prescribed by the board therefor. The failure of the board to mail a copy of any notice to any person or persons or the failure of any person or persons to receive any such copy shall not affect the validity of any rule or regulation adopted by the board pursuant to this Section 28-1 or of any proceedings in connection therewith or pursuant thereto.

K. The board shall maintain a copy of all rules and regulations in effect, for public inspection, at the principal office of the board.

L. The validity of any rule or regulation adopted pursuant to the power granted by Subsection B of this Section 28-1 may be determined in any proceeding brought pursuant to any other section of this Act to which the board or the commissioner is a party; otherwise, the validity of any such rule or regulation may be determined only in an action for declaratory judgment in the District Court of Travis County, and not elsewhere, and then only if it is alleged that the rule or regulation, or its threatened application, interferes with or impairs or threatens to interfere with or impair the legal rights or privileges of the plaintiff. The board shall be made a party to any such declaratory judgment action. A declaratory judgment may be rendered whether or not the plaintiff has requested the board to pass upon the validity or applicability of the rule or regulation in question.

Art. 581-33. Civil Liabilities

A. Liability of Sellers.

(1) Registration and Related Violations. A person who offers or sells a security in violation of Section 7, 9 (or a requirement of the Commissioner thereunder), 12, 23B, or an order under 23A of this Act is liable to the person buying the security from him, who may sue either at law or in equity for rescission or for damages if the buyer no longer owns the security.

(2) Untruth or Omission. A person who offers or sells a security (whether or not the security or transaction is exempt under Section 5 or 6 of this Act) by means of an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading, is liable to the person buying the security from him, who may sue either at law or in equity for rescission or for damages if the buyer no longer owns the security. However, a person is not liable if he sustains the burden of proof that either (a) the buyer knew of the untruth or omission or (b) he (the offeror or seller) did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the untruth or omission. The issuer of the security (other than a government issuer identified in Section 5M) is not entitled to the defense in clause (b) with respect to an untruth or omission (i) in a prospectus required in connection with a registration statement under Section 7A, 7B, or 7C, or (ii) in a writing prepared and delivered by the issuer in the sale of a security.

B. Liability of Buyers. A person who offers to buy or buys a security (whether or not the security or transaction is exempt under Section 5 or 6 of this

C. Liability of Nonselling Issuers Which Register.

(1) This Section 33C applies only to an issuer which registers under Section 7A, 7B, or 7C of this Act, or under Section 6 of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, its outstanding securities for offer and sale by or for the owner of the securities.

(2) If the prospectus required in connection with the registration contains, as of its effective date, an untrue statement of a material fact or an omission to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading, the issuer is liable to a person buying the registered security, who may sue either at law or in equity for rescission or for damages if the buyer no longer owns the securities. However, an issuer is not liable if it sustains the burden of proof that the buyer knew of the untruth or omission.

D. Rescission and Damages. For this Section 33:

(1) On rescission, a buyer shall recover (a) the consideration he paid for the security plus interest thereon at the legal rate from the date of payment by him, less (b) the amount of any income he received on the security, upon tender of the security (or a security of the same class and series) to the seller, buyer, or issuer of a security is liable under Section 33B, or 33C jointly and severally with the seller, buyer, or issuer, and to the same extent as if he were the seller, buyer, or issuer, unless the controlling person sustains the burden of proof that he did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of the facts by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

(c) Large purchases may not be divided into small lot purchases in order to meet the specified dollar limits.

Sec. 3.09. (a) The commission shall review the specifications and conditions of purchase of any supplies, materials, equipment, or services desired to be purchased.

(b) If the commission finds that specifications and conditions of a purchase request have been drawn to describe a product which is proprietary to one vendor and does not include language which permits an equivalent product to be supplied, it shall require written justification of the requested specifications or conditions, signed by the agency head or the chairman of the governing body. For an institution of higher education, the written justification may be signed by the person designated by the president or governing body as purchasing officer for the institution. The written justification shall contain the following:

(1) explanation of the need for the specifications;
(2) the reason competing products are not satisfactory; and
(3) other information requested by the commission.

(e) The commission shall issue an invitation to bid to vendors within 20 days after the date of receipt of the written justification required.

(f) The commission shall not delay processing a purchase requisition by submitting the specifications and conditions to the systems/administrative services division of the state auditor's office for comment or recommendation prior to issuing the invitation to bid to vendors.

Sec. 3.10. In purchasing supplies, materials, services, and equipment the commission may use, but is not limited to, the contract purchase procedure, the multiple award contract procedure, and the open market purchase procedure. The commission shall have the authority to combine orders in a system of schedule purchasing, and it shall at all times try to benefit from purchasing in bulk. All purchases of and contracts for supplies, materials, services, and equipment shall, except as provided herein, be based whenever possible on competitive bids.

Sec. 3.11. (a) Notice. Notice inviting bids shall be published at least once in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the state and at least seven days preceding the last day set for the receipt of bids. The newspaper notice shall include a general description of the articles to be purchased, and shall state where bid blanks and specifications may be secured, and the time and place for opening bids.

(b) Bidders List. The commission shall maintain a bidders list and shall add or delete names from the list by the application and utilization of applicable standards set forth in Subsection (e) of this section. Bid invitations shall be sent only to those who have expressed a desire to bid on the particular types of items which are the subject of the bid invitation. Use of the bidders list shall not be confined to contract purchases but it may be used by the commission as it may find desirable in making any purchase.

(c) Bid Deposits. When deemed necessary bid deposits in amounts to be set by the commission shall be prescribed in the public notices and the invitation to bid. The commission shall establish and maintain records of bid deposits and their disposition with the cooperation of the state auditor, and upon the award of bids or rejection of all bids, bid deposits shall be returned to unsuccessful bidders making bid deposits. The commission may accept a bid deposit in the form of a blanket bond from any bidder.

(d) Bid Opening Procedure. Bids shall be submitted to the commission, sealed, and identified as bids on the envelope. Bids shall be opened at the time and place stated in the public notices and the invitation to bid. The state auditor or a member of his staff may be present at any bid opening. A tabulation of all bids received shall be available for public inspection under regulations to be established by the commission.

(e) Award of Contract. The commission shall award contracts to the bidder submitting the lowest and best bid conforming to the specifications required. Complying with the specified time limit for submission of written data, samples, or models on or before bid opening time is essential to the materiality of a bid, provided, however, that the commission shall have the authority to waive this provision if the failure to comply is beyond control of the bidder. In determining who is the lowest and best bidder, in addition to price, the commission shall consider:

(1) the quality, availability, and adaptability of the supplies, materials, equipment, or contractual services, to the particular use required;
(2) the number and scope of conditions attached to the bid;
(3) the ability, capacity, and skill of the bidder to perform the contract or provide the service required;
2805 PURCHASING AND GENERAL SERVICES COMMISSION

(b) Minimum Number of Bids. All open market purchases shall, whenever possible, be based on at least three competitive bids, and shall be awarded to

(4) whether the bidder can perform the contract or provide the service promptly, or within the time required, without delay or interference;

(6) the quality of performance of previous contracts or services;
(7) the previous and existing compliance by the bidder with laws relating to the contract or service;
(8) any previous or existing noncompliance by the bidder with specification requirements relating to time of submission of specified data such as samples, models, drawings, certificates, or other information;
(9) the sufficiency of the financial resources and ability of the bidder to perform the contract or provide the service; and
(10) the ability of the bidder to provide future maintenance, repair parts, and service for the use of the subject of the contract.

(f) Rejection of Bids. If a bid is submitted in which there is a material failure to comply with the specification requirements, such bid shall be rejected and the contract awarded to the bidder submitting the lowest and best bid conforming to the specifications, provided, however, the commission shall in any event have the authority to reject all bids or parts of bids when the interest of the state will be served thereby.

(g) Bid Record. When an award is made, a statement of the basis for placing the order with the successful bidder and the factors considered in determining the lowest and best bid shall be prepared by the purchasing division and filed with other papers relating to the transaction.

(h) Tie Bids. In case of tie bids, quality and service being equal, the contract shall be awarded under rules and regulations to be adopted by the commission.

(i) Performance Bonds. The commission may require a performance bond before entering a contract in such amount as it finds reasonable and necessary to protect the interests of the state. Any bond required under this subsection shall be conditioned that the bidder will faithfully execute the terms of the contract into which he has entered. Any bond required shall be filed with the commission and recoveries may be had thereon until it is exhausted.

Open Market Purchase Procedure

Sec. 3.12. (a) When the commission determines that any purchases of supplies, materials, equipment, or services may be made most effectively in the open market, such purchases may be made without newspaper advertising.

(b) Minimum Number of Bids. All open market purchases shall, whenever possible, be based on at least three competitive bids, and shall be awarded to the lowest and best bidder in accordance with the standards set forth under this article.

(c) Notice Inviting Bids. The commission shall solicit bids by:

(1) direct mail request to prospective vendors; or
(2) telephone or telegraph.

(d) Recording. The commission shall keep a record of all open market orders and bids submitted thereon, and a tabulation of the bids shall, under rules and regulations to be established by the commission, be open to public inspection; provided, they shall always be open to inspection by the state auditor or his representatives.

(e) Agency Review. If a state agency requests that it be allowed to review the bids on a purchase request, the commission shall forward copies of the bids received or make the same available to the requesting agency along with the commission's recommended award. If, after review of the bids and evaluation of the quality of products offered in the bids, the state agency determines that the bid selected by the commission is not in its opinion the lowest and best bid, it may file with the commission a written recommendation, complete with justification, that the award be made to the bidder determined to be the lowest and best bid. The commission shall give consideration to, but is not bound by, the agency recommendation in making the award.

(f) Statement of Award. A statement of the basis for placing the order with the successful bidder and the factors considered in determining the lowest and best bid shall be prepared by the purchasing division and filed with other papers relating to the transaction.

Compliance with Antitrust Laws

Sec. 3.13. A bidder offering to sell supplies, materials, services, or equipment to the state shall certify on each bid submitted that neither the bidder nor the firm, corporation, partnership, or institution represented by the bidder, or anyone acting for such firm, corporation, or institution has violated the antitrust laws of this state codified in Section 15.01, et seq., Business & Commerce Code, or the federal antitrust laws, nor communicated directly or indirectly the bid made to any competitor or any other person engaged in such line of business. The attorney general shall prepare the certification statement which is to be made a part of the bid form.

Invoice

Sec. 3.14. The contractor or seller of supplies and/or services contracted for by the commission shall render an invoice to the ordering agency at the address shown on the purchase order. The invoice shall be prepared and submitted under such rules and regulations as the commission shall provide.
Sec. 3.15. (a) As soon as supplies, materials, or equipment are received by a state agency, they shall be inspected by the agency to see if they correspond in every particular with those covered by the contract under which they were purchased, and if the invoice is correct, the agency shall certify that such is true and transmit to the commission the original invoice and appropriate purchase voucher forms. As soon as an invoice is received for services rendered by any state agency, the agency shall determine if such services correspond in every particular with those services contracted for and that the invoice is correct, and shall certify that such is true and transmit to the commission the original invoice and appropriate purchase voucher forms. The state agency shall complete the procedures for transmittal of the invoice and purchase voucher to the commission promptly after receipt of the supplies, materials, equipment, or services, whichever is later.

(b) If the commission finds such invoice and purchase voucher forms correct, it shall approve and transmit same to the state comptroller. The commission shall complete the procedures for transmittal of the invoice and purchase voucher to the state comptroller within eight days after receipt of the invoice and purchase voucher. The commission is not required to process vouchers in payment of telephone service within eight days but shall process them as expeditiously as possible.

Sec. 3.16. When an invoice and purchase voucher have been approved by the agency and the commission, and have been approved by the comptroller, the comptroller shall draw a warrant upon the state treasury for the amount due on the invoice or for so much thereof as has been allowed, and it shall be charged against the state agency. The comptroller shall complete the procedures for drawing the warrant within eight days after receipt of the invoice and purchase voucher.

Sec. 3.17. The commission shall have the authority to establish and maintain a specifications and standards program to coordinate the establishment and maintenance of uniform standards and specifications for materials, supplies, and equipment purchased by the commission. The commission shall enlist the cooperation of other state agencies in the establishment, maintenance, and revision of uniform standards and specifications and shall encourage and foster the use of standard specifications in order that the most efficient purchase of materials, supplies, and equipment may be continuously accomplished. The commission may also establish and maintain a program of testing and inspecting to ensure that materials, supplies, services, and equipment meet specifications, and may make contracts for testing. If any state agency determines that any supplies, materials, services, or equipment received do not meet specifications, it shall promptly notify the commission in writing detailing the reasons why the supplies, materials, services, or equipment do not meet the specifications of the contract. The commission shall immediately determine whether or not the reported supplies, materials, services, or equipment meet specifications. The sole power to determine whether materials, supplies, services, and equipment meet specifications shall rest with the commission. When the commission finds that contract specifications or conditions have not been complied with, it shall take action, with the assistance of the attorney general, if necessary, against the defaulting contractor.

Sec. 3.18. The commission shall maintain usage figures on the consumption and use of supplies, materials, services, and equipment purchased for state agencies, institutions, boards, and commissions, and shall furnish using agencies upon request usage and consumption figures maintained. The commission is directed to cooperate with the state budget officers and the state auditor in the preparation of usage and consumption figures of supplies, materials, services, and equipment.

Sec. 3.19. No member of the commission or any employee or appointee of the commission shall be interested in, or in any manner connected with, any contract or bid for furnishing supplies, materials, services, and equipment of any kind to any agency of the State of Texas. Neither shall any member or employee or appointee, under penalty of dismissal, accept or receive from any person, firm, or corporation to whom any contract may be awarded, directly or indirectly, by rebate, gift, or otherwise, any money or other thing of value whatever, nor shall he receive any promise, obligation, or contract for future reward or compensation from any such party.

(g) Venue of all suits for any breach of contract entered into pursuant to the provisions of this article shall be in Travis County, Texas.

(h) The commission may waive, suspend, or modify any provision of this article which shall be in conflict with any federal statute or any rule, regulation, or administrative procedure of any federal agency where such waiver, suspension, or modification shall be essential to the receipt of federal funds for any project. In the case of any project wholly financed from federal funds, any standards required by the enabling federal statute or required by the rules and regulations of the administering federal agency shall be controlling.

Project Analysis

Sec. 5.16. (a) Each using agency of the state which shall desire any project, other than those specifically excluded by Sections 5.13 and 5.14 of this article, shall prepare and submit to the commission a general description of the project. The commission shall cause all such projects to be studied and shall initiate the preparation of a project analysis for all new construction projects and for all other projects where, in the opinion of the commission, the cost of preparing a project analysis is justified.

(b) A project analysis may be prepared by a private architect/engineer employed by the commission or, at its discretion, by the commission's staff. A private architect/engineer employed for the purpose of preparing a project analysis shall be selected by the method set forth in Section 5.22 of this article and shall be paid from the State Building Construction Planning Fund established by Section 5.24 of this article. The contract to prepare a project analysis shall be in those instances where the attorney general deems such employment necessary.

(c) A project analysis shall specify that the analysis shall become the property of the commission.

(d) The commission may promulgate rules and regulations necessary to implement the powers, duties, and responsibilities imposed upon it by this article. The rules and regulations shall be binding on all state agencies upon being filed with the secretary of state. The commission shall prepare and publish a manual to assist using agencies in complying with the provisions of this article and the rules and regulations of the commission. Copies of the manual shall be distributed to all using agencies and shall be available to architects, engineers, contractors, and others who may need and request a copy of it.

(f) Legal representation of the commission shall be performed by the Attorney General of Texas. This provision shall not restrict the attorney general from employing special assistants to assist in the performance of duties arising by virtue of the provisions of this article in those instances where the attorney general deems such employment necessary.

(g) Venue of all suits for any breach of contract entered into pursuant to the provisions of this article shall be in Travis County, Texas.

(h) The commission may waive, suspend, or modify any provision of this article which shall be in conflict with any federal statute or any rule, regulation, or administrative procedure of any federal agency where such waiver, suspension, or modification shall be essential to the receipt of federal funds for any project. In the case of any project wholly financed from federal funds, any standards required by the enabling federal statute or required by the rules and regulations of the administering federal agency shall be controlling.

Project Analysis

Sec. 5.16. (a) Each using agency of the state which shall desire any project, other than those specifically excluded by Sections 5.13 and 5.14 of this article, shall prepare and submit to the commission a general description of the project. The commission shall cause all such projects to be studied and shall initiate the preparation of a project analysis for all new construction projects and for all other projects where, in the opinion of the commission, the cost of preparing a project analysis is justified.

(b) A project analysis may be prepared by a private architect/engineer employed by the commission or, at its discretion, by the commission's staff. A private architect/engineer employed for the purpose of preparing a project analysis shall be selected by the method set forth in Section 5.22 of this article and shall be paid from the State Building Construction Planning Fund established by Section 5.24 of this article. The contract to prepare a project analysis shall be in those instances where the attorney general deems such employment necessary.

(c) A project analysis shall specify that the analysis shall become the property of the commission.

(d) A project analysis shall consist of (1) a complete description of the facility or project together with a justification of such facility or project prepared by the using agency, (2) a detailed estimate of the amount of space needed to meet the needs of the using agency and to allow for realistic future growth, (3) a description of the proposed facility prepared by an architect/engineer and including schematic plans and outline specifications describing the type of construction and probable materials to be used, sufficient to establish the general scope and quality of construction, (4) an estimate of the probable cost of construction, (5) a description of the proposed site of the project and an estimate of the cost of site preparation, and (6) an overall estimate of the cost of the project. All estimates involved in the preparation of a project analysis shall be carefully and fully documented and incorporated into the project analysis.

Throughout the preparation of the project analysis, the commission and any private architect/engineer employed by the commission shall work closely and cooperatively with the using agency to the end that the project analysis shall fully reflect the needs of the using agency.

The using agency shall use the cost of the project as determined by such project analysis as the basis of its request to the budget offices of this state.

(d) In the case of projects where, in the opinion of the commission, the cost of a project analysis is not justified or required, the commission shall, in cooperation with the using agency, develop a realistic estimate of the cost of the project. When necessary, the commission shall arrange for an on-site inspection and analysis of the proposed project by a member of its staff. The using agency shall be informed of the cost estimate so developed and shall use such estimate as the basis of its request to the budget offices of this state.

(e) On or before a date to be specified by the budget agencies of this state in each year immediately preceding a regular session of the legislature, the commission shall submit to the budget agencies a report listing all projects requested pursuant to this section. The list shall contain (1) a brief and specific justification of each project as prepared by the using agency, (2) a summary of the project analysis where one was made or a statement briefly describing the cost-estimating method used for projects for which a project analysis was not made, (3) a project cost estimate developed in accordance with the provisions of this section, with sufficient detail given to afford the budget agencies, the governor, and the legislature the widest possible latitude in developing policy in regard to each such project request, (4) an estimate, prepared by the commission with the cooperation of the using agency and with the cooperation of the private architect/engineer employed, of the annual cost of maintaining the completed project including the estimated cost of utility services, and (5) an estimate, prepared by the using agency, of the annual cost of staffing and operating the completed project exclusive of maintenance cost. Where appropriate, the commission, with the approval of the using agency, may indicate the feasibility of stage construction of a requested project and may indicate the degree to which funds would be required in the next biennium if the project were undertaken in stages.

(f) Whenever any using agency shall request three or more projects, it shall designate its priority rating for each project. The budget agencies shall, with the cooperation of the commission, develop detailed instructions to implement this priority system and the commission’s report shall show the designated priority of each project to which a priority rating has been assigned.

Legislative Authorizations and Appropriations

Sec. 5.17. (a) The legislature shall authorize and appropriate for such projects as it may approve. Project appropriations shall be made directly to the using agency except in those instances where the project is to be constructed by the commission in which case the appropriation shall be made to the commission.

(b) The appropriation of funds by the legislature for the construction of a project shall be construed by the commission and the using agency as an expression of legislative intent that the project be completed within the limits of the funds actually appropriated. In the event that the funds appropriated are less than the amount originally requested or if, for any reason, the funds appropriated are less than the amount required for the project as originally submitted to the budget agencies, the commission and the using agency shall jointly confer on ways and means whereby the project cost can be brought within the bounds of the funds appropriated and shall, in such conferences, make every effort to comply with legislative intent with regard to modification of the project from the original request. In the event that it is impossible to modify the project to bring the cost within the amount appropriated, the commission shall notify the using agency that it considers such project as cancelled.

When authorized by the act appropriating funds for a project, the using agency may appeal the decision of the commission to the governor by submitting a request that the project be undertaken as stage construction or that the funds available for such project be supplemented by the transfer of funds appropriated to the same using agency for other projects of equal or lower priority or from the unused contingency reserves of any project of the same using agency. The governor shall, after obtaining the advice of the Legislative Budget Board, rule on such request and if the ruling shall favor the agency, the commission shall proceed with the project.

(c) The legislature may, by specific provision, provide for stage construction of a project and in such event the commission shall proceed with the project through the specifically authorized stage.
Art. 601b  PURCHASING AND GENERAL SERVICES COMMISSION

Fine Arts Projects

Sec. 5.18.  (a) Any using agency which requests a project analysis by the commission, if the cost of the project is estimated to exceed $250,000, may stipulate that a percentage of the original project cost estimate not to exceed one percent shall be used for fine arts projects at or near the site of the building construction project, such as murals, fountains, mosaics, and other aesthetic improvements.

(b) If the expenditures for fine arts are authorized and appropriated by the legislature, the commission shall consult and cooperate with the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities for advice in determining how to utilize the portion of the appropriation to be used for fine arts projects.

(c) It is the intent of the legislature that emphasis be placed on works by living Texas artists whenever feasible. Consideration shall be given to artists of all ethnic origins.

(d) Nothing in this section is intended to limit, restrict, or otherwise prohibit the commission from including expenditures for fine arts in its original project cost estimate.

Fine Arts Projects Exempt Agencies

Sec. 5.19.  (a) Any using agency exempt under Section 5.13 of this article and any county, city, or other political subdivision of this state undertaking a public construction project estimated to cost in excess of $250,000 may designate that a percentage not to exceed one percent of the cost of a public construction project shall be used for fine arts projects at or near the site of the construction project.

(b) The agency or the governing body of a political subdivision may consult and cooperate with the Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities for advice in determining how to use the portion of the cost set aside for fine arts purposes.

(c) The Texas Commission on the Arts and Humanities shall place emphasis on works by living Texas artists whenever feasible, and when consulting with the governing body of a political subdivision, shall place emphasis on works by artists who reside in or near the political subdivision. Consideration shall be given to artists of all ethnic origins.

Preliminary Plans, Working Plans: Specifications

Sec. 5.20.  (a) Preliminary plans and outline specifications and working plans and specifications for all projects shall be prepared either by a private architect/engineer selected and appointed by the commission in accordance with Section 5.22 of this article, or by the professional staff of the commission, provided, however, that a private architect/engineer shall be appointed for any new construction project estimated to cost in excess of $100,000 and for any new construction project for which the using agency requests that a private architect/engineer be selected and appointed. In either case, plans and specifications shall be approved by the commission, and shall not be accepted or used by the using agency without such approval. The commission shall see that plans and specifications (1) are clear and complete; (2) permit execution of the project with appropriate economy and efficiency; and (3) conform with the requirements set forth in the project analysis previously prepared.

(b) The commission shall appoint a design advisory panel to advise the commission and the using agency on the design concept and aesthetic merits of plans submitted by an architect/engineer, provided, however, that the final decision on such matters shall rest with the commission. The design advisory panel shall consist of five persons, two of whom shall be selected from a list of nominees submitted by the Texas Society of Architects, two of whom (one a structural engineer and the other a mechanical-electrical engineer) shall be selected from a list of nominees submitted by the Texas Society of Professional engineers, and one of whom shall be neither an architect nor an engineer and who shall serve as chairman of the panel. Members of the panel shall serve for two years and shall be eligible for reappointment and the commission shall promulgate regulations to provide for an orderly rotation of membership which may specify a shorter term of office for the original appointees. The members of the panel shall serve without compensation, but may be reimbursed for their necessary and actual expenses out of the appropriations to the commission. No member of the panel shall, during the period of his service, advise on any project in which he is employed, retained, or in any manner financially interested. The panel shall have no responsibility for reviewing the plans and specifications other than to the extent set forth in this subsection.

(c) Following final approval of the working plans and specifications and their acceptance by the using agency, the commission shall cause to be advertised in not less than two newspapers of general circulation for bids or proposals for performance of the construction and related work on the project. Subject to the applicable provisions of other law respecting the award of state contracts, the contract or contracts shall be awarded to the qualified bidder making the lowest and best bid; but no contract shall be awarded for a sum in excess of the amount which the comptroller shall certify to be available for such project. The commission shall have the right to reject any and all bids.

(d) Before a contract is awarded for the major repair or renovation of a state structure which has been designated by the Texas Historical Commission as a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark, the commission shall forward to the Texas Historical Commission a copy of the bids received and an evaluation of the qualifications of the bidders. The Texas Historical Commission shall review the bids and qualifications of the bidders and recommend to the commission the bidder to which the award should be made. Based on the recommendation of the Texas Historical Commission, the commission may award the contract to a bidder other than the lowest bidder.

(e) Upon notice and on itemized statements by the commission:

(1) the comptroller shall transfer from each project appropriation to the State Building Construction Planning Fund created by Section 5.24 of this article an amount certified by the commission as sufficient to reimburse the planning fund for prior expenditures on behalf of the project; and

(2) the comptroller shall reserve from each project appropriation an amount estimated by the commission to be sufficient to cover contingencies over and above all amounts obligated by contract or otherwise, for planning, engineering, and architectural work, site acquisition and development, and construction, equipment, and furnishings contracts. The amount so reserved shall be used only upon the following conditions:

(A) that the architect/engineer or the contractor recommend and justify the proposed contingency expenditures by submitting a change order request;

(B) that the proposed change order request be approved by the architect/engineer;

(C) that the proposed change order request be approved by the using agency which shall make formal request for the allocation of funds from the contingency reserve; and

(D) that the director of planning and construction shall investigate the nature of the change order and concur in the necessity of the proposed expenditure or refuse same within 15 days after receiving the request.

In the event the director shall refuse to concur in a proposed contingency expenditure, the using agency may appeal to the commission and the findings of the commission shall be final. The commission shall promulgate regulations setting forth the procedures for such appeals.

If an approved change order shall result in a reduction of construction cost, the contingency reserve shall be increased by the amount of such reduction.

(f) The comptroller of public accounts shall issue warrants in payment of progress payments as well as final payments on construction under this article upon the written approval of the commission.

(g) Any equipment and furnishings not constructed or installed under the construction contract or contracts shall be acquired through regular purchasing channels of the state.

Project Construction Inspection

Sec. 5.21. The commission shall be responsible for protecting the interests of the state during the actual construction of each project covered by the provisions of this article. Construction inspection shall fall into three categories: detailed inspection, general inspection, and professional inspection, as defined and provided for in this section.

(1) Detailed inspection shall mean the close, technical, on-site examination of the materials, structure, and equipment, and surveillance of the workmanship and methods used to insure reasonably that the project is accomplished in compliance with information given by the contract documents and good construction practices by one or more full-time personnel at the project site. The commission shall be the sole judge of when detailed inspection is required and shall base its decision on the size and complexity of the project.

The full cost of detailed inspection shall be a charge against the project.

Detailed inspection shall be exercised by a project construction inspector who shall be appointed by the architect/engineer with the approval of the commission.

The project construction inspector shall:

(A) become thoroughly conversant with the drawings, specifications, details, and general conditions for executing the work;

(B) keep such records of the work as the architect/engineer and the commission may specify and require and make such reports to the architect/engineer with copies to the commission and the using agency as the architect/engineer and the commission may specify and require and maintain copies of these records and reports at the site of construction together with the plans, specifications, shop drawings, change orders, and correspondence dealing with the project;

(C) endeavor to see that the requirements of the contract documents are being carried out by the contractor;

(D) endeavor to see that all authorized changes are properly incorporated in the work and that no changes are made unless properly authorized;

(E) notify the architect/engineer if conditions encountered at the project are at variance with the contract documents and comply with the directives of the architect/engineer in endeavoring to correct these conditions;

(F) review shop drawings in relation to their adaptability to job conditions and advise the architect/engineer in respect thereto;

(G) endeavor to see that materials and equipment furnished are in accordance with the specifications;

(H) see that records are kept, on construction plans, of the principal elements of mechanical and electrical systems;

(I) see that accurate records are kept of all underground utility installations (including existing installations uncovered in the process of con-
Art. 601b  PURCHASING AND GENERAL SERVICES COMMISSION

construction) at the project site so that the information may be recorded on site plans or drawings which may be established and maintained by the commission and/or the using agency;

(J) keep a daily written log of all significant happenings on the job, the log to include the number of workers that worked that particular day and weather conditions that existed during the day;

(K) observe and give prompt written notice to the construction contractor's representative and the architect/engineer of any noncompliance on the part of the contractor's representative with any contract documents and notify the architect/engineer and the commission of any failure to take corrective measures promptly;

(L) initiate, attend, and participate in progress meetings and inspections with the contractor;

(M) review every contractor's invoice against the value of partially completed or completed work and the materials stored at the project site prior to its being forwarded to the architect/engineer and promptly notify the architect/engineer of any discrepancy between his review of the work and the invoice; and

(N) be responsible to the architect/engineer for the proper administration of the duties enumerated herein and comply with other instructions and assignments of the architect/engineer.

(2) General inspection shall mean the examination and inspection of the project at periodic intervals by employees of the commission. On projects where a project construction inspector is employed by an architect/engineer, the general inspector shall work with and through the project construction inspector and the architect/engineer. On all other projects, the general inspector shall work with and through the architect/engineer and shall exercise such detailed inspection functions as the commission may require. The cost of general inspection shall be a charge against the project.

(3) Professional inspection shall mean the periodic examination of all elements of the project to reasonably insure that these meet the performance and design features and the technical and functional requirements of the contract documents. Professional inspection shall be exercised by the architect/engineer or his authorized representative who shall:

(A) assist the commission in obtaining proposals from contractors and in awarding and preparing construction contracts, be responsible for the interpretation of the contract documents and any changes made thereto, and provide such interpretation of the plans and specifications as may be required during the construction phase;

(B) check and approve samples, schedules, shop drawings, and other submissions only for conformance with the design concept of the project and for compliance with the information given by contract documents;

(C) approve or disapprove all change order requests and, subject to the provisions of Section 5.20 of this article, prepare all change orders;

(D) assemble all written guarantees required of the contractors;

(E) make periodic visits to the site of the project to become generally familiar with the progress and quality of the work and to determine in general if the work is proceeding in accordance with the contract documents, the amount of time that such on-site inspections shall entail to be determined by dividing the total compensation for professional services, exclusive of payments for detailed inspection, by 100 with the result being expressed as the number of hours to be devoted to on-site inspections, project conferences with the contractor and others, and travel to and from such inspections and conferences;

(F) make a written inspection report after each visit to the project and send a copy of such report to the contractor and to the commission;

(G) keep the commission informed of the progress of the work and endeavor to guard against defects and deficiencies in the work of contractors;

(H) determine periodically the amount owing to the contractors and recommend payment of such amounts to the commission, the recommendation to constitute a representation to the commission that, based upon observations and other pertinent data, the work has progressed to the point indicated and also to constitute a representation to the commission on the part of the architect/engineer that, to the best of his knowledge, information and belief, the quality of the work is in accordance with the plans, specifications, and contract documents; and

(I) conduct inspections to determine the dates of substantial and final completion and notify the commission and the using agency of findings in this respect.

(4) In the event that the commission requires full-time detailed inspection of the construction of a project, the architect/engineer shall select, subject to the commission's approval, the project construction inspector and shall be responsible for the proper administration of the duties enumerated under Subdivision (1) of this section. He shall pay the salary of the project construction inspector and shall be reimbursed for all such salary costs plus expenses of overhead directly applicable to such salary.

(5) Nothing in Subdivision (3) shall be construed as requiring the architect/engineer to assume responsibility for or to guarantee the complete adherence of the contractor to the plans and specifications and contract documents nor shall anything in Subdivision (3) be construed as requiring that the architect/engineer shall be liable for defects in construction.
(6) It is the responsibility of the architect/engineer to furnish the professional inspection of a project and when a private architect/engineer is employed, the fee paid such architect/engineer shall be deemed to cover professional inspection, provided, however, that such fee shall not be deemed to cover the additional cost of detailed inspection over and above the administrative duties specifically encompassed by Subdivision (4) of this section. In projects where the commission's staff serves as architect/engineer, the commission shall be responsible for professional supervision and the cost of such supervision shall be a charge against the project.

Selection of Architects/Engineers

Sec. 5.22. (a) The commission shall establish and maintain a file of all qualified private architects/engineers who express an interest in state building construction projects. The file shall contain such information as the commission shall deem essential and desirable together with brochures and exhibits submitted by each private architect/engineer. Each private architect/engineer may submit additional brochures, exhibits, and information as he may deem necessary and that may be in accordance with his ethical practice in order that his file shall be current at all times. The files shall be open to the inspection of any using agency.

(b) Ultimate responsibility for the selection of a private architect/engineer employed for any project covered by the provisions of this article shall be vested in the commission. In recognition of the close working relationship which must exist between the architect/engineer and the using agency, the commission shall request the using agency to make recommendations regarding private architects/engineers and the using agency which desires to take advantage of such opportunity shall submit to the commission the names of three private architects/engineers designating its order of preference. Each private architect/engineer may submit additional brochures, exhibits, and information as he may deem necessary and that may be in accordance with his ethical practice in order that his file shall be current at all times. The files shall be open to the inspection of any using agency.

(c) If the using agency does not choose to submit recommendations, it shall request the commission to proceed to select a private architect/engineer in accordance with the generally accepted standards for such selection and in conformity with the ethical standards of the professional societies of such architects/engineers.

Compensation of Architects/Engineers

Sec. 5.23. Private architects/engineers employed by the commission shall be compensated in accordance with the following provisions:

(1) the compensation for new projects and rehabilitation projects shall be established by the commission on the basis of studies of the compensation paid within the state by private clients for projects of comparable size and complexity, provided that such compensation shall not exceed the minimum recommended for similar projects by the Texas Society of Architects in instances where the private architect/engineer is an architect or the minimum recommended by the Texas Society of Professional Engineers in instances where the private architect/engineer is an engineer. The compensation established by the commission shall be deemed to cover all professional services to be rendered by the private architect/engineer including professional inspection as that term is defined in Section 5.21 of this article. On any project where the commission requires detailed inspection, as defined by Section 5.21 of this article, the compensation shall be increased by the actual cost of providing such detailed inspection;

(2) the compensation for preparation of a project analysis as required by Section 5.16 of this article shall not exceed one percent of the estimated cost of construction. In the event the project is approved by the legislature in substantially the form originally requested and the same private architect/engineer is employed for the subsequent phases of design, the compensation paid under this subdivision shall be deducted from the compensation paid under the provisions of Subdivision (1) of this section; and

(3) the state shall furnish detailed information on space requirements and relationships and the justification, for use of, and general requirements to be met by the project. The state shall furnish a complete site survey and soil analysis.

Planning Fund

Sec. 5.24. There is hereby created in the state treasury a special fund to be known as the State Building Construction Planning Fund which shall be used to make payments for engineering, architectural, and other planning expenses necessary to make a project analysis in accordance with the provisions of Section 5.16 of this article. The commission shall authorize all payments made from the planning fund. The payments shall be a first charge against the project for which they were drawn and the amount so paid shall be credited to and transferred to the planning fund at such time as the legislature may approve the project and appropriate funds for its construction.

Final Inspection

Sec. 5.25. (a) The commission shall be responsible for directing final payment for work done on each project. If upon final inspection of any project it shall be found that the plans, specifications, contract, or change orders for the project shall not have been fully complied with, the commission shall, until such compliance shall have been effected or adjustments satisfactory to it shall have been made, refuse to direct such payment.
(b) The final inspection shall consist of an on-site inspection by the architect/engineer, a representative of the commission, a representative of the using agency, and a representative or representatives of the contractor or contractors. The final inspection shall be scheduled by the commission upon notification by the architect/engineer within 10 days after the architect/engineer has notified the commission that the contract has been performed according to the plans and specifications.

(c) Upon completion of the project the commission shall release the same to the using agency. The commission shall be responsible for making an inspection of the project prior to the expiration of the guarantee period to observe any defects which may appear within one year after completion of the contract. The commission shall give prompt written notice to the contractor of defects which are due to faulty materials and workmanship. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as requiring the contractor to assume responsibility for or guarantee any defects other than those due to faulty materials or workmanship or failure on his part to adhere to the contract documents.

Uniform General Conditions

Sec. 5.26. (a) The commission shall adopt and maintain a uniform set of general conditions to be incorporated into all building construction contracts executed by the State of Texas, including those pertaining to projects otherwise excluded from the provisions of this article by Section 5.13 but not including those excluded by Section 5.14 of this article.

(b) The commission shall cause the uniform general conditions of state building construction contracts to be reviewed whenever in its opinion such review is desirable, but in no event less frequently than once every five years. The review shall be made by a committee appointed by the commission consisting of the director of planning and construction who shall serve ex officio as chairman of the committee and who shall vote only in the event of a tie; two persons appointed by the commission from a list of nominees submitted to it by the President of the Texas Society of Architects; two persons appointed by the commission from a list of nominees submitted to it by the President of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers; and two persons appointed by the commission from a list of nominees submitted to it by the Chairman of the Executive Council of the Texas Associated General Contractors Chapters; and two persons appointed by the commission from the list of nominees submitted to it by the Executive Secretary of the Mechanical Contractors Association of Texas, Incorporated. Members of any review committee appointed pursuant to this subsection shall serve without compensation but may be reimbursed for their necessary and actual expenses.
the Texas Department of Community Affairs, shall prepare model energy conservation building codes and make them available for use by cities in enacting or amending their ordinances.

Energy Conservation Manual

Sec. 5.30. (a) The commission shall produce and publish an energy conservation manual for potential use by designers, builders, and contractors of residential and nonresidential buildings. The manual shall be furnished on request at a reasonable price sufficient to cover the costs of printing and help defray research costs in establishing design standards. The manual shall contain the following:

(1) guidelines for energy conservation established by the commission;
(2) forms, charts, tables, and other data to assist designers and builders in meeting the guidelines;
(3) design suggestions for meeting or exceeding the guidelines; and
(4) any other information which the commission finds will assist persons to become familiar with the latest technologies that they might use in meeting the guidelines.

(b) The manual shall be updated periodically as significant new energy conservation information becomes available.

Compilation of Construction and Maintenance Information

Sec. 5.31. (a) For the purpose of providing the governor, the legislature, and the budget offices of the state with current information on the status of state-owned buildings, and for the purpose of obtaining up-to-date information on construction costs, the commission shall biennially obtain from all using agencies a list of all state-owned buildings showing the year of completion, the general type of construction, size, usage, and general condition of each. In addition the commission shall, for all buildings completed from and after the effective date of this Act, obtain from all using agencies data showing the total cost of the project and the cost of construction together with such data as may be necessary to enable a meaningful comparison to be made on the cost of buildings of like nature.

(b) For the purpose of obtaining up-to-date information on maintenance data, the commission shall obtain biennially from all using agencies information necessary for said report.

Solar Energy Use

Sec. 5.32. (a) Any construction of a new state building included in the exceptions prescribed by Section 5.13 of this article is not exempt from this section.

(b) In this section:

(1) “Solar energy” means radiant energy from the sun that may be collected and converted into useful thermal, mechanical, or electrical energy. The term includes biomass energy that is created in living plants through photosynthesis.

(2) “Solar energy device” means a solar collector or solar storage mechanism that collects, stores, or distributes solar energy.

(3) “Solar collector” means an assembly, structure, or design, including passive elements, used to absorb, concentrate, convert, reflect, or otherwise capture or redirect solar energy for subsequent use as thermal, mechanical, or electrical energy.

(4) “Solar storage mechanism” means equipment, components, or elements designed and used to store, for subsequent use, solar energy captured by a solar collector, in the form in which the energy will eventually be used or in an intermediate form. The term includes thermal, electrochemical, chemical, electrical, and mechanical storage mechanisms.

(c) During the planning phase of the proposed construction of a new state building, the commission or, if the construction is included in the exceptions prescribed by Section 5.13 of this article, the governing body of the appropriate agency or institution shall determine the economic feasibility of incorporating solar energy devices for space heating, cooling, water heating, and interior lighting into the building’s design and proposed energy system. Economic feasibility for each function shall be determined by comparing the estimated cost of energy procurement using conventional design practices and energy systems with the estimated cost of using solar energy devices during the economic life of the proposed new building.

(d) If the use of solar energy devices for a particular function is determined to be economically feasible under Subsection (c) of this section, the commission or governing body shall include the use of solar energy devices for that function in the construction plans.

ARTICLE 6. LEASE OF SPACE FOR STATE AGENCIES

Definitions

Sec. 6.01. In this article:

(1) “Commission” means the State Purchasing and General Services Commission.

(2) “State agency” means a board, a commission, a department, an office, or other agency of the state government.

Determinations and Standards

Sec. 6.02. (a) When a state agency needs space to carry on its functions, the head of the agency or his or her designee shall submit a written request for the space to the commission.

(b) After consulting the state agency regarding the amount and type of space requested, the commission shall determine whether a need for the space exists and, if so, the specifications to be used in obtaining the space.

(c) The commission shall adopt standards regarding the uses of and the needs for space by state agencies and the types of space needed by state agencies.

Sharing Space

Sec. 6.03. The commission may consolidate the requests for space of two or more state agencies with similar needs and obtain space and allocate space so that it can be shared by the agencies.

Preference for State-owned Space

Sec. 6.04. In filling a request for space, the commission shall give a preference to available state-owned space.

Leasing Space from Other Sources

Sec. 6.05. (a) When state-owned space is not available and a state agency has verified that it has sufficient funds available to cover a lease of space, the commission may lease space for the agency from another source according to the provisions of this section and the specifications submitted by the state agency.

(b) The space may be leased from another state agency through an interagency contract or from the federal government or a political subdivision, including a county, a municipality, a school district, a water or irrigation district, a hospital district, a council of government, or a regional planning council, through a negotiated contract.

(c) The space may be leased from a private source through competitive bidding whenever possible, but the commission, with the approval of the state agency, may negotiate for the space when competition is not available.

(d) When competitive bidding is used, the commission shall take into consideration moving costs, the cost of time lost in moving, and other factors in determining the lowest and best bid.

The commission shall give full consideration to the agency recommendation and if it does not agree with the agency recommendation, it shall notify the agency in writing. The agency and the commission shall attempt to reach an agreement on the award.

If agreement is not reached within 30 days, all bids and pertinent documents shall be transmitted to the governor who shall designate the bidder to which the award shall be made.

(e) In any contract entered into by the commission for the lease of space under this article, the State of Texas, acting through the commission, is the lessee.

(f) The provisions of the lease contract shall reflect the provisions contained in the invitation for bids, the successful bid, and the award of the contract.

(g) The lease contract may provide for an original term not to exceed 10 years and may include options to renew for as many terms, not to exceed 10 years each, that the commission considers to be in the state's best interest, and when the contract contains no option to renew, the lease may be renewed once according to the same provisions that were in the original contract for a term not to exceed one year, on agreement of the parties.

(h) A lease contract is contingent on the availability of funds appropriated by the legislature to cover the provisions of the lease.

(i) The obligation of the lessor to provide lease space and of the commission to accept the space becomes binding on the award of the contract.

(j) In leasing space for the use of state agencies, the commission shall give first consideration to any structures that have been designated Recorded Texas Historic Landmarks as provided by Section 12, Chapter 470a, Acts of the 55th Legislature, Regular Session, 1974, as amended (Article 6145, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), or that have been listed in the National Register of Historic Places established by 16 U.S.C. Section 470a (1974), or that have been designated landmarks by the local governing authority, if the structure meets requirements and specifications and the cost is not substantially higher than other available structures that meet requirements and specifications.

Elimination of Barriers to Handicapped Persons in State Buildings

Sec. 6.06. The commission may not enter a lease contract under this article unless it complies with the provisions of Article 7 of this Act.

Remedial Action against Lessor

Sec. 6.07. When a state agency occupies lease space and is aware of circumstances concerning the space which require remedial action against the lessor, the agency shall notify the commission, and the commission may investigate the circumstances and the lessor's performance under the contract. When the commission requests the assistance of the attorney general in protecting the state's interest under a lease contract, the attorney general shall assist the commission.
Certification of Funds

Sec. 6.08. At least 60 days before the beginning of each fiscal biennium during the term of a lease contract entered into under this article, the state agency occupying the leased space shall certify to the commission that funds are available to cover the lease.

Option to Purchase

Sec. 6.09. When the commission considers it advisable, the commission may lease space for a state agency by a contract which contains an option for the commission to purchase the space subject to the legislature's appropriation of funds for the purchase. A lease contract containing the option shall show the amount that will be accumulated by the commission and credited toward the purchase at various periods during the term of the lease and the purchase price of the property at the beginning of each fiscal biennium during the term of the lease.

Records

Sec. 6.10. In order to efficiently maintain a space management system, the commission shall maintain records of the amount and cost of space under lease by the commission and may collect other information that it considers necessary. All state agencies shall cooperate with the commission in securing this information.

Exemptions

Sec. 6.11. The provisions of this article do not apply to the acquisition of district office space for members of either house of the legislature or space to be used by the Texas Employment Commission.

Rules

Sec. 6.12. The commission shall promulgate rules necessary to administer its functions under this article.

ARTICLE 7. ARCHITECTURAL BARRIERS

Policy

Sec. 7.01. The provisions of this article are to further the policy of the State of Texas to encourage and promote the rehabilitation of handicapped or disabled citizens and to eliminate, insofar as possible, unnecessary barriers encountered by aged, handicapped, or disabled persons, whose ability to engage in gainful occupations or to achieve maximum personal independence is needlessly restricted when such persons cannot readily use public buildings.

Application

Sec. 7.02. (a) The standards and specifications adopted under this article shall apply to all buildings and facilities used by the public which are constructed in whole or in part by the use of state, county, or municipal funds, or the funds of any political subdivision of the state. To such extent as is not contraindicated by federal law or beyond the state's power of regulation, these standards shall also apply to buildings and facilities constructed in this state through partial or total use of federal funds. All buildings and facilities constructed in this state, or substantially renovated, modified, or altered, after the effective date of this article from any one of these funds or any combination thereof shall conform to each of the standards and specifications adopted under this article except where the governmental department, agency, or unit concerned shall determine, after taking all circumstances into consideration, that full compliance with any particular standard or specification is impracticable. Where it is determined that full compliance with any particular standard or specification is impractical, the reasons for such determination shall be set forth in written form by those making the determination and forwarded to the commission. If it is determined that full compliance is not practicable, there shall be substantial compliance with the standard or specification to the maximum extent practical, and the written record of the determination that it is impractical to comply fully with a particular standard or specification shall also set forth the extent to which an attempt will be made to comply substantially with the standard or specification.

(b) These standards and specifications shall be adhered to in those buildings and facilities under construction on the effective date of this article, unless the authority responsible for the construction shall determine that the construction has reached a state where compliance is impractical. This article shall apply to temporary or emergency construction as well as permanent buildings.

(c) These standards and specifications shall be adhered to in all buildings leased or rented in whole or in part for use by the state under any lease or rental agreement entered into on or after January 1, 1972. To such extent as is not contraindicated by federal law or beyond the power of the state's regulation, these standards shall also apply to buildings or facilities leased or rented for use by the state through partial or total use of federal funds. Facilities which are the subject of lease or rental agreements on January 1, 1972, will not be required to meet standards and specifications for the term of the existing lease or rental agreement but must be brought into compliance before a lease or rental agreement is renewed. Where it is determined by the governmental department, agency, or unit concerned that full compliance with any particular standard is impractical, the reasons for such determination shall be set forth in written form by those making the determination and forwarded to the commission. If it is determined that full compliance is not practical, there shall be substantial compliance with the standard or specification to the maximum extent practical, and the written record of the determination that it is impractical to comply fully with a particular standard or specification shall also set forth the extent to which an attempt will be made to comply substantially with the standard or specification.
Art. 601b PURCHASING AND GENERAL SERVICES COMMISSION 2824

(d) Except as otherwise provided in Subsection (e) of this section, these standards and specifications shall be adhered to in certain privately financed buildings, building elements, and improved areas which are open to public use for education, employment, transportation, or acquisition of goods and services, and which are constructed on or after January 1, 1978, in counties with a population of 45,000 or more. Such facilities include the following:

(1) shopping centers which contain in excess of five separate mercantile establishments; compliance with accessibility standards and specifications relative to toilet rooms shall not apply unless the shopping center elects to have public toilet rooms;

(2) passenger transportation terminals;

(3) theaters and auditoriums having a seating capacity for 200 or more patrons;

(4) hospitals and related medical facilities which provide direct medical service to patients;

(5) nursing homes and convalescent centers;

(6) buildings containing an aggregate total of 20,000 or more square feet of recognizable office floor space;

(7) funeral homes; and

(8) commercial business and trade schools.

(e) The commission shall have the authority to waive or modify accessibility standards and specifications when application of such standards and specifications is considered by the commission to be irrelevant to the nature, use, or function of a building or facility covered by this article. The commission shall not waive or modify any standard or specification when such action would result in a significant impairment of the acquisition of goods and services by handicapped persons or substantially reduce the potential for employment of handicapped persons. All evidence supporting waiver or modification determinations made by the commission shall be made a matter of record and become part of the file system maintained by the commission.

Scope

Sec. 7.03. (a) This article is concerned with nonambulatory disabilities, semiambulatory disabilities, sight disabilities, hearing disabilities, disabilities of coordination, and aging.

(b) It is intended to make all buildings and facilities covered by this article accessible to, and functional for, the physically handicapped to, through, and within their doors, without loss of function, space, or facilities where the general public is concerned.

Definitions

Sec. 7.04. For the purpose of this article the following terms have the meanings as herein set forth:

(1) “Nonambulatory disabilities” means impairments that, regardless of cause or manifestation, for all practical purposes, confine individuals to wheelchairs.

(2) “Semiambulatory disabilities” means impairments that cause individuals to walk with difficulty or insecurity. Individuals using braces or crutches, amputees, arthritis, spastics, and those with pulmonary and cardiac ills may be semiambulatory. The listing here made is illustrative and shall not be construed as being exhaustive.

(3) “Sight disabilities” means total blindness or impairments affecting sight to the extent that the individual functioning in public areas is insecure or exposed to danger.

(4) “Hearing disabilities” means deafness or hearing handicaps that might make an individual insecure in a public area because he is unable to communicate or hear warning signals.

(5) “Disabilities of coordination” means faulty coordination or palsy from brain, spinal, or peripheral nerve injury.

(6) “Aging” means those manifestations of the aging processes that significantly reduce mobility, flexibility, coordination, and perceptiveness but are not accounted for in the aforementioned categories.

Responsibilities for Enforcement

Sec. 7.05. (a) The responsibility for administration and enforcement of this article shall reside primarily in the commission, but the commission shall have the assistance of appropriate state rehabilitation agencies in carrying out its responsibilities under this article. State agencies involved in extending direct services to disabled or handicapped persons are authorized to enter into interagency contracts with the commission to provide such additional funding as might be required to insure that service objectives and responsibilities of such agencies are achieved through the administration of this article. In enforcing this article the commission shall also receive the assistance of all appropriate elective or appointive state officials. The commission shall from time to time inform professional organizations and others of this law and its application.

(b) The commission shall have all necessary powers to require compliance with its rules and regulations and modifications thereof and substitutions therefor, including powers to institute and prosecute proceedings in the district court to compel such compliance, and shall not be required to pay any entry or filing fee in connection with the institution of such proceedings. The commission or a handicapped person who seeks injunctive relief to obtain compliance with the rules and regulations shall first notify a person responsible for the building and allow that person 90 days to bring the building into compliance. The commission shall have the authority to extend the 90-day period when circumstances justify such extension.
(c) The commission is authorized to promulgate such rules and regulations as might reasonably be required to implement and enforce this article. The standards and specifications to be adopted by the commission under this article shall be consistent in effect to those adopted by the American National Standards Institute, Inc. (or its federally recognized successor in function), and the commission shall publish the standards and specifications in a readily accessible form for the use of interested parties.

(d) All plans and specifications for construction of buildings subject to the provisions of this article shall be submitted to the commission for review and approval prior to bidding and award of contract in accordance with rules and regulations adopted by the commission. Likewise, any substantial modification of approved plans shall be resubmitted to the commission for review and approval.

(e) The commission may review plans and specifications, make inspections, and issue certifications that structures not otherwise covered by this article are free of architectural barriers and in compliance with the provisions of this article. The commission is authorized to charge a fee, not to exceed $100, for review of plans and specifications, inspection, and certification of each privately owned building or facility.

(f) With respect to buildings and facilities that are under the jurisdiction and control of The University of Texas Board of Regents, the responsibility for administration and enforcement of this article shall reside in such governing board, and in the discharge of such responsibility the governing board shall have the same responsibilities, duties, powers, and authority that are herein imposed on and delegated to the commission with respect to all other buildings and facilities covered by this article.

ARTICLE 8. PROPERTY ACCOUNTING

Property Accounting System

Sec. 8.01. (a) All real and personal property belonging to the state shall be accounted for by the head of the agency which has possession of the property.

(b) The commission shall administer the property accounting system. The state auditor shall administer the property responsibility system. The commission shall issue rules and regulations and a manual of instruction and prescribe such records, reports, and forms necessary to accomplish the objects of this article subject to the approval of the state auditor. The state auditor is directed to cooperate with the commission in the exercise of the commission's rule-making powers herein granted by giving technical assistance and advice.

(c) The commission shall maintain a complete and accurate set of centralized records of state property. Where the commission finds that an agency has demonstrated its ability and competence to maintain complete and accurate detailed records of the property it possesses without the detailed supervision by the commission, it may direct that the detailed records be kept at the principal office of such agency. Where the commission issues such order, it shall keep only summary records of the property of such agency and the agency shall keep such detailed records as the commission directs and furnish the commission with such reports at such times as directed by the commission.

(d) Each agency head shall cause each item of state property possessed by his agency to be marked so as to identify it. The agency head shall follow the instructions issued by the commission in marking state property.

Responsibility for Property Accounting

Sec. 8.02. (a) All state agencies shall comply with the provisions of this article and keep the property records required.

(b) All real property owned by the state shall be accounted for by the agency which possesses the property. Except as herein provided, each agency shall maintain a record of each item of real property it possesses that shall include the following information, to be furnished upon request to the commission as part of the agency's annual inventory under Section 8.03(f) of this Act:

(1) a description of each item of property by reference to a volume number, and page or image number or numbers of the official public records of real property in a particular county, or where not applicable, by a legal description;

(2) the date of purchase of the property, where applicable;

(3) the purchase price of the property, where applicable;

(4) the name of the agency holding title to the property for the state; and

(5) a description of the uses of the property.

However, where the description of real property required by this subsection would be excessively voluminous, as in the case of highway right-of-way or park land, the commission may direct the agency in possession of that real property to furnish such description only in summary form, as agreed to by the commission and the agency involved. In addition, the real property administered by the General Land Office shall be accounted for by that office and the permanent funds estate. All other real property administered by the permanent funds estate established by the legislature and people shall be accounted for by the agency now charged with its administration and not by the system prescribed herein. Neither the General Land Office nor the agency charged with administration of the permanent funds estate shall be required to furnish the commission with the records described in this subsection.

(c) All personal property owned by the state shall be accounted for by the agency that possesses the property. The commission shall by regulation define what is meant by personal property for the purposes of this article, but such definition shall not include nonconsumable personal property having a value of $250 or less per unit. In promulgating such regulations, the commission shall take into account the value of the property, its expected useful life, and if the cost of record keeping bears a reasonable relationship to the cost of the property on which records are kept. The commission shall consult with the state auditor in making such regulations and the auditor shall cooperate with the commission in the exercise of this rulemaking power by giving technical assistance and advice.

(d) All medical, surgical, and technical equipment and supplies provided by the Texas Department of Health to local public health units, local public health laboratories, state institutions, and nonprofit institutions, contributing to the promotion and maintenance of public health by the usage of such medical, surgical, and technical equipment and supplies shall be accounted for by that department and not by the system prescribed in this article. The Texas Department of Health shall maintain at all times a complete record of such medical, surgical, and technical equipment and supplies provided and such records shall be verified by the state auditor and available to the federal auditors for the agency of the federal government making such grants for assistance in the purchase of such medical, surgical, and technical equipment and supplies.

Property Manager: Property Inventory

Sec. 8.03. (a) Each agency head is responsible for the proper custody, care, maintenance, and safekeeping of the state property possessed by his agency.

(b) Each agency head shall designate either himself or one of his employees as property manager. The commission shall be informed in writing by the agency head of the name of the property manager and shall be informed of any changes. Where the commission finds that convenience and efficiency will be served, it may permit more than one property manager to be appointed by the agency head.

(c) The property manager shall maintain the required records on all property possessed by the agency and shall be the custodian of all such property.

(d) No person shall entrust state property to any state official or employee or to anyone else to be used for other than state purposes.

(e) When an agency's property is entrusted to some person other than the property manager, the property manager shall require a written receipt for such property executed by the person receiving custody of the property. When the possession of property of one agency is entrusted to another agency on loan, such transfer shall be done only when authorized in writing by the agency head who is lending such property and the written receipt shall be executed by the agency head who is borrowing such property. The property manager is relieved of the responsibility for property which is the subject of such a receipt.

(f) Each agency shall make a complete physical inventory of all property in its possession once a year. The inventory shall be taken on the date prescribed for the agency by the commission.

(g) The agency head shall forward a signed statement describing the method by which the inventory was verified, along with a copy of such inventory, within 45 days after the inventory date for the agency.

(h) The commission shall supervise the property records of each agency so that the records accurately reflect the property currently possessed by the agency. The commission shall prescribe the methods whereby items of property are deleted from the property records of the agency. Property that has become surplus or obsolete and not longer serviceable and has been turned over to the commission for disposal under the laws relating thereto shall be deleted from the records of the agency upon the authorization of the commission. Property that is missing from the agency or property that is disposed of directly by the agency in a legal manner shall be deleted from the commission's records upon the authorization of the state auditor.

Change of Property Managers

Sec. 8.04. When there is a change in agency heads or property managers, the incoming agency head or property manager shall execute a receipt for all agency property accounted for to the outgoing agency head or property manager. A copy of such receipt shall be delivered to the commission, the state auditor, and the outgoing agency head or property manager. No further warrants in favor of the outgoing agency head or property manager shall be drawn or paid until the state auditor has certified that the agency property has been properly accounted for. The state auditor may make this certification without requiring that a physical inventory be taken.

Liability for Property Loss

Sec. 8.05. Where agency property disappears, whether through theft or other cause, as a result of the failure of the agency head, property manager, or agency employee entrusted with the property in writing to exercise reasonable care for its safekeeping, such person shall be pecuniarily liable to the state for the loss thus sustained by the state. Where agency property deteriorates as a result of the failure of the agency head, property manager, or agency employee entrusted with the property in writing to exercise reasonable care to maintain and service the property, such person shall be pecuniarily liable to the state for the loss thus sustained by the state. Where agency property is damaged or destroyed as a result of an intentional wrongful act or of a negligent act of any state official or employee, such person shall be pecuniarily liable to the state.
for the loss thus sustained by the state. The liability prescribed by this section may be found to attach to more than one person in a particular instance; in such cases, the liability shall be joint and several.

Section 8.06. When any state property has been lost, destroyed, or damaged through the negligence or fault of any state official or employee, the agency head responsible for such property shall immediately report such loss, destruction, or damage to the state auditor. Upon learning in any manner of such property loss, destruction, or damage, the state auditor shall investigate the matter. If the investigation discloses that an injury has been sustained by the state through the fault of a state official or employee, the agency shall make written demand upon such state official or employee for reimbursement to the state for the loss so sustained.

Section 8.07. In case the demand made by the state auditor for reimbursement for property loss, destruction, or damage is refused or disregarded by the state official or employee upon whom such demand is made, the state auditor shall report the facts to the attorney general. If, after an investigation of the facts, the attorney general finds that legal liability may be adjudged against the state official or employee, he shall take such legal action to recover the monetary loss of the state property occasioned by the loss, damage, or destruction as in his opinion may be deemed necessary. Venue for all such suits instituted against a state official or employee shall lie in the courts of appropriate jurisdiction of Travis County.

Failure to Keep Records

Section 8.08. When any agency fails to keep the records required under the provisions of this article or fails to take the annual physical inventory, the commission shall so inform the comptroller and the comptroller may refuse to draw any warrants on behalf of such agency.

Transfer of Personal Property

Section 8.09. (a) Any state agency is authorized to transfer any personal property of the state under its control or jurisdiction to any other state agency with or without reimbursement between the agencies; provided, however, that the provisions of this article shall not apply to any real property.

(b) When any personal property under the control or jurisdiction of one state agency is transferred to the control or jurisdiction of any other state agency, such transfers shall be immediately and simultaneously reported to the commission by the transferor and the transferee on forms prescribed by the commission, and it shall adjust the inventory records of the agencies involved in making the transfer. Whenever any transfer is made with reimbursement from funds deposited in the state treasury, the transferee shall issue a voucher payable to the transferee, and the comptroller of public accounts shall issue warrants for reimbursement.

Section 8.10. Each agency head shall distribute a copy of this article to each official and employee of his agency and shall give a copy to each new employee of the agency.

ARTICLE 9. SURPLUS AND SALVAGE PROPERTY

Definitions

Section 9.01. As used in this article:

1. “Comptroller” means the comptroller of public accounts.
2. “Auditor” means the state auditor.
3. “Property” means personal property, and does not mean real property, or any interest in real property. Personal property affixed to real property may be sold under this law if its removal and disposition is to carry out a lawful objective under this law or any other law.
4. “Surplus property” means any personal property which is in excess of the needs of any state agency and which is not required for its foreseeable needs. Surplus property may be used or new but possesses some usefulness for the purpose for which it was intended or for some other purpose.
5. “Salvage property” means any personal property which through use, time, or accident is so depleted, worn out, damaged, used, or consumed that it has no value for the purpose for which it was originally intended.

Establishment of Procedures

Section 9.02. The commission shall establish and maintain procedures for the transfer, sale, or disposal of surplus and salvage property no longer needed by state agencies.

Mailing Lists of Political Subdivisions

Section 9.03. The commission shall maintain a mailing list, renewable annually, of political subdivision purchasing agents or other officers performing similar functions who have asked for information on surplus or salvage equipment or material the state may have available.

Disposition of Surplus or Salvage Property

Section 9.04. (a) All state agencies that determine they have surplus or salvage property shall inform the commission of the kind, number, location, condition, original cost or value, and date of acquisition of the property.

(b) When a state agency reports to the commission that it has surplus or salvage equipment or material, the commission shall inform other state agencies and political subdivisions of the existence, kind, number, location, and condition of the equipment or material.

(c) When notified of surplus or salvage property, a state agency may negotiate directly with the reporting state agency for an interagency transfer of the property at a mutually agreed upon value. If a transfer is made, the participating agencies shall report the transaction to the comptroller and the commission. The comptroller shall debit and credit the proper appropriations and the commission shall adjust the state inventory records if inventoried property is transferred.

(d) A political subdivision shall notify the commission within 30 days from the date of the notice if it desires to negotiate for surplus or salvage equipment or material.

(e) If no state agency negotiates an interagency transfer of the equipment or material within 30 days from the date of the notice, and if the commission determines that the equipment or material will not satisfy a state need, the commission may authorize the sale or transfer of surplus or salvaged equipment or material to any political subdivision which has expressed a desire to negotiate.

(f) The commission shall adopt rules and regulations to govern occasions when more than one political subdivision expresses a desire to negotiate for the same surplus or salvage equipment or material. The commission may adopt other necessary rules and regulations to govern the sale or transfer of surplus or salvage equipment and material to political subdivisions.

(g) If no state agency negotiates an interagency transfer of the equipment or material within 30 days from the date of the notice and no political subdivision has expressed a desire to negotiate, or if one or more political subdivisions has expressed a desire to negotiate but is unable to negotiate a sale or transfer of the equipment or material within 40 days from the date of the notice, the commission may offer the equipment or material to the organization known as the Texas Partners of the Alliance, a registered agency with the Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid with the approval of the Partners of the Alliance office of the Agency for International Development. The equipment or material shall be offered at its fair market value as determined by mutual agreement between the commission and the Texas Partners of the Alliance.

(h) If the Texas Partners of the Alliance do not accept the offer within 60 days, or if the commission and the Texas Partners of the Alliance cannot agree on the fair market value of the equipment or material, the commission shall sell or dispose of the equipment or material as otherwise provided by this article.

Alternative Disposition of Surplus or Salvage Property

Sec. 9.05. (a) If surplus or salvage property is not disposed of under the provisions of Section 9.04 of this article, the commission shall sell the property by competitive bid or auction or delegate to the state agency having possession of the property the authority to sell the property on a competitive bid basis.

(b) If the value of any property or lot of property to be sold is estimated to be over $1,000, the sale shall be advertised at least one time in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the vicinity where the property is located by the commission or the state agency delegated authority to sell the property.

(c) When the commission sells any surplus or salvage property it shall report the item sold and the sale price to the agency that declared such property as surplus or salvage.

(d) All agencies for whom surplus or salvage property is sold or who sell surplus or salvage property under authorization of the commission shall report the sale together with the prices realized to the comptroller; and if the property is on the state inventory the commission shall remove it from the inventory.

(e) The proceeds from the sale of any surplus or salvage property less the cost of advertising the sale shall be deposited to the credit of the item of appropriation to the agency for whom the sale was made. A portion of the proceeds from the sale of any surplus or salvage property equal to the cost of advertising the sale shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the item of appropriation to the commission from which such cost was expended.

Destruction of Surplus or Salvage Property

Sec. 9.06. If the commission cannot sell or dispose of any property reported to it as surplus or salvage it may order the property destroyed as worthless salvage and report the destruction to the declaring agency. The destruction of salvage shall authorize the commission to remove reported property from the state inventory if on the state inventory. Authorization by the commission to delete salvage items not its own from the state inventory shall not be required. It is not the intention of this section to alter, enlarge, or amend the law providing for the deletion from inventory upon the authorization of the auditor of property that is missing from any agency.

Maximum Return from Disposition of Surplus or Salvage Property

Sec. 9.07. The commission shall at all times try to realize the maximum return to the state in the sale and disposal of surplus and salvage property. It shall maintain a list of prospective buyers of surplus and salvage property and it may in all cases reject any or all offers if it finds rejection to be in the best interests of the state. It shall cooperate with all state agencies in a continuing program of surplus and salvage property evaluation to minimize losses from accumulations and it shall cooperate at all times with the auditor in surplus and salvage property analysis.

Obtaining Good Title to Surplus or Salvage Property

Sec. 9.08. Any purchaser of surplus or salvage property at a sale made by the commission or by any agency under authorization of the commission shall obtain good title to any property purchased if the purchaser has in good faith complied with the conditions of the sale and the applicable rules and regulations of the commission.

Rules, Reports, Forms

Sec. 9.09. The commission is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations and prescribe reports and forms necessary to accomplish the purposes of this article subject to the approval of the state auditor.

Disposition of Property by Legislature

Sec. 9.10. The provisions of this article do not apply to the disposition of surplus property by either house of the legislature pursuant to a system of disposition provided for in the rules and regulations of the administration committee of each house. If surplus property of either house is sold, proceeds of the sale shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the expense fund of that house.

Purchase of Legislative Chairs

Sec. 9.11. A legislator may purchase the executive chair used by the legislator on the floor of the legislature if:

(1) the legislator has not been reelected; and
(2) the legislator pays into the state treasury the commission’s estimate of the fair market value of replacement equipment.

This section does not limit a legislator’s right to purchase state-owned equipment in any other manner.

Property Used as Trade-in

Sec. 9.12. A state agency may offer surplus or salvage property as a trade-in on new property of the same general type when such exchange is in the best interests of the state.

Exemption

Sec. 9.13. For purposes of this article the terms “surplus” and “salvage” shall not apply to products and by-products of research, forestry, agricultural, livestock, and industrial enterprises in excess of that quantity required for consumption by the producing agency when such agencies have a continuing and adequate system of marketing research and sales, the efficiency of which shall be certified to the commission by the state auditor. A qualifying agency shall furnish the commission with a copy of the rules and regulations and latest revisions thereof promulgated by the policy-making body of each agency or institution for the guidance and administration of the programs enumerated herein. When requested by such agency or institution to do so, the commission shall dispose of the property as provided for in this article.

Authorization of Agencies to Dispose of Property

Sec. 9.14. The commission may authorize an agency to dispose of surplus or salvage property where the agency demonstrates to the commission its ability to make such disposition under the rules and regulations set up by the commission, as provided for herein. State eleemosynary institutions and agencies of higher learning shall be excepted from the terms of this article.

Disposition of Wastepaper

Sec. 9.15. The commission shall establish and maintain in each public building under its control facilities for collecting separately from all other wastes all the wastepaper disposed of in that building. The commission shall sell the wastepaper for recycling purposes to the highest bidder.

The account shall be used as a depository for funds received from entities served and as a source of funds to purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire services, supplies, and equipment, and to pay salaries, wages, and other costs directly attributable to the provisions and operations of the system.

(c) In order to provide an adequate cash flow as may be necessary for purposes of this article, using state agencies and other entities, upon proper notification, shall make monthly payments into the telecommunications revolving fund account from appropriated or other available funds. The legislature may appropriate funds for the operation of the system directly to the commission. In that case the revolving fund shall be used to receive funds due from local government entities and other agencies to the extent that their funds are not subject to legislative appropriation.

(b) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to State-paid judges. The State is not required to pay any contributions of State-paid judges under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act. However, the Legislature may provide in the General Appropriations Act for the State payment of State-paid judges' contributions under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act at any rate and on any amount of State-paid compensation that it considers appropriate. There is imposed on the services of State-paid judges which are covered by an agreement with the Secretary of Health and Human Services a contribution with respect to wages (as defined in Section 1(a) of this Act) equal to the amount of the employee tax which would be imposed by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act if such services constituted employment within the meaning of that Act. Any contributions in excess of the State payment, if any, prescribed by the General Appropriations Act are the obligations of the State-paid judges.

(c) Such contributions shall be paid to the Social Security Trust Fund from the respective funds from which covered employees receive their compensation.

(d) The Comptroller of Public Accounts may prorate the State's projected contribution to each employee over the portion of the calendar year that the employee’s salary is subject to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act to equalize monthly contributions from the employee during the portion of the year that the salary continues to be subject to FICA taxes.

Contributions by State Employees

Sec. 5. (a) Except as provided by Subsection (b) of this section, the State is required to pay all contributions under this program except that portion of the employee tax which would be imposed by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act if such services constituted employment within the meaning of that Act that is in excess of 5.85 percent of wages, such wages not to exceed $16,500 in a calendar year. Except as provided by this subsection, any contributions in excess of 5.85 percent of wages, such wages not to exceed $16,500 in any calendar year, are the obligation of the employee. The Legislature may provide in the General Appropriations Act for the payment of employee contributions under this program in excess of the amounts required by this subsection. The Legislature may provide for payment at any rate equal to or greater than 5.85 percent of wages and payment computed on any wage base equal to or greater than $16,500 in any calendar year. If the Legislature provides for State payment of employee contributions in excess of the amounts required by this subsection, a State employee is obligated to pay only the difference between the amount the Legislature provides and the amount required by federal law.

(b) Subsection (a) of this section does not apply to State-paid judges. The State is not required to pay any contributions of State-paid judges under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act. However, the Legislature may provide in the General Appropriations Act for the State payment of State-paid judges' contributions under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act at any rate and on any amount of State-paid compensation that it considers appropriate. There is imposed on the services of State-paid judges which are covered by an agreement with the Secretary of Health and Human Services a contribution with respect to wages (as defined in Section 1(a) of this Act) equal to the amount of the employee tax which would be imposed by the Federal Insurance Contributions Act if such services constituted employment within the meaning of that Act. Any contributions in excess of the State payment, if any, prescribed by the General Appropriations Act are the obligations of the State-paid judges.

(c) Such contributions shall be paid to the Social Security Trust Fund from the respective funds from which covered employees receive their compensation.

(4) In those instances in which State employees are paid from funds not in the State Treasury, the department head at the end of each month shall certify to the proper disbursing officer the total amount of the State's contributions based upon compensation paid the employees. The disbursing officer shall pay that amount to the State Treasurer as custodian of the Social Security Trust Fund. The State Treasurer shall deposit the amounts in the Social Security Trust Fund. A copy of the department heads' certification in these instances shall be given to the State Agency at the same time the original is certified to the disbursing officer. These copies shall be on forms prescribed by the State Agency.

Monthly reports and contributions shall be received by the State Agency on or before the sixth State working day of the month in which the report and contributions are required to be submitted to the Federal Social Security Administration. Quarterly reports and contributions are due and must be received by the State Agency on or before the 15th State working day of the month preceding the month in which the report and contributions are due to the Federal Social Security Administration. Contributions received after the day payment is due and wage reports received after the due date are delinquent and the reporting entity shall pay interest for each and every calendar day of delinquency including the day the delinquent contributions and reports are received by the State Agency. The interest rate shall be at the same rate as the interest rate charged by the Federal Social Security Administration for delinquent payment of contributions. Interest on delinquent contributions shall be deposited in the State Social Security Administration Fund.

State Social Security Administration Fund

Sec. 8. There is hereby created a special fund, separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this State, to be known as the State Social Security Administration Fund. The State Treasurer shall be treasurer and custodian of the fund and shall administer it in accordance with directions from the State Agency. Money deposited in this fund shall be disbursed upon warrants issued by the Comptroller of Public Accounts pursuant to sworn vouchers executed by the State Agency acting through the executive director or personnel of the agency to whom he expressly delegates this function. Sunset Provision

Art. 695o. AFDC Education and Employment Act

Text of article effective until August 31, 1983

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the AFDC Education and Employment Act.

Findings and Purposes

Sec. 2. The legislature finds and declares as follows:

(1) There are more than 90,000 households receiving assistance through the AFDC program. More than 9 of the 10 (96%) AFDC households are headed by women. The State of Texas spends more than substantial funds in providing approximately $3,600 annually in assistance and services, which include: financial grants, food stamps, day care, medical services, and administrative overhead. Past efforts directed at assisting AFDC heads of families to be economically self-sufficient have had limited effect in reducing the welfare rolls.

(2) AFDC caretakers have many handicaps when entering the job market. Lacking marketable skills, they are relegated to low-paying jobs. Thus, there is often an economic disincentive to go to work. The vast majority of AFDC caretakers are unable to earn enough income to offset childcare and transportation expenses. Because of sexual and racial discrimination, job availability is limited to a narrow range of career choices, many of which do not offer as much as the federally established minimum wage. A majority of AFDC caretakers have not attained an adequate education. Chances of effective employment are reduced.

(3) A viable solution is a Texas AFDC Employment and Education Pilot Project established by this Act. This pilot project will provide the necessary experience and basis to give new direction to Texas and national AFDC welfare policies. It is the intention of this legislation to provide assistance to AFDC recipients in obtaining employment experience and skills training from postsecondary vocational training institutions, community colleges, universities, C.E.T.A. (the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act), skills centers, industry, on-the-job training, and other related employment, education, and social service agencies.

AFDC Education and Employment Pilot Project

Sec. 3. (a) The AFDC Education and Employment Pilot Project is established. The pilot project is administered by the State Department of Public Welfare, and the department shall adopt the rules necessary for its implementation consistent with this Act.

(b) The purpose of the pilot project is to develop an effective means of assisting and encouraging persons who are receiving AFDC assistance to become self-sufficient members of society by providing them with vocational and general educational opportunities and with assistance in obtaining and retaining employment. In this Act, "AFDC" means aid to families with dependent children authorized under The Public Welfare Act of 1941, as amended (Article 695c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).1

(c) The pilot project is financed with state money, to the extent provided by legislative appropriation, and with any federal money obtained for the purpose. The department may also accept private grants and donations for the pilot project.

(d) To qualify for participation in the pilot project, a person must be eligible to receive AFDC assistance from the department.

1 Repealed; see, now, Human Resources Code.

Education Component

Sec. 4. (a) As a component of the pilot project, the department shall develop an education program designed to provide occupational and general education for persons participating in the pilot project, using, to the extent practicable, community colleges, colleges, universities, and other educational institutions in this state that elect to participate in the education program. Participation of an educational institution in the education program is subject to the approval of the department. The department shall consult with participating educational institutions in developing curricula for the education program.
(b) The department may reimburse participating educational institutions for all or any part of the costs of providing educational services under the program established by this section.

(c) In developing the education program, the department shall emphasize training in skills or trades that offer the opportunity for earning power in excess of the federal minimum wage, as illustrated by, but not limited to, welding, carpentry, electronics, data processing, paraprofessional work, and machinist trades.

Employment Component

Sec. 5. (a) As a component of the pilot project, the department, after consultation with the Texas Employment Commission, shall develop an employment program designed to assist persons participating in the pilot project in obtaining and retaining employment and to provide them with on-the-job training.

(b) The department shall establish a number of pilot sites in both rural and urban areas of the state to administer the program on a local level. The department may contract with private nonprofit corporations to administer the site offices.

(c) The site offices may contract with employers, prospective employers, or labor unions to provide on-the-job training or apprenticeships for project participants. In placing project participants in positions in which they receive on-the-job training, the site offices shall emphasize training in the kind of skills and trades specified in Section 4(c) of this Act.

(d) The site offices may contract or enter into cooperative agreements with other publicly financed employment programs to provide job-placement services.

(e) In staffing the site offices, the department or nonprofit corporation shall employ, to the greatest extent practicable, persons who are eligible to receive AFDC assistance from the department and who have the knowledge and experience required for the positions.

(f) Each site office shall attempt to place each participant in employment commensurate with his ability, training, and experience.

Sec. 6. Within any limitations imposed under federal law, child care, health services, transportation, and other welfare services to which a person was entitled at the time he became a participant in the pilot project are continued after he obtains employment for the period of time and to the extent the department determines necessary to allow the person to adjust to the demands of a self-sufficient life. The department by rule shall establish standards for determining when and to what extent the services are discontinued.

Advisory Committee

Sec. 7. (a) The Commissioner of Public Welfare, with approval of the State Board of Public Welfare, shall appoint eight persons to serve as members of an advisory committee for the pilot project. Vacancies on the advisory committee are filled in the same manner.

(b) In making the appointments to the advisory committee, the commissioner shall give consideration to the ethnic and sexual makeup of the state in an effort to achieve fair representation and shall attempt to appoint at least one person from business, labor, local government, and the general public.

(c) Advisory committee members serve for the duration of the pilot project and receive no compensation.

(d) The advisory committee shall elect a chairman from among its members. The commissioner shall designate one member to serve as chairman until the committee elects a chairman. The committee meets at the call of the chairman at the place specified in the call.

(e) Each member of the advisory committee is entitled to reimbursement for actual and necessary traveling and lodging expenses incurred in attending meetings of the committee.

(f) The advisory committee shall monitor and evaluate the pilot project and report to the department in the manner prescribed by department rule. The committee may include recommendations in its report.

(g) The department shall provide technical and administrative assistance to the advisory committee.

Annual Report

Sec. 8. The department shall prepare an annual report evaluating the pilot project.

Sec. 3. (a) Any issuer may provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of public securities that such public securities may be in a form:

(1) having appertaining thereto coupons and being unregistrable;

(2) having appertaining thereto coupons and being registrable as to principal only; or

(3) being fully registrable. Such proceedings may provide that public securities of the same issue or series may be of one or more of such types and may be exchangeable in whole or in part for one or more of such types.

(b) Any issuer may also provide in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of public securities that such public securities shall be in a form having initially appertaining thereto coupons and being permitted to become fully registrable in accordance with Section 5 of this Act.

(c) Public securities may be issued in any denomination or denominations, provided that if such public securities are authorized to be in a denomination or denominations in excess of $1,000, they shall be in a denomination or denominations that are multiples of $1,000.

Sec. 4. If the proceedings authorizing public securities provide that such securities can be fully registrable, the registrar thereof shall be the comptroller or a banking corporation or association at which the principal of such public securities shall be payable. They may be registered under such reasonable rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith as such proceedings may provide.

Comptroller as Registrar: Attachment or Removal of Coupons

Sec. 5. If the comptroller of public accounts is named the registrar in proceedings authorizing the issuance of public securities, in accordance with such proceedings such public securities may be originally issued with coupons appertaining thereto and subsequently become fully registrable by the removal by the comptroller of the coupons appertaining thereto upon the presentation of the securities to the comptroller, and may be originally issued fully registrable and subsequently become public securities with coupons appertaining thereto by attachment of the coupons appertaining thereto by the comptroller upon presentation of such securities to the comptroller. Such attachment and removal may occur successively from time to time. No matured coupon will be attached or reattached by the comptroller.

Exchange or Change in Form of Securities

Sec. 6. (a) If the proceedings authorizing the issuance of public securities provide or have heretofore provided that such public securities having appertaining thereto coupons or being fully registrable may be exchanged or such public securities change form by attachment or removal of coupons in accordance with Section 5 hereof, and such public securities on initial issuance are approved by the attorney general and registered by the comptroller, upon exchange or their change in form by attachment or removal of coupons in accordance with this Act, it shall not be necessary for the attorney general to again approve and it shall not be necessary for the comptroller to again register such public securities, resulting from such exchange or change in form, but the public securities resulting from such exchange or change in form shall as a matter of law be considered as having been approved by the attorney general and registered by the comptroller.

(b) If such public securities are exchanged, the registrar shall cause to be placed on the public securities received in exchange an appropriate address, the comptroller shall notify all places of payment with reference to such change or changes.

(b) In the event application is made to the comptroller for the replacement of damaged, destroyed, lost, or stolen bonds, pursuant to Chapter 334, Acts of the 59th Legislature, Regular Session, 1965 (Article 715a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), and any such bond or bonds as described in said application do not appear in the comptroller’s records in the form and bear the identity as originally registered by the comptroller, the applicant for such replacement shall furnish the comptroller a chronology of the changes from the original, registered form and identity as to enable the comptroller, under regulations promulgated by him to effect such purpose, to trace the changes in form and identity by such chronology, of such bond or bonds into the original, registered form and identity.

Cost and Expenses for Registration and Exchange of Securities

Sec. 8. Where the proceedings authorizing public securities provide for public securities to be fully registrable whether initially or through exchange or conversion, such proceedings shall provide to the extent the issuer is to pay the cost and expenses in connection with the registration and exchange of such public securities including the fees of the registrar therein named. The comptroller shall adopt reasonable regulations for his performing the services provided for herein, and shall publish a schedule of fees for performing such services.

Cumulative Effect; Conflicting Provisions

Sec. 9. (a) The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of all laws or parts of laws, general or special, and specifically are not intended to qualify the Texas Uniform Commercial Code or limit the negotiability of public securities as provided therein.

(b) In the event of conflict between the provisions of this Act and the provisions of any city charter the provisions of this Act shall prevail.

Severability

Sec. 10. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person, political subdivision, or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision or application of this Act, which can be given effect without the invalid provisions or application, and to this end the provisions of the Act are declared to be severable. Art. 717j–1. Texas Uniform Facsimile Signature of Public Officials Act

Definitions

Section 1. As used in this Act:

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1(a) to 1(c)]

(d) “Authorized officer” means any official of this state, its political subdivisions, or any department, agency, or other instrumentality of this state or its political subdivisions whose signature to a public security, eligible contract, instrument of payment or certificate of assessment is required or permitted. [See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1(e)]

(f) "Eligible contract" means any written contract, purchase order, surety bond, or other written evidence of agreement and any application, certificate, approval, or other document related thereto (other than a public security or instrument of payment) executed, authenticated, certified, or endorsed for or on behalf of any home-rule city with a population of 1,200,000 or more, according to the last preceding or any future federal census.

Facsimile Signature

Sec. 2. If the use of a facsimile signature is authorized by the board, body, or officer empowered by law to authorize the issuance of the public securities, instruments of payment or certificates of assessment, or, in the case of an eligible contract, if the use of a facsimile signature is authorized by the governing body of the city, any authorized officer may execute, authenticate, certify, or endorse, or cause to be executed, authenticated, certified, or endorsed with a facsimile signature in lieu of his manual signature:

In any suit or legal action instituted against the officer whose name is affixed under the provisions of this Act, it shall not be a defense that such name was affixed to any public security, eligible contract, instrument of payment or certificate of assessment, as herein defined, without his authority or consent. Upon compliance with this Act by the authorized officer, his facsimile signature has the same legal effect as his manual signature.

However, as to a public security required to be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, only his signature or that of a deputy designated in writing to act for the Comptroller is required to be manually subscribed to such public security or to a certificate thereon.

Facsimile Seal

Alternate Procedures; Issuance and Sale of Refunding Bonds; Deposits in Connection with Payment or Redemption of Revenue Obligations

Sec. 7A. Notwithstanding any provision of this Act or any other law to the contrary, any issuer may, at its option, in lieu of making any deposit with the State Treasurer hereunder, deposit proceeds from the sale of refunding bonds issued hereunder, and/or any other available funds or resources, directly with any place of payment (paying agent) for any obligations payable from revenues (other than ad valorem tax revenues) which it wishes to refund, or to pay or redeem in whole or in part without the issuance of refunding bonds, or with the trustee under any trust indenture, deed of trust, or similar instrument securing such revenue obligations, in an amount sufficient to provide for the payment and/or redemption of any such revenue obligations of the issuer, including assumed obligations, which are to be refunded, or to be paid or redeemed in whole or in part without the issuance of refunding bonds; and such deposit, if made on or before such payment and/or redemption date, shall constitute the making of firm banking and financial arrangements for the discharge and final payment or redemption of the revenue obligations being refunded, or being paid or redeemed in whole or in part without the issuance of refunding bonds; and any issuer is authorized to enter into an escrow or similar agreement with any such place of payment (paying agent) or trustee with respect to the safekeeping, investment, reinvestment, administration, and disposition of any such deposit, upon such terms and conditions as the parties may agree, provided that such deposits may be invested and reinvested only in direct obligations of the United States of America, including obligations the principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States of America, and which may be in book entry form, and which shall mature and/or bear interest payable at such times and in such amounts as will be sufficient to provide for the scheduled payment and/or redemption of such revenue obligations, and further provided that if any such revenue obligations are scheduled to be paid and/or redeemed on a date later than the next succeeding scheduled interest payment date thereon, the issuer shall be required to enter into an appropriate escrow or similar agreement as described above. Notwithstanding any provisions of this Act or any other law to the contrary, refunding bonds may be issued under this Act to refund any revenue obligations which are scheduled to mature, or which are subject to redemption prior to maturity, not more than 20 years from the date of the refunding bonds, and refunding bonds issued under this Act may be sold at public or private sale, under such procedures, at any price (at a premium, at par, or at a discount), upon such terms, and bear interest at such rate or rates, and mature not more than 40 years after their date, all as shall be determined within the discretion of the governing body of the issuer; provided that Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as now or hereafter amended (Article 717k-2, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), which pertains generally to the sale price of bonds, notes, or other obligations payable from taxes, or revenues, or both, which any public agency is now or hereafter may be authorized to issue pursuant to provisions of law other than this Act.

(c) The term “net interest cost” with reference to an issue or series of public securities shall mean the total of all interest to accrue and come due thereon through the final scheduled maturity date thereof, plus any discount or minus any premium included in the price paid therefor. The term “discount” with reference to an issue or series of public securities shall mean the principal amount (par value) of such issue or series plus any accrued interest to the date of delivery minus the total sum of money paid to the issuer. The term “premium” with reference to an issue or series of public securities shall mean the total sum of money paid to the issuer for such an issue or series minus the principal amount (par value) thereof, and also minus any accrued interest to the date of delivery. The term “bond years” with reference to each separate bond, note, or other obligation constituting part of an issue or series of public securities shall mean the figure obtained by dividing the principal amount (par value) of each such bond, note, or other obligation by one-thousand (1000) and multiplying such quotient by the number of years from the date interest commences to accrue thereon to its scheduled maturity date. If any portion of an issue or series of public securities is subject to a mandatory redemption prior to scheduled maturity which at the time of delivery of such public securities is scheduled to occur on a date or dates certain, net interest cost and bond years shall be calculated as if the face amount of bonds, notes, or other obligations required to be redeemed on each such earlier date were scheduled to mature on such earlier date and net interest cost shall include any premium required to be paid on any such mandatory redemption date.

(d) The term “net effective interest rate” with reference to an issue or series of public securities shall mean the figure obtained by dividing the amount of the net interest cost of such issue or series by the aggregate total number of bond years of all bonds, notes, or other obligations constituting such issue or series, and then dividing such quotient by ten (10) and expressing the result as a rate of interest in per cent per annum.

Sec. 2. (a) The maximum rate of interest for any issue or series of public securities shall be a net effective interest rate of 15 percent, and any public agency is hereby authorized to issue and sell any issue or series of its public securities at any price or prices and bearing interest at any rate or rates (provided that the net effective interest rate does not exceed 15 percent), as shall be determined within the discretion of the governing body of the public agency, or instrumentality of the State of Texas, any municipal corporation, any political subdivision, any district, any body politic and corporate of the State of Texas, and solely for the purposes of this Act and not for any other purposes of law, any nonprofit corporation or other not-for-profit entity that has been determined to be an instrumentality of or is acting on behalf of any of the foregoing.
Art. 717k-2

agency, subject to the exceptions hereinafter provided.

(b) Any public securities authorized by an election held before the effective date of the 1981 amendment of this section may be issued, sold, and bear interest as provided in Subsection (a) of this section except that public securities heretofore authorized by an election required by the Constitution of Texas shall not be issued at an interest rate greater than authorized at such election unless a further election is held resulting favorably to the issuance of such previously voted public securities at a price and at a rate authorized by Subsection (a) of this section.

Elections for that purpose shall be called and held, and notice thereof given, in the same manner as provided by law applicable to the previous election authorizing such public securities.

Sec. 3. The provisions of this Act concerning sale price and the maximum rates of interest which public securities may bear shall apply to all public securities notwithstanding the provisions or restrictions of any general or special law or charter to the contrary, but shall not apply to any public securities whose maximum rate of interest or maximum net effective interest rate is, at the time of issuance thereof, otherwise specifically fixed by the Constitution.

Sec. 4. If an issue or series of public securities is issued in exchange for property, labor, services, materials, or equipment pursuant to provisions of law other than this Act, such public securities may bear interest at any rate or rates, as shall be determined within the discretion of the governing body of the public agency, subject to the exceptions hereinafter provided, provided that the maximum interest rate shall not exceed 15 percent.

Art. 717k-5. Validation of Contracts, Warrants and Refunding Bonds Authorized by Counties, Cities or Towns

Sec. 1. In every instance where the commissioners court of a county or the governing board of a city, including home-rule cities, or town in this state has entered into contracts for, or has determined the advisability thereof by giving notice of intention to issue interest-bearing time warrants in payment thereof, the construction of public works or improvements, the purchase of land or interests in land, or for the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, wages, salaries, or professional or personal services, and has heretofore adopted orders or ordinances to authorize the issuance of scrip or time warrants to pay or evidence the indebtedness of such county or city, including home-rule cities, or town for the cost of such public works or improvements, land, material, supplies, equipment, labor, supervision, wages, salaries, or professional or personal services, all such contracts, scrip and time warrants, and the proceedings adopted by the commissioners court or governing body, as the case may be, relating thereto are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed, and approved. All scrip warrants and time warrants heretofore issued by the commissioners court or governing body, as the case may be, in payment of work done by such county or city, including home-rule cities, or town and paid for by the day as the work progressed, and for materials and supplies purchased in connection with such work and for professional or personal services rendered to the county, city, or town, and each of these are hereby in all things validated, ratified, confirmed, and approved and all such warrants shall be payable in accordance with their respective terms. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify, or confirm any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant executed or issued by any county with a population in excess of 350,000, according to the last preceding federal census, or any contract, scrip warrant, or time warrant, the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective if the question is ultimately determined against the validity thereof.

Sec. 2. All proceedings, governmental acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions, and other instruments heretofore adopted or executed by a commissioners court or governing body of a city, including home-rule cities, or town, and of all officers and officials thereof authorizing the issuance of or pertaining to refunding bonds for the purpose of refunding scrip or time warrants issued by any county or city, including home-rule cities, or town and all such warrants and all refunding bonds, heretofore issued for such purpose, and each of these are hereby in all things validated, ratified, approved, and confirmed. Such refunding bonds now in process of being issued and authorized by proceedings, ordinances, and resolutions heretofore adopted may be issued, irrespective of the fact that the commissioners court or governing body in giving the notice of intention to issue refunding bonds may not have in all respects complied with statutory provisions. It is expressly provided, however, that this Act shall neither apply to nor validate, ratify, or confirm any proceedings, governmental acts, orders, resolutions, or other instruments, or bonds executed, adopted, or issued by any county with a population in excess of 350,000, according to the last preceding federal census, or any proceedings, governmental acts, orders, ordinances, resolutions, or other instruments, or bonds, the validity of which is involved in litigation at the time this Act becomes effective if the question is ultimately determined against the validity thereof; nor shall this Act be construed as validating any proceedings which may have been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.
Sec. 3. If any section, subsection, paragraph, sentence, clause, phrase, or word in this Act or application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid such holding shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Act, and the legislature hereby declares it would have passed such remaining portions despite such invalidity.

Definitions; Short Title

Sec. 1. (a) The term "issuer" as used in this Act means and includes any department, board, authority, agency, subdivision, municipal corporation, district, public corporation, political subdivision, body politic, or instrumentality of the State of Texas of every kind or type whatsoever, and any nonprofit corporation acting for or on behalf of any of the foregoing.

(b) The term "bonds" as used in this Act means and includes all bonds, certificates, notes, and other obligations authorized to be issued by any issuer by any statute, city home-rule charter, or the Texas Constitution.

(c) This Act may be cited as the "Bond Procedures Act of 1981."

Construction; Effect of Approval and Registration

Sec. 2. This Act shall not be construed as granting any original or independent power to any issuer to issue any bonds, but shall be applicable and available to any issuer and the governing body thereof with respect to certain terms, provisions, and details of the issuance of any bonds authorized by any other statute, city home-rule charter, or the Texas Constitution, including either original bonds, refunding bonds, exchanged or converted bonds, or any combination of the foregoing, and in fixing the terms, conditions, and details of any bonds otherwise authorized to be issued. If any statutory, charter, or constitutional provisions authorizing any bonds provide for the approval thereof by the attorney general of Texas and the registration thereof by the comptroller of public accounts of the State of Texas, then any such bonds shall be submitted to the attorney general for approval, and if the attorney general determines that they have been issued in accordance with law, he shall approve them and thereafter they shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts, and after such approval and registration such bonds and any contracts, proceeds from which are pledged to the payment thereof, shall be uncontestable in any court or other forum for any reason, and shall be binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Issuance and Execution

Sec. 3. The governing body of any issuer is authorized to issue bonds with or without interest coupons, in any denomination, payable at such time or times in such amount or amounts or installments, at such place or places, in such form, under such terms, conditions, and details, in such manner, redeemable prior to maturity at any time or times, bearing no interest, or bearing interest at any rate or rates (either fixed, or variable, or floating according to any clearly stated formula, calculation, or method) not to exceed the maximum net effective interest rate allowed by law, and the bonds and interest coupons, if any, may be signed or otherwise executed in such manner, with manual or facsimile signatures, and with or without a seal, all of the foregoing as shall be specified by the governing body of the issuer in the resolution, order, ordinance, or other proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. In the event any officer or officers whose signatures are on any bonds or interest coupons appertaining thereto cease to be such officer or officers before the delivery thereof to the purchaser, such signature or signatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes and the successor or successors in office of any such officer or officers shall be fully authorized to complete the execution, authentication, and/or delivery of such bonds and interest coupons to the purchaser or the purchasers thereof.

Form; Registration

Sec. 4. The governing body of any issuer is authorized to issue bonds and the interest coupons appertaining thereto, if any, in such form or forms, with provision for registering such bonds as to principal or as to principal and interest, or with provision for changing the form or forms of such bonds and interest coupons, if any, in such manner as shall be specified by the governing body of the issuer in the resolution, order, ordinance, or other proceedings authorizing the bonds.

Series or Single Issuance; Terms and Conditions

Sec. 5. The governing body of any issuer is authorized to issue bonds constituting a series of any number of bonds, or a single bond, payable in one stated amount or in stated installments to the bearer, or to a registered or a named payee, or to the order of, or to the successors or assigns of, such registered or named payee, and provision may be made for the conversion of any bond or interest coupon, upon the request or demand of the bearer or owner, into coupon bonds, payable to the bearer, registrable as to principal or as to principal and interest, or into fully registered bonds without interest coupons, or into any other form, in any denomination, in an aggregate principal amount equal to the unpaid principal amount of the bond or bonds being converted, bearing interest, if any, at the same rate or rates as the bond or bonds being converted, and having such other characteristics, and upon further terms and conditions, and in such manner as may be specified by the governing body of the issuer in the resolution, order, ordinance, or other proceedings authorizing the bonds.
Sec. 6. (a) When the procedures for changing or converting any bond or bonds are set forth in the resolution, order, ordinance, or other proceedings authorizing the issuance thereof, no additional resolutions, orders, or ordinances need be adopted or passed by the governing body of the issuer so as to accomplish such change or conversion, and the appropriate officials of such issuer, upon the request or demand of the bearer or owner of such bond or bonds as provided therein, if required or necessary, shall have the appropriate new bonds and interest coupons, if any, printed, executed, and exchanged for the bond or bonds being changed or converted, in the manner prescribed in such proceedings. Except as provided in Section 6(b) hereof, in the event that any bond or bonds being changed or converted was or were approved by the attorney general of the State of Texas and registered by the comptroller of public accounts of the State of Texas, then any bond or bonds to be exchanged for any such bond or bonds being changed or converted shall be submitted to the attorney general of the State of Texas for examination, and if he finds that it or they have been printed, executed, and issued as provided by law and by the resolution, order, ordinance, or other proceedings authorizing the issuance of such bond or bonds being changed or converted, then he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts, and after such approval and registration they shall be valid and incontestable for all purposes. However, the comptroller of public accounts shall not register any such new bond or bonds until any bond or bonds being changed or converted shall have been surrendered to and canceled by the comptroller of public accounts, and upon such surrender and cancellation, the comptroller of public accounts shall register and deliver the new bond or bonds in exchange for the bond or bonds being changed or converted.

(b) The governing body of any issuer may provide and covenant for the conversion of any form of bond or interest coupon into any other form or forms of bond or interest coupon, and for reconversion of bonds and interest coupons into any other form, and may provide procedures for the replacement of lost, stolen, destroyed, or mutilated bonds or interest coupons, all in such manner as may be prescribed by the governing body of the issuer in the resolution, order, ordinance, or other proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of Section 6(a) of this Act, if the duty of replacement, conversion, or reconversion of any bonds or interest coupons is imposed upon a corporate trustee under a trust agreement or trust indenture securing the bonds, or upon a place of payment (paying agent) for the bonds or interest coupons, the replacement, converted, or reconverted bonds or interest coupons need not be reapproved by the attorney general or reregistered by the comptroller of public accounts as provided in Section 6(a), and all such replacement, converted, or reconverted bonds and interest coupons shall be valid, incontestable, and enforceable in the same manner and with the same effect as the bonds originally issued.

Use of Proceeds

Sec. 7. An issuer may use the proceeds of bonds which, in whole or part, are payable from and secured by the revenues derived from the operation or ownership of any project or facilities, if the issuer is otherwise authorized by law to secure and pay such bonds from such revenues, for paying interest thereon during the period of the acquisition or construction of any project or facilities to be provided through the issuance thereof, and for one year thereafter, for paying expenses of operation and maintenance of such project or facilities during the estimated period of the acquisition or construction of such project or facilities and for one year thereafter, for funding debt service reserve, contingency, and other funds relating to the bonds, and for paying the costs and expenses of the issuance of the bonds; and such proceeds may be placed on time deposit or invested in any obligations authorized by law for the investment of funds of such issuer until needed, all to the extent, and in the manner provided, in the resolution, order, or ordinance authorizing their issuance.

Validation of Prior Proceedings and Issuance

Sec. 8. All bonds heretofore issued and delivered by the governing body of any issuer and all proceedings authorizing same, are hereby validated, ratified, and confirmed in all respects.

Sec. 9. All bonds issued by an issuer shall constitute negotiable instruments, and are investment securities governed by Chapter 8, Texas Uniform Commercial Code, notwithstanding any provisions of law or court decision to the contrary, and are legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, and trustees, and for the sinking fund of cities, towns, villages, school districts, and other political subdivisions or public agencies of the State of Texas. Said bonds also are eligible to secure deposits of any public funds of the state or any political subdivision or public agency of the state, and are lawful and sufficient security for the deposits to the extent of their market value, when accompanied by any unmatured coupons attached to the bonds.

Liberal Construction

Sec. 10. This Act shall be construed liberally to effectuate the legislative intent and the purposes of the Act, and all powers herein granted shall be broadly interpreted to effectuate such intent and purposes and not as a limitation of powers.
Severability

Sec. 11. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application of such sections, provisions, clauses, or words to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of the Act or the application of such sections, provisions, clauses, or words to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that the Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if any such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

The commissioners court may establish the terms of the contract as it considers appropriate. However, the contract may not authorize the destruction of a bond, interest coupon, or other evidence of indebtedness before the expiration of two years from the date of its payment or before the expiration of three months from the date the depository or other paying agent files with the commissioners court a list identifying the bond, interest coupon, or other evidence of indebtedness to be destroyed.

the results of the election where an election is required, copies of or pertinent excerpts from any proceedings, including any essential actions and expenditure of funds, taken or made and/or proposed to be taken or made in connection with the securities, the amount or proposed maximum amount and purpose of the securities, the rate or rates of interest or proposed maximum rate of interest they are to bear, and, in case it is desired to adjudicate the organization or validity of the public agency, the authority for and proceedings had in the creation of the public agency, or in changing its boundaries, if any, or any other pertinent matters.

Notice to Taxpayers and Attorney General, etc.

Sec. 4. The judge of the district court where the petition is filed shall, on filing and presentation of the petition, immediately make and issue an order in general terms in the form of a notice directed to all taxpayers, property owners, and residents, if any, of the public agency, and all nonresidents, if any, owning property therein, and all others having or claiming any right, title, or interest in any property or funds to be affected by the proceedings and/or the issuance of the securities, or interested or affected in any way thereby, or by the proceedings, including all actions and expenditure of funds, taken or made and/or proposed to be taken or made in connection with or affecting the securities, requiring, in general terms and without naming them, all the persons and the Attorney General of Texas to appear for hearing and trial at 10 a. m. on the first Monday after the expiration of 20 days from the date of issue of the order, and show cause why the prayers of the petition should not be granted and the proceedings and the securities validated and confirmed as therein prayed. The notice shall give a general description of the nature of the petition but need not set forth the entire petition or the attached exhibits. A copy of the petition, together with any exhibits attached, and a copy of said order, shall be served on the attorney general at least 20 days before the time fixed in the order for hearing and trial as aforesaid; provided, that the attorney general may waive the service when he has been furnished a certified copy of the petition, order, and a transcript of all pertinent proceedings relating to the matters set forth in the petition. The attorney general shall carefully examine the petition, and if it appears or there is reason to believe that the petition is defective, insufficient, or untrue, or, if, in his opinion, the proceedings or the securities are or will be invalid or unauthorized, the defense shall be made thereto as he may deem proper. The records of the public agency pertaining to the proceedings or the securities shall be open to inspection at reasonable times to any party to the suit. Any officer, agent, or employee having charge, possession, custody, or control of any of the books, papers, or records of the public agency shall, on demand of the attorney general, exhibit for examination the books, papers, or records and shall, without cost, furnish duly authenticated copies which pertain to the proceedings or the securities, or which may affect the legality of the same, as may be demanded of him. It is specifically provided, however, that if the attorney general does not question the validity of the proceedings or the securities or the security or provisions for the payment thereof, the attorney general may so allege, and on a finding by the court to that effect, the attorney general may be dismissed as a party and the court shall proceed to a final determination of the cause. If the cause is filed in any court other than in Travis County, the public agency shall pay any mileage and travel expenses of the attorney general or his assistant in the same amount as is allowable by the state to officials for travel on other official business. The claim for the expenses shall be filed in duplicate with the clerk of the court in which the cause is pending and shall be taxed as costs against the public agency.

May Enjoin Other Proceedings

Sec. 5. On motion of the petitioner, whether before or after the date set for hearing as provided in Section 4 of this Act, the judge may enjoin the commencement, prosecution, or maintenance by any person or entity of any other action or proceeding contesting the validity of the organizational proceedings or boundary changes of the public agency, or the validity of the securities described in the petition or the validity of any proceedings, including all actions and expenditure of funds, taken or made and/or proposed to be taken or made in connection with or affecting the securities, or the validity of the taxes, assessments, tolls, fees, rates, or other levies authorized to be imposed or made for the payment of the securities or the interest on the securities, or the validity of any pledge of any revenues, receipts, or property, or encumbrances thereon, to secure payment, and may order a joint hearing or trial before him of all issues then pending in any other action, cause, or proceedings in any court in the State of Texas, and may order all actions or proceedings consolidated with the suit for declaratory judgment pending before him as authorized by this Act, and may enter orders as are necessary or proper to effect the consolidation, and which will avoid unnecessary costs or delays or multiplicity of suits, and all interlocutory orders shall be final and not be appealable.

Published Notice

Sec. 6. Prior to the date set for hearing and trial as provided in Section 4 of this Act, the clerk of the court where the petition is filed shall give notice by causing a substantial copy of the order issued pursuant to Section 4 of this Act to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in Travis County, and in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the public agency maintains its principal office, and if any public agency, other than the State of Texas, has defined boundaries, in a newspaper of general circulation in each county in which the public agency has territory. The notice shall be so published once in each of two consecutive calen-
Admission of Parties

Sec. 7. Any property owner, taxpayer, citizen, or person affected by or interested in the proceedings or the issuance of the securities may become a named party to the proceedings by pleading to the petition on or before the time set for hearing and trial as provided in Section 4 of this Act, or thereafter by intervention on leave of court. At or after the time and at the place designated in the order for hearing and trial, the judge shall proceed to hear and determine all questions of law and fact in the proceedings and may enter orders as to the proceedings, and as to any necessary adjournments as will enable him properly to try and determine the questions and to render a final judgment with the least possible delay. Any party to the proceedings shall be entitled to a jury trial on any issue of fact where required by the Texas Constitution. Rule 254 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and Section 1, Chapter 7, Acts of the 41st Legislature, Regular Session, 1929, as amended (Article 2168a, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), shall not apply to any proceedings or appeals authorized by this Act. Except as otherwise provided in this Act, the applicable Texas Rules of Civil Procedure and all applicable statutes shall govern the proceedings and appeals held and conducted pursuant to this Act.

Bond

Sec. 8. At any time prior to entry of final judgment in the proceedings, the public agency may ask the court for an order that any opposing party or intervenor, except the attorney general, be dismissed unless the opposing party or intervenor shall post a bond with sufficient surety, approved by the court, payable to the public agency for the payment of all damages and costs which may accrue by reason of the delay as will be occasioned by the continued participation of the opposing party or intervenor in the proceedings in the event that the public agency finally prevails and obtains substantially the judgment prayed for in its petition. The court shall then issue an order directed to the opposing party or intervenor, which order, together with a copy of the motion, shall be served on the opposing party or intervenor, or on his attorney of record, personally or by registered mail, requiring the opposing party or intervenor to appear at the time and place, not sooner than 5 nor later than 10 days after entry of the order, as the court may direct, and show cause why the motion should not be granted. Motions with respect to more than one opposing party or intervenor may be heard together if so directed by the court. Unless at the hearing on the motion the opposing party or intervenor establishes facts which, in the judgment of the court would entitle him to a temporary injunction against the issuance of the securities, the court shall grant the motion of the public agency and in its order the court shall fix the amount of the bond to be posted by the opposing party or intervenor in an amount found by the court to be sufficient to cover all damages and costs which may accrue by reason of the delay as will be occasioned by the continued participation of the opposing party or intervenor in the proceedings in the event that the public agency finally prevails and obtains substantially the judgment prayed for in its petition. The court in its discretion may receive evidence at the hearing or any adjournment with respect to the amount of the damages and costs, which shall include but not be limited to anticipated increases in interest rates and in construction and financing costs. If more than one opposing party or intervenor is a participant in the proceedings, the court in its discretion may allocate the amount of the bond among the opposing parties or intervenors according to the extent or degree of their participation in the proceedings, but may fix the amount of the bond to be posted by a particular opposing party or intervenor only if a motion as described in this section was made and granted as to the opposing party or intervenor. In the event a bond with sufficient surety is not filed by the opposing party or intervenor within 10 days after entry of the order of the court fixing the amount of the bond, the opposing party or intervenor shall be dismissed by the court. The dismissal shall constitute a final judgment of the court, unless an appeal was taken as provided by this Act. No court shall have further jurisdiction of any action to the extent the action involves any issue which was or could have been raised in the proceedings, except to the extent that the issue may have been raised by an opposing party or intervenor as to whom no motion was made hereunder. An order of the court fixing the amount of the bond to be posted by an opposing party or intervenor denying the motion of a public agency or dismissing a party for failure to file a bond may be appealed as provided in Section 9 of this Act. The court to which any appeal is taken may modify the order of the lower court and may enter the modified order as the final order. In the event no appeal is taken or if the appeal is taken and the order of the lower court is affirmed or affirmed as modified, and no bond is posted pursuant to this section within 10 days after entry of the appropriate order, no court shall have further juris-Diction of any action to the extent it shall involve any issue which was or could have been raised in the proceedings, except to the extent that the issue may have been raised in the proceedings by an opposing party or intervenor as to whom no motion was made hereunder. It is further provided that, on motion of the public agency, the court shall proceed without delay to hearing and trial on the merits of the public agency's petition, regardless of the pendency of an appeal from any order entered pursuant to this section.

Appeal

Sec. 9. Any party to the cause, whether the public agency, a defendant, intervenor, or otherwise, dissatisfied with any order entered pursuant to Section 8 of this Act, or with the judgment in the declaratory judgment action, may appeal therefrom to the appropriate court of civil appeals after the entry of the order or judgment, or the order or judgment shall become final. The appeal shall take priority over all other cases, causes, or matters pending in the court of civil appeals, except habeas corpus, and it shall be mandatory that the court of civil appeals assure the priority and act thereon and render its final order or judgment therein with the least possible delay. The Supreme Court shall have authority to review, by writ of error or other authorized procedure, all questions of law arising out of the orders and judgments of the courts of civil appeals in the cases, in the manner, time, and form applicable in other civil causes where a decision of the court of civil appeals is not final, but any such review shall take priority over all other cases, causes, or matters pending in the Supreme Court, except habeas corpus, and it shall be mandatory that the Supreme Court assure the priority and review and act thereon and render its final order or judgment therein with the least possible delay. Also, Rule 499a, Texas Rules of Civil Procedure, shall apply to proceedings in the district court, but any direct appeal thereunder shall take priority over all other cases, causes, and matters pending in the Supreme Court, except habeas corpus, and it shall be mandatory that the Supreme Court assure the priority and review and act thereon and render its final order or judgment with the least possible delay.

Effect of Judgment

Sec. 10. In the event the judgment of the district court determines that the public agency has or had authority to undertake the proceedings and/or to issue the securities upon the terms set forth in the petition for declaratory judgment hereunder, and adjudicates the legality of all proceedings, including all actions and expenditures of funds, taken or made and/or proposed to be taken or made in connection with or relating to the securities, and no appeal is taken within the time above prescribed, or if taken and the judgment of the district court is affirmed, the judgment shall, as to all matters adjudicated, or which could have been raised in the proceedings, be forever binding and conclusive against the public agency, the attorney general, the comptroller of public accounts, and all parties to the cause, whether mentioned in and served with the notice of the proceedings, or included in the description, “all taxpayers, property owners, and residents, if any, of the public agency, and all nonresidents, if any, owning property therein, and all others having or claiming any right, title, or interest in any properties or funds to be affected by the proceedings and/or the issuance of the securities, or interested or affected in any way thereby, or by the proceedings, including all actions and expenditures of funds, taken or made and/or proposed to be taken or made in connection with or affecting the securities,” and shall constitute a permanent injunction against the institution by any person or entity of any action or proceedings contesting the validity of the proceedings and/or securities described in the petition, or the validity of provisions made for the payment of the same, or of interest thereon, or any matters adjudicated by the judgment, or which could have been raised in the proceedings.

Securities: Printed Statement

Sec. 11. Securities adjudged valid as provided by this Act may, at the option of the public agency, have stamped, printed, or written on the securities the following statement:

“This obligation was validated and confirmed by a judgment entered _______ (date when the judgment was entered and the court in which it was entered and the style and number of the cause in said court), which perpetually enjoins the institution of any suit, action, or proceeding involving the validity of this obligation, or the provision made for the payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon.”

The certificate may be signed by the clerk, secretary, or other official of the public agency, and the signature may be by facsimile if authorized by the governing body of the public agency.

Costs

Sec. 12. The costs in each proceeding under this Act shall be paid by the public agency, except that in cases where a taxpayer, citizen, or other person or entity appears and contests the proceedings or intervenes therein, the court may tax the whole or any part of the costs against such party or parties as the court shall determine to be equitable and just; provided, that in no event shall any costs be taxed against the attorney general.

Cumulative Effect

Sec. 13. The procedure prescribed in this Act is cumulative of all other methods permitted under law for declaratory judgments and for approval and validation of proceedings and/or securities and shall not have the effect of repealing any such laws; but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the acts and procedures authorized in this Act, without reference to any other laws or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as specifically provided in this Act. To the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provisions of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control. The procedures authorized by this Act may be invoked only by a public agency, and when so invoked may be employed concurrently with, or after use of other means of declaratory judgment, approval, or validation, and may be invoked before or after the attorney general has approved the securities and/or before or after the securities are authorized or delivered and outstanding, and may be invoked regardless of the pendency of any other suit, action, cause, or proceeding in any court pertaining to the matters sought to be adjudicated. This Act shall not have the effect of repealing the existing right of a public agency to apply for, and of the Supreme Court to issue, writs of mandamus to the attorney general for the approval of bonds, in appropriate cases, and the Supreme Court is specifically authorized to consider and issue such writs when appropriate, and it is declared that the remedy is necessary and desirable in the public interest as a matter of public policy of the State of Texas.

Approved by Attorney General; Registration

Sec. 4. The certificates and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for examination, and if they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, who shall endorse his certificate of registration thereon, and thereafter they shall be incontestable.

If he finds that the bonds have been authorized and any contract or lease has been made in accordance with law, he shall approve the bonds and the contract or lease, and thereupon the bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration the bonds and any contract or lease relating to them are incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason, and are valid and binding obligations for all purposes in accordance with their terms.

Sec. 11. All bonds issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. Cumulative Effect

Sec. 12. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized by it without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided. When any bonds are issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control. A local government has the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied; granted by this Act.

Sec. 8.13. If the Commissioner as a result of any examination or investigation of the affairs of an association finds that such association is violating or has violated or is about to violate any provision of its charter or bylaws or any law, or willfully violates any rule or regulation governing its operations to an extent which would tend to cause a substantial reduction in net worth or is engaging in, or has engaged in, or if the Commissioner has reasonable cause to believe that the association is about to engage in an unsafe and unsound practice or practices, he shall deliver a formal written order to the board of directors of the association in which the facts known to the Commissioner are set forth with an order to cease and desist from any such violation or practice. Such order may, by provisions which may be mandatory or otherwise, require the association, its directors, officers, employees, or agents to take affirmative action to correct the conditions resulting from any such violation or practice. Such order shall become final 10 days after the same has been delivered unless the association shall within such time request a hearing before the Commissioner in regard to such order, at which hearing any pertinent evidence relating to said order or the facts stated therein may be presented. Such hearing shall be promptly held, and the Commissioner, on the basis of the evidence presented and any matters of record in his office, shall thereupon either continue such order in effect, modify the same, or set it aside. An unsafe and unsound practice with respect to an association is such action or inaction as is likely to cause insolvency or substantial dissipation of assets or earnings or to otherwise prejudice its ability to timely satisfy withdrawal requests of savings account holders.

Commissioner May Remove Directors and Officers Participating in Violations
Sec. 8.14. Whenever in the opinion of the Commissioner, any director or officer of an association has committed any violation of law, rule, or regulation, or refused to comply with a cease and desist order which has become final, or has engaged or participated in any unsafe or unsound practice or practices in connection with the association, or has committed or engaged in any act, omission, or practice which constitutes a breach of his fiduciary duty as such director or officer, and it appears that the association has suffered or probably will suffer substantial financial loss or other damage or that its ability to timely satisfy withdrawal requests of savings account holders could be seriously prejudiced thereby, the Commissioner may require that any such director or officer be removed from the office. Prior to entering an order of removal, the Commissioner shall deliver a full statement of the acts and conduct to which he objects to the board of directors of the association and the person or persons concerned and of his intention to enter a removal order. Such order shall become final within 10 days after such delivery unless within such time a hearing is requested. The Commissioner shall promptly hold a hearing if timely request is made at which any pertinent evidence relating to the matters set forth in such statement may be presented. After such hearing the Commissioner, on the basis of the evidence presented at such hearing, may proceed to enter an order for the immediate removal of the director or officer affected, a reprimand of the individuals and association concerned or a dismissal of the entire matter. If no hearing is requested within the time specified, the Commissioner may proceed to enter an order of removal on the basis of the facts set forth in his original statement.

Enforcement of Cease and Desist and Removal Orders

Sec. 8.15. In the case of violation or threatened violation of or failure or refusal to obey a final cease and desist order or a removal order, the Commissioner may apply to a district court of Travis County for an order enjoining the association, its directors, officers, employees, or agents from violating, failing or refusing to obey such order. The court shall grant such injunction upon a showing of substantial evidence to support the findings of fact in the Commissioner's order. No bond for injunction shall be required of the Commissioner.

Receivership

Sec. 8.16. If, in the judgment of the Commissioner, the public interest requires it, he may apply to a district court of the county in which the home office of the association is located for the appointment of a receiver for such association. Such court shall appoint a receiver as applied for if it finds substantial evidence to support any one or more of the following circumstances or conditions alleged to exist by the Commissioner in his application:

1. that the association is insolvent in that the cash value of its assets realizable in a reasonable time is less than the total of its obligations to its creditors and the amount of its savings liability;
2. that there has been a substantial dissipation of assets or earnings due to any violation or violations of applicable law, rules, or regulations, or to any unsafe or unsound practice or practices;
3. that the association is in an unsafe and unsound condition to transact business in that there has been a substantial reduction of its net worth over the preceding 36 months (for this purpose, net worth shall be computed after the establishment of such valuation reserves and other reserves against possible losses as have been required by any supervisory authority having jurisdiction over the association or would be required under generally accepted accounting principles applicable to savings and loan associations) and has failed to restore such net worth reduction as ordered by the Commissioner;
4. that the association and its directors and officers have violated any material conditions of its charter or bylaws, the terms of any final cease and desist order issued by the Commissioner, or any agreement between the association and the Commissioner;
5. that the association, its directors, and officers have concealed or refused to permit examination of the books, papers, accounts, records, and affairs of the association by the Commissioner or other duly authorized personnel of the Savings and Loan Department.

All proceedings in regard to such applications shall be governed by the laws of this State applicable to receiverships generally. The Commissioner, or his deputy or a Savings and Loan Examiner shall be appointed by the court as a receiver. The receiver, upon appointment by the court, shall immediately take charge of the affairs of the association, subject to the direction of the court, and proceed to conduct the business of the association or to take such steps as may be necessary to conserve the assets and protect the rights of the creditors of the association and its members as may be ordered by the court. The official who is appointed receiver shall receive no additional compensation for such service. If the association is an institution insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, said corporation may be tendered appointment as receiver or co-receiver. If it accepts such appointment, it may, nevertheless, make loans on the security of or purchase at public or private sale any part or all of the assets of the association of which it is receiver or co-receiver, provided such loan or purchase is approved by such court. The directors, officers and attorneys of an association in office at the time of the initiation of any proceeding under this Section are expressly authorized to contest any such proceedings and shall be reimbursed for reasonable expenses and attorney's fees by the association or from its assets, the amount of which shall be fixed by the court.

Voluntary Supervisory Control

Sec. 8.18. If in connection with any cease and desist order the Commissioner requests the consent of the board of directors of the association to the placing of the association under supervisory control of the Commissioner, and a majority of such board affirmatively consents to such request, the Commissioner may appoint a supervisory agent to supervise and monitor the operations of the association during the period of supervision to which consent was given. During the period of supervision, the association, its directors, and officers shall act in accordance with such instructions and directions as may be given by the Commissioner through the supervisory agent and shall not act or fail to act except in compliance with such cease and desist order without the prior approval of the supervisor or the Commissioner. The cost incident to such supervision shall be fixed by the Commissioner and paid by the association.

Reorganization, Merger, and Consolidation

Sec. 10.03. Pursuant to a plan adopted by the board of directors and approved by the Commissioner as equitable to the members of the association and as not impairing the usefulness and success of other properly conducted associations, an association shall have power to reorganize or to merge or consolidate with another association or Federal association; provided, that the plan of such reorganization, merger or consolidation shall be approved by a majority of the total vote the members are entitled to cast. Approval may be voted at either an annual meeting or at a special meeting called to consider such action. In all cases the corporate continuity of the resulting corporation shall possess the same incidents as that of an association which has converted in accordance with this Act. In the case of prior common ownership, the association in the proposed merger possessing the largest assets shall be designated as the home office. Any order of the Commissioner approving the reorganization, merger, or consolidation of any association with another association or Federal association shall become final and as not impairing the usefulness and success of other properly conducted associations, an association as equitable to the members of the association shall have power to reorganize or to merge or consolidate with another association or Federal association; provided, that the plan of such reorganization, merger or consolidation shall be approved by a majority of the total vote the members are entitled to cast. Approval may be voted at either an annual meeting or at a special meeting called to consider such action. In all cases the corporate continuity of the resulting corporation shall possess the same incidents as that of an association which has converted in accordance with this Act. In the case of prior common ownership, the association in the proposed merger possessing the largest assets shall be designated as the home office. Any order of the Commissioner approving the reorganization, merger, or consolidation of any association with another association or Federal association shall become final 10 days after the same has been delivered unless an association within the vicinity of the reorganizing, merging, or consolidating associations shall within such time request a public hearing before the Commissioner in regard to such order, objecting to such order on the basis that the reorganization, merger, or consolidation would materially constrict the ability of the objecting association to compete in its vicinity. Such hearing shall be promptly held, and the Commissioner on the basis of the evidence presented shall thereupon either continue such order in effect, modify the same, or set it aside.

CHAPTER ELEVEN. MISCELLANEOUS

Securities of these associations other than interests in the savings liability of the associations are not subject to the registration requirements of The Securities Act, as amended. [Amended by Acts 1975, 64th Leg., p. 86, ch. 40, § 2, eff. Sept. 1, 1975.]

Art. 912a-15. Establishment and Maintenance of Perpetual Care

Every cemetery association which has established and is now maintaining, operating or conducting a perpetual care cemetery and every association which hereafter establish, maintain, operate or conduct a perpetual care cemetery within this state, pursuant to this Act, shall establish with a trust company or bank with trust powers, no two (2) of the directors of which shall be directors of the cemetery association for the benefit of which such fund is established, an endowment fund of which the income only can be used for the general perpetual care of its cemetery and to place its cemetery under perpetual care; provided, however, that if there is no such trust company or bank with trust powers, qualified and willing to accept such trust funds at the regular fees established by the Texas Trust Act, located within the county within which such cemetery association is located, then and only then, such endowment fund may be established with a Board of Trustees composed of three (3) or more persons, no two (2) of the trustees of which shall be directors of such cemetery association. The principal of such fund for perpetual care shall never be voluntarily reduced, but shall remain inviolable and shall forever be maintained separate and distinct by the trustee or trustees from all other funds. Any such trustee or trustees and the perpetual care trust operated by them shall in all respects be governed by the provisions of the Texas Trust Act. The principal of such fund shall be invested, from time to time reinvested, and kept invested as required by law for the investment of such funds, and the net income arising therefrom shall be used solely for the general care and maintenance of the property entitled to perpetual care in the cemetery for which the fund is established, and shall be applied in such manner as the Board of Directors may from time to time determine to be for the best interest of the cemetery for which such fund is established, but shall never be used for improvement or embellishment of unsold property to be offered for sale. In the event the Board of Directors shall fail to generally care for and maintain that portion of the cemetery entitled to perpetual care, as hereinafore provided, any five (5) or more lot owners in said cemetery whose lots are entitled to perpetual care shall have the right by suit for mandatory injunction or for a Receiver to take charge of and expend said net income, filed in the District Court of the county in which the cemetery is located, to compel the expenditure either by the Board of Directors or by such Receiver of the net income from the perpetual care fund for the purpose hereinabove set forth.

If a cemetery association is operating a cemetery without provision for perpetual care, and if it is authorized by law and wishes to operate said cemetery as a perpetual care cemetery, it shall so notify the Banking Commission of the State of Texas and shall, in accordance with the foregoing provisions hereof, establish a perpetual care fund equal to the amount which would have theretofore have been paid into such a fund, in accordance with provisions of this Act, if such cemetery had been operated as a perpetual care cemetery from and after the date of the first sale of burial space therein, or the minimum amount provided in Section 29 of this Act, whichever is the greater. If the amount of the perpetual care fund so established is the minimum amount provided in Section 29 of this Act, such cemetery association or corporation shall be entitled to a credit against amounts hereafter required by the provisions of this Act to be paid by it unto such perpetual care fund equal to the excess of the amount of such perpetual care fund, as originally established by it, over what would have been the amount thereof if its amount had been determined without regard to Section 29 of this Act.

In establishing its perpetual care trust fund the association may from time to time adopt plans for the general care, maintenance and embellishment of its cemetery.

A cemetery association which has established a perpetual care fund may also take, receive, and hold therefor and as a part thereof or as an incident thereto any property, real, personal or mixed, bequeathed, devised, granted, given or otherwise contributed to it therefor.

The perpetual care trust fund authorized by this Section and all sums paid therein or contributed thereto are, and each thereof is hereby, expressly permitted and shall be and be deemed to be for charitable and eleemosynary purposes. Such perpetual care shall be deemed to be a provision for the discharge of a duty due from the person or persons contributing thereto to the persons interred and to be interred in the cemetery and likewise a provision for the benefit and protection of the public by preserving and keeping cemeteries from becoming places of disorder, reproach, and desolation in the communities in which they are situated. No payment, gift, grant, bequest, or other contribution for such general perpetual care shall be or be deemed to be invalid by reason of any indefiniteness or uncertainty of the persons designated as beneficiaries in the instruments creating said trust, nor shall said fund or any contribution thereto be or be deemed to be invalid as violating any law against perpetuities or the suspension of the power of alienation of title to property.

Each perpetual care cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to such amount as may have been stipulated in any contract under which perpetual care property was sold prior to March 15, 1934, plus a minimum of twenty cents (20¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after March 15, 1934, until such fund reaches a minimum of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00), after which each such cemetery shall deposit an amount equivalent to a minimum of ten cents (10¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after March 15, 1934, until September 3, 1945. Each such cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to a minimum of twenty cents (20¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after September 3, 1945, until July 1, 1963. A minimum of Fifteen Dollars ($15.00) per each crypt interment right for mausoleum interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property and a minimum of Five Dollars ($5.00) per each niche interment right for columbarium interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property between March 15, 1934, and July 1, 1963, shall also be placed in such perpetual care trust fund. From and after July 1, 1963, until September 1, 1975, each such cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to a minimum of fifty cents (50¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property between said dates. A minimum of Forty Dollars ($40.00) per each crypt interment right for mausoleum interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property, except that on cemeteries accessible only through another crypt the minimum requirement shall be Twenty Dollars ($20.00) per each such crypt, and a minimum of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per each niche interment right for columbarium interment sold or disposed of subsequent to July 1, 1963, shall also be placed in such perpetual care trust fund. Such minimum requirements shall apply to all property in which the exclusive right of sepulture has been sold and paid for, whether used for interment purposes or not.

After July 1, 1963, each agreement for the sale of burial space in a perpetual care cemetery shall set out separately the part of the aggregate amount agreed to be paid by the purchaser which is to be deposited in the perpetual care trust fund. If the aggregate amount agreed to be paid by the purchaser is payable in installments, all amounts paid thereon shall be applied, first, to the part thereof not required to be deposited in the perpetual care trust fund, to the extent thereof, and the remainder shall, when received by the seller, be deposited in the perpetual care trust fund. Any funds required to be deposited in its perpetual care trust fund by a seller of burial space shall be so deposited not later than ten (10) days after the end of the calendar month during which they are received. If the seller shall fail to so deposit such funds within the time required hereunder, it shall be liable for and the Banking Commissioner shall collect as a penalty the sum of Ten Dollars ($10.00) per day for the period of such failure, and, upon the relation of the Banking Commissioner of the refusal of the seller to pay to the Banking Commissioner such penalty, the Attorney General shall institute a suit to recover said penalty and for costs and such other relief by the state as in the judgment of the Attorney General is proper and necessary. No cemetery shall hereafter operate as a perpetual care, permanent maintenance, or free care cemetery until the provisions hereof are complied with.

The amount to be deposited in the perpetual care trust fund shall be separately shown on the original purchase agreement and a copy thereof shall be delivered to the purchaser. In the sale of burial space, no commission shall be paid a broker or salesman on the amount to be deposited in the fund.

Notwithstanding any other provision of the laws of the State of Texas or any provision in a trust agreement executed for the purpose of providing perpetual care for a cemetery, such trust agreement may, by agreement entered into between the cemetery association and the trustee or trustees acting under such trust agreement, be amended so as to include any provision which is not inconsistent with any provision in this Act.

From and after September 1, 1975, each such cemetery shall deposit in its perpetual care trust fund an amount equivalent to a minimum of seventy-five cents (75¢) per square foot of ground area sold or disposed of as perpetual care property after said date. A minimum of Fifty Dollars ($50.00) per each crypt interment right for mausoleum interment sold or disposed of as perpetual care property, except that on crypts accessible only through another crypt and for lawn crypts shall be the same as crypts in an aboveground mausoleum. Those with a Capital Stock of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000); Those with a Capital Stock of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000); or more, a Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000).

Nothing contained in this Section 28 shall apply to cemetery corporations chartered prior to the effective date of this Act, provided, however, that any corporation which amends its charter shall be required to comply with the minimum requirements set forth in this Section 28.

[C. B. S. Art. 912a-29. Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund; Minimum; Necessity and Requisites]

Any Corporation chartered under this Act desiring to operate a Perpetual Care Cemetery, before being chartered must establish a minimum Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund, according to the following schedule:

Those with a Capital Stock of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000), a Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund of Thirty Thousand Dollars ($30,000) in cash; and,

Those with a Capital Stock of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000), or more, a Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund of Fifty Thousand Dollars ($50,000) in cash.

The Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund shall be permanently set aside and deposited in trust with the Trustee, as is provided in Section 15 of the Perpetual Care Cemetery Code. Upon all sales made of lots, spaces, crypts, mausoleum space and columbariums, the deposits as required by law, to be placed in trust for the Perpetual Care and Maintenance of the Cemetery, shall be allowed as a credit against the original Perpetual Care and Maintenance Guarantee Fund to the full amount of the original deposit. The Corporation thereafter shall continue to deposit in the Perpetual Care Fund, the minimum amount required by law, and such additional amount as may be required by the Rules and

The petition shall describe the territory to be annexed or the territory to which such services are requested to be made available and have attached to it a plat of the territory. Prior to circulating the petition for annexation or such services among the voters and landowners of the territory, notice of the petition shall be given by means of posting for ten (10) days a copy of the petition in three (3) public places in the territory and by publishing it for one (1) issue in a newspaper of general circulation serving the territory at least fifteen (15) days prior to the circulation of the petition. Proof of posting and publication of the notice shall be made by attaching to the petition presented to the city secretary or clerk: (1) the sworn affidavit of any voter who signed the petition, stating the places where and the dates when the petition was posted; and (2) the sworn affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper setting forth the name of the newspaper and the issue and date when the notice was published; (3) in addition, there shall be attached to the petition the sworn affidavit of three (3) or more voters signing the petition, if there be that many, stating the total number of voters residing in the territory and the approximate total acreage within the territory.

Disannexation

Sec. 10. A. Prior to the publication of notice of a hearing required under Section 6 of this Act, the governing body of the city proposing the annexation shall direct its planning or other appropriate department to prepare a service plan that provides for the extension of municipal services into each area to be annexed. For purposes of this Section, providing services includes having services provided by any method or means by which the city extends municipal services to any other area of the city.

B. The service plan shall include:

(1) a program under which the city will provide police protection, fire protection, solid waste collection, maintenance of water and waste water facilities, maintenance of roads and streets (including lighting), the maintenance of parks, playgrounds, and swimming pools, and the maintenance of any other publicly owned facility, building, or service within each particular area within sixty (60) days after the effective date of the annexation of that particular area; and

(2) a program under which the city will initiate the acquisition or construction of any capital improvements necessary for providing municipal services for the particular area, the construction to begin within two and one-half (2½) years of the effective date of the annexation of the particular annexed area, and the acquisition or construction of the facilities to be accomplished by purchase, lease, or other contract or by the city's succeeding to the powers, duties, assets, and obligations of conservation and reclamation districts, as may be authorized or required by law. No moneys received from the sale of bonds or evidenced by other instruments of indebtedness may be allocated to the annexed area for a period of one hundred and eighty (180) days.

C. In no event shall a service plan provide fewer services or a lower level of services in the area to be annexed than were in existence in that area at the time immediately preceding the annexation. However, it is not the intent of this Act to require that a uniform level of services be provided to all areas of the city where differing characteristics of topography, land utilization, and population density are considered as a sufficient basis for providing differing service levels. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to limit or repeal home-rule charter provisions for annexation or limited purposes other than ad valorem taxation.

D. In the event that only a part of the area to be annexed is actually annexed, the governing body shall direct its planning or other appropriate department to prepare a revised service plan for the part actually to be annexed.

E. The proposed service plan shall be made available for inspection and explained to the inhabitants of the area to be annexed at the public hearings held under Section 6 of this Act. The plan may be amended through negotiation at those hearings but cannot have provision of any service deleted from it. On the completion of the public hearings, the service plan shall be attached to the ordinance annexing the area and approved as part of that ordinance. On approval by the governing body of the annexing city, the plan shall be construed as a contractual obligation, not subject to amendment or repeal unless the governing body determines that the hearings required by this subsection that changed conditions or subsequent occurrences make the plan unworkable or obsolete. If the governing body determines that all or part of a plan is unworkable or obsolete, the governing body may amend the plan to conform to changed conditions or subsequent occurrences. An amended service plan shall provide for services comparable to or better than those established in the service plan before amendment, and before any amendment is adopted, the governing body must first provide an opportunity for all interested persons to be heard at public hearings called and held in the manner provided in Section 6 of this Act. Service plans shall be valid for ten (10) years. Renewal shall be at the discretion of the city.

F. From and after the effective date of this Act, any city annexing a particular area shall provide or cause to be provided such area with services in accordance with the service plan required under this Section. In the event a city fails or refuses to provide or cause to be provided such services within the time specified in the service plan for that area or in this Act, a majority of the qualified voters residing within such particular annexed area may petition the governing body of such city to disannex such particular annexed area. Should the governing body of such city fail or refuse to disannex such particular annexed area within sixty (60) days after receipt of a valid petition, any one or more of the signers of such petition may file in a district court in the county in which such annexed area is principally located an action requesting that the particular annexed area be disannexed. Upon the filing of an answer in such cause by the governing body of the annexing city, and upon application of either party, the case shall be advanced and heard without further delay, all in accordance with the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure. Upon hearing of the case, if the district court finds that a valid petition was filed with the city, and that the city failed to perform its obligations in accordance with a service plan or failed to perform in good faith, it shall enter an order disannexing such particular annexed area.

G. When any such area is disannexed under this Section, it shall not again be annexed within five (5) years of such disannexation, and, if it is again annexed within seven (7) years of disannexation, the period for implementation of a service plan shall not exceed one (1) year from reannexation.

H. The request and petition for disannexation provided for in Subsection F of this Section shall be made by the qualified voters signing and presenting to the city secretary a written petition requesting disannexation. The signatures to the petition need not be appended to one paper, but each signer shall sign his or her name in ink or indelible pencil, and each signer signing the petition as a qualified voter shall sign his or her name as it appears on the most recent official list of registered voters, and each qualified voter shall note on such petition the places where and the dates when the petition was posted, and (2) the sworn affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper or newspapers setting forth the name of the newspaper or newspapers and the issue and date in which the notice was published.

C. The request and petition for disannexation provided for in Subsection A of this Section of this Act shall be made by the qualified voters and landowners signing and presenting to the city secretary a written petition requesting disannexation. The signatures to the petition need not be appended to one paper, but each signer shall sign his or her name in ink or indelible pencil, and each signer signing the petition as a qualified voter shall sign his or her name as it appears on the most recent official list of registered voters, and each qualified voter shall note on such petition his or her residence address and the precinct number and voter registration number that appear on his or her voter registration certificate. Each landowner signing the petition shall note thereon opposite his or her name the approximate total acreage he or she owns within the particular annexed area. The petition shall describe the particular annexed area to be disannexed and have attached to it a plat of the particular annexed area. Prior to circulating the petition for disannexation among the qualified voters, notice of the petition shall be given by means of posting for ten (10) days a copy of the petition in three (3) public places in the annexed area and by publishing it for one (1) time in a newspaper or newspapers of general circulation serving the annexed area at least fifteen (15) days prior to the circulation of the petition. Proof of posting and publication of the notice shall be made by attaching to the petition presented to the city secretary: (1) the sworn affidavit of any qualified voter who signed the petition stating the places where and the dates when the petition was posted, and (2) the sworn affidavit of the publisher of the newspaper or newspapers setting forth the name of the newspaper or newspapers and the issue and date in which the notice was published. In addition, there shall be attached to the petition the sworn affidavit of three (3) or more qualified voters signing the petition, if there be that many, stating the total number of qualified voters residing in the particular annexed area and the approximate total acreage within such particular annexed area.
Annexation of Certain Political Subdivisions

Sec. 11. A. In this Section, "water or sewer district" means any district or authority created by authority of either Article III, Section 52, Subsection (b), Subdivisions (1) and (2), or Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution, proposing to provide or actually providing water and sewer services or either of these services to household users as the principal function of the district, but does not include a district or authority if its primary function is the wholesale distribution of water.

B. A city may not annex territory within the boundaries of a water or sewer district unless it annexes the entire portion of the district that is outside the city's boundaries. This restriction does not apply to the annexation of territory in a water or sewer district if the water or sewer district is wholly or partly inside the extraterritorial jurisdiction of more than one city.

C. An annexation subject to Subsection B of this Section is exempt from the provisions of this Act limiting annexation authority to territory within a city's extraterritorial jurisdiction if:

(1) immediately before the annexation, at least half the area of the water or sewer district is inside the city's boundaries or its area of extraterritorial jurisdiction; and

(2) the city does not, in the annexation proceeding, annex any territory outside its extraterritorial jurisdiction except the part of the water or sewer district that is outside its extraterritorial jurisdiction.

D. Territory annexed in an annexation subject to Subsection B of this Section is included in computing the amount of territory a city may annex in a calendar year under Subsections B and C, Section 7 of this Act. If the area to be annexed exceeds the amount of territory the city may annex in a calendar year under Subsection B, Section 7 of this Act.

(2) the annexation is completed before the first anniversary of the date of the election; and

(3) all the territory of the district is annexed.

(e) Territory annexed in an annexation subject to this section is included in computing the amount of territory the city may annex in a calendar year under Subsections B and C, Section 7 of this Act. If the area to be annexed exceeds the amount of territory the city otherwise would be permitted to annex, the city may nevertheless make the annexation, but it may make no other annexations in the remainder of the calendar year except annexations subject to this section and annexations of territory that are excluded in the computation of territory a city may annex in a calendar year under Subsection B, Section 7 of this Act.

(d) Annexation of the territory of the district as authorized by this section is exempt from provisions of this Act:

(1) prohibiting a city from annexing territory outside its extraterritorial jurisdiction;

(2) prohibiting annexation of territory narrower than 500 feet at the narrowest point; and

(3) prohibiting reduction of the extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city without the written consent of the city's governing body.

(e) If the district is composed of two or more tracts, at least one of which is not contiguous to the home-rule city, the fact that the annexation will result in one or more parts of the home-rule city not being contiguous to the rest of the city does not affect the home-rule city's authority to carry out the annexation.

(f) The extraterritorial jurisdiction of a home-rule city is not expanded by the annexation of territory under this section.

(g) The board of directors of the district may order an election under this section. The board shall conduct the election in the territory comprised of the district and the general-law city, and any person qualified to vote in the city or district is eligible to vote at the election.

(h) The board shall set the date of the election for the first authorized uniform election date that falls on or after the 30th day after the date of the order. If a state law prescribing uniform election dates is not then in effect, the board shall set the election for a date that falls on or after the 30th, but before the 60th, day after the date of the order.

(i) The board of directors shall give notice of the election, conduct the election, and canvass the returns in the same manner as would be the case in an election for members of the board of directors of the district if the district included the entire territory in which the election is held. The board of directors shall establish the election precincts and designate the polling place for each precinct. Territory inside the city and territory in the district but outside the city may be included in the same precinct. The board of directors shall appoint an absentee voting clerk to serve the entire territory covered by the election. The place for conducting the absentee voting may be anywhere in the territory covered by the election.

(j) The ballot shall be prepared to permit voting for or against the proposition: “Authorizing the city of (name of home-rule city) to annex the unincorporated territory of the (name of district).”

(k) Promptly after the board of directors declares the result of the election, it shall:

(1) have a certified copy of the resolution declaring the result of the election mailed or delivered to the mayor and city secretary of each of the two affected cities; and

(2) if the election results in authorizing annexation of the district by the home-rule city, have a certified copy of the resolution filed in the deed records of each county in which the district is located.

(l) During the time that an election under this section is pending, the general-law city may not annex territory in the district. For purposes of this requirement, an election is pending during the period that begins on the date on which the board of directors of the district adopts an election order and that ends on the date on which the board of directors declares the result of the election. If on the date on which the election order is adopted the general-law city has instituted but not completed proceedings to annex territory in the district, the general-law city may complete the annexation proceedings while the election is pending. If proceedings are completed while the election is pending, the annexation, to the extent it includes territory in the district, takes effect only if the election results in the defeat of the proposition, in which case it takes effect as to the affected territory on the date on which the result of the election is officially declared.

(m) If the proposition is approved, the period during which the general-law city is prohibited from annexing territory in the district is extended to end on the first anniversary of the date of the election.

(n) If a district holds an election under this section, the district may not hold another election under this section on a date earlier than the first anniversary of the date of the first election, except that if an election is held on a uniform election date prescribed by law, a second election may be held on the corresponding uniform election date of the following year.

Art. 974a. Platting and Recording Subdivisions or Additions

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1]

Inapplicability to Certain Tracts Abutting Aircraft Runway

Sec. 1A. The requirement of this Act that a plat be made and recorded does not apply to an owner of a tract of land that is located entirely within an incorporated city or town having a population of 5,000 or fewer persons, according to the most recent federal census, that is divided into parts, all of which are larger than 2½ acres, and that abuts or otherwise attaches to any part of an aircraft runway.

Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful for the County Clerk of any county in which such land lies to receive or record any such plan, plat or replat, unless and until the same shall have been approved by the City Planning Commission of any city affected by this Act, if said city has a City Planning Commission and if it has no City Planning Commission, unless and until the said plan, plat, or replat shall have been approved by the governing body of such city. If a city has a City Planning Commission, the governing body may, by ordinance, additionally require approval of said plan, plat, or replat by the governing body. If such land lies outside of and within five (5) miles of more than one (1) city affected by this Act, then the requisite approval shall be by the City Planning Commission or governing body, or both, as the case may be, of such of said cities having the largest population; provided, however, that the governing body of any city having the largest population may enter into an agreement with any other city or cities affected, or the governing body of the largest city may enter into an agreement with any other city within five (5) miles conferring the power of approval within stated portions of the area upon such other city; but any such agreement shall be revocable by either city at the end of twenty (20) years after the date of the agreement or at the end of such shorter period of time as may be agreed upon. A copy of any such agreement shall be filed with the County Clerk, and during the time the agreement continues in force he shall not receive or record any such plan, plat or replat unless it has been approved by the City Planning Commission or the governing body, or both, as the case may be, of the city or cities upon which the power of approval is conferred by the agreement. Any person desiring to have a plan, plat or replat approved as herein provided, shall apply therefor to and file a copy with the Commission, if there be one, or with the governing body if there is no Commission. The Commission, or governing body, as the case may be, shall act upon same within thirty (30) days from the filing date. If said plat be not disapproved within thirty (30) days from said filing date, it shall be deemed to have been approved by the Commission, or the governing body if there is no Commission. If a city with a Commission has required that approval be given by the governing body, then the governing body shall act upon the same within thirty (30) days after the approval by the Commission, or after the approval by reason of nonaction. If said plat be not disapproved by the governing body within said thirty (30) days, it shall be deemed to have been approved by the governing body. A certificate showing the filing dates hereunder and the failure to take actions thereon within the periods herein prescribed shall on demand be issued by the City Planning Commission or governing body, as the case may be, of such city, and said certificate shall be sufficient in lieu of the written endorsement or other evidence of approval herein required. If the plan, plat, or replat is approved, such Commission or governing body shall indicate such finding by certificate endorsed thereon, signed by the Chairman or presiding officer of said Commission or governing body and attested by its Secretary, or signed by a majority of the members of said Commission or of the Governing Body when appropriate under this Act. Such Commission or governing body shall keep a record of such applications and the action taken thereupon, and upon demand of the owners of any land affected, shall certify its reasons for the action taken in the matter.

Vacation of Plat or Plan: Recording Replat or Resubdivision Without Vacation

Sec. 5. (a) Any such plan, plat or replat may be vacated by the proprietors of the land covered thereby at any time before the sale of any lot therein by a written instrument declaring the same to be vacated, duly executed, acknowledged and recorded in the same office as the plat to be vacated, provided the approval of the City Planning Commission or governing body of such city, as the case may be, shall have been obtained as above provided, and the execution and recordation of the instrument shall operate to destroy the force and effect of the recording of the plan, plat or replat so vacated. In cases where lots have been sold, the plan, plat or replat, or any part thereof, may be vacated upon the application of all the owners of lots in said plat and with the approval, as above provided, of the City Planning Commission or governing body of said city, as the case may be. The County Clerk of the county in whose office the plan or plat thus vacated has been recorded shall write in plain, legible letters across the plan or plat so vacated the word "Vacated," and also make a reference on the same to the volume and page in which said instrument of vacation is recorded.

(b) In the event there is not compliance with Subsection (a) of this section, a replat or resubdivision of a plat, or a portion thereof, but without vacation of the immediate previous plat, is hereby expressly authorized to be recorded and shall be deemed valid and controlling, when approved, after a public hearing, by the City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body, as the case may be, when:

(1) it has been signed and acknowledged by only the owners of the particular property which is being resubdivided or replatted;

(2) it has been approved by the City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body, as the case may be, after a public hearing in relation thereto at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard;

(3) it does not attempt to alter, amend or remove any covenants or restrictions; and

(4) there is compliance, when applicable, with Subsections (c) and (d) of this section.

(c) The following additional requirements for approval shall apply, in any resubdivision or replating of a subdivision, without vacating the immediate previous plat, if any of the proposed area to be resubdivided or replatted was within the immediate preceding five years limited by any interim or permanent zoning classification to residential use for not more than two residential units per lot, or if any lot in the immediate previous subdivision was limited by deed restriction to residential use for not more than two residential units per lot:

(1) Notice of such City Planning Commission or appropriate governing body hearing shall be given in advance in the following manner:

(A) publication at least 15 days in advance of hearing being published in an official paper or a paper of general circulation in the county in which such governing body is located; and

(B) written notice (with a copy of Subdivision (2) of this subsection attached thereto) of such public hearing forwarded by the City Planning Commission or appropriate governing body to owners (as the ownerships appear on the last approved ad valorem tax roll of such governing body) of all lots in the immediate preceding subdivision plat not less than 15 days prior to the date of such hearing; such notice may be served by depositing the same, properly addressed and postage paid, in a post office or postal depository within the boundaries of such governing body; provided, however, if such immediate preceding subdivision plat shall contain more than 100 lots, such notice shall be mailed only to those owners of lots which are located within 500 feet of the lot or lots which are sought to be replatted or resubdivided.

(2) The City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body shall require in any resubdivision or replatting to which this subsection applies written approval of 66% percent of:

(A) the owners of all lots in such plat; or

(B) the owners of all lots in such plat within 500 feet of the property sought to be replatted or resubdivided if such immediate preceding plat contains more than 100 lots.

The provisions of Subdivision (2) of this subsection shall, however, apply only if 20 percent, or more, of the owners, to whom notice is required to be given, of the lots in such plat a portion of which is sought to be replatted or resubdivided file with the City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body written protest of such replating or resubdivision prior to, or at, the hearing referred to in the notice of the proposed replating or resubdivision. In computing percentages of ownership, each lot in such subdivision shall be considered equal to all other lots regardless of size or number of owners, and the owners of each lot shall be entitled to cast only one vote per lot.

(3) Provided, however, compliance with Subdivision (1) or (2) of this subsection shall not be required for approval of a replating or resubdividing of a portion of a prior plat if all of the proposed area sought to be replatted or resubdivided was designated or reserved for usage other than for single or duplex family residential usage by notation on the last legally recorded plat or in the legally recorded restrictions applicable to such plat.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the City Planning Commission or other appropriate governing body of a city is authorized to approve and issue an amending plat which is signed by the applicants only, and which is for one or more of the purposes set forth in the following Subdivisions (1) through (8), both inclusive, and such approval and issuance shall not require notice, hearing, or approval of other lot owners. This subsection shall apply only if the sole purpose of the amending plat is:

(1) to correct an error in any course or distance shown on the prior plat;

(2) to add any course or distance that was omitted on the prior plat;

(3) to correct an error in the description of the real property shown on the prior plat;

(4) to indicate monuments set after death, disability, or retirement from practice of the engineer or surveyor charged with responsibilities for setting monuments;

(5) to show the proper location or character of any monument which has been changed in location or character or which originally was shown at the wrong location or incorrectly as to its character on the prior plat;

(6) to correct any other type of scrivener or clerical error or omission as previously approved by the City Planning Commission or governing body of such city; such errors and omissions may include, but are not limited to, lot numbers, acreage, street names, and identification of adjacent recorded plats;

(7) to correct an error in courses and distances of lot lines between two adjacent lots where both lot owners join in the application for plat amendment and neither lot is abolished, provided that such amendment does not attempt to remove recorded covenants or restrictions and does not have a material adverse effect on the property rights of the other owners in the plat; or

(8) to relocate a lot line in order to cure an inadvertent encroachment of a building or improvement on a lot line or on an easement.

"Sec. 5. If any provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the other provisions or applications of this Act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable."

Art. 974d-20. Validation of Consolidation of Certain Cities

Sec. 1. In each instance where an election has heretofore been held in each of two adjoining incorporated cities within the same county in this state on the question of the consolidation or merger of the two cities under one government, and a majority of the voters of each city who participated in the election voted in favor of the proposition submitted to them, and thereafter the officers of the smaller city turned over to the officers of the larger city the record books and assets of the smaller city and the officers of the larger city entered upon the performance of their duties as officers of the consolidated city, and the consolidated city is now functioning or attempting to function as a validly constituted municipality, the consolidation is hereby validated in all respects as of the date of the consolidation or attempted consolidation. All proceedings involved in the consolidation are hereby validated, and the consolidation shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings in either or both of the elections may not have been in accordance with law in regard to the prerequisites for ordering the election, the time of holding the election, the wording of the ballot proposition, the registration of the results, or any other procedure.

Sec. 2. The incorporation proceedings may not be held invalid because they were not performed in accordance with law.

Sec. 3. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing bodies of the cities and towns since their incorporation are validated in all respects as of the date of the proceedings.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to any city or town now involved in litigation questioning any of the acts or proceedings, other than incorporation proceedings or boundary extensions, hereby validated if such litigation is ultimately determined against the legality thereof; nor shall this Act be construed as validating any proceeding which may have been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

All proceedings involved in the consolidation are hereby validated, and the consolidation shall not be held invalid by reason of the fact that the election proceedings in either or both of the elections may not have been in accordance with law in regard to the prerequisites for ordering the election, the time of holding the election, the wording of the ballot proposition, the registration of the results, or any other procedure.

Sec. 2. All governmental proceedings performed by the governing body and other officers of a consolidated city which is within the terms of this Act are hereby validated as of the date of the proceedings against any claim of invalidity because of any defect in the consolidation proceedings or because of any purported authorization for or utilization of advisory services of former officers of the smaller city during a period following the consolidation.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this Act shall relieve the consolidated city from legal claims or actions which may have existed against the smaller city prior to consolidation.

Sec. 4. This Act does not apply to any proceedings or actions the validity of which is involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act if such litigation is ultimately determined against the validity thereof, nor does it apply to any proceedings which may have been nullified by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction before the effective date.

Provided, however, that the state and any incorporated city or town which elects to use the reimbursement method authorized under this subsection may require that all peace officers and fire fighters who operate and use motor vehicles present proof that an extended coverage endorsement has been purchased and that such extended coverage is current.

Sec. 3. Any such city or town thus acquiring any such toll bridge shall have power, to be exercised by its Governing Body as expressed by Ordinance, to fix and to enforce and collect tolls and charges for the use thereof, and for the passage or transportation of persons or property, passengers, vehicles, freight and commodities, over and across such toll bridge. Such tolls and charges shall be fixed from time to time by the Governing Body of any such city or town, and collected under its direction, in accordance with the provisions and requirements of any permits or franchises granted or extended by any governmental authority in respect of or applicable thereto; and, subject to the provisions and requirements of any such permits or franchises, shall be just and reasonable and non-discriminatory, as determined by such Governing Body of any such city or town, and with no free service until the bonds herein provided to be issued to acquire such properties, together with the interest thereon, and all duties and obligations incident thereto or arising therefrom are first fully paid, met, and discharged; and, subject to the provisions and requirements of any such permits and franchises, shall be sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

(a) to pay all expenses necessary to the maintenance and operation of such toll bridge, and to comply with the requirements and make all payments necessary under the provisions of any such permits and franchises therefor;

(b) to pay the interest on and the principal of all bonds and/or warrants issued under this Act when and as the same shall become due and payable;

above subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (d–1), and (e). Nothing herein shall be construed as depriving the State of Texas or the United States of America, or other appropriate agencies having jurisdiction, of power to regulate and control tolls and charges to be collected for such purposes, or to provide for bridges over any such river to be used free of any tolls or charges, provided that the State of Texas does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the bonds and/or warrants issued hereunder that the State will not limit or alter the power hereby vested in any such city or town or the Governing Body thereof to establish and collect such tolls and charges as will produce revenues sufficient to pay the items specified in subparagraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), (d–1), and (e) of this Section 3 of this Act, or exercise it powers in any way to impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the bonds and/or warrants, or of any person in their behalf, until the bonds and/or warrants, together with the interest thereon, with interest on unpaid installments of interest and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceedings by or on behalf of the bondholders and/or warrant holders and all other obligations of any such city or town in connection with such bonds and/or warrants are fully met and discharged.

(g) this section shall apply to international toll bridges now in existence and owned by a city or that may be acquired or controlled by a city in the future.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 366, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 1015g–5. Eligible City Operating International Toll Bridge over Rio Grande; Acquisition, Construction, Operation, and Financing

Applicability of Act

Sec. 1. This Act applies only to incorporated cities and towns whose corporate limits are at any point within 15 miles from the part of the Rio Grande that forms the border between Texas and the Republic of Mexico. In this Act, “eligible city” means a city to which this Act applies.

Acquisition of Toll Bridge, etc.; Contracts

Sec. 2. (a) Each eligible city is authorized for any public purpose to acquire, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, operate, and maintain one or more toll bridges over the part of the Rio Grande that forms the border between Texas and the Republic of Mexico.

(b) In this Act, “toll bridge” includes:

(1) the physical properties constituting all or part of a toll bridge;

(2) the permits, grants, franchises, rights, and privileges of every kind granted or extended by the United States, the Republic of Mexico, or any state or political subdivision of those nations for or in regard to the construction, maintenance, or operation of a toll bridge or for the collection of tolls or other charges for use of the toll bridge;

(3) the lands, rights-of-way, easements, leaseholds, and contractual or other interests of any kind in lands in either of those nations held or used for or in any manner incident to the construction, maintenance, or operation of a toll bridge or approaches to a toll bridge or for the use or occupancy of any buildings, structures, appurtenances, appliances, roads, streets, railroads, parks, grounds, or conveniences or facilities of any kind related in any manner incident to a toll bridge;

(4) the buildings, structures, appurtenances, appliances, equipment, conveniences, and facilities of any kind held or used for or in any manner incident to the construction, maintenance, and operation of a toll bridge and the leases and contracts of any kind for the use or occupancy of those lands, buildings, structures, conveniences, appliances, and facilities; and

(5) the rights and properties of any kind incident to or used for the construction, maintenance, or operation of a toll bridge.

(c) An eligible city may make and enter into, carry out, observe, and perform any and all contracts, agreements, and undertakings required by the United States or the Republic of Mexico or any departments, officers, governmental agencies, or public authorities of either nation for the purpose of engaging in the activities authorized by this Act.

Revenue Bonds Authorized; Interim Financing

Sec. 3. (a) For the purpose of providing funds to acquire, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, or equip a toll bridge or a part of a toll bridge or related buildings, structures, or other facilities for any public purpose, the governing body of an eligible city may issue revenue bonds from time to time in one or more issues or series to be payable from and secured by liens on and pledges of all or any part of any of the revenues, income, or receipts derived by the eligible city from its ownership and operation of any portion of a toll bridge or bridges over the Rio Grande and from its ownership and operation of any other property, buildings, structures, activities, operations, or facilities.

(b) Pending the issuance of revenue bonds pursuant to this Act, an eligible city may use money that is not required by law to be used for other purposes for expenditures in connection with a toll bridge or bridges or may issue notes for those expenditures. If an eligible city uses its money for this purpose, the money may be repaid out of proceeds of the revenue bonds issued under this Act. If notes of the city are issued for this purpose, the notes shall have the characteristics deemed appropriate by the governing body of the city, may bear the rate or rates of interest, may be payable from sources available to pay, and may be secured in the same manner as revenue bonds issued under this Act or payable from the proceeds of refunding bonds issued under this Act or from both revenue bonds and refunding bonds.

Issuance of Bonds and Notes; Negotiability

Sec. 4. (a) The bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be issued to mature serially or otherwise not more than 50 years from the date of issue, and provision may be made for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds or subordinate lien bonds under any terms or conditions that may be set forth in the ordinance authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

(b) The bonds and notes and interest coupons appertaining to the bonds or notes are negotiable instruments within the meaning of and for the purposes provided by the Texas Uniform Commercial Code; however, the bonds may be issued registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest. The bonds and notes shall be executed; issued in the form, denominations, and manner and shall bear interest at the rates provided by the ordinance authorizing issuance of the bonds or notes.

(c) If provided in the bond ordinance, the proceeds from the sale of the bonds may be used for paying interest on the bonds during the period of the acquisition or construction of any facilities to be provided through the issuance of bonds, paying expenses of operation and maintenance of any facilities, creating a reserve fund for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and creating any other funds and may be placed on time deposit or invested, until needed, all to the extent and in the manner provided by the bond ordinance.

Tolls and Charges

Sec. 5. Each eligible city may fix and collect tolls, rentals, rates, and charges for the occupancy, use, and availability of all or any of its toll bridges in the amounts and in the manner as may be determined by the city's governing body.

Security for Bonds

Sec. 6. (a) An eligible city may pledge all or any part of its revenues, incomes, or receipts from tolls, rentals, rates, and charges, or other resources to the payment of bonds issued pursuant to this Act, including the payment of principal, interest, and any other amounts required or permitted in connection with the bonds. The pledged tolls, rentals, rates, and charges shall be fixed and collected in amounts that will be at least sufficient, together with any other pledged resources, to provide for all payments of principal, interest, and any other amounts required in connection with the bonds and to the extent required by the ordinance authorizing issuance of the bonds to provide for the payment of expenses in connection with the bonds and for the payment of operation, maintenance, and other expenses in connection with the toll bridge or bridges.

(b) The bonds may be additionally secured by mortgages or deeds of trust on any real property owned by the eligible city and by chattel mortgages or liens on any personal property appurtenant to the real property. The governing body of the eligible city may authorize the execution of trust indentures, mortgages, deeds of trust, or other forms of encumbrances to evidence the debt.

(c) An eligible city may pledge to the payment of the bonds all or any part of any grant, donation, revenue, or income received or to be received from the United States or any other public or private source whether pursuant to an agreement or otherwise.

Use of Property by Federal Government

Sec. 7. It is hereby found, determined, and declared that the acquisition, purchase, construction, improvement, enlargement, or equipping by an eligible city of any property, buildings, structures, or other facilities for lease to the United States government for use in performing federal governmental functions in the city, or in performing federal governmental functions at or near and relating to its toll bridge, even though the toll bridge and the federal facilities relating to the toll bridge are not located in the city, is and constitutes a public purpose and a proper municipal function. Any property, buildings, structures, or other facilities acquired, purchased, constructed, improved, enlarged, or equipped in whole or in part with proceeds from the sale of bonds issued pursuant to this Act may be leased or rented by an eligible city to the United States under the terms and conditions and for the period agreed to by the parties.

Payment of Bonds and Notes; Taxability

Sec. 8. Bonds and notes issued pursuant to this Act are payable solely from the revenues, income, receipts, or other resources of the issuing city, as provided in this Act, and the bonds and notes are not tax obligations of the eligible city.

Refinancing

Sec. 9. (a) Bonds or notes issued pursuant to this Act may be refunded or otherwise refinanced by the issuance of refunding bonds for the purpose and under the terms, conditions, and details prescribed by ordinance of the governing body of the eligible city. All pertinent and appropriate provisions of this Act are applicable to refunding bonds, and they shall be issued in the manner provided for other bonds authorized under this Act. Refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts sufficient to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of bonds and notes to be refunded at maturity or on any redemption date.
(b) Refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds and notes being refunded. If refunding bonds are issued under this subsection, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds or notes being refunded in accordance with the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. An exchange may be made in one delivery or in several installment deliveries.

(c) Bonds and notes issued at any time pursuant to this Act may be refunded in the manner provided by any other applicable law in addition to that provided by this section.

Approval and Registration

Sec. 10. All bonds and notes issued pursuant to this Act and the appropriate proceedings authorizing their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If he finds that the bonds and notes have been authorized in accordance with law, he shall approve them, and on approval the bonds and notes shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts. After approval and registration, the bonds and notes are incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Bonds and Notes as Lawful Investments and Deposit Security

Sec. 11. (a) Bonds and notes issued pursuant to this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, and trustees, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the State of Texas and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic.

(b) The bonds and notes when accompanied by any unmatured interest coupons appurtenant to them are eligible and lawful security to the extent of their market value for any deposits of public funds of the state or any agency, subdivision, or instrumentality of the state, including a county, city, town, village, school district or other type of district, public agency, or body politic.

Act Cumulative and Wholly Sufficient

Sec. 12. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, and this Act is wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and notes and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereunder without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided; and when any bonds or notes are being issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any other law, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control; provided, however, that any eligible city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws not in conflict with the provisions hereof to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1A and 1B]

Authority to Adopt Tax; Imposition and Rate; Election and Ballots; Canvass of Returns; Results of Election; City Boundaries; Tax Schedule and Bracket System Formula for Joint Collection of Taxes; Standards

Sec. 2.

B. The sales tax portion of any local sales and use tax adopted under this Section is hereby imposed at the rate of one percent (1%) on the receipts from the sale at retail of all taxable items within any city adopting such tax which items are subject to taxation by the State of Texas under the provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, as enacted, and as herefore or hereafter amended, and at the rate of one percent (1%) on the receipts from the sale at retail within the city of gas and electricity for residential use as defined by the State Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act.

L. In each city in which a local sales and use tax has been imposed in the manner provided by this Act, every retailer selling gas or electricity for residential use shall add the tax imposed by this Act to his sales price and when added the tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price. The amount of the tax on the sale at retail of gas and electricity for residential use shall be calculated by multiplying the amount of the tax by the sales price. Any fraction of one cent ($0.01) which is less than one-half of one cent ($0.005) shall not be collected. Any fraction of one cent ($0.01) of tax equal to one-half of one cent ($0.005) or more shall be collected by the retailer as a whole cent ($0.01) of tax. The Comptroller may publish a schedule based on the above formula for cities imposing a tax on the sale at retail of gas and electricity for residential use.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 3]

Excise Tax; Combined Rate of Excise Tax; Imposition, Rate and Collection of Tax

Sec. 4. A. Except as provided in Subsection D of this Section, in every city where the local sales and use tax has been adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Act, there is hereby imposed an excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption within such city of tangible personal property purchased, leased, or rented from any retailer on or after the effective date for collection of the sales tax portion of the local sales and use tax for storage, use or other consumption in such city at the rate of one percent (1%) of the sales price of the property or, in the case of leases or rentals, of said lease or rental price. Except as provided in Subsection E of this Section, the local use tax is not owed to and may not be collected by, for, or behalf of a city if no excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption of an item of tangible personal property is owed to or collected by the State under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act or if the tangible personal property is first stored, used, or consumed within a city or area that has not adopted the local sales or use tax.

B. Except as provided in Subsection D of this Section, in each city where the local sales and use tax has been imposed as provided in Section 2 of this Act, the excise tax imposed under the State Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act on the storage, use, or other consumption of tangible personal property and the excise tax imposed by this Section of this Act shall be added together to form a combined rate of excise tax which is equal to the sum of the two taxes. The tax imposed by this Section of this Act shall be collected by the Comptroller on behalf of and for the benefit of such city. The bracket system formula prescribed in Subsection K of Section 2 of this Act shall be applicable to the collection of the excise tax imposed under this Section.

C. The provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act relating to the administration and collection of the storage and use tax portion of the state tax is applicable to the collection of the tax imposed by this Section, provided that in Subchapter D of Chapter 151, Tax Code, the name of the city where the local sales and use tax has been adopted shall be substituted for that of the State where the words “this State” are used to designate the taxing authority or to delimit the tax imposed.

D. In every city where the local sales and use tax has been adopted under this Act, there is imposed an excise tax on the storage, use or other consumption within the city of gas and electricity for residential use purchased, leased or rented from any retailer on or after the effective date for collection of the sales tax portion of the local sales and use tax for storage, use or other consumption within the city at the rate of one percent (1%) of the sales price of the gas and electricity for residential use, or in the case of leases or rentals, of the lease or rental price. In every city where the local sales and use tax has been adopted under this Act, the excise tax imposed by this Section shall be calculated as provided in Subsection L, Section 2 of this Act and shall be collected by the Comptroller on behalf of and for the benefit of the city in the same manner as if the use, storage or other consumption of gas and electricity for residential use were not exempt under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act.

E. If a sale of tangible personal property is consummated within the State but not within a city that has adopted the taxes imposed by this Act and the tangible personal property is shipped directly into or brought by the purchaser or lessee directly into a city that has adopted the taxes imposed by this Act, the tangible personal property is subject to the local use tax imposed by the city under Subsection A of this Section. The use is considered consummated at the location where the item is first stored, used, or otherwise consumed after the interstate transit has ceased.

F. If the tangible personal property is shipped from outside this State to a customer within this State, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Subsection A of this Section and not the sales tax imposed by Subsection B, Section 2 of this Act. The use is consummated at the first point in this State where the property is stored, used, or otherwise consumed after interstate transit has ceased. Tangible personal property delivered to a point in this State is presumed to be for storage, use, or other consumption at that point until the contrary is established.

1 Tax Code, §151.101 et seq.

Residential Gas and Electricity: Exemption and Reimposition of Tax

Sec. 4A. Effective October 1, 1979, there are exempted from the taxes imposed by this Act the receipts from the sale, production, distribution, lease or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption within the city of gas and electricity for residential use within a city adopting the taxes imposed by this Act unless prior to May 1, 1979, the governing body of the city, by a majority vote of the membership of the governing body, votes to continue the taxes authorized by this Act on the sale, production, distribution, lease or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption of gas and electricity for residential use. At any time before or after October 1, 1979, the governing body of a city that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act may, by a majority vote of the membership of the governing body, exempt from the taxes imposed by this Act the receipts from the sale, production, distribution, lease or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption within the city of gas and electricity for residential use. The governing body of a city that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act and provided for the exemption authorized or required by this section may, by a majority vote of the governing body, reimpose the taxes on the sale, production, distribution, lease or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption in the city of gas and electricity for residential use. If a majority of the governing body votes for the exemption authorized by this section or for the reimposition of the tax under this section, the results of the vote must be entered in the minutes of the city. Thereafter the city secretary shall forward to the comptroller by United States Registered or Certified Mail a copy of the ordinance. On actual receipt by the comptroller of the notification, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter prior to the exemption or reimposition becoming effective. The exemption or reimposition shall take effect beginning on the first day of the calendar quarter next succeeding the elapsed quarter. If the governing body of a city, by a majority vote of the governing body, votes to exempt from the taxes authorized by this Act the receipts from the sale, production, distribution, lease, or rental of, and the use, storage, or other consumption of gas and electricity for residential use and forwards to the comptroller by United States Registered or Certified Mail postmarked on or before September 10, 1978, a certified copy of the ordinance, the exemption is effective on October 1, 1978, except that the exemption does not apply to sales of gas and electricity for residential use made during a retailer’s regular monthly billing period for a consumer if the regular monthly billing period for the consumer begins before October 1, 1978, but shall apply to each regular monthly billing period beginning on or after October 1, 1978.

Sec. 5. (a) On and after the effective date of any tax imposed under the provisions of this Act, the Comptroller shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement, and operation of the tax, and the Comptroller shall collect, in addition to the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax for the State of Texas, an additional tax under the authority of this Act of one percent (1%) on the receipts from the sale at retail or on the sale price or

The term "place of business of the retailer" includes any location at which three or more orders are received by the retailer in a calendar year.

A warehouse, storage yard, or manufacturing plant may not be considered a "place of business of the retailer" unless three or more orders are received by the retailer in a calendar year. Each "place of business of the retailer" must have a permit issued by the Comptroller in accordance with Article 20.021, Title 122A, Taxation—General, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended. For the purpose of determining the proper local sales tax imposed by this Act, a retail sale, lease, or rental is consummated as provided in Paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this subdivision, regardless of where transfer of title or possession or segregation in contemplation of transfer of title or possession of the taxable item occurs unless the tangible personal property sold, leased, or rented is delivered by the retailer or his agent to an out-of-state destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-state destination.

(a) If a retailer has only one place of business within this State, all retail sales, leases, and rentals of the retailer are consummated at that place of business, except as provided in Subdivision (d) of this Subsection.

(b) If a retailer has more than one place of business in this State, the retailer's place of business where the purchaser or lessee takes possession of and removes an item of tangible personal property is the place of business where the sale, lease, or rental of that item is consummated. If, however, the retailer ships or delivers the tangible personal property to a point designated by the purchaser or lessee, then the retailer's place of business from which the tangible personal property is shipped or delivered to the purchaser or lessee is the place of business where the sale, lease, or rental is consummated.

(c) If neither possession of tangible personal property is taken at nor shipment or delivery of the tangible personal property is made from the retailer's place of business within this State, the sale, lease, or rental is consummated at the retailer's place of business within the State where the order is received or if the order is not received at a place of business of the retailer, at the place of business from which the retailer's salesman who took the order operates.

(d) When transfer of possession of tangible personal property occurs at or shipment or delivery originates from a location within the State other than a place of business of the retailer, the sale, lease, or rental is consummated at the location within this State to which the tangible personal property is shipped or delivered or at which possession is taken by the customer when:

(i) the retailer is an itinerant vendor and has no place of business, or

(ii) the retailer's place of business where the purchase order is initially received or from which the retailer's salesman who took the order operates is outside the State, or

(iii) the purchaser places the order directly with the retailer's supplier and the property is shipped or delivered directly to the purchaser by the supplier.

(e) The sale of natural gas or electricity is consummated at the point of delivery to the consumer.

(2) For the purpose of the excise tax imposed by this Act on any retailer holding tangible personal property purchased on a resale certificate and which property becomes subject to the excise tax by reason of use or other consumption of the property, the use or other consumption of the property is consummated at the place where the property is stored or kept at the time of or just prior to its use or consumption, unless the tangible personal property is delivered by the retailer or his agent to an out-of-state destination or to a common carrier for delivery to an out-of-state destination.
(3) For the purpose of determining the proper local use tax imposed by this Act, a holder of a direct payment permit issued by the Comptroller under the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act who becomes liable for local use tax by reason of storage, use, or other consumption of taxable items purchased in this State under a direct payment exemption certificate, shall allocate the tax to the city in which the taxable item was first removed from the permit holder’s storage, or if not stored, the place at which the items are first used or consumed by the permit holder after transportation. As used in this paragraph, storage, use, or other consumption may not include a temporary delay or interruption necessary and incident to the transportation or further fabrication, processing, or assembling of taxable items within this State for delivery to the permit holder. A charge for processing, fabrication, or further assembly in a city that has adopted the local use tax shall be subject to the local use tax. If a taxable item is first stored, used, or consumed within a city that has not adopted the tax imposed by this Act or outside of a city, no local use tax is due.

C. (1) All exemptions granted to agencies of government, organizations, persons, and to the sale, storage, use, and other consumption of certain articles and items taxable under the provisions of Subchapter H, Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act," are hereby made applicable to the imposition and collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as specifically provided in Section 151.317(b) of that Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 6C(2)]

D. The same sales tax permit, exemption certificate, and resale certificate required by the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act for the administration and collection of the State Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax shall satisfy the requirements of this Act, and no additional permit or exemption certificate or resale certificate shall be required; except that the Comptroller may prescribe a form of exemption certificate for an exemption from the tax imposed by this Act as a result of a prior contract under Subsection C of this Section.

F. The penalties provided in the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act for violations of that Act are hereby made applicable to violations of this Act.

Delinquent Taxes; Collection Suits; Notice and Limitations; Parties; Seizure and Sale of Property

Sec. 12. A. In any city where the Local Sales and Use Tax has been imposed, if any person is delinquent in the payment of the amount required to be paid by him under this Act or in the event a determination has been made against him for taxes and penalty under this Act, the limitation for bringing suit for the collection of such delinquent tax and penalty shall be the same as that provided in the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act. Where any person is delinquent in payment of taxes under this Act, the Comptroller shall notify the Tax Collector of the city to which delinquent taxes are due under this Act by United States Registered Mail or Certified Mail and shall send a copy of the notice to the Attorney General. The city, acting through its attorney, may join in any suit brought by the Attorney General as a party plaintiff to seek a judgment for the delinquent taxes and penalty due such city. The notice sent by the Comptroller to the tax collector of the city showing the delinquency of a taxpayer for the local sales and use tax constitutes a certification of the amount owed and is prima facie evidence of the determination of the tax and of the delinquency of the amounts of local sales and use tax set forth in the notice.

C. (1) A city that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act may bring suit for the collection of sales, excise, or use taxes imposed by this Act which have been certified as provided in Subsection A of this Section and are owed to the city under this Act if at least 60 days before the filing of the suit, written notice by certified mail of the tax delinquency and of the intention to file suit is given to the taxpayer, the Comptroller, and the Attorney General and if neither the Comptroller nor the Attorney General disapproves the suit by written notice to the city.

(2) The Comptroller or Attorney General may disapprove the institution of tax suit by a city if:

(i) negotiations between the State and the taxpayer are being conducted for the purpose of the collection of delinquent taxes owed to the State and the city seeking to bring suit;

(ii) the taxpayer owes substantial taxes to the State and there is a reasonable possibility that the taxpayer may be unable to pay the total amount owed in full;

(iii) the State will bring suit against the taxpayer for the collection of all sales, excise, and use taxes due under the Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act and this Act; or

(iv) the suit involves a critical legal question relating to the interpretation of State law or a provision of the Texas or United States Constitution in which the State has an overriding interest.

(3) A notice of disapproval to a city must give the reason for the determination of the Comptroller or Attorney General. A disapproval is final and not subject to review. A city, after one (1) year from the date of the disapproval, may proceed again as provided in paragraph (1) of Subsection C of this Section, even though the liability of the taxpayer includes taxes for which the city has previously given notice and the Comptroller or Attorney General has previously disapproved the suit.

(4) In any suit under this Subsection for the collection of city tax, a judgment for or against the taxpayer does not affect any claim against the taxpayer by another city or the State unless the State is a party to the action.

(5) A copy of the final judgment in favor of a city in a case in which the State is not a party shall be abstracted by the city and a copy of the judgment together with a copy of the abstract shall be sent to the Comptroller. The city shall collect the taxes awarded to it under the judgment as provided by Section 151.006(f), Limited Sales, Excise, and Use Tax Act, and is responsible for the renewal of the judgment before the expiration of the 10-year period. If a collection is made by a city on a judgment, notice of the amount collected shall be sent by certified mail to the Comptroller. The Comptroller may prescribe a form for the notice to be used by cities.

No other act is necessary for the newly designated zone to exercise powers or perform duties as provided by this Act."

Section 5 of the 1981 repealing act provides, in part: "The repeal does not affect the continuation of tax incremental districts designated as reinvestment zones as provided by SECTION 2 of this Act."

The repealed article, relating to rehabilitation and development of blighted areas, tax incremental districts, and bond and notes was derived from Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1663, ch. 695, §§ 1 to 12.

Criteria for a Reinvestment Zone
Sec. 3. (a) An incorporated city or town may promote development or redevelopment of a contiguous geographic area within its jurisdiction through tax increment financing under this Act. The incorporated city or town must adopt an ordinance in order to designate an area as a reinvestment zone for tax increment financing.

(b) To be designated as a reinvestment zone an area must:

(1) substantially impair or arrest the sound growth of a city or town, retard the provision of housing accommodations, or constitute an economic or social liability and be a menace to the public health, safety, morals, or welfare in its present condition and use by reason of the presence of a substantial number of substandard, slum, deteriorated, or deteriorating structures; predominance of defective or inadequate sidewalk or street layout; faulty lot layout in relation to size, adequacy, accessibility, or usefulness; unsanitary or unsafe conditions; deterioration of site or other improvements; tax or special assessment delinquency exceeding the fair value of the land; defective or unusual conditions of title; the existence of conditions that endanger life or property by fire or other cause; or any combination of these factors or conditions; or

(2) be predominately open and, because of obsolete plating or deterioration of structures or site improvements, substantially impair or arrest the sound growth of the city or town; or

(3) be in a federally assisted new community located within a city or town or in an area immediately adjacent to the federally assisted new community; or

(4) be located wholly within an area which meets the requirements for federal assistance under Section 119 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.1

Sec. 4. (a) Prior to adoption of an ordinance providing for a reinvestment zone for tax increment financing a city or town must hold a public hearing on the adoption of the zone and its benefits to the city or town and to property in the zone. At the hearing interested parties may speak for or against the creation, the boundaries of the reinvestment zone, and the concept of tax increment financing. Notice of the hearing must be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the city or town not later than seven days before the date of the hearing.

(b) A city or town must provide a reasonable opportunity for an owner of property to protest the inclusion of his property in the zone.

c) The ordinance must:

(1) describe the boundaries of the reinvestment zone with sufficient definiteness to identify with ordinary and reasonable certainty the territory included in the zone;

(2) create a board of directors for the zone, specify the number of members of the board as provided by Section 6 of this Act, and appoint the initial members of the board;

(3) provide that the zone takes effect on January 1 of the year following the year in which the zone is approved by adoption of the ordinance and provide a date for termination of the zone;

(4) assign a name to the district for identification purposes. The first district created shall be known as “Reinvestment Zone Number One, City or Town of [ ]” with each subsequently created zone assigned the next consecutive number;

(5) establish a “Tax Increment Fund,” for the zone; and

(6) contain findings that:

(A) improvements in the zone will enhance significantly the value of all the taxable real property in the zone, although the ordinance need not identify the specific parcels enhanced in value, and will be of general benefit to the city or town;

(B) the area meets the requirements set out in Section 3 of this Act.

Restrictions

Sec. 5. (a) A reinvestment zone may not be created if more than 10 percent of the property in the zone, excluding that dedicated to public use, is used for residential purposes, or if the total appraised value of taxable real property in the zone according to the most recent appraisal rolls of the city or town and the total appraised value of taxable real property in existing zones according to the most recent appraisal rolls of the city or town exceed 15 percent of the current total appraised value of taxable real property in the city or town and in the industrial districts created by the city or town.

(b) The boundaries of a zone may not be changed to include within the zone property more than 10 percent of which, excluding property dedicated to public use, is used for residential purposes, or to include more than 15 percent of the current total appraised value of taxable real property in the city or town and in the industrial districts created by the city or town.

(c) For purposes of this section property is used for residential purposes if it is occupied by a house which has less than five living units.

Board of Directors

Sec. 6. (a) The number of members of the board of directors may not be fewer than five nor more than 15.

(b) Members of the board of directors are appointed by the governing body of the city or town for terms of two years unless longer terms are provided pursuant to Article XI, Section 11, Texas Constitution. Terms of members may be staggered. A vacancy on the board is filled for the unexpired term by appointment of the governing body of the city or town.

(c) To be eligible for appointment to the board of directors of a zone, an individual must:

(1) be a qualified voter of the city or town; or
(2) be at least 18 years old and own real property in the zone, without regard to whether he or she resides in the city or town.

(d) After the board of directors has existed for one year, the governing body of the city or town by ordinance may abolish the board and assume the board’s powers, duties, and functions. An ordinance under this subsection may be adopted only on the affirmative vote of at least three-fourths of the members of the governing body of the city or town.

(e) Each year the governing body of the city or town shall appoint one member of the board of directors to serve as chairman of the board for a term of one year that begins on January 1 of the following year. The board of directors may elect a vice-chairman to preside in the absence of the chairman or when there is a vacancy in the position of chairman. The board may elect other officers as it sees fit.

Recommendations and Powers

Sec. 7. The board of directors shall make recommendations to the governing body of the city or town concerning administration of this Act in the zone. In addition to the powers delegated to the board of directors under other provisions of this Act, the governing body of the city or town by ordinance may delegate to the board any powers and duties with regard to the implementation of the project plan for the zone that the governing body considers advisable.

Project Plan

Sec. 8. (a) The board of directors of a reinvestment zone must prepare and adopt a project plan for the zone and must submit the plan to the governing body of the city or town. The plan must include a statement listing the kind, number, and location of all proposed public works or public improvements in the zone, an economic feasibility study, a detailed list of estimated project costs, and a description of the methods of financing all estimated project costs and the time when related costs or monetary obligations are to be incurred. The plan must also include a map showing existing uses and conditions of real property in the zone and a map showing proposed improvements to and uses of real property in the zone. Proposed changes of zoning ordinances, the master plan, building codes, and city ordinances must also be included in the plan along with a list of estimated nonproject costs and a statement of a method of relocating persons to be displaced as a result of implementation of the plan.

(b) The governing body of the city or town must approve a project plan after its adoption by the board. The approval must be by ordinance that finds that the plan is feasible and conforms to the master plan, if any, of the city or town.

(c) The board of directors of the zone at any time may adopt an amendment to the project plan. The amendment takes effect on approval by the governing body of the city or town. Approval must be by ordinance.

Powers of Cities or Towns

Sec. 9. A city or town may exercise any power necessary and convenient to carry out this Act, including the power to:

(1) create reinvestment zones and to describe the boundaries of the zones;
(2) cause project plans to be prepared, to approve and implement the plans, and otherwise achieve the purposes of the plan;
Art. 1066e  CITIES, TOWNS AND VILLAGES  2902

(3) acquire real property by purchase, condemnation, or other means to implement project plans;
(4) issue tax increment bonds or notes;
(5) deposit tax increments into the tax increment fund;
(6) enter into agreements, including agreements with bondholders, determined by the governing body of the city or town to be necessary or convenient to implement project plans and achieve their purposes. The agreements may include conditions, restrictions, or covenants that either run with the land or by other means regulate or restrict the use of land; and
(7) consistent with a project plan for a reinvestment zone adopted by the governing body of the city or town, acquire blighted, deteriorating, undeveloped, inappropriately developed real property, or other property in a blighted area or in a federally assisted new community in the zone for the preservation or restoration of historic sites, beautification or conservation, or the provision of public works or public facilities or other public purposes; or acquire, construct, reconstruct, or install public works, facilities, and sites or other public improvements, including utilities, streets, street lights, water and sewer facilities, pedestrian malls and walkways, parks, flood and drainage facilities, and parking facilities.

Collection of Tax Increments

Sec. 10. (a) For purposes of this Act, the tax collector for the city or town shall have the sole authority and duty to collect property taxes levied by the city or town and all other taxing units on taxable real property in the zone. The amount of real property tax produced from the tax increment base to each city or town and to each other taxing unit shall be allocated and paid over as follows:

(1) There shall first be allocated and paid over the amount of real property tax produced from the tax increment base to each city or town and to each other taxing unit.
(2) There shall next be allocated and paid over to the city or town and to each other taxing unit any property taxes produced from the tax increments which are, by contract executed prior to the designation of the area as a reinvestment zone, required to be paid over by the city or town or other political subdivision.
(3) There shall next be deposited into the tax increment fund established for the zone all tax increments produced from the captured appraised value of taxable real property in the zone.

Sec. 11. (a) A city or town may issue tax increment bonds or notes, the proceeds of which may be used to pay project costs for a reinvestment zone or on behalf of which the bonds or notes were issued or to satisfy claims of holders of the bonds or notes. The city or town may issue refunding bonds or notes for the payment or retirement of tax increment bonds or notes previously issued by it. Tax increment bonds shall be made payable, as to both principal and interest, solely from the tax increment fund established by the city or town for the reinvestment zone. A city or town may provide in its contract with the owners or holders of the tax increment bonds that it will pay into the tax increment fund all or any part of the revenue or money produced or received as a result of the operation or sale of a facility acquired, improved, or constructed pursuant to a project plan, to be used to pay principal and interest on the tax increment bonds and, if a city or town so agrees, the owners or holders of the tax increment bonds may have a lien or mortgage on any facility acquired, improved, or constructed with the proceeds of the tax increment bonds. Tax increment bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be issued by ordinance of the city or town without any additional approval other than the approval of the Attorney General of the State of Texas.

(b) Tax increment bonds or notes, together with interest on and income from the bonds or notes, shall be exempt from all taxes. The bonds or notes shall be authorized by ordinance of the governing body of the city or town and may be issued in one or more series. They shall bear a date or dates, be payable upon demand or mature at a time or times, bear interest at a rate or rates, be in a denomination or denominations, be in a form (either coupon or registered), carry conversion or registration privileges, have a rank or priority, be executed in a manner, be payable in a medium of payment at a place or places, and be subject to terms of redemption (with or without premium), be secured in a manner, and have other characteristics as may be provided by the ordinance approving the bonds or notes or by the trust indenture or mortgage issued in connection with the bonds or notes. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds or notes issued pursuant to this Act shall be fully negotiable. In a suit, an action, or other proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of a bond or note issued under this Act or the security for a bond or note issued under this Act, a bond or note reciting in substance that it had been issued by the city or town for a reinvestment zone shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for that purpose, and the development or redevelopment of the zone shall be conclusively deemed to have been planned, located, and carried out as provided by this Act.

(c) All banks, trust companies, savings banks and institutions, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies, and other persons carrying on a banking or investment business; all insurance companies, insurance associations, and other persons carrying on an insurance business; and all executors, administrators, curators, trustees, and other fiduciaries may legally invest any sinking funds, money, or other funds belonging to them or within their control in tax increment bonds or notes issued by a city or town pursuant to this Act. The bonds or notes shall be authorized security for all public deposits. Any persons, political subdivisions, and officers, public or private, are authorized to use any funds owned or controlled by them for the purchase of any tax increment bonds or notes. This Act does not relieve any person of the duty to exercise reasonable care in selecting securities.

(d) Tax increment bonds or notes shall be payable only out of the tax increment fund. The governing body of the city or town may irrevocably pledge all or a part of the fund for payment of the bonds or notes. The part of the fund pledge in payment may thereafter be used only for the payment of the bonds or notes and interest on the bonds or notes until the bonds or notes have been fully paid. A holder of the bonds or notes or of coupons issued on the bonds shall have a lien against the fund for payment of the bonds or notes and interest thereon and may either at law or in equity protect and enforce such lien.

(e) Tax increment bonds or notes issued under this Act shall not be general obligations of the city or town, nor in any event shall they give rise to a charge against the general credit or taxing powers of the city or town or be payable other than as provided by this Act. Any tax increment bonds or notes issued under this Act shall so state these restrictions on their face.

(f) Tax increment bonds or notes issued under this Act shall not be included in any computation of the debt of the issuing city or town.

(g) Tax increment bonds or notes may not be issued in an amount exceeding the total costs of implementing the project plan for the zone for which they were issued. The bonds or notes shall mature within 20 years of their date of issue.

Annual Reports

Sec. 12. (a) On or before July 1 of each year, the governing body of the city or town shall submit to the chief executive officer of every taxing unit that levies property taxes on taxable real property in the district a report on the status of the zone. The report shall include the following information:

1. the amount and source of revenue in the tax increment fund established for the reinvestment zone;
2. the amount and purpose of expenditures from the fund;
3. the amount of principal and interest due on any outstanding bonded indebtedness;
4. the tax increment base and the current captured appraised value retained by the zone; and
5. the captured appraised value shared by the city or town and other taxing units, the total in tax increments received, and any additional information necessary to demonstrate compliance with the tax increment financing plan adopted by the governing body of the city or town.

(b) A copy of this report shall be forwarded to the attorney general.

Termination of a Reinvestment Zone

Sec. 18. A reinvestment zone shall terminate at the time designated in the ordinance creating the zone or at an earlier time designated by a subsequent ordinance, but in any event the zone shall terminate at such time as all project costs and tax increment bonds, and the interest thereon, have been paid in full.

Tax Increment Fund

Sec. 14. (a) Money shall be disbursed from the tax increment fund for a reinvestment zone only to satisfy the claims of holders of tax increment bonds or notes issued for the reinvestment zone or to pay project costs for the zone.

(b) Subject to an agreement with the holders of tax increment bonds or notes, money in a tax increment fund may be temporarily invested in the same manner as other funds of the city or town.

(c) After all project costs and all tax increment bonds or notes issued for a reinvestment zone have been paid, and subject to any agreement with bondholders, if there is any money in the fund, it shall be paid over to the city or town and other taxing units levying taxes on property within the zone in amounts that reflect the respective share of total tax increments resulting from taxable real property in a reinvestment zone that were deposited in the fund during the fund's existence.

No other act is necessary for the newly designated zone to exercise powers or perform duties as provided by this Act."

"Sec. 3. This Act expires December 31, 1991. A reinvestment zone established before that date may continue in existence beyond that date as provided by the ordinance creating the zone."

The constitutional amendment proposed by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., 1st C.S., S.J.R. No. 8, was approved by the voters at an election held November 3, 1981.

Art. 1066f. Property Redevelopment and Tax Abatement Act

Short Title

Sec. 1. This Act may be cited as the Property Redevelopment and Tax Abatement Act.

Agreements for Property Tax Abatement for Property in Need of Improvements

Sec. 2. (a) The governing body of an incorporated city or town shall agree in writing with the owner of taxable real property located in an area designated as a reinvestment zone under Section 3 of this Act, but not located within an improvement project financed by tax increment bonds, to exempt from taxation all or part of the value of the property for any period not in excess of 15 years, subject to the rights of holders of outstanding bonds of the city or town, on the condition that the owner of the property make specified improvements or repairs to the property in conformity with the comprehensive plan, if any, of the city or town. Written agreements with property owners located within a reinvestment zone shall contain identical terms regarding the share of value of the property that is to be exempt from the taxation under the agreement and the duration of the exemption.

(b) An agreement under Subsection (a) of this section must include provisions for:

(1) listing the kind, number, and location of all proposed improvements of the property;

(2) access to and inspection of property by municipal employees to ensure that the improvements or repairs are made according to the specifications and conditions of the agreements;

(3) limiting the uses of the property consistent with the general purpose of encouraging development or redevelopment of the zone during the period that property tax exemptions are in effect; and

(4) recapturing property tax revenue lost as a result of the agreement if the owner of the property fails to make the improvements or repairs as provided by the agreement.

c) An agreement under Subsection (a) or (d) of this section may include, at the option of the city or town, provisions for:

(1) improvements or repairs by the city to streets, sidewalks, and utility services or facilities associated with the property, except that the agreement may not provide for lower charges or rates than are made for other services or properties of a similar character;

(2) an economic feasibility study, including a detailed list of estimated improvement costs, a description of the methods of financing all estimated costs, and the time when related costs or monetary obligations are to be incurred;

(3) a map showing existing uses and conditions of real property in the reinvestment zone;

(4) a map showing proposed improvements and uses in the reinvestment zone; and

(5) proposed changes of zoning ordinances, the master plan, the map, building codes, and city ordinances.

d) If an area is designated a reinvestment zone, every taxing unit that includes inside its boundaries property that is contained inside the boundaries of the reinvestment zone may execute a written agreement with the owner of any property on which the property taxes are abated due to an agreement under Subsection (a) of this section. Such an agreement must contain terms identical to those contained in the agreement with the city or town regarding the share of the property that is to be exempt from taxation under the agreement, the duration of the exemption, and the provisions included in the agreement pursuant to Subsections (b) and (c) of this section. If a taxing unit fails to execute such an agreement, the taxing unit is limited to taxing any property that is the subject of an agreement under Subsection (a) of this section at the same value at which the property was taxed in the year preceding the execution of the agreement with the city or town, for a period of time equal to twice the duration of the agreement with the city or town.

Designation of Reinvestment Zones

Sec. 3. (a) To be designated as a reinvestment zone, an area must:

(1) substantially impair or arrest the sound growth of a city or town, retard the provision of housing accommodations, or constitute an economic or social liability and be a menace to the public health, safety, morals, or welfare in its present condition and use by reason of the presence of a substantial number of substandard, slum, deteriorated, or deteriorating structures; predominance of defective or inadequate sidewalk or street layout; faulty lot layout in relation to size, accessibility, or usefulness; unsanitary or unsafe conditions; deterioration of site or other improvements; tax or special assessment delinquency exceeding the fair value of the land; defective or unusual conditions of title; the existence of conditions that endanger life or property by fire or other cause; or

(2) be predominantly open and, because of obsolete platting, deterioration of structures or site improvements, or other factors, substantially impair or arrest the sound growth of the city or town; or

(3) be in a federally assisted new community located within a home-rule city or in an area immediately adjacent to the federally assisted new community; or

(4) be located wholly within an area which meets the requirements for federal assistance under Section 119 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.1

(b) For the purposes of Subdivision (3) of Subsection (a) of this section, a federally assisted new community is a federally assisted area that received or will receive assistance in the form of loan guarantees under Title X of the National Housing Act 2 and a portion of the federally assisted area has received grants under Section 107(a)(1) of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.3
(c) The governing body of an incorporated city or town may designate, by boundaries, as a reinvestment zone any area within the taxing jurisdiction of the city or town that the governing body finds to satisfy the requirements of Subsection (a) of this section, subject to the limitations set forth by Section 4 of this Act. The governing body of an incorporated city or town shall designate a reinvestment zone eligible for residential property tax abatement, or commercial-industrial tax abatement, or tax incentive financing as provided for in S. B. No. 16, 67th Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1981.

(c) To be effective, an agreement made under Section 2 of this Act must be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the members of the governing body of the city, town, or taxing unit at a regularly scheduled meeting of the governing body. On approval by the governing body, the agreement may be executed as are other contracts made by the city, town, or taxing unit.

Modification or Termination of Agreement
Sec. 6. (a) An agreement made under Section 2 of this Act may be modified by the parties to the agreement to include other provisions that could have been included in the original agreement or to delete provisions that were not necessary to the original agreement at any time during the period of the agreement by the same procedure by which the original agreement was approved and executed. The original agreement may not be amended to extend beyond 15 years from the date of the original agreement.

(b) An agreement made under Section 2 of the Act may be terminated by the mutual consent of the parties in the same manner that the agreement was approved and executed.

Art. 1105b–4. Validation of Assessments and Reassessments for Street, Sewer and Water Improvements
Sec. 1. In this Act, “highway” has the meaning given it in Section 2, Chapter 106, Acts of the 40th Legislature, 1st Called Session, 1927, as amended (Article 1105b, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).

Sec. 3. Where a city acting through its governing body before the effective date of this Act levied or purported to levy an assessment against property or the owners of property as described in Section 2 of this Act, all proceedings of the city relating to the levy or purported levy are validated, ratified, and confirmed as of the time they took place and in accordance with their terms, and the proceedings shall have the full force and effect as is provided under the law under which the city acted or purported to act. The liens created or purported to be created against property they shall be effective from and after the respective times provided by the assessment proceedings, except a lien purported to be created against property that at the time was exempt under the Texas Constitution from a lien of special assessment or reassessment for local improvements is not validated, ratified, or confirmed by this Act.

Sec. 4. All assignable certificates of special assessment relating to a proceeding validated by this Act are also validated.

Sec. 5. This Act does not apply to a matter that on the effective date of this Act is involved in litigation in a court of competent jurisdiction instituted for the purpose of attacking the validity of the matter if the litigation is ultimately determined against the validity of the matter.

Sec. 1. In any case where an incorporated city or town has contracted on behalf of itself and an independent school district and the county in which the city or town is located for the seal coating of roads or parking areas of the governmental entities by a private contractor, all governmental acts and proceedings and all transactions relating to the contract are validated, notwithstanding the failure of any one or more of the governmental entities to comply with all legal requirements concerning the awarding of the contract.

Sec. 2. This Act does not apply to:

1. any act, transaction, or proceeding that occurred before September 1, 1975;
2. any matter that on the effective date of this Act has been declared invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction; or
3. any matter involved in litigation on the effective date of this Act if the litigation ultimately results in the matter being held invalid by a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction.

CHAPTER TEN. PUBLIC UTILITIES

1. CITY OWNED UTILITIES

Art. 1109j. Contracts with Water Districts or Non-profit Corporations for Water, Sewer or Drainage Services Authorization

Sec. 1. Any city or town, whether operating under the General Law or under its special or home rule charter, is authorized to enter into a contract with a district organized under the authority of Article XVI, Section 59 of the Constitution of Texas or any corporation or corporations organized to be operated without profit, and any such district or corporation is authorized to enter into a contract with any such city or town, under the terms of which such district, corporation or corporations will acquire for the benefits of and convey to the city or town one or more water supply or treatment systems, water distribution systems, sanitary sewer collection or treatment systems or works or improvements necessary for the drainage of lands in the city, either singularly or together, and in connection with such acquisition make such improvements, enlargements and extensions of and additions to the existing facilities of such city or town as may be provided for in such contract.

Payments for Water, Sewer or Drainage Services; Purchase of Systems; Pledge of Revenues

Sec. 2. When any such contract shall provide that the city or town shall become the owner of such water, sewer or drainage system or systems upon completion of construction or at such time as all debt incurred by such district or corporation in the acquisition, construction, improvement or extension of such system or systems is paid in full, such city or town shall be authorized to make payments to such district or corporation for water, sewer or drainage services to part or all of the inhabitants of such city or town. Such contract may provide for purchase by the city or town of such system or systems by periodic payments to such district or corporation by the city or town in amounts which, together with the net income of the district or corporation, will be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds of the district or corporation as they become due. Such contract may provide that any payments under this Section 2 shall be payable from and secured by a pledge of a specified portion of the revenues of the water system, the sewer system or the drainage system or systems of the city or town or may provide for the levying of a tax to make such payments, or may provide for such payments to be made from a combination of such revenues and taxes.

Art. 1110f. Sewage; Joint Collection, Transportation, Treatment, and Disposal; Public Utility Agencies

Purpose

Sec. 1. The purpose of this Act is to clarify the authority of public entities that are lawfully authorized to engage in the collection, transportation, treatment, and disposal of sewage, to join together as cotenants or coowners, or by concurrent resolution or ordinance, to create a public utility agency, to engage in the planning, financing, acquiring, constructing, owning, operating, and maintaining of facilities so that each public entity will owe all of the duties, will have and be secure in all of the rights, powers, and liabilities, and shall be entitled to all of the privileges and exemptions attributable to its undivided interest as a cotenant or coowner should the entities elect not to create a public utility agency, as provided by law with respect to an entire interest in facilities planned, financed, acquired, constructed, owned, operated, and maintained by it alone. These alternatives are to serve as a means of achieving economies of scale by providing essential sewage systems to the public and promoting the orderly economic development of the state while providing environmentally sound protection of future wastewater needs of the state and its inhabitants. The provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed to effectuate these purposes but shall not be construed to otherwise enlarge, change, or modify in any way the rights, powers, or authority of any public or private entity under existing law. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to alter, change, abrogate, or otherwise affect the existing contracts in force at the time this Act takes effect.

Definitions

Sec. 2. As used in this Act:

(1) "Public entity" means any county, city, or other body politic or corporate of the state, including any district or authority created under Article III, Section 52, or Article XVI, Section 59, of the Texas Constitution.

(2) "Private entity" means any entity other than a public entity solely involved in financing, constructing, operating, and maintaining sewer facilities.

(3) "Facilities" means facilities necessary or incidental to the collection, transportation, treatment, or disposal of sewage, including plant sites, rights-of-way, and real and personal property and equipment and rights of every kind useful in connection with collection, transportation, treatment, or disposal of sewage.

(4) "Public utility agency" or "agency" means any agency created under this Act by two or more public entities for the purpose of planning, financing, constructing, owning, operating, and maintaining facilities for the purpose of achieving economies of scale in providing sewer services.

Public Utility Agency

Sec. 3. (a) To more readily accomplish the purposes of this Act, two or more public entities, by concurrent ordinances, may create an agency to be known as a public utility agency. The agency shall be without taxing power, and shall be a separate body politic and corporate exercising all of the powers, rights, and liabilities, and shall be entitled to all of the privileges and exemptions attributable to its undivided interest as a cotenant or coowner should the entities elect not to create a public utility agency, as provided by law with respect to an entire interest in facilities planned, financed, acquired, constructed, owned, operated, and maintained by it alone. These alternatives are to serve as a means of achieving economies of scale by providing essential sewage systems to the public and promoting the orderly economic development of the state while providing environmentally sound protection of future wastewater needs of the state and its inhabitants. The provisions of this Act shall be liberally construed to effectuate these purposes but shall not be construed to otherwise enlarge, change, or modify in any way the rights, powers, or authority of any public or private entity under existing law. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to alter, change, abrogate, or otherwise affect the existing contracts in force at the time this Act takes effect.
Art. 110f  CITIES, TOWNS AND VILLAGES  2908

the date, time, and place that the governing body proposes to pass the ordinance and that on the effective date of the concurrent ordinances the public entities adopting them shall have created a public utility agency. If, prior to the day set for the passage of a concurrent ordinance, 10 percent of the qualified electors of the particular public entity present a petition to the governing body requesting that a referendum election be called, the ordinance shall not become effective until a majority of the qualified electors of the entity voting in the election have approved the ordinance. The election shall be called and held in conformity with the Texas Election Code, as amended, Chapter 1, Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, and this Act. Except as provided in this Act, a concurrent ordinance shall not be subject to a referendum election.

(b) Public entities that establish a public utility agency may, by concurrent ordinances, provide for the re-creation of the agency by the addition or deletion of both of a public entity so long as there is no impairment of obligation of any existing obligation of the agency.

(c) Concurrent ordinances are ordinances or resolutions adopted by the governing bodies of more than one public entity that contain identical provisions with respect to the creation or re-creation of a public utility agency.

Rights and Powers of Participating Public Entities

Sec. 4. (a) Each participating public entity may use its funds in planning, acquiring, constructing, owning, operating, and maintaining its undivided interest in lands which may share in the facilities and may issue bonds and other securities to raise funds for these purposes in the same manner and to the same extent and subject to the same conditions that would apply if the undivided interest of the public entity were an entire interest in the facilities.

(b) Each participating public entity may acquire for the use and benefit of all participating public entities by purchase or through the exercise of the power of eminent domain, land, easements, and property for the purpose of jointly owned facilities and may transfer or convey the land, easements, and property, or interests in it, or may otherwise have the land, easements, and property, or interests in it, become vested in other participating public entities to the extent and in the manner agreed between those entities. In all cases in which a participating public entity exercises the power of eminent domain conferred by this Act, the public entity shall be controlled by the law governing the condemnation of property by incorporated cities and towns in this state, and the power of eminent domain conferred by this Act shall include the power to take the fee title in land condemned, excluding mineral interests, except that no participating public entity has the right or power to take by the exercise of the power of eminent domain any facilities or interest in any facilities belonging to any other public or private entity.

(e) Each participating public entity is entitled to the same constitutional and statutory exemption from ad valorem taxes and other taxes, including but not limited to excise, sales, and use taxes, attributable to the participating public entity's interest in the ownership of the jointly owned facilities and the purchase, sale, lease, or use of properties or services in connection with the construction, maintenance, repair, or operation of the jointly owned facilities to the extent that the public entity would have been exempt from the tax of its undivided interest were an entire interest in the facilities and in property and services used or acquired in connection therewith. Each exempt public entity shall be entitled to exemption certificates and other certificates and statements as provided by law to evidence or make effective the exemption.

(d) Public entities that create a public utility agency or provide for re-creation by addition or deletion of a public entity shall by concurrent ordinances:

(1) define the boundaries of the agency to include the territory within the jurisdictional limits of the public entities as changed from time to time;

(2) designate the name of the agency;

(3) designate the number of directors that will constitute the board of directors of the agency and their initial term; and

(4) specify the manner in which the directors shall be appointed, provided that each public entity is entitled to appoint at least one director.

(e) Directors shall serve by places, and the concurrent ordinances shall specify the director for each place and his successors that the governing body of the particular public entity may appoint and the method of each appointment. Directors shall serve without compensation but are entitled to $50 a day for each day spent in attending meetings of the board and a like amount per diem when authorized by resolution of the board, plus actual expenses incurred in attending the meetings. An employee, officer, or member of the governing body of a public entity may serve as a director of the agency, but directors, officers, and employees may have no personal interest, other than may exist as an employee, officer, or member of the governing body of a public entity, in any contract executed by the agency.

(f) The agency may make contracts, leases, and agreements with and accept grants and loans from the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the State of Texas, its agencies, counties, municipalities, and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in the agency. Each agency may contract with those public entities creating the agency for the collection, transportation, treatment, and disposal of sewage, and the authority to contract for these services shall also extend to private entities under terms and conditions the agency's board of directors may consider appropriate. The agency may sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of any right, interest, or property that is, in its judgment, not needed for the efficient operation and maintenance of its facilities. The responsibility of the management, operation, and control of the properties belonging to the agency shall be vested in the board of directors.

(g) The agency, in contracting with any public or private entity for wastewater collection, transmistion, treatment, or disposal services, must charge rates sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

1. to pay all expenses of operation and maintenance;
2. to pay all interest and principal due on bonds issued as they become due and payable;
3. to pay the principal of and interest on any legal debt of the agency;
4. to pay all sinking and reserve fund payments as they become due and payable; and
5. to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of any bonds.

The agency may also establish a reasonable depreciation and emergency fund. Payments made pursuant to contracts with the agencies are to constitute an operating expense of the public or private entity served as a result of the contracts unless otherwise prohibited by a previously outstanding obligation of the purchasing entity.

(h) The State of Texas reserves its power to regulate and control the rates and charges by the agency, but pledges and agrees with the purchasers and successive holders of the obligations issued under this Act that the state will not limit or alter the powers vested in the agency to establish and collect dates and charges that will produce revenues sufficient to pay for those items set forth in Subsection (g) of this section, as well as any other obligations of the agency in connection therewith, until they are fully met and discharged.

(i) To the payment of obligations issued by it, the agency may pledge the revenues of all or part of its facilities, including or not including those facilities later acquired, as the agency may determine, but the expense of operation and maintenance, including salaries, labor, materials, and repairs necessary to render efficient service, of the facilities whose reveuces are encumbered and pledged shall be a first lien on and charge against the revenues.

(j) The agency may issue revenue bonds or notes, also referred to as obligations in this Act, from time to time, for the accomplishment of its purposes within the interest rate limitations of Chapter 3, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969, as amended (Article 717k–2, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(k) From the proceeds of the sale of obligations of the agency, the agency may set aside amounts for payments into the interest and sinking fund and reserve funds, and for interest and operating expenses during construction and development, as may be specified in the authorizing proceedings. Bond proceeds may be invested, pending their use for the purpose for which issued, in securities or interest-bearing certificates or in time deposits specified in the authorizing proceedings.

(l) Prior to delivery, obligations authorized to be issued under this Act and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination, and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act and that they will be binding special obligations of the agency issuing them, he shall approve them, and they shall be registered by the state comptroller. After their approval, registration, sale, and delivery to the purchaser, the bonds are incontestable.

(m) Refunding bonds or notes may be issued for the purpose and in the manner provided by general law, including without limitation Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k–3, Vernon's Tex-AS Civil Statutes), as amended.

(n) All obligations issued by an agency pursuant to this Act shall be and are declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies and shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas, and the obligations shall be lawful and sufficient security for those deposits to the extent of the principal amount of the obligations or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

(o) The agency may adopt and from time to time amend rules to govern the operation of the agency, its employees, facilities, and service, but contracts for the construction of improvements that involve the expenditure of more than $20,000 shall be awarded by the agency only after notice of intent to receive competitive bids has been published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation within the county in which the agency is domiciled. The date of the first publication shall be at least 14 days before the date set for the receipt of bids.

(p) The bonds or notes shall be signed by the presiding officer or the assistant presiding officer of the agency, shall be attested by its secretary, and shall bear the seal of the agency. The signatures may be printed or lithographed on the bonds and notes if authorized by the agency, and the seal may be impressed on the bonds or notes or may be printed or lithographed on the bonds or notes. The agency may adopt or use for any purpose the signature of any person who has been an officer, notwithstanding the fact that he may have ceased to be an officer at the time that bonds or notes are delivered to a purchaser or purchasers. The bonds or notes shall mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 40 years from their respective dates of issuance and may be sold, within interest rate limitations provided in this Act, at a public or private sale at a price or under terms determined by the agency to be the most advantageous reasonably obtainable, within the discretion of the agency. The bonds may be made callable prior to maturity at times and prices approved by the agency and may be in coupon form with or without provisions for registration as to principal or may be registrable as to both principal and interest.

(q) Bonds and notes issued under the provisions of this Act and coupons, if any, representing interest on bonds and notes shall, when delivered, be deemed and construed to be a security within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, Uniform Commercial Code.

(r) The provisions of this section do not limit the general scope and application of Section 3 of this Act.

Interpretation and Construction of Act

Sec. 5. (a) This Act shall be liberally construed to carry out its purposes and shall be the full and complete authority for the creation and operation of public utility agencies and the performance of the public duties imposed on them. Insofar as this Act is inconsistent with any other laws, including Chapter 10, Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, or other laws regulating the affairs of municipal corporations, or with any home-rule charter provisions, this Act shall control.

(b) This Act shall be liberally construed to effectuate its purposes, but nothing in this Act shall have the effect of or be construed as altering, amending, or repealing the statutory purposes provided by any statute enacted by the Texas Legislature pertaining to the creation, establishment, or operation or regulation under the Water Code, as amended, or other applicable law, or of a public entity that may become a coowner of a public utility agency under the provisions of this Act.

Sec. 1. An incorporated city with a population of 75,000 or more according to the last preceding federal census, in issuing revenue bonds under Articles 1111 through 1118 of this chapter, as part of the cost of constructing new electric utility plan facilities may set aside and use a portion of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds, to the extent provided in the ordinance authorizing their issuance:

1. to pay interest on bonds, the proceeds of which are for the construction of the facilities, to the first interest payment date following the date the new electric utility facilities are estimated to become operational; and

2. to establish or supplement a reserve fund created for the benefit of the holders of the bonds.

Sec. 2. Bond proceeds, interest and sinking funds, and reserve funds, pending their use for their intended purposes, may be invested in any securities, interest-bearing certificates, or time deposits as are specified in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds.

Sec. 3. This article is full authority for the exercise of the powers granted. It controls over any other state law or any provision of a city charter. [Added by Acts 1977, 66th Leg., p. 1273, ch. 486, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977.]

Art. 1112. Vote, etc.

Sec. 1. Except as provided in Section 2 of this article, no such light, water, sewer or natural gas systems, parks and/or swimming pools, shall be sold without authorization by a majority vote of the qualified voters of such city or town; nor shall same be encumbered for more than Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000) unless authorized in like manner, except for money for acquisitions, extensions, construction, improvement, or repair of such systems and facilities, or to refund any existing indebtedness lawfully created for such purposes. Such vote to sell or encumber such systems or facilities shall be ascertained at an election, which shall be held in accordance with the laws applicable to the issuance of municipal bonds by such cities and towns. The encumbrances authorized herein shall be applicable only to bonds payable from revenues derived from said system.

Sec. 2. A city with a population of more than 1,200,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may sell an unencumbered natural gas system owned by it without an election as required by Section 1 of this article. the same is permitted or required under generally accepted accounting principles for governmental entities. In no event shall a change in accounting methods affect a change in any then existing contractual covenant with respect to the power to issue additional obligations payable from such facilities. [Added by Acts 1981, 67th Leg., p. 119, ch. 57, § 1, eff. Aug. 31, 1981.]

Such vote where required shall be ascertained at an election of which notice shall be given in like manner as and which shall be held in like manner as in the cases of the issuance of municipal bonds by such city.

(b) A city with a population of more than 1,200,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may sell an unencumbered natural gas system owned by it without an election as required by Subsection (a) of this section.

Art. 1118n–11. Refunding Certain Outstanding Interest Bearing Obligations

Issuer Defined

Sec. 1. The term “issuer,” as used in this Act, shall mean and include any city in the State of Texas which owns the water, sewer and electric utility systems serving such city and which operates all such utilities as a combined system and has issued and has outstanding revenue bonds payable from the revenues of such combined system.

Bonds Payable from Water, Sewer, and Electric Utility Revenues

Sec. 2A. (a) This section applies only to refunding bonds payable solely from the net revenues of the issuer’s combined water, sewer, and electric utility systems.

(b) The requirements of Section 2 of this Act that the obligations to be refunded must have stated maturity dates or be callable prior to maturity not more than 10 years from the date of delivery of the refunding bonds and that the refunding must enable the issuer to issue additional obligations it could not otherwise have issued do not apply to the issuance of refunding bonds covered by this section.

(c) The requirement in Section 4 of this Act that the refunding bonds be sold for not less than par value is not applicable to refunding bonds covered by this section.

(d) As to refunding bonds covered by this section, if obligations to be refunded are not callable at the time of refunding but will be subject to redemption before maturity, the issuer may provide in the refunding proceedings for redeeming those obligations before maturity, and if it does so, the issuer need deposit with the State Treasurer under this Act no more than is necessary to provide for payment of the principal and interest on those obligations as they are redeemed.

[Amended by Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1284, ch. 504, § 1, eff. Aug. 29, 1977; Acts 1979, 66th Leg., p. 1707, ch. 703, § 1, eff. June 13, 1979.]

(b) The term “Board,” as used in this Act, shall mean the city council, city commission, board of commissioners, board of aldermen, or other group which is the governing body of an issuer.

Authority to Issue Refunding Bonds; Security; New Bonds; Maturity; Negotiability; Conversion; Election not Required

Sec. 2. The board of any issuer is authorized to issue refunding bonds to refund all or any part of any outstanding bonds or other interest bearing obligations secured solely by a pledge of the net revenues of, or by a pledge of the net revenues of and a mortgage on, the issuer’s electric light and power system or its electric light and power system and gas system, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto. One or more outstanding issues and any part of one or more outstanding issues of bonds or other interest bearing obligations, and any interest coupons appertaining thereto, may be refunded under this Act; provided that when part of one or more of these issues is being refunded, the board must demonstrate to the satisfaction of the attorney general, prior to his approval of the bonds as required in this Act, that adequate pledged resources are estimated to be available, based on then current conditions, to provide for the payment, when due, of the unrefunded part of the issue or issues. refunding bonds, and the interest and redemption premium, if any, may be secured by first or subordinate liens and pledges of, and made payable from, the same source as the obligations being refunded and may be secured by first or subordinate liens on, and pledges of, and made payable from, any other revenues, income, or property, and other, different, or additional source or resources, of the board or the issuer, or any combination of those sources or resources, except any taxes, all within the sole discretion of and in the manner provided by the board; and the refunding bonds additionally may be secured by mortgages, deeds of trust, trust indenteures, trust agreements, or other instruments evidencing liens on any real, personal, or mixed property; and the refunding bonds may be issued in combination with new bonds, and with provision for the subsequent issuance of additional parity bonds, or subordinate lien bonds, under the terms or conditions and with the security, set forth in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds, all as determined within the discretion of the board; provided, however, that no bonds shall be issued contrary to the provisions of the Texas Constitution. If and when the board desires to issue refunding bonds in combination with new bonds for any purpose or purposes for which the issuer is then authorized by any law or home rule charter provision to issue revenue bonds or other interest bearing obligations, the new bonds may be issued for any purpose or purposes under the provisions of, and be secured and payable as provided in, this Act, and the provisions of this Act shall be fully applicable thereto without regard to any other requirements, in the manner provided by the board in the proceedings authorizing the bonds. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act may be issued to mature serially or otherwise in not to exceed 50 years from their date, and may be issued to bear interest at any rate or rates, all within the discretion of the board. The bonds and any interest coupons appurtenant thereto, are negotiable instruments within the meaning of the Uniform Commercial Code, except that the bonds and the interest thereon may be made payable to a named payee or made registrable as to principal alone or as to both principal and interest, and may be payable at any place or places, and may be made redeemable prior to maturity, may provide for capitalized interest during construction and thereafter, capitalized operating and maintenance expenses, and capitalized reserve and contingency funds, and may be issued in the form, denominations, and manner, and under the terms, conditions, and details, and may be executed, as provided by the board in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. The board may provide and covenant for the conversion of any form of bond into any other form or forms of bond, and for reconversion of bonds into any other form. The board may provide procedures for the replacement of lost, stolen, destroyed, or mutilated bonds or interest coupons in the manner prescribed by the board in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. If the duty of replacement, conversion, or reconversion of bonds is imposed upon a corporate trustee under a trust agreement or trust indenture, or upon a place of payment (paying agent) for the bonds, the replacement, converted, or reconverted bond need not be re-approved by the attorney general or reregistered by the comptroller of public accounts as provided in Section 3 of this Act. Otherwise, all replacement, converted, or reconverted bonds must be so approved and registered as provided in Section 3 of this Act, in accordance with the procedures established in the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the bonds. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act may be issued without any election or referendum in connection with their issuance or the creation of any encumbrance in connection with their issuance.

 Approval by Attorney General; Registration; Incontestability

Sec. 3. All bonds permitted to be issued under the provisions of this Act, and the appropriate and applicable proceedings authorizing the issuance, shall be submitted to the attorney general for examination. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized in accordance with this Act, he shall approve them, and then they shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts; and after the approval and registration, the bonds shall be incontestable in any court, or other forum, for any reason, and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Bonds as Legal and Authorized Investments

Sec. 4. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act are investment securities governed by Chapter 8, Uniform Commercial Code, and are legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, fiduciaries, and trustees, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, school districts, and other political subdivisions or public agencies of the state. The bonds also are eligible to secure deposits of any public funds of the state or any political subdivision or public agency of the state, and are lawful and sufficient security for the deposits to the extent of their market value, when accompanied by any unmatured coupons attached to the bonds.

Exchanges

Sec. 5. The refunding bonds authorized by this Act may be issued in exchange for, and upon surrender and cancellation of, any obligations being refunded, and in that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the obligations being refunded, in accordance with the provisions of the proceedings authorizing the refunding bonds, and any exchange may be made in one or in several installment deliveries. However, instead of issuing the refunding bonds to be exchanged for any obligations being refunded, the board shall be authorized, in its discretion, to issue refunding bonds to be sold for cash in principal amounts necessary to provide all or any part of the money required to pay the principal of and interest on any obligations being refunded, as they mature and come due, and to provide all or any part of the money required to redeem any obligations being refunded, prior to maturity, on any future date or dates upon which the obligations have been called for such redemption, within the discretion of the board, including principal, any required redemption premium, and the interest to accrue on the obligations to the redemption date or dates, together with an amount sufficient to pay all expenses related to the issuance of the bonds and the expenses of paying the obligations being refunded under this Act; and also to provide any amounts deemed necessary or required by the board to fund or provide for deposits into any debt service reserve funds, interest and sinking funds, or other funds created in the proceedings authorizing the bonds, and to provide amounts to pay interest on all bonds issued under the provisions of this Act for the period prescribed by the board, and to provide any other amounts deemed required by the board. All bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, excepting any exchange refunding bonds, may be sold for cash in the manner, under the procedures, at public or private sale, and at the price or prices, as shall be determined solely within the discretion of the board. If any of the obligations being refunded through the sale of refunding bonds under this Act are subject to redemption prior to maturity, they may, at the option and within the discretion of the board, be called for redemption on any future date or dates upon which they are redeemable, within the discretion of the board, and the proceedings pertaining to the call shall be submitted to the attorney general along with the proceedings authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds. When the board has authorized any of the refunding bonds and any new bonds in combination with the refunding bonds to be sold for cash under the provisions of this Act, the refunding bonds and any new bonds in combination with the refunding bonds shall be registered by the comptroller of public accounts after they are approved by the attorney general, without any surrender, exchange, or cancellation of any obligations being refunded.

Deposit of Proceeds with State Treasurer; Duties

Sec. 6. When any refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this Act are sold and delivered to the purchaser, the board immediately shall have deposited with the state treasurer, from the proceeds of the sale, and any other funds available for that purpose, the amount which will be required to pay the principal of and interest on the obligations being refunded as they mature and come due, and the amount which will be required to redeem prior to maturity any obligations being refunded, on the date or dates upon which these obligations have been called for redemption, including principal, any required redemption premium, and the interest to accrue on those obligations to the redemption date or dates, together with an additional amount to pay the state treasurer for his services and to reimburse him for his expenses in performing his duties under this Act, equal to one-twentieth of one percent of the principal or par amount of the obligations being refunded, and one-eighth of one percent of the interest to accrue thereon, but not to exceed a total of $1,000 in connection with each issue of refunding bonds issued under this Act, plus an additional amount of money sufficient to pay the service charges of the place or places of payment of the obligations for paying and redeeming them. The state treasurer may rely on a certificate or other instrument or document which shall be filed with him by the issuer showing clearly the date or dates upon which the principal matures and interest comes due on the obligations being refunded, and the amounts thereof, and the date or dates, if any, on which the obligations have been called for redemption prior to maturity, together with the redemption price, and the place or places of payment of the obligations being refunded, and the charges to be made by the place or places of payment for paying and redeeming the obligations. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to make the appropriate required part of the deposits available at the place or places of payment, in current and immediately available funds, on or before, but not later than, each maturity date, due date, or redemption date, respectively, of the obligations being refunded, in order to pay the required amounts on each date, plus the service charges of the place or places of payment.

Investment of Proceeds

Sec. 7. It is provided, however, that instead of depositing money with the state treasurer as required by Section 6 of this Act, except for the money to be paid to him for his services and expenses, which in all events shall be deposited in cash, the board may, at its option, unless the board determines, in its sole discretion, that money is required to be deposited, immediately invest all or any part of the proceeds from the sale of the refunding bonds, and any other necessary available funds, in direct obligations of the United States of America, or in obligations the payment of the principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States of America, or in obligations which, in the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States of America, are general obligations of the United States of America and backed by its full faith and credit, which investments will mature, and bear interest payable, at such times and in such amounts as will provide, without any reinvestment, not less than the amount of money, in addition to any money initially deposited for that purpose, required for the payment of the principal of and interest on the obligations being refunded, as they mature and come due, and for the payment of the redemption price of any obligations being refunded and redeemed prior to maturity, on the date or dates on which the obligations being refunded have been called for redemption, including principal, any required redemption premium, and the interest to accrue on the obligations to the redemption date or dates, together with the additional amount required to pay the service charges of the place or places of payment of the obligations for paying and redeeming them. The board shall deposit all of the investments immediately with the state treasurer. In calculating the amount of the investments required to be so deposited, the issuer and the state treasurer shall rely on receiving both the principal and accrued or come due on the investments, to the extent that the principal and interest are scheduled to mature and accrue or come due on the investments, to the extent that the accrued or come due prior to the date or dates of the maturities, due dates, or redemption date or dates, respectively, of the obligations being refunded; and the amount which otherwise would be required to be deposited, if no interest or increase were scheduled to accrue or come due, may, at the option of the board, be reduced accordingly. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to accept the deposits of investments and to collect promptly, when due and payable, all principal of and interest on the investments, but he shall not reinvest them. It is further provided that the aforesaid investments shall be made in a manner that the proceeds from them, without any reinvestment, will be available for deposit, and shall be deposited, by the state treasurer, in the place or places of payment, in current and immediately available funds, in the required amounts, on or before, and not later than, each maturity date, due date, or redemption date, respectively, of the obligations being refunded.

Duties of Treasurer as to Handling and Safekeeping of Proceeds

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the state treasurer, ex officio, in his official capacity of public officer, to accept and keep safely all deposits of money and investments made under this Act, and all proceeds from said investments; but no part of such deposits of money and investments, or proceeds therefrom, excepting the amount paid to him for his services and expenses, shall constitute a part of the state treasury, or be used by or for the state or for the benefit of any creditor of the state, and shall not be commingled with the general revenue fund of the state or any other special funds or accounts held by the state treasurer. The state treasurer shall keep and maintain each such deposit of money and investments, and proceeds from them, excepting the amount paid to him for his services and expenses, separate and apart from all other deposits, money, funds, accounts, and investments, and each such deposit of money and investments, and proceeds from them, shall be kept and held in escrow and in trust by the state treasurer, for and on behalf of, and charged with an irrevocable first lien and pledge in favor of, the holders of the obligations to be paid the deposits, and the deposits of money and investments, and proceeds from them, shall be used only for the purposes provided in this Act. Each deposit of money and investments, and proceeds from them shall be public funds, and legal title shall be in the state treasurer, in his official capacity as trustee, until paid out as provided in this Act, but equitable title shall be in the issuer, until paid out. The writ of mandamus and all other legal and equitable remedies shall be available to any bondholder, the issuer, or any other party at interest to require the state treasurer to perform his functions and duties under this Act. The surety bond or bonds given by the state treasurer in connection with the proper performance of his duties of office, excepting any special bonds given to protect funds of the United States shall protect and be construed as protecting all the deposits of money and investments, and proceeds from them. The state treasurer shall not in any way invest or reinvest any money deposited with him or received by him from investments deposited with him under this Act. In the event that any surplus funds should be on hand with the state treasurer in connection with any deposit of money or investments, or proceeds from them, the surplus shall be returned to the issuer.

Sec. 9. If there is more than one place of payment for any obligations being refunded under this Act, the state treasurer shall make all deposits required under this Act at the place of payment located in the state, if there is one, or if there is more than one place of payment located in the state, or if no place of payment is located in the state, then at the one of the places of payment having the largest capital and surplus. It shall be the statutory duty of the place of payment, and the state treasurer shall instruct it, to make the appropriate financial arrangements so that the necessary required current funds will be available, to the extent necessary, at the other places of payment, to pay or redeem the obligations when due; provided that this section shall not apply in the event the board proceeds under Section 10 of this Act.

Alternative Place of Deposit

Sec. 10. It is further provided, however, that in the alternative to making the deposit of money or investments with the state treasurer in connection with refunding bonds issued and sold under this Act, and notwithstanding any provisions of this Act to the contrary, the board shall have the option of making the deposit of money or investments with any place of payment (paying agent), wherever located, for the obligations being refunded, or, at the option of the board, with any trustee under any trust indenture, trust agreement, deed of trust, or other instrument, securing the obligations being refunded. In that case the place of payment or trustee shall, to the extent practicable, substantially perform the applicable and pertinent functions and duties provided in this Act for the state treasurer, to the extent appropriate and practical, and the place... of payment or trustee shall be substituted for the state treasurer under this Act to the extent appropriate and practical, except as otherwise provided by this section. Such deposits of money and investments shall be held for safekeeping, in escrow, in trust for, and charged with an irrevocable first lien and pledge in favor of, and for the benefit of, the holders of the obligations being refunded, and the issuer and the place of payment or trustee, may execute an appropriate trust or escrow agreement on the terms and conditions, and for the consideration agreeable to the parties to the agreement. The agreement may provide that any deposits of money may be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America, or obligations the payment of principal of and interest on which are unconditionally guaranteed by the United States of America, or obligations which, in the opinion of the Attorney General of the United States of America, are general obligations of the United States of America and backed by its full faith and credit, or may be placed in interest bearing time deposits secured at all times by an equal amount in market value of any of the federal obligations named above. The agreement further shall provide for deposits with the place or places of payment (paying agent or agents) to pay or redeem the obligations being refunded when due, and may provide that at any time the amount of money and investments held in escrow exceeds the amount required for purposes of this Act, the excess shall be transferred and delivered to the issuer, or as directed by the board, to be used for any lawful purpose, including the payment of revenue bonds issued pursuant to this Act or otherwise, all at the option of the board.

Rights of Holders of Obligations

Sec. 11. The holder or holders of any obligations being refunded by any refunding bonds sold pursuant to this Act shall never have the right to demand or receive payment of them prior to the scheduled date or dates of the maturities, due dates, or redemption date or dates, respectively, of the obligations being refunded, and the holder or holders shall not be paid for them prior to the date or dates, unless the board specifically and affirmatively provided for and authorized the earlier payment of the obligations in the proceedings authorizing the refunding bonds.

Discharge and Final Payment or Redemption of Obligations; Subordination to Refunded Obligations

Sec. 12. When the initial deposit of money or investments is made with the state treasurer or with a place of payment (paying agent) or trustee in accordance with this Act for any obligations being refunded under this Act, the deposit shall constitute the making of firm banking and financial arrangements for the discharge and final payment or redemption of the obligations being refunded, and although the obligations being refunded continue to be obligations of the issuer, automatically they become obligations of the issuer secured solely by and payable solely from the deposit and the proceeds from them; and on making the deposit, all previous encumbrances, including all liens, pledges, mortgages, deeds of trust, trust indentures, or trust agreements, existing in connection with the obligations being refunded, whether in connection with revenues, real, personal, and mixed property, or any other source of security or payment, automatically terminate and are finally discharged and released, as a matter of law, and the encumbrances shall be of no further force or effect; and although the obligations being refunded will remain outstanding, they shall be regarded as being outstanding only for the purpose of receiving the funds provided by the issuer for their payment or redemption under this Act, and they shall not be regarded as being outstanding in ascertaining the power of the issuer to issue bonds, or in calculating any limitations in connection therewith, or for any other purpose.

Cumulative and Prevailing Effects of Act; Use of Other Laws

Sec. 13. This Act shall be cumulative of all other laws on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized hereby, without reference to any other laws, or home rule charter provisions, or any restrictions or limitations contained therein; and to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provision of this Act and any provision of any other law, including any law passed at the current session of the legislature, or any home rule charter provision, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control; provided, however, that the board shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws or home rule charter provisions not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act. This Act shall be liberally construed so as to permit the accomplishment of the purposes of this Act. [Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1832, ch. 642, §§ 1 to 13, eff. Aug. 25, 1977. Management; Lease of System

Sec. 11. During the time any such system is encumbered either as to its revenues or as to both its physical properties and revenues, or whether or not such system is encumbered during any period established by ordinance of the governing body of such city, the management and control of such system may by the terms of the instrument evidencing such encumbrance or by the terms of such ordinance, be placed with the governing body of such city, or may be placed with a board of trustees to be named in such instrument or such ordinance, consisting of not less than three (3) nor more than nine (9) members, one (1) of whom shall be the mayor of such city. The compensation of such trustees shall be fixed by such instrument or such ordinance, but shall never exceed two per cent (2%) of the gross receipts of such system in any one (1) year. The terms of office of such board of trustees, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising same, the election of their successors, and all matters pertaining to their organization and duties may be specified in such instrument or such ordinance. In all matters where such instrument or such ordinance is silent, the laws and rules controlling the governing body, of such city shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable. The governing body of any such city or any board of trustees in whose management and control any such system may be placed, with the approval of the governing body of such city, evidenced by adoption of a resolution, in lieu of operating any such system, shall have power and authority to enter into any lease or other contractual arrangement for the operation of same by any privately owned and operated corporation in consideration of such rentals either guaranteed or contingent, based on revenues or gross profits or net profits, or any other basis of compensation, which may be determined to be reasonable by such governing body or such board as the case may be; providing however, that any such lease or contractual arrangement between such city and private corporation, shall be preceded by a public notice and request for the submission of bids in the manner required by law for the taking of bids for public construction contracts, and said city shall accept the best bid submitted, taking into consideration the rental to be paid, the experience and financial responsibility of the corporations submitting such bids.

Art. 1118x. Metropolitan Rapid Transit Authorities

Findings

Sec. 1. The legislature finds that:

(a) A dominant part of the state’s population is located in its rapidly expanding metropolitan areas which generally cross the boundary lines of local jurisdictions and often extend into two or more counties;

(b) The concentration of population in such areas is accompanied by a corresponding concentration of motor vehicles which are generally powered by internal combustion engines that emit pollutants into the air, which emissions result in increasing dangers to the public health and welfare, including damage to and deterioration of property as well as harm to persons, and hazards to air and ground transportation;

(c) Such concentration of motor vehicles places an undue burden on existing streets, freeways and other traffic ways, resulting in serious vehicular traffic congestion that retards mobility of persons and property and adversely affects the health and welfare of the citizens and the economic life of the areas;

(d) The proliferation of the use of motor vehicles for passenger transportation in such areas is caused in substantial part by the absence or inefficiency and high cost of mass transit services available to the citizens of such areas, and it is in the public interest to encourage and provide for efficient and economical local mass rapid transit systems in such areas for the benefit and convenience of the people and for the purpose of improving the quality of the ambient air therein and reducing vehicular traffic congestion; and

(e) The inalienable right of all natural persons to use the air for natural purposes does not vest in any person the right to pollute the air by artificial means, but such artificial use is subject to regulation and control by the state.

Definitions

Sec. 2. The following words and terms, wherever used and referred to in this Act, have the following respective meanings, unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(a) “Metropolitan area” means any area within the State of Texas having a population density of not less than 250 persons per square mile and containing not less than 51 percent of the incorporated territory comprising a city having a population of at least 325,000 inhabitants according to the last preceding or any future federal census, and in which there may be situated other incorporated cities, towns and villages and the suburban areas and environs thereof; provided, however, that bicounty metropolitan areas as subsequently defined herein, are not included or in any way affected by this Act.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 2(b) to 2(g).]

Creation of Rapid Transit Authority

Sec. 3. (a) The governing body of a principal city in a metropolitan area may, on its own motion, shall, as provided in Subsection (b) of this section, and shall, upon being presented with a petition so requesting signed by not less than 5,000 qualified voters residing within such metropolitan area, insti-
Such governing body shall by ordinance or resolution fix a time before December 31, 1985, and a place for holding a public hearing on the question of creating an authority. The governing body also shall by ordinance or resolution, after receipt of a petition as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, and may, on its own motion, fix a time and place for holding a public hearing on a proposal to create an authority. The ordinance or resolution shall define the boundaries of the area proposed to be included in such authority. The initial territory included in an authority shall be all the territory included in the county in which the major portion of the principal city is situated, plus any additional territory that is an adjacent county and is included in the ordinance or resolution.

(c) Notice of the time and place of such public hearing, including a description of the area proposed to be included in such authority, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in such metropolitan area, the first publication to be not less than 15 days prior to the date fixed for such hearing. The governing body of any principal city shall furnish to the Texas Mass Transportation Commission or any successor thereof, a copy of the notice described herein.

(d) The governing body of the principal city shall conduct said hearing at the time and place specified in such notice, and may continue such hearing from day to day and from time to time until completed. Any interested person may appear and offer evidence for or against the creation of the proposed authority, and may present evidence as to whether or not the creation of such proposed authority and the construction and operation of a mass transit system in such metropolitan area

(1) would be of benefit to persons and property situated within the boundaries of the proposed authority,

(2) would be of public utility, and

(3) would be in the public interest, as well as any other facts bearing upon the creation of such an authority and the construction and operation of such system.

(e) If, after hearing the evidence adduced at such hearing, the governing body of the principal city finds that the creation of such an authority, and the operation of such a system, would be of benefit to persons and property situated within the boundaries of the proposed authority, would be of public utility, and would be in the public interest, such governing body shall adopt an ordinance creating the authority and prescribing the territory to be included, but the actual territory included in the authority is subject to the results of the election provided for in this Act. The authority shall bear a name to be designated in the ordinance creating the authority and when so created and confirmed at an election held for that purpose, shall have and may exercise the powers authorized by this Act.

(f) After such hearing by the governing body of the principal city, it shall submit the proposed plan to the governor’s interagency transportation council for their review and comment.

Sec. 4. (a)(1) Until such time as the composition of the board is changed in accordance with other provisions of this Act, the management, control, and operation of an authority and its properties shall be vested in a board composed of five members, who shall be appointed by the governing body of the principal city and shall serve for a term of two years.

(2) In metropolitan areas where the principal city’s population exceeds 1,200,000 according to the last preceding federal census or any federal census hereafter, the management, control, and operation of an authority and its properties shall be vested in a board composed of seven members, five of whom shall be appointed by the mayor of the principal city subject to confirmation by the governing body of the principal city, one of whom shall be appointed by the commissioners court of the county of the principal city, and one of whom shall be appointed jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities within the county of the principal city except the principal city. Each member shall serve a term of two years. Upon confirmation, the board’s composition shall remain the same except to the extent that it conflicts with the requirements of Section 6B of this Act. Until a confirmation and tax election are held, the principal city shall fund the board for purposes of research and planning.

(b) All vacancies on the board, whether by death or resignation shall be filled for the remainder of the term in the manner provided for the original appointment. On expiration of the terms of office of the members of the board, all or any may be reappointed or another person may be appointed to replace a member for the succeeding term.

(c) Each member of the board shall be reimbursed for his necessary and reasonable expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties. Each member of a board in a metropolitan area in which the principal city’s population exceeds 600,000, according to the most recent federal census, is entitled to $50 for each meeting of the board attended, not to exceed five meetings in a calendar month. The principal city shall pay, from taxes or other funds, the sums provided by this subsection for attendance at meetings held before the authority has received any revenues, and shall reimburse members for necessary and reasonable expenses incurred by the members or the board prior to receipt of revenues by the authority, but the authority, after receiving revenues, shall reimburse the principal city for all payments and reimbursements made as provided in this subsection.
(d) The members of the board, who shall be resident citizens and qualified voters of the authority, shall elect from among their number a chairman, a vice-chairman and a secretary, except that if the board is constituted in the manner provided in Subsection (c) of Section 6B of this Act, the chairman shall be selected as specified in that subsection. The board may appoint such assistant secretaries, either members or nonmembers of the board, as it deems necessary. The secretary and assistant secretaries shall, in addition to keeping the permanent records of all proceedings and transactions of the authority, perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the board. No member of the board or officer of the authority shall be pecuniarily interested or benefited, directly or indirectly, in any contract or agreement to which the authority is a party.

(e)(1) Any member of the board may be removed from office by a majority vote of the remaining members of the board for inefficiency, neglect of duty or malfeasance in office; provided, however, that the board shall furnish to such member a statement in writing of the nature of the charges as grounds for such removal, and the member, before the 11th day after receipt of the statement may request a hearing before the board and opportunity to be heard in person or through counsel. After any such hearing, if the board by a majority vote finds that the charges are true, it shall confirm its decision to remove the member.

(2) In addition to the method of removal of board members provided by Subsection (e)(1) of this section, board members of an authority whose principal city has a population of more than 1,200,000, according to the most recent federal census, are subject to removal by the recall procedure provided by subsection (e)(2).

(i) The qualified voters of the authority by petition may require that an election be held to determine whether a member of the board is to be removed from office. A petition is valid if it states that it is intended to require an election in the authority on the question of removing an identified board member, if it is signed by qualified voters equal in number to at least 10 percent of the number of registered voters of the authority according to the most recent official list of registered voters, if the signatures are collected within a period of 90 days prior to the date on which the petition is presented to the board, and if it is submitted to the board before the first day of the final six months of the term of the member whose removal is sought.

(ii) After receiving a petition, the board shall submit it to the secretary of state, who, not later than the 10th day after the day he or she receives the petition, shall determine whether or not the petition is valid and shall notify the board of the finding. If the secretary of state fails to act within the time allowed, the petition is treated as if it had been found valid.

(iii) If the board receives notice from the secretary of state that the petition is valid or if the secretary of state has failed to act within the time allowed, the board shall order that an election be held in the authority on a date not fewer than 25 nor more than 35 days after the last day on which the petition could have been approved or disapproved. A state law requiring local elections to be held on a specified date does not apply to the election unless a specified date falls within the time permitted by this section. At the election, the ballots shall be prepared to permit voting for or against the proposition: “The removal of (name of officer) from the rapid transit authority board by recall.”

(iv) If a majority of the qualified voters voting on the question in the election favor the proposition, the member is removed, and the office immediately becomes vacant. The appointing authority that appointed the member removed by recall shall fill the vacancy not later than the 30th day after the day of removal.

(v) A member removed by recall is not eligible for reappointment to fill the vacancy and is not eligible for appointment to any other position on the board for a length of time after the day of removal equal to the length of a normal term of a member of the board.

(f) The board shall hold at least one regular meeting during each month for the purpose of transacting the business of the authority. Upon written notice, the chairman or the general manager may call special meetings as may be necessary. The board, when organized, shall by resolution spread upon the minutes, set the time, place and day of the regular meetings, and shall likewise adopt rules and regulations and such bylaws as it may deem necessary for the conduct of its official meetings. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum of the board for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers and action may be taken by the authority upon a vote of a majority of the board members present unless the bylaws require a larger number for a particular action.

(g) The board shall notice and hold its meetings pursuant to Chapter 271, Acts of the 60th Legislature, Regular Session, 1967, as amended (Article 6252-17, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), except that the board shall have notices of its meetings posted on a bulletin board located at a place convenient to the public at its administrative offices and a bulletin board located at a place convenient to the public at the county courthouse of the most populous county in which the principal city is located.

Confirmation and Tax Election

Sec. 5. (a) After the original board is organized, at such time as it deems implementation of the authority to be feasible, it shall call a confirmation and tax election in accordance with the provisions of this section.
(b) Before ordering an election the board shall by order entered in its minutes determine the nature and rate of any tax that it desires to levy.

(c) Before ordering an election, the board shall notify the commissioners court of each county included in whole or part within the initial territory of the authority of its intention to do so. Within 30 days after receipt of the notice, each commissioners court by order shall create not more than five designated election areas in the unincorporated portion of the appropriate county. Each designated election area’s outer boundaries, to the extent practicable, shall coincide with a boundary of a county voting precinct so that insofar as practicable no county voting precinct is divided between two different designated election areas. The total area of all designated election areas shall include all of the unincorporated area within the initial territory of the authority.

(d) When the board orders a confirmation and tax election, it shall submit to the qualified voters within the authority the following proposition:

“Shall the creation of (name of authority) be confirmed and shall the levy of the proposed tax be authorized?”

(e) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, notice of the election shall be given in accordance with the general election laws. The notice of the election shall include a description of the nature and rate of the proposed tax. A copy of the notice of the election and any other election held under the provisions of this Act shall be furnished to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor and to the comptroller of public accounts.

(f) The election shall be conducted so that votes are separately tabulated and canvassed and that the result is declared in separate units of election within the authority, as follows:

1. The portion of the principal city inside the initial limits of the authority plus any incorporated cities or towns which are wholly located within the perimeter of the outer boundary of the principal city constitutes a unit of election;
2. Each designated election area created by a commissioners court constitutes a unit of election;
3. Every other incorporated city or town wholly located within the initial limits of the authority shall constitute a unit of election.

(g) Immediately after the election, the presiding judge of each election precinct shall return the results to the board, which shall canvass the returns and declare the results separately with respect to each unit of election. In those units of election where a majority of the votes cast is in favor of the confirmation of the creation of the authority and the levy of the proposed tax, the authority shall continue to exist and be comprised of those units. In those units of election where a majority of the votes cast is against the confirmation of the creation of the authority and the levy of the proposed tax, the authority shall cease to exist. Unless the vote is favorable in the unit of election which includes the principal city, the authority shall cease to exist in its entirety. If the votes cast are such that the authority will continue to exist, the board shall enter the results on its minutes and adopt an order declaring that the creation of the authority is confirmed and describing the territory which comprises the authority. A certified copy of the order shall be filed with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor, and with the comptroller of public accounts, and in the deed records of each county in which the authority is located. The order shall include the date of the election, the proposition voted on, the number of votes cast for and against the proposition in each election unit, and the number of votes by which the proposition was approved in each election unit in which it was approved and shall be accompanied by a map of the area clearly showing the boundaries of the authority.

(h) If the votes cast at the confirmation and tax election are such that the authority ceases to exist in its entirety, the board shall enter an order so declaring and file a certified copy of the order with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor and with the comptroller of public accounts, and the authority shall be dissolved.

(i) The cost of the confirmation and tax election shall be paid by the principal city.

(j) If the election results in the confirmation of an authority, the authority shall, within the limits confirmed, be authorized to function in accordance with the terms of this Act, and the board may levy and collect the proposed tax within those limits.

(k) If the continued existence of an authority is not confirmed by election within three years after the effective date of the ordinance creating the authority, the authority ceases to exist on the expiration of the three years.

Election Contest

Sec. 5A. (a) If the validity of any election held under authority of this Act or the result of the election based on the returns thereof shall be contested, the election contest shall be filed and tried as provided in the Election Code of the State of Texas; provided that the contestant shall notify the comptroller of public accounts by United States registered mail or certified mail within 10 days after filing the contest by mailing a copy of such notice of contest to the comptroller showing the style of the contest, the date filed, the case number, and the court in which the same is pending; and provided further that no such contest shall be heard unless the comptroller is timely notified as provided in this subsection.
(b) Upon receipt of a notice of contest, the date upon which such local sales and use tax shall become effective in any authority as a result of the election shall be suspended. When a final judgment shall be entered in the election contest, the presiding officer of the board shall so notify the comptroller by United States registered mail or certified mail and shall enclose a certified copy of the final judgment. If the judgment sustains the validity of the election or the result of the election so that the local sales and use tax status under this Act of the authority is changed, the comptroller shall place in effect the tax in the authority, substituting the notice of final judgment and the date on which it is received for the notice of the result of the election. This section applies only to elections held and election contests filed after the effective date of this Act.

Effective Date—Local Sales and Use Tax

Sec. 5B. Upon actual receipt by the comptroller of public accounts of notification of adoption of a local sales and use tax containing the information required by Subsection (g) of Section 5, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter prior to the adoption of a local sales and use tax becoming effective. Thereafter, the adoption shall be effective beginning on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed calendar quarter.

Powers of the Authority

Sec. 6. (a) The authority, when created and confirmed, shall constitute a public body corporate and politic, exercising public and essential governmental functions, having all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Act, including, but not limited to, the following powers granted in this section.

(b) The authority shall have perpetual succession.

(c) The authority may sue and be sued in all courts of competent jurisdiction and may institute and prosecute suits without giving security for costs and may appeal from a judgment or judgments without giving supersedeas or cost bond.

(d) The authority may acquire by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or otherwise, and may hold, use, sell, lease or dispose of, real and personal property of every kind and nature whatsoever, and licenses, patents, rights and interests necessary, convenient or useful for the full exercise of any of its powers pursuant to the provisions of this Act. Before an authority acquires an interest in real property for the purpose of providing public services, or which shall disrupt such services being provided by others, or to otherwise inconvenience the owners of such property or facilities, without having first obtained the written consent of such owners or unless the authority shall have first obtained the right to take such action under its power of eminent domain as herein specified. In the event the owners of such property or facilities desire to handle any such relocation, raising, change in the grade of, or alteration in the construction of such property or facilities with their own forces, or to cause the same to be done by contractors of their own choosing, the authority shall have the power to enter into agreements with such owners providing for the necessary relocations, changes or alterations of such property or facilities by the owners and/or such contractors and the reimbursement by the authority to such owners of the costs incurred by such owners in making such relocations, changes or alterations and/or in causing the same to be accomplished by such contractors.

(f) In the event the authority, in exercising any of the powers conferred by this Act, makes necessary the relocation, adjustment, raising, lowering, rerouting or changing the grade of or altering the construction of any street, alley, highway, overpass, underpass, or road, any railroad track, bridge or other facilities or properties, any electric lines, conduits or other facilities or properties, any gas transmission or distribution pipes, pipelines, mains or other facilities or properties, any sanitary sewer or storm sewer pipes, pipelines, mains or other facilities or properties, any cable television lines, cables, conduits or other facilities or properties, or any other pipelines and any facilities or properties relating thereto, any and all such relocations, adjustments, raising, lowering, rerouting or changing of grade or altering of construction shall be accomplished at the sole cost and expense of the authority, and all damages which may be suffered by the owners of such property or facilities shall be borne by the authority.

right-of-ways, rights of use of air space or subsurface space, or any combination thereof; provided that such right shall not be exercised in a manner which would unduly interfere with interstate commerce or which would authorize the authority to run its vehicles on railroad tracks which are used to transport property.

(h) Eminent domain proceedings brought by the authority shall be governed by the provisions of Title 52, Eminent Domain, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as they now exist or hereafter may be amended, insofar as such provisions are not inconsistent with this Act. Proceedings for the exercise of the power of eminent domain shall be commenced by the adoption by the board of a resolution declaring the public necessity for the acquisition by the authority of the property or interest therein described in the resolution, and that such acquisition is necessary and proper for the construction, extension, improvement or development of the system and is in the public interest. The resolution of the authority shall be conclusive evidence of the public necessity of such proposed acquisition and that such real or personal property or interest therein is necessary for public use. At least 30 days before adopting a resolution under this subsection, however, a board shall hold a public hearing on the question of acquisition of the property or interest for which eminent domain proceedings are being considered. The board shall hold the hearing at a place convenient to residents of the area in which the property is located. The board shall cause notice of the hearing to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the property is located at least once each week for two weeks before the date of the hearing.

(i) The authority shall have the power to enter into agreements with any other public utility, private utility, communication system, common carrier, or transportation system for the joint use of their respective facilities, installations and properties of whatever kind and character within the authority and to establish through routes, joint fares or transfer of passengers.

(j) The authority shall establish and maintain rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents or other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system acquired, constructed, operated or maintained by the authority which shall be reasonable and nondiscriminatory and which, together with receipts from taxes collected by the authority, shall be sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

(1) to pay all expenses necessary to the operation and maintenance of the properties and facilities of the authority;

(2) to pay the interest on and principal of all bonds issued by the authority under this Act which are payable in whole or in part from such revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable;

(3) to pay all sinking fund and reserve fund payments agreed to be made in respect of any such bonds, and payable out of such taxes and revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable; and

(4) to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of such bonds or with any person in their behalf.

(k) It is the intention of this Act that taxes levied and the rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents and other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system shall not be in excess of what may be necessary to fulfill the obligations imposed upon the authority by this Act. Nothing herein shall be construed as depriving the State of Texas of its power to regulate and control such taxes, rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents and other compensation, provided that the State of Texas does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the bonds issued hereunder that the state will not limit or alter the powers hereby vested in the authority to establish and collect such taxes, rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents and other compensation as will produce revenues sufficient to pay the items specified in Subdivisions (1), (2), (3) and (4), Subsection (j) of this subsection, or in any way to impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the bonds, or of any person in their behalf, until the bonds, together with the interest thereon, with interest on unpaid installments of interest, and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceedings by or on behalf of the bondholders and all other obligations of the authority in connection with such bonds, are fully met and discharged.

(l) The authority may make contracts, leases and agreements with, and accept grants and loans from, the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the State of Texas, its agencies, counties, municipalities and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons, and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it. The authority may acquire rolling stock or other property under conditional sales contracts, leases, equipment trust certificates, or any other form of contract or trust agreement. Any revenue bond indenture may provide limitations upon the exercise of the powers stated in this section and such limitations shall apply so long as any of the revenue bonds issued pursuant to such indenture are outstanding and unpaid.

(m) The authority may sell, lease, convey or otherwise dispose of any of its rights, interests or properties which are not needed for, or, in the case of leases, which are not inconsistent with, the efficient operation and maintenance of the system. It may sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of, at any time, any surplus materials or personal or real property not needed for its requirements or for the purpose of carrying out its power under this Act.

(n) The authority shall by resolution make all rules and regulations governing the use, operation
Art. 1118x  CITIES, TOWNS AND VILLAGES  2922

and maintenance of the system and shall determine all routings and change the same whenever it is deemed advisable by the authority.

(e) The authority shall have power to lease the system or any part thereof to, or contract for the use or operation of the system or any part thereof by, any operator; provided, however, that a lease of the entire system shall be subject to the written consent and approval of the governing body of the principal city.

(p) The acquisition of any land or interest therein pursuant to this Act, the planning, acquisition, establishment, development, construction, improvement, maintenance, equipment, operation, regulation, protection, and policing of the authority's system and facilities, and the exercise of any other powers herein granted an authority, are hereby declared to be public and governmental functions, exercised for a public purpose, and matters of public necessity.

(q) The authority may contract with any city, county, or other political subdivision for the authority to provide public transportation services to any area outside the boundaries of the authority on such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by the parties.

Article 324 et seq.

Addition of Territory

Sec. 6A. (a) Territory may be added to an authority only according to the provisions of this section.

(b) The governing body of any incorporated city or town located in whole or in part within a county in which the authority is situated may hold an election on the question of whether the city or town shall be annexed to the authority. If a majority of the qualified voters in the city or town votes for annexation, the governing body shall certify the results of the election to the board of the authority, and the city or town shall become a part of the authority, except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section.

(c) The commissioners court of a county in which the authority is situated in whole or in part or that is adjacent to a county in which the authority is situated in whole or in part may hold an election in any one or more of the designated election areas, formed for the election by order of the commissioners court, on the question of whether the area in which the election is held shall be annexed to the authority. The boundaries of a designated election area shall coincide, to the extent practicable, with a boundary of a county voting precinct, so that insofar as practicable no county voting precinct is divided. If a majority of the qualified voters in any area where such an election is held votes in favor of annexation, the commissioners court shall certify the results of the election to the board of the authority, and the area shall become a part of the authority, except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section.

(e)(1) At the time territory is added to an authority under the provisions of this section, any tax other than a local sales and use tax which the board of the authority has already been authorized to levy applies to the added territory.

(2) If an authority in which a local sales and use tax has been imposed changes or alters its boundaries, the presiding officer of the board shall forward to the comptroller of public accounts by United States registered mail or certified mail a certified copy of the order adding territory to the authority or of the order canvassing the returns and declaring the result of the election. The order shall reflect the effective date of the tax and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the territory added or detached. Upon receipt of the order and map, the tax imposed by Section 11B of this Act shall be effective in the added territory on the first day of the next succeeding quarter. However, if the comptroller notifies the presiding officer of the board in writing within 10 days after receipt of the order and map that he requires more time, the comptroller shall be entitled to delay implementation one whole calendar quarter. Thereafter, the tax shall be effective in the added territory on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed quarter.

(f) Territory in which an election is held as provided in Subsections (b) or (e) of this section becomes a part of the authority on the 31st day after the election, if the voters approve the addition as provided in Subsections (b) or (e), and unless the board of the authority notifies the appropriate governing body in writing before that date that the addition, because it is not contiguous to the existing authority, would create a fiscal hardship on the authority.

Composition of the Board

Sec. 6B. (a) If less than 50 percent of that part of the population of the county (the county in which not less than 51 percent of the incorporated area of the principal city is situated) which is outside the corporate limits of the principal city resides within the limits of the authority, the board of the authority shall consist of the original five members or their successors plus one additional member to be appointed jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities except the principal city within the authority as confirmed, and one other additional member to be appointed by the commissioners court of the county described in this subsection.

(b) If more than 50 percent but less than 75 percent of the population of the county described in Subsection (a) of this section outside the corporate limits of the principal city resides within the limits of the authority, the board of the authority consists of the original five members or their successors, plus two additional members to be appointed jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities, except the principal city, located within the authority, and two other members appointed by the commissioners court of the county. Population figures shall be computed on the basis of the last preceding United States census.

(c) If 75 percent or more of the population of the county described in Subsection (a) of this section outside the corporate limits of the principal city resides within the limits of the authority, the board consists of 11 members, including the original five members or their successors, two additional members appointed jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities except the principal city located within the authority, three other additional members appointed by the commissioners court of the county, and one member, who serves as chairman, who is appointed by the other ten members.

(d) When this Act requires that the mayors of municipalities except the principal city appoint a member of the board, the mayor of the municipality of greatest population among the municipalities shall serve as chairman of an appointment board composed of the mayors of all appropriate municipalities and shall, by notice in writing to all members, call meetings of the appointment board as necessary to make the appointments. Appointments shall be made within 60 days after a position comes into existence or becomes vacant. If the boundaries of the authority at any time include unincorporated areas of a county other than the county described in Subsection (a) of this section, the county judge of the appropriate county is entitled to serve on the appointment board, with powers equal to the other members of the board, as if the unincorporated area of the county were a municipality and the county judge of that county were the mayor of the municipality.

(e) The terms of office of any members of the board appointed after the confirmation and tax election and after the effective date of this Act are four years, except that in order to provide staggered terms, the terms of office of one-half of the first members appointed by an appointing agency after the effective date of this Act, if an even number is to be appointed by an agency, and a bare majority of the first members appointed by the agency, if an odd number greater than one is to be appointed by an agency, are two years. In addition, the appointing agency may shorten the initial terms to make the expiration dates coincide with those of the previously existing positions. To be eligible for appointment to the board, a person must be a qualified voter residing within the boundaries of the authority. No member of the board may serve more than two consecutive four-year terms.

(f) Vacancies on the board are filled by appointment by the same agency that made the original appointments for the vacant positions. Each member of the board whose term expires shall continue to serve until his successor has been appointed.

(g) In the event the membership of the board must be increased under the provisions of this section, the board as previously constituted may continue to act as the governing board of the authority until the additional members have been appointed and seated.
distance from the center point of the complex or that has not been included in a master plan of development adopted by the board may be acquired for the facilities. Land or an interest in land more than 1,500 feet in distance from the center point of the complex may not be acquired by eminent domain proceedings, and the board shall designate the center point prior to the commencement of eminent domain proceedings. If a proposed station or terminal complex is to be located within the city limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city or town, the governing body of the city or town must approve the location of the complex as to conformity with the comprehensive or general plan of the city or town by motion, resolution, or ordinance duly adopted.

(e) The authority may sell, lease, or otherwise transfer lands or interests in land acquired within a station or terminal complex, and may enter into contracts with respect to it, in accordance with the comprehensive transit plan approved by the board, subject to such covenants, conditions, and restrictions, including covenants running with the land and obligations to commence construction within a specified time, as the board may deem to be in the public interest or necessary to carry out the purposes of this section, all of which shall be incorporated into the instrument transferring or conveying title or right of use. Any lease, sale, or transfer shall be at fair value, taking into account the use designated for the land in the comprehensive transit plan for the system and the restrictions on, and the covenants, conditions, and obligations assumed by, the purchaser, lessee, or transferee. However, if the authority offers the property for sale, the original owner from whom the property was acquired by eminent domain proceedings or through threat of eminent domain proceedings has the first right to repurchase at the price at which it is offered to the public.

(f) No station or mass transit facility may be considered a "station or terminal complex" governed by this section unless it has been designated as such in the comprehensive transit plan pursuant to the specific authority granted by this section.

Withdrawal From an Authority

Sec. 6D. (a) The governing body of an incorporated city or town that is included within the territory of an authority and that has a population more than 90 percent of which resides outside the county in which the majority of the population of the principal city resides may on any date from April 1, 1980, to September 1, 1980, hold an election on the question of whether the city or town shall withdraw from the authority. If a majority of the qualified voters in the city or town voting on the question votes to withdraw from the authority, the governing body shall certify the results of the election to the board of the authority, and the city or town shall withdraw from the authority.

(b) The board shall enter the results on its minutes and adopt an order declaring the withdrawal of the city or town. A certified copy of the order shall be filed with the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor and the comptroller of public accounts and in the deed records of each county in which the authority is located. The order shall reflect the date of the election, the proposition voted on, the total number of votes cast for and against the proposition in each election unit, the number of votes by which the proposition was approved in each election unit and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the boundaries of the authority.

(c) Upon actual receipt of the comptroller of public accounts of notification of the withdrawal of a city or town, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter prior to the withdrawal becoming effective. Thereafter, the withdrawal shall be effective beginning on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed calendar quarter.

Local Government Approval Committee

Sec. 6E. The rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, and other compensation established by an authority in a metropolitan area whose principal city has a population of less than 1,200,000, according to the most recent federal census, may not take effect until they are approved by a majority vote of a committee composed of:

(a) five members of the city council of the principal city who are chosen for this committee by the members of that body;

(b) three members of the commissioners court of the county that includes the largest portion of the incorporated area of the principal city, who are chosen for this committee by the members of that court; and

(c) three mayors of incorporated municipalities, except the principal city, located within the authority who are chosen for this committee jointly by the mayors of all incorporated municipalities, except the principal city, located within the authority.

Bonds and Notes

Sec. 7.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 7(a) and (b)]

(c) In order to secure the payment of such bonds or notes, such authority shall have full power and authority to encumber and pledge all or any part of the revenue realized from any tax which the authority is authorized to levy, and all or any part of the revenues of its rapid transit system or systems, and to mortgage and encumber all or any part of the properties thereof, and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired and to prescribe the terms and provisions of such bonds and notes in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. If not prohibited by the resolution or indenture relating to outstanding bonds or notes, any such authority shall have full power and authority to encumber separately any item or items of real estate or personalty, including motorbuses, transit cars and other vehicles, machinery and other equipment of any nature, and to acquire, use, hold or contract for any such property under any lease arrangement, chattel mortgage or conditional sale, including, but not limited to, transactions commonly known as equipment trust transactions. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting any such authority from encumbering any one or more rapid transit systems for the purpose of purchasing, building, constructing, enlarging, extending, repairing or reconstructing, another one or more of said systems and purchasing necessary property, both real, personal and mixed, in connection therewith.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 7(d) to (g)]

(h) Bonds payable solely from revenues may be issued by resolution of the board, but no bonds, except refunding bonds, payable wholly or partially from taxes, may be issued until authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of the authority voting in an election called and held for that purpose.

(i) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 7, the authority, acting by board order or resolution, has the power to issue short-term bonds or notes secured by revenues or taxes for any purpose; provided that the repayment of the bonds or notes must be satisfied out of revenues or taxes received during the period from the date of issuance to the last day of the fiscal year in which the bonds or notes are issued. Any such short-term bonds or notes need not be approved by the Attorney General of Texas nor registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas.

Motor Vehicle Emission Taxes

Sec. 8. (a) Subject to approval at an election, the board of an authority shall be authorized to levy and cause to be collected motor vehicle emission taxes as herein provided. No increase in taxes as originally authorized may be levied unless the increase is approved at an election. Such taxes shall be collected by the county tax assessor-collector of each county, situated in whole or in part within the authority from each motor vehicle owner whose residence is within such county and within the authority. Not later than November 1 of each year, the board shall certify to the county tax assessor-collector of each county situated in whole or in part within the authority's boundaries the rate of tax prescribed for each class of motor vehicles for the ensuing tax year. At the time the owner of a motor vehicle applies each year to the State Highway Department through the county tax assessor-collector of the county in which he resides for the registration of each such vehicle owned or controlled by him for the ensuing or current motor vehicle registration year or unexpired portion thereof, such owner shall pay to the county tax assessor-collector the motor vehicle emission taxes due or to become due to such authority on such motor vehicle for the ensuing or current tax year at the applicable rate prescribed by the board. The county tax assessor-collector shall refuse to issue a registration license for a motor vehicle until the emission tax thereon for the period covered by such registration license has been paid.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 8(b) to 11]

General Powers of Taxation

Sec. 11A. (a) In addition to or in lieu of the motor vehicle emission taxes provided for in this Act, the board of an authority may levy and collect any kind of tax, other than an ad valorem tax on property, which is not prohibited by the Texas Constitution.

(b) No tax of any kind may be levied and collected by the board until a proposition proposing the tax has first been submitted to and approved by a majority of the qualified electors of an authority voting at an election held by the board for that purpose. A separate proposition must be submitted for each kind of tax proposed, and propositions may be submitted in the alternative with provision for the method of determining the results of the election. Each proposition must include a brief statement of the nature of the proposed tax. The notice of the election must include a statement or description of the basis of or rate at which the tax is proposed to be levied. Any subsequent increase in a tax must also be approved at an election.

(c) Prior to an election to authorize a tax other than motor vehicle emission taxes or a sales and use tax, the board shall adopt a complete tax code and rules and regulations providing for the nature and amount of any tax with provisions for complete administration and enforcement, including the time and manner of payment, exemptions, liens, interest, penalties, discounts for advance payment, refunds for erroneous payment, fees for collection, collection procedures, manner of enforcement, required returns, registration and reports of taxpayers, the duties and responsibilities of tax officers and taxpayers, the delegation to tax officers to make additional rules and regulations and determinations and to obtain records as may be appropriate, and every other provision which may be determined to be desirable, including incorporation of any tax laws and remedies for the administration and enforcement that are available to the state or any political entities under general law.

(d) A tax code and rules and regulations may be amended by the board from time to time after an election approving a tax, but no amendment may increase the amount of a tax unless the increase is approved at an election.
(e) The board of an authority by order may decrease the local sales and use tax rate or may call an election to increase or decrease the local sales and use tax rate. In addition, the qualified voters of an authority by petition may require that an election be held on the question of increasing the tax rate. A petition is valid if it is by qualified voters of the authority equal in number to at least 10 percent of the number of registered voters of the authority according to the most recent official list of registered voters.

(f) After receiving a petition, the board shall submit the petition to the secretary of state for validation. The secretary of state shall rule on the validity of the petition not later than the 30th day after the day he or she receives the petition and shall notify the board of the ruling. If the secretary of state finds the petition valid or fails to act within the time allowed, the board shall call an election. The authority shall pay the costs of determining the validity of a petition, if any, and of the election.

(g) At the election, the ballots shall be prepared to permit voting for or against the following proposition: “The increase (decrease) of the local sales and use tax rate to (percentage).” The increase or decrease in the tax rate shall be effective if it is approved by a majority of the votes cast by voters residing within the boundaries of the territory of the authority at the date of the election. A notice of the election and a certified copy of the order canvassing the election results shall be sent to the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation or its successor and the comptroller of public accounts and shall be filed in the deed records of each county in which the authority is located in the same manner as provided for a confirmation and tax election by Section 5 of this Act.

(h) If there is an increase or decrease in the rate of a local sales and use tax already levied, the new rate takes effect on the first day of the next calendar quarter after actual notification to the comptroller of public accounts. However, if the comptroller notifies the presiding officer of the board in writing within 10 days after receipt of the order that he or she requires more time to implement collection and reporting procedures, the comptroller may delay implementation for one whole calendar quarter. Thereafter, the new tax rate takes effect on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed quarter.

Local Sales and Use Tax

Sec. 11B. (A) Subject to approval at a tax election in accordance with this Act, the board of an authority shall be authorized to levy, collect and impose a local sales and use tax for the benefit of the authority, the sales tax portion of which shall not exceed one percent on receipts from the sale of all taxable items within the authority area which are subject to taxation under the provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, as enacted and as heretofore or hereafter amended. The provisions of this section shall be applicable to the levy, imposition and collection of such tax. The permissible rates for a local sales and use tax levied under this Act are:

(1) one-quarter of one percent;
(2) one-half of one percent;
(3) three-quarters of one percent; and
(4) one percent.

(B)(a) The following words and terms shall have the following respective meanings unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(1) “Authority area” means the geographical limits of the authority.
(2) “Comptroller” means the Comptroller of Public Accounts of Texas.
(3) “Local Sales and Use Tax” means any sales and use tax imposed by a city within the authority area under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act (Article 1066c, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes).
(b) Every retailer within the authority area shall add the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax and the tax imposed under the authority of this Act to his sale price, and when added, the combined tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price. The combined taxes on the transaction shall be determined by multiplying the amount of the sale by the total of the combined applicable tax rates. Any fraction of one cent which is less than one-half of one cent of tax shall not be collected. Any fraction of one cent of tax equal to one-half of one cent or more shall be collected by the retailer as a whole cent of tax. Provided, however, that any retailer who can establish to the satisfaction of the comptroller that 50 percent or more of his receipts from the sale of taxable items arise from individual transactions where the total sales price when multiplied by the combined rates of the taxes imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax, and this section equals an amount that is less than one-half of one cent may exclude the receipts from such sales when reporting and paying the tax imposed under this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax. No retailer shall avail himself of this provision without prior written approval of the comptroller. The comptroller shall grant such approval when he is satisfied that the retailer qualifies on the basis set forth in this section and when the retailer has submitted satisfactory evidence that he can and will maintain records adequate to substantiate the exclusion herein authorized. Any attempt on the part of any retailer to exercise this provision without prior written approval of the comptroller shall be deemed to be a failure and refusal to pay the taxes imposed by this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax, and the retailer shall be subject to assessment for both taxes, penalties and interest as provided for in this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax.

(e)(1) In every authority area where the tax authorized by this Act has been adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Act, there is hereby imposed an excise tax on the storage, use or other consumption within such authority area of taxable items purchased, leased, or rented from any retailer on or after the effective date for collection of the sales tax portion of the sales and use tax for storage, use or other consumption in such authority area at the same rate as the sales tax levied under this Act of the sales price of the taxable item or, in the case of leases or rentals, of said lease or rental price. Except as provided in Subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, the use tax imposed by this section is not owed to and may not be collected by, for, or in behalf of an authority if no excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption of an item of tangible personal property is owed to or collected by the state or by a political subdivision of the state, or if the tangible personal property is first stored, used, or consumed within an authority or area that has not adopted the sales and use tax imposed by this section.

(2) In each authority where the tax authorized by this Act has been imposed as provided in this Act, the excise tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable excise tax under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act on the storage, use or other consumption of taxable items and the excise tax imposed by this Act shall be added together to form a combined rate of excise tax which is equal to the sum of the applicable taxes. The tax imposed by this section shall be collected by the comptroller on behalf of and for the benefit of such authority. The formula prescribed in paragraph (b) of this subsection shall be applicable to the collection of the excise tax imposed under this section.

(3) The provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act shall be applicable to the collection of the tax imposed by this paragraph (c), provided that in Subchapter D of Chapter 151, Tax Code,2 the name of the authority where the sales and use tax authorized by this Act has been adopted shall be substituted for that of the state where the words “this state” are used to designate the taxing authority or to delimit the tax imposed.

(4) If a sale of tangible personal property is consummated within the state but not within an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section and the tangible personal property is shipped directly into or brought by the purchaser or lessee directly into an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by the authority under Subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. The use is considered consummated at the location where the item is first stored, used, or otherwise consumed after the intrastate transit has ceased.

(5) If the tangible personal property is shipped from outside this state to a customer within this state, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and not the sales tax imposed by Subsection (A) of this section. The use is consummated at the first point in this state where the property is stored, used, or otherwise consumed after interstate transit has ceased. Tangible personal property delivered to a point in this state is presumed to be for storage, use, or other consumption at that point until the contrary is established.

(6) There are exempted from the sales taxes imposed by this article receipts from any sale of tangible personal property which, pursuant to the contract of sale, is shipped to a point outside the authority area by the retailer by means of:

(a) facilities operated by the retailer;
(b) delivery by the retailer to a carrier for shipment to a consignee at such point; or
(c) delivery by the retailer to a customs broker or forwarding agent for shipment outside the authority.

If the tangible personal property exempted under this subparagraph or under Paragraph (F) of Section 16(f)(2) of Chapter 683, Acts of the 66th Legislature, Regular Session, 1979 (Article 1118y, Vernon’s Texas Civil Statutes), is shipped or delivered directly to a purchaser in another authority that has adopted the taxes imposed under either article, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Subsection (A) of this section.

(d)(1) On and after the effective date of any tax imposed under the provisions of this Act, the comptroller shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement and operation of the tax, and the comptroller shall collect, in addition to the taxes imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, an additional tax under the Use Tax Act of the amount of the taxes imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act.

(4) If a sale of tangible personal property is consummated within the state but not within an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section and the tangible personal property is shipped directly into or brought by the purchaser or lessee directly into an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by the authority. The tax imposed hereunder and the tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable Local Sales and Use Tax shall be collected together and reported upon such forms and under such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the comptroller not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. On and after the effective date of any proposition to abolish such Local Sales and Use Tax in any authority area, the comptroller shall comply therewith.
(2) The comptroller shall make to the authority substantially the same reports as to taxes within the authority area as are made to cities under subsections 5(b), (c) and (d) of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act.

(e) The following provisions shall govern the collection by the comptroller of the tax imposed by this Act:

(1) All applicable provisions contained in Title 2, Tax Code, shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as modified in this Act.

(2) The provisions contained in Section 6 of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act shall apply to the levy, imposition and collection of the tax imposed by this Act except as modified herein.

(3) The penalties provided in Title 2, Tax Code, for violation of that title, are hereby made applicable to violations of this Act.

(4) The sales and use tax collected by the comptroller under this Act shall be deposited, held, accounted for, and transmitted for the authority as provided in Section 7 of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act.

(f) Each authority's share of all sales and use tax collected under this Act by the comptroller shall be transmitted to the treasurer or the officer performing the functions of such office of such authority by the comptroller payable to the authority periodically as promptly as feasible. Transmittals required under this Act shall be made at least twice in each state fiscal year. Before transmitting such funds, the comptroller shall deduct two percent of the sum collected from each such authority during such period as a charge by the state for its services specified in this Act, and the amounts so deducted shall be deposited by the comptroller in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund of the state. The comptroller is authorized to retain in the suspense account of any authority a portion of the authority's share of the tax collected under this Act. Such balance so retained in the suspense account shall not exceed five percent of the amount remitted to the authority. The comptroller is authorized to make refunds from the suspense account of any authority for overpayments made to such accounts and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of the suspense account of such authority. When any authority shall abolish such tax, the comptroller may retain in the suspense account of such authority for a period of one year five percent of the final remittance to each such authority at the time of termination of collection of such tax in such authority to cover possible refunds for overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of abolition of such tax in such authority, the comptroller shall remit the balance in such accounts to the authority and close the account.

(g) The comptroller may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, to implement the enforcement, administration and collection of the taxes authorized herein.

(h)(1) In any authority where the sales and use tax authorized by this Act has been imposed, if any person is delinquent in the payment of the amount required to be paid by him under this Act or in the event a determination has been made against him for taxes and penalty under this Act, the limitation for bringing suit for the collection of such delinquent tax and penalty shall be the same as that provided by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. Where any person is delinquent in payment of taxes under this Act, the comptroller shall notify the authority to which delinquent taxes are due under this Act by United States registered mail or certified mail and shall send a copy of the notice to the attorney general. The authority, acting through its attorney, may join in any suit brought by the attorney general as a party plaintiff to seek a judgment for the delinquent taxes and penalty due such authority. The notice sent by the comptroller to the authority showing the delinquency of a taxpayer constitutes a certification of the amount owed and is prima facie evidence of the determination of the tax and of the delinquency of the amounts of sales and use tax set forth in the notice.

(2) Where property is seized by the comptroller under the provisions of any law authorizing seizure of the property of a taxpayer who is delinquent in payment of the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and where such taxpayer is also delinquent in payment of any tax imposed by this Act, the comptroller shall sell sufficient property to pay the delinquent taxes and penalty due any authority under this Act in addition to that required to pay any amount due the state under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and due any city under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act. The proceeds from such sale shall first be applied to all sums due the state, then all sums due any city under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act, and the remainder, if any, shall be applied to all sums due such authority.

(3) An authority that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act may bring suit for the collection of sales, excise, or use taxes imposed by this Act which have been certified as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and are owed to the authority under this Act if at least 60 days before the filing of the suit, written notice by certified mail of the tax delinquency and of the intention to file suit is given to the taxpayer, the comptroller, and the attorney general and if neither the comptroller nor the attorney general disapproves the suit by written notice to the authority.

(4) The comptroller or attorney general may disapprove the institution of tax suit by an authority if:
(i) negotiations between the state and the taxpayer are being conducted for the purpose of the collection of delinquent taxes owed to the state and the authority seeking to bring suit;

(ii) the taxpayer owes substantial taxes to the state and there is a reasonable possibility that the taxpayer may be unable to pay the total amount owed in full;

(iii) the state will bring suit against the taxpayer for the collection of all sales, excise and use taxes due under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and this Act; or

(iv) the suit involves a critical legal question relating to the interpretation of state law or a provision of the Texas or United States Constitution in which the state has an overriding interest.

(5) A notice of disapproval to an authority must give the reason for the determination of the comptroller or attorney general. A disapproval is final and not subject to review. An authority, after one year from the date of the disapproval, may proceed again as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph even though the liability of the taxpayer includes taxes for which the authority has previously given notice and the comptroller or attorney general has previously disapproved the suit.

(6) In any suit under this paragraph for the collection of the authority tax, a judgment for or against the taxpayer does not affect any claim against the taxpayer by a city or the state unless the state is a party to the action.

(7) A copy of the final judgment in favor of an authority in a case in which the state is not a party shall be abstracted by the authority and a copy of the judgment together with a copy of the abstract shall be sent to the comptroller. The authority shall collect taxes awarded to it under the judgment as provided by Section 151.608(e), Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and is responsible for the renewal of the judgment before the expiration of the 10-year period. If a collection is made by an authority on a judgment, notice of the amount collected shall be sent by certified mail to the comptroller. The comptroller may prescribe a form for the notice to be used by authorities.

2 Tax Code, § 151.101 et seq.
3 Tax Code, § 101.001 et seq.

Annual Budget

Sec. 12A. Prior to the commencement of a fiscal year, the board shall adopt an annual operating budget which specifies major expenditures by type and amount. Before the board adopts its annual operating budget, it shall conduct a public hearing and shall make the proposed annual operating budget available to the public at least 14 days prior to the hearing. An annual operating budget must be adopted before the authority conducts business in a fiscal year. The authority may not make operating expenditures in excess of the total budgeted operating expenditures for a fiscal year unless the board amends the operating budget by order after public notice and hearing.

Tort Claims

Sec. 13A. Any authority established hereunder shall be within the definition of "unit of government" as defined by the Texas Tort Claims Act, as amended (Article 6252–19, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and all operations of an authority are deemed to be essential governmental functions and not proprietary functions for all purposes, including the application of the Texas Tort Claims Act.

Contracts for Construction, Goods, or Services

Sec. 14. (a) Contracts for more than $5,000 for the construction of improvements or the purchase of material, machinery, equipment supplies and all other property except real property, shall be let on competitive bids after notice published once a week for two consecutive weeks, the first publication to be at least 15 days before the date fixed for receiving bids, in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the authority is located. The board may adopt rules governing the taking of bids and the awarding of such contracts and providing for the waiver of this requirement in the event of emergency. This subsection does not apply to personal and professional services or to the acquisition of existing transit systems.

(b) The board of an authority may not let a contract (1) that is not subject to competitive bidding requirements, (2) that is for more than $10,000 and (3) that is for the purchase of real property or for consulting or professional services, unless an announcement that a contract is being considered is posted in a prominent place in the principal office of the authority for at least two weeks before the contract is awarded. This subsection does not apply to the acquisition of existing transit systems.

County Authority to Contract with Authority

Sec. 15A. A commissioners court may contract with an authority for the authority to provide public transportation services to any unincorporated area outside the boundaries of the authority for a term and on those conditions as are determined to be desirable by the commissioners court and the board. The county may levy and collect taxes or pledge and encumber other receipts or revenues as may be required to make any payments to the authority under the provisions of the contract.

The process for creating an authority must be limited to land, interest in land, buildings, structures, rights-of-way, easements, franchises, rail lines, bus lines, mass transportation facilities, rapid transit facilities, stations, platforms, terminals, rolling stock, garages, shops, equipment and facilities (including vehicle parking areas and facilities and other facilities necessary or convenient for the beneficial use and access of persons and vehicles to public transportation), control houses, signals and land, facilities and equipment for the protection and environmental enhancement of all the facilities.

(C) any other incorporated city located within the territory of an authority.

Creation of a Regional Transportation Authority

Sec. 3. A regional transportation authority to provide public transportation and general transportation services may be created in a metropolitan area. The process for creating an authority must be initiated by one of the following methods:

(1) The governing body of a principal city and/or county of the principal city from each subregion may agree to initiate the process to create an authority on their own motions. The principal city and/or the county of the principal city in each subregion may become the creating entity. If the creating entity in one subregion initiates the process and a creating entity in the other subregion does not initiate the process within 60 days, the first subregion may proceed on its own.

(2) If a petition requesting creation of an authority signed by at least five percent of the registered voters of the creating entity is presented, the creating entity or entities receiving the petitions shall initiate the process for creating the authority. If the creating entity in one subregion initiates the process and a creating entity in the other subregion does not initiate the process within 60 days, the first subregion may proceed on its own. The entity to which a petition is presented has the primary responsibility for initiating the authority within a subregion. The principal city and county of the principal city of either subregion, however, may by mutual agreement share the responsibility or shift it to the other entity.

Initiating Procedure

Sec. 4. (a) The process shall be initiated by a resolution or order of each creating entity containing the following provisions:

(1) a description of the boundaries of the territory proposed to be included in the subregion(s) of the authority;

(b) The boundaries of the proposed authority shall include all territory in the county or counties of the principal city or cities and any additional territory in adjacent counties having more than 52,000 population that is included in the resolution(s) or order(s).

A unit of election that has the majority of its population in a county of a principal city shall be included in the subregion of that principal city for the purposes of the initiating procedure.

(c) Notice of the time and place of the public hearings, including a description of the area proposed to be included in the authority, shall be published once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in each of the county or counties of the principal city or cities, the first publication to be not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for the hearing. The creating entities shall submit to the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts a copy of this notice.

(d) The creating entity or entities shall conduct the hearings at the time and place specified in the notice and may continue the hearings from day to day and from time to time until completed. Any interested person may appear and offer evidence concerning the boundaries and creation of the authority, operation of a regional transportation system, and whether creation of an authority would be of public utility and in the public interest as well as any other facts bearing upon the creation of an authority.

(e) The governing body of each city located within the boundaries of the proposed authority may by resolution confirm the participation of its city in the process established in Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of this Act to develop an initial service plan and rate of tax

prior to the confirmation election. If a governing body fails to so confirm within 60 days after the process has been initiated by the creating entity or entities, the creating entity or entities and those governing bodies that have so confirmed may proceed on their own without the participation of the nonconfirming governing bodies.

(f) The commissioners court of each county in which unincorporated areas are located within the boundaries of the proposed authority may by order confirm the participation of the unincorporated areas in the process established in Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of this Act to develop an initial service plan and boundaries of the proposed authority may by order confirm the participation of the unincorporated areas in the process established in Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, and 9 of this Act to develop an initial service plan and interim executive committee.

(g) After hearing the evidence presented at the hearings, but no earlier than 75 days after the process has been initiated by the creating entity or entities, the creating entity or entities shall each adopt the resolution or order designating the name of the authority, listing the names of the cities whose governing bodies and the unincorporated areas whose county commissioners courts have confirmed initial inclusion in the authority, and authorizing appointment of the interim subregional boards and interim executive committee. If one creating entity fails to adopt this resolution or order within 60 days after the process has been initiated by the creating entity or entities, the creating entity or entities and those commissioners courts that have so confirmed may proceed on their own without the participation of the nonconfirming commissioners courts.

Sec. 5. (a) The control and operation of a regional transportation authority and its property shall be vested in an executive committee comprised of 11 members selected as follows:

(1) seven members from the membership of the subregional board in the subregion containing a principal city having a population greater than 800,000; and

(2) four members from the membership of the subregional board in the subregion containing a principal city having a population of less than 800,000.

(b) Before the confirmation election, the subregional boards shall select their representatives to the executive committee from their membership by a vote of the members. After the confirmation election, the subregional boards shall select their representatives in the same manner and those representatives shall serve at the pleasure of the subregional boards with the confirmation of the appointments made each September 1. To remain on the executive committee a person must maintain membership on a subregional board. A vacancy on the executive committee shall be filled in the same manner as original appointments.

(c) Following the confirmation election each member of the subregional board shall be entitled to the sum of $50 for each meeting of the executive committee or subregional board attended and shall be reimbursed for necessary and reasonable expenses incurred in the discharge of duties.

(d) The members of the executive committee shall elect from among their number a chairman, vice-chairman, and a secretary. The executive committee may appoint such assistant secretaries, either members or non-members of the executive committee, as it deems necessary. The secretary and assistant secretary or secretaries shall in addition to keeping the permanent records of all proceedings and transactions of the authority perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the executive committee. No member of the executive committee or officer of the authority shall be pecuniarily interested or benefited directly or indirectly in any contract or agreement to which the authority is a party.

(e) The executive committee shall hold at least one regular meeting during each month for the purpose of transacting the business of the authority. Upon written notice, the chairman may call special meetings as may be necessary. The executive committee when organized shall by resolution set the time, place, and day of the regular meetings and shall adopt rules, regulations, and bylaws as it may deem necessary for the conduct of its official meetings. Eight members shall constitute a quorum of the executive committee for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers, and action may be taken by the authority upon a vote of a majority of the executive committee members present unless the bylaws require a larger number for a particular action.

(f) The executive committee shall receive recommendations for the annual budget from each of the subregional boards and shall obtain approval from each subregional board of the final annual budget as it pertains to that board’s subregion. The executive committee shall make its proposed annual budget available to the governing bodies of the cities within the authority at least 30 days prior to adoption of the final annual budget.

Subregional Board in a Subregion Having a Principal City With Population in Excess of 800,000

Sec. 6. (a) The subregional board in a subregion having a principal city with population in excess of 800,000 shall be organized in accordance with this section.

(b) The commissioners court of the county of the principal city shall appoint one member.
(c) The remaining members of the subregional board shall be apportioned according to the ratio which the population of each incorporated city bears to the total population of the territory included within the subregion. Any combination of cities aggregating a total population of 60,000 shall be entitled to one member on the interim subregional board. Following the confirmation election, any combination of cities who have voted confirmation of the authority may aggregate a population of at least 60,000 for the purpose of appointing one member to the initial subregional board. In establishing the interim subregional board, if the results of the 1980 federal census are unavailable, the most recent population estimates of the appropriate metropolitan planning organization will be used.

(d) No city will be entitled to appoint more than 65 percent of the board members. If it would be so entitled pursuant to Subsection (c) of this section, it will be limited to 65 percent and the remaining members will be apportioned among the other cities in the subregion according to the provisions of Subsection (c) of this section.

(e) Prior to 60 days following the date for establishment of the board or restructuring of the board pursuant to Subsection (f) of this section, any two or more cities lacking a specifically designated board member may combine to be treated as a single city for purposes of Subsection (c) of this section, but no combination will be entitled to appoint more than one member of the board.

(f) Every five years as of the first day of September following the date the census data or population estimates become available, or when a city or an unincorporated area withdraws from or joins in the authority, the board shall be restructured pursuant to Subsections (c) and (h) of this section, if warranted by the withdrawal or addition of cities or unincorporated areas, or by population changes or changes in combinations established pursuant to Subsection (e) of this section.

(g) The members of the board shall serve at the pleasure of the governing body of each appointing governmental entity. The governing body shall confirm its board appointment to begin terms on the first day of September each year.

(h) The total number of members comprising the board shall be governed by the total population of the territory included in the subregion. Specifically, the board size shall be determined by the following formula:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Total Population in Subregion</th>
<th>Total Members on Subregional Board</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Less than 1,000,000</td>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1,000,000 to 1,400,000</td>
<td>21</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1,400,000 plus</td>
<td>25</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

(i) Should a city be entitled to more than one board member, the governing body may appoint a number of members less than those allocated, who will be entitled to the same number of votes as the number of members allocated, but a member so appointed shall not cast divided votes.

(j) Sixty-five percent of the members constitutes a quorum for the purpose of conducting business and actions may be taken upon a majority vote of the members present so long as there is a quorum.

Subregional Board in a Subregion Having a Principal City with Population Less than 800,000

Sec. 7. (a) The subregional board in a subregion having a principal city with population less than 800,000 shall be organized in accordance with this section.

(b) The interim subregional board shall be comprised of nine members appointed as follows:

1. four members appointed by the governing body of the principal city;
2. four members appointed by the commissioners court of the county of the principal city; and
3. one member appointed by the governing body of a city having a population in excess of 100,000.

(c) The permanent subregional board shall be comprised of nine members appointed as follows:

1. If the entire county of the principal city is confirmed as all or part of the authority, the permanent subregional board shall be appointed in the same manner as the interim subregional board.
2. If less than the entire county of the principal city is confirmed as all or part of the authority the permanent subregional board shall be appointed as follows:

(A) The commissioners court of the county of the principal city shall appoint at least one member to represent the unincorporated areas and incorporated cities of the county which are not otherwise represented on the subregional board.

(B) The remaining members shall be apportioned to the incorporated cities confirmed as all or part of the subregion according to the ratio which the population of each unit of election bears to the total population of the area confirmed as the subregion. Units of election which fail to receive at least one member shall be apportioned with the county to determine population represented by the county, and appropriate additional members, if any, shall be so apportioned to the county. Units of election which are entitled to one or more members shall have the number of members rounded to the nearest whole number to determine actual apportionment.

(d) Six members of the subregional board shall constitute a quorum of the board for the purpose of conducting business and action may be taken by a majority vote of the members present so long as there is a quorum.

Membership, Terms, Meetings, and Responsibilities of Subregional Boards

Sec. 8. (a) Members of subregional boards must be registered voters residing within the boundaries of the authority. They shall serve at the pleasure of the appointing local governing bodies. Reaffirmation of the appointments will be required each September 1. Vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as original appointments.

(b) A subregional board shall elect from among its membership a chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary. The board may appoint such assistant secretaries, either members or nonmembers of the board, as it deems necessary. The secretary and assistant secretary or secretaries shall in addition to keeping the permanent records of all proceedings and transactions of the board perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the board. No member of a subregional board shall be pecuniarily interested or benefited directly or indirectly in any contract or agreement to which the authority is a party.

(c) A subregional board when organized shall by resolution set the time, place, and day of the regular meetings and shall likewise adopt rules and regulations and such bylaws as it may deem necessary for the conduct of its official meetings and special meetings called by written notice of the chairman or vice-chairman.

(d) The subregional boards shall:

(1) develop, recommend, and approve the annual budget for the appropriate subregion and shall make recommendations for the overall budget; and

(2) make recommendations to the executive committee for operation of services provided by the authority.

Confirmation Election

Sec. 9. (a) After the interim executive committee has organized, it shall develop a service plan and a rate of tax that it desires to levy. After the interim executive committee approves a service plan and a rate of tax that it desires to levy, the governing body of each city acting on behalf of the city and the commissioners court in the county of each unincorporated area acting on behalf of the unincorporated area may by resolution or order approve the service plan and rate of tax. If any governing body or commissioners court fails to so approve within 45 days after the interim executive committee has approved a service plan and rate of tax, the city or the unincorporated area upon whose behalf the governing body or commissioners court acts shall not participate in the service plan nor in a confirmation election that shall be called by the interim executive committee in accordance with the provisions of this section; provided, however, that if the governing body of the principal city of a subregion does not approve the service plan and rate of tax, the interim executive committee shall not call a confirmation election in that subregion.

(b) Not earlier than 60 days after the interim executive committee has approved a service plan and rate of tax, the interim executive committee shall:

(1) finally approve a service plan and rate of tax after modifying its approved service plan and rate of tax only to reflect the nonparticipation of certain cities or unincorporated areas in the service plan; and

(2) notify the commissioners court of each county included in whole or in part within the initial boundaries of the authority of its intention to call a confirmation election. Within 30 days after receipt of the notice, each commissioners court by order shall create not more than five designated units of election in the unincorporated portion of the appropriate county. Each designated unit of election shall have outer boundaries, to the extent practicable, that coincide with a boundary of a county voting precinct so that insofar as practicable no county voting precinct is divided between two different designated election areas.

(c) When the executive committee orders a confirmation election, it shall submit to the qualified voters of cities and unincorporated areas participating in the election within the authority the following proposition:

Shall the creation of (name of authority) be confirmed and shall the levy of the proposed tax, not to exceed (rate), be authorized?

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, notice of the election shall be given in accordance with the general election laws. The notice of the election shall include a description of the nature and rate of the proposed tax. A copy of the notice of the election and any other election held pursuant to this Act shall be furnished to the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts.

(e) The election shall be conducted so that votes are separately tabulated and canvassed in each participating unit of election within the authority.

(f) Immediately after the election, the presiding judge of each election precinct shall return the results to the executive committee, which shall canvass the returns and declare the results separately with respect to each unit of election. In those units of election where a majority of the votes cast is in favor of the confirmation of the creation of the authority and the levy of the proposed tax, the authority shall continue to exist; except that unless the vote is favorable in the unit of election which includes the principal city, or in contiguous units of election where the population when aggregated in all the units exceeds 300,000, the authority shall cease to exist in that subregion. If the votes cast are such that the authority will continue to exist in either or both subregions, the executive committee shall enter the results on its minutes and adopt an order declaring that the creation of the authority is confirmed and describing the territory which comprises the authority. All units of election approving the authority and proposed tax shall be included in the authority if their subregion is included, unless the executive committee of the authority notifies the appropriate governing body in writing that it is excepted from the authority and proposed tax because it is not contiguous to the existing authority and would create a fiscal hardship on the authority. A certified copy of the order adopted by the executive committee shall be filed with the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts. The order shall reflect the date of the election, the proposition voted on, the total number of votes cast for and against the proposition in each unit of election, and the number of votes by which the proposition was approved in each election unit and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the boundaries of the authority.

(g) If the votes cast are such that the authority ceases to exist in its entirety, the executive committee shall enter an order so declaring and file a certified copy of the order with the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission and the comptroller of public accounts, and the authority shall be dissolved.

(h) The cost of the confirmation election shall be paid by the creating entity or entities.

(i) If the election results in the confirmation of an authority, the authority shall, within the limits confirmed, be authorized to function in accordance with the terms of this Act, and the executive committee may levy and collect the proposed tax within those limits. In no event shall the tax authorized under this Act be levied in any unit of election which has failed to confirm the authority.

(j) If the continued existence of an authority is not confirmed by election within three years after the effective date of the resolution(s) or order(s) initiating the process to create the authority, the authority ceases to exist on the expiration of the three years.

(k) For a period of one year following a confirmation election, the governing body of any unit of election may on its own volition or shall, upon receipt of a petition containing signatures of at least 20 percent of the registered voters within that unit of election, call an election and offer the following proposition: "Shall the (name of authority) be dissolved in (unit of election)?" Should the majority of voters voting in the election vote to dissolve the authority within the unit of election, the authority shall cease to exist within the unit of election as of 12:00 midnight on the date of the canvass of the election and all financial obligations of that unit of election will cease to accrue at that time. The financial obligation shall be computed on a per capita basis for the entire year and taxes will continue to be collected until such time as all financial obligations of the unit of election are paid, at which time the taxes collected to support the authority shall cease within that unit of election.

(l) Should the governing body within a unit of election call an election on its own volition or upon petition as provided in Subsection (k) of this section for the purpose of dissolving the authority within the unit of election more than 12 months after the confirmation election, at least 12 months' notice of intent to hold the election must be provided to the executive committee, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the comptroller of public accounts.

Powers of the Authority

Sec. 10. (a) The authority when created and confirmed shall constitute a public body corporate and politic, exercising public and essential governmental functions, having all the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this Act, including but not limited to the following powers granted in this section.

(b) The authority shall have perpetual succession.

(c) The authority may sue and be sued in all courts of competent jurisdiction and may institute and prosecute suits without giving security for costs and may appeal from a judgment or judgments without giving supersedeas or cost bond.

(d) The authority may acquire by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or otherwise and may hold, use, sell, lease, or dispose of real and personal property of every kind and nature whatsoever and licenses, patents, rights, and interests necessary, convenient, or useful for the full exercise of any of its powers pursuant to the provisions of this Act.

(e) The authority shall have the power to acquire, construct, complete, develop, plan, own, operate, and maintain a system or systems within its boundaries and both within and without the boundaries of incorporated cities, towns, and villages and political subdivisions and for such purposes shall have the right to use the streets, alleys, roads, highways, and other public ways and to relocate, raise, reroute, change the grade of, and alter the construction of any street, alley, highway, road, railroad, electric lines and facilities; telegraph and telephone properties and facilities; cable television lines and facilities; pipelines and facilities, conduits and facilities, and other properties, whether publicly or privately owned, as necessary or useful in the construction, reconstruction, repair, maintenance, and operation of the system or to cause each and all of said things to be done at the authority's sole expense. The authority shall not proceed with any action to change, alter, or damage the property or facilities of the state, its municipal corporations, agencies, or political subdivisions or of owners of such property or facilities, without having first obtained the written consent of such owners or unless the authority shall have first obtained the right to take such action under its power of eminent domain as herein specified. In the event the owners of such property or facilities desire to handle any such relocation, raising, change in the grade of, or alteration in the construction of such property or facilities with their own forces or to cause the same to be done by contractors of their own choosing, the authority shall have the power to enter into agreements with such owners providing for the necessary relocations, changes, or alterations of such property or facilities by the owners and/or such contractors and the reimbursement by the authority to such owners of the costs incurred by such owners in making such relocations, changes, or alterations and/or in causing the same to be accomplished by such contractors.

(f) In the event the authority in exercising any of the powers conferred by this Act makes necessary the relocation, adjustment, raising, lowering, rerouting, or changing the grade of or altering the construction of any street, alley, highway, or road; any railroad track, bridge, or other facilities or properties; any electric lines, conduits, or other facilities or properties; any gas transmission or distribution pipes, pipelines, mains, or other facilities or properties; any water, sanitary sewer, or storm sewer pipes, pipelines, mains, or other facilities or properties; any telegraph and telephone lines or other facilities or properties; any cable television lines, cables, conduits, or other facilities or properties; or any other pipelines and any facilities or properties relating thereto, and any and all such relocations, adjustments, raising, lowering, rerouting, or changing of grade or altering of construction shall be accomplished at the sole cost and expense of the authority, and all damages which may be suffered by the owners of such property or facilities shall be borne by the authority.

(g) The authority shall have the right of eminent domain to acquire lands in fee simple and any interest less than fee simple in, on, under, and above lands, including without limitation easements, rights-of-way, rights of use of air space or subsurface space, or any combination thereof; provided that this right shall not be exercised without the approval of each proposed acquisition in a city by the governing body of that city and the approval of each proposed acquisition in an unincorporated area by the commissioners court of the county of that unincorporated area; and provided further that such right shall not be exercised in a manner which would unduly impair the then existing neighborhood character of property surrounding or adjacent to the property sought to be condemned or unduly interfere with interstate commerce or which would authorize the authority to run its vehicles on railroad tracks which are used to transport property.

(h) Eminent domain proceedings brought by the authority shall be governed by the provisions of Title 52, Eminent Domain, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as they now exist or hereafter may be amended, insofar as such provisions are not inconsistent with this Act. Proceedings for the exercise of the power of eminent domain shall be commenced by the adoption by the executive committee of a resolution declaring the public necessity for the acquisition by the authority of the property or interest therein described in the resolution, and that such acquisition is necessary and proper for the construction, extension, improvement, or development of the system and is in the public interest. The resolution of the authority and the approval of the resolution by the appropriate governing body or commissioners court shall be conclusive evidence of the public necessity of such proposed acquisition and that such real or personal property or interest therein is necessary for public use.

(i) The authority shall have the power to enter into agreements with any other public utility, private utility, communication system, common carrier, or transportation system for the joint use of their respective facilities, installations, and properties within the authority and to establish through routes, joint fares, or transfer of passengers.

(j) The authority shall establish and maintain rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, or other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system acquired, constructed, operated, or maintained by the authority which shall be reasonable and nondiscriminatory and which together with grants and receipts from taxes collected by the authority shall be sufficient to produce revenues adequate:

(1) to pay all expenses necessary to the operation and maintenance of the properties and facilities of the authority;

(2) to pay the interest on and principal of all bonds issued by the authority under this Act which are payable in whole or in part from such revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable;

(3) to pay all sinking fund and reserve fund payments agreed to be made in respect of any such bonds, and payable out of such taxes and revenues, when and as the same shall become due and payable; and

(4) to fulfill the terms of any agreements made with the holders of such bonds or with any person in their behalf.

(k) It is the intention of this Act that taxes levied and the rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, and other compensation for the use of the facilities of the system shall not be in excess of what may be necessary to fulfill the obligations imposed upon the authority by this Act. Nothing herein shall be construed as depriving the State of Texas of its power to regulate and control such taxes, rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, and other compensation; provided that the State of Texas does hereby pledge to and agree with the purchasers and successive holders of the bonds issued hereunder that the state will not limit or alter the powers hereby vested in the authority to establish and collect such taxes, rates, fares, tolls, charges, rents, and other compensation as will produce revenues sufficient to pay the items specified in Subdivisions (1), (2), (3), and (4), Subsection (j) of this section or in any way to impair the rights or remedies of the holders of the bonds or any person in their behalf until the bonds, together with the interest thereon, with interest on unpaid installments of interest, and all costs and expenses in connection with any action or proceedings by or on behalf of the bondholders and all other obligations of the authority in connection with such bonds are fully met and discharged.

(l) The authority may make contracts, leases, and agreements with and accept grants and loans from the United States of America, its departments and agencies, the State of Texas, its agencies, counties, municipalities, and political subdivisions, and public or private corporations and persons and may generally perform all acts necessary for the full exercise of the powers vested in it. The authority may acquire rolling stock or other property under conditional sales contracts, leases, equipment trust certificates, or any other form of contract or trust agreement. Any revenue bond indenture may provide limitations upon the exercise of the powers stated in this section and such limitations shall apply so long as any of the revenue bonds issued pursuant to such indenture are outstanding and unpaid.

(m) The authority may sell, lease, convey, or otherwise dispose of any of its rights, interests, or properties which are not needed for or, in the case of leases, which are not inconsistent with the efficient operation and maintenance of the system. It may sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of at any time any surplus materials or personal or real property not needed for its requirements or for the purpose of carrying out its powers under this Act.

(n) The authority shall by resolution make all rules and regulations governing the use, operation, and maintenance of the system and shall determine all routings and change the same whenever it is deemed advisable. The authority shall encourage to the maximum extent feasible the participation of private enterprise.

(o) The authority shall have the power to lease the system or any part thereof to or contract for the use or operation of the system or any part thereof by any operator.

(p) The acquisition of any land or interest therein pursuant to this Act, the planning, acquisition, establishment, development, construction, improvement, maintenance, equipment, operation, regulation, protection, and policing of the authority's system and facilities, and the exercise of any other powers herein granted an authority are hereby declared to be public and governmental functions, exercised for a public purpose, and matters of public necessity.

(q) The authority may contract with any city, county, or other political subdivision for the authority to provide public transportation services to any area outside the boundaries of the authority on such terms and conditions as may be agreed to by the parties.

(r) The authority shall have the power to acquire, construct, complete, develop, own, operate, and maintain a public transportation system and general transportation services within its boundaries and both within and without the boundaries of incorporated cities, towns, and villages and political subdivisions. The powers of the authority may be approved all or in part by referenda proposed by the executive committee. These powers as they relate to a public transportation system and general transportation services are identical to those outlined in other subsections of this section.

(s) The executive committee of the authority may establish a security force and provide for the employment of security personnel. The executive committee may commission any employee of the security force established under this Act as a peace officer if he is certified as qualified to be a peace officer by the Commission on Law Enforcement Officer Standards and Education. Any person commissioned as a peace officer under this Act shall give an oath and such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as the executive committee may require. The bond shall be approved by the executive committee and made payable to the authority. It shall be filed with the executive committee. Any peace officer commissioned under this Act shall have all the rights, privileges, obligations, and duties of any other peace officer in this state while he is on the property under the control of the authority or in the actual course and scope of his employment.

(t) Any and all law enforcement police powers granted pursuant to this section shall be subordinate to the law enforcement police power of an incorporated city wherein the power is attempted to be exercised.

Addition of Territory

Sec. 11. (a) Territory may be added to an authority only according to the provisions of this section.

(b) The governing body of an incorporated city or town located in whole or in part within a county in which the authority is situated may hold an election on the question of whether the city or town shall be annexed to the authority. If a majority of the qualified voters in the city or town votes for annexation, the governing body shall certify the results of the election to the executive committee of the authority, and the city or town shall become a part of the authority, except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section. Should a principal city of another subregion or the other subregion choose to join the authority, the procedures outlined in Sections 3 and

1 Article 3264 et seq.
Art. 1118y

4 of this Act shall apply. Following the conduct of an election as directed by Section 9 of this Act, a subregional board will be established according to either Section 6 or Section 7 of this Act. The executive committee existing before the additional subregional board is created will be modified to conform with Section 5 of this Act.

(c) A city of 150,000 to 170,000 according to the last preceding decennial census located in a county with a principal city having a population of less than 800,000 according to the last preceding decennial census may join a separate authority upon otherwise complying with the terms of this Act. In such event thereafter, should a separate authority be established in a county with a principal city of less than 800,000 population according to the last preceding decennial census, any city within such county which has voted to participate with any authority created pursuant to this Act shall have the following options at that time: to remain a part of the earlier created authority, to join the new authority in the county in which the city is located, or to participate with both authorities. Provided that any such city wherein capital improvements have been previously made at its request by an authority must upon its transfer to a different authority or participation with more than one authority continue to honor reimbursement obligations resulting from such improvements.

(d) The commissioners court of a county in which the authority is situated in whole or in part that is adjacent to a county in which the authority is situated in whole or in part may hold an election for unincorporated areas in any one or more of the designated election areas formed for the election by order of the commissioners court on the question of whether the unincorporated area in which the election is held shall be annexed to the authority. The boundaries of a designated election area shall coincide to the extent practicable with the boundary of a county voting precinct so that insofar as practicable no county voting precinct is divided. If a majority of the qualified voters in any area where such an election is held votes in favor of annexation, the commissioners court shall certify the results of the election to the executive committee of the authority, and the unincorporated area shall become a part of the authority, except as provided in Subsection (f) of this section.

(e) If a city or town which is a part of an authority lawfully annexes additional territory which is not a part of the authority, the annexed territory becomes a part of the authority.

(f) If an authority adds territory or alters its boundaries, the presiding officer of the executive committee shall forward to the comptroller of public accounts by United States registered mail or certified mail a certified copy of the order adding territory to the authority or of the order canvassing the returns and declaring the result of the election. The order shall reflect the effective date of the tax and shall be accompanied by a map of the authority clearly showing the territory added or detached.

(2) Upon receipt of the order and map, the tax imposed and authorized to be collected under Section 16 of this Act shall be effective in the added territory on the first day of the next succeeding quarter. However, if the comptroller notifies the presiding officer of the executive committee in writing within 10 days after receipt of the order and map that he requires more time, the comptroller shall be entitled to delay implementation one whole calendar quarter. Thereafter the tax shall be effective in the added territory on the first day of the next succeeding calendar quarter following the elapsed quarter.

(g) Territory in which an election is held as provided in Subsection (b) or (d) of this section becomes a part of the authority on the 31st day after the election, if the voters approve the addition as provided in Subsection (b) or (d) of this section, and unless the executive committee of the authority notifies the appropriate governing body in writing before that date that the addition, because it is not contiguous to the existing authority, would create a fiscal hardship on the authority.

(h) Separate subregional authorities created pursuant to this Act may voluntarily merge upon a subsequent agreement between them.

Separate Subregional Authority

Sec. 12. In the event one subregion should establish a regional transportation authority, the remaining subregion may establish a separate regional transportation authority pursuant to this Act. In a separate subregion with a principal city of less than 800,000, the tax rate shall be approved by the commissioners court before confirmation election as provided in Section 9 of this Act.

Composition of the Executive Committee

Sec. 13. If the existence of the authority is confirmed in both subregions, then the executive committee shall be organized as provided in Section 5 of this Act. If a creating entity in only one subregion initiates the process or if the existence of the authority is confirmed in only one subregion or separate subregion, then the board for that subregion shall become the executive committee and governing body of the authority, and members of the executive committee shall be selected in the manner prescribed for selection of the members of the board for the subregion that comprises the authority.

Station or Terminal Complexes

Sec. 14. (a) The acquisition of any land or any interest in land pursuant to this Act; the planning, acquisition, establishment, development, construction, improvement, maintenance, equipment, operation, regulation, protection, and policing of the authority's system and facilities; and the exercise of any other powers granted an authority, including without limitation the rights, powers, and authority relating to station or terminal complexes as provided in this section, are declared to be public and governmental functions, exercised for a public purpose, and matters of public necessity for public use and public benefit.

(b) The authority shall have the right, power, and authority to acquire by grant, purchase, gift, devise, lease, or eminent domain proceedings and to own lands in fee simple and any interest less than fee simple in, on, under, and above lands, including without limitation easements, rights-of-way, rights of use of air space or subsurface space or any combination thereof adjacent or accessible to stations and other public or general transportation facilities developed or to be developed by the authority that may be required for or in aid of the development of one or more station or terminal complexes, as part of its transportation system and may sell, lease, or otherwise transfer the same or any part thereof to individuals, corporations, or governmental entities, subject to the restrictions provided in this section.

(c) Any lands or interests in land acquired for a station or terminal complex must be part of or contained within a station or terminal complex designated as part of the system within a comprehensive service plan approved by resolution of the executive committee. Before a station or terminal complex may be included in the system, the executive committee must find and determine that the proposed station or terminal complex will encourage and provide for efficient and economical public transportation service, will facilitate access to public transportation service and provide other public transportation purposes, will reduce vehicular congestion and air pollution in the metropolitan area, and is reasonably essential to the successful operation of the system. The executive committee may amend its comprehensive service plan to include other station or terminal complexes upon making these findings.

(d) Any station or terminal complex shall include adequate provisions for the transfer of passengers between the various modes of transportation available to the complex. A complex may include provisions for commercial, residential, recreational, institutional, and industrial facilities, except that no lands or interests in land more than 1,500 feet in distance from the center point of the complex may be acquired for the facilities by eminent domain proceedings, and the executive committee shall designate the center point prior to the commencement of eminent domain proceedings. If a proposed station or terminal complex is to be located within the city limits or extraterritorial jurisdiction of a city or town, the governing body of the city or town must approve the location of the complex as to conform with the comprehensive or general plan of the city or town by motion, resolution, or ordinance duly adopted.

(e) The authority may sell, lease, or otherwise transfer lands or interests in land acquired within a station or terminal complex and may enter into contracts with respect to it in accordance with the comprehensive service plan approved by the executive committee, subject to such covenants, conditions, and restrictions, including covenants running with the land and obligations to commence construction within a specified time, as the executive committee may deem to be in the public interest or necessary to carry out the purposes of this section, all of which shall be incorporated into the instrument transferring or conveying title or right of use. Any lease, sale, or transfer shall be at fair value taking into account the use designated for the land in the comprehensive service plan for the system and the restrictions on and the covenants, conditions, and obligations assumed by the purchaser, lessee, or transferee. However, if the authority offers the property for sale, the original owner from whom the property was acquired by eminent domain proceedings or through threat of eminent domain proceedings has the first right to repurchase at the price at which it is offered to the public.

(f) No station or public transportation facility may be considered a "station or terminal complex" governed by this section unless it has been designated as such in the comprehensive service plan pursuant to the specific authority granted by this section.

Bonds and Notes

Sec. 15. (a) The authority shall have no power to assess, levy, or collect ad valorem taxes on property, nor to issue any bonds or notes secured by ad valorem tax revenues. The authority, however, shall have the full power to issue bonds and notes from time to time and in such amounts as it shall consider necessary or appropriate for the acquisition, purchase, construction, reconstruction, repair, equipping, improvement, or extension of the transportation system and all properties thereof whether real, personal, or mixed. All such bonds and notes shall be fully negotiable and may be made redeemable before maturity at the option of the issuing authority at such price or prices and under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the issuing authority in the resolution authorizing such bonds or notes and may be sold at public or private sale whichever the executive committee may deem more advantageous.

(b) Prior to delivery, all bonds and notes authorized to be issued hereunder and the records relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of Texas for examination, and if he finds that they have been issued in accordance with the constitution and this Act and that they will be binding obligations of the authority, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, and after such approval and registration and the sale and delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, they shall be incontestable.

(c) In order to secure the payment of such bonds or notes, such authority shall have full power and authority to encumber and pledge all or any part of the revenue realized from any tax which the authority is authorized to levy and all or any part of the revenues of its transportation system and to mortgage and encumber all or any part of the properties thereof and everything pertaining thereto acquired or to be acquired and to prescribe the terms and provisions of such bonds and notes in any manner not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. If not prohibited by the resolution or indenture relating to outstanding bonds or notes, any such authority shall have full power and authority to encumber separately any item or items of real estate or personality, including motorbuses, transit cars and other vehicles, machinery, and other equipment of any nature, and to acquire, use, hold, or contract for any such property under any lease arrangement, chattel mortgage, or conditional sale, including but not limited to transactions commonly known as equipment trust transactions. Nothing herein shall be construed as prohibiting an authority from encumbering any one or more transportation systems for the purpose of purchasing, building, constructing, enlarging, extending, repairing, or reconstructing another one or more of said systems and purchasing necessary property, both real, personal, and mixed, in connection therewith.

(d) Refunding bonds or notes may be issued for the purposes and in the manner provided by general law, including without limitation Chapter 508, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k–3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as presently enacted or hereafter amended.

(e) Whenever the revenues of any public transportation system or general transportation services shall be encumbered under this Act, the expense of operation and maintenance, including all salaries, labor, materials, and repairs necessary to render efficient service and every proper item of expense, shall always be a first lien and charge against such revenues. The fares charged for transportation of passengers by any system may be based upon a zone system of determining fares or other fare classification determined by such authority to be reasonable.

(f) All such bonds and notes shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies. Such bonds and notes shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such bonds and notes shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof or their value on the market, whichever is the lesser, when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.

(g) If revenue bonds are to be issued by an authority to acquire any existing transportation system or any part thereof and the owner thereof is willing to accept said revenue bonds in lieu of cash, then in that event the revenue bonds may be exchanged for the property or for the stock of a corporation owning the property to be dissolved simultaneously.

(b) Bonds payable solely from revenues may be issued by resolution of the executive committee, but no bonds, except refunding bonds, payable wholly or partially from taxes may be issued until authorized by a majority vote of the qualified voters of the authority voting in an election called and held for that purpose.

Local Sales and Use Tax

Sec. 16. (a) Subject to approval at a confirmation election in accordance with this Act, the executive committee is authorized to levy, collect, and impose a local sales and use tax for the benefit of the authority, the sales tax portion of which shall not exceed one percent of receipts from the sale at retail of all taxable items within the authority area which are subject to taxation under the provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, as enacted and as heretofore or hereafter amended.

The tax rate may be levied or collected only as a quarter of one percent, a half of one percent, three-quarters of one percent, or one percent. The provisions of this section shall be applicable to the levy, imposition, and collection of the tax.

(b) The following words and terms shall have the following respective meanings unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context:

(1) “Authority area” means the geographical limits of the authority.

(2) “Comptroller” means the Comptroller of Public Accounts of Texas.

(3) “Local sales and use tax” means any sales and use tax imposed by a city within the authority area under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act (Article 1066c, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes).

(c) The executive committee by filing a certified copy of the order with the comptroller may authorize and direct the comptroller to collect a rate of tax that is lower than the rate approved by the voters at the confirmation election.

(d) The executive committee shall not increase the tax rate above the rate approved by the voters at the confirmation election without first receiving a majority vote in favor of the increase at an authority-wide election.

(e) Upon actual receipt by the comptroller of notification of adoption, increase, or decrease of a local sales and use tax containing the information required by Subsection (f) of Section 9 of this Act, there shall elapse one whole calendar quarter prior to the adoption, increase, or decrease of a local sales and use tax becoming effective. Thereafter the adoption, increase, or decrease shall be effective beginning on the first day of the next calendar quarter following the elapsed calendar quarter.

(f)(1) Every retailer within the authority area shall add the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, any applicable local sales and use tax, and the tax imposed under the authority of this Act to his sale price, and when added, the combined tax shall constitute a part of the price, shall be a debt of the purchaser to the retailer until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as the purchase price. The combined taxes on the transaction shall be determined by multiplying the amount of the sale by the total of the combined applicable tax rates. Any fraction of one cent which is less than one-half of one cent of tax shall not be collected. Any fraction of one cent of tax equal to one-half of one cent or more shall be collected by the retailer as a whole cent of tax. Provided, however, that any retailer who can establish to the satisfaction of the comptroller that 50 percent or more of his receipts from the sale of taxable items arise from individual transactions where the total sales price when multiplied by the combined rates of the taxes imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, any applicable local sales and use tax, and this section equals an amount that is less than one-half of one cent may exclude the receipts from such sales when reporting and paying the tax imposed under this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable local sales and use tax. No retailer shall avail himself of this provision without prior written approval of the comptroller. The comptroller shall grant such approval when he is satisfied that the retailer qualifies on the basis set forth in this section and when the retailer has submitted satisfactory evidence that he can and will maintain records adequate to substantiate the exclusion herein authorized. Any attempt on the part of any retailer to exercise this provision without prior written approval of the comptroller shall be deemed a failure and refusal to pay the taxes imposed by this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable local sales and use tax, and the retailer shall be subject to assessment for both taxes, penalties and interest as provided for in this Act, the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, and any applicable local sales and use tax.

(2)(A) In every authority area where the tax authorized by this Act has been adopted pursuant to the provisions of this Act, there is hereby imposed an excise tax on the storage, use, or other consumption of an item of tangible personal property that has adopted the sales and use tax imposed by this Act or if the tangible personal property is first stored, used, or consumed within an authority or area that has not adopted the sales and use tax imposed by this section.

(B) In each authority where the tax authorized by this Act has been imposed as provided in this Act, the excise tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable excise tax under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act on the storage, use, or other consumption of taxable items and the excise tax imposed by this Act shall be added together to form a combined rate of excise tax which is equal to the sum of the applicable taxes. The tax imposed by this section shall be collected by the comptroller on behalf of and for the benefit of such authority. The formula prescribed in Subdivision (1) of this subsection shall be applicable to the collection of the excise tax imposed under this section.

(C) The provisions of the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act shall be applicable to the collection of the tax imposed by this Subdivision (2), provided that in Subchapter D, Chapter 151, Tax Code, the name of the authority where the sales and use tax authorized by this Act has been adopted shall be substituted for that of the state where the words “this state” are used to designate the taxing authority or to delimit the tax imposed.

(D) If a sale of tangible personal property is consummated within the state but not within an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section and the tangible personal property is shipped directly into or brought by the purchaser or lessee directly into an authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by this section, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by the authority under Paragraph (A) of this subdivision. The use is considered consummated at the location where the item is first stored, used, or otherwise consumed after the intrastate transit has ceased.

(E) If the tangible personal property is shipped from outside this state to a customer within this state, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Paragraph (A) of this subdivision and not the sales tax imposed by Subdivision (1) of this subsection. The use is consummated at the first point in this state where the property is stored, used, or otherwise consumed after interstate transit has ceased. Tangible personal property delivered to a point in this state is presumed to be for storage, use, or other consumption at that point until the contrary is established.

(F) There are exempted from the sales taxes imposed by this article receipts from any sale of tangible personal property which, pursuant to the contract of sale, is shipped to a point outside the authority area by the retailer by means of:

(a) facilities operated by the retailer;
(b) delivery by the retailer to a carrier for shipment to a consignee at such point; or
(c) delivery by the retailer to a customs broker or forwarding agent for shipment outside the authority.

If the tangible personal property exempted under this paragraph or under Subparagraph (6) of Section 118(B)(c) of Chapter 141, Acts of the 63rd Legislature, Regular Session, 1973, as amended (Article 1118x, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), is shipped or delivered directly to a purchaser in another authority that has adopted the taxes imposed by either article, the tangible personal property is subject to the use tax imposed by Subdivision (1) of Subsection (f) of this section.

(3)(A) On and after the effective date of any tax imposed under the provisions of this Act, the comptroller shall perform all functions incident to the administration, collection, enforcement, and operation of the tax, and the comptroller shall collect, in addition to the taxes imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act, an additional tax under the authority of this Act specified by the authority, but not to exceed one percent on the receipts from the sale at retail or on the sale price or lease or rental price on the storage, use, or other consumption of all taxable items within such authority area, which items are subject to the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. The tax imposed hereunder and the tax imposed under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and any applicable local sales and use tax shall be collected together and reported upon such forms and under such administrative rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the comptroller not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act. On and after the effective date of any proposition to abolish such local sales and use tax in any authority area, the comptroller shall comply therewith.

(B) The comptroller shall make to the authority substantially the same reports as to taxes within the authority area as are made to cities under Subsections 5(b), (c), and (d) of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act.

(4) The following provisions shall govern the collection by the comptroller of the tax imposed by this Act:

(A) All applicable provisions contained in Title 2, Tax Code, shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as modified in this Act.

(B) The provisions contained in Section 6 of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act shall apply to the levy, imposition, and collection of the tax imposed by this Act, except as modified herein.

(C) The penalties provided in Title 2, Tax Code, for violations of that Act are hereby made applicable to violations of this Act.

(D) The sales and use tax collected by the comptroller under this Act shall be deposited, held, accounted for, and transmitted for the authority as provided in Section 7 of the Local Sales and Use Tax Act.

(5) The authority’s share of all sales and use tax collected under this Act by the comptroller shall be transmitted to the treasurer or the officer performing the functions of such office of such authority by the comptroller payable to the authority periodically as promptly as feasible. Transmittals required under this Act shall be made at least twice in each state fiscal year. Before transmitting such funds, the comptroller shall deduct two percent of the sum collected from the authority during such period as a charge by the state for its services specified in this Act, and the amounts so deducted shall be deposited by the comptroller in the State Treasury to the credit of the General Revenue Fund of the state. The comptroller is authorized to retain in the suspense account of an authority a portion of the authority’s share of the tax collected under this Act. Such balance so retained in the suspense account shall not exceed five percent of the amount remitted to the authority. The comptroller is authorized to make refunds from the suspense account of an authority for overpayments made to such accounts and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of the suspense account of the authority. When an authority shall abolish such tax, the comptroller may retain in the suspense account of the authority for a period of one year five percent of the final remittance to the authority at the time of termination of collection of such tax in the authority to cover possible refunds for overpayment of the tax and to redeem dishonored checks and drafts deposited to the credit of such accounts. After one year has elapsed after the effective date of abolition of such tax in the authority, the comptroller shall remit the balance in such accounts to the authority and close the account.

(6) The comptroller may promulgate reasonable rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, to implement the enforcement, administration, and collection of the taxes authorized herein.

(7)(A) In an authority where the sales and use tax authorized by this Act has been imposed, if any person is delinquent in the payment of the amount required to be paid by him under this Act or in the event a determination has been made against him for taxes and penalty under this Act, the limitation for bringing suit for the collection of such delinquent tax and penalty shall be the same as that provided by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act. Where any person is delinquent in payment of taxes under this Act, the comptroller shall notify the authority to which delinquent taxes are due under this Act by United States registered mail or certified mail and shall send a copy of the notice to the attorney general. The authority, acting through its constitutes a certification of the amount owed and is prima facie evidence of the determination of the tax and of the delinquency of the amounts of sales and use tax set forth in the notice.

(B) Where property is seized by the comptroller under the provisions of any law authorizing seizure of the property of a taxpayer who is delinquent in payment of the tax imposed by the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and where such taxpayer is also delinquent in payment of any tax imposed by this Act, the comptroller shall sell sufficient property to pay the delinquent taxes and penalty due an authority under this Act in addition to that required to pay any amount due the state under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and due any city under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act. The proceeds from such sale shall first be applied to all sums due the state, then all sums due any city under the Local Sales and Use Tax Act, and the remainder, if any, shall be applied to all sums due the authority.

(C) An authority that has adopted the tax authorized by this Act may bring suit for the collection of sales, excise, or use taxes imposed by this Act which have been certified as required in Paragraph (A) of this subdivision and are owed to the authority under this Act if at least 60 days before the filing of the suit written notice by certified mail of the tax delinquency and of the intention to file suit is given to the comptroller, the comptroller may prescribe a form for the notice to be used by an authority.

(D) The comptroller or attorney general may disapprove the institution of tax suit by an authority if:

(i) negotiations between the state and the taxpayer are being conducted for the purpose of the collection of delinquent taxes owed to the state and the authority seeking to bring suit;

(ii) the taxpayer owes substantial taxes to the state and there is a reasonable possibility that the taxpayer may be unable to pay the total amount owed in full;

(iii) the state will bring suit against the taxpayer for the collection of all sales, excise, and use taxes due under the Limited Sales, Excise and Use Tax Act and this Act; or

(iv) the suit involves a critical legal question relating to the interpretation of state law or a provision of the Texas Constitution or the United States Constitution in which the state has an overriding interest.

(E) A notice of disapproval to an authority must give reason for the determination of the comptroller or attorney general. A disapproval is final and not subject to review. An authority, after one year from the date of the disapproval, may proceed again as provided in Paragraph (C) of this subdivision even though the liability of the taxpayer includes taxes for which the authority has previously given notice and the comptroller or attorney general has previously disapproved the suit.

(F) In any suit under this subdivision for the collection of the authority tax, a judgment for or against the taxpayer does not affect any claim against the taxpayer by a city or the state unless the state is a party to the action.

(G) A copy of the final judgment in favor of an authority in a case in which the state is not a party shall be abstracted by the authority and a copy of the judgment together with a copy of the abstract shall be sent to the attorney general as a party plaintiff to seek a judgment against the taxpayer by a city or the state unless the state is a party to the action.

Sec. 17. The executive committee by filing a certified copy of the order and a map of the authority clearly showing the boundaries of the subregions with the comptroller may authorize and direct the comptroller to collect a different rate of tax in each subregion as long as neither rate is greater than the rate approved by the voters at the confirmation election. In a subregion with a principal city of less than 800,000, the tax rate shall be approved by the commissioners court before the confirmation election as provided in Section 9 of this Act.

Management

Sec. 18. (a) The responsibility for the operation and control of the properties belonging to an authority shall be vested in its executive committee. The executive committee may:

(1) appoint and prescribe compensation for a general manager who shall employ persons, firms, partnerships, or corporations deemed necessary by the executive committee for the conduct of the affairs of the authority, including but not limited to bookkeepers, engineers, financial advisers, and operating or management companies and in accordance with executive committee policy, prescribe the duties, tenure, and compensation of each; all employees may be removed by the general manager;

serve insurance company authorized to write policies in the State of Texas;

(4) adopt a seal for the authority;

(5) invest funds of the authority in direct or indirect obligations of the United States, the state, or any county, city, school district, or other political subdivision of the state; funds of the authority may be placed in certificates of deposit of state or national banks or savings and loan associations within the state provided that they are secured in the manner provided for the security of the funds of counties of the State of Texas; the executive committee by resolution may provide that an authorized representative of the authority may invest and reinvest the funds of the authority and provide for money to be withdrawn from the appropriate accounts of the authority for the investments on such terms as the executive committee considers advisable;

(6) fix the fiscal year for the authority;

(7) establish a complete system of accounts for the authority and each year shall have prepared an audit of its affairs by an independent certified public accountant or a firm of independent certified public accountants which shall be open to public inspection; and

(8) designate one or more banks to serve as the depository for the funds of the authority.

(b) All funds of the authority shall be deposited in the depository bank or banks unless otherwise required by orders or resolutions authorizing the issuance of the authority's bonds or notes.

(c) To the extent that funds in the depository bank or banks are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, they shall be secured in the manner provided by law for the security of funds of counties of the State of Texas.

(d) The executive committee by resolution may authorize a designated representative to supervise the substitution of securities pledged to secure the authority's funds.

Rules and Regulations

Sec. 19. (a) The executive committee may adopt and enforce reasonable rules and regulations:

(1) to secure and maintain safety and efficiency in the operation and maintenance of its facilities;

(2) governing the use of the authority's facilities and services by the public and the payment of fares, tolls, and charges; and

(3) regulating privileges on any land, easement, right-of-way, rolling stock, or other property owned or controlled by the authority.

(b) A condensed substantive statement of the rules and regulations shall be published after adoption once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper with general circulation in the area in which the authority is located which notice shall advise that the full text of the rules and regulations is on file in the principal office of the authority where it may be read by any interested person. Such rules and regulations shall become effective 10 days after the second publication.

Competitive Bids

Sec. 20. Contracts for more than $2,000 for the construction of improvements or the purchase of material, machinery, equipment, supplies, and all other property, except real property, shall be let on competitive bids after notice published once at least 15 days before the date fixed for receiving bids in a newspaper of general circulation in the area in which the authority is located. The executive committee may adopt rules governing the taking of bids and the awarding of such contracts. This section shall not apply to personal and professional services or to the acquisition of existing transit systems.

County Authority to Contract with Authority

Sec. 21. A commissioners court may contract with an authority for the authority to provide public transportation services to any unincorporated area outside the boundaries of the authority for a term and on those conditions as are determined to be desirable by the commissioners court and the executive committee. The county may levy and collect taxes or pledge and encumber other receipts or revenues as may be required to make any payments to the authority under the provisions of the contract.

Elections

Sec. 22. (a) This section governs all elections ordered by the executive committee except elections held under the provisions of Section 9 of this Act.

(b) Notice of an election ordered by the executive committee shall be given by publication once a week for three consecutive weeks with the first publication in a newspaper with general circulation in the authority at least 21 days before the election.

(c) A resolution calling an election and the notice of the election are sufficient if the date and hours of the election, the voting places within voting precincts for the election, and the propositions to be voted on are specified. The executive committee may define and declare voting precincts, determine the manner of absentee voting, and prescribe the election officers.

(d) As soon as practicable after an election, the executive committee shall canvass the returns of the election and declare the results.

(e) Where not otherwise provided in this section, the general election laws apply.

Exemptions from Taxes

Sec. 23. The property, revenues, and income of the authority and the interest bonds and notes issued by the authority shall be exempt from all taxes levied or to be levied by the State of Texas, its political subdivisions, counties, or municipal corporations.
Incorporated City May Provide Services

Sec. 23A. Nothing contained in this Act shall preclude an incorporated city from providing general transportation services or public transportation services.

Subregional Transportation Authorities in Contiguous Cities

Sec. 24. (a) Nothing contained in this Act shall require any city with a population in excess of 150,000, according to the most recent federal census, and with boundaries contiguous to a principal city with a population less than 500,000 according to the most recent federal census, or any city with boundaries contiguous to a principal city and with boundaries extending into two or more adjacent counties, two of which counties include a principal city, to be a part of or participate in the regional transportation authority provided herein. Such cities shall be called "contiguous cities."

(b) Nothing contained in this Act shall prohibit any such contiguous city from establishing a subregional transportation authority.

(c) (1) Within 60 days after initiation of the process provided in Section 3 of this Act by a principal city or a county of the principal city or within 60 days after a confirmation election or any election to dissolve the authority, in which a majority of the votes cast in such contiguous city either fail to confirm the creation of the authority or approve the dissolving of the authority, any such contiguous city may elect by resolution of its governing body not to participate in the regional transportation authority established by a principal city or county of a principal city.

(2) In the event such contiguous city shall elect not to participate in the regional transportation authority provided in this Act, its boundaries shall be excluded from the regional transportation authority proposed or created by the principal city or county of the principal city and shall not be included in the initiating process of said principal city or county of the said principal city as provided in Section 4 of this Act and the confirmation procedure of Section 9 of this Act.

(d) Any such contiguous city may create a subregional transportation authority by one of the following methods:

(1) The governing body of a contiguous city may initiate the process to create a subregional transportation authority on its own motion.

(2) If a petition requesting creation of a subregional transportation authority signed by at least five percent of the registered voters of the contiguous city is presented, the governing body of the contiguous city shall initiate the process for creating the subregional transportation authority.

(e) The subregional transportation authorities created in any two or more contiguous cities may establish a joint subregional transportation authority by contract. A subregional transportation authority or joint subregional transportation authorities may enter into contracts with a regional transportation authority.

(f) Except as it may conflict with the intent of this Section 24, the initiating procedure for a subregional transportation authority shall be the same as that provided in Section 4 of this Act. Where the word "principal city" is used therein, it shall mean contiguous city and where the word "authority" is used therein, it shall mean the subregional transportation authority.

(g) (1) The management, control, and operation of a subregional transportation authority and its property shall be vested in an executive committee comprised of five members selected by the governing body of the contiguous city.

(2) The members of the executive committee shall elect from among their number a chairman, a vice-chairman, and a secretary. The executive committee may appoint such assistant secretaries, either members or nonmembers of the executive committee, as it deems necessary. The secretary and assistant secretary shall, in addition to keeping the permanent records of all proceedings and transactions of the subregional transportation authority, perform such other duties as may be assigned to them by the executive committee. No member of the executive committee or officer of the subregional transportation authority shall be pecuniarily interested or benefited directly or indirectly in any contract or agreement to which the authority is a party.

(3) The executive committee shall hold at least one regular meeting during each month for the purpose of transacting the business of the subregional transportation authority. Upon written notice, the chairman may call special meetings as may be necessary. The executive committee, when organized, shall by resolution set the time, place, and day of the regular meetings and shall adopt rules, regulations, and bylaws as it may deem necessary for the conduct of its official meetings. Four members shall constitute a quorum of the executive committee for the purpose of conducting its business and exercising its powers, and action may be taken by the subregional transportation authority upon a vote of a majority of the executive committee members present unless the bylaws require a larger number for a particular action.

(4) The executive committee shall receive recommendations for the annual budget from the governing body of the contiguous city and shall obtain approval of the final annual budget from said contiguous city.

(b)(1) After the interim executive committee has organized, developed a service plan, and determined the rate of tax that it desires to levy, it shall call a confirmation election in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(2) Where the executive committee orders a confirmation election, it shall submit to the qualified
Art. 1118y

CITIES, TOWNS AND VILLAGES

voters within the subregional transportation authority the following proposition:

"Shall the creation of (name of authority) be confirmed and shall the levy of the proposed tax be authorized?"

(3) Except as otherwise provided in this Act, notice of the election shall be given in accordance with the general election laws. The notice of the election shall include a description of the nature and rate of the proposed tax. A copy of the notice of the election and any other election held pursuant to this Act shall be furnished to the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission.

(4) Immediately after the election, the presiding judge of each election precinct within the contiguous city shall return the results to the executive committee, which shall canvass the returns and declare the results of the election and adopt an order declaring the creation of the subregional transportation authority.

(5) If the votes cast are such that the subregional transportation authority ceases to exist in its entirety, the executive committee shall enter an order so declaring and file a certified copy of the order with the State Highways and Public Transportation Commission, and the authority shall be dissolved.

(6) The cost of the confirmation election shall be paid by the creating entity.

(7) If the election results in the confirmation of a subregional transportation authority, the authority shall, within the limits confirmed, be authorized to function in accordance with the terms of this Act, and the executive committee may levy and collect the proposed tax within those limits.

(8) If the continued existence of a subregional transportation authority is not confirmed by election within three years after the effective date of the resolution(s) or order(s) initiating the process to create the subregional transportation authority, the subregional transportation authority ceases to exist on the expiration of the three years.

(9) For a period of one year following a confirmation election, the governing body of any contiguous city may on its own volition or shall, upon receipt of a petition containing signatures of at least 20 percent of the registered voters within the contiguous city call an election and offer the following proposition: "Shall the (name of authority) be dissolved in city?" Should the majority of voters voting in the election vote to dissolve the subregional transportation authority within the contiguous city, the subregional transportation authority shall cease to exist within the city as of 12 midnight on the date of the canvass of the election and all financial obligations of that unit of election will cease to accrue at that time. The financial obligation shall be computed on a per capita basis for the entire year and taxes will continue to be collected until such time as all financial obligations of the contiguous city are paid, at which time the taxes collected to support the subregional transportation authority shall cease within the contiguous city.

(i) The following sections of this Act shall not apply to subregional transportation authorities:

Sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, and 12.

(ii) Sections 10, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, and 23 shall be applicable to the subregional transportation authorities. Whenever the term "authority" is used, it shall mean subregional transportation authority.

(k)(1) If a city or town which is a part of an authority lawfully annexes additional territory which is not a part of the subregional transportation authority, the annexed territory becomes a part of the subregional transportation authority.

(2) At the time territory is added to a subregional transportation authority under the provisions of this section, any tax which the board of the subregional transportation authority has already been authorized to levy applies to the added territory.

Eligibility of Excepted Areas for Federal Funds

Sec. 25. Ratification by referendum of an authority under the terms of this Act by less than all incorporated cities within the metropolitan area as defined herein shall not affect in any way the eligibility of such excepted incorporated cities to receive federal transit grants under the Surface Transportation Assistance Act of 1978 or any subsequent federal statutes.

Severability Clause

Sec. 26. If any word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance shall be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, the remainder of the Act shall nevertheless be valid, and the legislature hereby declares that this Act would have been enacted without such invalid or unconstitutional word, phrase, clause, paragraph, sentence, part, or provision. It is provided, however, that the provisions of Subsection (b) of Section 4 of this Act are not severable in whole or in part.

Proceedings Validated

Sec. 2. The following are validated as of the dates on which they occurred:

Art. 1182c-5. Cities Which Have Annexed Territory Within Water Control and Improvement, Fresh Water Supply or Municipal Utility Districts

Application of Act; Succession to Powers, Duties, Assets and Obligations of Districts

Sec. 1. (a) This Act shall apply to all incorporated cities and towns, including Home Rule Cities and those operating under General Laws or special charters (hereinafter called "city" or "cities"), which now or hereafter contain within their city or corporate limits (by virtue of annexation of territory or origi(nal incorporation, either or both) any part of the territory within one (1) or more water control and improvement districts, freshwater supply districts or municipal utility districts (hereinafter called "district" or "districts"), which districts were organized for the primary purpose of providing such municipal functions as the supply of fresh water for domestic or commercial uses, or the furnishing of sanitary sewer service, any or all, when the balance of the territory comprising such district or districts lies in another city or cities so that the entire district lies wholly within two (2) or more cities. Such cities shall succeed to the powers, duties, assets and obligations of such district or districts in the manner and to the extent hereinafter provided. Nothing herein shall prohibit any city from continuing to operate utility facilities within any such district in which such facilities are, or were, owned and operated by such city at the time that the part of the territory of the district became, or becomes, a part of or included within the boundaries of such city.

(b) This Act shall also apply when the balance of the territory comprising a district or districts, other than a district created by a special act of the Legislature, lies in another city or cities and in unincorporated territory so that the entire district lies wholly within two (2) or more cities and in unincorporated territory. In this latter case dissolution of the district may be effected by the procedure in Section 2 hereof. This subsection shall not apply to a district created by a special act of the Legislature.

Abolition of Districts; Distribution of Assets; Assumption of Obligations

Sec. 2. (a) Such district may be abolished by mutual agreement between the district and the cities wherein such district lies. Subject to the provisions of Section 4 of this Act, such agreement shall provide for the distribution among such cities of all the properties and assets of the district and for the pro rata assumption by such cities of all the debts, liabilities and obligations of the district, said distribution and assumption to be predicated or based upon the pro rata value of the properties and assets of the district going to such cities, respectively, to the entire value of such properties and assets. The determination of the value of such properties and assets may be on an original cost basis, a reproduction cost basis, or a fair market value basis or by any other valuation method agreed upon by the parties which reasonably reflects the value of the properties, assets, debts, liabilities, and obligations of the district. Such agreement shall designate the date upon which the district shall be abolished, and the agreement shall be approved by ordinance adopted by the governing body of each of the cities and by order or resolution adopted by the governing board of the district, and the same shall be so approved prior to the date designated in the agreement for such abolition, distribution, and assumption.

(b) In the event a district, other than a district created by a special act of the Legislature, lies wholly within two (2) or more cities and in unincorporated territory, said district may be abolished by mutual agreement between the district and all of the cities wherein portions of the district lie. Subject to the provisions of Section 4 of this Act, the agreement of dissolution shall provide for the distribution of assets and liabilities as stated in Subsection (a) hereof. The agreement shall also include a distribution among one (1) or more of the cities of the pro rata assets and liabilities lying outside the limits of the contracting cities, in unincorporated territory. In addition, the agreement shall also include provisions for service to customers in unincorporated areas previously within the service area of the abolished district. In this connection, the city providing service to customers in unincorporated areas is specifically authorized to charge its usual and customary fees and assessments to such customers and to new customers outside its incorporated limits. The agreement shall be approved by ordinance adopted by the governing body of each city and by order or resolution adopted by the governing board of the district, and the agreement shall have this approval before the date designated in the agreement for abolition, distribution, and assumption.

Cultural and Parking Facilities; Promotion

Sec. 2. (a) In addition to the authority provided by the provisions of any other law of this state, a city is hereby authorized to acquire sites for and establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) cultural facilities, such as opera houses, ballet and symphony halls, theaters or similar buildings, or any building or buildings combining same, and to acquire sites for and establish, acquire, lease as lessee or lessor, purchase, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, repair, operate, or maintain (any or all) parking facilities, including areas and structures, or any combination thereof, located at or in the immediate vicinity of such cultural facilities, to be used in connection with such cultural facilities and otherwise for off-street parking or storage of motor vehicles or other conveyances.

(b) Further, a city is hereby authorized to expend funds derived from that portion of the mixed beverage tax revenues hereinafter authorized for (i) the advertising and promotion of events to take place in such cultural facilities and the attraction of events to such facilities either by such city or through contracts with persons or organizations selected by such city and (ii) the encouragement, promotion, improvement, and application of the cultural arts, including but not limited to opera, ballet, symphony, and theater, and the arts related to the presentation, performance, execution, and exhibition of these major art forms.

Issuance of Bonds: Pledge of Revenues

Sec. 3. (a) A city is hereby authorized to issue revenue bonds to provide all or part of the funds to provide the cultural facilities and parking facilities in order to accomplish the purposes of this Act as described in Subsection (a) of Section 2 hereof.

(b) Such revenue bonds may be issued when duly authorized by an ordinance passed by the governing body of a city and shall be secured by a pledge of and be payable from all or any designated part of the revenues of such cultural facilities or such parking facilities, as may be provided in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of such bonds. To the extent that such revenues may have been pledged to the payment of revenue or refunding bonds which are still outstanding, the pledge securing the proposed bonds shall be inferior to such previous pledge or pledges. Within the discretion of the governing body of such city, and subject to any limitations contained in previous pledges, in addition to the pledge of revenues, a lien may be given on all or any part of the physical properties and facilities constructed or acquired out of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds.

(c) When any of the revenues of such cultural facilities or parking facilities are pledged to the payment of bonds issued under this Act, it shall be the duty of the governing body of the city to cause to be fixed, maintained, and enforced charges for services rendered by the facilities and properties, the revenues of which have been pledged, at rates and amounts at least sufficient to comply with and carry out the covenants and provisions contained in the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of such bonds.

(d) If a city leases as lessee any one or more of such cultural facilities or parking facilities, such city shall have authority to pledge to the lease payments required to be made by such city all or any part of the revenues of such cultural facilities or parking facilities.

Pledge of Mixed Beverage Tax Receipts

Sec. 4. (a) By official action of its governing body a city is hereby authorized to pledge for the purposes provided herein a portion of that part of the receipts of the mixed beverage tax presently collected by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission (the "commission") pursuant to the Alcoholic Beverage Code (the "code") which is remitted to such city pursuant to Section 205.03 of the code. The total amount of any such portion of such receipts so pledged shall not exceed the sum of 1½ percent of the gross receipts of each permittee, as defined in the code, located within the city from the sale, preparation, or service of mixed beverages, as defined in the code, or from the sale, preparation, or service of ice or nonalcoholic beverages that are sold, prepared, or served for the purpose of being mixed with alcoholic beverages and consumed on the premises of the permittee.

(b) All ordinances heretofore passed and adopted by the governing body of any city so pledging mixed beverage tax revenues which authorized the issuance of any bonds heretofore issued that are secured in whole or in part by a pledge of any portion of the mixed beverage tax presently collected by the commission and reimbursed to the city are hereby in all respects validated and held to be enforceable as of their respective dates of passage and adoption.

(c) In the event that at the time of any remittance of mixed beverage tax revenues by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas pursuant to Section 205.03 of the code the amount collected by the commission from permittees in a city having acted to pledge a portion of mixed beverage tax as provided in Subsection (a) of this section shall be less than the total amount required to be collected from such permittees by Chapter 202 of the code, then the amount to be pledged under this section shall be an amount equal to the total amount actually collected from permittees in such city multiplied by a fraction in which the numerator is the amount of the mixed beverage tax receipts authorized to be pledged pursuant to this section during the quarterly period for which such remittance is to be made and the denominator is the total of the amounts of the receipts required to be collected from all permittees in such city pursuant to Chapter 202 of the code during such period.

Use of Revenues

Sec. 5. (a) The revenues derived from that portion of mixed beverage tax revenues authorized to be pledged by this Act shall be used for the purposes described in Section 2 of this Act, which shall include but not be limited to the pledge of such revenues to the payment of bonds which are issued for the purposes described in Subsection (a) of Section 2 of this Act.

(b) Any amounts received by a city from that portion of the mixed beverage tax revenues authorized to be pledged by this Act and pledged to the payment of bonds pursuant to Subsection (a) of this section which are in excess of the amounts required by the ordinance or ordinances under which such bonds are issued may be used for any other purpose described in Section 2 of this Act. Any amounts remaining after such application of funds may be determined by the governing body of a city to be...
excess fund and may be used by such city for any lawful purposes, provided that any such use does not violate the provisions of any ordinance passed by the governing body of such city in connection with the issuance of bonds for the payment of which such portion of the mixed beverage tax revenues are pledged.

Source of Funds for Payment of Bonds

Sec. 6. The owners and holders of any bonds issued pursuant to the Act shall never have the right to demand payment of either the principal of or interest on such bonds out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation, except for that portion of the mixed beverage tax authorized herein if pledged.

Form of Bonds; Interim Certificates or Receipts; Approval and Registration of Bonds

Sec. 7. All bonds shall be signed by the manual or facsimile signatures of the mayor of the city and the city secretary or city clerk and shall bear the manual or facsimile seal of the city thereon. Such bonds may be payable at such times, may be in one or more series, may bear such date or dates, may mature at such time or times, may bear interest at any rate or rates permitted by the constitution and the laws of the State of Texas, may be payable in such medium of payment at such place or places, may be subject to such terms or redemption at such premiums, may contain such terms, covenants, and conditions, and may be in such form, either coupon or registered, as the ordinance of the governing body of the city may provide. The bonds may be sold at public or private sale in such manner and upon such terms as may be provided in such ordinance. Pending the preparation of definitive bonds, interim receipts or certificates in such form and with such provisions as may be provided in such ordinance may be issued to the purchaser or purchasers of bonds sold pursuant to this Act. All bonds issued hereunder and the record relating to their issuance shall be submitted to the Attorney General of the State of Texas for his examination as to the validity thereof. If he finds that the bonds have been authorized in accordance with law, he shall approve them, and thereupon they shall be registered by the comptroller.

After the approval and registration of such bonds by the comptroller, they shall be incontestable in any court or other forum for any reason and shall be valid and binding obligations in accordance with their terms for all purposes.

Ordinances

Sec. 8. In the ordinance or ordinances authorizing the issuance of any revenue or refunding bonds authorized hereunder, the city may provide for the flow of funds, the establishment and maintenance of the interest and sinking fund or funds, reserve fund or funds, and other funds and may make additional covenants with respect to the bonds and the pledged revenues and the operation and maintenance of those facilities, the revenues of which are pledged, including provision for the operation or for the leasing of all or any part of such facilities and the use or pledge of money derived from such operation contracts and leases as it may deem appropriate. Such ordinance or ordinances may also prohibit the further issuance of bonds or other obligations payable from the pledged revenues or may reserve the right to issue additional bonds to be secured by a pledge of and payable from such revenues on a parity with, or subordinate to, the lien and pledge in support of the bonds being issued, subject to such conditions as are set forth in said ordinance or ordinances. Such ordinance or ordinances may contain other provisions and covenants, as the city may determine, not prohibited by the Constitution of Texas or by this Act, and the city may adopt and cause to be executed any other proceedings or instruments necessary or convenient in the issuance of any of such bonds.

Appropriation or Set Aside of Bond Proceeds

Sec. 9. From the proceeds of sale of any bonds issued under the provisions of the Act, the city may appropriate or set aside an amount for the payment of interest and administrative and operating expenses expected to accrue during the period of construction, an amount or amounts to be deposited into the reserve fund or funds as may be provided in the bond ordinance or ordinances, as well as an amount necessary to pay all expenses incurred and to be incurred in the issuance, sale, and delivery of the bonds.

Refunding Bonds

Sec. 10. Refunding bonds may be issued for the purposes and in the manner provided by general law, including without limitation Chapter 503, Acts of the 54th Legislature, Regular Session, 1955, as amended (Article 717k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), and Chapter 784, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1969 (Article 717k–3, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes), as presently enacted or hereafter amended.

Bonds as Investment Securities and to Secure Deposits

Sec. 11. All bonds issued under this Act shall be investment securities under the terms of Section 8 of the Business & Commerce Code and shall be legal and authorized investments for banks, savings banks, trust companies, buildings and loan associations, insurance companies of any kind or type, fiduciaries, trustees, guardians, and for the sinking funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas. Such bonds may be subject to any limitation or restriction that may be imposed by the laws of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts, or other political corporations or subdivisions of the State of Texas; and such bonds shall be lawful and sufficient security for such deposits to the extent of their face value when accompanied by all unmatured coupons appurtenant thereto.
Sec. 12. This Act is cumulative of all existing laws of the State of Texas, but to the extent that such existing laws may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail; and this Act shall take precedence over any and all conflicting or inconsistent city charter provisions.

Securability

Sec. 13. If any provisions of this Act or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provisions or applications, and to this end the provisions of this Act are declared to be severable. CHAPTER FOURTEEN. CITIES ON NAVIGABLE WATERS

Art. 1187f. Harbor and Port Facilities; Cities and Towns Over 5,000 on Gulf or Connecting Waters; Bonds

Application of Act; Authority of City

Sec. 1. This Act apply to every incorporated city or town (including Home Rule Cities) located on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, or any channel, canal, bay or inlet connected therewith, having a population of more than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants according to the Federal Census last preceding the taking of any action by such city under the provisions of this Act. Every such city or town owning and operating port facilities (referred to hereinafter as “city”) is hereby empowered and authorized to build, construct, purchase, acquire, lease as lessee, improve, enlarge, extend, repair, maintain, replace, develop, operate, lease, or cause to be built, constructed, improved, enlarged, extended, repaired, maintained, developed, or operated, any and all improvements and facilities which the governing body thereof deems to be necessary or convenient for the proper operation of the ports or harbors of such city. Without in any way limiting the generalization of the foregoing, it is expressly provided that such improvements and facilities mentioned above shall include lands, interests in lands, properties, wharves, piers, docks, roads, way railways, warehouses, grain elevators, transport facilities, handling facilities, storage facilities, ship repair facilities, dumping facilities, bunkering facilities, floating plans and facilities, lightering facilities, towing facilities, any other facilities which a navigation district is or may be authorized to provide by general law or specific act, any and all equipment and supplies, and all other structures, buildings, and facilities which the governing body deems to be necessary or convenient for the proper operation of the ports or harbors of such city. The improvements and facilities mentioned in this Section 1 are hereinafter referred to as the “improvements and facilities.” Any city may construct improvements and facilities on land acquired by purchase, lease, or otherwise and may convey such land, or interest therein, or such improvements and facilities by lease as lessee, sublease as sublessor or sale by installment or otherwise upon terms and conditions as the city may determine to be advantageous.

Sec. 2. For the purpose of providing funds for any of the improvements and facilities provided in Section 1 hereof, the governing body of the city shall have the power and authority to issue from time to time tax bonds or revenue bonds of said city, either or both; provided, however, that no bonds payable from ad valorem taxes, except refunding bonds, shall be issued unless and until they have been authorized at an election at which a majority of the persons qualified to vote and voting at said election have voted in favor thereof, said election to be called and held under the provisions of and in accordance with Chapter 1 of Title 22, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as the same is now or may hereafter be amended.1 Notwithstanding the provisions or restrictions of any general or special law or charter to the contrary, no election shall be required to authorize the issuance under this Act of bonds payable solely from revenues if such bonds do not constitute a debt of the city or a pledge of its faith and credit and if the owner or holder of any such bond shall never have the right to demand payment out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation.

1 Article 701 et seq.

Pledge of Revenues; Collection of Fees and Charges; Payment of Interest and Principal; Sale of Revenue Bonds

Sec. 3. Revenue bonds may be issued secured solely by a pledge of and payable from the net revenues derived from the operation of all or any designated part or parts of the improvements and facilities then in existence or to be improved, constructed, or otherwise acquired, with the duty of the city to charge and collect fees, tolls, and charges, so long as any of the revenue bonds or interest thereon are outstanding and unpaid, sufficient to pay all maintenance and operation expenses of the improvements and facilities (the net revenues of which are pledged), the interest on such bonds as it accrues, the principal of such bonds as it matures, and to make any and all other payments as may be prescribed in the bond ordinance and other proceedings authorizing and relating to the issuance of such bonds. If a city ordinance adopted under Section 7 of this Act places management and control of the improvements, facilities, and properties under a board of trustees while revenue bonds and the interest on them remain outstanding or unpaid, the board of trustees, if authorized by Home Rule Charter, may fix charges, authorize expenditures, prepare budgets, and otherwise manage and control the pledged revenues. “Net revenues” as used herein... shall mean the gross revenues derived from the operation of these improvements and facilities the net revenues of which are pledged to the payment of the bonds less (a) the reasonable expenses of maintaining and operating said improvements and facilities, and said maintenance and operation expenses shall include, among other things, necessary repair, upkeep, and insurance of said improvements and facilities, and (b) if the city is operating under a Home Rule Charter, any annual payment of the city as may be set out in said Charter. Revenue bonds issued hereunder may be sold at public or private sale, notwithstanding the provisions or restrictions of any general or special law or Charter to the contrary.

Revenue Bonds; Public or Private Sale; Security; Sale of Improvements and Facilities

Sec. 3A. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Section 3 or 7, revenue bonds may be issued secured solely by a pledge of all or any part of the revenue from any leases, subleases, sales or contracts of sale entered into by city with respect to the improvements and facilities to be financed with such revenue bonds and such revenue bonds may be additionally secured by a trust indenture and by a mortgage or deed of trust lien or security interest upon such improvements and facilities. In connection with the issuance of such revenue bonds, the city may lease as lessor, sublease as sublessor or sell to any person, firm, corporation, partnership, political subdivision of the State of Texas, or agency of the United States of America, all or any part of any improvements and facilities to be constructed or acquired with the proceeds of such revenue bonds, said lease, sublease, sale or contract of sale to contain such terms and provisions (including in the case of a lease, but not by way of limitation, provisions to sell the improvements and facilities at the termination of said lease and provisions relating to management and operation of the improvements and facilities by the lessee thereof) as the city may determine to be advantageous to the city. The terms of said lease or contract of sale may provide that the lessee or purchaser of the improvements and facilities is contractually unconditionally obligated to make payments to the city for use or purchase of the facilities or improvements in amounts adequate to timely pay principal, interest, and premium on the revenue bonds of the city issued to finance the construction or acquisition of said facilities and improvements.
Revenue bonds issued hereunder may be sold at public or private sale, notwithstanding the provisions or restrictions of any general or special law or charter to the contrary.

Outstanding Bonds; Unpaid Interest

Sec. 7. While any revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this Act or any interest thereon remain outstanding and unpaid, the management and control of such improvements and facilities (and the physical properties comprising the same) and of the income and revenue from them, including the authority to fix charges, prepare budgets, and authorize expenditures, by the terms of the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such bonds may be placed in the hands of the governing body of the city or may be placed in the hands of a board of trustees be named in such ordinance, consisting of not more than seven (7) members, one (1) of whom shall be a member of the governing body of such city; provided, if the city is operating under a Home Rule Charter and said Charter contains provisions requiring that the improvements and facilities be managed or controlled by a board of trustees, then the provisions of such Charter shall be followed. The compensation of the members of the board of trustees, the terms of office of such members, their powers and duties, the manner of exercising the same, the election or appointment of their successors, and all matters pertaining to their organization and duties shall be specified in said ordinance; provided, if the city is operating under a Home Rule Charter as mentioned above and the Charter contains provisions relating to any of the foregoing matters mentioned in this sentence, it is expressly provided that the provisions of such ordinance relating to such matters shall be in accordance with and governed by the Charter provisions. In all matters where such ordinance or Charter are silent, the laws and rules governing the governing body of the city shall govern said board of trustees so far as applicable.

Refunding Bonds; Approval and Registration

Sec. 8.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 8(a) and (b)]

c) Refunding bonds (both tax refunding bonds and revenue refunding bonds) shall be authorized by ordinance of the governing body of the city, and shall be executed and mature as is provided in this Act for original bonds. They shall be approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas as in the case of original bonds, and shall be registered by the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas upon surrender and cancellation of the bonds to be refunded; but in lieu thereof, the ordinance authorizing their issuance may provide that they shall be sold at public sale if they are tax refunding bonds and at public or private sale if they are revenue refund bonds and the proceeds thereof deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, or with the State Treasurer, in which case the refunding bonds may be issued in an amount sufficient, not only to pay the principal of the underlying bonds, but also to pay the interest on the underlying bonds to their option or maturity dates, and the Comptroller of Public Accounts shall register them without the surrender and cancellation of the underlying bonds. In those situations where the proceeds of revenue refunding bonds are deposited in the place or places where the underlying bonds are payable, or with the State Treasurer, they shall be so deposited under an escrow agreement so that such proceeds and, at the option of such city, any interest earned from the investment of such proceeds as hereinafter provided, will be available for the payment of the interest on and principal of said underlying bonds as such interest and principal respectively become due; and such escrow agreement may provide that such proceeds may, until such time as the same are needed to pay interest and principal as the same become due, be invested in direct obligations of the United States of America, in which instances the interest earned on such investments may be pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the underlying bonds, the refunding bonds or shall be considered as revenues of the improvements and facilities.

Sec. 9. Insofar as the same may be applicable, the provisions of Articles 1111 to 1118, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, together with all amendments thereof and additions thereto, shall apply to revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this Act, and any city covered by this Act shall have, with respect to revenue bonds issued hereunder, all the powers granted by said Statutes. However, where the provisions of said Statutes are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, the provisions of this Act shall govern and prevail. Further, it is expressly provided that the city shall have no power or authority to mortgage or encumber the physical properties of the improvements and facilities being financed in whole or in part by bonds payable from ad valorem taxes, unless authorized at the election required by Section 2 of this Act.

Each such panel or division of the municipal court, when established, shall have and exercise concurrent jurisdiction with the other panels or divisions of such court within the corporate limits of the city establishing them, and such jurisdiction shall be the same as is now or hereafter may be conferred upon all municipal courts by the general laws of this state. Sec. 1. There is created in the city of Midland a court of record to be known as the "City of Midland Municipal Court," to be held in that city if the governing body of the city of Midland, by ordinance, finds and determines that the formation of a municipal court of record is necessary in order to provide a more efficient disposition of appeals arising from the municipal court.

The authority of the governing body of the city of Midland to create a municipal court of record in the city of Midland includes the authority to establish, in the manner set forth in this section, more than one municipal court of record if the governing body determines that it is necessary in order to dispose of the cases arising in the city. If more than one municipal court of record is created, the judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and sit in court for and with each other in a case, matter, or proceeding pending in a municipal court, and any and all acts thus performed by a judge are valid and binding on all parties to the case, matter, and proceeding.

The municipal court of record authorized in this section is referred to in this Act as the "municipal court."

Application of Other Laws Regarding Municipal Courts

Sec. 2. The general laws of the state regarding municipal courts, and regarding justice courts on matters where there is no law for municipal courts, and the valid charter provisions and ordinances of the city of Midland relating to the municipal court apply to the municipal court authorized in this Act, unless the laws, charter provisions, and ordinances are in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Judge; Qualifications

Sec. 3. The municipal court shall be presided over by a judge, who shall be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state and a citizen of the United States and of this state. He need not be a resident of the city at the time of his appointment, but he shall maintain his residence in the city during his tenure of office. He shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office and shall not engage in the private practice of law while in office. He shall be appointed by the governing body of the city. He shall be paid a salary to be determined by the governing body of the city. The salary shall not be based on or in any way contingent on the fines, fees, or costs collected by the municipal court.

If more than one municipal court is created by the governing body of the city, a judge shall be appointed for each court and the governing body of the city shall designate a judge to be the presiding judge.

Court Clerk

Sec. 4. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts, and such deputy clerks, warrant officers, and other municipal court personnel, including at least one bailiff for each court, as are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. It is the duty of the clerk to keep the records of proceedings of the municipal courts and to issue all processes and generally to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts and all other personnel shall perform the duties of the office under the direction and control of the municipal court judge.

Court Reporter

Sec. 5. For the purpose of preserving a record in the cases tried before the municipal court, the city shall provide a court reporter, who shall be appointed by the municipal court judge and whose compensation shall be determined by the governing body of the city. The qualifications of the court reporter shall be determined by the judge, or if there is more than one judge, by the presiding judge.

The record of proceedings may be preserved by the court reporter by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of them. The court reporter is not required to take testimony in cases where neither the defendant, the prosecutor, nor the judge demands it.

Ordinances; Judicial Notice

Sec. 6. The municipal court shall take judicial notice of the ordinances of the city.
Sec. 11. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after it is filed. The motion for new trial shall be presented to the court within 10 days after the filing of the original or amended motion, and shall be determined by the court within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant. For purposes of appeal, a point of error not distinctly set forth in the motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Sec. 12. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and, where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts.

Sec. 13. (a) The municipal court clerk, upon written request from the defendant, shall prepare under his hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court that shall always include the following:

1. the complaint;
2. material docket entries made by the court;
3. the jury charge and verdict, if the trial is by jury;
4. the judgment;
5. the motion for new trial;
6. the notice of appeal;
7. all written motions and pleas and orders of the court; and
8. bills of exception, if any are filed.

(b) The municipal court clerk may include in the transcript additional portions of the proceedings in the municipal court if so instructed in writing by either the defendant or the prosecuting attorney.

Sec. 14. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the Court of Appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk within 60 days after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Sec. 15. (a) A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:
1. a transcription of all or any part of the municipal court proceedings in the case that are shown by the notes of the court reporter to have occurred before, during, or after the trial if such transcription is requested of the court reporter by the defendant; or
2. a brief statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial, as agreed to by the defendant and the prosecuting attorney; or
3. a partial transcription and the agreed statement of the facts of the case proven at the trial.
§ 18. The appellate court shall hear and determine appeals from the municipal court at the earliest practical time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice, and no affirmance or reversal of a case shall be determined on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the preparation and filing of the record on appeal. Oral arguments before the appellate court shall be under the rules which the appellate court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

§ 19. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume (1) that the venue was proven in the court below; (2) that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn; (3) that the defendant was arraigned and that he pleaded to the complaint; and (4) that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury; unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court, or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

§ 20. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, he shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or issue an execution against his property.

§ 21. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.
Appeals to the Court of Appeals; Record

Sec. 22. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant shall have the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeals to the Court of Appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the Court of Appeals except that:

(1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court, plus the transcript of proceedings in the appellate court, shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the Court of Appeals unless the rules of the Court of Criminal Appeals provide otherwise; and

(2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the Court of Appeals.

Sec. 23. All laws in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this Act are hereby deemed to be inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides: "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,000 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Art. 1200bb. Cities Over 1,200,000

Creation of Municipal Courts of Record; Vacation of Additional Municipal Courts

Sec. 1. (a) A municipal court of record is created in any city with a population of more than 1,200,000 as determined by the last preceding federal census.

(b) Additional municipal courts of record may be created and judges for such courts may be authorized in any city with a population of more than 1,200,000 as determined by the last preceding federal census by action of the governing body of the city through a legally adopted ordinance that specifies that the condition of dockets in the other municipal courts of the city is such as to require additional municipal courts in order to properly dispose of the cases on the dockets of these courts, and that enumerates the number of additional municipal courts necessary to properly dispose of those cases. Municipal courts that are in existence on the effective date of this Act and that were created pursuant to any Article in Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, shall on such date become municipal courts of record and may, subject to meeting other requirements provided by law for municipal courts, continue their operation under the authority of this Act without passage of such ordinance.

(c) After the establishment of an additional municipal court or courts, if the governing body of the city determines that the continued existence of some or all of the additional municipal courts is not required in order to properly dispose of cases on the dockets of all the municipal courts, the governing body shall by legally adopted ordinance declare the offices of some or all of the additional municipal judges vacated at the end of the term or terms for which such judge or judges were last selected. In that event, any cases pending in a vacated municipal court shall be transferred to the proper court having jurisdiction of the offense.

Art. 1200cc. Cities Over 1,200,000

Creation of Municipal Courts of Record; Vacation of Additional Municipal Courts

Sec. 1. (a) A municipal court of record is created in any city with a population of more than 1,200,000 as determined by the last preceding federal census.

(b) Additional municipal courts of record may be created and judges for such courts may be authorized in any city with a population of more than 1,200,000 as determined by the last preceding federal census by action of the governing body of the city through a legally adopted ordinance that specifies that the condition of dockets in the other municipal courts of the city is such as to require additional municipal courts in order to properly dispose of the cases on the dockets of these courts, and that enumerates the number of additional municipal courts necessary to properly dispose of those cases. Municipal courts that are in existence on the effective date of this Act and that were created pursuant to any Article in Title 28, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended, shall on such date become municipal courts of record and may, subject to meeting other requirements provided by law for municipal courts, continue their operation under the authority of this Act without passage of such ordinance.
3. temporarily assign various judges of the municipal courts to exchange benches for other such judges and to sit and act for each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts, when necessary for the expeditious disposition of the business of the courts;

4. cause all dockets, books, papers, and other records of the municipal courts to be permanently kept and permit these records to be available for inspection at all reasonable times by any interested party;

5. cause to be maintained as part of the records of the municipal courts an index of municipal-court judgments such as county clerks are required by law to prepare for criminal cases arising in county courts;

6. where necessary for the proper functioning of the municipal courts, provide for the preservation by microfilm of the records under the custody of county clerks; and

7. supervise and have control over all of the operations and clerical functions of the administrative section or department of such municipal courts and be responsible for the supervision of all clerical personnel of the administrative department of such municipal court.

(c) A judge of a municipal court created under the provisions of this Act shall be a licensed attorney in good standing in this state. No person may serve in the office of municipal judge while he holds any other office or employment in the government of such city, and the holding of such other office or employment by any person serving in the office of municipal judge shall create an immediate vacancy in the judicial office.

Salary

Sec. 4. A municipal judge is entitled to compensation by the city on a salary basis. The amount of the salary shall be determined by the governing body of the city and may not be diminished during the judge's term of office. The salary may not be based, directly or indirectly, on fines, fees, or costs that the municipal judge is required by law to collect during his term of office. The governing body shall predetermine the salary of the municipal judge prior to his appointment, if he is appointed, or at least two weeks prior to the deadline for filing for election, if he is elected.

Vacancies; Temporary Replacements; Removal

Sec. 5. (a) When a vacancy in the office of municipal judge occurs, the governing body of the city shall appoint a person meeting the qualifications required by law for such position to fill the office of municipal judge for the unexpired term of the judge serving in that office prior to the vacancy.

(b) While a municipal judge is temporarily unable to act for any reason, the governing body of the city may appoint a person meeting the qualifications required by law for such position to sit for the regular municipal judge. The appointee shall have all the powers and duties of the office and shall receive the same compensation as is payable to the regular municipal judge while he is so acting.

(c) A municipal judge may be removed from office only under the procedures outlined in Article V, Section 1-a, of the Texas Constitution.

Court Facilities

Sec. 6. The governing body of the city shall provide such courtrooms, juryrooms, offices and office furniture, libraries, legal books and materials, and other supplies and facilities as the governing body determines are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts.

Appeals; Appellate Courts

Sec. 7. A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment of conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The county criminal court of such county where said court is situated shall have jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal court.

Appeals on the Record; No De Novo Appeals

Sec. 8. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court solely on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 9. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant. For purposes of appeal, a point of error not distinctly set forth in the motion for new trial shall be considered as waived.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 10. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on his motion for new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court upon the overruling of the motion for new trial; otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled.
Appeal Bond

Sec. 11. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the municipal court. The appeal bond must be filed no later than the 10th day after the motion for new trial is overruled. If the defendant is in custody, he shall be committed to jail unless he posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a less sum than $50. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant shall make his personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instanter, if the court is in session, and if the court is not in session, then at its next session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 12. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and, where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts, which may be prepared by a certified court reporter of such court or from mechanical recordings of the proceedings or from video-tape recordings of the proceedings. If the court finds, after hearing in response to affidavit by defendant that he is unable to pay or give security for the record on appeal, the court will order the reporter to make such transcription without charge to the defendant.

Sec. 15. A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

(b) The defendant shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files his brief with the clerk. Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of his brief to be delivered to the opposing party.

Disposition on Appeal; Presumptions; Decision

Sec. 18. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume (1) that the venue was proven in the court below; (2) that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn; (3) that the defendant was arraigned and that he pleaded to the complaint; and (4) that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury; unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court, or if it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. If an assignment of error is overruled no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Sec. 19. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, he shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or issue an execution against his property.

New Trial

Sec. 20. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Sec. 21. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant shall have the right to appeal to the Court of Appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeals to the Court of Appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the Court of Appeals except that:

1. The record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court, plus the transcript of proceedings in the appellate court, shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the Court of Appeals unless the rules of the Court of Criminal Appeals provide otherwise;

2. The record and briefs shall be filed directly with the Court of Appeals.

The authority of the governing body of the city of Sweetwater to create a municipal court of record in the city of Sweetwater includes the authority to establish, in the manner set forth in this section, more than one municipal court of record if the governing body determines that it is necessary in order to dispose of the cases arising in the city. If more than one municipal court of record is created, the judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and sit and act for and with each other in a case, matter, or proceeding pending in a municipal court, and any and all acts thus performed by a judge are valid and binding on all parties to the case, matter, and proceeding.

The municipal court of record authorized in this section is referred to in this Act as the “municipal court.”

Court Clerk

Sec. 4. Sec. 13. (a) The municipal court clerk, upon written request from the defendant, shall prepare under his hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court that shall always include the following:

The cost to the defendant for the transcription shall not exceed the fees or charges normally being made by court reporters in the county for similar transcriptions. The municipal court shall order the court reporter to make the transcriptions without charge to the defendant if the court finds, after hearing in the response to affidavit by the defendant, that he is too poor to pay or give security for the transcriptions.

Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of his brief to be delivered to the opposing party.

Sec. 18. The appellate court shall hear and determine appeals from the municipal court at the earliest practical time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice, and no affirmance or reversal of a case shall be determined on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the preparation and filing of the record on appeal. Oral arguments before the appellate court shall be under the rules which the appellate court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, he shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. Sec. 2. (a) Municipal courts created under the provisions of this Act shall have jurisdiction within the territorial limits of the city in all criminal cases arising under the ordinances of the city and shall also have concurrent jurisdiction with any justice of the peace in any precinct in which the city is situated in criminal cases arising within such territorial limits under the criminal laws of this state in which punishment is only by fine not exceeding $200. Municipal courts shall also have jurisdiction over cases arising outside the territorial limits of the city as provided in Article 1175, Revised Civil Statutes of Texas, 1925, as amended.

(b) The municipal court of record shall take judicial notice of all ordinances of the city.

Sec. 3. (a) Municipal courts shall be presided over by judges to be known as "municipal judges."

(b) The city shall provide by charter or by ordinance for the selection of its municipal judges, provided the selection shall be for a definite term in office of not less than two nor more than four years, whose duration within these limits shall be determined by charter, ordinance, or the method prescribed in Article XI, Section 11, of the Texas Constitution. Any definite term or indefinite period in office that a municipal judge has begun on the effective date of this Act shall terminate no later than four years after effective date. A municipal judge may continue in office after the end of his term for not more than 90 days or until his successor is selected and qualified, whichever occurs first.

(c) The judges or substitute judges of the municipal courts may at any time exchange benches and may at any time sit and act for or with each other in any case, matter, or proceeding pending in their courts. Any and all such acts performed by any of the judges shall be valid and binding upon all parties to such cases, matters, and proceedings.

(d) If there is more than one municipal judge in the city the mayor and city council of the city shall appoint one of the judges to be the presiding municipal judge of the city. If the city has a municipal judge who is either its only municipal judge or its only municipal judge who is not serving in a temporary or part-time capacity, such judge shall be the presiding municipal judge for all purposes of this Act.

(e) The presiding judge shall:

(1) maintain a central docket for all cases filed in the geographical limits of the city over which the municipal courts of the city have jurisdiction;

(2) provide for the distribution of cases from the central docket to the individual municipal judge in order that the business of the courts will be continually equalized and distributed among them;

(4) cause all dockets, books, papers, and other records of the municipal courts to be permanently kept and permit these records to be available for inspection at all reasonable times by any interested parties;

(5) cause to be maintained as part of the records of the municipal courts an index of municipal court judgments such as county clerks are required by law to prepare for criminal cases arising in county courts; and

(6) where necessary for the proper functioning of the municipal courts, provide for the preservation by microfilm of the records of such courts, subject to the same requirements provided by law for the preservation by microfilm of records under the custody of county clerks.

(f) A judge of the municipal court created under the provisions of this Act shall be a licensed attorney in good standing in the practice of law in this state, a citizen of the United States and of this state. He need not be a resident of the city at the time of his appointment, but he shall maintain his residence within the city during his tenure of office. No person may serve in the office of municipal judge while he holds any other office or employment in the government of such city, and the holding of such other office or employment by any person serving in the office of municipal judge shall create an immediate vacancy in the judicial office.

Sec. 4. A municipal judge is entitled to compensation by the city on a salary basis. The amount of the salary shall be determined by the governing body of the city and may not be diminished during the judge's term of office. The salary may not be based, directly or indirectly, on fines, fees, or costs that the municipal judge is required by law to collect during his term of office.

Vacancies; Temporary Replacements; Removal

Sec. 5. (a) When a vacancy in the office of municipal judge occurs, the governing body of the city shall appoint a person meeting the qualifications required by law for such position to fill the office of municipal judge for the unexpired term of the judge serving in that office prior to the vacancy.

(b) A municipal judge may be removed from office for cause to the same extent and under the same rules that judges of the county courts may be removed from office.

Court Clerk

Sec. 7. The governing body of the city shall provide a clerk of the municipal courts, and such deputy clerks, warrant officers, and other municipal court personnel, including at least one bailiff for each court, as are necessary for the proper operation of the municipal courts. It is the duty of the clerk to keep the records of proceedings of the municipal courts and to issue all processes and generally to perform the duties now prescribed by law for clerks of the county courts at law exercising criminal jurisdiction insofar as the same may be applicable. The clerk of the municipal courts and all other personnel shall perform the duties of the office under the direction and control of the municipal court judge.

Court Reporter; Use of Transcripts, etc.

Sec. 8. For the purpose of preserving a record in cases tried before the municipal court, the city shall provide a court reporter whose qualifications and compensation shall be determined by the governing body of the city.

(a) The record of proceedings may be preserved by written notes, transcribing equipment, recording equipment, or any combination of these methods. The court reporter is not required to take or record testimony in cases where neither the defendant, the prosecutor, nor the judge demands it.

(b) Testimony, exhibits, or evidence given by any witness in the course of any proceeding in a municipal court of record shall be solely for the purposes of such proceeding or appeal therefrom and, in any other civil proceeding, evidence relating to such testimony, exhibits, evidence, or reproductions for any purpose.

Prosecutions by City Attorney

Sec. 9. All prosecutions in municipal courts shall be conducted by the city attorney of the city, or his assistant or deputy.

commenced by complaint filed by the city attorney or his assistant or deputy, which shall begin: "In the name and by the authority of the State of Texas";

the State." All complaints shall be prepared under the direction of the city attorney and may be signed by any credible person upon information and belief sworn to before the city attorney, or his assistant or deputy, who, for that purpose shall have power to administer the oath. The complaint shall be in writing and shall state:

(1) The name of the accused, if known, and if unknown, shall describe him as accurately as practicable;
(2) The offense with which he is charged in plain and intelligible words;
(3) It must appear that the place where the offense is charged to have been committed is within the jurisdiction of the municipal court; and (4) It must show, from the date of the offense stated therein that the offense is not barred by limitations. All pleadings in the municipal courts shall be in writing and filed with the clerk of such courts.

Right to Jury Trials

Sec. 11. Every person brought before the munici-al courts and charged with an offense shall be entitled to be tried by a lawful jury of six persons.

court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The county courts at law of El Paso County shall have jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal courts, and all appeals from convictions in the municipal court shall be prosecuted in county court by the city attorney or his assistants or deputy.

No De Novo Appeals

Sec. 13. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant's motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. Appellate courts may consider unassigned error in the interest of justice. No appeal from the municipal court may be to a trial de novo in the county court.

Motion for New Trial

Sec. 14. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for a new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction, and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. For good cause shown the time for filing or amending may be extended by the court, not to exceed 90 days. An original or amended motion shall be deemed overruled by operation of law at the expiration of the 20 days allowed for determination of the motion if it is not acted on by the court within that time. The motion shall set forth the points of error complained of by the defendant.

Notice of Appeal

Sec. 15. In order to perfect an appeal, the defendant shall give timely notice of appeal. In the event the defendant requests a hearing on his motion for a new trial, the notice of appeal may be given orally in open court upon the overruling of the motion for new trial; otherwise, the notice of appeal shall be in writing and filed with the municipal court trial is overruled. For good cause shown the time for giving notice of appeal may be extended by the court, not to exceed 90 days.

Appeal Bond

Sec. 16. If the defendant is not in custody, an appeal may not be taken until the required appeal bond has been filed with and approved by the munici-than the 10th day after the motion for new trial has been overruled. If the defendant is in custody, he shall be committed to jail unless he posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not more than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for less sum than $50. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant shall make his personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken instanter, if the court is in session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Record on Appeal

Sec. 17. The record on appeal in a case appealed from the municipal court consists of a transcript and, where necessary to the appeal, a statement of facts, which may be prepared by a certified court reporter of such court and from mechanical recordings of the proceedings or from videotape recordings of the proceedings. If the court finds, after hearing in response to affidavit by defendant that he is unable to pay or give security for the record on appeal, the court will order the reporter to make such transcription without charge to the defendant.
Contents of Transcripts

Sec. 18. (a) The municipal court clerk, upon written request from the defendant or his attorney, shall prepare under his hand and seal of the court for transmission to the appellate court a true transcript of the proceedings in the municipal court and shall include the following:

Bills of Exception

Sec. 19. Either party may include bills of exception in the transcript on appeal, subject to complying with the applicable provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure governing the preparation of bills of exception and their inclusion in the record on appeal to the court of appeals, except that the bills of exception shall be filed with the municipal court clerk within 60 days after the giving or filing of the notice of appeal.

Statement of Facts; Agreed Statement; Designated Items and Payment

Sec. 20. A statement of facts, when included in the record on appeal, shall consist of:

1. the statement of facts;
2. a written designation of all matter that is to be included in the transcript in addition to matter required to be in the transcript by Section 18 of this Act; and
3. any matter designated to be included in the transcript that is not then in the custody of the municipal court clerk.

(b) On completing the record as designated by the parties in Subdivision (2), Subsection (a) of this section, the municipal court judge shall approve the record in the manner provided by law for record completion notification and approval in appeals to the court of appeals.

(c) On the municipal court judge's approval of the record, the municipal court clerk shall promptly forward it to be filed with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the defendant and the prosecuting attorney that the record has been filed.

New Trials

Sec. 22. It shall be the duty of the trial court to decide from the briefs of the parties whether defendant should be permitted to withdraw his notice of appeal and be granted a new trial by the court. The court may grant a new trial at any time prior to the record being filed with the appellate court clerk.

Brief on Appeal: Contents and Filing

Sec. 23. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the court of appeals.

(b) The defendant shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. The prosecuting attorney shall file his brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files his brief with the clerk. Each party, on filing his brief with the clerk of the appellate court, shall cause a true copy of his brief to be delivered to the opposing party and to the municipal court judge.

Court Rules

Sec. 24. The county courts at law of El Paso County may make and enforce all necessary rules of practice and procedure for appeals from the municipal courts, not inconsistent with the law, for the government of said courts so as to expedite the dispatch of appeals in said courts.

Disposition on Appeal; Presumptions; Decision

Sec. 25. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.
(b) The appellate court shall presume (1) that the venue was proven in the court below; (2) that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn; (3) that the defendant was arraigned and that he pleaded to the complaint; and (4) that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury; unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court, or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment or error presented. If an assignment or error is overruled, no reason need be given by the appellate court, but cases relied on by the court may be cited. If an assignment of error is sustained, the appellate court shall set forth the reasons for the decision. Copies of the decision of the appellate court shall be mailed by the clerk of the appellate court to the parties and the judge of the municipal court as soon as the decision is rendered by the appellate court.

Certificate of Appellate Proceedings; Filing of Record; Enforcement of Judgment

Sec. 26. When the judgment of the appellate court becomes final, the clerk of the appellate court shall make out a proper certificate of the proceedings had and the judgment rendered and shall mail the certificates to the clerk of the municipal court. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, he shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or issue an execution against his property.

The appeals to the court of appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the court of appeals except that:

(1) the record and briefs on appeal in the appellate court shall constitute the record and briefs on appeal to the court of appeals unless the rules of the court of criminal appeals provide otherwise; and

(2) the record and briefs shall be filed directly with the court of appeals.

Sec. 29. The governing body of the city shall provide each municipal court with a seal with a star of five points in the center and the words "Municipal Court in El Paso, Texas." The impress of the seal shall be attached to all papers, except subpoenas, issued out of the court and shall be used by each municipal judge or his clerk to authenticate all official acts of the clerk and the municipal judge.

Sec. 30. This Act is effective September 1, 1979.

Repealer

Sec. 31. To the extent that any local, special, or general law, including Act of the Legislature, Regular Session, conflict with any provisions of this Act, that law is repealed.

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides: "This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such judges may assume office."

The repealed article, relating to municipal courts of record in Fort Worth, was derived from Acts 1977, 65th Leg., p. 1798, ch. 725, §§ 1 to 41. See, now, art. 1200ff-1.

The officers attending the drawing shall not divulge to any person the name of any person that may be drawn as a juror. If at any time during the next three months and prior to the next drawing date it appears that the list already drawn will be exhausted before the expiration of three months, additional lists for as many additional weeks as the judges may direct will be drawn in the same manner. The several lists of names so drawn shall be certified under the hand of the clerk of the municipal courts, or the deputy doing the drawing, and the municipal judge in whose presence the names were drawn, to be the lists drawn by him or her for that quarter and shall be sealed in separate envelopes endorsed “List no. _____ of the petit jurors drawn on the _____ day of ________, 19_____ for the Municipal Courts of ________.” The clerk doing the drawing shall write his or her name across the seals of the envelopes and deliver them to the judge, who shall inspect the envelopes to see that they are properly endorsed and shall then deliver them to the clerk or the clerk’s deputy, and the clerk shall then immediately file them away in some safe and secure place in his or her office under lock and key. When the names are drawn for jury service, the cards containing the names shall be sealed in separate envelopes endorsed “Cards containing the names of jurors list no. _____ of the petit jurors drawn on the _____ day of ________, 19_____, for the Municipal Courts of ________.” Each envelope shall be retained unopened by the clerk until after the jury selected from the corresponding list has been impaneled. After the jurors so impaneled have served four or more days, the envelope containing the cards bearing the names of the jurors on that list shall then be opened by the clerk or the clerk’s deputy. Those cards bearing the names of persons who have not been impaneled and who have not served as many as four days shall be immediately returned to the wheel by the clerk or the deputy, and the cards bearing the names of the persons serving as many as four days shall be put in a box provided for that purpose for the use of the officers who shall next select the jurors from the wheel. If any of the lists drawn are not used, the clerk or the deputy shall open the envelopes containing the cards bearing the names of the unused lists immediately after the expiration of the three-month period and return the cards to the wheel. A juror serving on a jury in the court shall receive not less than $10 for each day and for each fraction of a day the juror attends the court as a juror, and in no event less than that paid in county courts.

(c) In lieu of the preceding method of jury selection, a majority of the judges of the municipal courts of the city may adopt a plan binding on all such judges for the selection of persons for jury service with the aid of mechanical or electronic means. If such a plan is adopted, the foregoing provisions of this section dealing with the selection of petit juries by jury wheel shall not apply. A plan so adopted shall include the following requirements:

(1) the names taken for jury purposes shall be names of registered voters in the city;

(2) provision of a fair, impartial, and objective method of selecting persons for jury service;

(3) designation of the clerk of the court as the official to be in charge of the jury selection process and providing the duties of the clerk in that process; and

(4) specification that a true and complete written list showing the names and addresses of the persons summoned to begin jury service on a particular date shall be filed with the clerk of the court at least 10 days prior to the date the persons are to begin jury service.

(d) In lieu of either of the foregoing methods of petit jury selection, a majority of the judges of the municipal courts of the city may adopt a plan binding on all the judges for the selection of persons for jury panels from a central jury pool maintained by the county in which the city is located to provide petit juries for the district courts, county courts, county courts at law, and justice courts of the county, if any such pool exists. If such a plan is adopted, the provisions of this section dealing with the selection of petit juries by jury wheel or mechanical or electronic means do not apply. A plan so adopted shall include the following requirements:

(1) the persons taken from the central jury pool shall be registered voters in the city;

(b) A defendant has the right of appeal from a judgment or conviction in the municipal court under the rules prescribed in this Act. The appellate courts have jurisdiction over the appeals from the municipal courts, and all appeals from convictions in the municipal court shall be prosecuted in the appellate court by the city attorney or his or her assistants or deputies.

No De Novo Appeals

Sec. 13. Each appeal from a conviction in the municipal court shall be determined by the appellate court on the basis of errors pointed out in the defendant’s motion for new trial and presented in the transcript and statement of facts prepared from the municipal court proceedings leading to the conviction. No appeal from the municipal court may be by trial de novo.

Sec. 14. In order to perfect an appeal, a written motion for a new trial must be filed by the defendant no later than the 10th day after the rendition of the judgment of conviction and may be amended by leave of court at any time before it is acted on within 20 days after the filing of the original or amended motion. If the defendant is in custody, the defendant shall be committed to jail unless he or she posts the required appeal bond. The appeal bond shall be in an amount not less than double the amount of fine and costs adjudged against the defendant. However, the bond may not in any case be for a sum less than $50. The bond shall recite that in the cause the defendant was convicted and has appealed and be conditioned that the defendant shall make his or her personal appearance before the court to which the appeal is taken in session, if the court is in session, and there remain from day to day and answer in the cause.

Brief on Appeal

Sec. 23. (a) A brief on appeal from the municipal court shall present points of error in the same manner required by law for a brief on appeal to the court of appeals.

(b) The defendant shall file his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, and the defendant or the defendant's attorney shall certify in the brief to the posting of such by United States mail with proper postage affixed and addressed to the office of the prosecuting attorney. The prosecuting attorney shall file his or her brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days after the defendant files the defendant's brief with the clerk. (b) The appellate court shall presume that the venue was proven in the court below, that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn, that the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint, and that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury, unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In each case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either sustaining or overruling each assignment of error presented. The cost to the defendant for the transcription shall not exceed the fees or charges normally being made by court reporters in the county for similar transcriptions. The municipal court shall order the court reporter to make the transcriptions without charge to the defendant if the court finds, after hearing in the response to an affidavit by the defendant, that the defendant is unable to pay or give security for the transcriptions.

(b) The defendant shall file the defendant's brief with the clerk of the appellate court within 15 days from the date of the filing of the transcript and statement of facts with the appellate court clerk, who shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the filing. Sec. 19. The appellate court shall hear and determine appeals from the municipal court at the earliest practical time it may be done, with due regard to the rights of parties and proper administration of justice, and no affirmance or reversal of a case shall be determined on mere technicalities or on technical errors in the preparation and filing of the record on appeal. Oral arguments before the appellate court shall be under the rules which the appellate court may determine, and the parties may submit the case on the records and briefs without oral arguments.

Disposition on Appeal

Sec. 20. (a) The appellate court may affirm the judgment of the municipal court, or may reverse or remand for a new trial, or may reverse and dismiss the case, or may reform or correct the judgment, as the law and the nature of the case may require.

(b) The appellate court shall presume that the venue was proven in the court below, that the jury was properly impaneled and sworn, that the defendant was arraigned and pleaded to the complaint, and that the court's charge was certified by the municipal court judge before it was read to the jury, unless such matters were made an issue in the trial court or it affirmatively appears to the contrary from the transcript or statement of facts.

(c) In the case decided by the appellate court, the court shall deliver a written opinion or order either of the law and the nature of the case may require.

Sec. 21. When the certificate is received by the clerk of the municipal court, the clerk shall file it with the papers in the case and note it on the docket. If the judgment has been affirmed, no proceeding need be had after filing the certificate in the municipal court to enforce the judgment of the court, except to forfeit the bond of the defendant, to issue a capias for the defendant, or issue an execution against the defendant's property.

Sec. 22. If the appellate court awards a new trial to the defendant, the cause shall stand as it would have stood if a new trial had been granted by the municipal court.

Sec. 23. When a judgment is affirmed by the appellate court, the defendant has the right to appeal to the court of appeals if the fine assessed against the defendant in the municipal court exceeded $100. The appeal to the court of appeals shall be governed by provisions in the Code of Criminal Procedure relating to direct appeals from county and district courts to the court of appeals except that:

Section 149 of the 1981 amendatory act provides:
"This Act takes effect on September 1, 1981. Appeals to the courts of appeals filed on or after that date shall be filed in the court of appeals having jurisdiction. At least 1,800 appeals including death penalty appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals prior to September 1, 1981, shall be retained by that court for disposition in accordance with laws in effect prior to the effective date of this Act, and for that purpose, all laws repealed or amended by this Act shall remain in force and effect for those appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals. The remaining appeals pending in the Court of Criminal Appeals shall be transferred to the various courts of appeals on which the number of judges is increased by the 67th Session of the legislature; provided, no more than 75 nondeath penalty appeals shall be transferred for each newly created judgeship and such a transfer shall not be made until such justice assumes office."

Any incorporated city or town in this State, whether incorporated under the general laws of this State, or incorporated by special charter adopted in the manner provided by law, and having a population of 161,000 or more according to the preceding Federal census, may, through its governing body, provide for the payment of its current expenses for any current fiscal year, or for any portion of such fiscal year, by the issuance of warrants drawn against the current revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, in the manner following:

1. Such warrants shall be dated and numbered consecutively as they are issued, and shall become a lien upon all or any designated portion of the revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, available for the payment thereof, and shall be

2. Such warrants may be issued in one or more installments in an aggregate principal amount in any fiscal year not to exceed the greatest amount by which the proposed expenditures for such fiscal year are estimated by the governing body to exceed the funds and estimated revenues available for the payment thereof at any time during such fiscal year. Such warrants may be issued at a discount and/or bear interest at any rate or rates permitted by law and may be sold at public or private sale for price or prices, all within the discretion of the governing body as may be provided in the ordinance authorizing the issuance and sale thereof.

3. In no event shall the governing body provide for the issuance of warrants pursuant to this Act in excess of eighty per cent of the estimated revenues of said city or town for such fiscal year, after the deduction of all interest upon the bonded indebtedness of such city or town to be paid out of the revenues for such fiscal year, and such sums as may be required to be paid into any sinking fund or into any special fund or any special trust fund of said city or town out of its revenues for such fiscal year.

4. Such warrants and any coupons representing interest thereon shall be deemed and construed to be a negotiable instrument and a "security" within the meaning of Chapter 8, Investment Securities, Uniform Commercial Code, Business & Commerce Code, as amended.

5. All warrants issued pursuant to this Act shall be and are hereby declared to be legal and authorized investments for banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, and insurance companies and shall be eligible to secure the deposit of any and all public funds of the State of Texas and any and all public funds of cities, towns, villages, counties, school districts or other political subdivisions of the State of Texas, and such obligations shall be lawful and sufficient security for said deposits to the extent of the principal amount thereof when accompanied by all unmatured coupons, if any, appurtenant thereto.

Sec. 2. If any portion of this Act is held unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining portion shall nevertheless be valid the same as if the invalid portion had not been a part hereof. A lease executed pursuant to the provisions of this Act shall not be deemed to be a sale within the meaning of the laws of this state relating to the sale of city land. The provisions of this Act shall be cumulative of all other laws which are by their terms expressly applicable to city land, and any such laws which are not by their terms expressly so applicable shall not be construed as affecting the right and power granted to towns and cities by this Act.

Any lease under this subsection shall be on the terms and conditions the city deems appropriate.

d. If the tax authorized by this section is levied by the city at a rate of four percent or more, an amount of revenue equal to at least three percent of the cost of the occupancy of hotel rooms shall be reserved for the purpose of advertising and conducting solicitation programs to acquaint potential users with public meeting and convention facilities and for promotion of tourism and advertising of the city and its vicinity either by the city or through contract with persons or organizations selected by the city.

c) When a petition which meets the requirements of this section is filed, the governing body of the city may make findings by resolution as to the advisability of the improvement, the estimated cost, the method of assessment, and the apportionment of cost between the improvement district and the city as a whole.

Feasibility Report, Etc.

Sec. 6. (a) Before holding a hearing on the advisability of a proposed improvement, the governing body of a city may require that a feasibility report be made to assist in determining whether an improvement should be made as proposed or otherwise or whether it should be made in combination with other improvements authorized by this Act. The governing body may also require that a preliminary estimate of the cost of the improvement or combination of improvements be made. The governing body may use the services of employees of the city to make the report or estimate, or it may employ consultants.

(b) The governing body may also take other preliminary steps prior to the hearing or before ordering an improvement or letting a contract that will be of assistance in determining the feasibility and advisability of an improvement.
Hearing as to Advisability

Sec. 7. (a) No contract may be let or work ordered or authorized for an improvement financed under this Act unless the governing body of the city first by resolution orders that a public hearing be held on the advisability of the improvement and gives notice of the hearing as required by this section.

(b) Notice of the hearing shall be given by not less than four publications in a newspaper of general circulation in the city. The four publications must be at least a week apart and the final publication must be at least three days before the date of the hearing. The notice shall include the following information:

4. the boundaries of the proposed assessment district;
5. the proposed method of assessment; and

(c) The hearing may be adjourned from time to time until the governing body makes findings by resolution as to the advisability of the improvement, the nature of the improvement, the estimated cost, the boundaries of the improvement district, the method of assessment, and the apportionment of cost between the district and the city as a whole.

(d) The area of the improvement district to be assessed according to the findings of the governing body may be less than the area proposed in the notice of the hearing, but it may not include any property not within the original proposed boundaries unless there is an additional hearing, preceded by the required notice.

May Order Improvements

Sec. 8. (a) At any time within six months after the final adjournment of the hearing on the advisability of an improvement, the governing body of the city by a majority vote of all members may adopt a resolution authorizing the improvement in accordance with its finding as to the advisability of the improvement. The authorization takes effect when it has been published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the city. Actual construction of the improvement may not begin until 20 days after the authorization takes effect.

(b) An improvement may not be commenced if, within 20 days after the authorization takes effect, written protests signed by at least two-thirds of the owners of record of property within the improvement district or the owners of record of at least two-thirds of the total area of the district are filed with the city secretary or other officer who performs the function of city secretary.

(c) Any person may withdraw his name from a protest at any time before the governing body convenes its meeting to determine the sufficiency of the protest.

Assessment Plan

Sec. 9. (a) The portion of the cost of an improvement to be assessed against the property in the improvement district shall be apportioned by the governing body of the city based on the special benefits accruing to the property because of the improvement.

(b) The cost may be assessed equally per front foot or per square foot against all property within the district; it may be assessed against property according to the value of the property as determined by the governing body of the city, with or without regard to structures or other improvements on the property; or it may be assessed on the basis of any other reasonable assessment plan that results in imposing equal shares of the cost on property similarly benefitted.

(c) The governing body may establish by ordinance reasonable classifications and formulas for the apportionment of the cost between the city and the area to be assessed and the methods of assessing the special benefits for various classes of improvements.

Apportionment of Costs

Sec. 10. (a) An assessment plan must provide that at least 20 percent of the cost of an improvement be paid by special assessments against property in the improvement district.

(b) If any property in the improvement district is exempt from the payment of the special assessment, the assessment that would otherwise be levied against that property shall be paid by the city as a whole. Assessments paid by the city as a whole under this subsection are counted as having been paid by special assessment for the purpose of Subsection (a) of this section.

Preparing Assessment Roll; Notice; Etc.

Sec. 11. (a) When the total cost of an improvement is determined, the governing body shall cause the assessments against each parcel of land within the benefit district to be determined in accordance with the manner of assessment set forth in the resolution as to the advisability of the improvement. The governing body shall also cause a proposed assessment roll to be prepared.

(b) The proposed assessment roll shall be filed with the city secretary or other officer who performs the function of city secretary and be open for public inspection. The governing body shall direct the secretary to publish notice that the governing body will meet to consider the proposed assessments at a public hearing. The notice must be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city at least 10 days before the hearing and shall state the date, time, and place of the hearing, the general nature of the improvement, the cost of the improvement, the boundaries of the assessment district, and that writ ten or oral objections will be considered at the hearing.

(c) At the time the assessment roll is filed with the city secretary or other officer, the city secretary or other officer shall also mail to the owners of property liable for assessment, at their last known address, a notice of the hearing which contains all the information required of the notice published in a newspaper. The failure of a property owner to receive the notice does not invalidate the proceedings.

Assessments: Hearing, Levy, Payment

Sec. 12. (a) At the hearing on proposed assessments or at any adjournment of the hearing, the governing body shall hear and pass on all objections to each proposed assessment. The governing body may amend the proposed assessments as to any parcel. When all objections have been heard and action has been taken with regard to them, the governing body by ordinance shall levy the assessments as special assessments on the property. The governing body by ordinance shall specify the method of payment of the assessments and may provide that they be payable in not more than 20 equal annual installments.

(b) All assessments bear interest at a rate speciified by the governing body, which may not exceed six percent per annum. Interest on the assessment between the effective date of the ordinance levying the assessment and the date the first installment is payable shall be added to the first installment. The interest for one year on all unpaid installments shall be added to each subsequent installment until paid.
An assessment or any reassessment is a lien against the property until it is paid. The owner of any property assessed may pay the entire assessment against any lot or parcel with accrued interest to the date of the payment at any time.

Supplemental Assessments

Sec. 13. After notice and hearing in the manner required for original assessments, the governing body may make supplemental assessments to correct omissions or mistakes in the assessment relating to the total cost of the improvement.

Reassessments and New Assessments

Sec. 14. If an assessment against a parcel of land is set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, found excessive by the governing body, or determined to be invalid by the governing body on the written advice of counsel, the governing body may make a reassessment or new assessment as to the parcel.

Separate Improvement Funds

Sec. 15. A separate improvement fund shall be created in the city treasury for each improvement or combination of improvements. The proceeds from the sale of bonds, temporary notes and time warrants, and any other sums appropriated to the fund by the governing body shall be credited to the fund.
The fund may be used solely to pay the costs incurred in the making of the improvement. When the improvement is completed, the balance shall be transferred to the fund established for the retirement of the bonds.

Special Improvement Fund

Sec. 16. (a) A city proposing to make an improvement to be financed under the authority of this Act may establish by ordinance a special improvement fund in the city treasury. The city may levy annually a tax of not to exceed 10 cents on each $100 valuation of the assessed taxable property of the city for the purpose of the fund.

(b) The fund may be used to pay the costs of planning any improvement authorized by this Act and for preparing preliminary plans, studies, and engineering reports preparatory to the consideration of the feasibility of an improvement and to pay the initial cost of the improvement when ordered by the governing body until temporary notes, time warrants, or improvement bonds have been issued and sold.

(c) The fund shall be reimbursed from the procceeds of the issuance of improvement bonds and shall never exceed one percent of the total assessed property valuation of the city for the preceding year or $200,000, whichever is less.

(d) The fund need not be budgeted for expenditure during any year, but the amount of the fund shall be stated in the city's annual budget. All grants-in-aid or contributions made to the city for planning and preparation of plans for improvements which are authorized under this Act may be credited to the special improvement fund, and the amount of the aid or contribution shall not be considered in calculating the limitation on the fund imposed by Subsection (c) of this section.

Payment of Costs

Sec. 17. (a) The cost of any improvement made under the authority of this Act shall be paid in accordance with this section.

Each and all of the foregoing purposes are hereby found and declared to be public purposes and proper municipal functions.

Revenue Bonds Authorized

Sec. 3. For any purpose or purposes authorized under Section 2 of this Act, the governing body of the city may issue its revenue bonds from time to time in one or more series to be payable from and secured by liens on all or part of the revenues derived from any Facility or Facilities.

The refunding bonds may be sold and delivered in amounts necessary to pay the principal, interest, and redemption premium, if any, of bonds to be refunded, at maturity or on any redemption date.

(b) The refunding bonds may be issued to be exchanged for the bonds being refunded by them. In that case, the comptroller of public accounts shall register the refunding bonds and deliver them to the holder or holders of the bonds being refunded in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance authorizing the refunding bonds. Art. 1269j-4.2 Coliseums or Stadiums of Counties

Sec. 4. All bonds issued under this Act are legal and authorized investments for all banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, insurance companies of all kinds and types, fiduciaries, trustees, and guardians, and for all interest and sinking funds and other public funds of the state and all agencies, subdivisions, and instrumentalities of the state, including all counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts, and all other kinds and types of districts, public agencies, and bodies politic. Cumulative Effect; Conflicting Provisions

Sec. 10. This Act is cumulative of all other law on the subject, but this Act shall be wholly sufficient authority within itself for the issuance of the bonds and the performance of the other acts and procedures authorized by it without reference to any other law or any restrictions or limitations contained therein, except as herein specifically provided. When any bonds are issued under this Act, then to the extent of any conflict or inconsistency between any provisions of this Act and any provision of any law or home-rule charter provision, the provisions of this Act shall prevail and control. A city shall have the right to use the provisions of any other laws, not in conflict with the provisions of this Act, to the extent convenient or necessary to carry out any power or authority, express or implied, granted by this Act.

Severability

Sec. 11. In case any one or more of the sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application thereof to any situation or circumstance shall for any reason be held to be invalid or unconstitutional, such invalidity or unconstitutionality shall not affect any other sections, provisions, clauses, or words of this Act or the application thereof to any other situation or circumstance, and it is intended that this Act shall be severable and shall be construed and applied as if such invalid or unconstitutional section, provision, clause, or word had not been included herein.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1 to 6]

Abandonment; Sale or Lease

Sec. 6a. In the event it shall be determined by proper findings of the governing body of any such city or town that the continuation of property wholly or partially financed under this Act as a sea life park and oceanarium has ceased to be economically feasible, that continuation for such purpose would be unprofitable, and that such purpose should be abandoned, then such governing body may by ordinance abandon such purpose and sell or lease such land and facilities for such other purpose or purposes as the governing body may deem appropriate and in the interest of the citizens thereof after notice and publication as provided in Chapter 455, Acts of the 61st Legislature, Regular Session, 1989, as amended (Article 5421c-12, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes); provided that if any of such land shall be sold, then same shall be sold to the highest and best bidder as required for other land owned by any such city or town. If any part or all of the land is to be leased authority granted in this Act shall affirmatively find that escalating burdens and costs of operating its stadium or coliseum have caused continued ownership to cease to be economically feasible, resulting in increasing and unnecessary burdens on the taxpayers of the city, then, the city council, after giving at least 14 days' notice of and holding a public hearing on the question, may sell such stadium or coliseum to another public or private entity upon such terms and conditions as the city council may approve, and such city shall have all power necessary and appropriate to complete such sale in accordance with the terms of the sale.

for another purpose, then the lease shall be for such term, terms and renewal terms and shall contain such other provisions as may be agreed by the governing body, provided that the rentals derived by the city from such source shall be applied to the same purposes required by any ordinances authorizing the issuance of bonds secured in whole or in part by the revenues derived from the sea life park and oceanarium prior to the abandonment of that purpose.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 1]

Sec. 2. A city subject to this Act may acquire, lease as lessor or lessee, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, and operate off-street parking facilities, and may acquire, lease as lessor or lessee, construct, improve, enlarge, equip, and operate terminals, stations, and related properties and facilities for the use of passengers, commuters, travelers, shippers, and other members of the public and by companies or individuals engaged in the business of transporting the general public, goods, cargo, parcels, mail, commodities, or freight by bus, truck, or rail.

(e) Any of the properties and facilities described in Section 2 of this Act may be developed in conjunction with other public or private developments pursuant to agreements with the owners thereof upon such terms as may be approved by the city. The city may negotiate and include as a part of any such agreement such provisions as it may deem appropriate providing for the use, lease, or sale of any part of the subsurface, or airspace above the surface, of the city's property as the city may find to be surplus and not necessary for the purposes of such properties and facilities.

Sec. 7. (b) This Act does not apply to the expenditure of the proceeds of bonds unless the bonds provide by their own terms that:

(1) they are payable solely from net rents as provided by Subsection (a) of this section; and

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE. HOUSING

Article

1269k. Housing Authorities Law

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 14 to 15]

Notice of Proposed Housing Projects

Sec. 13a. (a) A housing authority may not authorize the construction of a housing project unless the commissioners of the authority hold a public meeting about the proposed project prior to that site being approved for the housing project. The commissioners shall hold the meeting at the closest available facility to the site of the proposed project. At least a majority of the commissioners must attend the meeting. The commissioners shall give any person who owns or leases real property within a one-fourth mile radius of the site of the proposed housing project the opportunity to comment on the proposed project.

(b) In addition to any other notice required by law, the commissioners shall post notice of the date, hour, place, and subject of the meeting at least 30 days before the scheduled day of the meeting on a bulletin board at a place convenient to the public in the county courthouse of the county in which the proposed project is to be located and on a bulletin board at a place convenient to the public in the city hall if the proposed project is to be located within the boundaries of an incorporated city. The commissioners shall have a copy of the notice published in a newspaper or newspapers that individually or collectively provide general circulation to the county in which the proposed project is to be located. The notice must be published one time at least 30 days before the scheduled day of the meeting. The commissioners shall mail a notice containing the same information 30 days before the date of the meeting to any person who owns real property within one-fourth of a mile radius of the site of the proposed project. The commissioners may rely on the most recent county tax roll for the names and addresses of the owners. The commissioners shall also have posted at the proposed project site 30 days before the date of the meeting a sign having dimensions no smaller than four feet by four feet and bearing in eight-inch letters a caption stating "Site of Proposed Housing Project." The sign shall be located at a point on the proposed project site visible from a regularly travelled thoroughfare and shall state the nature of the project, the location of the project, the names and addresses of all governmental entities involved in the development of the proposed project, and the date, time, and place of the public meeting.

(c) An incorporated city or town or other political subdivision of the State may not issue a permit, certificate, or other authorization for the construction or occupancy of a housing project under this Act unless the housing authority has complied with the requirements of this section.

Area of Operation of County or Regional Housing Authorities

Sec. 22c. (a) The area of operation of a regional housing authority shall include all of the counties for which such regional housing authority is created and established except that portion of the counties which lies within the territorial boundaries of any city. Provided that a county or regional housing authority shall not undertake any housing project or projects within the boundaries of any city unless a resolution shall have been adopted by the governing body of such city (and also by any housing authority which shall have been theretofore established and authorized to exercise its powers in such city) declaring that there is a need for the county or regional housing authority to exercise its powers within such city.

(b) The area of operation of a regional housing authority shall be increased from time to time to include one or more additional counties not already within a regional housing authority (except in such portion or portions of such additional county or counties which lie within the territorial boundaries of any city) if the Commissioners Court of each of the counties then included in the area of operation of such regional housing authority, the commissioners of the regional housing authority and the Commissioners Court of each such additional county or counties each adopt a resolution declaring that there is a need for the inclusion of such additional county or counties in the area of operation of such regional housing authority as provided by Subsection (g) of this section. Those resolutions may not be adopted if there is a county housing authority created for any such additional county which has any obligations outstanding unless:

1. all obligees of any such county housing authority and parties to the contracts, bonds, notes, and other obligations of any such county housing authority agree with such county housing authority and the regional housing authority to the substitution of such regional housing authority in lieu of such county housing authority on all such contracts, bonds, notes, or other obligations; and

2. the commissioners of such county housing authority and the commissioners of such regional housing authority adopt resolutions consenting to the transfer of all the rights, contracts, obligations, and property, real and personal, of such county housing authority to such regional housing authority as provided by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (e) of this section.

(e) If one or more of the obligees whose agreement is required by Subdivision (1) of Subsection (b) of this section before adoption of a resolution are unknown, the county housing authority shall cause notice to be published in a newspaper of general national circulation. The notice must set forth:

1. the name of the county housing authority;
2. the name of the regional housing authority;
3. a statement that the county and regional housing authorities propose that on all contracts, bonds, notes, and other obligations of the county housing authority, the regional housing authority will be substituted for the county housing authority and that the existence of the county housing authority will be terminated; and
4. an address where objections to the substitution may be sent.

(d) For the purposes of Subsection (b) of this section, failure to receive an objection to the substitution of the regional housing authority on the obligations of the county housing authority before the 31st day after the day on which notice is published in accordance with Subsection (c) of this section is equivalent to consent to the substitution given by the unknown obligees of the county housing authority.

(e) When all resolutions required by Subsection (b) of this section are adopted in accordance with this section:

1. the county housing authority created for each county over which the area of operation of the regional housing authority is being extended ceases to exist except to wind up its affairs and to execute a deed to the regional housing authority in accordance with Subsection (f) of this section;
2. all rights, contracts, agreements, obligations, and property of such county housing authority shall be in the name of and vest in such regional housing authority;
3. all obligations of such county housing authority shall be the obligations of such regional housing authority; and
4. all rights and remedies of any person against such county housing authority may be asserted, enforced, and prosecuted against such regional housing authority to the same extent as they may have been asserted, enforced, and prosecuted against such county housing authority.

(f) When any real property of a county housing authority vests in a regional housing authority as provided by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (e) of this section, the county housing authority shall execute a deed of such property to the regional housing authority which thereupon shall file such deed with the clerk of the county where such real property is located. This subsection does not affect the vesting of property in the regional housing authority as provided by Subdivision (2) of Subsection (e) of this section.

(g) The Commissioners Court of each of the counties in the regional housing authority, the commissioners of the regional housing authority and the Commissioners Court of each such additional county or counties shall by resolution declare that there is a need for the addition of such county or counties to the regional housing authority, if:

1. the Commissioners Court of each such additional county or counties finds that insanitary or unsafe inhabited dwelling accommodations exist in such county or there is a shortage of safe or sanitary dwelling accommodations in such county available to persons of low income at rentals they can afford; and
2. the Commissioners Court of each of the counties then included in the area of operation of the regional housing authority, the commissioners of the regional housing authority and the Commissioners Court of each such additional county or counties find that the regional housing authority would be a more efficient or economical administrative unit to carry out the purposes of this Housing Authorities Law if the area of operation of the regional housing authority shall be increased to include such additional county or counties.

(i) In determining whether dwelling accommodations are unsafe or insanitary under this section or Section 23b of this Act, the Commissioners Court of a county shall take into consideration the safety and sanitation of dwellings, the light and air space available to the inhabitants of such dwellings, the degree of overcrowding, the size and arrangement of the rooms and the extent to which conditions exist in such dwellings which endanger life or property by fire or other causes.

(j) No governing body of a county shall adopt any resolution authorized by this section or Section 23b of this Act unless a public hearing has first been held. The clerk of such county shall give notice of the time, place, and purpose of the public hearing at least ten days prior to the day on which the hearing is to be held, in a newspaper published in such county, or if there is no newspaper published in such county, then in a newspaper published in the State and having a general circulation in such county. Upon the date fixed for such public hearing an opportunity to be heard shall be granted to all residents of such county and to all other interested persons.

(x) When this Act is applied to a county, “may- or” means county judge, “city council” means the commissioners court, and the “city” means county, unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

(y) “Comptroller” means the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas.

Definitions

Sec. 1. The following terms wherever used or referred to in this Act, shall have the following meanings, unless a different meaning is clearly indicated by the context.
blihted areas exist in such city; and (2) the rehabilit-lation, conservation, or slum clearance and redevel-onment, or a combination thereof, of such area or areas is necessary in the interest of public health, safety, morals or welfare of the residents of such city. Such notice shall be published at least twice in the newspaper officially designated by the City Council and shall state that on a date certain, which date shall be stated in the notice and shall be not less than sixty (60) days after the publication of the first of such notices, the City Council will consider the question of whether or not it will order an election to determine if it should adopt such a resolution. On the date specified in the notice to consider such question the City Council may, on its own motion, call an election to determine whether it shall adopt such a resolution and shall, in any event, call such election if there has been presented to it during such period a petition that such election be held, signed by at least five per cent (5%) of the legally qualified voters residing in such city and owning taxable property within the boundaries thereof, duly rendered for taxation. If it be determined to call such an election, at least thirty (30) day's notice thereof shall be given. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Act, no powers granted by this Act shall be exercised by any city until an election shall have been held as herein provided with a majority of the votes cast at such election being cast in favor of the exercise of such powers by such city. Only qualified voters residing in said city, owning taxable property within the boundaries thereof, who have duly rendered the same for taxation, shall be entitled to vote at such election. If a majority of those voting at such election shall vote in favor of the adoption of such resolution, the City Council shall then be authorized to adopt it. If a majority of those voting at such election shall vote against the adoption of such resolution, the City Council shall not adopt it and such resolution shall not again be proposed within the period of one (1) year.

(b) Any county that has a population of more than 700,000, according to the last preceding federal census, may exercise all powers provided for cities under this Act. Those powers may be exercised only with respect to areas of the county not inside the corporate limits of a city or town. The county may do not exercise any power under this Act unless the commissioners court adopts a resolution as provided in Subsection (a) of this section, the adoption of which has been first approved at an election. The election shall be held throughout the county in the same way an election is held in a city under Subsection (a) of this section. The adoption of a resolution is not approved unless a majority of the voters voting on the question in the entire county as well as in each incorporated city and town in the county approves adoption. In cities only partly in the county, only voters residing in the county may vote.

(f) To invest any urban renewal project funds held in reserves or sinking funds or any such funds not required for immediate disbursements, in property or securities in which banks may legally invest funds subject to their control; to redeem such bonds as have been issued pursuant to Section 15 of this Act at the redemption price established therein or to purchase such bonds at less than redemption price, all such bonds so redeemed or purchased to be cancelled.

(g) To borrow money and to apply for and accept advances, loans, grants, contributions and any other form of financial assistance from the Federal Government, the State, County or other public body or from any sources, public or private, for the purposes of this Act, and to give such security as may be required and to enter into and carry out contracts in connection therewith. A city may include in any contract for financial assistance with the Federal Government for an urban renewal project such provisions and conditions imposed pursuant to Federal Law as the city may deem reasonable and appropriate and which are not inconsistent with the purposes of this Act.

(h) Within its area of operation, to make or have made all plans necessary to the carrying out of the purposes of this Act and to contract with any person, public or private, in making and carrying out such plans and to adopt or approve, modify and amend such plans. The city is authorized to develop, test and report methods and techniques and carry out demonstrations and other activities, for the prevention and the elimination of slums and urban blight, and to apply for, accept and utilize grants of funds from the Federal Government for such purposes.

(i) To prepare plans and provide reasonable assistance for the relocation of persons (including families, business concerns, and others) displaced from an urban renewal project area to the extent essential for acquiring possession of and clearing such area or parts thereof to permit the carrying out of the urban renewal project.

(j) To appropriate such funds and make such expenditures as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this Act, and to levy taxes and assessments for such purposes; to close, vacate, plan or replan streets, roads, sidewalks, ways or other places; to plan or replan, zone or rezone any part of the city and to make exceptions from building regulations; and to enter into agreements with an urban renewal agency vested with urban renewal powers under Section 15 of this Act (which agreements may extend over any period, notwithstanding any provision or rule or law to the contrary), restricting action to be taken by such city pursuant to any of the powers granted by this Act; provided, however, that no taxes or assessments shall be levied under authority or for the purposes of this Act unless and until such levy shall first have been submitted to a vote of the property-owning taxpayers of said city, and said proposition shall have received a majority of the votes cast as being "for" such levy.

(k) Within its area of operation to organize, coordinate and direct the administration of the provisions of this Act as they apply to such city in order that the objective of remedying slum and blighted areas and preventing the causes thereof within such city may be most effectively promoted and achieved, and to establish such new office or offices of the city or to reorganize existing offices in order to carry out such purpose most effectively.

(l) To issue tax increment bonds.

(m) To exercise all or any part or combination of powers herein granted.

[See Compact Edition, Volume 3 for text of 10 to 22]

Computation of Tax Increments

Sec. 22a. (a) For purposes of this Act, the market value of property located within an urban renewal project area shall be determined by the tax assessor-collector, and only the tax assessor-collector, during the time such project exists. Provided, however, that such determination shall require the concurrence of the comptroller; and provided, further, that any property owner aggrieved by a determination of the tax assessor-collector shall have the same right of appeal provided by law to owners of property not affected by this Act.

(b) At the time an urban renewal project is designated by the governing body, the tax assessor-collector shall, with the concurrence of the comptroller, certify to the governing body the market value of property within the boundaries of such district. Property taxable at the time the urban renewal project is designated shall be included at its most recently determined market value; property exempt from taxation at the time the redevelopment district was designated shall be included at zero.

(c) The tax assessor-collector shall, within one year of the time an urban renewal project is designated, and annually thereafter, certify to the governing body the amount of the captured market value of property within the boundaries of the district and the amount of tax increments produced from such captured market value.

(d) For any years in which taxes are to be paid into the tax increment fund required under Subsection (i), Section 7 of this Act, any captured market value with respect to an urban renewal project shall not be considered by any taxing entity in computing any debt limitation or for any other purpose except in determining the amount to be paid into the tax increment fund.

Allocation of Tax Collections and Tax Increments

Sec. 22b. (a) For purposes of this Act, the tax assessor-collector shall have the sole authority and the duty to collect the taxes levied by the city and all other taxing entities on property located within an urban renewal project and for allocating taxing and tax increments in the manner required by this Act.

(b) Commencing with the first payment of taxes levied by the city or other taxing entities subsequent to the time an urban renewal project is designated, receipts from such taxes shall be allocated and paid over as follows:

1. There shall first be allocated and paid over in such amounts as belong to each respectively, to the city and to each other taxing entity, all of the property taxes collected which are produced from the tax incremental base.

2. There shall next be deposited into the tax increment fund established for such project all tax increments produced from the captured market value of property located within the project.

Tax Increment Bonds

Sec. 22c. (a) A city shall, in addition to any other powers vested in it, have the power to issue tax increment bonds, the proceeds of which may be used to pay redevelopment costs with respect to the urban renewal project on behalf of which the bonds were issued or to satisfy claims of holders of such bonds. Upon approval of two-thirds of the resident property taxpayers who are qualified electors of the city, such city shall also have the power to issue refunding bonds for the payment or retirement of tax increment bonds previously issued by it. Such tax increment bonds shall be made payable, as to both principal and interest, solely from tax increments allocated to and paid into the tax increment fund established by the city in accordance with this Act, or from any private sources, or contributions or other financial assistance from the State or United States Government, or by any combination of these methods.

(b) Tax increment bonds issued under this Act, together with interest thereon and income therefrom, shall be exempt from all taxes. The period of maturity of tax increment bonds is limited to a maximum of 20 years from the date of issuance. Bonds issued under this Act shall be authorized by resolution or ordinance of the governing body and may be issued in one or more series, and shall bear such date or dates, be payable upon demand or mature at such time or times, bear interest at such rate or rates, be in such denomination or denominations, be in such form either coupon or registered, carry such conversion or registration privileges, have such rank or priority, be executed in such manner, be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and be subject to such terms of redemption (with or without premium), be secured in such manner, and have such other characteristics, as may be provided by such resolution or trust indenture or mortgage issued pursuant thereto. Such bonds may be sold at not less than par at public sales held after notice published prior to such sale in a newspaper having a general circulation in the city and in such other medium of publication as the governing body may determine or may be exchanged for other bonds on the basis of par. Any provision of any law to the contrary notwithstanding, any bonds issued pursuant to this Act shall be fully negotiable. In any suit, action or proceeding involving the validity or enforceability of any bond issued under this Act or the security therefor, any such bond reciting in substance that it has been issued by the city in connection with an urban renewal project, as herein defined, shall be conclusively deemed to have been issued for such purposes and the urban renewal project shall be conclusively deemed to have been planned, located and carried out in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

(c) All banks, trust companies, bankers, savings banks and institutions, buildings and loan associations, savings and loan associations, investment companies and other persons carrying on a banking or investment business; all insurance companies, insurance associations, and other persons carrying on an insurance business; and all executors, administrators, curators, trustees, and other fiduciaries, may legally invest any sinking funds, moneys, or other funds belonging to them or within their control in any tax increment bonds issued by a city pursuant to this Act. Such bonds shall be authorized security for all public deposits. Any persons, political subdivisions and officers, public or private, are authorized to use any funds owned or controlled by them for the purchase of any such bonds. Nothing in this Act with regard to legal investments shall be construed as relieving any person of any duty of exercising reasonable care in selecting securities.

(d) Tax increment bonds shall be payable only out of the tax increment fund created pursuant to Subsection (i), Section 7 of this Act. The City Council may irrevocably pledge all or a part of such fund to the payment of such bonds or notes. Such fund or the designated part thereof may thereafter be used only for the payment of such bonds and interest thereon until the same have been fully paid; and a holder of such bonds or of any coupons appertaining thereto shall have a lien against such fund for payment of such bonds or notes and interest thereon and may either at law or in equity protect and enforce such lien.
(e) To increase the security and marketability of tax increment bonds, the city may create a lien for the benefit of the bondholders upon any public improvements or public works financed thereby or the revenues therefrom, or make such covenants and do any and all such acts as may be necessary or convenient or desirable in order to additionally secure such bonds or tend to make the bonds more marketable according to the best judgment of the City Council.

(f) Moneys shall be disbursed from the tax increment fund only to satisfy the claims of holders of tax increment bonds issued in aid of the urban renewal project with respect to which the fund was established, or to pay project costs. "Project costs" means any expenditure made or estimated to be made or monetary obligations incurred or estimated to be incurred by the city which are listed in an urban renewal project, plus any costs incidental thereto, diminished by any income or revenues other than tax increments, received or reasonably expected to be received by the city in connection with the implementation of such plan. Such project costs include, but are not limited to:

1. capital costs, including, but not limited to, the actual costs of the construction of public works or improvements, new buildings, structures, and fixtures; the demolition, alteration, remodeling, repair or reconstruction of existing buildings, structures and fixtures; the acquisition of equipment; and the clearing and grading of land;

2. financing costs, including, but not limited to, all interest paid to holders of tax increment bonds issued to pay for project costs and any premium paid over the principal amount thereof because of the redemption of such obligations prior to maturity;

3. professional service costs, including, but not limited to, costs incurred for architectural, planning, engineering or legal services;

4. imputed administrative costs, including, but not limited to, reasonable charges for the time spent by employees of the city in connection with the implementation of an urban renewal plan; or

5. organizational costs, including, but not limited to, the cost of conducting studies and the cost of informing the public with respect to the creation of urban renewal projects and the implementation of project plans.

(g) Subject to any agreement with the holders of tax increment bonds, moneys in a tax increment fund may be temporarily invested in the same manner as other municipal funds.

(h) After all project costs and all tax increment bonds issued with respect to an urban renewal project have been paid or the payment thereof provided for, and subject to any agreement with bondholders, if there remain in such fund any moneys, they shall be paid over to the city and other taxing entities levying taxes on property within such project in such amounts as belong to each respectively.

(i) Tax increment bonds issued under this Act shall not be general obligations of the city, nor in any event shall they give rise to a charge against its general credit or taxing powers, or be payable other than as provided by this Act; and any tax increment bonds issued under this Act shall so state on their face.

(j) Tax increment bonds issued under this Act shall not be included in any computation of the debt of the issuing city.

(k) Tax increment bonds may not be issued in an amount exceeding the aggregate costs of implementing the urban renewal plan for the project in aid of which they were issued, and such bonds shall mature over a period not exceeding twenty (20) years from the date thereof.

Annual Report

Sec. 22d. (a) On or before July 1 each year, the City Council shall submit to the chief executive officer of every taxing entity a report on the status of such district. The report shall include the following information:

1. the amount and source of revenue in the tax increment fund established in accordance with the requirements of this Act;

2. the amount and purpose of expenditures from the fund;

3. the amount of principal and interest due on any outstanding bonded indebtedness;

4. the tax incremental base and the current captured market value retained by the project; and

5. the captured market value shared by the city and other taxing entities, the total in tax increments received, and any additional information necessary to demonstrate compliance with the tax increment financing plan adopted by the City Council.

(b) On or before July 1 of each year, the City Council shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the city a statement showing:

1. the tax increment received and expended during the previous year;

2. the original market value and captured market value of all property located within the urban renewal project;

3. the amount in outstanding indebtedness incurred in aid of the urban renewal project; and

4. any additional information the City Council deems necessary.

Sec. 7. This Act shall not be construed to alter or change the status, operations, contracts, or obligations of any existing urban renewal agency adopted pursuant to the Texas Urban Renewal Law, nor should any provisions of this Act be construed as to prevent the governing body of any municipality from adopting the provisions of and authority granted under the Texas Urban Renewal Law.

Art. 1269j–5. Housing Rehabilitation Act

Short Title

Section 1. This Act may be cited as the Texas Housing Rehabilitation Act.

Legislative Findings

Sec. 2. The legislature finds that:

1. a substantial amount of housing in the State of Texas is deteriorating and does not conform to accepted minimum standards applicable to structures for human habitation;

2. deteriorating housing contributes to the decline of residential areas in urban and rural communities throughout this state, and such housing causes reductions in the taxable values of cities, counties, and other units of local government;

3. declining residential areas require large-scale public investment to mitigate the effect of slums, health and safety problems, and retard the development of socially and economically disruptive conditions within affected communities;

4. many owners of deteriorating housing cannot afford to make needed repairs and improvements without expending more than a reasonable portion of their incomes for housing, and some homeowners are financially unable to afford to spend any amount whatsoever to upgrade the quality of their dwellings;

5. existing programs sponsored by public and private agencies to facilitate the rehabilitation of housing owned by persons of low and moderate income are inadequate to meet current and future needs, and a cooperative state-local government housing rehabilitation program therefore is clearly warranted; and

6. unless the problem of deteriorating housing and other problems associated with the decline of residential areas are affirmatively addressed by the legislature, the health, safety, and welfare of the residents of such areas, as well as the citizens... of the State of Texas generally, will be detrimentally affected.

Policy; Purpose

Sec. 3. It is the policy of the state and the purpose of this Act to provide a means by which the further deterioration of housing and the decline of residential areas in urban and rural communities throughout the State of Texas can be arrested and prevented. The legislature therefore declares that all of the purposes of this Act are public purposes and uses for which public money may be borrowed, expended, and loaned.

Definitions

Sec. 4. In this Act:

(1) "Borrower" means a household whose loan application is approved by a local government.

(2) "Department" means the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

(3) "Direct housing rehabilitation cost" means the amount contracted for between borrowers and contractors in a contract approved by a local government.

(4) "Fund" means the Texas Housing Rehabilitation Loan Fund.

(5) "Household" means a person or persons owning housing in an area designated under this Act.

(6) "Housing" means a structure which is situated on a permanent foundation and which consists of from one to four family units used exclusively for residential purposes.

(7) "Local agency" means a nonprofit organization whose principal purpose is to improve housing conditions or a local housing authority, urban renewal agency, or other public entity.

(8) "Local government" means a county, city, town, or village.

(9) "Rehabilitation" means the repair, renovation, or other improvement of housing with the object of making such housing decent, safe, sanitary, and more habitable.

Housing Rehabilitation Loan Fund

Sec. 5. (a) Funds for the implementation and administration of this Act shall be provided by the General Appropriations Act. A special account in the state treasury, to be known as the Texas Housing Rehabilitation Loan Fund is hereby created. Funds appropriated by the legislature for housing rehabilitation loans, together with any funds received from other sources for the purpose of making loans under this Act, must be placed in the fund. All repayments received from borrowers for loans made from the fund, income from the transfer of interests in property acquired in connection with rehabilitation loans made from the fund, and interest earned on deposits and investments of the fund shall be credited to the fund. It is the intent of this Act that the housing rehabilitation loan fund operate as a revolving fund whereby all appropriations and payments made thereto may be applied and reapplied to the purposes of this Act.

(b) The state treasurer shall invest and disburse money from the fund upon the written authorization of the executive director of the department. The department shall administer the fund as a revolving loan fund for carrying out the purposes of this Act and may designate separate accounts in the fund and the purposes for which the accounts are to be used.

(c) Money in the fund may be used only for:

(1) financing loans made pursuant to this Act, including the administrative charge provided for in Subsection (c) of Section 12 of this Act; and

(2) paying expenses incurred by the department in connection with the acquisition or disposal of real property under this Act.

Area Rehabilitation Plan

Sec. 6. (a) In order to qualify households within its boundaries for rehabilitation loans under this Act, a local government must designate a specific area, or areas, in conformity with standards established by the department, and must prepare an area rehabilitation plan for each designated area in the form prescribed by the department.

(b) An area rehabilitation plan must provide relevant information concerning the area and must include the following elements:

(1) a description of the physical, social, and economic characteristics of the area(s);

(2) a description of housing conditions in the area(s);

(3) an assessment of the need for housing rehabilitation loans in the area(s), such assessment to be expressed in terms of numbers and characteristics of households and average and total loan amounts;

(4) a description of methods by which the local government will determine whether the rehabilitation of housing in the area(s) is economically feasible;

(5) a description of methods by which rehabilitation work will be supervised and methods by which compliance with departmental regulations governing materials, fixtures, and rehabilitation contracts will be ensured;

(6) a description of methods and procedures that will be used to enforce local housing, building, fire, and related codes, or if such codes have not been enacted, a description of methods and procedures for enforcing the standards promulgated by the department;

(7) an assessment of the need for additional public improvements and public services in the area(s), together with a description of the specific means by which these improvements and services will be provided; and

(c) An area rehabilitation plan must be approved by resolution or order of the governing body of the local government and submitted to the department for review. The department shall determine whether the designated area meets the standards established by the department and whether the plan contains all the prescribed elements. If so, the department must accept the plan. Upon acceptance of the plan, households in the designated area are qualified to apply for housing rehabilitation loans. If an area does not meet the department’s standards or a plan does not contain all the prescribed elements, the department shall return the plan to the local government with a list of deficiencies. No loans may be made within a designated area unless the deficiencies are corrected and the plan is resubmitted and accepted by the department.

Authority of the Department

Sec. 7. The department has all the powers necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this Act. The department may:

1. acquire interests in property necessary to and in connection with the making of rehabilitation loans under this Act as set forth in Section 8 of this Act;
2. make contracts and agreements with the federal government, other agencies of the state, any other public agency, or any other person, association, corporation, local government, or other entity in exercising its powers and performing its duties under this Act;
3. make regulations governing the disposition or further encumbrance by the borrower of property subject to a lien in connection with a rehabilitation loan;
4. expend funds appropriated by the legislature to employ staff and for travel, supplies, materials, and equipment or to contract for services necessary to carry out its powers and duties under this Act;
5. provide technical assistance to local governments; and
6. seek and accept funding from any public or private source.

Interests in Property; Disposition

Sec. 8. (a) The department may not construct residential housing, nor may the department acquire residential housing except in connection with the enforcement of a lien under this Act, and then only by a foreclosure of a mortgage, a sale under a deed of trust, or by a voluntary conveyance from a borrower in full or partial settlement of a rehabilitation loan.

(b) If the department acquires residential housing in the enforcement of a lien, it must, within six months of such acquisition, offer the housing for public sale or auction. Notice of the public sale or auction must be provided by the department by publication once each week for three consecutive weeks prior to the day of the sale or auction in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the housing is located. The notice must contain a description of the property and must specify procedures for submitting competitive bids and the time and location of the public sale or auction. The department may reject any or all bids.

(c) If a sale cannot be effected by public sale or auction, the department may enter negotiations with any party for the expeditious sale of the housing. First priority must be given to selling the housing to a purchaser that will be required to pay ad valorem taxes on the property. If it is not practicable to sell it to such a purchaser, the department shall attempt to sell it to a purchaser that is exempt from ad valorem taxes but will make payments in lieu of taxes on the property. If neither type of purchaser is available, the department may sell it to any purchaser.

Regulations and Standards

Sec. 9. (a) The department shall adopt regulations for making and servicing housing rehabilitation loans, and for the foreclosure of defaulted loans. The regulations must require that each loan be evidenced by a promissory note payable to the state and secured by a valid lien on real property in this state.

(b) The department shall establish:

1. standards by which households within the boundaries of a local government may qualify for loans;
2. standards and procedures for the administration of this Act by local governments and local agencies;

(d) The department shall adopt minimum housing, building, fire, and related code standards for application in designated areas for which a rehabilitation plan has been accepted and no such local government standards are in effect.

Administration by Department

Sec. 10. (a) The department shall audit the local administration of rehabilitation loans under this Act to determine if good faith efforts are being made to comply with the applicable area rehabilitation plan.
and the regulations, standards, and guidelines adopted by the department.

(b) If in any fiscal year anticipated rehabilitation loans exceed estimated available funds, the department shall allocate the estimated available funds for that fiscal year among the local governments that have filed area rehabilitation plans, taking into account the probable amount of rehabilitation loans to be made by each local government.

(c) Upon receipt of notification of approval of a loan application by a local government, the director shall authorize the state treasurer to disburse the approved amount from the fund to the local government unless:

1. the department has found that the local government is currently not making good faith efforts to substantially comply with the applicable area rehabilitation plan or the regulations, standards, and guidelines adopted by the department; or
2. the remaining portion of the fund allocated to the local government under Subsection (b) of this section is insufficient to allow payment of the approved amount.

Loan Eligibility

Sec. 11. (a) The department shall establish eligibility guidelines for local governments to use in determining whether households qualify for housing rehabilitation loans under this Act. In establishing these guidelines, the department shall take into account:

1. household gross income;
2. household income available for housing needs;
3. household size;
4. the value and condition of the housing to be rehabilitated; and
5. the ability of households to compete successfully in the private housing market and to pay the amounts at which private enterprise is providing sanitary, decent, and safe housing.

(b) The department shall not approve any loan unless it finds that the benefit to an area designated pursuant to the requirements of Section 6 of this Act will exceed the financial commitment of the department and that the approval of the particular loan will be of benefit to the state and its taxpayers.

General Powers and Duties of Local Governments

Sec. 12. (a) A local government may approve or disapprove loan applications from households according to the eligibility guidelines and regulations of the department. Upon approval of a loan application, the local government shall notify the department of the amount of the approved loan.

(b) A local government shall fix the interest rate for each loan within the minimum and maximum rates established by the department and shall fix the term of each loan and any other necessary conditions pertaining to the repayment of the loan pursuant to this Act and the regulations of the department.

(c) A local government may impose an administrative charge of not more than three percent of the direct housing rehabilitation cost and may deduct the charge from the amount loaned to borrowers.

(d) A local government may contract with any public or private entity for servicing rehabilitation loans.

(e) The governing body of a local government may designate a local agency or agencies to carry out any of the powers and duties of the local government under this Act. Any power or duty that a governing body delegates to a local agency may be withdrawn by the governing body at any time.

(f) A local government engaged in housing rehabilitation under this Act shall carry on a program of general education designed to inform residents in designated areas of methods for maintaining their housing and of the availability of housing rehabilitation loans.

Loan Conditions

Sec. 13. (a) Rehabilitation loans must be used primarily to make housing comply with state, county, or municipal building, housing maintenance, fire, health, or similar codes and standards applicable to housing.

(b) No loan made under this Act may exceed an amount which, when added to all other existing indebtedness secured by the property, would exceed the market value of the rehabilitated property as determined by the local government. No loan may exceed the total of the approved direct housing rehabilitation cost together with the administrative charge provided for in Subsection (c) of Section 12 of this Act.

(c) The term of a loan made under this Act may not exceed 20 years. It must be repaid by installments and must be secured as required by this Act and the regulations of the department. The local government may allow deferment of payments or adjust the interest rate or term of the note if the borrower is unable to make the required payments.

(d) A borrower must agree that if he voluntarily destroys, moves, or relinquishes ownership of the rehabilitated housing within one year after completion of the rehabilitation, the loan is immediately due and payable, together with an interest surcharge sufficient to make the total interest paid equivalent to an amount determined by prevailing interest rates for rehabilitation loans from private sources at the time of the sale. If the local government finds that the borrower must sell due to financial hardship or similar circumstances, the interest surcharge may be waived by the local government with the consent of the department.
Transfer of Encumbered Property

Sec. 16. Upon sale or gift of the encumbered property, or upon the death of the borrower, the local government may, subject to approval of the department, declare all or part of any deferred payments due and payable, declare the balance of the loan due and payable, or allow the buyer, donee, or other successor in title of the borrower to assume the loan if the buyer, donor, or successor qualifies under the provisions of Section 11 of this Act.

Creation of the Agency
Sec. 3. (a) There is hereby created and established a public and official governmental agency of the state, to be known as the Texas Housing Agency, and the state shall act by and through the agency in carrying out all powers and duties conferred by this Act. The exercise by the agency of all powers and duties conferred by this Act shall constitute and be deemed and held to be an essential public and official governmental function and purpose of the state, acting by and through the agency, in promoting the general welfare and prosperity of the state and all of its citizens.

(b) The agency is subject to the Texas Sunset Act, as amended (Article 5429k, Vernon's Texas Civil Statutes). Unless continued in existence as provided by that Act, the agency is abolished and this Act expires effective September 1, 1991.

Primary Purpose of the Agency: Declaration of Policy
Sec. 4. It is hereby declared:

(a) that there exists within both rural and urban areas of this state a shortage of sanitary and safe residential housing at prices or rentals which persons and families of low income and families of moderate income can afford; that this shortage has contributed to and will contribute to the creation and persistence of substandard living conditions and is inimical to the health, welfare, and prosperity of the residents and communities of this state;

(b) that it is imperative that the supply of residential housing for such persons and families and for persons and families displaced by public actions or natural disaster be increased;

(c) that private enterprise and investment are unable, without financial assistance, to provide in sufficient quantities the needed construction or rehabilitation of sanitary and safe residential...
housing at prices or rentals which persons and families of low income and families of moderate income can afford and to provide sufficient long-term mortgage financing for residential housing for occupancy by such persons and families;

(d) that private enterprise and investment be encouraged to develop land and to build and to rehabilitate residential housing for such persons and families, and that private financing be supplemented by financing as provided in this Act in order to help prevent the creation and recurrence of substandard living conditions and to assist in their permanent elimination throughout this state. It is further declared that in order to provide a fully adequate supply of sanitary and safe dwelling accommodations at rents, prices, or other costs which such persons or families can afford, the legislature finds that it is necessary to create and establish a housing finance agency for the purpose of encouraging the investment of private capital and stimulating the acquisition, construction, and rehabilitation of residential housing to meet the needs of such persons and families through the use of public financing, to provide construction and mortgage loans, and to make provision for the purchase of mortgage loans and otherwise. It is hereby further declared to be necessary and in the public interest that such housing finance agency provide for predevelopment costs, temporary financing, incidental land development expenses, and residential housing acquisition, construction, or rehabilitation by housing sponsors for sale or rental to persons and families of low income and families of moderate income; and further, to provide mortgage financing, including, without limitation, long-term federally insured mortgages to eligible housing sponsors; and further, to increase the acquisition, construction, and rehabilitation of low income housing through the purchase from mortgage lenders authorized to transact business within the state of first mortgage loans for residential housing for persons and families of low income and families of moderate income in this state; and further, to provide technical, consultative, and project assistance services to private sponsors, to assist in coordinating federal, state, regional, and local public and private efforts and resources, to guarantee to the extent provided herein the repayment of certain loans secured by residential mortgages, and to preserve the quality of life in this state. It is hereby further declared that all of the foregoing are public purposes and uses for which public money may be borrowed, expended, advanced, loaned, granted, or appropriated, and that such activities serve a public purpose in improving or otherwise benefitting the people of this state; that the necessity of enacting the provisions of this Act is in the public interest and is hereby so declared as a matter of express legislative determination.

Sec. 5. (a) The board of directors of the agency which is and constitutes a “board” of the state, within the meaning of Article XVI, Section 30a, of the Texas Constitution and which shall have such powers and duties as are prescribed in this Act shall consist of nine members, entitled directors. Each director occupies one of the nine places on the board designated as Places 1 through 9.

(e) Each director is eligible for reappointment.

(f) Any vacancy on the board is filled by appointment by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. A vacancy, except for expiration of term, is filled for the unexpired term only. If a vacancy occurs while the senate is not in session, the governor may make the appointment subject to confirmation by the senate when convened.

(g) To be eligible for appointment as a director, a person must be a qualified voter of the state and not hold any other public office. The governor shall make appointments so that the places on the board are occupied by persons having the following experience:

Powers Relative to Making Mortgage Loans and Construction Loans to Housing Sponsors

Sec. 9. In addition to all other powers, the agency shall have the following specific powers:

(a) The agency may make, undertake commitments to make, and participate in the making of mortgage loans, including, without limitation, federally insured mortgage loans, and/or make temporary loans and advances in anticipation of permanent mortgage loans to housing sponsors to finance the purchase, construction, remodeling, improvement, or rehabilitation of housing developments for residential housing designed and planned for persons and families of low income and/or families of moderate income, upon the terms and conditions set forth in this Act.

(b) The agency may make and publish rules respecting making mortgage loans pursuant to this Act, the regulations of borrowers, the construction of ancillary commercial facilities, and resale and disposition of any real property, or any interest therein, financed by the agency.

(c) The agency may enter into agreements and contracts with housing sponsors and mortgage lenders under the provisions of this Act with respect to making or participating in making mortgage loans for residential housing for persons and families of low income and/or families of moderate income.

(d) The agency may institute any action or proceeding against any housing sponsor receiving a loan under the provisions hereof, or owning any housing development hereunder in any court of competent jurisdiction in order to enforce the provisions of this Act, the terms and provisions of any agreement or contract between the agency and such recipients of loans under the provisions hereof, including, without limitation, provisions as to rental or carrying charges and income limits as applied to tenants or occupants, or to foreclose its mortgage, or to protect the public interest, persons and families of low income or families of moderate income, stockholders, or creditors of the sponsor. In connection with any such action or proceeding the agency may apply for the appointment of a trustee or receiver to take over, manage, operate, and maintain the affairs of a housing sponsor. The agency through such agent as it shall designate is hereby authorized to accept appointment as trustee or receiver of any such sponsor when so appointed by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Loan Terms and Conditions

Sec. 10. Loans made by the agency under the preceding section shall be subject to the following terms and conditions:

(a) The agency shall not process an application for a loan for a housing development unless the applicant is a housing sponsor and the application is submitted and recommended by a mortgage lender.

(b) The ratio of loan to total housing development cost and the amortization period of loans made under this Act which are insured or guaranteed by the federal government are governed by the federal government mortgage insurance commitment or federal guarantee for each housing development, except the amortization period may not exceed 40 years.

(c) A mortgage loan not insured by the federal government may not exceed 95 percent of the total housing development cost as determined by the agency. The amortization period of the loan shall be determined in accordance with regulations formulated and published by the agency, except the amortization period may not exceed 40 years.

(d) A mortgage loan made under this Act may be prepaid to maturity after the period of years and under the terms and conditions decided upon by the board.

(e) The agency may set the interest rates at which it makes loans and commitments therefor. The interest rates shall be established by the board in its sole discretion so as to produce at least the amounts required, together with other available funds, to pay for the agency's costs of operation and to meet its covenants with and responsibilities to the holders of its bonds. In addition to such interest charges the agency shall make and collect such fees and charges, including but not limited to reimbursement of the agency's financing costs, service charges, insurance premiums, and mortgage insurance premiums, as the agency determines to be reasonable.

(f) In considering an application for a loan, the agency shall give first priority to applications for well-planned and well-designed housing developments. The agency shall also give consideration to:

(1) the comparative need for housing for persons and families of low income and families of moderate income in the area to be served by the proposed housing development;

(2) the ability of the applicant to carry out, operate, manage, and maintain the proposed housing development;

(3) the existence of zoning, protective covenants, or regulations that adequately protect the proposed housing development against detrimental future uses that could cause undue depreciation in the value of the housing development; and

(4) the availability in urban areas of adequate parks, recreational areas, utilities, schools, transportation, and parking.

(g) Each mortgage loan shall be evidenced by a mortgage or deed of trust note or bond and by a mortgage or deed of trust that constitutes a first lien on the housing development and on all the real property constituting the site of or relating to the housing development, and that contains provisions and is in a form required by the agency. The note or bond and mortgage or deed of trust may contain exculpatory provisions relieving the lien on the housing development and on all the real property constituting the site of or relating to the proposed housing development, and that contains provisions relating thereto and to make such charges or receive a return greater than that which shall be prescribed by rules of the agency.

(h) Each mortgage loan is subject to an agreement between the agency and the housing sponsor that subjects the sponsor and its principals or stockholders to limitations established by the agency as to rentals and other charges, builders' and developers' profits and fees, and the disposition of its property and on all of the real property constituting the site of or relating to the housing development.

(i) As a condition of each loan, the agency may at any time during the construction, rehabilitation, or operation of a housing development:

(1) enter upon and inspect the housing development, including all parts thereof, for the purpose of investigating the physical and financial condition thereof, and its construction, rehabilitation, operation, management, and maintenance and to examine all books and records with respect to capitalization, income, and other matters relating thereto and to make such charges as may be required to cover the cost of such inspections and examinations;

(2) order alterations, changes, or repairs necessary to protect the security of the agency's investment in a housing development or the health, safety, and welfare of the occupants; and

(3) order any managing agent, housing development manager, or owner of a housing development to do whatever is necessary to comply with the provisions of applicable laws, ordinances, or rules of the agency or the terms of any agreement concerning the housing development or to refrain from doing any acts in violation thereof and in this regard the agency shall be a proper party to file a complaint and to prosecute thereon for any violations of laws or ordinances as set forth herein.

(j) A housing sponsor may not make distributions in any one year with respect to a housing development financed by the agency in excess of that which shall be prescribed by rules of the agency. The principals or stockholders of a housing sponsor may not at any time earn, accept, or receive a return greater than that which shall be prescribed by rules of the agency to annuities of their investment in a housing development financed by the agency. A housing sponsor's equity in a housing development consists of the difference between the mortgage loan and the total housing development cost. The agency shall establish the sponsor's equity at the time of the making of the final mortgage advance and, for the purposes of this subsection, that figure remains constant during the life of the agency's mortgage or deed of trust on the development, except for additional equity investment made by the sponsor with the agency's approval or at its order.

Sec. 11. (a) The agency may purchase and take assignments from mortgage lenders or the federal government of notes and mortgages evidencing loans for the construction, remodeling, improvement, or rehabilitation, purchase, leasing, or refinancing of housing developments for persons and families of low income and families of moderate income.

(b) The agency may sell, at public or private sale, with or without public bidding, a mortgage or other obligation held by the agency.

Sec. 12. (a) No mortgage loan purchased from a mortgage lender is eligible for purchase by the agency unless the mortgage lender certifies that:

(1) the mortgage loans transferred to the agency are for housing developments for persons or families of low income or for families of moderate income; or

(2) the proceeds of the sale or the equivalent have been or will be invested in mortgage loans that benefit persons and families of low income and families of moderate income or invested in short-term obligations pending the making of such mortgage loans.

(b) When the agency purchases a mortgage loan from a mortgage lender, it shall pay a purchase price equal to the outstanding principal balance, except that discount from the principal balance or the pay-section may include mortgage loans that are insured, guaranteed, or assisted by the federal government, or for which there is commitment by the federal government to insure, guarantee, or assist the mortgage loan.

(c) Mortgage loans purchased or sold under this section may include mortgage loans that are insured, guaranteed, or assisted by the federal government, or for which there is commitment by the federal government to insure, guarantee, or assist the mortgage loan.

(d) The agency shall adopt rules governing the purchase and sale of mortgage loans and the application of the proceeds thereof, including rules governing:

1. procedures for submitting requests or inviting proposals for the purchase and sale of mortgage loans;
2. restrictions as to the number of family units, location, or other qualifications of residences to be financed by residential mortgage loans, and income limits of persons and families of low income or families of moderate income occupying the residence;
3. restrictions as to the interest rates on mortgage loans or the return realized by mortgage lenders;
4. requirements for commitments by mortgage lenders with respect to mortgage loans;
5. schedules of fees and charges necessary for expenses and reserves of the agency;
6. resale of the housing development; and
7. any other matters related to the powers of the agency to purchase and sell mortgage loans.

(e) The agency shall review each mortgage loan purchased by the agency to determine if the loan meets the conditions of this Act, the rules of the agency, and any commitment made with the mortgage lender to purchase mortgage loans. The agency may require the substitution of another mortgage loan when it determines that a loan does not comply with this Act, its rules, or a commitment made with the mortgage lender. Subsections (b), (c), (d), (e), and (g) of Section 10 of this Act apply to the purchase of mortgage loans.

(f) The agency may not purchase an obligation that is more than two years old.

Supervising Housing Sponsors

Sec. 13. The agency shall have the power to supervise housing sponsors of housing developments that are rented or leased to tenants, including limited profit housing sponsors, and their real and personal property, in the following respects:

(a) The agency may prescribe uniform systems of accounts and records for housing sponsors and may require housing sponsors to make reports and certifications of their expenditures and to answer specific questions on forms and at such times as may be necessary for the purposes of this Act.

(b) The agency, through its agents or employees, may enter upon and inspect the land, buildings, and equipment of a housing sponsor, including all parts thereof, and may examine all records showing the capital structure, income, expenditures, and other payments of a housing sponsor.

(c) The agency may supervise the operation and maintenance of a housing development and may order repairs as necessary to protect the public interest or the health, welfare, or safety of the housing development occupants.

(d) The agency shall approve and may alter from time to time a schedule of rents and charges for a housing development.

(e) The agency shall determine standards for and shall control tenant and management selection by a housing sponsor.

(f) The agency may require a housing sponsor to pay the agency fees and charges for the costs of regulating the housing sponsor, including, without limitation, the costs of examination, inspection, supervision, and auditing the housing sponsor.

(g) The agency may order a housing sponsor to do or to refrain from doing what is necessary to comply with the provision of law, the rules of the agency, and the terms of a contract or agreement to which the housing sponsor is a party.

(h) The agency shall regulate the retirement of any capital investment or the redemption of stock of a limited profit housing sponsor if the retirement or redemption, when added to any dividend or other distribution, exceeds in any one fiscal year the permitted percentage, as shall be prescribed by rules of the agency, of the original face amount of the limited profit housing sponsor's investment or equity in any housing development.

(i) The agency shall make rules specifying the categories of cost allowable in the construction, reconstruction, remodelling, improvement, or rehabilitation of a housing development. The agency shall require a housing sponsor to certify the actual housing development costs on completion of the housing development, subject to audit and determination by the agency, except that the agency may accept, in lieu of certification of housing development costs, any form or manner whatsoever, that will enable the agency to determine with reasonable accuracy the amount of the housing development costs.

(j) This section does not apply to any housing development for which persons or families of low income or families of moderate income receive a mortgage loan hereunder and which initially is intended for occupancy by such persons or families.
Admission to Housing Developments

Sec. 14. (a) Admission to housing developments that are rented or leased to tenants financed under this Act is limited to persons or families of low income and families of moderate income.

(b) The agency shall periodically examine the income of any person or family who are tenants residing in a housing development. The agency or, with the approval of the agency, the housing sponsor of a housing development may terminate the tenancy or interest of any person or family whose gross income exceeds the income level prescribed for admission by more than 25 percent for a period of six months or more. No tenancy or interest of any person or family in any housing development may be terminated except on reasonable notice and opportunity to obtain suitable alternate housing in accordance with rules of the agency. A person or family whose gross income would not otherwise permit continued occupancy of a dwelling unit may, with the approval of the agency, continue to occupy a dwelling unit on payment of a surcharge to the housing sponsor in accordance with a schedule of surcharges fixed by the agency.

(c) If a person or family who resides in a cooperative housing development must move from the housing development because of excessive income, the person or family must be discharged from liability of any note, bond, or other evidence of indebtedness and reimbursed, in accordance with the rules of the agency, for all sums paid to the housing sponsor on account of the purchase of stock or debentures as a condition of occupancy or on account of the acquisition of title for that purpose.

(d) This section does not apply to any housing development for which persons or families of low income or families of moderate income receive a mortgage loan hereunder and which initially is intended for occupancy by such persons or families.

Procedure Prior to Financing of Housing Developments Undertaken by Housing Sponsors

Sec. 15. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the agency is not empowered to finance any housing development undertaken by a housing sponsor unless, prior to the financing of any housing development hereunder, the agency finds that:

(1) the housing development is necessary to provide needed decent, safe, and sanitary housing at rentals or prices which persons or families of low income or families of moderate income can afford;

(2) the housing sponsor or sponsors undertaking the proposed housing development in this state will supply well-planned and well-designed housing for persons or families of low income or families of moderate income and that such sponsors are financially responsible;

(3) the financing of the housing development pursuant to the provisions of this Act will constitute a public purpose and will provide a public benefit; and

(4) the housing development will be undertaken within the authority conferred by this Act upon the agency and the housing sponsor or sponsors.
